"Stella Dallas" At Crystal This Week

Flappers, the female of the species and flackjacks, the male counterpart, have their innings galore in the Henry King production of "Stella Dallas," which comes to the Crystal theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Boys' bobs, single cuts, fan fare trims, in fact, all manner of modish up-to-date hair cuts, are in evidence with the girls: Balloon trousers, flannels, blue serge coats, unctions and carce paddies are the fashion hints followed by the boys.

Youth and beauty in and about an exclusive summer resort have full play in the Samuel Galvin production which is a romantic drama, adapted by Frances Marion from Olive Higgins Prouty's celebrated novel.

Of the two more important young folk in the picture, special note is given to Lois Moran, the wistful and modernized girl, who plays the part of Laurel, daughter of "Stella." Lois Moran is not a flapper. She has been called a "fragile cameo."

Young Douglas Fairbanks, jr., in his romantic moment, exemplifies the semi-awkward, bashful youth with a carefree flare to his actions.
 These young moderns indulge in all the outdoor sports known to American youth—horseback riding, swimming, canoeing, tennis, picnicking, fishing—all give added verve and dash and a touch of color to the drama, and lend contrast to the heart appeal of the main theme.

Besides Lois Moran and Douglas Fairbanks, jr., the cast in "Stella Dallas" includes Ronald Colman, Belle Bennett, Alice Joyce and Jean Hersholt.

Speaks to Club On Science and Life

Prof. I. H. Britell of the science department of the Wayne State Teachers College, spoke to the Kiwanis club on "Science and Modern Life." A summary of his remarks is as follows:

"A survey of scientific progress includes the subject of evolution. This term is in bad-repute in some localities. Laws against teaching evolution have been passed and there is an honest opposition to what fundamentalists call evolution. I am not certain as to just what these people mean by evolution.

"It is certainly unreasonable to legislate against truth and that is what science hopes to do. Science does not attempt to establish any system of religious faith or dogma. Science does not deny the divinity of Christ. Christ lived and taught some 2000 years ago. His mission to humanity was one of moral uplift, a spiritual mission.

"Whatever knowledge he had of world building, geology of the earth, size, shape, movement of the stars and planets, of space, astronomy, of electricity, X-rays, synthesis of elements, infectious diseases, of application of power such as steam, or of physics, chemistry and biology, he never revealed. He made no attempt to force these things on a people unprepared to receive them. God commissioned man to subdue the earth and this is what science is trying to do. Evolution does not mean change. Science makes no attempt to account for life or matter. It seeks to discover natural changes and the causes which produce them. Change is constant. Day follows night. The moon has its phases. Seasons come and go. Tides ebb and flow. Mountains weather away. Winds are changeable. All is change.

"Mastodons roamed these hills of ours; then the buffalo. We are here for a time, but may pass to make room for some future condition. Burbank changed plants to more desirable forms. Stockmen improve their flocks. Nature, through years of ceaseless change, or food supply, has caused many changes in all forms of life. In this sense I am an evolutionist.

"Science asks only for truth. What are the facts not for man's opinion or beliefs but God's great storehouse of truth?

"Popular belief may be wrong. One it was believed the putrid flesh would generate worms; that horse-hair in water became snakes. There is vast difference between scientific facts and common folk lore.

"There has always been a strong opposition to scientific progress. Galileo had to recant, Columbus was called crazy, Newton, Faraday and Darwin had few followers. These men laid the foundation on which scientists continued to build, escape the natural world and enlarged the artificial.

"Primitive man found a cave and dwelt there. Later he added rock walls. Still later he built homes. Today we have in all our cities large buildings of steel and concrete. Primitive man rode a log across a stream. Today the great trans-Atlantic boats are models of strength and beauty. Men stand in the clouds. Today we view it while flying among the clouds.

"Inventions have been opposed since man first made tools. And yet today labor saving machines have multiplied beyond our ability to enumerate them—this being not to mention the automobile, the airplane and the electric servant. Who among us would care to go back to the 'good old days' of the plow and the ox?

"Medical science met keen opposition and yet today we have skilled surgeons, fine hospitals and trained nurses. Most diseases are curable. In this, science has been a great blessing to humanity.

"Science developed the artificial ice machine and his gave us cold storage for food, vegetables, fruit, fish and meats. The conservation of food means a saving of thousands of dollars to the people and is one of our modern methods of unusual value to the nation. Science developed the great steel industry which was an absolute necessity to our modern progress. From coal science has produced many compounds—such as collars, medicine, extracts, perfumes. This field represents a saving of millions of dollars each year to the people of America.

"What of the future? None can tell, but the opinion of those best able to judge is that our progress will be continuous and our next century will probably produce new developments equal to those of the past.

"India rubber has been artificially produced but as yet not on a commercial basis. In all probability automobiles will soon be shod with tires, the products of synthetic chemistry.

"Prof. Collidge has developed a new cathode ray tube which for the first time enables scientists to get the electrons out of the glass bulb of the X-ray tube into air where they may be experimented with. At present this new discovery is only in the experimental stage but there seems to be good reason for thinking the instrument may be the means of producing chemical compounds not yet known and of liberating forces greater than any yet known.

"Science along many lines gives great promise of the developing most useful results and to say the least, the outlook is extremely satisfying."

Wayne's Hospitality.
Albion News: Editor Huse of the Wayne Herald calls attention to the number of conventions being held this month in Wayne and adds that "people like to come to Wayne, because, for one reason, its hospitality is genuine, as well as generous." However, Mr. Huse does not cite the reason for this hospitality. "It isn't that the people of Wayne are any more hospitable than the people of most other towns like unto it. But Wayne people are hospitable, generously so, because a college town they are prepared. In college towns the size of Editor Huse's town, nearly every modern home has been equipped to accommodate one or more students. And not only are the homes equipped to receive an extra guest or so, but the people have become accustomed to entertaining those, other than the members of the family. Here in Albion the situation is different. Comparatively few homes are so furnished that an extra one or two can be taken in without some inconvenience and then few homes are accustomed to the uncertain outside guests. It readily can be seen the average college town has a very definite advantage when it comes to extending the glad hand. They are prepared and they are educated to it.

A Coal for Every Purpose

It is our aim to stock a variety of coals for various purposes that have been proven economical and satisfactory. A coal that is just right in one furnace may be very unsatisfactory in another. It depends some on the kind of furnace, the draft, the freeman, etc. Ask us and in most cases we can recommend just the right thing. For instance, for cookstove use there is not a bit of use in buying big lump coal when the same coal can be had in the nut size already prepared. Why? Because the nut costs less than the lump to start with and saves the labor of breaking and the consequent loss in the slack that accumulates from breaking the big lumps into sizes small enough to use in the kitchen range.

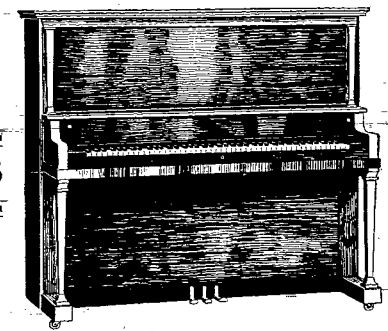

We recommend HOT NUT COAL for the range. We have our own truck. Prompt service. Phone 147.

Question Of Good Roads Is Discussed

Lincoln, Nov. 27.—Nebraska good road enthusiasts, are going to encounter stiff opposition to their proposed 1927 state road building program according to sentiment crystallizing in the agricultural districts of the state at present.

The major planks of the Nebraska Good Roads association's program call for the following:

- 1. A 3-cent state gasoline tax, the receipts to go to county boards for construction of county roads.
- 2. Restoration of auto registration fees to the figures prior to the 1925 amendment.
- 3. Direct property tax to meet the balance of federal aid and to go forward with road construction work.

Opposition to tax increase. The proposed 1-cent increase in the gas tax is opposed by both political parties, the Nebraska Farmers' Union and other statewide organizations. It is conceded only by an outside chance of passage in the next legislature.

Feeling out that Nebraska now ranks thirty-seventh among the states in average registration fees per vehicle, the good roads association urges an additional $2 on registration fees to swell the amount of funds for highway construction. The Farmers' Union opposes this proposal and all of the remaining proposals.

Legislative leaders anticipate a somewhat bitter fight when the good roads question comes up in the legislature on the state control of highway construction. At present, all highway work is directed by the state. There are many backers of the proposal to divide this power 50-50 with county boards.

Defends Property Levy. The direct property tax to be asked for by the good roads association is on the supposition that "all citizens and property are benefited by good roads and should pay a small share of the road tax. The association contends that the present 2-cent tax on gas will not meet Nebraska's share of federal aid highway funds and that the direct property tax will make up the balance.

Governor McMillen in his recent opinion expressed the point that his elaborate highway construction program of his administration had been accomplished without direct property taxation and it is considered unlikely that his administration would now urge a direct property tax for highway construction in addition to the gas tax.

Business

Sioux City Journal: The improvement in business in the last two and one-half years has been accompanied by a number of phenomena, some of which may seem to be contradictory. Examination of the results and what produced them may reveal to observers nothing but a natural progress, although it must be admitted it has been somewhat unusual.

One may find several things to explain the situation. It is well known that the improvement, which began in 1924, has been remarkably steady. The upward climb started when the volume of business was 14 to 15 per cent below normal. No ground was lost after the climb upward began, and today it is agreed that the volume of business is from 7 to 8 per cent above normal.

Accompanying this steady upward climb was the unusual condition of no slack periods. The midwinter and midsummer lulls strangely disappeared. It was as though business had discovered a way to compel a greater smoothness of operations. It was comparable to the improvement of an engine that operates with increased regularity. The acceleration was steady throughout. It might be said there was no period of vibration. The steady speed of this forward movement was partly due to increasing momentum, but that was not all. Method had a good deal to do with it.

The stimulation of business in this country was not attended by price advances. Industry increased production with prices changing very little. Many costs, per man, were much heavier due to higher wages. At the same time labor costs per commodity were lowered. Here were three elements bound to be figured in the cost of production, and, of course, it would be utterly impossible to make any kind of adjustment on a balance sheet under ordinary circumstances. Business men ago found that higher wages meant higher costs per commodity, and that increased prices had to accompany these changes.

Now for the one surprising phenomenon that made it possible for business to expand in the industries despite the agencies that seemed to be working against that movement. Labor costs per man were greater but costs were lower per commodity. This was accomplished by increased productivity per man. In a word, it was due to greater efficiency in industry. Even when higher wages were paid to workers production costs came down because labor produced more.

Some figures on this are available. The greatest increase in production per man is seen in the automobile industry. A worker today can turn out 275 cars, compared with 140 in 1914. Taking 1910 as the 1914 index, the automobile factory worker's production today actually reaches 310 per cent. Gains in other industries are estimated as follows: Iron and steel, a gain of 49.3 per cent; pulp and paper, 25.7; cement, 57.8; boot and shoe, 16.5; leather, 28.2; flour milling, 39.

In the 12-year period the average wage increase in the United States has been 128 per cent, but the general price level has gone up only 60. Efficiency in production explains it. This efficiency has been possible because new and improved devices have been put into service in industry. What a change from the early predictions when the inventors commenced to evolve labor saving machines! It was freely said then that labor would suffer from the employment of the machines, but actually the worker has found them a blessing.

Wakefield High Team Undeclared

Will Meet Tekamah to Decide Football Championship in This Section of State.

By winning from South-Sioux City in a football game Thanksgiving day at the South Sioux City gridiron, the Wakefield high school football team now stands as one of the four high school teams in the state which have not been defeated in a game this season. The other schools are Tekamah, Gothenburg and Crete. To decide the championship of north-east and central east Nebraska, the Wakefield and Tekamah teams will meet at Wakefield Friday of this week for a postseason contest. Wakefield has arranged with the Northwestern Bell Telephone company to have a special wire installed so that the contest can be broadcast, play by play, from radio station WJAG at Norfolk.

Wakefield has played seven games this season, these being with West Point, Wayne, Laurel, Pender, Bloomfield, Newcastle and South Sioux City. The game last Thursday resulted in a 14 to 7 victory for Wakefield. 11 touchdowns were from the same team, six in the season by one touchdown. Wakefield pushed the ball across the goal line four times in the game but two of the touchdowns were not allowed. Wakefield made seven first downs to South Sioux City of nine and completed six out of nine passes.

Coach Schulte of the state university will be in Norfolk and Mr. King will be in Wakefield for the contest between Wakefield and Tekamah. It is understood that Tekamah plans to charter a special train to Wakefield for the day.

Amazing Single Dial Control and Reproduction

$38.00

This five-tube receiving set, incorporating two stages of non-oscillating radio frequency amplification, regenerative Crescendon controlled detector and two stages of audio frequency amplification—the set which has been causing such favorable comment since it was announced December 26th—remains the same excepting that the station selector dials have been placed back of the panel and are observed through windows, going away with sectors and pointers on the front of the panel. Otherwise it is identically the same as the 5-38 with which you are acquainted.

The 5-tube 5-50

Such a success! Enthusiastic owners report amazing performance — a drum dial delivering stations loud, clear, sharp; each an almost imperceptible turn of the drum apart. Write station letters on the drum; return to them at will. This marvelous receiver containing these advanced ideas in radio (some of them exclusively to Crosley), including metal shielding and power tube adaptability indicates Power Crosley, Jr.'s genius in lowering prices by mass production.

$50

The 5-75 Console

This set includes ideas for radio reception perfection NOT found in any other radio. Marvelous exclusive Crosley "Crescendon" and "Acuminators" increase volume on distant stations and bring in programs entirely passed by and missed on ordinary one dial control radios. Console is 40 inches high with ample room for batteries and a genuine Crosley Musicone is built in. Radio chassis same as in the 5-50 receiver. Beautifully finished two-tone mahogany cabinet, rose gold fittings.

Furthermore, anyone to whom an extending influence is my neighbor. Think it three times and ask yourself just what kind of a neighbor you are after all."
