Do Knockout In Fight In Picture

In "East Side, West Side," recently produced at the Fox New York Studio, Allan Dwan's script called for a pugilistic encounter in which George O'Brien knocks out "King Solomon," the well-known strong man.

In the interval following the knock-out, King Solomon is under the illusion that he is Peter Pan, surrounded by beautiful wood nymphs in sylvan surroundings.

The nymphs were impersonated by a distinguished group of Albertina Rasch dancers, borrowed from "Rio Rita" and led by Evelyn Groves. The Willis estate on Lake Island was loaned for a location, and the nymphs were required to be there at nine o'clock in the morning to start work before the cameras, thus establishing a record, for it is probably the only time that eight Ziegfeld girls were known to see a sunrise.

"East Side, West Side" comes to the Crystal theatre this Friday and Saturday.

Parents of Man Wed Many Years. Mr. and Mrs. Walter James celebrate Sixtyfourth Anniversary in Wyoming, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter James of Wyoming, Iowa, celebrated their sixtyfourth wedding anniversary February 24. They are the parents of P. G. James of Wayne, and the latter was there from February 10 until March 1. Mr. James will be 89 years old July 8 and his wife will be 83 on July 15.

Mr. James was born near Harper's Ferry, and went to Iowa with his parents when he was 16. His wife, Macy Sherman, was born in Jefferson county, New York, and went to Wyoming, Iowa, with her parents when she was 10 years old. Mr. James rented a farm in Pleasant Valley, near Canton, in about 1861 but soon left to join the Union army, enlisting in Company B, Ninth Iowa infantry. He was advanced from corporal to first lieutenant and served until July 18, 1865.

It was during the Civil war that Mr. James and Miss Sherman were married at Anamosa when Mr. James came home for a thirty-day furlough in 1864. Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. James: Mrs. Ida Oesterle of Prosser, Wash., Philip G. James of Wayne, Mrs. Lottie Porter of Anamosa, George Dan James of Olin, Mrs. Sara Kegley of Cedar Rapids, and Mrs. Olive Roose of Los Angeles. There are twenty grandchildren and twentyfour great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. James moved from their farm in Jackson township to their present home in Wyoming thirtyseven years ago. Relatives gathered at their home on the anniversary to remember the occasion.

Favor Growing For Athletics

Many Girls of College Belong to Association for Better Physical Development.

The Women's Athletic association of the Wayne State Teachers College, an organization sponsored by Miss Esther Dewitz, head of the physical education department for girls, is an active and growing group of young women who realize the importance of physical exercise and who are interested in improving themselves in this particular. The organization is national and though the Wayne chapter is as yet an associate member, because of having been organized just a year ago last October, the work is progressing and much is being accomplished for the welfare of the girls.

One-half year of physical education is required in most college courses and as all the college physical training work can not be provided in this short period of time, the Women's Athletic association is organized to supply this need for more advanced physical training work. Seventyfive are now enrolled in the association and new members join each month at the regular meeting.

Swimming, volley ball, hiking, roller and ice skating, coasting, basketball, clogging, social dancing and baseball are among the activities provided. A girl may earn twentyfive points for ten hours of activity. Each must earn 100 points before being eligible to join the association, and this must be in two or more sports. When a girl earns 250 points she receives a pin, and when she earns 1,000 points she earns a school letter. It is possible to earn the letter by two hours' work each week for two years.

These letters were awarded last year, these going to Hertha Bratke, Aartje Potts and Laura Witte, Lillian and Nyeulah Whitmore, Marie Denkinger and Alice Berry are leading this year and will probably receive letters. this was unusual. Ordinarily, the season advances normally and after the first of March we may look forward confidently to the arrival of spring. A reversal of this orderly process is liable to be most destructive for, if a hard freeze occurs after the sap begins to flow and trees and shrubs commence to bud, all vegetation will be blighted. Just such a calamity did occur one spring within the writer's recollection and the result was that we had leafless trees and bushes the following summer.

Student Undergoes Operation On Eye

Jesse Zimmerman of Bloomfield, student at the Wayne State Teachers College, had one of his eye balls removed last week in an Omaha hospital. A piece of steel lodged in the ball nine years ago has caused the young man considerable trouble in the member for this period of years. It was thought best to remove the ball in order that the other eye might be saved. Mr. Zimmerman had not been able to see with the eye since it was injured.

Night Coughs Quickly Relieved. Stopped in 15 Minutes With Thoxine.

Most coughing is caused by an irritated, inflamed throat or bronchial tubes which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly. One swallow does the work, and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or other harmful drugs. Pleasant tasting. Safe for children. Once used the whole family will rely on it. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. Sold by Felber's Pharmacy and all good drug stores.

When Angry. York Republican: Next time you get angry or out of sorts try this on yourself. Take a good look at yourself in the mirror and let your own eyes take note of the expression of your face. Someone has wisely said you do not know another until you have looked him squarely in the face. If you can get a square look at one's face you will either see his soul or the dark and ugly covering that hides it. And it may be that one never knows his own self until he has seen his face in every mood. Seeing ourselves as we require others to see us would be good for us all. But ordering our conduct so that our faces would mirror good thoughts would be far better yet.

Spring. Hartington Herald: The general opinion appears to be that we are going to have an early spring. The opinion may be entirely wrong and, instead of an early spring, it is possible that we will have a very late one; but there are no indications of that at present. One can recall years when March was a very mild month—indeed, when the weather was hot in March—only to be followed by a period of freezing weather in April and May; but

State Fair Plans For Band Contest

Lincoln, Neb., March 2.—Another class has been added to the high school band contest at the Nebraska state fair and all bands entered in the contest will receive at least $50. George W. Jackson, secretary of the state fair board, announced. The class division, he said, will be established as follows: Class A, from schools with enrollment of 200 pupils or more, from grades 9 to 12, inclusive; class B, from schools with enrollment of under 200 pupils and more than 100 pupils from grades 9 to 12, inclusive; class C, from schools with enrollment of less than 100 pupils from grades 9 to 12, inclusive.

"While the contest will be classified by the enrollment in high school grades, 9 to 12," Mr. Jackson explained, "it does not prohibit contestants from lower grades participating." The contest will be judged on four points: Instrumentation, 15 points; general expression, rendition, tempo-phrasing, 60 points; personal appearance, 10 points; parade, 15 points. Prizes of $350, $250 and $150 will be awarded in classes A and B, and $200; $150 and $100 in class C.

"All bands outside the money," Mr. Jackson said, "will receive a card of merit and will be paid $50 each."

Organizes Class To Train Girls

Miss Dewitz Begins Physical Training Work in Junior High—Other News.

Miss Esther P. Dewitz, head of the physical education department, for women is organizing a new class for junior high school girls. The object is to get more girls trained for the May festival. The girls will have clogging on Mondays and Fridays, and will play basket ball, soccer ball or volley ball on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This class is to begin at 8:20 in the morning.

Girl scouts of troop Two have charge of putting up the flag on the west side of the training school this week. Troop One had charge for the past two weeks. Many training school students and a number of faculty members saw the historical picture, "Alexander Hamilton," shown at the Crystal theatre Thursday afternoon. "The Covered Wagon" will be shown in the afternoon of April 10 for benefit of students who have not seen the picture.

Publishing Business. York Republican: Nebraska editors and publishers met in Grand Island last week and took annual stock of their business and profession. They found the business of newspaper making steadily improving. It is on the best economic basis it has ever enjoyed. The men and women who make the newspapers, the people who read them, and the advertisers who use them have a higher regard for them than they have ever had, taking them as a class. This is a situation that brings great cheer to the forward-looking people who are in the business of making newspapers.

pers and take their calling seriously. The press shares with two other agencies—the pulpit and the school room—the responsibility of publicly moulding opinions. The fact that the newspaper business is now in evidence of the influence the press has on the people. It is a precious and fearful thing—this ability to mould and influence public opinion for good or evil—and in Nebraska it is shown that the majority who take their work seriously and discharge their duty with a high sense of responsibility is steadily increasing.

The prohibition question is causing considerable ferment in Congress—Atlanta Constitution. We will get the navy and the shipyards 'get the gravy'—Brunswick (Ga.) Pilot.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 40 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, March 8, 1928. Vol. I. Bryan Klopning no sooner got his place fixed up with one of our chicken houses when along comes Bill Kieper, and hauls one out to his place. They both say the hens will pay for them in a little while. Suppose you read about that Kentucky woman who is bringing some guy for stealing 100 kisses. Seems to us it took her a long time to wake up to the fact she was being robbed. L. Lindecker is fixing his roof problem by using our Edge-wood shingles. That roof should be good fifty years from now. Elmer Gailey tells us about somebody he knew who took a ride a short time ago in one of those sight-seeing buses out in San Francisco. When they reached a big hill the man with the megaphone requested the passengers to hold their grips in their hands to lighten the load. Everybody did! Then as the grade got steeper he asked them all to stand up. And everybody did! What would you have done? So would we. This week we have been unloading a big car of oak flooring. What Is Cash Like When It's "Cold?"

A DELCO-LIGHT magazine ad says a man in Minnesota "Pocketed an extra $300 in cold cash in a single year from 250 hens after he lit his hen house with Delco-Light." Hot or cold, it's a nice bit of extra cash. Hot or cold, it's what we're all after, and if I sell you a Delco-Light you'll get yours in increased egg production, reduced labor costs and all the rest of the things the ads tell about. It's one of those propositions where each of us gets the best of the bargain, if you know what I mean.

From the fact that QURET begins at the bottom to eliminate the trouble, suggests the slogan "Wipe the dirt from the inside out." Mr. A. M. Heydrick, director of the Y. M. C. A. Business. Sioux City Journal: The season is close at hand when, according to predictions made by leading industrialists and economists, an improvement in the business situation was confidently expected. At the close of the year a slack midwinter season was forecast, and that has been realized. But, it is recalled, the spring was to witness a decided improvement, the summer was to be satisfactory, and the fall would bring results distinctly encouraging. It is not too late, of course, for these predictions to come true. Actually, the spring season has not yet commenced, but it will not be long now before the public generally will begin to expect a change, if, indeed, it is to come. There is room for improvement in the business situation. Taking the country as a whole, trade is not so good as it has been the last two years. The winter decline has been general, not exactly threatening, yet discouraging in a degree that is far from satisfactory. Freight car loadings show how the volume in business has fallen off. Loadings for the week ending February 18 totaled 887,891 cars. This was a decrease of 18,118 cars below the figure for the preceding week, and it was 66,903 under the figure for the same period last year. It was 44,390 under the total for the same week in 1926. Car loadings ought to pick up if the prediction of better spring trade is to be borne out. In every classification of freight, save one, there were decreases. Coal showed the heaviest decline. Live stock shipments gained, showing an increase of 4,137 cars over the same week last year and 4,590 above the corresponding period in 1926. Railroad earnings for January fell off correspondingly. The net for all classes 1 roads for the month is estimated at $5,000,000, a decrease of some 8 per cent below the same month last year. Explanations for the business decline will be sought naturally in various directions. No doubt a good many persons will believe that much of it is due to the fact that this is a presidential year. Others will insist that the change has come because of the country's closer approach to a normal condition, and that is believed to be more nearly correct. The reconstruction period developed the elements of a boom, especially in building and investments. Now, with the work of reconstruction practically completed, the new normal may be expected, and it is inevitable that various adjustments will have to be made, for the most part in production costs and sales prices.

"Water Purifies Itself in Freezing"

"THE discovery that many disease germs survived freezing led to natural ice from rivers becoming suspected and artificial ice largely taking its place."

"Therefore in the words of the Journal of the American Medical Association, 'artificial ice made from pure water in clean, sanitary factories may be regarded as safe; so also may natural ice cut from reasonably pure deep ponds or lakes and stored under sanitary conditions. Artificial ice made from polluted water in dirty, unsanitary factories is unsafe; natural ice cut from shallow, polluted ponds or from grossly polluted rivers is also unsafe. And dirty appearing, cloudy ice may be infected as well as polluted; no such ice should be used in contact with food or drinks.'"

Lowly Frog Leaps to Fame

Obscurity for 30 years then fame in a single leap is a feat worth mentioning, especially when accomplished by a lowly horned frog. More than 30 years ago the one pictured above was roaming Texas prairies. Recently it hopped out from under a courthouse cornerstone which had been sealed up for 31 years.

Trip In Boat Down Missouri In 1882

We tramped for several miles but found no game. There might have been game here sometime but if there was any now it would have to bring its fodder with it. The Steamer Rosebud passed us trying to get up to Claggit. We left her hard aground on Lauphan Rapids which she could not pass but came down to Cow Island to unload.

ing down the river on a raft which happened along just in time to get badly wounded. Saturday, Sept. 9.—We had six cat fish this morning and we shared with our friends in the other boat. Soon after starting Al got a shot at a deer and killed it, being the first one on our journey. Fanny gained credit by her blood thirsty manner of throttling the deer which would toss her about easily in its death struggles. We were now so well supplied with meat that we were independent and did not hunt for a while.

er was very rough. The Sioux City was using a sail. But she made shore in a bad shape. We went on and made Wolf Point about three o'clock. We went up to the post to inquire for our friend, A. W. Rose, who was to meet us here. He had left a few hours before and would not return for six days. We concluded to wait for him. So we moved into and took possession of Rose's house. This is a part of the Poplar River agency, the Assinebois Indians being here. But most of them were out on a hunt only about fifty lodges being here now. We soon found Mr. Jones, Frank Porter and George Stevens, who made us feel at home. Mrs. Stevens was kind enough to keep us well supplied with good bread for which we were very thankful, having been living on crackers and pan cakes all the trip. We put in our six days talking with the men, looking at the Indians and making excursions into the country. We visited the Indian grave yard which extended over all the adjacent bluff, and as they buried about ten feet up in the air instead of in the ground, we did not go very close.

and camped in a willow thicket where we found plenty of wood. Sunday, Oct. 1.—We had some doubts about leaving camp as it was very windy and rainy, but finally got away about 8:30 a. m. Run about two miles against a strong head wind and pulled into camp on south bank of the river, about half way between Forts Berthold and Stephenson. Country very high and bluffly on south side of river and fine level prairie on the north. Our camping ground is in a very nice piece of timber. Grapes in abundance and plenty of deer being here now. We soon found Mr. Jones, Frank Porter and George Stevens, who made us feel at home. Mrs. Stevens was kind enough to keep us well supplied with good bread for which we were very thankful, having been living on crackers and pan cakes all the trip. Two Signs of Spring

The circus and baseball—two reminders of warmer weather and here we have them both in one picture. Then Nelson, circus performer, is shown getting some instructions in catching from Jimmy Fox, catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics at Fort Myers, Fla.

Two signs of spring are the melting of snow and the coming of rain. We passed a very rough and disagreeable day, and we were very thankful, having been living on crackers and pan cakes all the trip. We put in our six days talking with the men, looking at the Indians and making excursions into the country. We visited the Indian grave yard which extended over all the adjacent bluff, and as they buried about ten feet up in the air instead of in the ground, we did not go very close.
