GROWING USE OF NATURAL GAS IS REDUCING WASTE

THE assurance of natural gas for Wayne does not relieve us of the responsibility of offering evidence as it may appear from time to time in support of the action of the large majority here. The suspicion that the source of supply would prove insufficient is refuted by a recent report published under a Washington, D. C. date line. The report states that while wastage of natural gas in California has been greatly reduced, nearly half the state's production of more than 554 billion cubic feet disappears into the air. It is said that in the Pan-Handle district of Texas alone more than a half billion cubic feet of natural gas is wasted every day. In eleven western states about 1,680 miles of new gas mains were laid last year, making a total of 24,018 miles now in use. New pipe lines now under construction will add thousands of miles to the list of users of natural gas this year. At many points natural gas is supplanting artificial gas.

REASON TO HOPE THAT MILD DAYS ARE TO CONTINUE

EVERY pleasant day tempts us to settle down in the belief that mild weather will continue without any angry bursts of wintry cold and snow-warmed by approaching summer and bathed in copious rainfall, but knowing by past experience the possibilities of April and even of early May, we hesitate to feel absolutely confident. Ever since the middle of November we have suspected that Old Boreas would descend without warning and put a quietus on genial sunshine and gentle zephyrs. But mild days multiplied weeks and months came without disturbing the unusual serenity of the elements. We had every reason to fear that March would cavort and rave like a drunken Indian, but so far it has proved an agreeable surprise. Its amiability may not continue, but while it lasts farm work is going forward and will be in good shape to stand a few interrupting blasts from the north pole if they happen to be let loose in our direction. But freedom from the wrath of winter in previous months was not less likely than continuance of gentle springing, merged with a break into the heat of summer. With plenty of moisture, a growing season of unsurpassed excellence may be reasonably expected. Besides, live stock, protected by mild weather, will be better than usual. As to prices for farm products, we trust they will improve as now seems the tendency.

GET ACQUAINTED WITH WAYNE AS A LIVE TRADE MART

THE Wayne business district is making Friday and Saturday of this week a pre-Easter bargain festival. A study of the advertisements in today's Herald will show unequalled opportunity in a live trade center. Comparisons with prices elsewhere are earnestly invited. People not accustomed to Wayne as their trading point are urged to come on the days mentioned and see if they are not amply warranted by the values and service found here. Wayne stores are replete with new stocks bought on greatly lowered markets, and it will be found that prices have been marked down to correspond with lowest prevailing levels. Many rare bargains are offered, and they should and doubtless will be turned to advantage. Roads to Wayne are good in any direction, and persons in the more remotely outlying territory will find justification in coming here. Wayne is deservedly growing as a trade center, and its pronounced merits are given special emphasis this week. Spring needs are pressing, and nowhere may they be supplied to better advantage than in Wayne. Here highest qualities, lowest prices and most cordial and helpful personal attention make shopping a pleasing and profitable experience.

Police Praised By Club Speaker

Carroll Methodist Pastor Relates Experiences in West Canada.

Efficiency of the famous mounted police who have made Canada a law abiding country was stressed by Rev. David Simpson, Carroll Methodist pastor, who addressed Wayne Kiwanians Monday following noonday luncheon at Hotel Stratton on his experiences as a frontier missionary for 16 years in western Canada. These officers, highly respected citizens, whose lives are full of tradition, have been a tremendous force for 55 years in bringing and keeping order. The Canadian police number 700. They are well organized in the cities and rural sections and supervise affairs as far north as among Eskimos in the Arctic circle. Though the government controls the liquor business in Canada, Rev. Simpson said, the country has bootleggers and this is one of the big problems for the mounted police. Foreign settlements have sprung up in the country and these often furnish problems as in this nation, he said. The police are well supervised by the government and are efficient in enforcing law. Few murders are reported in Canada under control of the officers. The Canadian government operates railroads in that country, Rev. Simpson stated, and the system works out efficiently. Rev. Simpson related experiences during his service as frontier missionary. He had charge of religious work in camps during 120 miles of railroad construction in the Yellow Head pass in the Jasper national park. He also served in lumber camps. Very often he conducted religious meetings in bunk houses where two or three poker games were in progress at one time. The pioneers in construction worked hard. For the most part they were fine men and the work among them was interesting, Rev. Simpson found.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 23. Wayne, Neb., Thursday, March 19, 1931. Vol. 4

We arise to remark that American progress will not falter as long as there are enough corners for the filling stations.

Our delivery service is yours. Use it whenever you need coal. Just call 147.

Paint prices are lower now than they have been for years. This certainly is the time to paint. A birds-eye view reveals that there are a lot of buildings that need it.

Henry Keeg just couldn't stand to hear those poor little chicks peeping around in the coop so he bought a $12 brooder house in which to properly take care of them. Small chicks and small pigs must be properly housed if profits are to be made from them.

They say it's bad taste to tell your hostess that you're on a diet. Simply eat the food or stay at home.

We've scouted around quite a bit lately, but we have not seen a stock of white cedar posts anywhere that can begin to compare to the carload we have on hand for your inspection. The price is no higher either.

What you say and how you say it is frequently not as important as what you don't say and when.

was when all shows modern home. For instance, why not put in polished hardwood floors instead of painted boards? Nearly everyone else has them.

Don't think of buying a brooder stove until you have seen our Sunshine. The nice feature about it is that it works. That's important in a brooder stove don't you think?

Pity the poor young man who put an anonymous matrimonial ad in the paper and got a reply from his fiancée.

A pat on the back when living is worth a bucket of tears when dead.

Speaking of posts, we received a shipment of Long-Bell treated posts last week. The preservative penetrates to the center and it is our opinion that they will last forty to fifty years. Look 'em over.

Our prize for clever advertising goes to the seed store that advertised: "If you need a dime's worth of seed, get a nickel's worth from us."

A fence is either to keep something in or keep something out. We have both kinds in the old reliable genuine AMERICAN.

Last week we served customers, three from Concord, two from Laurel and one from Carroll. They all said, "Wayne is a good town to trade in."

If your wife uses your razor to cut off cloth, here's a swell suggestion: Her powder puff is great for shining shoes. Try it.

"Lost you job as a caddy?" asked one boy. "Yep!" replied the other. "I could do the work all right, but I couldn't learn not to laugh."

Within the memory of most of us Main street was a mass of light and telephone poles. Then came the electroliners and after a lot of trouble and some arguments the unsightly poles were removed. Recently we note a tendency to again plant poles on Main street. If every business house were to set a pole near the curb, with a spot light on top of it, Main street would be a hick of a looking thing, now wouldn't it? In our humble opinion, no poles should be permitted in any street served by electroliners.

Being everlastingly on the job beats carrying a rabbit's foot for luck.

Consider Building Library Addition

Wayne's Women's Club Will Promote Construction If Satisfactory.

Wayne Women's club is considering building an addition to the library, according to action taken Friday at the meeting in the home of Mrs. R. E. Johnson. The club have about $6,000 from sale of the community house and other sources. If satisfactory arrangements can be made with the library board, the women propose building an addition at the rear of the library, giving the first floor room to the library for books and reading room and keeping the basement room for club meetings and other purposes. Definite action on the matter will be taken after the club committee confers with the library board and reports to the women.

The club sponsored a food sale last week and cleared $23.25 which will be given the girl scout fund. The scouts are raising money with which to build a cabin.

Officers were elected Friday as follows: Mrs. E. W. Hahn, president; Mrs. H. H. Hahn, secretary; Mrs. E. E. Gailor, treasurer; Mrs. G. W. Crossland, treasurer; Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh, auditor.

Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, membership chairman; Mrs. J. G. Miller, music chairman; and Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, publicity chairman. (Mrs. A. McEachen by virtue of her office of vice president the past year, becomes program chairman.)

Mrs. Hahn, treasurer last year, gave a report of receipts and disbursements.

The new club year began in March and several new members joined the group Friday. Because the business session took so much time, the program was not carried out as planned.

A social time closed the day and Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. C. K. Corbit and Mrs. H. R. Best served.

The women meet March 27 with Mrs. J. S. Horney, Mrs. H. S. Seale and Mrs. F. G. Dale.

Discuss First Plan for Club

scribed. Mr. Nuss mentioned this point in the organization of the club of Seward, as one of the special marks of efficiency. It will remain to the organized group to decide these matters, he adds, but it is well to get some of the first outlines before the public for early consideration.

Semi-Centennial Days.

Celebration of Wayne's semi-centennial, a project long in the minds of the people of the town, would naturally be one of the first responsibilities to be taken over by the club. Action on the proposed celebration started with the meeting some weeks ago of a group of citizens, who have met on several subsequent occasions to go over possible plans for such an observance.

Tuesday evening's meeting of this group was held at the city hall with Martin Ringer acting as chairman. Mr. Ringer was appointed to act as chairman of the group. George Anderson is secretary and Henry Theobald is treasurer. It was proposed for the group to investigate the cost and the activities of a celebration. The offers of professional decorators, troupes of entertainers and groups of musicians were read before the committee and were discussed, and a general consideration of celebration possibilities ensued.

"It is my opinion," stated Mr. Ringer, "Wednesday morning, after attending the committee meeting of the commercial club group, that all plans for a celebration in Wayne should be turned over to a commercial club, which is in a fair way to be completely organized within two or three weeks."

For Golden Jubilee.

With the commercial club practically assured by the interest of citizens along the street, Mr. Ringer and his committee feel that it would be best to turn to the new club for initiative in arranging the golden jubilee. It will not, of course, be possible to direct much activity toward preparations for the jubilee until the club is organized, and a secretary is established, but members of the club committee feel that organization will be under way soon.

Various considerations enter into these preparations. The expense of a jubilee celebration must be met, if the commercial club handles it, through the club budget. Committees from the club will be appointed, and under the direction of the paid secretary which the club hopes to have, will function toward the organization of the celebration.

As plans for the jubilee, many new ideas will be developed, semi-centennial enthusiasts feel sure. Plans for a parade, stunts for a program, features in decoration for the business section, and a general homecoming of old-timers will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of Wayne as a real observance of a great day. Funds as explained by the committee, will come from the club budget.

If the celebration goes into the hands of a commercial club, as members of Mr. Ringer's committee feel sure that it will, work will begin shortly, for club organization is under way and should be functioning within a few weeks. Further announcements will be made within the next week, when budgeting should be under way.

State Hotel Men Hear Gas Lauded

Hotel men of the state, meeting in Omaha last Saturday morning, heard natural gas praised as a source of fuel and heating power. Problems of hotel management in the smaller hotels were discussed, and the use of natural gas in hotels located in a number of the state's smaller places was a point of paramount interest.

George Mong, who operates a hotel at York, stated that he uses natural gas in his kitchen, with a 50 percent smaller consumption of fuel than with fuels having lower heating value than natural gas. Others made similar statements, and agreed on the greater efficiency of the new fuel.

Assure Wayne New Building

Appropriations for Federal Office Will Be Made Next December.

Officers Send Word

Senator R. B. Howell, and Representative Edgar Howard Give Information.

Wayne is assured a federal building but appropriation will not be made until December when congress convenes again, according to information received from Senator R. B. Howell, and Representative Edgar Howard.

Telegram March 12 from Mr. Howard of Columbus was as follows: "Appropriation for Wayne federal building authorized; $75,000 appropriation promised to be made in December."

Senator Howell writes Dr. J. G. W. Lewis March 9 from Washington as follows:

"This will acknowledge your letter of March 5 respecting a post office building for Wayne. Under the provision of the Public Buildings act passed in the last congress it authorized construction of federal buildings in all cities where the postal receipts exceeded $20,000 per annum, and Wayne was allocated $75,000. Your city stands No. 9 in the Nebraska group schedule to receive federal buildings.

"However, no funds were provided for the Wayne postoffice in the last congress and the matter will go over until the next congress when the Nebraska cities will be given consideration in the order of their postal receipts. That is, those with the greatest receipts will be taken care of first.

"The sum of $75,000 for Wayne provided for both building and site and the amount was fixed by the Interdepartmental committee under whose direction a preliminary investigation was made before the estimate was submitted to congress."

Doctors In City To Hear Address

A satisfactory system of providing health service to persons of little means and compensating the professional men who perform such services was discussed by Dr. Sinai of Ann Arbor, Mich., before doctors who gathered at Sioux City Tuesday evening. Dr. C. A. McMaster, Dr. L. B. Young, Dr. V. L. Siman, Dr. F. L. Perry and Dr. H. W. Casper of Wayne, Dr. R. E. Gormley of Winfield, and Dr. D. P. Quimby of Wakefield, attended from this section.

The need for medical care among needy is realized by several present day countries, England, Germany, Denmark and France are among the nations working on a system, probably backed by the government, to give the service and still provide doctors with just compensation.

Discussion followed the address Tuesday evening at Sioux City.

New Filings Made In District Court

George I. Parker, receiver for the Security State Bank of Wakefield, filed order of attachment in Wayne county district court March 17 against A. C. and Ruby Samuelson.

The case of Gurney Benshoof vs. Clifford Johnson, suit for $125 claimed due for a horse sale, was appealed to district court this week. County court found for the plaintiff, and the defendant appealed.

Dorothy Robinson filed suit in district court here March 13 against Andrew R. Oleson and William Von Seggern. The plaintiff, one of four heirs of Menke Von Seggern, claims due her a fourth share of $16,000 realized from a quarter section of land sold in Cumming county.

There were no consignments of stock shipped in during the week.

Charges Of Theft In County Court

Complaint filed in Wayne county court Saturday against three boys charged the youths with theft of five three quart bottles of beer, one bottle and a half of gin and tonics, all valued at $20, from the Edward Gurney 1924 Ford car Friday night. One of the boys was over 18. One was 17 and the other 16. The older boy pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $20 and costs of $3.05. He was permitted to give the amount to the court by weekly payments.

The younger boys pleaded guilty in juvenile court to petit larceny and each pays costs of $3.05 and is paroled to an adult for six months. During this period each is to attend to school duties, be employed, stay off the streets and report each week.

As the offenses were the first for the boys and as the court feels they are thus entitled to leniency, the Herald withholds their names.

Boy: "What are ancestors, dad?"

Father: "Well, are one of your ancestors, and your grandfather was another."

Boy: "Then why do people brag about them?"

We sold a six-pen brooding house to Henry Stuthman last week. It is to be delivered to Art Dryer 25 miles southwest.

Of course we sell this equipment separately, either the stoves or the houses.

We have two hard coal brooder stoves that can be bought dirt cheap.

We once tried winking at a girl in the dark and didn't get far because she did not realize what we were doing. We advertise because we do not want you to be in the dark about what we are doing.

Decadence Is Charged

HENDRIK Willem van Loon, eminent historian and philosopher, thinks our civilization is headed for the rocks. He makes comparison with the Roman empire in the year 300. It had made great progress. Surfeited with luxury and palled by ease, the Romans became indolent and indifferent, and their government collapsed. He thinks that while mechanical appliances have made wonderful advance, our brains have lagged. He thinks we do not need more leisure, but enlightened interest, more thinking and more earnest effort. He believes we lack enthusiasm, and that we may be caught in the rapping by some powerful and ambitious group, and thus be summarily set aside. Mr. van Loon does not sympathize with Bolshevists, but he thinks they are more intensely earnest than any other people in the world at this time.

We do not want to think Mr. van Loon is correct in his analysis and deductions. Many persons have become careless—wasteful of talent and time, but we believe enough of rugged fiber and of alert and resourceful brains remain to keep our civilization from going to pieces. The slothful and spiritless are conspicuous. The many who have their shoulders to the wheel, and who are doing really constructive work, pass by comparatively unnoticed.

Wealth dissipated in idleness and over-indulgence by one person often awakens a descendant who applies himself to a useful task, thinks his way to a higher stratum and reinstates pristine virility. The individual recoils from fear of degeneracy and is fired to fasten a firm grip on things that are worth while. Thus, revitalizing forces in our different groups ought to keep American civilization in a fairly upward and onward course. Sometimes it may seem a little disfigured through unusual periods of wasteful habits and mental indolence, but these act as corrective influences and finally swell the ranks of the earnest, resolute and progressive.

Accomplishments of science in the last quarter century refute the suggestion of mental paucity. Apart from mechanical achievements, a vast field for talent opens. It is the development of spiritual values. Negating self and translating selfish impulses into fellow helpfulness, supplanting suspicion and spite with confidence and good will, cannot fail to preserve civilization—cannot fail to keep intelligence aroused and whetted, suffocate bad, with good, and lift standards of thinking and living far above any hitherto known.

Holmes, senior associate justice of the United States supreme court, who has just observed his fiftieth birthday anniversary amidst the acclaim of admiring countrymen, gives emphasis to the saying that one is no older than he feels. responsibility, are usually disappointed. Liberated from accustomed duties, they feed aloof and alone, and time weighs heavily and wearily. Their experience warns against complete relaxation as long as health and strength last. The example of Justice Holmes, enriched by long experience and buoyed by sound philosophy, should be an inspiration. Still in the harness at 90, he looks back with satisfaction and ahead with confidence. With mind and body unimpaired, he performs his tasks on the bench with old-time vigor and relish, and with no desire to quit and finish his days away from the active currents of life. Some one is quoted as saying: "The work is never done while the power to work remains."

Proposed Celebration

THE COMMITTEE in charge of the proposed semi-centennial celebration will soon begin to function in earnest if a proposed commercial club, now in an embryonic state, is not soon developed to take over the work preliminary to the big home-coming. The celebration committee believes the task properly belongs to the commercial group and thus would shift the task to that organization if possible. But a commercial club which would answer many and varied demands, should hasten to the point of functioning at an early date to make it serviceable in present celebration plans. As now determined, if a commercial body does not get into shape to motivate in the near future, the original anniversary committee will go forward under a full head of steam.

Dr. A. L. Bixby who has just returned from a sojourn in southern California, complains that nature is letting loose of his hearing and that he is handicapped in trying to grasp and differentiate between wisdom and puff in conversation. But we would say that inability to hear has some advantages, especially in California where verbal pounding of the air to bolster and propel many and sundry booms and booms peculiar to the country would otherwise give distress and prevent peace of mind.

A bill to prohibit smoking in buildings and grounds of the state university, state normals or public schools is making progress in the legislature. Chewing tobacco may not be included because of the comparatively few addicted to that habit. Chewing is not so demonstrative as smoking unless one is indoors with no conveniences to accommodate the overflow. In an open and readily absorbing field, chewing is not so easily detected.

Steering around barriers is part of the price paid for success. Some unavoidably rough sailing is encountered. The bark may sometimes strike a rock or even spring a leak, but readiness for such emergencies prevents shipwreck. Every obstacle surmounted stiffens backbone and puts new resolution into spirit. Pain is friendly as a reminder of dangers, and hardships are helpful if they do not crush.

It is reported that James C. Stone who succeeds Alexander Legge as chairman of the federal farm board, is a pioneer in the cooperative movement in America, and that he is endorsed by farm organizations everywhere and many others interested in agriculture. And if he has the trials of his predecessor he will need continued and sustaining support from many quarters.

TODAY'S HERALD.

Circulation of today's Herald has been doubled, a total of 6,000 copies being issued with distribution complete in and around remote points, as a rule only partially covered by this newspaper. While the extra cost involved is considerable, the task performed by modern equipment in the hands of an efficient force is not great. Every week for a few years the Herald has been carrying copies to every corner of points by automobile to enable neighboring farmers to receive them the same day. Convenient train schedules permitted prompt service at other points. Speeding up delivery has been proved practical, and farming communities have appreciated the advantage of service on an equality with that of nearby fields. On telegraphed authority from the postoffice department at Washington, this week the Herald will employ automobiles to serve regular subscribers and extras in the farther outlying territory, so that no delay will be caused in reaching readers. In time with circulation properly extended and enlarged, the Herald may be warranted in making this service permanent. Those who are receiving copies of the Herald for the first time, are urgently requested to make careful examination and see if they are not sufficiently interested to become regular subscribers. This week's edition is not much better, if not worse, than the average. Each week it contains latest buying information from wire dealers whose prices will affect the economy so important and so much desired. See if it is not worth while to take this newspaper regularly and tie up with Wayne as a dynamic trade center.

Presbyterian Church.

(Rev. P. A. Davies, pastor)
 Thirtyfive of the young people of the church have been working for some time on the beautiful play pageant, "The Dream that Came True," and will present it Sunday evening at the 7:30 hour. It will be interesting to know that a few months ago this pageant was presented in several of the leading churches of Chicago. Among these were the Fullerton church, the Third church and the great Fourth church, some outstanding churches of our denomination. This in the mind of the pastor and many who have seen it, is one of the most beautiful and outstanding pageants we have. We have presented it in other churches and always to houses filled to their full capacity. We would urge you to see it. Come early and get a good seat.
 From Sunday to Sunday we are informed of others who are planning to unite with the church at Easter. An opportunity will also be presented for the baptism of children at that time.

MARRIAGE.

One reason young women look with growing suspicion of the advisability of marriage is because they have sensed the satisfaction of independent earning and independent buying. As new fields for women have opened, slavery to men's pocketbooks has become more unbearable. It has not been many years since a girl's only prospect was to marry and settle down in a home, often supported grudgingly by her acknowledged lord and master. Frequently when, in fear and trembling, she asked for money even for necessities, she was granted the request if not dodged, usually trimmed—in a spirit of hateful niggardiness. The law prescribed certain division of proprietorship, but in actual practice there was no division that was not yielded reluctantly. While many men realized the fairness of equality, many did not—either couldn't or wouldn't. As women developed talent for business and the professions, they vie wed advance a one-sided partnership. So marriage in the future to function amicably, must be based on equality in fact as well as in theory. A man cannot justly figure that because the pay comes to him, he is the sole owner and disburser, that his partner who plans and labors for the household, has no rights, no determining voice, beyond a mere livelihood. Marital codes are changing with the mounting independence of women, and they must keep on changing until partnerships are established on foundations of "absolute equality."

growing contest, writes to that publication a letter telling of his success in growing chicks so successfully. Mr. Zuhke raised 238 of 300 chicks started from hatchings of White Leghorn eggs purchased last March from the Colson hatcheries. Chicks were started in a battery brooder, where they lived for 18 days.
 At the end of the 18-day period, which was nothing like an 18-day diet period, for the chicks were well-fed, the young Leghorns were placed in a 14-foot brooder house. This young prize-winner lived in this house until September 2, when 10 percent production was reached, and 104 of the birds were placed in a laying house. By this time only two of the chickens had died, and none were lost thereafter.
 Between October 1 and 20 a total of 1190 eggs were laid. Mr. Zuhke says the cost per pullet was $1 cents and that the birds produced 81 percent production for the month of October.
 Mr. Colson is proud of a total of hatchery chicks and to hear of more prize-winners from Colson flocks'.

McCormick-Deering Farmall

THE Farmall is the practical power for planting and cultivating corn, cotton, and other row crops. Although several hundred thousand farmers, doing all kinds of farming, have found the ordinary tractor profitable and practical, there are many others who have been waiting for a tractor that will do all the work of the ordinary tractor and in addition do the planting and cultivating. The Farmall is the tractor these men have been waiting for. It not only supplies an abundance of power for plowing, listing, disking, pulverizing, harrowing, harvesting, and haying, but it is so constructed that it will do the planting and cultivating of such row crops as cotton, corn, sugar-cane, potatoes, beets, beans, etc.

CUTTING GRAIN
A Farmall hitched to a tractor binder will cut 30 to 35 acres of grain a day.

MAKING HAY
A Farmall equipped with a mower will cut 20 to 30 acres a day; pulling an additional mower 40 to 60 acres a day.

CULTIVATING CORN
One man with a Farmall 2-row cultivator can cultivate 15 to 25 acres a day, doing the work of 2 or 3 men and 4 to 5 horses or mules. When equipped with the 4-row cultivator he can practically double this acreage.

PLOWING
Under average soil conditions the Farmall will plow from 7 to 8 acres or more a day. This is equivalent to the work of 2 men and 7 or 8 horses or mules.

For Sale—Second hand Farmall, 1 year old in A-1 condition. See this one!

Increase Your Hog Profits

Raise more and better pigs with our movable farrowing houses. Farm experimental stations and hog raisers have proved it thoroughly. Old ways of housing pigs must go. The new movable farrowing house results in bigger litters, better thriffter pigs. The "McLain County system" of hog raising, widely accepted, calls for placing the sow in a movable farrowing house on fresh pasture. Our one, two, three and six-pen farrowing houses are the means of carrying out the McLain County system. We have all types and sizes to meet all needs.

Six-Pen Farrowing House, 16 x 16 Feet

Our six-pen farrowing house meets the approval of a great many hog raisers. The building is divided in such a way as to make six good roomy pens, each with a door to the outside, also making each litter easily tended by only entering one pen. All pen panels are full 3 ft. high, made of 1x6 rough boards securely fastened at intersections. It has four windows of three lights each, placed at such an angle that it floods the back part of the house with sunlight. The lower roof has four plate glass roof windows to take care of the front part. This arrangement gives direct sunlight to every pen during the latter part of February. The floor is made of 1x12 rough boards securely fastened to 9 crossoted 4x4 skids. Large individual pens. Can be taken through a ten-foot gate.

Our Farrowing Houses Are Built in Complete Units of One, Two and Three Pens

Here is a view of our 7 x 12 ft. farrowing pen house that is being used quite extensively by club members.

Three-Pen Sectional Hog House, Complete

7 x 18 ft. Additional sections can be easily added to suit your needs. These houses may be had with roof windows, or without floors. Can be hauled on a truck, all set up, from our factory to your farm.

Happy Chick Brooder The House That Stretches

Starting with the 9x12, this house can be extended in width or length by simply adding sections. It can be extended to the following sizes: 12x16, 16x16, 16x20, 16x24, or any desired length. All buildings are prepared for the addition of the extra parts. By this method you can start on a small scale and gradually increase your flock. All buildings are made of the very best material, and being in sections, can easily be taken down and set up. Wind-tight joints; weather-proof ventilated windows. All chicken houses are double-floored, with water-proof paper between. Buildings are well painted. The scratch shed is another useful addition, and may be had in lengths to fit the different type houses. Roosts are made 4 feet wide and by the use of dropping boards it makes your house sanitary and takes up none of your floor space. All buildings priced without equipment.

Complete Your Equipment With a Simplex Brooder Stove

Simplex Brooders

SIMPLEX is just what its name implies—Simple. Simple to install and simple to operate. Heat and ventilation automatically supplied in just the right proportions. Come in and let us show you how they operate. All of these buildings are made with lock joints which make them wind tight, a feature no other company manufacturing. They are all built in our modern, up-to-date shop from selected materials, by competent workmen. When you buy from us you are taking no chances on either material or workmanship. All houses are built in sections which make them simple and easy to set up. It will pay you to drive many miles to see these buildings and the way they are made. Prices are materially reduced over last year. In fact we can sell you these houses much cheaper than you can send for them and save you the freight. Come in and see us before you buy. We will be pleased to show you.

WORTH Crowing about!

1930 Was the Banner Year

ON JANUARY 10th more than 2,000 shareholders in Woods Brothers Corporation received the 73rd consecutive quarterly preferred dividend. Many of these shareholders are your neighbors; others live in adjoining states—in fact, practically every state in the Union is represented. In most lines of business 1930 is recognized as a poor year, but in the case of Woods Brothers Corporation it is the best year in its history due in part to the diversified nature of its investments and operations.

In the Construction Field

A dozen years ago Woods Brothers foresaw the certainty of inland waterway development. They recognized that the government would enlarge and systematize its program of river improvement and protect the investment already made in the interest of navigation and lower freight rates. Woods Brothers bought a steamboat and a barge and began protecting property from the erosion of the rivers. Today the construction department of Woods Brothers Corporation is the largest of its kind, having in use over 300 pieces of floating equipment and employing thousands of men. The volume of work done directly for the government by this department in 1930 amounts into millions of dollars, in addition to work done for railroads, municipalities, districts, etc. The government has pledged itself to make these inland rivers, navigable, and has authorized projects for navigation and flood control in the amount of approximately $700,000,000, to be spent within the next few years. This indicates the broadening scope of the field in which Woods Brothers Corporation is operating and it bears a basic relation to the development not only of the great Mississippi Valley but the entire country.

Industrial Development

While engaged in this river construction field there has unfolded wonderful opportunities in the making of industrial property on the water fronts of cities and towns, with the result that the Corporation acquired an extensive property at Kansas City at a very low price because of its then undeveloped condition. The Corporation had made this property over, protected its shore line, improved it along modern lines and has sold much of it for factories, warehouses, refineries and other industries on a basis that has made highly satisfactory profits. Such property as remains in the ownership of the Corporation has increased in value several hundred per cent. The prospect is that the profits from this field of activity will ultimately equal if not exceed the profits resulting from construction operations.

Other Fields

The Corporation is engaged in the development of city residence property in Lincoln, the growing capital city of Nebraska. This particular activity dates back nearly 40 years and has been a continuous source of revenue to the Corporation. The Corporation owns extensive corn belt farm lands acquired at low prices—bed rock values, and are being operated under the management of the farm department. As business conditions improve these lands will show an increase in value and will be sold at prices insuring profits. In all of these operations, departments have been developed to effect economies in the Corporation's business schedule. These departments have made most useful and profitable records.

Comparative Net Earnings

In 1928 and 1929 the net earnings of the corporation exceeded $750,000 each year before Federal Income Tax. For 1930 these earnings exceed $900,000.

Satisfied Customers

Satisfied customers are the best reference that any business firm can have. If you would talk with one of our 2000 shareholders about the Preferred Shares of Woods Brothers Corporation he would tell you that he is well satisfied because he knows his money is safe and it is earning him a man's wages. Then, too, he would tell you that dividend checks are mailed every three months—no coupons to clip—no interest to forget—no worry, the check comes regularly thru the mails.

If you are not familiar with the government's vast inland waterway and flood control program, or the operation of Woods Brothers Corporation,

Belt, 64, a farmer residing five miles east of here, shot and killed himself with a small shotgun some time Friday night or Saturday morning, it was reported by authorities Saturday following a preliminary investigation. The body of Belt was found on the farm where he lived alone, Saturday morning by Frank Dwight, Sheriff Iler C. Jensen of Thurston county, investigated the case and said Saturday that death probably was self inflicted. Belt was reported to have threatened to end his life on several occasions. He was said to have been without financial resources. He was last seen at Winnebago Friday evening. When found, Belt had a bullet wound in his right temple, and the gun was found beside him. Belt is survived by one son, Paul E. Belt, Winnebago, and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Aspenall, Leigh, Neb. He was a widower. Pioneer Resident Dies. Mrs. Rosalthe L. Warner, one of the pioneer residents of Madison county and the wife of the man who founded the town of Warnerville, died at 3:20 Saturday afternoon at the home of her son, E. C. G. of Lincoln; one sister, Mrs. Doris Smith, 85, of Curtis; one brother, Calvin Amsberry, 81, of Morton, Ill.; seven grandchildren, Frank, Mrs. Marilla Dale and Ed H. of Norfolk, and Dorothy, Don, Kermit and Earl, all of Lincoln; and by seven great grandchildren. Funeral services were to be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. D. A. Dickey officiating. Interment was in Prospect Hill cemetery. According to Lowell Thomas, the song "Tell Mother I'll Be There," which used to have the greatest pulling power in evangelistic services, has lost its ancient charm. The reason is, perhaps, that there's no use telling the modern mother you'll be there, because there's no telling where she'll be herself. Philadelphia Inquirer.

Business. Sioux City Journal: The condition of business in Iowa as determined by the bureau of business research in the college of commerce, University of Iowa, shows indexes at a low level, compared with a year ago, but favorable when compared with the nation at large. This bears out in an encouraging degree the reiterated assertion by economists that Iowa has been "a laggard spot" throughout the depression period, all things considered.

Incidentally, Sioux City frequently has been described as the "center of the broad spread" in this section of the middle west.

There has been no significant change in business conditions in the state, according to the bureau's report. However, it is advised that "indications point to a moderate revival of trade with the coming of spring." This is reflected in reports from all over the country. The upturn, while admittedly slow, actually is under way at this time, if indeed, industrialists, retailers and economists are to be believed.

In this state, says the university bureau of business research, there have been some gains, and there have been some losses. December last compared with the same month in 1929 showed a 29 per cent decrease in building contracts, including public works. Gasoline tax receipts were 22 per cent greater than in the same month in 1929. Consumption of electric power by fuels increased 17.4 percent while the total in this line showed a gain of 6 percent.

The other side of the picture is not so bright. Employment in December, 1930, showed a loss of 10.9 percent as compared with the same month the previous year. Life insurance sales fell off 19.1 percent. New motor-car sales were down 31.3 percent. Postal receipts declined 9.3 percent. Prices of farm products showed a loss of 18.4 percent. Railroad car loadings were fewer by 18.5 percent. Retail sales were off 8.4 percent, and wholesale prices for the country at large were down 15.8 percent.

Month to month employment gains in January were reported as follows: Burlington, 3.2 percent; Waterloo, 5 percent; Sioux City, 2.6 percent. In the state at large the employment situation is about 13 percent below normal.

Freight car loadings for the nation at large for the week ending February 28 were down to 682,000. The loss is due in part to the fact that Washington's birthday was in that week. The reduction, however, below the same week last year of 296,201 cars is significant.

There will shortly be some vacancies on the Farm Board, to be filled by deserving citizens who are looking for trouble.—Florence (Ala.) Herald.

Surprise Family With Land Gifts

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pflueger Present Property To Seven Children.

As a surprise to their seven children Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pflueger of Wisner, early Wayne county settlers, presented each with 160 acres of land of its equivalent, the donors to receive very reasonable annuities during their lifetimes. All the property is clear and represents the industry and saving of the Pfluegers during their residence here.

Mr. Pflueger, who is 68, and Mrs. Pflueger, who is 65, came to Wayne county in 1884 and lived here until 1921 when they retired and located in Wisner. Both are active and in good health.

Their children are Frank Pflueger and Mrs. George Roggenbach of Wayne, Charles Pflueger of Wisner, Mrs. W. R. Schmidt of Beemer, Mrs. Adolph Bergt of Wisner, Anton Pflueger of Wayne, and Mrs. Bertha Pflueger of Wisner.

Holds Land Grant. One of the interesting things brought to light in the situation was the revelation of an old land grant to the northeast quarter of section 28, in township 25 north, of range four east in Wayne county, a piece of land which has been in the possession of Fred Pflueger since 1886. The text of the land grant, as it appears in the flourishing manner of its day, is here reprinted as a matter of interest to those who know the Pfluegers. Their story is an interesting one of the building of an estate with a man's own hands, and the unique disposal of that estate to the best interests of the children who helped him in the years when they all lived at home.

Nebraska Is One
Continuing Tests

Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas and North Dakota are the only central western states that are keeping up their membership in dairy herd improvement associations, according to reports coming into the dairy extension service office at the agricultural office. Nebraska has twenty-nine testing associations at the present time, and will soon have another. The number has increased steadily for the last six or eight years.

Kansas has twenty-five, Colorado fifteen, and North Dakota nine associations. Each state has also increased the number steadily in the last few years. The number of dairy herd improvement associations in Wisconsin dropped about forty-five. Minnesota twenty-four, Michigan twenty, and Iowa one. From the highest number these states have had in the last few years, Missouri had lost two associations on the first of January and will probably lose seven or eight more during the first part of this year. South Dakota has lost two and Oklahoma four associations within the last year or two. On January 1 Nebraska ranked twelfth in the nation in the number of testing associations, and had 15 percent of all the cows in the state in the organizations. California led the list with about one-sixth of their cows on tests. Other states ranged from less than 1 percent up to 3 or 4 percent.

Singing Tower Is Impressive Sight

Andrews Party Returns on Wednesday From Sojourn in Florida Cities.

Boys' great singing tower near Miami impressed W. C. Andrews more than anything he saw on the Andrews' recent trip to Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rennie returned by motor Wednesday afternoon from a southern trip of several weeks' duration, and brought home many new impressions. Of all impressions however, they agree that the most striking is the one of the gray and pink granite tower, standing 205 feet high over the Lake Wales country, and sending out its extraordinary chiming music at stated times. The carillon in the tower is played by the musician between 3 and 3:30 in the afternoon of six or seven days. The musician chimes in favor of the tower, usually hymns and well-known airs which the listeners recognize as the bell-tones around. The carillon, it has been explained simply, is a set of bells in varying sizes, so arranged that they may be played, by a trained musician, to make a complete scale of tones or, in combination, a tune. The carillon in Bok's tower includes 71 bells, the smallest weighing three and four pounds, and the largest weighing a great deal more than that.

Attracts Large Crowds.

The singing tower was erected by Edward Bok, of the Curtis Publishing company. It is a memorial to the tower which he kept as a sanctuary. On one side of the building, Mr. Andrews stated in describing the place, are a sundial and a calendar carved in the stone. The dedication was made by ex-president Coolidge, Feb. 1, 1929. Tropical flowers, trees and shrubs fill the tower park. Pink flamingos stand in the pools below the tower, reflecting in the gorgeous plumage the colors of the tower. Birds have been imported to the small preserve, and live sheltered lives among the vines and shrubs. Everyone who visits the place is impressed with its air of peacefulness.

Large crowds come to the park on days when the bells are to be played. One of the strangest things noticed by Mr. Andrews commented, "as the fact that carloads of people would wait for hours to hear the carillon, and would leave almost before the first number had been played. It was a matter of saying they had heard the music, and that was all." The music is similar, the Andrews say, to the sound of chimes, although the notes are more resonant, and the sounds blend perfectly into a harmony.

Encounter Much Rain.

The party encountered much rainy weather in Florida for only two days of their fortnight's stay in St. Petersburg were fair. The day before their departure from the city, about two and one-half inches of rain fell, so Floridians seem to be getting their share of the moisture needed so direly in other sections of the country. Much of the time spent in Miami, seven weeks in all, was cloudy, chilly and damp. The group had anticipated more sunshine, and so were rather disappointed in Florida's brand of winter, although the many interesting places visited, and the radical change of scene were refreshing.

Oranges and other citrus fruits are doing well in Florida this season, and the local prices on oranges are very low. It is the shipping cost which makes the fruit so expensive in the northern markets. The finest orange groves they visited, Mr. Andrews believes, were the ones in the Lake Wales district.

See Great Changes.

Great changes have been wrought in Florida since the beginning of the great "boom" period. Colossal buildings which were started when money seemed plentiful have been abandoned, and stand open to the sky and unfinished. Great additions to cities have been marked off, fitted with light posts, sidewalks and streets, but no houses have been built. The great expectations of the period have not been fulfilled, although Floridians feel, with the rest of the world, that all conditions will improve as the present year advances.

"There are plenty of people traveling in Florida," Mr. Andrews admitted, "but the merchants say that the crowds are spending very little money."

Visit Bible Class.

One of the most unusual features of life in Miami is the large Bible class which is conducted on Sundays at one of the great theatres. The men are given the large auditorium for their meetings, and the women's classes meet in the balconies. Leading musicians in Miami contribute to the programs, giving musical numbers, and helping to entertain the large audiences which gather on every Sunday. Important ministers in the city give short addresses, holding the interest of their hearers by the force of their own tongues.

NEBRASKAN LAST
SURVIVING MEMBER
MONITOR-MERRIMAC

JAMES H. McKenzie, resident of the Dixon county farm at Ponca, is believed to be the last survivor of the famous naval battle between the Monitor and Merrimac. He observed his 90th birthday a few days ago. Although a Civil war veteran he served for another man and has no way of establishing his right to a pension.

McKenzie is a native of Scotland. He grew up in the Scottish shipyards. He ran away from home at 17 and joined a regiment of Scottish Highlanders. He deserted which made him a sailing vessel which made port at Boston. There he enlisted in the Union navy to go to the place of the son of a merchant who had been drafted. He was assigned to the Constitution, or "Old Ironsides," as the ship was called. When John Ericson, the Swedish inventor, was bringing the Monitor to completion, McKenzie was assigned to that boat and was a member of the crew when the strange looking craft with its revolving turret arrived at Hampton Roads shortly after midnight on March 9, 1862. The new arrival cast anchor behind the stranded Minnesota which had been run aground by the Merrimac. Next morning when the Merrimac steamed out to complete the destruction begun the day before, the Monitor, flying the Union Jack, darted from behind cover and opened fire on its giant adversary. The southern crew, taken by surprise, promptly named the Monitor the "Yankee cheese-box on a raft."

The battle which was the first to be fought between ironclads lasted four hours before the Merrimac bowed to its smaller but superior adversary. The cheese-box had proved to be an efficient fighting craft.

McKenzie came west after the war and was connected with the Indian service as butcher for Indian agents. He is the last of his family and soon the brave crew of the Monitor will have lost its last earthly representative.

Poultry Mixture
Is Recommended

Lincoln Neb.: The poultry husbandry department of the college of agriculture suggests a mash concentrate composed of the high protein ingredients of a mixed feed which can be used for chicks or laying hens. The faculty of the department recommended that the poultry raisers mix a thousand pounds of the concentrate at a time and then add it to the farm grown feeds as needed.

If the poultry raiser himself is not able to buy and mix the concentrate, it may be possible for him to get it thru his local mill, elevator or hatchery, the college poultrymen believe.

They suggest this formula: 825 pounds of meat meal, containing 49 percent protein, 250 pounds of U. S. No. 1 alfalfa meal, 100 pounds dried butter milk, 75 pounds ground limestone with a 98 percent minimum of calcium carbonate and 50 pounds finely pulverized salt to make the thousand pound mixture.

This concentrate would contain about 40 percent protein, less than 15 percent nitrogen, free extract, 8 percent crude fiber, 4 3-4 percent fat, 24 percent ash, 8 3-4 percent water.

Two hundred pounds of the concentrate should be combined with 500 pounds yellow corn meal; 100 pounds ground wheat or shorts, 100 pounds bran, and 100 pounds of pulverized oats or barley for a chick mash. Three hundred pounds of the concentrate with 400 pounds yellow corn meal, 100 pounds ground wheat or shorts, 100 pounds bran, 100 pounds pulverized oats or barley will make a good mash for laying hens.

The surplus of farm feeds which are extremely low in price at the present time, lead the agricultural college poultrymen to recommend the use of home grown feeds, during 1931.

WAKEFIELD TRUCK
GOES OFF GRADE

The truck belonging to Connor & Son of Wakefield, struck a guard rail three miles south of Allen last week. Several posts were torn down.

A group of 2,570 persons gathered for the service one Sunday. Mr. Andrews visited two or three of these meetings, and pronounced them most enjoyable.

Nebraska Women
Honored in Nation

Two Nebraskans have been selected as worthy of recognition in a list of twelve whose lives and deeds have conferred honor on the nation. They are Miss Grace Abbott, head of the child's department of the United States bureau of labor, and Miss Willa Cather, novelist.

Miss Abbott was born at Grand Island. Her father was O. A. Abbott, first lieutenant governor of the state. After graduating from Grand Island college, she received a master's degree in political science from the University of Chicago law college. For several years she directed the Immigrant's Protective League in Chicago, then went into government service, rising finally to her present high position. At the resignation of James J. Davis, secretary of labor, last fall, Miss Abbott was under consideration as his successor. In Washington she has served on a number of welfare agencies. To Geneva, Switzerland, she went as delegate from the United States to the League of Nations commission on traffic in women and children, giving to this high position the benefits of her long and extensive experience in social and welfare work.

Miss Cather came to Nebraska at the age of nine from Virginia. Her parents were ranchers near Red Cloud and their neighbors were Danes, Swedes, Norwegians, and Bohemians from whom Miss Cather got the material for many of the characters of her books. She finished high school, graduated from the University of Nebraska, was newspaper writer, taught English in the Allegheny, Pa., high school, was feature writer for newspapers and magazines. From 1902 to 1912 she was managing editor of McClure's magazine. Her first novel was "Alexander's Weekly." Her last is "Death Comes to the Archbishop." Between these are four other novels that have fixed her fame as a writer and delineator of character.

Trainloads of FARMALLS
Going Everywhere
This is the Most Useful!
Most Popular Tractor!
Besides the Farmall we also have the popular McCormick-Deering 15-30 and 10-20 (3-Plow and 2-Plow)
NO wonder this tractor is popular—the McCormick-Deering Farmall for the first time gives the farmer a real all-purpose tractor. It is ideal power for all crops, all fields, all jobs, and all the time. There is no off-season for the Farmall.
The Farmall is the ideal tractor for every power machine in its power range, whether it runs by drawbar, belt, or power take-off. Its short turn, wide tread, extra-high row clearance, and other special features of design fit it perfectly for planting and cultivating of corn and other row crops.
FARM WITH A FARMALL! The Farmall and its equipment will show you a better, handier, more economical, and more profitable way to farm. Ask us to demonstrate it for you on a piece of ground 20 by 40 feet, and working with a mower or cultivator. Climb on the seat yourself and drive the Farmall. You will see why it is popular.
One man with a Farmall can intensively farm up to 200 acres. It replaces 6 to 10 horses and 2 to 3 men. It plows two perfect furrows and it can't be beat at the belt. Its capacity for work is astonishing—plowing 7 to 9 acres a day, double-disking 18 to 25 acres, drilling up to 45 acres, planting 50 acres, cultivating 30 to 50 acres, mowing 30 to 60 acres, and doing other work in proportion. And it is the easiest tractor to handle on the market.

Early Days in Wayne County normal schools, passed the lower branch of the legislature without a single dissenting vote. Says the Herald: The forces to control the Hoag's question, arguing up on each side. It is understood a quiet campaign will be made by both sides for and against the licensing of saloons. There will be no fire fire, but each side will quietly pit forth its strongest effort to win.

From the Winside department of the Herald comes this item: The miscellany who broke four of the large glasses in Jerry Jorgensen's business house last Friday night should be hung up by the thumbs. It is thought he probably would get adequate treatment if it was one of the most diabolical acts ever perpetrated in Winside.

The senate committee, which investigated the condition of the state normals over the state pronounced the original building wholly unfit for the purposes of the normal school, although the crowded conditions necessitated its occupancy. The report concluded: "The phenomenal growth of the state's normal school evidences the fact for the necessity of their existence. The state should have followed a policy more liberal toward its institutions of learning."

From the Ponca Journal, March 31, 1931, come these interesting bits: March came in like a lamb and went out like a lion. It was a good and peaceful month. But now, to verify the old adage, March has laid aside its lamblike qualities and is going out like a lion. Worse indeed, than a lion. It is going out roaring like a whole herd of mad buffalo bulls. Verily, from the end of winter, a tail flourish which slingsh like a scorpion and litesh like a serpent. Perhaps the end of the world is at hand. Who knows, and if such weather as this continues who cares? It is colder today than Greenland's icy mountains, and the wind blowing from the northwest at the rate of 150 miles an hour, is loaded down with spears of frost, like frozen lightning which penetrate to the innermost recesses of body and soul.

On March 19, W. A. Hiscox, who had sold his livery business in Wayne, closed a deal for the purchase of the Vogel hardware store, taking possession at once. Some of the younger men in the college class in physics constructed a detector for wireless waves with which they were able to "pick up" messages at a distance of a quarter of a mile.

Waste Time. (Lincoln Journal). "We can't waste time with men as far behind the march of civilization as he," Senator Norris speaking of Senator Watson. The progressive conference in Washington has gotten under way. The progressives are dissatisfied. The republican party does not please them. Neither does the democratic party. Neither would it might seem, a progressive party if one were organized and could stand up long enough to be criticized.

Most of the progressives at the conference are individualists. They cannot accept without reservation any political doctrine which might prove acceptable to a substantial portion of the public. They can agree on a few points. But there are always several issues which seem to these individuals to be paramount and upon which they cannot stand with the two parties or any party which might be organized.

It was made clear at the meeting that no third party was contemplated. "We are not," Senator Norris pointed out, "pretending to be a political party; we are not here for the purpose of organizing a political party." The road of a third party is a rocky one. Third party efforts have rarely gained the wholehearted support of all the progressives.

ADVISE FARMERS ON CARE OF SEED CORN

The Omaha Journal-Stockman carried the following article concerning the care and use of seed corn. Its recommendations are simple and easy to follow: The seed corn situation in eastern Nebraska is not as good as might be expected after the mildest winter in years. Many of the germs have been killed by freezing. D. L. Gross and F. H. Stewart, both of the College of Agriculture, have found in judging local corn shows this winter. Late corn and the peculiar weather last fall are responsible, they believe. Humidity was high and there was little wind to dry out the ears before freezing weather came.

NEBRASKA IS CONSPICUOUS

Omaha World Herald: Forbes to Nebraska. It must make Nebraska look good to all the rest of the country. North, south, east, west, Nebraska is the only state throughout whose entire expanse business is reported good. And that means Forbes explains that "it is actually good now." Elsewhere good business is found only in the major portions of Iowa and South Dakota, in western Colorado, northwestern Kansas, and southeastern Wyoming, all adjacent to Nebraska—and all part, by the way, of Omaha's trade territory.

NEBRASKA IS CONSPICUOUS

The explanation of the better conditions prevailing in this section may be found in the fact that it was the first to be "deflated," and so naturally is further ahead on the hard road to recovery. It is tributory to the recovery is the fact that our industries are based on the farms and in the cities and towns alike. They keep going whether times be good or bad. The farmer plants, plows and harvests; the railroads operate with relatively little curtailment, packing plants, creameries, flour mills, continue to produce the foodstuffs the people everywhere must have whether in adversity or prosperity. There is therefore much less of an employment than elsewhere. Profits shrink more than payrolls, but business, on the whole, is much the same as usual, except for the "boom" years.

Home Tried Recipes

Suggestions for Appetizers.
Tomato juice, thoroughly chilled, harped with a trifle of lemon juice, and seasoned with a little sugar, salt and paprika. Pour over crushed ice and serve.
Smoked salmon, served in thin slices on lettuce or crisp is an excellent appetizer.

An assortment of appetizers served on a large silver or glass plate and passed at the beginning of the meal will appeal to many. Included in the assortment may be stuffed olives, pickled walnuts, fancy pickles, a variety of olives, fancy pickled cucumbers and vegetables from the homemaker's own garden.

A party cocktail is made by allowing and removing the seeds from melons, which must then be chilled. Sprinkle with lime or lemon juice and fill with a mixture of sliced peaches, halved and seeded blue grapes, with just enough sliced maraschino cherries to add color. The fruits should also be chilled and sprinkled with powdered sugar.

Special Pudding.

2 egg yolks or one whole egg
2 cups molasses
1 heaping teaspoon soda
1 cup boiling water
1 cup flour
Cinnamon and cloves to taste.
Stir and mix. Steam this pudding an hour and a half. A good recipe to serve with it may be made with sugar, butter, flour, a little sugar, boiling water, and lemon extract for flavoring.

Stewed Date Pudding.

Always the Wise Course.
Omaha Journal-Stockman: When commodity prices get down to a point where the producer is losing money, he has his choice of doing three things. He can get out of business, cut production costs, or, by advertising and other means, stimulate demand for his product, which in turn will advance the selling price.

Fortunately, the proportion of farmers who get out of business voluntarily or otherwise, in times such as we are going through at present, is comparatively small. The great majority is fast learning the value of the other two roads that are open.

If there is sufficient demand for what the farmer raises, the price will take care of itself. It therefore seems logical to assume that the best marketing function that any farmer or any other producer can perform himself with to any profitable extent is in creating that demand. The same economic law that has made current attempts to ward off price regulation so futile will come to his rescue the minute that demand attains the ratio to supply that is necessary to make profitable production possible.

How much better off would the wheat, wool, and cotton growers of the nation be today if the government had taken that $500,000,000 and used it in advertising these commodities and determining ways and means of cutting production costs? Even what the Farm Board has lost in its operations, so far would go a long way in either direction.

While the government was busy using its funds for these purposes, many farmers who have been concerned over marketing methods could have devoted some of their brain power to figuring out for themselves more economic production methods.

That they would have benefited is shown no more clearly than by the fact that, even with conditions as bad as they have been, the farmers who have concentrated their efforts on low-cost production are the ones from whom the least complaint has been heard. They realize that an hour of thought devoted to efficient farm management, or ways and means of stimulating demand for their products, is worth a whole day spent in trying to figure out ways and means of defeating the invincible law of supply and demand.

SUGGESTS RATION FOR DAIRY COWS

Two hundred pounds of ground snapped corn, 100 pounds of ground wheat, and 100 pounds of ground oats will make a fairly satisfactory grain feed to use with alfalfa hay for dairy cows, M. L. Flack says in answer to a farm inquiry. This grain mixture can be prepared at about a dollar per hundred pounds, Mr. Flack believes.
The dairyman might add thirty pounds of oil meal to the 400 pounds of farm grain but very few dairymen are buying any feed of any kind with butterfat prices at present levels.

Another ration which Mr. Flack suggests is composed of 200 pounds of ground snapped corn, 200 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of oil meal. Nebraska farmers, particularly those who milk cows, for additional income, can use their horse grown grains to advantage even with butterfat prices as low as they are, Mr. Flack believes. This will be particularly true from now until the first of middle of June when the pasture is at its best. It may not be necessary to feed grain to any extent thru the heavy pasture season, but grain should again be added to the dairy cow's ration when the flies get bad and the pasture short in late summer or early fall.

World Famous COMMANDER with free wheeling

EVEN without Free Wheeling, Studebaker's world famous Commander Eight would still be the biggest value for the money in America.

The Commander is a car of generous wheelbase—124 inches—a comfort further enhanced by Studebaker's famous ball bearing spring suspension.

The Commander engine develops 101 certified horsepower—the greatest power per cubic inch, with two exceptions, to be found in any American motor car. The two exceptions are the engines of cars costing, roughly, $1000 and $3000 more than The Commander!

Commander performance and comfort thus form an ideal natural background for the joy, the economy and the safety of Free Wheeling.

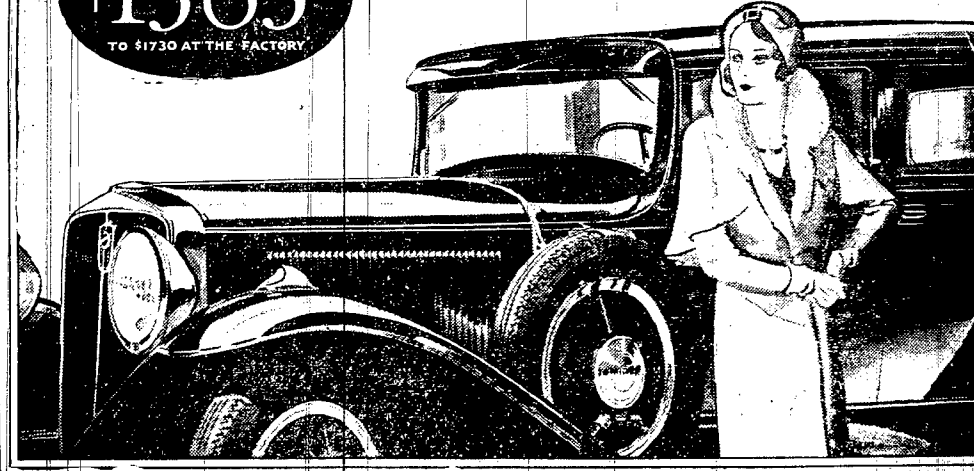

Free Wheeling with positive gear control, as introduced by Studebaker and adopted, unchanged, by Pierce-Arrow and Lincoln, gives you silent gear shifting at all speeds—freedom from clutch-pushing—12 to 20 per cent proved gasoline and oil saving—incomparably restful, zestful motoring—and the added safety attested by public traffic officials from coast to coast.

One drive will convince you there is no value comparable to this seasoned Eight by Studebaker, Pioneer and Pacemaker. May we place a Commander Eight at your disposal?

The Commander Eight Four-door Sedan is $1585 at the factory. Other Commander Eight models range in price from $1585 to $1730 at the factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra.

PASTURE IS NOT ALWAYS CHEAPEST

Lincoln, Neb.: Pasture is not always the cheapest feed. Its cost depends upon the number of animals that it will carry, the price of land, the lay of the land and the price of labor.

Under most circumstances it is not profitable to pasture cows when the daily rental exceeds the cost of other feed plus labor.
