Henry Ford is quoted as saying that gasoline and booze do not mix, that liquor does not harmonize with industry, and that if traffic in liquid tangletoff is ever legalized he will quit manufacturing.

The way the Arabs and Jews are acting in Jerusalem leads one to suspect that the world's chief seat of religious interest has little real religious left. The trouble started over the "Wailing Wall," and the result would seem to cause more wailing than the wall could comfortably stand.

Another fair-fall Tuesday night soaked the ground and contributed to the good results of previous rainings. Moisture was accompanied by a sharp change in temperature, the intense heat of several days being followed by a decidedly cool variety. Progress of the seasons only strengthens the reassuring crop prospect.

Wayne stores are offering fall and winter stocks in great abundance and variety at prices that invite closest comparison with those offered elsewhere. A trip through the business district at this time gives convincing proof that one may supply every need here and save money on every purchase. While attending the fair, interview local stores and see their stocks.

"Have what you think people want," says Brisbane, "and let them know you have it." If you have things needed and keep under cover you might as well quit and call in the undertaker. If you shout for attention and have nothing to shout about, inviting purchase of things people don't need and don't want, you will soon be found out and then you might as well hang up your fiddle. The combination suggested by Brisbane is a winner.

The passing of John L. Webster, aged 82, at his home in Omaha early Monday morning, removes another of the state's pioneers and leaders. He had lived in Omaha 60 years. He was an outstanding lawyer, famous as an eloquent speaker. Mr. Webster was active in the state's politics, and he was president of the first constitutional convention in 1876. He served four years in the state legislature.

SELF-PITY

It is said a man who suicided recently suffered from self-pity. He felt that the world was against him, and that he belonged nowhere in the social order. He seemed to possess good character and good principles. Perhaps he had had more than the average allotment of trouble. But instead of overcoming obstacles and being strengthened and burnished by the experience, he allowed them to master him, crushing his spirit and causing him to look about with distrust and forward in despair. Instead of numerous trials acting as stimulants, they goaded him to retreat with suspicion rankling in his breast. How much better to accept pain and disappointment as friendly corrective and directing forces rather than permit them to blast hope and determine destiny. How much better to struggle over rough places, rise heroically after every fall and show the world that the game is not forfeited as long as natural life lasts. People are not against any one who is worthy and orderly. On the contrary, they are naturally for the fellow who is battling against more than his share of ill fortune or hard luck. But if one throws up his hands in acknowledgment of defeat and believes he sees himself as the object only of evil intentions, holding aloof from sustaining association and fellowship, he sinks deeper and deeper into the mire of self-pity and self-destruction. How much better to give little thought to self, but center attention on what one is doing or what one expects to do, becoming a contributor instead of a recipient, looking for the good instead of the bad, and ceasing to suspect a world that is too busy attending to its own business to single out individuals for special disfavour.

and in 1901 he was defeated as a candidate for United States senator. He was prominently identified with the development of Omaha and the state, and he leaves a record of notable achievement.

Most rural schools opened this week, but the Wayne school does not start until next Monday, and the State Teachers College resumes a week later. Resumption of school activities emphasizes anew progress made in educational fields. Down in New York we understand a policy is being introduced to shorten recitation periods and thus lengthen study hours in school, largely going away with the need of taking books home for lesson preparation. But we note in the opening of rural schools, some of them offer a powerful argument for consolidation by the few pupils reported in attendance. Three schools north of Wakefield report enrollments of four, six and seven children respectively. Such enrollment makes excessive per capita overhead and is too small to excite interest and stimulate quest for knowledge. Diminishing enrollment, good roads and advanced means of transportation will speed up consolidations and give improved educational and social advantages.

The passing of the annual labor day reminds us that relationship between employer and employe in this country has greatly improved. Time was when the spirit of hatefulness ruled. A workman was then more of a machine. He did the very least that he could do and still held his job. His wages were kept down to the minimum, and he was always dissatisfied. Instead of cooperating with the institution that employed him, he was in a constant battle for advantage, thinking solely of self and never in a friendly way of the source of his pay check. Thus, also, the employe treated his helper with cold indifference beyond the product which his hands and brains turned to profit from day to day. Manifestly and happily conditions have changed. Employers and employes of any progressive institution make headway as friends instead of enemies. They have come to realize that working together in a spirit of harmony, with the interests of all impartially considered, is the way to improve and advance. They have taken a long step forward.

PRUNES.
 We notice that the grape business in California is receiving favorable attention from the federal farm board, the latter joining with powerful coast banks in making a big loan to the industry. This action might be expected to make Pacific coast prune orchards envious and mad unless they are given similar support. How prunes now stand in the western social scale we do not know, though some years ago they were little favored and often abused. Prunes are prolific and comparatively hardy. They do well under neglect and under hostile weather conditions. They lift their heads bravely above the contemptuous scorn of other fruits, and when they finally reach the human stomach, they prove a source of health and longevity. In past years the humble prune has been treated with levity in boarding houses and private homes, but it behaves better when eaten and contributes more to a million-dollar feeling than any of its haughty neighbors in orchards and vineyards. When one expresses contempt for another by calling him a "prune," he does not mean to inflict a great injustice. If the prunes of the western coast do not feel disconsolate or piqued over what would appear to be discrimination, it will be because of their native courage.

New Goods and Special Values Received Last Week

Our regular Saturday Special for this week is a big value for the money. A decorated metal tray, 15 inches long and 12 inches wide for a dime is something exceptional.

Two weeks ago we sold a large size blue enameled roaster for a dollar. We sold those roasters out in a short time and the demand for them was so strong that we ordered a second shipment which arrived a few days ago. Those of our customers who were too late before can have one of these big ENAMELED ROASTERS for a dollar now.

One of the good values received this week is a 10-quart white enameled COMBINET. It is a good piece of enamel-ware at 98c.

Some of the women have hardly finished their spring house-cleaning—others have already started with their fall cleaning. No matter what class you are in, you may need new CURTAINS. We received two styles of new curtains this week. One is a rayon marquisette panel; the other is a 5-piece set of ruffled voile with rayon inserted valances. Both are exceptional values at $1.00.

If you are interested in LACES—Vals or Art Laces—we can show you some new dainty patterns at 5c and 10c the yard, which you will like. Also new fringes at 10c and 15c per yard.

Here are a few other items which we unpacked this week and which may interest our customers, because they are real values and money-savers: BRONZE BRUSHES with handles, soft wire to clean shoes, pots and kettles, etc., 15c. WATERWAVE COMBS, heavier than the usual grade, 5c each. NEW BAR-RETETS for 10c and 25c. A new kind of LADY'S GIRLDE for 50c. HEAVY, CRIB PADS for the baby, 25c. WINDOW WIPER for autos, windows, etc., 10c.

We receive many new items—time, labor and money-saving articles—week to week and it would pay our customers to look around when in the store.

Frog Has Five Legs.
Neligh, Neb., Aug. 30—It is said that many people have seen two-toed horses, double-eared calves and one-eyed hogs, but the question is have you ever seen a five-legged frog?
C. A. Strawn of Humboldt, who is in the city for treatment by the Phillips, captured such a frog yesterday while he was try- ing his luck fishing at the Nies lakes southeast of Neligh. The freak is being shown at a garage here.
Hurts Foot With Fork.
Beemer, Neb.—Glen Karlen, 13-year-old son of S. G. Karlen, president of a Farmers union lo- cal, ran a pitchfork through his left foot while playing.
The boy was given a serum as a prevention against lockjaw, and is expected to recover.

Burlington Man Praises Sargon

"Sargon has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life."
"For ten years I suffered with stomach trouble that poisoned my whole system and brought on all kinds of complications. I had very little appetite and what little I did eat caused me a lot of pain. Lumbago and rheumatism in my legs bothered me a lot and I suffered from headaches that must have been brought on by constipation. Nervousness kept me from sleeping, too, and I was always tired and listless. "Almost as soon as I started taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, my whole condition began to improve. This wonderful treatment built back my strength and put my stomach in fine condition. My appetite picked up and indigestion disappeared. The pains from lumbago and rheumatism stopped entirely. The pills regulated me perfectly without any bad effects at all. "I'm glad to recommend Sargon to all my friends; it's a medicine that does all that is claimed for it—and more."—Frank R. Blakeway, 1909 S. 12th St. Burlington, Ia. Felber's Pharmacy, Agents.

FASHION FIGURES ON new silhouettes FOR FALL 1929

The very first thing we noticed as we went fall fashion scouting the other day was the importance of the new silhouettes for fall. Relegated to fashions of a bygone day is the straight, box-like silhouette that the feminine world welcomed with open arms not very many seasons ago and now seems just as eager to give it up and toss it aside with the same easy nonchalance she does anything she has grown tired of.

The new fall collections are without any question of a doubt designed for the sophisticated woman. There is nothing especially youthful about them. Rather they are mature. And yet, they have about them a certain something that appealed to us and we are sure, will to you too. And that is a feeling of being cut on the lines of the human figure. They are molded as to waistline and then spread out to give greater flare in the skirt.

We enjoyed our trip through the stores and shops very much and are sure you will too. For there is a decidedly new trend in the fashions for fall, 1929, that is very pleasing. There are the most complicated themes you could imagine and yet they are worked into the body of the costume in such a manner that they are delightfully informal and free.

Concerning Fall Coats. If you are in the market for a new coat this winter you will have all sorts of fun making your selection. For the coat departments in the city are fairly bulging with grand merchandise that is decidedly new, decidedly Parisian, and in our opinion for the materials and furs and the beautiful workmanship are not high priced.

Feminine Flares Appear. We are sure that you will like these flutery feminine flares, if for no other reason than that they are so sharply new and so flattering to the feminine figure. We saw one adorable coat of a black material that was very soft to the touch and fashioned along the peplum idea and with a long subtly flared section dropped to the back within 6 or 7 inches of the hemline. The coat was perfectly straight beneath. It seemed to us a perfect coat for afternoon functions and semi-formal evening affairs.

Straight Line Broken. When the coats are straight-lined, fashion has devised various ways and means of making this type of coat especially interesting by breaking up the straight line. In some cases by shoulder or yoke treatments that give a loose feeling about the shoulder, and in others in tiered effects. Belts are placed at a high waistline too, in some of the more youthful coats and often finish at the left side with a ring buckle of silver or some composition in color to match the coat.

The uneven hemline so long a dark horse in the daytime coat fashions, has come to the fore in no uncertain manner. We saw so many coats with this uneven hemline treatment.

In some cases the coat would be straight all around except for a different left side and in other cases the coat would dip gradually to the center back. One of the very smartest coats we saw had a scalloped hemline and even in this coat we noticed it had a downward trend movement toward the back hemline.

There isn't a woman living that doesn't love fur in great quantities on her winter coat. For that reason we are sure you will enjoy slipping into the lovely models that are shown in the shops and stores throughout the town. Fur is one thing that the designers and manufacturers have not spared. It is used in tremendous quantity on straight lined coats in lovely shawl collars and bell cuffs and is often used as a finishing touch either all around the bottom of the coat or in certain important spots.

Most Favored Trimmings. For instance one of the most favored trimmings in a straight coat is an enormous collar of Hudson seal or caracul, which when dropped on the shoulders becomes a long fur cape collar.

This coat will no doubt be gratefully accepted in debutante and college girl circles.

Of the collar treatments, two types are particularly important. One is the collar of fabric with fur border which may be draped flat placing the fur as a band about the shoulders. The other is cut high about the face with square collars and is usually fashioned of both flat and long haired furs. One interesting collar we close was in Elizabethan shape with eggshell skunk on the inside and dark skunk on the outside.

Clever Sleeves. You will adore the sleeves on the new coats. Mostly because of the way in which fur is used on them. We saw flaring and close fitting cuffs, pouched styles and plain bands set just below the elbow. One coat had fur that reached from the wrist to the elbow. In the formal coat range Lida cloth is the outstanding fabric for fall with plenty of broad cloth and lots of novelty wool shown, especially a loosely woven basket fabric seems to have become a classic among fashionable women. Black, as usual, is the leading coat color, brown running a close second—beige and green next in line.

New Sport Coats. We had an awful time tearing ourselves away from the sport coat section because there is something so gloriously practical about them that in our estimation every woman feels much the same as we did. The most important feature about the new sport coats is the flaring movement. These flares do not appear in a bold and brazen manner but rather by deftly handled material evidently cut on the bias. Tweed, the old standby, still remains a favorite in the sports coat realm and is combined with all sorts of furs shown in various colors. The sales people in the shops place the importance on beige and brown, although they are of the opinion that green, red and blue will also be much favored by smart women.

Throughout the entire dress collections on exhibit in the shops, we noted a decided tendency toward the fitted silhouette. Skirts a little longer, dipping side and back movement. We noted panels and draperies put on skirts in a new way.

Before we go any farther, we want to tell you that fashion has worked hand in hand with the colorings of autumn and places the first importance in the fall dress collections. There is the capucine orange, rust leaf browns, and warm reds, as well as an overwhelming supply of the ever popular and ever fashionable black.

Higher Waistline. Women with a slender waistline are very much in luck this season for there is a very definite trend toward the higher waistline which is often achieved by the fitted silhouette. Occasionally, belts are used only in sections across the front or the back of the frock. We tried on several frocks just so that we could get a better idea to give to you and so many of them noticed the higher necklines.

Models are arriving daily—they are last minute styles from Paris showing slender and much more shallow V necks than we have seen for many seasons. Even in the case of square and round necks we notice that fashion does not intend to leave much of the neck revealed this fall.

We did not, however, thank heavens, see any high collars like our grandmothers used to wear, but we did see neat buttoned up effects that reached just to the base of the neck. It is interesting to note too in dresses of this type that fashionable women are omitting jewelry and pearl chokers, that is, if they have necks they are not ashamed of.

News of Sleeves. The sleeves we saw for the most part were closely fitted to the wrist and were often finished with lace or georgette and were embroidered in nail-heads of silver and gold. Nailheads seem to be very popular trimming for dark silk dresses and bows and buttons are very much used also. As in the coats the skirts of the dresses show no end to the irregular hemline and it is our guess that women all over the land are going to find a fresh relief in the slightly lengthened skirt line. We don't know what brought this new length in dresses about but Paris has been pounding away for a long time and trying to make American women believe the longer skirt is the more becoming skirt and at last we seem to be agreeing.

Slender Evening Silhouette. You will simply adore the new evening frocks. Fashion is doing much with sheer velvet and if there is anything that we women love to wear, it is sheer velvet in any of the luscious shades that the stores are showing for fall. In general, the silhouette for fall evenings is a slender one with a sharply dipping back. We noticed many tube-like short frocks in the evening collection have extremely long panels attached by cartridge pleating at a point below the hips and back end panels are likewise set on the side of the skirt.

Some very smart details of evening frocks are large self-fabric bows, flared tiers, and flounces frequently adopted in a winding treatment, thus giving the much desired length. After an absence of many seasons panels seem to be welcomed back into the evening mode and are used mostly to give length and color contrast.

Not that it makes any difference, but the new one-thousand-dollar bills are so much smaller than the old ones they're calling them baby grands.—Judge.

Ireland Reunion Held In Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ireland, Miss Nellie Ireland and Mrs. A. M. Murray, the last named of Portland, Ore., arrived here Wednesday evening last week after attending the Ireland family reunion at Estes park, Colo. Mrs. Murray is a sister of Mr. Ireland and is visiting here before returning to her home. Sixteen attending the reunion, this being about half of the family group. The Irelands gathered at Estes four years ago for a similar reunion and plan to have other such meetings at intervals of a few years.

The Irelands found the roads considerably torn up on their way west two weeks before, but they were much improved on the return trip. Many sections of the main highways are being remade, and considerable paving is being placed in Colorado.

Western Nebraska and Colorado are very dry this year, the Wayne people found. The crop of small grain is very light in most places that are not irrigated. And, where there is irrigation, the farmers are fearful that the reservoirs will dry up on account of few rains. In the park a light shower fell each day the Irelands were there, but the valleys received no moisture.

The party took a number of trips about the park. The Irelands visited Mrs. Ireland's brothers, E. M. Taylor, at Sedgewick, Colo., and Bert Smith, at Ovid, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Fox stayed at the Ireland home here while they were gone.

Wonderful Farm Machinery
FAMOUS McCORMICK-DEERING LINES

We have McCormick-Deering machines in stock and will have them on exhibition at the Wayne county fair next week. See these machines at the fair and note the distinct advantages they offer.

An Investment in Power

Owners everywhere are considering McCormick-Deering tractors an investment in power—an investment that is paying regular dividends by making it possible for one man to do more, to do it easier, and to do it better. In other words, by materially reducing the cost of production. McCormick-Deering tractors are widening the range of profit and making farming more pleasant.

McCormick-Deering P & O Little Wonder Tractor Plow

The No. 2 Little Wonder combines every feature essential to good plowing with a mechanical design which puts plenty of strength where it is needed yet produces a plow that is very light in draft and as light in weight as it is possible to build a good tractor plow. It is all plow—there is no dead weight.

McCormick-Deering Spreader

Frequent Spreading Enriches the Soil, Feeds the Crops, Increases the Yield, Makes the Land More Valuable.

A McCormick-Deering spreader saves time, lessens labor, and does the work more efficiently than is possible by hand.

Shell Before You Sell

When you own a McCormick-Deering sheller and shell your corn before you sell it, you can be sure of receiving payment for all the corn, and you have the cobs left for fuel.

You can haul more bushels of shelled corn per load, and as a result move your crop to market in less time. The economy in this is very evident.

It also pays to do your shelling for seed and feed. You can shell just when you want to, and you put the shelling profit into your own pocket.

No matter what your shelling needs may be, you will find the right equipment in the McCormick-Deering line. The small McCormick-Deering shellers are ideal for shelling corn for seed and feed and will deliver the cobs in good condition for fuel. The larger shellers are well adapted to custom work as well as individual use, and will easily pay for themselves with what they save on your own crop and by shelling for neighbors.

Four-Cylinder Power Plants
The Standard in Harvester Design

All McCormick-Deering tractors—10-20, 15-30 and Farmall—have the modern power plant, a fully enclosed, heavy-duty 4-cylinder engine proved by our many years' of farm power development to be the most practical power plant for the tractor. We began a quarter-century ago with a 1-cylinder design, progressed to the 2-cylinder types and outgrew the 2-cylinder period just as the automobile has done.

Our 4-cylinder tractors give the farmer liberal power, steady running, and wonderfully flexible, easy operation not to be obtained by other types. Vibration and surplus weight are reduced to the minimum, parts are properly balanced, all wearing parts are replaceable, and long life is assured the tractor. The performance of the many thousands of 4-cylinder McCormick-Deerings in every part of the country is convincing evidence of correct design.

Sandwich Galvanized Alloy Steel Portable Elevator

Ordinary black sheet steel is unsatisfactory for elevators. We use the best open hearth steel, to which is added COPPER. This COPPER-ALLOY STEEL fights rust and corrosion. We further treat it with heavy GALVANIZING insuring much longer life than ever before attained by steel elevators.

FUTURE NEEDS

Talk to us about your future needs in the way of tanks, pumps, windmills, gas engines, corn planters, mowers and other machines. We will be glad to show you.

See us for anything you may need in farm equipment. You will receive prompt and courteous treatment.

REPAIRS
 The right kind of repairs add new life to your machines. Use only genuine I. H. C. repairs for your McCormick-Deering farm operating equipment. A genuine repair part fits exactly and becomes a perfect part of the machine.

The New McCormick-Deering Ball Bearing Cream Separator

When you consider that a cream separator bowl turns approximately 9,000 revolutions a minute, you realize that THE BEARINGS and the BOWL SPINDLE MUST BE RIGHT. The slightest wobble, vibration, or friction in these parts makes the machine turn hard and lowers its skimming efficiency. That's why the builders of the New McCormick-Deering use a bowl spindle heavier than any other and mount it on friction-free ball bearings. McCormick-Deering engineers take no chances—they make your satisfaction certain.

Don't think lightly of the turning question. It is vital. You'll turn your machine twice each day, or 730 times a year. Isn't it worth while to save seven or eight thousand backaches during the life of your machine? Let us demonstrate the New McCormick-Deering on your farm. No obligation.

A SMALL Down Payment Puts a New McCormick-Deering On Your Farm.

12 Full Months to Pay!

Great Labor-Saving FARMALL

CULTIVATING CORN. The Farmall cultivates two rows at a time. One man can cultivate 15 to 25 acres a day, which is doing the work of two or three men and four to six horses. The Farmall has ample power to pull two additional two-row cultivators. Where this equipment is available, six rows can be cultivated at a time.

PLOWING. Under average soil conditions the Farmall will plow 7 to 10 acres a day. This is equivalent to the work of three men and nine horses.

HARVESTING CORN. The Farmall furnishes steady, uniform power for pulling the corn binder or corn picker. In doing this work it saves both time and labor. A man and a boy can pick three or four times as much corn with this outfit as they can by hand.

We Now Have the McCormick-Deering Corn Picker On Display—Come and See It!

This shows the power-drive attachment which makes use of tractor power to operate the picker. This increases the husking capacity 1/2 to 1/2 more than a horse-drawn machine.

SPECIAL OFFER

This is one of the most liberal offers we have ever made: Order a McCormick-Deering Corn Picker. Pay us a part of the purchase price and put the machine to work. Spread the payment over two harvest seasons while the picker is earning its way. Enjoy the advantages, and profit by the modern method, in the meantime. See us at once if you want to get your picker in time for this year's husking. Such a long-time offer may never be made again.

COME in and see the new McCormick-Deering Corn Picker we have on display. Examine the many features of this clean husking machine. Sit on the seat and notice how conveniently the controls are located.

This machine puts an end to the worries, the hard work and the high cost of husking corn by hand. The McCormick-Deering Corn Picker will pick and husk from 6 to 10 acres a day at a cost far below that of hand husking. It saves time and labor—it ends hand-tearing, back-breaking work in cold, wet, windy fields.

Owners tell us it does cleaner work than hand huskers because it saves the ears and nubbins that grow low on the stalks, and no ears are dropped or thrown over the wagon. It saves hiring extra help—it increases your husking capacity 6 to 10 times. You can finish your husking long before bad weather sets in and get the best price for the crop.

Profit by the many advantages that a McCormick-Deering Corn Picker offers. Cash in on our liberal proposition on this great machine.

About Nebraska and Nebraskans

Will M. Maupin.

How news spreads among Indians or the inhabitants of darkest Africa is not more mysterious than how it spreads among seekers after hootch. A pair of men conducted a "pop" stand near the circus grounds in Norfolk one day last week. Long before noon it was the most popular refreshment stand on the grounds, and by mid-afternoon it simply couldn't accommodate its patrons. Then prohibition enforcement officers became suspicious and raided it. Then the secret of its great popularity was discovered. It was "spiking" its lemonade.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Shaw of North Platte recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They have seven children, twenty grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Harold D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckert of Fremont, born July 15, last, is the 16th child. Mr. Eckert is 54 and Mrs. Eckert 41. A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. S. Hernando of Wyoming a few weeks ago is their 15th child. A week ago Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Snyder of Broken Bow became the parents of their 14th child, a daughter. Race suicide is becoming a memory in Nebraska.

State Fire Marshal Thomas Wilson declares that the public school building in Verdigris is the cleanest school building in Nebraska. A. L. Tomcik is the janitor, and he has taken first rank two years in succession.

The Buffet Grocery in Omaha is the oldest retail grocery store in Nebraska. It was founded just 60 years ago by Sidney H. Buffet, and was the first grocery store south of Farnam street in Omaha, then little more than a village. The business is now carried on by a son and two grandchildren.

For the first time in the history of the two soldiers and sailors homes in Nebraska a man not a veteran of the civil war will be in charge of the home at Milford after September 1. On that date J. O. Woman And Girl Take Own Lives

Norfolk, Neb., Aug. 29.—Filia love is believed by authorities to have led 14-year-old Byra Davis to accompany her mother to death in a suicide pact here this afternoon.

The girl's body, fully clothed, was found lying beside her mother, Mrs. W. C. Davis, on a bed in the gas-filled home at 4 p. m. by a roamer. There was no sign of disorder to indicate that the girl had resisted death. Her head was turned to one side, facing her mother, who lay only a few inches away.

Mrs. Davis left a note explaining she was taking the girl with her. Friends told of the girl's devotion to her parents.

The note left by Mrs. Davis directed the disposition of the bodies at Perry, Okla., their former home. The note bore no explanation of the double tragedy.

The daughter also left no word. The bodies were discovered by Dolores Gast, a roamer. Mr. Davis, a salesman, is believed to be in McCook. Friends said they believed the cause of Mrs. Davis' action was ill health and financial difficulties, but the daughter, they said, had shown no melancholia.

Eleven Counties In Beauty Contest

"Miss North Nebraska" and "Miss Norfolk" are the titles to be conferred upon the winners of the beauty contest to be held in Norfolk September 9 and 10 at the celebration which will be known as the North Nebraska Beauty Carnival and Air Circus.

Eleven counties will be represented in the beauty show, these being Wayne, Madison, Stanton, Pierce, Antelope, Knox, Cedar, Boone, Platte, Holt and Cumming. Norfolk women visited each county last week announcing the plans. They were in Wayne Friday. Prizes amounting to $1,000 are to be given the contestants.

In connection with the same celebration Norfolk will stage a big air circus. Fifty types of planes from eastern plants, including two large ones from Akron, Ohio, will be there. An airplane endurance contest is to be featured also.

Severely Burned In Fordyce Home

Yankton, S. D., Aug. 29.—Margaret and Pauline Mauch, 14 and 15, daughters of Albert Mauch, were severely burned in an explosion of gasoline at their farm home near Fordyce, Neb., opposite Yankton, late yesterday. The house was destroyed.

The girls were pouring gasoline into a tank which stood on the cookstove, believing there was no fire in it. The flash of flame ignited their clothing. Margaret was most severely burned, and saved her life only by jumping into a tank of water near the house. Physicians said both probably will recover.

Pallenberg's Bears

One of the principal acts to be seen at the Wayne County Fair is Pallenberg's Bears. Pallenberg, the owner of these bicycle riding bears, is without a doubt the peer of animal trainers and has produced an act which has long been featured with Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circuses. These clumsy, good-natured animals go through a routine of stunts and tricks with amazing cleverness and are as docile as lambs in obeying the orders of their trainer. The bears are expert stilt walkers and create much amusement with their funny antics with roller skates, a hobby horse, somersaults, football, push cart and many other things which will prove a great delight to the kiddies. Their feature exhibitions are riding a high bicycle and taking part in spirited wrestling matches. The lady trainer appears in the act gorgeously costumed. The furious looking aggregation is conceded to be the most novel animal performance on tour this season.

Camper's Tennessee Jubilee Singers

Another of the principal features to appear here this year is the Tennessee Jubilee Singers. With the passing of the minstrel shows the black-faced comedians made their appearance on programs of entertainment. In time they became established entertainers. The American darkie more than any other offers an inexhaustible reservoir of humor when properly applied. Camper's Tennessee Jubilee Singers, four colored boys, will entertain fair visitors, doing a program of typical darkie songs with the aid of banjo, violin and accordion. They have good voices and are exceptional musicians.

Gertrude Avery and Boys

Gertrude Avery and Boys are six admirable acrobats calling themselves "Whirlwind Wizards." The spinning and pirouettes of these marvels are sensational. The gyrations and hurding of their bodies through the air and alighting with cat-like agility are as stupendous a feat as may be witnessed anywhere. The lightning swiftness of their movements impresses the fact that the training these Arabs have undergone has been chiefly a total disregard for life. The care-free swing and leap of their action is as startling as it is entertaining. They perform many difficult stunts such as pyramid building and various tumbling tricks. They finish their performance with a whirling, swirling tumbling contest on the race track. The entire offering is crammed with novelty and entertainment and is certain to be one of the most talked of acts ever to appear before the public. The lady of the troupe is an accomplished singer of popular numbers.

Inspiring Fireworks Spectacles!

Wednesday Night, Sept. 11: A wonderful display of bombs, rockets, set pieces etc., and the spectacular numbers entitled "The Spirit of St. Louis" or "Lindy's Flight," and "The Rainbow." Saturday Night, Sept. 14, Featuring "The Indian Pow-Pow," "The Indians Attacking the Immigrants," concluding with "The Massacre."
