SCREEN-GRID RADIO

You need no longer think—"This is the Y music.... and that is the noise of the set." For in Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio there is no operating sound! If the broadcasting station is silent for a moment—then the set is silent.

It's hard to believe. But come in and listen—and you'll prove it to yourself. And while you're here, try the power and selectivity that bring distant stations right up to your door. Look inside and see the workmanship that makes these remarkable qualities possible and permanent. That's Atwater Kent workmanship. That's your assurance that every dollar you spend for this set will bring you the most in radio enjoyment.

NEBRASKA PRESS ASSOCIATION
 This paper is represented for general
 advertising by the Nebraska Press Association.

A business man suffering from nervous breakdown, may usually stay with his accustomed job during July and August and carry out his physician's orders to maintain absolute quiet.

An epidemic of colds accompanying a fall in temperature, reminds us that summer, though sometimes uncomfortably hot, is the most healthful time of the year.

As the fall season approaches and the demand for fall and winter supplies grows, it is wise economy to keep eyes on the advertising columns of the Herald. These pages will each week tell stories of buying opportunities that should be carefully heeded.

Little more than two weeks remain before the opening of public schools, and children are on the home stretch in the matter of summer respite from study. With the passing of August will also go the annual vacation period, and people generally will resume wonted activities.

Will Maupin recounts some of the wonders of invention during his 66 years, and rightly suggests it has been the period of greatest progress in the world's history. But we think we would rather start now and live during the next sixty-six years. Even greater progress seems to be coming.

Some people seem to be natural frauds, cheating and stealing as long as they are allowed to remain at liberty. But some others who are inclined to encroach and take what does not belong to them, may be led along right lines—the wrong made difficult and the right made easy—until they become permanently and dependably honest.

Tom Mix who has been in Nebraska the past week with a circus, has talked freely of his experience. While he is rated as a multimillionaire, he says he pre-

PAYING PREACHERS.
 Probably there are more church organizations than needed or than can be comfortably maintained, but since people demand different denominations, they should furnish adequate support. It is likely one can make the grade to heaven or slip off the highway into hell as easily in one church vehicle as another. Thus, there is no good reason, so far as exaltation of the soul is concerned, to spread out church revenues among so many separate denominations that none receives enough to pay the overhead, including sufficient pay for the pastor. Like other people, preachers cannot live on salaries which met living costs thirty years ago. Everything is higher, and everybody spends more and lives higher. Necessarily a preacher's requirements are greater. If he pinches along, trimming expenses below necessity and postponing unavoidable obligations, he impairs his service as a spiritual leader. An adequate budget to take care of the preacher's salary and other church expenses should be supplied and payments should be made regularly and ungrudgingly. He should not have to wait for his pay or take less than had been originally stipulated. To put religion on a high plane, its leaders must be relieved of financial uncertainties. They cannot worry over pressing claims and at the same time give due consideration to the spiritual life which is the main object. If present churches cannot be properly supported without dragging ministerial heads along in synoptic poverty, they should consolidate, and members should be content to earn their harps without too much emphasis on trifling dogmas which are of the earth, earthly and which we are sure amount to nothing in the last analysis and final judgment. Either members should dig deeper into their pockets and arrange a suitable basis for meeting church obligations or they ought to get together and have fewer church organiza-

fers to live in a tent rather than amidst the glamour and pretense of Hollywood. He grows on the way his first and second wives are rearing his two daughters—one for the stage and the other for social prominence.

The weather has been cool and hot during the past week. Rain early Wednesday morning amounted only to a shower here. Corn hereabouts is not suffering from lack of moisture, though rainfall at this time would be refreshing. An unusually large small grain crop safely out of the way, we are now confidently looking forward to an extraordinary yield of corn. Then we will go into winter quarters in a satisfactory condition.

The one who is chronically contrary, often takes a position without a leg to stand on, and thus shows the weakness of the wisdom which he wishes to feign. Perennial obstinacy is usually incapable of understanding that a guess in the affirmative is more agreeable than a guess in the negative, and that when one does not know what he is talking about, unsupported by either facts or logic, he may easily gain advantage by guessing in the right direction and avoiding an unnecessary assault on popularity.

We notice the Methodists in a neighboring town are giving a dramatic entertainment. We remember when Methodists and members of other denominations were not only against giving plays, but were against attending them. Preachers devoted sermons to a blanket denunciation of the whole theatrical business, not taking the trouble to separate the good from the bad. But times have changed, and churches have changed, becoming more tolerant and more liberal, exercising more care and discretion in determining spiritual values. One time we had a narrow escape from being fired out of church for taking a worthy part in a high-class dramatic performance.

A story in last week's Pender Times reads like a chapter from the early days. It told of a feeble old man who had been in Pender recently, but restricted to receipts from the syndicate and menagerie, a man with a glib tongue and leather lungs attracted the crowd after the big show by selling razors, fountain pens and watches provided for the occasion. At first he exhibited reckless generosity, and then he got down to business and he proceeded to harvest the crowd in lively and effective fashion. That way of making a living was practiced forty years ago, but we supposed people had advanced too far since then to make the game profitable.

Paying real money for advertisements strung around a church directory or some other similar scheme comes as near giving something for nothing as anything can be imagined at this time. A stranger depending on a town, secures the printing cost from a local plant and then manages to sell enough spaces to glib individuals to make the effort properly remunerative to him. Then he leaves the job to be finished and flees to another town. It is a kind of advertising that receives no attention and that is worth practically nothing. The scheme helps only the stranger who cares not a picayune about values, and it is always a source of surprise to find men of usually sound judgment who will permit themselves thus to be worked.

The fact that four girls and two boys were killed and several others badly injured in automobile wrecks in northeast Nebraska ka over the last week-end has strengthened determination to enforce rules in behalf of greater safety. These fatal consequences should imbue drivers with the importance of slowing their pace and exercising greater caution. No railway locomotive is permitted to go the limit of its speed. Though a railway train is sure of a clear, smooth track, its speed is kept down to a point of reasonable safety. The engineer must know his business, have a clear head and steady nerve. Why not the same intelligent caution in handling an automobile? Its roadway is less secure and less safe with the additional peril of passing cars. Why drive an automobile as fast as it will go and tempt dangers certain to follow excessive speed? Automobile power designed to carry a load up a steep grade is misused on a level road and the risk of being hurled into eternity is invited.

Teachers' Pay.
 Omaha Bee-News: Big business and, in general, efficient business in this country has learned that there can be no substitute for character and brains in employees. They are irreplaceable. If a business commands them, it succeeds. The public school is the biggest business in America. They are, in fact, the basic business. And for the work that they are called upon to do they must command brains and character. The responsibility for making the schools give the service that we have a right to expect of them falls mainly on the teachers. In many respects the work of the teachers is the most important in the country, and they should be well paid. Most teachers, unfortunately, are not well paid. Being niggardly in this regard is a habit that a considerable part of the United States has fallen into. It is not only a bad habit, but it is also expensive; for a few cents of wages inevitably results in the quality of teachers deteriorating. The brightest men and women in the profession

COURAGE.
 We would have the young keep up courage, meeting vicissitudes and overcoming obstacles one after another with fortitude born of determination to make progress steadily if not rapidly. Errors of judgment or a combination of unfriendly circumstances often fling barriers into one's path-way, and surmounting them as necessary, to progress, may well be accepted as means to build character, sharpen wits and deepen wisdom. Without obstructions one would become soft and valueless. Overthrowing them as they appear gives strength, and makes important contribution to the wealth of experience. We are reminded of the ups and downs of youth—trials that beset his course—as largely as though they were not as largely imaginary—by the recent passing of a certain wedding anniversary. He was callow and coy, not attractive, no education, no polish and no money. Advantages were restricted to health, honesty and good intentions. Intelligent and sympathetic toward people of the neighborhood gathered at accustomed places along back fences to talk over what seemed an appalling lapse of judgment on the part of a justly popular member of their sex. But good resolutions struggled slowly uphill with little aid from preliminary schooling, and in the matter of ups and downs, the downs were often clearly in the majority. Results might have been worse, or under the impetus of a more liberal foundation, they might have been much better. Youths of today have more practical training and more real opportunities. With advantages of the times, flanked by integrative and fixed purpose, present youth should have superior strength to master difficulties and achieve goals of success. Rough stretches in the road with sharp turns that hinder progress and defer full realization, are stimulating.

seek other lines. And the classrooms in these shortsighted communities are turned over to second-raters.

That means, of course, a generally inferior product turned out from the schools. Do you want this delicate and vital important work done by incompetents or by experts? The answer is only one answer. The way to get experts is to make the teaching profession attractive to capable, high-class young women. Those who really understand this subject demand the best compensation for teachers.

Business.
 Sioux City Journal: With the approach of the autumn season a decided improvement in the general business situation is confidently expected. The decline this summer was not so great as had been expected by careful observers. The bull came but it did not amount to much, and the records will show greater activity throughout the summer than had been enjoyed in many years. By way of illustrating the healthy condition of business at this time, reference may be made to the freight car loadings for the week ending August 3. It is a fact that freight traffic on the American railroads is the greatest for this season of the year on record. During the week ending August 3 car loadings numbered 1,104,193. This was an increase of 3,182 cars over the preceding week, an increase of 55,972 over the same week last year and an increase of 80,155 over the same week in 1927. Just a few years ago when weekly freight car loadings reached the million mark at any season of the year the fact was emphasized as a remarkable showing in the movement of goods. Now when every one recognizes that business is at the lowest level for the year the car loadings still go above the million mark. Crop conditions at this time indicate that agricultural products will command better prices than in many years. Corn has gained heavily in the latest estimates of the department of agriculture, but there is no claim that a bumper crop will be produced. Corn, however, occupies the commanding position in the grain list as to production. Wheat, oats and other small grains are producing a reduced yield, and higher prices as a consequence are predicted. Corn is expected to share the advance with the other grains. Various other crops are short of the average yield, notably fruits. In this connection it is of interest to note what has been done in administering the new farm relief act. Together with a reduced yield, generally speaking, the federal farm board's activity in administering the relief act is expected to show definite results this year. The organization of various co-operatives to handle the marketing of crops has been successful. The board's influence has served to bring various independent co-operatives together into single organizations. Grain, fruits and vegetables and wool are the crops to which attention already has been given. The demand of irreplaceable members of congress for debentures as the only dependable plan for farm relief that will work is not considered important in view of the federal farm board's businesslike administration of the new act.

Return Yesterday From Eastern Trip

Rev. and Mrs. Fenton C. Jones and daughter arrived home yesterday from a month's visit at points in the east. They went as far as Grove Beach, Conn., where they visited a brother-in-law of Rev. Jones, Rev. Edmund G. Rawson, D. D. They visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beisiegel at Dalton, Mass., the latter a sister of Rev. Jones, and also a brother, Jesse E. Jones and family at Utica, N. Y.

Enroute to the east the Jones family stopped at Peoria, Ill., to visit Dr. F. C. Jones, jr., son of Rev. Jones. They also stopped there enroute home.

The travelers enjoyed a visit at Niagara Falls enroute to the east. They noticed the difference in the seasons here and in the east, everything there being much later. The first new potatoes were being used and all crops were as late by comparison.

Corn in Iowa and Illinois was not so tall as in Nebraska when the Jones family went east, but in coming back they noticed no perceptible difference. States visited seem to have had sufficient rainfall to promote growth of crops. People of Correctionville, Iowa, were the only ones who mentioned lack of rain during the entire trip. The east seems to have had the same cold, wet spring experienced here.

Roads were excellent all the way. Those in the east are paved, and are wide enough for three cars abreast. The middle sections of the roads seem to be reserved for passing. Yesterday was the warmest day the Jones family experienced during the entire trip. Weather was very comfortable for driving outdoors.

The travelers were in Auburn, N. Y., at the time of the recent big fire and were at a hotel just one and one-half blocks from the penitentiary there when prisoners maintained.

They visited Hamilton college at Clinton, N. Y., from which Rev. Jones was graduated and also the Auburn Theological seminary, where he completed his ministerial course.

The Tragedy of Travel.
 Lincoln Journal: Death lurks on the highways and skyways, and Nebraska and takes its greatest toll on Sundays when more than any other day of the week recreational travel is indulged. Last Sunday's record was seven dead from injuries received in car collisions and three dead from an airplane crash.

If the record of the past few weeks is maintained much longer it may dawn upon the people that prosperous peace is about as dangerous as war. That is no argument for war, is not so phrased, and should not be so misunderstood. It is made strong to urge greater care on the road, repression of reckless driving, and to emphasize the need for the rigid enforcement of the new drivers' license law which becomes effective in Nebraska in a few days, in a manner that will reflect the desires and aims of the lawmakers.

Analyze the accidents of last Sunday. One car rushing along a highway crashed into a heavy truck that was being backed out into the road; one dead and several injured. A car where three girls were riding on the running board scraped another car and three were killed and others injured. Two cars in a collision on the open highway, cause not clearly stated; two are dead. There were other accidents and other injuries, every one of them avoidable.

Punishment may not reform criminals but a strict enforcement of road law would tend to make reckless drivers less reckless. The economic waste caused by such tragedies is too great. Governor Weaver and his helpers in state government face no more pressing duty than consideration of law enforcement on the highways. If every sheriff in the state would use the forces at his command to weed this out for a time reckless drivers would receive an education that would save lives and prevent serious waste.

It would seem pertinent at this time to ask if county treasurers can exercise the discretion of refusing licenses to drivers who have caused recent serious accidents, and if such discretion is theirs, will they exercise it?

Cars Are Damaged In Collision Here
 The cars driven by Vern Sylvanus of Wayne, and Herbert Bones of Allen, were damaged somewhat Sunday when the machines collided at the intersection of Seventh and Logan streets in Wayne. None of the occupants were injured.
 Pallbearers for funeral. Pallbearers for the funeral of Miss Doris Kingston of Tuesday were: Walter Sund, Walter Bressler, Charles Ingram, Donald Sherbahn, Lester Blinn and Walter Stone, the last two named of Pender.

Sioux City Friday and the Detlef Kai young people attended it at Norfolk Saturday.

Miss Edna Clausen returned from her trip to the Black Hills on Sunday. They visited many places of interest and also, the grand-du at White River.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buskirk and Arlene were Sunday dinner guests at W. C. Ring's in honor of Merle's birthday, a cake with three candles being the table centerpiece.

Mrs. Etta Dawes, Mrs. Geo. Buskirk, Miss Louise Bressler and Miss Arlene Buskirk were Sioux City visitors Friday. They saw and heard Speed Bradford and Tom Mix.

A large number of friends from out this way attended the funeral services Monday at the Wakefield church for Sibil Bean, the young lady who was drowned Friday. Miss Ethel Johnson and Mrs. Arlene Buskirk of this community were among the pallbearers. Sympathy is extended to the sorrowing ones.

We were again plunged into sorrow when the sad automobile accident took place Sunday evening when Charles Ralph Killion, aged 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Killion, was instantly killed, also Miss Doris Kingston of Wayne. Harold Killion and Margaret Buis were not seriously hurt. Louis Hansen is in the Pender hospital at this writing. Deepest sympathy goes out to all the sorrowing ones. Funeral services for Charles were held Wednesday at the M. E. church in Wakefield.

End of the Trail.
 Omaha World-Herald: Two youths stand before the judgment bar. One of them is 23 years old and the other is 20. Their night of debauch is over. The dawn breaks and they stand at the judgment rail. "Judge," pleads one, "make it as light as you can. We're both young; give us a chance. We would like to get out of the penitentiary before we're old and broken men. Life is pretty sweet to us now and we'd like to enjoy it before it's too late."

"Thus the young man pleads. And thus the judge replies: "I don't believe either of you is entitled to another chance. You are both menaces to society; either of you is liable to take a life at any time. I don't think either of you will ever change your ways. I sentenced you to 50 years at hard labor."

Quiet broods, then, over the courtroom. There is a momentary hush broken only by the rustle of documentary papers. And then from one of the youths comes the half-whispered, half-shrieked sigh of incredulity—"Christ!" The cry of the animal at bay; incredulity is there, and bleakest of bleak despair. Fifty years at hard labor. One wild night of robbery and kidnapping and 50 years to think it over. One night of unbridled surrender to brutish passions, a few hours crowded with lust and law's defiance—then 50 years of after-math.

That is the story of Orville Ems and Max Crowley. That is the story of many a youth of today—and it will be the story of youths of tomorrow. It can be done. We don't care what the percentage of escaped offenders is, what the statistics show regarding the number of law violators who "get away with it," it doesn't work out in specific instances. Look about you. Note or read the stories of men. How many do you know of actually, how many have you read of who have been able, in the long run, to get away with it?

We don't point this out as a "moral" lesson. We don't know much about morals and morality and doubt seriously if anyone else does. Standards shift all the time, so that what was wicked and shameful a century, a generation ago is winked at or openly smiled upon today. But there is one fundamental principle which seems to underlie this whole shifting scheme of things entire, and that is that to set oneself up in the name of the universal law, accepted tenets of society is a fatal thing ninety-nine times out of a hundred, nine hundred and ninety-nine times out of a thousand—and the percentage is probably more deadly than that.

The two young men at question simply set about in their ignorance and limitless folly to undertake the impossible. Instead of sweating honestly for an honest dollar they undertook to get it at the point of a loaded pistol. They undertook to take their women the same way. It can't be done. We don't know why it can't. Perhaps it is being done right along in more devious and by less abrupt methods, but to attempt to do it as these two foolish young men tried it usually brings about the same result. Imprisonment or death lies at the end of the lawless trail. You may postpone settlement for a long, long time but sooner or later, the fates close in. The fates close in—and that is the end of the trail.

Cuming County Fair Steadily Growing

The Cuming County Agricultural society last week bought another ten acres of land adjoining the present site in order to build two additional hog barns this year and provide additional space for the future. The building of these two hog barns increases the space for hogs by 44 1/2 percent and the Cuming county fair will have a wonderful hog exhibit this year.

Last year the poultry house was doubled in size and this year the fair officials saw fit to join the American Poultry association and additional premiums for the exhibitors. All fanciers of poultry should be sure to attend the fair.

The cattle show promises to be the greatest in the history of the fair and the competition will be keen.

Horse stalls are also being taken rapidly and much fine horse flesh will be on exhibition. Last year a Cuming county team won by P. H. McGill of Waverly broke the pulling record in the light class and this has added interest to the contest. There will be a large field of contestants in both classes this year.

The 4-H club exhibits will be surprisingly large and interesting as will the school exhibits generally. All other departments are showing added activity and the mercantile exhibits will be large. Last year everyone appreciated the new rest room. The improved waterworks system just installed is certain to be appreciated, for city water from a large main is now available on the grounds.

Realize Big Yield From Wheat Field

Baldwin brothers of Chadron, will this year have a crop of about 40,000 bushels of wheat from one large field of 2,400 acres. Thirty men and twelve combines are at work harvesting the crop. The men came from Kansas City last year and bought four sections of land which they converted into one large field. Four cars of grain are shipped each day from the field. The Baldwin wheat field is the largest in Nebraska.

Local News

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hendrickson spent Monday in Sioux City. Mrs. C. E. Yocum plans to arrive home the latter part of the week from St. Paul, Minn., where she has been visiting her son, Percy Yocum.

On the second session, light weights sold at $10.65 to $10.85. Medium weights ranged at $10.25 to $10.85 with strong weights at $10.00 to $10.35 and heavies from $10.00 down to $9.50 or so. Bulk of the sows sold at $8.50 to $9.00 with a few at $9.10 and a top at $9.15. Stags brought $9.00 to $9.75. A few pigs sold downward from $10.00.

The lamb market took a quarter loss on Monday but was strong to a quarter higher on the following day. The top was $13.00 on Tuesday with choice westerns quoted a trifle higher. Ewes slumped 50c with the best steady with choice rangers at $13.15.

Nels Nelson returned home Tuesday from Sidney, Neb., where he had visited his sister, Mrs. Carl Engles, since June. He had also visited at Lodgepole and at points in Wyoming.

Market Report.

Furnished by Steele, Siman & Co., Sioux City Stock Yards.
 Heavy liquidation of live stock caused bearishness in the markets again this week. Most of the cattle showed losses and all grades of hogs slumped sharply while the lamb trade recovered after a low opening.

Cattle receipts were much heavier than expected at all centers on the first day of the week and a big increase was noted over the previous Monday. The increase was made up of shipments from the range country.

Cornfed steers and yearlings were rather scarce on both Monday and Tuesday and the market held about even with the close of last week. Some strength was in evidence on choice medium weights and a top of $16.40 was paid for 84 head of 1,176-pounders, a record price for the season and the highest mark of the year, outside of one sale early in January. A sprinkling ranged down to $15.00 with the big bulk at $12.75 to $14.75.

Rather slow killing steers met with a rather slow reception and sellers were forced to take off a quarter in order to clear. Sales were made mostly from $12.50 down with choice hard finished kind quoted around the $13.00 mark. Drylot cows and heifers were received in very small numbers and salesmen were able to get about steady prices. The best cornfed yearling heifers sold at $14.40 with most sales downward from $13.50. A few fed cows sold at $9.50 to $10.50 with choice individuals higher.

Grass cows and heifers slumped about a quarter in line with the general trend of grass cattle. Most of the heifers sold at $9.00 to $11.00 with cows at $7.25 to $8.50 and a few at $9.00 and $8.50. Bulk of the canners and cutters sold at $6.75 to $6.75.

The veal market eased off weak to a half-dollar with selected light weights topping at $14.00 to shippers but packers went over $13.00 for very few. Bulls were weak to a quarter lower. Bulk of the medium sausage grades sold at $7.75 to $8.50 with a few heavy grades higher and thin kinds and westerns at less money.

Desirable stockers and feeders found an outlet at close to steady prices while plainer grades eased off a quarter and some were carried over from day to day. Receipts were by far the heaviest of the season but general quality was better than usual. Demand from the country has picked up considerably of late, but not enough to absorb the sudden sharp increase in receipts. Sales were made around $12.00 to $13.00 on good and choice kinds with fair to good at $10.00 to $12.00 and plainer lots down to $9.00 with common grades lower. Heifers sold at $8.00 to $11.00 and cows mostly from $7.50 down.

The hog market opened with a full quarter decline on Monday and about that much was taken off again on the following day. Big supplies and rather narrow shipping demand along with big losses at other centers forced values lower.

On the second session, light weights sold at $10.65 to $10.85. Medium weights ranged at $10.25 to $10.85 with strong weights at $10.00 to $10.35 and heavies from $10.00 down to $9.50 or so. Bulk of the sows sold at $8.50 to $9.00 with a few at $9.10 and a top at $9.15. Stags brought $9.00 to $9.75. A few pigs sold downward from $10.00.

The lamb market took a quarter loss on Monday but was strong to a quarter higher on the following day. The top was $13.00 on Tuesday with choice westerns quoted a trifle higher. Ewes slumped 50c with the best steady with choice rangers at $13.15.

Grade Highway To Lay Gravel

About Half of Work on Wakefield-Wayne Road is Finished—Build Culverts.

Grading of the Wayne-Wakefield highway, preparatory to graveling, has been completed about half of the distance. Work started at the Wakefield end and is progressing west. Graders are now near the railroad track which crosses the highway about midway between the towns. A large culvert is being placed near the corner three miles west of Wakefield. The culvert and bridge work is following the grading from Wakefield west.

Contract for drain pipe on the highway five miles north of Norfolk was let at a state board meeting last Friday. This road is being graded preparatory to laying of gravel.

Contracts awarded last week by the state department are as follows:

- Between Hastings and Harvard in Adams county, 4.5 miles of paving; Mid-State Construction company, unit price $1.75, total $106,890.55.
- Between Central City and Belgrade, Merrick county, 5.1 miles of gravel; H. P. Larson, unit price, $0.478, total $3,025.74.
- South of Long Pine, Brown county, 4.8 miles of gravel; Charles T. Hornby, unit price, $0.67, total $3,953.
- Between Central City and Chapman, Merrick county, 9.4 miles of paving; unit price $1.69, total $121,964.21.
- Between Norfolk and Wayne, Madison county, drain pipe; Gaman & Friedel, unit price, $1.78, total $1,396.94.
- Between Verdun and Monowi, Knox county, 5.5 miles of grading; Thiessen Bros., unit price, $1.79, total $17,039.10; culverts; Glen E. Smith, $12,693.28; bridge, $2,190.90.
- Between Valley and Colon, Douglas county, 3 miles of paving; Central Bridge and Construction company, unit price $1.59, total $62,437.68.

Projects on which action was deferred were:

- Four miles of paving between Norfolk and Columbus in Madison county; 1.8 miles of rock asphalt between Plattsmouth and Port Crook; 1.9 miles of paving between Grand Island and Hastings in Hall county; and four miles of grading, with culverts and bridge, between Greeley Center and Cedar Rapids.

School In Wayne Will Open Soon

Special Class for Children Will Be Made in Kindergarten—Other News.

Wayne city school opens Monday, September 9, and information regarding registration will be published next week.

The city school has installed six new noiseless Remington typewriters in the commercial department. The school has six Underwoods also. This allows students to get training on the ordinary as well as the noiseless machines.

Since mid-year promotions have been discontinued in the city school, it is planned that pupils who would naturally enter in the middle of the year will be permitted to enroll in the fall. This will allow children who are about 4 1/2 years old, to enter the kindergarten this fall. Miss Minnie Will plans to organize a special group of these children.

Infant Daughter Dies In Wisner

Betty Lou Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Olson of northwest Wayne, passed away at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bruse, in Wisner Friday morning, August 16, at the age of 15 days. Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 at the Beckenhauer parlors in Wayne with Rev. W. C. Heidenreich in charge. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Betty Lou Olson was born August 1, 1929, at Norfolk. She was baptised there in the Lutheran faith.

Besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Olson, deceased leaves one sister, Lois Ann, and one brother, Harold. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bruse of Wisner, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hyatt of Wayne, also survive.

Vacation School Conducted Here

Vacation bible school is being conducted this week and next at the city school in Wayne under the St. Mary's Catholic church. Sixty are attending and sessions are held each day from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. with recess at noon. Two sisters of mercy from Omaha, Sister Mary Edmund and Sister Mechitilds, conduct the training. They are using the fourth and fifth grade rooms in the city school.

$1.00

Last week we received the rest of our School Supplies. We never had a more complete line nor better values. The line includes everything a child may need in school. A few extra good items are 2 numbers in tablets at 4c and 9c, a regular 25c tin Pencibox for 10c, water marked History, paper, 30 sheets for 5c, decorated Lunchboxes at 25c, lunch kits with pint thermos bottles at $1.48 complete.

An item very much in demand is a good Wool Shoe Polisher. We received some this week both in the regular and the traveling size and sell them both for 19c.

A splendid 25c value in our hosiery department is a new ladies' mercerized rose. This hose combines long wearing qualities with dressy looks at a small price.

We firmly believe that your nickels and dimes can buy more in our store than anywhere else. We sell for instance, 40 clothespins for a dime, 100 paper napkins or 80 sheets of waxpaper for 10c. We have dozens of small staple articles where we aim to give just a little more than you expect to receive for your small coins.

We stocked last week a good sized quantity of cream and Dairy pails. They are all made of heavy coke tin and leak-proof. Should any of these pails show any defects you are at liberty to return them. We will either refund your money or give you another pail. Sizes, 10-qt., 12-qt., 14-qt. at 50c, 58c and 65c.

Victor Hugo: "Share your bread with little children, see that no one goes about you with naked feet, look kindly upon mothers nursing their children on the doorsteps of humble cottages, walk through the world without malevolence, do not knowingly crush the humblest flower, respect the nests of birds, bow to the purple from afar and to the pool at close range. Rise to labor, go to rest with prayer, go to sleep in the unknown, having for your pillow the infinitesimal, believe, hope, live, be like him who has a watering pot in his hand, only let your watering pot be filled with good deeds and good words; never be discouraged, be magnanimous, be father, and if you have lands cultivate them, if you have sons rear them, and if you have enemies bless them—all with that sweet and unobtrusive authority that comes to the soul in patient expectation of the eternal dawn."

About Nebraska and Nebraskans

Will M. Maupin.

The state convention of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary will be held in Hastings next week. It is now nearly eleven years since the World War ceased, not long measured by years, but long enough for a great many people to forget. Eleven years ago this week more than two million American soldiers were in France, and as many more in training camps at home. "Rarin' 't go."
The American troops had already given a good account of themselves, for in May they had won Cantigny. In June the Marines had blocked the first German drive at Chateau Thierry and won Belleau Wood. In the middle of July the First and Second Divisions had been given the post of honor at Soissons and after five days of fighting had won.

Nebraska troops were in most part assigned to the Eighty-fifth and Eighty-ninth Divisions. Pershing had won his contention that the American troops should fight as such, not as British and French replacements. Foch had been given the supreme command, and eleven years ago this month the preparations for the Big Push were complete. The confidence of the Allies had been restored by the appearance of a unified American army, a confidence not misplaced, as evidenced by the fact that when the Big Push started in August it was never stopped until Nov. 11, when the armistice was signed.

Brigadier General George Harries, who commanded the original Nebraska brigade, which was split up before American troops got into action, was the first commissioned officer of the Allied troops to enter Berlin.

Nearly 45,000 Nebraska boys rallied to the colors during the World War, a majority of them getting overseas.

Dr. Richard Tanner of Norfolk, "Diamond Dick," denies that he ever posed as the original "Diamond Dick," insisting that he was forced into that position by irresponsible newspaper correspondents. This writer has received several courteous letters from Dr. Tanner explaining just how it all happened, and his explanations are reasonable and evidently sincere. If an injustice has been done him by recent paragraphs an apology is hereby tendered by the writer.

Sixty-eight years of residence in Nebraska is a fine record, and especially notable because of the service rendered during all those years Mrs. Fieda McArdle, who died at her home near Omaha a week ago, came to Nebraska a bride of 18 in the summer of 1861. She and her husband homesteaded west of Omaha on what is now the Dodge street road. For 68 years she lived on that original homestead, and on it she died. The name of McArdle is inseparably connected with the history and development of Douglas county and of Omaha.

The development of well irrigation in the Platte Valley between Grand Island and Kearney is one of the remarkable features of central Nebraska. The Platte river may be dry on the surface at times, but the underflow is as unfailing as the tides and as inexhaustible as the ocean. Lowering cost of electricity is making possible the cheap irrigation from Kelly wells of considerable tracts. This season has been unusually dry, but while unirrigated fields are parched and dry the irrigated fields are really wonderful.

The dry season has given an added impetus to the Tri-County Water Project, which has been in a somnolent condition for two or three years. This project contemplates impounding Platte flood waters in two or three huge "draws" in Gosper county, and spreading it out over the land in Phelps, Kearney, and Adams counties, and a part of Clay county. It is now ready for legislative action, as irrigation contemplates the use of from 30 to 36 inches of water per acre per year. In this case 12 inches will be sufficient to mature crops, no matter how dry the season.

An interesting game for evening socials, and one that is educational, may be made up by questions relating to Nebraska. A few sample questions relating to Nebraska counties is here given. The same thing may be applied to Nebraska towns, or rivers:
What county is named after a fruit?
What county is named after a famous hunter?
What county is named after a moth proof chest?
What counties are named after Indian tribes?
What county is named after a great American explorer?
What counties are named after famous American generals?
There are six counties named after presidents; what are they?

The oil test well at Red Cloud is down nearly 1,300 feet and still going. The rig is set at the Campbell well and boring will be under way by the time this appears in print. The well at Imperial is down more than 2,500 feet and still going strong. Two strong gas flows are reported from Imperial.

At 66.

Will Maupin in Hastings Democrat: By the way, the 66 years I have lived, or will have lived if I'm here on the last day of this month, have been the most wonderful years in history. Just pause for a minute and realize that practically every worth while invention has been produced since I was born. The only one prior to my birth that amounts to a 'darn' was the steam engine. I saw the birth of the telephone, the repeating rifle, the electric light, the sound reproducing machine, the kinetoscope, which is the mother of our modern motion pictures, the limotype, the airplane, the radio. I was beginning to shave when nitro-glycerine was invented. I saw the wrought iron nail disappear before the advent of the wire nail. I was out of knickerbockers when the screw point was invented, and the steel rail was an eventuality of future time when I had figured through Ray's Third Part of Arithmetic and read through McGuffey's Sixth Reader. Bessemer had not perfected his process for making steel when I laid out my first block of sideburns.

Stock And Pasture. Excellent In State

Lincoln, Neb.—Both cattle and pastures on Nebraska's western ranges are excellent, says the agricultural department's monthly report, as contrasted with conditions in some other regions. There was plenty of grass and hay in the sandhills August 1, the resume continues, but desire to restock will hold cattle back unless prices are satisfactory. Speaking of the situation in Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Oklahoma, Texas, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California, the report says:
"Dry, warm weather which began in July has cut the supply of range feed. But July rains have improved conditions in western Nebraska and six other states, although they still have a few dry spots."

Demonstration in MOTION PICTURES
At the Crystal theatre in Wayne next Tuesday evening, August 27, we will have a program of motion pictures showing farm operations and improvements. Of leading interest will be the process of manufacturing McCormick-Deering cream separators. Every step from the raw material to the finished product will be shown.
Also motion pictures will show profits from milk, the horseless farm, making twine and how to make the cow profitable.
"Farm Inconveniences" is a comedy which will enliven interest.
This interesting and educational program is Free to everybody. Cards sent out by the International Harvester Company should be properly filled out and presented at the door.

Why SILVERTOWNS are the TOUGHEST of all tires!
THE toughness of a tire depends on its cure. If it is to give long wear, the inside must be cured exactly the same as the outside. And this is done in the Silvertown by the Goodrich Water-Cure.
This sounds technical at first, but really it's as simple as A B C.
When the lady of the house makes biscuits she uses the "air cure." They have a crust—they are cooked more on the outside than on the inside. When she cooks cereal in the double boiler she uses the "water cure." Then the part against the sides and bottom of the pan are cooked exactly the same as that in the center. If she happens to let the water boil away, so that the cereal begins to get the "air cure," it forms a crust against the bottom, such like the biscuits have.
Silvertowns are cured for greatest toughness. The water cure makes that toughness uniform clear through—in the center of the tire as well as the outside. And this is one of the reasons why they "cost less in the long run."
Why not save tire cost and tire trouble by buying Silvertowns here?

The Keeley System.
Lincoln Journal: Reports of the prosperity of the once famed Keeley institute led the Christian Science Monitor to make an investigation which scarcely bears out these rumors. It finds that while 753 persons were treated for alcoholism last year, this number is negligible compared with the thousands that formerly flocked seeking a cure. There was a time when 5,000 persons were treated a month and a number of institutions patterned after Doctor Keeley's institute were thriving. All these latter have disappeared. The Monitor report continues:

"Instead of the 'Keeley cure' standing today 'at the height of its fortune,' it is in fact but the greatly diminished survival of a system which once had branches in every state, in Canada and in Europe. Instead of doing business today from a massive office building, the hub of a $500,000 plant at Dwight, the Keeley Institute has been operating since 1920, when it sold its big establishment, from a bungalow. And as regards 1928 being almost a record year, many more unfortunate have stood in line in Dwight for the Keeley treatment on a single day than dribbled in thither all last year."

Dr. J. H. Oughton, son of one of Doctor Keeley's partners, now head of the institute, says that state-wide prohibition was a substantial factor in the decline of the Keeley system. Prohibition reduced drunkenness and simultaneously reduced "drink cures." The long experience of the institute, the Monitor is convinced, illustrates the operation of prohibition in putting a brake on drunkenness.

Many Are Expected At Legion Meeting

Hastings, Neb.—Nebraska legionnaires will meet here Monday, August 26, for their 11th annual three-day convention.

Five thousand members and auxiliary members, more than attended last year's meet at Grand Island, are expected. The men will convene in the municipal auditorium, while women will hold their sessions at the Methodist church.

Gov. Weaver, Sam Reynolds of the national executive committee, and Scott W. Lucas, national judge advocate, are among the speakers.

A new event of the meet this year will be held before the convention starts. That is a golf tournament, open to all service men. Hastings business men will provide trophies and matches will be played at the Hillside club.

Two other Nebraska cities, Kearney and Fremont, already have made bids for the 1930 convention. Decision on this problem, as well as election of officers and choosing the delegates for the national convention at Louisville in September, is among the business for consideration. The convention will be called to order at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Wives Will Testify To This

Whither a little white ball goes, a man will gladly follow... up and down hill, over bunkers and through hazards... wonderful is the power of a golfing mind over physical weariness!

It's something different, however, to ask the same man to walk across two rooms to answer the telephone. Many a good wife will tell you a 36-hole-a-day husband seems to be chair-bound at home.

But a word to efficient wives is sufficient and the word is... Extension-Telephones.

Extension telephones can be located in den, living room, kitchen, bed room, hall upstairs and all those places where members of the family are likely to be found at any time. They save countless tiring steps.

EXTENSION TELEPHONES COST ONLY A FEW CENTS A DAY

FREE BOOKLET—Are your telephones conveniently located? Do you know how small is the cost of extension telephones? Just call our Business Office. Ask us to send you our free booklet which explains complete and convenient telephone service for the home.

NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Advanced Engineering Knowledge and Experience have produced this Finer Oil Burner

In principle, design and construction. Electrol is an outstanding engineering achievement. There is nothing finer. It will bring you automatic, care-free heating in its highest development. Freedom from attention, from smoke, soot and dirt—from coal and ash shoveling. With reduced expense for laundering and cleaning.

Above all, Electrol provides absolute assurance of dependable operation... Constant comfort... Any temperature desired... An abundance of heat, no matter how severe the weather.

All Electric and Entirely Automatic

Not only is Electrol's operation entirely electric, it is also entirely automatic. A small electric motor furnishes the power. Motor, blower and pump are mounted on one shaft without gearing. Moving parts are reduced to the minimum.

The oil is atomized and automatically mixed with the correct amount of air, and ignited entirely by electricity. No gas pilot is used. Hence there is no possibility of gas escaping from an unlighted burner.

The Master Control

Like a living hand always at the furnace door, THE MASTER CONTROL keeps constant watch over every phase of the burner's operation, making the burner fool-proof and always under constant automatic control. You cannot afford to be without this important Electrol feature.

Mechanical Atomization

The oil is atomized into a fine mist, and thoroughly mixed with air, permitting independent regulation of the oil and air supplies, and allowing all parts to be outside the firebox. This principle also permits the greatest amount of heat to be generated from the fuel.

The Electrol Nozzle

The size of the nozzle is the only part of the burner which varies according to the heating requirements of the building. Thus, by the selection of the correct nozzle at the time the installation is made, the correct combustion mixture is obtained. Once adjusted, proper heating is mechanically maintained. The Electrol nozzle is simple. It operates without springs. There is nothing about it to get out of order.

Quiet—naturally

The new-day Electrol method of heating abolishes noise, an objectionable feature of inferior burners. Electrol is so quiet you are not conscious of its presence. No more sound than the soft purr of an electric fan.

Fuel Consumption Occurs Only When Heat Is Needed

Compare the efficiency of the electrol method of heating with the fuel waste which takes place when coal is burned. With coal the fire must be kept going constantly. But with the wonderful Electrol the fire burns intermittently, consuming fuel economically—only when heat is needed.

Two Models Cover Complete Range of Requirements

Electrol is made in two models to cover all heating requirements—for homes and buildings of all types and sizes; apartments, schools, churches, libraries, stores, banks, bakeries and theatres. There is the model T with a wide range of heating capacity for homes and buildings of average size—and the model TD for larger installations. Every Electrol is adaptable to any type of heating plant. Your dealings are with an organization which places service and your interests first. The burner leaves the factory complete, ready to install—and is installed RIGHT. Ask us for a demonstration.

Carroll School Will Open Soon

Carroll school opens for the term Monday, September 2, and all positions on the faculty are filled. The instructors will be as follows: E. E. Werner of Norfolk, superintendent; Carroll Miller of Lincoln, Miss Constance Herndon of Wayne, and Miss Evelyn Anderson of Holdrege, high school; Miss Florence Buol of Randolph, grammar grades; Miss Roma Jackson of Newman Grove, intermediate grades; and Miss Ella Adams of Osmond, primary. Miss Adams takes the place of Miss Louise Lund of Stromsburg, who was elected after she had contracted for a position at another place.

Harvest Of Grain Is Nearly Finished

Threshing of small grain is nearly completed this week in the Carroll vicinity. Two crews finished last week and others are completing work this week. One of the large yields reported is that of Gus Paulsen who had sixty-five loads of oats from sixty-three acres. The grain averaged about sixty bushels to the acre. Peter Carlson threshed fortythree loads from fortytwo acres, this being about the same yield as Mr. Paulsen's. Ivor Morris had an average of sixtyfour bushels from a ten-acre field of oats.

Robertson received her A. B. degree at the college here in 1928.

Former Wayne Boy Is Married

Fred L. Ash of Julesburg, Colo., and Miss Irene Lucas of Greeley, Colo., Wed.

Mr. Fred L. Ash of Julesburg, Colo., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ash of Wayne, and Miss Irene Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lucas of Greeley, Colo., were married August 8 at 6 p. m. at the country home of the bride's parents.

The couple was attended by Miss Twyla Coles and Jesse V. Lucas, the latter a brother of the bride. A wedding supper was served following the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Ash left for Colorado Springs where they spent a few days before coming to Wayne to visit the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. Ash has always made his home at Greeley and attended the Greeley schools. Mr. Ash is a graduate of the Wayne high school and attended the Wayne Teachers college.

The young couple will be at home after September 1 on Mr. Ash's ranch near Ovid, Colo.

Those who had family dinner at the C. S. Ash home near Wayne Sunday in honor of the couple were: Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Stephens of Stillwater, Okla., Miss Dorothy Mae Gilger of Sioux City, Mo., and Mrs. Max Ash, Ray Ash and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ash. The same group and Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Ash had picnic supper at the Ray Ash home Tuesday evening and a dinner at the Max Ash home Monday evening. This is the first time in five years that the Ash family has been together.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Ash left yesterday for Julesburg and Dr. and Mrs. Stephens left for their home at Stillwater.

Baptist Meeting Held In Norfolk

Thirtythird Annual Session Is in Progress This Thursday and Friday.

Thirtythird annual session of the Northeast Nebraska Baptist association is being held at Norfolk this Thursday and Friday. Rev. A. C. Downing of Wayne, is moderator of the organization and Rev. Paul Sawtell of Pilger, is vice moderator. Mrs. R. W. Blatchford is secretary-treasurer. Special visitors at the meeting are Dr. J. M. Wells of Grand Island, Rev. G. L. Sharp of the Nebraska Baptist association, Rev. Ezra Duncan, director of religious education, Rev. F. L. Gilson, missionary from Assam, and Mrs. Jeff Yelton, representative of the state board.

Rev. Downing of Wayne, gives the evening address Friday. George Downing responds to the address of welcome at the evening meeting this Thursday, and he presides at the young people's rally Friday afternoon.

Those who take part on the Thursday program are the following: Rev. G. E. Forsell of Ober, Arad Whitner of Tilden, Rev. D. McPherson of Norfolk, Rev. Ezra Duncan of Omaha, the Norfolk choir, C. A. Lederer of Norfolk, George Downing of Wayne, and Rev. Paul Sawtell of Pilger.

On the Friday program the following will have part: Rev. E. E. Ray of Chambers, Rev. G. L. Sharp of Omaha, Rev. F. L. Gilson of Assam, Rev. G. L. Sharp, E. C. Whisman of Pilger, Dr. J. M. Wells of Grand Island, Mrs. Jeff Yelton of Lincoln, George Downing and Rev. Downing.

Arrive In Wayne After Trip West

After traveling 7,524 miles the past two months on the western coast, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mitchell arrived home Monday noon. They visited many states and many places of interest but were glad to return to Nebraska.

The Mitchells went west on the southern route, going first to Riverside, Calif., to visit their daughter, Mrs. H. Arnold Karo, and family. Mr. Karo is helping make maps in an effort to determine the cause of earthquakes. Mr. and Mrs. Karo have a little son who is an important member of the family.

The Wayne people visited relatives of Mrs. Mitchell at Lancaster, Long Beach and San Pedro and relatives of Mr. Mitchell at Medford and Freewater, Ore., also at Vancouver, Wash. They stopped in Columbia Falls, Mont., to see a sister of Mrs. Mitchell.

Besides visiting many places of interest on the coast, the Mitchells went through Glacier and Yellowstone national parks. They like Glacier park much the better, though the variety of sights is greater in Yellowstone.

Roads through the west are wonderful, the travelers found. The coast highways are mostly all paved. Roads are poorest in Montana. Crops are dried out in Montana and Wyoming this year, they found.

Masonic Lodge Will Lay Stone

The Masonic Grand lodge officers will be in Wayne next Tuesday at 1:30 to lay the cornerstone for the new Neihardt hall at the Wayne State Teachers College. Most of the Grand lodge officers will be present.

Masons have laid the cornerstones for the industrial building, former training school and the administration building at the Teachers College here, also for the court house.

Pleasant Valley Club.

Former Students Of College Here

Thirtyfive Families Attend Fourth Annual Reunion at Bressler Park Sunday.

The fourth annual reunion of former students of the Nebraska Normal college of Wayne, was held Sunday at Bressler park here. Thirtyfive old school friends and their families were present.

Following a sumptuous dinner at noon, Prof. E. J. Huntmer called the group to order and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. John McIntyre, president; Miss Charlotte White, vice president and advisor; and Q. A. Burney, secretary-treasurer.

The group enjoyed reminiscences of school days. Miss Edith Beechel of Athens, Ohio, former student and faculty member, was one of those present. The group inspected the new dormitory and training school and then adjourned.

State Fair Is Clean. The state fair board maintains a clean show each year. No lottery or gambling devices are allowed to operate. There are no questionable shows. A high standard of entertainment is set and held to.

Likewise the morale of the fair is high. An alert police force of many members is on duty on the grounds. Last year they made only three arrests, all for drunkenness, in the eight days the fair ran. The people who came to the fair are exceptionally well behaved and the wholesome surroundings help to hold up the high moral standard.

Card of Thanks. We wish to express sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness and the floral tributes at the time of our bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kingston and family.

Boy Bruised When Struck By Car

Marion Willard Berry, 3 year-old child who makes his home with Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McClendon, was bruised somewhat when knocked down by a car which was going north on Main street Monday evening.

The child had slipped away from Mr. and Mrs. McClendon and gone down town, while they were calling at the R. J. Kingston home.

Unnoticed by the driver of the car, which was moving slowly, Marion started to run across the street and was struck by the car and thrown to the ground.

Boy Bruised When Struck By Car

Marion Willard Berry, 3 year-old child who makes his home with Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McClendon, was bruised somewhat when knocked down by a car which was going north on Main street Monday evening.

The child had slipped away from Mr. and Mrs. McClendon and gone down town, while they were calling at the R. J. Kingston home.

Unnoticed by the driver of the car, which was moving slowly, Marion started to run across the street and was struck by the car and thrown to the ground.

Couple Are Wed In Hiscox Home

Ceremony Performed Thursday Evening in Presence of Relatives and Friends.

The marriage of Miss Betty Ann Hiscox to Mr. Paul M. Crossland was solemnized Thursday evening, August 15, at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hiscox, in the presence of sixty relatives and friends.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers of green and orchid, the colors of the bride. The guests were received at the door by Miss Mary Mildred Crossland, and Armand Hiscox acted as usher.

The ceremony was performed before a bower of green, decorated with flowers of the bride's colors. Miss Mae Hiscox, sister of the bride, first sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," by Stultz, and "At Dawning," by Cadman, and then played Lohengrin's wedding march, by Wagner.

Rev. Dr. Weldon F. Crossland of Pontiac, Mich., brother of the bridegroom, officiated, using his mother's bible. The bridegroom, attired in a black tuxedo, was attended by his brother, William A. Crossland of Lincoln, similarly attired.

The flower girls, Margaret and Jane Randall, Margaret Jones, Eileen Brooke, Helen Jones, Mildred and Fern Reeves and Helen Hiscox, dressed in pastel shades, carried baskets of flowers of green and orchid, and were followed by Dorothy Jean Casper, the ring bearer.

Mrs. M. E. Benson of Minneapolis, matron of honor, preceded the bride and wore a bouffant gown of green georgette and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bride appeared with her father. She wore a dress of white tulle with pearl ornaments and a veil of white tulle secured by a pearl band.

She wore a pearl bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a corsage of orchids and white roses. The double ring ceremony was used and the marriage lines and benediction were pronounced by Dr. Weldon F. Crossland.

Following congratulations, the guests and bridal couple enjoyed the wedding refreshments, prepared by the hostess and served by the flower girls. The bridal pair left shortly thereafter for a trip through the lake country of northern Minnesota.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Benson of Minneapolis, Mrs. George Mittauer, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mittauer.

Girls Home From Trip To Southwest

After spending about two months in California and other southwest states, Miss Joy, Miss Mary Alice and Miss Marjorie Ley and Miss Beryl McClure arrived home last week Wednesday. The four young women visited a number of places of interest and saw many former Wayne people.

Riding over the Grand canyon in Colorado by aeroplane was one of the outstanding features of the young women's trip. This ride in the air gave them a fine opportunity to see the beauties of the canyon.

Another interesting part of the trip was a steamship ride from Long Beach to San Francisco. The young women liked traveling on the boat and were delighted with San Francisco. As a city they much prefer it to southern California points.

The group spent one day in Mexico and, though they enjoyed seeing the country and people, they did not care to stay longer there.

The Wayne girls visited Mrs. Henry Ley and the LeRoy Ley family in Long Beach, and also saw relatives in Pasadena, San Diego and Los Angeles. Mrs. Neel Callahan, formerly Miss Marjorie Beebe, Donald Gilderleeve and Ed Reynolds are in Los Angeles. They are cousins of the Ley girls. They found their relatives and all former Wayne people whom they visited to be well and enjoying the southwest.

The weather was quite warm in southern California, but much cooler and more pleasant in San Francisco.

Enroute home the party stopped in Salt Lake and Denver.

A Nebraska Boy Writes "Noah's Ark"

Darryl Francis Zanuck, associate executive at the Warner studios, has had an interesting career as anyone with the motion picture industry.

He was born in Wahoo, Neb., where he received his education.

At the entry of the United States in the World war, Mr. Zanuck enlisted in the 37th Division and was sent overseas where he served through three major offensives. During the Argonne drive, the man who had been sending the divisional contributions to "The Stars and Stripes" was killed, and Mr. Zanuck volunteered to carry on the work.

He enjoyed it so much that on his return home he began writing short stories. He met with instant success. Early in 1921 he suggested a plot for a moving picture to William Russell who purchased it and made the picture for Fox. This was the beginning of his scenario writing. Today he is one of the most prolific writers for the screen.

In addition to his executive work at the studio he has written the original stories for several Warner specials, among them "Ham and Eggs at the Front," "Old San Francisco" and "Noah's Ark."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McChesney of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Wayne, have named their infant daughter Evelyn Gean. The baby was born July 24.

JACQUESOL---the Champion Cleaning Fluid

Expert cleaners tell us that this solvent is the best ever discovered for cleaning furs, silks and woollens. It does not leave the garments hard or dry as when cleaned in gasoline, but rather leaves them with a beautiful gloss, a soft feeling and a finish like new.

JACQUESOL puts life into garments and that is what clothes must have to give good wear. They all say: "My, how do you put such a nice gloss and soft feel on your cleaned garments?" The secret lies in the fact that we use this new solvent, JACQUESOL.

and amusement that he enjoys, all originate in the town, because the money with which they are procured is made there.

When a fellow boosts his own town he does not stop there. He is performing an act that improves his own condition, for every good word and every good deed has its elevating influence. A few people are always home town boosters. They accomplish much in the way of community betterment, and this improves the condition of not only themselves, but also of those who do no boosting at all.

If every citizen would constitute himself a home town booster the result collectively would be many times as great, and opportunities for self improvement would be more numerous.

Think it over in your odd moments. Then get into the boost wagon and hit the pace.

THE New BUICK

The Greatest success in all Buick history

More people have purchased New Buicks during the past two weeks than in any similar period of any previous year

The New Buick with Body by Fisher has met with a veritable landslide of public demand, many purchased before ever seeing the car—many thousands of others placed their orders the first few days it was on display—other thousands have been taking demonstrations and then making Buick their choice.

More Buick owners have entered orders—more men and women who owned other cars have turned to Buick—more people who formerly paid from $1000 to $2000 higher for their automobiles have purchased Buicks—than ever before during a similar period in Buick's twenty-six year history.

The total demand during these two weeks is from three to five times as great as that for any other automobile priced above $1200.

Popularity so overwhelming carries an unmistakable message to every prospective motor car buyer: See the new Buick—drive it—compare it—and you'll quickly discover that it's the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the entire quality field.

Some Boy and Girl 4-H Champs

Proud of their herd are this group of 4-H club boys and girls who won first award in the county club group at the Ak-Sar-Ben Show first.

Youngsters go in for raising thoroughbred livestock these days, just as eagerly as do their elders. At the Ak-Sar-Ben Show which was held in Omaha, Neb., November 1 to 8, hundreds of head of cattle and hogs will be shown by boys and girls from the farms of Nebraska and other mid-west states. Last year a herd of five cattle raised by boys and girls of Macleay county, Nebraska, won first honors for a county 4-H club herd. R. A. Stewart, Battle Creek, Neb., was the county agent who directed the work. Awards to their youthful livestock raisers rank in importance with the ribbons awarded senior
