Roads in County Are Designated

Commissioners Transact Business of Interest at LaPorte in the Early Evening.

According to the commissioners' proceedings of Wayne county in 1872 various parts of the newly organized county were busy getting roads built. Lines on which citizens wished highways to be built were described and then approved by the commissioners. An ax man, surveyor and road men were sent to do the work. One of the commissioners supervised each road. The building of roads required considerable work and expense as they had to be made from prairie land.

In 1872 Isaac Miner, Charles Erzen and I. O. Richardson were commissioners for Wayne county. C. E. Erzen was clerk. On November 4 of that year the board met at LaPorte, then the county seat, and voted to buy a new safe for the preservation of important documents and records. This was secured at a cost of $325. Bids were asked on hauling of the new safe from Wisner to the county seat. The highest bid received the work as his bid was lowest, the sum being $6.

On April 1, 1873 D. Neligh asked from the county in the form a bonus to build a flouring mill on Logan creek. After some deliberation the proposition was rejected.

According to the assessment in 1873 town lots in LaPorte were valued at $1 each. The commissioners, on April 21, 1873, voted to raise the rate of $1 per lot. The valuation of some farms was reduced by the board because of their having forests or woods on them. The valuation of the land of W. H. Allen was reduced $121.25. He had two and five-eighths acres of forest-trees. The valuation of the land of C. G. Hines was reduced $125 because he had two and one-fourth acres of fruit trees. The same was done with property owned by others.

W. P. Agler was employed by the county in 1873 to make road scrapers for the year. A. S. Miller was elected to put bales on the scrapers. For this he received $2.

The commissioners fixed the tax for the year 1873 for the county as follows: State general fund, two and one-half mills; state sinking fund, one mill; state school fund, two mills; state university, one-half mill; and state penitentiary, one-half mill. For county purposes the levy was as follows: County general fund, one mill; state general fund, one mill; road fund, $2 on each quarter section, and school districts, variation from three to seven mills in the six districts.

An election was held at the court house in Wayne county October 14, 1873, at the result was as follows: Probate Judge, Abner A. Fletcher; county commissioner for Logan Creek, Joseph Beckenauer; county clerk, C. W. Durin; county treasurer, Solon Bovins; sheriff, Enoch Hunter; coroner, W. P. Agler; supervisor, J. T. Bussler; superintendent of schools, Marcus Sperry; justices of the peace, George Hunter and Andrew J. Galbraith; constables, Columbus Bosteder and Robert Stasch; assessor, W. E. Durin; and road supervisors, Moses Herner, George Rutledge, Christian Jensen and Fredrick Schroeder. George Scott, W. E. Durin and Dr. B. Crawford were judges of election and M. T. Sperry and Albert S. Miller were clerks of election. James A. Fisher and W. P. Agler comprised the board of canvassers. Dr. Crawford was appointed superintendent of the county. The salary was fixed at $9 a day for each day necessary to carry out the duties of the office. The county clerk's salary was fixed at $350 a year.

Thrilling Picture At Crystal Theatre

Given a smashing, colorful tale of romance and adventure, and told to produce it on a sweeping, spectacular scale, Allan Dwan has made of Francis Br. Wayne's dramatic novel, "Sea Horses," which appears at the Crystal theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week, a thrill-crowded and stirring beauty and picturesqueness.

The plot deals in vigorous and striking fashion with the strange experiences of a lovely cultured English girl on board an ocean freighter and in an isolated port on the East African coast.

This combination of land and sea backgrounds adds immeasurably to the charm and fascination of the plot. The realism, the strange, sinister atmosphere of fideity who go down to the sea in ships, and the reproduced with vivid realism the strange, sinister atmosphere of mysterious Africa.

The fundamental appeal of the story which springs from its tense presence of a lovely cultured English girl, is further heightened by the very spirited acting of the competent person.

Jack Holt plays perfectly up to the virile requirements of the fearless sea captain. It is a role made to order for him, and he performs it in his characteristic two-fisted fashion. The part of the lone girl, battling bravely against hidden dangers and overwhelming odds, is made radiant by the loveliness and talent of Florence Vidor. Those who enthused over George Bancroft's portrayal of the smiling villain in "The Pony Express" will glory in his characterization of the burly, brutal mate, who redeems himself with his final self-sacrifice.

The role of the drunken, degenerate beach-comber brings to William Powell fresh opportunities in that line of character portrayal, in which he is especially effective.

The film sets a rapid pace right from the start and maintains a high-pressure tempo, with a series of powerful climaxes, of which a raging tropical tornado is the most startling.

Although Dwan has made the exciting action the dominating feature, he has adroitly balanced the thundering melodrama with quieter moments of pathos, leadership and genuine heart appeal.

The Real Offense.

Geneva Signal: It took County Judge Chaff four years to get on the front pages of the daily newspapers. He had been putting Burt county bootleggers on bread and water for that length of time without attracting much attention until two of the boot dispensers whom he had sentenced appealed to the Nebraska supreme court. Now that Clarence Darow has butted in the publicity will probably spread. It may be useful in the long run. A bootlegger is a person who not only makes his own boot but peddles it. It is the peddling that should be considered the real offense. The public is not greatly concerned over the boot manufacture the home for home consumption of a little intoxicating liquor by people who have grown up upon it and have been taught from childhood to drink it.

York-Republican: The state campaign committees are finding it pretty difficult business to stir the people out of their apathetic attitude toward things political—it is worrying the democrats much more than the republicans because the republicans in and the democrats out. A drowsy campaign usually signifies an approval of the reigning administration. This year there is a pretty general feeling that Governor McMullen and his associates have done a pretty good job of directing the executive department of state government. The work has been done with dispatch and economy. There have been no scandals and very few complaints. The crowning feature of the

High School Enrollment Shows Total That Exceeds That Of Previous Year

Class Elect Officers For The Year Football Program Is Reported Very Encouraging.

The high school enrollment greatly exceeds last year's. The majority of the students are girls.

All the classes met last Thursday morning to organize and elect the various class officers. There are twenty-six seniors, thirty-five juniors, fifty-nine sophomores and twenty-eight freshmen students. The total enrollment exceeds five hundred pupils.

Medical inspection was conducted on the school Thursday and Friday last week. The local doctors carried on the inspection.

Biography is the only new course offered this semester.

Last Wednesday morning there were no tardies nor absences, which is a good record, considering the size of the school.

Bernard Pollard has been selected for news typeset for this semester. Bernard will no doubt be efficient for he has won the Remington and Underwood pins for speed in typing.

The Rev. Joel Lakra, a native of India who has been attending the Chicago Theological seminary the past three years, addressed the high school September 16. His illustration of the Hindu style of dress and comparing them with those of America, made the talk instructive as well as interesting.

Attorney F. S. Berry speaks in connection with the Constitution week, September 12-19, the students were addressed September 15, by F. S. Berry. The talk was impressive, and enlightening. In detail he explained the check and balance system of the government. In closing he left the thought that the schools and churches have a greater part in the nation's welfare than the government, and that the home has even a greater responsibility.

Debate News. There are seven members of the debate class, one more than last year. The class meets daily at a regular period. Last year it met three times and two evenings each week. The class has been studying from a text. Five minutes talk, criticism of posture, earnestness, dress and style, all of which must be developed before the team can organize, have a chance of winning the championship team. The total number of men out for practice each night is twenty-two, of which number twelve are regular letter men. Enough new equipment was ordered to fit out a team and most of the old equipment is in excellent condition.

Coach's Meet at Norfolk. Paul Peterson attended a coaches' conference at Norfolk last week Tuesday. Men of northeast Nebraska took up the study of rules under the direction of Henry F. Schulte, track coach at the state university. Several changes have been made in the rules this year, the following of which are the most important: The ball becomes dead automatically, and no further play can result, whenever it crosses the side line, side line extended, or the end line. Five yards' penalty in addition to loss of a down is now imposed in each instance where a team makes more than one incomplete pass in a series of four downs. The team which scores a safety, puts the ball in play by a kick from the 20-yard line; and players on the defensive are prohibited from striking the opponent in the face with the heel, back, or side of the hand.

The Wayne schedule is as follows: September 26, open; October 1, Washed there; October 8, Beadulah there; October 15, Newcastle here; October 22, Pilger there; October 29, Janrel here; November 5, open; November 12, Ponca here; November 19, Stanton there; and November 27, open.

Senior Notes. Miss Glenghie Bacon and Supt. T. S. Hook are the sponsors of the senior class. The class meeting for the election of officers was held last Thursday. Bernard Pollard was elected president; Ferris Gifford, vice president; Margaret McMurphy, secretary; Edna Jeffrey, treasurer; and Amelia Kupfer, senior representative to the student council.

Economics is being worked out this year as a study of units. New reference books for this subject much enjoyed by the students are "Readings in Economics," by Williamson, and "Elementary Principles of Economics," by Ely and Wicker.

Junior Notes. Miss Mary Mielenz and Paul Peterson are the sponsors of this class. A class meeting conducted last Thursday the following officers were elected: Frederick Berry, president; Stanley McChesney, vice president; Walden Felber, secretary and treasurer; and Arthur Chester, representative to the student council.

Sophomore Notes. Miss Cora Schlaack and Miss Margaret Pugh are the sponsors of the tenth grade, which has an enrollment of fifty-two. The class meeting for the election of officers September 16, resulted as follows: Dock Sberber, president; Dick Fenske, vice president; Henry Reynolds, secretary; treasurer; Newell Pollard, representative to the student council.

The sophomores are taking biology. It is a new subject this fall. It deals with the relations of plant life to animal life. At present the class is studying a few representative plants and animals. In the near future the class will make trips to acquaint themselves with the plants and animals in this district. Laboratory work is done twice a week with double periods.

Freshman Notes. There are forty-nine freshmen, fourteen are from outside districts. Mrs. Allis Pollard and Mrs. Frances Adamson are the sponsors of the class. At the class meeting conducted Thursday the following officers were elected: Herbert Perry, president; Margaret Paine, vice president; Kathryn Kemp, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Ross, representative to the student council.

The Agriculture class is studying crop production. Cereal crops are being studied, and the work includes the selection of seed, the preparation of the seed bed, the cultivation, and gathering and storing.

First Grade Notes. There are twenty-nine pupils in the first grade, ten in the A division and 19 in the B division. The first graders are enjoying several new sets of readers. The pupils have been making health posters the last week. Some of the first graders will take part in the county fair pageant. They will represent sunbaths and butter flies.

Franklin Simmon entered school Monday. Mrs. Fred L. Blair was a visitor Tuesday.

Second Grade Notes. Twenty-three pupils, eleven boys and twelve girls, are enrolled in the second grade. Of these twelve are in the A class and twelve in the B class. A health-chore contest has been started.

The class finished fair exhibits this week.

Both divisions have new readers which they enjoy very much. Visitors last week were Mrs. Erol Peck, Mrs. R. B. Judson and Miss Pauline Johnson.

Third Grade Notes. Twenty pupils are enrolled in the third grade, thirteen in the A class and seven in the B class. The class has four new sets of readers and both classes have new arithmetic texts.

Will Hcas was absent on account of sickness Monday and Tuesday. Tom Cavanaugh was absent Tuesday and Wednesday. Josephine Ley was absent Wednesday.

Fourth Grade Notes. The fourth grade has twenty-four pupils enrolled, ten in the A class and fourteen in the B class. The B class is making geography booklets in the study of Eskimos and Indians.

The fourth grade has a new set of silent readers and English books which they enjoy very much. Students are reviewing in arithmetic. Frank Gamble was absent Friday. John Oliver Johnson was absent last week on account of a broken collarbone.

Seventh Grade. There are twenty-three pupils enrolled in the seventh grade. Gladys Bennett was absent for the week.

A class is studying "Jean Val Jean". All classes are nicely started with the work of the semester.

Fifth Grade. The total enrollment of the grade is twenty-nine, twenty-two in the B and seven in the A class. Katherine Gray has been absent from school two days on account of sickness.

The hygiene classes are making posters to illustrate work. The classes are also making weed charts. These are to help distinguish different weeds. A large poster is being made to show the sources of clothing. The class has sent to the Corticelli Silk Co. for cocoons to place on the post-er.

Mrs. Soll was a visitor this week.

Sixth Grade Notes. The enrollment in the sixth grade is twenty-two. There are fifteen pupils in the B class and nine pupils in the A class. Twelve of the twenty-two enrolled are boys and the remaining twelve are girls. The B class is now studying the "Need of Man Class" in geography. The A class is studying the northern plateau regions in geography. Biometric tests are being given in arithmetic in both classes.

Eighth Grade Notes. Last year the eighth grade conducted a study of character traits.

The entire class wrote letters to Mr. Egan and the best worked one was sent to him. Last week the president of the eighth grade, Herbert Perry, received the reply which read as follows: Herbert Perry, Class President, Wayne Public School, Wayne, Neb., Dear Herbert: "I wish to convey through you to your class and teacher my sincere appreciation for the very generous letter that you wrote me recently regarding 'Character Class'."

"After reading what you had to say about them I feel more than repaid for the time and energy given to their preparation. It will be a great pleasure to see you again."

Variety Store News

Closetful of Dry Goods Furnishings
For years the Variety Store has carried a line of Ladies' and Children's Dry Goods Furnishings, because customers always did ask for them. But the handling of goods of this character in the Variety Store was always more or less unsatisfactory for one main reason: Believing in an open display, where customers can see and handle all the goods displayed, I have for many years thrown out all showcases. While this step proved to be an advantage as far as the biggest majority of variety goods was concerned it always was a handicap in handling Dry Goods Furnishings. No matter how careful we were, dust and dirt settled down on them in a very short time and the result was inevitable loss through soiled goods and unsatisfactory dealings for the customer.

For that reason and confronting with the necessity to get more room to display the regular variety stock to better advantage, to add more goods which customers might expect to find in a up-to-date Variety Store, and to eliminate the congested condition of the present stock, I have decided to do away with Dry Goods Furnishings. This includes all such goods as aprons, dresses, silk underwear, petticoats, middie, blouses, nightgowns and similar articles. Each and everyone of these articles will be sold for 50c irrespective of real value or former price. This means a heavy loss for me for I paid much more for these goods myself but I am willing to sacrifice to get the results I need. It spells opportunity in big letters for you.

The Variety Store will of course continue to handle a full line of Hosiery, Handkerchiefs, Towels and similar staple articles, also a full stock of Dry Goods Notions.

Wonderful Farm Machinery

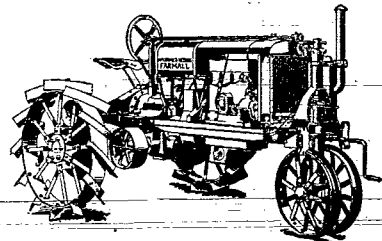

Famous McCormick Deering Lines

We have McCormick-Deering machines in stock and will have them on exhibition at the Wayne county fair next week. See these machines at the fair and note the distinct advantages they offer.

Four-Cylinder Power Plant
The Standard in Harvester Design.

All McCormick-Deering tractors—10-20, 15-30 and Farmall—have the modern power plant, a fully enclosed, heavy-duty 4-cylinder engine proved by our many years' of farm power development to be the most practical power plant for the tractor. We began a quarter-century ago with a 1-cylinder design, progressed to the 2-cylinder type, and outgrew the 2-cylinder period just as the automobile has done. Our 4-cylinder tractors give the farmer liberal power, steady running, and wonderfully flexible, easy operation not to be obtained by other types. Vibration and surplus weight are reduced to the minimum, parts are properly balanced, all wearing parts are replaceable, and long life is assured the tractor. The performance of the many thousands of 4-cylinder McCormick-Deering in every part of the country is convincing evidence of correct design.

Great Labor-Saving Farmall

CULTIVATING CORN. The farmall cultivates two rows at a time. One man can cultivate 15 to 25 acres a day, which is doing the work of two to three men and four to six horses. The Farmall has ample power to pull two additional two-row cultivators. Where this equipment is available, six rows can be cultivated at a time.

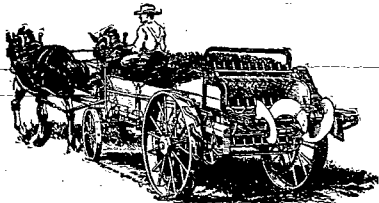

HARVESTING CORN. The Farmall furnishes steady, uniform power for pulling the corn binder or corn picker. In doing this work it saves both time and labor. A man and a boy can pick three or four times as much corn with this outfit as they can by hand.

An Investment in Power

Owners everywhere are considering McCormick-Deering tractors an investment in power—an investment that is paying regular dividends by making it possible for one man to do more, to do it easier, and to do it better. In other words, by materially reducing the cost of production, McCormick-Deering tractors are widening the range of profit and making farming more pleasant.

McCormick-Deering P & O Little Wonder Tractor Plow

The No. 2 Little Wonder combines every feature essential to good plowing with a mechanical design which puts plenty of strength where it is needed yet produces a plow that is very light in draft and as light in weight as it is possible to build a good tractor plow. It is all plow—there is no dead weight.

Frequent Spreading Enriches the Soil, Feeds the Crops, Increases the Yield, Makes Land More Valuable; A McCormick-Deering spreader saves time, lessens labor, and does the work more efficiently than is possible by hand.

Sandwich Galvanized Alloy Steel Portable Elevator

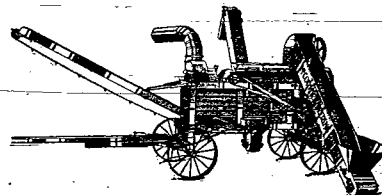

Ordinary black sheet steel is unsatisfactory for elevators. We use the best open hearth steel, to which is added COPPER. This COPPER-ALLOY Steel fights rust and corrosion. We further treat it with heavy GALVANIZING insuring much longer life than ever before obtained by steel elevators.

Future Needs

Talk to us about your future needs in the way of tanks, pumps, windmills, gas engines, corn planters, mowers and other machines. We will be glad to show you.

See us for anything you many need in farm equipment. You will receive prompt and courteous treatment.

McCormick-Deering Primrose

Ball-Bearing Cream Separators

When you consider that a cream separator bowl turns approximately 9,000 revolutions a minute, you realize that THE BEARINGS AND THE BOWL SPINDLE MUST BE RIGHT. The slightest wobble, vibration, or friction in these parts makes the machine turn hard and lowers its skimming efficiency. That's why the builders of the McCormick-Deering Primrose use a bowl spindle heavier than any other and mount it on friction-free ball bearings. McCormick-Deering engineers use no chances—they make your satisfaction certain!

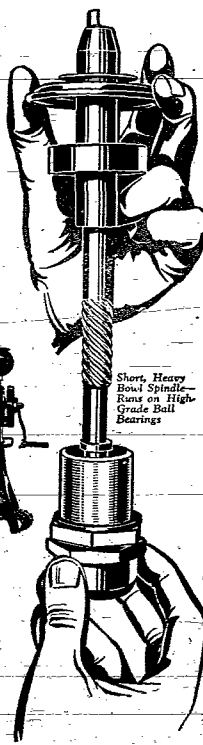

Don't think lightly of the turning question. It is vital. You'll turn your machine twice each day, or 730 times a year. Isn't it worth while to save seven or eight thousand backaches during the life of your machine? Let us demonstrate the Primrose on your farm. No obligation.

A SMALL Down Payment Puts a New McCormick-Deering Primrose on Your Farm

12 Full Months to Pay!

REPAIRS
The right kind of repairs add new life to your machines. Use only genuine I. H. C. repairs for your McCormick-Deering farm operating equipment. A genuine repair put in exactly and becomes a perfect part of the machine.

You Can't Equal This Cream Separator Construction Anywhere!

Short, Heavy Bowl Spindle—Runs on High-Grade Ball Bearings

Shell Before You Sell

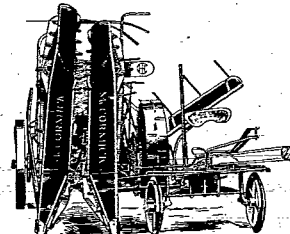

When you own a McCormick-Deering sheller and shell your corn before you sell it, you can be sure of receiving payment for all the corn, and you have the cobs left to use for fuel.

You can haul more bushels of shelled corn per load, and as a result move your crop to market in less time. The economy in this is very evident.

It also pays to do your shelling for seed and feed. You can shell just when you want to, and you put the shelling profit into your own pocket.

No matter what your shelling needs may be, you can find the right equipment in the McCormick-Deering line. The small McCormick-Deering shellers are ideal for shelling corn for seed and feed and will deliver the cobs in good condition for fuel. The larger shellers are well adapted to custom work as well as individual use, and will easily pay for themselves with what they save on your own crop and by shelling for neighbors.

Corn Pickers

Do you look forward to corn husking time with a mind free from worry or are you wondering how the crop will be picked and husked promptly—and without loss? The owner of a McCormick-Deering corn picker can go about his daily task or retire at night carefree, for he knows that no matter how big the crop or how scarce labor may be, he can handle his corn crop easily with his own help.

Present Pageant In Three Epochs

(Continued from page one.) Mrs. Pollard's pioneer family display the good times the early settlers enjoyed. The first community Christmas tree was a boxelder wrapped with cloth and cotton and decorated with Christmas symbols, will be shown. Mrs. Mary Brittain and Mrs. J. T. Bressler sponsored the first community tree in LaPorte in 1880 and the former has assisted in making the one for the fair a duplication. The voice, Homer Linn, who announces the progress of the epoch, will tell very briefly of the early railroad and county organization while the scenes are enacted. Hoskins, Winside, Carroll and Shales were settled in the early days. Miss Alma and Miss Louise Laughenbaugh, Dwight Finion, Ralph Hillier and Dub Enger will represent Winside in a musical number. Walek singers from Carroll will appear in costume and represent the settling of that section. Those who take part from Carroll are Mrs. Marietta Morris, Miss Cecil Thomas, Miss Mildred Marshall, Mrs. Lawrence Jennings, Mrs. John H. Ovgus, Mrs. W. H. Rees, Mrs. T. P. Roberts, H. G. Evans, Richard Pinkham, Irwin Jones, John L. Davis, Dan Thomas, Wayne Evans, Ramsey Hill and Mrs. Daniel Thomas.

In the summer of 1881 county superintendent J. G. Gillette, and M. Ashley held a summer school for teachers and secured Prof. J. M. Pile of Esmond, to instruct. This was so successful that business men helped finance the Normal College and Prof. Pile was president. The first graduating class will appear in a group in charge of Mrs. John Grier. Miss Charlotte White, Mrs. C. S. Beebe and J. J. Gildersleeve were members of the class and will take part. John Getman, Will Ross, Jack Jeffrey, Will Back, Mrs. Irvie Reed, Mrs. Ray Perdue and Mrs. Roy Peterson will take part with the others in the scene. Prof. S. X. Cross will be Prof. Pile. One of the students of the Normal College was John G. Neihardt, now poet laureate of Nebraska. Students of the State Teachers College dramatic class, in charge of Mrs. Madge Joseph Smith, will picture a scene from the writings of the author. This will close the epoch.

Miss Mabel Steuckrath of Randolph, medical patient at the hospital, is improving.

Now is the time to buy your coat and dress.

Prices are lower here than usual because through our purchases of garments for so many other towns we can sell cheaper.

A Consideration of Autumn Home Decoration

By Marjorie Howe Dixon

In the realm of good taste where decoration is concerned, all through the prevailing styles of home treatment, now in vogue, one is impressed with the element of simplicity, of reserve. If a home is done in the Italian manner, which is one of the severer period styles, there are certain rigid demands to be carried out. The Spanish rooms now also popular are essentially simple in treatment. And as for Early American homes, in these, surely, all excess ornamentation is done away with.

Decorations Are Sophisticated. And with them all, there comes about quite naturally a sort of childlike note. It is perhaps a paradox, to say that the present sophisticated home decoration is really childlike in character but such is actually the case. One finds a room with a background of naive prints against gay paper, almost foolish in design, with a tiled floor in checkered pattern. Delightful built-in shelves lined with small patterned paper, chintz chair coverings, the use of Toby rings and raffled curtains, primly tied back, all suggest things that appeal to children. There can be no argument about the fact that in the rush, the excitement, the tremendous activities of present living these things are easier to live with than the over-decorated, muchly herbombed styles of the eighteenth century, or the terrible objects created during the black walnut, hair cloth and red plush era that preceded it.

Among the suggestions for an Early American treatment of a bed room is a pleasant arrangement centered about a tester in Tulle de Jouy over a field bed. Under the arched drape of the tested two square pictures hung on the wall, each with a prim little embroidered flower, to rest one on awakening. Toile de Jouy was repeated in the rose window drapes edged with a pleated ruffle and tied back.

Fireplace Is Unusual. With its unusual fireplace and convenient secretary desk one would want to spend more than the usual sleeping hours in this room. The fireplace was made attractive with a decorative rug of Belgium set in a square panel above a horizontal panel above the fireplace opening, containing two oval portrait silhouettes seated exactly right above Colonial brass andirons.

Since "she" who would use this room would want a bit of glass, a vanity table, waited in another corner. The center table of this, raised disclosed a set of boxes for trinkets and powder with the lid containing an old mirror.

If one used these suggestions for a bed room, in an apartment, a dining room of the same period would be equally effective. Let us imagine this one, fitted out with maple. Came several high-backed chairs might group themselves about an oval gatelegged table. A large square of rose linen would make a good cover for this table with a border of wool stitching in bright colors. A similar mat of rose linen might lie on the serving table.

Row of Rose Glasses. On this latter a row of rose glasses might stand along the back with a pair of poster sconces above. Flat tallow candles could sit in the sconces, the backs of which should be circular and highly polished to act as reflectors.

Curtains of rose sprigged chintz might be tied back at the windows, with a scallop of pink binding each side of these. The combined effect would produce a direct simplicity and cheerfulness that would reflect the Colonial spirit sincerely. In a country home one can imagine an Italian living room with its massiveness and severity. A heavy oval topped table in oak would make a centerpiece, with arm chair upholstered in leather and studded with brass nails. Light for this room would be arranged with sconces and tall wrought iron torches. Monks cloths would lend itself to drapes, and panels of embroidery would make appropriate wall hangings. Small tables, three-legged chairs with carved backs, could be scattered about where convenience suggested.

Italian Dining Room An Italian dining room can be a colorful spot in spite of its native severity. Red cushions in a window niche, brass panels on the wall, a tooled leather screen with brass nail decorated in gilt and red lacquer, these will provide color, not to mention a portrait print with much red and a red background to the carving on the buffet, the tall china cabinet and the side table. Above the buffet a round framed map of tinted glass would supply more color.

In a Spanish dining room with its low arched doors, the tones of brass and dull red were the leading color notes. Chairs of red tapestry with gilt-fringe stood about a long, recessed table. A gothic window made a background for a tall iron fern stand. Wrought iron was repeated in the fireplace equipment standing in an interesting Spanish fireplace with its overhang built out from the corner. Carved walnut was used for a chest and china cabinet. Over the buffet hung a portrait with a pair of twisted brass torches below.

If one cares not for the period, modern pieces or sets, and produce a most successful arrangement.

Fixing Up the Bed Room. A bedroom with a swan motif carried out in each piece, comes to mind. It was modern and of no definite period. A huge rag doll dressed as Pierrot, lounging in a love seat, did suggest a French influence, but then so did a few modern French prints. Twin beds with a scalloped canopy, covered with green needle-point. On the dresser a glass shelf stood either side a mirror supported at each corner by a swan carved in walnut. A similar pair of glass shelves stood on the vanity case, each holding a lamp. At any season it is difficult to generalize about style tendencies whether in clothing or home decoration. One thing however seems noticeable this year and that is the prevalence of cushions, especially small ones. There are quilted, chintz, embroidered or gingham cushions scattered about—each chair with one or two. Small round or heart shaped pink cushions, all frilled with lace like scalloping, are lying on the beds. Bits of old patchwork quilts are centers for others. One may devise almost any "padding" or "using" material and find it correct, just so it is small. Here again is the childish note repeated, as was mentioned before. If you go a step farther, and make a delightful squirrel of gingham, or a fat cat, or a frisky bunny, it will find many uses. Dad can fall over it, and mother can use it for an elbow rest. And small brother will find it excellent for emphasis in an argument, being just the right size to throw at any one "when words fail you."

Buck's Direct Heater

September 27 and 28

And will explain the superior features of Buck's Direct Heater.

The beautiful 32-piece set of China Dishes will be given Free with each Direct Heater sold on these dates.

Heats the Whole House

To look at "Buck's" Direct Heater, you might think it was merely a heating stove encased in a handsome Walnut or Brown-Grained Mahogany-Finished Cabinet. But it's not. It is an air circulator that may be placed in any room in the house. Like a basement-furnace, it draws cold air in at the bottom, heats it and forces it out at the top of the beautiful cabinet, then sends it through every room in the house—up stairs and down. It's no larger than an ordinary heating stove, but it has a circulating capacity six times greater than the largest base-burner. Yet, it may be moved or connected exactly the same as a stove.

Woman, 100, Reads Paper to Son

—NBA, Chicago Bureau
Mrs. Katherine Henen recently celebrated her 100th birthday at her home on a farm 10 miles from Freeport, Ill. She cooks, takes sews and does other household duties. Here she is shown on the porch reading the paper aloud to her son, John, who is 75.

The latter remained a few days to attend the fair.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ott and family spent Sunday afternoon in Wayne at the Charles Franzen home.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lessman and family spent Sunday afternoon at the George Lesman home in Wayne.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ervance, Mr. and Mrs. John Schrader and John Franzen visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. August Kruse.
Clarence Kay, Julius Hinnerichs, John Dunklau and family and Worthy Beinhoff were Sunday guests at the August Kruse home.
Mrs. Henry Bush received word Sunday of the death of her cousin, Frank Wyatt of Reliance, S. D. A week ago the latter accidentally had one of his arms shot off.
Ruby Dunklau celebrated her thirtieth birthday September 15. Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Davis and daughter, Miss Gretchen, and Miss Linnea Erickson were guests for dinner that evening in honor of the occasion. Miss Erickson remained at the Dunklau home over night.
August Kruse and daughter, Miss Marion, returned Tuesday of last week from a visit since the previous Thursday in Omaha and in Iowa. They went to Council Bluffs, visited at the Glenn and Irvy Johnson homes at Oakdale, Iowa, and relative's family at Harlan, Iowa, and relatives at Denison and Charter Oak, Iowa.

5c lower, but a mild reaction later brought prices back to about a steady position as compared to the close of last week.
Fair to good grass fat cows now selling from $5.25 to $5, with tops over, while $7.50 has been paid more than once for choice western heifers. Low grade beef cows sell from $4.50 to $4.75, with cutters from $3.75 to $4.25 and canners from $3.50 to $3.50 mostly. Veals down to an $11 top, the reduction, however, being mostly in veal before the opening of this week.
Attractive thin steers of all weights are finding a ready outlet through feeder channels at firm prices. Tops can still be figured to $2.50, with good kinds down to $1.50 up and fair kinds from $1.50 up. Types to sell from $6.25 down to $5 and under, are again weak and slow, with the broad country demands not extending to include the inferior material.
Fleshy feeding hogs topped many times at $7 early, while $5.50 to $6.50 came over to the fair to choice thin feeding hogs. Such prices look stronger. Feeding cubs steady, with $3.75 to $4.50 fetching practically all of the sales.
Light and light hogs have taken some severe bumps. Tops are now down around $13, with short weight butchers rather than lights earning the tops. In other words the demand is changing from lightweight to heavy, and the movement in the direction has already been such that the spread is appreciably narrower. Best of the really heavy hunchers are moving from $12 up, with choice feeder sows topping only a few nickels under $12.
Lamb: 25 to 30 cents lower to midweek, the discount including both twins and westerly. Tops at midweek are just a few pennies over $13. Choice yearling ewes are $6.25 and for that matter aged grades in general, reflect generally steady prices for the week.

Market Report

Furnished by Steele, Siman & Co., Sioux City Stock Yards.
Sioux City Stock Yards, Sept. 22.—No variations of appreciable magnitude disturbed the cattle market this week, notwithstanding the fact that the delivery to the 11 leading markets of the country ran 40,000 in excess of the liquidation to midweek last week. On the other hand hog prices continued to jump around, with buyers still showing an uncompromisingly bullish attitude, particularly toward light lambs who have steadily declined for ten days.
This week fat steer and yearling prices again sought new high levels. For the season, proving that the market is in little danger of backing up. Fed yearlings actually sold to $11.85, with weighty heaves to $11.50. Quotable tops for fancy yearling steers range to $12 with veal's quotable to $11.75, there being but little of the early season discrimination against excessive weight noticeable at this time. Generally the good to choice fed steers are quotable from $11.00 to $12.00 with fair to good from $10.00 to $11.00. Decent to fair kind-sell around $9 to $10, with practically no common warmed up material from $8 to $9.
Just a few of the good to choice grass steers are finding their way to shambles, but prices generally steady. Sales landed mostly from $7.25 up to as high as $8.65 for a top, with just scattered loads of fair kinds down to $7 and under.
Grass cows and heifers have continued to form a heavy portion of the runs. Monday's trade ruled weak to

Construction Details: It has a double air-circulating system. The Intensifire Air Duct Found only in the ESTATE HEATROLA. Built into the furnace directly over the fire. In it the air is intensely heated, discharged into the dome, flowing out in the room. There is only one HEATROLA. Beware of imitations. The success of the HEATROLA has given rise to many imitations. Many look a great deal like the HEATROLA, but none are actually like it. We Ask You to come in and look through the HEATROLA, and let us show you WHY the HEATROLA will be by far the most SERVICEABLE and ECONOMICAL. EKEROTH & SAR. Wakefield, Nebraska. What Price Craftmanship

In painting and decorating, what is the money cost of that much-sought and elusive ingredient called craftmanship? It is not a matter of price. It is a matter of experience. It is not a matter of price. It is a manship cost no more than the other kind. In the long run they cost less.

Doing the work well is more than an ideal with us. It is an obligation and a tradition of 26 years old. So, today you will find more Hahlbeck's craftsmen busy wherever there is a demand for better painting and decorating. We add craftmanship to every job we do. That's why we enjoy the confidence of so many in Wayne and surrounding towns.

The Proof Is In the Use

There is a difference in Gasoline and all that difference is in favor of Skelly Gasoline over ordinary Gasoline. If your motor could talk it would tell you to turn into our stations and fill your tank with Skelly Gasoline and thereby give it a chance to give you more miles per gallon, less crank-case dilution and a cleaner and cooler motor. Good gasoline reduces your lubricating costs. Let us explain why.
