Invited To Enter Spelling Contest

Two town schools in Wayne county have already entered the spelling contest which entitles the winner to enter the state contest being directed by the Omaha World Herald the middle of April. Any pupil up to and including the eighth grade of town and rural schools may participate. A rural teacher may hold a school contest and enter the winner if she wishes. Names of those who wish to enroll in the Wayne county contest should be sent to Miss Pearl E. Sewell. The Nebraska champion speller will be sent at the expense of the World Herald to the national bee. The student will have opportunity to earn honors as well as a first prize of $1,000. Other prizes are also offered, the total being $2,500. An Omaha girl was the national champion last year. Each speller in the national bee wins a cash award. The state contest to be held in Omaha is open to county champions. The World Herald offers medals and cash prizes also. Silver Wedding Is Observed Here Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Johnson entertained Saturday in honor of their twenty-first wedding anniversary the following: Mrs. C. W. Johnson and sons, Glen and Buford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Larford, and daughters, Evelyn, Dorothy, Irene and Lillian, and Miss Crystal Dragon. The time was spent in visiting and luncheon was served. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were pleasantly surprised when relatives came to their home to remember their anniversary of the previous day. They also honored Mr. and Mrs. Jake Johnson, their sixteenth wedding anniversary being the following day. After a pleasant time at visiting, two-course luncheon was served at 5 o'clock from well-filled baskets. The Sunday guests were the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Young and daughter, Lucille, of Rosalie, Louis Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Stromberg, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Anderson and children, Helen, Nina and Robert, of Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Johnson and daughter, Eleanor Mae, and Arthur Carlson of Wayne.

Work Progresses In Testing Group

Production Is Being Checked for the Cows in Three-County Association. The Cuming, Wayne, Dixon, Counties Cow-Testing association has completed three months' testing, the work being carried on with Arthur E. Anderson in charge. The association is composed of herds in the three counties, and at the present time there are 237 cows on test. During the month of February seventeen of these cows produced between 40 and 50 pounds of butter fat. Four produced over 50 pounds and two over 60 pounds. The high cow for the association for this month is owned by McGuire & Reese of Wisner. She is a grade Guernsey, being milked twice daily, and she produced 1,621 pounds of milk which contained 68.1 pounds of butter fat. The high herd in the five to fifteen cow group for the month of February is owned by Lyle Gamble who is milking ten cows and produced an average of 660 pounds of milk, with 29.6 pounds of butter fat. The high herd in the group milking sixteen cows is owned by William L. Von Seggern of Wayne, who is milking nineteen cows, which average 1,015 pounds of milk, containing 58.2 pounds of fat. Nine cows in the association were found to be unprofitable and did not produce enough butter fat to pay for the feed consumed. They were sold on the market. Two new members have been added to the association during the month, Gell Sheldon, Laurel, and Ed Rennick, Pilger. Mr. Anderson spends one day of each month with each of his association members and he makes a complete test of all cows being milked. He leaves a record with each of the herd owners which enables the owner to tell which of his cows are making any money and which are losing money. To date there are twentythree herds in the association. Three more herds could be added to the group and no doubt the association will be filled within a few months. Fourteen Cars Of Stock Shipped Stock shipments for the past week were as follows: G. W. Albert and John H. Lewis, each one car of hogs to Sioux City; John Goewe, Adam Reeg, Bernhard A. Meyers, W. C. Shulteis and Adolph Korn, each one car of hogs to Sioux City; C. Forney, one car of cattle to South Omaha; Gust Kramer, one car of cattle to Sioux City; Henry Meyer, Jr., one car of cattle and hogs to Sioux City; Frank Woolter, three cars of cattle to Chicago. A. C. Sydow had a car of cattle shipped in.

Operetta Given By Pupils Here

District Debate Contest Will Be Held in Wayne Soon-Other School News. "The House That Jack Built," an operetta in two parts, was presented by pupils of the Wayne State Teachers College high school Tuesday evening at the school auditorium. About 200 children took part and depicted Mother Goose characters. Attractive songs and dances and clever costuming were enjoyed by a large audience. Miss Gladys Suller directed the operetta. Miss Esther Dewitz had charge of dances. Prof. W. C. Hunter directed the orchestra, and Miss Ethel Waid was accompanist. The college high will present a comedy, "The Intimate Stranger," commencement week. Dorothea Britell, William Steele, Florence Jeffrey, Dorothy Gulliver, Evelyn Meyers, Frederick Martischang and LeRoy Stamm take part. District debate contest for high schools will be held here March 28 with Wayne, Hartington, Bloomfield, Newcastle, Ponca and Pender taking part. Arthur C. Pillsbury, naturalist and photographer, who gave a lecture on plant and animal life growth here recently, had the misfortune to lose part of a reel of his motion pictures by fire when giving a lecture in western Illinois. Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity, will present the play, "The Call of the Bashee," March 24. Nyeulah Whitmore and Harry Ellis Fisher are directing the production, and Aulda Surber has charge of staging. The college track team is beginning practice for the spring season. The local men held championship in the state conference last year.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 38 Wayne, Neb., Thursday, March 13, 1930. Vol. 4 Some folks think they're thinking when all they're doing is rearranging their prejudices. Here's Curt Foster and Charley Jeffrey building a new brooder house on Charley's farm. Curt seems to be doing most of the work up on top white Charley sits on the horse. We may show one next week of Curt and Bob Staubaugh. If you're not equipped to raise poultry, you can't do a wiser thing than to build a brooder house. Get into the business more extensively. Call and see us about the equipment. Glass cloth comes in rolls. You can cut it to any window or door. A hammer and a few nails are all the tools necessary to put it on. Just the thing for brooder houses. A Wayne hunter was telling of his experiences on a night recently. "On one trip," he said, "I shot a raccoon in a jam. My wife said 'Mercy,' said his wife - 'how did it get there?' It was reported in Norfolk recently that a drink took his head and went around looking up a collection for the Dead Sea. Two worthy and reliable old settlers gave conflicting early dates, each being positive and emphatic and offering convincing proof, but both happened to be mistaken.

The Literary Digest announces the result of treating an ameba, lowest form of life, to quantity of fiery liquor. It seems that an ameba gets drunk and staggers under the influence of strong spirits the same as higher orders of creation. The report states that the ameba could not act worse if it had a nervous system as an aid and abettor.

The state legislature in extra session has made little headway so far in determining the future of the bank guaranty law. A bill to repeal the law unconditionally was defeated in the senate Tuesday. Members will do well to think hard and act promptly if they expect to finish and get home in time for spring work. The fields are beginning to call.

The death of William Howard Taft, former president and later chief justice of the United States supreme court, marks the close of a career of remarkable public service. Mr. Taft possessed an extraordinary mind, and he employed it to advantage in discharging duties incumbent on him in places of highest public trust. Thus ends the life of one of America's greatest and most useful citizens.

A week ago was so called "Red Thursday" when communists took possession as far as possible, carrying out threatening demonstrations and more than ever convincing a sober and orderly populace that the Russian experiment in government is undesirable. According to reliable reports, people's lives and earnings are unsafe in Russia, industry and frugality are unrewarded, and reli-

EASY MARKS.

Squinting back over the past we are inclined to conclude that our greatest success lies in being an easy mark, our greatest achievement in being able to survive after the attacks of agents and peddlars and vendors of new ideas, nine-tenths of which are not worth thinking, much less worth buying. We have fallen so easily in the last fifty years for so many puerile (childish) creations—mostly valueless—serving otherwise idlers to make the grade that we think we deserve at least favorable mention for being able to surmount a thickly set series of hookings and pluckings and at the same time to escape, though narrowly, the bonnyard of dismal wrecks and blighted hopes. Out of much rough quartz comes but rarely a nugget of pure gold. From aids to enlightenment or to convenience and speed, offered by peripatetic sons of men, often believing the world owes them a living without return, comes an occasional prop or facility that is valuable. Most things bought as lending knowledge or help are laid aside or find their way into the attic, soon festooned with dust and cobwebs. An individual who looks on regular employment as oppressive and disagreeable, feels that he has an idea that may be turned into cash, supporting an ambition for idleness. He springs it on the world, and he usually does not realize his dream of popularity and affluence. The one of exceptional genius who contributes something of genuine worth, encourages the many whose experiments fail. As people advance in age and experience, they learn to differentiate between the worthless and the worth while. Though we have not yet arrived, we hope sometime to grow into that sublime and comfortable state of judgment—a plane where people are sufficiently seasoned to be free from the powerfully suggestive title, "Easy Mark."

gion and social regularity are openly scoffed. It would seem that the soviet government brutally violates such ordinary human rights as are necessary for equal justice and healthy progress. We know of nothing in the communist plan that is worthy of acceptance, and it is inconceivable that its wild and destructive devotees could make headway in this country.

The first two days of March were so rough that we had perhaps prolonged confinement with cold and snow, but since then the weather has been mild enough for comfort without being hot enough to bring out buds to be slaughtered by an April freeze. Though people will be surprised by such an early spring that no further cold weather comes along to interfere, they will welcome it as a source of great advantage and satisfaction.

The national administration expresses confidence in a great change for the better in labor conditions during the next month. Reasons which cause idleness, are being removed. Stability in the eastern stock market and building movements everywhere are stimulating. Settlement of the tariff would help. With people more generally employed, the demand for farm products will increase. Manufacturing centers have been hurt as were farming districts a few years ago, and they are so interdependent that injury of one disturbs the other.

The passing of Dr. W. C. Wightman revives memory of his experience as a practicing physician in the early days of Wayne county. He started with other pioneers the hardships of a new country, and many people remember him kindly and appreciatively as their family physician. In the early days when travel often took one over unbroken prairies or through mere trails, the physician answered calls to the sick in remote quarters, made to seem farther by poor roads and slow means of conveyance. Dr. Wightman saw the county of his choice develop through the years—the frontier pushed back, improvements followed quick succession, civilization firmly rooted. While he lived in Cass county, his heart was still in Wayne county, showing constancy of faith in this section by maintaining large land holdings here. His early professional experience and his long-time association knitted his interest to Wayne county inseparably.

The Pathfinder, a publication which devotes itself to a digest of world affairs, is not to be outdone in sounding public feeling, and so it recently tackled the length of women's skirts. Of nearly 66,500 men and women voting, a majority expressed favor for a skirt reaching just below the knee. Not far behind in numbers were those who said they would like to have the skirt swing on a level with the knee—whether above or below the knee was not reported. Not state, though the area is considerable enough to warrant more definiteness. While preference for skirts below the knee prevailed, pronounced opposition was expressed against return of long skirts. Horror of even again reaching the ankle was manifested. It is a little disturbing on first thought to find that most voters supporting the extremely short skirt were men over 50 years old, though in extension it may be suggested that they are averse to changes. The thing that is or that they get used to suits them. Elderly fellows opposed short hair among girls when the fashion started, but now that they have become accustomed to it, they prefer it to long hair. There would be few changes in fashion if they were consulted and their opinions were followed.

Economic Neuraesthesia.

Saturday Evening Post: Reading through a patent-medicine booklet, Jerome K. Jerome was worried to learn that he had well-defined symptoms of all the diseases listed, with the possible exception of housemaid's knee. A wealthy man hearing middle age came into the office of a famous physician. "I want the most thorough physical examination that you know how to give me," he announced. "I do not care how long it takes or how much it costs, but I want to know everything about myself, and if there are any diseases which you think I might have in the future, then we can take the proper steps."

Mr. Price worked his way through college and was superintendent of the Tilden, Neligh, Ainsworth and Newman Grove schools. He bought the Newman Grove paper in 1918. CRITICAL STAGE. Trial of prohibition has reached a critical stage. Congress is being urged to modify operation of the eighteenth amendment. Many are active in upholding prohibition as it stands today. The house judiciary committee has been examining representatives of women's national organizations to ascertain sentiment in regard to the effectiveness of the law. Dr. Jennie M. Callias of Omaha, wired the house committee that she was unable to attend the hearing, but that she was confident liquor consumption in Nebraska has been greatly reduced, that ninety per cent of the students in Technical high school in Omaha "do not even think about drinking and their drunk men, frequently appearing on city streets in the old days, are now seldom seen. She expressed the belief that the Volstead law is better enforced than other laws. To establish clearer understanding as to the popularity of prohibition and its enforcement, the Literary Digest is now taking a poll of 20,000,000 voters, asking an expression on three questions—continuance of prohibition in its present form, modification to permit light wines and beers, or repeal of the amendment. The Digest's reputation for accuracy in determining the American pulse on public questions enlivens interest in returns which will soon begin to make an appearance.

fect state, and neither have we perfect business. That ought not to bother us for if we were perfect, then we should have nothing left to do but to decline from perfection. It will, indeed, be a sad day when every prospect, please and not every man is wise. A keen stirring dissatisfaction with business is healthy and normal. We should get where at all without it. But going under the microscope for the sole purpose of finding defects to weep over is another matter. That is economic neuraesthesia.

Business.

Sioux City Journal: President Hoover's statement that the low level has been reached in the business situation and that an improvement is assured is in line with the reasoning of industrial leaders and economists. The forecast for weeks has been that greater activity would be seen when the spring season opened. There has been nothing to indicate that this prediction should be revised.

Back of all this are definite economic conditions that are well understood by the country at large. Mr. Hoover took a prompt and active part in the plan to stimulate business activity in an effort to restore public confidence and invite a continuance of the prosperity enjoyed throughout last year. It was, perhaps, the noblest, most effective gesture that has come from the White House since the administration began. For it concerned every element of the national life and it was, first and last, a direct contribution of service from the chief executive to the people.

Now, Mr. Hoover is just as sanguine as ever as to the future. He has lost none of the confidence that inspired him to take the step he took following the stock market crashes in New York. He believes the plan formulated at the time to stimulate expansion in public works on the part of the federal government, the states, the railroads, public utilities and the industries. This program involved the expenditure of some billions of dollars. It is soon to get under way. The spring season ought to bring the kind of relief the whole country desires.

Business generally is not satisfactory. There are many reasons for this situation. Buying power is not what it was six months ago. Merchandise is not moving rapidly enough for anyone to claim that the times are good. There has been a letdown everywhere. In few lines is there activity comparable to that of a year ago. The stock market crashes, the delay in tariff legislation, the difficulty attending effort to bring farm relief, a decline in building and extreme weather in December and January have all contributed to the situation. But now there is more promise, and the prospect of unemployment diminishing as spring advances is encouraging.

Those from Wayne who attended last rites for Mr. Baker were the following: W. A. Keely, W. H. Neely, Eph Beckenhauer, Ames Beckenhauer, John Vennerberg, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hale.

State Normal Board In Session Monday

The state normal board, at its regular meeting in Lincoln Monday, considered a proposal to build a dormitory similar to the one recently finished in Wayne at the college. No decision was made and the proposition was left for further discussion at the next meeting.

Pres. U. S. Conn recommended to the board that the cottage on the campus, formerly the engineer's home, be moved to one side of the school grounds and be improved so as to make a segregation hospital for students who contract contagious diseases.

Pres. Conn and F. S. Berry were in attendance at the board meeting from Wayne.

understanding that they might reclaim him in 12 months. But through some misunderstanding authorities sent the boy west for adoption, with 19 others.

Authorities of the institution refused to tell the Van Vlieths who had adopted their son, on the ground that giving such information would violate rules of the institution. So the young couple finally gave up hope of ever seeing the boy again.

Cecil grew up in a farm home with eight foster brothers and sisters. After attending school he learned the barber's trade on money he had saved and bought part interest in a shop. Last Thanksgiving, Mrs. Wortman, out of sympathy, wrote to the orphanage and asked the address of the real parents.

Interchange of letters followed. In the next two or three weeks a meeting probably will be held. If the Van Vlieths do not drive out here to see him, Cecil expects to go east to them.

Garage Is Burned When Filling Gas

Homer, Neb. The garage of Irwin Bliven, who resides between Homer and Dakota City, was burned and his car damaged when he and Glen Dunlap, an Omaha-Sioux City bus driver, attempted to obtain gas for the bus, stalled near the Bliven farm.

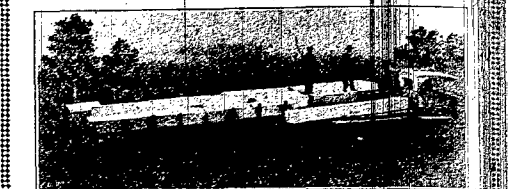

As they attempted to fill a tank for the bus, their light lantern ignited the gasoline and caused an explosion which resulted in the burned garage and serious damage to the Bliven car.

Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 10-day demonstration of the new Frigidaire HYDRATOR

Use of the recently introduced Frigidaire Hydrator to preserve the crisp freshness of leafy vegetables and similar foods for long periods of time has proved such a popular subject with housewives everywhere, that H. W. Kugler, local dealer has arranged a special 10-day demonstration at the local show room, 311 Main street, beginning Thursday, March 13 and ending March 22.

Since the announcement of the new hydrator, we have received scores of visitors who wanted this new development in the field of household refrigeration explained. The Thrifty business woman recognizes the saving effected by the proper preparation and care of foods.

Information that the hydrator is an important aid in the preparation of tasty, fresh salads of all kinds has aroused such general interest that this special demonstration has been decided upon.

The demonstration will be held daily from eight o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night.

The Frigidaire salad book, containing many methods for the preparation of a wide variety of dishes will be distributed during this period. This book is a companion piece to the Frigidaire frozen desserts booklet, more than half a million of which were requested by housewives during the first few months after the announcement of the cold control last year. Will you be our guest?

Cream Marketing Systems Questions to be considered, and our answers.

- 1. What Is Cream Worth?

Cream prices should be controlled by the butter market, plus volume received, which we are trying to do, and with cooperation from the producers it is possible.
- 2. Why Is Cream Higher in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota Than It Is in Nebraska?

It is nearly all churned by local creameries and thus saves the producers the buying cost and transportation of the cream.
- 3. Do Cream Producers in Nebraska, and Particularly in Wayne Want A Better Local Market?

We would answer "Yes."
- 4. Can A Local Creamery Help To Improve Conditions?

To determine an answer one must look to other than local conditions. What has been done in other states and localities ought to help here.

We have established here a modern, sanitary butter and ice cream factory for manufacturing cream produced in this locality. We ask that you consider us when selling your cream, since conditions in other localities have been aided through local creameries in the marketing of cream. Why not give us a trial in this locality?

Compare our prices with prices in other localities.

On midsummer day, 1916, a very beautiful morning in June, after a stormy and rainy night, Arthur was born in the parsonage of the Stockholm Lutheran church at Shickley, Neb. The day itself was exceedingly bright and cheerful, but the coming of Arthur made it all the brighter for every one concerned. A little later he was "born again," "born of the water and of the Spirit," as a child of God, and made a part of the communion of saints through holy baptism, and his name was then fixed as Arthur Luther Christopher. The first name was given in honor of his uncle Arthur, the second in honor of the great church reformer, and the last in honor of his father. Arthur grew fast and developed quickly and tried to keep up with his fourteen months' older brother, and people who did not know the boys very well, deemed the two twins. In September, 1919, Arthur together with the rest of the family moved away from Nebraska, first to North Dakota and later to Minnesota. Eight years later Arthur, together with the family circle, returned to his native state and arrived in Concord from Roseau, Minn., on the 11th of June, 1927. Arthur was of sunny disposition and he seemed to be able to extract more joy out of living than any one else. He was so full of enthusiasm, "Mama, I never had such a happy Christmas before. I wish Christmas would come again," he said of his last Christmas on earth. Arthur was always willing to serve, "Mama, I will do it" or "Papa, I can do it; let me do it" were expressions often heard from his lips. He was gifted with a keen sense of humor, and this together with his sunny and sympathetic nature endeared him to those who knew him best. Richly endowed with native gifts, we had the hope that he would some day be of great service. We prayed to the very last that Arthur might be spared as a laborer in the kingdom of God; but God thought otherwise. Evidently Arthur's day was considered full and complete. And really, he gave so much to us all during his short stay, that his day may well be considered complete. He has made our life richer and more beautiful. The memory of our beloved Arthur will be a source of rich comfort in days to come. May God bless his life's mission. Arthur had not been in good health for a long time past, but his serious illness started Sunday evening, February 23. Doctor and nurse, members of the family and friends fought an uneven battle for Arthur's life. Monday noon, March 3, 1936, Arthur departed from this life. He had reached the age of 13 years, 8 months and 8 days. "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be the name of the Lord."

WHAT A DIFFERENCE 90 DAYS MAKE!

TODAY A TODDLING CHICK... in 90 days a proud pullet about to lay. There's something to think about! Tiny bones and little muscles have grown several times in size... a delicate fuzz has sprouted into hundreds of feathers... a chick weighing grams has grown into a pullet weighing pounds... all in 90 short days! A wonderful change... and only one thing can do it... good feed! This year consider Purina Startena Chow (mash) and Purina Chick Chow (scratch) or All-Mash Startena Chow for the first six weeks... and then Purina Growena and Purina Intermediate Hen Chow until your pullets are laying at 16 weeks. Put these Chows before your chicks. You will see pullets that are built right... pullets that will lay eggs aplenty in fall and winter when eggs are always worth good money.

Man Can't Sleep Gets Nervous, Hates People

"I could not sleep and got so nervous I hated everybody. Since taking Vinol, I can sleep 10 hours and feel full of pep every day."—Julius Bander.

For 30 years doctors have prescribed Vinol because it contains important mineral elements of iron, calcium and cod liver peptone. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Nervous, worried people are surprised how QUICK Vinol gives new life and pep. Tastes delicious. In Wakefield, Long's Drug Store.

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase of an automobile

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

THE low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

ONE HUNDRED PER ACRE IS COMMON NEBRASKA YIELD THE club limited to men who raise 100 bushels of corn per acre in Nebraska is not as exclusive as it used to be. In 1929 seven members of the club went over the top with yields of 100 bushels and more. The twelve men who since 1924 have achieved 100 bushel corn now compose the club and will welcome new additions who pass the rigid qualification for membership which is to raise on Nebraska ground corn that will reach a yield of a hundred bushels to the acre. The corn growing contests on ten-acre tracts are sponsored by the Nebraska college of agriculture and began in 1924. The highest yield for the entire period over which the contests have been held was made last year when George Elker of Keith county produced 108.7 bushels to the acre. His farm is located at an altitude of 3,500 above sea level. Mr. Elker used pump irrigation. He pursued the usual method of planting but placed his hills 30 inches apart instead of the usual 40 and 42 inches. The corn was raised in ground planted the preceding year to alfalfa. Careful and clean cultivation was given. Of the other six men who got a yield of 100 bushels or more, in 1929, four of them were from eastern Nebraska and two were on irrigated land. Eugene Day of Cass county was high in the eastern section with a yield of 107.4 bushels. Chris Hinz of Washington county was second with 106.6 bushels. Lee Farris, Cass county, was third with 104.7 bushels. Charles Lazure, Washington county, was fourth with 100.8 bushels. On irrigated land, Frank Wasson of Red Willow county was second with 105.7 bushels and S. A. Wadley of Buffalo county was third with a yield of 102.5 bushels. These men have proved that Nebraska soil is capable of producing exceptional yields of corn when good seed is planted in well prepared soil and the crop carefully cultivated and tended. guests in the John Ahern home at Wayne. National Group Of Women Active Federation Has Promoted Educational and Vocational Work For Ten Years.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's club, observing its annual public relations week March 9 to 16, is the largest such organization in the world. It includes 66,000 members in forty-six states and in the Hawaiian islands, and Juneau, Alaska. The organization, which was formed at St. Louis, Mo., in 1919, has in the past ten years raised and spent $750,000 for worthy purposes, all of the sum coming from earnings of business women.

The two most important phases of the organization's work are educational and vocational. Scholarship loan funds have been established in all parts of the United States and thousands of girls are provided opportunity to complete schooling through these. Vocational guidance work on a national scale is being inaugurated. A business survey has been made by the association, the valuable information being put in the hands of members so they may be able to study steps to greater progress.

The association publishes its own magazine, The Independent Woman, which carries articles from leading writers. Various phases of the business woman's problems are considered in this.

The federation was the first organization to send a good-will tour to Europe with a view to establishing friendly relations with women of other lands. To further encourage world peace the federation is planning an international conference of professional and business women at Geneva, Switzerland, in August of 1930. An international federation of business and professional women is expected to be the aftermath.

The federation has an emblem which embodies the ideals of the association. The flaming torch of wisdom, lighting the path for the business woman of the future, the winged wand of the herald, ushering in a new era of opportunity for women, the ship of commerce, carrying a message of friendship to women of other lands, the open scroll of learning, recording ideals and faith, and these with the Winged Victory of Samothrace, emblem of womanhood triumphant, form the emblem of the organization.

"You're Not Talking Into the Telephone," Mom Said

Pop was smoking a cigar after dinner and talking over the telephone. Mr. Scott when Mom came in and heard him repeating what he was saying with his head turned away from the telephone and all bothered because he had to say things over so many times.

"No wonder he can't hear you," Mom said, "you're not talking into the telephone."

Pop grabbed the cigar out of his mouth and got up close to the telephone. Then he didn't have to repeat any more, proving that the reason Mr. Scott couldn't hear was that Pop wasn't talking into the telephone.

An Attractive Five-Room House

This type of home finds favor year after year with small home owners. Its sturdy appearance and simple, unpretentious lines are noted at a glance and appeal to well advised home builders.

There are five rooms—really six because the glassed-in sleeping porch can be kept as comfortable and as useful as any other room in the house. All space has been utilized without waste or sacrifice to convenience.

This home requires a ground area of only 28 feet by 38 feet—proportions which conform closely to the requirements of the ordinary building lot.

the NEW Polarine

is the modern motor oil

New refining equipment and processes alone made possible the new Polarine—with every desirable quality oil can have—free from disadvantages previous refining processes had never overcome.

The new Polarine contains less than half the carbon residue of old process oils—has greater lubricating value—deposits less carbon in the motor.

The lighter grades of the new Polarine have a "pour point" below zero. The heaviest grades flow at 17° below freezing.

In stability and protective body at high engine heat the new Polarine sets new standards.

The light, bright color of the new Polarine shows freedom from wax and tar ingredients.

On all points of both quality and performance, you cannot buy an oil—made by any process, from any grade of crude, at any price—that will do more for your motor than the new Polarine.

This new Polarine is sold at no advance in price. Consult the Chart for the correct grade.

Trainloads of FARMALLS Going Everywhere

This is the Most Useful! Most Popular Tractor!

Besides the Farmall we also have the popular McCormick-Deering 15-30 and 10-20 (3-Plow and 2-Plow)

NO wonder this tractor is popular—the McCormick-Deering Farmall for the first time gives the farmer a real all-purpose tractor. It is ideal power for all crops, all fields, all jobs, and all the time. There is no off-season for the Farmall.

The Farmall is the ideal tractor for every power machine in its power range, whether it runs by drawbar, belt, or power take-off. Its short turn, wide tread, extra-high row clearance, and other special features of design fit it perfectly for planting and cultivating of corn and other row crops.

FARM WITH A FARMALL! The Farmall and its equipment will show you a better, handier, more economical, and more profitable way to farm. Ask us to demonstrate it for you on a piece of ground 20 by 40 feet, and working with a mower or cultivator. Climb on the seat yourself and drive the Farmall. You will see why it is popular.

One man with a Farmall can intensively farm up to 200 acres. It replaces 6 to 10 horses and 2 to 3 men. It plows two perfect furrows and it can't be beat at the belt. Its capacity for work is astonishing—plowing 7 to 9 acres a day, double-disking 18 to 25 acres, drilling up to 45 acres, planting 50 acres, cultivating 30 to 50 acres, mowing 50 to 60 acres, and doing other work in proportion. And it is the easiest tractor to handle on the market.

Trainloads of FARMALLS Going Everywhere

This is the Most Useful! Most Popular Tractor!

Besides the Farmall we also have the popular McCormick-Deering 15-30 and 10-20 (3-Plow and 2-Plow)

NO wonder this tractor is popular—the McCormick-Deering Farmall for the first time gives the farmer a real all-purpose tractor. It is ideal power for all crops, all fields, all jobs, and all the time. There is no off-season for the Farmall.

The Farmall is the ideal tractor for every power machine in its power range, whether it runs by drawbar, belt, or power take-off. Its short turn, wide tread, extra-high row clearance, and other special features of design fit it perfectly for planting and cultivating of corn and other row crops.

Reconstruct Ship In Coming Film

An exact replica of the forward deck of a United States battleship with four new model 14-inch guns mounted on large grey revolving turrets, was constructed for thrilling highlights in Radio Pictures' musical comedy, "Hit the Deck," coming to the Gay theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 16, 17 and 18.

A crew of sixty men worked five days under the supervision of E. L. McMurtrie, construction engineer, and Max Reel, art director, to complete what is considered by RKO officials as the greatest set-building feat since the advent of talking pictures.

The four guns support the weight of sixty tons—fifteen each—and have a revolving angle of 90 degrees and an elevation of 25 degrees. The "deck" completely equipped is 175 feet in length and 65 feet wide, providing space for about 100 players who attend a navy "party."

Guns and turrets not only had to duplicate an Uncle Sam man-of-war battery, mechanically, but had to operate without the slightest noise.

A crew of technical experts from the RKO studios, with cameramen spent several days at a U. S. Naval base securing plans and photographs of a real battleship cleared for action. This was the basis of the unusual engineering feat.

Luther Reed of "Rio Rita" fame directed "Hit the Deck," with Polly Walker, Broadway star, and Jack Oakie, sensational comedian, in the leading roles.

Peeress Was Born On Nebraska Farm

Not all the tales of young women rising from humble birth to ladyship are written in the story books. Now and then Cinderella, in a somewhat different role is found in actual life and Lady Williams Vestey is one of these.

Evelyn Brodstone was born on a Nebraska farm near Superior. When she was five her father died. Her schooling was obtained in the Superior schools, followed by a course in stenography at Burlington, Iowa. Her first position was in Vestey Brothers' packing house in Chicago. Soon she was secretary to William Vestey and in that capacity "sat in" at important board meetings, where now and then she voiced a well considered opinion. She became successively auditor, then virtual manager of the Chicago plant, and finally went to the London headquarters in an executive capacity.

Miss Brodstone's genius for organization made her services most useful when the concern opened branch plants in South America. She conceived the Union Meat company which became the British meat trust. When the war came on it fell to Vestey to feed the British army in the field. Again the executive ability of Miss Brodstone was displayed. For this piece of service to Great Britain William Vestey was made a baron. Miss Brodstone's services as traveling representative for the concern continued and in the course of her travels while visiting the plants of the Vestey company scattered over the earth she visited almost every country on the globe. A half dozen times she quit her position to live quietly with her mother at Superior, but always came a demand for her services. One day she made a trip to the Little Church Around the Corner with Baron William Vestey and became Lady Vestey.

She never lost interest in her native land or home town. A fine hospital at Superior is a gift to her birthplace. At the time of the dedication of the hospital she came from London to be present at the ceremony.

Jail Breaker Returns.

West Point, Neb.—Earl Hughes, 45, Bancroft, Neb., who escaped from the Bancroft jail two weeks ago, returned to Bancroft and was apprehended by the Bancroft city marshal, who notified County Sheriff Sexton.

Hughes was lodged in the county jail on two complaints, intoxication and resisting an officer. He pleaded not guilty to the first charge and guilty to the second. He was given a sentence of three months in the county jail and costs. This sentence was suspended on condition that Hughes leave the county in 10 days.

Feature Stage Star In Talking Picture

William Collier, star, beloved stage star, now featured in talking pictures, has been on the stage since he was 11 years of age. He started as call boy for the late Augustin Daly. In "Harmony At Home," which comes Friday and Saturday to the Gay theatre, a Fox Movietone all talking film based on Harry Deif's successful stage play, "The Family Upstairs," Collier is featured with Marguerite Churchill. Hamilton McFadden directed.
