

Precincts Will Finish Testing

Work in Hunter and Chapin Will Be Completed Coming Week, It Is Planned.

Start Other Areas

Tubercular Eradication Goes On in Sherman, Strahan, Garfield and Leslie.

Testing of cattle for tuberculosis, being conducted in Wayne county under the supervision of Dr. D. M. Purdy, will, according to present plans, be finished in Hunter and Chapin precincts next week. The first reports on the percentages of reactors will then be available. Dr. J. C. Johnson and Dr. W. M. Hawkins will probably finish Hunter precinct Monday and will then go to Strahan. Dr. W. C. Logan of Carroll, finishes Chapin. Dr. S. S. Gibson of Randolph, is starting Sherman. Dr. Peterson of Winside, is starting Garfield. Dr. W. H. Frisbie of Pender, has completed one-fourth of the work in the county is practically finished.

One car of reactors was shipped Monday to Omaha and E. M. Laughlin went with the neck. Every other head were trucked to Sioux City.

This past week three more counties have been added to the accredited list in Nebraska. These are Lancaster, Gosper and Phelps. This makes fifteen accredited areas in the state. Cedar county has been declared an area for testing.

The federal bureau made the first appropriation for tubercular eradication in 1917. The plan was to offer the service to states making like appropriation. The testing was first offered to stockmen who put their herds on the accredited basis. Under this arrangement the purbed raisers submitted their herds for inspection at any time. They also agreed not to add cattle, which had not been tested, to their herds.

The plan worked so well in purebred herds that it was adopted for area work. It was found the most efficient and economical method of testing cattle in a definite area. Most all states have now made definite plans toward tubercular eradication under the federal-state plan.

Under the eradication program feeder cattle are exempt from testing. Feeders though must be separated from the cattle which have been tested. They must have separate water and feeding accommodations. The plan of eradicating tuberculosis was first started in herds of cattle because it is found that hogs and chickens are affected more often by cattle than from any other source. The bovine tuberculosis becomes generalized in the animal.

Hogs, it is found by experiment, are affected both by bovine and avian tuberculosis. In some accredited areas it has been found that the number of retentions among the hogs decreased only one-fourth while the number of condemnations decreased three-fourths. This was attributed to the fact that, though cattle are rid of the disease, hogs may get the avian form from chickens. The avian tuberculosis is not generalized but affects the neck glands. This causes retentions among the hogs.

The local workers are testing chickens also when farmers submit postmortems. By riding all stock and fowls of the neck insurance against spread is certain.

MAN SHOULD MAKE WILL BEFORE HE CURLS UP DEAD

Whether one has much or little to leave when the curtain goes down and he wings his way hence, it is advised by those who have made close observation that it is sound judgment to leave a will. A will usually makes settlement of an estate easier and more economical. The customary legal process of settlement without a will does not recognize an advantage that in the natural course of events has been given to one heir above another. A will may straighten out discrepancies or equalize advantages. To be fair to property owner may have to discriminate, which the law does not do. Courts and lawyers who have had experience in the probate business, figure that people should leave wills and that they should have them rewritten from time to time to fit prevailing conditions.

BLANKET OF SNOW IS SPREAD OVER NORTH NEBRASKA

Snow is beautiful when embalm in song or on canvas. We like to hear stories of explorers feeling around to find the north pole or see pictures of brave souls scaling the Alps. We like to read about snowballing uncle or coasting with grandpa, but in cold reality we do not like the stuff, acres of which were spread over north Nebraska on the Sabbath which should have been devoted to divine worship and other noble purposes. We agree with those farmers who think a generous rainfall is far superior to snow to freshen and enliven the soil. Roads that had become dry and easily passable last week were terribly upset by Sunday's snow-laden blast.

Patriotic Program Conducted Monday For the Wayne Kiwanis Club Members

Rev. Fenton C. Jones and Prof. O. R. Bowen Spoke on Leaders of the Nation.

Rev. Fenton C. Jones and Prof. O. R. Bowen addressed the Kiwanis club Monday following the noonday luncheon. Appropriate patriotic songs were sung.

Rev. Jones spoke on "George Washington," stating that he was one of the common people of his time, not the aristocrat often pictured. He did not inherit wealth but earned it and invested it in land. Washington was kind to all, including his slaves. He was a hard worker and a surveyor of ability. As a general he was admired by all his men. He was a statesman. In his presidency he surrounded himself with strong assistants, among them being Jefferson, Madison and Hamilton. He was of strong religious conviction and pointed out that a nation must be religious to be permanent.

Prof. Bowen spoke about Abraham Lincoln. Though his early life was spent in poverty, privation and hardship, he asserted, Lincoln proved himself a scholar, being recognized as a philosopher and master of English and rhetoric. His Gettysburg address was cited as an example. Woodrow Wilson paid tribute to Lincoln by using his letter to a mother who had lost sons in the war. Lincoln was homely but kind, and but humorous. His big work was to save the union and this he did in spite of his tragic death. His purpose triumphed.

RELIEF VOTED ON IN HOUSE TODAY

The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill as passed by the senate is expected to be voted on in the house today. It is predicted the measure will carry. Some who are said to be opposed to it, are voting for it in the belief that the president will veto it. It is suggested that this proposed legislation is impractical and will be a source of burden rather than relief to farming communities. However, many are willing to try it in the hope that it will prove beneficial. If the president vetoes the bill, the public may rest assured of receiving a clear, complete recital of reasons for doing so.

BUSTED COGS.

Hartington Herald: Following its grand opening The Wayne Herald broke some cogs in its new press, which caused a lot of inconvenience and some delay and was a sort of anti-climax to the program of the previous week. With his usual resourcefulness, however, Editor Hage had his paper printed at Norfolk, the folding of the entire edition being done by hand, and the Herald was issued on time. The following week the damaged parts were repaired and the paper was printed and folded on its own press. The accident was most distressing one, but it was met with prompt action and the whole incident will soon be forgotten. Commenting on the accident, the editor of the Wayne Herald observes in rather philosophical mood that one should keep his feelings in restraint lest some untoward circumstance happen to dash elation to the ground, which may be said to summarize the philosophy of a newspaper publisher. "There is so much grief that may happen around a newspaper office that the expert editor keeps his feet squarely on terra firma—always hoping for the best but also always prepared for the worst. In this position, he never becomes very much elated or very much depressed."

Corinne Champions A New Working Girl

Corinne Griffith proves herself the champion of the romantic working girl in "Syncopating Sue," her latest comedy vehicle, which comes to the Crystal theatre Friday and Saturday of this week. Having won an enviable reputation in previous pictures for the manner in which she portrayed stately, dramatic and emotional roles, Miss Griffith recently turned to another type of picture and showed a talent for portraying the typical New York working girl.

"Classified" was the first of a series in which Miss Griffith attempted subtle comedy and the picture met with the instant approval of the picture-going public. Critics declared it one of the ten best pictures of the year.

Train and Wagon Are in Collision

Arthur Loggren of Randolph, escaped injury last week Tuesday when he drove onto the railroad track as a train approached. The southbound train was on a side-track and he gave attention to this, not seeing the train coming from the other direction. The team was on the track when Mr. Loggren noticed the moving train. He tried to get the horses to back but could not so he turned them to the north. The engine pilot hit one of the horses and carried it as far as the freight house where the animal fell onto the platform. One of the horse's legs was broken and torn and one hip was badly cut. To relieve its suffering the horse was killed.

The engines each weigh about 60 tons and the motors about 119,000 pounds a piece. The Diesel is an oil burning engine and the storage tanks are erected on the north side of the building. Bernard Pollard Receives Medallion of Bronze in School Essay Contest

Program for Declamatory Contest at Wayne High Is Scheduled for February 25.

Bernard Pollard's essay on "Abraham Lincoln" received first in the recent contest held in the high school. He was awarded the bronze medallion head of Lincoln, at a special assembly held last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Glade Welsh Lutgen gave an excellent talk on the life of Abraham Lincoln. The judges of the essays were: Mrs. Lutgen, Mrs. P. C. Adamson and Miss Mary Micholiz. The essay is as follows:

"Abraham Lincoln." "There is one man in American history who towers like a mighty peak above his fellows. That man is Abraham Lincoln. Honest Abe, the pioneer rail-splitter, commands respect, admiration, loyalty, and more than that, a peculiar affection as one very of us. For his nature was so broad, his heart and hand so large, his understanding so great that with in every true American's soul there is an unknown instinct that claims Lincoln as his own. "Lincoln may be visualized as a gnarled cypress growing on a rocky sea cliff. At his feet beat the troubled waters of civil war; in his face was flung the stinging spray of the conflict. His entire life was a constant struggle against crushing odds. But the trouble, the privations, the sorrows, the heart-aches developed the man. His roots clung desperately to the crumbling cliff of union, striving to bind together and to perpetuate for posterity that union of minds and government in which he so sincerely believed. "The cypress sprang indeed from troubled ground but flourish and waxed strong where many would have fallen. From the soil of hardship, pestilence, and ignorance sprang our Abraham, "a masterpiece of God." "Abraham Lincoln was more than a great statesman, more than an able lawyer, more than a mighty giant of the backwoods. He was a prophet, an emancipator, a man. "The great Beecher said, after the soul of Lincoln had winged its solitary way to God, "Giles and states are his pall-bearers, and the canon speaks the hours with solemn progression. Dead, dead, dead, he yet speaks! Is Washington dead? Is Hampton dead? Is any man that was? His life is now grafted on the infinite and will be fruitful as no earthly life can be. Pass on, thou that hast overcome. Ye people behold the martyr whose blood, as so many articulate words, pleads for fidelity, for law, for liberty!"

Certificate of Award. The certificate awarded Wayne high school by the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools, has been framed and hung on the assembly wall. This certificate indicates that the high school is accredited to the North Central association until March, 1927, when a new certificate will be awarded. Wayne high school has been accredited continuously since 1917. Proper qualifications of teachers and the following of a prescribed course of study are essentials to the accrediting of the school.

Declamatory Contest. The program for the Wayne high school contest, which will be held Friday, February 25, afternoon and evening, is completed. The humorous class will be presented in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. The dramatic and oratorical classes will be presented in the evening at 7:30. Arrangements have been made to have the high school band appear at the evening program. The complete program is as follows:

leo, "LaFayette, We Have Come"; and Frederick Berry, "Capital Punishment." Dramatic, Ellen Finn, "The Slow Man"; Marie Finn, "Two Homecomings"; Harriet Craven, "The Price"; Marjorie Ley, "The Face on the Bar-room Floor"; Myrtle Wallace, "The Fleet Goes By"; Louise Rickabaugh, "The Clod"; and Bernard Pollard, "The Melting Pot."

Frederick Berry is entered in the contest but he is not competing for a place. His recent illness made it necessary for him to drop three of his subjects, and this disqualifies him. Assembly Notes. The examinations for the first six weeks started Thursday according to regular schedule. Gretchen Teckhaus is playing the high school march this week. The junior class sponsored a ticket sale campaign for the play, "Come Out of the Kitchen." Many students assisted in the campaign and they were very successful in the sales. The junior class presented Miss Cora Schlaak with a perfume atomizer in appreciation of her work with them as coach of the junior play.

"W" Awards Are Made. The "W" club of Wayne high school presented the following boys "W" awards for football: Gerald Dennis, Perri Gifford, William Benschoff, Manley Wilson, Doc Surber, Arthur Clichester, Herman Sand, Herbert Perry, Elmer Erxleben, Harry Fisher, Darrel Trumbauer, Floyd Gray, Max Ellis and William Anderson. The following boys received "W" sweaters: Manley Wilson, Doc Surber, Herman Sand, Herbert Perry, Harry Fisher and Darrel Trumbauer. Teachers' meeting was held Monday evening at 4 o'clock. Supt. T. S. Hook presided. Special emphasis was placed on the following two points which are part of the student council constitution: Same standards in scholarships are to be observed in all activities, and a "U" in citizenship excludes the student from all activities for the following six weeks. Louise Rickabaugh, secretary of the student council, read the constitution to the high school students last Thursday afternoon. The agricultural classes during the past two weeks have been making laboratory study of the heads of different cereals such as CORRECT USAGE. Hartington Herald: One of the most profitable discussions which took place at the recent Wayne Herald opening was in regard to the importance of correct grammatical usage in news writing. Speaking on the subject of writing news, the writer emphasized three things as essential, accuracy, conciseness and grammatical correctness, and the third point elicited considerable discussion. Will Maupin of the Omaha Bee, who followed the writer on the program, agreed to the importance of accuracy and conciseness, but was rather inclined to make light of grammar as being of very little consequence. He took the position that the important thing for a correspondent to do was to get the news and that he need not trouble himself about the grammatical form in which it was written. Mr. Maupin was probably not more than half in earnest when he said this, but whether he was or not and with all due respect to his own brilliant qualities as a writer, The Herald thinks that he was absolutely wrong. It is of first importance, of course, for a newspaper reporter to get the facts, but, having done this it is equally essential that he express himself in clear, concise, grammatical English. Newspaper usage as to punctuation, etc., may vary in different newspaper offices, but there are certain fundamental rules which should be observed and failure to observe these is the cause of endless worry and exasperation at every editorial desk. It is not only important that a reporter or a correspondent get the news, but that he also be able to write it in a grammatically correct and readable form.

wheat, barley, oats and rye. The heads of grain were dissected and through the study of these, the students acquired knowledge of the parts of the head and the functions of each part. The biology class has been making a study of the different food materials required for the growth of plants and animals. At present the students are making a study of the effect of gravity on the growth of roots, and the effect of light on the growth of the plants. Next week the class will make a study of the circulation of the blood in animals and of the circulation of sap in plants. The science class has begun the study of the relation of oxygen to the burning of a fire. The effect of the burning on the substance, why some material will burn and why others will not burn, have also been a part of the class discussions.

Kindergarten. Visitors in the kindergarten this week were: Mrs. L. W. Vath, Mrs. Harold Gildersleeve, and Mrs. Van Bradford. Billy Koch has moved to Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Jean Foster has moved to Lincoln. The kindergarten children had a valentine box Thursday afternoon. They also had a valentine party. First Grade. Mrs. T. S. Hook visited the first grade last Tuesday. The first grade had a valentine box Monday afternoon. Second Grade. February is a very busy month in the second grade. Pupils are making valentines and decorations. They are also preparing booklets of the good deeds of Lincoln and Washington whose birthdays are this month. Seventeen pupils have been neither absent nor tardy this semester. Mrs. Don Porter and Mrs. Tolson of Alhambra, Calif., were visitors last week. Mrs. Martin Ringer was a visitor Wednesday of this week. The second grade has a regulation U. S. mail box in which to mail valentines. The second grade pupils are studying the Japanese. Japanese parasols were woven last week. The making of Japanese costumes is to be the next project in this grade. Fourth Grade. Mrs. Fleetwood was a visitor Wednesday and Mrs. T. T. Jones visited Thursday. William Luders was absent one and one-half days because of illness. The fourth grade has received more letters from Miss Johnson's pupils of Green River, Wyo. John Oliver Johnson and Frank Gamble decorated a valentine box for this room. The aisles in the room have been named and the valentines must be properly adressed before delivered. The valentines were delivered last Monday.

Fifth Grade. Mrs. L. W. Vath visited the fifth grade Wednesday afternoon. The fifth grade is much interested in the samples of petroleum products sent by the Standard Oil company of Omaha, in response to Bessie Isom's letter requesting material that would help the class in the study of petroleum.

Mrs. Gene Brown was a visitor in the fifth grade last week. The fifth grade made a miniature volcano last week, to help visualize a volcanic eruption. Palmer buttons were received by the following this week: Helen Jones, Lucille Surber, and Jeff Mildner. Jeff Mildner completed the palmer work in the fourth grade, Helen and Lucille in the fifth.

Mrs. Fred Blair and Mrs. Walter Savidge were visitors last week. Mrs. T. T. Jones visited the sixth grade Thursday afternoon of this week.

Melvin Brown and Roimane Simmerman were absent for two days on account of sickness. Elsie Bonawitz and Ida Eickhoff made a very pretty valentine box for the room.

The B class is studying the cotton belt, and the A class is studying the valleys of California. The A class is studying decimals in arithmetic class.

Beware of Imitations of RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE

[This sign on the pump identifies the genuine]

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is always red and always sold from silver pumps. But there are silver pumps serving red gasoline that imitates Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline in nothing but the color. Get what you pay for.

Straight Facts

- 1 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline contains Ethyl Brand Anti-Knock Compound in the right proportion to produce a completely "knockless" fuel.
- 2 Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound was developed by the General Motors Research Laboratories, which own basic patents covering this invention and its use.
- 3 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is sold to consumers only at pumps which bear the trade mark shown here.
- 4 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is colored red for identification purposes. The color has nothing to do with its performance.
- 5 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of old reliable, quick-starting, clean-burning Red Crown Gasoline with Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound added. This combination absolutely prevents knocks under all driving conditions and develops extra power when carbon in the motor increases compression. It provides more power on the hills and through snow, slush and mud, and less gear shifting in slow-moving traffic.

Genuine Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline will give your car a new range of power and performance. One tankful sells another. Costs more — and worth it. Be sure you get the genuine.

To avoid dilution, drain your tank before you fill it with Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline for the first time, and use Red Crown Ethyl exclusively thereafter.

Tobacco is included in the McNary-Nugent bill as a basic commodity, and according to the amount used, it is doubtless classified right.

Some inmates of the asylum for insane at Lincoln addressed a note to the Nebraska legislature inviting members who have been urging "freak" bills, to journey out there and take up permanent quarters.

Chicken stealing has been annoying Madison county of late, and a number of arrests have been made. Terms in the penitentiary will help materially in cultivating respect for inmates of coops and henneries.

A determined effort is to be made to extend Wayne's trade territory far beyond present bounds, and by so doing everybody will be benefited. Greater trade volume will justify bigger stocks, lower prices and better service. The result will stimulate life and growth.

Kansas is abolishing the law against selling cigars. The law was so generally disregarded that it was wiped out of the statutes in order to legalize the practice. Now Kansas will join other states in unrestricted bombardment of the ethereal firmament with cigaret fumes.

Gov. A. J. Bulow of South Dakota, observed Lincoln's birthday by vetoing a measure to reinstate capital punishment in that state. The governor suggested that capital punishment belonged to the dark ages, and declared that Abraham Lincoln would not have approved of it.

Thomas Edison submitted to an interview his eightieth birthday, and among other things said he intended to remain in the harness until a "few days before the funeral." He has remained comparatively young by continuing his activity and by eagerly searching for new things to add to his list of wonderful discoveries.

Some one has figured out that if production and consumption are increased, costs may be reduced without cutting down wages or profits. Volume would take care of reduced prices, and lower prices would stimulate consumption. Standards of living would thus be raised, and everybody would be prosperous and happy.

Our neighborhood was shocked this week by the loss of one of its members who passed away without a suggestion of warning. Like members of one's family or like old-time acquaintances, we consider our neighbors as a matter of course and think of them as continuing in the same familiar niches forever. Thus, when death hovers low and lays its hand on a neighbor, everybody is shocked and grieved. Especially when a family is left without a mother, as in this case, profoundest sympathy and solicitude are felt.

We are told that next June a comet will come within 4,500,000 miles of the earth, considerably closer than any other comet has approached us. It is said the earth will pass through its tail of gas but we are assured it will do no harm. In ancient times, the appearance of a comet caused a great deal of fear. People thought a comet might collide with the earth and cause an abrupt ending of everything earthly. But science has gone so far in figuring out the composition and habits of comets that they no longer excite alarm. They are now considered no more serious than the gentle switch of a cow's tail.

Thomas A. Edison and Chauncey M. Depew, both famous, are somewhat in conflict on ideas touching immortality. Edison is not so positive as Depew. Edison seems to believe people continue to live in some form, but he is not orthodox and he does not accept fundamental beliefs without qualification. His mind is analytical, speculative and constructive, and he does not say a thing is so until he proves it. Depew is orthodox, and he accepts the original theory of creation and survival without question. But when a man like Edison who is accustomed to dissecting theories and finding and establishing facts, expresses belief in continuity beyond the grave, even though brushing aside orthodox as untenable, ground to support, the big essential is strengthened.

PROPER GROWTH.

Glenn Frank told 10,000 high school students recently what he would do at 18 if he knew then what he knows at 39. He said in effect that he would treat his body with concern for its healthy functioning as a basis for prolonged activity and usefulness. He added that one who fails to establish sound physical health at 18 is handicapped and cuts short his powers of accomplishment. He said he would set out to achieve financial freedom as a means of unfettered expression. He would develop curiosity and habits of experimentation. He would not be satisfied with routine work that amounts to becoming a small cog in a big wheel. He would find out his special weaknesses and endeavor to turn them to advantage. He would stimulate imagination without becoming a valueless day-dreamer. He would encourage dash and daring with plenty of caution to make him practical. Thus, he would avoid extremes in all things, giving careful attention to the needs of both body and mind from the start.

BRIDGE.

A bridge is designed to facilitate transportation. If the Israelites had had more bridges, they would have arrived sooner. Speaking of bridges, we have the Brooklyn bridge and the Logan and Dog Creek bridges and others, all indispensable to modern haste and convenience. As we are reliably informed, the river Styx has no bridge, passengers being leisurely rowed over in a flat-bottomed boat, giving plenty of time to view the scenery and contemplate the prospect, the saving of time at this juncture being unimportant. Of suspension bridges, we have in common use the kind that is anchored to two rather remotely separated teeth to save soft gums from hard vicissitudes and to keep the human visage from looking like the warning on a cake of rat poison. Another suspension bridge that is very necessary to lift and steady spirits is that which extends from a struggling mortal to a distant star of hope. Often a chasm of fear is bridged by a little cash loan or an encouraging word. But of all the different kinds of bridges, none has gained greater popularity in less time than bridge whist with the whisk cut off for brevity. And from what particular bridge, bridge whist derived its name we do not know. We only know that when four or more people are gathered together and time threatens to drag, they turn to bridging it with a little game of whist just as naturally as a duck takes to water.

Why Pay More?

A recent test at Iowa State College showed that steers, which were fed minerals, made a marked gain over non-mineral fed cattle. This amounted to $5.00 more profit per head. You should get this additional profit for yourself by feeding Ames Reliable Cattle Minerals.

Dairy cows need minerals because their production of milk draws upon their mineral supply. Minerals keep them in better health and produce stronger and healthier calves. Ames Reliable Minerals are worth many times their cost for fattening cattle.

Ames Reliable Cattle Minerals will (1) Supply the minerals which grain feeds do not have; (2) Increase the milk flow of the dairy cows; (3) Help to fatten beef cattle; (4) Keep your herd in better health; (5) Help bring forth healthier, stronger calves.

You ought to feed Ames' Reliable Cattle Minerals to your dairy and beef herds. Feed 3 to 4 oz. per head per day with other feeds. Cattle and sheep on grass should have minerals added to their salt.

I have just received a car of tankage. I also, have middlings, shorts, bran, egg-laying mash, Champion hog feed and oyster shells. We handle almost every feed used by the farmer for his herds and flocks.
