County Pioneer Dies Thursday

Service Is Held Sunday at Winside for Albert H. Carter Who Passed Away at 82 Years.

Had First Store

Early Settler Did Much to Serve His Town and County in Past Forty Years.

Funeral service was conducted at Winside Sunday for Albert H. Carter, Wayne county pioneer, who passed away suddenly Thursday, aged almost 82 years. The following obituary was written by H. E. Siman, friend of deceased: "Death, who knocks at the door of the cottage and the palace of the great, has been busy at this appointed work. At 8 o'clock Thursday afternoon the news spread over the county with striking force that Albert H. Carter of Winside, had been stricken and died within a few minutes.

A. H. CARTER

After-ward. Death came unexpectedly and without warning. The people knowing his apparent good health could not credit the first report. Albert H. Carter, while advanced in years, was the picture of health, and on the morning of his death mentioned the fact to different people that he had never felt better than he did at that time. He had his luncheon as usual and afterwards picked some fruit for the table. The only warning that death was close at hand was when he mentioned that he did not feel well, less than a minute before he was stricken. In the passing of Albert H. Carter, who has been a resident of Wayne county for forty years, not only the people of this community, but of northeast Nebraska, have suffered an irreparable loss. He was truly one of the early settlers. The history of Winside and the life of Albert Carter for the past forty years are very nearly identical. He located at Winside in 1887, and built and established the first mercantile store in the building now occupied by Grover Francis and by the post office. This business he conducted until 1909, since which time he had not been actively engaged in any business. No man was so largely responsible for the building of Winside and improving it into its embryonic state as Albert Carter, and how well his efforts along that line were rewarded can be testified to by the people of the town today. He was a man of lovable disposition, universally liked, respected by all, and in whose words those who knew him placed the utmost confidence. He was a big man in stature with a heart to correspond. His ears were never closed to the cry of want. Ever

Paving Project Near Completion

Alleys in Business Block Will Be Finished This Week—Will Do Patching.

Paving of eleven blocks in south-east Wayne and surfacing alleys in two business blocks will be completed this week. Nebraska street and the intersecting blocks from Second to Seventh street were finished last week. The north and south alley in block 21, and the east half of the east and west alley in the same block are done. The east and west alley in block 12 was finished yesterday. All that remains to be done is the north and south alley in this same block. The Johnson method of paving is being used on all of the work. In this, a mixture of cement, gravel and stones is used. Cool, damp weather is more favorable to placing of this kind of pavement. For this reason the new pavement here has been covered with water about three times a day for ten days. This allows the chemical action to take place before the mixture dries. Traffic will be kept off of the pavement for about thirty days. The Abel Construction company will be here about two weeks longer, doing some patching work on the streets previously paved. The company will fix all places where bumps have appeared in the surface. This is being done without cost to the city.

Stratton Leader Kicks Somewhat AS HE GIVES UP

THE leader of the Stratton high school band, defeated in the final analysis in the state fair contest by the Wayne high school band, trained by Prof. F. C. Reed, is said to have proved himself a poor loser. He had been accustomed to win, and when the ten-month-old band from Wayne came on the field and outstripped his much older organization, he was disappointed and angered. He seemed to lack the capacity to capitulate graciously. In the match Friday morning between Stratton and Wayne to settle the state championship, Wayne played two pieces quickly, received deserved applause and got out of the way for its rival. Stratton's leader tried his audience by the time he appropriated to tug out instructions and sheets of music. One sheet at a time, he judges. After the playing, the judges asked the two bands to play one selection each at 4 o'clock. To this proposed arrangement, the Stratton leader entered vigorous objection, but finally yielded. Following Wayne's victory at 4 o'clock, the Stratton leader showed more temper. He was not used to losing. He has a very meritorious group of young musicians, but not quite up to the standard of Reed's youngsters, as evidenced by the decision of the judges.

Students Are Honored on Return Home—Are Given Banquet Wednesday Evening.

Wayne high school band of about forty pieces organized ten months ago under the direction of Prof. F. C. Reed, received highest honors at the state fair last week being named winner of class A Thursday evening and being chosen grand champion band in competition with class B winner Friday evening. As winner of class A, the Wayne group received $400 and a blue ribbon. For grand championship honors the band received an additional $100, a silver loving cup and a purple ribbon. About eighteen high school bands of the state were entered in the two classes. Stratton won in class B, and Wayne competed with this group for the grand championship. Wayne's was the strongest band and from the smallest list of any competing in class A. Besides furnishing several concerts at the state fair grounds, the Wayne band broadcast a program Thursday evening from radio station KFAB in Lincoln. Miss Kathryn Lou Davis played a saxophone solo, and Bennie Kay and Evan Dennis played a duet. The band played several selections. J. H. Kemp spoke. Crowds gathered in Wayne Saturday afternoon to welcome the band. The fire whistle was blown, and all cheered as the group marched up Main street. After selections by the band, Supt. T. S. Hook presided over a short program. J. H. Kemp explained the state fair contest, and congratulated the students and their leader on the accomplishment. The achievement, he explained, is worth the very hard work done since the organization of the band. So interested in the success of the band was Prof. Reed, Mr. Kemp explained, that he gave up a trip to Europe with the Monahan post band of Sioux City. Mr. Kemp also complimented Supt. Hook on his efforts in promoting the band. A. R. Davis represented the community in extending congratulations to the musicians. All, he said, are justly proud of the accomplishment.

To Be Improved

Rooms Will Be Made Ready for Office by November at a Cost of About $5,000.

A. R. Davis and J. T. Bressler have made a long term lease to the post office department for use of their buildings on west Second street, formerly occupied by the Wayne Herald and later used by the Farmers Union Creamery. More room will be available for the post office in the new quarters. The partition between the buildings will be removed, putting the two rooms into one. The stairway to the Craven studio will be moved from between the buildings to the west side. A basement will be dug and a hot water heating system will be put in the buildings and the interior will be redecorated. The front will be straightened, and one entrance will replace the two present ones. Two rear entrances will be provided. Present post office fixtures will be moved from the building now used on Main street, to the new location. These will be refinished. The new quarters will provide more convenient arrangements for the office work.

Presbyterian Synod of Nebraska Will Meet in Wayne First Week in October

Noted Speakers from New York, Philadelphia and Chicago Will Be on Program.

The Synod of Nebraska, of the Presbyterian church, will meet in Wayne October 4-5 and 6, and will probably be the largest religious gathering ever held in this city. More than 150 preachers and elders from all parts of the state will be present. As there is always strong competition for this meeting, Wayne is fortunate in being able to secure the session this fall. The synod usually convenes in larger cities, such as Omaha and Lincoln. Wayne Presbyterians and others are planning to show that hospitality here is at least equal to the larger places. Preparations for entertaining the guests are now under way, and committees are at work. Offers to entertain for room and breakfast will be appreciated, and many places will be needed to entertain the guests. The first program will open Tuesday evening, October 4. All evening meetings will be a popular nature and the public is invited to attend. Excellent talent from New York, Philadelphia and Chicago will insure worthwhile programs. As this is a community affair, the public is invited to attend.

Radio Station Here Undergoes Changes

Wayne Hospital Set Rebuilt and New Equipment Added—Programs Arranged.

The Wayne broadcasting station, KGCH, has been rebuilt and will now continue its regular programs. Better results are expected since its rebuilding. Paul Maxwell, engineer at KSO, the Berry Seed Company station, at Clarinda, Iowa, visited Merrill Shum, engineer at the local station, last week and assisted the latter in overhauling the apparatus. The set here was made into a modern 250 watt transmitter, using Heising system modulation. A 50 watt power amplifier was part of the new equipment added. The range of the station should be increased from 500 to 1000 miles. There are still a few defects to be remedied and Mr. Shum is working overtime in the hope that KGCH may be perfected soon. The generator hum which has been present in great or less degree will soon be eliminated, Mr. Shum believes. The wave length is 294 meters and the dial setting should be between WJAG, Norfolk and WNAX, Yankton. Programs for the following week have been arranged. Daily Paper for $4.00 a Year. There are many reasons why Nebraskans should read a daily paper published at the capital city and special ones why it should be the State Journal. Ever since Lincoln started as a town with a population of twenty-five people The Journal has been one of Nebraska's best newspapers specializing in those things of most interest to folks out in the state. The government is spending such vast sums that every citizen should keep informed of what is going on. The University of Nebraska is calling thousands of the state's best young men and women yearly, and The Journal prides itself on the completeness of its university news. Of course sports is a big feature and no matter which paper you read at other times, during football season you should certainly read The Journal. Knute Rockne, Glenn Warner, Tad Jones, Jimmie DeForest and Vincent Richards all write for the sport pages of the Journal. On account of special train facilities The Journal can give most of the state much later news than other papers. This is particularly true on rural routes. The price is low at $1.25 for three months without Sunday or $1.50 with Sunday. The yearly rate is only $4. or $5 including Sunday. Why not begin the season with the Journal? s15t1

Big Feature Comes To Crystal Theatre

A greater number of marvelous horsemen than probably ever before were gathered together to appear in a single motion picture, are prominent figures in "Beau Geste," which opens at the Crystal Theatre Monday, for a three-day run. The riders are western cowboys and Indians who appear as Touaregs of the African deserts in this thrilling mystery story of the French Foreign Legion. According to Lieut. Louis Van den Ecker, former legionnaire who served as technical advisor to Director Herbert Brenon, the desert horsemen, although famous for their skill in stirring, cannot surpass the riders of the West. The Touaregs, noted as warriors, wear long white robes and veils, so it was easy for the western riders to impersonate them. After the interior scenes of "Beau Geste" had been made at the Paramount studio in Hollywood, Brenon established a camp of 2,000 men for a three month stay on the Arizona Desert where the exterior episodes were made. Ronald Colman plays the title role in Percival Christopher Wren's story. The other featured players include Alice Joyce, Noah Beery, Mary Brian, Neil Hamilton, William Powell, Norman Trevor, Ralph Forbes and Victor McLaglan. Expecting Too Much Geneva Signal: Editor Huse of the Wayne Herald need not expect United States postal rates to be consistent. He found he could send a copy of the special edition of the Herald to Europe for ten cents, while a copy sent by mail to southern California, half the distance, cost nineteen cents. Probably the government would plead the well-known water haul if anybody could make it explain anything. The difficulty with postal rates is that some of them are made by law and some are made by treaty. It is silly to imagine that congress can pass a postal bill that will fairly and permanently fix postal rates for so great a territory as the United States covers but congress will keep right on tinkering with postal rates much the same as it tinkers with the tariff. District Eastern Star meeting was held at Randolph last week Wednesday. Mrs. Anne V. Peterson of Omaha, was present. Delegates from Wausa, Osmond and Laurel were present.

THE KNOT-HOLE

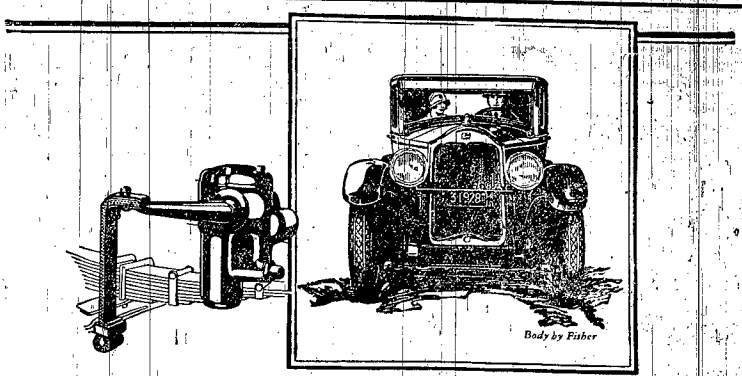

No. 16 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, Sept. 15, 1927. Vol. 1 John Grimm is biggest and best equipping one of his ever. Be there, that's the important thing. John believes Every home has somebody in it that takes care of the doors. A little story: Mike said to Pat, "I'll bet you five dollars there are seven doors in this room." Pat could count only four. The bet was made. "All right," says Mike, "there are four doors and three cuspidors." Pat lost. Later, Pat encountered a prospective victim. "I'll bet you five dollars there are seven doors in this room." The victim put up the money. "All right," says Mike, "there are four doors and three spittoons." The point we're trying to make is that we are the logical place to buy your doors, windows and storm sash. Right now is a mighty good time to build that machine. October Is Time To Rid Fields Of Pests

Pocket gophers, pests of alfalfa fields, have life habits that tend to fool the farmers into allowing them more security than they deserve. They seem to "play possum," according to A. E. Oman, leader in the rodent-control efforts in Kansas by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In spring and summer when the alfalfa grower is in his fields cutting his hay crop he finds few evidences of the multiplication of pocket gophers in the form of new mounds of loose earth thrown up from the tunnels they dig. It is not until late in September or until October that the mounds multiply. All during spring and summer the pocket gophers are rearing their young and working from the old tunnels, clipping and eating the tap roots and laterals of the alfalfa and causing scanty nourishment or death to the plants. The animals are out of sight, but they are not really "playing possum." Each pair of old pocket gophers is raising four or five youngsters that are intense individualists and that in fall will strike out for themselves, dig their own burrows, make the fields bumpy and difficult for the hay-makers, and prepare for more multiplication the next spring.

The practical procedure for ridding the fields of pocket gophers is to let them make a fair start with their new burrows in the fall, and then put out poisoned wheat in a systematic manner so that all may have their fill. In the autumn fields the new burrows can be located easily and effectively, and this is the season when the pocket gophers are laying in their winter hoard of food.

THE WAYNE HERALD

The Oldest Established Paper in Wayne County... PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY... Entered at the postoffice at Wayne, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter in 1886 under act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBER NEBRASKA PRESS ASSOCIATION 1927

SUSTAINING MEMBER NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1927

No matter how hard one labors, no matter how much of a sacrifice he may make to win a goal, he does not cause much excitement in his neighborhood unless he exceeds or at least equals popular expectations.

A lumberjack at Iron Mountain, Mich., who won a wage of $100 by eating two dozen eggs and a slab of ham a foot long explained that if his appetite had been up to normal he could have eaten his customary meal.

An article in a current magazine deals with men and women, showing their superior qualities, and in the comparison, the latter fare rather better than the former. According to the diagnosis, men are secondary and unimportant.

In regard to taking a vacation, as suggested by Editor Stone, we would say that if leave of absence is intended to make one feel better, we already feel so buoyant and exhilarated that we fear we would blow up and dematerialize if we should refuse restraint, and we can't afford to have anything like that happen.

This week the Herald suffers congestion in its last four-page run that compels wholesale trimming. Thus, if something that should appear is omitted, it is because space is in inability to crowd a bushel into a peck. It is a regrettable but inevitable condition of inadequacy that sometimes falls to the lot of every newspaper.

A Wayne county farmer's wife says her whole neighborhood looks to the Herald every week for buying information, that the advertisements are scanned carefully and that purchases are made accordingly. Important economy is thus practiced. Growing popularity of our advertising columns has already led to the suggestion that we pay the advertiser instead of receiving pay from him, that we tighten our belt and look more steadily to heaven for reward.

Weather and the times have favored county and state fairs so far this fall. The annual fair at Lincoln last week had an unprecedented attendance, and attractions were highly satisfactory. The intensely hot weather did not keep people away, but on the contrary its beneficial influence on maturing corn stimulated spirits and enlivened interest. Next in order is the Wayne county fair, and according to every indication it will have a largely increased attendance as its attractions promise eminently to deserve.

As benefits to agricultural communities, politicians devote long time and loud noise with great pretense, to the cause, and accomplish little or nothing, whereas the weather makes no promises, but achieves wonderful results. If the weather slips a cog, and production is reduced, politicians charge pinching times to a disordered economic condition which they quickly pledge themselves to repair. With the accustomed failure of politicians, the weather comes along without exploding any bombs and draws rich sustenance from the soil. Editor D. Stone of the Hartington Herald favors Sunday baseball as harmless and wholesome recreation and much to be preferred above some other ways of putting in time. He holds that orderly baseball does not do violence to religion or to Christianity. Mr. Stone occupies sensible middle ground, neither orthodox nor wildly and destructively liberal. He soft-pedals archaic tenets and stresses spiritual considerations. We have been instructing him in religious matters from time to time, and we are pleased to see that he is gaining a logical and defensible equilibrium that is worthy of our efforts.

A report states that American girls coming to models in Paris grew so thin and haggard from diet that most of them quit their jobs before the style show for which they were preparing, took place. In connection with the evils of extreme dieting, the editor of the American Medical Journal sounds a warning. He says: "Health depends in great measure on a balanced diet. The anti-fat preaching has been against starchy foods, including many on which civilization it might be said, has been built. Bread today is the staff of life. Meat, potatoes, beans, peas, rice and butter, all of which were taboo by the reducer, serve as fuel for the body and are absolutely essential to the health." Extreme dieting really injures one's looks as well as one's health. We would not recommend, but we would eat sensibly of healthful food and let nature take its course.

Local News

Let Candy Bill Sweeten your home. Mrs. E. E. Ruzicka went to Schuyler last Friday to preside as worthy matron of the Schuyler chapter No. 75 of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Ruzicka will return here this Thursday.

Mrs. George Bush's birthday anniversary was Monday and many friends remembered her with flowers and post cards. Mrs. Bush has been ill for several months and the remembrances thus especially appreciated.

Bradley Carhart left Monday for Fairbault, Minn., where he will attend Shattuck Military training school. He was accompanied as far as Sioux City by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cahart and Clifford Meyer.

OUR CLIMATE. Our climate knows how to adjust itself to the needs of the time. The prolonged dry, hot spell of this month has been uncomfortable, but it is doing the very thing for the maturing corn crop that will mean plenty and prosperity during coming months. Sioux City schools were closed Monday afternoon on account of the intense heat, and as a strange contrast it is said they were closed a year ago to the day as the weather was too cool, repairs to the heating plant having been required before fires could be started. A Sioux City authority is quoted as expressing the opinion that fifty per cent of the season's corn is already beyond danger from frost and that the balance is fast maturing. The hot weather slows down immediate demand for fall and winter merchandise, but assured crop returns will multiply buying possibilities and will result in a substantial increase in business. As people will need fall and winter goods before long, they would be wisely forehanded in commencing to lay in supplies now. The prospect justifies liberal buying.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Victor and family arrived home Wednesday last week from a trip to Sioux Falls, S. D. They visited in the William and Alfred Stone homes. While there Mrs. Will Stone sustained a badly burned face. She was helping can tomatoes when a jar exploded and the hot liquid struck her. Six weeks before she fell and sustained a broken shoulder. The Wayne people returned by Yankton and Sioux City.

Feel Tired and Languid? Waste Impurities in the Blood Make One Dull and Listless.

DO you wonder why you feel so drowsy and out of sorts? Too many feel always tired, dull and aching. Too often the cause is sluggish kidneys that permit waste impurities to remain in the blood and cause one to feel dull and listless—to have a nagging headache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not working right is often shown by itching or burning eruptions. Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Use every where recommended Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Handle the Telephone as Carefully as You Do Your Watch

Neither your watch or your telephone will serve you satisfactorily unless handled carefully. Your telephone contains 201 parts, as thoughtfully manufactured, as accurately assembled and as delicately adjusted as the finest time-piece. So if the receiver is "banged" on the hook, the telephone handled roughly or kept in a damp place, it may interfere with your service or interrupt it entirely. Every expense in the operation of the telephone business is reflected in the general level of charge for service, which we know every patron is anxious to co-operate with us in keeping as low as possible.

public spirited, his chief aim in life appeared to be not so much for accumulation and hoarding of riches as it was to make the place in which he lived a pleasant one, and to bring sunshine and gladness to those with whom he came in contact. His name was the synonym for honesty and fair dealing, and no man, during his twenty-two years in business life in Winside, has ever complained of not getting a square deal at the hands of Albert H. Carter. Through his efforts the first church in Winside was built, and the present school district was organized. Through his efforts also, the present park was established. In fact the land comprising the park was deeded to him and W. H. McCluskey jointly to the end that it might be dedicated as a park.

During his early residence in this county he rendered valuable and lasting service to the county as commissioner, and later as county assessor for a period of four years. During the past ten years the only official position held by him has been village clerk, and the expeditious manner in which the public improvements of Winside have been handled speaks indeed flatteringly of his services in keeping the records of the village. The same painstaking care which he applied to his own business marked his methods in taking care of the business of others.

Albert H. Carter was born in McKean county, Pennsylvania, November 15, 1845, and would have reached the ripe age of 82 years had he lived until November 15 of the present year. When 7 years of age he moved with his parents to Adams county, Wisconsin, where he resided until 1863 when at the age of 18 years he enlisted in Company K, 40th Wisconsin Infantry. Before going to war, however, he had learned the printing trade, and on being honorably discharged from service, he returned to Adams county, Wisconsin, and became part owner and publisher of the Adams county Press. In the meantime he had cultivated a desire to go farther west, which culminated in 1870 in his emigrating overland with an ox team from Wisconsin to Sergeant Bluffs, Iowa, where he engaged in farming for seventeen years and until he made his last move to Winside, Nebraska.

He was married to Miss Mary Crosby of Springville, Wisconsin, May 1, 1876, with whom he lived until Mrs. Carter's death thirty-three years later. In June, 1904, he was united in marriage with Miss Viola Miller of Omaha, Nebraska.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity for fifty-eight years, and of the Winside Masonic lodge since its institution, being a charter member thereof. Of his immediate family he leaves to mourn his death his widow, Viola Carter, and one son, La Vere Carter, of Sioux City, Iowa.

On occasions of this kind one realizes how impotent are words and how impossible it is to express or reflect by words the feeling, the sentiment and respect, love and veneration for one who has passed. One realizes how impossible it is to express and to convey to those who are bereaved the real and sincere sympathy felt by his friends. One realizes, also, that when the finger of death touches eyelids unto sleep and gathers a silence to the lips, the living can do but little; that the pomp and ceremonies of earthly show and grandeur have lost their significance, but that the record of life full of good deeds is the real sustenance upon the tomb.

Albert H. Carter needs no mausoleum. His epitaph is engraved upon the hearts of this community and no cunning sculptor, no monumental marble can reflect his standing here. So let the wild flowers and the full song of the uncaged bird, all that speaks of nature that he loved so well, be gathered around his grave. Funeral services were held at the home Sunday at 1 p. m., the Rev. L. R. Keckler, officiating. The Masons had charge of the services at Pleasant View cemetery where the body was laid at rest.

M. E. Larsen Weds Miss Irene Denman

Miss Irene Denman of Randolph, and Mr. Myron E. Larsen of Carroll, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Yankton, S. D., Wednesday, September 7, at 3:30 p. m. Rev. W. P. Slocum performed the ceremony, using the double ring service.

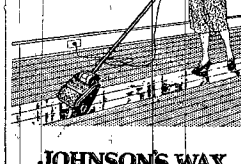

The bride was dressed in pink silk crepe. The bridegroom wore a suit of light grey. Mrs. Larsen is a daughter of J. M. Denman of Randolph, and has grown to womanhood in that community. She is a graduate of the Randolph high school and attended the Wayne State Normal. She has been a successful teacher in Cedar county for a few years.

Mr. Larsen is the youngest son of Mrs. Larsen, and is well known around Carroll. A reception was given for the young couple Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Larsen. Many useful gifts were presented by the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Larsen will go to housekeeping on a farm five miles northwest of Carroll.
