A New Plan THE Sioux City Journal expresses interest in the farm relief plan offered by Francis J. Clair, New York engineer and economist, who spoke in Sioux City recently, but suggests that instead of trying to sell the whole country on the idea that time should be saved by taking it to Washington and there selling it to those who may act, Mr. Clair says the federal farm board has authority to fix prices for agricultural products, and adds that the plan could be administered without cost either to the government or to the farmers.

Requiescat In Pace THE caption to this little piece expresses the tenderness with which we would dismiss the departing year. We would not consign 1932 to misery because we do not believe it is at fault.

For Larger Counties AS a means to economy and tax reduction it is now reported that county consolidation is proposed in Arkansas, Idaho, Illinois, and Kentucky.

High School Hears African Missionary Dr. Frederick Holland, missionary from central east Africa, came to Wayne high school Tuesday morning to tell of his experiences as game hunter, mission worker and observer in the African wilds.

miles in the time that used to be required to go 10 miles. Additional advantage lies in the fact that one is eased along in a comfortable conveyance over smooth roads instead of being churned by a succession of bumps. Consolidation proposes economy that every burdened taxpayer would support if given a chance to do so.

For United Action THE question of when to close and how long to stay closed for special occasions, notably holidays, recurs in the business district every time the need for current action appears. The approach of a holiday starts the feeling-around process to find out what a neighbor or competitor is going to do, and so without an understanding no one is certain that all think alike or will act alike until the special occasion arrives.

Keeping up the morale of the unemployed is a problem under consideration by the English government, referred to by the king and further emphasized by Prime Minister MacDonald. Calling attention to the duty of governments to see that their boys and girls are furnished opportunities for experience and training in useful endeavors, the Christian Science Monitor says: "Since work, carrying wages, cannot always be provided, it is the duty of each nation to insure that means are not lacking by which the individual can use his enforced leisure with profit to himself.

The legislature will meet early in January to consider affairs of state and to enact any laws that have by chance been overlooked by previous sessions. The democratic majority traveling along with a democratic governor would seem to leave nothing to desire in the way of harmony and speedy action.

It is sometimes distressing, sometimes only amusing, to listen to the advice of an individual who doesn't know what he is talking about, advancing his judgment on a foundation of ignorance and inexperience, both painfully apparent.

We have arrived at the shortest day in the year, called the winter solstice, and daylight has begun to lengthen, slowly but surely, and along in February when we are yearning for spring, we will notice the change.

An American college has voted that sense of humor is the most valuable human quality. It certainly serves advantage at a time when blue devils are more numerous and more aggressive than usual.

An Iowa newspaper suggests that communism seems to be more of a menace than the facts warrant because of the noise made. Big noise is erroneously interpreted as increasing numerical strength.

Educator Reports Improved Sentiment "Traveling over the country, I note that conditions are a little improved now, that there is a better mental attitude and more stable outlook," says Dr. J. Oliver Buswell, president of Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., who visited Wayne last week-end for a pre-Christmas Bible festival at the E. B. Young home. Dr. Buswell notes a conservative reaction towards religion over the United States, and finds people very much sobered and questioning.

Southeast Wayne. The Fred Victor's will be Christmas day guests at the Carl Victor, sr., home in Wayne.

News of Lower Grades. Fourth graders in Training school voted not to exchange gifts this year but to take up a collection for needy persons. Accordingly a box was provided for free will offerings. They fashioned cornucopias for their room Christmas tree, and composed a Christmas carol, and presented at the Christmas program Tuesday evening.

Northwest Wayne. Mrs. W. W. Roe was a guest at a party in the William Beckner home Friday evening.

Is Not So Well. N. J. Juhur who has been very ill, had a very bad night Tuesday and was weak yesterday.

CHRISTMAS. Despite lack of economic harmony, despite numerous material obstacles, the spirit of Christmas is not dead. Acclaim of the Nazarene was not the occasion of extravagant giving or rich luxury. It marks a rebirth of civilization—the bestowal of a new religion—a religion that displaced man-made instruments and gave ascendancy to spiritual values. The gift of Bethlehem is commemorated by the gifts of the Christmas season, and the least costly remembrances may not be deficient in means to attune the soul to the noble cause exemplified by the founder of Christianity. While hard luck due to unavoidable conditions, may strip the holiday of accustomed lavishness, it cannot and should not rob the day of an exalted spirit of giving and of the fine fellowship awakened. One may have less than usual in worldly gifts to bestow, but far more than usual in things that are imperishable and uplifting. Family reunions will not be less cordial nor less satisfying. A sick world, inspired by the genuine Christmas spirit, may well look forward—may well cooperatively seek a more equitable distribution of material blessings.

France (Continued from Page One) have learned to spurn them in the future that they do not understand as possessing certain, tangible value. Too many everywhere were led by spurious representations to invest and lose badly needed cash in questionable securities, and a firm resolution against repetition of such chances would now be in order. And the resolution should not be forgotten when the pendulum swings back and easy returns invite temptation.

Local News R. S. McGuire was here from Pender Tuesday. Miss Frances Cherry has been ill a couple weeks.

St. Mary's Church. (Rev. William Kearns) Never, since heaven's angelic choirs summoned the shepherds of Bethlehem from their night watches to gaze adoringly upon Christ the Lord come to earth, "an infant, wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger" (Luke 2:12) has humanity had greater need of the warmth and spiritual power which radiates from the mystery of Christ's nativity. Disappointed, weary and distracted, admitting the material and mortal confusion which confronts them everywhere, poor human hearts yearn for the peaceful atmosphere of the cave of Bethlehem.

ENOUGH If the depression does not let up soon it will destroy the good that might otherwise be accomplished. If it started out to modify people's habits of extravagance, habits of more play than work, more jazzy nights and fewer productive days, we think the result has been attained. If the purpose was to shake sensibilities into an appreciation of life as a reciprocal plan in which an exchange of equal values with fair service for stipulated pay is a big aim, we think progress in that direction has been sufficient to call a halt and reverse the movement. If the great idea is to level society's activities and standards down to the narrowest stratum, strewing the highway with numerous irremediable wrecks, it will continue and will do more harm than good. Overdoing oppression, like overdoing luxury and ease, often weakens the victim beyond repair, thus converting the habit of injurious license into one of equally hurtful self-denial. Thus, it is hoped the torn economic fabric may soon be knitted together, and that any benefits that may arise from an unweleasant scouring may not be lost in the irreparable injury of intolerable excess.

The Giver Realizes More Genuine Pleasure Than Others At Christmas.

Most genuine pleasure comes from making others comfortable and happy. And this year at Christmas time opportunities for helping others less fortunate are numerous. If each will do something to bring joy to another, the Christmas spirit will have a more significant meaning everywhere.

Many schools and other groups are this year reversing the order, asking children to give so that others may be happy rather than receiving gifts. More valuable than the gifts given is the habit of unselfishness and of serving others which the plan inculcates in young folks.

Indeed unfortunate is the child on whom are heaped lavish gifts at Christmas and who does not learn early the pleasure to be derived from giving to others. The former practice will in a few years create such selfishness and discontent that the child's life will be permanently injured. All children should receive gifts at Christmas but they should also be trained to think of others and share with them.

By nature children are easily made content with gifts provided them. Some years ago a child found that she too could be Santa Claus. She bought a new dish pan for her parents and such delight did bring that the secret and the giving keeping that the Christmas pleasure was doubled.

As one grows older great pleasure at the holidays is derived from having near ones together and in thankfulness for health and common comforts of life. And if, besides, you have helped bring joy to others, Christmas will find you contented and happy.

CHRISTMAS IS HIGH-LIGHTED

1930 Squad Takes Benefit Game With 1932 Team Thursday Evening.

Christmas, its beginning, its history through the ages and its true spiritual meaning are being studied at Wayne high school this season, from beginners' room up through the senior class. Grade school and junior high school children have made many attractive decorations for their rooms, and have worked laboriously on "surprise" gifts which will appear on the family tree with cards, "To Papa" and "To Mamma." Each room will have a party and tree on Friday, the closing day, and teachers have promised treats for everyone.

Supt. H. R. Best announces that an effort has been made to stress giving rather than receiving this year, and that teachers have adopted a plan to discourage gift-giving between pupils, or bringing gifts for teachers. This is to avoid increasing the financial load of school children, and to avoid unnecessary embarrassment to children who would be unable to give gifts this season.

Boxes are being placed in the halls Friday and any student who wishes may bring gifts of clothing, toys or food for needy persons. Food will be distributed by the central relief organization in charge of Christmas baskets, and clothing will be turned over to the relief worker.

H-Y Trip Postponed.
Kermit Stewart, H-Y sponsor, announces that the club's visit to Norfolk club was postponed last Tuesday because of illness of the other club's sponsor. The joint session will be held some time in January.

Christmas vacation at Wayne school will begin Friday evening, December 23, and end on Monday morning, January 2.

Debaters To Norfolk.
Coach W. A. Behl took his debaters to Norfolk last Thursday afternoon for a no-decision meet with the Norfolk team. Those making the trip were James Duvies, Jeanne Wright, Milton Auker, Raymond Sala, Lucille Wright and Richard Moses. This was the first interscholastic debate of the season, and Mr. Behl states that the Northeast Nebraska Declaration team showed up well.

Executive committee of the association met in Supt. Best's office last Monday evening. Supt. H. N. Rhodes came from Laurel to attend.

Miss Marian Marsh's expression class presented two brief plays and a radio stunt at high school assembly Wednesday.

1930 Squad Victors.
The basketball championship team of 1930 defeated 1931 runners-up 83 to 28 in a close game at college gymnasium Thursday evening. Walter Sund, 1930 team, and Kenneth Dowling of the opponents, each scored 19 points during the play. Dowling played against his brother, Fred, and there was lively competition to see which could mass the most points. A small crowd turned out for the competition. Wayne basketballers play their first conference game here with Bloomfield on January 6.

Typing Tests Given.
Leonard Good gave his beginning typewriting class a 10-minute accuracy and speed test last week, and these four students made the best records: Catherine Craven, 44 words; Geneva Marshall, 38 words; Elsie Martens, 36 words; Mavis Baker, 35 words. Mary Grone turned in the most accurate paper, making only one error out of 32 words.

Junior Hi Activities.
Miss Maude Curley's seventh and eighth English classes arranged Christmas programs for this week, studying the customs of other countries, and telling Christmas

A Merry Christmas To All

A GAIN the Christmas Season! That period when we all seem able to recognize, as at no other period of the year, that the real values of life—the things which make for true happiness—are the things which money can't buy, nor business conditions affect.

A happy home, the joyous laughter of children, the loving thoughtfulness of friends! These are the things which make life worth while—and which, constitute the very essence of the "Christmas Spirit."

And with it go our Best Wishes for a heart full of true happiness this Christmas, and for your prosperity during the coming year.

No Other Gasoline is HIGH TEST for Quick Starting, and HIGH ANTI-KNOCK for Smoother Power on Hills and TAILOR-MADE for NEBRASKA

A few gasolines are high test. A few others are high anti-knock. Most gasolines are neither. No gasolines have been exactly tailor-made for each state and each community. Until Skelly made and announced New Skelly Aromax, no one thought a refiner could afford to offer high test, high anti-knock and tailor-made, ALL in one gasoline, at no extra cost. Skelly Oil Company has broken all precedents because it wanted to give you the most for your money. Skelly wanted to give you so much, in fact, that you would want to change to Skelly Aromax. Extra sales must pay Skelly for the extra refining cost—and extra sales are doing that. Think of the advantages you have in this one gasoline. It is high test (gravity as high as 72 degrees) for instant starting. Such a volatile gasoline sprays into your cold motor in a fine mist which your spark easily "catches" instantly. Skelly Aromax is high anti-knock. It is not a "pop-off" gasoline which propels you with shot-gun-like "kicks." This gasoline exerts a strong, smooth, silent push on the piston at every explosion. Just try its smoother power on a hill and compare it with other gasolines. Only Skelly Tailor-Makes Gasoline. Skelly Aromax is exactly tailor-made for each state and each community. Skelly test car engineers made thousands of observations and recorded them each day. The facts they gathered and the Skelly plant equipment, enable Skelly to tailor-make every tankcar so it exactly fits the driving conditions at its destination. No other oil company has such facts and the plants to tailor-make its gasoline. Winter Gravity as high as 72 degrees—Tailor-made for local conditions.

MOST GASOLINES ARE NEITHER HIGH TEST NOR HIGH ANTI-KNOCK A FEW GASOLINES ARE EITHER HIGH TEST OR HIGH ANTI-KNOCK NEW SKELLY GASOLINE IS BOTH HIGH TEST AND HIGH ANTI-KNOCK and TAILOR-MADE FOR YOUR STATE. Only Skelly Gasoline is High Test, High Anti-Knock and TAILOR-MADE for NEBRASKA. WINTER OIL CO. E. F. WINTER HOSKINS, NEBRASKA WM. VOSS & SON

World Events

Sioux City Methodist hospital must raise $40,000 in loans to keep open, managers state.

The Wheeling and Lake Erie railway placed an order with the Canton Car company for fifty new style gondola cars.

New York—An increase of 20 percent in manufacturing activity in 1933 over 1932 was predicted by the Alexander Hamilton Institute, in an analysis of purchasing power.

Ben Isaacson and Louis Goldstein estimate that their building and Fair store stock at Beatrice, destroyed by fire last week, were valued at $145,000.

They have $132,000 insurance on the two. The store will be rebuilt.

The horse ways and means committee met behind closed doors in Washington to revise the Collier beer bill providing for 2.75 percent alcoholic content by weight and consider the demands of brewers for an increase of alcoholic content of 3.2 percent.

Business is so good with the San Francisco Bank its directors voted a $50 "Special Christmas" disbursement per share.

In addition to the regular $60 dividend and the usual $75 extra, Christmas bonuses were voted to employees and officers.

Electric power production statistics showed improvement last week, the National Electric Light association announced, with output for the week ended Dec. 10 totaling 1,518,922,000 kilowatt hours, representing an increase of about 8,000,000 over the preceding week.

Emergency relief funds to run for the remainder of this year and totaling $164,350 were voted by the Reconstruction corporation, Mississippi receiving $42,500 for eight counties, Ohio $112,500 for Dayton; Georgia $3,150 for Liberty county; and Iowa $8,400 for Sioux county.

The Chicago Daily News said it had learned the Santa Fe railroad would place an order for 1,000,000 of rails next week.

The order will be for 27,000 tons and will be divided among the Illinois Steel, the Inland Steel and the Colorado Fuel and Iron companies, the paper said.

A decline of not more than 7 percent from the first quarter of 1932 probably will be reported in gross revenue of class one railroads in the first three months of 1933, Standard Statistics said.

Net operating income, however, could show as much as an 18 percent gain, the report said.

Berlin newspapers reached an almost unanimous agreement that France, in failing to pay the United States, had broken the sanctity of treaties.

One newspaper said Germany might now default its own debts and another said Germany was no longer morally bound to comply with the Versailles treaty.

Freedom for 1944 for the Philippine Islands was voted by the senate in the face of warnings that President Hoover would veto the legislation.

The vote, coming after 10 days of debate, made it the first time any kind of independence legislation has received the endorsement of both branches of congress in the years of agitation of the question.

The treasury's books December 15 at Washington, recorded France, Belgium, Greece, Hungary, Estonia and Poland in default on their obligations to the United States while opposite the names of Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Latvia and Lithuania was written the word "paid." Thus the first general war debt payment date since inauguration of the Hoover one-year moratorium on intergovernmental debts—mid-summer a year ago—found the nations owing American sharply divided into two groups. The total due from the 12 nations was $124,984,421, principal and interest. Of this total, Great Britain owes $95,550,000, which sum, in gold bullion, was set aside in the vaults of the Bank of England, "ear-marked," to meet the obligation. The five other nations paid the following: Italy, $1,245,437; Czechoslovakia, $1,500,000; Latvia, $148,852; Finland, $186,235; and Lithuania $92,386. Such bitter opposition arose in France that Premier Herriot and his ministry resigned after they were not allowed to make the debt settlement.

Mexico sent the League of Nations notice of withdrawal Thursday, effective two years hence, alleging financial difficulties. The note said the action was not meant to indicate Mexico did not desire to co-operate in League activities but that, in view of the economic situation, it was obliged to give such notice under terms of the covenant.

Mexico City dispatches said the cost of membership in the League, ranging from $60,000 to $90,000 annually, was considered too heavy to be borne by the government. Mexico entered the League a little more than a year ago.

The 250 farmers from 26 states in Washington last week prepared a legislative program to present to congress and in this was a demand for moratorium on agricultural debts and ban against farm foreclosures. The delegates also urged price fixing for agricultural products and an appropriation of $500,000,000 to aid distressed farm population.

New York legislature voted to let New York city borrow $40,000,000 to keep on its feet and meet the financial crisis.

Dairy Record Up. Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 18—With an average production of 26 pounds butterfat per cow, production in Nebraska Dairy Herd Improvement associations again "boomed" in November, according to the monthly dairy news letter of the college of agriculture.

The November production was 13 percent greater than during the previous month. In addition it was higher than for the corresponding month in 1931.

D. D. Thayer of the Platte Valley association owned the high producing cow in the state for November. His registered Holstein produced 123.4 pounds of butterfat.

Ponder these facts: The total income of the people of this country is estimated to have fallen from approximately $90,000,000,000 to less than $50,000,000,000. One-fourth of all who were gainfully employed are now completely idle, and a still larger number are working only part-time; almost every high salary has been drastically reduced; the income of every investor has been severely curtailed; most wages have been cut. That is what has happened to individuals.

The majority of companies are today paying not a single dollar on their common stocks. Examine the quarterly or other earnings' statements published day-by-day and you discover that it is unusual rather than usual for any net profit whatsoever to be shown. In a great many cases the losses run into very large figures. Since the panic there have been about 3,000,000 commercial failures. In addition some 4,750 banks have closed. Our foreign trade has shrunk from over $9,600,000,000 in 1929 to approximately $3,000,000,000 for this year.

Under all these circumstances why should we feel that we should have gone along as if nothing out of the ordinary has happened? How could we in reason have hoped to receive a special dispensation? If we still have a job—any kind of a job—we should realize that we are among the fortunate ones.

If we have been able to keep our business going, even at a loss, we have reason for self-congratulation. Even those who have lost out completely, financially, workwise, businesswise, must not conclude that their have outlived their usefulness. Whatever befalls, we must hold on to our self-respect. We must indulge overmuch in neither self-blame nor self-pity. We must not surrender abjectly to fear, but lay fast hold on faith. Our heads may be battered and bloody, but they must not become bowed. We must fight, not faint. Remember that no man is defeated until he himself admits defeat. Don't admit defeat!

IF THE GIFT IS LASTING

the Sentiment is lasting

NATURALLY, if your gift is a temporary thing that is soon worn out or used up, the sentiment which inspired it is soon forgotten. If you want your good wishes to live on for years—give a lasting gift. Our stocks of distinctive gifts are made up almost entirely of articles of that kind. Fine watches... the newest jewelry... unusual novelties... and many accessories of precious metal such as watch bands, belt buckles, tie and collar clasps, bearing the famous name—Wadsworth! And the surprising part of it is that most of these gifts cost no more than others which are soon forgotten. Come in and look around—soon!

CHEVROLET PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

THIS is Chevrolet Week throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—is now on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Aer-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly streamlined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proved six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Synco-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try!

Grammar Room Items.

The 17 eighth graders had perfect attendance all last week. Civics class dramatized the work of the president of the United States, the vice president, cabinet officers and speaker of the house last Thursday.

Seventh and eighth graders made many attractive Christmas gifts, including magazine racks, letter holders, hat racks, pot holder racks, shoe racks, necktie racks, cake boards, meat boards, bread boards, footstools and scissor holders, all of wood. Others fashioned gesso pictures, gesta glass pictures, embroidered pillow tops, doilies, vanity sets and table runners. Several of the boys embroidered parrot designs on hot dish holders. Each made what he or she wished at small cost.

Members of the grammar room wish to thank two of their numbers for cooperation during their Christmas projects. Vernon Nelson brought a chest of tools and James Miller brought a work table and tools.

Intermediate Room Notes.

Fifth and sixth graders had a room decorating contest last week, and Barbara Lautenbaugh, Raymond Brzozynski and Iris Prinec tied with Berwyn Prince, Etzel Selders and Donald Christensen for best window display. Shirley Leach, Theo Witt, Lora Weibie and Marvin Jaracek were given first place in the bulletin board contest. Language class has been writing original Christmas poems and stories.

Lower Grade News.

Third and fourth graders decorated the room week before last. John Vernon Prince and Dorothy Katz making pop corn strings, and Ida and Etta Jensen fashioning holly wreaths. Sixteen from this room attended the junior class play matinee.

Irene Christensen was absent all last week, due to illness. The third and fourth grade children made decorations for the school tree, fashioning ornaments and toys from colored papers and covering these with mucilage and artificial snow. Last Friday, the third and fourth graders entertained each other at language period. Third graders played that they went to sleep and had a Christmas dream, then told of their dreams. Fourth graders told of Christmas customs in other lands. They were particularly interested in the Dutch custom of putting sheafs of hay and oats in shees for Santa's horse. In the morning the grain is gone and gifts remain. In Belgium, the children found that little folks put carrots in their shoes so that Santa's horse will smell the vegetable and stop.

First and Second Grades.

Bitter with the Sweet.

York Republican: There is no good but what some form of evil is constantly dogging its steps. California knows that. For years the Californians, delighted with their climate, heralded its wonders to the world by word of mouth and by printed page. California got to be known as the place of comfort in winter. When wintry blasts were due, one only needed to make for the Pacific coast and spend the long winter months in perfect comfort.

But now the state is overrun with wanderers. Lured by the climate they have flocked there and now they are taxing the ability of the citizens to feed and care for them. It is estimated that 5,000 people have entered the state every week during October and November and there are 670,000 jobless persons there dependent upon public charity.

A new state law is now proposed that would set up inspection depots at points of the state border where indigent itinerants could be stopped. Those who were not found able to maintain themselves would be turned back, and means supplied to deport them to the communities from which they came and where they have some claim for aid.

In Time of Peace Pay for War.

Omaha Journal-Stockman: Annual reports of the war and navy departments are out. The secretaries of the navy puts the actual cost of the navy for the past fiscal year at $358,000,000, and declares that $459,000,000 has been appropriated for the fiscal year of 1933. The report of the secretary of war gives no cost figures, but they are not far from $400,000,000. Thus in these peace times we are spending about three-fourths billion dollars for defense when every nation on earth is so nearly busted as to find it impossible to war, even if it wanted to.

The secretary of war devotes a considerable part of his report to arguments against consolidating the war and navy departments and to favorable comparisons between the military outlay of the United States and European countries. He shows that 3.38 persons per 1,000 population in the United States are in the army against 184 in France, 143 in Italy, 33 in Japan, 32 in Russia and 13 in the United Kingdom.

This doesn't prove anything except that the European countries are bigger fools than the United States. The population of the United States is three times as large as that of France, Italy or Great Britain and a third larger than that of Japan. Thus for instance, a third as many people in France as in the United States are supporting an army of 164 soldiers out of each 1,000 inhabitants against 3 in the United States.

Well, if Europe wants to bankrupt itself keeping up armies instead of getting together in friendliness and living in peace, that's its privilege, but it is no reason for the United States spending three-fourths of a billion each year just to be ready for a war of invasion that every nation in the world is too smart to undertake.

Before we ever arrive at a balanced budget that will stay balanced a lot of such needless expenditures will have to be lopped off.

Turkey Supply Is Large In Nebraska
Lincoln, Neb.—Enough turkeys remain on Nebraska farms to supply every other family in the state with a Christmas feast.
After the sale of 150,000 birds for the Thanksgiving trade, Prof. F. E. Muesel of the Nebraska agricultural college, estimated a remainder of 200,000.
The total of 350,000 represented quadrupled production for the little heat as possible stir well. Add walnuts, cashews and pecans, spread in a thin sheet on oiled paper using spatula, then cut into squares. Nuts should be finely chopped. When chilled, peel off paper.

Maple Creams.
2 cups sugar
1-2 cup maple syrup
1-2 cup cream
1 dozen marshmallows
1 can moist coconut

Put three-fourths cup water and sugar in saucepan, bring to boiling point and let boil until syrup will spin thread when dropped from tip of spoon. Pour into buttered platter; scatter nuts over top. As soon as edges begin to harden, pick up with tips of fingers and fold to center of plate, and pull as soon as cool enough to handle. When so hard it can no longer be pulled, draw out into string and cut with scissors. Turn onto moistened marble slab or heavy platter, cool slightly, add vanilla, then cream with spatula and finally work with hands. Let stand overnight.

Use as centers for dipping in melted chocolate, for nut creams and similar candies. The fondant may be tinted various colors, or may be mixed with melted chocolate.
A dainty confection can be made by moulding three different colors of fondant into a loaf and slicing off for serving.
Melted over hot water with occasional stirring, the fondant makes a delicious coating for candied cherries, fresh grapes, pineapple wedges or nuts.

World Events

President Herbert Hoover plans to call a conference of educators in January to consider necessary retrenchments without serious injury to the coming generation.

President Hoover presented to congress a drastically reduced budget, recommending a 2-1-4 percent manufacturers' excise tax, retention of the gasoline tax, rigid economies including an additional 11 percent cut in government salaries, and a big slash in veterans' benefits. He asked for total appropriations of $4,218,808,344, saying net expenditures would total $3,256,354,900 against receipts of $2,949,162,712—leaving a deficit of $307,192,137. It was to offset this that the new taxation was proposed. The president proposed that expenditures for 1934 be cut $478,468,000 below those calculated for the current year.

Convinced that negotiations with the United States on the war debts problem should be pursued, Joseph Paul-Boncour definitely accepted the task of forming a new French ministry. M. Paul-Boncour at the same time expressed his belief that the government is bound by the vote of the chamber of deputies which resulted in the resignation of Ernest Herriot's cabinet and by which France failed to pay its war debts installment due December 15. It is generally expected, however, that as soon as the new ministry can function smoothly it will give thorough consideration to the debt situation and to relations with the United States, particularly if M. Paul-Boncour will be the new foreign minister, as is generally expected. The ideal in perfecting the new ministry, the premier-designate said, is that of forming a "union of left parties." M. Paul-Boncour was first elected to the chamber of deputies as an independent socialist.

German Students Are Interested In Affairs Of Their Government

Students in German universities are interested in national politics, William Weiersheuser explained last Friday when he addressed Miss Margaret Schemel's German classes at Wayne Teachers College. Mr. Weiersheuser just arrived home in October after studying two years in the university at Marburg, one of the oldest schools in Germany. Mr. Weiersheuser, who had his A. B. degree from Wayne Teachers College, was studying toward his doctor's degree which he plans to finish in this country, probably at Lincoln.

As evidence that students are vitally interested in politics in Germany Mr. Weiersheuser cited the fact that a student council in the Marburg university is composed of 24. Of this number 22 men and one woman are Hitlerites, favoring the national socialists. Only one of the group is a nationalist. All universities in Germany are owned by the provinces. Mr. Weiersheuser explained, except a few municipal universities such as the one at Marburg and Frankfurt. Each school is controlled by a senate which elects the professors yearly. The president of the school is chosen by the faculty from among the instructors. The teachers are classed in three groups, full professors, associate professors and instructors, the first named being highest in rank. The school senate gives the promotions. Some always remain dozent, or instructors.

Students are matriculated in the German schools much like they are in universities here. Entrance to a university in Germany presupposes that the student holds a bachelor of arts degree, and only one degree is granted, the Ph. D., which requires six years of study beyond the A. B. Each student has a book with a list of his classes and he must have a professor sign his name after the class he teaches. So logical are all school arrangements that a student feels right at home in his work immediately. Attendance is not checked in classes and the final examination at the close of each semester determines entirely the student's grade in a subject.

The German universities, as well as all others in Europe, have no campus life. Buildings are scattered all about the city and often buildings used by one department are also separated by one department.
Education in Germany up to the eighth grade is for boys and girls. Then the girls go to the lyzeum where they specialize in home economics. The boys either enter the oberrealschule or the gymnasium, which include high school and first years of college work, granting A. B. degrees. The oberrealschule emphasizes training for average citizenship, and the gymnasium prepares students for professional and other specialized fields. The universities are open to men and women but men do not like to have women take advanced work as they will then be eligible for positions which are already too scarce in that country. Many women, however, are attending Marburg university and they have considerable power in the school.

Student fees are in proportion to the amount of hours being earned. The fees are paid through the post office and the money goes into government funds which operate the schools. Students as a whole in Germany are very serious, Mr. Weiersheuser noted. Classrooms are not so comfortable as in this country and corridors are not heated. Yet many are striving for school, Marburg has an enrollment of about 8,000. Library facilities are excellent. Marburg has about 500 periodicals on the reading table, all the leading magazines and papers of the United States being among the number. If five students wish a certain publication the school adds it to the list.

In some class work at Marburg instructors use only the lecture method. In other classes each student studied a different topic and lectured to classmates about this. Mr. Weiersheuser investigated the Russian situation as his topic in one class.
Politeness of instructors is notable in Germany, Mr. Weiersheuser said. Each instructor, on meeting another, tips his hat and shakes hands. If a group of professors meets the one of highest rank is spoken to first. Should a military officer be in the group he is shown first preference.
Duelling, a common custom since early times, is still common in German schools, Mr. Weiersheuser reports. A man must in some fraternities and other groups, win at duelling to show his courage. Since duelling is forbidden in Henne, the province in which Marburg is located, the students go to Baden for the sport. A student is often mortally wounded in a duel. He is almost always scarred and a man with scars on his face wins favor. Mr. Weiersheuser told of duels in which one had his nose severed and another one side of his scalp cut off. One who will not fight a duel is marked as a coward.
Fraternities are very select in Germany. Men belonging to them do not live together. They only have meals together and when at meals they wear elegant jackets. On the street all of one fraternity wear distinctive bright caps and breast bands.
Mr. Weiersheuser lived in a private home with a German family in Marburg. He paid 40 marks a week for board and room, this being about $8.
Mr. Weiersheuser believes that students going from this country to Germany to study should have a conversational knowledge of the language before beginning study.
Economic conditions in Germany are not good. The traveler does not see this, Mr. Weiersheuser explained. The average citizens live on very little. Their food is scant and they take great care of their clothes, making them wear a long time by frequent patching. The Germans are thrifty and proud and never complain.
Most Europeans wear modern style clothes, Mr. Weiersheuser explained, using their early typical costumes only at festivals. In one district in Hessen, however, the people wear their costumes every day. Women have dresses with about eight skirts, their hair done high in a knot on which is a red cap, and they wear white stockings. The men's garb is also typical.
Mr. Weiersheuser found the two years of study abroad most helpful. He stopped in England enroute

Etta Kett's Weekly Quiz

1. When entertaining at formal tea in a private home, how is the house arranged?
2. What refreshments should be served at the formal tea?
3. How is the tea served, and do guests help themselves to cakes and sandwiches?
4. At the small informal tea, where does the hostess receive her guests?
5. Who presides at the tea table for a small, intimate group?
6. Does one ever sit down to the tea table to drink one's tea?
7. What type of linen should be used on the tea table, and what china and silver should be used?
8. What foods should be served at the small, informal tea?
9. How should sandwiches be prepared for the afternoon tea?
10. Are small tea tables placed about the room?

Answers to Etta Kett.

1. In public room or private drawing room, curtains over windows are drawn and lights lighted as if for evening affair. A lighted fire and large tea-table spread in dining room are usually arranged.
2. Tea, chocolate, bread and cakes. There may be layer cake, sliced cakes and all sorts of little frosted cakes.
3. At the formal tea, guests go to the tea table and help themselves to bread and cakes. The chocolate, already poured into cups and topped with whipped cream, is passed on a tray. Tea is also passed in the cups, accompanied by small pitcher of cream, bowl of sugar and dish of lemon, the lemon slices usually pierced by whole cloves.
4. Either near the door with a friend to help in ushering in guests; or at a very small tea, the hostess answers the door herself and welcomes her guests.
5. The hostess may preside at her own tea table, or she may ask two of her decorative and gracious friends; one to pour tea and the other to sit at opposite end behind the chocolate pot.
6. Acquaintances of the table hostesses often draw up a chair and drink their tea or chocolate at the table, leaving as soon as finished with the food.
7. The tea cloth may be a yard, yard and a half or even two yards square, it may barely cover the table or may hang over half a yard. The cloth may be colored but white is the preferred color, and it may be plain or elaborately embroidered or lace-trimmed.
8. Tea foods differ in various communities and according to one's tastes. Favorites are hot breads, cakes, paper-thin sandwiches, plain bread and butter sandwiches, plain cookies, buttered toast, chocolate cake with whipped cream, Sally Lynn, hot gingerbread and toasted cheese crackers. Sandwiches for afternoon tea are made by buttering end of a loaf of not too fresh bread, spreading on filling of jam, meat paste, lettuce, of prepared spread, cutting off the prepared slice as thin as possible, and topping with a second slice of bread, unbuttered. Trim off crust, and cut diagonally into two triangular sandwiches, or cut into shapes with cookie cutters.
9. Little glass-topped or plain tea tables may be placed next to guests to hold their plates or ash trays.

Good Samaritans.
Omaha World Herald—In the current number of the Nebraska Farmer an item, entitled "Good Samaritans," begins thus:
"Fifty neighbors of John Linn Dawson, who broke his leg about seven weeks ago, husked 80 acres for him; neighbors of W. W. Coons, Milldale, husked his entire crop; near Falls City, neighbors husked 1,300 bushels of corn for Mrs. William Karst, recently widowed."
The list goes on with the chronicle of how something like 800 friends and neighbors all over the state husked in the neighborhood of 30,000 bushels of corn for the victims of sickness, accident and death. And this is only a partial chronicle. The country weeklies have told of many like incidents and the unreported cases must be several times the number that comes under any individual editorial eye.
This is not the first year that this kind of Samaritanism has been practiced in Nebraska. It is in fact a good old custom which has been handed down from the fathers and the grandfathers of the men now farming the land. But the instances of this helpful husking seem to have been greatly multiplied this year. It is not because of more sickness this year, but because sickness puts the farmer in a more serious plight than formerly. He can't hire huskers to harvest 15-cent corn as he might for 50-cent corn.
That's the way the community chest spirit operates in the corn fields.
