O. B. Bowen and P. A. Theobald, Local Officers, Tell of Convention in Memphis.

Program of Value

Prominent Speakers and Various Entertainment Features Comprise Meeting.

Prof. O. B. Bowen and P. A. Theobald, president and secretary of the Wayne Kiwanis club, gave Monday to the local members reports of the eleventh annual convention of Kiwanis International, held at Memphis, Tenn., from Monday until Thursday last week. Forty representatives from Iowa and Nebraska were in one group. Delegates from all states in the Union and from Canada numbered 4,190.

The program for the convention included speaking by prominent men, committee reports, conferences and varied entertainment.

Woodmen Hold Initiation Here

Clock Is Presented W. H. Hogewood for Large Amount of Work Done in Wayne.

The Modern Woodmen, at a special meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall here Tuesday evening, adopted a class of eleven candidates. The initiatory work was well presented by Colonel Welch and other officers of the Osmond team. Visitors were present from Empson, Newcastle, Osmond and Randolph. District Deputy A. J. Stearns, who has been working here and in nearby towns since December, was in charge.

The local lodge received the highest prize offered by the head camp, a $100 clock. This is given for assisting the district deputy in writing insurance of $100,000 or more.

W. H. Hogewood helped Mr. Stearns in writing $122,000 in insurance, and the clock was presented to him, C. E. Hendrickson speaking and giving the clock.

The Wayne lodge is endeavoring to secure the state silver cup, offered to the camp writing the largest amount of insurance in the state during the year. Mr. Stearns will remain in Wayne and work in nearby territory.

The Modern Woodmen are organizing a baseball team. The first game is scheduled June 30 with Emerson. Ed. Granquist is captain and W. H. Hogewood is manager.

T. A. Patterson Dies in Wayne

Passes Away Here on Thursday Evening Following an Attack of Heart Trouble.

T. A. Patterson of Pilger, died Thursday evening, June 9, in Wayne following an attack of heart trouble, aged 64 years. Funeral service was held at the Methodist church in Pilger Sunday with Rev. Mr. Sautell and Rev. Mr. Pickering, Baptist and Methodist ministers, in charge.

Mr. Patterson was remodeling the residence of Mrs. E. Granquist in Wayne. He worked all day Thursday and drove down town in the evening to get a paper. He was sitting in his automobile in front of the Granquist home when he was stricken about 8:30 with a heart attack.

Deceased was born in Nova Scotia in December, 1862. He came to Massachusetts and later to Hooper, Neb. Mr. Patterson located at Pilger, Neb., more than thirty years ago and made his home there since. His wife died in 1920. Recently he had lived with his daughter, Mrs. E. S. Rennick. Mr. Patterson had spent considerable time in Wayne also.

Deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. E. S. Rennick of Pilger, and two sons, Merlyn Patterson of Pilger, and Robert Patterson of Montana. All were present for the funeral. There are six grandchildren.

Those who went from Wayne for the service Sunday were the following: Mr. and Mrs. James Rennick, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Granquist, Mrs. Will Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright, L. R. Winegar, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gamble, W. J. Patterson and Elmer Guffey.

The Wayne men arrived home Saturday.

School Meetings Conducted Monday

The annual school meetings of districts of Wayne county were held at the various schools Monday evening. Directors were chosen, and in many districts teachers for the ensuing year were named.

FIRST CONCERT DRAWS CROWD TO BRESSLER PARK

The opening band concert in Bressler park Thursday evening attracted a crowd estimated at 1,500. The combined city and school bands played noticeably better than last year, and frequent applause from the big audience gave evidence of appreciation. One disturbing practice is when an automobile, with a trip-hammer voice, unobtrusively parks near the band during a selection. As the melody of the band floats gently through the air, it seems like starting up a quartz mill or rock crusher to start a car motor and push its gears into low. Any one who feels like an army band a short time should park far enough away from the music to be able to step in the starter, turn on the gas and fade into the darkness without making people think a government arsenal has been exploded.

BUSINESS PART MAKES HEADWAY IN DEVELOPMENT

The physical appearance of Wayne's business district has not kept pace with residence sections, though in the last few years it has responded encouragingly to the gospel of improvement. Six new structures have been reared in the last year and others are contemplated, besides the building of modern fronts and other betterments in keeping with progress. But we want to tell the world that one thing needed in the business district above all others at this time is a new modern hotel building. Hotel service here is of the highest order, but it has to struggle along in quarters that are far from adequate in any respect. In the development of the business district, already filled with live wires, and with competition sharp enough to draw people here from many miles around, we should not relax interest or effort in a new hotel structure until the demand has been supplied.

FREE! With each can of FLIT, regardless of size of can purchased, we give you FREE a SPRAYER for applying the FLIT. Save your Clothing, Rugs and Furniture from Moth Destruction Every woman and every man has had bitter experience with moths. Has faced the tragedy of losing some cherished article. The winter coat new only last year. A fur or fur-trimmed garment. Expensive dinner clothes. The best blankets. Upholstery or a handsome rug. Flit can save every one of these valuable articles. Can save you the mental anguish that comes from garments ruined. Can save you the worry about precious things so carefully packed away. HOW TO USE FLIT In closets—spray every article you have as it hangs—wool, silk-and-wool or fur. Hold sprayer about two feet away from the garments so that only the fine spray reaches them. Flit won't stain any fabric. If you pack blankets, draperies, rugs and garments away in trunks or chests for a length of time, spray each article thoroughly inside and out. Don't neglect the seams. Moths particularly like the seams, the pockets and other secluded places in which to lay their eggs. You can't see the eggs, but you can depend on Flit to kill them. Then spray the trunk and pack the articles away in perfect confidence that they will be safe.

Children's day at the Presbyterian church was observed by a special program arranged by Mrs. Faye Strahan. Recitations were given by the following children: Barbara Felber, Jimmy Mellor, Barbara Hook, Kathryn Cavanaugh, Barbara Jean Strahan, Evelyn Noakes, Arthur Gullyver, Barbara Claycomb, Robert Heyman and Jimmy Ahern. Special songs were sung by Wilmer Ellis and Betty Blair. The primary department sang several songs. Other songs and exercises were given by the beginners, junior and intermediate departments. The church was made beautiful with many cut flowers. The Church of Christ observed Children's day on June 5. The English Lutheran church was not able to observe the day because of repair work now being done on the building. Card of Thanks We wish to express sincere appreciation to neighbors and other friends for the flowers and for the many kindnesses during the illness and at the time of the death of our husband and father, Mrs. Arthur Landreth, Vernon W. Frank A. and Nellie F. Landreth.

Crops and Soils Day Planned At Lincoln Lincoln, Neb., June 10.—The annual crops and soils field day will be held at the agricultural college here June 22, the longest day of the year. A varied program has been arranged and college officials expect an attendance of about 800 farmers and their families from all sections of the state. The comparison of alfalfa varieties as to winter hardiness will be one of the most important experiments to be conducted. Seed treatment of corn and of small grains will be discussed. Exhibits of two new barleys, the velvet and comfort varieties, developed by the experiment station, will be shown.

Children of Churches Observe Special Day Children of the M. E. church presented the pageant play, "Gretchen's Wonderful Dream," as their special day program Sunday. The play tells the story of a little, poor girl who plays truant from school, falls asleep on a park bench, and dreams she is in fairyland where all the inhabitants learn their lessons gladly. Mrs. E. E. Kearns was in charge of the program. The costumes and stage setting were well

BUILD ERECTING a building is similar to solving a geometric theorem. You have the known constants — steel, stone, mortar and men. The problem is now to arrange these in such an order that the results will be a bungalow or a barn—a garage or a chicken house. With Certainty of Satisfaction Let's Talk It Over! No matter what your construction plans call for, we shall be glad to discuss them with you. Estimates will be furnished entirely without obligation. Students Will Receive Awards

Gifts from National Chemical Society Will Be Presented to Two from Wayne.

At Special Program

Russell Melberg and Miss Genevieve Wright Take Honors in Essay Contest.

On the features of the "home coming" day at the Wayne State Teachers college Friday, June 17, will be the presentation of awards from the National Chemical Society to Russell Melberg of Dalton, and Miss Genevieve Wright of Wayne, students who took first and third honors in the national essay contest conducted by the association. The former receives $200 and the latter receives $200.

About fifty colleges of the country participated in the contest. A number of six subjects was given. Each of the Wayne students wrote on "The Relation of Chemistry to National Defense."

The letter written by Paul Smith, secretary of the National Chemical Society committee in charge of the contest, speaks well for the work being done in the local department of chemistry, in which Prof. I. H. Brittel and Miss Louise Wundt are instructors. Excerpts from the letter are as follows:

"It is a pleasure to enclose herewith prize check for $500.00 to the order of Russell Melberg and prize check for $200.00 to the order of Genevieve Wright. We are also enclosing letters of congratulation from the donor of the prizes for this contest, Mr. Francis H. Garvin, and ourselves.

"The fact that your college possesses a well established chemistry department is evidenced by the success of two of your students. May we take this opportunity to congratulate your college on its enterprise in having such a department. Only after we had inaugurated this contest were we aware that chemistry was not given its proper place in a great many of the normal schools and teachers colleges of the United States and it is consequently of peculiar interest to us to definitely know that your college has long since been alive to the important place which chemistry must occupy in the mind of the future teacher.

"We will repeat this contest next year and shall look forward to a renewal of the active cooperation of yourself and faculty. It is only because education officials and teachers have readily assisted this educational project that its present success has been made possible."

London is at a loss to explain the conduct of Sir Gerald Wilshire, Bart., who invited his manicurist for a ride, tied her to a tree, and coated her with black shoe polish. It's obvious to any American that he took a shine to her."—Chicago Daily News.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 4 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, June 16, 1927 Vol. 1

Do you realize that this year is nearly half gone?

You can't make good use of your time unless you have a plan. That's certain. But you can make a mighty good use of your time with our Cedar posts. We also handle the American Double Tee steel post—the strongest, stiffest steel post made.

From year to year, just hosts and hosts are makin' fence. With our good posts.

Comes now, Bill Smith with a story about a sparrow. Bill says there is a sparrow hangs out around his place that is a grater. According to Bill, this sparrow follows a robin around. When the robin finds a worm and is pulling it out of the ground, Mr. Sparrow horns in, and while the robin is pulling on one end of the worm and the worm is holding on to the ground with his other end, the sparrow grabs the tail worm in the "EVERYTHING TO BUILD ANYTHING WITH" middle and gets away with most of it. The strange part about the story is that it's true.

One of the saddest spectacles in present day farming is to see a thousand dollars worth of malleable American iron pipe rusting out in the open during twelve months of the year. A machine shed is an investment, not an expense.

A sad, sad sight you often see—A nice, new binder under a tree!

Build a machine shed.

"Honey, mah feet's wet." "Do they?" "No, they is."

Do you have a ladder of your own, or do you borrow your neighbor's? We sell ladders, you know.

We've always noticed that the calamity howler never has any blisters on his hands.

A hog has a reputation. He doesn't deserve. He's just as cleanly in his habits as any other animal. Give him a clean, cement feeding floor and he'll show his preference for it every time. We have the gravel and the cement.

A German inventor is planning an airship that will fly from Berlin to New York in six hours. In time we may be able to go over to spend the week-end, getting back in time for work Monday morning.

In the course of a talk before the National Editorial Association at Omaha this week, Ed Howe, famous Kansas writer, gave this advice in behalf of long life, health and content: "Work hard, behave, and eat less."

The Rebekahs are holding their district convention in Wayne today, and the Herald wishes the sentiment of the city in extending a cordial welcome. They represent a worthy and useful order, and their presence here is most gratifying.

Borrowing from California, we would say to editors visiting this state that the weather thus far this season is rather unusual. The customary variety at this time is warm enough to tickle corn into lively growth and is just about right for corn.

Whatever may be the drawbacks in publishing newspapers, for obvious reasons, it does not, like a bank, run the chance of being blown open and robbed. However, low-brow and disreputable, a burglar may be, he knows enough to know where there is no lucra to steal.

As one advances in years, he learns to place an increased value on time. He regrets the days, he wastes in youth. He regrets that he did not get down to bedrock earlier and thus have more to show in service as the period of greatest usefulness draws towards the eternal shadows.

Lindbergh and Chamberlain who have opened the way for navigating the air between America and Europe, came from sturdy stock and were cradled in the stimulating atmosphere of the middle west. As the world's needs for important and nerve-testing tasks develop, just let the middle west know.

We were not in Omaha Monday to enjoy Dr. A. L. Bibby's contribution to the program of the National Editorial Association, but we heard the next day that the genial poet made a big hit with his audience. As a columnist, Dr. Bibby is the oldest in service in the United States, and he is one of the best.

A. J. Weaver of Falls City, who addressed students at the Wayne State Teachers College recently, has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor in the primaries next year. Reports concerning Mr. Weaver's ability and unselfish devotion to duty are favorable and PROVINCIALISM.

 Several years ago, Opie Ried, author, told us our country communities were too provincial. We think he meant we were narrow and illiberal and that our vision was clouded and bewitched. We think he meant we harbored and magnified tribal differences. We did not relish the characterization. We thought he was rather personal and lacked due regard for our feelings. But only this week an encouraging note by suggesting that we rural communities were getting away from provincialism. This led us to recall what Ried had said. Time was when community factions were developed over something of no great consequence. It has not been long since towns engendered rival animosities over baseball. Within town, competition among business or professional men often caused people to separate into hateful groups. This spiteful spirit which dwarfed people's souls and made them destructive and lunnyhapp, is doubtless what Opie Ried had in mind, but which our friend says is rapidly passing. Metropolitan facilities for travel and communication have helped broaden our views and enlarge our interests. Our spheres of thought and activity are less circumscribed. The outside world has been brought closer to us in many ways. We have gained understanding and developed tolerance. We are glad we are growing away from provincialism if provincialism means abridged vision and devilish spirit.

reassuring. He has never been a chronic candidate for public office. His political opponents speak of him in high terms of praise.
 The Black Hills country is fortunate this year in attracting the National Editorial Association and in becoming the summer home for President Coolidge. Tourists will go there in greater numbers than usual, and editors will reflect impressions of their travels including those of the scenic beauties of the Hills.
 A contributor to the current Kiwanis Magazine emphasizes the utter futility and folly of arguing with any one over anything. He said no one could be convinced, and that harm instead of good invariably resulted. He said a business man who argues with a customer loses the customer and converts a booster into a knocker.

Will Maupin told us the Omaha Bee was engaged in the disturbing process of reconstructing and rearranging its plant, and therefore we did not venture in to look it over while in the city (this week). Out of the ordeal the Bee will come better able than ever to meet growing needs, and the only pleasant thing about the task of tearing up and improving is the anticipation, as we recall from rather recent experience.
 An educator says it requires no hard nerve to do wrong, but that it is a real test of character to repair the damage. He says it is not hard to be dishonest, to disrepute, to do another an injustice, but that it takes courage to right one's self and undo the injury that has been done. He requires a pupil, following commission of a wrong, to square himself, and doing so, he comes out of the fiery experience burned and better than ever.

We drove to Omaha and back Tuesday, and while we had no narrow escapes in the metropolis or on the road, we came within a hair's breadth of being cut into halves by a passing car when, on our return, we alighted in front of the Herald office. The near accident was altogether our fault, and if at this time we were selecting a suitable harp instead of writing this paragraph, the driver could not have been charged with the remotest shadow of blame. We unwisely backed away from our vehicle before looking up and down the street for approaching cars. Our third-like leanness and the cautious driver saved us.

An inspection of the Omaha World-Herald building and plant and a visit with some of that newspaper's executive heads reminded us again of relationship in orderly system and high-voltage performance between the metropolitan daily and the big circuit. The World-Herald has enjoyed its already new building, and it has installed modern presses and other equipment until it would seem nothing could be added to facilitate production. The organization works with the precision of a high-priced clock, and the 400 members of the family seem good-natured and glad they are alive and capable of filling the many diversified and interdependent niches satisfactorily. Executive heads of "Ringling's" circus and the World-Herald might well see to it to compare notes on how their former triumphants at a city each day and how the latter issues eleven editions within every twenty-four hours.

Next Sunday will be Father's day when father will be trotted out for review and for such other commendation as he may deserve. Father is generally accepted as a human being with generous and kindly impulses. Most fathers love their families and have the goodness to respect other people's families. Most fathers will go the limit to protect and support their wives and children, and when needs arise, will make sacrifices for the comfort and happiness of other men's wives and children. Most men follow orderly and helpful, respected and self-respecting lives. There are some exceptions. An occasional brute appears among them to prove the exception. Like some fathers, some fathers are naturally angry and vengeful. Nature charged them with the wrong ingredients. They ask forever hurting people and making them uncomfortable and unhappy. But the masses are sound at heart, and they are found giving yeoman service to society.

Business.
 Sioux City Journal: Crop improvement due to warmer weather has created a better impression in the corn and wheat belts, although the situation has been changed only in a slight degree. June is far advanced for the month to have had only three or four days of good growing weather, and while it is now the belief that higher temperatures will prevail henceforth, what has gone before leaves a bad impression and creates doubt that it will be a good crop year.
 Crops are far behind schedule in Iowa, and every farmer knows that the season now cannot fall much below normal if a good crop is to be produced. In fact a good crop may depend upon the rest of the season being a little better than normal. There will be hot weather in all likelihood, notwithstanding dire predictions and the fact that the spring and early summer have been discouraging in this respect. A proof that weather conditions have brought discouragement is seen in the recent advance in corn on the market.
 Meanwhile general business has moved forward in a way to indicate that activity is not to be greatly lessened. The freight car loadings for the week ending May 28 were 23,300 tons, a gain over the preceding week of 1,026,297 tons. This was a decline of 54,349 cars

HOME-COMING.
 Friday will be home-coming day for the State Teachers college. It is the annual occasion when graduates of the school come here for a reunion, to mingle together again on the campus, and refresh memories. They come again to greet former associates, talk over incidents of bygone days and imbibe anew the spirit of the institution with which their lives were closely interwoven. Graduates of the school are scattered over the United States. They are occupying niches at widely separated points. Some have scored distinct triumphs, while others have suffered disappointments. But whatever their success or whatever their joys or sorrows may have been, they do not forget their alma mater, and when the rolls for the annual reunion roll around, happy memories come trooping back, even though they cannot be present in person to exchange reminiscences and share in the pleasures of the day. from the figure for the same week last year, but an increase of 113, 310 over the same period in 1925. What is most encouraging is that it was an increase of 9,594 cars over the week ending May 21 this year, so shipments are on the increase as business goes into summer activity.
 There is no doubt about untoward conditions over a wide area of the country having an unfavorable effect on business generally. The discouragement was both material and psychological. The floods in the south, the late, cold spring everywhere, the heavy rains, the frequent disastrous storms—all these have hurt business materially. The conditions have been abnormal, unusual and their effect could not have been different from what it was.
 Employment is satisfactory in the industrial districts, everything considered, and general trade is holding up fairly well. The building program is not so heavy as in recent years, but is better than might have been expected in view of the vast amount of construction work already done.

Market Report.
 Furnished by Steele, Siman & Co., Sioux City Stock Yards.
 Sioux City Stock Yards, June 15.—After climbing rapidly towards the high level of the season during the latter part of last week, fat cattle values continued to mount upwards the first half of this week. Since Monday values have advanced 25¢ to 40¢ and again choice weighty heaves would touch an extreme summit of $16.00, if offered.
 Two factors have been responsible for the swift recovery. Light receipts furnished possibly the greatest incentive to buyers, there being only 90,500 head at the 11 leading markets of the country the first two days of the week, a decrease of 20,000, as compared to the movement over the two preceding days last week.
 However, while short runs aided sellers materially, the fact that the weather cooled off and prevented the excessive "fills" so noticeable during the previous week, was a big help. Packers proved much more willing operators when not forced to buy water at beef prices.
 Right now the bulk of the arrivals are of the fair to good order and earn from $9.50 to $11. Scattered sales of choice yearlings range up around $11.50, but heavy heaves of a class to earn over $12, have been particularly scarce.
 Yearling heifers shared in the full rise and are again to be figured to a top of $11, while kosher cows have returned to the highest level since the world war and can be quoted to $10. Fair to good short fed cows are selling from $7.25 up with practically no plain beef cows coming of a type to sell from $7 down.
 Cannings and cutters strong to 25¢ higher, with all sales from $4 to $5.75. Bulls firm, with hogskins from $6.75 down and heavy fed bulls from that same level up to city butcher cracker top $11.50 to as high as $12 for fancy light calf selections.
 Scanty stocker and feeder supplies continue to be easily moved with the pasture the best in years. Values steady at the season's high level. Good to choice thin steers quoted from $8.50 to $9.50 and fair to good from $7.50 to $8.50. Only nominal numbers of feeding cows and heifers showing, but such are being offered are readily sold at strong prices. Best light thin heifers topping over $8.00, with cows from $6.00 down, except in the case of toppy light heifery cows, which occasionally find outlet as high as $8.50.
 Rising from the bed rock basis of the season touched, late last week, the hog market contained climbing prices at the start of the week with light receipts forcing packers to follow the shipper lead. Even light receipts failed to keep packers in line after Monday, however, with the result that Tuesday witnessed a 10¢ to 25¢ loss. Midweek tops are just under $9, with all weights and classes of butchers selling within 50¢ of that level, according to weight and quality. Moreover no real gains can be expected, as domestic, and foreign conditions are still bad and storage holdings are above requirements.
 The first two days of the week supplied the 11 leading markets with 181,400 hogs, a decrease of 96,100 hogs as compared to the same days last week and a loss of 22,300 hogs as compared to the same days year ago.
 Light in-between seasons runs of sheep and lambs moving in this territory. Prices following outside lead for the most part and the general market figures 50¢ lower at midweek. Best spring lambs topping at $14.50, woolled yearlings at $14.50 clipped yearlings at $14 and choice light clipped ewes at $5.75. Heavy clipped ewes are slow sellers from $5.00 down.

 The Leagues will meet at the hour of 7 in their regular places. All young people of the church and congregation are invited to meet with them.
 The evening service begins at 8. Do not flag in your devotion to the evening services. During July and August the evening services will be union. Don't begin your religious vacation too soon. Students are especially invited.

Baptist Church. (Rev. A. C. Downing, pastor) There is room for a few more cars to park on the south and east side of the church each Sunday morning and evening. Parking is allowed between 10 o'clock a. m. and 12 noon. Then again between 7 o'clock and 9:15 p. m. Park your car and give God a chance. "You can worship God in your homes Sunday. But you don't." "You can worship God in the woods and the fields. But you don't." "You can worship God in different churches every Sunday, but you don't." "You can worship God by sending the children to Sunday school and stay at home yourself. But you don't." "You can worship God by coming to church with the children. But do you?"
 Regular services morning and evening, including Sunday school, young people's, and the adult class.
 All are welcome. We are glad to see so many of the students with us last Sunday.

Officers Search For Two Bandits

Trace Unmasked Men Who Robbed the Tilden National on Saturday Noon.
 Authorities are searching for two unmasked men who entered the First National bank of Tilden about 12:30 Saturday, and escaped with between $3,000 and $4,000 in currency and silver. The intruders went to Meadow Grove, then to Loretto and trace of them was lost near Bartlett.
 President J. M. Kinergy and a customer, Joe Rotter, were in the bank shortly after noon Saturday when the two men entered. At the point of guns the president and customer were forced into the vault. Kinergy was commanded to bring out all ready cash, and he did. While the robbery was in progress, Ralph Jones and Dick Stepler, both of Tilden, entered and they also were forced into the vault. Stephen Stanton, who heard the burglar alarm, set off by Kinergy, entered and he too was forced into the vault.
 The bandits were in the bank about 10 minutes. Leaving quickly they got into a Buick roadster, bearing a South Dakota license, and drove slowly until they reached the edge of town. They then sped away on highway No. 8.
 The two intruders were said to be tall. One was dark and heavy set. The other was slender and dark. They are thought to be driving a roadster belonging to D. G. Hartford of Columbus, stolen last week from the streets of Albion.

Alumni Gather Here in Reunion

Many Graduates of Wayne State Teachers College Will Be Here for Home Coming.
 Annual alumni "home coming" is planned for graduates of the Wayne State Teachers College Friday, June 17, and about 250 will be present for the day's program. The chapel program at 10 will consist of music and speaking. Pres. U. S. Conn will at this time present the prizes to Russell Melberg and Miss Genevieve Wright, winners in the national chemistry essay contest.
 The tenth anniversary of the class of 1917 will be featured. Prof. J. G. W. Lewis, sponsor, and Clarence Sabin, president, of this class, will be unable to be present. Cooper Ellis of San Francisco, Calif., is here and will attend the reunion. Walter Black of Lincoln plans to come. About twelve of the class will be present. A large birthday cake will be a centerpiece for the evening dinner in honor of the class.
 Picnic luncheon will be served on the lawn at noon. The Coffey-Miller players will present the comedy "Love in Livery," in the afternoon, and alumni will be the guests of the budget committee. Dinner will be served in the evening at the cafeteria. Officers will be named at this time. Visiting and dancing will follow in the gymnasium.
 This year's officers are: W. R. Hickman, president; Miss Mabel Brittle, vice president; Miss Louise Wendt, secretary; and R. W. Ley, treasurer.

Offer Hospital For Memorial

Wayne Institution Is Provided With Latest Equipment in Modern Building.
 The Wayne hospital which is one of the finest institutions in Wayne county is being offered to the public for establishment as a memorial hospital.
 The average visitor is surprised to find in this institution every requisite to the efficient handling of the sick. The X-ray laboratory is equipped to do all kinds of work. Treatment of deep diseased tissue is done efficiently. In fact, anything that can be done elsewhere in X-ray work, is done in the Wayne hospital.
 A clinical laboratory is provided at the Wayne hospital and is of great value in correct diagnosis. The operating room on the third floor is equipped with a large skylight as well as with a battery of twelve high-powered electric lights so arranged as to eliminate all shadows in the operating room.
 A modern, sanitary kitchen, dining room and laundry are located on the lower floor which has a north entrance leading to the ambulance drive.
 The two upper floors contain seventeen patients' rooms with the best modern equipment. Office, bath rooms and closets are also located on these floors.
 The building is of kellestone exterior, the interior being finished entirely of oak with excellent plumbing. Among many features is a gas plant with burners provided in various parts of the building for convenience of nurses and attending physicians.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1927.

Vol. 47, No. 14

WAYNE AND VICINITY

Growing Young City in a County of Fertile Farms and Prosperous People—Education and Culture Developed Early Here.

Wayne county, of which Wayne is the thriving county seat, is comparatively new in settlement. Not until 1870 had been a trifling show in creating this county, but when it got around to it, it was not slow in bestowing its richest gifts of soil. It was along about 1870, long after five counties and some others had been settled and had begun making history, that immigrants, endowed with extraordinary vision, directed their footsteps this way. They found neither swamps nor jagged hills, but gently rolling prairies of deep soil and of surprising fertility.

It was about ten years later that the M. & O. railroad built a line from Louisville to Norfolk, passing through this county. The county seat had been located at LaPorte, but when the railroad passed that point, it was decided like Mahomet who went to the mountain to pick up worldly effects and move to the railroad, so when Wayne was duly laid out and christened, it was chosen for the county seat, and the procession started and kept up until the original county seat was entirely vacated. The brick court house at LaPorte remained, and it has since served as a desirable farm home, and what was more desirable as the metropolis of Wayne county is now a flourishing farm, devoted to producing big crops and growing and fattening wonderful herds of live stock.

To Wayne and the Wayne territory has been contributed a happy mixture of nationalities and religions, and a man may come from almost anywhere and entertain any harmless religious belief without danger of being ostracized as undesirable or hanged for heresy.

People who located in and around Wayne, evidently did not restrict themselves to thought of producing something to eat and to build up the physical structure. To their thoughts turned to education and culture as naturally as a duck takes to water. What was called an academy was started here and flourished for a time. After a brief intermission, following its demise, a regular normal school was established. This was bought by the state in 1910, and it has become the largest school of its kind in the state. People who appreciate educational advantages began coming here, and they are still coming, and thus communities in and around Wayne are very desirable to live among and do business with. In addition to the state institution is the public school which ranks high in scholarship and efficiency. Wayne county is small in area. When the state divided up this northeast corner, eager neighboring counties grabbed so much of this richly favored spot that not enough was left to make an average showing in size. But quality was here, and it has made up in that respect for what it lacked in quantity. Corn is the big crop which is mostly fed to hogs and cattle.

Wayne has a population of about 3,000 outside of its school students. It is growing steadily and substantially, and its different professional and business lines are well represented, and generally prosperous.

Thurston County Is Modified Area

Walthill, Neb., June 10.—Thurston county went on the list of modified accredited counties June 1. Effective that date, shippers of hogs to the terminal markets began receiving bonuses of 10 cents per hundred pounds on all hogs raised in Thurston county and sold to packers.

Nearly three years ago farm leaders in the county launched a fight to eradicate tuberculosis as a danger to the health of the people and live stock of the county. At that time the state law provided for a petition of 51 per cent of the cattle owners in the county to start the work. This petition was nearing completion, a new law requiring a petition of 60 per cent of the cattlemen went into effect. Meetings were held in all parts of the county and the work of securing names on petitions was placed in the hands of a committee

Crop Prospects For State Are Bright

Lincoln, Neb., June 11.—Nebraska crop prospects are excellent; heavy winter wheat crop seems assured; corn late but otherwise promising; hay crops and pasture are excellent; late seeding of spring grain crops reduced the prospects somewhat, says the state and federal division of agricultural statistics.

The report follows: "The condition of winter wheat is 91 percent as compared to 94 percent last month and 64 percent a year ago and 74 percent for the ten-year average. There was a little deterioration in some south-central and southwestern counties, but recent rains have improved the situation. Some southeastern counties are short of moisture also, but elsewhere the condition improved. The straw is heavy and the heads are long. With very few exceptions, the moisture supply is ample to mature the crop. Conditions are favorable for another record crop in western panhandle counties."

The June forecast of winter wheat is 62,353,000 bushels as compared to 37,165,000 bushels last year and the five-year average of 42,018,400 bushels. The present forecast has been exceeded only by the wheat crops of 1914, 1915 and 1916, and there is yet a possibility of a record winter wheat crop this year.

"The condition of spring wheat is 88 percent as compared to 88 percent a year ago. The bulk of the crop is grown in the northwestern quarter of the state and conditions are ideal there. An increased acreage may be expected."

Corn nearly two weeks late. Corn averages nearly two weeks late. Planting completed about June 1. Considerable corn was replanted. Moisture supply well, but weather too hot. Cut worms doing considerable damage. Acreage will be slightly less. The prospects are very good considering the reserve moisture supply, and the large supply of available plant food since last year's short crop took but little.

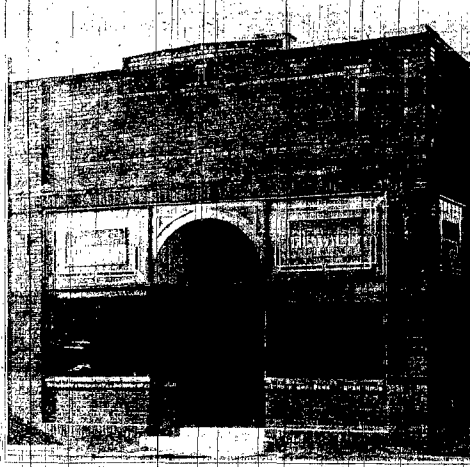

A. R. Davis Installs Officers In Lodge

Officers of Wayne lodge No. 120 A. F. & A. M. for the ensuing year were installed Friday evening by Albert R. Davis, Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Nebraska, as follows: Master, John T. Bressler, jr., senior warden, Dr. C. T. Haglund, junior warden, Walter S. Bressler, treasurer, H. S. Ringland, secretary, Judge J. M. Cherry, senior deacon, J. M. Brisson, junior deacon, L. E. Fitch, and Tyler, Charles G. Ruback. Judge Cherry is serving his twenty-third consecutive year as secretary of the local lodge.

Raising Corn. York Republican: In the State Journal, J. N. Kildow, of York, in a contribution to the farm department, propounds a very interesting inquiry. Referring to the common question of what it costs to raise a bushel of corn, Mr. Kildow cites the fact that when he was a boy, he started in the seedling time with his seed, his good intentions, his horny hands, and no money. About the holiday season he sold his crop and saw the first money that was his own during the year. He emerged from the experience without debts and lived through it all without sacrificing his actual comfort or neighborhood. He queries: "Will you please tell me how much it cost me to raise that corn? Who paid the bill, if it cost anything?"

There is a difference between the days of Mr. Kildow's farming activities and the one we are now living in. A race of statisticians has been bred who demand to know the financial equivalent for every service. They want to ascertain what a mother's time is worth to her family, what is the intrinsic value of the blush of the rose, and, incidentally, what it costs to produce a bushel of corn. All of this may be well enough from a statistician's standpoint. But there are some things of such precious value they cannot be mathematically measured. It may be the work of the farmer is so creative and so elemental in its production of a need that it cannot be measured with the dividers of the efficiency expert.

Mr. Kildow will wait long for an answer to his question. We will never know how much it costs to produce a bushel of corn any more than we shall know the intrinsic value of a June rose bush. There are some things that defy exact calculation. Raising a bushel of corn and thus adding to the store of the world's first need, may be one of them.

NEW WAYNE HERALD BUILDING

TOUCHING EVOLUTION OF WAYNE HERALD DURING LAST SEVENTEEN YEARS

AFTER a few years' newspaper experience in Beatrice where we met and were inspired by Frank O. Edgecomb and other outstanding publishers of the state, we came to Wayne seventeen years ago to put into practice some ideas we had assimilated in regard to possibilities for rural weeklies. Mr. Edgecomb told us what he had accomplished at Geneva, and we decided we could do something similar in Wayne.

When we bought the Herald it was what would now be called poorly equipped. Type was set by hand, and one man and one girl were employed. The paper was a seven-column quarto, half patent. About 900 indifferent subscribers were on the list. The payroll amounted to $22 per week.

We made additions to the equipment and working force from time to time. The plant now employs four full-fledged mechanical experts—ad. and make-up man, machinist-operator, job man and combination ad., job and pressman, besides the associate editor, advertising solicitor and office assistant. At this time and during every summer, extra help is employed to canvass the surrounding territory for new and renewal subscriptions. The payroll varies from $250 to $350 per week. Nearly 3,000 subscribers like the paper well enough to pay for it.

A year ago the need of new equipment and a new building was felt, and accordingly, the editor bought the equipment and the associate editor put up the building which is 25 by 132 feet, well lighted and conveniently arranged.

When we became installed in new quarters the first of the year, we enlarged to eight-column pages. Previously we issued not less than sixteen six-column pages, but since we have been issuing twelve pages, sometimes increasing to sixteen to meet the advertising demand. While today's paper has but few touches above the ordinary, we would say that the Herald is preparing a special edition to be issued about August 1, and if any editor would like to receive a copy, he may have one by writing to this office.

Farm Bureau Will Stage Celebration

Walthill, Neb., June 10.—A. P. Coleman, president of the Walthill Commercial club, has been named general chairman of the annual farm bureau Fourth of July celebration to be held here this year. Elaborate preparations are being made for the affair, which will be countywide.

J. W. Berg, was made head of the advertising committee; E. T. Winter, chairman of the entertainment committee; R. Blydy, director of finances; J. T. Forrester, chairman of the concessions committee, and other men were assigned to take care of other details.

What Is Sin?

Dr. A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: One who is sinful is said to be wicked, impious, unholy—not a vague definition at all. An act is sinful when the inevitable result is harmful to the one who commits it. It is no sin to do what you do, if it isn't always what you do, it may be what you fall to do, that marks you for the penalties of transgression. If you are able to give to the flood sufferers in the south and fail to do it, the very sense of your own illiberality and wanton selfishness, will give you a mean conception of yourself, and it serves you right. It is a sin to eat gluttonously, and you get your sure reward in ultimate abdominal pains, mental and physical depression. Maybe you acquire a pyloric cancer, and have to be cut open and informed that two or three semesters will see your finish. To live a righteous life one has laws both physical and spiritual, the transgression of which brings certain disaster. But "the straight and narrow" isn't a hard road to travel. It is easier to be honest and decent than to be a crook, and a roughneck. There is a man in East Lincoln—but never mind; some day we will mention him by name, for he appeals to us as a model in all that expresses the right attitude toward the world and the social and religious duties of one who has no ambition to go wrong.

Sell 140 Cars Potatoes

Lincoln, Neb., June 12.—Northwestern Nebraska certified potato growers have contracted for the sale of 140 carloads of seed potatoes, although the 1927 crop which will furnish this order has not yet been planted. This is the largest order ever contracted for so early in the season. The "spuds" will be shipped to southern growers.

Largest Horse In World Dies In East

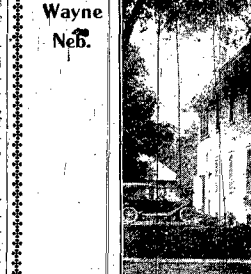

Battle Creek, Neb., June 10.—The largest horse in the world weighing 3,000 pounds and belonging to Ponton & Sons of this place, died recently in Rock Island, Ill., where he was being exhibited. The insurance of $6,000 had expired only two weeks before the animal died.

The horse had been exhibited in many places in north Nebraska, as well as other states.

Condition of barley is 83 percent. A little drouth in some southwestern counties reduced the condition somewhat, but recent rains have improved condition at the present time.

"Wild hay promises a bumper crop this year. The heavy April and May rainfall insures this crop. Conditions are exceptionally favorable in north-central Nebraska, where the bulk of the surplus of wild hay is produced. The condition is 93 percent as compared to 71 percent a year ago."

The Non-White Races. Lincoln Journal: Stanley High, speaking before the Kwanis of his home city, justified foreign missionary effort in a striking way, even though his subject was confined to an account of the present situation in China. It is true that foreign governments have in the past insisted upon the admission of missionaries in a way to offend the Chinese, but most of that appears to be a thing of the past. Mr. High's observations, made on the spot and in very recent months, are on the whole encouraging. Russia was able, by being early on the ground, and sending in adroit and able representatives, to make a deep impression upon the national party. But the influence of the communists is clearly on the wane. The prospects for the union of China under one government are better than they have been for many years. The country has been held together only loosely for centuries. If the merging of interests now apparently well along can be consummated the world may look for astonishing progress in all parts of the nation. The importance of treating the Chinese fairly and liberally during this period of strain cannot be overestimated. Here the teachers and physicians and preachers sent out from the United States by the different churches seem to have exerted a positive influence in the abatement of race hostility. Mr. High no doubt surprised many of his hearers by stressing the cleavage between the white and the "non-white" nations of the world. We know very little about that in this country, and can hardly understand what it may mean if the foreigners treat the Chinese in a way to deepen the impression that the black and brown and yellow races can hope for no sympathy or help from the whites. The whole non-white world is watching events in China. A failure to show a spirit of helpfulness, of fairness toward the Chinese might result in a union of other races on a scale to give western civilization the greatest trial of the century.

Hahn on Education. Hartington Herald: Addressing the eighth grade graduates of Cedar county last Saturday, Dean Hahn of the Wayne State Teachers College spoke on a very practical theme, stressing the purpose of an education. He told the young people that the purpose of an education was not to gain an easy life or easy money nor to acquire personal advantage or power, but to serve society and he showed that it is only in service that the individual acquires the greatest benefit either for himself or for others. The dean's address was thoughtful, logical and forceful and his theme is one which needs to be emphasized on the part of young people to have an adequate, true conception of the purpose of it is often vague and indefinite and society as a whole does not reap the benefit from its investment in schools and colleges that it should. Mr. Hahn's view of the matter is practical and true. The only way in which the taxpayer can get value received from his support of our educational system is from public service and, if education does not fit the student for such service, it fails of its purpose. It is to be hoped that this message to the eighth grade graduates was understood and appreciated for, if it was, it will be productive of great good among the rising generation.

The Black Hills. Dr. A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: The Black Hills country is advertised as the "wonderland of America." This is not speaking in a superlative sense, for there are other places quite as wonderful, but none more so. We will be writing letters from the "Hills" in a few days, and Journal readers will be given the particulars every morning. I'm going up among the deer, And buffalo and bear, Where wild trees grow, and wild winds blow, And life is free from care. Cool Cal will be ahead of me, According to his plan, I'll think it grand to shake his hand Because I like the man. To see the west and take a rest Allured him to the spot, Him will I serve, and have the nerve To tell him what is what. 'Til thus begin: "Now listen in, Nor harbor any doubt— To understand this western land, You'll have to look about. 'The east, you think, has copped the chink, And therefore rules the roost; But is it fair to strip us bare, And likewise 'cook our goose'? 'The case is grave—we skimp and save On what we wear and eat, But Old-New York grabs all our pork Except the pickled feet. 'For years ago years, despite our tears, We people of the west Have toiled and sweat, and kept in debt To pad their money-chest. 'Not mine to say—have your own way, But should these eastern hicks, Be helped along with tariffs strong, And we get nothing? BIX.

Dr. A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: Coolidge is coming—let's be at the border to meet him and greet him, since that is in order, and let us set forth in a straightforward manner just what we believe is the matter with Hanna. The needs of the west—that's the text for adoption; let's stick to it close, if he grants us the option; since men of the east, who are wealthy and cocky, don't think there is anything west of Milwaukee. Let's prove to the president we are not fakery; that millions of people, and millions of acres; that millions of horses and millions of cattle live west of Ohio and east of Seattle. And we of the west are a part of the nation, who crave his respect, and his consideration. So when he goes home at the end of the summer, he'll say, "I've been west, and the west is a hummer."

Many Enroll In State College

Total Registration for Year at the Wayne School Exceeds 1,700 Students.

To Start Dormitory

New Hall for Girls Will Be Under Construction Soon at a Cost of $130,000.

The Wayne State Teachers college with a total registration of 1,701 in 1926, has grown to have the largest annual enrollment of any Nebraska state normal. Figures for 1927 will exceed this. Five large, modern brick buildings, all of the same architecture, house the institution. Five dormitories are to be added to the school and a large new hall for girls is to be started this summer.

The four years of study beyond the high school are provided in the college. The A. B. degree has been granted for completion of four years of college work, and the state certificate is received by those who complete two years of advanced training. The state department has just this spring added to the degrees to be given by the local school, the bachelor of arts in education, the bachelor of science in education and the bachelor of education in education.

PRESIDENT U. S. CONN
Head of the State Teachers College in Wayne since purchase from the State in 1910.

The primary interest of the Wayne State College is the training of teachers. Wayne stands first among the state schools in the number of certificates and diplomas issued in 1926 and 1927, the number being 841 for the two years.

In May, 1927, thirty-four A. B. degrees were granted, and 199 diplomas were given to students who completed the two-year course. The total number of graduates of the college, since its operation as a state school in 1910, is 1,448.

New Building Started.
A new dormitory which will house 325 young women, will be started at the Wayne State college this summer. The structure will be of brick, similar in design to the other buildings on the campus. The cost is estimated at $130,000. Prof. E. J. Hunter, of the local faculty, designed and will supervise construction of the building. It is this summer touring the west, visiting all of the largest universities to gather newest and best ideas for the interior finishes of the hall.

Pres. U. S. Conn and Prof. Hunter supervised building of the new training school, just completed last fall at a cost of about $340,000.

Has Had One President.
An unusual record of leadership is that of Pres. U. S. Conn, who has been at the head of the Wayne school since its purchase by the state in 1910. During a school with an enrollment of 838 students.

and a graduating class of three in 1910 and 1911, the college has grown until the yearly registration has reached a total over 1,700 and a graduating class of 229. The faculty now numbers forty.

Besides President Conn, Prof. J. H. Britton, Prof. E. J. Hunter, Dean H. H. Hahn, Miss Edith Stocking and Prof. J. G. W. Lewis are members of the faculty who have been here since 1910.

Is Established Early.
The Wayne State Teachers college was established in 1910 when the state bought the school which had been started here by J. M. Pile in 1891. Mr. Pile came to Wayne from Fremont in 1890 to instruct in a summer session for teachers. He was so well liked that business men assisted him in founding a college. The school grew under his guidance and he remained president until 1910.

Clinching Support

Audor Republican: Give pause, here to the stomach and internal equipment of one Charles Lindbergh. Inasmuch as the business of living selects the life, career, habits and managements of our national hero is how at its height, it is proper that we get down to fundamentals. Here is a youth scarcely more than a boy, who flew from New York to Paris on a ham-sandwich.

During some thirty-three hours of flying and over nearly 3,700 miles of land and sea, Lindbergh's innards pumped along on two crusts of bread and a strip of prepared pork, which, unfortunately for a youth seeking fame, could be preserved for posterity. Set down thereafter in a banquet-lined world, suddenly gone mad with joy and bent on killing all the fatted calves in sight, he may well speculate on how Lindy's modest tummy needed. It is a lamentable fact that the correspondents, who have preserved for us the exact height from the ground of Lindy's borrowed trousers, the number of girls who implanted kisses upon his blushing cheeks and all the other information for which we could, and could not, wish, have not delved more into the gastronomic side of his nature and preserved for immortal history the parade of delicacies which followed the ham sandwich down Lindy's gullet. In only one regard are we informed—and that through an interested party, to the great misce pie war which has been raging throughout the columns of Nebraska weeklies for several weeks past, Lindbergh did eat mince pie, and with relish! That much we know. If any further proof is needed that mince-meat is food for the gods, and proper fodder for mankind, rave on, ye betrayers of the crust! A nation which is as interested in Lindy's tummy as in mince pie bids you defiance!

Traffic Increases Over State's Roads

Lincoln, Neb., June 9.—Traffic over Nebraska's highways is increasing daily and roads are in good condition, the Lincoln Automobile club's weekly road report, prepared for the Associated Press, said today.

Construction work continues in full swing, but all detours are well marked and properly maintained. There is considerable loose gravel at this time of the year, and motorists were urged to use extreme caution.

Traffic during the past week has been especially heavy to the Black Hills, Yellowstone park and Minnesota, with a large number touring to the east coast.

The report follows:
U. S. No. 77, Sioux City to south of Walthill, graveled; Under construction between Lyons and Oakland, and detour is a little rough. Gravel from Hesperia to Symons, Lincoln and south to Symons. Fair to good through Kansas to Oklahoma City.

U. S. No. 81, Yankton to Pierce, dirt road in good condition. Gravel to Norfolk, Columbus, dirt to Shelby, and gravel south to Geneva. Reported good to Belleville, Salina and Oklahoma City.

U. S. No. 30, Omaha to Fremont and Ames paved; dirt stretches rough to Grand Island; good to North Platte; fair to good, somewhat rough west to Cheyenne, with one detour at Roscoe.

U. S. No. 20, Sioux City west, one small detour at Atkinson, in fair to good condition.

Nebraska No. 8, Fremont, Mt. Hopper and west to Norfolk, mostly graveled. Two detours, both well marked.

Nebraska No. 5, Sioux City to Oakland, 21 miles of dirt; one detour at Lyons rough; graveled from Oakland to Omaha and south to Plattsmouth, with the exception of three or four miles which are now being graveled; gravel south to Union, Nebraska City, Falls City and to the state line. Dirt roads to Hawatha, and east on No. 36, in fair condition, but under construction just east of Hawatha paved from Troy to St. Joseph and on No. 1 south to Kansas City.

Main Street Made Them. Omaha World Herald: The yokelry and boobies of Main street and the Bible Belt, for some time subjected to unkind and derogatory analysis from the editors of culture and refinement, may be forgiven if for a day or two they show signs of feeling their outs. We may be rough and coarse and stupid folk but we did give to the welcoming arms of an admiring world a Lindbergh son of a radical Minnesota farmer. He came hot from Main street to become one of the foremost heroes of all time. And we followed him with a Chamberlain, son of an Iowa small town druggist, no less a hero, who, with equal unconcern, with equal cool courage and hardihood, duplicated his feat. It is not alone what these young men have accomplished, dazzling as was the performance, that thrills us with a peculiar pride in them, and, if we may say so, rewards and strengthens our confidence in the plain people of plain ways and whose lives they sprang, it is, even more, the kind of boys they are. They represent America's young manhood at its highest and best. They are clean, stalwart, modest, simple and unaffected, as truly gentlemen as the proudest scion of the Veres-Vores. The natural 'diplomacy' of Lindbergh did more, in a few days, to win back for his country than all the attempts of European and minister plenipotentiary commissioners by Calvin Coolidge have been able to do in as many years. Main street did not spoil these young men. They are the product of their environment - of the farms and towns of the middle west. It is these same farms and towns that, as Roger Babson remarked when in Omaha recently, are giving to the world the most brilliant, energetic, and intelligent flock; the railroad presidents, the bank presidents, the industrial and commercial leaders in all lines, who direct its material destinies. It is from these same farms and towns, too, that have come such poets as Whitman, such writers as Willa Cather, such sculptors as the Borglunds, such lawyers as Pound, such soldiers as Pershing. In other days they have, as a Lincoln, a Grant, a Deliver, as legends in the story of our country, and the names of Washington and Lincoln, and Rife and Mark Twain were fruit of their lives and their activities and aspirations. The president of Omaha's largest bank was once a section hand in Missouri. The president of a great railroad, with headquarters in this city, was a telegraph operator in Arkansas. Their story is the whole story of our valley and plains population. The pragmatic test is simple and conclusive. The thing works. The middle west is producing something more than wheat and corn and beef and pork. It is producing the finest manhood and womanhood. It is a land of encouragement and opportunity for every boy and girl. Its broad horizons are a stimulus to courage and vision and ambition. There are no barriers of caste or class reared against their progress and development. Here, if nowhere else in the world, democracy is functioning and flowering. Lindbergh and Chamberlain are only our most recent notable exhibits. In the light of what they reveal and interpret, it would seem to us, their neighbors who are busy doing things, erecting a civilization that is clean and fine and sound, that our critics who excel chiefly in sneering might be moved by some vestigial sense of common decency to direct their sheets in some other direction.

Sheriff's Sale. By virtue of an Order of Sale, to me directed, issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, upon a decree rendered therein at the September, 1924, term thereof, in an action pending in said court wherein Fred S. Berry was plaintiff and Herman Brueckner, et al. were defendants, I will, on the 13th day of June, 1927 at 10 o'clock a. m., at the door of the office of the Clerk of said Court, in the court house in Wayne, in said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, to wit: An undivided one-third (1-3) interest in and to the southwest quarter of section thirty (30) township twenty-five (25) range two (2), and an undivided one-third (1-3) interest in and to the northeast quarter of section thirty-six (36) township twenty-five (25) range one (1) east of the 6th p. m., Wayne county, Nebraska, to satisfy the aforesaid decree, the amount due thereon being $600.00, with interest at 10 per cent per annum from 1924, and $88.30 costs and accruing costs. Dated at Wayne, Nebraska this 3rd day of May, 1927. A. W. Stephens, Sheriff.

Notice to Contractors. Sealed bids will be received at the Department of Public Works in the State House at Lincoln, Nebraska on June 30, 1927 until 9 o'clock a. m., and at that time publicly open and read for the bridge and incidental work on the Wisner-Wayne, project No. 70-B, Federal Aid Road. The proposed work consists of constructing one bridge. The approximate quantities are: Bridge at Sta. 1+55. 1-60-ft. Pony Truss span on pedestal piers and wood piling with concrete pavement approaches. Alternate bids to be received for 2-24-ft. I beam spans on steel piling. Plans and specifications for the work may be seen and information secured at the office of the County clerk at Wayne, Nebraska, or at the office of the Department of Public Works, Lincoln, Nebraska. If the work is awarded it will be required to furnish bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RESOLUTION OF NECESSITY FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF SANITARY SEWERS. Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, held on the 31st day of May, 1926, there was introduced and placed on file the resolution hereinafter set forth, which resolution will be considered for passage by said City Council at a meeting to be held in the City Hall in said City on the 23rd day of June, 1927, at eight o'clock, p. m., at which time and place owners of property subject to assessment for the cost of the improvement contemplated by said resolution, may appear and make objections, if any they have, to the contemplated improvement, and to the passage of said resolution, at which meeting said resolution may be amended and passed, or passed as proposed, said resolution being as follows to wit:

RESOLUTION OF NECESSITY. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

Section 1. The Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, do hereby declare it advisable and necessary to pass this resolution and to build a Sanitary Sewer System for said City as provided here-in.

Section 2. There shall be constructed for said City of Wayne a Sanitary Sewer System, the same to be constructed inside of said City and the extent of work, location, terminal points, and size of sewers constituting said system shall be as follows:

Section 3. The kind of sewer proposed to be constructed shall be sanitary sewers.

Section 4. To pay the cost of said improvements, the City shall, after said improvements are completed and accepted, issue its negotiable bonds known as "Sewer Bonds." The cost of such portions of said improvements as are local improvements shall be assessed to the extent of special benefits upon properties found specially benefited thereby in accordance with the laws of the State of Nebraska, which assessment when collected shall be set aside and constitute a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds.

Section 5. There shall be and there is hereby created in the said

City sewer district known as Sanitary Sewer District No. 9, within which district it is proposed to make special assessments to pay the cost of such portions of said improvements as are local improvements upon property found especially benefited thereby to the extent of such special benefits. The outer boundaries of said District are as follows:

Commencing at the intersection of the east line of Blaine street with the north line of First street thence east to the east line of the alley midway between Blaine street and Sherman street, thence north along the east line of said alley to the south line of the alley midway between Second and Third streets, thence west along the south line of said alley to the east line of Blaine street, thence south along the east line of Blaine street to the place of beginning.

Section 6. Reference is hereby made to the plans and specifications of the proposed improvements which are on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, which plans and specifications have been prepared and placed on file by the special engineers employed by said City for the purpose of preparing said plans and specifications and which plans and specifications have been approved by the Mayor and City Council of said City.

Section 7. The kind of pipe to be used shall be soft clay vitrified clay pipe or cement concrete pipe.

Section 8. The engineer's estimate of the total cost of the proposed improvement is $1,028.50. Proposed by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, at a meeting of the City Council on the 31st day of May, 1927.
