Happy Chick News

Here we are again. We have some better weather with us this time. You don't see many farmers in town these days, but I don't blame them a bit. Get your corn planted while you can. That chick of the planter sounds good.

Remember it won't be long before you will have to cut that first crop of alfalfa. How about that stacker and sweep? Does it need any new pieces this year? Better have it done now; it might save a trip to town later on.

Walter Pearson, northeast here, called up last Saturday about 2 o'clock wanting to know if there was any chance of us being able to deliver them a house so they could have it by night. "Our motto is SERVICE." We had the house on his place by four o'clock, all set up and ready to go. Only nineteen miles there, counting the detour.

Maybe there ain't no such word as can't, but did you ever try to strike a match on a cake of soap?

Last week we had to fix a feed roller for a cotton gin. You would not expect to find one of these machines in Wayne or Wayne county, would you? Well, there is one right here in Wayne and the people operating it are repairing and rebuilding mattresses.

When you send a letter by air mail, do you have to use fly paper?

Space and Hornay are building a log house up on 10th street - that is, they are using Log Cabin siding. This is a new thing here in outside house finishing.

Politician. "Congratulations me, dear. I got the nomination." "His wife. "Honestly?" "Politician. "Why bring that up?"

Well, we have a new self-feeder for hogs and it is a dandy, too, if I do have to say it myself. This is made on an entirely different principle than most of them. It is wider at the bottom than at the top, has an all-metal bottom, no chance of feed clogging, adjustable feed regulator so that it will handle all kinds of feed. Metal flap doors on each side, giving the feed protection from the weather. This feeder bears our usual stamp of quality. It is painted RED. Come in and look it over.

"Yes, I'll drive," said the woman, as she climbed into the rear seat.

Hubby. - "I miss the old copier since it's gone." "Wife. - "You missed it before, that's why it's gone."

Sold Ed. Coulter of Belden, a 16x16 Happy Chick Brooder house complete with Simplex stove. The bigger houses seem to be more popular than ever this time of the year. They can be used for a laying house later on.

This is the Happy Chick Brooder House factory, Wayne, Nebraska, Station P. P. 277-E, signing off until next week.

We Recognize This Fact:
No bank has ever grown through one-time customers. A successful bank must have permanent patronage.
The First National Bank of Wayne, has grown on that principle. We number among our patrons people of this community who have been regular customers here for 44 years. We could not have grown to our present status without an ever increasing patronage.
The further growth of The First National Bank depends entirely upon its ability to please, month after month and year after year. We have long since recognized that fact.

Shorthand Awards Are Given Here To Several High School Students

School Closes This Week and Reports Will Be Given Out Friday Afternoon

For the first time in the Wayne city school shorthand awards were made this spring in the commercial department, taught by Miss Mildred Cole. Work of pupils is graded on transcription, accuracy and neatness. Sixty-seven and eighty-word tests were given. Cards are sent by the company for those who pass each and the pupil may then get a pin if he wishes. Those who received cards for completing both tests are Dorothy Gildersleeve, Margaret Panske, Flora Rhoads, Dorothy Ross, Ruby Long and Evelyn Mellor. Kathryn Kemp completed the sixty-word test and Bertha Ludwig completed the eighty-word test. Each of the group named had 96 percent or above in the papers sent.

Rev. W. C. Heidenreich spoke to the high school Thursday on "Benefits of Education."

School class work closes this Thursday evening. Report cards will be given to high school students at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Grades will receive their cards Friday at 1 o'clock.

Seniors entertained the juniors and faculty members Wednesday morning at breakfast at the fair grounds.

Miss Glennie Bacon gave standardized tests over book five to geometry students last week. Charles Brown had perfect score. Irene Damm, Lavern Larson, Stanley Merchant, Melvin Seymour, Gertrude Ulrich, Dorothy Witt, Clayton Powers and Dale Thompson lacked one point of perfect scores.

Rex Evans was out of school last week. He sustained a fracture of both bones in his right wrist when cranking a car.

Wakefield, Pender and Wayne high schools met here last Thursday for track events. Pender won the invitation meet and Wayne was eleven points below.

Lavern Larson played the assembly march last week, and Ruby Long is playing it this week.

Walter Black, secretary of the state high school athletic association, visited the Wayne school last week.

New Playground Equipment

Nine new swings and eight new trapezes will be placed on the school grounds early this summer. A three-inch pipe, fifty-five feet long, will be taken from the gymnasium and used for the ridge support for the apparatus. Fittings will be bought for this and the swings and trapezes will be fastened to it.

Achievement Tests Given

Achievement tests have been given throughout the grades the past few days and the results in these will be used as factors in estimating progress of pupils and partly as basis for promoting. These tests were given from the second through the eighth grade. Mental tests were given to pupils

In the kindergarten and first grade and these are also factors in promotion.

Eighth Grade

Final tests are being given in all subjects the past few days. Louise Heidenreich received 100 in history, civics and geography tests.

Paul Bernston has a record of 100 in perfect record during the time he was in the seventh grade also.

The civics class is studying political parties and their place in democracy.

The history class has been considering the labor problem in the United States.

Preparation was the subject matter for arithmetic.

Robert Jones was absent last week with the mumps.

Seventh Grade

Stanley Norton was absent one-half day last week because of illness.

Pupils finished study of pronouns in language. They also reviewed all the poems they have learned the past year.

Profit and loss were reviewed in arithmetic.

Picture study booklets were completed last week.

A constitutional convention was represented in history class the first of this week. Pupils took parts of delegates from various states and of prominent men of the country and carried out the procedure of a convention as a dramatization.

Sixth Grade

Mrs. C. C. Kilborn and Mrs. Anderson visited last week.

History booklets which pupils made this year were completed the first of this week. The booklets contain pictures and stories about man from earliest times to his present state of civilization.

Pupils are reviewing in arithmetic and are trying a few lessons in seventh grade problems.

Marion Seymour was 12 Thursday and treated her classmates to Dixies.

Fifth Grade

Stimulants and narcotics were studied in hygiene. Experiments were done to show properties of alcohol.

Sections of the United States were reviewed in geography. Each pupil learned to write in a blank map the names of the states and principal cities in each. Characteristics of each group of states were also outlined.

The Civil War period was finished in history.

BARTLETT HIGH SCHOOL STANDS OUT AS UNIQUE

A GREAT company of tax-payers and owners attended at Bartlett a few days ago the dedicatory ceremonies of a new type high school—a school with dormitories and dining halls for its non-resident pupils.

Bartlett, be it known, is the county seat of Wheeler county, an inland town distant from the railroad. But boys and girls in that county have just as keen interest in education as those of any other community.

To accommodate them with adequate high school facilities and living quarters in their home community, the new school plant was devised. The dormitories are separate from the school buildings and include sufficient space to house the superintendent and his family and the four faculty members. The building for girls has a recreation room, kitchen, dining room, music room, reception hall and sleeping quarters for 46 girls. A similar building provides accommodations for boys.

Directed by a matron who serves as supervisor, purchasing agent and housekeeper, the students undertake the rest of the work and living provided from Monday to Friday at a minimum cost of 15 cents each and each student pays for one month's food in advance. This provides the food fund for the school.

The Wheeler county high school is considerably more than a well conducted institution of learning. It is the hub of social affairs for the entire community and as a result the attention of the student is not diverted from the campus.

The dormitory system has been in use in this school since 1911 and the enrollment has grown from 12 at the beginning to 70 at the present time. From an economic standpoint the Wheeler county high school has met every demand made upon it, recently declared Chas. W. Taylor, state superintendent.

This completed the pictures for booklets the pupils made.

Third Grade

Mrs. C. C. Kilborn and Mrs. Anderson were visitors last week. "The Baaloon," by Julien Dupre, was studied in picture lessons.

Pupils who received 100 in spelling each day two weeks ago are Ernest Junk, Phyllis Kilborn, Norman Mahnk, Phyllis Pinkham, Bonadell Roland and Mariah Vath. Those who had perfect lessons week before last are Van Bradford, Phyllis Kilborn and Phyllis Pinkham.

Gold stars for completion of the sixth and last writing project were received by Phyllis Pinkham, Bonadell Roland, Jean Mines, Richard Gildersleeve and Marian Vath. The second and third grades plan a picnic together this week.

Wakefield Class Hears H. R. Best

Addresses Eighth Grade Students on Values of Education at Present

"What Have You in Your Tool Kit" was the subject of the address given by Supt. H. R. Best of Wayne, Friday evening to students of the Wakefield school who were graduated that day from the eighth grade.

In the early history of the country, said Supt. Best, pioneers were able to go out and by their efforts fill their wood piles. The industrial age of the present has made conditions more complex.

The speaker asked, "What is a boy or girl?" The youth of today is the future. He must take the place of adults of the present. The "trying out" of policies adopted today will be depending upon his will and ability to do so. He will be the motive power in the state, nation and all institutions.

"Therefore," asked Supt. Best, "is he not worthy of your attention now?" In pointing out the values of an education the speaker stated that the government bulletin No. 22 shows that of an average uneducated worker earns $500 a year and $20,000 in a lifetime, while the person with high school education earns an average of $1,000 a year and $40,000 in a lifetime.

Brooklyn statistics show that an untrained person earns an average of $5,120 in eleven years before he is 25 years old. The trained person earns $7,337 in seven years before he is 25. Boston university figures place the cash value of a high school education at $8,250 a year.

It is after all a mistake, the speaker asserted, to consider education in terms of money alone. Training to appreciate life and its fullness, the power to appreciate treasures of art, music, literature and science are of special worth. This appreciation makes life more worthwhile.

Society dislikes the slacker in war, the salesman who is not faithful to his duty, the basketball player who is "yellow." It is no disgrace to fall in an undertaking but it is a disgrace to be a "quitter," Supt. Best stated.

The world did not ask Edison how long it took him to perfect the incandescent lamp. The accomplishment was that which the world noted. So it is in school. The determination to finish school and the accomplishment, no matter about the length of time taken to finish, are the things that count. The world favors the one who finishes an undertaking.

The first duty of the government is to educate its citizens, and the first duty of the citizen is to educate their children, Supt. Best said.

Leigh Bank Winner

Lincoln, Neb. — The supreme court affirmed the finding of the Platte county district court that the First National bank of Leigh was entitled to recover $6,874 from the Newman Grove State bank. Henry Knudson was loaned $7,000 by the Leigh bank in the belief that he owned a large herd of cattle. It transpired that he only intended to buy them. The money was deposited by Knudson in the Newman Grove bank, which took $6,874 of it and applied, with Knudson's permission, to a note past due $1 by him. The lower court held that because of fraud it must be repaid.

Music Students Are In Recitals

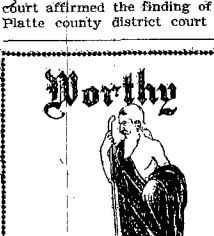

Give Piano and Voice Programs at College Monday and Tuesday Evenings

The piano department of the Wayne State Teachers College, Prof. Albert G. Carlson director, presented a recital Monday evening at the school auditorium. The program was enjoyed by an appreciative audience. Numbers were as follows: "Clair de Lune," Miss Anne Kohls; "Romance" and "Butterfly," Miss Elaine Winter; "Coquetry" and "Valse Caprice," Miss Mary Mills; "Hungarian Mazurka" and "Polichinelle," Miss Mina Inhelder; "Improvisation in C Sharp Minor," Miss Marian Mulford; "Valse Styrienne" and "Danse Andalouse," Miss Mary Renner; "Tango Americain" and "Humoresque," Miss Martha Markytan; "Two Lakes," Wayne Root; and "Hornpipe," Miss Ethel Waid.

The music department presented Miss Martha Markytan and Franklin Philleo in voice and piano recital Tuesday evening and a good-sized audience enjoyed the selections. The program was as follows: "I Heard You Singing" and "Will O' the Wisp," Miss Markytan; "Sonata Op. 2 No. 1," "Adagio" and "Prestissimo," Mr. Philleo; "Blue Danube Waltz," Miss Markytan; "To a Waterlily," "Juba Dance," "Minstrels" and "Witches' Dance," Mr. Philleo; and "Night Wind" and "At the Mill," Miss Markytan. Miss Ethel Waid accompanied Miss Markytan at the piano.

The students showed excellent ability and training.

A New Responsibility

Caskets and funeral goods are in the "style" class now. The introduction of timely colors and designs in this field came in response to a demand from the public, which insisted on the same high standards here as are maintained in other details of modern life.

This establishment accepts the new responsibility. We have a representative offering of merchandise in our display rooms, and are prepared to give expert advice for the guidance of our patrons.

St. Paul Lutheran Church.
(Rev. H. F. Krohn, Pastor) Services in English, 10 a. m. Sunday school, 11 a. m. Parents, "Bring up your children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." Eph. 6:4. Luther said, "No greater harm can be done to the Christian church than to neglect the children." If we desire to render service to the church, we must certainly begin with the children. And that the devil should take this attitude, namely to make parents careless, is not to be wondered at. How could he permit that the little folks should be diligently trained? A fool he would be indeed to permit which would most certainly undo him. For if he is to receive a germ that is vital it must come about through a generation of little folks growing up in the fear of God."

Gladiolus Bulbs
Since I have more glads than I have room to plant, I am closing out my surplus stock at unheard of low prices.
Primulins Gladioli—A mixture of dainty glads of yellow, pink and white. Large bulbs, per doz. 25c
Large Flowered Mixed—All colors in a fine mixture. About 15 different varieties. Large bulbs, per doz. 35c
1910 Rose Glads—A light red flower with white lines on the lower petals. A rapid propagator. Large bulbs, per doz. 30c
Blooming Size Mixed—A mixture of perhaps thirty sorts. All will bloom this year, per 100 75c
One lady who purchased this assortment from me last year said that this mixture of 100 bulbs was actually worth $10. Order at once to avoid disappointment. It is not too late to plant. Do not send stamps.
My gladioli won first prize at four county fairs last year, Wayne county included.
