Field of Education

HIGHER education used to be considered a luxury to be attained only by the children of the rich. It used to be deemed a means to gain social prestige or economic advantage. This deduction has not held true.

Higher education is coming more and more to be accepted as a force to rational thinking, to logical analysis and human content. It makes people live larger lives—makes them capable of comprehending more and enjoying more.

Speaking of the federal government's aid to education, and the comparative importance, of the movement, the Christian Science Monitor comments:

"In ignorance lies the greatest danger to any nation. For ignorance breeds superstition, fear, crime and visionless greed. These are the evils that take the greatest toll of the nation's resources.

Values in Initiative IF the time ever comes when initiative is not encouraged and individual accomplishment is not rewarded, civilization will be given a staggering blow. If the time ever comes when success does not exact a price, when no premium invites excellence, and when energy and sloth, genius and inertia win equal consideration and draw equal pay, the world will move backward instead of forward.

Editor W. F. Cramb of the Fairbury Journal, is encouraged by assurance of the democratic World Herald that present federal experiments tending in the direction of federal control of private industry, are only temporary, and that in time we will regain the stimulus of individualism.

Editor Cramb explains that redistribution of wealth would be a fine thing for those who have nothing to distribute, but that the idea would not fit into the plan of the fellow who had labored and saved for a half century, more or less, in order to keep himself independent of the poor house or other charity sources during declining days.

Licensing Farmers. Nebraska Farmer: About the last place one might expect to find advocates of the socialization of farm land would be in the United States Department of Agriculture.

Writing from Washington Mark Sullivan suggests that regardless of the intentions of the administration, the development of a "planned" America inevitably leads from one step to another.

Editor Hartman of the Sioux City Live Stock Record says all he knows about the money question is what he reads in the newspapers, and that that isn't much—that newspapers know as little about the money question as they do about the live-stock marketing system.

Dr. A. L. Bixby: The Saturday Evening Post has started in pretty early with its assumed analysis of the two Roosevelts. It says to begin with, "that both Roosevelts were given a great opportunity, and that both failed to grasp it."

Plays Presented Are Outstanding. The program of four one-act plays given by the dramatic class at Wayne State Teachers college last Thursday evening has received considerable very favorable comment.

Is a Woman of Judgment? was located in an office of a psychologist 'who proved to be a hypnotist. Honors for acting ability are about equally divided between Thelma McKnight in the title role as psychologist Irene Osteron, her secretary accused of theft, and Susan Ruest, the detective whose quick wittedness acquitted the innocent girl.

The tenseness of the hypnotism scene was the high point in the well-acted comedy.

"Riders to the Sea" by J. M. Synge was the outstanding play of the evening and was exceptionally well done. Every detail of the setting of the Irish kitchen was directed toward emphasizing the life of the Aran islands and the mood of tragedy.

The acting on the part of the entire cast, however, raised the play far above the average amateur production.

Ellen Shaupp's interpretation of the grief-stricken mother brought tears to the eyes of the audience as she mourned the drowning of her last son. She was well supported by Mildred Scheffers, whose handling of stage business as Cathleen deserves comment, and by LeVerne Larson as Nora, whose veering showed real feeling for the situation.

The casting of Waldo Johnson for the son, Bartley, was a fortunate choice because of his combination of ability and youthful appearance.

"Glit-Edged" carried the audience to a cozy cabin in a lumber camp of the southwest. Outstanding characterizations were those of Richard Horton as Dr. Allan, the physician, and Elizabeth Klauer as Martha Lane, the house keeper.

Joyce Rhodes as Nan Allen, the daughter, was thoroughly at ease on stage and Arnold Peterson kept up the suspense as the villain, Bill Rhodes, who was not such a villain after all.

Norman Nielsen, senior at Wayne college, received word on Monday that his father had been seriously injured and his sister killed in an auto accident at Wilmette, Ill., the preceding day.

N. J. Juhlin remains very ill at his home here.

Where Happiness Is Found. Omaha Journal Stockman: When you stop to consider how many different versions of happiness there are, it is small wonder that it is such an elusive thing. For instance, there was the teacher over in Scotland that Stanley High tells about.

She asked her children to name the loveliest things they knew, persons not counted. Here is the list of one girl: The scrunch of dry leaves when you walk through them; the feel of clean clothes; cool wind on a hot day, climbing up a hill and looking down, and a hot water bottle in bed.

And one of the boys turned in this list: The feel of running; looking into deep, clear water; the taste of strawberries; the sight of a swallow flying; water being cut at the bow of a boat; a mounted policeman's horse; an express train rushing; a builder's crane lifting something heavy; the feel of a dive, or a thrush singing.

"When happiness is to be derived from such comparatively insignificant sources, it's small wonder that

Many Choice Sons And Daughters Of Mischief Stanway Sell at Sioux City, January 22

Hoffman Bros., Winslow, Neb., will sell a very good draft of Hereford cattle on Monday, January 22. The sale will be held at the stock yards sales pavilion, Sioux City, Iowa.

Those acquainted with the herd know of the general excellence of the breeding cows on the Hoffman Farms. The herd was founded with cows of size and smoothness. Mischief Stanway has been in service for several years. He has been siring the type and character of calves approved by discriminating stockmen.

Sons of Mischief Stanway have gone into some of the top pure bred and commercial herds of the cattle producing states. The sale includes 50 bulls and heifers. All have been raised on the Hoffman Farms and are sired by either Mischief Stanway or his son, Mischief Stanway 58th. The ages are the very best as with the exception of one tried sire by Mischief Stanway all are from 10 to 18 months old. Farmers, breeders and stockmen should attend this important event.

Those in the market for females should make it a point to add some of these splendid heifers as there is every reason to expect them to develop into cows of the best sort. Hoffman Brothers exhibited their prize-winning animal at the Wayne County Fair last fall. Their fine Herefords may be seen at their farm any day.

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT:—Here we are still at Bayonne and we've just had the first thrill of the Expedition. After breakfast, a long day of back-breaking labor, but excellent meals at lunchtime and at dinner helped a lot. If I could only get some sleep. If I don't soon there will be nothing left of me to take to the South Pole.

It is 10 o'clock at night—gee, it's Friday, the 13th!—A loud explosion. Shouting from the deck. A sudden red glare in the sky. Our ship is illuminated as if by a gigantic red searchlight.

Dead silence on our ship for a few minutes. Then a shouting of orders. An oil tanker is on fire two docks away. We are in terrible danger because our holds and tanks are bulging Arthur Abele, Jr. with oil, gasoline and high explosives. If the fire is not controlled immediately the whole Expedition may be wiped out. I've only been aboard the Jacob Ruppert 20 hours and here is one of the greatest thrills of my life.

A breathless wait on our ship. The distant clanging of fire engines. A gradual darkening of the ruddy glare. The situation is under control. Two men are dead from burns in the original explosion. Grim reality only a stone's throw away from us. This is no tea-party we are setting out on.

All day equipment and supplies of all kinds have been pouring over the side of our vessel. Here, for example, is a list of the automotive equipment for which I am the fuel engineer and all details of which I have to learn before we get to Little America—a 1400 horsepower Curtiss-Condor airplane with a wingspread of 82 feet; a 700 horsepower Pilgrim airplane; a 600 horsepower General airplane; a Kellet auto-gyro airplane; a Cleveland tractor; 2 French Citroen tractors; 2 Ford snowmobiles with caterpillar treads at the rear and metal skis at the front.

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT:—(Via Mackay Radio). "Today your lives were in the hands of God and the engine room. If either had failed, you would all be dead men tonight!"

This is what Commodore Gjersten told us at dinner tonight (December 26) and it made me realize more than anything that has happened since this trip began, what deadly realities we are up against.

For four days we have drifted around in the fog, half the time with a howling northwest gale trying to destroy us. It is getting cold as the deuce. And if we had anybody less experienced and cautious than Commodore Gjersten, a small but amazingly forceful Norwegian ice expert, and Captain Verleger, our great Medical Officer, leading our great G. O. Shirey, ship through what might be the world's most dangerous waters, the gale would have accomplished its purpose against us—the gale and the icebergs. We have not been able to see more than three miles since Friday and usually only a few hundred yards. And we've made only 56 miles since noon Saturday. Thousands of icebergs go plunging past us in the gloom—some of them five miles long, two or three miles wide and estimated at 1,000 feet or more from high tip to submerged bottom. If we ram our 11,000 ton ship into one of them or run over the submerged part of it—well, the Titanic did that, you know. Or if one of them rushes at us out of the invisible distance and crashes into the side of our ship, it will be just too bad. But our wise and able skippers know their stuff and are performing miracles of judgment and seamanship every minute every day.

This morning, however, they met an enemy they hadn't counted on—water—water in the oil. In the midst of our work of dodging these moving ice mountains; stopping to let them drift by, or dash out of their way, the engine room reported that some water which had leaked into the starboard tank had risen through the oil, had been pumped under pressure to the burner nozzles and had extinguished the flames which keep us going by making our steam. By the time Chief Engineer Queen had switched to the port tank and had begun to revive our lost steam pressure, our ship had lost practically all of her headway and for more than an hour we drifted in a 50-mile gale almost helpless. Then the steam returned and we resumed our game of tag with the strange moving city of ice. It made us think serious thoughts.

I have learned, to my surprise, that ice is a noisy thing. The waves, as they splash against these mammoth bergs, eat great holes in them, in which the plunging water roars in a thousand hollow keys. The smaller bergs and cakes, as they gallop by us or we push our way through them, are no exception. Suddenly, from some place off the ship, I heard a gruff voice yell, "Hey! Hey!" I saw nobody. Again it was repeated. I crossed to the port rail in time to hear the angry call right below me. And there on the ice was a small Adelle penguin, about 18 inches tall, running along on the drifts with a perfect Charlie Chaplin waddle, keeping up with the ship and turning his head every few seconds to look up at us angrily and cry, "Hey! Hey!" just as a farmer might shout at boys stealing apples. He was protesting this steel monster blustering through his icy domain. And, as I watched him, he flopped over and started to toboggan along on his breast, pushing himself along frantically with his flippers and scuffling with his feet. Then he became upright again, running alongside, glaring at us and yelling "Hey! Hey!" He was a searoom.

We had a swell Christmas. Gifts from the home folks—music—songs—a grand dinner with turkey and wonderful fixings. All troubles forgotten for a few hours. I hope all members of our club had as pleasant a Christmas and that we shall have a happy and interesting new year together. They tell me the maps we are sending to all members, without charge, will go to them in a few days now, so they can mark on them the wonderful flights and other exploration trips Admiral Byrd and others are going to make. If you're of high school age or over and aren't a member yet, you can become one right away, with no obligation of any kind, by writing me at the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y., enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

In addition there are two airplanes, one an immense Tri-motor Ford all-metal plane and the other a smaller scouting machine, buried in the snow down at Little America which Admiral Byrd hopes and believes are still in perfect condition.

In order to use all of this automotive equipment for our exploration and other scientific work, in addition to the dog teams, it has been necessary for us to carry along immense supplies of fuel and lubricating oils. Packed down in our holds are 16,450 gallons of aviation gasoline; 800 gallons of lubricating oils; 3,000 gallons of automobile gasoline; 1,500 gallons of kerosene; 25 pounds of aero rocker arm grease; 30 tons of Diesel engine fuel oil; 200 gallons of Diesel engine lubricating oil; 600 gallons of cylinder oil; 6,250 gallons of marine engine oil; 250 gallons of rod swabbing oil and 400 pounds of top grease. Some supply of petroleum products!

I shan't know for months how many of you people of high school age or over have joined the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, through which Admiral Byrd hopes to build up a tremendous interest in American aviation among the young people of the land. I hope it is in the thousands, because the club members and I are going to have some exciting times together and later I am going to send each of them a detailed map on which he or she can keep a daily record of our journeys and flights of exploration and other scientific significance while we are down at the bottom of the world. If you haven't joined yet, now is as good a time as any. There are no obligations whatever. All you have to do is send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a note saying you want to join the club. Send it in my name to the New York headquarters of the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, at the Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., and the membership card will be sent you immediately and later the map and, perhaps, other communications.

helpless. Then the steam returned and we resumed our game of tag with the strange moving city of ice. It made us think serious thoughts. I have learned, to my surprise, that ice is a noisy thing. The waves, as they splash against these mammoth bergs, eat great holes in them, in which the plunging water roars in a thousand hollow keys. The smaller bergs and cakes, as they gallop by us or we push our way through them, are no exception. Suddenly, from some place off the ship, I heard a gruff voice yell, "Hey! Hey!" I saw nobody. Again it was repeated. I crossed to the port rail in time to hear the angry call right below me. And there on the ice was a small Adelle penguin, about 18 inches tall, running along on the drifts with a perfect Charlie Chaplin waddle, keeping up with the ship and turning his head every few seconds to look up at us angrily and cry, "Hey! Hey!" just as a farmer might shout at boys stealing apples. He was protesting this steel monster blustering through his icy domain. And, as I watched him, he flopped over and started to toboggan along on his breast, pushing himself along frantically with his flippers and scuffling with his feet. Then he became upright again, running alongside, glaring at us and yelling "Hey! Hey!" He was a searoom.

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT:—(By Mackay Radio) Whew! That was some crossing of the Pacific, wasn't it? From Norfolk, Va., to Wellington, N. Z., and then smack into the ice pack bordering on the great Antarctic continent (if it is a continent)—all in a week. Well, anyhow, here we are right in the middle of a most amazing world of icebergs, ice cakes, seals, whales and 'silly looking penguins! The sudden change from America and New Zealand is more than my mind can take in all at once.

In last week's story we were just leaving Norfolk. I have sent to the club editors by mail and radio twelve stories of our adventures on the long trip. You will probably never see those stories. Too much is happening with us and we've got to come up to Harold June date with this series right now.

Two great events occurred here on December 20 and 22. Admiral Byrd made a magnificent four-hour flight of discovery over the ice of Ross Sea in the big Condor plane. And Klondyke had a call! Some excitement!

First, I'll tell you about the Admiral's great flight on the 22nd. He had been dreaming this flight for years. Already our great steel ship has gone further south into the ice than any ship in history. Commodore Gjersten, advised by Byrd had seen a big open bay in the closely packed ice and we circled around to its entrance. Then he notified Harold June, chief pilot, William Bowlin, relief pilot, J. A. Pelter, mapper, and Carl O. Petersen, radio man, to get ready. In the most beautiful and fantastic scene ever dreamed of, the huge 6-ton Curtiss-Wright Condor plane was hoisted out on the big boom and dropped gently into the calm water and then the 46-foot Matthews motor boat cruiser was put over and took the plane in tow.

Under Commander Noville, executive officer, great red drums of Byrd gasoline were rolled up on deck and 400 gallons put into the plane by hand. Then the cruiser towed the plane out into the ice-lined bay and cast off. This was 10:30 a. m. Up and down the bay June ran the flying ship, warming the engines. Then, like a magnificent sea bird, she took the air and circled for almost an hour over the Ruppert, while compasses, radio and other equipment were checked and tested. At 11:40, the Admiral signalled "We are heading south," and off they went, at 1500 feet. It took only fifteen minutes for the Condor to disappear in the distance.

At 2:55 she was over the ship again after one of the most important exploration flights ever made—from 66.31 South 149.5 West along the 150th Meridian to 70 South—350 miles further south than the record made by Captain Cook on the same meridian in 1773. Mark the map.

The happy event took place in the cow shed on deck next to the studio of David Paige, our artist. An able seaman, Fred Dustin, was first to know of it. We were all watching a berg, four miles long when he yelled "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy!" and went racing for the Messrs. Cox and Clark and Dr. Shirey, our medic. Commodore George Noville tells me he is very fond of vein chops.

I understand the maps we are going to send without cost to every member of the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club will be ready by January 10th. Those already ready members will receive them automatically. Non-members should become members right away, at no cost, by sending me a self-addressed stamped envelope at the Club's American headquarters, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., so they can mark this flight on the map.

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT:—It is now Saturday, October 14, and I am actually upon the ocean as the youngest member of this great Byrd Antarctic Expedition. After the exciting and perilous fire at Bayonne, we cast off from the Tidewater dock at 11:20 p. m. last night. Cheers of relatives and friends, longshoremen, stevedores, slipping away silently into the blackness of the Atlantic on the first leg of my life's greatest adventure.

Time to go to bed at last? No chance! Every movable object on deck, except the dogs, must be lashed down. All hatches must be battened down. The sailors call it "securing the ship for sea."

At last I am called into the galley for hot coffee and sandwiches and told that I may go byrd flagship to bed. I am dog tired but too excited to sleep. For an hour I stand at the rail watching the lights of New York recede in the distance. No more New York, no more bright lights, for two years—except perhaps the bright lights of the Aurora Borealis.

At 3 a. m. we arrive off Cape Henry but I know nothing about it. I am in my bunk sleeping the sleep of exhaustion. At 6 a. m., with still many hours of sleep to make up, I am awakened. All hands are called to begin the life of the day. The tug with the pilot is alongside. We slip down the river at dawn and arrive at the Norfolk Navy Yard at 8 a. m.

The first passengers ashore are the two crows we are taking to Little America to supply us with fresh milk. They have a chance to get a little green pasture for a few days, their last chance for a long time.

At 8:20 we start cleaning up the ship. It is Sunday but the work must be done. The Admiral is coming aboard at noon.

At 9:30 visitors start streaming aboard—in an hour we have several Firemen Sponsor Dance. Leave for California.

A large crowd numbering persons from good distances attended the dance sponsored by Hopkins fire department in the Bruce pavilion at Hoskins Tuesday evening. The organization plans to hold another dance soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Denbeck, Miss Joyce and Donald Denbeck leave this Friday by car for San Diego, Calif. They will spend three or four months in the southwest.

Three Wayne County Families Have Neighbored Many Years

When the H. J. Miners, the Charles Ashes and the C. T. Nortons met at the Miner home on January 7 for an anniversary dinner, their reminiscences must have included many interesting side-lights on early Wayne county history, for all three couples had been here at least 27 years, and one couple had called Wayne county home for the past 42 years. The years which they had spent on adjoining farms just south of Wayne city, were probably the happiest of their lives for here they came in youth and here they raised their families. Now the children are grown and are in homes of their own, and one family circle even boasts a great grandchild!

Farther from Wayne live the C. T. Nortons who celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary of January 20, at the joint anniversary party. January is a popular month for weddings with the Norton family for all three children chose it for their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton were born in Malvern, Iowa, that same county which has contributed so many settlers to Wayne. Together they attended public school, along with Mrs. John Larson, Frank Strahan and other Wayneites. Ad "Chan" Norton was one of the meanest boys in school, according to his wife, who was the frequent victim of his teasing. The Nortons lived at Holstein, Iowa, returned to Malvern and then came to Wayne. The R. E. K. Mellors, the D. A. Joneses, the Hamer Wilsons and the June Congers were among Malvern folks who migrated to Wayne and played important roles in the town's development.

Not a pretty town which greeted the Nortons. No paving, no gravel. Sidewalks were laid below the street and made a sorry sight in muddy weather. The men took the horses around on the side streets to tie at the hitching racks, and often sunk in up to the knees in the oozing mud. It was quite a common sight to see a wagon mired down right in the center of Main street.

The stretch of low road beyond the bridge on South Main street was frequently under water and in the rainy season could not be crossed, even with an empty wagon. Two years on the James Perdue farm, then the Nortons bought the Carpenter farm. After five years they moved to Wayne, then went to Minnesota where they bought a farm. But Minnesota did not satisfy and after a few months the family came back to Wayne, remaining on the same farm for the past 16 years. They're not satisfied off the farm, say the Nortons, so they will not leave it again.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Norton come of pioneer stock, for did not her father come over from Berlin at age of 15, and next year drive a flock of sheep all the way from Michigan to Mills county, walking every step of the way? That was the year of 1856, and Mr. Norton's parents came somewhat later from the east.

The three young Nortons grew up on a farm, knowing all the pleasures and freedom of farm life, but attended school in town. Lelicia, now Mrs. Henry Bush, Jr., Ray Norton, and Marvlyn Raphaela, now Mrs. Harvey Meyer, all are married and make their homes here in Wayne. Besides, there are six grandchildren and one great grandchild, the son of the John Kay, who have learned to think of the Norton house as the "home place."

In County for 42 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ash held the record for longest stay in the county, for they came here in 1892, fully 42 years ago, and have spent

GET A STRAIGHT EIGHT FOR YOUR MONEY!

GET A STRAIGHT 8 because

- You can get a big, roomy Pontiac Straight Eight at a price that is very little more than that of the very cheapest cars. The smart new Fisher bodies are finer and more spacious. The improved Straight Eight engine gives you greater power and speed—full 84 h. p. and a top speed of 82 actual miles an hour!
- Here is a car that gives you the inherent smoothness, the flexibility and the luxury of Straight Eight transportation at a price that compares favorably with the prices of many cars with less to offer in cylinders, performance and size. The new Pontiac, remember, is definitely in the low-price field!
- Last year's famous Pontiac was known as the Economy Straight Eight because its fuel costs were well in line with those of sixes. Today's Pontiac, thanks to further refinements in its Straight Eight engine, gives you more miles to the gallon by a good 10 percent. A bigger, faster, more powerful car with remarkable economy!
- The trend today is toward Straight Eights. The Pontiac Straight Eight for 1934 will depreciate more slowly, and all evidence indicates a higher resale value "at the end of the road," just because it is a Straight Eight. Another important reason why this great, new Pontiac is such a wise investment!
- If your present car will make the down payment on a car of cheaper make, it will probably make the down payment on a big, new Pontiac. Your monthly payments, in any case, will be but a few dollars more. Why wait? See and drive the big, new Pontiac today. Get a Straight Eight for your money!

On motion the Wayne Herald is designated as the official county paper for the publishing of all legal notices emanating from the Department of Public Works at Lincoln, Nebraska, which has to do with State Roads and Bridges.

Upon motion it is hereby resolved that each member of the board and he is hereby appointed a committee of one to investigate claims of demand upon the county for pauper maintenance, and for temporary relief, and also to investigate claims and demands of any party on any county road and bridge fund to be expended in the several road districts of the county.

Provided, however, that in case of emergency anywhere in the county coming to the knowledge of any of the commissioners where it is necessary to give immediate relief to a pauper and no other commissioner being present, the commissioner present shall see that the necessary relief is provided.

Under this resolution the county clerk is given authority to call the attending physician for medical attendance in emergency cases, whenever she deems it necessary.

On motion the county is divided into three road dragging districts as follows: Road Dragging District No. 1 shall comprise all territory within the 1st Commissioner District and shall be under supervision of Frank Erxleben.

Road Dragging District No. 2 shall comprise all territory within the 2nd Commissioner District and shall be under the supervision of Henry Rethwisch.

Road Dragging District No. 3 shall comprise all territory within the 3rd Commissioner District and shall be under the supervision of David Koch.

County Commissioners as overseers of their respective road dragging districts are to receive no extra compensation.

It is hereby resolved that the Board allow the following wages for road dragging, for the year 1934: fifty (50c) cents per mile with 8 foot drag and maintainer, sixty (60c) cents per mile with 10 foot drag, seventy (70c) cents per mile with 12 foot drag.

When dragging with tractor weight must equal 175 pounds and written contract must be entered into with the county commissioner of your respective road dragging district before any claims will be allowed.

And further that overseers shall show their dates the work is done on the receipts, and also show location as to where work is done, also show just where all lumber purchased by them is used, also to account for all lumber received.

3. That in case in their judgment it shall become necessary to establish a pest house and if the pest house be established by the county board, the same shall be under the supervision of the board of health, and the said board of health shall have power to cause such person to be removed thereto as they deem necessary in order to enforce the quarantine rules and prevent the introduction and spread of such contagious diseases.

4. The said board of health or any member thereof may enter any premises in the county not within the corporate limits of any city or village for the purpose of determining whether or not any contagious disease exists therein and shall adopt such rules and regulations for their own control and for the carrying out and enforcement of the quarantine rules and regulations adopted by this board as in their judgment they may deem necessary and shall keep a record of all their proceedings and persons quarantined.

5. The expenses of said board of health which are not properly chargeable to the persons affected with such contagious diseases or persons occupying the premises where the same exist shall be paid from the county treasury upon bills duly allowed by the board of county commissioners in the same manner as the other indebtedness against the county.

6. The county board may at any time remove any member of said board of health and appoint another in his or her place.

7. All persons who have been quarantined, shall be thoroughly fumigated in the manner provided by the rules of quarantine, and adopted by this board at the expense of such persons and the occupant of the quarantined premises and no quarantine shall be raised until such persons and the premises have been fumigated.

8. On motion the following regulations and rules for quarantine of contagious, infectious or malignant diseases are adopted: 1. Whenever within the limits of this county and without the corporate limits of any city or village, a person is suspected of having small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, or other contagious diseases, he shall immediately be isolated within his own household as carefully as possible and as soon as a contagious disease is recognized and it will be the duty of the attending physician and householder to give written notice of the same to the clerk of the county giving the name of the disease and of the family where it exists and the number exposed and all other particulars as may be of value, and also notify the State Board of Health of such facts.

2. The premises where the above contagious disease exists must be duly quarantined by the county board of health through its proper officer or any appointee (a) by placing upon the house or some conspicuous point upon the premises a placard not less than twelve inches square, giving the name of disease in letters not less than three (3) inches in height, (b) by verbal or written notice to the householder to remain on the premises and in no way mingle with other persons nor to allow others (except the physician) to approach nearer than thirty (30) feet to any house or person thus quarantined. This rule to apply also in case of exposure.

3. Such quarantine to continue until in the opinion of the medical advisor of the board of health, the last case of the disease likely to occur therein has completely recovered and is ready for disinfection, provided, however, that in case of extreme necessity and free from disease may be released earlier after thorough disinfection of person and clothing and with a certificate from the above medical advisor.

4. The necessities of life, as often as occasion demands may be carried within (30) feet of the quarantined house by a neighbor or other duly appointed messenger, but no nearer, nor shall any effects whatever be brought away from the household until thoroughly disinfected by the officer in charge.

5. In case of death from contagious disease there shall be no public funeral and the body of the deceased shall be closely wrapped in sheets well saturated with disinfectants and closed in a tight casket, this to be again wrapped in a disinfected cloth, and in such cases the corpse shall not be carried to or near any body of people while on its way to the cemetery.

6. When in any school district or community several families, say five to eight are infected with contagious disease or very many exposures have occurred, the board of health may prohibit all gatherings of people in that community including sessions of school until in their opinion the emergency is past.

7. All physicians should use due precaution in their visits to quarantined households to avoid the danger of contagion to the well.

8. When in the opinion of the medical advisor of the board of health, quarantine can be safely raised, it shall be done with fumigation. This to be done in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Department of Public Welfare.

9. When in the opinion of the board of county commissioners a hospital is needed to which individual cases of contagious diseases may be removed, or when such method will accommodate those without homes at much less public expense or for any other reason it is deemed best, a building suited to their needs shall be provided.

10. Whoever, in any way willfully or negligently disobeys these rules of quarantine and disinfection shall be subject to prosecution and a fine of $25.00 for each and every offense, and shall meanwhile if infected, and subject to quarantine he held at the quarantine house or hospital until the time for disinfection.
