Dixon county will have its fair at Concord August 28, 29 and 30, and Concord has a well fixed habit of meeting expectations every year. ### Rains Past Week Helpful To Corn

Harvest of Small Grain Is Delayed Somewhat but Is Nearly Complete Now.

Intermittent rains the past week have prolonged the grain harvest in northeast Nebraska but have been of great benefit to the corn crop. Threshing is progressing now with favorable weather and will be finished in about a week, it is estimated.

Hail accompanying about a half inch of rain Friday evening, did some damage at a few farms about two miles north of Wakefield. The area was about three miles long and one mile wide. No loss is expected to result to the crops in that vicinity. The rain Friday night covered northeast Nebraska and ranged from a light sprinkle at West Point to three inches at Spencer. Wayne county received a good shower that night.

Every person related by blood or marriage is invited to attend the reunion to renew old acquaintances and make new ones.

SHARP CONTRAST IS STRESSED BY ANNUAL REUNION

THE annual old settlers' picnic in Winside next Thursday reminds one of the swiftly passing time and of the contrast between conditions now and what they were when sturdy pioneers braved the frontier and uncultured virgin prairie. Nothing but rough trails to travel and no easy means of transportation, and with distant markets and no stabilization in market values, the early settler had every disadvantage in getting supplies and selling produce. No railroads, no automobiles, no telephones, no radios, no rural delivery, activities were restricted to small circles, and life had much monotony and few thrills. The first settlers had a hard pull, and they had a most commendable part in shaping the course which led to present development. Those who have survived, must view with satisfaction the superstructure reared on the foundation which they helped lay. At this juncture one may wonder what the future holds. With paved highways threading the countryside and with air navigation becoming steadily more practicable, and with improvements promised in all branches of industry and business, what may we expect during the next thirty years?

Assets Of Bank Sold On Monday

Fawcett Investment Company of Iowa, Buys Remaining Citizens Bank Notes.

To Pay Dividend

Eight or Nine Percent Will Be Added to the Eighty Percent Already Paid.

All remaining assets of the closed Citizens National Bank of Wayne were sold by Receiver G. Cronkleton Monday afternoon at a public offering to the Fawcett Investment company, of Nevada, Iowa, for the sum of $610. The assets represented a total of about $125,000. The bid will be recommended by the receiver to the controller of currency. When approved by the department all business of the trust will be completed and closed.

With the sale of the assets Monday and other collections, creditors will receive a final dividend which will amount to eight or nine percent, according to Mr. Cronkleton. The dividend which was previously paid amounted to eighty percent. The total to be realized from the bank will thus be eighty-eight or eighty-nine percent.

The assets which were sold here Monday were offered separately, in groups and as a whole. The best bid was received on the whole from the Iowa company. A good-sized crowd attended.

Electric Shock Cause Of Death

Frank Philbin Loses Life Thursday While Working on Building in Wayne.

Funeral Sunday

Services Are Conducted at Beckenhauer Parlors Here by Rev. W. W. Whitman.

While helping lay brick for the new power plant building at the college in Wayne, Frank Philbin, 18, was electrocuted last Thursday morning, August 8, at 10:45. The young man was standing on some pipes. He leaned over and in doing so his head touched a beam which had been electrified from a cable, a small leak in which is believed to have been caused by a sharp flash of lightning. A complete circuit was formed through the lad's body.

When the cable at the plant was struck by lightning some time ago, electricians tried to locate a defect in it, but did not find any. The college and city electricians examined the cable again after the lad's death and located a small leak. Test made by the electricians showed that the beam, which touched the cable, had been charged with electricity.

Young Philbin, who was employed by his uncle, Frank Simonin, was taken by him and Earl Philbin and John West to a doctor. Efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Beckenhauer parlors in Wayne with Rev. W. W. Whitman of the Methodist church, in charge. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Frank Philbin was born in Wayne August 13, 1910, thus being aged 18 years, 11 months and 26 days at the time of his death. ### HUMAN CONTACTS GREATEST HELPS IN CONVENTIONS

WE journeyed over to Hastings last week to attend the summer session of the Nebraska Press association, and we found highways mostly graveled and smooth. Rich corn prospects in Wayne county, as in all parts of northeast Nebraska, diminished as we proceeded toward our destination. Adams and Hall counties need moisture to make corn develop properly and to enliven pastures. Enroute to Hastings we made a brief visit to the plant of the Central City Nonpareil of which Edwin M. Burr is publisher. Mr. Burr is entering his eighth year as proprietor of the Nonpareil, and his ability and industry are leading his publication forward at a lively pace. His advantage of youth assures him a lot of time ahead to realize big things in the rural newspaper field. At Hastings an interesting circus in the afternoon and a banquet in the evening were enjoyed. W. A. Maupin of the Hastings Democrat, formerly on the staff of the Omaha Bee-News, was chief sponsor of the meeting, and he was assisted by other publishers and other citizens of the city. Hastings is one of the flourishing third cities of the state. The experience of main interest and benefit in attending a convention is the exchange of ideas with those engaged in the same line of work. Finding out how others have solved common problems proves helpful. Such contacts are stimulating. On the way home we visited the Independent equipped newspaper plant and to visit the editor and proprietor, A. F. Buechler, a gentleman of the finest type. Mr. Buechler has been the dynamo behind the Independent for thirty-eight years, and he has lost none of his pristine spirit of progress. A visit to the Independent and with its proprietor unfolds possibilities for improvement and encourages one to believe he can do better and be better.

Early Settler Of County Dies

Philip Greenwald Passes at Home of Son Near Altona Last Thursday Night.

Philip Greenwald, one of Wayne county's early settlers, passed away at the home of his son, Ernest Greenwald, southeast of Wayne, last Thursday evening, August 8, at 11:55, aged 86 years, 10 months and 28 days. He was taken ill the previous Saturday and underwent an operation at home last week Wednesday. He was unable to rally and died the following day. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Trinity Lutheran church in Altona with the pastor, Rev. E. J. Moede, in charge. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Greenwald was one of the pioneers in the southeast part of Wayne county, having moved to farm there in 1875. He worked land into fertile fields. He did this with great success and he so enjoyed his farm home that he remained on the same place until his death, fifty-four years after he had come to it.

Mr. Greenwald was not only active in building up his own home place, but he took an interest in affairs of the community. He was one of the charter members of the Trinity Lutheran church at Altona forty-nine years ago, and he was the last of the three first church elders, the others having been Charles Erxleben and Herman Luchmann.

Deceased was born September 30, 1842, at Hassen, Darmstadt, Germany. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith there. He served in the Franco-German war in 1870-71. In 1873 Mr. Greenwald came to America and located in Pekin, Ill. There he lived two years. In 1875 he moved to a farm in Wayne county and this had since been his home.

Mr. Greenwald married Miss Marie Frederichs in December, 1880. Seven children were born to this union, three dying in infancy. Mrs. Greenwald passed away in March, 1908. The surviving children are: Ernest Greenwald, Albert Greenwald, Otto Greenwald and Mrs. Fred Erxleben, all of southeast of Wayne. There are fourteen grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mr. Greenwald also leaves one brother, John Greenwald, of near Altona.

He refers to the president's disarmament plans and particularly to the proposal to suspend construction of the new cruisers, pending an agreement with Great Britain. Fifteen of the largest protestant denominational heads by referendum have expressed their approval of the president's policies.

The issue is peace, opposition to war. The world would have stood aghast at protestantism opposing any move to outlaw war. The churches have done the expected thing. So long as they confine their efforts toward the shaping of international policies there may be no serious objection. It is when they take part in the deciding of home issues that opposition comes, and it comes from many with views that coincide with the views they support. Churches as organizations must not combine to influence vote decisions on matters of government. When it comes to world peace that is a bigger issue, not related closely to domestic affairs, but affecting them much when peace is broken. The churches are for peace. They are with such a large majority in this matter that their intervention, while effective changes the opinions of a very few.

Newspaper Honor. Hartington Herald: In a newspaper contest conducted by the National Editorial Association, the Wayne Herald was awarded second place as the best weekly newspaper and was given honorable mention in the greatest community service class at the annual summer meeting of the association at Cheyenne, Wyo. The Journal-Chronicle of Watonwan, Minn., was adjudged the best weekly newspaper of the country, and the Press at Greenwich, Conn., was considered by the judges to have the best editorial page. Best front page award, also went to the Owatonna weekly.

The Herald views this contest merely as a spectator, not having entered as a contestant this year, but it is happy to see so many of the well-deserved honors going to its esteemed neighbor, the Wayne Herald. If the Owatonna Journal-Chronicle or any other newspaper is any better than the Wayne Herald, has better front editorial page or has rendered more distinguished community service, it must be some newspaper.

Two Materials More Stylish Than One In New Frocks That Stress Height

BY HARRIET

THE long-limbed look is one smart women are developing in their new clothes.

Length of skirt, high waistlines, dipping panels and much more attention paid to emphasizing the bottom of frocks all accent the height of women. No longer is it enough merely to be a slip of a thing. One should now be youthful looking, subtly slender and possessed of modish curves.

Some Paris frocks use the princess lines without any belts whatever. These feature flares or flying panels, from the hiplines so that there is no doubt of width at the bottom of the skirt. For daytime, skirts may be almost to the ankles in back and on the sides. For evening, many of them touch the floor.

ONE way to make over last year's straightline, short frocks is to introduce godets of contrasting fabric and then add a band of the fabric around the hem, lengthening the garment from one to six inches, as you may desire.

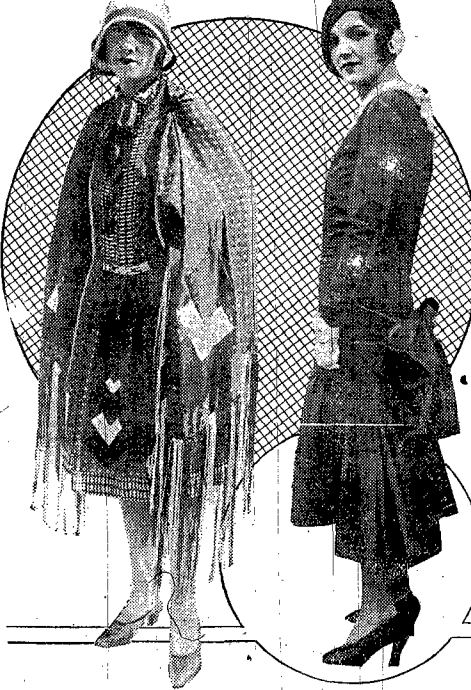

Another way is to introduce a hip-yoke of self-fabric or contrasting fabric and then to let in box pleats of the yoke's material below the yoke.

The big thing to remember about new styles is that the frock of two materials is more stylish than one.

ALONG with this long-limbed mode come all manner of changing styles. The short jacket, for instance, must be very short or else let its length down to three-quarters. With skirts to old shoe-top length, the jacket that just below the waistline is all wrong. Etons, however, with a waistline emphasized and flaring skirts below, are quite chic.

For the same reason, shawls that are full and almost sweep the ground are better than the wisps of chiffon that were short cape length this summer.

A very smart French costume illustration this. It is a charming afternoon version of the famous tri-colored, red, white and blue. The frock is a bordered print of

At left, deep fringes increase the length on the cape of a new long-lined frock; at right, a black moire, with princess line for length, uses a modified bristle for variety.

For dressy wear, the French are bringing back the modified bustle, with a haring skirt below to mark it as 1929. The skirts are very long.

One of these is made of black moire taffeta, with the smartest little pout in the back. Its sleeves that are long and tight button with silk-bulleted buttons clear to the elbow. The collar is white with a black and white bow in the back.

Loss From Hail Will Be Small

Leaves Are Cut in Few Fields Near Here But Loss to Crop Will Be Slight.

Hail, accompanying a rainfall of .43 of an inch, did some damage to corn in the vicinity north of Wakefield Friday. Leaves on the corn at the farms of Anton Anderson, Bert Scott, Hjalmar Parson, Andrew T. Anderson, Ole Stricker and Thomas Klamer were hurt somewhat, but it is thought the damage will not harm the crop materially. The area in which hail fell extended about three miles east and west and about one mile north.

Rainfall here Sunday evening amounted to .35 of an inch. A slight rain visited this section again Monday night.

The weather report for July shows precipitation of 6.84 inches as compared to 2.71 the same month last year. The total for this year from January 1 is 21.70 inches as compared to 14.16 inches last year. Maximum temperature in July in 1929 was 98, and the maximum in 1928 was 101.

Let a McCormick-Deering All-Purpose Engine Work for You

"The Farmer's Choice"

The McCormick-Deering Farmall offers the row-crop farmer a wonderful advantage. With this sturdy, 4-cylinder, 2-pow tractor on the farm you can put all of your work behind you quickly with power from the first tillage job in spring to the last belt job in winter. The Farmall pulls a 2-bottom plow as ably as does any other tractor. It turns short, handles easily, operates economically, and requires very little attention.

As the season progresses you can shift from one important job to another with amazing speed. Tilling, plowing, seeding, planting row crops (with 4-row planter), cultivating row crops (with 2 or 4-row cultivator), mowing, raking, loading hay, harvesting grain, harvesting corn, and doing the hundred and one belt jobs around the farm.

You can't beat the Farmall. It makes the horseless farm practicable and possible. It cuts the corners of expense and puts the profit in your pocket. We can't tell you the whole Farmall story here; but we can prove every point in mighty quick time if you'll ask us for a field demonstration.

FARM REPORTS

Much Original Stock From Peterson Herd

J. H. Peterson who is offering purebred Poland China pigs at private sale, lives southwest of Carroll, on the farm to which his father came in 1888, and he has lived there since. The senior Peterson, stressed purebred Shorthorn cattle, and his herd furnished much of the foundation Shorthorn stock in this county.

J. H. Peterson's farm is ideally situated for successful stock growing, and like others, his unusual crops will supply increasing herds this year.

Advantage Of Both City and Country

On the northwest edge of town is Ole G. Nelson's thirty-acre tract where he is emphasizing purebred Poland China pigs and where he does everything on a scale consistent with the size of his place. Mr. Nelson came here a few years ago from a farm west of Newcastle, mainly prompted by superior school advantages here afforded, and he has never regretted the change. Last year he built a big barn, and since then he has made other improvements. He enjoys the advantages of both country and city.

Club Membership Is Large In State

Lincoln, Neb.—Boys and girls club membership totaled 12,149 members on July 20. This is the largest number of real club members ever on the active membership record in the state. Between July 1 and July 20 letters were sent to all county extension agents and local leaders asking them to weed out all members who are not actively engaged in club work at the present time. The check makes the record in the state club office a real live one.

This is the third dairy sire from the Nebraska university herd used by the federal government within recent years for dairy cattle breeding to the government experiment farms in Huntley, Mont.

West Point Picnic Is Well Attended

West Point, Neb.—About 500 representatives from seven counties attended the farm bureau picnic in West Point Friday. Chester H. Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, explained clearly the work of the farm bureau. Mr. Gray concluded a clear, forceful address by saying, "The bureau is devoted to making agricultural conditions happy and prosperous."

State Fair To Be Bigger And Better

(Nebraska Farmer.) County fairs now being held in Nebraska will be climaxed by the Nebraska State fair to be held at Lincoln, August 30 to September 6. The attendance goal this year is 450,000. Last year more than 400,000 persons attended the Nebraska State Fair.

Green Arbor Farm

When visitors drive in through the gates of the fair grounds this year, the most noticeable improvement to be observed will be the new $250,000 grandstand. A wonderful structure it is, 596 feet long, 115 feet deep with 36 rows of seats. The new grandstand will accommodate 12,500 persons and the bleachers with circus seats will take care of 5,000 more. That means that it will be possible for 17,500 fair visitors to see the circus, races and other grandstand attractions at one time. The old grandstand seated but 10,000 persons. Four-H club exhibits will again have a prominent place at the State fair. Boys and girls in all parts of Nebraska are busy right now fitting their animals and preparing other exhibits for the state's biggest exposition. Twenty high school bands are practicing regularly in preparation for the competition at the fair. The camp grounds have been improved somewhat since last fall.

Annual Picnic Held By Wheeler Family

Allen, Neb., Aug. 13.—The annual reunion picnic of the Wheeler family of Dixon county, which had its beginning here when Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wheeler came to Nebraska in September, 1872, was held Sunday at Old Settlers' park, one mile west of town. Fifty-three persons were present, thirty-eight of whom were direct descendants, the remainder being sons and daughters-in-law. Thirty-nine direct descendants were not present.

Battle The Pawnee Scouts Under Major North

Major North and his brother, Captain Lute North, had decisively defeated the Sioux and killed their chief, Tall Bull. Buntline was pretty well filled with commissary whisky when he arrived in camp, and insisted upon knowing who had killed Tall Bull. Major North impatient with a "drunk," pointed out Cody. That was the beginning of the comradeship between Cody and Buntline, and Buntline proved to be an exceptionally good press agent. Major North never told it, but years later, his brother, Captain Lute, set history straight.

Promotion Rewards Fidelity To Word

Secretary J. W. Crabtree of the National Education Association, Washington, D. C., has accepted an invitation to attend a reunion, August 31, at Fairview District school, two miles southeast of Elmwood, Nebr., where he taught nearly half a century ago. Here is what he says about it: "I had an experience in connection with this district school which I shall never forget. I had been teaching in the district for several terms when, in March or April, 1888, I was asked to remain the next year at a slight increase in salary. I promised to remain. A little later when in Elmwood, a nearby village, I was offered the principalship of the Elmwood schools and I agreed to accept but stated that I would need to see the members of the district board since I had promised them for the next year. These members, interested as they were in my welfare, took the view that in fairness to the people of the district they would be compelled to hold me to my contract."

About Nebraska and Nebraskans

Will M. Maupin. Recently this department made mention of Dr. Tanner of Norfolk as posing as the original "Diamond Dick" of early Deadwood days. This writer is in receipt of a courteous letter from Dr. Tanner in which he denies that he ever posed as the original "Diamond Dick," saying that many years ago some friends bestowed that sobriquet upon him, and later space writers added to it and finally asserted that he was the "original." In his younger days Dr. Tanner was much given to wearing diamonds when affluent, and the sobriquet was jokingly bestowed upon him by boon companions. For nineteen years Dr. Tanner has been a practicing physician in Norfolk.

Certainly this writer had no intention of doing Dr. Tanner an injustice. However, this is the first intimation the writer has had that Dr. Tanner ever denied the assertion that he was the original "Diamond Dick." A tremendous lot of myth has grown up around a number of men of early frontier days. The researches of unbiased historians are doing much to correct a lot of false impressions. The records have taken away the glory that once covered "Wild Bill" Hickok, and that tremendous McCarless fight near Fairbury, on the old pony express line is proved to have been just a plain killing from ambush.

That William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," was a great plainsman, a brave scout and an intrepid fighter is admitted. But a lot of his fame was predicated on the stories written by Ned Buntline. Shortly after the battle of Summit Springs, just across the Nebraska line in Colorado, July 12, 1869, Ned Buntline, representing an eastern newspaper, dropped into the camp of Major Frank North and his Pawnee Scouts. In that

Baby Dies After Auto Accident

West Point, Neb., Aug. 13.—The infant twin son of Claude Phillips of Wisner, injured in an auto accident, was buried in Snyder last Friday. The family was in a car collision on the Pender highway near West Point about a month ago. Injuries with other complications are believed to have hastened the child's death. Mrs. Phillips, mother of the child, and the twin sister, Joan, are still under the doctor's care in Snyder.

All the Wonderful Stories Told of the Famous "Gunmen"

Nebraska, territory and state, has had four capitals, and not one Nebraskan in 10,000 can name all four of them. The first one was at Bellevue, the second at Omaha, now see if you can name the third. No? It was Douglas, located somewhere, the body knows where, in Lancaster county. It was the territorial capitol only a very short time, only long enough for the bill moving the capitol from Omaha to Douglas to get from the legislature to Governor Izard, who promptly vetoed it. The fourth was, and is, Lincoln.

ing a medical convention in Ashland and hearing that they needed a high school principal, had told them of my having been elected at Elmwood and why I had not accepted. Members of the board told me afterward that which appealed to them and which gave me an advantage over more experienced men, was my going back to the district at a financial sacrifice in order to keep my word. It aided in giving me the confidence and affection of the people of Ashland during my six years as principal and superintendent.

"There is no telling how much it meant to me to keep that promise. It doubtless helped me to receive promotions. It helped me to live a more honorable life than I should have lived had I started out on the other plan. So, after all, those fine directors, in carrying out their obligations to the district, actually conferred a greater favor on me than they would have done by accepting my resignation. I am anxious to visit that school and community. Those friends would cross the continent for me. I shall cross it to see them."

Indian Pow-Wow Now In Session

Walthill, Neb.—The Omaha Indian pow-wow has opened here at their tribal camping grounds, eight miles west of Walthill, near Macy. The Omahans are entertaining a large number of Indians from Oklahoma, Wisconsin and the Dakotas.

Tribal dances will be held every evening and each Saturday afternoon, until the closing date, August 18. Next Sunday, in addition to dancing, there will be broncho riding, roping contests and a ball game. Oklahoma Indians arrived in large expensive cars with chauffeurs, in several instances having more than one car and each family carrying baggage and camping equipment in trucks.

Wayne Girls Are Home From Trip

Return Monday After Two Months Of Sightseeing In Old World Countries.

Miss Helen and Miss Dorothy Felber arrived in Wayne Monday after a two months' visit in Europe and the British Isles. The girls arrived in New York City on the steamer, Cameronia, July 30 and spent a few days in New York City, Washington, D. C., and Chicago before returning home.

The girls and others of their party sailed from New York City the first of June and landed at Harve, France, going from there to Paris where they spent five days. A number of old ruins about the city were very interesting. "La Mal Maison," home of Napoleon, and the palace at Versailles, built during the reign of Louis, the Fourteenth, were especially attractive.

A trip to the battle fields disclosed the fact that the war area is fast becoming as it was before the war. One still sees crosses marking the graves of soldier dead but the change from a few years ago is very noticeable. On the site of the battlefield the party was shown the largest champagne cellar in the world. A visitor to Paris night clubs was of interest to the travelers, the three types of clubs being easily distinguished. An American club in the city uses only American written in America, all of the decorations and furnishings also being strictly American. The party also visited the "Follies" in Paris. Department stores in the cities are very ornate, and rather on the order of cathedrals, with stained glass windows.

Agriculture In France. Agriculture in France is in advance of other countries in the old world, although most of the profits of the industry are realized from the vineyards. The party spent a day in Avignon and two days in Nice after leaving Paris. A trip to Monte Carlo and the lovely scenery along the Riviera was one of the bright spots of Italy. The travelers were not favorably impressed with Italy as a whole. A visit to a perfume factory at Grasse was made the same day. Geneva, Rome, Florence and Venice were other cities in Italy visited. Rome is the most like an American city, of any in the old world. Buildings are modern and built on the order of those here. At Stresa and at Venice, which were visited July 4, fireworks exhibits of unusual beauty were displayed.

The party enjoyed a visit to a glass factory in Venice and members were interested in watching the process of glass blowing. Oxen are used for work on farms throughout Italy. Switzerland, the next country visited, impressed the travelers more favorably than any other. The people, homes and countryside are immaculately clean; farms are laid out with a precision which suggests being ruled with a yard stick. From Interlocken, a motor trip through the Alps and a visit to the Rhone glacier were much enjoyed. The party enjoyed a boat trip on Lake Lucerne. Going on to Wiebagen, the travelers took a boat down the Rhine, landing at Colome. A visit to the famous cathedrals and shopping trips at Colome preceded a visit to Brussels, Belgium, and Amsterdam, Holland.

The first day's trip out of Holland took the party into the country where a visit to the cheese factories occupied an afternoon. On the last of the Marken people dress in the quaint costumes of bygone generations and go about their tasks as their ancestors did before them. All citizens of the island are Protestant, in direct contrast with the Isle of Volundam where the populace is entirely Catholic. Women of the latter island wear little lace caps all of the time, and the costumes peculiar to the country. To Diamond Factory. On the next excursion while in Holland the party visited a diamond factory. The Hague was a very interesting city. People of Holland are very clean but the cities have a cluttered look because of the innumerable canals and dikes. After crossing the English channel the group went directly to London where four days were spent in sightseeing. The city seems much larger than New York because it covers so much more territory. The traffic is not well regulated and confusion results. The Felber girls found that no city in Europe can compare with those in America as to well regulated traffic. To Poets' Country. On leaving London, the party visited the poets' country in northern England, stopping in the Shakespeare district and at Windemere. Later the English lake country was visited. The party went from Birmingham, England, to Edinburgh and Glasgow, Scotland, from which place they sailed for America.

People throughout the old world countries are not prosperous since the war because of the excessive rate of taxes.

Her Job Is a Man's Job—And Mrs. Parker Is Famous as an Expert Fish Curator

ALTHOUGH she had little knowledge of taxidermy at the death of her husband five years ago, Mrs. C. B. Parker, the only woman fish curator in the world, since that time has become nationally known by her work on Catalina Island, Calif., and now ranks among the best in the profession.

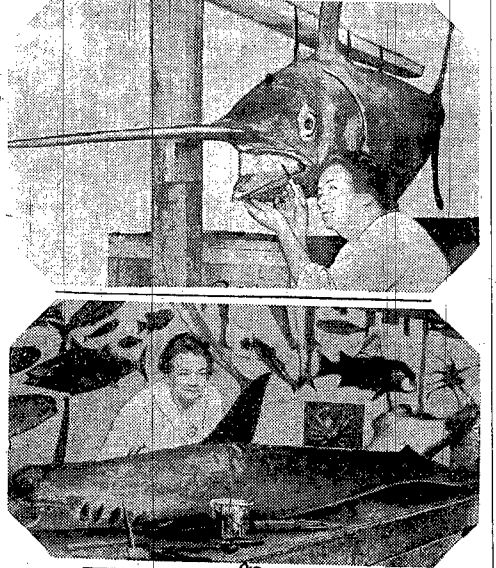

Genial, hearty, she radiates a spirit of cheer towards all and has the enthusiasm of a child with his first toy about her work. Although she has received commendation upon her art from noted taxidermists as well as many museums, she makes light of praise.

"Of course, it's nice to receive letters praising my work, but the real satisfaction comes from knowing that I have done it all by myself," she says. "From the time the fish leaves the water until it is shipped to the owner, no hands touch it but my own. I even turn to carpentry to build the shipping cases just as I want them."

SHE is the only fish curator to ever attempt the mounting of a broadbill swordfish, which, because of its very oily skin, has been passed up by others in the business. She successfully handled the mounting of a 2200-pound sunfish, probably the largest fish ever preserved, which was caught off the coast of the island by Zane Grey.

Although she specializes in the handling of all types of fishes, she has not limited herself to work of that sort. A visit to her shop reveals beautifully mounted specimens of mountain goats, several eagles, ducks, sea gulls, and a myriad of small birds that infest the island.

Hanging on the walls and suspended from the ceiling in colorful array are fish, large and small. It poses so lifelike that one might expect them to jump into the nearby ocean and swim away as Yellowtail, Tuna, Dolphin, Albacore, Bonito, Sea Bass, Swordfish, Sunfish, Octopus, Sharks, Whitefish, Sheepshead and a host of others, all standing as silent testimonials to her art.

Mrs. C. B. Parker, famous woman taxidermist and fish curator at work in her workshop on Catalina Island, Calif.

QUEER denizens of the deep rarely brought to light constitute the favorites in her collection. "Now here's a funny little fellow," she said, as she pointed to a peculiar-looking fish about a foot long with sharp spines projecting from his back. "He is known as a sculpin. The spines on his back are said to be poisonous and I have known people to become delirious with pain from contact with them. I have a fish known as a hammer-head shark. His head measures over two feet in width and is very sharp. He swims with great rapidity and stuns his food by striking them with his head, often cutting in two a lesser fish. "In my 18 years on the island I have never seen one of these fish alive," she said, exhibiting a huge opalescent-colored flat fish. "It is known as a Japanese Ohap or Moonfish and evidently comes here by the Japanese current. Several bodies have been found floating on top of the water dead, but no one has ever caught or seen one alive. They must live at a very great depth."

New Fashions in Morals.
York Republican: Many good citizens of York, holding fast to their youth-worn conceptions of the proper observance of the Sabbath day, were shocked and distressed to learn that a majority of their neighbor-voters favored a more liberal observance of the day. In his book, "Mansions of Philosophy," Dr. Will Durant, whose philosophical utterances are now having a wide vogue, says something on the subject of Sunday observance that is worth reading because it states a condition most accurately. "As it was the wealth of the Renaissance that led to its freedom, its license and its artifice is the wealth of our day and place, far more than any literary revolt, that has substituted for the rigid moral code of the Pilgrims the gay laxity of emancipated souls. Our changed Sabbath, a day now not of rest and worship, but of wanderings and pagan joys unconfined, is a visible sign of our altered morals and our liberated lives." From that statement the Sabbath observer of the old school may extract an explanation and some palliation for his outraged feelings; the Sabbath observer of the new school may derive comfort and relief his conscience with the thought, that he is only subscribing to a modern creed of "altered morals and liberated lives." Take your choice, but remember that all shades of human opinion have an equal right to be heard in settling questions of public morals in this democratic government.

Area Council Here Thursday

Executive Meet To Discuss Past Work and Plans For Next Quarter.

Work Progresses

Troops Under Supervision of Districts Grow From Fourteen to 168 In Year.

The Omaha Area of the Boy Scout Council of America met in Wayne last Thursday, August 8. The Omaha area consists of the following divisions: Plainview, Sandhill, Elkhorn Valley, Logan Valley, Thurston, Fremont, Omaha, David City and Cohasset. Representatives from the various divisions were present.

The district finance committee, Raymond Baur of Omaha, chairman, met at the city hall at 4 o'clock. A favorable report for the budget system was given in. It is thought that by the end of the year, finances in the area will be in excellent condition.

The court of honor convened at 5 o'clock in the Davis & Welch law office with W. C. Fraser, of Omaha, as chairman. Work in scouting the past year has been standardized throughout the area.

The possibility of Star, Life and Eagle work badges being presented by a district court of honor was discussed. This will be optional among local troops but it is thought that a district called meeting for presentation will provide a greater incentive for endeavor in advanced scouting. The court also discussed presenting the Palm merit badge in the same manner, this also to be left as optional with local troops.

The rural committee, chairman, Harry Dickinson of Omaha, met in the directors' room of the First National bank. W. R. Ellis of Wayne, was appointed chairman of the rural work in the local area.

It is estimated that there are 18,000 boys on farms in the Omaha area who are not able to do active scout work. A special court in scouting is being offered these boys by mail. Once a month the boys will take tests given by the district chairman in the branch in which he is taking work.

At the evening dinner program at Hotel Stratton, following a tour of the city sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Wayne, a general survey of the past work in the area was made and progress during the last three months discussed. A "jamboree" will be held at Wayne the last of September or first of October when troops will compete for the American cup. Columbus holds a like "jamboree" at about the same time.

The executives discussed the problem of camping for the next year and decided to finance this by means of the area fund. Each troop is entitled to two weeks of camp life and the area furnishes the entire equipment, such as busses for transfer, camp kitchen articles, bedding, coats and food. Troop trainers will also be paid from the area fund. This will save the local troop expense and make it possible for more boys to take advantage of the camping opportunities.

A committee was appointed as follows to change the name of the executive organization from the Omaha Area Council to one more fitting: Ray R. Larson of Wayne, W. C. Fraser of Omaha and Mr. Farley of Bloomfield.

Second Place.
York Republican: The Wayne Herald was awarded second place in the National Editorial Association newspaper contest for "best weekly newspaper." The winner of first honors was the Journal-Chronicle of Owatonna, Minn. We have never seen a copy of the latter named newspaper. It must either be a marvel of utility and beauty or the judges were near sighted. The Wayne Herald is about the final word in a country weekly newspaper—and that is saying a good deal in a state where excellent newspapers grow on two score trees.

The committee is to report at the next quarterly meeting. The district has grown from fourteen troops to 168 troops in one year when the area work was first begun. From vindictive scouting to really worthwhile work, the area work has progressed in a short time. A new system of checking merit badge receivers by checking the examiner, has proved more successful than checking the recipient. The court of review does this work.

Scouting has now grown to mean something as a great aid in vocational training; work being given now in seventyeight different vocations. Among these different branches are listed: Engineering, mechanics, electrical engineering, plumbing, carpentry, salesmanship and many others. Boys are able, through investigating various lines of occupation, to find the work to which they are best suited.

An advance course in scout leadership will be offered this year. A minor course was offered the past year.

The Rotary club of Omaha, will again sponsor booths during Ak-Sar-Ben week when merit badge work may be demonstrated. An opportunity for troops throughout the area to show the type of work they are doing, is offered in this way.

The area extension service has proved its worth since the national boy scout organization was put on a firm financial basis by big business men of the country a few years ago. Each state and local organization now has a part in the financial affairs of the national organization; and the new method has brought about a great change in scout work.

Officers of Logan district are as follows: Ray R. Larson, Wayne, chairman; W. S. Rowden, Coleridge, commissioner; D. H. Cunningham, Wayne, finance chairman; Carl Jeffrey, Laurel, chairman of the court of honor; Chas. Branek, Dixon, chairman of activities and camping; V. H. R. Hanson, Wakefield, publicity chairman.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Columbus the first week in November. Executives who will be present will be the same as the group who were in Wayne Thursday with the exception of one—Rev. Mr. Farrell of Bloomfield will take the place of S. B. Shively of Plainview.

Work of organizing new troops at Emerson, Ponca, Winside, Randolph and Hartington will begin at once.

Fire Does Small Amount Of Damage

A small amount of damage resulted in the kitchen of the John Mahne home on East Sixth street Thursday afternoon at about 6 o'clock when a gasoline stove caught fire. The fire department was called but the flames were extinguished before help arrived. The stove was thrown out of the room. Smoke did damage to kitchen furnishings.

Twenty Years Of Troubles Routed

"I suffered twenty years and the Sargon treatment did me more good than all the other medicines I ever tried.

"For years I was on a strict diet, but even then nothing seemed to do me good. I was continually having trouble with my gall bladder and was told that my liver, which was very inactive, had lots to do with my gall bladder trouble. I tried all kinds of medicines but none of them did me any good. I had my gall bladder drained but that didn't give me permanent relief.

"Although I didn't have a particle of faith in it, I started the Sargon treatment. Before I had finished half the first bottle I commenced to eat anything I wanted. Now my liver is active again. I am not constipated any more, and if there is anything the matter with my gall bladder now I don't know what it is. Sargon is simply wonderful. I am in better health and feel stronger than in years."—Francis H. Morgan, 1226 P Street, Lincoln, Nebraska.

SIX CYLINDER CHEVROLETS on the road in less than eight months!

Less than eight months have elapsed since the first Chevrolet Six was delivered into the hands of an owner—and already there are more than a million six-cylinder Chevrolets on the road! And the reasons for this overwhelming success are easy to understand. Into a price field that had hitherto been occupied exclusively by four-cylinder cars—Chevrolet has introduced a six-cylinder car of amazing quality and value. Not only does it offer the smooth, quiet, velvety performance of a great six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—but, from every standpoint, it is a finer automobile than was ever before thought possible at such low prices! Its beautiful new bodies—which are available in a variety of colors—represent one of Fisher's greatest style triumphs. And its safety and handling ease are so outstanding that it's a sheer delight to sit at the wheel and drive. In fact, the new Chevrolet Six has completely changed every previous idea as to what the buyer of a low-priced car now has a right to expect for his money. You owe it to yourself, as a careful buyer, to see and drive this car. For it gives you every advantage of a fine six-cylinder automobile—in the price range of the four and with economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon! Come in today!

Progress on the new electric plant at Wausa is going forward slowly. Plans are being made for a community picnic at Wisner August 23. The Robert C. Moore Stores Co. opened a new store at Wisner August 3. An addition will be built to the treasurer's office at the Madison court house. Willis E. Sandoz and Miss Bernice Adams of Verdigré, were married there August 3. The standpipe of the city power plant at Emerson was drained, cleaned and repainted last week. Mrs. Bess Gearhart Morrison of Lincoln, read selections at the Old Settlers' picnic at Pilger August 8. Miss Dena Updike and Mr. Kenneth Most, both of Laurel, were married August 1 at the home of the bride's parents. Doors of the closed Farmers' and Merchants' State bank at Bloomfield were opened again the latter part of last week. Governor Weaver of Lincoln, spoke at the Old Settlers' picnic and formal opening of the new city park at Newman Grove. Everett Putnam of Ponca, had his face and eyes injured last week when a bundle of oats struck him while he was helping thresh. Miss Esther Strane and Frederick Von Seggern of Wisner were married at Wisner August 5. They will live on a farm north of Wisner. The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Nebraska district of the Danish Lutheran church will convene in Laurel, Thursday, August 22. Conrad Kruse, who lives northeast of Emerson, exhibits two stalks of corn, one measuring fourteen feet and the other over thirteen feet. A horse on the Pete Barnes farm near Ponca had to be killed last week after its tail had been jerked out when caught in a threshing machine. Mrs. Meccretia Van Oyen, a pioneer of Madison county, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Makelin at Madison at the age of 84 years. Robt. Ulrich, while working in his father's hay field near Pierce last week, killed two rattlesnakes. One of them had nine rattles and the other had three rattles. Mrs. Duman of Sioux City sustained quite severe injuries to her chest and shoulder August 3 when her car turned over on highway number 20 near Laurel. An old settlers' picnic was held in Newman Grove last Thursday in connection with dedication of a new park there. Governor Weaver was among the speakers. Lawrence Eaton of Crofton was bruised and shaken up when returning from Fordyce, his car struck loose gravel and turned over. The car was badly damaged. Milo Wright of Plainview, was overcome with fumes from fly spray one day last week. Before taking a nap after dinner, Mr. Wright sprayed a couch with fly

"dope" and was overcome by the fumes. Clarence V. Dahlstein of Newman Grove and Miss Elsie Hales Williams of Norfolk were married at the parsonage of the First Methodist church at Norfolk August 7. The Knox County fair will be held this year September 10, 11, 12 and 13 at Bloomfield. Plans have been completed to stage one of the best exhibits in the history of the fair. B. Cunningham, veteran of the Civil war and only living veteran of the war of '61 residing in Bloomfield, celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday among his children and relatives August 4. A land warrant printed on parchment and signed by Franklin Pierce, fourteenth president of the United States, who took office in 1853, is owned by J. V. Jackson, farmer near Brunswick. Miss Irene Johnson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Pilger and Mr. Lawrence Pères, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pères of Gas City, Kan., were married August 1 at Council Bluffs, Iowa. Perhaps the highest price paid for land in Cuming county for some time was on July 30, when Emil Peters purchased 20 acres near West Point with improvements from Mr. Fevberherm for the sum of $14,000. Miss Isabella McKee and Frank A. Rose of Coleridge, were married Wednesday of last week by the former's father, Benjamin McKee, editor of the Coleridge Blade. The bride attended the Wayne college in 1928. The Guming County Agricultural society at a meeting Monday evening purchased ten acres of ground from John Elisinger adjoining the fair grounds at West Point to the north. The price paid was $200 per acre. Jimmie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kile Martin of Pilger, hurt his arm badly Monday morning. He was cranking a car and the crank hit his arm, bending the bone and splintering it so that it was necessary to place it in a cast. The Indian powwow opened August 8 at the tribal camping grounds, eight miles east of Wall-hill, near Macy. The Omahans are entertaining a large number of visiting Indians from Oklahoma, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Glenn Kimble, Norfolk junior high school student, is one of the third place winners in a state essay contest on observance and enforcement of traffic regulations held in conjunction with the eighth annual national safety campaign. Alfred Buschelman, clerk at Feilhaber's Grocery at Crofton, suffered an ugly gash between the second and third fingers on his left hand while cutting some bananas for a customer. He visited a physician and it required two stitches to close the gash. Funeral services were held in St. Ludwig's church at Creston August 6 at 9:00 o'clock for Mrs. John Darcy, the Rev. Father Brady, of Plainview, the Rev. Father Kearns, of Wayne, and the Rev. Father O'Flynn, of Lynch, having charge of the services. The boy scout committee of the

Emerson Commercial club met at the fire hall August 2 and organized and took the necessary steps for the organization of a scout troop which is being sponsored by the club. M. D. Wagners was made scout master and E. E. Bruce, assistant. V. Sloggett of Coleridge, 60 years of age, dropped dead near Fremont, and was buried August 5 at Coleridge. Mr. Sloggett was employed on highway work near Fremont, and left his home in usual health, taking his lunch with him. After eating his lunch he slumped down, dying instantly. State Engineer Lindquist of Norfolk, was in Randolph August 4 and did some re-checking on his survey on the west edge of the city. Mr. Lindquist has been preparing the figures and recommendations for the city during the past week and presented his reports to the council August 8. An air tank at the Pierce Oil Co. station blew up August 2. The explosion tore out the tile walls on the north and west sides of the building. It blew a door through one of the windows on the south side and also wrecked the other window east of the front door. A stock of tires was ruined. A. Dobson Co., Lincoln, was awarded the contract for installing South Sioux City's sanitary sewer system at a meeting of the city council on Friday afternoon of last week. If asphalt joints are used the contract price is $95,872.45; if concrete joints are used the contract price is $91,133.77. Chester H. Gray, of the American Farm Bureau federation, and Chester E. Farrell, of the United States department of agriculture, were the speakers at the northeastern Nebraska picnic which was held in Neligh park August 9. Mr. Gray has been in close contact with the new farm relief measure. During the severe electrical storm on August 8 lightning struck the large horse barn on the John Treiweller farm, southeast of Bloomfield. The bolt entered the barn near the ventilator and caught fire to the hay, smoldering for some time before the flames broke through the roof. It was a total loss. The Wisner Live Stock Shipping association held a picnic at the Community park. The estimated attendance was between 800 and 1,000. Following a picnic dinner, a program consisting of music and short talks was given. H. G. Keeney, state president of the Farmers Union, was the principal speaker. Loc's lake near Stanton has been chosen as the site of the ten-day area camp to be held about August 10, for boy scouts of this area, it was announced Friday, by boy scout officials. This camp is being held in order that the boys who have not had the opportunity to attend an outing this year, might enjoy this privilege. Jackie Turner and Marvin and Allen Bullock of Crofton, who were visiting at the I. A. Walfer home, were amusing themselves teasing a dog which the Walter family keeps tied up during the night, when the dog bit Jackie in the left leg just below the knee. The boy was taken to a physician and treated and will be watched for a few days. A letter bearing a stamp of the Great Zepplin mail service was received by Mrs. Elizabeth Stieren of West Point August 7 from her brother, Frederick Floren, living in Westphalia, Germany. Mr. Floren is an English teacher in a German high school. This is the first letter to be received in that community brought over by the Graf Zeppelin. Rev. Mrs. Mary Harper of Allen, sustained a fractured pelvis bone when struck by a car Wednesday evening last week. She was getting out of a car and crossing the intersection of highways 20 and 9. She waited to let a car pass and did not see another car coming. The driver swung to one side of the road to avoid striking her but the car fender caught her and carried her fifteen feet. Rev. M. L. Holt, resident of Neligh, Neb., for forty years, celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday with a dinner for a few of his friends at his home. He was born in Nelson, N. H., in 1845. After serving four years in the Civil war, Rev. Mr. Holt worked his way through Wheaton college, graduating in 1876. He served for five years as the first president of Gates college, Neligh. Fred Iverson, who lived on a farm three miles southwest of Naper, committed suicide August 8 by shooting himself through the head with a rifle. The shot passed through the forehead, blowing the top of the skull off. Mr. Iverson had been in poor health for almost a year and recently became bed-ridden. His wife has also been in poor health. One son, Leonard, and his widow survive him. A car occupied by three couples from Norfolk ran off the grade between Beemer and Wisner, turning turtle twice. One of the women received serious injuries and one of the men had both arms broken. The car, though damaged, remained in running order and the party continued on its way to Norfolk, excepting the injured woman, who remained in Wisner for medical attention. Daisy Bell Reynolds of Norfolk, received word August 7 that she has been awarded $10,000 by the Fox Film company of California, because of the accidental death of her father, Ernest Reynolds, a film actor. Mr. Reynolds was accidentally killed a few months ago while working in a picture, according to Miss Reynolds. The case has been in litigation for several months. Miss Reynolds operates the Granada Beauty parlor at Norfolk.

Wheat is averaging eleven or twelve bushels to the acre, and oats is averaging about forty bushels. D. H. Surber had one of his hands seriously mangled between the stable door frame and hames of a harness while putting his team in a barn. The dray team belonging to Lou Jones ran away when Harry Sherbahn was driving them. The wheel of the wagon caught the wheel of a buggy in which Grandma Richardson was riding, breaking it but not overturning the buggy. Frank Gaertner caught the team before further damage was done. ## The Grain Elevator That Defies the Weather

The New John Deere Bridge-Trussed Non-Rust Portable Elevator

When you buy a new John Deere Bridge-Trussed, Non-Rust Elevator, you are buying a portable elevator that defies rain, sun and wind. Its hopper, sections and spouts are made of rust-resisting, copper-alloy steel. To add further protection against the weather, these parts are heavily galvanized.

Actual tests prove that the special rust-resisting, copper-alloy steel parts last several times longer than ordinary steel parts. The result of this weather-proof construction is that the John Deere keeps right on delivering satisfactory service year after year.

The bridge-trussed construction prevents sagging. A self-locking windlass, which prevents the elevator from dropping and causing breakage, is a valuable feature on John Deere elevators.

Remember, this elevator will reduce your labor costs, elevate your biggest load of grain or corn into your highest bin in from three to six minutes and eliminate the back-breaking labor of scooping.

We'll be glad to show you this elevator any time you call come in.
