... on Main Street

(By Alice Lister.)
Spring time is garden time o'er all the world, and in Wayne county, ideally situated as it is in one of the most fertile belts of Nebraska, the delights of the awakening year are manifold. With this renaissance of natural life seed racks in local stores are haunted by starchy-eyed customers who handle the varicolored envelopes with a feeling of joy in backyards and farm yards, men and women are turning the black earth with plow and spade and planting with care the tiny brown seeds.

Mrs. William Perdue who lives in the east part of Wayne, gives as her champion standby the Ponderosa tomatoes. Her success in growing this tomato has been unusual, and Friday in planting her garden she put in several rows of this vegetable. She grows the plant from the seed and finds that a single fruit when matured in late August frequently weighs over a pound. She also has singularly good luck in growing peppers from her own selected seed. To illustrate this she mentioned that following the planting of four-inch pepper plants secured from other seed and some from her own selection she was able to tell which was which. Her carefully selected seed produced better plants. The pepper seeds grow slowly at first but very rapidly when the proper season comes.

Mrs. C. Swanson has been losing many of her baby chicks from pneumonia this spring. In the first hatch nearly 100 died suddenly. She thinks they may have become chilled. Mrs. Swanson raises purebred Rhode Island Reds.

"Cut the dandelion heads out when they are blooming," is the advice that Mrs. Ella Haller would give to gardeners who want to keep the pest weed out of lawns. It is necessary, however, to cut quite deep. And what is more important is to cut the blooms as they appear during the summer. As a result of this plan Mrs. Haller's lawn is remarkably free from the pest this spring.

Mrs. Haller has some oriental poppies which have already a fine start. There are many other healthy-looking foliage and flower plants about her yard. Mrs. Haller plants four o'clocks in profusion in her back yard each spring. "I can grow just as good looking beets as those," declared one woman Saturday as she stood before the seed rack in a local store and referred to the brilliant red beet pictured on a packet of seeds. Upon being questioned Mrs. G. W. Hughes replied that her specialty in this engaging business of gardening is growing beets—beets that are large, well formed and, what is truly remarkable, ready to eat by July 4. Turnips, generally a late summer product, Mrs. Hughes is able to grow successfully and have ready early. As for the secret of success, it is simple, "plant them and take care of them." On the sly it might be added for the benefit of gardeners searching for tips that Mrs. Hughes planted her beets, the Eclipse variety, on Friday. Her recipe for crisp, sweet radishes is: Plant a good variety a little late in the spring. The radishes will grow rapidly when planted and will not be tough or woody. Besides vegetables, a large number of perennial flowers are tended by Mrs. Hughes.

"Living monuments" the way she describes the various gifts of plants presented to her by friends and relatives, some of whom have gone into the land of the unknown but whose gifts of flowers continue to spread good hope and cheer with fragrant blooms and foliage long, long afterwards. Later in the season the reporter plans to visit at the Hughes home again and make a more detailed report of the many natural beauties.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 42 Wayne, Neb., Thursday, April 17, 1930. Vol. 4

According to our calendar, April 19 is "Patriot's Day." Now what in the world is "Patriot's Day"? We want to know.

Carl Clasen is starting a new house in the east part of town for Wm. A. Meyer. This house will be insulated with Balsam Wool. The new home of Frank Pfeuger is also insulated with this material as well as the fire home of Theodore Larson, which was completed last fall.

Last week we sold 400 Blue Top steel posts to one man and 240 to another. No bending, no breaking. That's what appeals to the post user.

The story of Lincoln splitting the fence rails always reminds us of American posts and women fence supplies. Wouldn't we appreciate them?

Quite a demand these days for lime, plaster and cement. We sold a car of cement in four days last week. Will you be needing any this spring?

The editor would like to have some body prove to him that a 50c price sells more merchandise than a $1.00 price.

If one is a lumberman, he should know more about lumber than anybody else in the community. And the same thing holds true about jewelry, drugs and all other lines of merchandise.

In looking over Ward's and Sears' latest catalogs, we find they charge more for corrugated steel roofing, asphalt roll roofing and shingles than we do. No reason to send for that stuff.

Just a tip—We've a wonderful grade of oak flooring selling now at eight cents per foot. That is a real price—worth looking into.

Wife.—"My father always was sorry that I wasn't a boy."
Husband.—"So am I."

Unless you're fond of flies as household pets, now is the time to check up on your screens. We'll furnish you with the new ones it'll take this year.

Nothing is more delightful than a screened-in porch in the summer time. You've enjoyed your friends' why not enjoy your own this summer?

Here's another Scotch one—maybe you heard it: It's about a Scotchman who left the foot of one part of the house—said it was to be the shower.

When you hear that "Foxy Gally" He sneaked off to Crystal Lake without saying a word to his old pal, but he got only one lonesome little pickle. Had to throw it back. Served him right!

Your radishes up yet?

Ignored by Beneficiary.

By A. L. Bixby: All that is mortal of the late George D. Meiklejohn rests in a remote corner of the Masonic section of Forest Lawn Memorial park, next to the slightly Highland drive in North Los Angeles. "There," writes W. R. Hoffman of Norfolk, now visiting on the coast, "he was buried

April 22, 1929, in grave 230, tier 2, section M." No marker except a cement post, four inches square, numbered as above. No politician did more for his friends than George Meiklejohn, and no man in hard luck was more completely ignored by his beneficiaries.

Men in life a tack useful if he has a good hand on him and pointed in the right direction. But even though he is driven he can only go as far as his head will let him.

Levi Ciese purchased one of our 2-pen farrowing houses. Last year I sold Levi a 9x16 and also a 9x12 brooder house and a Simplex stove. That is the way when folks once get one of our houses they know the quality and come back for the second or third one.

"John," called his wife from the bedroom, "I heard the clock strike two when you came in." "Yes, dear, it was beginning to strike ten, but I stopped it for fear it would wake you."

Since it rained the pastures are beginning to show nice and green. How is your pasture fence? We just received a shipment of Red Top steel posts, also have a new low price on wire. It would also be a good plan to have your individual horses on the new grass. Save fences on a patch of alfalfa.

John James has just finished repairing Mrs. S. W. Dayton's house. John repaired the roof, put a new floor on the front porch and later, when she paints the house, John is going back and resurfaces two porches.

G. H. Hurley bought a 9x12 Happy Chick Brooder for May 1 delivery.

We are expecting a shipment of that white pocket garden fence this week. We sold a lot of it last year and this year's patterns are still more attractive. This makes a very neat fence around the garden, taking the place of lattice.

Bernard Meyer purchased two of our 2-pen farrowing houses this week.

If your car rattles, try traveling in Scotland; you will find everything has tightened up.

Harry Wert was in yesterday and told me to save him another Simplex stove. This makes two for Harry this year.

We admire a man when he follows his own bent; especially if he follows it gracefully. But it looks like some who think they are following their own bent are simply giving away to warped dispositions.

George Roggenbach bought a 9x12 Happy Chick Brooder complete with Simplex stove.

It was late last night when I got home. I attended a meeting at which Van Wood, head engineer from the State Agricultural Extension Department gave a lecture on insulation of houses, farm buildings, brooder houses and such. He had some very good ideas and figures to prove same.

This is the Happy Chick Brooder House factory, Wayne, Nebraska, Station P.E.T.E., signing-off until next week.

but of late years, before waves of modern progress, its usefulness was largely swept aside. Decrepitude came with the years. It was hard to heat in winter, and its lack of comforts corresponded with its looks which did constant violence to the appearance of Main street.

In his address before the Daughters of the American Revolution, President Hoover pointed out with satisfaction progress that has been made in peace developments. While urging adequate means of defense, he welcomed agreements to reduce costly armaments and to establish a firm foundation for enduring peace.

We are all more or less frail in carrying out good intentions. We go on record in support of a resolution to avoid extremes, and then poor, weak humanity yields to the whisperings of personal inclination. One fellow likes the social whirl. QUALITY beyond all previous standards In entering the 1930 market, Dodge Brothers were keenly conscious of two fundamental facts: First, that this year more than ever, value will be the basis of sales. Second, that the public is today better qualified than ever to judge value. Dodge engineers met these conditions by designing two new cars with features that not only satisfy the demands of a thrifty and motor-wise public, but set the standard of values far ahead of any previous conception. These engineers have achieved: SENSATIONAL VALUES A NEW SIX $835 AND UP, F. O. B. FACTORY A NEW EIGHT $1095 AND UP, F. O. B. ## SPECIAL SCHOOLS HELD TO TEACH NEW CITIZENS

ON March first there were 47 immigrant schools in Nebraska giving education to adult persons of other lands who desire to read, write and speak the English language and take instruction in academic and vocational education.

These schools, 23 in Omaha, 4 in Lincoln, 2 in Scottsbluff and the rest scattered in large and small towns over the state, conduct 70 classes and on March first had a total registration of 1011. The average attendance was 687. The courses required the services of 52 teachers.

A class in the immigrant school at Hastings is typical of all others. Classes are usually held in the evening in the public school buildings and teachers in the local schools who are interested in this sort of work and capable of giving the kind of instruction desired are employed as instructors.

The Hastings school opened November 15 with an enrollment of 23 persons about evenly divided as to sex. The youngest was a lad of 17 who wished to supplement his education received in the schools of Denmark with a good knowledge of the English language. The oldest student was a mother of seven children who came from Russia, 37 years ago. She was eager to learn to read and write the language of her adopted country.

Classes in the schools take up reading and conversation in English. A course in citizenship is a part of the school's curriculum. People of foreign birth are received without restriction and drilled to quickly make them more intelligent and better posted citizens of the United States.

The work in the immigrant schools is being carried on by the state department of education, functioning through Director S. R. Elson whose headquarters are in Omaha where there is the largest number of classes.

Clubs Of District Meet In Neligh

Federated women's clubs of the Third district, 262 women representing twenty-seven clubs and a membership of 2,717, convened in Neligh last week Wednesday and Thursday for their twenty-seventh annual meeting. Wayne club members present were Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, Mrs. Nettie Call and Mrs. E. E. Gailey.

Mrs. Nancy Sherman of Lincoln, state chairman of home finance, urged the women to create a distaste for debt and to promote the plan of saving.

Mrs. Robert Locks, state chairman of child welfare, stated that the care of a half million neglected children in America is of far greater importance than conservation of forests and wild life. She stated that the bureau of child welfare is the only body organized to help youths before they go wrong.

The club found for scholarships for boys and girls has grown to $12,000. The women have already helped 146 young folks to complete their education.

The three Wayne women returned home from the convention Thursday evening.

In Fifth Place At Play Contest

Wayne high school students took fifth place in the little theatre contest held Friday at Midland college, Fremont. Omaha North high, was first, and Norfolk and Neligh placed second and third. Valley, Fremont, Osmond and St. Edward were other schools entered.

Coach W. A. Behl and Dorothy Ross accompanied the students.

Addresses Club On Disarmament

Prof. J. G. W. Lewis Gives Education and Internal Change as the Needs.

In addressing the Wayne branch of the American Association of University Women on Wednesday evening last week at the college on the subject of "Disarmament," Prof. J. G. W. Lewis pointed out the decline in the force of arguments formerly used in support of armament. Such arguments as "war is a good thing in itself," "war is a necessary evil" and "preparedness is a promoter of peace" are no longer commanding the force they did. There is also a present realization of the great economic cost of war.

Futility of the task of reduction of armament by ratons and parity was shown by the speaker because of the following: Absence of agreed standards and the impossibility of real equality, pressure of vested interests, predilections of different nations for certain types of armaments, disagreement as to where to begin and parity as a pretext for further building. How is a nation to have its own way and yet cooperate with others? This great international dilemma is aggravated by the inherent difficulty of relying at the same time upon international good will and also upon national force, the French demand for "security" and the United States' advocacy of the world court and Kellogg pact and insistence upon freedom of the seas.

The state of change in public opinions on international questions is, the speaker stated, going on among people of the world. An unrest results.

An education of the people to the situation and an improvement in internal conditions were given by Prof. Lewis as aids to solution of disarmament problems.

Land Is Sinking South Of Ewing

O'Neill, Neb.—Reports from those who have observed the sinking lands and new river south of Ewing indicate the flow of water is increasing in volume and larger chunks of earth are toppling into the slimy pit.

The phenomenon is said to cover 10 acres and to be 100 feet deep in places. A geologist spent some time at the sinking lands in taking samples of earth and water. His findings are not ready for publication. To those who queried him, he is said to have replied that the sinking lands on the Elwood farm baffled all geologists for the reason there is no precedent with which to make comparison. Mr. Elwood expects 100,000 sightseers will view the wonder this season.

A delightful romance leads up to the minstrel sequence with its gorgeous costumes and dazzlingly beautiful settings in which 20 or more musical numbers are a part.

Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor have an effective number "We'll Build a Little World of Our Own."

The grand finale "A Dream on a Piece of Wedding Cake" is said to be one of the most spectacular and surprising features ever brought to the all talking screen.

The entire music staff at Fox Movietone City was employed in writing the music and songs.

Farmer Hangs Self. Egin, Neb.—Leo Fritz, 55, farmer who lived three miles southwest of here, ended his own life by hanging himself in the barn. He had been a resident of this vicinity 30 years.

Bandits Hold Up Bank At Schuyler

Schuyler, Neb., April 11.—Four bandits held up the banking house of F. Foida here today, slugged Jay Foida, one of the employes, and escaped with $5,500 in money.

Foida was knocked down by one of the bandits when he was slow to obey a command to lie down on the floor. Four other employes of the bank obeyed the command. Foida suffered a slight head injury from being struck by the butt of a revolver.

The four robbers entered the bank immediately after it opened. They drove up to the institution in a pale green sedan bearing a Douglas county license, 1-4735 Nebraska, which authorities said was stolen from a car belonging to Ray Farrell of Omaha last night.

The robbers tossed the money into a small black hand patchel and dashed out to the waiting car. Witnesses said the car speeded west out of Schuyler and then turned north.

The case in which the Standard company here resisted the order of the state railway commission to build a new depot in Wayne has been sent back to the state supreme court from the federal court where it was taken by the railroad company. In a blizzard which swept the western part of the state, Mrs. Cora Path and her son of Henningsford, lost their lives. The boy had gone in search of cattle. When he failed to return, the mother started out after him. The blizzard was the worst ever known so late in the spring. The pre-primary contest in this state is creating much interest because of the presidential preference. Taft is urged for reelection on the strength of his sound progressive record. Colonel Roosevelt has been encouraged by the primaries in Illinois and Pennsylvania. Jake Ross, a farmer living two miles northeast of Bloomfield, was killed April 12, 1912, when he fell on a harrow. Mr. Ross had been dead several hours when he was found. He had evidently fallen on the harrow and been crushed, his team walking off toward the barn and dragging him the entire distance. "Out of a total of 2,180 people on board the new steamer Titanic, 1,312 were drowned April 15, 1912, when the boat struck an iceberg and sank in two miles of water off the Newfoundland coast. The ship was the biggest steamer afloat and was making her maiden trip having started from Liverpool to New York. The boat cost $10,000,000."

A Baby Chick Guarantee That Really Guarantees

—Colson's baby chicks, hatched under ideal conditions with proper amount of oxygen and moisture, are healthy in bone and flesh. They have a good start.

—Without any special care or attention a pullet will lay the first spring following her hatching date. It's only natural that she should do this. A pullet that lays the first fall and winter is repaying her owner for the special care and attention he gave her while she was a baby chick and during her pin-feather days.

—Healthy chicks, given proper food and care, develop into laying pullets in ninety days. And the pullet laying in October, November and December, when eggs bring highest prices, makes you the most money.

—Get an extra winter's profits from your pullets. Buy healthy baby chicks and feed them carefully.

FREE—Lee Germozone free this week with each purchase of chicks.

Supplies For Chick Growers

Purina Feeds

Good Feed is essential in making a baby chick grow into a healthy pullet in a short period. Purina Startena, fed the first six weeks, and Purina Growena, fed during succeeding weeks, develop bone and muscle properly. The first six weeks is a critical period in the life of a chick as its digestive organs are passing through the development stage. Proper care and feeding are thus necessary. Purina Startena contains the proper nourishment in the best form for this period. Purina Growena is scientifically mixed to care for the chick's development in after weeks.

it's wise to choose a SIX!

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no hum or drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting, longer-satisfying automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No other automobile consumes less gasoline and oil. No other shows a lower expense for tires. And no other car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high resale value.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes; a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear; four long semi-elliptic springs; mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built in combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a heavy, rigidly-braced channel-steel frame. And it gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance . . . and for economical transportation!

About Nebraska and Nebraskans

Will M. Maupin. This is the Oregon Trail's centennial year. Not since the famous trek of the Israelites has there been such a migration in all the world's history.

Oregon has larger cities than Nebraska. It has more resources utterly lacking in Nebraska. Timber, for instance, but timber vanishes before the woodman's ax and the greed and cupidity of men.

These things are said in no disparagement of Oregon, but merely to emphasize what those hardy travelers over the old Oregon Trail overlooked in their search for a field for homes and happiness.

The most historic spot on the Oregon Trail in Nebraska is Mitchell Pass, about three miles west of Spring a notch in the famous Scotts Bluff. The pass is really the dividing line between the plains country and the hills and mountain country.

To the little city of Gering belongs the honor of founding "Oregon Trail Days," an annual celebration begun eight or nine years ago, and rapidly becoming celebrated all over the country.

The Mary Sudik oil well near Oklahoma City is of peculiar interest to Nebraskans, for the reason that it was brought in on the farm of former Nebraska residents, Mr. and Mrs. Vinc Sudik.

Old-time newspaper men and politicians will recall Warwick Saunders, whose death was recently announced. He was one of the leaders in the populist movement, and published one of the first newspapers that expounded populist doctrine.

Thirtytwo years ago John H. Worthington of Omaha performed brave and distinguished service at the battle of El Caney, Cuba. A year after the battle he was given a certificate of merit. Congress recently authorized the awarding of distinguished service medals to all holders of certificates of merit, and Worthington will soon receive his medal from the commander of the Seventh Corps Area, Omaha.

Mrs. William H. Wright of Scottsbluff celebrated her 91st birthday on March 31. She and her husband were among the first of the pioneers to settle in North Platte Valley. That was before Scotts Bluff county was carved out of Cheyenne county and only a few years after the Union Pacific had been constructed across Nebraska.

When Thomas J. Hartwell, 99, died in Omaha on April 5, the last remaining Confederate veteran in Nebraska passed on. Mr. Hartwell served with the Texas Rangers during the Civil War, and came to Nebraska during the days of the Chisholm trail.

William Everitt of Omaha, who is only 106 years old, is planning on writing his biography if he can find a middle-aged woman to act as his biographer and at the same time officiate as housekeeper.

Her Cross Little Boy Wouldn't Eat Or Sleep

"My little son had poor appetite, couldn't sleep and was cross. I gave him Vinol and it ended these troubles like magic." Mrs. L. DuCrest.

Vinol supplies the body important mineral elements of iron, calcium with cod liver peptone. This is just what thin, nervous children or adults need, and the QUICK results are surprising. The VERY FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Vinol tastes delicious! In Wakefield by Long's Drug Store.

Comes now Glenn Thill and says that for the year 1929, he was assessed with an intangible tax valuation of $1,000.00 in Wilbur precinct, which made the tax $2.50 which he paid under protest for the reason that postal savings is exempt from taxation and asks that said tax be ordered refunded.

On motion the county treasurer is ordered to refund the above tax of $2.50 to the said Glenn Thill.

Comes now Herman May and says that for the year 1929 he was assessed in Hoskins precinct with a tangible tax valuation of $335.00 which made the tax $6.43 which he paid under protest for the reason of a misunderstanding of the schedule and he now asks that said tax be refunded as he had no accounts as thereon shown subject to assessment, but said it was owing instead by him, rather than accounts owing to him.

On motion the county treasurer is ordered to refund the above tax of $6.43 to the said Herman May.

McCormick-Deering CORN PLANTERS

IMAGINE Counting kernels from your right hand to your left hand — one, two, three; and drop them—one, two, three, and drop them. You could do that repeatedly until it became strictly mechanical, and drop three kernels every time, with unerring accuracy, yet you can do it scarcely more accurately than the mechanism under the McCormick-Deering 100 Series Planter or drill hopper will do it.

A Sure-Shot Variable Drop. Earlier inventors probably thought that they had attained the ultimate, when they had devised a machine that would put two, three or four kernels into the ground in checked rows with a fair degree of accuracy.

Built-In Power Hill-Drop. ON MOST Planters, it is necessary to order special equipment, when it is desired to bunch-drop drill. On the McCormick-Deering check-row Planter a very simple change in one of the clutch members converts the planter into a power hill-drop drill for bunch dropping.

THE MCCORMICK-DEERING No. 102 CORN-PLANTER EQUIPMENT Includes reel, 80 rods of check wire, two steel stakes, and seed plates to cover all usual requirements. Plants in rows 28 to 48 inches apart.

A Comforting Service

From the moment the first telephone call comes in, all the resources of this organization are called in to play to assist the bereaved family. Our service goes beyond the common idea of the functions of a funeral director. It includes attending to many annoying details which are usually left to members of the family. It also extends to the giving of advice on the many perplexing problems which arise at such a time. The experience, sympathy and reliability of an organization like ours are always appreciated.
