OFF WITH THE OLD ON WITH THE NEW

on - on - on to prosperity

NOW 1932 takes its back-slide into oblivion and 1933 takes off for its lap around the world with new spirit, new courage, new energy, a brighter aspect and clear track to Recovery.

The up-turn to better conditions is before us . . . charted by such obvious and tangible factors as increase in employment, the wheels of industry gaining momentum, freer spending, rising prices and more activity in the marts of commerce.

Each and every one of us can give impetus to the tempo with determined hearts, helpful hands, concerted action; joining in the chorus of "Let's go . . . on, on, on to Prosperity."

Returns From Raton With Abandoned Car

Ivan Hart arrived home Wednesday last week from Raton, N. M., where he went to get the car which George Roland abandoned there a few weeks ago. Roland left the car on a side street in Raton. Hart learned that Roland had not been seen at Raton for a couple weeks so the car was taken to the Ford garage for safe keeping. Hart left for Saturday and arrived by bus at Raton on Monday morning at 3:30. He left Raton that day at 10:30 a. m. and arrived in Wayne Wednesday. Near Den... the he ran into a snow storm where road overseers were having difficulty keeping the highway open.

Early Days In Wayne County

Early days from the Wayne Herald for January 1, 1917: A daughter was born December 21, 1916, to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Craven of Wayne.

A son was born December 21, 1916, to Mr. and Mrs. John Grimam. Firemen netted $200 for their New Year's eve ball and will start a fund for purchase of a fire truck. County officers who took up duties the first of the year are: F. S. Berry, attorney; J. O. Hansen, treasurer; J. H. Mastic, assessor; Henry Retwisch, George Farran and P. M. Corbit, commissioners; and organized, electing Farran chairman.

R. J. Dempsey died at his home northeast of Wayne January 4, 1917, aged 61.

Henry Soules injured his right knee when a baggage train in which he was working at Columbus, lunged forward and threw him onto the pavement. He was taken to an Omaha hospital and John Soules went to the city to be with his son.

Chester Foster, son of J. H. Foster of Wayne, died in an Omaha hospital January 2, 1917. A sister, Anita Foster, and two brothers, Curtis and Charles Foster, survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaler L. Dayton, whose marriage was solemnized in a little log cabin near north Prairie, Ill., New Year's eve 1886, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Wayne in 1916. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Henney, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. T. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Munsinger, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Laughlin, Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Gaston, Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Cross, Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Bull, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Dayton, C. M. Christensen and Miss Mabel Dayton.

Mrs. Walter Sberbin of Wayne, underwent an operation.

Mrs. Louis Ulrich died at Winside December 30, 1916, at the age of 56 years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morrow have leased the E. B. Henderson building east of the post office in Winside and will move their stock of general merchandise there.

Lute Bruss of Palestine, Texas, was a visitor in the William Voss home at Hoskins.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McManigal of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, celebrated their silver wedding Christmas day, 1916.

Mrs. J. K. Johnson of Stuart, who had visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pleckow, here went to Sioux City to see another sister, Mrs. E. A. Johnson.

Rev. George Dunlap, missionary in the Philippines, visited his brother, E. T. Dunlap, in Wakefield. The former and Rev. E. K. Cross of Wayne, were classmates at Coe college in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Miss Sylvia Garwood and Evan W. Jenkins of Carroll, were married New Year's morning, 1917, at the Griffith Garwood home.

W. F. Will went to Rochester, Minn., for an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mulvey of Winner, S. D., are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Emma Baker.

From the Wayne Herald for January 11, 1886: An artesian well 465 feet deep has been drilled at Hartington. The thermometer dropped to 26 below zero January 23. Snow blockades held up mail service from the east for several days. J. T. Mettler is new member of the county board of commissioners. Oscar Hoffman built a store at the corner of Third and Main streets. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stevie were given a surprise on their tenth wedding anniversary.

George Berlinmeyer and Miss Rosina Kugler were married January 12, 1886. Isaac Newton and Miss Laura Wright were married January 7, 1886. County treasurer's statement shows $320,960 were collected in six months in Wayne county. I. O. Richardson and David Cunningham discovered that their new groves of trees were great snow catchers during winter. Grace Menger broke an arm while coasting. The First National bank elected officers as follows: J. T. Bressler, president; D. C. Patterson, vice president; F. A. Dearborn, cashier.

From Wayne Herald for January 4, 1894: Master Fred Pile celebrated his birthday, S. M. Sundahl and Miss Emily Blurker were married December 27, 1894. P. Clyde Oman and Miss Mabel Prescott were married January 3, 1894. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pingrey have made plans to celebrate their golden anniversary soon. Mrs. H. G. Willcott of Fremont, was elected to teach in the public school in place of Miss Cora Reynolds who resigned.

From Ponce Journal January 4, 1893: There were no more calls made on New Year's day. In the afternoon the Ponca band gave the town a fine serenade, but we noticed that the horns froze up occasionally, necessitating a stop at some warm place to thaw them out. You go around town out some infernally cold and dark nights as we are having lately and it is mighty nice to see the street lamps with which T. B. Orr, Higgins and West, and M. V. Coats illuminate. What a good thing it would be if every business house in town would hang out a street lamp. If they would do this and in addition, the mall could have on its roof a big electric light, people could go around even in the darkest nights without tumbling over one another. In fact they would hardly be able to distinguish night from noon. It would increase the comfort and it would also promote mortality, for the good book tells us that light is not congenial to wickedness.

Speaking of Wakefield, the Wakefield Star says, "This beautiful town is located in the southern part of Dixon county and is surrounded by one of the best agricultural districts in Nebraska. The town has only been settled fourteen months and now has a population of 310 souls by actual count. All the different branches of trade are represented here."

World Events

The 34,000-acre sugar bowl tract in Florida belonging to John Ringling, circus man, will be developed into a novel agricultural colony.

Miss Jahe Addams, founder of Hull house, was named one of the 12 prominent women of the century by the National Council of Women.

A six-story elevator containing a million bushels of grain was destroyed by fire in Chicago Thursday. Two men lost their lives. The loss is estimated at a million dollars.

Lydia, Edna, John and Edith Mahaney, born on Christmas day in 1923, are said to be the oldest living quadruplets on the North American continent. They live at St. Johns, New Brunswick.

Diamond Dick, known in Norfolk, his home city, as Dr. Richard J. Tanner, recently revealed the fact that he left the glamour of a showman's life to care for his mother. Dr. Tanner is an extraordinary marksman.

An explosion Saturday in a coal mine at Moweaqua, Ill., trapped 52 workers, turning Christmas eve in the little city of 2,400 into a place of great anxiety for safety of the workers. Rescue squads labored day and night in an effort to reach the men.

Janet Gaynor, popular film star, and her husband, Lyndell Peck, have separated "entirely because of clashes of temperament and requirements of their profession upon their time and abilities." Miss Gaynor, a native of Philadelphia, married Peck in 1929.

With the last union representatives reporting approval early on Thursday at Chicago, the wage parley between railway labor and managers reached agreement with a compromise to extend for nine months the 10 per cent reduction of the basic wage scale.

Many Americans paused on a world tour Saturday at Bethlehem to begin an impressive Christmas observance. Church bells rang out through the clear night and throngs filed into the grotto manager to which three wise men of the east wended their way centuries ago.

President-elect Roosevelt, in correspondence made public Thursday at the White House, declined "to accept any joint responsibility" in the appointment of a commission to explore the war debts and other international problems, telling President Hoover, in effect, that he wished a free hand after he takes office March 4.

Trampling down all dry opposition, house wets jammed the democratic 3.2 per cent beer bill through unchanged December 21 at Washington and laid it on the doorstep of the senate, where early action is promised. The big vote, 230 to 165, approving the measure was the first successful move by wets in either branch of Congress to modify the Volstead act since it became a law 12 years ago. Shouts and applause greeted Speaker Garner's announcement of the bill's passage.

The Reconstruction corporation Thursday reported to congress it had authorized advances totalling $107,653,587 in November. Loans authorized to banks, trust companies and railroads and increases aggregated $71,541,894 in November of states for relief amounting to $18,987,373; advances for contracts for relief construction projects, $4,774,744; there was $10,000,000 for agricultural credit corporations; $2,500,000 to secretary of agriculture for loans to farmers; $129,616 to facilitate agriculture exports, and $20,000 for the home loan discount bank.

The $110,981,000 agriculture department supply bill, setting aside only $35,000,000 for federal highway aid in the next fiscal year, was reported to the house in Washington Thursday by its appropriations committee. Carrying out President Hoover's recommendation for reducing federal highway aid allotment by $65,000,000, the committee allowed only $35,000,000 of the usual annual $100,000,000 outlay. The bureau of federal roads said this would meet maturing obligations to the states for the full fiscal year of 1934, due partly to the $120,000,000 emergency employment relief appropriation made at the last session.

With all these, and many more, the price range continues to be mindful of the buyer's pocketbook. It has been found possible to equip the new Chevrolets with many features that used to be confined to cars selling at several times Chevrolet's base price. Since October 1932, trained former employees have been going back to work in Chevrolet's widely distributed manufacturing and assembly plants, with welcome additions to the general purchasing power, made possible by more wage money in circulation. Throughout November, the increase in employment continued to a seasonal peak to the middle of December, when concentrated operations incident to prompt dealer stocking were in full swing. More than twenty million dollars worth of the new cars were in dealer's hands when the national introduction was made.

RELISHES THAT BEST ACCOMPANY THE MEAT COURSE

Certain meats seem to demand a definite type of pickle or relish to bring out their fullest flavor—thus definite types of sauces or relishes have come to be associated with one type of meat.

Lamb immediately brings mint sauce to mind—pork is linked gastronomically with apple sauce. But there are variations on the familiar and obvious relishes that may not occur to the homekeeper—variations that will appeal to family and guests alike, and give to a familiar dish a new guise.

And there are a variety of attractive ways of serving relishes so that they will appeal to the eye as well as to the palate. Sweet pickles should be drained from their liquid as should olives, but mustard pickles and those put up in heavy sauces should be served with the accompanying liquid for greatest flavor.

Home made relishes always seem to have a special aroma and fragrance of their own—who has forgotten the fragrance of chili sauce cooking in an old fashioned kitchen or is too blasé to thrill to the sight of row on row of preserves and relishes in gleaming glass jars that decorate the shelves of a well stocked pantry?

But nowadays when space in the average apartment is apt to be limited it is gratifying to know that nearly all of the old-time relishes may be duplicated in the modern shop. A list of meats and the kinds of relishes most suitably served with them follows:

Beef—Worcester sauce, mustard pickles, spiced peaches, pickled onions, celery, black currant or plum jelly, sweet tomato pickles.

Pork—Apple sauce, sauer kraut, dill pickles, stuffed olives, celery, sweet mustard pickles, radishes, currant jelly.

Lamb—Mint sauce, mint jelly, sour gherkins, radishes, chopped sweet relish, green olives.

Veal—Pickled beets, call saucers, mustard pickles, catsup, sliced dill pickles.

Poultry—Cranberry jelly, sweet pickles, dill pickles, ripe and green olives, celery, radishes, currant jelly, black currant jelly.

Fish—Sour pickles, tartar sauce, lemons, cole slaw, sweet pepper relish, piccalilli.

3. For an unmarried woman?
4. What is correct size for a man's card?
5. What paper is favored for visiting cards? What printing?
6. What is correct wording for the man's visiting card?
7. Should a widow discard her husband's name on cards?
8. In what manner should a woman use the title of "doctor"?
9. What is correct use of "jr."?
10. Should a young girl use "Miss" on her cards?
11. What is correct use of "Mr.", "Dr.", "Colonel", "Judge", and "Reverend" on visiting cards?
12. Should a divorcee continue to use her husband's name?
13. What are the uses for double cards?
14. What is the correct number of cards to leave at the friendly call?

Answers to Etta Kett.

1. As an invitation to informal party; bearing message of congratulation or condolence; when accompanying graduation announcement; or when making social calls.

2. About 2 7/8 to 2 3/4 inches long, by 2 to 2 1/4 inches wide.

3. Usually 2 7/8 by 2 inches.

4. It is narrower, usually 2 7/8 to 3 1/4 by 1 3/8 to 1 5/8 inches.

5. White or cream-white unglazed cardboard, with shaded Roman or script engraving.

6. American custom is to use full name with "Mr.," but often initials only are used, as "Mr. H. T. Smith." His wife's card must duplicate the wording.

7. No, she has taken his name for her life, or until it is lost through law, and she should retain it through widowhood. Never in social usage should she sign herself or be addressed as "Mrs. Mary Smith."

8. A woman with professional title uses this in public, but in private life uses her husband's name without title. An unmarried woman with title of "doctor" uses it socially as well as professionally. If she is a "Doctor of Philosophy," a woman should not call herself doctor except in the classroom.

9. A man living in the same town with his father and bearing the same name uses "Mr. John Henry Smith, Jr.," or "Mr. John Henry Smith, junior," on his cards. After his father's death, he should discontinue use of the "junior." "Junior" refers to the son or grandson of a man of the same name, and "2nd" means a nephew or cousin.

10. Yes, after she is 16 years old.

11. As "Dr. Henry Smith," "The Reverend Henry Smith," "Colonel Henry Smith," and "Judge Henry Smith," but educational titles are not used, and a man does not use title, "Professor," on his cards unless he holds high rank in an established chair.

12. She retains full legal right to do so. If her name was Mary Jones before marriage, she frequently calls herself Mrs. Jones Smith after divorce.

13. To accompany wedding present, flowers at funeral, or in paying formal visits, a card reading "Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith" is correct.

14. The visitor leaves a card of her own and her daughter's for each lady in the house and card of her husband's and son's for each man and woman, but three is the greatest number should be left of any one card.

Witch Doctors Powerful. Life is mystifying, life is complex to the African native, for he understands so little about himself. He believes that the spirits of departed ancestors are malignant and seek to harm the living. The hoot owl's shrill cry at night is a voice from darkness indicating death and he is much afraid. In time of sickness, an evil spirit is at fault, and a witch doctor must be consulted. Usually the doctor will accuse some defenseless old woman of the tribe of harboring the spirits, and relatives of the sick one burn her hut, beat her and drive her into the bush to be eaten by wild animals.

Believe in Magic. As safeguard against evil, a native will carry magic powders and blow these into the air in the four directions before lying down to sleep. This assures protection.

Life In Africa Is Both Thrilling And Uncertain, Says Visiting Missionary

It's a low, unhealthy country, with cobras, pythons, boa constrictors, scorpions, centipedes and tarantulas as intimate neighbors, not to mention some 13 varieties of mosquitoes with friendly tendencies, which Rev. Frederick Holland calls home, and he and Mrs. Holland are going back there in about four months to resume work at Kenya colony in East Africa. The Hollands came to Wayne last week to conduct meetings at the E. B. Young home, and Rev. Holland made several talks before school and religious bodies during his stay. The Hollands returned to this country 15 months ago, and have covered some 25,000 miles holding meetings.

Is Big Game Country. Kenya mission is located 130 miles east of Nairobi, the place where big game hunters are outfitted for their expeditions into the interior. This is part of a large nature reserve numbering about 133,000 inhabitants, a land of dense tropical growths and dangerous animals and snakes.

Hunters come from all over the world to seek elephants, lions, buffalos and rhinoceri. A high powered rifle shooting bullet six inches long and 3-4 inch in diameter is used in elephant hunting. The bullet is solid steel, and needless to say, has a terrible recoil and powerful impact. A rhinoceros once charged Rev. Holland at 19 paces from the rear, and the missionary felled him at point blank range, side-stepping, to miss the rushing body.

Natives live in grass thatched huts made circular like haystacks, with a door two feet high and about 18 inches wide, made small to keep out wild animals. These huts are dirty, unventilated, dark, and are built in groups of three to 15 for protection against animals. After conversion, the black folks are persuaded to tear down these unsanitary huts and build houses of adobe brick or frame plastered with mud. They raise maize, sorghum (called Kaffir corn, from which the native eats seeds), millet, edible gourds, pumpkins, cow peas, lentils, bananas and sweet potatoes. They herd cattle for milk and make butter, drinking the buttermilk and often using the butter to anoint their bodies during the hot, dry season.

Wives are purchased on the installment plan. After the wife is bargained for, she keeps her husband for the remainder of her life, cultivating his garden and doing all the heavy work. Men seldom work until they are converted. Polygamy is general, one native often having as many as 15 wives in his household. Ear rings, necklaces and bracelets are worn in profusion, with fluffy ostrich feathers ornamenting the hair, and leopard or monkey skins worn as clothing. Infant mortality is very high, fully 80 percent dying in infancy, due to lack of care and unsanitary living conditions.

Life in Africa is colorful, fraught with danger, primitive. Natives use poison-tipped arrows, treated with an arsenic solution, for weapons. Mammoth snakes for whose bites there is no antidote, inhabit the jungle paths and are often killed on the Hollands' front porch. Not long ago the missionary killed a python 11 feet eight inches long in his swimming pool, and this was considered only a medium sized reptile!

Rainfall is spasmodic in Africa to say the least, for 35 inches is the average annual fall, and this all comes in four or five months, beating down in the usual tropical sheets. The other seven or eight months are moistureless, the rivers drying up, leaves falling off, and the jungle sweltering under the hot sun. Temperature varies from 65 to 95 degrees and it is all ways dry but never oppressive.

Mission Work Extensive. Some 280 native missionaries and about 850 white missionaries are working in the African fields—serving 26 different tribes who speak 26 different languages! The white worker must first master the tribal languages, then work out points of contact with natives, learn their customs and try to gain their confidence. Despite economic retreatments everywhere, the African inland mission is not curtail-ing its work but instead is keeping its workers in the field and hopes to send over 70 new workers. For, says Rev. Holland, only as the church fulfills her missionary obligations does she justify her existence.

RECIPES

Eggplant and Bacon.
Wash, trim off stem and blossom, cut into halves lengthwise, and place eggplant in baking dish. Gash the pulp deeply in checkers so the seasonings will enter the flesh, then sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover with strips of raw bacon. Bake in moderate oven until tender, which will take 25 to 40 minutes. If the bacon is not crisp enough, crisp in frying pan before serving.

Moek Chicken Legs.
1 1/2 pounds veal steak
1 1/2 pound pork steak
1 slightly beaten egg
Cracker crumbs
Cut veal and pork into strips about 2 inches wide and 5 inches long. Weave onto a wooden skewer, alternating veal and pork. Roll each "drumstick" in beaten egg to

French Dressing.
A variation of French dressing which is delicious when served with vegetables is the following which is meant to be made in a bowl and mixed with an egg beater.
1-8 teaspoon celery salt
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup vinegar
1 cup salad oil
1-2 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons sugar
1-3 cup catsup
Dash cayenne pepper
Mix thoroughly with an egg beater.

Apples and Honey.
Bake ordinary apples in the usual way. When ready to serve, prepare the following dressing for them: Beat half a cup of cream until stiff and whip into it gradually one to two tablespoons of honey, a quarter cup of chopped nuts and a pinch of salt. Place in the cored-out center of the apples and serve.

Liver Loaf.
1 pound liver, sliced
1-4 cup fresh pork, ground.
1-2 cup tomatoes or 1 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion.
1 egg slightly beaten
Salt and pepper.
Cook the liver in boiling salted water for 5 minutes, then drain and put through the meat grinder. Mix with other ingredients and

Grilled Dinner.

One of the most welcome changes from the ordinary dinner is the dinner grill which the clever cook can assemble in her oven broiler and have ready in no time. One of the simplest and best grills calls for the following ingredients:

1 1/2 cups of brown sugar
4 large cooked sweet potatoes split lengthwise
6 slices of bacon
1-3 cup butter

Preheat the broiler for 10 minutes. Grease the broiler rack and sear the lamb chops on it under a good flame, watching them to keep from burning. When seared, surround with the sweet potatoes and pineapple rings. Cream the butter and sugar and spread the mixture on the sweet potatoes. When the chops are nearly done, add the bacon and broil until crisp. Baste the potatoes and pineapple from time to time with the accumulated drippings. Serve on hot plates and garnish with parsley.

With the grilled dinner serve bread and butter, coffee, a relish of some kind, and a simple dessert. Fruit and cookies would be simple and refreshing at the close of the grilled meal.

Bacon Omelet.
1-2 cup diced bacon
6 slices panbroiled bacon
6 eggs
6 tablespoons milk
1-4 cup grated cheese
1-8 teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper to season

Cook the diced bacon slowly in a frying-pan until brown and crisp. Beat the eggs until light and mix with milk, salt, paprika and pepper. Pour in the egg mixture and cook slowly until firm. Spread the cheese over the omelet and place in a hot oven until the cheese is melted. Fold and turn out on a hot platter and garnish with panbroiled bacon slices.

Puree of Ham.
Ham bone and bits of left-over ham
2 tablespoons tomato onion
2 tablespoons chopped paste or thick tomato sauce
1 quart meat stock

Put the bits of left-over ham through a fine meat chopper. Brown the onion in a small amount of fat. Add the tomato paste, ham and meat stock and simmer for about 30 minutes. Season with salt and paprika and serve with small triangles of toasted bread. Nutmeg may also be added if used sparingly.

Sweetbreads au Gratin.
Prepare sweetbreads by parboiling them for 20 minutes in water to which 1 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon vinegar have been added for each quart. After draining plunge them into cold water to make them firm.

Cut the sweetbreads into 1-2 inch cubes, place in bowl and add:
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoon white pepper
Juice of 1-2 lemon
1 cup thin cream sauce

Mix and pour into baking dish. Cover top with fine bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes.

Calves' Heart with Rice Ring.
2 calves' hearts
1 carrot, diced
2 small onion, cut fine
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
Salt and pepper

Wash the hearts and remove veins and arteries. Cut in inch square dice and cover with boiling water. Add carrot and onion and simmer until tender. Season and thicken the liquid with flour which has been smoothed with butter. Cook until thickened and add the sweetened vinegar. Serve in the center of plate surrounded with rice ring and decorated with raw or cooked carrots and parsley.

Tongue with Grapo Sauce.
Tongue
Flour
Tart grape jelly
1 cup hot water
Salt and pepper

Season's Greetings

THIS is the Season of the year when we try, for the moment, to lay down the working tools of life, and shake hands, as it were, with all our many good friends and customers, and convey to them our best wishes.

We might say that the year which is closing, with all its shortcomings, has not been such a bad old year after all. Let us all press on, however, with hope that the dawn of a New Year may bring us more happiness and prosperity.

We still have faith in our good country, in all our fellow-men, and in the Giver of all that is good, and are looking forward with renewed hope and courage that we may go on to a New Prosperity. Such an occasion will bring happiness and peace to all of us, and would long endure.

Such a thought compels us to wish you a very Happy HAPPY and PROSPEROUS New Year

Cover the tongue with cold water and bring to the boiling point. Skim and add 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer until the tongue is tender. Allow it to cool in the liquid and when cool enough to handle, peel off the skin, dust with salt and pepper, roll in flour, and brown well in hot fat. Place the tongue in a casserole. Beat a glass of tart grape jelly with a fork, add the hot water, pour over the tongue and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes, basting occasionally.

Stuffed Bacon Slices.
Sliced bacon
2 cups bread crumbs
1-4 cup butter
1-2 cuppluquid
1-2 cup seeded raisins, cut in pieces
English walnut meats if desired
Salt
Pepper

Make a dressing of the bread crumbs and seasonings. Place 1 heaping tablespoon on one end of a slice of bacon; roll the bacon slice around the dressing and fasten with a toothpick or small skewer. Place in a cold skillet and panbroil slowly, turning frequently to brown on all sides.
