Atwater Kent Radios and Speakers

The new 1928-1929 series of Atwater Kent receiving sets and radio speakers present a wonderful opportunity to homes not yet supplied. Many improvements and refinements have been made and prices quoted are made possible by expert quantity production.

Better Than Ever, Lower Prices

Atwater Kent electric radio—radio's best seller since the first of the year—is now better than ever—and lower in price.

More than a quarter of a million families are enjoying the fraction-of-a-cent-an-hour economy and the full-vision dial simplicity of Atwater Kent battery-less radio. Today these are yours with greater power and sensitivity—a wider range of stations—for considerably less money. Every set is tested many times before it leaves the factory and it must be perfect.

Drop in and try one of these sets or phone for a demonstration in your home. We will prove to your satisfaction what the Atwater Kent Radio will do.

Radio Speakers

For the 1928-1929 season three reliable, efficient Atwater Kent speakers, differing practically in size only, are presented. Faithfulness, clarity and smoothness are substantiated claims for "Radio's Truest Voice."

Wayne City School Has Vacations That Teachers May Attend Meetings

Professional Programs for Faculty Members Are Planned—Other School News.

At a meeting of the student council of the Wayne high school Tuesday, October 2, Dr. Surber was appointed to choose the committee to select pins which will be given to students in place of the regular season activity tickets.

New officers elected for the band this year are: President, Herman Eickhoff; vice-president, Donald Beaman; secretary-treasurer, Dick Fanske.

It was decided by the school board that the teachers of the high school should be given two days to attend the state teachers' meeting which is to be held in Norfolk, October 31, November 1, 2 and 3. At this meeting Supt. T. S. Hook will give a talk on "Teacher Tenure." Miss Dorothy Cooley is to act as chairman of the round table discussion in the commercial department. Mrs. Alis Pollard is secretary of the high school and administration department.

The regular monthly meeting of the faculty was held Monday, October 1. Plans were discussed for teachers to do resource work on their particular subjects.

Professional meetings for the high school faculty have been scheduled for the future. These meetings will consist of a short discussion of business matters and of general and specific problems. The latter part of the meeting is devoted to a discussion of professional methods. Teachers in charge of these meetings are: Miss Olive Huse and Mrs. Alis Pollard, October 15; Miss Mary Mielenz and Walter Albert, November 12; Miss Glennie Bardon and Supt. T. S. Hook, December 10; R. K. Holder, January 14; P. W. Maynard, February 11; Miss Dorothy Cooley, March 11; Mrs. Lura Belle Johnson, April 15. The slogan for 1928-1929 is "Excellence in Teaching."

On account of the county teachers institute held in the high school Monday and Tuesday, October 8 and 9, school was dismissed for those two days. The instructors who gave lectures at this institute were: Prof. E. M. Gregg, Lincoln; R. B. Clarke, Kearney; F. E. Alder, Pierce; and Mrs. Gladys B. Jackson, Lincoln.

School was dismissed at 2:30 last Friday that the students might have an opportunity to attend the football games at Stanton.

An extension telephone has been installed in the lower hall for convenience of teachers and students who formerly had to use the phone in the office.

A new Underwood typewriter has been purchased for use in the superintendent's office. The typewriter formerly used has been placed in the commercial room.

Athletic Notes.

Coach R. K. Holder made some changes in the lineup of the football squad before the game with and they need two more class members to do it.

The solid geometry class is completing book I.

Students in the advanced typing class are typing all high school news items.

The class in news writing is studying the body of a newspaper story.

"The economy of spending and saving" and "prudence in investing" are topics being discussed in the economics class. The class is studying sources of investment. In order that they may know what balance sheets and profit and loss sheets of a sound firm should look like, they are studying simple balance sheets and profit and loss statements of several well-known companies.

The United States history class is studying colonial life. Maps showing the early stages of the westward movement are being made. Charts are being started which show the division of slavery, the westward migration, democracy and representative government and territorial expansion.

Dr. J. G. W. Lewis and Prof. P. W. Maynard are preparing a program of history pictures which will be offered to students of the normal and high school soon.

Forty-six and two-thirds per cent of the members of the student council are seniors.

Junior Class.

Raymond Keem is a new student in the junior class. His father, Martin F. Keem, is employed at the Boyd hotel. Raymond Keem formerly lived at Herman, Neb., but most of his school work was done in Nebraska City.

On the student council this year there are fifteen representatives. Five of these are juniors, giving the class thirty-three and one-third percent of the vote of the council. They are Herman Eickhoff, Wilbur Porterfield, Carl Peterson, George Downing and Frederick Dowling. Other junior officers are: Kathryn Kemp, vice president of the girls' glee club, and Clemith Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the W club.

The dramatics and debating clubs have been combined this year in a forensic league.

The third year English class wrote the second book reports on Wednesday. The class is starting the study of the play "Hamlet" by Shakespeare. One day each week is given to oral reports. The purpose of oral reports is to familiarize the students with the leading magazines and the events of the day as well as to train them in the rudiments of correct grammar.

The physics class is studying the mechanics of gases, which includes a study of the compressibility and expansibility of gases. A study is also being made of weather maps, the atmosphere, and compression and exhaust pumps.

Sophomore Class.

The sophomore class this year holds thirteen and one-half per cent of the votes on the student council.

The world history class has been studying mimeographed copies, which are really topical summaries, for the purpose of keeping track of the developments of each subject in each country at the same time.

The English II classes have just completed a review of the parts of speech. The class will write themes next week.

Esther Ames is a new member of the freshman class. She lived here about a year and a half ago. In a recent test it was found that the freshmen have thirteen and one-half percent of the student council vote.

The agriculture I class has made two experiments. In the first one seed corn was tested. In the second one grafting was done.

The class plans to make a hot bed this next month. If it is successful they will have plants for sale next spring.

The English I classes are studying "Silas Marner." These classes carry out the following plan of study: Two days out of the week the class studies Silas Marner; one day is given over to oral composition; another day a lesson in Tanner Composition and rhetoric; and the remaining day is devoted to theme work.

Wednesday, October 3, the first book reports were written. New blanks for book reports have been received and bought by the pupils.

The physiography class has finished the study of the atmosphere and is now studying the general movements of the atmosphere. Last week two demonstrations were given in class: One showing the expansibility of air and the other showing the pressure of the atmosphere.

The algebra I class has new books. Each member has bought his own. The name of the new book is Exercises and Tests in Algebra, by Smith-Reeve-Morris.

Eighth Grade.

The eighth grade had tests last week.

At a class meeting, the eighth grade voted to have a candy sale in the lower hall Friday, October 19. They also plan to have a Halloween party on October 31. The committees in charge are as follows: Entertainment, Don Miller, Marcella Weber, Joyce Decker, Fred Cross and Mirabel Blair; decoration, Elmer Kilbourne, Mary Ann Strahan, and Isabel Hansen; and menu, Marian Jones, Robert Kingston, Gertrude Cash, Elsie Bonawitz, and Pauline Assenheimer.

Peggy Morris was absent one day last week on account of illness.

The eighth grade made color charts in art class.

Seventh Grade.

There was no tardiness last week. Several pupils were absent. Verona McNatt was absent September 27 and 28 on account of sickness. Edwin Thies, Thomas Liveringhouse and Dean Simpson were also absent. Netha James has returned to school after a two weeks' absence.

Six weeks' examinations were given October 2 and 3. Members of the art class made conventional designs of marigolds.

A speed test was given in the B reading class Thursday, September 27. The fastest readers were Warren Bald, first; Keith Cartwright, second; and Catherine Keem, third.

Sixth Grade Notes.

The sixth grade has just completed a study of fractions. An arithmetic test was given last week. Amy Barnes, Earl Bonawitz and Helen Vath all received 100 per cent.

The sixth A class is studying journeys. These are very effective in familiarizing the pupil with geography.

The boys of the sixth grade gave their teacher, Mrs. Belva Melvin, an apple roll, Monday.

Pearl Barnes had a birthday party Friday.

Miss Nona Colligan of Lyons, visited the sixth grade this week.

Fifth Grade.

A's, O's and C's of the best penmanship in the fifth grade have been placed along the blackboard.

Frank Strahan is librarian and is in charge of all school library books.

Members of the A language class are giving oral talks on citizenship in the halls, on the grounds and in public places. The B language class is telling short stories to illustrate the types of sentences as to their use.

Peggy Strahan, Josephine Ley and Gladys Downing received 100 in the first 100-word spelling test.

To arouse interest, a silk project has been started in the A geography class. The pupils are studying Asia.

Color charts of a tulip design were made in art work.

The Packards are one mile ahead in the health race. Dorothy Hook is the new secretary-treasurer of the health club.

In order to have room for the potted fernery from art fiber, Mrs. A. C. Downing visited in the fifth grade Friday, September 28.

Fourth Grade.

A health club has been organized by the fourth grade. The officers are as follows: Geraldine Gamble, president; Margaret Randall, vice-president; Neva Jones, secretary; R. B. Peck, treasurer. Each member must observe the rules of the club each day. The rules are: Clean hands, face, neck, ears and fingernails; teeth brushed twice a day; hair combed neatly; shoes brushed; and ten hours of sleep each night with open windows. The president chooses two health inspectors each morning to see that all rules have been observed.

In order to make the classroom more attractive, caged animals were collected and placed about the room last Friday.

Every Friday the fourth grade has a radio reading class. An announced is chosen, and the pupils read poems and stories as the radio program. This improves their oral reading.

Norma Fuesler was absent from school because of illness, last Monday morning. Miss Kate Taylor of Plainview, visited the fourth grade last Thursday. During the first month of school, fifteen pupils have perfect attendance records. They are: Carol Peterson, Buford Johnson, Ray Bonawitz, R. B. Peck, Geraldine Gamble, Ruth Judson, Margaret Randall, Wilma Baker, Helen Bald, Luegn Barnes, Margaret Mau, Marie Thies, Lois Thompson, Helen Westerhouse and Deloris McNatt.

Third Grade.

Mrs. F. L. Blair visited the third grade Monday, October 1. The third grade pupils have made a vegetable border for their room. The pupils have also made a color chart showing the six standard colors and the primary colors. The third grade pupils were entertained by the fourth grade with an impromptu dramatization of a play taken from their reading lesson.

The B class has finished "The Sunbonnet Babies in Holland." They enjoyed it so much that they wrote to Supt. Hook requesting that he order "The Over-all Boys in Switzerland."

A special fingernail inspection was held in the third grade. Those with satisfactory nails were allowed to parade before the first grade. All in the class but two were allowed to go.

Second Grade News.

Bonnell Jones was absent the first of the week on account of illness.

The second grade pupils have just begun the study of Indians in connection with their language course. They have made likenesses of Indian rugs with paper and have also made Indian pottery with clay.

An apple shower for Mrs. Lulu Waite was given Wednesday, October 3.

First Grade.

A new pupil, Inamse Meyer, entered the first grade Monday. There are twenty-two pupils in the class now.

Alice Mae Stoven was absent from school a half day last week. The first grade boys had a perfect attendance record.

In order to raise their weights to "drink milk" campaign in hygiene this month. Last month they worked on keeping clean,

A Rich Man's Darling or a Poor Man's Slave?

For a girl reared in her father's saloon, Anna's exquisite beauty seemed incredible. Yet how she loathed her surroundings! If someone would only take her away and give her a chance for real happiness.

When wealthy Carl Morron, struck by her beauty, offered to "adopt" her—give her a lovely home, beautiful clothes—everything—it seemed her dreams had come true. But when Anna realized that she was simply being "bought," she flamed with revolt. Since her father was determined on the "adoption," there was only one way out: that night she boarded a train for the city, where, friendless and alone, she soon found herself eking out a miserable existence.

Then Frank Weston came into her life.

Frank was poor, but loved her—wanted to marry her. But at thought of the future, Anna's heart quailed. Life with Frank meant honorable marriage—but it also meant more poverty, hardship and struggle. Could she do it? Were honest love and her own honor worth the sacrifice? Carl Morron, who offered her every luxury, would still welcome her. Would it not after all be better to be a rich man's darling than a poor man's slave?

Don't miss the rest of this profoundly moving story. It is entitled "Is There Any Escape," and appears complete in the November True Story Magazine.

The Family Budget

The family budget and ours are alike in one particular—outgo must not exceed income if success is to be attained.

Telephone revenues must be sufficient to meet all expenses, such as taxes and wages. They also must provide a fair return on the value of the property.

Otherwise, reliable service cannot be provided to the public and additional money cannot be obtained from investors to expand the business to meet the increasing demands for service.

Your telephone needs can be met satisfactorily only when the telephone income is sufficient.

Visitor Tells Of Holy Land (Continued from Page Three.) much as did the proud and ancient city of Jerusalem, and I approached it with the keenest interest and reverence. Here the Master grew in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man. Here he labored, as I saw carpenters, one a young man of about twenty-two, of the wood-working shops. Much the same methods as in His time, scholars tell us. Here, He saw the traders, the housewife making bread, the wedding, the sower, the lilies of the field, the storms gathering on the hills back of the town,—oh, so much of the material of his matchless parables. They show tourists, with complete assurance, places where many of the incidents of His life at Nazareth are supposed to have occurred. The site of carpenter-shop of Joseph, the home of Mary, the home of Joseph and many others. Two were especially impressive. One, the very old synagogue, built, perhaps on the same site where stood the one in which He announced His mission. Here with His parents he heard the scrolls read, and here learned from the rabbi much of the law and the prophets. The other, the Well of the Virgin, as it is now called, for centuries the only source of water supply for the whole village. Here were twelve or fifteen women of the village with their water jars or their Standard Oil Company five gallon cans, talking, laughing with one another, just as Mary did nineteen hundred years ago. This is one spot of which even the skeptic may be very sure, though the water has been piped down a little further than formerly. How erect and graceful these oriental women are under their heavy loads, which they balance with amazing skill on their heads. The Nazareth Hotel should not be mentioned in the same breath with the Heldenbrand. No screens on the windows; the food not worthy of many compliments. About two-thirty in the morning the Nazareth sand flies awakened me. How attentive they were. Impossible to swat one. And they just thrive on the oil of citronella with which I swathed my pillow. I have a great deal more respect than ever for the honor of the Pontiac mosquitoes, who at least give a warning hum before they bite. These sand flies have no rules for the game, and are ravenous. I was glad they awakened me, however, for just under my window on the street there passed in the darkness a caravan of at least a dozen camels. Silent they were, their bells,—I bought one just as a memory,—giving the most mellow and musical tinkle I think I've ever heard. I lay listening through the minutes until music faded into silence. It more than repaid the sleepless hours until morning, when I went for a walk along these ancient streets. Everyone beginning the work of the day, in many ways just as they did centuries ago. Toward the Sea of Galilee. Cana of Galilee is just a short evening's walk from Nazareth. Here in the church, which we could not visit, they claim to have one of the original jars used for the wine at the wedding feast, which Jesus attended. Most of the claims out here are not to be taken too seriously. How persistent these Cana children are, while our puncture is being fixed, in disposing of the miniature wine jars—empty—and of the other trinkets they have for sale. I try to take a picture of two children, whose mother apparently fears the evil eye, for she hurries them away. In David street in Jerusalem a similar incident occurred, when an ancient Jew, who was reading put his book up to his face and fairly ran into the back part of his store. We pass the Horns of Hattin, where fortunately we have another puncture, and we walk over part of the ancient battle field.

Advertisement for Maytag Roller Water Remover. Includes text: 'A GREAT ACHIEVEMENT', 'IMPROVED COLD WEATHER PERFORMANCE', 'Resulting from the CROSS-FLOW RADIATOR', 'The cross-flow radiators in the cooling systems of the Pontiac Six and the Oakland All-American Six reduce to a minimum the evaporation of water and alcohol. An automatic thermostat prevents water circulation until the engine reaches correct operating temperature. As a consequence the engine warms up quickly and less choking is needed, reducing dilution of crankcase oil. Because of the protection the cross-flow radiator provides against losses of water and alcohol, the Pontiac Six and the All-American Six require less attention in winter than other cars. Also, through their thermostatic control, they reveal far better performance than other cars in their fields when the temperature is low... The cross-flow radiator is available only on the Pontiac Six and the All-American Six. Come in and see it. And learn while you're here of the many other advancements which only these two great General Motors Sixes provide.' Includes images of the radiator and the roller water remover machine.
