Kiwanis Club Holds Banquet

Wayne Members Entertain Women at Dinner and Program Monday at Stratton.

Lincoln Speaker

Ernest C. Folsom, Nebraska-Iowa Kiwanis Governor, Pleasured With Address.

Wayne Kiwanians entertained their wives at the seventh annual ladies' banquet and program at Hotel Stratton Monday evening, about 120 being present for the occasion. Ernest C. Folsom of Lincoln, Kiwanis governor of the Nebraska-Iowa district, gave the principal address.

Roses in bouquets and as favors for the women, programs in Kiwanis colors of blue, white and gold, paper cards, table decorations, and not to mention gifts for the women and cigars for the men. A sumptuous dinner was served. Music during the meal was furnished by Prof. W. C. Hunter, Miss Margaret and Miss Marian Ahern and Miss Marian Jo Theobald.

William Beckenhauer, president of the Kiwanis club, officiated as toastmaster at the program. Following the flag salute the group sang "America." Rev. W. W. Whitman gave the invocation. The club sang selections, and Mrs. Lura Belle Johnson sang a solo. Supt. T. S. Hook, secretary, gave an interesting review of Kiwanis activities. A mixed quartet including F. E. Gamble, Mrs. A. R. Davis, Mrs. Lura Belle Johnson and H. A. Welch sang. E. W. Hulsevich introduced Ernest C. Folsom, who gave the address of the evening.

Wayne Musical Group Delights

High School Band Wins Many Admirers in Radio Program at Norfolk Sunday.

Number Messages

Norfolk Chamber of Commerce Entertains the Young Folks at Luncheon.

Delighting scores of listeners with their music, the Wayne High school band, directed by Prof. F. C. Reed, attained great success in a program broadcast from radio station WJAG, at Norfolk Sunday afternoon. The organization includes forty young folks, and difficult group and individual numbers were presented. Many long distance congratulatory messages were received during the concert. About twenty cars conveyed the band to Norfolk. The players were guests of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce at luncheon after the program.

Messages complimenting the musicians were received from Nebraska and Iowa. Several calls were received, besides numerous messages from Wayne, Wakefield, Ponca and other nearby towns. About eighty calls were sent.

The band dedicated numbers to Prof. Reed, Supt. T. S. Hook, Miss Polly Krasomil of Fremont, the Wayne Legion and other groups and individuals. "The William Tell" overture and "Peer Gynt Suite," difficult selections, were exceptionally well rendered. Miss Gretchen Teckhaus and Miss Fannell Beckenhauer, presenting vocal numbers, and Stanley McChesney and Evan Dennis, giving cornet and trombone duets, won many friends. Prof. Reed was highly complimented by many on his able direction of the group.

Former Wayne Girl Appears in Drama

Ruth King, formerly of Wayne, is playing the role of Anna in the drama, "Way Down East," which is being presented this week at an Omaha theatre.

This actress is taking a heavy role in this play on the legitimate stage. She has appeared in many motion pictures also. Ruth King is a daughter of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McKee. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. King who used to live here.

STEAM FROM CITY POWER PLANT FOR BUSINESS HOUSES

EXTENDED use of the steam from the city power plant is advised for the business district as a source of municipal gain and private economy. Steam that is now going to waste could be piped up Main street and made to serve many business houses. The first cost might seem high, but in due time important saving to consumers would be effected and the city would convert lost into profit. Convenience would also be a strong consideration. There would be no fires to build and keep going, no ashes to remove and haul away. There would be no smoke or soot to spoil surrounding scenery. Many advantages would accrue to business houses in using the city's wasted steam, and a feasible plan looking to the end proposed, would, we feel sure, prove acceptable to all concerned.

National Scout Week Observed

Wayne Groups Unite in Programs for Nineteenth Anniversary of Organization.

Plans Each Day

Banquet for Men and Boys Friday Starts Variety of Activities for Young Folks.

National boy scout week, which opens February 8, is being observed by local scouts and their leaders with features each day, beginning Friday and continuing through next Thursday. The occasion celebrates nineteen years of scouting in this country.

Men and boys have a banquet Friday, February 8, at the Methodist church, followed by a program. Paul Mims, L. A. Fanske and Walter Albert have charge of arrangements.

Scouts of troop One will take over the city offices here from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. Saturday, February 9. Boys will be mayor, police officers, etc. R. R. Larson has charge of arrangements for this training. A downtown display of scout work will be made. Boys will raise and lower the flag with proper ceremonies.

Scouts attend special services Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Fenton C. Jones will deliver the sermon.

Kiwanians will entertain the scouts as guests at dinner Monday, February 11, at Hotel Stratton. O. S. Spillman of Norfolk, former attorney general of Nebraska, will speak on "Abraham Lincoln."

Scout programs will be given in the city school and training school by scouts Tuesday, February 12. These will be exhibits of scout work.

Troop One will entertain parents at the meeting at the college next Wednesday. Prof. A. F. Gulliver is leader of this group. A scout program will be followed by a social time and refreshments.

Troop One sponsors a scout motion picture next Thursday evening at the college auditorium. "The Sky Pilot" will be the main feature and there will also be a special picture showing scout work.

John Kemp represents Wayne scouts next Saturday, February 9, at the program to be broadcast from radio station WJAG, Norfolk, at 9 o'clock. One of each of thirty scout groups in north-east Nebraska will take part.

Wayne has three scout groups participating in the national anniversary program. Prof. Gulliver, Henry Ley and Mr. Albert are leaders.

Former Wayne Resident Dies

Mrs. Lovilla Collinson Passes Away at Home of Daughter in Eureka, Kansas.

Here Years Ago

Husband of Deceased Had Clothing Store on Present Hardware Site.

Mrs. Lovilla Southard Collinson, former resident of Wayne, passed away January 22 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Simon of Eureka, Kan., aged 79 years and 4 months. Funeral service was held at Eureka January 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collinson lived in Wayne about thirty-five years ago, the former being in the clothing business in a building on the present site of the Hiscoc hardware. They came to Wayne from Carroll where they lived a few years. Mr. Collinson died at Lewiston, Neb., in 1909, when serving as Baptist minister.

Mrs. Collinson, whose maiden name was Miss Lovilla Southard, was born in Berlin, Wis., September 15, 1849. She was married in 1869 to Thomas Collinson at Orion, Ill. Their children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Collinson: Mrs. O. E. Simon of Eureka, Kan., Mrs. Edith Alexander of Denver, and Clyde Collinson who died ten years ago. The two daughters, nine grandchildren and a sister survive Mrs. Collinson.

Mr. Simon of Eureka, is a brother of Mrs. F. O. Martin of Wayne.

Most of License Plates Are Sold

County Treasurer J. J. Steele has sold 2,950 of the 4,000 passenger car and truck licenses for Wayne county. The final date for use of last year's licenses was January 31. Many are not using their cars during winter months and will buy them later. All cars in 1929 should now bear the

ELECTRIC GROUP TURNS TO PRESS AS BEST MEDIUM

FOLLOWING two years of careful research, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company finds that the newspaper is the best advertising medium and has decided to treble the amount of newspaper space formerly used. The company proposes to start an increased advertising campaign at once and keep it up. What that company has found, other groups of individuals, whatever may be their business, or how extensively they may be engaged, will find. There is no question that newspaper advertising is more certain with less waste than any other kind. Bills are largely wasted and the radio offers no possibility for review or proof. Newspaper advertising, carefully safeguarded and capable of preservation, commands respect that can be found in no other means of publicity.

Struck By Car Lad Is Injured

Wilmer Ellis, 6, Sustains Fractured Skull Saturday When Riding on Sled.

Condition Is Good

Impact of Two Cars Causes Boy to Strike Bumper and Sustain Injuries.

When thrown against the bumper of a car as the machines driven by L. W. Ellis and Miss Helen Mohr collided at the corner of Fourth and Lincoln streets Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock, Wilmer, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, sustained a fractured skull and slight injuries to his chest. He was unconscious for seven hours. As no hemorrhaging resulted in seventy hours after the accident and as the lad, familiarly known as Buster, is resting well and taking nourishment now, he is regarded by attendants at the Wayne hospital as well on the way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were driving south on Lincoln with their two children, Betty and Buster on separate sleds which were tied close to the rear of the car, one on each side. The Mohr sedan, in which Miss Helen Mohr, Mrs. Lizzie Mohr, Miss Tillie Mohr and William Mohr were riding, was going east on Fourth street. The intersection was icy and, in trying to avoid an accident, the front bumper on the Mohr car and the back bumper on the Ellis car caught. It is thought the impact threw Buster Ellis against the bumper of one of the cars and fractured the back of his head. Each car was turned around and Buster was carried between the wheels of the Mohr car about thirty feet. He was not hurt by this, however, as heavy clothing protected him and he slid along the ice. Betty Ellis was not injured. Her sled went out of the path of the cars.

Buster Ellis was rushed to the Wayne hospital for X-ray examination and care. He is improving now.

House Resembles Igloo Of Eskimo

Group of Little Folks in Wayne Makes Play Structure of Snow and Ice.

Study of Eskimo homes of snow and ice was the inspiration for construction of a typical igloo by a group of little folks, and the house representing the kind used in the far north, now stands on the Homer S. Seace lawn.

Mattie Seace had read about Eskimo dwellings in geography and with the aid of Homer Seace, Jr., Herbert Welch, Jr., Jack and Bobbie Dale and Robert Shreve, her ambition to build one like the Eskimo homes was realized.

Hard snow, cut into blocks, was taken by the little folks on sleds from the college campus to the Seace lawn. These blocks of snow were piled in the shape of the Eskimo dwellings. The children then smoothed off the interior walls and washed them with water. The water froze and made a hard wall. The outside was also covered with water which froze into a rigid surface. The children made an opening for a door and covered it with a cloth. Straw was placed on the floor.

The little Eskimo house is warm and comfortable and is used as a play house. The ceiling is high enough that a man can stand in the snow dwelling. The room will accommodate six children.

"The imitation igloo not only shows ingenuity but considerable ability on the part of the young folks."

Chilcott Hog Sale Brings Good Prices

Chilcott brothers of near Wisner, held a sale of Hampshire bred sows and gilts Monday and realized an average of $80.25. The top price was about $175. Many buyers attended. D. H. Cunningham of Wayne, officiated as auctioneer.

Legion Posts Hold Meeting

Members From Seven Counties Gather in Wayne for Program on Tuesday.

State Men Here

H. A. Welch Presides and A. R. Davis Gives Address at Banquet in Hotel.

American Legion men of seven counties, Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Thurston, Cumming and Hart, met at Wayne Tuesday for one of the thirteen district conventions being held in the state under the new plan recently adopted by the department executive committee. State officers attended and took part in the program. H. A. Welch of the Wayne post, is district commander and presided. About 150 Legion men attended the program at the city hall in the morning and afternoon, the luncheon at the Legion hall at noon and the banquet at Hotel Stratton in the evening.

The new plan divides the state into thirteen districts and the seven counties meeting in Wayne Tuesday comprise district Three. Mr. Welch is leader. The district includes twenty-three posts. Leaders in each county were chosen Tuesday as follows: Cedar, Earl Barks of Belden; Dixon, R. G. Hanson of Wakefield; Dakota, to be appointed; Wayne, Dr. W. M. Hawkins of Wayne; Thurston, to be appointed; Cumming, Harry F. Johnson of Wisner; and Hart, Frank Bishop of Tekamah.

State officers here were: Walter Martin of Stratton, state commander; Sam Reynolds of Omaha, national committee man of Nebraska; E. J. Wieland of Omaha, representative for the United States Veterans' Bureau; and C. W. Conklin of Lincoln, state adjutant. Wayne, Winside, Wakefield, Wisner and West Point had largest delegations at the meeting.

Purposes of the district plan were outlined by Commander Martin in his address as follows: To perfect an organization to carry on the year's program; to stimulate membership campaigns to conclude these early and devote more time to constructive service; and to allow department officers to come in contact with posts and present to them the program for the year.

Mr. Martin gave a brief history of the Legion, stating that the organization was started by a group of U. S. soldiers who met in Paris ten years ago next March. By time of the first convention in Minneapolis the membership reached 500,000. The organization has done many outstanding things, among them being the following: Preventing the "reds" from gaining headway; helping the 52,000 ex-service men who are unable to care for themselves and establishing fifty-one hospitals; finding employment for thousands; securing enactment of adjustment compensation act; raising a $5,000,000 endowment to aid children of those killed or disabled; conducting a campaign for better education, restriction of immigration, education of foreign born and assistance of the boy scout and junior baseball movements; and rebuilding communities.

Among the proposals in the present program are the following: Placing membership in the strongest possible position, Nebraska enrolling 20,000; providing adequate service to disabled; serving the community in betterment plans; supporting an American program which provides improved education, physical fitness and good sportsmanship; urging emergency relief; transmitting true American ideals; promoting safety to lessen the number of lives lost by accidents; and supporting sufficient national preparedness to protect people and institutions.

Order of Activities. Registration and transaction of business occupied the morning hours. Luncheon was served by the Wayne men at noon. Joe Meister and H. G. Hostetter being in charge.

H. A. Welch greeted the guests in the afternoon. C. W. Conklin responded. Mr. Martin, Mr. Conklin and Mr. Reynolds gave addresses and business closed the program.

Wayne high school band, directed by Prof. F. C. Reed played in the lobby of Hotel Stratton from 5:30 until 6 for entertainment of the visitors.

Banquet in Evening. Banquet at Hotel Stratton in the evening was attended by about 140. H. A. Welch presided, and Prof. C. E. Wilson acted as toastmaster. A. R. Davis of Lincoln gave the principal address and stressed the many opportunities for service and leadership which the Legion men have in present day affairs. All of the state officers and Mr. Welch also gave short talks.

Music during the dinner was furnished by the high school orchestra. The group sang army songs. Harry Smith of Winside, sang, and a quartet, consisting of L. W. Ellis, W. C. Shultheis, J. E. Brittain and Mr. Welch, gave several numbers. Mr. Thies, commander of the Belden post, played concertina selections.

Mrs. Fenton C. Jones left Wednesday for Rochester, Minn., to go through the Mayo clinic.

Neihardt Hall Is Formally Opened At Wayne Teachers College Friday

Many People From Wayne and Surrounding Towns Visit New Dormitory.

Neihardt hall, new dormitory for girls at the Wayne State Teachers College, was formally opened last Friday, February 1, and hundreds from Wayne and surrounding towns visited the building. The hall, one of the most attractive and convenient in the middle west, was constructed at a cost of about $110,000, and accommodates 150 girls. One wing remains unfinished but this will probably be completed within two years and the building will then house 200 girls.

Guests were received in the building between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. Girls who live in the hall acted as hostesses, assisting Pres. and Mrs. U. S. Conn. Prof. E. J. Huntmer and Miss Helen Pence. Guests were met and escorted through the building, one girl remaining in each room to greet the visitors. Music was furnished by the college orchestral club, directed by Prof. W. C. Hunter, and tea and wafers were served by the girls.

The large living room, recreation hall, individual rooms and other parts of the building presented a most pleasing home atmosphere, and the students are provided every convenience at small cost.

Former County Resident Dies

Mrs. Arthur Sieck Who Lived at Wayne and Carroll, Passes in Council Bluffs.

Rites Wednesday

Deceased Had Undergone an Operation Three Weeks Ago in City Hospital.

Mrs. Arthur Sieck of Council Bluffs, former resident of Wayne and Carroll, passed away Sunday morning, aged about 64 years. She had undergone an operation three weeks ago Monday and did not regain her strength. Funeral service was held in Council Bluffs Wednesday and interment was made in the cemetery there.

The Sieck family lived on the Mick farm near Carroll for three years, moving to Wayne about eight years ago. After living here for a time they went to Council Bluffs where they resided since.

Mrs. Sieck's maiden name was Miss Katie Martins. She was born in Germany, besides her husband, she leaves seven sons, Theodore, Henry, Albert, Rudolph, Walter, Ben, Arthur and two daughters, Clara, Stephens and Alice Sieck. All of the children live in Omaha and Council Bluffs excepting Albert, who resides at Stanton. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Carl Carlsen of Carroll, and one brother, John Martins of Omaha.

Mrs. Carlsen of Carroll, spent a couple of weeks in Omaha with her sister and Mr. Carlsen went there for the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. George Bock of Carroll, Ben Nissen and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyers, Jr., of Wayne, also went for the funeral. ## WHOLESALE LAWS REGULATE SCOUT RULE OF ACTION

Boy Scout work starts Friday and local scouts are planning a series of events that will enlighten understanding of the plans and purposes of the organization. Scout laws are based on the most wholesome rules of living, encouraging clean thoughts and clean bodies, and orderly and industrious habits. It would seem that every requisite to proper conduct is covered by scout regulations and that a boy who observes them, could not go far wrong. We need more people who are imbued with the duty of work as well as the spirit of play, and the scout movement is one calculated to raise standard and safeguard future civilization, and the lively interest manifested is a reasonable assurance of success.

Chain Newspapers. York Republican: A bill has been introduced in congress to deny second class mail privileges to newspapers which shall hereafter be held in common ownership with other newspapers.

The bill is a challenge to chain newspapers which are more and more common and threaten to perpetrate a newspaper conspiracy on the people that is ruled by a few master minds sitting at the places of authority.

This newspaper does not believe the menace of chain daily newspapers is going to be effectively met with legislation or bringing law to bear on the situation. As long as the conditions exist that make chain newspapers possible, there will be chain newspapers.

When the people are aroused to the situation and see that newspapers owned in groups and controlled from a central mind, devoted wholly to commercialism, are a positive menace to social progress and safety, they will rise up to overthrow that despotism.

The welfare of the nation rests solemnly on the freedom of the press, as well as its principled independence. When that is done away, the public conscience has lost a medium of expression, and the voice of the press will become a faint whisper.

The most noticeable thing about most family trees is their need of printing.—Publishers' Syndicate.

SURE HATCH

Incubator and Brooder Prices For 1929

20 percent to 25 percent reduction in price over former years, and the incubators and brooders have not been cheapened in any way, but due to the large volume on these machines the factory is able to make this reduction.

From the day the first Sure Hatch incubator was manufactured until today, they have given satisfaction in every way—larger hatches, stronger chicks and lower costs.

1. A Scout Is Trustworthy

A Scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie, or by cheating, or by not doing exactly a given task, when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his Scout badge.

All honor to an organization which builds boys whose honor is to be trusted.

The Scout Oath:

ON MY HONOR I WILL DO MY BEST:

1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout law.
2. To help other people at all times.
3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

Success to the Scout movement. Its principles, embodied in the Scout oath, are sound.

Dr. G. J. Hess, M. D.

2. A Scout Is Loyal

He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due: His Scout leader, his home and parents and country.

Congratulations to the Scouts on their nineteenth birthday.

Joe Smolski
FRENCH BEAUTY PARLOR

3. A Scout Is Helpful

He must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons, and share the home duties. He must do at least one good turn to somebody every day.

Success to the Army of Scouts who strive to live up to the law.

Dr. C. A. McMaster
DENTIST

4. A Scout Is Friendly.

He is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout.

We appreciate the friendship of the youth of today, recognizing in them the business men of the future. That the benefits may be mutual, the officers of this institution consider it a privilege to be allowed to advise and consult with you.

First National Bank

5. A Scout Is Courteous

He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people, and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

We stand at attention as the Scouts pass by.

Fred L. Blair

6. A Scout Is Kind

He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.

Modern business methods demand that all transactions be handled quickly and efficiently. Our real estate, loans and insurance connections make it possible for us to accommodate you.

We extend congratulations to the Boy Scouts of America.

F. G. PHILLEO
Real Estate, Loans and Insurance

7. A Scout Is Obedient

He obeys his parents Scoutmaster, patrol leader, and all other duly constituted authorities.

Law abiding citizens are the outgrowth of training received through scouting.

We congratulate the Boy Scouts of America.

DAVIS & WELCH

Attorneys-At-Law

8. A Scout Is Cheerful

He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheery. He never shirks nor grumbles at hardships.

Scouting produces men of character trained for citizenship.

Dr. R. W. Casper

9. A Scout Is Thrifty

He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

The requirement of the scout test, to earn and deposit a certain amount of money was not made for the sake of the original saving but as a start in the formation of a saving habit. There is no more definite assurance of success than a habit so created.

10. A Scout Is Brave

He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear and to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

The business world has a place for such men.
Come on, Scouts!

Theobald & Horney

12. A Scout Is Reverent

He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties, and respects the convictions of others in the matters of custom and religion.

We consider your watch a delicate piece of mechanism. It should be treated with due regard for its value. We guarantee our workmanship and repairs.

J. G. MINES

Deceit may seem sly enough to the deceiver to insure success, but it is always more apparent than imagined.

Peculiar to this season of stoking stoves and furnaces are the narrow, ebony rings encircling men's wrists at points where their shirt sleeves leave off.

If a man thinks honest thoughts, cultivating no desire to impose on another or reap what another has sown, he needs no law or rule of society to lead him along the right course.

A district meeting of the American Legion here this week gave emphasis to the sound principles of government for which the organization stands. These principles, lived and enforced, strengthen confidence in the safety and progress of our civilization.

The governor and attorney general have been prodding Omaha authorities to quicken their pace in the direction of enforcing laws against gambling and other evils in that city. The two government heads proposed to see that laws are enforced in all parts of the state.

The weather has not been so cold this week, but clouds have covered the sky and snow has fallen intermittently. If the fellow who said the sun shone in his neighborhood only long enough to hold its franchise, had lived here since the first of the year he might have been tempted to refer to this country in that way.

Talking pictures have caused many screen performers to turn attention to learning correct use of the English language. European stars who do not understand English, but who can act acceptably, promise to be out of jobs in this country in time if they do not master the language here. Talking pictures have added to looks and acting the requisite of correct and effective speech.

The Wayne band—mostly students of the Wayne high school—scored a high record in its concert broadcast from Norfolk Sunday. People in widely separated sections heard and appreciated the program and many responded with words of praise. Members are to be commended and encouraged in their determination to win a place as an outstanding musical organization. Wayne is justly proud of their accomplishments.

J. Ramsay MacDonald, head of the British Labor party, suggests possibility of trouble with the United States over "freedom of the seas" and a few leaders in this country, notably Senator Borah, have issued similar warnings.

LINCOLN.
Next Tuesday, February 12, will be Abraham Lincoln's birthday. He was born at Lahay, Ky., 115 years ago. Before he was 10 years old his mother died, and he was reared by a step-mother who was not lacking in maternal interest and devotion. The family finally located in Illinois where the future president plit trails and clerked in a store, working hard to make ends meet while improving his mind by reading, observing and listening. Altogether he attended about one year of school. After a severe struggle during which he became acquainted with all forms of poverty, he was admitted to practice as a lawyer, and later he became prominent in Illinois politics. Lincoln was elected president against Douglas and Breckinridge who were nominated by different wings of the democratic party. Following the war which reunited the states and freed the slaves, Lincoln was assassinated by an actor, John Wilkes Booth, while attending Ford's theatre in Washington City on the night of April 14, 1865. Thus lived, suffered, achieved and passed into history one of the world's greatest figures, untutored, but educated, kindly, sympathetic and helpful. Lincoln's record will live through the ages, the luster of his character undimmed by time and the power of his wholesome influence undiminished by the changes wrought by multiplied years. Lincoln's life is always a source of inspiration and courage.

There is plenty of sea for use of all, and statesmen in both countries ought to be big enough to avoid serious consequences. Both nations have reason to remember the horrors and losses of the last war without temptation soon to engage in another one.

Knox county would seem to be strongly in favor of increasing the Nebraska gas tax to four cents, a petition making such request and bearing 500 names having been sent from there to the legislature to act as a stimulant. The petition suggests proper division of funds between the state and counties to secure the best road work in the interest of the greatest number.

Wayne county could make very extensive use of more gravelled roads, and doubtless most people would gladly pay the small extra tax on gasoline if by so doing they could gain the advantage of more road improvement.

A card from Don C. Van Deusen who has published the Blair Pilot for a long time, writes that he has sold his plant to proprietors of the Blair Tribune and that the two newspapers will be consolidated. Mr. Van Deusen announces that he will rest on his oars and devote more attention to golf with which the cold exactions of business had been interfering. We would guess that Mr. Van Deusen is too young and active to be satisfied with permanent retirement from newspaper work. However, one less newspaper at Blair is in harmony with the trend of the times and will not impair service.

Editor F. D. Stone of the Hartington Herald, justly resents the "poverty jokes" still applied to newspapers by thoughtless publishers, and probably never warranted and seldom dignified. Editor Stone suggests that all professional and business men had hard stealing in the early days and that one was not measurably worse off than another. But Mr. Stone errs somewhat in his conclusions with reference to the comparative strength of the newspaper business in the early days. The pioneer weekly depended on so few people for support and was usually regarded by them as an object of charity—a home necessity of small circulation and doubtful advertising value—and as a consequence the publisher—usually an able writer with little business judgment—had an impetuous existence. Merchants and bankers were uniformly more prosperous. Since the country has developed and publishers have improved their service commensurate with demand and with that of other lines of endeavor, mixing sound business principles with literary effort, the "poverty joke" has lost its point, if, indeed, it ever had one.

Business.
Sioux City Journal: One of the most remarkable predictions as to the business future of the country has come from Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors corporation. It deals directly, of course, with motor vehicle production, yet it concerns the entire business scheme. Likewise it deals particularly with American production of a single line of manufacturing, yet it takes into consideration the world market.

Mr. Sloan already knows that in 1928 motor vehicle production went to a new record with 4,500,000 passenger cars and motor trucks built. He now says that within three years the figure will be 5,500,000 annually. He supplements this by saying "we have come definitely to the conclusion that there is no sound economic reason for believing that our industry cannot maintain its present position." He continues with the following statement:

"The tremendous possibilities of the export markets are just beginning to be capitalized. General Motors alone shipped overseas, last counting Canada, close to 300,000 vehicles, representing a sales value to General Motors of approximately $300,000,000. There are from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 persons, let us say 10 per cent of our entire population, dependent, so far as their purchasing power is concerned, directly upon this particular industry.

"During the year just closed we established a production record of somewhat more than 4,500,000 passenger and commercial vehicles—a new record. Had it been possible for one important producer (Henry Ford) to bring more rapidly into line his production facilities, this record would have been substantially greater."

Mr. Sloan has based every bit of this prediction upon the increase in the wealth of the country and the improvement in the foreign market. Purchasing power has been enlarged both here and abroad. The replacement demand in this country is much stronger year by year, and in foreign countries road improvement and increasing wealth, together with the impression made by American built cars and trucks, have stimulated export sales.

There can be no question as to the outlook such as interpreted by Mr. Sloan. Better, perhaps, than any other manufacturers does the motor car producer understand his market. The industry is one of the most powerful in existence today, and the leaders have succeeded. This ought to be proof enough, that as manufacturers, motor car builders have correctly gauged their market.

Freight car loadings for the last week reported, that ending January 19, showed an increase, going to 331,880 for the highest figure of the new year. This was an increase over the preceding week of 17,493 cars and over the corresponding week in 1928 of more than 47,000. The year has a good start in the movement of goods, and it ought to go on without any seasonal decline.

SEEKING SOLUTION.
Plenty of discussion may bring a solution to the bank guaranty problem, now before the legislature. The legislative banking committee listened to a number of speeches the first of the week, among them one by Fred S. Herry of Wayne, who urged that while he believed the guaranty law to be fundamentally wrong, he thought the state should make good the losses that have been incurred. He agreed that for many bank charters had been granted. Dan V. Stephens of Fremont, former congressman and now leading banker, stressed the economic folly of multiplying banks with little capital and without reason, and advised that the legislature should do something to remedy an unfortunate situation. C. Petrus Peterson of Lincoln, suggested reorganization of the banking department, strengthening of existing banks, provision for the guaranty fund and refunding the present deficit. Governor Weaver advised a joint session of the legislature that a thorough investigation of the bank guaranty fund commission should be made. A complete inquiry into operation of the law is proposed, and it is believed results would be influential in determining future action. A satisfactory settlement of the bank question would doubtless inspire confidence and help the future of business and values.

"And Aliens."
Lincoln Journal: Senator Capper has offered an amendment to the fourteenth amendment of the United States constitution, the first sentence of the second section of which he would change to read: "Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed and aliens." The change he proposes is the addition of the words, "and aliens."

The Kansas Senator has offered this proposed amendment because he feels that it is only right and fair that only American citizens should be counted in apportioning congressmen and presidential electors. His amendment is running into a great deal of opposition. The reason is that, as Senator Capper explains, "on the basis of the 1920 census, excluding aliens from the count would mean the shifting of nine electoral votes, and nine congressmen, from five states to three states naturally populated with aliens naturally object. Mr. Capper continues:

"In other words, aliens in these five states give to those states an additional electoral vote almost equal to the entire electoral vote of my own state of Kansas. Under the reapportionment bill now pending, if the constitutional amendment is not adopted, the aliens in these five states, while not voting themselves, would give these five states sufficient electoral votes to affect the entire electoral vote of the state of Kansas. Of course that means also that these five states have nine extra congressmen, taken away from state populated by American citizens."

The states heavily populated with aliens argue that to make this change would be to rob these aliens of representation. But they do not realize, or do not wish to recognize, that these aliens are not represented now. By counting the aliens in, a smaller group of citizens get to elect a congressman than in states where the alien population is negligible. In other words, a vote in Nebraska for a congressman is not as influential as a vote in some of the eastern states. Mr. Capper thinks the biggest fight will be in congress. He feels that there will be little difficulty in getting enough states to ratify the amendment.

Maytags Are Near The South Pole
The million-dollar Byrd South Pole Expedition has reached its base in the Bay of Whales, Antarctica. Hence the Maytags chosen for the expedition are the farthest south that washing machines or any other home conveniences were ever carried before. They are 2,400 miles south of the nearest human dwelling.

Equipment with powerful Radio Broadcasting equipment, the expedition keeps in daily touch with the rest of the world, but what the rest of the world is doing will not be as interesting to the expedition members as the Expedition's experiences will be to the rest of the world.

Between the Expedition and the South Pole is the great ice barrier, flaunting a fierce challenge to human skill and endurance. The Byrd expedition is better equipped than any other expedition of its kind has ever been. An abundance of food, carefully selected and well preserved was transported to the base by the ships. There are hundreds of books, tons of candy and tobacco, phonographs, a gigantic cook stove, Maytag Aluminum washers and many other conveniences to make the stay of two years more bearable.

Before an attempt is made to fly to the Pole, much work is to be done. Supply stations will be laid every 100 miles along the 800 mile route which the trimmored plane will take, and smaller stations will be laid between. Dog teams will transport the material and supplies.

The Maytags will have plenty to do at the base in the Bay of Whales and on the long journey home, through the ice barrier. Their work is to supply clean clothing and bedding for the 55 men on the trip. Sidney Glasson, Chief Steward of the expedition, writes: "We have selected Maytag Washers as part of the equipment for the South Pole expedition because of their advanced type, strength of aluminum body and precision of mechanical parts. These qualities are necessary to give maximum efficiency under the trying conditions to be encountered."

Name Cronkleton In Charge Of Bank
Coleridge, Neb., Jan. 30.—Geo. Cronkleton, receiver of the Laurel National, Wyo. National and Wausa National banks, as well as some others in northeast Nebraska, has been named receiver of the First National bank of Coleridge. He will be assisted by Roy Flaherty.

A 15 percent dividend amounting to $75,000 will be paid to the depositors of the Laurel National bank this week, according to Cronkleton. This is the third payment he is making at the Laurel bank.

Herbert Knox, who has been at the closed state bank in Dixon, has gone to Concord and Geo. Boucher, of South Sioux City, formerly receiver at the State bank at Laurel, has gone to Dixon, leaving Miss Fielda Frahm temporarily in charge of the Laurel State bank.

Faculty Club of College Convenes
The Wayne State Teachers College Faculty club met Tuesday evening. Following dinner at the cafeteria, Miss Lenore Ramsey discussed modern drama, and Miss Helen Pence reviewed the play, "The Strange Intended," which she saw in New York.

Asks For Facts.
York Republican: Business sense directs that an investigation to determine the financial condition of the state bank guaranty fund be made by competent examiners and their report given to the people.

Good business men would not long tolerate a condition such as obtains in that fund. They would want to know exactly how much is owed and what are the assets available to offset the debt. They would know instinctively that debt cannot be settled until its amount is known. They would know also that indecision, inaction and conjectures do not allay the doubts that arise in the public mind; rather they incite new fears and create fresh suspicions.

The legislature should not dally with this matter. It should give it immediate attention. The guaranty fund should by all means be promptly and thoroughly investigated, no matter the cost. There will never be a sound condition of the public mind until it is.

Story of the War.
Hartington Herald: Gipsy Smith's famous address, "Three Years and a Half in the Mud and the Blood of the Trenches," which the writer recently had the privilege of hearing, is the most graphic story of the World war he ever listened to. He heard it delivered to 5,000 people, and the effect was remarkable. Gipsy Smith spent three and a half years with the British Y. M. C. A. behind the lines in France in addition to his war activities in this country and he probably has a better knowledge of life in the trenches than any other living preacher. One needs to hear him to fully appreciate fully what the soldiers in France actually underwent.

Market Report.
Furnished by Steele, Siman & Co., Sioux City Stock Yards.

Sioux City Stock Yards, Feb. 7. The cattle market carried up improved tope this week, for a change. The hog market advanced on the initial session and fell back again later. Lambs weakened a little.

The 11 leading markets of the country received 82,500 cattle the first two days of the week, 5,700 less than a week ago, and moderate for this time of the year.

Beef steers and yearlings moved freely at steady to strong prices on the first day of the week with yearlings more active than heavy steers. Firmness was noted on light weights on the second session but matured steers were slow and barely steady.

Quality was mostly medium again and no well finished grades were included. Sales ranged mostly at $10.25 @ 11.75 with a few up to $12.50 and a number of odd lots at $9.00 @ 10.00. Good shortfolds would bring above $12.00 and choice material well above $14.00.

The butcher stock market was active and strong to a quarter higher on Monday and firm prices ruled on the following session. Receipts were rather light in this division and demands were broad from improver over recent weeks.

Yearling heifers sold largely at $10.00 @ 10.50 with a few at $11.25 and down to $9.00. Bulls of the cows sold at $7.75 @ 9.00 with good and choice grades at $9.00 @ 10.50 and plain lots, down to $7.00 and under. Canners and cutters sold mostly at $5.50 @ 6.50, steady with last week.

The bull market held a firm basis. Bulk of the medium bologns sold at $8.75 @ 9.00 with a few heavier grades to $9.25, and plain light weights, down to $8.00 and under. Veals were unchanged with the top on selected light weights at $14.00 and numerous sales at $13.00 @ 13.50.

Stockers and feeders held about steady with last week. Some slowness was noted in the trade after the opening day. Sales were made largely at $9.50 @ 10.50, with heavy feeders topping at $11.65 and calves at $12.00. Some common material ranged down to $8.00 and under. Feeding cows' sold from $7.50 down and heifers, up to $9.50 with choice grades quoted above $10.00.

Hog receipts amounted to 281,000 at the 11 leading markets on Monday and Tuesday, 86,000 more than the same days last week and 37,000 less than on the corresponding days a year ago.

Demands were broad for live pork on the first day of the week and the market advanced 10 to 25c. The top reached $9.75, the highest price of the winter packing season. Packers paid that much for butchers on the late rounds. However, Tuesday was a different story. Shippers bought some hogs around $9.50 with a top at $9.55. Then, packers bought the big end of the supply on the afternoon trade at $9.35 and $9.40, 15 to 25c lower than last Saturday. Sows sold at $8.75 @ 9.10 and stags around $8.00. Pigs sold mostly under $8.25.

Sheep receipts totaled 100,000 at the 11 leading markets on the first two days of the week, 4,600 less than a week ago.

Lambs were weak to a quarter lower Monday, and about steady on the second session. Good lambs sold at $15.75 @ 16.00 with choice westerns at $16.25. Ewes held steady with the best quoted at $15.25.

Northeast Nebraska Music Contest Will Be Held at Wayne This April

Wayne will entertain schools of northeast Nebraska at the district music contest, April 5 and 6. This is the first time such a contest has been held in districts and students will compete in band, orchestra, glee clubs, solos and other groups. The State Teachers College has courteously extended use of its buildings for the convention. Officers of the association are: Mrs. Lura Belle Johnson, of Wayne, president; C. A. Larson of Elden, vice president; and Supt. E. P. Hodapp, of Emerson, secretary-treasurer.

The Wayne high school band gave a concert last Thursday evening to a small audience in the Community house. The program was one of the best ever rendered by the organization, especially two of the overtures. Several comical numbers were inserted in the program. The band broadcast a program from radio station WJAG at Norfolk Sunday afternoon.

Students in the commercial department are being watched as possible candidates for the district contest to be held in March, probably in Norfolk. Fern Wamburg of Wayne, who stands champion in novice shorthand class. Students will enter in shorthand, typewriting and book-keeping this year.

Station basketball team met Wayne here last Friday evening. As a special feature the pep club sponsored a drill between hives, forty girls dressed alike, making the words, "Welcome Stanton." Madison and Wisner teams play here this week, and Randolph next week.

"Yorktown," one of a series of history pictures, will be given this Thursday after school.

Wayne won from Newcastle by a two to one decision in the practice debate held here January 26. Wayne upheld the negative of the state question and was represented by Eileen Emmons, Mary Jane Morgan and Margaret Fauske. Judges were Mr. Knibbs, Glenn Felix and Arthur Kysud.

Pender and Wayne met in another practice debate Monday, Wayne having the affirmative of the question, Helen Hanson, Irol Whitmore and Dorothy Davis competed at Wayne, with the affirmative. Wayne has the affirmative in another trial contest, with Newcastle at Newcastle this Friday.

The local team goes to Pender for a return practice debate February 14. Pierce, Hartington and Wakefield have also asked Wayne for practice debates and these will probably be arranged soon.

Regular debating schedule will be arranged the middle of February. Wayne, Wakefield, Hartington and Newcastle, comprise this district and P. W. Maynard of Wayne, is chairman. Norfolk, Meadow Grove, Royal, Wausa and Pierce are in a separate section.

The physics class visited the power plant last week Wednesday to study operation of the engines. They plan to go again to see the new oil burning engine after it is installed.

Seniors are selecting their commencement invitations. The committee, including Miriam Huse, Jane VonSeggern, Marjorie Ley, Newel Pollard and Lovell Gilderleeve, met Thursday and Friday last week to make selection to submit to the class.

Senior rings and pins have been ordered. Standard design for the school, the head of General Anthony Wayne, has been chosen. Wayne county was named for this general and Wayne was named for the county so the selection of his picture was thought a fitting emblem for all classes.

Tuition cards were filled out in assembly period Thursday.

Posters showing English derivatives of Latin words have been made in Latin classes and are on display in Miss Olive Huse's room.

New texts have arrived for English and history classes in which the enrollment is especially large.

James Morris sprained his right ankle last week Wednesday when he fell on a crooked walk and he was absent from school a few days.

This week is the third in the new semester and tests are being given in a number of the classes.

Sophomores plan a roller skating party soon.

Twenty-one students have entered the declamatory work this year in the four classes and it is thought no elimination contest will be necessary except possibly in the dramatic class which has the largest number. Mrs. Allis Pollard will coach the dramatic and oratorical classes; Miss Mary Mielenz, humorous; and P. W. Maynard, extemporaneous. Local winners enter an elimination contest before the sub-district, district and state meets. Mrs. Allis Pollard wrote Ralph G. Brooks of Cedar Rapids, president, inviting one of the sub-district contests to Wayne. These will be held April 5. The district contest will be in Wayne April 19.

Eighth Grade.
New texts have arrived for study of the geography of Nebraska.

New material, "Actual Everyday English Exercises," has been secured for language work. Standardized English tests were given both classes last week.

Precautions Prevent Losses Among Cattle

Lincoln, Neb.—The right precautions will prevent a good share of the loss of cattle on sweet clover hay or pasture. Moldy hay may contain poisons that will kill stock. Sweet clover hay seems to thin the blood of the animals and cause it to lose its clotting characteristic. Some other kind of hay should be fed with clover hay, or the animals should be changed to another kind of roughage after two weeks on sweet clover hay.

Bloat is caused by the rapid decomposition of the high percentage of organic matter in green feed. Bloat on sweet clover pasture may be largely prevented by starting the animals on some other green pasture in the spring and then putting them used to the clover slowly. In serious cases, the pressure may be relieved with a trocar. Every farmer who pastures clover of any kind should have one or more trocars on the place for emergency use.

Lance McCallum of Meadow Grove, was seriously hurt while falling a tree near the George C. Muffly home south of Meadow Grove. As the tree began falling he started to run and fell on the slippery ground and the tree falling on him smashed his shoulder and hip. His condition is very serious.

Ashton leaped from his cab, and fought to release Marie's unconscious body from the tangled wreckage. Then plucking toward the other car, he saw, coming toward him — his wife.

His own wife? What did it mean? Had she in some way discovered their secret rendezvous? Was this tragic wreck an accident — or had she, in a jealous fury and at the risk of her own life, coldly determined to take revenge on the woman who stole her husband's love?

Only two persons know the actual story, and one of them tells it with startling honesty in the March issue of True Story Magazine. It's a dramatic revelation — don't miss it!

Tune in on the True Story Hour broadcast every Friday night over WOR and the Columbia Chain, Coast-to-Coast Paper, for Exact Time.

The tragic end of Forbidden Love

Was it an accident... or a jealous wife's revenge?

ASHTON sank back into the cab. At last he had cluded his wife. Now had Marie Norton could enjoy their forbidden rendezvous.

Ahead of him the glare of headlights from Marie's roadster cut into the blackness. Silently, his cab followed. Soon they would be together at the roadhouse.

Suddenly the glare of the road brightened as another car, with its siren shrieking, shot around the bend behind them. "Some drunken fool," Ashton thought. Then his blood froze with horror. The big car headed straight for the roadster. In an other instant they had crashed!

Ashton leaped from his cab, and fought to release Marie's unconscious body from the

There are many reasons for the ease of steering the new Ford

The new Ford is exceptionally easy to steer because of the well proportioned weight of the car, the steel spoke wheels, the co-ordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good driving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give unusual stability to the Ford steering gear and housing.

The steering worm, for instance, is splined to the steering worm shaft and is stronger, of course, than if a single key were used to hold the shaft and worm together. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and bolted or riveted together.

Throughout, the new Ford steering mechanism is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and drag link lubricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.
