OFFICIAL AUDIT OF HERALD'S LIST SHOWS INCREASE

The Herald has just had its second annual audit made by the Ralph L. McKee Company of Lincoln, as endorsed and advised by the official board of the Nebraska Press association. Detailed report of the audit will be received from Lincoln soon, and it may be interesting by anyone interested. The auditor found the Herald list had made a net gain of 100 during the year, and stated that its circulation is second largest among weekly newspapers in the state, the Custer County Chief published at Broken Bow taking the lead. It was noted by the auditor that the Herald scores advantage from a local advertiser's viewpoint in the distribution of its circulation which shows almost one hundred per cent. coverage in Wayne county. The finding, duly attested, gives assurance to anyone wishing to reach the people of this territory.

Couple Is Wed At Wakefeld

Grain Stacks Are Destroyed By Fire

Fire from the exhaust of a tractor did considerable damage Tuesday at the Carl Strate farm three-fourths of a mile from Hoskins when grain stacks caught fire at about 5:30 in the afternoon. Eight stacks, containing about 1400 bushels of grain, were destroyed. Neighbors watched the fire throughout the night to prevent the flames from spreading.

Early Resident Of County Dies

Heinrich Westerhaus Passes Away at Home in Wayne Saturday, Aged 72 Years.

Rites Wednesday

Funeral Services Are Conducted at Home and in Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Funeral rites were conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 1:40 from the home in Wayne and at 2 from the Evangelical Lutheran church here for Heinrich Westerhaus, resident of Wayne county for forty-four years, who passed away Saturday, October 5, after an illness of three months, aged 72 years. Rev. H. A. Teckhaus and Rev. A. Janke had charge of the services and interment was made in the Evangelical Theophilus church cemetery southwest of Wayne.

Mr. Westerhaus was born June 16, 1857, in Borgholzhausen, Westphalia, Germany. He was baptized and confirmed in the Evangelical Lutheran church there. He married Miss Caroline Kraemer in 1881. The family came to America in 1885 and settled on a farm in Wayne county for thirty-two years, experiencing the hardships of pioneer life. Mr. and Mrs. Westerhaus moved into Wayne in 1917.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Westerhaus, three preceding their father in death. Relatives here from a distance for the funeral are: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baker of Dalton, Mrs. Anna Rath of Hemingford, and Mrs. Frank Redmer of Norfolk.

Farmers Attend Show And Sale

D. H. Cunningham of Wayne, Officializes in Auction of Many Cattle in City.

The fourteenth annual stocker and feeder sale at the Sioux city stock yards last Thursday was attended by many from this vicinity, and D. H. Cunningham of Wayne, officialized at the auction. A total of 4,355 head of cattle brought $339,230. The sale followed the annual stocker and feeder show, and the 153 loads of cattle were disposed of between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 6 p. m.

The fiftyone cars of show cattle valued at $1,191,486, which were brought by feeders in the cornbelt, brought $109,838. The average cost for show cattle was $12.13, or $1.50 less than last year. Stockers and feeders from the open market numbered 102 cars, 3,163 head, and brought $229,329. Average price paid for dealers' cattle was $10.05, this being $2 a hundred less than last year. It is estimated that 2,198,020 pounds of beef were sold during the day.

Prize winning stock was sold first, followed by other show cattle, and then the dealers' cattle. The sale was considered the most successful in recent years as both buyers and sellers seemed satisfied with prices.

Master Barbers To Hold Banquet

The regular meeting of the Master Barbers' association of northeast Nebraska was held at Laurel Monday evening, P. L. Mabbott, E. R. Love and Eric Thielman attended from Wayne. The association plans a banquet Monday evening at Hotel Stratton in Wayne for all barbers of Wayne, Dixon, Dakota and Cedar counties and their wives. The hour of the banquet is set for 7:15.

The following men will address the group which is now estimated to be more than sixty: C. A. Green, of Lincoln, state president of the Master Barbers' association, Will O'Gara, Cedar county representative in the last legislature, John Gore and C. E. Black, also of Lincoln.

IF JOHN SOULES IS DEAD, SAYS HE WASN'T NOTIFIED

In the Lincoln Journal of October 3, the column devoted to "Answers to Questions" reported by a Washington, D. C. authority, gave the names of men who had perished in trying to swim the rapids of Niagara Falls, and the name of John L. Soules of Wayne appears in the list. John denies that he is dead, and expresses surprise that historians have made the announcement without first consulting him. It is true that back in the early eighties, he braved the whirling waters of Niagara, but he did not go down, never to come up. On the contrary, with the applause of an unlooked multitude mingled with the mighty roar of the falls, John buffeted about like a cork, surrounded the peril and landed safely on shore. Instead of finding an untimely grave in the murky depths of Niagara, John came west and located in Wayne where he has lived happily ever since.

Walther League Rally Is Held

About 400 Attend Wayne and Dixon County Meeting at Concord Church Sunday.

The annual rally of the zone comprising Wayne and Dixon county Walther Leagues was held Sunday in the Lutheran church near Concord with an attendance of 400 persons.

For the opening service, which was at 10:30 in the morning, Rev. G. T. Kern of Concord, delivered the sermon, using as his text "Remember the Lord in the days of thy youth." He discussed the advantages and disadvantages of old age, middle age and youth, stating that nowhere in life are advantages and disadvantages so unevenly balanced as in youth. He concluded by telling how the young people may better "remember the Lord in the days of thy youth."

A business session was held at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon with Rev. Kern and Rev. W. Gerdes, the latter of Wakefield, in charge. It was voted to hold the annual rally some time before the state convention each year. An executive committee composed of one member of each league within the zone was formed. This committee is to prepare programs of interest from time to time, and is also to be responsible for the program of the annual rally. Officers of the zone, for the ensuing year are: President, John Holtorf of Wakefield, and secretary, Miss Meta Blohm of Concord.

The following program was given at 2:30 on the lawn east of the church: Play in pantomime, "And Then the Lamp Went Out," by the Concord league; "The Walther League Bus," (Altona league); dialogue, "Was Dat Nice?"; Altona league; reading, Gilbert Krallman of northwest of Wakefield; comedy drill, "The Old Man's"; ten young women of the Wakefield vicinity.

Banker Acquitted In Federal Court

Claude M. Easton, former cashier of the United First National Bank of Wausa, was acquitted on three charges in federal court Saturday. The testimony of Glenn H. Paulsen, government expert accountant, who retracted statements given for the prosecution, weakened the government's case and aided Fred S. Berry, attorney for the defendant, in securing an acquittal at the hands of the judge without the action on the part of the jury.

Speak To Club Here At Hotel

Dr. C. L. Robbins and Miss Agnes Samuelson Address Wayne Kiwanians Monday.

Conducts Singing

Mrs. Clara Wescott Has Charge of Music—Will Go to Convention in Omaha.

Dr. C. L. Robbins, professor of education at the University of Iowa in Iowa City, addressed Kiwanians Monday following their luncheon at Hotel Stratton, his subject being "Adult Education." He explained the need for, sentiment for and movement toward the education of adults in this country.

Miss Agnes Samuelson, Iowa state superintendent, spoke to the club also Monday. She likened life to a car with four wheels, stating that without any one the machine could not function. The four wheels were: A definite program for each year, a plan of putting the program into operation, cooperation and service. Miss Samuelson stated that all good interests in any community should cooperate to promote educational advancement.

Mrs. Clara Wescott of Plattsmouth, led community singing of several numbers.

The Kiwanis district convention will be held in Omaha this Thursday and Friday and several from the local club plan to attend. William Beckenhauer, president, T. S. Hook, secretary, and Prof. O. R. Bowen, district trustee, are delegates. C. O. Mitchell, J. H. Kemp, F. L. Blair, F. E. Gamble, J. C. Nuss, Dr. C. T. Ingram, H. B. Jones and C. M. Craven plan to attend part or all of the time also.

Young Folks Wed In Norfolk Home

Miss Ardyce Patterson of Wayne, Becomes Bride of H. E. Sorenson of Wakefield.

Miss Ardyce Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Patterson of Wayne, and Mr. Harold E. Sorenson of near Wakefield, were married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Presbyterian manse in Norfolk. Rev. P. M. Orr performed the double marriage ceremony. Following a wedding dinner, the young folks left for the Black Hills to spend a week or ten days before returning to make their home on a farm three miles southwest of Wakefield.

Miss Patterson wore light tan silk crepe with hat and other accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lavender sweetpeas. Miss Neba Patterson, sister of Miss Patterson, was bridesmaid. She wore blue silk crepe with hat to match. Harvey Beck attended Mr. Sorenson.

The bridal party, Mrs. Maria Wolf and the George H. Patterson family had dinner together Saturday noon at the Patterson home here, and the four young folks left afterward for Norfolk where the wedding took place.

State Man Speaks

Mr. Rosenoff, director of secondary education and teacher training, spoke to the group on "Obligations to Grow in the Profession." The early aim of education was to give students a view of subjects they would later teach. The present day teachers are no longer considered on a low level. "The untrained teacher is the nation's liability," stated Dr. Judd in a recent magazine article. (Instructors must continually make progress even if they have a degree. All must continue to grow and may do so by the following ways: Attending institutes, attending teachers' association meetings, gathering in groups to carry on lessons and selecting extension courses. Dr. Rosenoff advised teachers to acquaint themselves with material coming from the press each day, to get into a readers' club, to acquire degrees as soon as possible, to learn by travel, and to write something worthy of publication occasionally.)

The new study course. Miss Samuelson spoke on "The New Course of Study." She stated that advancement can ride man to destruction or to better and finer learning. The fundamentals of character must be mastered. Materials and studies have been reorganized in Nebraska on the basis of the child's likes and interests. Miss Samuelson advised teachers to spiritualize the course by using it. The child should be helped to interpret life through reading. The dull child should have a thrill each day because of accomplishment, and the bright child should have a challenge. The principles of character to be encouraged are those shown in the life of Charles Lindbergh. Study should stimulate pupils to more worthy action.

Improve Professionally. Dr. Robbins gave an address on "Professional Development Through Every-day Resources." Increase in salary is not advancement, though it may be remuneration for advancement. A teacher must get into a position for which she is better fitted to advance. Each must work for professional improvement.

Mrs. Wescott led community singing in the institute programs. She sang selection on the closing day with Mrs. J. G. Miller playing the piano accompaniment.

The closing hour of institute was given over to a program by teachers. Miss Sewell treated the group to pears and brownies. The instructors presented Miss Sewell with a leather pocketbook.

Chickens Stolen From Ramsey Farm

Winside, Neb., Oct. 8.—Saturday night thieves visited the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ramsey northwest of Winside and carried away 100 chickens. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey were in town at the time of the theft and have as yet been unable to gain any information as to the identity of the thieves.

Wayne County Instructors Are Here Monday And Tuesday For Institute

Iowa and Nebraska Educators Address Teachers in Their Annual Gathering.

Wayne county instructors attended the annual institute held at the city school building in Wayne Monday and Tuesday with County Superintendent Pearl E. Sewell presiding. Dr. C. L. Robbins of Iowa City, Miss Agnes Samuelson of Des Moines, George Rasenboff of Lincoln, and Mrs. Clara Wescott of Plattsmouth, were instructors. Schools were dismissed the two days of the program.

Dr. Robbins, in an address on "The School as a Lifelong Education," stated that a planned education is of most value. Some vocations can be learned in a short time. Persons may receive valuable information from radios, papers and such sources, but organic learning makes life so much richer. The elementary schools, the speaker stated, are designed to give children the rudiments of education as a foundation for life. The high school is designed to give children a view of life, presenting different viewpoints so laid that they will carry on for years. The school should give a better mastery of tools and a better foundation of interests that will continue through life. The teacher is the most important part of education. Dr. Robbins stated, and her objectives should be to aid young folks in the following: Health, mastery of fundamentals, worthy home and civic work, employment of leisure time and character building.

Two Questions. Miss Samuelson spoke Monday on the topic, "Two Questions." In view of the obligation to the pupil, the teacher's attitude should be to make every day a new adventure and an event in the lives of pupils. President Herbert Hoover says, "The children's activity should be participation in great and comforting things. In view of the obligation to the school, the instructor should teach proper attitudes, ideals and appreciations."

Miss Samuelson, in speaking on "The Will To Work," stated that the teacher, who is the most important part of education, should have the will to work and inspire pupils with this. Abraham Lincoln had the will to work and used it to advantage. Most pupils have native ability. The teacher's part is to make children want to work. Some of the fundamental principles, Miss Samuelson stated, are the following: Permanence, comprehensive, satisfaction, social responsiveness, definite results. Class room work should build up permanent attitudes. The proper attitude developed should lead to further study. Social rather than selfish desires should be cultivated, each working for the success of his group rather than himself as an individual. The initiation and outcome of work should produce a solid satisfaction. Definite objectives should be clearly understood and the results definitely planned. The whole situation should be kept in mind, planning work by considering the child, home and teacher.

AS CORN PICKING BEGINS, PROSPECT GROWS BRIGHTER

CORN picking is starting in some parts of Wayne county, and many fields will yield seventy bushels to the acre. A bumper crop is being expected. Old-timers recall only one year, 1896, when the crop was as large as the one this year. But this year's crop is better than that of 1896 when considerable soft corn, due to a wet fall, appeared. A further disadvantage in 1896 was the price. It was as low as 8 cents per bushel, and the highest price paid was only 17 cents per bushel. Corn was cheaper than coal, and many business were used for fuel during the winter. The year of 1896 was the climax to a series of disheartening years in low market values, and recollection makes recent years seem rich in opportunity and reward. Contrasted with corn prices in 1896 is 96 cents per bushel paid by feeders at this time. Corn is reported standing up well, and therefore it will be easy to pick without waste, but the time required for the work will take longer than usual on account of the unusual abundance. But every day devoted to gathering the crop will yield largely and profitably and multiply the joys of fruition.

Funeral Rites Held On Friday

Services Are Conducted for Mrs. W. E. Bellows at Carroll Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Methodist church in Carroll for Mrs. W. E. Bellows who died in Wayne October 2 at 9 a. m. after several weeks' illness, aged 63 years, 5 months and 6 days. Rev. W. A. Rominger had charge and interment was made in the Carroll cemetery.

Mrs. Bellows' maiden name was Miss Emma Belle Walker. She was born at Bloomington, Ill., on April 26, 1863, the daughter of Cary and Nancy E. Walker and one of eight children. She was married December 29, 1881, to William E. Bellows at Chatsworth, Ill. Later the family lived on a farm near Fairbury, Ill. On March 1, 1890, they moved to Clarion, Wright county, Iowa, where they bought their first home. They sold their farm on March 1, 1891, and moved to Rippey, Iowa, where they bought another farm. Later Mr. Bellows engaged in the mercantile business in Rippey. His store was destroyed by fire in the fall of 1901, and in the spring of 1902 the family came to Carroll where Mr. Bellows has been in the mercantile business with D. J. Davis since.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Bellows, Lester E., Verne Ellen and Murrill Ruth, the latter two dying in infancy. Besides her husband, Mrs. Bellows leaves one son, Lester E. Bellows of Spencer, Iowa, two brothers, William Walker of Chatsworth, Ill., and Edward Walker of Blismarck, N. D., and one sister, Mrs. Sylvester Moore of Chatsworth, Ill.

To Lower Rates On Electricity

Wayne City Council Will Cut Light Cost About Twenty Percent in November.

Wayne city council, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening, considered the advisability of lowering electric rates in Wayne, and though no definite action has been taken, it is thought the light rates will be cut about twenty percent and heat and power rates will also be lowered by similar percentage. Use of the new oil-burning engine in the power plant has made cost of operation less, and the saving will be passed on to consumers. A plan of charges is being worked out, and it is thought the reduction will be made on November bills which are collected the first of December.

Double Contest Played Friday

Randolph Wins From High School and Plays Training School to Tie Here.

Wayne high school and training school football teams met Randolph first and second teams respectively Friday afternoon at the college gridiron here, Randolph winning from the high school by 13 to 0 and the training school and Randolph second team playing to a scoreless tie.

Both games were close. A couple of the Randolph players sustained injuries in the contest. Admission was free, the gift of J. H. Kemp.

The high school has a tentative arrangement to play Sioux City this week. The training school goes to Ister Friday to meet the second team of that place.

Mrs. Mary Brittain went to Omaha last Thursday to spend a few days with Miss Faye Brittain who is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Dorothy Gulliver left Friday evening for Kearney to attend a state Christian Endeavor officers' meeting. She is president of the Third district.

Mrs. Henry Gies, is having a new bungalow built on the lot she bought from Mrs. Stella Chichester north of the latter's residence on Second and Nebraska. The house will have six rooms and will be 26 by 32 feet. J. H. Foster has charge of construction.

calling the names of the fish in their stalls.

"Leaving there we drove over the beautiful scenic highway crossing the Palos Verde hills to San Pedro. We saw a number of liners and freighters come into the harbor. I was also glad to see the place where a large fissure is slowly forming in the earth. This is a strange phenomenon which is very interesting to geologists. Some attribute it to an earthquake, others to the shale and still others to the gas and light rains. Several blocks have been roped off since we were there and no one is allowed to go near it now. At the time we saw this strange formation the street car had been taken off the track but people were allowed to go out past the roped-off section. This is at Point Fermin just at the east entrance of the beautiful park and as six acres are menaced, the home and business building owners are in favor of the city purchasing it. As this land moves at the rate of almost a foot a week, it may be a short time and it may be years before it will eventually drop into the ocean.

"I test well has been made however and this fissure is 100 feet deep, or to sea level. We saw one building which had slipped a foot. This, of course, was vacated. Thousands of sightseers visit this strange sight daily.

"I saw the Graf Zeppelin both times it passed over here. It had gone too far to distinguish form and size but I could still see the gondolas and shimmering lights. The roar was much greater than that of nine air planes passing over in formation.

"I had long had a desire to feel an earthquake but the one of July 8 at 9 o'clock in the morning appeared most curious. Houses seemed to rock on their foundations. No damage was done however.

"I suppose that autumn has really arrived there and that foliage is already golden, brown and red. We had one heavy fall rain which considerably cleared the atmosphere after an extremely hot and stifling day. There had been a sand storm on the desert and nine forest fires were raging south of Santa Barbara.

"I was glad to read about the splendid fair which just closed. I am always proud of the success of my home town and county. I can tell that there will be many changes in Wayne whenever I return there. Since I left, there in 1925 many of the old pioneers have died.

"Recently I saw Mrs. Alice Ley and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown of the former Wayne people. Mrs. Ley gave two humorous readings at the Union Veteran meeting held recently at which I presided for the Woman's Relief Corps."

All-Talking Film Comes To Theatre

A new, different, tremendously important all-talking picture opens a three-day run at the Gay theatre Sunday. It is George Bancroft's great success to "Underworld," the "Thunderbolt" which accounts for its gripping reproduction of contemporary life. Its events are the episodes which the newspapers blazon forth every day; its episodes are the intimate details behind the curtain of these gripping events; its chief character is a mighty king of the lawless land which continually threatens law-abiding society... the under-world.

George Bancroft has done a great piece of work, greater than he offered in "Underworld" because, in "Thunderbolt" he talks. Likeable Richard Arlen and love-Fay Wray have the supporting leads and a brilliant cast of character actors carry the true-to-life roles.

"Thunderbolt" is entertaining, revealing and wholly interesting. Try it Wayne Herald Want Ad.

FREE! An 8x10 Photo of Yourself

Every year more people use photos for Christmas gifts. We are all alike, and just put off having these photos made just as long as we can, and as a result the photographer has too much to do in December.

In order to induce people to sit early, we will give 14 photos, one of which is an 8x10, with every order of $8.50, with every dozen photos or over, made before Nov. 15.

You know the quality of our work, and we guarantee everything we do.

We color photos in oil and they are permanent.

Fourteen photos make 14 Christmas presents. Have them made early, and let the other fellow do the worrying about what they will give.

Your friends can buy anything you can give them, except your photograph.

Californian Writes To Herald Readers

Miss Laura Lyons of Long Beach, Calif., writes Herald readers September 26 as follows:

"Some time ago friends of mine took me for a drive which I enjoyed very much. We went north of Long Beach, through Gardena to Redondo Beach. We enjoyed a visit to the bath house where we watched the nymphs. A group of small boys came up to the railing and begged us to throw pennies into the clear water to see who could first get them.

"We went out on the pier to the fish markets. There were dozens of stalls with the vendors

Woman And Baby Hurt In Collision

Osmond, Neb.—Keith Thelander and family were going to Osmond when a roadster hit the hind wheel of Mr. Thelander's truck, throwing it in the ditch.

Mr. Thelander received four broken ribs and several deep cuts and scratches. Her baby received a badly cut arm. Mr. Thelander's back was wrenched. Loyal Roberts, Mrs. Thelander's brother, was uninjured.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 18 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, Oct. 10, 1929. Vol. 4

She: "Now, what are you stopping for?"
He (as car comes to a stop): "I've lost my bearings."
She: "Well, at least you're original. Most fellows run out of gas."

"Prosperity, like happiness, comes not from seeking it directly, but as a by-product of the pursuit of high ideals."

Barber: "Sonny, how do you want your hair cut?"
Sonny: "With a hole in the top like daddy's."

We don't have to pay taxes on all of our treasures—take friends, for instance.

We sold thirty-eight portable steel corn cribs last week. We believe we have a very low price on them. Come in.

Host (to small boy): "Can you eat any more ice cream, sonny?"
Boy: "I'm afraid I can't but I don't mind trying."

Some of you will need a few rough boards for corn cribs. This fall. Remember that our twelve inch rough boards all run twelve and one-half inches in width and cost no more. The quality is unsurpassed, too.

We overheard this on the street a few days ago. "This fellow has to have a fence put in a new fence this fall. What kind'll I get?"
"Well, I've built lots of fences in my time—but there's just one I'll recommend. It's a Bannerman. It's full weight. You get what you buy in American every time."

From the heat satisfaction standpoint, we can't think of anything finer than a bin full of Yukon Hard coal. $16.50 per ton. Phone 147.

Storm windows? Yes, we have 'em. Any size you want. And the man of the house, we know, will be glad to put them up.

A fellow we know got orders from his wife the other day to fix those loose boards on the back steps this week. We furnished the lumber—and now it's done. (A hint to the wives is sufficient.)

Wayne High School Student Council Elects Officers for the Coming Year

School Is Dismissed Monday and Tuesday for Teachers' Meeting—Other News of Week.

Wayne high school student council has been organized. The following officers were elected: President, Margaret Fanske; vice-president, Max Henderson; and secretary and treasurer, Faunell Beckenhauer.

Assembly Notes. In order that students might attend the Wayne-Randolph football game Friday afternoon, school was dismissed at 2:50.

Permanent records were made out by all new pupils Thursday. These records are kept on file in the school.

School was dismissed Monday and Tuesday for the Wayne county teachers' meeting. Supt. H. R. Best spoke on the subject "Nebraska Teachers' Association." Miss Phillips played piano accompaniments for singing.

A pep meeting was held Thursday noon at which Supt. H. R. Best, Aubrey Behl, Coach R. K. Holder and Herbert Perry, football captain, spoke. A snake dance in charge of the seniors was held that night.

Office News. The county teachers' institute was held on Monday and Tuesday of this week at the high school. All teachers of Wayne county attended. There was no school during these two days.

The report cards will be given to the students at the end of the first six weeks.

A complete set of filing cards has been made out for the purpose of recording the results of the achievement and mental tests. These results will be placed on permanent record.

Season tickets were placed on sale for $2.00 each last Friday in the office. They are priced lower this year. They may be purchased for $2.00 cash or for 50c a month till they are paid for.

Athletics. The Wayne high school football team met Hartington's football team at Hartington September 27. In the first quarter of the game the lighter Wayne team held Hartington without much gain, but in the second quarter Hartington scored twice.

In the second half the Wayne team came back and scored twice. The final score was 12-12.

"The comeback the boys made in the second half gives me reason to believe that the team is going to have a fairly successful season," said Coach R. K. Holder when interviewed Thursday.

Commercial Department. The two classes in typing I have been taking accuracy tests. Evelyn Mellor, Dorothy Ross and Margaret Fanske are cutting the stencils for the mimeographing for the high school.

The bookkeeping class is working out profit and loss statements from the trial balance.

Music. The songs that the girls' glee club are working on are "Keep on Hopin'" composed by Heron Maxwell, "Night in June," by Offenbach, and "Red Skies," by Dvorak. Plans are being made for an operetta. The time has not been definitely set yet.

Ninth Grade. The freshmen English I classes are staging contests in grammar drill. The students originated the idea of the races. Airplane racing is used in the boys' division. Beavers against deer is the race to be used by the girls. The races have just begun. Points are made by having the best daily work in the divisions. The side making a mistake and being corrected by the other side has so many points deducted.

Books were read and reported last Thursday.

The freshman algebra class has taken up the addition of polynomials.

Tenth Grade. The tenth grade English class has been studying the tense of the verb. The group is studying the possible errors in using the past participle. Book reports were handed in on Friday of the past week.

The ancient history class has been making a staircase of time. Each step represents a unit of time and on each step events which occurred are written.

Maps of Greece were colored to give a better idea of the location and geography of the country of Greece.

The sophomore girls entertained the freshmen girls at a tea in the kindergarten room last Wednesday afternoon. The refreshment committee was composed of: Laverne Larson, Ruth Heidenreich and Louise Beckenhauer. The entertainment committee was composed of the following: Fern Crawford, Irene Damme, Esther Ames, Wanda Smolksi and Kathryn Berry.

The sophomore boys entertained the freshmen boys at a wiener roast at the fair grounds Wednesday night. The refreshment committee consisted of Lloyd Erleben, Kenneth Dowling and Vernon Kay. The entertainment committee consisted of: Everett Helkes, Clayton Powers and Ronald Young.

Eleventh Grade. The eleventh grade English classes have finished the Elizabethan period in English literature. They stressed in particular William Shakespeare and are now taking his play, "Hamlet."

Book reports were given Friday, October 4. The blanks are furnished by the school this year.

The French I classes have taken up the study of possessive adjectives.

The Cicero classes are reviewing conjugations and declensions along with translation of Cicero's orations.

Twelfth Grade. It was decided upon by the seniors to get their class rings as soon as possible. A committee was appointed to make necessary arrangements.

At a meeting last Thursday the seniors decided to have a bonfire and snakedance. The whole high school was invited. The bonfire rally was at Kay's pavilion. The dance was held up town.

The physics class has been studying the mechanics of liquids. Many interesting experiments were tried out in laboratory. Those of special interest were on density and liquid pressure. To find the density of a stone in the metric system and measure the liquid pressure of a fluid was an awkward task for the class at first.

The class has begun the study of the mechanics of gases. In a few days they will make experiments in the laboratory.

English IV class has been having study of the lead in news-writing. Each member of the class is making a scrap book of newspaper clippings. These clippings illustrate the different leads. Other clippings will be added to the book.

The solid geometry class has finished the first eighteen theorems. They are now studying about polyhedrons and cones.

The history class is taking up the period at the time of the Revolutionary war. The class has completed the study of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and has begun on the period of conflict between the United States and Great Britain.

Kindergarten Notes. The children brought various kinds of vegetables to school to work out a vegetable project.

They played store and sold vegetables and other articles. Thursday noon the vegetables were cooked into soup and served for lunch at noon with sandwiches and fruits.

Supt. H. R. Best, Miss Coila Potras and Miss Ruth Ross had luncheon today with the pupils and their teacher.

Walter Ulrich celebrated his birthday Thursday by treating the children with lollipops.

Mrs. O. B. Haas was a caller one day last week.

First Grade. Mrs. T. S. Hook, Mrs. B. F. Rockwell and Mrs. H. H. Hachmeier visited the first grade last week.

The health slogan is: "I should drink milk every day. I should not drink tea or coffee."

In language the children tell stories. Barbara Hook told the "Story of the Cock, Mouse and the Little Red Hen." Nona Jean Hall told the story of "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Vinegar Bottle."

The class has been dramatizing the story, "The Little Boy Who Drank Coffee."

Second Grade. The girls won from the boys in the health contest which ended last week. As a reward they will receive an hour of vacation sometime soon. As a part of student citizenship, each desk is inspected twice each week by a pupil appointed in each row.

A health ship is being made in connection with the study of foods in hygiene. If the pupils eat healthful foods for a week they get a sail on the ship. The object is to see who gets the most sails. Picture booklets are made in language by instruction lessons. In art pupils are drawing some of the fall flowers, the daisy, aster and blackeyed Susan. These are drawn freehand with crayolas.

Some of the pupils brought cut flowers, which add to the attractiveness of the room.

The second grade had perfect attendance last week. John Berry was absent one half day this week.

Mrs. Leslie Ellis and Mrs. R. L. Larson visited the second grade last week.

Third Grade News. Mrs. H. F. Hachmeier and Mrs. L. W. Vain were third grade visitors last week.

In connection with number work the children are making plans for playing store.

For language the pupils are writing stories about their silent reading lessons. A number of pupils have been doing outside reading.

There were no absentees this week.

Fourth Grade. Carlyle Horrell was absent a day and a half because of illness. There were not so many tardy marks this week as in the previous week.

The class dramatized a health story, "The Imps and the Good Fairy." The class was divided in two groups and each member played a part, each one trying to play his part the best.

The students are making a study of flowers and leaves which are brought by members of the class. They made a colored picture of a cosmos using a cosmos as a model. The students also cut free hand patterns of the maple and other leaves.

The students are studying reading and history together. Then they studied the discovery of America by Columbus in history. They studied about the Indians in reading.

Fifth Grade. The fifth grade pupils were measured and weighed last week and nearly every child had gained. The last time the children were measured and weighed was in the spring.

The geography class has been studying coal and petroleum. Exhibits of coal and petroleum have been brought to school and this makes the study more interesting and real.

The pupils drew the flower, salvia, last week. They colored their flowers and the best ones were posted in their room.

The language classes have been learning to write letters. Some of the pupils wrote to their former music teacher, Mrs. Lura Belle Johnson. Most of the boys wrote letters to John Thompson who has been absent from school for quite a while.

In history the children are studying the Revolutionary war. The lives of Daniel Morgan and Nathaniel Green have been studied.

Sixth Grade. The sixth graders have been working on balanced drawing. The pupils have been sketching stick-men in order to secure this balance.

For history the students have been studying about knighthood and the gifts it gave to us. The children hunted stories about this subject and then brought them to the other members of the class.

The B class history students have been studying about the Persians in the story of the growth of civilization.

A reading test was given last week in which the main object was thought. The pupils received the highest grades were; Frank Strahan, Peggy Strahan and Paul Young.

The language class has been learning to make oral reports interesting. Expression, posture, English, interest the story had for the class and the information that was given were all taken into consideration for the determination of the best speakers. Paul Young and Peggy Strahan received the best grades on their talks.

Seventh Grade. The A class of the seventh grade organized a book club. The pupils are expected to read at least one book every two weeks.

At the end of this period outlines of the most interesting incidents of the books are made and discussed in class. This club serves several purposes: First, to induce the pupils to read good books; second, to train them in speaking from outlines and to aid in correcting their grammar errors.

The class attended the lecture, "Books," given by Mr. Cecil, on Thursday, September 26.

A test in history was given during last week.

The arithmetic classes have learned how to develop formulas for the measurement of circles.

Maps of the cities, rivers and natural regions of Germany were made last week.

Attendance has been regular in both A and B classes.

Eighth Grade. Louise Heidenreich received a grade of 100 percent in a recent eighth grade arithmetic test.

The class is making portfolios for project work in art class.

A review of national government has been given in the history class. The review extended through the period of the Civil war.

"Mountain Tops," by Belle Kellogg Towne, is being read for opening exercise.

Sargon Sales Total Millions

If you were told that literally thousands of well known men and women had stated publicly that a single medicine had relieved them of health troubles after all other medicines and treatments had apparently failed—it would sound impossible, wouldn't it?

Yet, that is Sargon's wonderful record.

So great has become the demand for Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills that the Sargon Laboratory has been forced to increase its capacity from 8,000 to 45,000 bottles daily.

"Phenomenal and bewildering," is the way one of the big drug jobbers of the country describes the marvelous demand.

One big New York firm, with wholesale branches in leading cities, is selling at the rate of more than one million bottles a year—or to be exact, 908,184 bottles in the past eight months.

Introduced in California in April of this year, the people of this state alone are now using it at the rate of more than one million bottles per year, or an average of one bottle for every family in the state; and so it is everywhere.

Why this enormous and ever-increasing demand for Sargon? The answer is this:

Sargon is a new kind of medicine. It is different from any other medicine you have ever taken because it is based on new and remarkable discoveries in the field of modern medicine which have completely overturned many old moss-grown theories we have known for a life-time.

That is why people everywhere are looking on Sargon as the one great, outstanding health-giving remedy of the age. No wonder it is called the medicine with a million friends. Feber's Pharmacy, Wayne, Neb., Agents. 0101 ing it advisable to guard their coops against invasion. It is sometimes suspected that thieves are organized. If so, farmers might well organize to protect their flocks and bring lawless parasites to justice.

The great majority in Wayne and elsewhere in the county who are in accord with all road building plans as evidence of progress, keep still and secretly approve the forward movement. The comparatively few townspeople who kick and backbite and obstruct in the hope of advantage, seem rather to ruin if they cannot rule in shaping a course of action, make up in noise and trouble what they lack in numbers. We would suggest that townspeople who believe in progress, even though they cannot always determine it according to personal wishes, take an active stand against bold and unwarranted attempts to block development. Meanwhile farming communities must look on with disgust. They are interested in road improvements anywhere and everywhere, and they are not partial to one market town above another. They cannot look kindly on any move that means obstruction and delay. People in harmony with the spirit of progress will do well to assert themselves and resist contrary efforts, following a course that cannot be mistaken for meddling or love-making. It is all right to turn the other cheek if there is not too much at stake.

No Easy Berths.
Dr. A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: An East Lincoln man who is out of a job, with winter almost staring him in the face, makes the excuse that he quit the last one because it didn't "exactly" suit him. No job exactly suits anybody. The lawyer is troubled with quarrelsome clients who want to litigate over trifles and pay nothing unless they win. The doctor leaves a pleasant environment to hasten to the rescue of the afflicted, and when the sufferers come out of it, many of them are mighty slow in coming to the rescue of the doctor who perhaps owes seven or eight installments on the car in which he rode to pull them out of the mire. The preacher sees resentment in the eyes of his parishioners when he modestly reminds them that the deficit of the previous year ought to be taken care of before conference. The farmer has to chore about in all kinds of weather, depend on a fluctuating market for what he has to sell, and pay an arbitrary price for what he has to buy. And what of the banker, supposed to be sailing along on Easy street, and nothing to worry about but taxes on intangible assets? Is that all? Fact is he owes the community a lot of money—much of it subject to payment on demand—and he has to watch out for yegmen from Chicago, frozen securities, and a lot of things the man who isn't a banker knows nothing about. Nothing that one can engage in but has its perplexities; and even the one who is forehanded and retires, finds looting very monotonous.

If you are looking for a trade Where all is soft as clover, You'll still be looking, I'm afraid, When bad freezes over. That is rough for weary feet. That is the common story. None fully happy till we greet Beyond the gates of glory.

This fact forever must be faced, Of life a certain feature, No work "exactly" suits the taste Of any living creature. To be forever in the air, For this and that thing racing— Say, friend, you won't get anywhere By simply rainbow chasing.

It is yet too early to tell whether the English textile strike or the Chinese-Russian dispute will cause an increase in the price of coal this time.—American (Ind.) Herald.

Market Report.

Furnished by Steele, Siman & Co., Sioux City Stock Yards.

Live stock markets carried a better undertone this week, due largely to the fact that receipts of all classes decreased in the aggregate at leading centers. Declines were noted on all classes last week.

The break of mostly 50 to 75c a hundred on killing cattle, last week probably served to cut down receipts this week. The 13 leading markets of the country received 157,500 cattle on Monday and Tuesday, 30,000 less than on the same days last week.

Light yearlings continued in best demand, as during previous weeks of the season, and the market carried a touch of strength. The general run of the rest of the cornfed held about steady and were slower to move to the scales.

Bulk of the fed steers and yearlings cashed at $12.00 to 13.75. A few sales were made upward to $14.50 for well finished kinds and down to $11.00 and under for warmedups. Choice yearlings still would hit around the $15.50 mark. A few grass steers sold at $9.00 to 10.00 to the packers.

Cornfed cows and heifers were scarce and prices ruled firm. A few heifers brought $10.50 to 10.50. Grass she stock held about steady with some weakness on the low grades. Bulk of the cows sold at $6.25 to 7.25 with a few real good kinds at $7.50. Occasional lots of heifers brought $8.00 to 9.50. Canners and cutters sold largely at $5.00 to 6.00.

Veals dropped 50c to $1.00. The extreme top was $14.00. Bulls strengthened fully a quarter over last week's low close. Bulk of the medium grades cashed at $6.50 to 7.25. Plain cutter kinds ranged down to $6.00 and heavy beef grades upward to $8.25.

Stockers and feeders moved in fairly good style on mostly a steady basis with some of the better grades strong and plainer kinds weak. Bulk of the cattle sold at $9.00 to 10.75 with a few weighty feeders to $11.25 and light weights to $11.75 with calves above $12.00. Common lots ranged down to $7.50 and under. Feeding cows sold at $6.00 to 7.00 and heifers at $8.00 to 10.00, mostly.

Hog receipts amounted to 183,000 at the 13 main markets on the first two days of the week, 35,000 less than last Monday and Tuesday and 4,000 short of the number received the corresponding period a year ago.

Order buyers were active on both Monday and Tuesday. They paid strength for the weighty butchers and light sows and were slow to pay steady prices for the light weight butchers on both days. Packers came through with a little strength on sows and butcher grades on Monday and started out in good style on the second day but eased off on the closing rounds. Decreased receipts gave the market a better undertone than last week when a 50 and 75c break occurred.

On Tuesday, the top was $9.75. Bulk of the good light and short weight butchers sold at $9.50 to 9.65; medium weights, $9.25 to 9.50; strong weights, $8.90 to 9.15; heavies, $8.50 to 8.90; mixed loads, $8.25 to 8.75; light sows, $7.85 to 8.15; ordinary packers, $7.50 to 7.85; heavies down to $7.25 and under; stags, $7.25 to 7.75; pigs, downward from $10.25.

WHAT'S WRONG?

We doubt if the Winside Tribune reflects the feelings of many Winside people in its animus against the graveling of the Wayne-Wakefield road which is now to be undertaken as a part of the proposed highway between Norfolk and Sioux City. In its last issue the Tribune calls attention to the omission of one publication of the notice in the Herald providing for the Wayne-Wakefield gravel, and expresses satisfaction over this omission in the hope that it would help delay the plans of the state board. The notice started September 5 when, according to an old and hitherto infallible rule, it was checked and charged for the full period of its publication. Thus, on checking the final publication for proof, the assumption that there had been no intervening omissions was not questioned.

When our attention was called to the omission Wednesday morning of last week we were utterly amazed to find the notice did not appear on September 12, but did appear for final proof on September 19. By telephone and letter the department of public works was immediately apprised of the unfortunate incident. The man responsible for the making up of the newspaper and in charge of all notices to appear they have been scheduled for publication, is unable to explain how the omission could have happened. Helpless to have avoided the omission—first in our long newspaper experience—and helpless to correct it, we have so far been up against a stone wall in trying to fathom the mystery. We would give $100 for a convincing solution. That anyone would go so far over the omission in the hope of using it to obstruct public improvements is quite as inconceivable and perplexing as the omission itself, reflecting a spirit of malice and a policy of destruction altogether at variance with present-day improvement and progress.

Another apparent attempt to block graveling of the Wayne-Wakefield highway is found in a letter written by Commissioner David Koch of the Winside vicinity, to the department of public works, charging that Frank Erleben, chairman of the county board, was not authorized to sign the contract providing for the improvement. Mr. Koch complains that the road west of Winside is neglected and that "our gas tax" is spent on a "secondary road." Mr. Koch suggests that an injunction would be supported by a thousand names.

It has been explained that the Wayne-Wakefield project is a part of the Norfolk-Sioux City highway, that its construction at this time is done to save money and hasten road development. Advantageous to the building of the Wayne-Wakefield road is the fact that it is partly in Dixon county and partly chargeable to that county's apportionment. It is pointed out that little grading is necessary and that a gravelled road between two towns, providing a link in the proposed chain, may thus be supplied at this time at comparatively small cost. It is further explained that Wayne county's apportionment for road construction has been overruled, and that improvements benefiting this county this year or next year cannot come from such apportionment. As explained, it is the plan to initiate a Wayne-Winside project next year. However, delay in the Wayne-Wakefield improvement may delay the Wayne-Winside gravel and retard other road building in the county. We are in need of road development, as appreciated by the department of public works, but can we expect it more quickly by employing spiteful and obstructive tactics against authorities who, viewing our exhausted apportionment, might feel justified in waiting for the accumulation of ample funds?

In all candor, what's the matter with the Winside group that is seeking to wreck road building plans? Why the suspicion and hatefulness directed at Wayne? Why the bald contrarities flung into the path of the department of public works which is manifestly endeavoring to speed up rather than retard highway improvements in this territory. Distrusting motives and trying to thwart practical plans hinder the very development desired and ought to be most impregnated the few recalcitrant Winsiders with a most distressing, devilish feeling. We would invite members of the Winside group to remove chips from their shoulders and evaluate more justly, getting into the harness for every road building project that will benefit Wayne county.

URGES CONFIDENCE.
Robert C. Elliott, editor of the Salt Lake City Telegram, contributing to the current Kiwanis Magazine, comes to the relief of members of the press in trying to establish more friendly relations between them and the public. He urges people to deal frankly and fairly with newspapers. He mentions as a display of false modesty the plea to keep one's name out of print. On the contrary, he points out the valuable publicity proposed by an interview. He suggests that the person who exercises himself in behalf of news stories for reporters, naturally stands in with them and is favored by them. But he explodes the notion, often believed but always unfounded, that news stories are bought or are the result of other selfish considerations. If a story is really news, a reporter wants it, and he is influenced by nothing beyond his duty to his newspaper and to the public. The Salt Lake City editor emphasizes the folly of asking a newspaper to publish a contribution just as it is written, explaining that the novice knows little or nothing about preparing a news story according to accepted newspaper style and that the request is an imposition that can seldom be heeded. As advised, the public interest does not suffer but on the contrary is sometimes helped by omission of stories that are reported. On the other hand, those who request the suppression of news stories on trivial grounds are likely to find, if their request is granted, that they have erred in judgment with popular reaction to their own injury. The author makes it plain that news writers deserve confidence, having been trained not to violate confidence. They are not seeking great riches, nor, in the course of discharging their duties from day to day, do they try to punish the presumptuous or unfriendly. They believe their vocation furnishes a means for constructive service, and they are ambitious to perform it well and faithfully. The editor urges cooperation with the press, and concludes: "Don't fumble your opportunities to make the news your ally. Being friendly terms with newspaper men may prove a valuable asset to you."

Early Days in Wayne County

From the Wayne Herald for October 12, 1899:

Sam Short visited in Minnesota the past week.

Jesse Clayton is building a new residence in Winside.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Swan are visiting relatives in Chicago.

Andy Brenner of Minneapolis, was a recent Wayne visitor.

Herman Midler went to Omaha to receive medical treatments.

E. C. Sewell of Baxter, Iowa, visited his brother the past week.

"The Count of Monte Cristo," a box office attraction, will be seen here soon.

Editor Cunningham arrived in Wayne after a visit at points of interest in the east.

Chas. Cleveland of Creighton, an old school friend of Chas. Craigen, visited him here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Archer of Red Oak, Iowa, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grothe.

Mrs. Mary Peck returned to Epworth, Iowa, after visiting her sister, Mrs. H. S. Wheaton.

Mrs. R. Craven received a message from George Moe, telling of the death of her brother.

The corner stone of the new German Lutheran church will be laid Sunday, October 15, 1899.

The bridges in the vicinity of Carroll are in a very poor state of repair and much work is being done on them.

Mrs. Clyde Oman who has been ill for several months, was taken to Omaha where she entered a hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Dyke Wight arrived here from Hastings to attend the Presbyterian synod and to visit Wayne friends.

Manager Britton has had electric lights installed in the opera house and they will be used for the first time October 13, 1899.

Mrs. J. Hopp and children of Winside, left for their new home at Stobe, Iowa, where Mr. Hopp is employed by a lumber company.

E. A. Morrike and Miss Charlotte McLaughlin, both of Randolph, were granted a marriage license October 10, 1899, by Judge Hunter.

A number of Wayne women went to York this week to attend the convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs being held there this week.

Carroll: "There is scarcely a day passes without an immigrant wagon going through here looking for a place to stay this winter and to work. They are coming from the west."

Lucy, 2-year-old daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, was fatally burned when her 5-year-old brother set fire to her dress while playing with matches. The child died a short time afterward.

Dave Surber narrowly escaped a serious accident when a bridge over which he was driving with a load of wheat collapsed. One end of the bridge caught on the creek bank and Mr. Surber was able to drive off without damage to horse or wagon.

The annual meeting of the synod of Nebraska of the Presbyterian church convened in Wayne this week. Rev. John Dixon, D. D., of New York City, delivered an address on "Home Missions."

Members of the Grain Growers' Mutual Hall association of Wayne and Douglas counties have, through their attorney, Captain J. H. Brown, of Wakefield, applied for a writ taking the officers of the company into court. It is charged that the organization was never legally organized.

A lecture course, consisting of five lectures by prominent men, will be given here under the auspices of the college, high school, the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches. The first lecture which will be October 23, 1899, will be given by L. F. Copeland on "Seeing the Elephant."

Best Nebraska Corn Husker To Get $100

Lincoln, Neb.—A prize of $100 and a free trip to the national husking contest awaits the man who proves himself Nebraska's best this year.

An additional $100 will be divided among the winners of second, third, fourth and fifth places. These awards are the same as in the national competition itself—$200 to five men.

Nebraska's sixth annual state contest will be held November 8, at a place to be named later. Only county champions and runners up may enter.

Advanced Engineering Knowledge and Experience Have Produced This Finer Oil Burner

In principle, design and construction, Electrol is an outstanding engineering achievement. There is nothing finer. It will bring you automatic, care-free heating in its highest development. Freedom from attention, from smoke, soot and dirt—from coal and ash shoveling. With reduced expense for laundering and cleaning.

Above all, Electrol provides absolute assurance of dependable operation... Constant comfort... Any temperature desired... An abundance of heat, no matter how severe the weather.

All Electric and Entirely Automatic.
Not only is Electrol's operation entirely electric, it is also entirely automatic. A small electric motor furnishes the power. Motor, blower and pump are mounted on one shaft without gearing. Moving parts are reduced to a minimum.

The oil is atomized and automatically mixed with the correct amount of air, and ignited entirely by electricity. No gas pilot is used. Hence there is no possibility of gas escaping from an unlighted burner.

The Master Control
Like a living hand always at the furnace door, THE MASTER CONTROL keeps constant watch over every phase of the burner's operation, making the burner fool-proof and always under constant automatic control. You cannot afford to be without this important Electrol feature.

Mechanical Atomization
The oil is atomized into a fine mist, and thoroughly mixed with air, permitting independent regulation of the oil and air supplies, and allowing all parts to be outside the firebox. This principle also permits the greatest amount of heat to be generated from the fuel.

The Electrol Nozzle
The size of the nozzle is the only part of the burner which varies according to the heating requirements of the building. Thus, by the selection of the correct nozzle at the time the installation is made, the correct combustion mixture is obtained. Once adjusted, proper heating is mechanically maintained. The Electrol nozzle is simple. It operates without springs. There is nothing about it to get out of order.

Quiet—Naturally
The new-day Electrol method of heating abolishes noise, an objectionable feature of inferior burners. Electrol is so quiet you are not conscious of its presence. No more sound than the soft purr of an electric fan.

Fuel Consumption Only When Heat Is Needed
Compare the efficiency of the Electrol method of heating with the fuel waste which takes place when coal is burned. With coal the fire must be kept going constantly. But with the wonderful Electrol the fire burns intermittently, consuming fuel economically—only when heat is needed.

and also his more recent acquisitions, the five shows of the American Circus corporation which have been touring the country under the names of John Robinson, Al G. Barnes, Sells-Floto, Hagenbeck and Sells circus. This deal makes Ringling king in fact of the western circus world.

This string of amusement enterprises is managed from the New York office and the Florida home of Ringling. The story of the circus in America is as interesting a chapter as can be found in new world records. Ringling himself has done much to make it interesting, but he will cause many regrets if in his consolidations the names of circus masters of other days are taken from the advertising. The public will willingly accept Ringling and his better shows, but it will enjoy seeing the names of Forepaugh and John Robinson and Barnum and Bailey and other old amusement masters on the bills.

Privilege.

Dr. A. L. Bixby: Doesn't it make your heart swell with pride to read of the sacrifice made by the west, at the recent diplomatic dinner in Washington, in giving to our English cousins, the guests of the evening, those places at the table snug up to the president, which convention had naturally accorded to the vice president on the one side and his distinguished sister on the other? The west is nothing if not courteous and its better shows, but it was in the place of the vice president or his sister, we would feel the assumed sacrifice nothing less than a delightful privilege. Crossing the ocean twenty-two years ago, the smiling pursuer on the sturdy Marquette directed us to a seat at table next to Captain Tribb. This we occupied three daily on the long trip from Philadelphia to Antwerp, and were half way across the ocean before learning that this seat at the captain's table was a special honor which had excited the envy of several M. M. favorably seated. Dr. C. B. M. Poynter was the fellow who put us wise and we might have felt chaste over the distinction, but there was a friend, Colonel Bryant of St. Louis who was making a long journey and had a competent letter of credit in his bill book. He was a wholesaler, with money to burn, and felt his business and social standing entitled him to first consideration on the boat, and we would gladly have swapped places with him, but for the embarrassment of having to apologize to the captain for our lack of appreciation. The orderly conduct of affairs in high life require divers rules and regulations, but there are conventions under the sun that assume the dignity of a helofa joke.

Notice to Non-resident Defendants.

To Edna L. Cobb, Edna L. Cobb Lineweaver, Floyd Lineweaver, Alison Cobb, and Bernice Cobb, defendants: You will take notice that on the 18th day of September, 1929, Gwen Hiller, as plaintiff, filed her petition in the District court of Wayne county, Nebraska, against you, and each of you, impleaded with Larkin E. Cobb and other persons as defendants, the object, purpose, and prayer of which petition is to foreclose a certain real estate mortgage made, executed, and delivered by Larkin E. Cobb, Dolly Beatrice Cobb, Edna L. Cobb, Alison Cobb, and Bernice Cobb to Gwen Hiller on or about August 12, 1926, as security for the sum of $1,500.00, and interest, upon the following described real estate to-wit:

The south half of the northeast quarter of section twenty-two (22), township twenty-seven (27), range two (2), East of the 6th P. M., in Wayne County, Nebraska, which said mortgage was filed for record in the office of the county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska, on September 13, 1926, and recorded in book 46 of mortgages, at page 124, of the real estate records of said county.

Plaintiff alleges in her petition that she is the owner and holder of said note and mortgage and there is due and owing to her thereon the sum of $1,620.00 with interest at 10 per cent per annum from August 12, 1929, and by reason of default in the payment thereof said mortgage deed has become absolute and plaintiff is entitled to a foreclosure thereof.

You are required to answer said petition on or before the 28th day of October, 1929. Dated this 18th day of September, 1929. s1914 Gwen Hiller, Plaintiff.

"Ah-h HA-a-a!" said Pop "no wonder your line's busy ... the receiver's held up!"

Pop came home late and Mom asked him why he didn't let her know he wouldn't be home for dinner and Pop said he tried to call her several times ... but every time he got "busy" reports ...

And Mom said that's funny, no one used the telephone since noon and he'd better think of another alibi ... and Pop said well, maybe the other party on our line was using it or maybe someone called the same time he did ...

Then Pop spied the telephone ... "Ah-h! Ha-a-a!" he said, "no wonder your line's busy when the receiver is held up like that" ... So you see, he said, it might have been all those other things but it wasn't, Mom not saying anything, showing Pop was right.

Pick Your Corn Crop with a McCormick-Deering CORN PICKER

Spread the Payments over 1929 and 1930---two seasons

Place your order now. Picker will be delivered in time for husking. Pay us a part of the purchase price and put the machine to work. Spread the payment over two harvest seasons while the picker is earning its way. Enjoy the advantages, and profit by the modern method, in the meantime.

Sandwich Portable and Bucket Elevators

In buying a farm elevator, bear in mind that the machine has to do extraordinary heavy work—must withstand a tremendous strain—must work rapidly and smoothly, with light draft—must be adaptable to a wide range of cribbing conditions. A cheap elevator won't save you any money, for it will quickly rattle and shake itself to pieces and be a constant bill-of-expense on account of break-downs and cost of repairs.

Do You Know--
Good posture pays in appearance and health. Whether you're poor or rolling in wealth. This holds true in farm or city's loud noise. It's up to you to have natural poise. In other words—just keep your spine "straight." Don't let this go until it's too late.

Read the Rules Carefully

In each ad on this page are two pieces of the airplane, whose outline appears to the left. Cut out the parts and paste them down in their proper places on the outline. The dotted guide lines correspond to the edges of the parts to be pasted down. When you have done this as neatly as possible, write a letter of not more than 100 words telling which of the aviators whose names appear on the solution has contributed the most valuable achievement and why. Neatness and accuracy will be considered in crediting points. Letters and solutions must reach us by Monday night, October 14. Watch this paper for the solution.

Fur, Either on Outside or Inside, Is Motif in Milady's Winter Coats

BY HARRIET

SOME winter coats wear their fur on the inside, some on the outside. But most winter coats wear fur.

Dyed lapin is probably the most useful fur for the coat of medium price this season. Lapin takes dye admirably and Milady can have her green, orange, red, gray or even pink things fur colored and cutted in the exact shade of the worsted.

Long-haired furs, such as skunk, racoon and even monkey fur adorn many lovely coats this spring. An especially effective ensemble is in bottle green, with skunk shawl collar.

But if Milady wants to spend a fortune on her coat, she may do so, too. There are expensive furs adorned many tweeds and many dress coats of flat worsteds such as broadcloth.

Mink, natural lynx, caracul, curly lamb, nutria, seal and all the furs are used to fashion unusual-looking collars and cuffs.

THE tall collar is the best one, from the point of view of both style and comfort. To have a neat little choker collar of sleek broadcloth or even a scarf collar that hangs under the chin in non-chalant manner is quite the thing of the moment.

Most women, however, prefer their fur collars attached. Therefore, when fur is used on a coat, it is more apt to be for the collar and cuffs than to fashion a separate neckpiece.

Fur-lined coats are having a vogue. It may be football. But women are beginning to appreciate the very warm, yet light, cloth coat with fur lining. This coat lets women wear the thinness of silk frock and still be comfortable in a snow storm.

ONE of the smartest of this type of coat comes in the ensemble from Jane Hardy. It is of diagonal weave homespun tweed, in soft beige with dark brown stripes decorating the tuck-in sweater blouse.

At left, a sports suit of Rodier tweed with the coat lined with seal-skin; at right, a green tweed frock, with coat of reindeer hide, lined with tweed. The collar is of beaver. The frock is trimmed with reindeer stitched appliques.

The skirt is one of the new long-lined effects with its yoke fitting snugly at the normal waistline. It is the new longer length, too.

The coat has raglan sleeves, deep cuffs and a cute yoke effect across the back. Rich seal lines it throughout, topping it with a standing collar of double fur.

FOR the coat that wears its fur on the outside, there is a stunning ensemble from Worth. It comes with a green tweed frock that has darker green bindings and high waistline belt. The coat is green reindeer hide, a leather soft as suede, pitiable, beautiful in its texture. This coat is lined with the tweed of the frock and has fancy cuffs of the tweed. The collar is of beaver, made so it will lie down or stand up, according to whether the coat is open or closed.

For these new coats, the hats must be of the most pliable fabric if they sponsor long sides. For when coat collars come up, Milady will grow irritable if her hat will not snuggle down without protest.

Some of these tweed and fur coats are belted, some swing loose and a few have semi-fitted back and loose front that is belted. It depends much on one's figure which style is best.

Co-operative Creamery Solves Problem For Oklahomans Whose Crops Failed

A CO-OPERATIVE creamery has solved the farm problem of Sulphur, Okla. Formed less than a year ago, it has progressed until now it handles more than 8000 pounds of butter a month and has increased its membership from 40 to more than 100.

The co-operative idea originated when the cotton crop failed. And despite good tourist trade, business men felt the effect of the crops failure. It was then that farmers and set out to help them.

As far back as 1923, County Agent S. E. Lewis began telling farmers they would do better if they diversified their crops, if they would keep a few good dairy cows and raise the feed with which to feed them. A survey taken at the time showed that throughout Murray county there were only 2000 cows being milked, but very few of them produced enough butterfat to pay for their keep.

After experimenting half-heartedly with cream stations and a condensary, local business men and county farmers were pretty well agreed that a co-operative creamery would solve their problem.

College Boy Heads Creamery So the organization of the co-operative creamery was started. R. R. Randolph, just out of the dairy department of Oklahoma A. & M. College, was employed as manager of the school training and some practical experience did much to assure the success of the organization. After preliminary plans had been made, farmers and business men agreed that the "certificate of indebtedness" plan was the best to adopt.

In order to obtain capital to run the organization, each member loaned the association $10 for each cow's product he expected to sell through the association. This money was merely loaned for a period of five years and drew 8 per cent interest, the members getting a "certificate of indebtedness" instead of a note.

The association started out with a capital of $6000, members A specified sum is set aside out Above is the co-operative creamery of Sulphur, Okla., which was started by farmers and business men and which has proved profitable to both groups. The inset shows R. R. Randolph, youthful manager of the creamery, who is responsible for its success.

owning $4700 of this and business men owning the remaining $1300.

J. B. Mosley, banker, business man and farmer, one of the most ardent backers of the plan, delivered the first can of cream when the association opened its doors for business. Because farmers who shared in the organization were anxious for its success, they urged neighbors to produce good clean cream for its consumption. Business men, also anxious for the new creamery to succeed, urged customers to get behind it.

Succeeded From Start From the start the creamery had plenty of business, the average being more than 8000 pounds of butter a month.

At the end of each month the cost of operating is figured up and complete inventories are made. The association started out with a capital of $6000, members A specified sum is set aside out

About Nebraska and Nebraskans

Will M. Maupin.

How many "real" Daughters of the American Revolution are buried in Nebraska soil? It would be interesting to know. Two are buried in the cemetery at Hastings. Mrs. Barbara Fishburn Knowles-Wood and Mrs. Herrick Johnson.

Miss Ellen Harn of Kenesaw, now nearing her 101st birthday, is a daughter of 1812, and the daughter of a real daughter of the American Revolution. Miss Harn attended the recent unveiling of a bronze marker on the grave of Mrs. Knowles-Wood at Hastings, and in addition to visiting with friends before the ceremonies, stood during the entire program. She looks after her own housework, milks her cow, and finds time to keep thoroughly posted on world topics.

William Everest of Omaha, who has celebrated his 106th birthday, works every day at his trade as cabinet maker. He is just now defendant in a suit to foreclose a mortgage on a residence property he owns but has leased for use as an apartment house.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland Alexander, wife of the famous baseball pitcher, has secured a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The action was not contested and property settlement was made out of court.

Col. William B. Cowin, a native son of Nebraska, son of the late General and Mrs. John B. Cowin of Omaha, died at New Orleans Wednesday, Oct. 2, of heart failure. He was commanding officer of the army supply base in that city. Col. Cowin left Yale college to enlist in the Spanish-American war as a private, was cited for gallantry in action recommended by General Bell for a medal of honor. He arose to the rank of captain, and at the close of the insurrection was transferred to the regular army. As a captain of cavalry he led the pursuit after Villa, under command of Gen. Pershing. During the World War he was promoted from captain to major and later to colonel. His body will be interred in Arlington Cemetery, Washington.

After 55 years of married life Mrs. Karl Praxsh of Sarpy county is asking for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty.

H. W. Mitchell, editor of the Clearwater Record, was recently the victim of a peculiar incident. Mr. and Mrs. George Talbert of that city were getting ready to move and sent their young son to the Record office to get some old papers to wrap around the furniture. There was no one in the office, but the boy saw a bundle of papers tied up, and thinking they were old ones took them home. They were used, all right. When Editor Mitchell went to get his files for binding he discovered they were missing. Investigation revealed that the boy had taken them. Editor Mitchell sued for $500 and the court awarded him $88.50, which any editor will declare to be little enough.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dale of University Place celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Oct. 2. Mr. and Mrs. Dale came to Nebraska from Wisconsin in 1894 and took a tree claim in Harlan county. He served in the state senate in 1893 and 1895, and was a leader in the populist party.

It may be of no interest except to the parties directly concerned, but this writer and his wife will celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary on Oct. 13. That is the "Coral wedding" anniversary.

For several years Omaha Legion Post No. 1 claimed the distinction of being the largest American Legion Post in the world. It is now playing second fiddle to the American Legion Post at Louisville, Ky., and thereby hangs a tale—several tails, shirt tails, in fact. The two posts engaged in a membership campaign, the losing post to donate its individual shirts to the winners. Omaha Legion men lost, and paid the wager at Louisville last week. The ceremonies took place on the famous Churchill Downs race track and were witnessed by hilarious thousands. Every known variety of shirts changed hands, or rather bodies, amidst the blare of bands and the cheers of thousands.

The Burlington's "Profitable Pork Special" is now touring the state. It was christened just like a battleship, only instead of breaking a bottle of champagne on its prow a battle of lard was broken on the boilerhead of its engine.

By agreement between the game commissioners of Iowa and Nebraska, hunters with Nebraska licenses can shoot along the Missouri river on the Iowa side of the line, and vice versa. But no fair going ashore.

Miss Mildred Robertson of Atkinson either sneezed or laughed or coughed while she had an open safety pin in her mouth. It lodged in her throat and she was hurried to a hospital in Omaha. An X-ray failed to reveal the pin in her throat, so the surgeons sought farther and found it in her stomach. It was still open, and at last accounts was still there.

Playing dominoes in public places in Lincoln is forbidden by ordinance. Mumbletypeg and barnyard quots are still outside the verboten list. But putting the ban on public dominoes is not new. A year or two ago some boys were arrested for playing that insidious and harmful game in a park at Beaver City.

Nebraska had 330 Legion men and Auxiliary women at the Louisville convention of the American Legion. They supported Mrs. Donald MacRae of Council Bluffs for president of the Auxiliary, and won. And the Hastings Auxiliary quartet won third place among 43 contestants.

Willygrams. A lot of people waste time telling God what they want instead of asking Him for help to hustle out and get what they actually need.

If one-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives it is because they do not subscribe for their local newspapers.

Instead of letting well enough alone, hustle out and dig another well and irrigate more and better.

Politics may make strange bedfellows, but it would be more interesting to see more celibates.

Home is the place where a lot of people can never be found except when they are unconscious.

Baalam was the first advertiser. He advertised Balak to the people, and what the people did to Balak was a plenty. See Num. 24:14. And Boaz knew the advertising game even better than Baalam, for Boaz advertised, saying, "Buy it before the inhabitants, and before the elders of my people."

To a lot of people life is just one installment day after another.

A lot of men who wouldn't trust a neighbor out of their sight will place implicit reliance on every word whispered into their ears by a bootlegger.

Chilcott Bros. Annual Hampshire

Boar Sale

Thursday, Oct. 17

At farm, six miles north of Wisner, Nebraska. Sale starts at 1:30 p. m. Lunch from 11:00 to 12:00.

50 - Head - 50

5 Fall Boars, 45 Spring Boars. All immuned.

A draft of boars selected with special efforts to fulfill the requirements of the pork producer.

"They Are Bigger and Better Than Ever"

It is indeed gratifying to know we are able to offer each season a better crop of boars than our former one. We started our herd over 15 years ago with the best herd of sows money could buy and placed at the head of the herd the world's grand champion boar. Since that time we have purchased the very best herd boars obtainable, regardless of price. And when new blood was needed in way of sows, we have always secured the very tops. To attend this sale and see this offering will give you one of the very best demonstrations in the world of what a few extra dollars will do spent on a little better seed stock. We have selected this draft of boars mainly with the feeder in mind. They have size, well grown, but not fat and flabby. The entire offering will weigh around the 200 lb. mark, with many of them heavier.

PLENTY OF NEW BLOOD FOR OLD CUSTOMERS.

Our Champion Litter of 1928

Notice of Settlement of Account. In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

State of Nebraska, Wayne County, ss. To all persons interested in the estate of Albert R. Davis, deceased:

On reading the petition of Edna Davis, executrix, praying a final settlement and allowance of her account filed in this court on the 8th day of October, 1929, and for distribution of the residue of said estate. It is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter may, and do, appear at the County Court to be held in and for said county, on the 25th day of October, 1929, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

J. M. Cherry, (Seal) County Judge.

Business. Sioux City Journal: The expectation that the year would set a new record for business activity both as to volume and value seems to have been based upon sound reasoning. Beginning with the strong momentum provided in the last quarter of 1928, the year has suffered no letdown in any season. The spring activity was greater than ever before and the summer slackness was the least. Now with the last quarter begun, the indication is that the year will finish with a record never before approached.

One of the encouraging things contributing to this agriculture is the better situation in agriculture. Improvement was noted before the farm relief act was enacted and the farm board was appointed. It was recognized that a stronger buying power had risen throughout the middle west because of better prices for grains and live stock. The laws of economics began operating first, and now, with efforts made by the government to aid in stabilizing various crops, steady improvement ought to be made.

Iowa's financial responsibility has increased enormously this year until the state's position is stronger than at any time since the war. The corn crop is the best in the country and there is a shortage generally. It means that Iowa farmers will cash in on a production that exceeds both in quantity and quality. Incidentally, it is now revealed that corn occupies a new and advantageous position. The amount available for export has been diminished until it represents but 1 per cent of the total production. This, because the domestic demand for corn takes practically the entire supply. Herein is a hint for corn growers, which simply is that advantage may be taken of the always dependable law of supply and demand if production is kept even with market requirements.

Trade has picked up generally throughout the country with but few spotted conditions reported. Retail selling has been good throughout the year, and it is predicted that holiday trade will be strong.

Freight car loadings for the week ending September 21 established a record for the year so far. The total was 1,166,330, an increase over the preceding week of 13,263. It also was an increase of 22,219 over the same week in 1928 and one of 39,928 over the corresponding period in 1927.

Case Is Appealed In Cuming County

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 30.—Louis W. Luehrmann, who failed in the district court of Cuming county to recover $2,500 from Fergus E. McGuire which he claimed he paid when threatened with arrest, appealed to the supreme court today.

Luehrmann asserted that McGuire permitted his stock to run at large and then threatened him with arrest when three of McGuire's hogs were found in the Luehrmann herd. Being ignorant of his rights, Luehrmann said he paid the money demanded.

On the other hand McGuire told the court that the sum paid was agreed upon without threat, in payment for stock which Luehrmann had converted to his own use during the 20 years that they were neighbors.

A Perfected Picker-Husker

Built for the Fordson

The Nichols & Shepard Corn Picker-Husker is a proven machine. For several years it has been husking in the corn fields in all parts of the country. In the hands of farmers it has proven that:

- 1. It gets the down corn. 2. Picks and husks clean. 3. Keeps Running.

If you grow as much as 50 acres of corn, you can save money with this machine used with a Fordson Tractor. See us for complete information.

The Grain Elevator That Defies the Weather

The New John Deere Bridge-Trussed Non-Rust Portable Elevator

When you buy a new John Deere Bridge-Trussed, Non-Rust Elevator, you are buying a portable elevator that defies rain, sun and wind. Its hopper, sections and spouts are made of rust-resisting, copper-alloy steel. To add further protection against the weather, these parts are heavily galvanized.

Remember, this elevator will reduce your labor costs, elevate your biggest load of grain or corn into your high-tensile bin in from three to six minutes and eliminate the back-breaking labor of scooping.

We'll be glad to show you this elevator any time you can come in.
