Dairying Develops Rapidly In State

Members of the Nebraska Dairy Development association meeting recently in Omaha, were elated over the promising conditions present and in prospect for dairying. During the summer butterfat advanced in price from 10 to 12 cents above the low point for the year.

The present year opened with a surplus of nearly 48 million pounds of butter in the country. Due to drought and a campaign to popularize the use of butter, the surplus has been wiped out and there is now a steady demand for manufacture. The conditions which confronted dairying in this state at the opening of the year have not been without recompense. Many unprofitable dairy cattle have been weeded out during the year, leaving the profitable milkers in the herds. The dairy development association will continue a campaign for the elimination of unprofitable animals from dairy herds in an effort still further to improve dairy conditions in the state.

Nebraska is now recognized as a dairy state with a large future. Climatic conditions and the presence of good water make ideal conditions for producing and maintaining dairy animals. The abundance of rough feed, with which the state is blessed, enables the dairy farmer to feed his cows at a minimum cost and select the right food to gain the highest production of milk with good butterfat content.

Nebraska is fourth state in dairying, being exceeded by Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa. With conditions here that exceed those in the other states, it takes no prophet to see that Nebraska is rapidly heading for the top of the list.

The total amount of butterfat sold in Nebraska in 1929 was 81,000,000 pounds, worth $34,215,745.00.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 33      Wayne, Neb., Thursday, October 16, 1930.      Vol. 4

Scientific tests and observations in a typical home have shown a heat loss of from 20 to 40 per cent at windows and doors. The United States Bureau of Standards fuel saving tests show a saving of as much as 15 per cent where the dwelling is protected with storm windows. We sell nearly every day now. It's not a pleasant job fitting them in cold weather. Wouldn't it be a good plan to let us have your order now?

Every time June comes to Wayne county we decide that spring is our favorite season, and then every year along about this time we change our mind.

The Sahara desert is full of heat. So is our Sahara deal. Price $8.50 per ton.

We thought the last car of rough boards would run us through this year, but we had to buy another car this week. There are very few who will use anything else once they see our boards. And the price is no higher.

The cedar posts in that last car are bigger and better than ever.

Sunday School Teacher: "Now what happens to a man who never thinks of his soul, but only of his body?" Freddy: "He gets fat."

Just the other day a farmer came in and said, "I want a hundred of those Banner posts—the ones bright orange." There's no getting around it, they're a big seller. Priced as low as 34c.

The smashing of a coupe, conveying a quantity of liquor, into a truck west of Omaha, and seriously injuring the two occupants of the former, emphasizes the fact that alcoholic spirits and motoring cannot be safely worked together.

As we understand, corn is out of the way of killing frost, and on the contrary it is believed a breath of kindness would not hurt the crop, in better shape for picking. In some parts of the county, husking has started, and the quality and quantity are usually found ahead of earlier predictions.

The amount of bank spread by political candidates in the hope of influencing different groups, seems to have increased in view of the high and discriminating intelligence of the Nebraska electorate. And these candidates on whom we are prone to frown, seem particularly weak and careless in that respect.

THE TIMES.

The League of Nations has lacked the problem of world depression, appointing a committee to look into the matter and find out what is wrong if possible in order to apply remedies and to head off similar calamities in the future. Students of economic conditions report that improvement is noted in some countries, notably in the United States. But a plan to prevent recurrence of market slumps and keep affairs on an even and upward keel is worth the best effort of best minds.

Depression is not due to lack of money in the country. Plenty of idle cash awaits industry or proper security. Some observers charge unemployment to underconsumption rather than to overproduction. Some think that improved machines and new methods have speeded up productive capacity beyond purchasing power. Unemployment follows underconsumption, and then comes lowered markets. One writer says the influence of party policies on economic conditions is largely a myth, though they are used to the limit by party candidates in trying to gain or hold control.

If north Nebraska is suffering from very hard times, it is a peculiar way of showing it. Witness prices paid for pure bred pigs during the past week and then let your mind recall periods when prices were really low and money scarce. Review prices paid now, and then think of pigs at $2 per hundred. Think of wages for ordinary labor at $1 per day and board and lodge yourself. Think of diversions in former times of stress—a mile ride in a lumber wagon to attend a church social which the pastor regarded approvingly, if nothing were done or said to suggest worldly pleasures.

At least north Nebraska's experience at this time bears not the remotest similitude to that which oppressed people in the old days. If one is not convinced, let him note the way everybody shells out for luxuries and amusements. The present depression is based largely on fear and the self-seeking delirium of political candidates. And fancied ground for fright is as disastrous as real ground. If it is encouraged and allowed to continue.

forward, were compelled to retreat with the steadily receding frontier. Columbus had a tough voyage. In the absence of steam which was unknown as a source of power, he had to hoist and lower sails to meet changing winds and conquer descending storms. Every inconvenience was suffered in finding this country, but most people agree that sacrificing effort was worth while and that the discovery would, he could return, he will be satisfied with results up to date.

Some newspapers are urging voters to elect a legislature entirely in harmony with the governor whom they choose. Thus, if Weaver is elected he should have a majority of the senate and house with him to support any plan of government which he may have in mind. Also if Charley Bryan is to be chosen, he does not want to be hamstringed and tied down by a recalcitrant legislature. This will be easy to arrange. All an elector will have to know to vote for the right candidates for the legislature is the identity of the candidate who will be elected governor. However, an opposing legislature is a convenient shelter for an executive whose proposed reform measures usually look bigger in absence than in operation.

In a speech at Seward, Neb., Senator Norris is quoted as referring to former Senator Hitchcock as a stickler for party regularity, whereas he, Norris, uses his own judgment and voted with out regard to party. He says he will do the same thing if he is reelected, and no one doubts that he will. But perhaps Norris' judgment was not always right. His opposition to Justice Hughes' appointment seemed indefensible. Many republicans have thus far discovered no good reason for his support of Al. Smith two years ago. But republicans who vote for Hitchcock, will go that far in harmonizing with Norris' idea in kicking aside party lines, and in doing so they will run the risk of conflict with the Hitchcock regularity to which Norris refers. Accordingly, republicans who vote for Hitchcock will agree with Norris, and republicans who vote for Norris will disagree with him. Whether Norris would rather have republicans agree with him and vote against him, or disagree with him and vote for him, we do not know. Assuming that Hitchcock is inclined to apply such regularity would apply to consideration of so few public questions that compensation involved in other state and national problems of vital interest would seem great enough to swerve popular judgment in his direction.

Inventory. Omaha World-Herald: A quarter of a century ago, two Omaha youths drew up a set of questions which they wished to put to each other 25 years later. The questions dealt largely with their successes in life, their achievements and acquisitions. The other day they kept the rendezvous. And they found exactly what everyone else would find if he analyzed his life's work against his boyhood ambitions. That dreams which have been realized or surpassed have lost much of their attraction but that thwarted desires still beckon with their old allurements. That is what keeps civilization traveling on the road called progress. Achievements and accomplishments cannot bring greater happiness. They can only produce novelty, a highly perishable product. The boy of 1930 finds no greater pleasure in a tiled bath than his father found in a wooden tub in a farm kitchen. Courtship is no more romantic in a roadster than it was in a top buggy. But hope springs eternal, and so we go on inventing and producing in the futile hope that the next invention will add to the pleasure of living. Perhaps that expectation, the anticipation of happier times to come, is, by its own right, the greatest pleasure of life.

SUCCESS.

We do not think success lies in merely unassuming great wealth, it lies in improving any line of endeavor in which one is employed and contributing to the progress and welfare of mankind. If one employs riches to multiply material conveniences, to enhance human comfort, or to extend fields of knowledge and usefulness, he is a benefactor in his possessions. If one uses his surplus to build up his estate or to improve his surroundings, giving stimulus to neighboring values and thus helping his community, he is securing success on a worthy material advantage.

The rich man who salts down every cent he can grab, makes no improvements that he can avoid, contributes nothing directly or indirectly to his community and even compels his family to practice unnecessary and often revolting self-denial, cannot be considered a success. If he sneaks and snags over the prospect of drawing on the exchequer held in his tight grasp, he is a failure in attaining any of the big things in life.

Making people feel rich, inspiring them to achieve more and bigger objectives, lending sunshine rather than shadows to life's highway, using a share of one's means to advance community growth and promote popular benefits would seem infinitely more successful than the course of the dwarfed soul who, freezing to unusually large possessions, worships his money, lives for and unto himself, does nothing to improve himself or to add one ray of light to the sum total of human happiness.

Success is bigger than dollars, but it may be helped by them or won in creditable measure without them.

Tolerance Is Key In Church Meeting

Tolerance in religious thought was the keynote of the United Lutheran Church of America convention which was in session the past eight days at Milwaukee and to which Rev. H. A. Teckhaus of Wayne went as Nebraska delegate. Rev. F. H. Knobel of New York, president of the organization, stated that the world suffers much by the barrier critical condemnations of their lives, and he urged the church to beware of the danger of prescribing rules, laws and tests for Christian life. It is characteristic, Dr. Knobel said, of immature Christianity to be critical, punitive, judicial and prescriptive. To resist such temptations, the speaker asserted, "let us learn more fully than ever the liberty of Christianity."

Speaks On Thrift To Wayne Chapter

Edward Huwaldt Addresses Daughters of American Revolution Saturday.

"Thrift" was the subject of the address presented by Edward Huwaldt, Carroll banker, before members of the Wayne D. A. R. chapter which met Saturday afternoon at the Huwaldt home in Carroll.

Thrift means progress, not alone financial prosperity. Thrift denotes individual attainment. The book of Proverbs and writings of Cicero, John Wesley, Benjamin Franklin and Simon W. Straus were quoted to show that thrift should be cultivated in one's character. Mr. Straus' quoted thought was that incitation of thrift is the greatest gift a nation may have.

Mr. Huwaldt showed how thrift is being taught in schools by its association with other subjects. He explained the project of forest preservation as one of the thrift ideas being taught.

Thrift is discipline. Just as an athlete must make a steadfast and continual effort to eat properly to develop best physique, the thrifty person must make just such an effort to acquire the habit of thrift.

Thrift is not only saving of money, Mr. Huwaldt explained, that careful spending is a part of thrift. He told of a little Jewish boy in Omaha who earned $35 a month selling papers. The lad put $20 each month into a bank and with the other $15 he bought his own clothes and helped his mother. He learned appreciation of money. Mr. Huwaldt told of another youth who earned considerable but spent it all. He designated him as not thrifty and stated that the lad is worse off than if he earned nothing for he is learning to waste money. In any income one should keep in reserve.

Be like the five of the ten virgins who saved oil and had in time of need. Investment requires skill. Mr. Huwaldt stated. More responsibility rests, he stated, on the banker in smaller towns than in cities. Bonding companies' investment funds of city institutions while the banker in a small place must use great care in investments to safeguard everyone. He stated that $500 put away for a child 10 years old would produce enough to keep the person who he designated as thrifty. Mr. Huwaldt also explained the value of life insurance and its possibilities of saving for needy times.

About 25 Wayne women went to Carroll for the meeting Saturday. Mrs. Huwaldt, Mrs. H. S. Seaco and Mrs. Paul Simon served luncheon. The chapter meets with Mrs. E. W. Hise Friday evening this week when Mrs. Adam McMullen of Beatrice, state D. A. R. regent, will be a guest. Mrs. Harry Tidrick, Mrs. Carl Wright and Mrs. Edward Perry serve.

Return From Trip To Western States

Mr. and Mrs. George Grone who arrived home October 6, from a trip to Colorado, saw many interesting places. They left September 24 and went to Denver by way of Columbus, Grand Island, Julesburg and Sterling. Traffic in Denver they found terribly heavy and persons there assured them it was lighter than usual.

Leaving Denver for Colorado Springs, the Grones left the regular highway at Greenland and drove through beautiful scenery in the foothills. This route took them to Palmer lake near which is elephant's rock, shaped like the trunk and head of an elephant. Main highways are all paved or graveled in Colorado.

Leaving Colorado Springs, the Grones went to Limon and Burlington, Colo., and then returned through Kansas. They found gas 4c cheaper a gallon in Kansas than in Colorado. They went through Goodland, Brewster, Norton and Marysville. They saw the wreckage of two freight trains which collided between Jennings and Clayton, Kan., September 28. Mr. and Mrs. Grone drove north from Marysville to Lincoln. They were glad to see this state's many trees again after finding so few in Kansas and Colorado. Cattle on pasture were also few in the other states. Crops look better here than elsewhere. The Grones visited relatives in Council Bluffs and Tekamah. They reached home after traveling 1,603 miles with no tire trouble. They experienced delightful weather with the exception of one day of rain.

Mr. Hitchcock presents himself as a Nebraska candidate, pledged to serve Nebraska interests and Nebraska citizens regardless of party.

He stands for a low tariff policy, under which Nebraska products shall be given the same measure of protection afforded the products of other states.

He is the publisher of Nebraska's greatest newspaper, The Omaha World-Herald, and his own interests are bound up in Nebraska's prosperity.

If elected to the Senate he will be a fighting senator for Nebraska.

VOTE FOR HITCHCOCK!

J. J. Steele

Candidate for Reelection as County Treasurer

35 years a resident of Wayne county. 8 years experience as present County Treasurer.

Your confidence and support at the coming election will be appreciated.

Thos. J. Pryor

CANDIDATE FOR

County Commissioner Third District

Mr. Pryor has lived on a Wayne county farm for forty-five years, and he has been a taxpayer for thirty years. Thus, he knows what it means to keep taxes down and make ownership of property as easy as possible.

Mr. Pryor understands the county's needs, and if he is elected commissioner, he will be on the alert to use his best judgment to carry out a broad-gauged and an economical public policy. If elected, he will do his best to justify your confidence.

Happy Chick News

This is station P-E-T-E back on the air for another season. I am not going to have any long-drawn-out speech or political talk but just state a few facts.

Smith. "How's the liquor question in the west?"
Jones. "Who had just returned? No question at all. Why in one town I was in, the water had been turned off for a week and the inhabitants didn't know it until they had a fire."

The American Steel & Wire Co., makers of Royal Fence, know what Royal Fence is and stand back of it.

Hospital Nurse. "You wish to see the young man injured in the motor accident. You are the lady he was with?"
Gwendoline. "Yes, I thought it would be only fair to give him the kiss he was trying for?"

We delivered Hugo Fisher's 16 by 16 Happy Chick brooder house Tuesday.
Jim Pile has been doing some cement work the past week and according to him there is quite a bit of work mixed with cement and gravel.

A Hebrew attended the funeral of a multi-millionaire and throughout the sad rites cried as if his heart would break.
"Who are you crying so for, Abie?" asked a friend. "He wasn't a relative of yours."
"Dot's why I am crying," sobbed Abie in a fresh outburst of grief.

Remember, we have Keep-Warm coal at $8.50 per ton. I don't think this coal can be duplicated anywhere at this price.
Colored Mammy. "I want to see Mistah Cummins."
Office Girl. "Mr. Cummins is engaged."
Colored Mammy. "Well, I don't want to marry him honey."

How 'bout some Kentucky Belle (the red hot soft coal with very little ash, if any).

I could go on telling you about people who are buying fence, posts, coal and building material but if I did the Wayne Herald would have to add five or six extra sheets to their paper, so I don't want to cause them that much bother this week.

This is the Happy Chick Brooder House factory, Wayne, Neb., the home of Red Top posts and good coal. Station P-E-T-E signing off until next week.

Teachers Announce Averages By Classes as First Month of School Comes to End.

High school graders suffered a 13-2 defeat in the West Point game here Friday, October 10. Nels Berger, fullback, was out of play because of sprained ankle, and Joel Lyman, backfield, retired to the side lines following injuries suffered in the first half. October 17 game will be Newcastle vs. Wakefield here, and October 24, local stars will meet Wayne training school here.

Records have been checked this week for the first six weeks of school. Seniors lead for the first month with only two per cent of the grades in the failure class. The freshmen, with six per cent, are second; the juniors have 13 per cent, and the sophomores have 24 per cent.

Debate activity will begin as usual as material arrives. Six members of last year's team will participate, and it is believed that others will try out for places. The state question will be used, although some considered the advisability of using the Iowa question, which deals with the chain store. Nebraska's question is "Resolved: That the nations disarm except for such forces as are needed for police purposes."

Grade Pupils Organize Citizenship League In Order To Get Honor Points

Teacher Gives Out Attendance Record for First Grade During Six Weeks' Period.

Good citizenship is being stressed in the recently organized third grade League, of which Kenneth Peterson is mayor, and Aldermen are the following: Catherine Caynaugh, Wilmer Ellis and Lyle Seymour. Acts in accord with the plans of the league will be rewarded by the presentation of pins.

Another interesting project in the third grade has been the making of slides for use in the new projecting machine. The students have drawn their own designs on paper, later transferring these patterns to glass, using crayon.

Exploration studies have been motivated in the intermediate grades by the use of a new globe. The story of Columbus has been dramatized as a special project. Penmanship awards will be worked for this week, the approved set of papers having been given to the pupils.

Make Health Posters. Health posters have been designed, made, and painted in colors by the members of the art classes in the third grade.

Visitors in the kindergarten room last week included Mrs. Wendell Thomas, who came on Thursday, and Mrs. Wilbur Hall, who visited Friday in the kindergarten and first grade. Mrs. Clarence Sorensen visited the kindergarten last week Friday.

Have Attendance Record. First grade pupils who are proud of their records for attendance are the following, who have not missed since school opened, six weeks ago: Hazel and Jimmy Thompson, Betty Ann Zepfin, Barbara Heine, Ruth Jean Phipps, Dorothy Beck, Betty Jo Giltner, Leah Jean Chauwe, Shirley Mae Powers, Harold Racherbaumer, Raymond Murray, Paul Peterson, Paul Harrington, Robert Haas, Donald McFerran and Roland Mahanke.

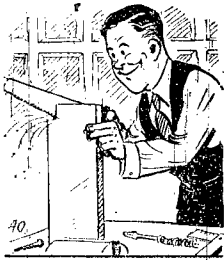

Lester Cartwright and Buddy McNatt missed last week because of illness.

Kindergarten pupils are intrigued by a new set of Patty Hill blocks, which has just been added to the equipment.

In the intermediate grades, Weldon Haug has been absent because of illness, as also has Dorothy Heidenreich. Betsy von Seggern, who was injured slightly in an automobile accident Tuesday morning, was obliged to be absent until the last of the week. Maxine Barrett was absent while her parents visited in this community from Wyoming. Pearl Barnes was another absentee during the week.

NEBRASKA REPAYS BENEFACTORS OF EARLY NINETIES

MANY residents of the state vividly remember the conditions prevailing in Nebraska in the early nineties. Prolonged dry weather and hot winds in 1893 killed the corn crop. Thousands of farmers and laborers were reduced to want. Eastern states shipped in clothing and provisions. The government provided free seed to plant the next year's crop. In the winter a horse could not be given away unless the owner threw in the halter. Times were so hard it got to be a puzzle how families would exist. Some mourned and cried. Others laughed it off in what was known as "the delirium of desperation." Many moved away. The best of the stock stuck it out and remained to see prosperously rise from the ashes of the worst drought in Nebraska history.

Now a new day has arrived. Nebraska is paying back its early benefactors. Hungry states are looking this way for succor from food scarcity. Into drought stricken areas immense quantities of Nebraska wild and tame hay are now being shipped. The Union Pacific reported a few days ago the shipment of 900 cars of hay over the lines of that railroad alone into the east under the relief act. Permits have been obtained for double that number of cars.

Nebraska has, an immense hay crop this year. The production is set at 4,296,000 tons, which is a good increase over the five-year average of 3,018,000 tons. Alfalfa, in which Nebraska excels, being first state in acreage and second in production, will be a great crop. About 20 per cent of the fields are yielding a fourth cutting.

Later the state will have great quantities of corn and other feeds for neighboring states that have suffered, as Nebraska did not, from one of the worst growing seasons experienced in eastern, southern and middle western states in fifty years.

By virtue of an order of sale issued by the District Court of Pierce county, Nebraska, on July 10, 1930, I will sell at public auction at the south front door of the Court house in Pierce, Nebraska, on Chancellor and Others of University Are Highly Pleased With Dormitory.

With a view of getting ideas for a new dormitory for girls at the University of Nebraska, Chancellor E. A. Burnett and the Wayne State Teachers College last Friday. Newark hall here, which was completed last spring at a cost of about $150,000, is considered one of the finest in the middle west. The arrangement, conveniences and furnishings have proved most satisfactory. Dr. A. S. Conn and Prof. E. J. Huntenger secured best ideas in many western states before the dormitory was finished, and the plans have proved very suitable. The university heads were highly pleased with the structure.

The university will have a dormitory to house about 350 girls at a cost of $350,000. A dining hall will be in connection. Part will be financed by the bonding plan.

Besides Chancellor Burnett and his son, who is an architect, Mr. Pearson, general superintendent of construction, and Mr. Wilson, architect, were in the group coming to Wayne.

but that one must concentrate, make an effort to acquire knowledge and use the proper books and other study helps if he is to gain information. The chief business of the school is to train for study, and this is sometimes neglected these days, the speaker asserted.

"Tests of a Good School" is another of the addresses given by Prof. Teed and in this he stressed a clean and neat work room, proper discipline, a well trained teacher and pupils with a desire to master subjects.

Tells About Plans For Roads In State

Addressing the Nebraska Good Roads association in convention at Grand Island, State Engineer Roy Cochran stated that Nebraska people are interested in two things in highway work, i. e., that the improvement be the type most adequate for the traffic and that full value be received for money spent. Nebraska now has 4,675 miles of gravel and 395 miles of pavement. Mr. Cochran reported. If all the money spent on road work had been put in pavement, there would have been 710 miles of pavement and no gravel. Minimum requirements for the next five years, it is estimated, would be 3,000 miles of gravel and 1,500 miles of pavement. The state has $6,500,000 from gas tax and $1,000,000 from automobile registrations. The plans would require $2,500,000 additional each year and this could be raised, Mr. Cochran stated, by an additional one cent gas tax. This is a good time to build roads, Mr. Cochran asserted, as prices are down. A mile of pavement costs about $22,500 and a mile of gravel about $2,500.

Home Tried Recipes

Seven Minute Idah.

This recipe has been used a great deal by Wayne women, who find it makes one of the superior icings for fine cakes.

- 1 scant cup of sugar.
- 1 egg white, unbeaten.
- 3 tablespoons of cold water.

Place the ingredients in the top part of the double boiler, over briskly boiling water and beat continuously for seven minutes, when the icing may be flavored, and should be stiff enough to place on the cake.

Baked Corn and Tomatoes.

(Miss Margaret Mines, Wayne)

Arrange sliced, peeled tomatoes and corn cut from cob in layers in a buttered baking dish, adding a little finely chopped onion. Season with salt and pepper, dot generously with butter, and cover the dish with soft bread crumbs. Bake thirty minutes in a fairly hot oven. Canned corn and tomatoes may be used and the baking time shortened.

Cereal Pudding.

(Miss Margaret Mines, Wayne)

- 1 cup cooked cereal.
- 1 pint milk.
- 1 tablespoon corn starch.
- 2 eggs.
- 1/2 cup sugar.

Juice and grated rind of one orange or lemon.

Mix cornstarch with milk and add to the cereal. Add the beaten yolks of the eggs, sugar and fruit juice. Bake until set. Beat the white of the eggs with two tablespoons of sugar, spread on pudding and bake until brown.

Deep Dish Apple Pie.

(Mrs. George H. Martens, Northwest Wayne)

Line a deep pie pan with crust, and fill with winter apples, cut as usual for pie. Sprinkle with flour, add about 1/2 cup of sugar, and dust with cinnamon. Last, pour over 1/2 to 3/4 cup of sweet cream, and bake.

Apple Sauce Cake.

(Miss Harrington, Northwest of Wayne)

- 1 cup of butter.
- 1 cup of sugar.
- 1 egg.
- 1 cup of molasses.
- 1 cup of apple sauce, unsweetened.
- 1/2 cup of raisins and currants.
- 1/2 cup of walnut meats.
- 1/2 cup of flour.
- 1 teaspoon of soda.
- 1/2 teaspoon each of allspice, cinnamon and cloves.
- 1/2 teaspoon of grated nutmeg.

Cream butter and sugar. Add well-beaten eggs, molasses, then the apple sauce. Mix and add the

Advice

The modern funeral director must be a business man as well as a professional man. If he does not know how to buy merchandise wisely and regulate the expenses of his service, his patrons are first to suffer. This organization has a capable business staff which guarantees efficient management. The economies effected in this way are passed on to those whom we serve.

OLIVER CORN PICKER-HUSKER

The new Oliver Two-Row Corn Picker-Husker does the work of a dozen hand huskers. Think of it! And it does this amazing amount of work with a thoroughness that is equal if not superior to the work of hand huskers, at a cost that represents tied rock figures for corn picking and husking.

Oliver's latest labor and time-saving machine—the new two-row picker-husker—picks and husks two rows at once will cover from 12 to 18 acres per day and save all the corn. It leaves little or none on the ground.

With this great machine at work harvesting your corn, the labor problem is one that will not worry you. A man or boy to drive the wagons to the crib and to turn them to the field is all the help required besides the tractor operator who also operates the picker-husker. This amount of help is all that is required to pick and husk from 12 to 18 acres of corn per day!

And when you have your corn in the crib, you can do custom harvesting for your neighbors at a profit both to you and them. Many of these machines will be paid for this season with savings and extra profits they will make for their owners.

Corn picking and husking is now made a matter of days instead of weeks, as formerly. You can have your corn in the bin before the snow flies if you have an Oliver Two-Row Picker-Husker. No need to still be picking and husking corn when the cold, disagreeable days of winter set in—no need to depend on "floating labor" for your corn profits. Whether you have 50, 100, 200 or more acres of corn, the new Oliver Two-Row Corn Picker-Husker will cut your corn harvesting costs to the bone—will have your corn picked, husked and out of the way in record time.

See us for complete information.

FIRE . . . . Enemy Despite Itself

By L. James Parker

Man's great friend, Fire, is often pictured as a villain, as an enemy, as "The Ravager," or what not. Are these pictures fair? Or is it just another instance of the human tendency to shift the blame wherever it may be most conveniently shifted?

Fire is truly Man's great friend, betrayed and forced to play the villain's role, at an annual cost, to this country alone, of nearly a half billion dollars and hundreds upon hundreds of lives.

The Burden of Guilt. Every person in America shares the guilt; for every person, either through direct carelessness or indifference, has contributed to the terrific loss and suffering caused by Fire.

We may easily ignore the fact that in taxation and insurance rates, we are personally charged with a part of every fire loss. But some day we may find it hard to ignore the charred ruins of a much-loved home, or to forget the cries of a helpless victim.

Nine Rules

1. Make sure that your match is out before throwing it away. You can't trust to luck.
2. When you have finished smoking, see that the last spark of your cigar or cigarette is extinguished. Don't let your pleasure destroy property and lives.
3. Take care lest dry waste or oily rags accumulate in some out-of-the-way corner of your house. Spontaneous combustion is not a myth. If conditions are right, fires will start by themselves.
4. Build your rubbish bon-fire where there is no danger of spreading, and watch it carefully.
5. Have your electric wiring inspected regularly, and repaired when necessary. Faulty wiring, short circuits and worn insulation are high in the list of Fire causes.
6. Avoid using kerosene, benzene or naphtha for cleaning purposes. They are highly inflammable and volatile. The fluid often ignites with the friction of rubbing, and fumes often seek out a distant flame. There are several safe, inexpensive cleaners which your dealer will recommend.
7. Watch your heating system, and chimney. They should be kept clean, and in perfect working condition.
8. Keep matches beyond the reach of your children, and your children beyond the reach of any kind of fire. The child has no instinctive fear of fire. He learns through experience, which may be too late.
9. Beware of leaving your forest camp fire before it is totally extinguished. Together with the carelessly-discarded cigarette, it is the source of forest fires that cost the nation millions of dollars.

Part of Everyday Thinking

We are urged to absorb the above rules as a part of our everyday thinking. We are further urged to build our homes with fire-proof materials, to heat our homes with the safest possible heating units, to keep our valuables in a safe deposit vault, to store our furnishings in a warehouse when we leave the city or move into a smaller home, and to insure ourselves unconditionally against Fire. The advertisers who sponsor this Fire Prevention page indeed merit our attention, respect, gratitude and support.

A WONDER IN TRAFFIC

Oldsmobile's ease of handling and quick responsiveness make it a wonderful car in traffic. Every control operates so smoothly and effectively. Clutch, brakes, gear-shift, and steering—all work with delightful ease. A touch on the throttle, and the car flashes away as the signal light changes. And it pulls down to a smooth, silent stop immediately, when the signal's against you. As for parking, just try it yourself. Pick a restricted space at the curb—and see how easy it is to fit Oldsmobile into that space. Then, when you've tried these things, try Oldsmobile on the road. Its all-round performance will tell you why Oldsmobile is such a great car to own.

Perhaps I may not get a chance to personally meet many of the people of this 3d congressional district during the present campaign. Keeps me pretty busy with official correspondence in behalf of the compensation claims of our crippled soldier boys of the late war, pension claims for Civil war and Spanish-American war veterans and their widows - rural mail route matters - and other official problems. But I wish all my district home folks to know that my name will be on the official ballots at the November election. I frankly confess that I would like to be returned for another term at Washington, there to renew the fight for a governmental square deal for all the people of this wonderful agricultural state of Nebraska.
