Officers Locate Missing Sedan

Machine Taken from Judge J. M. Cherry's Garage in March is Found in Sidney.

Numbers Changed

Car Taken to Garage Bears Dixon County License But Engine Number Same.

Judge J. M. Cherry's Ford sedan, which was taken from his garage the night of March 8, was located in Sidney, Neb., last Friday. License plates had been changed, but the engine number was left the same. Sheriff Archie Stephens went to Sidney Tuesday to get the car. He and the sheriff at Sidney will try to locate the man who gave a fictitious name at a garage there. Judge Cherry missed the car the morning of March 9. He thinks that after the car was taken from the garage, the machine was driven north to Laurel, reaching there about 2 o'clock. The driver stopped on the pavement, it is thought, to remove the chains and talked to the night watchman. The driver then went northeast of Laurel about ten miles to the scene of an automobile wreck and there placed the Dixon county license plates from the wrecked car on the Judge Cherry machine. It is thought the car was then driven to western Nebraska.

ADVICE TO HOLD TIES UNTIL THEY ARE CALLED FOR

A trade paper reports that the sympathy appeal made by a St. Louis "Blind Tie Man," is unwarranted by the facts. Bunches of ties are sent out from St. Louis with request to each recipient to send a dollar or return the ties. The trade paper offers this advice: "A recipient of unordered merchandise is under no obligation to perform the labor required to place that merchandise in the mails for return to the sender. It is sufficient that the merchandise be kept in a safe place for a reasonable length of time so that it may be handed to a personal representative of the company should such a representative call and ask for the return of the merchandise. The recipient should not use the merchandise because its use would signify acceptance of the offer. No doubt, the failure of recipients to return merchandise is a temptation to discourage the sending of unordered merchandise by mail."

McCormick - Deering Corn Planters

Variable Drop, Hill Drop or Drill

Great accuracy, combined with a wide range of adaptability to the requirements of planting corn, beans and other crops under varying conditions — time-proven principles in a brand new model.

McCormick-Deering No. 102 check-row corn planter. Equipment includes reel and 80 rods of check wire.

Flat-, Edge-, and Full-Hill-Drop Plates Interchange

BUILT-IN POWER HILL-DROP. In some sections where it is desired to plant in hills without the use of a check-wire it has been necessary to purchase additional equipment in the way of a power hill-drop attachment. On the McCormick-Deering check-row planters a simple change in one of the clutch members, which can be made almost instantly, converts the planter into a power hill-drop planter for bunch dropping. The simplicity of this arrangement is remarkable and it is surprising that no one ever before thought of this way of doing it.

POSITIVE DURABLE CLUTCH. In this type of planter the clutch is extremely important, since upon it depends the proper functioning of the planting mechanism. The McCormick-Deering clutch is of an improved design, positive in its action, and made extremely durable by the use of case-hardened rollers running on hard steel pins. The bearings are extremely wide, not only providing more wearing surface, but making the clutch less sensitive to wear.

ALL STANDARD WIDTHS. The regular planters are adjustable to plant in rows 28 to 44 inches apart (at 2-inch intervals). One of the planters has a range of 32 to 48 inches. The check wire regularly furnished has the buttons spaced 3 feet, 6 inches. Other spacings can be furnished on special order.

AUTOMATIC MARKERS. McCormick-Deering planters are regularly equipped with markers which require absolutely no attention from the operator. There is a marker on each side of the planter and the outer ends of the markers are connected by a rope. As the planter proceeds across the field the draft of the marker in the ground holds the other marker up to the frame. At the end of the field the team is turned toward the marker in the ground, which allows the rope to slacken, permitting the opposite marker to drop to the ground. When the planter starts back across the field this marker digs in and pulls the opposite marker up. This is a simple, practical, handy arrangement, and one you will approve. Twin disc markers can be furnished on special order for those who prefer that type.

VARIABLE-DROP HILL OR DRILL. The only additional parts necessary to provide the variable-drop feature is the shifting lever and quadrant. Variation is secured by shifting the feed shaft so that one of the three sets of teeth on the driving pinion engages the ring gear under the hopper. The operator can change instantly to plant 2, 3, or 4 kernels to the hill when check-row planting, or to give any of three spacings when drilling, and this without stopping the team.

McCormick-Deering FARMALL

---The Real All-Purpose Tractor

Under average soil conditions the Farmall will plow from 7 to 10 acres a day, which is as much as three men with nine mules or horses.

Twenty acres a day can be bedded up with two middle breakers and a Farmall, which is the work ordinarily of two or three men and six to eight horses.

The Farmall with a two-row lister can cover 20 acres a day, doing the work of two to three men and six to eight horses.

In planting corn, the Farmall can easily cover 20 acres a day—two or three times as much as can be done with a team. If four rows are planted at a time, this acreage is practically doubled.

One man with a Farmall can cultivate 15 to 25 acres a day, doing the work of two or three men and six to eight horses.

The Farmall when equipped with mower attachment will cut 20 to 25 acres a day.

The Farmall and tractor binder can cut 30 to 35 acres of grain a day.

For pulling the corn binder or corn picker, the Farmall save both time and labor.

Ask us to show you this tractor and the modern tools that work with it. Demonstrations can be arranged on your own farm if desired. No obligation.

Music week is bringing out the best in local talent, and the events carried out have been thoroughly enjoyed. Music week inspires greater love for music of the right sort, and more music makes for greater happiness.

The reason Chicago seems to be a more terrible battle ground than China, is because it is nearer our sources of publicity. We don't believe Chicago is worse in orderly processes than China, which we mention in fairness and without allowing home feeling to bubble to the surface.

Complaint is made that milk bottles have been stolen lately from porches, to the loss and discomfort of householders and milk dealers. If petty thieves are caught, as they likely will be, the disgrace involved in such contemptibly small practice will greatly aggravate the legal penalty.

We wish to commend the local citizen who, seeing a robin tangled and caught in the twisted growth of a tree-top, got out a ladder and effected its release. Unharmcd, freed, the bird flew away to enjoy the world. We do not know how much understanding or sense of appreciation a robin has, but we do know that relief to a suffering bird is a most worthy example. And it always makes a fellow who performs a kindness, even to a dumb creature, feel better.

An imported executioner snuffed out a man's life for the state of Nebraska in the penitentiary at Lincoln Friday. We wish some way could be figured out to handle murderers without a spectacular exhibition of deliberately taking their lives. But if an eye for an eye is to continue, it ought to be possible to hire one man in the state to execute its policy, avoiding the expense of going to distant places to find one. If it requires exceptional skill to press the button, the secret ought to be ascertained and given to any who would accept the job.

You may save every week much more than you pay in a year for the Herald by studying its advertising columns. Advertisements in today's Herald and in every week's Herald form a reliable compendium of buying information. You learn prevailing styles and prices. You find out what you will have to pay for them. By careful attention to the Herald's advertising pages you will be able to get a fairly clear idea of what you want to buy and pay before you go to market. Advertising pages presented each week are a source of important economy.

It has been explained that the deficit in the state treasury is due to an inadequate levy to take care of legislative appropriations. The legislature ordered certain expenditures, and the state taxing board, doubtless wishing to make a record, failed to provide a sufficient levy to meet them. Thus, the deficit grew from year to year, and the inevitable day of settlement finally arrived. To wipe out the deficit, the late legislature provided a special levy of one and one-half mills, and provision was made to avoid recurrence of the trouble. In the future taxing boards will be required to fix levies in accordance with legislative appropriations. People demand

MOTHERS' DAY.
Mothers' day comes again, and everybody will bow his head in profoundest respect for mother love, unselfish, unfeigned, the most powerful force in the world. Above all others, mother preserves confidences, bestows heartiest sympathy and gives sincerest aid and comfort. A normal mother upholds her boy or girl, right or wrong, until the end of life. Even though one has grown old and tottering, he feels the encouraging influence of his mother, as if she were in the body or a precious memory. And if one has implanted in him the normal instinct, he remembers his mother with deepest affection. Living, he would like to take her to his bosom in warmest embrace. Departed, he yearns for the caress of a hand that is gone, and words of courage from a voice that is still forever. All the loving attention the mother receives is but a trifle of what she deserves.

public improvements and at the same time tax reduction, and in accomplishing both, a deficit would seem to be the natural consequence.

The Omaha Bee proposes its good offices in settling the question of outlawing and abolishing mince pie. The Bee suggests its services as arbiter and participant at a practical demonstration of the delicacy by the editor of the Herald, who, having taken up the cudgel in its behalf, accepts, Editor Stone of Hartington, and Editor Copper of Fremont, assailants, to be invited in to be convinced, if possible. We would also invite Editor Leggett of the Ord Quix to bring over his sensible appetite as a friendly and sustaining influence. We shall insist on Wayne as the place, but shall abide by any time agreeable to the participants. In the meantime, we would suggest the Hartington and Fremont editors, in fairness to the feast, that they take reasonable care of their already enfeebled digestive equipment.

Several Nebraska newspapers are under prosecution by the federal government on a charge of violating the lottery law. The law has been a source of much annoyance to publishers, because an advertiser who wishes to insert a seemingly innocent advertisement, becomes vexed over a newspaper's refusal on the ground of trespassing on legal restrictions. Often an advertisement that could do no possible harm, is barred on account of an interpretation of the law. Some postmasters are more strict than others in observing the law, and as a result some newspapers are under greater restrictions than others. The newspapers now charged with violating the law will do themselves and all other newspapers, as well as the general public, a genuine service, by testing the law to the limit and making its meaning so plain that no one can misunderstand it.

BEING THE GOAT.
Functioning in the role of "the goat" is an unwelcome distinction usually thrust on an unsuspecting individual who is easy-going and who is trying to attend to his own business. In being the goat one is falsely charged with saying or doing things in order to save others from culpability. In being the goat, one is given the burden of saving the guilty. To the goat's shoulders an excessive and unwarranted tax is shifted. Making any one the goat in order to escape responsibility is cowardly. It means that there are people who are willing to see one unjustly imposed upon rather than face the current and accept due share of responsibility. Letting an innocent person suffer is the same as "passing the buck" or crawling under cover at sight of danger or responsibility.

Service Men Willing to Educate. Although the extensive use of the automobile today has necessitated a general all-around knowledge of the elementary mechanical workings of the machine, few people bother to find out what makes the battery do the excellent work it does. Oftentimes, it is not until the starter refuses to work that the automobile owner wakes up to the fact that his machine has a battery in it which has received no care.

Service station men all over the country are united in a desire to educate every car owner as to the inside workings and the proper care of the battery. It is to their interests that car owners should be able to get the maximum use from their batteries. Mr. Swanson of Coryell and Brock's, the local Willard Service Station, says that they make it a point to explain the essentials of the battery to every patron who will take the time to listen. And it is surprising how many remark that they didn't know this thing or that thing about batteries before.

Savidge Players To Start Monday Night

"Happiness is just like a kiss; the only way to get any good out of it is to give it to somebody else," says Bill McAllister, chief dispenser of the new philosophy as extolled in "Applesauce," the highly humorous comedy that will be presented by the Walter Savidge players in the big tent next Monday night. It ran for thirty-six weeks in Chicago, and later appeared for long plays in New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Mr. Savidge has been fortunate in securing for this season the best repertoire of plays that he has ever presented in Wayne. Among them is "The Bat," which is thrilling, mysterious and at the same time screamingly funny. It stands out sharp and clear above all dramatic plays offered during the past generation.

Just what "The Bat" is all about is secret. In fact, wherever "The Bat" has been played, the audience and critics are earnestly requested not to disclose the secret of the story, and they never do. Suffice to say, it is one thrill after another interspersed with countless laughs.

Firestone is President and active head of the Company and under his management many outstanding developments and improvements for economy, safety and comfort in tires have been made. Miss Laura Lyons Describes Visit to Wisteria Fiesta in Sierra Madre.

Miss Laura Lyons of Long Beach, Calif., writes to the Wayne Herald April 22 as follows: "We have been having real summer weather the past two days. A very distinct, slight earthquake was felt here last Friday morning. "A new subway is being put under Ocean avenue at Pine. It is interesting to watch the excavation. The Pacific electric cars have run over it all day. "Last Thursday three young ladies took me with them to the mountains to see a sister of one of the group. We went to Sierra Madre, forty miles northeast of here. It was a delightful drive past many homes, dairies and orange groves. The trees are in full bloom, green and ripe fruit both being on them. The sweet fragrance surpasses that of plum blossoms. The foliage is unusually leafy this spring, owing to the great amount of rain during the winter. There is a heavy growth of roses along the boulevards, cared for by the highway company. "Entering the Sierra Madre canyon our driver took the wrong road but we were glad she did for there was such a beautiful panorama below as we rounded curve after curve, and kept going higher and higher. We reached the mountain-side home soon after noon. "The friend's home was a comfortable little four-room cabin, equipped with electricity and running water. It seemed very quiet with the beauties of nature all around. Several of the neighbors have radios and with a store and branch postoffice we did not feel so far from civilization. "We hiked up the swiftly flowing stream for a short distance. The water was cool and refreshing as it rippled over the stones. This stream is the source of the Sierra Madre water supply. Several reservoirs have been constructed to conserve the water against the dry season. We could visualize the terrific velocity with which the water rushed down the canyon a year ago during the heavy rains and caused all of the dams to burst. In the summer this same stream will be dry. Many of the cabins have had rock walls erected on the lower side for protection but they are now in ruin. This shows the power of the floods when they are encountered. The newly constructed dams are better and no damage resulted this year, even though the rainfall was heavier. "I did not have much time to study vegetation, but noticed a great many wild birds and a heavy growth of grass under the trees. There were several species of oak and evergreen. Several varieties of birds were noisily singing. "We left this delightful spot to attend the much heralded wisteria fête nearby. Had it been clear we would have seen many towns, including Long Beach and the ocean and Catalina island from this vantage point. Sierra Madre has been nicknamed the wisteria town. It lies some 100 miles from Los Angeles, at the base of the beautiful mountains of the same name. Its altitude is 1,100 feet although this scenic point is several hundred feet higher. "In 1893 a wisteria seed, brought from France, was planted by the south window of a home on this pretty knoll, the house being located in the center of an acre and a quarter of land. Not much attention was paid to the plant, however, until Mr. and Mrs. Fennel purchased the home. The former began to study its habits. He noticed that as soon as the new tender shoots appeared they had a tendency to turn downward and in a very short time died, while if they were trained horizontally they would show much growth each season. For a period of ten years he went carefully over the entire vine providing supports, thus carrying the new growth farther along. At the present time it is estimated that the vine's length is 400 feet, although no accurate measurement can be taken. The vine covers the entire spare of one acre. "Wisteria flowers resemble large clusters of grapes from a distance, being long bunches of orchid flowers. Close inspection shows the flowers to be of the legume or pea family. This plant has semi-parasitic traits as it only derives twenty percent of its growing power from the soil and eighty percent from the air. If the plant should be severed from the ground by its natural enemy, the ant, it would continue to thrive for two weeks. "About ten years ago Mrs. Fennel began to invite friends to her home for afternoon tea during the three weeks in which the vine was in blossom. She wanted to share the beauty and fragrance of the flowers. Later a Dickens fellowship came there and in the open air, under the wisteria trellis provided entertainment by portraying noted characters from the novels of Charles Dickens. Fame began to spread and during the war the Red Cross had several booths erected and much was added to the Red Cross fund through purchase of articles at the vine. The past few years the city club women have conducted the garden party and they have a clubhouse there. Mrs. Fennel has made it a rule that no entrance fee shall be charged and she now gives the lower floor of her home for the housing and preparation of foods sold during the fête. "This year the Masonic organizations had the fiesta at the vine in charge. Each attendant wore a costume of orchid or wisteria shade. Electric light bulbs were of the same color. Many cards, pictures and polychrome articles of the noted vine were displayed. The lady who gave information about the vine was a writer of considerable note, LaReine Helen McKenzie Baker. She has traveled widely and belongs to the writers' club of London, England."

Gildersleeve died intestate in Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 20th day of May, 1927. That at the time of his death he was seized in fee simple of the following described real estate in Wayne County, to-wit: commencing at a point Nine hundred and forty-four (944 ft) feet, South of the Northwest corner of the South-west quarter of Section eighteen (18), Township twenty-six (26), Range four (4) East of the 6th P. M. in Wayne County, Nebraska; thence South Fifty-seven and one-half (57 1/2) feet, thence due East One hundred thirty (130) feet, thence North Fifty-seven and one-half (57 1/2) feet, thence West One hundred thirty (130) feet to place of beginning, being a part of the South-west quarter (S. W. 1/4) of Section Eighteen (18), Township Twenty-six (26), North Range Four (4), East of the Sixth P. M. and left surviving him as his sole and only heir at law, his widow, Mabel Sundahl, and his daughters, Gladys Gildersleeve, Edna Gildersleeve, and Lyle Gildersleeve Assay. That all claims, debts and demands against said real estate and said estate have been paid in full. That said estate has never been administered in the State of Nebraska. That said Mabel Sundahl, Gladys Gildersleeve, Edna Gildersleeve, and Lyle Gildersleeve Assay are the only owners in fee simple of the said above described real estate. Petitioner prays for a finding and decree determining the date of the death of said James L. Some summery new patterns have been added to our stock of PRINTS suitable for LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S DRESSES AND APRONS. They are priced at 19c for PERCALES up to 39c for PETER PANS. McCALL FASHION SHEETS FOR JUNE are now ready. They are free. THE JUNE McCALL PATTERNS are in stock. We can fill your mail orders for any McCALL PATTERN shown in their MAGAZINE or QUARTERLY.

COME IN FRIDAY OR SATURDAY if you are looking for a NEW COAT OR DRESS. All of our OUT OF TOWN STOCK will be here for those two days so you will have an especially good assortment to choose from. We'll make you a LOW PRICE on any dress or coat you select. We have a DOUBLE STOCK to close out which is our reason for making SUCH LOW PRICES so early in the season. Every garment is FINE, FIRST CLASS READY TO WEAR, such as we always handle—there are no poorly tailored coats or dresses of inferior material among these garments, no matter how low the price. Women who favor plain POIRET TWILL and POIRET SHEEN COATS in nice shades of Tan and Blue will find many styles here to choose from at these REDUCED PRICES.

Several of these plain COATS are in the larger sizes and some are in short stout sizes.

THE TWEED AND FANCY MIXTURE COATS are mostly youthful styles—some have very nice fur collars—all are of bright, attractive materials and in NEW STYLES RECEIVED DURING APRIL. The prices are down to $11, $16, $24—a few are $29.

The DRESS ASSORTMENT is very good—both in FLAT CREPES and GEORGETTES. The popular new shades of TAN, BLUE, GREEN and ROSE are all well represented. We alter and fit these dresses without extra charges. $11, $16 and $24 are now the marked down prices on almost all of them. For an especially good selection come Friday or Saturday. The sale will continue all next week but the assortment will be most complete on these two days.

THE SCHOOL MISS who buys her FORMAL DRESS here will not be embarrassed by meeting some one else at the banquet or party with one just like it, because we are ordering only one dress of each style. The DRESSES that came last week were all different from those we have had before and this week we will have another entirely different assortment.

Among them will be several made of FLOWERED GEORGETTE similar to those which were so admired in last week's shipment.

THE PRICE WILL BE $15 which is unusually low for dresses of this quality. Several who have priced similar dresses in out of town stores have remarked that our price of $15 is considerably less than asked there for dresses of equal quality. If you have not bought your banquet dress be sure and see this week's NEW ASSORTMENT.

Very good looking DRESSES OF RAYON MATERIALS are on sale now at $3.95 to $7.50. THE RAYON used in these dresses is of a quality that will wash and wear satisfactorily. The styles are especially attractive because they are designed by a firm who make many of our nicest silk dresses. Among these dresses are many SPECIAL STYLES suitable for LARGE WOMEN who wear size up to 54-inch bust.

Again we have a full assortment of LADIES' RAIN COATS. The light weight ones, in colors Red, Green and Blue, are $2.50. The BRIGHT SCARLET SLICKERS, and the GREEN, WINE, CADNET BLUE and SALMON COLORED U. S. RUBBER CO COATS are priced $5.75 to $7.50. Hats are here to match.

Any little girl 6 to 12 years of age will be delighted with a birthday gift of a dainty silky RAYON VEST AND BLOOMERS, or a RAYON COMBINATION. They come in flesh, Nile, green and peach shades and are priced at 85c to $1.50.

SEVERAL NEW STYLES in LADIES' LIGHT-COLORED FOOTWEAR are expected here for Saturday. Those trimmed with a new iridescent patent leather are especially attractive. They go especially well with the delicate shades of georgette and crepe used in the Commencement Dresses. These new styles will be priced moderately at $5.95, $6.95 and $7.85.
