J. A. Winterstein Writes From West

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Winterstein who left Wayne by car for Monrovia, Calif., a few weeks ago, have arrived there, and the former writes to the Herald May 9 as follows:

"The more than 700 mile ride from Fort Worth to El Paso, Texas, unfolded an entirely new world to us. Heavy timber, mostly pine, other trees in fragrant bloom, and jonquils, daisies and other beautiful flowers literally carpeted the ground. The timber grew more scattered and smaller as we approached El Paso, and finally disappeared as the altitude became higher. Some wonderfully beautiful flowers were to be seen all the way, however.

"From Ranger to Abilene, Texas, is the 'hub' of the oil fields, and there the mushroom boom towns are springing up over night.

"El Paso is a bustling city of some 100,000 population. The great cotton plantations here of from two to five thousand acres in size are watered from the Rio Grande river which is almost drained for irrigation purposes at that point. The farming is done with mules. In fact, Texas is a land of mules and the animals are good ones.

"Our real desert experience lay between El Paso, Texas, and Deming, N. M. A half day's drive over a white expanse of sand and we saw not a sign of life, just a trail of sand covered ruts to follow. One doesn't realize how neighborly even a mere telephone pole is until there is none along the way.

"Douglas and Bisbee, Ariz., are great copper mining and smelter centers. Bisbee is strung up and down a canyon in the mountains a distance of five or six miles. Its main street is winding and sometimes wide and sometimes narrow, mostly narrow, however. The residences are built on rock steep ledges on either side of the deep mountains. Some parts of the town are undermined and houses here and there have already fallen in. The whole street in one section is likely to collapse at any time, we were told. The traffic is not restricted in the least over this road. In fact it is the only road through the town. The citizens are waiting to pave until this section caves in.

"Phoenix was abloom with roses when we were there. The farmers were busy marketing the vast fields of head lettuce, harvesting wheat and stacking alfalfa. A heavy, wet snow was falling at intervals. This was a combination we had not before experienced.

"All traffic has to ford the Gila river just west of Phoenix. A bridge is now under construction for the first time. The crossing is made on the spillway of the great dam there with the water running over it to a depth of about two feet. The spillway is about an eighth of a mile wide.

"The new, paved highway from Yuma to El Centro, Calif., is raised from ten to twenty-five feet above the desert as a protection from sand storms. The old road, made of heavy planks fastened tightly together, still lies in some places parallel to the new one. This could be raised up onto the surface, again each time a sand storm hurried it.

"Taken altogether we had a very enjoyable trip and Mrs. Winterstein is slowly improving in health. We are located at 417 East Lime avenue, Monrovia, Calif."

Injured In Fall.

Madison, Nebr., May 12.—Struck by the end of a tree limb which suddenly snapped off when the rope holding it broke, Cecil W. Conger, lineman of the Madison Telephone company, suffered a fracture of the jaw bone and the loss of a part of one of his ears Thursday morning.

Mr. Conger was trimming trees to clear wires in the new lighting system being installed, and was sawing off a limb when the rope broke. The limb snapped in an opposite direction to that he had anticipated, striking the lineman.

Although struck a terrific blow, Mr. Conger managed to cling to the tree, and was able to climb down to the ground.

Will Have Highway Across State Soon

Norfolk, Nebr., May 11.—Road boosters in the towns along the Meridian highway in northern Nebraska are jubilant over the meeting held by State Engineer R. L. Cochran and members of the Norfolk chamber of commerce in which the engineer disclosed his plans for road work in Nebraska this year, and in which he announced that the Meridian highway across the entire state will be graveled.

Mr. Cochran stated that highway No. 81 from Wausa to the Yankton bridge is carrying so much traffic this year, that it is absolutely necessary to take action on this road ahead of any other in the state. He told the road boosters that this part of the Meridian highway will be graveled to connect with the gravel project already let between Wausa and Pierce, Nebr., along the south. This highway already is graveled from Pierce to Norfolk and from Norfolk south to Columbus and other points south across the state.

When Mr. Cochran's present plans are completed, the highway a distance of 230 miles, will be graveled entirely across Nebraska, making it the only highway in the state to be so improved.

Fourth Grade Pupils Dramatize Story of the Founding of Jamestown Colony.

The two junior high school students, Jeannette Lewis and Irel Whitmore, who took places in the academic contest held here recently, went to Lincoln Friday to take part in the state contest.

A junior high school dramatic club was recently organized with the following officers: President, Faye Winegar; vice-president, Evelyn Mellor; secretary, Paul Whorlow and business manager, Frederick Dowling.

A new silk flag was presented to the assembly Monday. It was bought with the proceeds from the moving picture, "The Lady of the Lake," sponsored by the ninth grade.

The tenth grade is sponsoring a junior high school picnic to be held during the last week of school.

The ninth grade English class is trying to complete the "Spizier-inkum, Junior." Pictures of each pupil, practice teachers and faculty are mounted for the book, and as written work, the pupils describe and give reminiscences of each.

The ninth and tenth Latin classes are working on a musical comedy to be given soon.

Dean H. H. Hahn has secured new silk flags for the rooms, and a large flag for the building.

The tenth grade has given up plans for a play because of the lack of time for proper enacting.

Oral talks on recent current topics were given last Monday before the assembly by ninth grade pupils.

Kindergarten.

The children made clay marbles, painted them and made bees to hold them. They counted and recorded the number of marbles made, gaining a fair sense of number by the work. Some of the children were able to count to fifty.

This grade was presented with a new silk flag Friday.

The parakeets visited the little folks on Thursday and Friday, and excited much admiration.

The kindergarten is practicing parts for the spring festival.

Children of this grade planted flower seeds in individual pots and out of doors this week. Each pupil marked his work by labeling stakes with his name and adjusting near the seeds he planted. In connection with this project the children drew pictures of how their flowers might look when in bloom.

First Grade.

Children of this grade planted flower seeds, including morning glories, flowering beans and dahlias, this week. Each child labeled his stake and placed it to identify his work. When the plants come up cords will be strung for them on the south side of the building.

Stereoscopes are being used in connection with a lesson in the Winston primer.

A new silk flag was presented to the room on Friday and the children are very proud of it. They have counted the stripes and stars and learned the story of the first flag.

Second Grade.

The story of meat has been completed and a new project on milk has been started. A chart showing the products of milk will be made by the children. On Thursday, Mrs. E. J. Huntmer presented the room with some cream, and Helen Hughes' big sister, Miss Irma, supervised the making of butter. An old fashioned dasher-churn was used and the children enjoyed it immensely. After the butter was made, and each child had shared in the work, a bread and butter treat was a happy ending for a busy afternoon.

The health brownie is a welcome guest in the second grade room. The children follow his health stories and try to do the health chores he advocates.

The parakeets visited this grade a few days and became fast friends with the children. A letter was written to Miss Erid Conklyn thanking her for loaning them, and also for her singing canary.

Flowers were planted on the campus Friday.

A new flag was presented the room by Dean Hahn on Friday.

The fourth grade dramatization of the founding of the Jamestown colony was a splendid success.

Bob Cunningham told the story of the events dealing with the colony and gave a fine interpretation. The dramatization featured the saving of Smith's life by Pocahontas. Indian chants by the children, victrola music and several songs gave a fitting background for the clever work done by the children. Miss Miriam Johnson sang, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," and Prof. Leon F. Beery sang, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters."

Costumes and stage settings were very beautifully arranged. Mrs. Clyde Oman brought a fine collection of Indian relics and gave a short talk about their origin. The mothers of the children were guests.

Makes New Mark.

"When the hundred-millionth Goodyear tire was produced in April by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company at Akron, Ohio, it marked a manufacturing accomplishment without parallel in the rubber industry," according to the Central garage, Goodyear dealer at Wayne.

"This achievement is of particular significance to the tire user and car owner, for into every Goodyear tire goes the experience gained in establishing a world's record in tire production, and the skill of the largest development and engineering organization in the tire business.

"In addition to one hundred million pneumatic tires, Goodyear has produced more than three million solid and cushion tires and thousands of bicycle and carriage tires in the early years of the company's existence.

"Beginning in 1898 the Goodyear organization started a line of unbroken developments in tire building which included the first practical cord tire, the pneumatic truck tire, and the company's latest product, a scientifically designed balloon tire which was placed on the market in January of this year after two years of development and road service on the Goodyear test car fleet.

"The widespread acceptance of this new tire has been remarkable more than one million being sold in eighty days in all parts of the world."

According to the local Goodyear dealer it would require 55,524 freight cars composing a railroad train more than 420 miles long to transport the one hundred million tires built by Goodyear.—Ad. 1911

HENRY KAY & SON, Proprietors

What This World's Record Means to You

In April, 1927, Goodyear finished the 100,000,000th Goodyear pneumatic motor vehicle tire

When we offer you a Goodyear Tire we offer you the benefits of world-record production.

Your money buys more because the Goodyear tire is the product of an organization that does things in a big way.

For example, Goodyear uses nearly one-seventh of all the crude rubber produced annually—almost 50 per cent more than any other manufacturer! Goodyear uses 100,000 bales of cotton yearly, operates its own cotton plantation, textile mills, rubber plantation, coal mines, factories and branches.

You get all the benefits of this efficient, economical production when you buy a Goodyear Tire.

We're Goodyear right here in your neighborhood.

When you buy a Goodyear Tire from us you make a direct and close association with the Goodyear organization. As Goodyear's accredited representatives in this district we are pledged to do everything possible to see that the Goodyear Tires on your car give you satisfactory service—long, economical mileage. We offer the free service of application, inspection, inflation, and examination for any sign of unnatural wear. All you have to do is drive around at regular intervals.

International Sugared HOG FEED With Mineral!

Fattens Hogs Quickly - Keeps Brood Sows in Fine Condition Makes Pigs Grow and Keeps Them Healthy

International Sugared Hog Feed with mineral is composed of high grade Digestor Tankage, Old Process Oil Meal, Pure Wheat Flour Middlings, Corn Germ Meal, Molasses and contains 3 per cent mineral mixture made from following formula advocated by Iowa State Experiment Station: One part Salt, two parts Calcium Carbonate, two parts Bone Meal or Spent Bone Black. Follow our feeding directions and your hogs will be supplied with the necessary and vitally important minerals in required amount.

Corn is an excellent producer of fat, but is deficient in protein which builds bone and muscle, also deficient in bone building mineral. Corn is not easily or quickly digested and when it is fed as an entire ration hogs cannot thrive, because their digestion becomes impaired and they lose appetite.

Hogs Like It

International Sugared Hog Feed should always be fed in connection with corn. It will provide the extra amount of protein and mineral required for building bone and muscle and will aid digestion, because it is quickly and easily digested. Hogs never tire of this feed and will always eat it with a relish and will have keen, regular appetites and without kept appetites they cannot be grown or fattened with profit.

The feeding period can always be shortened and you will save from 6 to 7 bushels of corn for every 100 pounds of International Sugared Hog Feed used in accordance with directions. International Sugared Hog Feed is in constant daily use by thousands of practical hog raisers, who are using it in preference to oil meal, digester tankage or flour middlings.

"War To The Last Crust"

Aurora Republican: An overt act by members of the Kansas legislature in the form of a wanton attack upon the mince pie, like the assassin's bullet which provoked the world war, drawn into salivary conflict between our own neighboring domain, ready to war to the last crust.

First to join in the conflict was Editor Glone of Hartington, who introduced himself back of his typewriter and let fly his heaviest supporting barrage in allying himself with the Kansas defamers of the crust. Seeing in this an encroachment upon his gastronomical domains, Editor Huse of the Wayne Herald promptly sallied forth to meet the enemy, staunchly upholding the mince pie and warning his people against entangling alliances with any and all special occasions, venenally and allied species of foreign dish such as might detract from the great American dessert.

Editor Copper of Fremont saw the battle lines closing about him at this point and promptly turned his bravest artillery upon the pie-defending Huse, who was thus put under an enfilading fire. Latest to hear the call to battle is Hank Leggett of the Ord Quiz, boss journalist of a pleasing state, whose ample upholding and jovial sallies suggest many a rest with the mince meat when it was hot. Altogether, the outlook is good for a first class war, with prospects of heavy guns like Joe Alden and Frank Edgecombe yet gathering up their ammunition and letting fly a salvo or two in favor of their prejudices.

As for the would-be traducers of the mince pie, let it be known, once for all, that their knowledge of the science of gastronomy is as elementary as the qualities of fellowship which make all pie-eaters one. For the gullet which never thrilled to the touch of mince meat, there can exist no temptations to dine; for the alimentary canal which has never been flooded with gastric juices at the mere mention of this delectable dish, there can be no solace in potatoes, gravy and such-like plebeian food. Both the spare frame of Editor Huse and the well moulded dimensions of Hank Leggett bear witness that mince meat is the proper motive power for an chassis and engine. May their logic prove as strong as their stomachs! Long live the mince pie, and the eaters thereof!

By virtue of an Order of Sale, to me directed, issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, upon a decree rendered therein at the September, 1924, term thereof, in an action pending in said court, between Fred Bueckner, et al, plaintiffs and Herman Bruckner, et al, were defendants, I will, on the 15th day of June, 1927 at 10 o'clock a. m., at the door of the office of the Clerk of said Court, in the court house in Wayne, in said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, to-wit: An undivided one-third (1-3) interest in and to the southwest quarter of section thirty (30) township twenty-five (25) range two (2), and an undivided one-third (1-3) interest in and to the northeast quarter of section thirty-six (36) township twenty-five (25) range one (1) east of the 8th p. m., Wayne county, Nebraska, to satisfy the aforesaid decree, the amount due thereon being $600.00 with interest at 10 per cent from June 30, 1924, and $38.30 costs and charges.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska this 3rd day of May, 1927. A. W. Stephens, Sheriff.

Winter Dairying For Butter Increasing

A number of important changes in the production of dairy products during the period from 1917 to 1925 have been noted by T. R. Pirtle, dairy market specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture. One of these changes of importance to the milk producer is the increase in creamery-butter production of 79.2 per cent during the period. Only 17.8 per cent of the total milk production of the United States was used in the manufacture of creamery butter in 1917, whereas the amount was increased to 25.54 per cent in 1925.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the seasonal trend of creamery butter production has varied during the period. If the year is divided into two parts, namely, the feeding season (November to April, inclusive), and the grass season (May to October, inclusive), it appears that the trend has been toward an increased production of butter during the winter feeding season. In 1917 the proportion of creamery butter made in the feeding season was 30.1 per cent and in the grass season 63.9 percent. In 1925 the production in the feeding season had increased to 39.9 percent of the total output, leaving 60.1 per cent for the grass season.

These figures indicate that winter dairying for butter production is increasing. There was a sound reason for this change, says Mr. Pirtle. In Minnesota, for example, the average price of a balanced ration of feed to produce a pound of butter in 1917 was 24 cents, and in 1925, 21.4 cents. The average price of 92 score butter in New York in 1917 was 42.7 cents per pound. In 1925 it was 45.3 cents. The feed cost had decreased 13.5 percent while the price of butter increased 6.1 percent for these two years.

Great Social Work

A remarkable piece of social work is being conducted by the United States Rubber company in the Far East.

This company grows its own rubber in Sumatra and Malaya on the largest plantations in the world. They employ a force of twenty thousand people, most of whom brought from the British and Dutch East Indies.

These natives are for the most part fatalists, with little fear of death. They are extremely superstitious, and have a wholesome dread for the "evil spirits" who, they believe are continually hovering around waiting to do them harm.

In attempting to control the conditions under which their employees live, the United States Rubber company set itself to a Herculean task, for they not only had to overcome cholera, typhoid, dysentery and beri-beri, diseases which are common to that part of the record, but then had to break down the native attitude toward these diseases, their acceptance of such things in a fatalistic spirit.

It was unquestionably a stupendous undertaking, but with characteristic American energy, the United States Rubber company set its shoulder to the wheel, and shortly accomplished wonders. They established the largest and finest hospital in the East, equipped with more than one thousand beds and a complete medical staff. Supplementing this hospital, they placed a series of dispensaries and rest camps in the hills.

As new workers are brought to the plantations they undergo a thorough medical examination. The conditions under which they live are under constant scientific supervision; great care is taken of the food they eat, the water they drink and the "lines" or quarters in which they live. Dysentery and typhoid have been practically wiped out. Cholera no longer is dangerous and beri-beri, a disease which comes from impure rice has been eliminated by furnishing them with properly inspected rice.

There is today, probably, no more healthy place to live than the United States Rubber company's Sumatra plantations. The contrast with conditions of two decades ago is striking. At that time most rubber was "wild" rubber, procured from the jungles of Brazil. Literally, almost every pound was gained at the cost of a human life. Now the toll is almost negligible. -Ad m121.

The work of hauling gravel to resurface the road between Neligh and Oakdale is also making progress.

Firestone Dealers

Have Purchased 100% More GUM-DIPPED TIRES [This Year Compared With Same Period Last Year]

THE demand for car owners for Gum-Dipped Tires has given Firestone Dealers a large increase in volume enabling them to sell these tires to you at the lowest prices in history.

On the cars of motorists everywhere, these wonderful tires are delivering unheard-of long mileage with greater safety and comfort.

The Firestone Balloon Tread, scientifically designed three years ago, and unchanged today, follows the contour of the tire carcass with no excess rubber at the edges to cause "shoulder breaks". Narrow rider strips permit the tread to yield to depressions and cling to the road, preventing skidding. This tough, pliable tread has the wear-resisting qualities for thousands of extra miles.

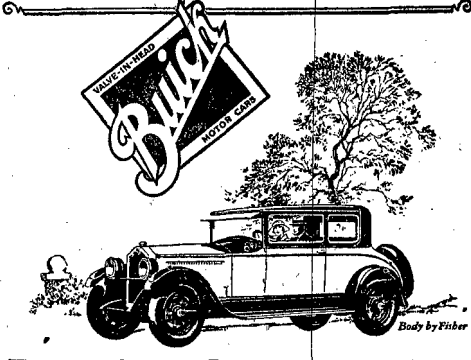

Such a tread must be placed on a carcass with the qualifications to withstand the terrific flexing that this design permits. The Firestone carcass is made of cords dipped in a rubber solution which not only saturates and insulates every fiber of every cord, but unifies sidewalls with carcass, avoiding separation under the extreme flexing.

Many Firestone Dealers are prepared to offer you a liberal allowance for your old tires, on a new set of Gum-Dipped Tires to start the motoring season.

To meet a demand for a low price tire and tube, Firestone designed and manufactures, for Firestone Dealers only, Oldfield Tires and Tubes, which carry the Standard Manufacturers' Guarantee.

Ungrammatical. Hartington Herald: Liberty has come out boldly and unblushingly in defense of such ungrammatical expressions as "He ain't," "he don't," "it's me," etc. No doubt, Liberty will find plenty of popular support in its position, but it will take a greater literary authority than that to convince the thinking public. "He ain't," "he don't," "it's me," etc., are ungrammatical and unjustifiable—always have been and always will be—and no amount of argument can make them otherwise. I Sleep Better Says Illinois Man. LOW RATES for time payments on these cars

ANY FAMILY entitled to credit may buy a General Motors car and pay for it while using it, under the GMAC Plan.

When time payments first became an accepted form of car purchase, General Motors organized its own finance company, the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, to make sure that the sale of its cars on time would be in the buyer's interest and that the finance charges would be fair.

GMAC rates have always been low; and the last reduction has saved General Motors' customers more than $12,000,000.

The General Motors line includes "a car for every purse and purpose"—a suitable model for every income. You can buy it out of income, paying no more than the cash delivered price, plus only the low GMAC financing charge. And the whole transaction is so conducted as to keep your goodwill and satisfaction.
