

Train Schedule Change Made

State Railway Commission Grants Permission To Alter Time.

Hearing Is Public

Company Will Provide Improvement In Service at Less Cost of Operation.

Nebraska state railway commission, at a special public hearing in Wayne last Thursday morning, granted the C. St. P. M. & O. railroad permission to make changes in passenger service on the Norfolk-St. Louis City line and the Bloomfield branch, the object of the applications being to improve service at a saving of cost to the railroad. The changes will save about $8,011.66 annually on the main line and about $8,318.85 annually on the branch.

The present service provides two trains each way daily between Sioux City and Norfolk, connecting with morning and afternoon main line trains. The proposed service, which goes into effect next Sunday, making the same connection with main line trains. Sunday service will provide one train each way between Norfolk and Sioux City, connecting with main line trains.

The railroad company in its applications requested new schedules on the Sioux City-Norfolk, Wayne-Bloomfield, Wakefield-Crofton, Sioux City-Crofton and Sioux City-Omaha lines. Besides enabling the company to operate at a saving of cost, the change will give distinct advantage to branch lines.

Postmaster Grant Mears of Wayne, was the only one entering protest to the new proposal on the Sioux City-Norfolk line. At present the morning train from Norfolk, bringing Omaha, Sioux City and Lincoln papers, arrives at 8:40 which is in time for both city and rural deliveries. The original proposal would bring this train to Wayne at 9:10, too late for the morning city deliveries. It was agreed to amend the morning schedule so that the train arrives from Norfolk at 8:55, making the delivery possible as usual.

The afternoon train, which according to the new arrangement arrives at 4:15, is too late for city delivery of mail. On request of Mr. Mears permission was granted to bring mail from Norfolk on the afternoon freight, which leaves Norfolk at 12:10 and arrives here at 2:30.

The new schedule provides that train No. 12 leaves Norfolk at 7:45 a. m., reaches Wayne at 8:55 a. m., Wakefield at 9:30 a. m. and Sioux City at 11:10 a. m. Train No. 11 leaves Sioux City at 4 p. m., arrives in Wakefield at 5:35 p. m., in Wayne at 5:55 p. m. and in Norfolk at 7:20 p. m. Train No. 9 leaves Sioux City at 8:45 a. m., arrives in Wakefield at 10:35 a. m., in Wayne at 12:20 p. m. and in Norfolk at 12:20 p. m. Train No. 10 leaves Norfolk at 3 p. m., arrives in Wayne at 4:15 p. m., in Wakefield at 5:05 p. m. and in Sioux City at 6:10 p. m. Trains No. 11 and 12 will not operate on Sundays.

On Bloomfield Branch. Application for change of schedule on the Wayne-Bloomfield branch will not eliminate any of the service now being provided between the points and it will increase the service by adding a Sunday train leaving Bloomfield at 12:05 p. m. and arriving in Wayne at 2:45 p. m. and leaving Wayne at 6:15 p. m. and arriving at Bloomfield at 8:15 p. m. Sunday passenger and mail service is provided in the new arrangement.

The present schedule provides that both trains operate from Bloomfield, via Wayne, through to Emerson. The proposed schedule eliminates the train's trip from Wayne to Emerson, but provides adequate connection in Wayne for either direction.

According to the new arrangement train No. 56 leaves Bloomfield at 6:30 a. m. and arrives in Wayne at 8:45 a. m. Train No. 57 leaves Wayne at 11:05 a. m. and reaches Bloomfield at 2:35 p. m. These trains operate each day excepting Sunday. Train No. 52 leaves Bloomfield each day at 12:05 p. m. and reaches Wayne at 2:45 p. m. and Emerson at 3:40 p. m. Train No. 53 leaves Emerson at 5:35 p. m., leaves Wayne at 6:15 p. m. and reaches Bloomfield at 8:15 p. m.

WEST POINT IS PROPOSING NEW ELECTRIC RATES

WEST Point is working out a reduced schedule of rates for consumers of electricity, proposing a maximum of eight cents and a minimum of three and one-fourth cents. This would work to the advantage of consumers if light and heat rates are not combined, as in Wayne, to the disadvantage of large heat users. The downward revision of rates in Wayne last fall, by reason of untiring light and heat, struck a snag in operating on big consumers of heat, and for such unfortunate the cost went up instead of down. For large consumers of light, the rate rearrangement proved a joyful let-down in overhead. As between heat users in the business district and those in residential sections, the former suffer disadvantage in operation of rates, and if a business installation happens to be a big user, he is altogether out of luck. It is a task to arrange an equitable table of rates, and it is understood the proper municipal committee in Wayne is at work to remove unfair discrimination and relieve distress caused by the late revision which revised the wrong way for big heat consumers. West Point will do well in revising rates downward to see that some of its rates do not go ballooning upward.

Build Addition To Store Here

Larson & Larson Structure Now Being Enlarged To Meet Growth.

Have Other Plans

Apartments on Second Floor Are To Be Remodeled—Plan Other Work Later.

A new one-story addition twenty-five by fifty feet will be built at the back of the Larson & Larson store at the corner of Second and Main streets in Wayne. Work in clearing away the old warehouse east of the store started Monday morning. The building operations will be completed in two months, according to R. L. Larson, who has planned the improvement to provide needed room for various branches of the business.

The new addition will house the grocery department which is in charge of D. H. Larson. A new, modern grocery store entrance on the south will be part of the new addition. The space now taken up by the grocery department will be occupied by the ready-to-wear and a new millinery department which R. L. Larson plans to install. The drygoods department will also be extended and the shoe section will be remodeled. The basement in the addition will be used for grocery storage.

Little Girl's Fate Is Severely Cut

Carol Jean Nicholaisen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nicholaisen of Wayne, sustained a severe cut on the right side of her face last week Wednesday when struck by glass from a broken car window. Mrs. Nicholaisen and children were enroute to Omaha when the accident happened. In going over a bump in the road near Altona, the car window was shattered, the little girl receiving a cut which required seven stitches to close. Carol Jean is getting along nicely. The other two in the car were not injured.

Woman Suffers Electric Shock

Mrs. H. W. Bonawitz suffered a shock of electricity Wednesday morning when she touched some electric wires while standing on a wet basement floor at her home. She was unconscious a short time but is improving nicely now.

Rearrangement of the Crofton line schedule out of Wakefield is similar to that on the Bloomfield branch, the same connection and service being provided. The proposal sought to give the Wynot branch one train daily each way, going from Sioux City out in the morning and returning in the afternoon. The company plans to use electric engines on the Sioux City-Crofton branch. The commission, with E. C. Blundell of Omaha, super-

Street Flusher May Be Bought

City Investigates Types Of Cleaning Devices Most Practical.

Gas Is Discussed

Council Makes Appropriation—Considers Reduction In Electric Rates.

Purchase of a new flusher for the streets of Wayne is probable, the matter having been discussed at the city council meeting Tuesday evening. In investigating different types of machinery the council sent a committee to Omaha to determine the practicality of the Omaha system of flushing streets, for Wayne. This combined truck and tank system works very well in Omaha where the pressure is stronger than in Wayne. Further investigation proved that the same system was also satisfactory in Sutton where the pressure is not so great as in Wayne. The committee investigating the flushing system in the two towns was headed by Walter S. Miller, but the matter is not completely settled yet. The tank will cost between $400 and $500, according to Mayor W. M. Orr, and the truck to carry it will not exceed $1,500 in cost.

Other business taken up at the council meeting included discussion of granting a franchise for natural gas. No definite action was taken in the matter. The annual appropriation ordinance was passed.

The question of lowering electric rates for light, heat and power was referred to the light and finance committees.

M. E. Aid Raises Money For Organ

The Methodist Aid realized $79.70 from the sale of tickets for a moving picture show which the organization sponsored June 4 and there. About thirty of the Wayne golfers attended. The local men won seven out of ten games. The following Wayne women also went to Randolph Sunday for the day: Mrs. C. M. Craven, Mrs. Paul Mines, Mrs. A. T. Cavagnari, Mrs. E. L. Long, Mrs. W. R. Hickman and Mrs. H. H. Hahn.

CENSUS RETURNS SHOW GROWTH IN TEN-YEAR PERIOD

RETURNS from the late census for Nebraska have been tabulated and published with the exception of eight counties, and estimating figures from missing counties, the result will show a population of about 1,400,000 or 100,000 above the total ten years ago. Growth is found largely in already populous centers. Due mainly to ascendancy of Norfolk which has reached seventh place among cities of the state, Madison county has stepped up from 22,511 to 26,024 in ten years. Wayne county has increased 839, growing from 9,725 to 10,564. Dixon county lost 229, slipping from 11,815 in 1920 to 11,586 in 1930. According to the census, Wayne city gained around 300. The increase is not large enough to crowd over, nor so large as the territory would seem to warrant. Rivalry for third place no longer rests with Grand Island, Hastings and Beatrice. This is, the order according to the late census with Grand Island considerably in the lead of former rivals: Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, North Platte, Fremont, Norfolk, Beatrice, Kearney, Scottsbluff and Nebraska City. Seventeen cities in the state rank above 5,000, and 108 show 1,000 or more.

Woman Is Fatally Injured When Car Hits Calf East Of Beemer.

Give Aid To Parties

Sedan Is Wrecked Near Fremont and Another Is Burned Near Lincoln Friday.

When returning from Diller, Neb., Friday evening Prof. F. G. Dale and son, Robert, saw three automobile wrecks and assisted parties in them. An Omaha sedan was killed in the accident near Beemer, a sedan was destroyed near Fremont, and another car turned into a ditch and burned south of Lincoln.

The Omaha machine, in which Mrs. Charles E. White and Mr. and Mrs. George H. White and son were going to Chamberlain to visit a daughter of the first named, struck a 500-pound calf just about three miles east of Beemer at 9 p. m., Friday. The blow turned the roadster over several times in the middle of the highway. Prof. Dale and son were just behind the Omaha car and stopped to help the Whites. Prof. Dale was assisted by the next machine coming from the east, this being a Wayne car, in which Foy and Allen Cross and Theodore and Cyrus Jones were returning from Tekamah. Prof. Dale, Foy Cross and Theodore Jones took the elderly Mrs. White from the wreckage and placed her in the Dale machine to take her to a Beemer doctor. Mrs. White died before they could reach Beemer. She was aged 63 years.

George H. White, son of the woman who was killed, was driving the car. He suffered loss of several teeth, sustained numerous cuts and bruises and a wrenched neck. His wife and son who were riding in the rumble seat were not injured. The roadster was wrecked.

Lady Escapes Injury. In another accident Prof. Dale and son saw five miles north of Fremont, a lady who was driving alone escaped uninjured when her Buick sedan skidded in loose gravel and turned over, rolling about 100 feet and being broken into splinters when it struck a tree. The woman was driving alone in her machine. She went too close to the edge of the road in passing another car and the accident followed.

Car Burns In Ditch. The Wayne people saw a car burning in a ditch south of Lincoln Friday. The driver had evidently lost control of the machine, which turned over and was destroyed by fire. Prof. Dale did not learn whether or not anyone was hurt in this accident.

Golfers Of Wayne Go To Randolph

Members of the Wayne Country club were invited to Randolph Sunday for golfing at the Hills there. About thirty of the Wayne golfers attended. The local men won seven out of ten games. The following Wayne women also went to Randolph Sunday for the day: Mrs. C. M. Craven, Mrs. Paul Mines, Mrs. A. T. Cavagnari, Mrs. E. L. Long, Mrs. W. R. Hickman and Mrs. H. H. Hahn.

Summer Term Is In Session

Registration For Period At Teachers College Here Is Large.

Classes Sectioned

Kearney Delegation Visits School Tuesday to Inspect New Hall For Girls.

Enrollment at the Wayne State Teachers College for the summer term, which opened this week, totals more than 1,000 to date and the number will be increased by some late registrations and by others at the opening of the second six-week period. In the college proper about 800 enrolled Saturday and Monday. The training school has an attendance of over 200. Most of the college students will remain for the twelve-week period. The training school will be in session four weeks.

A number of teachers of Nebraska and nearby states have registered for the summer for work toward bachelor degrees. There are also many young folks who just finished high school and are beginning their college work. Young men in the school comprise about one-fourth of the enrollment this summer.

Halls are filled for the summer period and many students have rooms in homes in Wayne. Others drive from nearby towns each day for their work.

Classes started Tuesday morning at 7:30. First chapel program was held Wednesday morning at 8:30 and will be conducted each Wednesday at this hour.

A few classes had such heavy enrollment that they had to be sectioned. Geography of North America and principles of geography are two in which registrations were especially heavy. Prof. F. G. Dale has this work. The two new sections are in charge of Prof. A. F. Gulliver. Rural school management and the Nebraska course of study is a class that was especially large. This was sectioned and Prof. A. V. Teed took both classes. Education, English and history classes are also very large.

Inspection Hall Here. A delegation of four from the Kearney State Teachers College visited the Wayne school Tuesday to inspect Neihardt hall. Kearney is building a new dormitory and the group came to see the one here. They were very favorably impressed with the modern housing for students in Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Thomas were the Kearney visitors who came to Wayne.

Plan Exercises Here On Friday

"Summer Time," "The Belts of Memory" and "A Dream Boat Passes By" will be sung by the Carroll high school girls' sextette which includes Mildred Grier, Elizabeth Gemmill, Regina Shannon, Opal Winget, Carrie Wilson and Mabel Behrend. A pipeorgan number by Mrs. Bressler will follow. Mr. Leeron addresses the class and audience on "Are We Responsible?" Miss Alma and Miss Louise Lautenbaugh of Winside, sing a duet. New Concrete Floor To Be Placed In Fair Grounds General Exhibit Hall

Entertainment Features Are Arranged for Program to Be Held in September.

Wayne county fair board, at its meeting Saturday evening in Wayne, voted to have a concrete floor placed in the general exhibit hall at the grounds this summer. The building, the main part and two wings of which were constructed last summer, houses the women's departments and agricultural products. Two additional wings will be constructed later. The board plans a few small improvements on fair grounds buildings this summer but no large projects.

Wayne county fair dates this year are September 10, 11, 12 and 13. The special entertainment features which have been booked for the fair include the Francis Trio, the Marsh Sisters and Sunshine, the Flying Thrillers, and the Lewis Strollers Musical Revue.

The Francis Trio is a comedy feature group presenting novelty pantomime numbers. The Francis boys in their clown act are said to keep the crowds they entertain each year roaring with laughter at the ridiculously funny pantomime situations which they are such masters in presenting. The Marsh sisters and Sunshine are high, trick and fancy divers offering an outdoor thriller. The three girls are all expert divers and make many hazardous plunges into a tank less than six feet deep. They perform at both the afternoon and evening shows in front of the grandstand. As an added attraction at night one of the divers plunges into a seething cauldron of fire from the top-most point of a towering ladder. A match is applied to the gasoline soaked costume of the diver just before the downward leap to the tank is made. Sunshine clown throughout the performance, drawing laughs one moment with his near-falls and then scaring the audience with hair-raising stunts on the ladder.

The Flying Thrillers offer a series of flying and return acts on the trapezes. Each of these flyers performs a complete repertoire of stunts in mid-air before he is caught by the man hanging from the opposite bar, and the young men accomplish their swivels, bars and complete revolutions in single and double somersaults in mid-air is amazing.

Probably the biggest attraction in the bill of special features is the Lewis Strollers Musical Revue. This large company presents a full program each evening, with a different performance each time as well. In the afternoon various members of the company present individual acts. The Strollers present an outdoor musical revue, and with their ample stock of colorful hangings for the stage, the pretty costumes and song and dance specialties they keep their performance bright and snappy. Conrad Hipp, who has the leading part in the revue, was formerly a screen comedian and he presents many funny skits and acrobatic stunts that he originated in the movies. Edna Trautman is a prima donna with a voice of quality and a very attractive personality. Other principals in this group who will entertain spectators in the grand stand are J. Y. Lewis, Addie Roth, Paul Mahar, Buck Schworm, William Simpson and Bert and Caroline Wendell.

Then he lifted the curtain to find out why the town had failed to attain deserved growth during the past ten years. He said too many failed to keep their money at home. He said they failed to pull together for the institutions that are here thus failing to strengthen the foundation for greater growth. He mentioned the bread wagons that roll into Wayne to absorb business deserved by local bakeries. He said if people in the business district would support one another, patronizing home industry—home production—and otherwise pulling together, and avoiding group differences and rival animosities, the town would be able to point to a more encouraging record of growth at the end of the next decade.

In conclusion Dr. Lutgen made a motion asking the chair to appoint a committee to investigate the needs of Wayne and to prepare a plan of procedure by which greater unity, greater growth and greater prosperity could be realized. The motion carried and the president announced that he would name the committee on due consideration.

DEVELOPMENT AND NEEDS OF WAYNE ARE POINTED OUT

FOLLOWING the noonday luncheon of the Kiwanis club Monday, talks touching the development and needs of Wayne were made by Mrs. C. O. Mitchell, local census taker, and Dr. S. A. Lutgen, owner of the Wayne Hospital and resident of this city for more than twenty years. Preceding the talks, Marion and Neva Jones delighted the crowd with instrumental music, and responded to an encore. Before introducing the speakers, J. H. Kemp, president, called attention to the twentieth anniversary of Rev. William Kearns ministry as head of St. Mary's church in Wayne, and suggested plans that were being made properly to remember the occasion.

Mrs. Mitchell was the first speaker. She spoke of the tests required in advance of the census to insure fitness for the work. The task was earnestly and persistently pursued while it lasted, and every effort was put forth to see that everyone entitled to be counted was enrolled. She put in as high as sixteen hours a day and often worked Sundays.

Mrs. Mitchell said that when she had finished the Third ward, she believed the city would show large growth, but when she began to sift the First and Second wards, her hopes began to drop. She found the increase in population in the Third ward. Many small families, often only two and sometimes but one in a family, accounted in a measure for disappointment in returns.

Mrs. Mitchell commended Wayne for the manner in which it responded to the census. She did not find one who could not read or write. She found no enforced idleness, people out of employment being that way from choice. She was not permitted to count the army of non-resident students of the State Teachers College, nor those who are employed here, but who sleep outside of town.

Dr. S. A. Lutgen spoke of the advantages of the Wayne territory, its freedom from floods and drought, and its un-failing crop production. He called attention to the superiority of its schools and churches, and the public spirit manifested in the provision of a needed hotel. He pointed out the enterprise of different privately owned institutions.

Then he lifted the curtain to find out why the town had failed to attain deserved growth during the past ten years. He said too many failed to keep their money at home. He said they failed to pull together for the institutions that are here thus failing to strengthen the foundation for greater growth. He mentioned the bread wagons that roll into Wayne to absorb business deserved by local bakeries. He said if people in the business district would support one another, patronizing home industry—home production—and otherwise pulling together, and avoiding group differences and rival animosities, the town would be able to point to a more encouraging record of growth at the end of the next decade.

In conclusion Dr. Lutgen made a motion asking the chair to appoint a committee to investigate the needs of Wayne and to prepare a plan of procedure by which greater unity, greater growth and greater prosperity could be realized. The motion carried and the president announced that he would name the committee on due consideration.

Ahern who went to Battle Creek several days ago to visit her daughters, Miss Margaret and Miss Marian, remained with Miss Marian. The two will visit in Chicago before returning to Wayne.

Tour Of Planes May Stop Here

Legion Invites Aviators Of Nebraska To Come To Wayne On Trip.

Reply Not In Yet

Miller and Strickland Plane of Wayne, Is One Entered In Coming Flight.

At the American Legion meeting held Tuesday night it was decided that the air tour should be invited to stop at Wayne. The air tour, which is being sponsored, by prominent aviation interests in Omaha and Lincoln and other Nebraska towns, will leave Lincoln Monday, June 23. As the fleet of planes will stop at Niobrara for lunch that day, it is quite possible the invitation extended by the Legion group in Wayne will be accepted. No definite reply has yet been received. If the fleet does stop here the planes will probably arrive nine and ten in the morning at the airport.

Between thirty and forty planes have already been entered in the tour by various groups over the state. The Curtis-Robin plane belonging to Miller & Strickland is the only one entered from Wayne. In case the tour makes the stop here there will probably be more than forty planes at the local airport, ranging in size from very large to very small models.

It is the purpose of the tour to promote interest in aviation and the sponsors are being assisted in every way by local civic organizations in the towns where they stop. A large oil company is supplying all gas and oil used by the planes and Legion groups and other civic clubs are furnishing meals, entertainment and lodging.

Starting from Lincoln June 23, the large fleet of planes will stop for lunch at Niobrara, and stay all night at Norfolk. They will then go to the western part of the state, stopping at Valentine, Hay Springs, Alliance, Scottsbluff, McCook, Holdrege, and Hastings and will complete the tour in Omaha June 28.

Because of the large number of planes included in the flight it will probably be necessary to start them out in groups of three or four at intervals of ten minutes or so, according to Guy Strickland.

We do not know of anything that hinders success more than careless, unthinking talk.

The city council is answering a real demand, made plain in a recent petition, by early provision of an adequate street flusher.

People of the Wayne trade territory which is steadily extending, will save many dollars each year by heeding Herald advertisements every week.

We have a suspicion that the same fellows who buy luxuries first and supply substantial needs last or when forced to do so are the same fellows who go to work when they can't play or who go home when there is no other place to go.

We are glad the city has re-marked parking spaces in the business district. They will insure accommodation of more cars and reduce danger of wrecked fenders. Now, if during busy days and nights, business men will leave their cars at home they will further serve the convenience of visiting shoppers.

Grant S. Mears, Wayne's postmaster, is the only man between Norfolk and Sioux City to appear at the hearing here last week to consider reduction of passenger train service, and through his efforts important concessions were made to avoid serious interference with present distribution of mails. Wayne will appreciate the fact that he was awake to possibilities and was prompt to act.

We fully sympathize with the character impersonated by George Bancroft at the local theatre the first of the week when he showed weakness in trying to wear a so-called dress suit and move gracefully in so-called high society. Far better to have an honest, unpretentious soul expressed in a rough exterior, than to be a crafty, conscienceless hypocrite bearing a smiling visage, soft hands and manners that meet the requirements of snobs and tinselled deceivers.

An authority on bathing—a noted physician who has studied the subject and thinks he knows all about it, advises at least one bath each day. Such frequent contacts with water are offered to insure health. Clean dirt is probably healthful, but as it is impossible to know when it is not charged with an army of diabolical germs.

It is deemed advisable to give the physical tenement a thorough going over with water and soap once in every twenty-four hours. As the world is three-fourths water there will be plenty to go around.

A community that is dominated by one church or one political faction or by a select group of business men is unfortunate. To make greatest progress and insure largest prosperity there must be practical democracy in expression and action. If a restricted circle—religious, political or commercial—is permitted to control, smothering the voice and influence of those of equal interests, popular condemnation is invited, and headway is hampered.

Among latest to fall prey to gangster outlaws in Chicago is a reporter for the Tribune of that city, and as a consequence all the other newspapers of the city have joined the Tribune in a war against the murderous gangs that have long defied law and long escaped just deserts. Total rewards of $55,000, mostly posted by Chicago newspapers, have been offered for detection of the guilty killers. The ruthless slaughter of the newspaper reporter is accepted as a challenge to the press—an attempt to terrorize the press—and the newspapers will meet the threat with all the force at their command. Evidently Alfred Lingle, the dead reporter, knew too much about the gangs and had been writing too much to suit them, and so they decided to get rid of him, at the same time issuing notice to newspapers to keep their hands off. The gangsters figured wrong. The result will stimulate newspaper attacks with no let-up until the guilty are punished and lawless gangs are brought under subjection. It is hoped the day of gangster terrorism in Chicago is over.

Time is a queer performer. It steps right along, dealing out surprises without asking questions or expressing any sympathy. The beautiful maiden in her teens may be faded at 50, but time permits her to retain a winning personality if she has retained cheerful good nature and is able to radiate the spirit of good will. The wholesome young man with ambition and high ideals, is dealt with gently by time. As long as he thinks good thoughts and keeps his vision fixed high, free from dissipation and aloof from the notion that the world owes him a living, time will regard him with favor, and he will scale the altitudes of old age preserved in health and warmed by genuine friendships. In scoring success or in lapsing into failure, time acts in a way that is not always understood. The precocious youth, regarded by family and neighbors as presidential timber, may later want a job from the fellow who, dull and unpromising in youth, was branded a failure by the same group of critics. People who nod their heads doubtfully, have not been taken into confidence by time and they are often mistaken.

The proposition of granting a franchise for the introduction of natural gas has been before the city council during the past few months. Representatives of the company asking for the privilege have been here at different times. One was here this week. As we understand the company asks for nothing beyond the franchise which is not exclusive. No guarantee of users is suggested. If the company cannot compete with other fuels, it would just languish for lack of support. We understand the rates are uniform over the state, and it is pointed out that if they are not low enough to warrant consumers, there would be no consumers. We are told that the company is building lines in the southern part of the state, and that a plant is now in operation at Aurora. Franchises have

ECONOMY.

In addressing Gen. Herbert M. Lord, lately retired director of the bureau of the budget of the United States, former President Coolidge is quoted as having said at one time: "I favor a policy of economy, not because I wish to save money, but because I wish to save people." Lord was an outstanding success in trimming expenditures and avoiding waste. It is mentioned that he not only dealt carefully with millions, but that he persisted in saving little things, pins, clips and rubber bands doubtless chiefly in order consistently to observe wholesome rules of conservation in small as well as big things. In his approval, Coolidge wished to emphasize ideas and practices of saving as a stimulant to human character. Extravagance and waste offend mainly fiber and tear down resolve and useful qualities. Economy does not mean miserly withholding the essentials of material progress. As it is employed by the former president, it means avoidance of unnecessary waste. It means to use everything to proper advantage. It means to inculcate habits of thrift that weave into men's lives elements of sturdiness and resistance. Nothing weakens the foundation of citizenship more than plenty of money and plenty of time in which to spend it without incentive to conserve and construct.

been granted in a number of northeast Nebraska towns, and it is expected extension of service will reach this territory in due time. People of this community will do well to study the question and find out if there can be any objection to granting a privilege which is said to depend on merit of price and service to survive. We understand the council has been giving careful consideration to introduction of natural gas and will come to a definite conclusion in due time.

THE NEXT WAR.

The Omaha World Herald thinks Major General Gilchrist's idea of making the next war an attempt only to wound and not to kill soldiers of the enemy worth if nations are ever again foolish enough to engage in war, it will be no play spell. As to the Gilchrist suggestion, the World Herald says: "America's tactical program for the next war, if any, as revealed in Omaha by Major General Gilchrist, chief of the chemical warfare service, has serious defects which might well be remedied before the fateful day arrives on which it is to be put into operation. "The plan, in brief, is to wound enemy soldiers, not kill them. It is General Gilchrist's theory that five able bodied men are required to attend each wounded man, whereas death removes from combat only those who are personally dead. "It is a pretty little plan but unfortunately, as is the case with so many plans conceived by the general staff in times of peace, it may not prove as sound as it seems. The school of military thought which favors death rather than maiming will not be without arguments when the shooting starts. "Wars are not won in one battle. The men who are wounded at Bull Run may return to the fray in the Wilderness. Dead men should no muskets but the wounded may hobble on to heroic deeds. "There is another possible and probable defeat against the general's neat scheme. The enemy might leave its casualties, dead and wounded, where they fall, thereby nullifying at one stroke the long years of study which produced the Gilchrist plan. Such a course would not be humane but there is a well founded suspicion that other than humanitarian motives guide the conduct of nations after hostilities start. "It is all rather absurd. America, or any other nation, will never send its armies into the field armed with weapons designed to leave the enemy writhing but alive. Death is the perfect, and perhaps symbolic, instrument of war. Every piece of ordnance carried into battle is designed to end life as efficiently and expeditiously as possible. If it sometimes fails, and permits life to remain in torn bodies, the failure must be laid to the imperfection of technique of its handlers or to the unavoidable accidents of large scale operations. "The purpose of war is to crush an enemy. The only way to crush an enemy nation is to destroy its defenses and kill its defenders. No rhetoric can alter the nature of the very grim business."

The Old-Time Fourth.

Dr. A. L. Bixby, Editor E. W. Huse of the Wayne Herald glimpses the Fourth of July celebration of not so many years ago when some of us thought it a privilege to take a "thirty-mile ride in a lumber wagon to see the goddess of liberty perched on a hayrack, surrounded by a group of bashful and giggling states, led by the town band as it played one of its two tunes." It almost makes one cry to think of it. And there was the industrial parade, the rag-muffins, the tubs of lemonade, and the grand display of fireworks in the evening.

I see again the stately marshal dash Around on horseback in his crimson sash. After the finish of the long parade, The people, on rude benches, 'neath the shade, Sit at attention for a song or two, And when that patriotic jib is thru, Hear what the declaration seems to teach; And then imported talent makes a speech, Praising the ones who died to make us free, Shouting Columbia's praise from a to z. After the speech—a splendid one no doubt, The loaded dinner baskets are brought over, And happy little children bravely stub Around amid a carnival of grub, Having for once of pie and cake enough, Exemplified in all that they can stuff. What more inspiring than the ancient rate Of speed at which we used to celebrate? We see no more the ancient wagon track; The modern flivver takes us there and back. For oratory people will not stand; The cannon cracker and the modern band Make all the noise and furnish all the fun Which now keeps up three days instead of one. This tumult is construed by brainless Hicks As something very patriotic. BFX.

Business.

Sioux City Journal: There are indications of improvement seen in various sections of the country but so far the advance in business gain has been slight. Trade and industry are reported better in the Philadelphia district. Commodity prices still show a decline but credit remains easy, and there is a distinct improvement in manufacturing since April. Meanwhile a national business survey completed and made public by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the National Business Survey conference, encourage the hope that good times are ahead. A better outlook in general trade is seen as a result of the survey. It was observed that there was an improvement in capital improvements, in large scale financing and stronger confidence in future earning power and a credit accumulations increase. Another indication of improvement was seen in Wall street during the last week. The market was firmer, although trading was on a somewhat narrower scale. The main group of investors and speculators is still waiting for definite trade news, but it was noticed that the key stocks on the list generally were higher. This indicates there is considerable confidence in industrials which form the foundation for market activity.

The National City bank, of New York, has issued a statement in which it admits it sees nothing on which to base the conclusion that there has been a sharp gain in trade. It warns, however, against pessimism, and suggests that conditions probably will influence a protracted period of waiting for the upturn. Revenue freight car loadings for the week ending May 24 reached a total of 931,472, an increase of 1,468 over the preceding week but a reduction of 130,616 below the same week last year. It also was a reduction of 89,931 below the figure for the same week in 1928.

Crop conditions in the corn belt are satisfactory. Planting is practically finished, and in this section of the country moisture is plentiful. Warmer weather for a better growing season is desired at this time. It is still appropos to observe that the proposed tariff bill is a menace to an improvement of the business situation, not only here but in various other countries. Freer movement of goods in international trade is needed. Enactment of the tariff bill into law would have just the opposite effect.

Critics of Government.

(Lincoln Journal.) "The personal rights of the citizen and of his property are the essential foundations of government; they should not be impaired by the excess weight which dreamers and faddists would add to the superstructure. We have too much government, too many laws and too many officers." Governor Weaver.

Governor Weaver, as a candidate for re-election to the office of governor of Nebraska, was addressing his remarks to the voters of the state when he made the above statement. He believes his position thus outlined will find favor with the voters, with the people who pay taxes and with the people who must bear the burden of too much government. It would seem that in saying what he did the governor was striking a popular chord.

On the same day the arm of government reached out to stay the payment of a claim for services by a precinct assessor in a southern Nebraska county who has held that the weather man could form a better basis for crop production programs than crop reports; that state marketing bureaus are "a burden on the taxpayers;" that crop reports are good advertising for real estate men, and that crops are a basis for credit rather than crop reports. The request that pay claimed be withheld is made, not on the ground of what the assessor said, but because he had not made the crop reports required by law. What he said was merely cited to show the assessor's attitude.

The assessor, if the charges made are true, is wrong. The law requires the making of the reports and they should have been made. His personal attitude toward the law could well have been overlooked had he complied with its requirements. The matter is regarded seriously and it is claimed the assessor has made himself liable to penalty. Nevertheless those who read between the lines will sense the same thoughts running through the mind of this assessor that the governor has openly voiced. The difference is that the governor obeys the laws, even though he may not think them wise or necessary. The assessor disapproves and does not comply with them. If he had made out his reports as required and had then publicly or otherwise questioned the wisdom of the law that he had obeyed, no arm of government could have reached him. Merit of his contentions is not in issue.

Are To Follow National Plan

District Christian Endeavor Association Meets In Wayne on Two Days.

Northeast Nebraska Christian Endeavor association, at its annual convention at the Presbyterian church in Wayne Saturday and Sunday, passed resolutions to further the cause of the crusade for Christ campaign which includes personal evangelism, world peace and Christian citizenship. It was voted to cooperate with the national organization in every way possible in promoting the work.

Realizing that the matter of law enforcement, especially as applied to the Eighteenth amendment, is of vital importance to the nation, the young folks assembled here resolved to pledge allegiance to the constitution of the United States in giving support to all measures for enforcement.

Whereas war is not consistent with the principles of Christ, the association voted to work toward the goal of world peace. Miss Dorothy Gulliver of Wayne, was re-elected president of the district association which comprises Wayne, Cuming, Stanton, Dixon, Cedar, Dakota, Thurston and Burt counties. Miss Christine Sedlacek of Pender, was elected vice president. Herbert Coughtry of Emerson, was named secretary, and Miss Barbara Wilson of Wakefield, was chosen treasurer. Rev. C. H. EDISON AND FORD.

Henry Ford explains his acquaintance with Thomas A. Edison, how he admired his pluck, courage and persevering genius. Edison started without capital aside from ambition and resourceful brains. He had a strong inclination to work, and now more than 80 years old, he still works. His first strong bent was in the direction of chemistry, but he developed into the world's greatest electrical wizard, giving more to facilitate industry and to enhance human comfort and convenience than any other one man. Ford suggests that Edison has done more to furnish employment than all the statesmen since the beginning of time. When Edison was a struggling young man, his parents helped him when they knew how to help, but they never stood in the way just because they did not understand his propositions and did not know how to help. Ford who also well understood the need of work, and was never slow in practicing it, was at one time in the employ of the Edison organization. Friendship between the two men started in 1896, and it has grown closer with the passing years. Both have appreciated the value of firm resolution and vigorous application to any accepted task, the importance of worthy and lofty aims, and the desirability of human relationships based on integrity and the square deal.

Heroic Effort

Made For Girl
Youth Travels Far In Short Time In Hope of Saving Life of Dolores Stiemers.
A 19-year-old Omaha youth rode a motorcycle eighty miles in seventy-five minutes to deliver a package of serum which might save the life of 9-year-old Dolores Stiemers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Stiemers of near Wisner, who was critically ill with blood-poisoning. In spite of this heroic effort, however, the little girl died late Saturday evening in a Beemer hospital.
On May 29 Dolores fell down, while she was playing about the farm home, and a splinter of wood jabbed into the fleshy part of her leg just below the knee. She was immediately taken to a physician who removed what he thought was the entire piece of wood and then as an added precaution administered tetanus antitoxin. The wound did not heal and when the child's condition became critical an Omaha specialist was summoned to the Beemer hospital where she had been taken. The specialist discovered a bacterial infection, "gas bacillus," which usually proves fatal, and operated immediately in an effort to save the child's life.
At 1:10 p. m. last Saturday an urgent call was placed with an Omaha drug house to secure a certain serum. Donald Nelson of Omaha, volunteered to carry the serum to Beemer by motorcycle, and in fifteen minutes was on his way, arriving there in seventy-five minutes after traveling eighty miles.
Hope for the child's recovery was not abandoned until late Saturday evening. She died at 9:30 p. m.
Funeral services are set for this Thursday in the Lutheran church near Pender with Rev. W. D. Krauleidis officiating. It is expected that the little girl's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stiemers of Anaheim, Calif., will be present.

Mock Trial At Methodist Church

A group of twenty-one local citizens assisted by two League men, will present "Who Killed Earl Wright," the murder trial of "Frank Lloyd" in mock, at a union meeting of the churches of Wayne at the Methodist church Sunday evening, June 15, at 8:00 o'clock.
A model court room will be set up in the church. The trial is designed to bring out the prohibition law enforcement situation as it progressed, with the prosecution "Frank Lloyd," or Marjorie Whitman, who takes the part of the defendant, and who is alleged to have killed his best friend during a drunken spree over a bottle of alcohol.
In addition to Mr. Whitman representing "Frank Lloyd," other parts will be taken by Wayne people as follows:
Judge, Prof. H. R. Best; bailiff, K. N. Parke; sheriff, Wm. Beckenhauer; coroner, Rev. P. A. Davies; prosecuting attorney, F. A. High; Frank Lloyd's mother, Mrs. P. A. Davies; defense attorney, J. A. Sandefer; Mrs. R. L. French, Miss Genevieve Wright; Tony Mankuso, Willard Willets; and court reporter, Miss Henrietta Hurstad.
The jury consists of the following: Walter C. Lowrie, Lester Vath, G. W. Costerisan, Mrs. Anna Thompson, Albert Bastian, T. S. Hook, Prof. A. F. Gulliver, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Wm. Watson, Walter Miller, Mrs. J. H. Kemp and Mrs. Will Fox.
The trial is taken from an actual case in an Iowa court. It has excited widespread comment wherever it has been presented as an impressive and dramatic presentation of the law observance and law enforcement responsibilities of the citizenry of the state.
This program is being given under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of Nebraska. Everyone is most cordially invited.

John Deere Tractor Binder

It Will Save Time And Money For You This Year And For Many Years To Come.

With the John Deere 10-ft. Tractor Binder you can actually cut your binding time in half. It's the ideal binder for handling heavy crops and crops that are tangled or down. In wet ground and loose soil, too, this binder will handle your grain faster, easier, and with less waste.

The reason for the superior performance of this binder in difficult conditions is that the binder mechanism is driven direct from the tractor by means of a power drive shaft. Thus, the speed of the tractor and of the binder mechanism can be separately regulated, assuring steady operation in all field conditions.

The same high-quality materials, workmanship, and design that have made the Light Running New John Deere Grain Binder so popular are built into the John Deere Tractor Binder.

Stop in and let us go over the many features of this binder with you.

Did You Receive a Copy of The Golden Rule Week Newsboy?

We aim to place a copy of it in every home in this community. It contains bargain news such as you seldom have a chance to read. Besides, it tells you of a free offer which we have for every homemaker who brings into the store a coupon which can be obtained from it, properly signed and filled out.

Our 1930 "Golden Rule Week" Has Rolled Around Again!

Nine great bargain days—nine days to demonstrate the worth of Golden Rule service in this community.

Golden Rule Week is a once a year event with us. We hold it in June, just before the busy harvest days. Golden Rule Week is devoted to the underpriced selling of many things that are needed in every home during the summer months.

This year prices are lower than we have been able to quote for some time. To be quite frank, price levels are gradually receding from the high war time. But the big governing factor in our prices during Golden Rule Week, has been the wonderful cooperation we have received from our regular manufacturers who have sold us special quantities of many regular items at prices which enable us to offer them during Golden Rule Week at far less than present day markets justify. They wanted to help us make this selling period, the largest in our history.

Come and take advantage of the Bargains which Golden Rule Week has awaiting you
