State President Visits In Wayne

Miss Ethel Hill Of Kearney, Is Guest Of University Chapter Here.

Miss Ethel Hill of Kearney, president of the Nebraska Association of University Women, was guest of honor Saturday evening when about 50 attended the Wayne branch dinner and program at the Methodist parlors. Miss Hill heads Spanish department in Kearney college.

After dinner served by women of the church from tables attractive with chrysanthemums and Thanksgiving nut cups, Miss Ruth Faden, local president, introduced Miss Hill who spoke of the A. A. U. W. work and especially told of the recent national convention in Minneapolis.

The association, with membership of about 40,000 in the United States, can accomplish much, Miss Hill stated, but alone the work is not so great. She thus urged university women to band together and work for their ideals.

Miss Hill urged women to shift their outlook to a world one so that we may say the "we" and the "world" but we the world. "Women can have a great influence in bringing world fellowship, she added. Like the Hebrew prophet, Miss Hill said, let us add strength to strength. Enlarging one's vision not only helps others but it helps the individual.

Other Nebraska A. A. U. W. members look to Wayne as a growing chapter, Miss Hill said. Miss Paden served as secretary and Mrs. Clara Heylman as chairman of education in the first state organization. Miss Beulah Rundle is now second vice president. She complimented Dr. Mary Honey who prepared the state's international relations exhibit for the national convention.

University women must specialize some, Miss Hill stated, but she urged them to be able to adjust themselves to new fields in case the one of their own choosing is not open.

To teachers and homekeepers Miss Hill urged maintaining high standards of education for children. Material improvements can be made at any time, she stated, but children's lives in the making now will not stand still. "Those neglected will be forever harmed. She also spoke of maintaining the home as the center of life interest and as the foundation of social solidarity.

Miss Hill spoke of the fellowship fund which the organization uses to give further training to outstanding women scholars.

Music for the evening was violin solos by Miss Marjorie Heyne. Miss Sara White was her accompanist.

The meeting Saturday was in charge of Dr. Mary Honey, Miss Marie Hove, Miss Louise Wendt and Mrs. J. M. Strahan.

The chapter has a Christmas party December 14 with Mrs. D. S. DeWolf. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. G. W. Costerlan, Mrs. H. D. Griffin and Miss Mildred Piper.

Drama Students To Present Plays

Dramatics classes of Wayne Teachers College will on Tuesday evening, November 23, present a program of three one-act plays to consist of "A Venetian Hour" by Esther Shephard, "One of Those Days" by Margaret Cameron, and "Peggy" by Rachel Crothers.

"A Venetian Hour" is a romantic comedy taking place in 1598. The Venetians and the Milanese are traditional enemies, but in spite of this hatred Giovanna, a beautiful Venetian girl, loves Torello, a Milanese. Complications arise when Giovanna's uncle learns of the affair.

The humorous love affairs of a negro maid are pictured in "One of Those Days," a modern comedy. Connie McRae, in the turmoil of preparing for a dinner party, plans a compromising note in the letter meant for Mrs. Archer, the wife of her husband's boss. There is a mad scramble to recover the note until it is learned that Vangie, the colored maid, who is very excited over a proposal, has forgotten to mail it.

"Peggy," the last play on the program, concerns the troubles of a famous danseuse to keep her little stepson. Dan Raymond dies, leaving his son in the care of his second wife, Peggy. His family is shocked and strives to obtain the little boy. The play tells of Peggy's passionate love of her little stepson and her subsequent withdrawal, leaving the child in the care of his aunt.

Transportation Being Transformed

Omaha Journal-Stockman: Changes of a permanent character are slow in their coming and going. People are conservative by nature so that no matter how desirable a radical change of habit or thought may be, it usually takes years to accomplish it. The country's transportation systems furnish a good illustration.

In only a little over a century, the country has passed through all the stages from horse power to electricity. The changes have not been rapid. They have come about very gradually but none the less irresistibly. Looking back through the years, the logic of the progress in transportation methods appears entirely natural but it is rather more difficult to look forward logically to future progress.

Forward looking men, however, realize the futility of holding to existing facilities in the light of modern inventions, and leading railroad executives see with clear vision the new day in which the country's wonderful transportation systems will be supplanted by or transformed into speedier and more economical methods.

"It seems not too much to expect," declares Carl Gray, the veteran president of the Union Pacific System, "that the railroads, their new competitors, and a sound public sentiment may unite to put an early end to conditions which have done so much to destroy that stability of rates and charges which is so necessary to the proper functioning of commercial business."

Obviously Mr. Gray's idea is to tie in the railroads of the country with water transportation as well as with motor truck and airplane modes, eventually creating a system that combines all the good features of the old and new methods. This appears to be not only desirable but inevitable. It is the spirit of the age.

How long it will take for this great change to come about is a matter of conjecture but come it certainly will. Just now the business of the country is slowed down by unfavorable conditions but in the revival that is already on the way, faster and better methods of transportation will be needed to move a larger volume of traffic than the nation ever dreamed of.

Up to the Farmer

While we do not relish destroying food or preventing food production in the presence of hunger; while we are annoyed by the inconsistency of spending millions to irrigate and produce more in some sections, while spending other millions to take acreage out of cultivation in other sections, and while we are bewildered by the prospect of ever balancing the national budget after an extended experience in costly paternalism—scooping money out of the public treasury in wholesale fashion to decrease production on one hand and increase production on the other, it is nevertheless a fact that the government's experiments are being carried forward with a sincere purpose to help agriculture and all other gainful activities. And every farmer should make careful study of the government's corn and hog reduction plan, and if he thinks he can be benefited by adopting it, he would certainly be justified in doing so, even though he is conscientiously out of accord with the general policy. If the proposed curtailment insures relief and promises to ease solution of current and coming problems, one but exercises sound judgment by turning the policy to personal advantage. The government's purpose is plainly to iron out economic inequalities and help people back on their feet, and if a farmer thinks he can assist himself by accepting pay from the government in consideration for leaving a percentage of his land idle, he should do it. It is up to each individual to gather and analyze the facts and then decide on the wise, practical course to follow.

Reno Talks

MILOR RENO, president of the National Farmers Holiday association, attacked the national administration in a debate over the farm situation with T. E. Howard, Denver editor, at Omaha Tuesday night. Reno complains that the president is not carrying out pre-election pledges to help the farmer. Though the president's experiments may not always be sound, they are certainly designed to aid agriculture, and the purpose of the administration, as it was the purpose of the Hoover administration, points clearly to an earnest endeavor to drive off the depression and put all lines of industry and agriculture and business back on their feet. If governmental policies do not succeed exactly according to expectations, they could not fall farther short of the goal than the wild inflation and arbitrary price pegging, holding many perils, and backed by strikes and disorder, as advocated by the house of Reno. Better the moderate course followed by the president, even though not altogether as economically sound as many would advise, than the rampant radicalism of Reno and his bellicose satellites. Though we may disagree with the administration and may kick over one thing or another according to the American custom and to the inalienable rights of an American citizen, we cannot entertain the crazy wish to supplant it with something of the Reno type that manifestly would be worse.

New Source Of Employment

ADDED to the duties of the emergency relief committee are those of the civil works administration which proposes to provide work at once for a specified number of persons in each county. Under this plan labor is to be found for 190 individuals in Wayne county. Rollie W. Ley, chairman, and M. L. Ringer and Frank Erleben, Wayne county committee, are figuring out ways to furnish jobs with the least possible delay. This new and latest relief program is to supplement others in absorbing unemployment and meeting immediate needs. Improving the cemetery and doing some necessary work on streets and at the fair grounds are among jobs now contemplated. Anyone who thinks of something that ought to be done, should report to a member of the committee. The same committee is pushing authorization for additional road construction from Carroll to Winside and from Wakefield south. These projects will help solve the unemployment problem. Forces working on the Wayne-Pierce highway have been increased this week. If severe weather holds off for a month or more, there will be enough work to surmount winter without overtaxing charity organizations.

Fixing Money

CURRENCY uncertainties are pointed out as obstacles in the path of recovery by Dr. E. J. Kirshman, professor of finance at the University of Nebraska, who says "it matters little what the content of the future gold dollar will finally be only that it become known here and now so as to put an end to speculation and financial uncertainty." In a credit magazine to which Dr. Kirshman has contributed an article discussing the problem of inflation, he points out among other things: "After every great financial crisis in the past, progress has come only after the financial machinery was working smoothly again and our industrial leaders were able to discern clearly what was ahead. The leading elements in the situation are now sound, the currency question alone excepted." Following review of proposed inflationary measures, Dr. Kirshman says: "These forms of inflation are as impotent as attempts to expand bank credit have proved to be during the past two years. Revival of business comes when and only when the touchstone of confidence in the future of trade reappears which in the present instance hinges upon the removal of currency uncertainties."

To Uphold Education

THE Omaha Bee-News directs attention to the serious curtailment of the forces of education, while local officers continue without decreased numbers. As an example, mention is made that in Michigan 43,000 local officials are employed to administer affairs for a population of 4,482,000, whereas in England 2,000 persons handle the official local machinery for a population of 37,354,000. The Bee-News thinks the new deal should include a fair deal for education. The way to accomplish it, as the Bee-News believes, is to strengthen school maintenance by reducing the cost of local government. And one way this may be done would be to consolidate counties and have fewer local officials, fewer court houses and less overhead. With modern roads and modern means of travel, the original reason for small counties and many county seats has been removed. Education, lack of which means permanent loss, should not be sacrificed in order to uphold the primitive official order and perpetuate official super-numeraries.

Society Loses

"THAT charity is bad which takes from independence its proper pride, from mendicancy its salutary shame," says Southey. A professional tramp was heard to say recently that he was enjoying himself more without a job than when he was earning $30 a week. He keeps no regular hours, is aloof from rules of employment and has no responsibility. He lives from hand to mouth from day to day. In collecting a living from the world sometimes he thinks he fares well, sometimes poorly. He becomes used to inconvenience and dirt, and compensation in living without ordinary comforts is found in freedom from regularly exacting habits. He has no ambition, no desire to be a man among men. To the army of professional tramps, others, forced out of work, have been added. At first these latter, with pride still alive, shrink from asking alms, but are goaded to do so by the pains of necessity. As they grow accustomed to the ordeal, pride vanishes, independence is forfeited and civilization suffers.

Fossil hunters from the state university announce that "Nebraska is a graveyard of strange animals." If the spirits of the mammoth, pterodactyl, plesiosaurus and pithecanthropus erectus and other members of prehistoric society are accustomed to hovering around, we wonder what they think of our creatures of smaller stature, and how they feel in calculating the decreased bulk as contributions to the state's graveyard of the future; also, incidentally, what they think—if they think—of our record depression and our sundry ways of getting out of it.

The NRA and The AAA.

Omaha Journal-Stockman: It is perhaps too soon to form judgment as to the benefits of the NRA, as to its influence on the industrial life of the nation and as to the permanency of its operations. Here in the agricultural West, we have hardly had an opportunity to give it a fair appraisal as we have seen little of it. In the more populous industrial centers and commercial centers, however, much controversy over the act is still in evidence.

A really satisfactory appraisal of the NRA at this time is rendered all the more difficult by the two opposing schools of economics that are concerned with its operation. The academic idea is that the new deal is a radical and permanent revolution in American industry. The practical idea is that the deal is purely experimental and that the trade practices that do not justify themselves will be promptly discarded when the emergency is past.

Even more of doubt exists as to the effect of the AAA on the business of agriculture. The farmer is essentially an individualist, combining in his business the capitalist, the laborer, the banker and the borrower, the producer and the consumer. His attitude toward the AAA is one of tolerance rather than enthusiasm. He realizes that he has been discriminated against in past legislation but looks with suspicion on all efforts to restrict and control his operations.

The verdict of the nation is still in the making. As far as it has been formed, however, it is well expressed by President Harriman of the National Chamber of Commerce who declares that "it is inconceivable that these two important measures should ever be entirely abandoned, for self-preservation demands that an orderly economic life replace the chaotic business and industrial conditions of the last five years. But while I cannot think that these two acts will ever be repealed, I do believe that experience has shown and will show many ways in which they should be amended and their operation improved and simplified."

In other words, the patriotic attitude toward both the NRA and the AAA should be one of agreement and submission just as far as possible. The two are in violent antagonism in many respects but these inconsistencies will be corrected by experience and, whether the sponsors of the legislation desire it or not, the country will adopt the good features and discard the things that are found injurious and unworkable.

Both of these acts are on trial. Just how far the nation is willing to go with them remains to be seen and the heated appeals of the administrators will have nothing to do with the case. The people are trying them out and it is only their verdict that will be final.

Devotion.

Devotion to a dog was emphasized recently in an eastern community where a young boy lost his life in a fire to save his pet. The mother and father had hurried safely with their children out of a burning house, and then the youngest who heard his dog's cries from within flaming walls, scampered to the rescue. The child perished with his dog. Youthful attachment for a dumb animal is not always understood by seasoned adults. But it would be better for society if such devotion were more evident in human relationships. The story of the friendship between Damon and Pythias, coming down through the years, has lighted many pathways and welded courage into many hearts. Forfeiture of earthly advantages—even life—for a friend inspires confidence. Doing all one says he will do without delay unfolds a high state of conscience that is a source of encouragement. The example of the boy who perished for his dog is an inspiration not only to sharper appreciation of a child's love for pets, but an inspiration to elders to greater loyalty and helpfulness in human friendships.

Is Found Guilty.

Fred Sund was found guilty in county court November 18 on charge of intoxication and he was given 10 days and assessed fine of $4.85.

Is Very Ill Here.

Mrs. J. W. Souders, who has been suffering with high blood pressure, was taken very ill Monday at her home here. Her condition was improved yesterday. Miss Susie Souders who teaches at Springview, was called home Monday and arrived that night to be with her parents.

Underwriters To Meet.

Preliminary plans are being made for a meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Underwriters' association to be held here in Wayne, December 7 or 8, according to T. S. Hook. Jerry Brown of Norfolk, is president of the group, and Gordon Butterfield, also of Norfolk, the secretary. Principal speaker will be Herman Fricke of Omaha, one of the outstanding insurance men in the United States. Members will attend from all over northeast section of the state.

Attend Conference.

Among those from Wayne who attended the missionary conference in Sioux City last Thursday and Friday were Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Davies, Rev. W. C. Heidenreich, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wentworth and Mrs. A. A. Welch. Rev. W. E. Braisted, Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Hanscom, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kuhn, Mrs. Iva Wallicek, Miss Vera Weldon and Miss Laura Evans attended the meetings on Thursday. On Friday T. S. Hook, Miss Dorothy Hook, Miss Alice Mae Young, Miss Peggy Strahan and Miss Maxine Jones, the last of Belden, went to Sioux City.

Dinner at Carroll.

Carroll Royal Neighbors, at a dinner Tuesday evening, enjoyed a program arranged by Miss Susan Love and Miss Hannah Mills. The numbers were as follows: "Ties for Turkey," Cleo Mae Davis; "Weeping Willow Lane," Hannah Mills; "She Says She Studies," Wilma Jones; "Thanksgiving Song," Maxine Love; "The Arrow and the Song," Billy Love; "I'm a Little Frog," Cleo Mae Davis; reading, Everett Davis; "In the Little Old Church in the Valley," Susan Love; "Smilin' Through," Mrs. Larsen and Margaret Linn; "Dear old Pal," Marjorie Linn; "In the Valley of the Moon," Audrey Larson.

STURDY LOT.

While we never fought in any war aside from running a country newspaper, we were permitted on the excuse of relationship to share in a banquet given Friday evening by the American Legion and Auxiliary to honor a member who had been made a national vice president of the Auxiliary. We were impressed by the fact that surviving youths who engaged in the World war which was brought to a close fifteen years ago, are now entering middle life and are engaged in different kinds of useful endeavor. Faces that were free from care when enlistment was made under the stars and stripes, now reflect the matured lines developed from the exacting experiences of succeeding years. But we never saw more buoyant and confident faces than those grouped around the festive board Friday night. We never saw brighter or more comely faces than those of Auxiliary members who are active in the worthy public service of a patriotic organization. Much as we are disinclined to function as a social star, we were pleased over the privilege of mingling with this group and studying qualities that put backbone into American character and that will bequeath to succeeding generations the courage and purpose that made and will guarantee a free and independent democracy. The Legion and Auxiliary give assurance that the spirit of Valley Forge and of Appomattox still lives.

Senator Thompson Doing His Part

Following out the intent of the law, which he assisted in passing and which is designed to save for the owner, homes in danger of being lost, Senator W. H. Thompson (seated at left) is shown exchanging a mortgage on a home, held by himself, for bonds of the Home Owners' Loan corporation; thereupon the corporation made a new loan for the owner, to run for a period of 15 years at five per cent.

Those in the photograph, reading left to right: Paul Jones, assistant manager of the corporation in Nebraska; D. A. Geil, secretary to Senator Thompson; Senator Thompson; Miss Anna Elckert, secretary of Nebraska headquarters; Dick Linderkamp, mortgagor; Charles Smrha, corporation manager for Nebraska; Ernest Arnold, jr., assistant appraiser; W. S. Sherman, secretary to the manager, and Miss Lucile Lindstrom, secretary to the assistant manager.

Gibb Issues Call For Basketball Practice

With a grueling football season out of the way, Wayne high school will now turn attention to basketball. Coach Robert Gibb has issued call for cage candidates and expects a good turn-out. A place on the squad this season will mean competition against some of the foremost teams in the state, as games have been scheduled with Fremont, Norfolk and South Sioux City. Supt. H. R. East is working with Gibb, and is negotiating with several other leading teams for games. The completed schedule will be ready soon.

Coach Gibb is looking for players who are willing to play a good, hard, clean game of basketball, and because a boy has been on the team before, he will not be given preference. Every lad has to "deliver" or he cannot play, says the coach, who is determined to put out a coordinated team, not a group of featured players.

Winside Lions Club Has Dinner Session

Winside Lions club held evening dinner meeting at the Winside Methodist church Tuesday evening, with President R. E. Gormley in the chair. Miss Mildred Moses sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. J. P. Gaebler, and Mrs. Gerald Cherry gave two readings. The president appointed Harold Neely, Charles Nieman and Dr. Ditman to take charge of the Christmas tree and treats, and named Walter Gaebler, Thorwald Jacobsen and Fred Trampe as road committee. Jean Boyd, Supt. E. A. Austin, Rev. W. F. Most and Ed. Granquist were appointed to plan a money-making night for the band fund. The president welcomed two new members, Thorwald Jacobsen and W. R. Scribner, and initiated them into the club.

Transfer Doctor To Florida Hospital

Dr. Paul Crossland, who has been in hospital and sea duty for the U. S. navy at San Diego, Calif., is being transferred to Pensacola, Fla., where he will have hospital duty. He leaves San Diego November 29 for Washington, D. C., where he is taking a group of hospital patients. After spending a few days there, he will go to Pensacola. After locating in the new home Mrs. Crossland and infant son, who are here with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hiscox and Mrs. G. W. Crossland, will go to Florida.

Close Up Grid State At Peru This Friday

Wayne makes its bid for third place in the conference schedule by battling Peru gridsters on the Peru field this Friday evening. As the rating now stands, Omaha and Chadron are tied for first place, and will decide the leadership in this week-end's game. Wayne ranks next, followed by Peru and Kearney. Peru has lost to Omaha and Chadron and won from Kearney. Coach W. R. Hickman reports every man back in shape again and ready for a good stiff fight.

Returns to Home.

Miss Lorraine Steele returned to her home Wednesday from Good Samaritan hospital where she was a medical patient several days.

Meeting of Agents.

District Agent T. S. Hook has called a meeting of insurance men of his company here this Thursday evening. Business will be transacted.

Speaks in Omaha.

Mrs. S. A. Lingen was one of those who spoke at the meeting of the Nebraska Writers Guild in Omaha last Saturday. Her topic was pageants.

Churches

Salem Church.
Sunday school at 2 p. m.
English service at 3 p. m.

Methodist Episcopal Church.
(Rev. Harold C. Caspey, minister)
Next Sunday will be the Sunday before Thanksgiving and the services of the church will offer a suitable opportunity for our recognition of our debt to God. The morning sermon theme at 11 will be "I. O. U." The anthem will be "The Song of Harvest Home" by Berwald. In the evening the Epworth League study at 6:30 will be of Martin Luther and it will be led by Rev. W. C. Heidenreich. The discussion last week led by Prof. F. G. Dale proved very helpful and enjoyable. Young people will find these meetings very profitable. The bright evening service is at 7:30 beginning with a song service led by Kermit Stewart.

We wish to express our appreciation to those taking part in the religious drama presented last Sunday evening. The play was directed by R. L. Fanske and others taking part were Henry Ley, Charles and Bethel Brown, Harry Fisher and Betty Hawkins. We thank them for their fine work which was enjoyed by an audience that filled the church and side rooms.

The annual union Thanksgiving service will be held Thanksgiving morning at the Baptist church with Rev. W. C. Heidenreich preaching the sermon. Everybody is invited to this service.

pastor, subject: "Prayer as Privilege and Power."
6:30 p. m., the young people's meeting, always of interest and value. Subject, appropriate to Thanksgiving time: "What Have We to Thank God for." We can make this a splendid, character building hour. Welcome.
7:30 p. m., the glad hour service. It is essential that we all share in worship; bright, cheerful singing; prayer; and always a worthwhile message of gospel truth applied to life. Subject for this, a biographical study. Subject: "A Master Artist, Content to Play Second Fiddle." You will like this or "Money refunded."

For a splendid, happy spirit in all the work this fall, we humbly thank God and take courage. Faith, hope, love, loyalty still win as always. In all our lives, however tested now, there is indeed reason for many thanksgiving days.

Thanksgiving service, united churches, cooperating, Thursday, November 30, at 10:00 a. m. at the First Baptist church.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. F. A. Davies, pastor)
Our services for next Sunday are at the following hours: Sunday school, 10 a. m.; worship, 11 a. m.; C. E. services, 6:30 p. m.; church play, 7:30 p. m. The young people of Fender are presenting the very interesting five-act play, "The Honorable Mrs. Ling." They presented it last Sunday night to a large crowd at Wakefield, and the pastor there informs us that we all should see it. We are sure from what we know of the play as well as from his word that it will be enjoyed from the very beginning. Come early and obtain a good seat. The play comes under the auspices of the high school C. E. and the offering will be shared between the Pender society and our society.

It is needless to say that the pastor enjoyed more than he can say taking charge of his own services last Sunday. Next Sunday we continue with the same text, "Whom Think Ye That I Am?" Surely we feel that He is not "The Man that Nobody Knows." Presbytery met with us Tuesday morning. Six of our pastors were with us.

The solo by Miss McDonald of our state college and the special anthem by choir at the services, Sunday morning were as usual highly appreciated. The Westminster guild will meet at Mrs. J. Woodward Jones Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. After the lesson in charge of Miss Mary Ellen Gulliver and Miss Mae Beckenauer a 20c supper will be served. Those planning to attend are to inform Miss Mary Ellen Gulliver or Mrs. P. A. Davies.

Membership Drive Well Received Here

That Wakefield folks are behind the Red Cross and its work is proven by the generous response which workers have met with in their annual drive for funds. On Tuesday, Miss Pauline Hyspe, local treasurer, reported $135.25 turned in to date, including $131.25 from Wakefield city and $4 from a country district to the north. Of the Wakefield total, $117 was in memberships and the remainder in donations. The city drive will continue until Thanksgiving. Country districts and other towns in the country have yet to report to their county chairman, Mrs. Thomas Rawlings. County quota is $500.

Social Affairs Given By Classes

Wakefield Will Take Part In Invitation Debate At Norfolk Debate.

The two upper classes at Wakefield high school are planning parties for this week-end. Senior party will take form of a supper at the school home Friday evening, with entertainment to follow. Juniors are having a party the same evening at the E. Boeckenhauer home, with the following committees in charge: Refreshments, Laverne Olson, William Ossian, Verly Forney, Marjorie Leonard and Lorenz Peterson; entertainment, Dorothy Jackson, Louis Peterson, Paul Burman, Helen Gray and Daniel Hallstrom; clean-up, Deloris Korth, Ruth Anderson, Arlene Hallstrom, Vivian McCaw, William Ossian and Douglas Nordstrom. Sophomores had a class party last Friday evening, the guests coming in hard time costumes. Games were followed by luncheon.

High School Groups Stage A Pep Parade

Preceding last Friday's game with Hartington, a short pep rally was held in the assembly room, followed by a float parade. Each club in high school entered a float. Pep club led the procession with a fire truck decorated in maroon and silver streamers. The girls were in maroon and gray outfits and two of them held a large football bearing the words, "Beat Hartington." Hi-Y float was a car decorated in red, white and blue, with a large Hi-Y emblem, and two boys representing Hartington and Wakefield were clasping hands. Girls Reserve float was a street cleaner bearing the sign, "To the city dump," and representing Hartington being taken "to a cleaning." Two girls carried the Girl Reserve emblem. Lat-in club float was a trailer with two girls dressed as Romans in the "chariot." Wakefield carried shield and spear—Hartington was conquered. "W" club had a car decorated in maroon and gray, and members rode inside.

Oratory Contest Planned Friday

For the first time Wayne State Teachers College is entering the old line oratory contest of the state forensic league to be held December 8 at Doane college, Crete. The local contest will be held this Friday at 3:15 in the college auditorium. Judges will be T. S. Hook, Mrs. Grace Welsh Lutgen and Elmer Mortensen.

In the men's contest the following have entered: Cyrus Jones who will give "Making the Misses Happy," Ray Matelson with "Modern Pirates," Gail McGee with "The Crisis" and Edmund Sedivy with "Wrapped in Dynamite." Entered in the women's contest are the following: Helen Morris giving "Time on Our Hands," Helen Paper with "The New Death" and Mildred Schefers with "The Uncertainty of June." All orations are original.

Bank Expert Speaks. William Edward Johnson, former Wayne man and a graduate of Wayne college, spoke before a public gathering at the college Monday evening on modern banking problems. The meeting was sponsored by Social Science club of the college. Mr. Johnson told about the place of the bank in our economic life, and also outlined the procedure in liquidating closed banks, stressing the fact that officials try not to force immediate payment and thus cripple earning power of farmers. A round-table discussion followed. Mr. Johnson has served as bank analyst in Chicago, and is now receiver for the closed Scribner bank.

Student Out of Danger. Favorable reports have been received on the condition of Miss Alice McGregor, Santee student at Wayne State Teachers college who was shot in the arm while spending week-end before last at her home. She is in Yankton, S. D., hospital, and doctors expect to save her arm.

Drive Is Progressing. Red Cross membership drive is being conducted under direction of Supr. R. E. Best. It will continue until Thanksgiving and those who wish to become members or subscribe smaller amounts are asked to see Mr. Best or one of his assistants.

'NEW DEAL' IN TRANSPORTATION BRINGS AIR SPEEDS TO EARTH

WHILE the Blue Eagle of the NRA is busy these days forwarding a new industrial era, science, calling for a "new deal" in transportation to meet the accelerated pace, is bringing air speeds down to earth. Highbound conservatives may object to their conviction that air travel has its hazards, but with engineers now adapting the streamline principle of airplane design to boats, railroad trains and motor cars, Twentieth Century Americans soon will be seeing the country at a speed of nearly two miles a minute whether from a transcontinental air liner or the cushions of modern earth-bound speedsters. Ordinary citizens, statesmen, baby chicks, grocery orders and spare parts will go whizzing along the surface of the earth with almost the speed of the night air mail. Above, left, a new tear-drop, three-wheeled automobile capable of a speed of 120 miles an hour. Right, a new air transport, hailed as the latest achievement of streamlining in air planes, on its initial flight. It is used on one of the transcontinental air lines. Lower right, modern streamlined train now under construction at Philadelphia for a transcontinental railroad. It is expected to travel at a speed of 120 miles per hour. Lower left, blocks of wood used in actual wind tunnel tests, illustrating how streamlining lessens air resistance, greatly increasing speed, through elimination of back drafts and unnecessary air turbulence.

STEEL GOES HIGH-HAT—FOR THE LADIES

It will not be long before women invade the mills to tell Uncle Sam's most masculine industry a thing or two, according to industrialists manufacturing stainless steel. Houses similar to the one pictured above, at Chicago's Century of Progress are ribbed with it, and it is being used in interiors for modernized furniture and trim. It has also invaded the kitchen in myriad forms, including the stove at which Miss Betty George is working in a corner of the modernized French provincial kitchen of the Miller of New York. Notice. On account of Thanksgiving, the Herald will be issued a day earlier than usual next week and persons are urged to get news and advertising in a day sooner.

Mr. Huse,
Editor Wayne Herald,
Wayne, Nebraska.
Dear Sir:
I notice the picture show is advertising "So This Is Africa." In my estimation a picture as risque as this picture is should never be shown.
Yours truly,
Wayne Citizen.

Christmas Play To Be Presented

The Concord high school is starting work on the dramatization of "Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens with a cast of about 25 people which has been chosen. This will be given before the holidays.

The class of declamation has been started this week with 16 in it, the largest class since the work was begun.

The Freshman English class is reading "Ivanhoe," by Sir Walter Scott.

The Sophomore English class is having two laboratory periods this week. They are writing themes of visual description. This will show individual differences.

The seventh and eighth grade English classes are using the system of setting a minimum standard at the first of each week.

The fifth and sixth English class wrote an original Thanksgiving play which will be given in front of the high school before vacation.

The fourth graders made Eskimo booklets with free-hand drawings in them.

The sixth grade made a large health poster showing the healthful vegetables.

"Little Men," by Louisa M. Alcott, is being read by the room.

Muriel Nichols, Gwenivere Arnold, Bonnie Erwin, Lois Beith, Walter Meyer, Jewell Taylor and Alden Johnson received castle stones for their individual Knight-hood of Youth castles this week.

Each had read three library books.

Evelyn Day was absent from school last week with mastoid trouble. The room wrote her letters Monday.

The fifth grade made free hand Thanksgiving posters.

Primary Room.

Mrs. Glenn King visited the room Thursday afternoon.

The third grade arithmetic class is learning to divide using the table of fives.

The third grade spent their art period Friday cutting out silhouette pictures of the Pilgrims.

Harold Nichols brought a snail to school Friday.

The third grade geography class is working on Eskimo posters this week.

Those having perfect spelling lessons the past week were: Leora Nygren, Marcia Jones, Betty King, Harold Salmon, Clifford Erwin and Ruby Johnson.

The health inspector for this week is Hazel Nygren.

Red Cross Appeals for Members

THE 1933 poster of the American Red Cross, distributed nationwide, is an appeal for an enlarged membership. Resources were never more vitally needed than in this fourth year of economic distress.

Memberships, which cost one dollar or more, are used to support the unemployment relief work of chapters and national organization; nationwide disaster relief work; health work in hundreds of communities, with special reference to preserving the health of mothers and children; safety work through teaching first aid and life saving; welfare work through six million school children who are members of the Junior Red Cross; and one of the most important tasks ever to face the Red Cross—keeping up the morale of veterans of our wars, and handling their problems of compensation payments, arising from changes in governmental regulations.

One hundred twenty disasters engaged the financial and personnel forces of the Red Cross during the past year. More than a million dollars was spent in relief of families who lost their all in hurricanes, storms, fires, earthquake and other frightful calamities.

President Roosevelt has said: "It can be counted on to foster and aid in every way in my power the great work your organization (The Red Cross) must carry on."

Can any citizen of the nation fail to do likewise?

Join as a member of your local chapter during the roll call.

Choir rehearsal of the junior choir Saturday evening at 7:30.

Thanksgiving day will be observed by festive Thanksgiving services at 3:30 in the afternoon.

A Thanksgiving offering will be lifted. "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name: bring an offering, and come before Him. Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." Oyster supper will be served by the Dorcas in the church parlors at the close of the services. We invite our communists to share with us our Thanksgiving celebration.

Morning worship in Swedish the first Sunday in December.

With Mrs. Wall.

The Welfare and Improvement club met Tuesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. William Wall. Mrs. Cecil Clark assisted. After a business meeting and a program lunch was served.

For Eric Nelson.

About 30 friends and relatives gathered at the Eric Nelson home Friday evening in honor of Mr. Nelson's birthday. The time was spent socially and the lunch was served.

New Views

ALL who at this period attempt to follow the rapid flow of new opinions and theories must be aware of a most curious phenomenon—the sensation of being out of breath. Diverse phases of the complex human problem are engaging the attention of thinkers in many lands.

As one glances over the fields of art, medicine, theology, and what is termed science, amazing changes are veering; positions long tenaciously held are being proved untenable; conclusions regarded as final are being overturned. Long established forms of government have in some instances been swept away, and some notable changes in the social order are manifest.

Many today feel themselves in a changing world and are inclined to feel the pessimism that "Love never faileth." He comments thus: "A schoolboy to-day knows more than Sir Isaac Newton knew; his knowledge has vanished away. . . . You buy the old editions of great encyclopedias for a few cents; their knowledge has vanished away. . . . And in every branch of science it is the same. . . . There is a great deal in the world that is delightful and beautiful; . . . great and engrossing; but it will not last. . . . But what is certain is that Love must last, God, the Eternal God, is Love."

Those assured of this great fact look quietly on the heart amid temporal changes consequent on the passing into oblivion of many things of the old order. Those who know something of Christian Science are not only undisturbed but full of hope and good cheer. "Mistaken views ought to be dissolving views," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 290): "since whatever is false should disappear." The very fact that former beliefs and theories no longer satisfy, and that they have not stood the test of emergency, is proof that they were not posited on Truth. Viewed in this light, the present world upheaval, then, is a reason for gratitude and rejoicing, for it proves that through all vicissitudes human thought must continue to strive for a solid basis for its hope, until it finds rest in God.

But what of the future, to which many are looking with apprehension? But Eddy, who foresaw Truth's destruction of error, and the disturbance incident thereto, in conditions such as are now testing the courage of mankind, had so clear a vision of the verities of being that she said: "But the world of the future, then, is a reason for gratitude and rejoicing, for it proves that through all vicissitudes human thought must continue to strive for a solid basis for its hope, until it finds rest in God."

CAST IS CHOSEN FOR JUNIOR PLAY

Debate Students Will Take Part In Tournament At Norfolk School.

Cast for "The Heathers at Home," modern comedy to be presented by juniors at Wayne high school, was chosen last week and rehearsals are being held daily.

William Alden Kimball's comedy blithely considers one phase of American domesticity—the home dominated by a father who enforces a Spartan regime of early-to-bed and early-to-rise.

Pep club had a party in the school gymnasium Wednesday evening, about 42 members, guests and high school faculty members attending.

Compete in Debate. Wayne high debaters will take part in a practice debate tournament at Norfolk on Saturday, December 9, according to Elmer Mortensen.

Latin I class is starting derivative notebooks to emphasize the relation between Latin and English languages.

Three beautiful pictures have been purchased with money earned in fair premiums and are now being exhibited in the grade and junior high school rooms.

League Functions Well. Carrying out the function of self-government which is a part of Junior Service league work, the eighth grade league voluntarily took over arithmetic period Thursday.

Kindergarten folks are starting a grocery store project using building blocks.

MUSICIANS WIN AT STUNT NIGHT

Band And Orchestra Again Judged Best Entry In College Competition.

Band and orchestra repeated their coup of last year by carrying off first honors in the annual stunt night competition at Wayne State Teachers college auditorium Friday evening.

Janice Mae Teed of Wayne, interpreted the activities and purposes of Y. W. C. A. to a freshman, Vivian Switzer of Neligh, in the association's entry.

The winning stunt, "Lifted Lyrics," by band and orchestra, directed by Prof. John R. Keith, featured classical number together with the modern selection which borrowed their melodies.

Mochajava club presented a tableau of the famous painting, "Readings from Homer," a very effective grouping listening to the immortal writings of the Greek.

Neihardt hall girls, winners of third place, presented Virginia LeCombe of Columbus, Myrtle Meyer of Columbus, and Bernice Hader of Howells, in a striking tableau in pastel tones.

"Hallucinations," junior class entry, introduced campus gossip and humorous "cracks" at college folks, by way of a broadcast through the Norfolk state hospital.

Campus talk a la rhyme was relayed to the student audience by the freshman cast of "A Moment on the Green."

Mrs. Edward Sala visited first grade room on Wednesday last week. Gene Root leads in scoring on the reading chart, having completed his ninth play and fifth set of word charts.

Sophomores Plan School Program.

Winside School Observes Book Week By Reports And Class Programs.

Sophomore class presented a program before Winside high school assembly Wednesday last week, made up of historical sketches and readings. Numbers were: "Battle-Axe, the Wonder Horse," Frederick Witt, Andrew Mann and Jack Davenport; "Discovery of America by the Irish," Steve Porter, Lyle Jensen, Harold Maas, Thomas Fillmore, Clarence Hoeman and Alfred Jugel; "Signing of the Declaration of Independence," Helen Pfeiffer and Marjorie Wagner; "Fresh Roasted Peanuts," Herbert Rehms; and "Sally from the Country," Ardath Frances. Coach Gerard Cherry is class sponsor. The freshmen plan next assembly program, and seniors have one early in December.

Six weeks' period ends on Friday and unit tests have been given in high school classes this week, and six weeks' tests in the four upper grades.

Supt. E. A. Austin gave Miller's mental ability tests to his orientation class on Friday. These tests help teachers to see if students are doing the best work of which they're capable.

In Latin test given by Miss Rachel Bracken last Friday, Marie Hansen had the highest grade. Latin students are working out posters for extra credit. English 10 class made magazine reports and posters last week in observance of book week.

Plane geometry contest, started several weeks ago, came to a finish last Friday. The two sides were even the last four days, but in the last four minutes of competition on Friday, Lyle Jensen worked extra-fast, marking up seven points and bringing his side ahead by four points. Andrew Mann's side won with 24 points to 20 points for the side headed by Clarence Hoeman.

Several interesting reports were given in general science period on heating methods last week, comparing ways to boil and fight fires.

Miss Ruth Schindler took her class down to inspect Winside's fire truck on Tuesday last week. This week the class is taking up study of water.

Mrs. E. A. Austin substituted for her husband on Friday afternoon when the superintendent took two children to Norfolk to be fitted with glasses, the gift of Winside Lions club.

Book Week Observed.

For book week, grammar room pupils portrayed characters from their favorite books. The others guessed whom was represented, then the pupil told the story of the entire book. Some especially good dramatizations were given by the following: Theo Witte as Jo in "Little Women;" Betty Witte as Huckberry Finn in the book of that name; Dorothea Nielsen as the maid in "Robin Hood."

Seventh and eighth graders will complete their course in agriculture this week and will take geography of Nebraska for next twelve weeks. Eighth graders' nine weeks of perfect attendance was broken by Victor Koplin's absence due to illness. Lote Weible's half-day of absence broke seventh graders' two weeks of perfect attendance.

Fifth and sixth graders are making ship designs in connection with study of color. The ships will be painted and colored in several shades of a color. The posters which fifth graders made for their Indian study were judged and first place went to Larry Davenport, Ruth Gormley and Bernard Hansen, working in a group. Mrs. Fred Weible and Mrs. Cora Brodd visited the room Friday afternoon.

Samples of tooth paste were distributed among third and fourth graders this week and the children are going to brush their teeth twice a day and keep a record. This week they are dressing Pilgrims for the sand table project. Girls are cutting out pictures of food for the Thanksgiving day dinner. Pilgrim folks and Indians, and Warren Jacobsen made a little wooden table for the dinner.

Fourth graders have written out a newspaper in language class, each child contributing some report. This was in connection with study of Russian newspapers, which are pinned to walls of stores, factories and schools, instead of individual copies being distributed.

In vocabulary test given in first grade last week, perfect papers were handed in by Lennie Mae Boring, Donna Jean Granquist, Foggy Jean Francis, Jean Sanders, Arlene Mae Cary and Norris Hansen. First-hand Indian cloth blankets were designed by first and second graders last week, and grade teachers judged them, giving Walter Gaebler first place, and Betty Lou Weible, second.

NOW TRY THE BEER WITH MORE "PICK-UP" PER BOTTLE

We don't know just why it is. We know we're within the law, but there just seems to be something about ATLAS BEER that gives it "more pick-up per bottle"

Maybe the rich, full-bodied, "just-right" flavor is part of it.

Maybe it's because ATLAS is always so clear and sparkling, right to the last sip.

Maybe it's because ATLAS never "stuffs" a person up, just makes him want another bottle. (The Germans call this elusive beer quality "suffigkeit.")

Maybe it's because ATLAS is never sent out before it's completely and properly aged.

Maybe the beautiful "white collar" that's a part of ATLAS is also partly responsible.

We choose to think it's a combination of all these famous beer qualities that makes ATLAS SPECIAL the favorite everywhere and helps to give it that refreshing "more pick-up per bottle."

But---whatever it is---it's there, in ATLAS!

Ask for ATLAS SPECIAL at your dealer's, at your favorite club or restaurant. Look for the famous green label when you buy.

Second School Period Closes

Thanksgiving Vacation Set For Two Days Next Week in Carroll.

This week ends the second six-week term in Carroll school. Unit tests have been given and reports will go out next week. Thanksgiving vacation is set for November 30 and December 1. Boys are practicing basketball with F. B. Decker in charge. A game with Wayne college high has been added and this will be February 23. The boys have been given physical examination by Dr. A. Textley.

Tests were given the past week in economics, European history and physical geography.

Miss Edith Sabs, one of the 26 girls entering the state young citizens contest in Omaha last week, placed among the first nine girls but was eliminated when the highest five were chosen.

Boys' glee club selected Rodger Morris president and Albert Swarth secretary. Girls elected Jean Williams president and Lila Fisher secretary. Boys have their practices each Wednesday evening at 8, and girls have theirs Mondays and Wednesdays at 3:45. Miss Lela Adams is director.

Intermediate Grades. The pupils were pleasantly surprised Monday when Miss Frances Taylor presented each with a sample of mentholatum and a book of first aid instructions.

Lynn Roberts returned to school Monday after several days' illness. Irma Christensen is absent this week because of illness.

Elton Jenkins completed a poster on fire Friday.

Fourth geography class had a test over the hot, dry lands and took up Egypt this week.

Fifth history class has been studying the Puritans and their way of living and all decided they would rather live now than at the time of the Puritans.

The three grade rooms are having a contest, the one having largest percentage of those washing their teeth to be mentioned in the paper next week.

Primary Room. First graders made a baby book in correlation with language work.

Third graders wrote letters and addressed envelopes in language.

Miriam Joan Roberts returned to school Monday after a week's illness.

Club Observes Charter Night

District Governor Speaks At Banquet Held Here Last Thursday Evening.

Carroll Lions club held its first annual charter night banquet and program last Thursday evening at the community hall, about 80 men and their wives attending. Winside was represented by 20 and Hartington by six. District Governor Nelson and Mr. Carr were present from Bassett.

Following dinner served by E. G. Stephens, A. R. Cochran, local club president, was in charge. He called on H. E. Siman of Winside, and Supt. Brooks of Hartington. Mr. Cochran told what the Carroll club had accomplished the past year.

A trio, including Robert Gulliver, Donald Linn and Bud Isom of Wayne, played during the meal and for dancing afterward. Group singing was conducted by Supt. C. L. Jiraneck. Miss Mabel Jean Peterson and Miss Lucile Paulsen, with Miss Lela Adams as accompanist, played saxophone duets. A mock wedding was an anniversary feature with the parts taken as follows: Supt. Jiraneck, bridegroom; Eric Cook, bride; E. G. Stephens, minister.

The evening closed with dancing and cards.

The local club meets next Tuesday.

Among Eighteen High In Contest

Miss Edith Sabs Makes Good Record in City Contest Held.

Miss Edith Sabs, Carroll high school student who won Wayne county and the district contests for state young citizens, placed among the highest 18 in the state contest in Omaha last week.

Ten placing highest in the contest conducted by the World Herald, are as follows: Angela Peatrowsky, Verdigris; Leola Westover, Valentine; Joyce Liebendorfer, Lawrence; Maxine Federle, Hartington; Marie Kotouc, Humboldt; Robert McFarland, Bridgeport; Gerald Gillan, Exeter; Charles Haynes, Sterling; Harold Grovert, Trenton, and Chester McDonald, Woodbury.

Miss Sabs' picture appeared with the other 17 highest in last Thursday's Omaha World Herald. Miss Sabs returned home on Thursday.

Officials Attend Railroad Meeting

T. J. Keniff of St. Paul, general freight agent, and L. A. Thomas of Sioux City, general agent, for the C. St. P. M. & O., were in Carroll Monday night to meet with business men and farmers who invited them here to see what could be done to prevent abandonment of the railroad branch through here. The company will ask the railway commission to pass on continuance of the service after a report of amount of business is given.

"Mary Yellin" Passes. York Republican: Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease passed away the other day in Brooklyn, N. Y., at the ripe age of 83. To most readers the announcement of her death meant nothing except that a veteran in years had passed. To others the mention of her name turned the wheels of memory and brought back an interesting era in American politics.

Winside

Mrs. Lease was a Kansan, who, convinced that the farmer was getting the worst of it, joined her voice and energy with the populists, then rising to avalanche proportions, and won the sobriquet of Mary Yellin Lease. She urged the farmers of Kansas to "raise less corn and more hell," and because of her extreme radicalism was held up to scorn and ridicule by those who opposed populism and particularly that kind of populism espoused by the Kansas woman orator.

Winside

It is interesting to recall now what Mrs. Lease advocated for which she was held a dangerous and windy demagog. These are the "anarchistic" policies of government she championed: Woman suffrage, direct election of United States senators, the initiative and referendum, prohibition, guarantee of bank deposits and free coinage of silver.

Winside

No wonder Mrs. Lease could spend the later days of her life in such ease and inaction. Had not most of the things she espoused been accepted as sound principles of government? It is a curious commentary though that most of them were put into effect by the Republican party which she fought so valiantly. And it is a still more curious fact that the conditions which aroused her championship of the people in those stirring days of the 90's are still in her native state, Kansas, and other agricultural states about what they were when she laid aside her house apron and took to the political stump.

Winside
