

Buy New Engine For City Plant

Council Purchases An Oil Burning, Generating Machine at a Cost of $47,432.

Install This Fall

This and Two Steam Boilers Will Provide for Added Demand on Local Plant.

Wayne city council, at special meetings Thursday and Saturday, opened bids on a new oil burning, generating engine for the local power plant, and contract was let Saturday to De La Vergne company of New York for $47,432. The bid calls for a 300-horsepower Diesel generating engine with all equipment, foundations and installation complete. The engine will be ready for operation early in December.

The city will use the new engine most of the time above its furnishing power. Exhaust steam from the new engine will be used to keep water in the boilers of the two steam engines hot so that they may be put into use to help pull the peak load and to use in cases of emergency. The exhaust heat will keep the boilers hot so that either of the steam engines may be put into use within a few minutes. The peak load for the plant is about two hours each day, but this will be increased soon on account of the demand being heavier in winter and on account of new buildings being constructed to increase the amount of electricity used.

Seven bids were received on the new oil generating machine. They were as follows: McIntosh Seymour & Co. of St. Louis, $42,400; Worthington Co. of Buffalo, $48,496; Busch-Sulzer of St. Louis, $32,700; Schneider Electric Co. of St. Louis, $21,400; DeLaVergne Co. of New York, $47,432; Fairbanks Morse Co. of Omaha, $45,633; and Fulton Iron Works Co. of St. Louis, $54,318. The engine purchased weighs 200,000 pounds. The company guarantees that it will carry the load at the plant throughout each day, excepting perhaps the peak load; that it will provide heat for the other boilers; and that it will furnish heat for business houses now using the same.

The company noted that only such cash payments be made on the engine this year as may be permitted by the annual appropriation for such purposes.

PUBLIC SERVICE OF MANY KINDS MAKES HEADWAY

GROUPS take the lead in giving freely of time and effort for the support of community enterprises, and necessarily leaders must assume the bulk of the burdens and the bulk of the responsibility. The county fair depends on comparatively few people to plan its course and insure its success. Another small group takes a new hotel in hand and shoulders the task of seeing that the need is supplied. Still other groups get behind other community benefits, and they labor without pay and without hope of reward beyond the satisfaction of knowing that their service is constructive. Different ones giving generously to promote community undertakings, all operating in different ways for the public good, are equally commendable in contributing to worthy progress. These efforts for public development keep communities from slipping—keep them going forward and make them more valuable and more useful.

Speaking of queer accidents: Frank Snyder working around a threshing near Davenport, swung his pitchfork into the drive belt. The fork rebounded, the handle cutting a six-inch gash in his face and a fork tooth penetrating his tongue.

During July McCook experienced a rainfall of 8.76 inches, equal to one-half the total rainfall of the preceding twelve months and about one-half the average annual rainfall.

Mrs. Emma McCarthy died at her home in Nebraska City August 20, aged 77. She had lived in Otece county 71 years, most of that time upon a farm pre-empted by her father.

Rev. C. C. Austin of Tyson, Neb., has the largest parish of any single minister in Nebraska. Beginning Saturday morning he has to travel 150 miles to preach at five separate points before winding up with his sixth service Sunday night. He is a Methodist, but his churches are all conducted on the community plan. The smallest voting precinct in Omaha contains more inhabitants than all of McPherson county, of which Tyson is the county seat.

One of the greatest triumphs over nature's handicaps has been won by a young woman, Miss Martin, of the Brownville neighborhood. Miss Martin is blind, deaf and dumb. Despite all this she has mastered the piano and plays the most difficult selections, delighting in classical numbers. Her needlework is marvelously beautiful, she reads Braille readily, and by placing her sensitive fingers on the throat of anyone speaking to her easily understands what is said. Miss Martin, a native born Nebraska girl, has accomplished all that has been accomplished by Helen Keller, and in addition has become a fine musician. She gets her enjoyment at the piano from the vibration she feels through a foot placed upon the soft pedal. Miss Martin will soon appear on the concert stage in a series of recitals in Nebraska cities.

Managers of western railroads are conferring with the representatives of the railroad workers on the matter of a wage increase. The workers threaten a general strike if their demands are not met. The third party at interest, the public, is not represented in the negotiations.

Nebraska has not had a real county seat fight for many years. How county seat fights were conducted in the old days is illustrated by a story of such a fight, told by Dave Martindale. Mr. Martindale, who is known to every general merchant in Nebraska, lived for many years at Niobrara, Knox county. Every so often Niobrara had to fight to retain the county seat. In one such fight the Niobrara committee wanted the votes in a Russian Moshonko precinct and gave a Russian who said he could handle it properly $100 for campaign purposes. He visited the settlement for a couple of days, then returned and refunded $75 to the committee, declaring that he had fixed things. He would make no further explanation. After the election in which the Russian settlement cast practically no votes, the envoy explained. He had paid three or four young fellows to start prairie fires in the precinct on the morning of election day, and the settlers were too busy fighting the fires to go to the polls and vote.

Nebraska's first Arbor Day was April 10, 1872, the date being set by the state board of agriculture in accordance with a resolution offered by J. Sterling Morton. On January 8, 1874, in accordance with a resolution offered by C. H. Walker, the second Wednesday of April in each year was designated as Arbor Day. The first proclamation calling for the observance of the day was made by Gov. Robert W. Furnas. Other governors made similar proclamations setting that day. In 1885 the legislature made April 22, Morton's birthday, Arbor Day. In 1895 the legislature by statutory enactment designated Nebraska as the "Tree Planter's State." Now Nebraskans are officially known as "Tree Planters" instead of "Bug Eaters." Despite the legal designation we call ourselves "Corn-huskers."

Nebraska's first state constitution was framed in 1866. A new one was framed in 1871 but defeated at the polls. A new constitution was adopted in 1875 and remained in force until a constitutional convention held a few years ago framed the present constitution. The proposed constitution of 1871 was defeated

SAMPLE OF PAST. Aurora Republican: The good old days occasionally come back. In fact they did at Fremont the other day when the good old-fashioned tent evangelist came to town and, in good old-fashioned tent evangelist fashion, immediately tied into the devil and all his helpers. And how, glory be, the fight is on! One of the Fremont papers, whose editor held ideas different from the evangelist was embroiled and is now being given a sample of what he will undergo when he reaches what, in the opinion of the evangelist, will be his future destination. It's the real old-fashioned thing, and no mistake. Time was when no town that really amounted to anything had completed its annual calendar until an evangelist had staked his tent and matched pitchforks with the devil for the length of time that the good people of the community would patronize the exhibition. Seldom, if ever, did the revival get away before it had insulted some of the best people of the town, started an inter-church war or disrupted the community in some way. That's one of the reasons some people are content to believe that the good old days have been replaced by something better.

chiefly because it taxed church property.

How many of these questions can you answer? Answers next week:

- 1. Who presided over the convention that framed the present state constitution?
2. What governor of Nebraska was called "the boy governor"?
3. Where was the first beet sugar factory in Nebraska erected?
4. What New York congressman later served as a senator from Nebraska?
5. What governor afterwards became associate justice of the supreme court of Nebraska?

William Pilgrim, who has lived in Dakota county since 1855 and who is 89 years old, was the earliest resident at the county pioneers' picnic at Dakota City last week. James P. Heenan and Ira Davis are the new president and vice president of the old settlers' association. El B. Wilbur, 70, of South Sioux City, Mike Boler, 80, of Jackson, and John W. Oibrey, 78, of Decatur, are among other old settlers who were present for the reunion.

The car was almost wrecked. Leo Bitner and his brother of Breslau, were riding horseback at a fast rate when a neighbor's dog ran out and in some manner tripped the horse, throwing the boys to the ground. Leo was badly bruised and four of the toes on his right foot were broken. He is 8 years old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bitner, who live six miles north-east of Breslau. Elmer Beens, John Sohtler and Mrs. Slagle of Randolph, were injured slightly when cars collided Wednesday of last week north of Randolph. The first two were driving to Hartington and Mr. and Mrs. Slagle were returning from there. Michael Noonan, 66 years old, one of Wisner's early residents, died as a result of a paralytic stroke. Mr. Noonan came to Nebraska in 1875 and to Wisner in 1889. Funeral services were held September 5 in St. Joseph's Catholic church. Members of the Blair Chamber of Commerce held a barbecue last Saturday and about 1,000 from commerce bodies of nearby towns were guests, the object being to show the guests the work being done on the new bridge over the Missouri at that point. Work started on changing the channel of the Elkhorn river near Riverside park at Neligh. A shifting of the current of the river opposite the city sewer outlet has left it emptying on a dry sandbar and it is apparent that if this condition is allowed to remain until freezing weather a serious situation will arise. The city authorities are having old auto bodies and iron junk hauled to the river and dumped into the channel so as to deflect the current to its former course past the sewer outlet. The report of the finding of part of Capt. Roald Amundsen's plane has brought sorrow to John Eggen of Crofton, a first cousin of the noted explorer. Mr. Eggen, who is now past 81, and Captain Amundsen, who is 77, were born in Tromsø, Norway, their mothers being sisters. The two men were boyhood pals and when 18 and 14 years of age, they purchased a sailing fishing vessel. In the summer time they gathered clams and oysters, then crossed the North sea to Newcastle, England, where they found a ready market for them. Arthur B. Blintz, Madison hardware merchant here, was assaulted and robbed of $50 on the highway by two unidentified men. Badly cut and bruised, Blintz walked to his home and reported the robbery to Sheriff Smith. Blintz was driving home from the country alone and slowed his car to inquire if a man crawling near the roadside was hurt. The man jumped on the running board, grabbed Blintz by the arm and throat and turned off the gas. Blintz succeeded in keeping the car moving, but in the struggle it went into the ditch. He was in a dazed condition for several minutes, he reported. No trace of the men has been found.

SPECTACULAR SUCCESS is proving it Chief of the Sixes! In the tremendous success which Pontiac Six is enjoying is ample reason for designating this great General Motors car "Chief of the Sixes." Never has any new car risen so rapidly in the estimation of motor car buyers for during the first six months of 1928, over 136,000 Pontiacs were sold—the largest volume ever achieved by any car during the first half of its third year in production! This great public acceptance tells more of what Pontiac offers at $745 than even the most complete listing of such features as Fisher bodies, 186 cu. in. engine, the G-M-R cylinder head, cross-flow radiator, foot-controlled headlights, coincidental lock, etc., etc. Come in for a ride today and learn why its sales sweep ever upward.

VICTORIOUS

in Every Test and Fulfilling Every Promise the NEW Maytag observes Its First Anniversary

One year ago, I announced the New Maytag as our latest and greatest achievement. Noteworthy refinements and striking improvements, including a new method of soap and water removal, were incorporated in the new washer. It set standards of convenience and washing efficiency that had never been known before.

During the year that has passed, hundreds of thousands of NEW Maytags have been introduced into as many homes, and each time subject to the famous Maytag trial basis: "If it doesn't sell itself, don't keep it." Rigorous, exacting washday tests assailed the New Maytag, and it has emerged victorious, to a degree exceeding my highest expectations.

A year ago, the New Maytag enjoyed a prestige inherited from Maytags of the past. Today the New Maytag enjoys a prestige in its own right, won by demonstrated performance. It has advanced still farther in its world leadership.

Maytag dealers everywhere follow the standardized rule of sending a Maytag to a home to do a week's washing free, and without obligation of any kind. This is the way all Maytag Aluminum Washers are sold. The Maytag must sell itself solely upon its performance in the home. It must wash everything to your entire satisfaction. Must wash everything quicker, easier and cleaner than other washers. Must wash everything—even collars, cuffs and wristbands, without hand-rubbing. Must prove to you, in your own home, that it is the most helpful home-laundrying unit you have ever seen or used.

Dry democrats who yearn for party victory are trying to prove to themselves and others that liquor is not an issue in the national campaign, but it refuses to be sidetracked.

The increased republican majorities in the Maine elections this week will make democratic leaders looser their grip long enough to swallow a few times before taking a new hold.

Attendance at the state fair and county fair this year disputes any suggestion that people are not prosperous or not in a comfortable state of mind.

Speaking of trying to use the Kellogg anti-war treaty as a political issue, the Lincoln Journal suggests that the politician is so constituted that he would rather appeal to prejudice than to reason.

It is recorded that twice in the history of the country a man by the name of Smith ran for the presidency and that on two other occasions Smiths were candidates for the vice presidency.

In more than a column, the editor of the Laurel Advocate charges J. P. O'Furey of the Cedar County News with gratuitous and unwarranted criticism of the school board of Laurel.

Dr. A. L. Bixby of the Lincoln Journal, deprecates the ease with which Congressman Edgar Howard accepted his pledge of aid to France, now turning to farm relief with a lot of rosy promises as a stimulant to votes in November.

Wayne Group Back From Trip To West

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. H. Krueger and Miss Louise and Evelyn Wendt arrived home Friday evening from a three weeks' outing in Colorado.

They traveled 2,300 miles, 1,000 miles of which was in the mountains. They found very good roads, the only dangerous places being a few narrow passages in the highest part of the mountains.

The travelers saw cars from forty states and from the District of Columbia and Canada. They saw no Wayne county cars after reaching Columbus on the way west, and until they came to Lincoln on the return.

They went to Colorado through the Lincoln highway and returned on a southern route, stopping at Lincoln before coming home. They experienced no car trouble and had only two punctures on the entire trip.

The four first went to Denver and took trips from there to Bear Creek canyon, Look Out Mountain and other places of interest. They then went to a cabin at Wah Crest park, seventy-five miles southwest of Denver and stayed a week. The cabin was near the source of the Plate river, and from the house they could look over tops of the pines which covered the mountain heavily and down into the Plate river canyon. The cabin stood on a ledge, the mountain rising perpendicularly from the back door and a twelve-foot drop being a short distance in front of the house.

The travelers enjoyed camping and hiking in the mountains. They could see snow-capped Mt. Evans in the distance, and could watch clouds form in the mountains and move down the canyon.

The Wayne group went to Colorado Springs and Estes park before coming home. They were delayed only once in their plans, being obliged to stay at Guide Rock, Neb., enroute home on account of an eight-foot stream of water pouring over a spillway in the highway. There had been a heavy rain and the water gathered from many ravines.

"Circus" Figures In Big Comedy

Some idea as to the physical magnitude of Charlie Chaplin's production, "The Circus," which comes to the Crystal theatre Sept. 16, 17 and 18, may be had from figures compiled by George Webster, general statistician at the Chaplin studio.

Livestock housed at the Chaplin plant in Hollywood for a period of more than a year included elephants, lions, tigers, horses, mules, monkeys, pigs, dogs, cats, ducks, pigeons and geese. To properly feed and care for such an assortment of guests the commissary department was required to handle for many months, food items that totalled more than sixty thousand pounds, the greater bulk of this being in beef and tons of hay, corn, carrots, potatoes and bread.

Spend Summer On Claim In Wyoming

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Andrews arrived home Friday by car after spending the summer on their homestead near Hildville, Wyo. They went west June 20, and Mr. Andrews spent the summer building a new log cabin on the land. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jacobs in Hildville, the latter formerly Miss Irma Jacobs.

The log cabin which Mr. Andrews built was twelve by twenty feet. Timber for the building was obtained from the government reservations about three miles from the Andrews claim.

During the construction period Mrs. Andrews was started to hear a rattling sound and to see a ratslike about three feet long in one of the cracks near the floor. Mr. Andrews shot the snake. A dry hail storm last week did some damage to the house, the stones which were about the size of walnuts marking the roof. No rain fell during the hail storm.

Crops near Hildville are most of them good this year. Wheat is averaging twenty and twenty-bushels to the acre. One man threshed 270 bushels of rye from a ten-acre field. Flax crop is also good. Corn, which grows to the height of two or three feet in Wyoming and which has good-sized ears growing near the ground, will produce a fair crop this season. The corn matures in seventy days. Hay is not especially good this year in the west, Mr. Andrews states.

Miss Lynette Rennick, who went west with Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, remained there and will teach near Hildville. Miss Elmer Rennick, who attended school in Missouri, Mont., this summer, has a school near Great Falls, Mont., this year.

Wonderful Farm Machinery-- FAMOUS McCORMICK-DEERING LINES

We have McCormick-Deering machines in stock and will have them on exhibition at the Wayne county fair next week. See these machines at the fair and note the distinct advantages they offer.

An Investment In Power

Owners everywhere are considering McCormick-Deering tractors an investment in power—an investment that yielding regular dividends by making it possible for one man to do more, to do it easier, and to do it better. In other words, by materially reducing the cost of production, McCormick-Deering tractors are widening the range of profit and making farming more pleasant.

McCormick-Deering P & O Little Wonder TRACTOR PLOW

The No. 2 Little Wonder combines every feature essential to good plowing with a mechanical design which puts plenty of strength where it is needed yet produces a plow that is very light in draft and as light in weight as it is possible to build a good tractor plow. It is all plow—there is no dead weight.

Frequent Spreading Enriches the Soil, Feeds the Crops, Increases the Yield, Makes the Land More Valuable.

A McCormick-Deering spreader saves time, lessens labor, and does the work more efficiently than is possible by hand.

Shell Before You Sell

When you own a McCormick-Deering sheller and shell your corn before you sell it, you can be sure of receiving payment for all the corn, and you have the cobs left for fuel.

You can haul more bushels of shelled corn per load, and as a result move your crop to market in less time. The economy in this is very evident.

It also pays to do your shelling for seed and feed. You can shell just when you want to, and you put the shelling profit into your own pocket. No matter what your shelling needs may be, you will find the right equipment in the McCormick-Deering line. The small McCormick-Deering shellers are ideal for shelling corn for seed and feed and will deliver the cobs in good condition for fuel. The larger shellers are well adapted to custom work as well as individual use, and will easily pay for themselves with what they save on your own crop and by shelling for neighbors.

Four-Cylinder Power Plant

The Standard in Harvester Design.

All McCormick-Deering tractors—10-20, 15-30 and Farmall—have the modern power plant, a fully enclosed, heavy-duty 4-cylinder engine proved by our many years' of farm power development to be the most practical power plant for the tractor. We began a quarter-century ago with a 1-cylinder design, progressed to the 2-cylinder types and outgrew the 2-cylinder period just as the auto- mobile has done.

Our 4-cylinder tractors give the farmer liberal power, steady run- ning, and wonderfully flexible, easy operation not to be obtained by other types. Vibration and surplus weight are reduced to the minimum, parts are properly balanced, all wearing parts are replac- able, and long life is assured the tractor. The performance of the many thousands of 4-cylinder McCormick-Deerings in every part of the country is convincing evidence of correct design.

Sandwich Galvanized Alloy Steel Portable Elevator

Ordinary black sheet steel is unsatisfactory for elevators. We use the best open hearth steel, to which is added COPPER. This COP- PER-ALLOY STEEL fights rust and corrosion. We further treat it with heavy GALVANIZING insuring much longer life than ever before attained by steel elevators.

FUTURE NEEDS

Talk to us about your future needs in the way of tanks, pumps, windmills, gas engines, corn planters, mowers and other machines. We will be glad to show you.

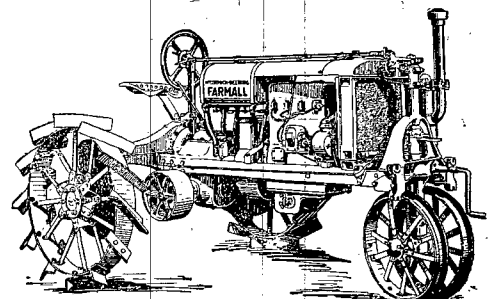

See us for anything you may need in farm equipment. You will receive prompt and courteous treatment.

REPAIRS

The right kind of repairs add new life to your machines. Use only genuine I. H. C. repairs for your McCormick-Deering farm operating equipment. A genuine repair part fits exact- ly and becomes a perfect part of the machine.

McCormick-Deering Corn Pickers

Do you look forward to corn husk- ing time with a mind free from worry or are you wondering how the crop will be picked and husked promptly and without loss? The owner of a McCormick-Deering corn picker can go about his daily task or retire at night carefree, for he knows that no matter how big the crop or how scarce labor may be, he can handle his corn crop easily with his own help.

Great Labor-Saving Farmall

CULTIVATING CORN. The Farmall cultivates two rows at a time. One man can cultivate 15 to 25 acres a day, which is doing the work of two or three men and four to six horses. The Farmall has ample power to pull two addi- tional two-row cultivators. Where this equipment is avail- able, six rows can be cultivated at a time.

PLOWING. Under average soil conditions the Farmall will plow 7 to 10 acres a day. This is equivalent to the work of three men and nine horses.

HARVESTING CORN. The Farmall furnishes steady, uniform power for pulling the corn binder or corn picker. In doing this work it saves both time and labor. A man and a boy can pick three or four times as much corn with this outfit as they can by hand.

The New McCormick-Deering

Ball-Bearing Cream Separator

When you consider that a cream separator bowl turns approximately 9,000 revolutions a minute, you realize that THE BEARINGS AND THE BOWL SPINDLE MUST BE RIGHT. The slight- est wobble, vibration, or friction in these parts makes the machine turn hard and lowers its skim- ming efficiency. That's why the builders of the New McCormick-Deering use a bowl spindle heav- ier than any other and mount it on friction-free ball bearings. McCormick-Deering engineers take no chances—they make your satisfaction certain.

Don't think lightly of the turning question. It is vital. You'll turn your machines twice each day, or 730 times a year. Isn't it worth while to save seven or eight thousand backaches dur- ing the life of your machine? Let us demonstrate the New McCormick-Deer- ing on your farm. No obligation.
