DIGNITY OF CAR THIEVES HURT BY DETECTION HERE

The two young men who were caught within a few hours after stealing an automobile in Wayne, and who were sentenced to the penitentiary a few days after the crime was committed, boasted of car thefts in cities all the way from Chicago to Denver, and the only regret they seemed to feel is that their criminal careers were interrupted in the country by country officers. If they had been nabbed in a metropolitan center after dashing away with a costly car, they would not feel that their professional dignity had been hurt.

ANY PROFESSION SHOULD LEAD WAY FOR IMPROVEMENT

I think we should be able to look to teachers for improvement in our educational system, to doctors for better safeguards to health and to lawyers for needed changes in laws and court procedure.

Care in selecting the one that gives the best service will be repaid with satisfaction on every day of those many years. Consider well the cooking and wearing qualities, the fuel economy and appearance of the range you buy. Remember that it is a lasting purchase—you are buying for a long time. The Great Majestic is a range with a reputation that generations of users have given it. Your neighbors have tested its qualities and will tell you that all claims for it are true. Today there are more Majestics giving superior service in the kitchens of America than of any other make of range. The perfect baking oven, the body that resists rust, abundant hot water, the air-tight rivet construction that saves fuel, these are only a few of the features that you will find in the Majestic. In the test of better cooking and lasting qualities it proves itself that best of all bargains—the most economical and satisfactory in the long run. Beware of Imitations

RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE

[This sign on the pump identifies the genuine]

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is always red and always sold from silver pumps. But there are silver pumps serving red gasoline that imitates Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline in nothing but the color. Get what you pay for.

Straight Facts

- 1 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline contains Ethyl Brand Anti-Knock Compound in the right proportion to produce a completely "knockless" fuel; 2 Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound was developed by the General Motors Research Laboratories, which own basic patents covering this invention and its use; 3 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is sold to consumers only at pumps which bear the trade mark shown here; 4 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is colored red for identification purposes. The color has nothing to do with its performance; 5 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of old reliable, quick-starting, clean-burning Red Crown Gasoline with Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound added. This combination absolutely prevents knocks under all driving conditions and develops extra power when carbon in the motor increases compression. It provides more power on the hills and through snow, slush and mud, and less gear shifting in slow-moving traffic.

Genuine Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline will give your car a new range of power and performance. One tankful sells another. Costs more—and worth it. Be sure you get the genuine.

To avoid dilution, drain your tank before you fill it with Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline for the first time, and use Red Crown Ethyl exclusively thereafter.

EGYPTIAN PINK GRANITE is an exact duplicate of the stone so admired by the great Egyptian Architects and famous Sculptors of the Sphinx built in Egypt during the reign of Pharaohs. Beautiful in its many finishes as the light sparkles from it with a hardness surpassed only by the precious crystals of Diamonds, Sapphires and Topaz, producing a variety of color tones and shades, and giving the highest contrast to lettering. This car of EGYPTIAN PINK GRANITE, added to the two other cars just recently received at the Wayne Monument Works, places their stock of monuments above all others on display in this state. ## SHE IS LONE WOLF OF RABBIT RANGES slain more than 500 jackrabbits since last fall. The farmers of the neighborhood of Belle Fourche, putting in orchards, found rabbits a bane to their irrigation projects. So Mrs. Sammel enlisted in the campaign, and now any fine day she may be seen as she goes on her "shopping" tour in the Black Hills country.

Mrs. Sammel does it up in the old picturesque western style, shooting the rabbits from the saddle while her mount is at full gallop. Neighbors call her "the Annie Oakley of the Black Hills."

She usually rides in a circle, scaring up the rabbits with her yells. On a clear afternoon she brings down 50 or 60 of the furry fliers.

Thousands of rabbits in the Black Hills country have given the farmers no end of worry. The farmers often go out in bands and kill hundreds in a day of hunting. But there is other work to be done and the men can't hunt every day.

Mrs. Sammel is doing her part. As the "Lone Wolf of the Rabbit Ranges" she is helping to solve a problem that stands in the way of farm advancement.

The Groundhog's Bating Average. Omaha World-Herald: The groundhog, as we understand it, bats a little below the average of the weather bureau, but not much. This is not said either in partisan disparagement of the groundhog or with the idea of flattering the weather bureau. Our idea is that this is a free country and there is room enough in it for all. Both the groundhog and the weather bureau serve their purposes. There should be no jealous rivalry between them.

Still it is only fair to the weather bureau to point out that it has the edge in the matter of accuracy. Statistical analysis of its work shows that it has a record of 85 per cent of accuracy. During the past five years it is reported the groundhog has hit three times out of five, giving him a 60 per cent record.

Considering that the law of averages requires him to be right only 50 per cent of the time and that his forecast covers a rather extended period we think this is doing pretty well. While we shall continue to rely on the judgment of the weather bureau in preparing shipments for north, east, south and west, we think the groundhog comes in very handy for stimulating conversation when it flaps at the dinner table.

The New Dress that will please you best. May Be Here Now

Among the hundreds of new spring dresses now here there may be one that will please you better than any other dress you will see all season. Why not come now and look through these new styles and see if "the" dress for you is not among them? We have added a new section to our Ready To Wear Department with special fixtures designed to display these new dresses so that you can see them to the best advantage. We will be glad for a chance to show them to you whether you buy or not. If you see a dress you like and are not yet ready to take it we will lay it away for you.

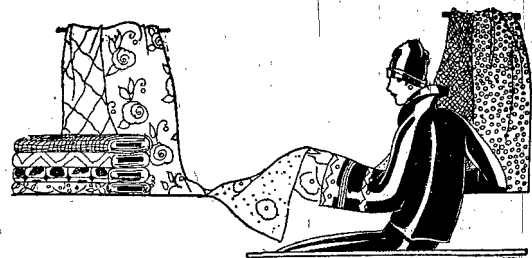

Just now you have a very special opportunity to see a great many more styles than usual. We have bought enough dresses to supply our customers in thirty other towns where we will hold special sales this spring as we have done every season for several years. These hundreds of dresses are all being shipped to our store here and our customers can choose from them until they are taken away for our out of town sales which begin next month.

There are dresses here from the best factories in several Eastern cities and A. W. Ahern is in the East now buying still more styles which will be here Saturday.

This way of handling Ready To Wear enables us to show our customers a big city stock right here at home and permits us to sell at much below regular prices.

We could tell you here about the new colors and materials and styles but our store is convenient to you and you can get a much better idea by coming in and seeing them. Come—you will not be urged to buy—if you see a dress you know you will like we will be pleased to help you try it on and alter it to fit you perfectly without extra charge. The prices are

You know Mark Twain said, "Everybody talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it." Her climate is absolutely the only thing about my dear home state of Nebraska that I can't stand. But I do love the long summer nights of clear and starry skies, or with the matchless moon on the matchless prairies. If ever I visit Wayne again I want to sit out on my front porch late some summer night and talk philosophy with Jim Brittain.

6. As to grudges, there is no place in this short life for crude and futile animosities, but much for the "joy of being whole."

7. As to dying, this world is too interesting to leave before one's time. The fellow who quits has failed to make proper adjustment to values. Whether weak or insane he is to be pitied but not imitated.

8. Sorry about that "little offensive nail," that proved to be offensive despite its modesty and secretiveness.

9. I am glad the class is discussing Darrow. Whatever else he has done he has aroused a lot of thought about "crime against criminals." I congratulate the class that it does not condemn the good a man does because it does not agree with his doctrines. It is a hard lesson to learn.

10. I agree with the Sioux City Journal that there may be a virtue of impatience, but the important thing is to be wise enough to know what to be impatient about.

11. Maupin and Stone are, as you well say, both right. If one does not care for what he says, he will not care how he says it. Cogent thought and effective style go together. They are the Siamese Twins of writing. Wishing the Herald luck, J. T. House.

P. S. Fine about the college issuing the most certificates, but it always was the most progressive, the most democratic and the most thorough one of them all.

These are not all the interesting spots in the last Herald, but you will not want to publish my comments on the entire issue.

1. Yes, "if congress should enact satisfactory farm legislation, a phrase that reveals the necessity of agitation by farmers. No group in a democracy may properly be left out. Every neglected group must become a bloc.

2. "Editors of Latin America hotly deny that bolshevism is prevalent," etc. Indeed, yes. Is it not time to stop charging all our neighbors, at home or abroad, with being bolshevists, communists, pro-German, dangerous heretics, etc. etc? And then which is more dangerous, bolshevism or Mussoliniism? Which is more likely to lead the American people away from their great traditions of free speech, free press, free assembly, and orderly government?

3. As to "Peaches!" Amen! Do we wonder that Europe sneers at our assertions in self praise of our morality; when such things happen in our country, the papers play them up and the crowd gobbles them down?

4. I would favor sending chicken thieves to the penitentiary, if anybody is to go there, but is it not a pity that we cannot do something better with our lawless boys than to compel them to associate with hardened criminals for a period of years?

5. Glad you like your weather.

West Point Republican: The county board at its regular session Monday afternoon unanimously passed a resolution to urge the state department of public works to finish grading and graveling the Oakland-West Point road and the Oakland-West Point road before any other work of this kind will be taken up.

Work has been started on these projects and it was the opinion of the county board as well as many citizens that these projects should be finished first and should be completed the coming year. These roads will render a big service to the county when completed.

Lincoln Medal to Be Awarded Student of Wayne School in an Essay Contest

Annual Pie Day Plans Are Made by Senior Class—Other News of the Past Week.

Wayne high school students are offered an opportunity of winning a bronze medal of the famous Volk head of Lincoln by participating in an essay contest. This contest is sponsored by the Illinois Watch company of Springfield.

The English II classes are studying the poem, "The Song of Hugh Glass." Early history of Nebraska and South Dakota is correlated with the interpretation of the poem.

The English I classes are studying George Eliot's "Silas Marner" in interpretative literature. The English II classes are studying written composition.

The eighth A grammar classes are studying nouns. The Caesar classes have been giving oral reports on Roman subjects which are proving very interesting.

The public speaking class has increased in enrollment this semester. There are twenty-seven members now, while last semester there were eight members.

Louise Rickabaugh will receive the second reward given by the Remington Typewriter company. The award is a sterling silver pin for writing forty words a minute.

The bookkeeping class has started to work on the fourth unit. Part of this unit consists of operating for one month a set of books of practical proportions of a retail coal business.

Schools of State Learn Wayne Song. The Nebraska county superintendents, at their annual convention in Lincoln, recently voted that the song, "Nebraska, My Native Land," written by Mrs. S. A. Latigen and set to music by Prof. Leon F. Berry, be taught in the schools of the state.

Former Member of Staff Here Writes. Mrs. Edgar Barnhill of Warren, Arizona, formerly Miss Stella Arnold of Wayne, writes to the Herald January 27 as follows: "I hope that you will allow another of the 'news them whens' to join in wishing you added success and to congratulate you on your great achievement. When I saw the Herald today and the picture of the new building, I felt that I'd like nothing better than to be there and see all of the improvements for myself."

Junior Notes. Frederick Berry, president of junior class, will finish his course in Cicero this semester. He has been forced to drop his other subjects on account of sickness. An advertising committee, composed of Kathryn Lou Davis, Alma Martin, Prudence Bush, Max Ellis and Bernard Kay, has been appointed to plan the junior play advertising campaign.

The junior class received a letter from Frederick Berry thanking them for the flowers sent to him during his recent illness. The eighth grade enjoyed a theatre party last Saturday night. The losing side in the arithmetic contest was host to the winning side. Eskimo pies were afterwards "treated."

Longevity Record Is Made By Duck. A world record for longevity of a bander bill has been received by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. A pintail duck, banded by a member of the bureau's scientific staff at the mouth of Bear River, Utah, on September 16, 1914, was captured near Brawley, Calif., on October 16, 1926. The longest previous record of a banded bird's life was that of a white stork that carried a band of the Rossettini Bird Observatory, in Germany, for 11 years.

The Caesar classes have been giving oral reports on Roman subjects which are proving very interesting. Roman customs, education, manners, dress, means of travel and religion form subject matter for the discussions.

The American history classes have completed the unit on the rise of the great political conflict between the north and the south. The ancient history classes have been comparing and contrasting European revolutions with the American revolution.

Stanton Business Men Want Paving. Stanton Register: At the regular midweek luncheon paving was discussed and it was reported that several paving districts could be organized if a petition were circulated. The president of the club was instructed to name a committee of five to ascertain what districts could be formed and also to draft and circulate the petition.

The Niobrara river project from which the new company will obtain its electrical current is about three-fourths completed and will be ready for operation about May 1. The electrical power will be generated by water power at the dam, 6 1/2 miles east of Spencer, and current will be distributed to towns along the Niobrara river, a number of towns already having contracted for the electricity.

The dam at Spencer, which is constructed of solid concrete and is considered a remarkable piece of engineering, has its foundation in the shale which underlies the entire river bed at this point. It has 375 feet of spillway and a 3,600 horse power capacity.

Poneca, Neb., Feb. 3.—Funeral services for Mace B. DeWitt, 90, pioneer of northeastern Nebraska and third elected sheriff of Dixon county were held from the home here. Mr. DeWitt probably was the oldest person in the country and had been in feeble health for more than a year.

Mr. DeWitt came to Dixon county from Ohio in 1868 and took a homestead northwest of Poneca, on which he lived for more than 60 years. The following year he was elected sheriff of Dixon county and held that position for five terms. He was sheriff in 1870 at the time of the Mat Miller hanging. He also served on the early board of county supervisors for five years.

Had he lived until March 5, he would have been 91. Surviving him are seven children. They are: Mrs. Guy Mattison, Minnie, Redelphia, Roy and George DeWitt, of Poneca; Mrs. Roland Hill, of Porter; and Walter of Galahad, Canada.

Weather Maps Are Being Sent By Radio. If pictures can be sent by radio, why not weather maps? Following this idea experiments are being conducted by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture to test the feasibility of transmitting weather maps in this way.

Investigations are now being made under seagoing conditions as to the effectiveness of operation over considerable distances during unfavorable conditions, such as static, wave-length interference, fading, the rolling of vessels, and other difficulties. A map can be received through much static without destroying its value, even when the static would seriously interfere with ear reception of coded bulletins, or prevent obtaining sufficient data to prepare a map at sea.

Since the first map was sent by radio in August, changes have been made in the design of the machine used for transmission. The receiver used is not a photographic recorder but a magnetic pen tracing lines directly on a rotating cylinder. Results so far have been very promising.

Hartington May Use Power from Spencer

Hartington, Neb., Feb. 4.—With a view to obtaining a franchise, establishing permanent headquarters here and furnishing electric lights and power at lower rates than this city now is paying, W. M. Finegan and A. W. Person of the People's Power company, a corporation organized to distribute electric power generated at the new plant now being completed on the Niobrara river near Spencer, recently looked over the field here and it was learned that Mr. Finegan, who was superintendent of the Hartington public schools for sixteen years, will be the local representative of the new company and will make his home in this city.

The Niobrara river project from which the new company will obtain its electrical current is about three-fourths completed and will be ready for operation about May 1. The electrical power will be generated by water power at the dam, 6 1/2 miles east of Spencer, and current will be distributed to towns along the Niobrara river, a number of towns already having contracted for the electricity.

Trainload Washing Machines. No better evidence of the great prosperity of the state of Nebraska could be advanced than to point to the recent shipment of a solid trainload of Maytag Washers to Nebraska merchants.

Has Served Forty Years. Lyons, Neb., Feb. 3.—Mrs. D. McMonies has retired from active service as superintendent of the primary department of the Presbyterian Sunday school after serving continuously for 40 years. She was born in Wisconsin, July 25, 1860, and came to Lyons with her parents in 1867, by ox team. Even though she has retired from active service, Mrs. McMonies still attends Sunday school regularly.

Poneca, Neb., Feb. 3.—Russell Ellis, who has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Yeoman on Daily the past year, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon while playing with Charlie and Craig Addison, small boys of C. J. Addison of Daily.

The boys were playing around the place recently abandoned by Fred Kitzke. In the cave they found a penny match box filled with dynamite caps. In their curiosity to find out what they were, Russell lit a match to one, which exploded and blew off the end of his thumb, the forefinger between the first two joints and injured the second finger, all of the left hand, and innumerable pieces of brass entered his face and body, one of which entered the right eye ball near the inside, penetrating into the back part of the eye ball.

Steals to Escape Charge of Forgery

Poneca, Neb., Feb. 3.—The old adage, "if two evils choose the lesser" must have been borne in mind by Arthur Nichols, 19, of Concord, when he saved himself at least 10 years in prison by robbing "Peter" to pay "Paul." Young Nichols forged a check for $15 on A. Hattig, of Concord, and cashed it at a Wakefield store. Hattig discovered the forgery and promptly informed Nichols that if he didn't make the check good he would have him arrested. Nichols then stole a hog from the shipping yards of Dolphin & Jones, grain and hog buyers of Concord, and sold the porker in Laurel for $25 and made good the check.

Now Nichols, instead of facing a charge of forgery and a penalty of from 1 to 20 years, faces a charge of hog stealing with a penalty from 1 to 7 years. He was arrested by Sheriff A. H. Miskell, on complaint of Dolphin & Jones after they had discovered the theft of their hog, and lodged in the county jail at Poneca.

little thought will plainly prove that a newspaper cannot take part in neighborhood quarrels or disputes between two families. The only thing it can do is to give an unbiased account of the entire affair which would do but little good to anyone and tend to increase the bad feeling already aroused. If the case is one that involves the morale of the community where some wrong has been committed in violation of the law then a newspaper can do a community service by exposing the wrong doers and the publicity will react to the good of all concerned. However, individual differences or community quarrels are a different matter and the less said about them the sooner they are mended.

Modern Thrills.

Lincoln Journal: The other day a wealthy New York moron drove a taxi down the wrong side of a street for the "thrill." The fact that this man had to hunt for his thrill brands him as a moron. Life today is pretty much all thrills. Only the brave dare live. Many of the physical dangers that beset primitive man are gone. It is true, but thousands of new ones, many of them more painful than death itself, have come to take their place. Even the physical thrill is not wholly lost. We need not fear that a tiger will suddenly spring on us, perhaps, but a thug may hold us up at the next alley, or a whizzing automobile may snuff out our lives any moment we are on the street. The air we breathe may be laden with deadly germs, the food we eat may be tainted with ptomaine.

But a host of perils, of which the savage never dreamed, torments the civilized man. If he has a business, it may fail; if he has a house, it may burn; if he has a car, it may crash; if he has servants, they may sue him; if he has a wife, she may divorce him; if he has children, they may disgrace him; if he has a throat—heaven help him. The man who can experience only the crude physical thrill of the savage has never fully developed mentally.

ANOTHER DAY, SURELY.
F. O. Edgetcombe in Geneva Signal: Just as we hoped, and feared, the Wayne Herald's big opening was the sort of thing that a publisher doesn't like to miss, 2,000 people present and everything, but we still insist that nobody has a right to open anything with the thermometer down at zero and the weather bureau making threatening gestures. But there may be another day.

the church membership has been increased forty-five per cent during his four years in Newcastle.

The annual meeting of the Pierce county Farmers Grain company was held and a dividend was declared. Members of the board are Joseph Wolf, president; Carl Hoffman, vice president; F. W. Steinkraus, treasurer; J. A. Kuhl, secretary; and D. J. Malone, George Henzler and Theo. Pint, directors.

Better Livestock and Better Meat

County Agent S. B. Surber of Alleghany county, Va., saw the opportunity for improving the livestock of the county. He won the interest and support of county officials, farmers, and business men. Personal talks to small groups led to larger meetings, including purebred-sires sales and picnics addressed by state and federal livestock authorities. Fifteen hundred persons attended one of the county meetings. During 1926 Alleghany county, Va., replaced 43 scrub sires with purebreds under a definite better-sires project and showed decided improvement in its livestock. Recognizing the value of his work, the county sent Mr. Surber to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago to obtain latest information as the basis for future progress.

Meanwhile his son, observing a local butcher shop handling the meat of poorly bred animals, induced the proprietor to give good-quality meat a trial. So on Thanksgiving day, with the young man's assistance, the proprietor displayed the carcass of a well-bred grade Shorthorn yearling and also a Hampshire lamb, together with plump poultry and other products suitable for the occasion. The single trial resulted in a continued demand for the better meat and brought warm commendation from patrons, some of whom had not previously realized the difference in quality of meats. The experience established a constant demand for first-class meats, in keeping with the local interest in raising improved livestock.

That is the way industry views it and production is timed accordingly. To be sure, there are occasions when there is over-production in all lines, but these times come less frequently than they once did and with the control that industry has secured over its productive agencies, especially labor, they will occur still less frequently in the future.

Legislation against the surplus will not avail unless the state wants also to prevent farmers from using all of their land. The productive capacity of the farm generally has not been realized upon. With improved facilities at hand and profitable prices guaranteed, it would grow entirely out of proportion to population or human needs. Then the whole scheme of state price fixing would fall of its own weight.

Miss Laura Lyons Writes From West

Miss Laura Lyons writes from Long Beach, Calif., to the Herald and friends here as follows:

"As I have been doing a little journalism for the Morning Sun and attending two classes in short story work, I appreciate your having more room and conveniences in the new office. Accept my congratulations on the appearance of the eight-column page.

"The nurse attending Mrs. Bell Ferguson just told me that Mrs. Ferguson is about the same, sleeps most of the time and is in no pain. Part of the time she is conscious of visitors. She is in Seaside hospital. Mrs. Ferguson fell and latter suffered a stroke of apoplexy.

"We enjoyed the letters from Rev. J. Bruce Wylie and L. M. Owen in the last issue.

"About 100 people from Laurel gathered at Bixby park in Long Beach January 23 for a picnic dinner and social time. We have not heard the date of the Wayne county meeting.

"Mrs. S. E. Auker, Mrs. Henry Ley and Mrs. LeRoy Ley and I attended an art exhibit at the New Breakers hotel. All of the paintings were by local artists.

"Since a good rain last Thursday we have had ideal weather. The winter was more severe than last year, however.

"We saw many motion pictures being taken of the channel swim previous to the day of the contest. Fellow Canadians honored George Young, victor, by giving a dance in a big club house here. They presented him with a traveling bag. I always peruse the editorials and 'little boxes' in the Herald and I was glad Mr. Huse spoke of the hope that the channel victor could withstand publicity. Papers here have stated so many times that he appeared to be anxious about his crippled mother and have attributed his success to thinking of her especially when he encountered rip tides and the kelp beds. The kelp is a long, slimy leaf vine of which iodine is composed. The channel winner is neither a slave to nicotine or alcohol, the papers have stated. He hopes to have his mother come here to make her home with him.

"I am hoping some of the Wayne people will be present at the world's Sunday school convention to be held in Los Angeles next year. W. G. Pearce resigned as international secretary in order that he might help plan for the event. Plans are made to entertain 7,000 delegates. Mr. Pearce who has traveled in forty-five countries besides the United States spoke recently here and I heard him.

"This week J. Campbell Morgan, an outstanding man on bible study and authority relative to such literature, is conducting a bible class in the same church. There were 1,000 in attendance one afternoon and 2,500 have been present each evening.

"It was interesting to watch eleven ships leave the harbor here for practice far out at sea. This city seems somewhat deserted when thousands of 'gods of war' depart for their annual cruise. They plan to leave next month.

"Much change is going on here in the harbor district and on the streets and highways. The Edison plant is to have a big addition needing 250 employees and the Ford plant is being made larger.

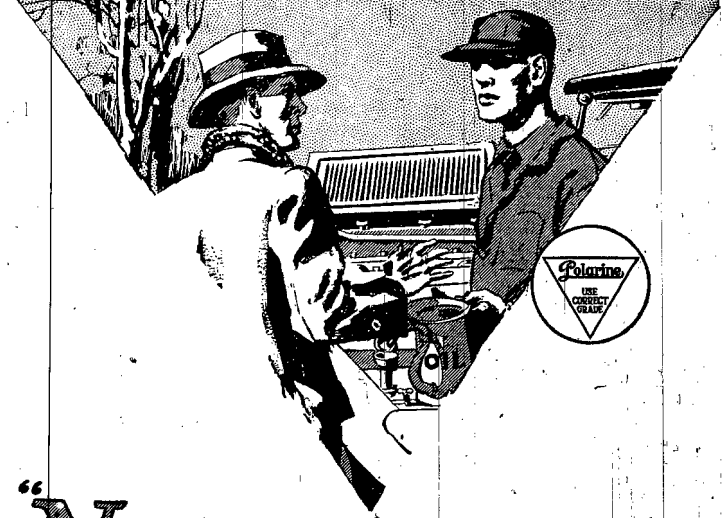

"We are certainly glad to have the weekly visit of the Herald."
