

Corn Improvement Society... With First Rainfall On Drouth Hit Farms In Four Weeks' Time; Prospects Brighten.

With Saturday's showers, the first in this section since the fourth of July, corn conditions began to look brighter than they had for weeks.

Rainfall during July 1930 was scanty. Few crops remember last year's subsoil had not been impoverished of its extra supply of moisture as it has been this year.

C. J. Eickelbom of Altona community reports several refreshing showers in his territory Saturday afternoon and evening, and states that the fields were benefited surprisingly by the moisture.

Heavy showers fell at the Carl Frevert farm, in Altona community, between 2 and 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and again about 7 o'clock in the evening.

On the Herbert Berg farm near Altona some of the corn is usually cut for fodder, which has been done this season.

Fields have been slow in forming on the Time Prescott corn this season, a condition caused by the weather, it is believed.

Rain within the next few days should be a distinct benefit to the 135 acres of corn which stand on the Foyt Rhudy farm.

Corn on the Fritz Aevermann farm northeast of Wayne shows plainly the effects of a month of excessively dry weather.

A UDATED... Damage Suits Filed In Court

Reca and William J. Evans Seek Sum of $65,000 For Two Deaths.

Follows Accident

Edward Kai Is Defendant In Suits Brought After Fatal Collision South of Wakefield.

PETITIONS seeking $65,000 in damages were filed July 30 in Wayne county district court against Edward Kai by Recca Evans, wife of the late Lee Elmer Evans, and William J. Evans, husband of the late Mabel Evans.

Both petitions charge that defendant was driving at a reckless rate of speed, that he disregarded the stop sign and right of way, that he failed to look to see if cars were on the highway and that he drove his car into the truck with such force that his coupe was turned over into a ditch.

The petition of Recca Evans states that the late Lee Elmer Evans, her husband, was engaged in the oil station business at Pender and had an annual income of about $2,500. He was in good health at the age of 37 years and his life expectancy was 16 years.

James H. Haney is attorney for the plaintiffs. Time of hearing the petitions has not yet been set.

Make Transcontinental Motor Trip on Return Home Last Week—See Fine Crop.

Half a century ago this spring, Ole Dahlgren left Sweden and came to America to make his home.

Asked what scenery was the most beautiful or what experience was the most pleasing, Mr. Dahlgren answered simply that it was good to go home and see again the scenes with which he had been familiar so many years ago.

Party was divided. After reaching Sweden, the party of four divided, each man going to his own particular province for a visit with his own people.

Weather conditions the past year have tried the road conditions and the patience of the farmers in Sweden to an unusual degree.

Capitol Building Interests State

Features of Structure Are Being Developed With Care by Artists

Nebraska's great capitol building in Lincoln has come to be one of the architectural show places of the land...

The building itself is two stories high, making a rectangular base which gives added importance to the 400 foot tower...

Decorations has been subdued throughout the building to richness of material, form and line. At first, many visitors are disappointed in the great building...

Raising Fine Dairy Stock Is Popular With Many Nebraska Farmers.

Nebraska as a dairying state has seen her greatest development in the past few years.

Cattle Become Important Here

The largest part of this increase in production, say state agricultural experts, is due to the fact that improved methods have been adopted.

Cattle in general rank as the second source of farm income in the state. First place would be held by the combined figure of dairy and beef cattle.

In 1880, the total of cattle in the state was $70,000. At the close of 1930, according to the state report, there were 3,121,000 cattle in Nebraska.

Market receipts in 1930 amounted to 1,449,000 which was about a half million more than production. Cattle for corn-fed finishing are still being shipped into Nebraska in large numbers.

More and more people are learning to know the value of 4-SQUARE lumber. We had to buy two more cars of it this week to take care of the growing demand for this most excellent product. Contrary to the propaganda being put out in some quarters, we want to say emphatically that 4-SQUARE does not cost more than other lumber.

New, tight-fitting flooring does so much to improve the looks of a room. It makes housework easier. It gives that substantial look that adds real value to your property. Make your selection from our complete stocks of hardwood flooring.

Cases of Nerves MOST of the distress during any period of unusual trial is due to fear and upset nerves. People become uneasy over what they expect will happen.

As a matter of fact, ugly creatures of the imagination never materialize. The worst does not happen, though influences of the worst are felt to the detriment of conditions and to the destruction of content.

The annoyances of today should not shake confidence in the future. We should rearrange our nerves, put fear to flight and loosen purse strings consistent with needs and buying strength.

Live Stock MORE cattle and hogs were shipped out of Wayne county for market this week than usual, and live stock market centers report extraordinarily heavy receipts from all quarters.

The Omaha Journal-Stockman says late rains over parts of the state have wrought a wonderful change for the better, refilling streams and reviving grass, and thus giving new stimulus to the live stock feeding business.

All accounts agree that there is no great surplus of cattle to come from the West this fall and if stock growers can make their shipments normally the Corn Belt should be able to absorb the offerings without the excessive and disastrous fluctuations in prices that characterize the markets when receipts are on the feast and famine order.

Life's Safeguard AN OXFORD, England, report quotes Sir Arthur Thompson, famous biologist, as telling the British hygiene council that love is the safeguard of life.

The last which would seem the most important of the three, because it is the most enduring and most nearly spiritual, and which, as suggested, is often overlooked, is a supremely essential spur to character development.

While many are out of employment in the United States and are watching anxiously for jobs, a report from Havana, Cuba, states that the Cuban National Labor confederation has ordered a strike involving thirty lines of work.

We are glad to note that Winside has taken a firm stand against the firecracker annoyance. An ordinance just passed outlaws all kinds of explosive on July Fourth and on every other day of the year.

The proposed commercial club with complete cooperation and without affiliating groups, would seem desirable as a trade builder, and organized on that basis would appear worth all it would cost. If rival hatreds were permitted to enter the councils of the club, however, the experience would be more harmful than beneficial.

The season of old settlers' picnics and county fairs will soon open. Dixon county will hold its old settlers' picnic at Allen today, and Winside is arranging for Wayne county's annual picnic August 20.

Taxpayers of Dixon county have organized a league, and doubtless the purpose is to investigate taxation, make careful examination of public needs and see what may be done to effect greater saving, thus reducing the tax burden.

Washington statisticians have figured that in cities above 10,000, every person pays out an average of $138 per year for food. That would be about $2.60 per week. The fact that everybody has to eat or perish lends steadiness to the business of supplying foods not generally true in most other lines.

An Omaha negro was the first victim of the new law which fixes a compulsory jail sentence for driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was given a minimum sentence of thirty days in jail.

Low markets, drouth, grasshoppers and unemployment! Now if the architects of evil can figure out anything else to inject gloom and hinder progress, we are sure they will do it.

Samuel R. McKelvie in Nebraska Farmer: "They went in debt for things they did not need. That was the story a young married woman tearfully told me. She inherited enough to set them up comfortably in housekeeping.

This story can be repeated a dozen fold in every community. The city is that the tendency in that direction has been growing. Now the day of reckoning is at hand. The Goddess of Easy Money has withdrawn her wand.

"You say you do not know where your money has gone. That is easy to understand. No one knows where his money goes if he does not keep track of it. You should budget your expenditures and you will then know where the leaks are.

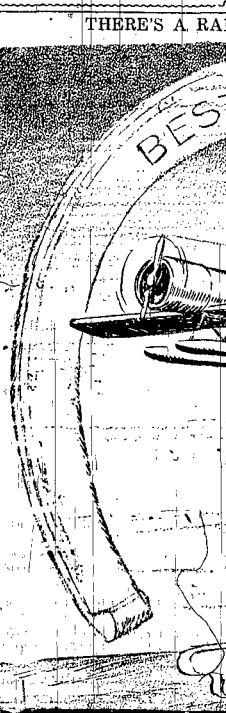

"No country thus far has found a way to save the profligate from the penalty of idleness and waste. Russia has been trying to reward all alike, regardless of individual effort and initiative.

England is being crushed by the dote. It is still true that 'Charity begins at home' and those who do not recognize it will be in tears, just as the young woman who appealed to me."

HELPLESSNESS. In these days when much material aid is sought and usually needed, it is difficult for the individual to know how far he should go in self-sacrifice in extending assistance. When and how much to give to those in distress involves a good deal of a problem. Too much giving encourages unhealthy dependence.

To be sure, we don't know much about this situation that every body is talking about, but we have the ghost of an idea that maybe there'd be less setback if there were less, sit back. - Boston Herald.

INEXORABLE. Time scourges people into obedience to many unwelcome changes. We would not have everybody and everything stand still. We would not, if we could, call a halt on evolution. As the bud bursts into bloom, spreads its fragrance and delights the senses and dies, so by a slower process the individual develops from an infant to maturity and finally to old age.

Helping the Farmer. Lincoln Journal: When the Mississippi river went in a rampage along its lower reaches the purse strings of the government were unloosed and money was spent in an effort to aid the sufferers.

Nebraska's plea for aid to combat the grasshopper pest that is devastating fertile and promising fields comes at a bad time. Grass is not in season. There is a treasury deficit, grown large by appropriations made to aid others.

"Our citizens, communities and states should be vigilant, active and repellent. Our nation should lead in this defense." "But that that time the nation had just voted hundreds of millions for big power, dams and for nine foot channels on the Mississippi.

There are those who object to the government expending money for such relief. They believe it should be provided in some other way. They would not tax all the people for sectional uses. There is argument on their side, but the fact is the government is doing just that thing, has been doing it for a long time.

The Washington Wash

Washington, D. C., August 1. - Ted Joslyn, the new White House secretary, is eyed extremely little by the rest of the boys who were considered for the job. Here is all Ted has to do: taking it by and large: To keep before the public in a humanized way, a man to whom personal publicity is as palatable as castor oil flavored with turpentine. If he succeeds, he starts a tantrum, and a "where's that-leak" hullabaloo. If he fails, he gets the Republican National Committee on his neck.

I often wonder, looking around the local fire station as I often do, what is the average income of a red-cap? Of late, there are generally two or three red-caps for every passenger getting off from an incoming train. As the sleepers drag to a stop beside the concrete pavement, a whole flock of colored men of all sizes and shapes rush for the steps where the Pullman porters have opened the vestibules and set out the luggage before lifting the apron. Red caps take this from the porter and set it in a row and watch for individual owners. Never, except when a big event was on in the city, have I seen every red-cap get a job.

Now, since Germany has flopped on her peace program and gone bad financially, she has us all walking on the balls of our feet again and gnawing our nails for nothing. To Davy Jones' financial locker. Between her goose-stepping and her side-stepping, she is our most bothersome nation. One is moved to inquire curiously, "Why is Germany?" She is a strange mixture of cleverness and underhandness—a sort of dumb-kopf genius. At least she knows how to keep our attention and make it to our interest that she prosper. Crazy like a fox. The world's admitted champion in quantity production of international gooseflesh and jitters.

BANDIT FAILS TO COMPLETE HOLD-UP

An attempt to hold up the Webster State Bank failed Tuesday afternoon when the bandit, half nerve and left the scene of crime without shooting. When the would-be bandit entered the bank, he pointed a gun at Miss Blanchette, an employee. She stepped out of the range of the gun, just as D. G. Smith, cashier, entered from behind her and asked the bandit what he wanted. Unable to execute his intention, the bandit fled in a car bearing a Dakota county license.

the fire out. But if fire burns down the house, then bureaucracy can find funds "for relief" of the homeless family.

Eighty per cent of all the federal taxes paid by the American people go to pay for wars that wars to come. But hardly a fraction of 1 per cent is spent on preventing war.

I often wonder, looking around the local fire station as I often do, what is the average income of a red-cap?

Now and then I have been foolish enough to worry a little bit, after calculating imaginary incomes for the boys. There must be fifty to a hundred of them, and they surely can't all make living wages.

Weather Report Shows Changes

Mercury Was Lower and More Rain Fell This Past July.

The prolonged spell of hot weather has made the past month seem warmer than July usually is, but, according to C. W. Long's weather report, July, 1931, has not been unyielding. The hottest day in July 1930, for example was 110. The highest point reached by the thermometer in July, 1931, was only 105, not such a cool temperature, but five degrees lower than the record at any rate.

The mean for the month of July, 1930 was 81.82. For the corresponding month this year, the mean was 78.98. There was, also, more precipitation in July of this year than in July of last year, although the average from January to August is lower this year than last.

There follows the complete report made at C. W. Long's drug store in Wakefield:

For Month July	1930	1931

SAIL or STEAM?

PUT MORE STEAM behind your efforts with well-planned
NEWSPAPER
ADVERTISING

AN OLD SEA CAPTAIN once said "Any old wind-jammer can ride out a storm with hatches battened down and the sails clewed up — but it takes a steamship to ride out a dead calm."

Too many business men today are trying to meet a dead calm with hurricane-warning tactics. Huddling below decks, they've clewed up their advertising appropriations with stout ropes of prejudice, battened down the hatches on their better judgment. One of these days they'll come on deck and wonder why they're so far from shore.

The steamship captain doesn't wait for trade winds to blow him into the Port of Profits. He musters those trade winds with the driving power of live steam --- piles fuel under his advertising boilers --- starts his craft towards Profits and usually reaches port before the old-fashioned skippers have spread their sails for an occasional buying breeze.

Becalmed on a glassy sea today, business will eventually be favored by that buying breeze. But why wait for it? The powerful engines of Newspaper Advertising are ready and waiting to stir up the unruffled expanse of buyer-indifference. And fuel is cheap --- much cheaper than marking time while some wiser navigator gets to port ahead of you.

Finish Repairs On School House

Section Will Open Labor Day Board Announces After Last Meet.

Classes in the public school scheduled to open on Labor Day, the first Monday in September, the general of education has had the building set in order for the beginning of the term. The usual cleaning will be finished before September 1, and some extra repairs have been made.

Repairs to the roof were especially important, and have been finished. Fresh paint has been applied to the cornice and window frames, and other small changes have been made.

Writes Information Of Miller Family

John Isenhardt, who married one of the William Miller girls early in Wayne's history, and who is in the fast growing business at Wenatchee, Wash., writes Judge J. M. Cherry this week regarding the Miller family in response to the Wayne committee's invitation to attend the recent golden jubilee. Mr. Miller lived on the farm south of town owned by Charles Ash for many years and he was active in building the Methodist church. Mr. Isenhardt says the following: Arthur Miller of Anchorage, Alaska, is the only surviving member of the William Miller family. Mark died in 1918; Mrs. Miller in 1909; Pearl, in 1920; Julietta Isenhardt, in 1924; and Mr. Miller, in 1926. Arthur had only one son, Keith, who is now about 30 years old and Keith has three sons, aged 1, 3 and 6 years.

Scouts Learn New Lessons

Cabin Provides Camping Spot For One Patrol Each Week Now.

Plan New Work

Sponsors Arrange Programs After Models Recommended by National Leaders.

Scouts are learning at their camp southeast of Wayne something of the practical aspects of scouting, an experience which they find valuable. The groups began going to the camp week before last when Mrs. H. H. Hanscom and Miss Gladys Vath sponsored the girls. One patrol is scheduled to spend about a week at the camp at a time, and eight or more groups will be accommodated during the summer months.

Last week Miss Gladys Vath and Miss Elsie Kingston chaperoned the girls, and a third group expects to go this week for a period in the out-of-doors.

Activities of the girls while in the camp are arranged on the regular Girl Scout national program, which gives so much time out of every day to certain duties. The girls have classes in various branches of scout work during the day and several periods for relaxation. One of the most interesting classes is the one in handicraft, which occupies the late afternoon. The girls have made many small and attractive novelty articles during this period. They use the large porch of the cabin for a work room, for it is here that the projects are placed.

Following the handicraft period, the girls have a short recess during which they are allowed to rest or play games, as they choose. The last half hour before the evening meal is devoted to duties assigned the girls in preparing the meal.

Girls follow the menus recommended by the national Girl Scout organization, and are based on economy, nutrition and palatability, insuring nourishing and tasty meals.

Following the meals, the girls have their own particular duties in cleaning up and rest hours in the evening are devoted to entertaining the visitors during other hours of the day the girls do not receive callers.

Fix Up Cabin.

The small cabin, which was built by local benefactors of the organization this spring, is neatly arranged and provides a comfortable place for the girls to spend a week's vacation. There is one large room with a huge fireplace flanked with windows. The room is furnished with tables and a cupboard which contains the necessary dishes.

Half of the cabin is devoted to the large porch on which the girls' cots are placed. This porch is boarded half way up, and screened to the eaves on three sides gives a free circulation of air.

Under the sleeping porch is an open space which can be used for storage. One of the unique storage features is the refrigerator which has been built for the girls into a pit a stout packing box with a hinged lid was sunk. The box is filled with a chunk of ice and perishables which the scouts will need for the table. Then the whole unit is covered carefully with newspapers and sacking, and opened only when necessary. As a result both ice and food keep well, and there is none of the melted butter and soured milk often associated with the otherwise glorious experience of camping.

Have Water Supply.

A pump on the lead supplies fresh well water for use as the scouts' supplies, such as tea, fruit and foods are brought from town each day by interested townsmen. Special treats sent by parents of the girls are used in planning the menus, keeping the meals balanced and according to schedule.

Special projects have included making each girl being told to report on some particular thing which she observes. And each day closes with a roaring bonfire around which tales may be told and songs may be sung before the lights are out.

Cedar County Plans For Fall Festival

Cedar county has issued its fair book and premium list for the autumn festival which will take place at Hartington September 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. The fair is the thirty-eighth annual show.

Joe Arens is president of the association this year, and other officers are the following: J. M. Lammer, vice president; Charles Samuelson, treasurer; L. R. Eby, manager; Anthony Hirschman, secretary; Ed Carlson and L. A. Miller, directors.

Paper Describes Tobacco Selling

Georgia Town Makes Fine Progress in Leaf Sale In a Few Years.

Mrs. Jack W. Beatty, of Moultrie, Ga., sent her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miner, a copy of last week's Moultrie Observer, which contains much interesting feature material and advertising concerning the raising and marketing of tobacco, an important crop in that section.

The first "leaf growing" venture in Moultrie territory began 30 years ago, according to the newspaper, although the industry did not gain much of a foothold until 1924. Since that time tobacco raising has increased vastly in importance, until in Moultrie alone, the warehouses use 6,000 baskets daily.

Says the Observer in discussing it: "The three warehouses here own well over 6,000 baskets, and when the offerings are heavy, and they usually are heavy until the season is closed, nearly all of that number are in daily use. As is known to those who are familiar with the markets, nearly all of the tobacco is hauled in at night, and placed on the floors, so that the auction can get under way early in the day."

Buyers from the big companies station themselves in the town to purchase during the season, the paper explains.

Tax Levy in State Is Somewhat Lower

Lincoln, July 31.—A state tax levy of 2.04 mills or 30 of a mill less than the levy of 1930, was decided upon today by the state board of equalization.

For the general fund the levy will be 1.93 mills, adequate to produce $5,878,381.65, and for the state capitol fund the levy will be .11 mills, sufficient to raise $335,027.31, or a grand total of $6,213,408.96 for 1931.

Tax Commissioner W. H. Smith pointed out that a total of $13,414,437.50 must be raised for the general fund, one-half of which is for the current year. Added to that by the legislature to cover emergency and deficiency appropriations is the sum of $426,147.71, or a total of $7,133,586.46 to be met this year.

Available, he said, will be $1,245,653.72 in revenue funds not otherwise appropriated, and $192,549.60 in estimated collections from intangible taxes, or a total of $1,437,603.32, leaving the sum of $5,695,983.14 to be provided from taxation.

Added to that figure is the sum of $170,878.90, a contingency fund for the collection of or to meet delinquent taxes. This increases the total to be produced from taxation to $6,826,842.04.

The decrease in state taxes is expected to amount to $913,728 under a 200 levy.

The 1930 levy of 2.34 mills raised $7,461,203.57.

Have Water Supply

A pump on the lead supplies fresh well water for use as the scouts' supplies, such as tea, fruit and foods are brought from town each day by interested townsmen. Special treats sent by parents of the girls are used in planning the menus, keeping the meals balanced and according to schedule.

Spending August At Training Camp

Nine young men went to Omaha together last Thursday to attend the Citizens Military Training camp in session at Fort Crook during August. Those who went in the Jacques car are: William Lermer, Kenneth Cornell of Wakefield, Hamer Wilson of Winside, Charles Ingham, Ralph Jacques and William Mellor. Clayton Powers, Lloyd McGuigan and Terrance Zimmerman also went. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Powers took them and visited in the Paul Jublin home until Friday.

Statistics Show Many Accidents

Motor Vehicles Lead Number of Deaths and Injuries For Period.

Accident statistics as compiled by the Nebraska Press association and the rehabilitation division of the state department of vocational education for the two-week period ending July 28, 1931, are as follows:

China and Pottery Factories Visited

China and pottery factories of Liverpool and Nowell W. Va., were most interesting to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hiscow who visited them when on a trip through the east in July. The entire process of making dishes and pottery from the raw clay to the finishing was watched. Clay for the finest dishes is imported from foreign countries, they found. Mr. and Mrs. Hiscow went to Cleveland and Lisbon, Ohio, to visit relatives and then drove to Niagara Falls and West Virginia. They traveled 4,000 miles and arrived home Wednesday last week after being gone 21 days.

Plans For Fair Include Prize For Handiwork

When they were getting ready for the fair in September, 1899, the Wayne Herald, then edited by W. H. McNeal, described the coming attraction with great interest. "The races," the paper boasted, "will be the best ever witnessed, as the field of horses entered is exceptionally large. If the farmers will only do their part it will be the most successful fair ever held. The Wayne Corn Palace Band will furnish the music."

What to wear to the fair was a problem in those days of elaborate dress. The department stores advertised fine dresses, hats, purses, ventilators, chevrons, camel's hair and reversible plaids. The reversible plaid materials were said to be particularly fine for making skirts to be worn with elaborate blouses, made from silks, satins, velvets, or corded velveteens, for velveteens were the newest thing of the season. But the outfit would not have been complete without a bonnet smartly tilted over one eye, and carrying a weight of plumes and feathers.

At the fair a fine premium list awaited the spectators. One of the new features in 1899 was the fact that, in the girl's department, cash premiums were offered for articles on exhibition, as formerly only diplomas had been given. The first prize was twenty-five cents for the first prize object and fifteen cents for the second prize.

One of the Gang

Any Chamberlin, 20, of San Francisco, has made running a construction gang a woman's job. When her father died she took over seven grading contracts for the firm of Chamberlin & McQuire, northern California contractors, and the firm has been making money.

Summer Plowing Is on Decrease

Washington, July 29.—Reports reaching the agriculture department indicate that wheat farmers in the mid-western states plan to reduce their 1932 acreage because of the low price of the grain.

Summer plowing for planting next fall is reported below normal, and the farm board persists in urging a 20 percent reduction in acreage, to get the domestic crop on a domestic consumption basis. Wheat farmers are making every effort to hold their 1931 harvest on the farm so as to relieve some of the pressure of rapid marketing and have received some support from merchants and bankers through extensions of debt obligations.

The farm board has been receiving fewer protests over its wheat sales policies, and is considering the sale of the stabilization wheat to foreign governments, although no agreements have been reached.

Poison Checks Big Spread of Hoppers

Wagner, S. D. Intensive poisoning operations have held in check the grasshopper menace on the 2,000 acre Babcock farms south of Wagner. Arsenic mixed with bran, sawdust and molasses, which is the standard "bait" used in the war against the insects, has been scattered throughout the corn fields several times.

After each application of poison, two wagons connected with a rope are driven thru the corn. The rope shakes the cornstalks and knocks the hoppers to the ground, where they feed on the poison. The Babcock farm operators say they have found from fifty to seventy grasshoppers under each hill of corn.

Clay Center, Kas.: Grasshoppers have invaded eastern portions of Clay County, Kas., say reports to the farm bureau office here. They are stripping leaves from Alfalfa and corn. Use of poisoned bran mash has been urged by the farm bureau as a possible means of checking the advance.

After fourteen months of study, the Government has decreased the duties on dried eggs, hemp cordage, and bicycle bells. Who says our tariff isn't flexible? —San Diego Union.

Why a Funeral Home?

"Why hold the funeral in a funeral home?"

We are often asked this question by people who are accustomed to seeing services held in the residence or church.

Our answer is that the modern funeral home has been developed for the comfort and convenience of the relatives and of the general public. Planned especially for the purpose, it offers facilities not provided elsewhere.

It enables the bereaved family to perform the duties of this trying period with the minimum of distraction and annoyance. It makes it possible for the friends and acquaintances of the deceased to pay their respects without confusion.

While our establishment offers all the advantages of the up-to-date mortuary, we are willing to render the services at the residence or church when the relatives so desire.

Rates are Lowered For Shipping Grain

Lincoln, July 30.—In accord with uniform rate reductions recently authorized by the interstate commerce commission on grain movements in Nebraska, the state railway commission today prepared to make the revised schedule effective Aug. 1.

The reduced tariff applies the same to movements of grains and corn, placing corn and corn products on a much lower freight level in some instances.

Under existing schedule corn rates are classed separately from wheat and other small grains.

The revision places corn, wheat and other small grains upon the same freight rate.

The reductions, the commission has forecast, will effect a saving of more than $1,000,000 annually to Nebraska grain shippers.

Wayne People Go On Cornhusker Tour

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Berres and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Reinhardt are planning to leave August 9 on the tour to the Pacific northwest and Canadian Rockies sponsored by the Nebraska Farmer. This the third annual tour sponsored by the Farmer will take the party over 6,000 miles and to many places of beauty. Duluth at the headwaters of the Great Lakes, Wainwright Buffalo park, Jasper park in the Canadian Rockies, Vancouver and Glacier national park are among the places to be visited.

The deficit turned out to be nine hundred million, and some taxpayers wonder how we can afford a debt vacation this year. They forget that Al Capone has agreed to pay his income tax.—The New Yorker.

"Makes Fertilizing Easy"

The McCormick-Deering Manure Spreader

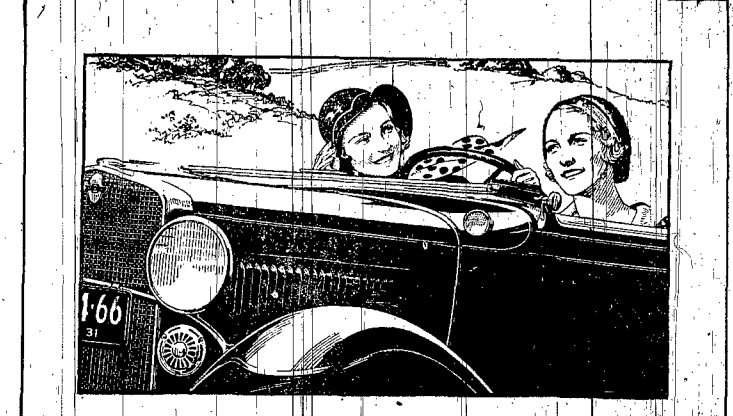

The country over farmers are boosting this newly improved spreader. Built well to do its work well, the McCormick-Deering is the outfit you can rely on to give fast, uniform spreading down to the last forkful.

The big thing is that it makes the job of good spreading so easy. It's easier to load. Eight roller bearings make it light-draft for the team. Throughout it has been built to simplify and lessen the work of fertilizing.

The new Lime-Spreading Attachment is a knockout. It's worth coming in to see for that alone.

Drivers of sixes never want less because it takes six cylinders to give the smooth, silent power that makes driving really enjoyable clutch, shift into "low"—and feel that smoothness. Change into "second," hit a faster and faster clip, slip into "high," sweep along at top speed—then throttle down to barely a crawl. The smoothness and flexibility you always get are six-cylinder smoothness, six-cylinder flexibility. Annoying vibration is gone!

Over two million owners have tested and proved this six-cylinder Chevrolet engine. They have found that it costs less for gas and oil than any other. They have found that it actually reduces upkeep costs, by holding vibration to a minimum. They know a six is better in every way—and they would never be satisfied with less!

Drivers of sixes are spoiled for anything less. Drivers of sixes are sold on multiple cylinders. They would no more think of giving up "six" performance than any other real advancement of motoring. For them, the whole cylinder question has been settled.

Slip behind the wheel of a Chevrolet Six, and you'll know why these drivers feel as they do. Step on the starter, let the motor idle—and notice its silence. Throw in the

CAMEL POWER makes the wheels go round in Arabia

IN AMERICA you friends have telephones. Telephone service is part of the American Standard of Living. The Cost is Low.

If you were a native of Aden, Arabia, you would be familiar with camel caravans. Conveyances that are common there. You probably would know little about automobiles, telephones and other modern conveniences common in America.

What we call the standard of living varies in different countries. A camel cart would be out of place in our midwestern cities. . . an average native with a telephone would not be worth much to him because none of his friends, relatives or business associates would have telephones.

In America, there are more than 20,000,000 telephones; one for each six persons. Telephones are so common that it is the usual thing to look in the telephone directory to find where someone lives or where a business is located. Most of the persons you know have telephones and use them several times daily, whenever they want to talk with anyone either blocks or miles away. Telephone service enters into every phase of American life.

People in the United States have telephone service because with it they can talk with almost anyone at any time. . . because with it they can call help instantly in any emergency. . . because their friends and relatives have telephones. . . because it is worth so much more to them than the few cents a day it costs.

This Company's desire is to provide telephone service which is satisfactory to its customers in every way. . . its aim is to continually make service better and more valuable to each person who uses it.

Have Rain Saturday.

Showers fell in Winside community Saturday afternoon and evening, although the total amount of precipitation was negligible. Experienced farmers report little damage to the corn so far, however. Heavier rains fell six to ten miles south of Winside.

Ship Out Stock.

Stock shipments which went to the city markets last week included the following: Herman Frese, one car of cattle to Sioux City; Willie Carey, one car of cattle to South Omaha; Fred Schneider, one car of cattle to South Omaha. One car of cattle from Omaha was received for Herman Podoll.

Guests Return Home.

Mrs. Albert Bane and two children and Mrs. Most and Miss Adeline Most for the past week, returned close at 11:15. The pastor closed the service with a hymn, prayer and sermon.

"When summer comes I'll go to church, and take my family with me" you used to say in winter. Friend, we are having the fine weather you looked for, so go to church, next Sunday. We invite you to the services of our church Sunday mornings at 10:00 and evenings at 8:00. Will you go to church next Sunday?

Report on Poultry Condition in State

Lincoln, July 30.—A. E. Anderson, state agricultural statistician, said today that less poultry on farms, reduced storage stocks of poultry and eggs, sustained consumption of poultry products and cheaper feeds in relation to prices of poultry and eggs, are the outstanding factors in the mid-summer poultry outlook report for the nation.

The number of laying hens is about 5 percent less than a year ago and the number of young chickens is 10 percent less.

Frozen poultry on July 1, Anderson said, totaled 33,000,000 pounds compared to 34,000,000 last year and egg stocks were about 1,248,000 cases less than a year earlier. The consumption of eggs, as indicated by the movement in four principal markets, is about 10 percent cheaper than during the same period in 1930.

Anderson pointed out that on June 15 this year both poultry and egg prices were higher than poultry feed prices, while the opposite was true a year ago. The indication of a good corn and wheat crop gives promise of a continuing liberal supply of feeds.

With fewer hens on farms and fewer young chicks from which to shave pullets it seems unlikely that the production of eggs during the rest of the year can be equal to that of the last half of 1930, even with more liberal feeding, Anderson added.

Referendum Sought On Trucking Bill

Lincoln, Neb.—Motor truck operators of Nebraska late Thursday attempted to prevent the operation beginning this Monday of a new state law which increases the license fees of motor trucks and buses. Petitions, containing more than 63,500 names, were filed in protest and asking a referendum on the law.

The petitions, circulated throughout the state by motor truck owners and operators, asked that the law be submitted to a general referendum in the November 1932 election and that it be suspended until that time. The petition was filed one day before the 90-day limit. If it is accepted the law will be suspended until a vote is taken.

In opposing the measure, the truckers have held the increased license fees are confiscatory; that truckers now pay nearly $3,500,000 annually and that a provision for farm trucks and utility trucks to operate at reduced fees is unfair.

The law fixes license fees on farm trucks and those operated only in cities and within three miles of cities at from $8 to $12 a year. It fixes fees on commercial trucks, hauling from one city to another, at from $10 for vehicles of less than one and a half ton capacity to $225 for six-ton trucks. It also increases the seat tax on buses from $7.50 a year to $12.10 a year.

"Average Salary Less.—The average salary of rural school teachers of Cumming county is $83 as compared to $87 in 1931.

But Jake paralysis wasn't as bad as this truck paralysis.—Boston Post.
