A GENEROUS VIEW.

J. G. Alden in York Republican: The Republican takes a pleasurable interest in the affairs of its neighbors of the exchange table. So it notes with much satisfaction that the Wayne Herald is to move this week into a new home that has been built expressly for it. Editor Huse has also taken advantage of the occasion of moving by installing a new press and other equipment and to make announcement of changes in the size and style of his paper. Nebraska has a number of vigorous, prosperous, characterful weekly newspapers. None of them excel the Wayne Herald, which is a pattern in news treatment, editorial policy and content, and typographical appearance. All other weekly newspapers of Nebraska feel the benefits that accrue from the rivalry and example of so good a newspaper. The Republican reads its columns with interest, watches its make-up and appearance with admiration, and strives anew itself for improved ideas and service. The Herald is widely known and read. It is immensely appreciated by the community it serves, for its columns teem with advertising and it exudes prosperity, progress and community service. It is entitled to a fitting home and continued years of service under its talented editor, E. W. Huse.

New Marine Telephone Cable Links Denmark and Germany

A new long distance telephone cable between Denmark and Germany was laid in the Baltic Sea recently to provide additional facilities and better transmission for telephone conversations between the two nations. The picture above shows the launching of the German end of the cable at Warnemunde where it connects with the new German telephone system. Denmark and Germany have been connected by an old cable containing four wires which could not be used in connection with modern systems. The new cable contains enough wires to convey 12 conversations at one time.

Development of an European long distance telephone system is now in progress, and when completed, conversations between the Scandinavian and British countries in the north and Italy and Spain in the south will be possible. Lines connecting these nations would be about 3,000 miles long.

In the United States, conversations are possible over a long distance line extending 3,500 miles between the Pacific coast, across the mainland to New York and then south to Cuba. The Pacific to Cuba has been in service about five years, and between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts for more than 10 years.

Over 17,000,000 telephones, or 14 to each 100 persons, in the United States are interconnected by long distance lines that conversations can be had between any two of them. There are only 7,000,000 telephones, or 1.4 to each 100 persons, in all of Europe, but no complete system of long distance lines makes it possible for Europeans to converse with one another. National boundaries and wide differences in language spoken makes complete international communication in Europe difficult.

FROM KINDLY BIXBY.

Dr. A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: The new year will see E. W. Huse of the Wayne Herald occupying a new and modern building, the same equipped with much material fresh from the factory, including a course of the latest pattern. Of course, this is ample evidence of the prosperity of the Herald, and proof that merit wins. E. W. Huse has given the people of northeast Nebraska a local newspaper unsurpassed in the west and not equalled in the east. To say it is a model of excellence in every department isn't saying too much.

Baptist Church.
(Rev. A. C. Downing, Pastor.)
Let us begin the year right by attending divine service on the first Sunday. The messages of the day will be in keeping with the season. We begin a "Clean the Slate Week" on Sunday, January 2nd, continuing till the second Sunday, January 9. Our hope and expectation is that every indebtedness will be met during the week making it possible for us to enter the New Year without any old financial obligations unpaid. Letters are going out to the members and constituency putting this matter clearly before them. Love and loyalty will lift the load. We have great confidence in our people and believe that they will do their utmost to put this effort over just as they have every other movement.

We were very greatly pleased with the offering for missions last Sunday. Many dollar bills found their way to the tree and even some five dollar bills were found among the "leaves." Many thanks. Beginning Sunday evening and continuing each Sunday evening during the month of January we will be showing pictures of the work done upon the mission fields both home and abroad. This will supplement the reading of "The Log."

Our sincere wish is for your health, happiness and prosperity in 1927

December 25th, 1926.

Here we are parked in Wayne all surrounded by the Holiday spirit with nothing to do but think and develop a New Year Greeting to you.

At the outset, let us take you back 30 years. DO YOU REMEMBER When:—

Eggs were 10c per dozen and milk was 5c a quart, the butcher gave soup bones and liver away and treated kids with bologna, the hired girl got $2.00 a week and did the washing.

Men wore whiskers and boots, chewed tobacco, spit on sidewalks and cussed. Beer was 5c a glass and lunch was free.

Laborers worked 10 hours per day and never went on strike.

No tips were given waiters and you didn't have to give the hat checker money to get your hat back after you had paid three times as much for a meal as it was worth.

A coal stove in the parlor, a kerosene hanging lamp in the sitting room, the family horse and phaeton in the stable represented the height of wealth and luxury.

No one ever heard of microbes or calories, and no one had ever undergone an appendicitis operation.

Folks lived to be a good old age and every year walked miles to wish their friends A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

And now, my dear Friend, think about today: Everyone rides in automobiles or flies in airplanes, plays golf and bridge.

Everyone goes nightly to theatre or movies, listens to Grand Opera on the phonograph or via radio.

Some don't ever go to bed the same day they get up and

Some blame the High Cost of Living on the Republicans and after drinking Toilet Water, Hair Tonic, Cologne and Lemon Extract, make themselves believe they are having a wonderful time.

These are days of suffragettes, profiteering, excess taxes, country clubs, hundred miles an hour living and prohibition and if you feel in spite of it as we do, that life is worth living, it is a real and definite pleasure for us to extend to you that old, old-fashioned but very, very sincere wish:

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Junior Trautman, Robert Kemp, Warren Jacobsen and Merin Benschhof were permitted to attend the Cotillion at the Casino Tuesday night that they might see Santa Claus and have the opportunity to make their wishes known.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Damme of Sioux City, who had been visiting relatives in Silver Creek came Thursday and remained until Monday when they returned to Sioux City. Mrs. Damme's sister, Mrs. H. S. Moses, accompanied them home for a few days' visit.

Rev. L. R. Kackler, Miss Anna Hillier, Miss Neville Trautman, Miss Alta Overman, Miss Reba Jones, Edwin and Clarence Ulrich and Hans Carstein went Christmas caroling Friday night after the exercise at the church. They went to the homes of the "shut-ins" who thoroughly enjoyed the songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lewis were surprised Thursday evening when thirty friends walked unannounced into their home and congratulated them on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The evening was spent playing progressive somerset. The self-invited guests served an oyster supper. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were presented with silver gifts from the members of the social circle of which Mrs. Lewis is a member.

The reporter has been invited into several homes to see the holiday decorations and we have never seen more beautiful decorations than many of them have. Miss Rose Lound had very elaborate decorations in her home with fireplace, Santa and all, expecting nieces and nephews from South Dakota, but by change of plans the little folks missed the entertainment planned for them by their aunt and grandmother.

Miss Eulalie Brugger who teaches in the Rew school gave a box social and Christmas program in her school house Thursday evening.

The school room was beautifully decorated with Christmas colors and emblems. The program was well given to an appreciative audience. Peter Jensen acted as auctioneer in the sale of the money which brought $24.50. This money will be used in purchasing furnishings for the school room.

The C. C. club gave a party Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Miller in honor of the six members of the club who are moving away: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quinn who will move to the Wallace brothers' farm near Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melick who are moving to Norfolk, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Malloy who plan to move to Cedar Bluffs. The evening was spent at cards and dancing. A covered dish luncheon was served. The club will greatly miss these members who are leaving as all have been very active in the social events of the club.

The Coterie club met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gurney Benschhof. Fourteen members responded to roll call with Christmas greetings. Other guests were: Mrs. Mac Huffaker, Mrs. Fred Bright, Mrs. Harold Quinn, Mrs. Mary Reed, Mrs. C. E. Benschhof and Miss Ruby Reed. Santa Claus, with a huge sack, met each guest at the door and the exchange gift was placed in the sack. Later each one present was given a gift. The club members sang "Silent Night." Mrs. H. S. Moses and Mrs. N. H. Hanson each gave a reading. Mrs. Benschhof served a two-course luncheon with a Christmas tree as centerpiece. The club will have a watch party New Year's eve at the home of Mrs. H. S. Moses.

Would-be robbers raided the Winside depot Sunday night, breaking open both the outer and inner doors and prying open the cash and ticket drawers. The cash drawer had been left empty, excepting a few pennies, by station officials when they locked up Sunday evening. Monday morning when the officials returned to work it was first feared that tickets or freight and express might be missing, but on checking up, it was found that nothing was missing. The miscreants had evidently been after the money they thought was in the cash drawer and when they found that empty, left without disturbing anything else. None of the business houses reported any loss.

School Notes. The first and second grades had an exchange of presents Thursday. Santa Claus brought them a treat for such good children.

The third and fourth grades had an exchange of presents Thursday. The fifth and sixth grades had a little party Friday afternoon. Games were played and presents exchanged.

The fifth and sixth grades made presents for their parents in the weeks preceding Christmas.

Tannie Baker of the seventh grade celebrated her birthday Monday. She served candy bars to her classmates.

Bernice Johnson visited the high school Thursday afternoon. Santa Claus brought the third and fourth grades a treat for being good children.

Jack Neely and Merlin Benschhof attended the Christmas tree Thursday afternoon.

A large crowd of parents and friends attended the school children's Christmas program Thursday evening. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with Christmas colors. The costumes of the children were exceptionally pretty and the audience pronounced it one of the best entertainments ever given.

The following numbers were enjoyed: Selection by high school orchestra; song, "The Song the World is Singing," first school pupils; "Junior Band," second and third grades; "Lullaby," Mary Frances Wilson; playette, "Santa Claus Land," grades; recitation, Walden Weible; illustrated song, "Rheumaticks," recitation, Alice Wylie; song, "Santa Claus," grades; recitation, Vernon Sellers; "Lullaby," Shirley Bess Misfeldt; pantomime, "Perrot - Perrette"; Margaret Stamm, Leona Schriener; recitation, Merna Hornby; "Lullaby," primary pupils; drill, "Acrostic," primary grades; piano solo, Reba Jones; reading and pantomime, "The Ruggie's Family," high school; orchestra selection.

Several of the following children brought candy which was sold to help pay for the expense of the entertainment. School closed Friday for the holiday vacation.

Notice of Probate of Will. The State of Nebraska, Wayne county, ss.

At a county court, held at the county court room, in and for said county of Wayne, on the 18th day of December, 1926.

Present, J. M. Cherry, county judge.

In the matter of the estate of Fred W. Bichel, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Bertha Bichel, praying that the instrument filed on the 17th day of December, 1926, and purporting to be the last Will and Testament of said deceased, may be proved, approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said Fred W. Bichel, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be committed and that the administration of said estate may be granted to Ernest Bichel as executor.

Ordered, that January 7th, A. D. 1927, at 10 o'clock a. m., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a county court to be held in and for said county, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

Does Cooperation Pay. Nebraska Farmer: We have in hand a general letter sent out by Ole Hanson, General Manager of the Farmers Equity Co-operative Creamery association. The facts contained therein are illuminating. The auditor's report of 1926 shows a net profit of $42,000 and invested capital of about $100,000. The volume of business done increased from 2,100,000 pounds of butter for 1925 to over 3,000,000 pounds for 1926. Mr. Hanson states an outstanding fact in saying that "The increase in volume is astonishing and almost beyond comprehension when we consider the extremely dry season just passed."

A statement like this needs no explanation—it speaks for itself.

It shows how co-operation prospers under proper impetus from its members and the right management of those who are employed to run it.

Mrs. S. Klinger of Fullerton, Neb., returned home Monday after spending a few weeks in Wayne, guest of her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Baid.

Mrs. E. W. Casper's mother, Mrs. Nettie J. Call, went to Aurora, Neb., Sunday on business. She will return here the last of this week.

Mrs. A. Hellsberg and children returned Sunday from Columbus where they had visited Mrs. Hellsberg's parents a few days. Mr. Hellsberg met them in Norfolk.

For New or Renewal Subscriptions

During the opening week of the new year, from Monday morning, January 3, until Saturday night, January 8, the Herald will give each person who pays a subscription to this newspaper of one year or more the choice of either

A Gem Safety Razor Or A Star Can Opener

This applies to renewal as well as new subscribers. These very useful gifts are appropriately coincident with getting started in new quarters with new equipment. Also it is believed the extra inducement will aid in extending the Herald's circulation beyond present bounds.

To Improve Pages

It is the determination of the Herald to improve its pages and make them more attractive to the reading public. The more attractive they are made, the more valuable will they become for advertisers.

New Equipment

New machines and new type faces have been added to those already employed, and results will be evident in both advertising and job work.

Advertising

If you have anything to sell, whether over the counter or on the farm, or elsewhere, at public or private sale, an advertisement will go into the hands of 2,750 subscribers and will be read by approximately 14,000 people.

Job Department

Our job department has received some important accessions in the way of new type and will be able to turn out better work than ever. Anything you need in this line will be given prompt and careful attention by skilled hands.

How Your Telephone "Talks"

The diagram below which shows how voice is transmitted over a telephone wire has been simplified by leaving out references to central office equipment such as switchboards and testing equipment, and to telephone line equipment such as coils and condensers, all of which are necessary parts of a complete telephone line.

When you speak or utter a sound, the air near your lips is set in motion; a multitude of vibrations (1) are originated. If you are talking over the telephone, these vibrations are directed into the mouthpiece where they strike against a diaphragm (2) in the above diagram, and cause it to vibrate. Just back of this diaphragm is a small chamber (3) in the diagram partly filled with carbon granules, which are grains of roasted coal. An electrical current supplied by a battery over the wires (4) is sent through the carbon chamber.

The varying electrical current travels over the wires (4) to the coil of wire in the receiver which the person at the other end of the line is holding to his ear. This coil of wire is wound around a magnet (5). The magnet is always pulling to a certain extent on the diaphragm (6) in the receiver, but the vibrations in the electrical current going through the coil of wire cause the amount of pull on this diaphragm to vary, and makes the diaphragm vibrate. This vibrating motion of the diaphragm in the receiver is just the same as the vibrations of the diaphragm in the transmitter. The air next to the vibrating diaphragm in the receiver is set into the same kind of motion (7) as the air that left your lips and entered the mouthpiece. That is how your words are transmitted over the telephone.

Warrant No. 153 for $21.00, drawn to J. N. Landanger on August 6th, 1926, on motor vehicle fund district No. 3, was on motion ordered cancelled.

The following correspondence, order declaring area for inspection of cattle in Wayne county, and quarantine order for Wayne county, was examined and on motion approved and ordered spread upon the records in full, so that the people of the county may be fully informed; and which is in the words and figured following, to-wit:

State of Nebraska, Adam McMullen, Governor, Lincoln, December 11, 1926. Board of Commissioners, Wayne county, Wayne, Neb., Gentlemen: There was filed with the Department a petition signed by more than sixty per cent of the owners of herds of breeding cattle located in Wayne county requesting that the cattle be tested for tuberculosis as provided by statute. This petition was found to be sufficient and Wayne county has been declared to be an area for the examination, inspection and tuberculin testing of all herds of breeding cattle located therein.

It is hoped that at all times we may have the fullest cooperation from your board, as the work progresses we shall keep you informed of the progress of the work and of the results of the work that you will not hesitate at any time to call on our Lincoln office for information regarding the work and to offer such criticism as will mean for a more effective handling of the work in Wayne county. Very respectfully, H. J. McLaughlin, secretary, Department of Agriculture.

State of Nebraska, Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, Lincoln. Order declaring county area for inspection of cattle in Wayne county.

State of Nebraska, County of Wayne, ss. On the 26th day of September, 1926, this matter came on for hearing before me, H. J. McLaughlin, secretary of the Department of Agriculture, State of Nebraska, upon the petition of H. J. Miner and 941 other persons filed herein, alleging such owners to be 60 per cent or more of the owners and representing 51 per cent or more of the breeding cattle of Wayne county, and requesting that said county be declared to be an area for the testing of cattle for the purpose of eradicating tuberculosis. Upon examination of said petition and being advised in the premises, I find that notice of the time and place fixed for said hearing has been given to all persons interested in said matter by the publication of an order fixing the time and place of hearing and published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper published and circulated in said county.

The time having now expired for the filing of objections with the Department of Agriculture against declaring such county to be an area for the purpose of testing cattle for the eradication of tuberculosis, and no objections being on file, said matter came on for hearing. Being fully advised in the premises I find that the petitioners named in the petition filed herein are more than 60 per cent of the owners and representing 51 per cent or more of the breeding cattle as disclosed by the assessment rolls of the last general assessment within such county, and that said county should be declared an area for the testing of cattle for the purpose of tuberculosis eradication in the manner provided by law.

It is therefore ordered by me that the county of Wayne is an area for the testing of cattle for the tuberculosis eradication in the manner provided by law and that the department shall proceed at its earliest convenience for the testing of the breeding cattle in such area for the purpose of tuberculosis eradication therein.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand at the Capitol in the city of Lincoln, Lancaster county, Nebraska, this 8th day of December, 1926.

H. J. McLaughlin, Secretary Nebraska Department of Agriculture. Approved: ADAM McMULLEN, Governor. (Seal)

Under provisions of the state law requiring that notice be published in at least one newspaper of general circulation in any county where an area has been established for the tuberculin testing of cattle, it is hereby announced that the tuberculin testing of cattle in Wayne county be commenced on or immediately after December 20, 1926.

Whereas under date of December 8, 1926, Wayne county was declared to be an area by official order of the Department of Agriculture for the inspection, examination and testing for tuberculosis of all herds of breeding cattle in the county, and all cattle moved from one part of such county to another shall first have been tuberculin tested within a period of ninety days immediately preceding the date of such movement and only such cattle as shall have been proven by tuberculin test to be free from tuberculosis shall be brought into such county or moved from one part thereof to another except as provided under paragraphs "b" and "c" of subdivision (1) of this section.

Cattle from herds under supervision of the Nebraska Bureau for the eradication of tuberculosis which is in the last previous tuberculin test passed without any reactors being found, shall be exempt from provisions of paragraph "a" of subdivision 1, of this section while such herd is under supervision.

Steers and other cattle intended for feeding purposes only may be brought into any county declared an area, or moved from one part of such area to another, without requirement of tuberculin test as provided under paragraph "a" of subdivision 1 of this section provided a written notice has been filed with the Chief of the Nebraska Bureau of Animal Industry, State Capitol, Lincoln, Nebraska, showing the number of sexually entire male and female cattle intended to be moved into such county, the name and address of the owner or other person to be in charge thereof at destination, and the location in said county where such sexually entire cattle are to be kept. All cattle so moved and handled under the provisions of this paragraph, whether sexually entire or not, shall be kept separate and apart from, and shall not be fed or watered with, the same equipment, as cattle proven by tuberculin test to be free from tuberculosis. All sexually entire cattle so moved shall be placed under quarantine at destination under such terms of restraint, separation and isolation as prescribed by this paragraph.

This order to be effective on and after December 20, 1926.

H. J. McLaughlin, Secretary Nebraska Department of Agriculture. Chief Bureau Animal Industry.

Comes now Clarence Brockman and says that for the year 1926, he had a double assessment in Wilbur precinct, which includes a poll tax, and an assessment on 300 bushels of oats at a $90.00 valuation, making the tax in all $3.17, which he paid in full. He asks that the county treasurer be ordered to refund the amount in full.

The board after due consideration and being fully advised in the premises, orders that said tax of $3.17 be refunded by the county treasurer.

Comes now Henry Rathman and says that for the year 1926, he was erroneously assessed in Winside precinct with $17,000.00 in money, instead of $1,700.00. That he paid the tax of $42.47 under protest, and asks that the county treasurer be ordered to refund the difference in full.

The board after due consideration, and being fully advised in the premises, orders the county treasurer to refund the sum of $38.32.

Short Lengths of Dress Goods and Silks at Marked Down Prices Here are materials for your winter sewing at good savings in price. Every short length of woolen goods and silk has been measured and ticketed with a "price for the piece" that will bring you a saving worth while.

Ladies' Footwear Marked Way Down This is a particularly good time to get a bargain in footwear; because as we invoice we lay aside all the shoes of which we have only one or two pairs of a kind and put them on the bargain counters at very low prices. Some very good styles are on sale on these counters at this time at a great saving in price.

$1.50 $2.95 $4.95 Ladies' oxfords—good ones of fine black kid and brown kid—some of them regular $7.50 and $9.75 quality—most of them with medium heels—marked down to the very low price of $1.50 because the toes are more pointed than are now being worn. Look over these oxfords on the $1.50 table and pick out a fine, comfortable pair of house shoes for cold weather wear.

Invoice Time Brings You Many Bargains We are now measuring and counting our stock of goods. As we go through stock we find some things that did not sell as well as we expected and rather than carry them over to another year we mark them at a very low price and put them out on the clearing sale tables and counters. For low price and put them out on the clearing sale tables and counters. For low price and put them out on the clearing sale tables and counters. For low price and put them out on the clearing sale tables and counters.

CHIEF OF SEMINOLE INDIANS TELLS WHY HIS PEOPLE WANT TO BE CITIZENS

A typical Seminole Indian village in the everglades. Inset, Chief Tony Tommy.

THE most defiant foes that Uncle Sam ever had are about to become citizens. Hidden in the swampy recesses of the Florida everglades, the Seminole Indians never concluded a treaty with the United States and were never officially recognized as citizens. But now they are seeking admission to citizenship and their chief, Tony Tommy, has given an interview explaining why they are doing this. Tony Tommy is a huge man. A graduate of Carleton University, where, incidentally, he played football on the famous team that Jim Thorpe captained, he speaks excellent English and is free from the superstitions of his people. He explains that the Seminoles have always lived by hunting, but that Florida's hardy last another score of years, so that the Seminoles must prepare to adapt themselves to the white man's civilization. "Tried to Deport Them" "About 1837 the government tried to deport the Seminoles to Indian Territory," he says. "Some of them refused to go, and some were returned to go, and some were shot. I was one of those who was returned of pursuing them through the everglades, and at the end of the Seminole war it stopped molesting them. But it never made a treaty with them or recognized them as citizens. "I was born in the forest in Broward county. I never saw a railroad until I was 14. Up to that time I lived in the woods all the time. Even now it makes me feverish to live in a house. "We used to hunt deer where Miami now stands. Miami then was just a settlement of three or four houses. For other signs we would go back into the everglades, just as we do now. We trap opossums, coons, wild cats, otters and bears. "But I gave up hunting 16 years ago and resolved to learn the ways of the white man. And now I want to become a citizen, and I want my people to do the same. There are many young children among the Seminoles, and none of them is going to school. I want them to have schools so they may have a Christian education. "If I am a Christian, but most of the Seminoles are sun worshippers. They believe in some kind of a false life, but they have no conception of heaven. They expect to go to a better place, but they don't know of what it will be like. They do not believe in hell. They do not believe in evil spirits.

"Our people are very orderly, kind and brave. We punish our own offenders. There is a man whom we will try at the next meeting of our tribe in July. Around Miami you will see one Indian with one of his ears cut off. He did a terrible thing, that no good man would do, and that was his punishment. He is banished forever, and when he dies we will not bury him. It will be as if a dog had died. "Need Chance to Progress "But what we need is schools and citizenship, so our people can go right along and get the best college education, so that they will be American citizens, free to go and come and to make progress. That is our ideal, to be real Americans, to be recognized as citizens." There are now 509 members of the Seminole tribe, Chief Tony Tommy says. Most of them cannot speak English, and most of their time in the depths of the everglades, seldom or never seeing a white man or a white man's city. They live much as their remote ancestors lived before the coming of the white man. But the old times are changing, and the chief knows that his people must try to become citi-
