

Finally Involving the Herald Found to Contain Nothing Heavier Than Hot Air — Value in Friendship — Deserving Job Hunters — Wisner as Host — Other Observations.

A report that a petition was circulated protesting against holding wrestling matches on Main street, finally pointing responsibility at the Herald, as seemed the evident desire. A careful investigation showed that no petition had been started or even proposed, indicating that the report was the figment of an imagination which yearning for attention at any cost blew itself into an injured sentiment to child and warn an opposing movement that did not exist. And investigation would doubtless reveal an equally false basis for insinuations that are brazenly set into circulation to prompt the curious to speculate on something that would amount to nothing if the hidden lack of foundation were revealed. A wish to injure is usually the only ground for a damaging insinuation.

Friends As Assets. Joseph Cummings Chase writes about the supreme importance of making and keeping friends. No matter how rich in dollars, one may be as poor and miserable in spirit if he has no friends. Sincere and helpful fellowship lifted to a plane above self-seeking; contributes more to content than a lot of material possessions. Chase quotes another author as saying: "While it is impossible to believe in the infallibility of anyone, it is restful to believe in the integrity of someone." In depression periods when wealth melts and income shrinks, the value of dependable friends as a source of comfort is greatly accentuated.

Hunting Work. Persons who are out of jobs and who are earnestly endeavoring to find work, should be helped to patch along existence until conditions change and demand for employment absorbs the surplus. A traveler from Omaha stopped at Herald headquarters last week to inquire for work. He was not an ordinary tramp. He explained that refreshment in the city had thrown him out of work. He was too proud to beg, but he had to accept donations to live. He said he was on his way to Huron, S. D., and when he accepted a modest gift to help him along, he said he lacked the courage to do with himself what, in his distress of mind, he often felt like doing. This man ranked above the average hunting for work, but many feel just as he felt, and they need and deserve encouraging words as well as substantial aids to keep them going and, in a frame of mind to be restored to useful citizenship when the battle of the depression is over.

Wisner's Free Picnic. Wisner has a wonderful place for a picnic, and thousands gathered there last Thursday to enjoy the treat which had been prepared. The guests enjoyed the free attractions and appreciated the hospitality of the town. Wisner was set amidst one of the richest sections of the state, and accordingly it is well supported by prosperous farming communities.

Suggests Irrigation. Before the last rain and while the weather was hot and threatening, Editor F. D. Stone of the Hartington Herald raised some questions touching ways to safeguard the future of agriculture in Cedar county which has suffered from too much drouth the last few years to feel comfortable. Editor Stone wonders if corn is the right crop to raise in an area subject to long and blighting spells of dry weather. He also suggests irrigation as a way to insure growth during periods when Aquarius is taking a jay-off.

Rain and Hail. Generous rainfall in this section of the state early Saturday morning came soon enough after the previous fall of moisture to prevent nagging anxieties over the corn which has been wonderfully benefited. Many believe a good crop is now assured, but undoubtedly, the habit of an occasional shower will be kept up to make the result doubly certain and more gratifying. But while most of the refreshed area escaped hail, some parts of the state, notably a fifteen-mile stretch in the neighborhood of Elgin, were badly damaged. As the season advances, the belief is encouraged that further damage by hail or lightning will be postponed until next year. When the crop has been matured and cribbed, the only worry left to be connected with it will be the market price.

Interviewing the Governor. Forty-four citizens of Fairbury who drove to Lincoln recently to ask the governor to permit Jefferson county to share in proposed paving projects, were informed in effect that they didn't stand a ghost of a chance. But the Fairbury delegation fared better than the one that journeyed to the capitol from (Continued on Page Four).

APPROACH OF FALL BRINGS TRAIN OF PLEASING EVENTS

COMING events exalt anticipation, and this year they are not depressed by drouth and by prospect of crop shortage. First in order and strong in popular esteem is the annual old settlers' picnic which is to be held at Winside next Thursday. That town sponsors this reunion of pioneers every year, and the occasion is enriched by memories and enlivened by modern attractions. All roads will lead to Winside one week from today. Local firemen are planning a pavement dance and the Herald will soon hold a picnic. Feativeness of the time depends on some plans not yet settled. Schools will start ahead of the Wayne county fair which opens September 15 and lasts three days. Autumn will come on apace, and customary activities will blend into the joys of the golden harvest.

DATE SET FOR DEDICATION OF COLLEGE HALL

New Memorial Dormitory To Be Formally Opened In October.

TERM ENDS NEXT WEEK

October 7 has been set tentatively as the date for the dedication of the J. M. Pile memorial residence hall at the State Teachers College, President U. S. Conn announced. Plans for the formal opening of the new dormitory for girls at that time are under way. An effort will be made to have several members of the J. M. Pile family present at the dedication. Registration for the fall term at the college will be the afternoon of September 12 and all day September 13. Classes will begin September 14.

SCHOOLS OPEN WITHIN MONTH

Rural Teachers Will Have Meeting In Wayne September 3.

School days will soon be here. Plans for the opening of both town and rural schools in Wayne county the last week in August or the first week in September are being made by school officials. Most of the schools will open September 5, but a few of the rural schools will open a week earlier.

Miss Pearl Sewell, county superintendent, has called a meeting of all rural school teachers of the county for September 3. The meeting will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the county courtroom. Supplies for the rural schools will be distributed at that time. Teachers must call for their own supplies. Miss Sewell announced. No supplies will be mailed to the teachers and none will be sent out with other persons. General plans for the school program next year will be discussed at the meeting.

Miss Sewell also has notified all rural school teachers to inspect their school grounds and buildings before the fall term opens and make certain that everything is in order, supplies and equipment are available for immediate use and necessary repairs have been completed. Rural schools will receive $5 a school for the purchase of library books this year. Miss Sewell is making arrangements to aid teachers in selecting the library books.

During the summer months improvements have been made in the town schools in the county and minor repairs have been made in most of the rural schools. Several of the rural schools have not yet reported to the county superintendent their selection of instructors for the coming year. Several of the town boards are also delinquent in fulfilling that requirement.

Supt. H. R. Best will return soon from New York to direct plans for the opening of the Wayne school September 5.

Library Board Names Officers

Dr. Robert W. Casper To Head Organization During Year.

Dr. Robert W. Casper was named president of the Wayne library board at the reorganization meeting held in the library Tuesday evening. Mrs. Claude Wright was elected vice-president and Mrs. E. S. Blair reappointed secretary. In the absence of D. H. Cunningham, retiring president, Mrs. O. R. Bowen presided, and called for annual reports, and the new book list was accepted. About thirty new volumes will be ordered, including adult's fiction and non-fiction. The book committee reported that circulation records for July showed an increase of 400 books, or a total of over 1,500 volumes.

The new president announced the following standing committee: Books, Mrs. Claude Wright and Mrs. O. R. Bowen; finance, Mrs. H. E. Craven and Mr. Cunningham; House and grounds, Mr. Cunningham and Dr. Casper.

UTILITY RATES ARE DISCUSSED

Council To Have Meeting With Heat Users To Decide On Plant.

Problems pertaining to the operation of the municipal light plant, waterworks system and heating plant took up most of the time at the city council meeting Tuesday, the session ending without a definite decision on any of the principal matters discussed.

Faced with the possibility of a loss if the municipal heating plant is operated again next winter, the council decided to invite heat consumers to meet with members of the light committee and try to work out some plan by which the plant can be operated without being a financial burden on the city. A date for the meeting will be set soon.

R. L. Harrison, representing the Peoples Natural gas company, proposed the use of natural gas instead of coal for heating the boilers for the heating system. A saving of several hundred dollars a year would be effected by the change in method of heating, he said. The council will take his proposal under advisement.

Proposals to reduce the commercial rate on electricity and the commercial water rate were discussed, but action delayed until the next meeting. Transfer of $2,000 from the light fund to the general fund was approved. The clerk reported that the amount of the federal tax on electric current accounts for July was $31. Payment of $1,383 as the net cost of the new turbine pump at the waterworks pumping station was approved.

Walter Bressler, clerk, was allowed $25 for the use of his automobile for city business during the last 10 days. It is estimated that he has driven his car on city business more than 5,000 miles during that time.

PAGEANTS ARE BEING PLANNED FOR FAIR HERE

Governor Charles W. Bryan Will Be Speaker On Closing Date.

ARRANGE OTHER FEATURE

Pageants, an address by Governor C. W. Bryan, races, baseball and band concerts are among the features being planned for the Wayne county fair which will be held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 15, 16 and 17. Governor Bryan will be here for the Saturday afternoon program. Schools of the county have been invited to present a float parade that afternoon. The evening feature, for Saturday is not yet arranged.

Pageants to be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings constitute a good citizenship program. Both have been written by Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, who is the author of other pageants which have been successfully presented at previous fairs and on other occasions.

"The Birthright of the American Child" is the title of the Thursday pageant in which about 200 will take part. Mrs. F. A. Milder and Dr. W. M. Hawkins are general chairmen. The pageant relates the natural advantages available for children of this country and shows why they should be good citizens. The United States is depicted as a country composed of the best blood from many nations. These advantages of nature and good heritage, the pageant shows, develop good citizenship.

Part one of the pageant deals with heritage and this is in charge of Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. L. W. Ellis and Mrs. R. E. Larson. Part two, the country, is in charge of Mrs. Henry E. Ley and Mrs. J. M. Strahan, and part three, the nation, is directed by Mrs. D. S. Wrightman and Mrs. J. R. Miller. Other leaders will be named soon. Groups of girl and boy scouts, 4-H club workers and others will assist.

"America's Heritage from Washington" is the title of Friday night's pageant which will be sponsored by civic organizations of Wayne. The pageant will depict characteristics of the country's early leader, traits which made Washington great and which should be exemplified by good citizens today. Mrs. R. R. Smith and Henry E. Ley are general chairmen of this pageant. Mrs. W. E. Von Segger, Mrs. Rollie W. Ley, Mrs. H. E. Craven and Russell Bartels are assistants. Leaders for each organization which will assist will be named later.

About 12 pictures will be shown in this pageant. Two stages will be arranged for the scenes. On another stage will be about 40 singers who, in colonial costume, will alternate with the band in furnishing music for the pageant.

An effort is being made to provide parts for every child who wishes to be in the pageants. If, after a week, one has not been invited to take part, he is asked to see Mrs. F. A. Milder and she will place him in the cast.

Baseball games will be arranged each day of the fair. Frank Erlehen has charge of these. The Wayne band will play each day.

Interest is being manifest in exhibits. A number of hog pens have already been reserved.

Special Meetings Planned Here Soon

Dr. and Mrs. Westervelt and twelve young men, all but one of whom were born in foreign mission fields where their parents were serving as missionaries, will come to Wayne this fall from Columbia, S. C. They plan to be here September 2 to 5 and will furnish special programs. A sacred concert will be conducted on Main street Saturday evening, followed by a meeting in the Baptist church. A union church service is planned the Sunday they are here. The Westervelts provide a home for the youths and the group travels each summer.

Generous Rainfall Assures Corn Crop

A bumper crop was practically assured to farmers of this section by three generous rains within the last week, with total precipitation of 1.83 inches. July 3 brought .52 inch of rainfall; .79 inch fell the following day; and .52 on July 9. While the moisture delayed threshing somewhat, corn crops were greatly benefited and pastures helped.

This generous precipitation offers a happy contrast to the corresponding period just a year ago when but .71 inch was recorded in August up to the 19th. This fell on August 8.

MARKET SYMPTOMS ENCOURAGE HOPE FOR BETTERMENT

CONDITIONS offer encouraging symptoms. The New York stock market has a bullish tendency—whether healthy or not, especially politicians disagree, their points of view being influenced by how they feel and what they want. Anyway, the securities market is moving up instead of down, and that helps. Farm produce is making some advance, and if it keeps on in the same direction, as seems reasonably assured, it will make an agreeable contrast with low levels of recent memory. Iowa farmers have started a sellers' strike, refusing to market anything for a month. This organized resistance is an experiment that will be watched with interest. The experience is toughest on dairy farmers whose cows keep right on giving milk. It is hoped the swing back to normal makes steady progress to the relief of everybody whose physical needs have been multiplying and cannot be disregarded much longer.

PICNIC PLANS ARE FINISHED

Big Crowd Is Expected At Old Settlers Reunion Next Thursday.

An elaborate entertainment program has been arranged for the annual Wayne county Old Settlers' reunion, which will be held in Winside Thursday of next week. Weather conditions being favorable, an attendance of 5,000 persons is expected.

The Wayne band and the new Winside band, will provide music during the day and Hugo Berg and his nine-piece orchestra will furnish music for the dance in the evening. A callithumpian parade through the Winside business district at 10:30 a. m. will officially open the big celebration. The horseshoe tournament will begin in the morning and continue all day, with liberal cash prizes to the winners. Concessions of all kinds will be available for the entertainment of the crowd. A program of minor sports will be held in the afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock. Winside and Hoskins groups will engage in a water fight at 7 p. m.

Heading the afternoon program will be two baseball games. Donaldson's Colored All Stars will meet the fast Sioux Falls Canaries and the Winside Junior Legion will meet the Neigh 1931 champions and this year's runner-up in the state tournament. Winside has won 13 out of 14 games played in Junior Legion competition. Both games will be played in the afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock. John Donaldson, famous colored pitcher, will be on the mound for the All Stars. The Canaries were finalists in the Denver tournament this year and have a fine club.

Return From A Trip To Canada

Completing a 10-day vacation trip through Minnesota, Wisconsin and Canada, Sheriff and Mrs. A. W. Stephens and daughter, Evelyn, of Wayne, Alva Roberts of Randolph and Alton Jenkins of Carroll, returned Tuesday evening. The party left Wayne July 30 and spent the first week-end at Okoboji lake. From there they went to Birch Lake, Minn., where they were served among other things, fresh wild eyed pike. Continuing the trip, they went to Minneapolis and St. Paul, visiting the Fosbury tower, state capitol and Ford plant, which was operating at a 500-car-a-day capacity.

At Duluth the party saw large wool and copper shipments, lake freighters, the site of the great Minnesota prairie fire of 1918, steel factories and other interesting sights.

From Duluth, the party went by boat to Fond Du Lac, Wis., a resort town noted for the cabin camps on the islands in Lake Superior.

LARGE POTATOES ARE GROWN HERE

Three potatoes weighing 3 1/2 pounds have been dug this week by Fred Martin in his garden east of the college. One of the three weighed 1 1/4 pounds.

LIFE SAVING COURSE ENDED

James Morris and Kenneth Seymour Pass Tests For Examiners.

"The Red Cross life saving meetings held in Wayne this week were most satisfactory to the chapter members," states Mrs. Rollie Ley, chairman of the Wayne group. "We felt we were very fortunate in being able to bring a director from the national organization, for he created much new interest in life saving, especially among the younger children who will soon be eligible for junior and senior tests."

Konrad C. Testwuide, Jr., who conducted the examinations, is a special life saving representative of the American Red Cross and has had wide experience as water front director and first aid expert. He was brought here by the local chapter to review the examiners and examine candidates for appointments as examiners. Successful applicants for appointments were James Morris and Kenneth Seymour, both Wayne residents. Miss Catherine Berry passed the senior life saving tests, and Miss Alice Berry was reappointed examiner. Ray Hickman and Miss Esther Dewitz are also examiners, but did not take the tests as their appointments have not expired.

Monday and Tuesday mornings, Mr. Testwuide examined candidates at the Teachers College pool and Monday afternoon he met with boys and girls scouts and younger children to discuss first aid work, and to suggest the organization of a junior life saving corps. About 25 were present. Examinations were held at the State Teachers college pool both evenings.

In his lectures, Mr. Testwuide stressed the importance of keeping people out of danger, but to know what to do in an emergency. Going into the water to save someone is a serious business, he stated, and a slip in technique may mean your life and another's. Increase in community pools, artificial lakes, and growing interest in water sports in general, is making us a nation of swimmers, particularly the younger members.

Life saving and resuscitation instruction are but a small part of the Red Cross' educational program. In large industrial plants, instructors are sent to trainatory employees first aid methods and to conduct regular classes during working hours.

New Swan Block Nears Completion

Lathing has been completed on the second floor of the new A. L. Swan business block at Wayne, and plastering will be started within a few days. Construction on the building was begun July 5, and C. E. Miller, contractor, expects to complete it by September 1.

Tax Notices Are Now Being Mailed

Delinquent tax notices are being sent out this week to 1,200 Wayne county residents who have failed to pay real estate taxes which were due May 1. Taxes must be paid by October 1 or the property will be advertised and sold at auction the first Monday in November.

Lutheran Ministers Meet In Wakefield

Lutheran ministers of the fourth circuit met at Wakefield Wednesday last week. Rev. H. Hopmann of Wayne, visitor for the circuit, who attended a conference of north Nebraska ministers at Wisner recently, reported at the Wakefield gathering on business, transacted at Wisner.

Will Go To West

Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Hanscom and Harry Langley, the last of Teckhaus, plan to leave Friday next week by car for a month's tour of the west. They will go to Salt Lake City and then to California. They plan to travel north along the coast through the redwood forests. They will stop at Crater Lake in southern Oregon and will then go to McMinville, Ore., to visit Prof. Hanscom's mother. On their return they will stop in Yellowstone park.

The Wayne County Fair

Dr. A. L. Bixby: Wayne county will await till the middle of September and then hold its annual fair, lasting three days. This interruption of scheduled political barnstorming may disturb the serenity of mind of a few who think more of a race for office than a horse race, but this innovation is by no means to be despised. We crave an invitation.

Wins In Contest

Miss Frances Cherry of Wayne, won six of the 20 prizes offered in the WJAG tenth anniversary contest at Norfolk. The awards were for the best accounts of the programs.

Hard Luck IT is hard luck to be president when depression settles over the world. President Grover Cleveland, democrat, had such ill fortune from the time he started office in 1893 until he retired in 1897.

We are going through a very similar period now with a republican at the helm. Values are not so uniformly low as they were in the early nineties.

Altogether, the president, in an economic crisis, has a place which no one should envy, though it is made harder by those who seek to discredit and displace him.

Wires THE Christian Science Monitor thinks Governor Roosevelt got his wires badly tangled in a few statements made in the course of his speech opening his campaign.

THE Christian Science Monitor thinks Governor Roosevelt got his wires badly tangled in a few statements made in the course of his speech opening his campaign.

GOVERNOR Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic presidential candidate, faces a dilemma in the Mayor Walker case, and party chiefs are speculating more of the influence the mayor's removal would have on the national campaign than they are speculating on the merits of the action against the municipal executive.

The Herald's display window has been adding some interesting specimens lately. A petrified buffalo head, unearthed by Bernard Busby, south of Wakefield, is one of the attractions, and it suggests the kind of life that had possession of the rich Logan valley before settlers arrived and began pushing back the frontier.

We notice a girl working in the pancake flour department of the Crete mills has just been awarded a fifty-thousand-dollar prize in a national contest conducted by the Shriners.

A scholar writes that the time is coming when persons who are only money makers will not stand high in society, that mere money making will command little or no respect. The many of us who are out of luck as money makers will then score higher in the social strata.

Whether the eighteenth amendment is repealed or not, whether the Volstead act is set aside or modified, Editor Cramb of the Fairbury Journal, commenting on the evils lurking in alcoholic liquor, bootleg or legalized, asks "what good is the darned stuff, anyway?"

J. W. C. in The Rear Seat, Sioux City Journal, says in thirty-five years in the newspaper business he was offered pay to keep something out of print only once.

Mark Of Courtesy. An East Lincoln man wants to know if it is the courteous thing for a man who smokes to take part in a conversation without removing cigar or pipe when he speaks?

Foreign Debts. Senator Borah is sound on his proposition that if prosperity would follow cancellation of debts the course of this country is plain.

Agriculture Must Share Upturn. Omaha Journal-Stockman: One of the most gratifying features of the present better tone to business is the frank recognition by the captains of industry that agriculture must share equally in any improvement that is of a permanent character.

In its August review of the general business and banking situation the National City Bank of New York takes the same position. Mr. Young recognizes that the disorder began in the loss of purchasing power to the farmers, as a result of which he says, "Industrial production decreased, unemployment began and we started the downward spiral which resulted in the avalanche now in progress."

This is not to the advantage of other groups in the industrial system. On the contrary it has been their undoing. It is destructive of trade with that great section of the population and the cities and towns in which agriculture is the principal support of business.

The farmer, whose labor is largely performed by himself and family, is not deterred from production by falling prices, for he can do nothing else with either his land or his labor.

It is not so easy to point out the remedy for this lop-sided situation. Easier credit will doubtless help but the causes are deep-seated and it will take time and patience to remove them.

"If the government taxes and borrows to the end of its resources, the situation then will be worse than it is now," declares the bank review.

EXTREMES.

It is granted that people used to be too prudish--too easily shocked--too prone to lift their nasal appendages high into the air unnecessarily.

Will Let Many Road Projects

Lincoln, Aug. 9 - Governor Bryan today announced additional highway construction work which is tentatively set for the Sept. 8 letting.

Plans call for thirtyone miles of gravel, seventy-six miles of grading and drainage structures and construction of two bridges. The work is in addition to 55.5 miles of paving announced yesterday.

Work listed today will mean the grading of more than fifty miles of federal aid roads and more than twenty-five miles of state highways. All of the thirtyone miles of gravel will be on strictly state projects, which have already been or are now being brought to permanent grade.

One of the projects listed by Bryan provides for grading south two miles from Gordon, home town of Dwight Griswold, republican candidate for governor.

Projects Listed. Summary of the federal aid work listed today:

Atkinson to Stuart, Holt county, 10 miles grading and drainage structures.

Kennard south to county line, Washington county, 3.5 miles grading and drainage structures.

Between North Platte and Stapleton, Lincoln county, 12 miles grading and drainage structures.

Angora west towards Minature, Morrill county, 10 miles, grading and drainage structures.

Ainsworth to Johnston, Brown county, 10 miles, grading and drainage structures.

Crowell bridge south of West Point, Dodge county.

Decatur north to Thurston county line, Burt county, 5 miles, grading and drainage structures.

The state projects are: No. 15 between Pilger and Schuyler, Stanton and Colfax counties, 9 miles gravel.

No. 57, Broken Bow east towards Arcadia, Custer county, 4 1-2 miles grading and drainage structures.

St. Edward west, Boone county, 6 miles grading and drainage structures.

Rulo to Falls City, Richardson county, 5 miles grading and drainage structures.

Gordon south, Sheridan county, 2 miles gravel.

Indian Grave Is Found At Lynch

Butte, Neb. - Workmen digging in the gravel pit north of town unearthed an Indian grave at a depth of four or five feet. Several human bones were found, one being the jaw of an Indian woman about 45 years old, according to a local dentist.

In the same grave was found pottery bowls, a large war club, a whet stone, arrow heads and grinding rocks, a large amount of white ashes and pieces of burned wood.

It is said that the Indians plastered their graves with a sort of cement and the fire was made to dry the plaster which may explain the ashes and charcoal being found in the grave.

Modern Tarzans Lose Home. Plainview, Neb., Aug. 9. —Two modern Tarzans lost their home, in the storm here early Saturday morning. Marvin Tepner, 13, and Lester Armstrong, 11, built a house in a tree near the Tenner residence after having attended the "Tarzan" movie, and there they lived most of the time until bereft of their dwelling. For more than a week the two boys cooked and ate two meals a day twenty feet in the air. They greatly desired to sleep and also cook their breakfast there but the mothers said, "no," in no doubtful tones. Ma May Rule Texas Roost

Program Is Given By Girls Of Wayne

Miss Helen Jones and a trio group consisting of Miss Marion Seymour, Miss Margaret Jones and Miss Alice Mae Young, piano pupils of Mrs. Albert G. Carlson, gave a most delightful and interesting program at the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

In her second group Miss Jones played two "Preludes," by Chopin, and an "Etude," by Brauer. The Chopin prelude in B minor is like a soulful cello melody, its minor vein giving it a sense of unrest and unrequited love. The prelude in a major is a short gem of harmonies.

The trio played "Street Parade," "The Princess," "Danese Joyeuse," by Sartorio, and "Pizzicato," by Delibes. Their playing of these numbers was enjoyed.

CONGREGATION AT WAKEFIELD HAS BIRTHDAY

Golden Jubilee Program Is Given at Methodist Church Sunday.

GREW FROM BIBLE CLASS

In the shadow of a church and parsonage that are nearly as old as the community, Methodists of Wakefield and vicinity celebrated the golden anniversary of the founding of their congregation at an all-day program Sunday.

Time turned back half a century as long-time members of the congregation related the story of the growth of the church from a bible class of half a dozen members to a congregation of more than 100 families.

It was back in the days when Wakefield consisted only of a few houses and trading stores grouped together in the center of a vast prairie that Rev. Josiah Fowler, then a Methodist circuit rider, organized a small bible class in Wakefield.

Rev. Fowler's circuit embraced Waver and Springbank and he was unable to get to Wakefield more than three or four times during the summer of 1882 to preach to his class. Services were conducted in the old school house, which was located on the corner now occupied by the Presbyterian church.

At the general conference in the fall of that year Rev. D. C. Winship was given his first appointment to the new charge, which embraced Wakefield and Wayne. Rev. Winship went to Wayne to live, but Wakefield Methodists told him if he would move here they would build him a parsonage.

Accordingly he moved to Wakefield, rented a house, lots were procured, a subscription taken, and largely owing to the generosity of Phil Graves, a four-room bungalow was erected on the place where the enlarged parsonage now stands.

Rev. Winship moved from his rented house before it was quite completed and winter set in, freezing the plaster and making it impossible to complete three of the rooms. The family, which included three children, lived in the one room all winter.

In the summer of 1883 plans were begun for a church building and, largely through the help of Mr. Graves, a small building was erected. In that year Wayne and Wakefield were divided into separate charges and Rev. J. R. Gearhart was appointed to Wakefield.

The first church was dedicated under his leadership. It cost, inclusive of fixtures, $1,703. After the dedication, a program was presented and supper served to raise money to pay for the church.

When the program and supper were finished, all but $50 of the amount had been raised. Mr. Graves contributed that sum and thus cleared the church of debt at the time of its dedication.

Mr. Graves was one of the charter members of the church. Mrs. Graves and Mrs. Sadie Merritt, who still lives in Wakefield, were the first persons to be baptized by Rev. Winship.

Among the early members of the church, some of whom are still living, were: H. P. Shumway, deceased; W. A. K. Neely of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rhodes, Margaret Ducker, Bertha Hunter, members of the Neff and Barto families and Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Weaver. Mrs. Weaver still lives at Happy, Tex., and Peter Neff is living in the same town.

Ernest and George Barto and Bertha Hunter are other early members who are still living. The socials were a favorite means of raising money for the church in early days. The socials were held in the church or stores.

One of the early organizations at the church was the Literary society, which enjoyed great popularity during the winters of 1884 and 1885. Meetings were held in the Methodist church, but anyone in the community could attend. Musical recitations and debates were favorite programs. Thomas Rawlings, Grandpa Barto and Harvey Rawlings were among those who took part in the discussions. Topics included "How to Make Wakefield as Big as Chicago," and "How to Keep Saloons out of Wakefield."

Members of the first Ladies' Aid society in the church met every week to sew and exchange house-keeping ideas. Every woman in the church was made a member of the society in 1908. In 1911 the meetings were changed to once a month and programs included social entertainment.

In 1903 the Pleasant Valley church in Leslie precinct was added to the Wakefield charge and since has been served by the same minister. In 1916 steps were taken to rebuild the old church and enlarge

Wayne Woman Is Contest Winner

Ruth Stratton To Compete In Panther Woman Event Friday

Having been awarded premier honors in a preliminary contest last week, Miss Ruth Stratton, Wayne young woman, will compete in the finals of the "Panther Woman" contest at the Granada theatre in Norfolk Friday evening.

If she wins the contest Friday night, Miss Stratton will be eligible to compete in a nationwide contest to select a new motion picture star. The contest is being conducted by the Public Theatres. Screen tests of the entrants were made on the stage of the Norfolk theatre as part of the contest.

Miss Lydia Jensen of Winslow, and Miss Margie McCloy of Norfolk, tied for second place in the second preliminary contest last Friday. Five persons will compete in the finals of the Norfolk contest.

Pender Robber Is Caught Saturday

West Point, Neb., Aug. 10—One of three men who robbed a drug store at Pender about 4 o'clock Saturday morning was captured here at 6:30 by Deputy Sheriff Ray Elliott of Thurston county and the Pender night watchman. They had chased the thief for twenty miles in a rain storm before his automobile ran out of gasoline here in West Point and forced the fugitive to take to his legs.

The man was about 23 years old and said that he and his two companions who escaped were all from Omaha. While chasing the bandit Deputy Sheriff Elliott fired one shot at him, the bullet passing through the windshield of the thief's automobile near his head.

The fuel supply in the car ran out while it was on North Main street here. The bandit jumped out and ran through an alley but was overtaken by Sheriff Elliott.

Seek Most Popular Girl.

The "most popular girl" in Nebraska and western Iowa will be chosen in conjunction with Ak-Sar-Ben's all-star circus September 15 to 17 at Ak-Sar-Ben field.

A five hundred-dollar cash prize will go to the winner. Second, third and fourth place winners will receive $250, $150 and one hundred dollars, respectively, making a total of one thousand dollars in awards.

The present building was dedicated November 19, 1916, and represents an investment of $10,000. Members of the building committee were A. L. Nuernberger, George Whipperman, F. S. Utelch and Charles S. Boeber.

Rev. Rollie Poe, present pastor of the church, is the 30th pastor to serve the congregation. Previous pastors were: Rev. Winship, 1882-83; Rev. J. R. Gearhart, 1883-84; Rev. J. Fowler, 1884-85; Rev. J. W. Martin, 1885-87; Rev. J. W. Hogan, 1887-88; Rev. W. A. Davis, 1888-89; Rev. M. D. Chilson, 1889-90; Rev. J. M. Hogan, 1890-91; Rev. H. C. Meyers, 1891-92; Rev. J. L. St. Clair, 1892-93; Rev. F. Laurel Bandit Is Given Five Years

Hartington, Neb.—Alfred Wood who participated in an attempted holdup of the Laurel night watchman, resulting in a gun battle between Wood's associate and the officer, both of whom were wounded, pleaded guilty before Judge Mark J. Ryan, at Pender, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary at Lincoln.

After the attempted holdup and shooting at Laurel, Wood attempted to escape but was captured in another part of town in a short time. He later confessed to stealing a car at Randolph. He was taken to Omaha, where he identified his partner in the attempted holdup who escaped, though wounded, and was later captured at Omaha.

Six From County Taking Extension

Lincoln, August 10—Of six residents of Wayne county now taking home study courses offered by the extension division of the University of Nebraska, four are located in Wayne and two in Carroll.

Included in Wayne's group are Frederick G. Dale, a teacher, who is carrying two hours of geography; Olive M. Huse, a teacher, taking three hours of Latin; Coila A. Postras, a teacher, who is carrying three hours of sociology; and Faye Audrey Winegar, telephone operator, registered for work in high school bookkeeping.

Carroll's correspondence students are Lillian Simpson, enrolled for high school geometry; and Elsie Simpson, also registered for high school geometry.

Cyclist Sues County.

Hartington, Neb., August 6—James Most of Laurel, who was injured July 8 when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a road maintainer near here, has brought suit through his father, Forrest Most, to recover $17,600 damages from Cedar county.

The plaintiff alleges in his petition that the maintainer was on the wrong side of the road and was being carelessly driven without giving any warning of its approach.

War Debts.

Should the United States cancel obligations of its World War allies? Congress says no, publicly at least, although some congressmen hold that it might be to our advantage, and to the advantage of the world, to do so, especially if along with cancellation can be brought disarmament.

American sentiment is believed to be much against cancellation. England, France, Italy and other nations borrowed vast sums from us which to prosecute the war.

The money borrowed was spent largely to buy munitions of war. This country was the great source of munitions. Most of the money came back here to be spent in industry that supplied labor at a high wage and made business boom.

These debts are said by factually scaled (meaning of course, practical cancellation.) has brought about much criticism here. American taxpayers, burdened with the costs of war incurred on their own behalf, are not of a mind to take on added burdens, regardless of the claim that by so doing they may aid in bringing about world capacity to buy our products.

Whether or not approved by economists, holding Europe to its war time promises seems a popular position for congressmen to take. They realize as much, some economists to constitute the big factor that is holding back world well being. On that method hand, cancellation would mean that the taxpayers of America would be called upon to pay these debts. The money loaned was raised by the sale of bonds. These bonds are now the property of citizens of this country and their redemption must come thru taxing all the people.

Those favoring cancellation say generations yet unborn will be called upon to pay and pay the debts of England and France and Italy, and that with cancellation these nations will still be burdened with staggering debt loads. Nevertheless it was their war and this country got into it thru no desire of its own, but very much thru the desire of these nations. We incurred debts of our own, and these are yet to be paid.

The Lusitania agreement, thru which nations claiming reparations from Germany agreed to a settlement of claims for practically one cent on the dollar, if their own war debts can be satisfied.

Storm Damages Crops At Elgin

Elgin, Neb.: The most severe hail storm in many years wiped out the crops in a large area between here and Petersburg Saturday morning about 3 o'clock.

Rain had fallen steadily for two hours before the hail started and the severe storm was entirely unexpected under such circumstances as the hail usually comes first.

A strip of country nearly fifteen miles long and about six or seven miles wide was struck by the hail. The area began south of here and extended to Petersburg and beyond.

Another hail storm started three miles south of Elgin and swept eastward, taking everything. The two storms appeared to converge near Petersburg.

Masons To Have Picnic

Stanton, Neb.: Dr. L. Collins, president of the Northeast Nebraska Masonic Picnic association, has designated Sunday, August 21, as the day for the organization's big outdoor event. Winnebago Tribe Of Indians Dances Winnebago, (Neb., Aug. 8.—"Too much rain ditches" explained John Tea Thundor, who officiates as announcer at the Winnebago pow-wow ceremonies.

Tea Thundor might well be described as the Will Rogers of the Winnebago tribe. He talks as good English as most white folks but insists that all the English he ever learned was from a bootlegger. But that is one of his jokes.

At any rate the pow-wow has been handicapped by rain, and Friday night was something of a deluge. This prevented many from attending today's ceremonies, but the dances went on just the same.

"They've danced for rain pretty regularly," explained Tea Thundor, "and now they know that dancing brings the rain. Just look at the corn crop." If the corn dance next fall is in proportion to the crop it will be some dance, for the greatest corn crop in history is now practically assured.

Story of Creation Told. Before each day's program begins Look Eagle, an ancient Winnebago, acts as historian, and in oratorical language retold the story of creation, explaining that an Indian and a tobacco plant were the first created things, after earth and water. The white man has received a lot of pleasure from the tobacco, but he has not done exactly right by the Indian who gave it to him, Look Eagle says. He plaintively asks the white man to be good to the disappearing Indians, for there are not many of them left.

Then the dancers perform the different tribal dances in full costume, and interpolate a few borrowed from other tribes. Sunday will be the closing and big day of the pow-wow and Governor Bryan and Representative Howard will be on hand to receive an Indian welcome.

Scalp Dance Presented. Tonight the Winnebago put on a pageant, "Hiawatha," which was presented in full costumes and with fine effect. Prior to "Hiawatha," the scalp dance was staged, the scene opening with a peaceful camp, the arrival of a scout announcing the approach of the enemy, the counter attack, the victory and the scalp dance celebrating the occasion. The younger Indians did not seem to think much of it, but the older ones evidenced their approval in many ways.

The Winnebago no longer recognize a tribal chief, but if there was one it would be Charles Raymond, according to his story. However, the leader most looked up to is John Blackhawk, a splendid specimen and an educated gentleman.

Some of the younger Indians in costume have been reaping a financial harvest posing for amateur photographers. With good weather Sunday an immense crowd is expected at the pow-wow, which is held in a park about three miles east of this little village.

Why pay more? $8 for White Gold or Zylonite frames, including lens, satisfaction guaranteed. Geo. J. Hess, M. D., Wayne, Neb. 507 Commissioner.

Hens over 18 months old have 20 times as much tuberculosis as pullets, according to the reports of tuberculin tests of poultry in the Sioux City territory. This indicates a practical method of eradicating tuberculosis by proper management of the flock. By following the practice of selling all hens at the end of the first laying year tuberculosis can be eradicated, besides many other diseases affecting old birds can be controlled.

Ten state experiment stations have trap nested 2639 hens, and found that the birds the first 12 months of production laid 36 percent more eggs than they did the second 12 months. It may be more work to raise a new flock each year, but the results from increased egg production and the elimination of tuberculosis and other diseases undoubtedly justifies the practice.

Many of the poultry houses of this section are over-crowded, and this tends to increase sanitation troubles, spread disease, and cut down on egg production. These conditions can be greatly improved by keeping young birds, as they require less room and 75 pullets will lay as many eggs in a season as 100 old hens.

Naturally, the young fowls will also need proper care and attention to produce economically. The extra work of providing the poultry houses with clean litter every week, plenty of sunshine, pure water and fresh air will more than be repaid by less disease troubles, saving of feed and greater egg production.

Collapse After Hitchhiking.
Norfolk, Neb.—A ball player out of a job, trying to reach the home of relatives at Dallas, S. D., after a hitchhiking trek from Pennsylvania couldn't quite make it and collapsed here Monday afternoon on the porch of a residence.

The young man gave the name of Joseph Ralph McGill. He said he had had nothing to eat for days except green apples that he picked enroute. He had been playing ball in Pennsylvania, he said, but lost his job a few weeks ago and was headed for the home of an uncle, James McGill, at Dallas.

McGill was given food and a chance to rest at the sanitarium until Tuesday morning when Chief John Pofahl sent a telegram to the young man's uncle, notifying the latter of his nephew's predicament and asking him to come here for him or send money for his transportation.

Grass-Kills Cattle.
Crofton, Neb.—Owing to short pasture, Casper Guenther living three miles north of Crofton, turned his herd of 20 head of cattle into a small patch of Sudan grass. In a short time nine head became sick. A veterinarian was called from Crofton who succeeded in saving five head, but four head, a milk cow and younger stock died.

Fred Fager living five miles south of Crofton lost two milk cows when his cattle broke out of the pasture and ate of his neighbor's cane. A third cow was made ill but is recovering.

Home Fried Recipes

- Grape Jam. (Miss Lottie Childs, Wakefield)
Wash ripe grapes and place in kettle. Cook slowly at first and they will soon make their own juice, as no water is added. After the grapes are thoroughly cooked, run them through a colander. Then place on stove and cook. After they become quite thick, add one cup of sugar to two cups of grapes. Stir until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved and heat to boiling point. Do not let boil after sugar is added. Put in cans and seal.
- Sand Tarts. (Mrs. Gust Carlson, Concord)
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg beaten and 1 egg yolk
Lemon extract
Use extra white to spread on cookie dough after you have rolled it thin, read to cut. Sprinkle sugar, red sugar or graded nuts on top of egg white. Then cut in diamond shapes and bake.
- Hot Tamale Loaf. (Fairbury News)
1-2 lbs. ground beef
3 tablespoons minced onion
2 teaspoons salt
Cover ingredients with boiling water and let simmer until very tender.
Add
2 cups tomato puree
1-2 teaspoons chili powder
1 cupful cornmeal (stirred in gradually)
Cook slowly for 20 minutes.
Add 1 chopped green pepper, pour into baking dish and bake slowly for one hour. Scrape hot.
- Yellow Tomato Preserves. (Country Gentleman)
8 pounds of pear-shaped yellow tomatoes
4 lemons, thinly sliced, with seeds removed
1-2 quarts of water
6 pounds of sugar
4 to 5 pieces of ginger root
Wash the tomatoes and leave the skins on, or, if desired, scald and remove the skins. Cook the lemons for about twenty minutes in one pint of water. Boil together the remaining water and the sugar to make a syrup, and add the tomatoes, ginger root and the cooked lemon rind and liquid.
Simmer over a low flame until the tomatoes are somewhat clear and the syrup thick. Remove the scum, and pour the preserves into hot sterilized glass jars. Seal and store in a cool, dry place.
- Ripe Tomato Conserv. (Country Gentleman)
6 pounds of tomatoes
4 pounds of sugar
6 lemons
6 oranges
2 teaspoons of cinnamon
1 teaspoonful of cloves
1 teaspoon of salt
1 pound of seedless raisins
1-2 pound of candied ginger
Select thoroughly ripe tomatoes, peel and cut in small pieces. Add sugar, rind and all, through the coarse grinder of a food chopper. Combine, adding salt and spice, and cook all until thick. When almost thick add the candied ginger cut in narrow strips. This conserve should have the jelled consistency of a marmalade. Pour into hot sterilized jars and cover with paraffin.

robins—made of squares of steaks stuffed with a dressing in which celery and onions are used as flavoring, rolled and fastened with tooth picks, may be cooked in a closely covered pan with plenty of moisture. Ground round steak has many possibilities. It may be used in spaghetti sauce. It is delicious made into balls with egg and a dash of nutmeg. The balls are browned and then covered with water and allowed to simmer over a slow fire and served in their own thickened juice. Meat loaf, patties, broiled or fried with onion are but two more ways of using this most versatile of meats.

The breast and shoulder lamb cuts are useful for stews, roasts or broiling. Pork, too, has its cheap cuts—though nowadays all pork seems so cheap that we may use it in practically any form. Try using these cheaper cuts and win the applause of your public—the family! Your purse and your appetite will both benefit—and in addition you'll find that you spend far less time in the kitchen—a real accomplishment.

Pepper Bells.

(Fairbury News)
12 green peppers
15 onions
Cover with boiling water and let stand for half an hour. Drain. Boil in a weak vinegar solution ten minutes. Cover with a syrup made of three cups sugar, two tablespoons salt and one pint vinegar. Boil until tender and seal.

Sweet Pickled Peas.

(Waverly, Ia., Journal)
1 quart vinegar
4 pounds brown sugar
2 ounces stick cinnamon
1-2 ounce whole cloves
Prepare the peas as for canning. Make a syrup by boiling the vinegar and sugar. Add spices. Cook fruit in syrup. Can and seal. Peaches may be prepared in the same fashion.

Canned Corn.

(Mrs. William Krause, Walthill)
Cut freshly picked corn from the cob and pack in sterilized jars, tapping gently to settle corn. Over the top of each pint jar, add one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar and fill to overflowing with boiling water. Put on new covers and rubbers and partly seal. Cold pack for three hours, counting time after the water starts to boil. Do not pack jars too full with corn. To a quart jar use 1-2 table-spoons sugar, and 1-2 teaspoons of salt.

Canned Corn.

Shit and cut corn from the cob, splitting the kernels if large. Cut rather closely to the cob, then do not scrape. Pack in 1-pint jars a little at a time, tamping down with a wooden handle to form a juice. Continue until jar is full, with plenty of juice on top. Add 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 teaspoon sugar and seal. Do not add any water.
Boil for three hours.

Petrified Skull On Display This Week At Herald

A petrified skull of an early day inhabitant of northeast Nebraska, believed to be a buffalo, is on display this week in the office of the Herald.

The skull was found by Bernard Busby of Wakefield, in a drainage ditch near that town last week. The point where the skull was found was 12 feet below the ground level in that vicinity.

Estimates on the time the skull has been in the ground range from 50 to several hundred years. It is complete, including the horns and part of the mouth of the animal.

BRESSLER PARK IS VERY POPULAR WITH PICNICKERS

Forty seven picnics were held at Bressler park in Wayne during July, a report of R. T. Whorlow, superintendent, showed.

Some group took advantage of the facilities of the park for a picnic every day except the last one of the month, when it rained, the report showed. The big day was July 24, when there were four large picnic groups in the park at the same time.

An average of 85 children a day played in the park last month, Miss Helen Swanson, matron, reported. The children have a small playhouse in which they have been doing craft work. Last month's project was carving soap figures.

Early Days In Wayne County

From the Herald files of August 17, 1916.

During the electrical display accompanying the rain Saturday morning, Carl Sudd, local section foreman, was knocked down by a bolt of lightning and rendered unconscious. He remained in an unconscious condition for several hours. Examination by a doctor revealed that the lightning had burned and discolored a patch along his arm and part way down the left side of his body.

Announcement was made at a meeting of the Public Service club Monday that Postmaster C. A. Berry had received assurance that the present congress would invest $5,000 in a site in Wayne for a federal building.

Wayne will be the center of attraction for the county teachers next week when the annual institute will be held here. Instructors will be: A. H. Dixon, Tekamah; Miss Ethel Williamson, Albion and Miss Lillian Beach, University Place. J. C. McMillan of the United States department of agriculture, will address the teachers Tuesday afternoon.

Supt. A. F. Gulliver has been elected principal of the junior high school at the State Teachers College and will assume his duties at the opening of the school year. Mr. Gulliver has been superintendent of the Bloomfield schools for 10 years.

Miss Edith E. Beechel, intermediate training teacher at the State Teachers College, has been granted a leave of absence and will spend a year in Columbia university. Her work will be handled by Miss Mary Moses, who at present is a student at the University of Chicago. Miss Mary E. Matwood, head of the department of household science, will also spend the year at Columbia. Miss Agnes Finigan will be acting head of the department during her absence.

Miss Nina Milligan, daughter of Mrs. Rose Milligan, died at her home in Wayne Monday morning following an attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Kohl and daughter, Marjorie, attended the biennial saengerfest of the Nebraska Saengerbund at Grand Island, Neb., this week. Mrs. Kohl was one of the soloists for the affair.

Prof. E. E. Lackey, head of the department of agriculture of the State Teachers College, left Monday to join his family at Western Nebraska. They will take a vacation trip through Kansas before returning to Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Ley, President and Mrs. U. S. Conn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Berry and son, and Mrs. Henry Ley have returned from a vacation trip to Denver.

A hearing will be held Monday night in the City hall on the proposed vacation of 26 feet along the south side of Seventh street, west of Main street.

Mrs. J. H. Boyce fell from a chair which slipped while she was standing on it, Wednesday night and severely sprained her back. She is confined to her bed.

Prof. I. H. Britell arrived home last evening from St. Edward, Neb., where he spent a week with his parents.

Gus Schroeder of Hoskins bought a carload of feeder cattle in Omaha Tuesday.

Dr. S. A. Lutgen, who was in a critical condition for the first of the week at the local hospital following an operation for appendicitis, is pronounced out of danger.

Mrs. G. A. Wendt of Wakefield, arrived Friday to be a guest of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wendt.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conley, who moved to Cherry county from Wayne a year ago, arrived here yesterday morning with the body of their son, Alva, 11, who died at Long Pine Monday from blood poisoning.

Orval Puckett and David Henehauled two loads of wheat to Wakefield last week with their tractor. This is the first time in the history of Wakefield that such an event has taken place.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lulu Porter of Norfolk, former instructor in the Hoskins public school, to Warren F. Duell August 7.

Funeral services were held last week for James Blair, long-time resident of this country, who died August 7.

In spite of the rain, members of the Home Department cleared more than $30 on their "jiney" supper Saturday.

George A. McEachern went to Omaha Monday to investigate the sheep market with a view of buying a couple carloads for his farm west of town.

Hartington Editor Stresses Contrast

F. D. Stone in Hartington Herald: Cool and comfortable by contrast is the temperature as this is written compared with the raging temperature of a few days ago. For days and nights on end the thermometer stood in the vicinity of 100 and the cumulative effect was almost unbearable. That is July in Nebraska, when the sun shines the hottest; but such intense heat does not last. After a few days of it, during which, however, vegetation is scorched and the birds driven to cover; a cool wave brings welcome relief. Frequently, also the peak of the July torridity marks the decline of summer and signs of approaching fall begin to multiply.

We have said "by contrast" and the thought occurs to me that life is largely made up of contrasts. It seems cool and comfortable now; as a matter of fact, the mercury stands between 70 and 80. Cool compared to 100 degree temperature, but, actually, quite warm. Earlier in the season a 70 or 80 degree temperature would be most uncomfortable. There is a bit of philosophy there if we could only express it. People are very seldom actually hot or cold or hungry or happy or unhappy or rich or poor; only by contrast. In their words, their experiences are relative.

Jobs that were scorned in the piping days of inflation are sought after now; incomes that were considered scanty then seem princely now, and the comforts of life too often despised, are the luxuries of today. This depression we talk so much about has been salutary in some respects, one benefit being that it has given everybody a truer perspective. Fictitious values have crumbled, false standards have been revised, the individual can see with clearer vision than he could. There is more gratitude and appreciation than there used to be.

The lesson of economy has been taught to thousands by bitter experience. The silk shirt era is past; young fellows are thankful to have a good cotton shirt to wear. The era of extravagant living, reckless spending and wild speculation is also over. People who in the days of easy money made no provision for the future are now acquiring the saving habits. They are learning to be thrifty, which is one of the encouraging signs of the times. Instead of inflation, over-expansion, and a mortgaged future, the American people are laying the foundation for a new prosperity.

A former employe of the Herald who passed hitchhiking through Hartington the other day in search of work, impressed this thought of making some provision for the future more forcibly on the writer. In his prime this man was a skilled workman, also trustworthy and reliable in every way, and he earned good wages; but today, with old age and infirmity coming on, he is practically destitute. To a certain extent, he is a victim of circumstances, but, to a certain extent, he is to blame. In the days of prosperity, he failed to look ahead.

Is Drugged and Hurt.

Meadow Grove, Neb.—As 10-year-old Odessa Lewis and her brother, Bobby, 7, were riding a horse to the mail box, the animal became frightened and ran, throwing both children off.

The little girl was thrown clear of the horse and was but slightly hurt, but one of Bobby's feet caught in a stirrup strap and he was dragged as the horse ran, his head and chest being struck by the animal's hoofs. He was picked up, unconscious, and taken to a hospital, where his condition was considered critical, but he soon regained consciousness.

Wisner Woman Is Appointed Deputy

Wisner, Neb.—No longer will Mrs. Lillian Nuttleman, gun-toting spouse of the city marshal here, accompany him on his nightly rounds as a mere wife.

On recommendation of Mayor Clark Evans, the city council last night appointed her deputy marshal with full power to wear a badge, tote a gun and make arrests. The appointment was a reward for the assistance she has given her husband during the past nine years.

On more than one occasion, Mrs. Nuttleman has helped her husband arrest bank bandits and other law-breakers and only recently she engaged in a gun battle with several suspects who had broken away and run from her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Nuttleman patrol in the town in an auto. Mrs. Nuttleman doing most of the driving.

To Teach in Norfolk, Miss Mildred Reed, Wayne teacher who instructed Latin and English classes in the Emerson high school last year, has accepted a position as instructor in the senior high school in Norfolk next year.

Thousands of empty bottles were found in the Chicago stadium after the Democratic convention adjourned. The explanation was that the place was cleaned up after the Republican convention the week before.—Arkansas Gazette.

Marry Wednesday At Carroll Home

Miss Ardath Roe is Bride of Paul W. Rethwisch Here This Week.

Miss Ardath Emmalynd Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Roe of Carroll, and Mr. Paul W. Rethwisch of this place, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Adolph Rethwisch of Bellflower, Calif., were married Wednesday morning, August 10, at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. W. W. Hull of St. Edward, former Methodist pastor in Carroll, performing the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family and close friends. A wedding breakfast was served afterward and the young couple then left by car for California to spend two months with relatives before returning to live on the Rethwisch farm near Carroll.

The Roe home was decorated with yellow and white, Miss Roe's chosen colors, for the wedding. Miss Ruby Davis sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by the piano by Miss Arlene Roe and the latter played Mendelssohn's bridal chorus as the bride party marched to an improvised altar in the parlor. The ceremony followed.

Miss Roe wore a girlish frock of white crepe, trimmed with embroidery. The bride had orange blossoms in her hair, and she carried a shower bouquet. Miss Marjorie Roe, sister of Miss Ardath, was bridesmaid. She wore yellow and white and carried flowers. Harry Rethwisch attended his brother as best man.

Tables were decorated in yellow and white for the breakfast which was served after the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Rethwisch will spend two months in California. They will go by way of Yellowstone park and will visit relatives enroute and in California.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rethwisch are graduates of the Carroll high school, the former having finished with the class of 1923 and the latter with the class of 1928. Mrs. Rethwisch attended the college in Wayne two years and taught in the Bush Union school near here the past three years. Mr. Rethwisch has been farming near Carroll since completing his schooling.

Sustains Burns In Filling Tractor

What we need today more than anything else is a revival of piety in the home, a piety that counts its good and profitable business to stop at stated times daily for family worship even in the busiest of seasons. The scriptures say, "Let them learn first to shew piety at home."

Methodist Church

(Rev. David Simpson, pastor) Summer months attract people out of doors, seeking rest and recreation. We urge Christian people carefully to preserve the habit of church worship - in summer time. On vacation or in visiting friends on Sunday, spend one hour in worship in some church. Wherever you go you will find a congregation to welcome you and a pastor to give you spiritual truth and inspiration. Go to church in summer time.

What No Index to Wealth

Omaha Journal-Stockman: If the country could make up its mind to take its eyes off wheat quotations and consider the agricultural situation from other angles, it would soon learn that farmers are not all broke and agriculture is a long way from being bankrupt, in fact, not any worse off than other lines of industry and business.

Telling of an outstate grain dealer who has been studying the situation rather closely the Lincoln Journal says: "Mr. Mitchell thinks that entirely too much emphasis is laid upon the price of wheat as a measure of agricultural prosperity, as wheat is but 8 per cent of the farm income, normally. He does not look for much improvement in that price during the next year because of the existence of a huge carryover that won't be materially diminished during the current crop year. Mr. Mitchell thinks that the huge corn crop in sight means much more to the farmer because it means an ample supply of cheap feed that will return excellent profits in the form of finished live stock."

There's just the point. If farmers depended entirely or mainly on the wheat crop, it might be logical to look on wheat as the leader. Since returns from this grain constitute less than 8 percent of the farm income, however, it is not fair to judge the average farmer's condition by the size of the wheat crop or the price quoted for this grain on the market.

Corn is the real crop in this part of the country and its value is determined more by live stock prices than by grain market quotations. Give the farmers of the Corn Belt remunerative prices for their cattle, hogs and sheep and the price of wheat might just as well be forgotten or ignored.

Comedy Picture Coming To Gay

If what this country really needs is a great big laugh, you can get your share of it at the Gay theatre, where "Million Dollar Legs" is shown next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Not since the last riot created by the Four Marx Brothers, of the "Monkey Business," has this city seen such insane, hilarious buffoonery. There's neither rhyme nor reason to the picture. It's dizzy. It's wild. It's sheer nonsensical farce, but there's a howl in every line of it—and, frankly, the audience will love it!

Table with columns: No., Amount, What For, Amount. Lists various road work and maintenance expenses for different districts.

Set against the timely background of the 1932 Olympic games, the story purports to tell of the heroic achievements of a gallant little band of athletes from Klopstokia (which is located somewhere in the Polish corridor, just across the Austrian border). These boys run so fast that they trip over frightened rabbits and have to hurdle fleeing deer. They jump so high and so far that their native mountain goats, seeing them, would be consumed with envy.

Having decided to make a comedy, Paramount took the next logical step and threw into it perhaps the finest cast of comedians ever assembled for any one picture. Jack Oakie, as the dynamic brush salesman who turns Olympic trainer, has one of the funniest roles of his entire career. W. C. Fields is cast as the President of Klopstokia, who has a day-to-day contract dependent entirely upon his ability to wrestle down the Secretary of the Treasury each morning.

"Million Dollar Legs" is as hair-brained as that. But it has laughs, love interest, and suspense, all deftly blended to a wildly funny climax. Edward Cline, a veteran of the Keystone comedy days, is the director. Joseph L. Mankiewicz and Henry Myers wrote the original story on which the picture is based. And Paramount has given "Million Dollar Legs" a million dollar production.

Farmer Must Prosper First. Omaha Journal Stockman: Another encouraging sign of the times is the somewhat belated recognition in Eastern business circles that there can be no real return to better times until the farmer is in a position to realize some profit on his operations.

"This is very heartening news, for the gains are precisely where they will do the greatest good to the greatest number, increasing the purchasing power of millions of farmers who will promptly start it moving through trade channels to the wage-earners of all the industries.

"The gains, moreover, are not confined to farm products, but are general enough to lift the wholesale price indexes. "This brace in commodity prices is decidedly encouraging. The only explanation seems to be that the combination of decreasing stocks, reduced production and low prices has at last induced an increase of buying by dealers."
