Is Relative Of Italian Leader

William Parenti Is Third Cousin of Benito Mussolini, the Famous Dictator.

Interest In Task

Wayne Man Says Ruler in Italy Works Long Hours and Is Favorite of People.

"Yes, Benito Mussolini, the famous dictator and favorite leader of Italy, is a third cousin of mine," asserted William Parenti, proprietor of a candy kitchen and luncheonette, when questioned about the relationship, "but second and third cousins are not regarded as close relatives in Italy." Mr. Parenti came to this country many years ago and has never seen the famous leader of Italy, though he had always wished he might.

Mr. Parenti's mother's mother would be a cousin of the famous dictator. Mr. Parenti was born near Florence, which is in the north central part of Italy. Mussolini was born near Milan, which is in the southern part. Mr. Parenti came to this country alone when he was 12 years old and located in Chicago, making his own way. This was thirty-seven years ago. When Mr. Parenti left Italy, Mussolini was about 6 years old. The former has not been back to his native country since coming here.

Mussolini is the son of a blacksmith. His parents, who are not now living, always made their home near Milan. The famous dictator, states Mr. Parenti, is well educated. He owns a newspaper in Milan and edited this for several years. His brother now operates it. Mussolini puts his whole heart into his work of reforming Italy. Mr. Parenti believes. He devotes from sixteen to eighteen hours a day to his work. Each day, however, he takes time for playing the violin. He is much interested in music. He has also enjoyed boxing and fencing as favorite pastimes and spends some time at each. By such habits of living he is able to stand the severe strain, Mr. Parenti asserts. The dictator drinks only milk and this seems remarkable in Italy, a country in which wine is plentiful. The leader is cool-headed, thus being able to pass calmly on the many things which come to his attention.

The fascist rule has made for great change in Italy. Mr. Parenti asserts. There is now no strife between factions. Labor and capital have been reconciled, he asserts, and there have been no strikes for four years. Mussolini is the favorite of forty-one million people. Mr. Parenti believes. Grafters and politicians who have been replaced by the new regime, are the ones who do not like the leader, Mr. Parenti says. If it were not that the Italians regard Mussolini highly, he would not retain his control. He has more power and influence and has done more for Italy than any other, Mr. Parenti believes.

Italy is like an exposition ground of beauty for its full length of 750 miles, Mr. Parenti states. Nature is most wonderful there. People are cheerful and musical and their life seems to be full of poetry. They admire art, they sing and play because they are happy, and they love life, stated Mr. Parenti. They do not always scramble for money. These people regard Mussolini as their hero. The famous dictator lives in Rome during his rule. His wife, three sons and daughter live at the family home in Milan. Mussolini is interested in his family and he is also deeply interested in all his countrymen.

Mr. and Mrs. Parenti and their daughter, Etna, have lived in Wayne since last summer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Parenti are natives of northern Italy, the former coming thirty-seven years ago and the latter coming twenty-two years ago. Mrs. Parenti and daughter made a trip to Italy fourteen years ago, when the latter was five years old. Etna is now completing her senior year at the college in Dubuque, Iowa.

Former Resident Passes In Omaha

H. B. Shook of Omaha, former resident of Wayne, died last Thursday from heart attack which he suffered while at work in Evergreen cemetery where he was superintendent. He was digging a grave when he was stricken. He was alone and was barely able to walk a quarter of a mile to his home before he collapsed. He was unable to tell Mrs. Shook about the attack and died before a physician reached the home.

Mr. Shook had been ill for several weeks. Besides his wife, he leaves one son, William, and one daughter, Clover.

The Shook family lived in Wayne about twelve years ago.

John Gilbert Is A Young Reporter

John Gilbert plays a newspaper reporter in an ultra-modern romance laid in Washington, the nation's capital, in his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "Man, Woman and Sin," coming January 6 and 7 to the Crystal theatre. It is a story of newspaper life, laid in a modern metropolitan daily, with a notable cast that includes Jeanne Eagels, famous stage star of "Rain," and others of note. Monta Bell, director of "The Torrent," "The King on Main Street," and others, directed the new play.

McCormick-Deering, Ball-Bearing CREAM SEPARATORS

Four Ball Bearings in the New McCormick-Deering

Until the advent of the ball-bearing McCormick-Deering, separating was a man's job where strength, endurance and considerable energy were required. Today, however, the McCormick-Deering ball-bearing cream separator with its close-skimming, easy-turning and sanitary qualities, has enabled the farmer to increase his herd, raise better cows, and sell cream, thus adding to his yearly profits.

The McCormick-Deering with four ball bearings is without question one of the greatest achievements in recent years in cream separator construction. Other McCormick-Deering features are equally important, but its light-running qualities due to ball bearings have solved the dairyman's problem of separating more milk without loss of butterfat in less time, at less cost and with less labor.

Makes Child's Play of a Man's Job

The new McCormick-Deering ball-bearing cream separator is not only a step forward in providing easy turning so long desired, but it also provides a quiet, smooth running machine that even a woman or child can operate with ease. Experienced persons know that a plain-bearing cream separator with its high speed will have a much shorter life and be less efficient in operation than a ball-bearing separator of the McCormick-Deering type.

Tests made by various institutions show that the friction in plain bearings, under the best conditions, is almost four times as great as in ball bearings.

New McCormick-Deering Invites Comparison

A comparison of any plain-bearing cream separator with a McCormick-Deering will convince you of the superiority of ball-bearing construction over that of the plain-bearing type. A new McCormick-Deering on your farm will mean greater profits from your cows and years of dependable and satisfactory service from your machine.

Phosphor Bronze Crankshaft Bearings

While the McCormick-Deering is a slow-speed machine and perfectly lubricated in every respect, yet Harvester engineers have gone still a step further by incorporating heavy removable phosphor bronze bearings on the crankshaft. These bearings are made of the finest materials, obtainable and reduce friction and wear to a minimum. These bearings are adjustable and enable a closer and more accurate alignment of operating parts and are far superior to any other type of bearing used for this purpose.

Cream Regulated by Discharge of Skimmilk

Upon the construction of the bowl depends the amount of butterfat recovered from a given quantity of milk.

In the design of the new McCormick-Deering cream separator bowl the density of the cream is regulated by controlling the discharge of the skimmilk. This construction is far superior and more efficient than the cream screw-type of separator bowls.

With the cream screw-type of bowl the regulation takes place at a point directly in the path of the cream discharge. In the McCormick-Deering the skimmilk regulation of the cream density is scientifically applied at the point of discharge of the skimmilk and not in the path of the cream. This adjustment for cream density is less sensitive, more positive, and results in the delivery of a more uniform cream in a better condition for churning.

Bowl Nut

The bowl nut is made of manganese bronze and will not rust.

Bowl Shell

The bowl shell is divided in the center instead of extending to the bottom of the tubular shaft.

Dividing Disc

The dividing disc prevents the remixing of the already separated cream and skimmilk.

Cream, Skimmilk Covers and Spouts

The cream and milk spouts which are constructed of heavy steel, are one piece with no seams, laps or rivets to obstruct an even flow of cream and the proper discharge of the skimmilk.

Oil Supply Visible Through Glass Panel

The glass panel in the lower part of the supply can bracket is a convenient, positive oil supply guide.

Bowl Drained At Machine

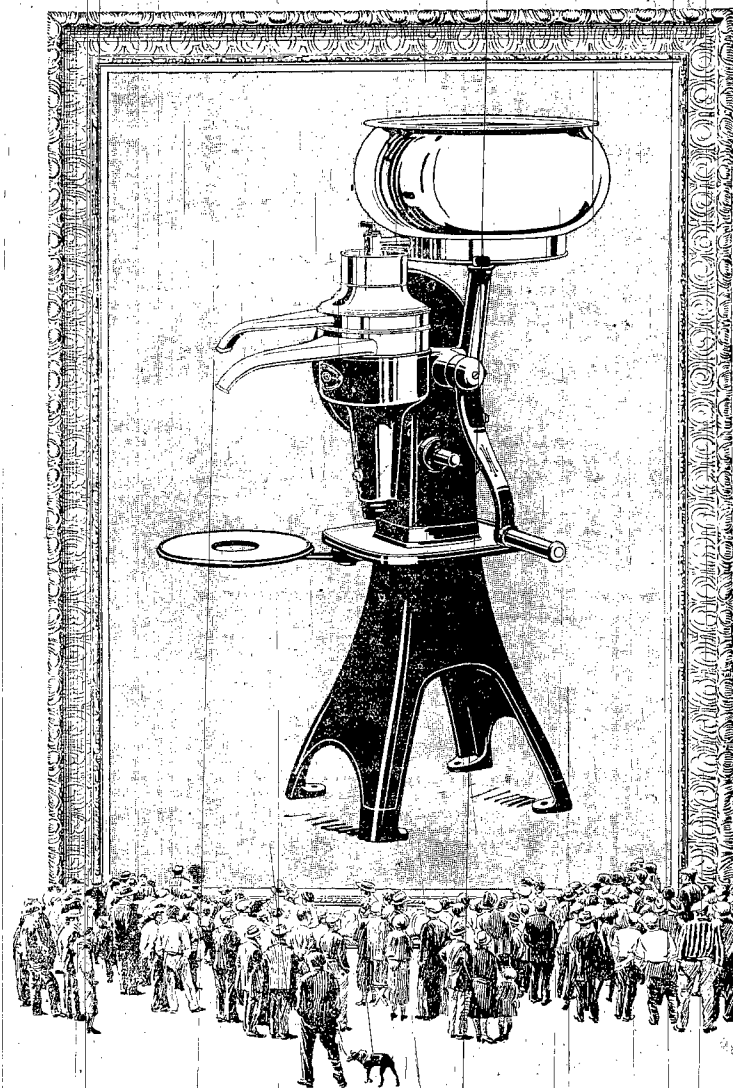

You do not have to hold the bowl to drain it. Draining the bowl prevents freezing in winter, contamination in summer or rusting as the result of neglect in emptying the bowl.

Simple Speed Indicator

The speed indicator (bell type) on the McCormick-Deering is located on the end of the crank. When the crank has been brought up to the speed at which the machine is intended to run, the bell will cease to ring and will remain silent as long as the proper speed for efficient operation is maintained.

Friction Clutch

This clutch is simple in construction and reliable in operation.

- Discs
Tinning the discs after the buttons have been welded in place makes a one-piece sanitary disc that will not collect dirt and rust as do the common type of calk discs.
- Rubber Ring
The rubber ring is easily removed for washing after each skimming which prevents rust and an unsanitary condition.
- Tubular Shaft
The tubular shaft is carefully machined and heavily flined to provide complete sanitation.
- Positive Automatic Oiling System
The lubrication in the McCormick-Deering is entirely taken care of by a splash force-feed oil clarifying system.
- Oil Sprayed To Bearings
The long phosphor bronze crankshaft bearings are also lubricated by a spray through a groove in each bearing, the used oil being returned to reservoir by spirals on crankshaft.
- Outside Faucet
The faucet is located on the outside of the supply can. The faucet plug is made of anti-rust material and is sanitary.
- Metal Trough Regulates Oil Supply
An exclusive McCormick-Deering feature is the metal trough installed in the oil reservoir in which the spindle driving gear revolves, thus spraying fresh clean oil to every running part.
- One-Piece Spun Metal Anti-Splash Supply Can
It is securely locked in position on the supply can bracket, which enables the operator to rest a can of milk on the side of the supply can without fear of tipping the supply can over.
- Revolving Supply Can
The supply can when filled with milk can be turned easily within the bracket circuit.
- Bowl Vise
The bowl vise is located within the bracket.
- Main Driving Gear Thoroughly Oiled, Completely Enclosed
The main driving gear in the McCormick-Deering is completely enclosed, thus protecting it from dust and dirt.
- Ask For Demonstration
The next time you are in town ask us to show you the size machine to meet your requirements.

Provoking Murder.

Lincoln Journal: An ugly little story comes from Texas to warn us against too much violence in enforcing the law. Spurred by the reward of $5,000 for every bank robber turned over dead or alive to the state bankers' association, it is alleged, some thrifty Texans hired three Mexicans to appear in front of a bank at a certain hour and then shot them down and claimed the reward. One of the victims was not killed outright and on the strength of his testimony the state bankers refused to pay the reward. They thought it was too much like provoking murder. The story is readily believed along the border, they say, for the Mexican has no more standing there than a negro in Mississippi, and there are white men who would kill them for much less than five thousand dollars apiece.

Encouraging Leg Power.

Fairbury News: A few weeks ago the U. S. Supreme Court held that a railroad company is not to blame for whatever happens to an auto that is driven onto its tracks during the daylight hours. Now comes another decision, and one that ought to bring a lot of joy to the hearts of those Fairbury citizens who still use their legs as a means of transportation. The court says in its latest decision: "The streets belong to the public; pedestrians have a right to walk on any part of the street or roadway, and that right cannot be taken away. Driving a car is a privilege that may be revoked at any time; therefore it becomes incumbent upon the driver of an automobile to see to it that he doesn't strike the pedestrian."
