THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 19 Wayne, Neb., Thursday, February 19, 1931. Vol. 4. The trouble with a lot of singers is that they don't practice what they preach. Square know it's good. To those who brag or gossip this proverb should appeal. "The steam that blows the whistle will never turn a wheel." You don't have to chop, square or saw 4-Square lumber. It is ready cut at the mills. That's one reason why it saves you money. Just pick up a board and nail it on. This week we're attending the lumber merchants association meeting in Omaha. We believe it pays us to do this because we pick up much valuable information in these meetings each year. Have you ever found out definitely how little it will take to fix up your home the way you would like it? Come in and we'll be glad to give you an estimate. Kiln dried lumber. We've handled it for years. You can always depend on getting the best there is from us. You ought to see Mrs. Green's chintz-covered bed. 'Can't she get rid of them things?' Ask us anyway. We're pretty sure to have whatever you need in the lumber line. We believe there are more good, reliable people to the square foot here in the Wayne community than any other place in the country. Our coal delivery service is just as prompt as we can make it. Call 147. There are eleven reasons why you save money when you buy 4-Square lumber. "I went to a party with Helen last night." "No fooling?" "Well, a little." The last cold snap brought in a rush of orders for Rainbow coal. It's a wonderful furnace coal. Practically no ash, and full of fine, even, comfortable heat. Carl Granquist is making use of this fine winter to remodel and repair his home on west First street. Some of the lumber is 4-Square. Men who use 4-Square know it's good. George laid his hat- chet to a tree. His father said "that's pretty good; It surely would be far from me to spank a boy for chopping wood." Carhart Lumber Co. Wayne, Neb. Phone 147.

FAIRNESS NEEDED. Political parties may perform quite as valuable service in examples of candor and fairness as in trying to shape public policies and improve the functioning of government.

In congress and state legislatures party bias or personal ambition is often given preference over considerations of the popular welfare.

Conventions outside of political parties too often yield to palpably unfair methods to gain advantage.

Hold Practice Debate

Lower Grades Enjoy Excitement Valentine's Day Boxes During Last Week.

W. A. Behl's debaters went to present Thursday of last week to be one of the 25 groups competing for the $100 scholarship to Midland college. The competition began Thursday and continued through to Saturday, and was the largest of its kind to be held by the college. Wayne debaters who went with Mr. Behl were Max Hendrickson, Dean Wengar, Mary Norton and Mary Lane Morgan.

Plans are being made for Wayne amateur actors from the school to take part in the one act play contests to be held at Norfolk Feb. 27, and at Midland college, Fremont, April 24. Names of the plays and pupils who will take part in them will be announced next week.

Malvin Seymour and Sophie Darvine, who chaired the school notes this week.

Check Class Things.

Junior class members have selected their class rings, and have ordered them.

Scout troop 175 prepared a program to be presented before the assembly. The program opened with a service which included the recitation of the laws, and a reading of the various pledges. First aid and signaling demonstrations were also included.

Students have been searching for a new school song to be used at the games. The old school song, "The Colors," has been revived, and another is being considered. This song was "Mirabelle Bluffs," and to the tune of "Hail West Virginia."

Work Out Plays.

Expression class is enjoying work on two new plays. One is "Lullaby," by Edward Stellan, a woman's play, and the other is "The Other," a typical American scene, portraying life in the lower class. "Leon Pearson," "Opportunity," and "The American."

American history class made charts last week to show the increase of immigration through the years.

The class which was last semester devoted to agriculture is dealing with vocational guidance this term. Each Friday, some business man who is in the particular line being studied is asked to speak. The class has been enjoying these lectures.

Miss White Sees Beauty of South

Writes Enthusiastically From Houston, Texas Where She Is Sojourning.

"Hedges, trees and grass all green, and roses in bloom," mentions Miss Charlotte M. White in a letter written from Houston, Texas, where she is spending part of the winter. She adds enthusiastically, "The most beautiful city I was ever in. Its site is not picturesque, as the city lies on a level plain, but it has very fine residences of every shape and size, generally large, as a great many of them are apartments from two to ten stories in height. Many of the newer ones are of brick."

"Not," Miss White emphasizes characteristically, "the plain old red brick, but variegated from bright yellow to brown, and used in the latest and most varied styles of architecture." The yards lend much beauty to the landscape. Hedges abound, as do trimmed trees. Many of the grounds are fenced with woven wire, which is covered with clinging vines.

Mentions Fine Parks.

"Houston" abounds in fine parks," the letter continues. "There are two especially fine ones—one on the southwest, in what might be called a residence park. The original forest trees are

NEBRASKA CATTLE TO GIVE QUALITY IN CHINESE HERDS

There are three Nebraska Jersey heifer calves grazing quietly on the Wyck farm, southeast of Falls City, that are unconscious of the fact that next spring they will be loaded in a car, transferred to a boat and started on a long journey to the Orient. They are members of a company of Jersey cattle that are going to China to fatten and improve dairy herds in that far-off country. Their destination is a Chinese mission school.

The selection of the three head from the herd of Henry Wyatt was made by Dr. Ho-Ly-Yuen, Chinese physician, of Kansas City, Missouri, and C. T. Greaves of Independence, Missour. The mission school will receive twelve such calves in the spring, picked from Nebraska herds and herds of other states.

Nebaska natives have been calling the lazy natives of India to breakfast for many years and carrying packs for the British army. Now the rice bowls of China are to be enriched with a delightful ingredient of creamy color and texture that is derived from the udders of cows of a Nebraska strain almost unknown in that primitive country. In Russia graduates of the Nebraska college of agriculture are exhibiting to Soviet farmers the superior qualities of Nebraska hogs and teaching them to breed and raise and finish hogs for market in the Nebraska way. In Central America the natives call for Nebraska certified seed potatoes and will accept no cheaper substitutes.

These facts explain in a very definite way how Nebraska is coming to be known abroad for the quality of its crops and livestock. The Nebraska college of agriculture, the extension department of the University of Nebraska, the Nebraska state board of agriculture, the federal and state division of agricultural statistics and the county extension agents are having a large part in directing this splendid progress.

Madison Woman Seriously Hurt

(By Staff Correspondent.)

Madison, Neb., Feb. 13—Mrs. Joseph Rief, about 50, who lives on a farm four miles southeast of Madison, was seriously injured about 8:30 Thursday evening when she was struck and knocked down by an automobile as she was walking across a street in the residential district of this city.

The machine which hit Mrs. Rief was driven by Tony Tricenes, 21, who operates a delivery service here. He was driving a passenger automobile at the time, however.

Mrs. Rief was taken at once to a local hospital where it was discovered that she had sustained a compound fracture of one leg and possible skull fractures. She is said to be in a serious condition this morning.

At the time of the accident members of the Rief family in two different automobiles had stopped for a conversation, one car of each side of the street. Mrs. Rief had started to cross from one car to the other when she was hit by Tricenes' machine. Witnesses said that Tricenes was driving at a rapid rate.

A committee, including Mrs. Earl Wylie, Mrs. F. A. Moses, Mrs. Fred Baird and Mrs. Max Porter, served refreshments. There will be another party in March, the place to be decided later.

Mrs. Krause remarked last evening that there were only three of the young women students, including herself, in the commercial college which she attends who do not smoke. We are aware that smoking among women is becoming more common, but didn't suppose it is as common as that statement would seem to indicate. If stenographers indulge, what can you expect of the countless workers of lower rank? The inference is that they indulge, also, and, if so, there are a vast number of female smokers in the world. As a matter of fact, the number is no doubt increasing.

"No good reason occurs to your correspondent at the moment why it is worse for a woman to smoke than a man, but somehow the sight of a woman smoking in public gives one something of a shock. Perhaps, it is an old-fashioned notion which it will outgrow in time but it is still strongly entrenched and we do know this to be a fact that, generally speaking, women of the better class do not use cigarettes. Without exception, all the females we have ever seen smoking in public had a kind of a hard, defiant look; we have never seen a really refined looking woman or girl puffing at a cigarette on the street, although we do not deny that it might be possible.

"Travel and contact with various kinds of people tend to make one charitable, and from whatever observation your correspondent has been able to make, it is his impression that the average individual does the best he or she can under the circumstances. No doubt, there are some cases of deliberate wrong doing, but we believe they are the exceptions rather than the rule. The majority of people, we are convinced, try to do what seems to them right and, if they fail, the fault lies not so much within themselves as in their environment. Nobody but one who has come in close touch with the world can realize what many persons have to contend with, and that fact should make one charitable in the thought of the poet, "We know not what's best."

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meier took dinner last week Sunday with the Ernest Fraverts.

Personality. In no other business or profession is personality more important than in the work of funeral directing. For this task, touching so closely upon the most sacred things, people demand the service of one whom they know and trust. That is why we believe that the funeral directing profession will withstand the present tendency towards mergers, consolidations and "chains." An outside corporation, be it ever so efficient, and honest, lacks the personal touch that is so necessary at the time of bereavement.

Women As Jurors. Geneva Signal: The bill to permit women to serve on juries has met with favor in the Nebraska has Value Book. Plainview, Neb.—A Smith's geography, published about 1850 is prized by its owner, Mrs. Frank Philney, of this city. The book is 4 by 7 inches and one inch in thickness. Information concerning Nebraska is couched in one sentence: "Nebraska is a vast territory, inhabited by uncivilized tribes of Indians."

Hurt on Bicycle. Stanton, Neb.—Woodrow and Troy Chick, youngest sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Chick, Stanton, were bruised when the bicycle on which they were riding hit a telephone pole. The two boys were coasting down the school hill on a bicycle without brakes.

Many Old Trees Felled. Blair, Neb.—The woodsman's axe has been busy in Blair this winter and many old trees that had really become dangerous on account of size and age have been cut, making employment for several and also saving fuel. It is quite a common sight when driving about the town, to see huge piles of wood ready for the stove.

Boy Injures Hand. Wisner, Neb.—Feb. 14, Tommy, the 2 1/2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brazda, injured his hand severely in an electric wiring.

His little hand went entirely through the wire as far as the wrist splitting open the palm and taking off the thumb nail. Though painful and badly inflamed, his hand is healing nicely.

Chevrolet ANNOUNCING the installation of the HYDRAULIC PRESSURE LUBRICATION SYSTEM. We are now in a position to give Chevrolet owners the very finest, most thorough-going and efficient lubrication job obtainable anywhere—and for only a dollar! A new lubrication system—representing the very last word in modern scientific oiling and greasing equipment—has just been installed in our service department. Every Chevrolet owner knows how important it is to have his car properly lubricated. Many do not realize that the Chevrolet chassis has 33 vital points that must be oiled and greased at regular intervals. Obviously, this is the place to come to have that done. Not only is our equipment the very best obtainable, but Chevrolet mechanics are the only ones who know precisely when, where and how to lubricate all these 33 vital points. Bring in your car NOW! R. Antelope County Is Sowing Wheat Neligh, Neb., Feb. 13.—Seventy reports come of farmers in section having sowed spring wheat, among them Oris Brown who lives east of Oakdale. Several are also reported as having done some spring plowing. It is noted that the ground, in spite of lack of snow during the winter in good condition. In this connection it is recalled that one year in the early part of the season practically all the small grain was sown in the ground and after it in the February there came a heavy freeze and a fall of snow. It is feared the seed would rot in ground but the final result was of the best crops of small grain ever raised in this part of state.

an Open letter to Buick owners

February 7, 1931

Dear Buick Owner:

Because of its importance, we decided to inform you now that the present line of 1931 Buick Straight Eights will not be replaced by new models this summer.

Buick, as you know, has introduced its new cars on August 1st, year after year. But inasmuch as these new Straight Eight models have met with such spontaneous approval by thousands everywhere, Buick has decided to continue manufacturing the present Eights throughout the summer and coming fall.

This is mighty good news to thousands of Buick owners because they will buy new Buicks now with the knowledge that there will be no model change next summer.

They will find in these new Buicks a degree of performance that is certain to give them a genuine thrill. All have the safe, silent-shift Synchro-Mesh transmission. All have Valve-in-Head Straight Eight engines. And all have the famous Insulated Bodies by Fisher.

So well has the 1931 line been received that, out of every 100 eights sold in Buick's price class, 56 are Buicks.

May we suggest that you drive the Eight as Buick Builds It? Your Buick dealer will be glad to have you take the wheel and learn at first hand how much Buick Straight Eight performance adds to the joy of motoring.

Very truly yours,
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICH.

Esther Strate Is Bride on Sunday

Wedding Reception Is Held at Home of Bride's Parents in Early Evening Hours.

A company of friends and relatives assembled Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in Immanuel Reformed church for the marriage ceremony of Miss Esther Strate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Strate of Hoskins, to Albert Meierhenry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meierhenry, also of Hoskins. The Rev. A. Dupin, pastor of the church, conducted the double ring ceremony. The affair was marked somewhat by the inability of the parents of the bride-groom to be present as Mrs. Meierhenry has been ill. Miss Amelia Scheurich, another relative, is also ill, and could not come.

The bride wore a gown of white material and an enveloping veil of chiffon. She carried a bouquet of roses. Her attendant, Miss Della Meierhenry, wore a frock of orchid organza, and carried flowers in harmonizing tints. Mr. Meierhenry was attended by Reuben Strate.

Henry Ulrich played the wedding march, which was followed by an invocation, and the singing of "I Love You Truly," as a solo by Edwin Scheurich. Scripture reading and prayer by the minister, the Rev. A. Dupin, also followed. Harry and Edwin Strate sang as a duet, "I Will Trust You Always." The marriage sermon preceded the ceremony. "The Sunshine of His Glory," and the congregation sang the hymn, "In His Steps," at the close of the service. The organist played an appropriate postlude.

Mr. and Mrs. Meierhenry were honored with a wedding supper held at the home of the bride's parents, early in the evening. They will go to live on a farm four miles north of Norfolk.

make real men out of boys was introduced from England into the United States. This week the same organization, which is now the greatest of its kind, becomes of age. The Boy Scouts of America celebrates its twentieth birthday.

It has been an outstanding success from practically every point of view. Its membership numbers close to 6,000,000 men and boys. Many of the earlier scouts, who are now matured men, are leaders in the science and industry of America. Most of the nation's prominent men have seen the value of the movement and are lending their support to it.

But although the organization has been a success, it has been largely an urban affair. The vital factor in scouting, as in all organizations, has been found lacking in most of our rural communities. That factor is leadership. Few men are suited to successfully handle a troop of boys who are teens and still fewer are who undertake the responsibility of holding more services than could render to his community that would be of greater benefit to hold more importance.

In the cities there are organizations for boys which direct their work and help in proper channels, but in the country few if any movements, have been designed to give the farm and small town boy something that will not only hold its interest but will also help build his character. Hence it seems that the country in fact all rural leaders have had up a wonderful opportunity, to give their boys a real education.

The country needs the boy scouts to help make the boys into the men we would have them be.
