It was therefore defeated by six votes. A proposition to legalize beer may appear for decision before Christmas. Reports from Washington indicite that steps looking to absolute upsetting of the eigh-teenth amendment will not be attempted during the present congress, but may be an incentive for an extra session March I. But hastening action on prohibition brought some sharp criticism. Due pro-tection for dry states was urged as essen-tial ground work. Safeguards against return of the open saloon are deemed nec-essary by some "wets." An Alabama democrat who favors repeal, resented the haste as a needless violation of parliamen-tary practice.' A. New York republican said the attempt not only broke all pre-cedents of L50 years, but showed lack of consideration by starting from the presi-dent and otherwise proceeding in the regu-lar way. Much bungling in the speed pre-cipitated may have caused defeat. Doubtless congress will now move into the currents of service more conservative-

Dies In Sioux City

Miss Cecella Sohler, 20, former Wayne college student and a rural teacher at Belden, died Thursday in a Sioux City hospital from in-juries she sustained Thanksgiving when the car she near her school lur ran over Vayne public library, ing hear her school lunged forward and ran over her, breaking her back and causing internal injuries. The machine was in gear when Miss Sohler started it. Funeral ser-vices were held at Baldon !

Miss Sohler was born at Belder school there

Skelly has met your demands-all of them. You wanted a high test gasoline at no extra cost. You wanted instant vaporization for instant starting. You wanted volatility exactly right for the community and the temperatures in which you drive. You wanted highest anti-knock rating for silent hill climbing and quiet, positive acceleration. And you wanted ALL of these qualities in ONE gasoline.

Meeting your demands, Skelly Oil Company has broken all precedents. It gives you each of the qualities you want, and gives them to you all in one gasoline, New Skelly Aromax. With all these new qualities, Skelly Aromax costs you nothing extra.

This new gasoline is tailor-made for your community. It takes a different gasoline for 20 degrees below zero than for 32 above. New Skelly Aromax is exactly made to work best in the prevailing conditions in each community.

What the Test Cars Found Out

Skelly sent test cars into every state in the Middle West to find out exactly how to build the right gasoline for each state and each community. If you saw one of these test cars, you saw scientific instruments for measuring mileage, wind resistance, knock, exhaust gas content and motor temperatures. You saw a lot of other instruments which our research engineers needed to secure the exact data for each state. Each day reports on 44 separate observations for each 15 minutes of driving are sent back to the research laboratory.

The result is that this new gasoline is colder than 7 a.m. temperatures in each community.

Only Skelly Has These Facts

No tests in a laboratory can duplicate the practical conditions under which you drive. No extensive field survey has eve been made before. No such accurate information is in the hands of any other oil company.

All this has been done so that we give you ALL the qualities you want in a gasoline, and all in one gasoline. To assure you that you get this gasoline, New Skelly Aromax is orange-colored for your protection.
