QUALITY. The Standard that is never lowered even though Prices are! About twice a year it becomes necessary for a Men's Store of the character of Gamble's to clear its stock of style merchandise so as to make room for new-season goods. In our January Clearance now in progress, the prices are substantially reduced; but the quality of the merchandise, the style-right character of our men's clothes and furnishings are as desirable as always. Prices are the chief attraction in a Clearance, we are well aware, and our prices are a sufficiently powerful magnet to draw the keenest hunter of bargains. But we want to emphasize (because it's so often overlooked) that it is Quality that makes a low price REALLY LOW! Prices are way down in our January Clearance, but the Flag of Quality flies as loftily and proudly as it always does at this Allied Clothier Store. Frank Gamble Allied Clothier.

A lady expert finds that infant mortality is lower in the central west than elsewhere and that they grow up to make the sturdiest products of the race.

Members of the Kiwanis club and other business men have set apart next Wednesday as the time to entertain farmers of the county at luncheon and a picture show, and the occasion is expected to be made both pleasant and instructive. Everything will be free.

A stranger was taken into custody at Verdigre because he had a powerful passion for work, and therefore, naturally enough, he was believed to be crazy. He was found sweeping and otherwise cleaning a local store without having been invited or hired to do so. Later in jail he renewed his crusade against dirt. Explaining that he was on his way to work in the harvest fields of South Dakota, he added ground to the suspicion that his mental status was not exactly right. He was taken to the county seat to see how violent his indignation to work had become and decide what to do with him. If he is crazy, he has the most laudable as well as fun and useful kind of insanity we ever heard of—a kind that many others could stand—at least in moderation.

The annual selection of twelve "master farmers" under the auspices of the Nebraska Farmer took place at Lincoln Tuesday evening. Proposed "master farmers" are nominated by neighbors or others acquainted with their work and then they are carefully investigated. The twelve chosen this year were taken from a group of 225 candidates. Wayne county has plenty of outstanding farm successes, and this county should appear for consideration. Master farmers named this year are: A. O. Buschong, Blue Hill; I. I. R. Claassen, Beatrice; Henry T. Frels, Hershey; James S. Gill, Tekamah; John Jacobsen, Marquette; Fred Knobel, Odessa.

EQUALITY.
Women have made long headway in comparatively recent years in attaining equality of the sexes. Not many centuries ago a woman was regarded as a mere chattel. Little more than a nonentity is she considered today by some backward countries. In free America she struggled for more than a century in winning the privilege of voting and helping make the laws which she was required to obey. Even in the church to which she was more faithful and more helpful than men, she was denied equal places of authority. Ecclesiastical bigots in the old days conveyed the notion—probably believed it—that Nature made woman as an afterthought to slave for men and to be obedient to them. A woman was not expected to have any opinions or exercise any judgment. It has not been long since in the marriage ceremony she pledged herself to "honor and obey her husband, even though she had a superior intellect, and could not blunder more egregiously if she had had a complete suspension of her thinking-process. By her freedom and independence, woman is no longer a vassal—no longer a marionette responding to varied whims—often kindly, but sometimes proceeding from brutal and insane asininity. By her long deferred enfranchisement, she now has a voice in the affairs of the government. Presiding over a home or occupying any other position of responsibility, she meets the eyes of her life partner on an equal footing. Obedience is supplanted by mutual confidence and mutual helpfulness. Marriage is a partnership in which each shares the other's burdens and triumphs, leads in freedom of will and action.

Virginia Coming To Wayne Theatre

With big city night life, metropolitan undermoods and the life behind the footlights furnishing a plethora of themes for audible moving pictures, it is a welcome interlude when an all-talking film such as "The Virginian" comes to town.

"The Virginian" is deserving of even more than comparative praise, however. Its value as high type entertainment does not lie alone in the fact that it is different from the general run of pictures. Its value as entertainment lies in its own intrinsic worth as a talking picture fabrication of rich romance, epic drama and immortal humor.

Here is a picture that "gets you and holds you," as showmen say. It is a faithful reproduction in talking film of the renowned novel by Owen Wister and the play by Wister and Miss La Shelle. That alone, should be recommendation enough, should be recommendation enough, should be recommendation enough. Nearly everyone is familiar with the story.

In the medium of the all-talking screen the immortal characters of the Wister classic live and breathe. All the stirring sounds of the great outdoors are faithfully reproduced. Cowboys, all at their herd is crying, bellowing, through a swift river. Ranchers chant their typical ditties under the stars by campfire. Gun-toting chieftains bank their savage epithets. The lovers speak their hearts in the murmuring pine forest.

Add to this an ensemble of perfect character portrayals by Gary Cooper, Walter Huston, Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, Eugene Pallette and others, and you have a picture that is definitely a masterpiece in the new Show World of films that talk.

Bring Up Question Of Languages Used

The proposition of reinstating the teaching of German in the Wayne high school curriculum was brought before the Wayne board of education at its meeting Monday evening by two local citizens. It was pointed out that German is a foreign language which many wish to learn and which they could use to advantage. It was shown that countries in Europe taught more rather than less German during and after the war. The matter will be considered by the board later. Arrangements were completed for use of the college gymnasium for practice and for games to be played by the high school basketball team.

PAACISM.
Because of his efforts in behalf of a universal peace basis, President Hoover has been charged with being a "pacifist,"—whatever that is taken to mean. It is denied that the president is against adequate war preparations, but it is a fact that he lends support to any plan that points to arbitration and freedom from armed conflict, and his course will be found in general favor. People still imbued with the old idea of war as a means to achievement and progress would seek to discredit peace movements. If pacifism means to submit to imposition and outrage, there are few if any pacifists in this country. If it means to talk and encourage peace, supporting peace measures and peace agreements, there are plenty of pacifists everywhere. If half the steam used in promoting peace during peace times is as pit into military operations during war, there would be no call to sacrifice men and treasure in settling disputes. In the old days nations glorified war and idolized war heroes, and children grew up with the idea of becoming military leaders. The tendency to stress the horrors of war and the advantage of peace settlements is expected to have a wholesome effect in fortifying peace plans. "Thinking peace," says the Sioux City Journal, "is the civilized world's greatest investment for peace." Concludes that newspaper editorially: "Years ago, as the world has seen, great powers were war minded because they had been thinking of conflict for generations. Humanity has got to be peace minded to get the impression that it can avert conflict. And it will become peace minded only as a result of thinking of peace, talking of peace and contributing to peace in every way possible."

Injuries Fatal In Auto Crash

Norfolk Girl and Baby Die In Collision Near Wisner New Year's Day.

Others Are Hurt

Five Persons Killed in Three Days on Road Between Wisner and Norfolk.

When the car in which they were riding collided with a truck two miles east of Wisner New Year's evening about 7:30, Miss Dorothy Robertson, 15, and Bonnie June Rouse, 18 months old, both of Norfolk, were fatally injured, the former dying instantly and the latter dying at 10:30 that evening in a Norfolk hospital.

The car in which Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Robertson, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Bobbie Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rouse and daughter were riding, driven by Mr. Rouse, was returning to Norfolk after spending the day in Sioux City. A stock truck on the way to Omaha, driven by Charles Garliff of Wisner, met the Norfolk folks east of Wisner. Mr. Rouse asserted that he drove to the right as far as possible and almost stopped his machine. Garliff is said to have been blinded by lights from a car back of the Norfolk machine.

Mr. Rouse, brother-in-law of Miss Robertson and father of the baby, sustained cuts. Others in the Norfolk car were bruised considerably.

Mr. Robertson is the owner of the West Side Cleaners at Norfolk and Mr. Rouse is in charge of the storage department for Blakeman's Transfer company.

Bodies of Miss Robertson and the Rouse baby were taken to Valentine Thursday night for funeral services and burial.

Five Fatalities on Road.

The deaths at Wisner bring the total fatalities in automobile accidents to five in three days on the highway between Wisner and Norfolk, a distance of about thirty miles.

Dr. G. H. Seaver's and Miss Eunice Myers of Pilger, lost their lives Monday night last week when their car turned over west of Wisner and both were burned. Lester Salzwedel of Norfolk was killed Monday morning last week when the car he was driving turned over near Stanton.

Funeral at Wisner.

Funeral services for Miss Eunice Myers were held Thursday afternoon at the Winside Methodist church with Rev. Carl Critchett in charge. Interment was made in the Winside cemetery.

George M. Myers of Wakefield, Iowa, father of deceased, was present from a distance.

Big Triumph In Chevrolet History

The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces a new car for 1930 known as "The Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History."

Announcement of the new car today comes right at the close of Chevrolet's greatest year, for the sensational success of the six-cylinder Chevrolet, introduced just a year ago, resulted in an output of $1,350,000 cars this year, breaking by a wide margin all former Chevrolet annual production records.

In making public Chevrolet's plans for 1930, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, declared that with the improvements incorporated in the new car, Chevrolet was anticipating a volume of business that will equal, if not surpass, the phenomenal record of 1929. And, in order to accommodate an early demand, production is being speeded with all the haste consistent with the precision methods for which Chevrolet manufacturing operations are famous.

New car shipments have been going out to dealers for the past ten days with deliveries to owners scheduled to start today. The cars went on display this morning in thousands of Chevrolet showrooms from coast to coast, while at the same time the announcement of the new car was being broadcast through the advertising columns of more than 6,500 newspapers.

Scores of distinct improvements have been made in the 1930 Chevrolet line, the factory announces. Greater beauty, added safety factors, improved riding comfort and better all-round performance with added power, and faster acceleration are announced as features of the new line.

The three principle causes of motor vehicle accidents were: Collision, 18 percent; struck pedestrian, 8 percent; and skids fifteen percent. 12 of the 17 skids were caused by icy roads and streets. Many drivers were blinded by the fog.

Today

Chevrolet announces

THE GREATEST CHEVROLET IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

An improved six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Looney hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; new Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—these are typical of the many improvements which make this car the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six has been made available—

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories—and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—ride in it—and judge for yourself its sensational value.

Old Fort Kearney Now State Park

When recently the governor of Nebraska accepted the presentation of forty acres comprising the site of old Fort Kearney, near Kearney, a scene of immense historic interest became a part of Nebraska's park system. The site was acquired by the Fort Kearney Memorial association and given without cost to the state. The addition of this ground increases the number of state parks under the control of the state parks commission to five, others being Chadron state park near Chadron, Victoria Springs park near Broken Bow and Stolley park near Grand Island.

Fort Kearney at the present time shows little of its former character. Mounds of earth mark the place where the buildings stood. Low ridges show where the outer defense works stood a measure of safety from Indian attacks. About the old parade ground stand tall cottonwoods, planted in 1848, keeping watch over a field that is fragrant with historic memories.

Old Fort Kearney was built in 1847 at Nebraska City. The next year its name was taken away and given to another fort two hundred miles west on the Platte. When the Indian war of 1864 broke out Fort Kearney on the Platte became a central point for the army. The first Nebraska cavalry was located there. Wagon trains westbound with their precious freight of pioneers reached the shelter of Kearny with great relief and left it with regret. On May 17, 1871, under orders from the war department the last soldiers departed from the fort and its decline began.

Situated in the fertile Platte valley, rich in historic memories and capable of being transformed into a place of scenic beauty, Fort Kearney promises to be in time a popular member of the Nebraska parks family.

Births

A daughter was born Friday January 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Senter of Sioux City. Senter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Senter of Wayne.

General His business from Nepal Taradish, Maharaja Chandra Shumsher Jung, Bagdur Rana, the ruler of Nepal, has passed away, which may leave any unemployment among the stone-cutters in Detroit, Neb.

HELLO Everybody! We are off For a NEW YEAR

January starts 1930. Naturally you want to bring as far as possible, health, happiness and prosperity. Such blessings do not come by luck, accident or without effort on your part. Life will be about what you make it. So plan your well and work your plan.

Our plan is to fulfill what we believe is our duty and that duty is to help our customers prosper.

This is an age of specialists, and there is no jack-of-all-trades making a success in a large way. We must choose our line and work it to a shell-crack finish. If your car needs repairs, see the automobile mechanic. If your watch breaks, who do you see? The watch doctor, of course. If a farmer's hogs were down with the flu, he would not come to a hardware store for assistance.

Buy Hardware From a Home-Owned Hardware Store

Thousands of dollars are sent out of our community to make order houses every year, never to return. Because they are not specialists, they are jack-of-all-lines, and are incapable of giving you value service and attention. They leave you and your community minus your good cash.

It is our duty to buy and sell you a stove that will last twenty years if it can be done. It is also our duty to carry different grades of hardware goods to have prices to fit your purse in case you do not wish the best and to be truthful and honest by telling you just what to expect of our items to buy here.

We Should Know Hardware

It is our opinion that money spent at home will pay the grocery, dry goods store, bakery, and all others, and finally land in a home bank, ready to loan out to a deserving farmer who may use it to promote a car of cattle, and get, go back to Wall street, where so much of our cash has been going, never to return.

Prosperity comes by helping one another. We can only help you in the hardware line, and this we are striving to do. We specialize in hardware, and it is our earnest desire to maintain the best hardware in northeast Nebraska. In so doing we are in a better position to serve you with what you want, when you want it, to the entire satisfaction of all.

We welcome suggestions for the betterment of our business for the improvement of our home community, and for ways and means to make the coming year full of health, happiness and prosperity.

THOUGHTFULNESS

The distinguishing quality of the successful funeral director is thoughtfulness. This thoughtfulness is shown not only in his actions at the time of the funeral service, but in the facilities he has prepared in advance. Every desire of his clients must have been foreseen long before, and provided for.

But such preparation is only possible against a background of long experience. Years of service must have taught the funeral director these little ways of adding to the comfort of those he is called upon to help.

Our service has just such a background of experience. During the many years that we have ministered to the needs of this community we have acquired a fund of sympathy and understanding which enables us to fulfill the unspoken wishes of our clients.

closed giving perfect protection against water and dirt.

The brakes represent an innovation not only in the Chevrolet line but in the entire passenger car field. The length of service that these things give in the new design Chevrolet brakes is second to none. The brakes may be adjusted without the removal of any plates from the brake drum and operate with equal efficiency on all four wheels. The brake drums are 11 1/2 inches in diameter. The emergency brake is an independent unit operating on the rear drums. A new method of construction known as the articulated shoe type assures uniform braking under all conditions of temperature.

Tests at the General Motors Proving Ground show that the new brake will stop car traveling thirty miles an hour in two and two-tenths seconds within 48 feet.

The attractive new closed bodies, in a variety of colors, carry the famous Fisher stamp of craftsmanship. Eight models, three of which are new to Chevrolet, comprise the line. Of the eight, five are closed cars and three are open. The closed cars are the sedan, coach, sport coupe and club sedan. The open models are the roadster, sport roadster and phaeton. The models new to the line this year are the sport coupe, sport roadster and club sedan.

The six cylinder valve-in-head engine introduced a year ago, after four years of research and development, has been further improved and refined. Since the introduction of the six a year ago, test cars have run up more than a million miles of driving at the General Motors Proving Ground in the working out and the perfecting of the improved six cylinder motor found in "the greatest Chevrolet."

The result of the efforts of this engineering talent is a smoother, quieter, more powerful motor. The new engine, fully enclosed, with a high compression non-detonating head, develops 50 horsepower.

The brake horsepower has been increased over the entire speed range. At 1,000 revolutions per minute 24.5 horsepower is developed and the maximum of 50 horsepower is attained at 2,600 revolutions per minute. This increase in power insures a marked improvement in acceleration and hill climbing ability. At normal driving speed the new engine develops many times the power required to drive the car. Specifically the rear axle has been redesigned with the differential and its oiling system redesigned to insure long life and quieter operation.

Smoother operation of the engine and longer life are assured through the use of light weight pistons. Steel-backed crankshaft bearings have been adopted because they are more durable.

The oil pump has been increased in capacity and improved in efficiency, while the carburetor has been improved in respect to both its accelerating pump and jet size. The accelerating pump has been increased in length and reduced in diameter. This improvement also helps the acceleration performance by increasing the duration of the spray.

The same sturdy 48 pound crankshaft which proved so satisfactory during 1929 has been retained in the new car and a further contribution to smoother engine operation, improved distribution and increased economy has been made by the new intake and exhaust manifolds of the heated T design.

The air cleaner has been improved by reversing the position of the intake slots and providing for a less restricted flow of air. With the intake slots located at a greater distance from the exhaust manifold, the air entering the carburetor is much cooler and a greater amount of air can be handled in the same space because of its greater density. These combined refinements result in better engine performance by insuring delivery of clean, cool air to the carburetor in larger quantities.

The clutch on the new car has been improved by the adoption of an integral disc, made in one piece of high carbon steel. This will give the 1930 cars smoother and easier clutch action, with quieter operation and longer service.

Easier riding and greater quietness are accomplished through a new type of self-adjusting spring shackles and bushings in the front suspension and brackets are eliminated thus doing away with wear. Hardened and ground tubular pins with tapered ends, are pressed into the springs and brackets while oil forced into them forms a large reservoir, making frequent lubrication unnecessary.

Another improvement, bringing about easier riding, is found in the DeLco-Lovely hydraulic shock absorbers. In the form of a rigid link rod instead of a strap connecting the operating arms with the chassis and insuring positive transmission of all rebound movements.

A new type of gasoline gauge of unusual accuracy is found on the new Chevrolet. A double float in the tank insures correct reading of this gauge regardless of the position of the car.

The position of the steering wheel in relation to the seat has been changed, making the driver's position much more comfortable. The horn button in the center of the wheel has been made more accessible and easier to operate by increasing the height of the crown and improving the design of the rubber bellows.

Appearance and riding qualities of the car have been improved through a change in the tire size from a 4.50-20 to 4.75-19. The rim diameter has been reduced one inch.

Disc wheels are provided as standard equipment on all models except the sport roadster and a sport coupe. The wire wheels on these models are equipped with drop center rims and are demountable at the hub. The large wire wheel hubs are chromium plated and of beautiful and distinctive design. The neat Chevrolet emblem at the center with raised polished border, and black center is surrounded by a humbered background. This is surrounded by a polished ring within a black ring.

Any possibility of the hood rattling has been eliminated through the addition of a rubber bumper mounted on the upturned flange of the fender skirt, against which the hood bears.

The instrument panel design and arrangement this year is entirely new. The instruments are all mounted on a single carrier plate which is assembled from the rear. This permits the removal of individual instruments for service. Spark and throttle controls as well as choke are located on the instrument panel, which is indirectly lighted.

The sport roadster and sport coupe are equipped with wire wheels. Both have rumble seats, that in the sport roadster being of the flush type. Spare wheel and carrier are mounted on the back. The sport roadster is finished in smart black Duco with Ayres gray moulding. Body striping and wire wheels are Shamal orange, while the seats are gray with plain black and tufted seat cushion. Top material is brown and white whipcord on the inside and gray teal on the outside. The back curtain is separable to permit better ventilation. The sport coupe is finished in Stanford brown with Beaver brown roof and rear quarter. Mouldings are of Beaver brown while the body striping and wire wheels are Shamal orange. The interior is trimmed in a beautifully harmonizing mohair.

The club sedan is finished in Liama gray Duco with black rear quarter. Mouldings are black with Eos red striping. Wheels are Liama gray striped with Eos red. The mohair harmonizes with the general ensemble.

In the phaeton and roadster the seats have been lowered an inch and a half and in the phaeton the rear seat has been tilted. Seat and back cushions have been made deeper, giving greater riding comfort. Trim material of the phaeton is gray while the seat cushion color of a high grade mohair.

Whatever you do, don't get into a rut. Following the lines of least resistance is a tendency everybody has to fight against. It is so easy to let things slide, to go on as we have been going. Thus the mental grooves of slothfulness in thought and action grow deeper and deeper, until suddenly we find ourselves out of the race, back numbers, discouraged, worn out, and defeated.

For Livestock and Poultry

Automatic waterers for livestock and poultry on the farm are important money-savers. Regardless of how good the feed or other conditions, if the water supply is inadequate or unsanitary, loss is sure to follow. We have waterers for all animals and chickens, and the water is kept pure and of the right temperature to aid health and growth.

Waterers and tank heaters are essential to the farm and we have in stock the very kinds you need. Come and see.

OK Manure Waterers

The OK Manure Waterer is constructed of an exceptional quality of material. Some of its features:

- 1.—Double front trough with double wall insulated to conserve heat.
- 2.—Lid on drinking trough which hogs easily raise. This lid also conserves heat.
- 3.—Drinking trough heavy cast iron.
- 4.—Extra large back reservoir in rear box to hold extra water. Very easy to clean.

DIAMOND 760 MOTOR OIL

EVERY industry—every group of competitive products has a leader... one outstanding product which assumes first place by sheer merit.

DIAMOND "SEVEN-SIXTY" is such a product among motor oils. It is in a class by itself... without real competition... ahead of the parade.

It is the first oil on the market to be 100% heat resisting. And evaporation loss is the big problem today in lubricants. The high speed, high compression motor has created a need for different and better oils.

DIAMOND "SEVEN-SIXTY" is a selected 100% paraffin base lubricant—tough, durable, smooth, pure and clear. All these are important features... every good oil must have them. But in addition, DIAMOND "SEVEN-SIXTY" is practically non-evaporating. It is tested to 760° F. and even at this terrific heat, evaporation loss is negligible.

DIAMOND "SEVEN-SIXTY" offers you a new degree of economy and safety... of motor performance... of safety... and economy.

Comparative Superiority.
York Republican: A writer in the Christian Science Monitor makes the astonishing claim that over half of the work of the world is done in the United States. He substantiates his claim with proofs which are conclusive. So well supplied is the American workingman with labor saving tools and machines he does with ease in the mental than what would take a number of men to do with bare hands and brute strength. It is the use of labor saving devices that has made the lot of the American workingman superior to that of any other laborer. His hours are shorter, his work is easier, his wages are more. He enjoys luxuries unknown to his European cousin. His conditions are in truth the basis of confidence in this country and his employers are as interested as he is in keeping his present state and advancing it if it is possible. When you are prompted to think that a lot of silly consideration is given to collecting pretty high tariff schedules and surrounding this nation with tall tariff walls, just remember that the thing affects the fortunes of the American workmen, and the fortunes of the workmen determine the country's peace and prosperity.

Pain Almost Unbearable

night and my nerves were worn to a frazzle. I was so constipated I could almost feel the poison accumulating in my system.
"My daughter got me to try Sargon, and now after three bottles and a bottle of pills I eat three good meals a day. The terrible pain is gone from my side, and constipation doesn't bother me at all. My daughter and I never miss a chance to praise the grand medicine." Mrs. Andrew Larsen, 2014 South Tenth St., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Nebraska Still Young.
Geneva Signal: Nebraska is so young a state that the first mayor of St. Paul, Z. M. Leftwich, is not only alive but in full of good health. For some years St. Paul, county seat for Howard county, remained a village, being too small to incorporate as a city. In 1886 it was incorporated and Mr. Leftwich was elected mayor. St. Paul had a bank about seven years before it became incorporated and last week the St. Paul State bank celebrated the golden anniversary of its establishment. 1,200 people calling on the anniversary day to offer congratulations upon the fine service it had given its community. One of those taking part in the celebration was former Mayor Leftwich. Friends had had a $20 gold piece manufactured into a badge on which is inscribed the fact that he was the first mayor of St. Paul and he proudly wore this badge while participating in the bank's celebration.

Intelligence and Education.
York Republican: Intelligence has been defined as something that enables one to get along in the world without education; and education is something that enables one to get along without intelligence. Both ideas are wrong, of course. We may be induced to admit that there is over-education and a great lack of native intelligence. But when intelligence is well directed, it results in education and when education is properly applied it accomplishes intelligence. No one is successful or happy, no matter how great his native talents, unless he is educated, and that education may be derived from study, contacts or observation.

About Nebraska and Nebraskans

Will M. Maupin.
Leo J. Ryan, one of the best known newspaper men in the middle west and for several years Lincoln representative of the Omaha World-Herald, has joined the staff of the Associated Press as feature story writer and will hereafter make his headquarters in Chicago. It will be remembered that Mr. Ryan was barred from the floor of the senate at the request of a thin-skinned senator who became incensed because Mr. Ryan insisted upon reporting facts.

The Beatrice Daily Sun recently celebrated its 50th anniversary, not as a daily newspaper, however. It was founded as a weekly, by George P. Marvin, who was for many years one of the leading democratic newspaper men of the west. The Sun is now published and edited by Earl Marvin, son of its founder. Beatrice, by the way, was founded 72 years ago this month.

Taken the state over Dec. 25, last, was the third warmest Christmas day in Nebraska since the beginning of keeping the records of temperature. Christmas days of 1889 and 1922 were a bit warmer.

Nebraska has boasted a number of women bank cashiers, and many more women assistant cashiers. The first woman cashier, however, to be found guilty of manipulating the bank funds by embezzlement was Mrs. Hogaboam of Stockville, recently sentenced to a short term in state prison.

A number of Nebraska counties are interested in a case now before the supreme court. The case originated in the district court of Adams county, and is one where-in W. W. Malmgren, publisher of the Hastings Democrat, sought to prevent county supervisors from drawing mileage for supervising road work. Judge James held that compensation was limited to the amounts definitely fixed by law as a maximum, and that compensation could not be taken from other funds, no matter how necessary the work might be. Judge James held that compensation, both mileage and per diem combined, could not legally exceed $850. Two county attorneys have held that supervisors may draw up to $950 per year for "office work" and mileage and per diem to any amount for road work. The supervisor whose claim was held invalid by Judge James appealed to the supreme court. The final decision will involve many thousands of dollars.

Recently some early settlers in Nebraska were relating their pioneer experiences, and naturally they talked about the hard times during the winter of 1890-91. Crops had failed during the summer, and there was widespread destitution. All was solicited for the western homesteaders, and the legislature appropriated $200,000 as a relief fund. One old settler told his story:

"I heard that a carload of relief was going to be received at Kimball on a certain day in January, so I hitched up my team and drove in a wagon 75 miles to Kimball to get some of it. When I got there I learned that I was just one week ahead of time, and it made me so mad I sat into a poker game and lost $185 while waiting for the car."

Stories of Judge William Gaslin will continue to go the rounds for generations to come. Old-timers will marvel that Judge Gaslin's marital troubles resulted in souring his disposition towards all women. It was easy for a man to secure a divorce in Judge Gaslin's court but the woman was always subjected to a cross-fire of questions. Probably the quickest divorce on record occurred at Ogallala in the middle '80's. Judge Gaslin was due to hold court there and arrived on a Union Pacific freight in the midst of a snowstorm. He walked up to the office of the district court and found that the storm had prevented litigants from appearing. But the clerk called his attention to a man standing near and informed him that he was an applicant for divorce.

"Papers all in order?" asked the judge.
He was informed that they were.
"Summons all been properly served and returned?"
He was answered in the affirmative.

"What's the grounds for suit?"
"Infidelity," replied the clerk.
"Divorce granted," snapped Judge Gaslin, as he signed the entry. "Court's adjourned."
And hurrying down to the station he caught the train he had arrived on and hastened to Sidney. The whole court proceedings lasted less than three minutes.

Frank Connell, "fifer" in the Nebraska state prison, who won the $200 prize in the recent Diamond Jubilee contest, has had his sentence commuted to 25 years. He has already served 12 years, and this with good time allowance will permit his discharge in 1934.

He was accused of murder while trying to escape after robbing a bank.
A United States senator must be a resident of the state from which he was elected, but a congressman need not be a resident of the district he represents, although he must be a resident of the state. Charles Hercules Van Wyck, who represented Nebraska in the senate from 1881 to 1887, was elected to congress from New York district while he was in command of a New York regiment during the Civil War, although he resided in another district. Most of his regiment were citizens of the district that elected him.
