THE KNOT-HOLE No. 34 Wayne, Neb., Thursday, February 13, 1936 Vol. 4 Hawaii had 58 quakes in one day. So that's what it keeps those girls moving like that! Any business, big or little, local or foreign, that depends for existence on an appeal to prejudice, is ultimately going to lose. Business is founded on firmer stuff. The first shipment of 4 Square lumber arrived last week. More to follow. John Horstman is the latest convert to the modern way of hog raising. He is now using one of our six-pen farrowing houses. This will cut his pig losses to a minimum. Now we ought to have a twentieth amendment. Congress ought to pass a law to keep United States senators' mouths shut so that the important business of the country could be transacted. We're paying our respects this week to Abraham Lincoln. Of course you can wrap yourself in a blanket and keep warm, but most people prefer to burn Hot Lump coal. Here's some good exercise - if you like that kind. Rainbow coal does away with it almost altogether. A lot of mighty important questions are being solved these days around our office. Carhart Lumber Co. Wayne, Neb. Beautiful Styles Flat Crepes Prints      Unheard of Values Georgettes Lace

Truly, this spring's creations are exquisite—how the designer and the manufacturer have been able to produce such artistry in these inexpensive dresses is still a mystery. Early it was predicted that price ranges of dresses would be raised but in spite of more material and notwithstanding the increase in making, we still are able to offer clever versions of the new modes at these surprisingly low price ranges.

Modified Styles Developed for Larger Sizes
Longer skirts—more fullness—swathed hip lines adapt well to large models.

Already we are in receipt of a number of large sized dresses in plain flat crepes and in printed crepes. After modeling them it is our opinion that the problem of securing suitable styles in the large sizes will not be so difficult as in past seasons. More opportunities to vary the lines in larger sizes will be possible.

THE WAYNE HERALD

The Oldest Established Paper in Wayne County.

Published Every Thursday.
Entered at the postoffice at Wayne, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter in 1886 under the act of March 3, 1879. Known office of publication, Wayne, Nebraska.

Prospects promise considerable building activity in Wayne and vicinity this year. And the assurance that Main Street is to reap a share is encouraging.

Chicago authorities have started a determined attack on gangsters, proposing to drive them out of the city which movement will serve as notice to the surrounding county to lock doors and strengthen means of defense.

The Herald regrets that the time limit does not enable it to add extra pages to accommodate an increased volume of news and advertising, both of which are necessarily curtailed. It should be understood that omissions are unavoidable, and in the future will be prevented if the demand may be anticipated in time to make die expansion.

The Lincoln Journal calls attention to progress being made in congress to readjust the tariff in the interest of closer parity between farm prices and manufacturing values, and advises farm organization heads who want to quit and start over, to keep their shirts on and give the present measure a chance to develop thus awaiting final results which may be satisfactory.

In opposing the confirmation of Charles E. Hughes as chief justice of the United States supreme court, Senator Norris' action corresponds with his record as an opposing force. No matter how high Hughes stands as a jurist and judge, or how unimpeachable may be his record in public service, Norris could not support him and avoid his usual conflict with the administration.

The late John S. Lewis had the distinction of having been in business here continuously longer than any other person. He started in the early eighties and remained at his post until his fatal illness. He was well informed and a lively thinker, and even people who did not agree with his analysis and conclusions, liked to talk to him. He was a good neighbor and a sympathetic friend.

A Princeton professor's wife has alleged high-browism as ground for divorce in the easy divorce mill at Reno, Nev. It is explained that while she once wrote a prize-winning book, she

DAIRY PRODUCTS.
It is found on careful investigation that the surplus of dairy products, causing a slump in prices, is not due to over-production, but to decreased consumption. It is found that at least 47,000,000 pounds more imitation butter were used in 1929 than during 1928. By a recent survey of ten Iowa counties by the department of agriculture of that state, it was learned that the percentage of consumption ran 56 per cent for butter and 44 per cent for imitations. The counties selected have no large cities and are included in a high producing dairy section. It was found that the farmers were the largest users of imitations, and that when they saved $1 in buying substitutes they lost $2 in lowered prices for dairy products. Most people understand the superior food value in milk, cream and butter which fact should have determining influence in habits of consumption. Authorities point out that dairy products contain an abundance of two important vitamins—A and D. It seems that A has a big field of operation, promoting growth, building resistance and defending the eyes against infection. Vitamin D does not flourish around quite so extensively, but it has no less responsible office in specializing in the development of bones and teeth. And it seems the way to increase these two vitamin armies as health promoters and defenders is to surround more dairy products every day.

CONDITIONS.
An authority from the United States treasury department called attention in a recent review to the development of industry and business throughout the world since the war, pointing out that the country has made the greatest progress. All countries, excepting Russia and China, have experienced big increases in foreign trade, but the United States has surpassed all of them. Not only has our foreign trade mounted, but America has proved the world's greatest buyer and consumer. In commenting, the Christian Science Monitor suggests that there can be no enduring prosperity that is not shared by the world as a whole and that conditions generally inspire confidence in the future. After quoting statistics, that newspaper concludes: "These figures lead to the main statistical survey of the imports of manufacturing goods would show the largeness of American consumption. It is because economic conditions, the wage scale and living standards in the United States are such as to encourage this high consumption of domestic as well as of foreign products that business in America has weathered two periods of depression in the last ten years, and is now emerging from the recession due to the stock market collapse with assured confidence in a prosperous tomorrow."

is no match for her husband who talks over her head at meal times and at every opportunity between meals in a most obnoxious and intolerable manner. The unusual ground advanced makes it news worth mentioning. Most of us are safe.

A story of Lincoln's life written shortly after his assassination, says the father of the martyred president, according to leave Kentucky, sold his farm there for ten barrels of whiskey and $20 in money. The liquor was worth $280 at that time. It would be worth more now. But the senior Lincoln was out of luck with the liquid receipts from his farm. All but three barrels of the whiskey, with other things, slipped off a flat-boat into the Ohio river and were lost.

Here is a Brooder that stands fairly and squarely on its own merits. It's the—

Simplex Brooder Stove

We will let it tell its own story and prove to you that 90 per cent of your brooder troubles are at an end when you install a Simplex. The Simplex was designed by a practical poultryman, and for the past fifteen years has been used by some of the largest poultry raisers everywhere. The surest, quickest, fairest and the most emphatic way to prove all these points of Simplex superiority, is to put one of these stoves in your own brooder house, on a free trial basis. The merits of the Simplex are so pronounced so far superior, that a thirty days' free trial will more than convince even the most skeptical poultry raiser, that the Simplex is the one stove that will solve your brooder trouble.

We stand ready and willing to back up every claim we make for the Simplex, by actual performance of the heater itself. If you are interested in chick raising, you should have our catalog and book, which gives you facts on raising chicks by the Simplex method.

SIMPLEX BROODER STOVES
Are Made In Three Fractional Sizes:

Baby Simplex for.....	250 Chicks
Junior Simplex for.....	500 Chicks
Senior Simplex for.....	1,500 Chicks

We install and test all Simplex Brooders we sell and give you 30 days Free Trial and Free Service at any time.

Remember when buying a brooder that Service is sometimes worth as much as the stove. So don't forget that when purchasing a brooder stove. We have brooded hundreds of thousands of chicks and We Can Help You.

Telephone Adventures of the Bright Family

"Of Course, You Can't Find It," Said Mom. "You're Using the Old Directory."

"I've looked high and low all through this directory and old Sherlock Holmes himself and his whole gang couldn't find Jim's telephone number in it," Pop said, Mom saying, "Well, of course, you can't find it; you're using the old directory."

"Well," Pop said, "where's the new one? And what's this old one doing here?" And Mom said, "You'll find the new one right in the drawer there." She wasn't home when the new one was delivered, so they couldn't pick up the old one.

Pop found it and saying something about using out-of-date directories wasn't fair to good dispositions, he took the old directory downstairs and threw it in the furnace, meaning it's best to get rid of old directories and always use the new one.

HOW FORD METHODS CUT COST OF DISTRIBUTION

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacture.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

THE business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.
