FIFTY-THIRD YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1934.

NUMBER FORTYFOUR

PIONEER COUPLE WED LONG TIME

Golden Anniversary of W. F. Wrights Occasion Of This Monday.

The seasons have softened, have lost their rigor and severity since days of pioneering, according to the W. F. Wrights of Wayne, who Monday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

The Wright marriage took place at Oakland, Iowa, on February 5, 1884. Mrs. Wright had come from Cass county, Mo., and her bridegroom came from Illinois, originally.

For some time Randolph has needed no curfew to hurry its youngsters to their homes at night. A mysteriously circulating "woman in black" took the feeling of security out of the lives of young persons and made them find parental headquarters without delay.

Pete Peterson's new car which was spirited away from his residence early last Thursday morning was found later in the day parked among the abandoned wrecks in the automobile graveyard just outside of town.

In the line of automobile thefts we notice of late that police officers have been suffering losses. When a policeman loses his car through theft, he knows how a fellow feels when he is made the victim of a bad egg who is disposed to steal.

The Six-Week Period. Nothing could prevent the groundhog from seeing his shadow on February 2 if he appeared from his subterranean abode, and as the old saying goes, we will have six more weeks of winter.

World Prayer Day Will Be Observed. World Day of Prayer, the first Friday of Lent, will be observed February 16 by the Interdenominational Federation of Missionary Societies with services at Wayne Methodist church at 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Women Of All Churches To Meet In Wayne Friday Of Next Week. World Day of Prayer, the first Friday of Lent, will be observed February 16 by the Interdenominational Federation of Missionary Societies with services at Wayne Methodist church at 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Narrowly Escape In Fire At Home. A narrow escape from suffocation was experienced Monday morning when Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Noakes were awakened about 6:30 to find their home filled with smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Noakes Waken Early Monday To Find House Burning. A narrow escape from suffocation was experienced Monday morning when Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Noakes were awakened about 6:30 to find their home filled with smoke.

BROADCASTING AS ADDED TO HERALD IS ONE YEAR OLD

IT WAS a year ago that broadcasting by remote control over WIAG was installed by the Wayne Herald. Broadcasting for an hour each weekday morning was the first plan.

GIVES ADDRESS ABOUT NEW DEAL

Dr. John P. Senning Speaks At International Relations Program Monday.

"The New Deal is trying to bring equality of opportunity," stated Dr. John P. Senning of the University of Nebraska political science department, Monday evening when he addressed 96 at the International relations banquet sponsored by the Wayne Business and Professional Women's club at Presbyterian parlors.

"In pioneer days this country was founded on the principle of individual rights and courts have upheld this doctrine," Dr. Senning emphasized. "The New Deal planned by the administration insists that the welfare of the group must be considered—that industry shall have a fair share of profit.

World Prayer Day Will Be Observed. World Day of Prayer, the first Friday of Lent, will be observed February 16 by the Interdenominational Federation of Missionary Societies with services at Wayne Methodist church at 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Rev. H. M. Hilpert will perform the ceremony in presence of relatives and friends.

Debate Is Heard By Kiwanis Club

Vagabond Poet Speaks To Wayne Men Next Monday Noon.

The pros and cons of the question, "Resolved: That the power of the press ought to be diminished," were argued by George Anderson and E. W. Huss before fellow Kiwanians at luncheon meeting Monday. This was followed by open discussion in which several members took part.

Franklin Lee Stevenson, known throughout this country as a Vagabond poet, lecturer, author, soldier-of-fortune and adventurer, will be speaker at the Kiwanis club next Monday noon. His subject will be, "The Trails of a Vagabond."

Arthur Robertson Drowns In River

Former Wayne Lad Loses Life Saturday When Ice Breaks Near Beemer.

Arthur Robertson, 13, son of Supt. and Mrs. Howard Robertson of Beemer, was drowned Saturday when he fell through ice on the Elkhorn river. His brother, Eugene, 15, also went through the ice but was able to pull himself out. Body of Arthur was not found until Monday afternoon, 300 feet down the stream from where the boys were crossing the stream after a hike.

The Robertson boys and two others were together Saturday and decided to take a short cut home. When the playmates saw the ice collapse with the Robertson boys, they ran to give the alarm but it was 45 minutes before they could return. West Point, Beemer and Wisner firemen tried to rescue Arthur's body but the severe dust storm hampered them.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES THURSDAY

Guy Sanders, Winside Man, Buried Saturday From Methodist Church.

Injuries sustained when a train struck his truck at Winside last week Tuesday, proved fatal to Guy Sanders, Winside trucker, who died in Wayne two days later. Mr. Sanders approached the track just one block west of the depot, carefully watching an approaching train, and was struck by one coming from the west. The truck was badly smashed, being thrown over against a nearby building. Mr. Sanders was pinned between the building and truck. He was brought to Wayne by train after receiving first aid.

Deceased was born at Welcome, Minn., on January 29, 1876, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders. The family came to Wayne county when he was but four years old. Mr. Sanders' marriage to Miss Susie Martin took place at Wayne on October 27, 1904. Five children were born to this union, all remaining in Winside. The family lived on a farm until 1924, then moved into town. These are Orie Sanders, Mrs. Violet Bates, Mrs. Twila Jensen, Miss Fern Sanders and Russell Sanders. Besides his wife, three brothers and two sisters also survive him, Warren Sanders of Chicago, Fred Sanders of Harlan, Iowa, William Sanders of Stewartville, Minn., Mrs. Frances McHitridge of Ocean Park, Calif., and Mrs. Henry Kruse. One brother and one sister preceded him in death.

FATALITY HURT IN CAR WRECK

File Application For Airport Here

Bressler Property Selected And Request For Federal Aid Is Made.

Wayne City council, at a special meeting Friday, filed application for government aid in establishing an airport here. The Bressler field east of town, formerly the Miller & Strickland port, was selected. This contains about 80 acres. It is planned to seed the ground to alfalfa and revenue from this will pay rent costs. The government will furnish up to $5,000 for labor on the project. No word has yet been received on the application.

Damage Action Settled Monday

Award Rev. William Kearns Sum For Injuries Suffered Early In August.

A settlement of $7,750 was agreed upon Monday when the damage action filed by Rev. Wm. Kearns of Wayne, against the Interstate Transit company, came up for hearing before District Judge Willis Sears in Omaha. Rev. Kearns was leaving Omaha on August 11 and was riding in an Interstate bus. A wheel came off the bus outside Omaha city limits and Rev. Kearns was thrown so as to suffer a broken ankle and internal injuries. He has been in an Omaha hospital since.

CASH TO FARMERS IS REFLECTED IN INCREASED TRADE

INDIVIDUALS who are pushing business with old-time spirit and vigor, usually report increased rewards. Wheat areas south and southwest felt comparatively early influence from the circulation of government money. Federal corn loans are now being distributed in this county, and such cash is passing swiftly into channels of trade. Money used to wipe out an obligation or to buy something new, goes into circulation, and a small amount, once started and kept going, can create a lot of activity and do a lot of business. The pavilion sale in Wayne last Saturday when forty horses, included in the offering, were snapped up by ready buyers, showed improved confidence. Many of the people who came for the sale, made liberal purchases from local dealers. The importance of pavilion sales to local trade, suggests the advisability of having these sales weekly through the year. Such an arrangement could be made by substantial assistance from the business district. The live-wire Young Men's Business club could add more feathers to its cap of triumph by taking steps in that direction.

Work For College Folks Proposed

Wayne College Faculty Is Investigating New Federal Project.

At a called faculty meeting on Tuesday, Dr. U. S. Conn presented the matter of part-time jobs for college students under Federal Relief administration program. The plan provides that not over 10 percent of the student enrollment may be given employment, providing these students are needy and could not otherwise remain in school, that the school will refund all fees paid by student, that students included are not already employed, that it be divided among men and women students according to their proportion, and that suitable employment is found for them on the campus. Students are to work not over eight hours per day, or 30 hours per week, and minimum pay is 30c per hour. Wayne college officials question if the college will be able to comply with requirements of the plan, due to conflict with statutes and regulations governing state-owned colleges. This question will be taken up at state normal board meeting in Lincoln Monday, which Dr. Conn will attend.

Credit Group Is Formed Tuesday

Wayne County Represented In Farm Association At Norfolk.

The Norfolk Production Credit association, which will serve farmers and stockmen of Wayne, Cuming, Stanton, Pierce, Antelope and Madison counties was organized Tuesday at Norfolk with Alex Rabeler of Leigh, acting as temporary chairman. Wayne was represented by G. H. Liggett, L. B. McClure, M. L. Ringer and G. W. Albert. About 150 attended.

W. F. Langenberg of Hoskins, was elected director for Wayne county, to serve until the first annual meeting. Incorporators to perfect the organization were chosen. The Wayne county representatives are Harvey W. Tangeman of Winside, E. A. W. F. and Geo. Langenberg of Hoskins, and G. W. Albert of Wayne.

The group requested the Farm Credit administration in Washington to grant a charter. And when this arrives the permanent organization will be effected at Norfolk.

Authorized capitalization of this new association is $150,000. Three fourths will be subscribed by the Production Credit corporation of Omaha and the remaining fourth by eligible borrowers at the time of borrowing. With this amount of capital the discount privilege with the federal intermediate credit bank of Omaha will make available to farmers and stockmen borrowers in the district about $750,000, the chairman stated.

The Production Credit association, it was explained, is a new method of financing short term agricultural loans. This is possible through the farm credit act of 1933.

WAKEFIELD SHOWS UP WELL IN DEBATE

Wakefield debaters went to the Midland invitation debate tournament at Fremont last week and showed up splendidly, having entered the 44-team contests with an inexperienced squad.

Girls' team was made up of Lena Dean Johnson, Patricia Kieran and Muriel Hanson, and this group started the fireworks for Wakefield by defeating Benson high school in opening round. In second round, the same team won a bitterly contested debate with Creighton prep at Omaha. Third round brought defeat when the girls lost a hot contest to Holdrege by 2 to 1 decision. In fourth round, the girls came back strong to win an easy victory over Hartington's boys. In fifth, the Wakefield girls were going strong and handed Fremont boys a defeat. In sixth, only six schools remained, and these were Omaha Central, Holdrege, Fremont, Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs, Benson high of Omaha, and Wakefield. Again the girls met Holdrege and again were defeated. The girls had already defeated Fremont which later vanquished Holdrege, but the Holdrege boys with two years of interscholastic debate, seemed a jinx. The second elimination put Wakefield out of the tournament.

The boys' team, Donald Peterson and Dale Buhman, ran into trouble at the very first of the competition losing to Omaha Central in first round, and to Benson high in second. In consolation the lads made up for their ill luck, disposing of Emerson, and in second period, defeating Benson high which had beaten them earlier. In the semi-finals, Wakefield boys were matched against Grand Island, coming out on top, but losing to Holdrege in the finals.

In the tournament, Wakefield lost to only three schools, Omaha Central, Holdrege and Omaha Benson, and had seven victories in all, these being over Emerson, Hartington, Creighton prep, Omaha Benson, Fremont and Grand Island. Fremont, which later won the tournament, has never defeated Wakefield in interscholastic debate.

Cattle Testing Nears Completion

Great decline of tuberculosis in live stock and humans is noted in extracts from 1933 annual report...

Good live stock farming, surplus of cattle, and public health benefits have emphasized the value of tuberculosis eradication...

Plans are being made by the United States government to pay the testing costs where local funds are not available...

Since the program of cattle testing was started, the decline of tuberculosis in live stock has been very marked...

Improving Health. The eradication of tuberculosis has been the improvement of public health...

Deaths from all forms of tuberculosis in Iowa have decreased more than one-half since 1918...

Dr. J. A. Myers, professor of preventive medicine, University of Minnesota, who is doing some very definite research work in the practical application of the tuberculin test to humans...

The slaughter records of range cattle at the Sioux City Market indicate that some herds in the open range sections have tuberculosis...

Over 55 per cent of all counties in the United States are accredited. Iowa farmers have received an average of $41.23 per head for 17,009 reactors slaughtered during the fiscal year 1933...

Sales Centers and Truck Traffic. Since government supervision and inspection of all live stock at public markets in Sioux City and Sioux Falls has been a very important part of the program...

Stock Losses Surveyed. Many of those who handle, load, transport, and drive hogs and cattle thoughtlessly kick, strike, or punch animals with a blunt club or sharp stick and bruise a valuable part of the carcass...

Mange in hogs is prevalent during the winter months and runs as high as 16 per cent of all hogs affected. This is a loss that can be controlled on the farm by maintaining hogs in thrifty condition...

Contagious abortion is very wide spread and special attention should be given to its control. All breeding animals imported into Iowa must be tested for this disease...

Although the abortion test is not yet well perfected, it is valuable. The application of the test and other management methods followed under the direction of competent veterinarians make it possible to control this disease in a herd...

The fact that humans may contract mumps fever from live stock affected with contagious abortion makes it all the more necessary to consider practical methods of eradicating this disease from live stock.

Recipes

Chocolate Cake. (Mrs. Harry Luckey) 1 square of chocolate and 1-2 cup of sweet milk, cooked to a custard...

Supper Cake. (By Mrs. William Mellor) 1-4 cup butter, 2-3 cup sugar, creamed together...

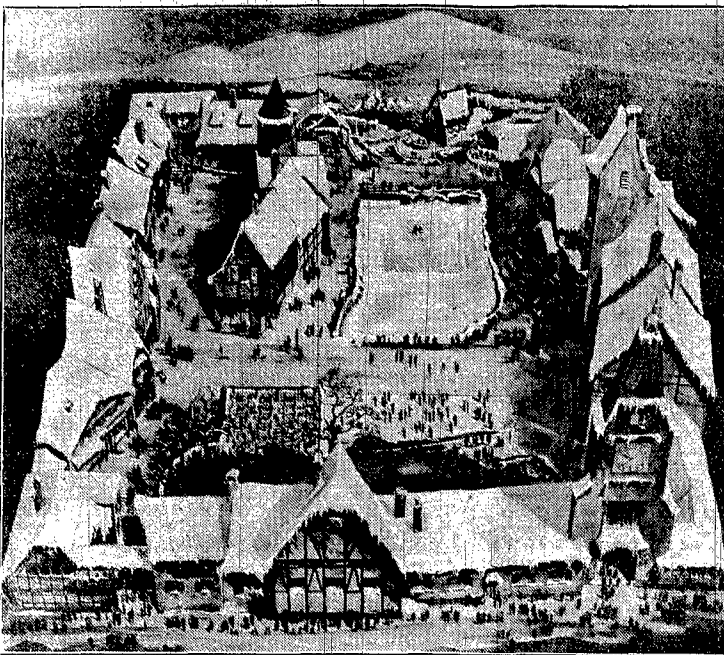

Rural School. District 69. Miss Dorothy Gildersleeve. The health race ended February 1 with the Lincoln car coming in ahead of the Plymouth. The losers will entertain the winners at a Valentine party...

There are 13 accredited states, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, West Virginia, North Carolina, Maine, New Hampshire, Idaho, Utah and Nevada. Other states that will soon be accredited are Illinois, Washington, Oregon and Virginia.

Dangerous Plans!

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT: Jan. 14 (via Mackay Radio). Ice, water or air. It's all the same to Admiral Byrd!

There is your club map you will notice there is an enormous gulf of undiscovered land indicated by a broken line from the 17th to the 152nd meridians. Well, Admiral Byrd's three flights along the 17th, 150th and 152nd meridians tell why it will never be discovered. It isn't there!

By the time you read this, the Admiral, with two or three companions, may have made one of the most dangerous flights in history. He told me about this several months ago, as a secret. This trip will be to Little America. There they may settle down to wait until the Ruppert or the Bear, or both, can crush their way in. Or it is now possible that he may fly back to the Ruppert. At Little America they will study the terrifying ice ridges which Dr. Lincoln Ellsworth has reported to us as a possible obstacle to getting our supplies from the ships to the base and perhaps the big Ford trimotored plane, left there in 1930, which they tell us is all safe and snug—as yet!—with its big supply of cached gasoline.

If they land anywhere except at Little America, with its three wooden houses and its two 70-foot radio masts which Ellsworth says are still standing, the Second Byrd Antarctic Expedition may spend its entire time searching for Admiral Byrd and his two or three fearless companions. Wouldn't that be something? They're taking three months supplies of food, in case—

Commander George Norville tells me he hopes to make an exploration trip of 800 miles or more with the three tractors we've brought. More work for yours truly and more to write about. I could write ten books now!

Don't forget, everybody of high school age or over, interested in aviation, adventure and exploration, is eligible, without any cost whatever, to join our club and receive a membership card and a fine working map of the South Polar region to keep track of all our various flights and other exploration trips. Simply send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Arthur Abele, Jr., President, Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., and the club staff there will do the rest.

I saw no land. It is pretty safe to say that no land exists any nearer to the coastal fringes of King Edward VII and Marie Byrd Land. There may be, however, a few low

ENTER MIDLAND DEBATE EVENT

Programs and Parties Are Scheduled for Junior High School Folks.

Wayne high school was represented in the Midland college invitation debate last week-end by six students, Raymond Sala, Margaret Jones, Lindley Keeney, Willis Penhollow, Gerald Wright and Milton Auker. Elmer Mortensen, debate coach, accompanied the group to Fremont.

Pep programs are being arranged for Friday, preceding the Oakland game here, and a program was given on Tuesday before West Point tilt.

A cappella choir, directed by Kermit Stewart, has rehearsals each Thursday evening. Advanced orchestra meets three times weekly during school hours. High school prep orchestra is practicing once each week during school hours.

Miss Helen Kellogg has divided junior high school girls' physical education class in two, and the fifth and sixth graders are combined, and seventh and eighth will work together.

Teams were chosen for games, made up of the following: Greens, Patricia Brown, captain; Beverly Strahan, Fannie Martin, Marguerite Elnung, Marjorie Thompson, Fannell Mau, Esther Maric and Anita Anderson; yellows, Helen Sevy, captain; Wilma Gene Hogewood, Mildred Franzen, Virginia Mesnard, Marjorie Gildersleeve, Anabelle Jensen and Irene Beeks; orange and blacks, Edna Martens, captain, Lila Westerhouse, Wilma Heidenreich, Mildred Mau, Barbara Hook, Reva Barnes, Margaret Larson, Hollis Simmerman and Elaine Rhoades; reds, Catherine Cavanaugh, captain, Alice May Foster, Erma Jean Dunn, Juna Dene Korff, Leah Young, Irene Haberer, Marjorie Reuter and Dorothea Reibold.

Junior high declamatory and dramatics classes are choosing readings this week in preparation for the coming declamatory contest. Girls prepared the program for eighth grade service league last week Wednesday, and boys were in charge of this week's meeting. Margaret Jean Studley has been taken into membership. Eighth grade history and geography of Nebraska class is entering the "Know your county" contest sponsored by the extension department at University of Nebraska. Winner of the state event will receive a trip to Chicago fair next summer. The children will interview early settlers to get interesting material about Wayne county. Language 3 is taking up study of great engineering feats, such as dams, bridges and skyscrapers and special reports will be taken on these. Arithmetic class is taking up the various business organizations to be found in Wayne and other near-by cities, to find out how they function.

Tragedy Victim Is Related Here

Miss Margaret Graves Dies When Shot At School By Rejected Lover.

As 20 pupils watched in horror, Miss Margaret Graves, 22, rural school teacher near Harlan, Iowa, granddaughter of John Morgan and niece of F. S. Morgan and Mrs. Roscoe Jones of Wayne, was shot to death Friday by a rejected lover, Herman Seick, 28, who then committed suicide.

Mr. Seick walked into the school about 3 in the afternoon carrying a small shotgun. White pupils looked on in terror he loaded the gun and walked up the aisle. Miss Graves crouched behind her desk and pleaded, "Don't Shoot." But he placed the muzzle of the gun against her side and fired. Miss Graves struggled to her feet and told the children to go for help. She staggered to the door where she fell dead on the steps. Seick then walked across the school yard and shot himself through the heart. Children ran to a farm house across the road and then the Christian Roid family called officers.

Miss Graves is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graves of Harlan. She had rejected Seick's attentions and at Christmas returned his present unopened. Seick threatened to take his life and Miss Graves' some days before the tragedy.

Funeral services for Miss Graves were held at Harlan Monday and Wayne relatives attended.

Music Featured On Herald Radio

Vocal and Instrumental Numbers Broadcast Last Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Gorst of Worland, Wyo., and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman furnished music for the Wayne Herald radio program. Mrs. Gorst, formerly Miss Ferne Oman, and Mr. Oman each sang solos.

Harold Smalley, playing clarinet and saxophone, Harold West, playing the guitar, and Hugo Berg, playing the piano, provided popular selections for the Friday program.

Leland Assay has returned to first grade after being ill, and has completed his first primer. Richard Best and Lois Zepplin returned to school Wednesday last week after absence due to illness. Billy Hahn broke his perfect attendance record dating from first of the semester, when he was absent Friday because of illness. The youngsters will learn about Lincoln and Washington this month.

The kindergarten playhouse has been assembled and is delighting the children. The entire group can get in it at once. The house is tent-shaped and will be covered with paper.

California Flood Is Described By Rev. Iva Wallick

The California flood which received but scant attention in western papers, was a disaster of major proportions, according to Rev. Iva Wallick of Wayne.

Mrs. Iva Wallick and two sons, Gerald and David, arrived in Los Angeles just in time for the great deluge. Leaving here Wednesday, December 28, they reached their destination on the following Saturday afternoon, arriving in a hard rain. Not the thunder-lightning variety of Nebraska fame, but a sheet-like rain which came down steadily for several days.

Early Monday morning the dam burst up in the hills and Montrose was visited with a flood of water. Boulders fully six feet through, were swept down the valley with the torrent. Houses were taken off their foundations and carried along automobiles on the highways were picked up... the highway was covered with 6 and 8 feet of sand and debris. Searching parties had to go the depth of cars to dig bodies out of the mud, for drivers were caught without warning and were trapped inside. About 300 people lost their lives in the flood, although the papers listed only a small number.

Houses which were not carried away were flooded so badly that the walls, floors and furnishings were ruined. About six feet of water rose in most of the dwellings. In one house a woman lay with a new-born baby. The water rose steadily and the woman could not be moved. But when the flood water reached the mattress it stopped.

Although not reached by the flood, Los Angeles suffered much from the too-heavy rains. Rev. Wallick saw fountains of water shooting out of the sewer openings, and at least six inches of rain stood on the level streets. Trains were tied up two days, mail was cut off, only outlets was to the north. In front of Angelus temple six to 18 inches of water was standing and men had to put on hip boots and carry women to the street cars.

The storm found Angelus temple in midst of New Year's eve program. Music and preaching lasted from 7 p. m. to 12:15 next morning, and fully 5,300 persons remained for the entire evening. When the waters began to seep into the temple, the great organ which can be raised and lowered, was lifted high out of danger, and the services continued. The temple of Amy McPherson was filled with a foot of water and the flood came up to within an inch of entering the radio transformer room. Had this happened, the five-story building would have blown up. Next morning an S. O. S. call for a bucket brigade was sent out over the Four-square radio station and the devotees came out en masse. Aluminum kettles, blue enamel pans, buckets, pails—a long line formed and the water was scooped out.

Rev. Wallick went west to attend the annual convention at the Four-square temple. During her stay there, Amy McPherson was challenged to a debate on the questions, "Is Evolution True?" and "There is no God," by the atheistic leader, Charles Smith. Mr. Smith is organizer for the American Association Advancing Atheism, which is known in various states as "Legion of the Damned," "Devil's Black Angels" and "God's Lost Sheep." A second debate was planned for last week in the Shrine auditorium in Los Angeles.

The Wallicks visited a battleship, S. S. Louisville, while on the coast. The boys were interested in how the airplanes were attached to the ship, and shot out by mechanical device so that they have sufficient speed when they leave the runway to carry them up.

Scientists tell Californians that another heavy earthquake is due soon but the people don't seem worried about this. Perhaps because everything is so sunny and beautiful, and life moves on so much more leisurely than in the mid-west, says Rev. Wallick. But when a slight quake is felt—and there were six tremors during their stay—then it brings back the danger and folks look worried.

Results of the recent quake are everywhere to be seen. Crumbled buildings, roofless buildings, topsy-turvy houses. The Huntington Park high school was badly shaken, caught fire, and now is only an excavation in the ground. Many schools are held in canvas buildings, for parents can refuse to send their children to brick buildings during this scare.

Living was most reasonable on the coast, says the evangelist. Rents are down and food is cheap. The two Wayne boys who accompanied them west, Allen Stamm and Maurice Wamberg, found work right away.

Coming back the Wallicks had a near-accident about 250 miles out of Los Angeles, their car climbing a high bank with little damage. Going over the mountains from Ash Fork to Santa Fe, they ran into a billboard and traveled for miles when the driver couldn't see the red-light cap. The trip would have meant freezing. The desert was

New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers Ride Like a Glide

In the design and development of the new 1934 Chevrolet, particular attention has been given to driver and passenger comfort, all annoying sensations of disagreeable sound and feeling having been eliminated. The upper photo shows the new Chevrolet coach with its long, sleek lines. Wind rush has been eliminated by the Fisher No Draft Ventilators and the new streamlined hooding in Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" which enjoy the advantage of being completely enclosed in a weathertight housing; the coil springs and shock absorbers ride in a bath of oil. William E. Holler, Chevrolet's general sales manager, is shown at the left holding a chart which shows the internal construction of the system. The radiator of the new car has added beauty through its graceful and sharply pointed design. Smoothness has been the theme in every line of this year's Chevrolet.

The driver and passengers in the new 1934 Chevrolet get a ride like the glide of an airplane. One of the main factors in improving the riding qualities of the new car to such a great extent is the "Knee-Action"—or independently sprung front wheels, to use the technical term.

So much has been written about independent springing that the public has doubtless concluded that it is something too technical to understand. As a matter of fact, there is nothing complicated about either the principle involved or the construction of the system. Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" enjoys the advantage of being enclosed in a welded weathertight housing in which the entire spring mechanism and shock absorbers ride up and down in a bath of oil.

An automobile gives a perfect ride when both the front and rear springs have the same "frequency," or tension. Actually this has been impossible to carry out in the past because the front springs had to be over twice as "stiff" as the rear springs in order to hold the front axle, wheels and brakes in place. In independent

Civil War Veteran A. J. Hyatt Observes Birthday On Thursday

On mention of Sherman's famous march to the sea and the present-day depression, at once one thinks of separate generations. But these are but two of many interesting events within the life span of A. J. Hyatt, Civil War veteran, who was 88 years old Thursday, February 1. And the Stoical philosophy which enabled him to endure the Civil War period gives them a hopeful outlook in this period of depression. "I don't believe in living high," Mr. Hyatt says, "and why worry when we are comfortable? That's all we need."

Mr. Hyatt has had such an eventful life that he must live over and over many experiences. Perhaps the living over of experiences keeps Mr. Hyatt young, for he is much younger than his years. He is down town visiting friends every day, even when the thermometer registers way below zero. "I've never been sick," Mr. Hyatt says in appreciative voice. "That's a wonderful blessing."

It seems like stepping into a history book to recount events of Mr. Hyatt's life. Born in a double log house at Sonoma, Ill., February 1, 1842, Mr. Hyatt was a barefoot boy clad in overalls and a straw hat when Abraham Lincoln was campaigning for presidency in the territory 40 miles west of Chicago where the Hyatts lived. "I shook hands with him often and he was a wonderful man," Mr. Hyatt remarks when questioned about Mr. Lincoln, "but he was the homeliest man I ever saw. Everyone surely liked him."

Mr. Hyatt came with his parents the Alvin Hyatts, to Davenport, Iowa, when he was a youth and later the family moved to the Nebraska territory. This was in 1861 and Plattsmouth was then a thriving little village in the new country. The senior Mr. Hyatt was a blacksmith and established himself easily as there was lots of shoeing to be done in those days.

The Civil War broke out. The spirit of enlisting thrilled the youth. One day a steamer pulled into Plattsmouth. It was headed south. The desire to join the army overpowered young Hyatt who bade his parents goodbye and jumped onto the freighter, headed for Memphis, where he enlisted. Mr. Hyatt was in the 11th Iowa infantry for Iowa had been his home and one could choose any state then and "I was a high private in the rear rank," Mr. Hyatt jokingly adds. "My name is Alvin Jackson and I went by the name of Jackson in the army."

It was in 1861, the first year of the war, that Mr. Hyatt enlisted and he served through the entire conflict and was in several major engagements. "I never got a scratch and was not sick a day during the war. We were sent to Pittsburgh Landing for the first engagement and had two days of hard fighting there. One Sunday the Confederates almost drove us back, but on Monday we drove them the other way."

"Yes, I was with Sherman on his march to the sea. It was hard—lots of swamps to go through and provisions always short." Mr. Hyatt says the soldiers had a special fancy for chicken and the territory they traveled seemed to me minus fowls after their visits. The companies sent men ahead of the advanced guards to get supplies. One day when Mr. Hyatt was sent ahead, Sherman himself was in the advanced guard. "Where are you going," Sherman questioned the soldiers. "The ranch ahead has some fine beef and we want to get some for the boys," Mr. Hyatt replied. And the boys went ahead and got the beef.

"Sherman was a wonderful soldier and a fine man," Mr. Hyatt adds. "We all liked him and stuck right with him clear to the sea and

Lived At Wilnot Home of Sankeys

In his youth Verne Sankey, one of the nation's most notorious kidnapers who was captured in Chicago the last of the week, seemed to be just an ordinary boy, says Mrs. Blanche Jones of Wayne, who had lived at Wilnot, S. D., home of the Sankey family, for 24 years. His parents were highly respected and his brother, Frank, has never engaged in underworld career.

Mr. and Mrs. Sankey and two sons lived on a farm near Wilnot for a number of years. They were thrifty. Mrs. Sankey was different from many mothers, Mrs. Jones reports, and let the boys shift for themselves most of the time. The youths were never seen in church and this lack of right guidance may have been responsible for Verne's waywardness, she thinks. The boys always liked to dress well and to have a good time. Why one went wrong and the other right is a puzzle to people who know them.

When the Sankey boys were in their teens the parents moved from the farm and bought a 10-acre tract joining Wilnot. The boys had gone to grade school and seemed not inclined to more education. They did not want to farm. When Verne was 17 his father died. Soon he married a young woman who was nice looking, but not well educated, and they moved away.

The other boy married a Wilnot girl and runs an elevator in North Dakota. After the mother had served as librarian for a few years she married a traveling man and went to Florida where she died four years ago.

Verne's wife nor brother seem to have been connected with his kidnapings, Mrs. Jones reports. This man of 42 is charged with participation in abduction of Haskell Bohn of St. Paul, Charles Boettcher of Denver, and perhaps the Lindbergh baby. The desperado was captured while in a Chicago barber shop. Poison pills, which he probably intended taking if caught, and money were found on him.

Early Days In Wayne County

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for February 21, 1918:

The Council for Defense passed resolutions in regard to conserving food.

Women of Wayne county subscribed $33,000 to the second liberty loan drive.

Dave Jenkins family moved to a farm four miles west of Carroll.

Mrs. M. E. Back of Spokane, Wash., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Kingston, at Carroll.

Mrs. Frank Crane returned to Ulrich, S. D., after attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Asher Huribert, at Carroll.

Alex Suhr fell and broke a shoulder when helping A. E. Gilderleeve shell corn.

Pierce Bressler returned to Powell, Wyo., after visiting in Leslie.

A service flag has been dedicated in district 4 with stars.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Herner of Leslie precinct, returned from a trip to Texas.

Ora Martin arrived home from Camp Pike, Ark., to recuperate from illness.

Mrs. Weldon Crossland of Detroit, Mich., is visiting at G. W. Crossland's.

Prof. I. H. Britell went to Norfolk to speak to the high school.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carter of Wakefield February 18, 1918; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Haskell of Wakefield February 17, 1918; and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Colonel Erickson of Red Oak, formerly of Wakefield, February 14, 1918.

The Henry estate was sold in Carroll, two lots in Wayne going to August Loberg, Carroll town property to Walter Huribert, 80 acres to John L. Davis, 60 acres to Joe Garwood.

Movieites

The coming week brings an especially interesting week for movie goers, for P. L. March has arranged "Alice in Wonderland" for Friday and Saturday, "Son of a Sailor" for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and "Torch Singer" for next Wednesday and Thursday. All plays of special merit with casts that are also leaders in the cinema!

"Alice in Wonderland" February 9 and 10.

The world's greatest story is "Alice in Wonderland" and it is filmed with world leaders, Charlotte Henry, Richard Arlen, Roscoe Ates, Gary Cooper, Leon Errol, Louise Fazenda, Skeets Gallagher, Mae Marsh, Polly Moran, Jack Oakie, Edna Mae Oliver, May Robson, Charlie Ruggles and other favorites.

When Paramount sent out a call for contestants to pick a girl for Alice in this picture, 7,000 candidates for the role were found and after much care Charlotte Henry was chosen most typical of Alice in the story book. Months were spent in making costumes and other things necessary for filming the play accurately, to make it just like the "Alice in Wonderland" which has thrilled every child.

Written 75 years ago, "Alice in Wonderland" still thrills and brings a moral which is worthy of consideration in present day. And it is presented in such a quaint, merry mood.

LIFE OF AMERICAN STUDENT ABROAD TOLD OF BY BARBARA SPOERRY

Miss Barbara Spoerry, former Wayne college student and niece of Miss Margaret Schemel of the college faculty, writes of her work at Lyons, France, where she is attending the university. She received a scholarship while studying at University of Nebraska, and took preliminary work in Paris at the Alliance. She writes humorously and originally of her experiences:

"This morning being Armistice, canons were booming all over the place, and I went over to see the parade. Not knowing the town too well, I missed the speeches and whatnot, and even the famous 'clarion seller,' imported especially for the occasion. He is the boy who was the first to blow 'Ceszez le feu' (cease firing) after the Armistice was actually signed. But I saw him anyway, and I may have heard the echoes of the bugle calls, now knowing 'Ceszez le feu' from the Marseillaise or ten other things. I saw the regiment march by in its many different and interesting uniforms, and the band which they insist upon calling an orchestra."

"The French have much ceremony connected with remaining in the country, which Miss Spoerry ably describes. 'I gave half of my 100 francs to the police so I could stay in their old country, and as though that wasn't enough, they made me get all the lousy recommendations and things written on a certain kind of paper, which costs four francs per sheet! It nearly killed us all. First I went to the central 'joint,' and there learned that my papers would not be accepted because they did not have the right background. So I got them fixed up and went back, and then they told me that I must first have everything stamped by the police 'do-bidly' in my arondissement, so I went there, and they said I was crazy, that they didn't have anything at all to do with it. This morning we went to the Palais de Justice, clear across the city again, and my dears, guess what? They only handle such matters at 8:30 in the morning, and again at 2:30 in the afternoon. Well, just to keep in good form, I went back at two, and by gosh, I have to have another, and a different kind of letter from the faculte. I am a complete wreck."

She starts her classes at the university, and finds a very pretentious schedule has been arranged. "I will have a class in Zedig, one on the Roman d'Eneas, a third on Flaubert's Salammbou, a fourth on Musset's 'On ne badine pas avec l'amour.'" Which hardly resembles a Nebraska college schedule.

"Everyone in France knits. Do you remember the story about the fine young American society girl who wanted to do something during the war and Captain Westerman gave her the name of a lady in France and suggested that she knit something for him, and that later she sent him a pair of knitted socks which she had struggled through, only to receive, somewhat later, the following little 'thank you' note—'Received the socks, some fit. Used one for a helmet, the other for a mitt. Hope to see you, when I do my bit, but where in hell did you learn to knit?'"

"Well, since my arrival, I have sort of looked with longing at all the dainties in the Metros, trams and busses, knitting, knitting, constantly. They knit whole dresses and things and they are swell looking, and no fooling."

"The profs are too cute for words at the university. One is bearded and gray, another is brisk and sleek and striped-suited. A third is perfectly precious and looks for all the world like Adolphe Menjou fattened up a bit."

"String and paper are at a premium in France—just try and get something wrapped up here. I carried a violent pink colored tube of tooth paste to all my classes the other day because at the store they wouldn't wrap it up. If you could buy a whole loaf of bread, you get a whole inch strip of paper tied around its middle."

"This afternoon I tried the police force again. I had procured the certificate in English and in French, and the Carte d'etudiante, letters of honorability and various other things from Mme. Monod, Mme. Guy, the consul and ten other people. The mannie mumbled something about my having been before. Well, I fitted all my documents in his eye, along with five photographs I forgot to mention, and he looked pretty sorry to see me so sort of completely outfit-ated. But his old eye lighted up after a minute and he said the pictures were too big. Which they were by about an inch each way. I looked forlorn and he thought maybe we could cut them down. So my dears, he took his scissors, and clipped and whacked and trimmed till I now appear, in the annals of the French court, hairless and chinless and one-eared! I tell you he got out 40 different little sheets and cards and blanks and stickers, and pasted your mutilated daughter on some of them, and wrote on others. But it seemed I had to write a letter to the prefect of the Rhone, so out I brushed to a tabac and indulged in another sheet of four-franc paper. I wrote the letter in excellent French (having a copy) and reached forth my paw for the coveted property, but there was one more catch—you don't pay there, you pay at the post office. So I paid at the post office instead, and finally after signing numerous papers which I didn't even look at, I got my Provisional Carte d'identite, the permanent article being procurable in January or February if I call again, please!"

Describing a typical meal in the private home where she is staying, Miss Spoerry says: "Soup always in the evening, then baked endives, a fancy soufflé, cold sliced veal and wine, cheese and fruit or compote de pommes (which you mustn't be startled into believing is anything but applesauce.) One of the things I like best is a Lyonnaise product, quenelles, which are about the shape of tamales when you buy them and sort of doughy-looking. You heat them some way and they puff all up like a soufflé, then you pour a creamy mushroom sauce over them and let them melt in your mouth."

"Friday night was a night and a half in Lyon. It seems that in 1870 when the Germans were on the verge of entering the city, the people made a vow to God that if they were spared this calamity, they would make an annual fete of the birthday of the Holy Virgin. They have been true to their promise. It is a beautiful sight. All the shops remain open until midnight, the house is brilliantly lighted, and the facades of all the churches are alight with mammoth crosses, besides having their whole every home, there is on the ledge outside, or on the little balcony, a row of thick squat candles burning in fat little glasses."

Opera Star Sings Varied Program on Thursday Evening

Wayne college students heard Mrs. Margaret Matzenauer, contralto, in a classical program in the auditorium Thursday evening. This was a part of the student lecture course. Mme. Matzenauer's voice was of excellent quality and her numbers were well received. To a student audience, she no doubt lacked color and warmth in her presentation. The singer was large of figure, with curly black hair and dark eyes. She wore deep blue with gleaming brilliant trim, had red-tinted nails, and no jewelry. In her interpretations she injected a strongly Gaelic shrug.

Madame came here directly from New York city, starting a tour which will cover the southern states of Oklahoma and Texas. She went from here to Omaha, to sing as a feature of the junior league course. The singer is of Hungarian birth, and has sung at numerous European musical centers, and has been connected with the Metropolitan Opera house for the past two decades.

"Song My Mother Taught Me," Tschalkowsky, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delilah," and "The Rosary" which was sung as an encore, were especially well received in the Thursday evening concert. Edward Hart accompanied the singer, and played three solo numbers also.

THE OLIVER ROW CROP

A 2-Row Cultivator that works close, keeps level, holds its course and does not pack the soil

So much of the operating is done automatically, so much more is made so simple, that clean, close, uniform cultivating becomes a very simple job with the Row Crop method.

First, in following the rows—the Row Crop method of steering that brakes—brakes that steer—makes it simple for the operator to follow his rows closely at all times.

The tractor, itself, is high above, and far away from the crops and will not damage them, while the gangs work close. The Tip-toe Wheels, instead of packing, actually help cultivate the soil.

All shovels are out in front of the operator. There are none behind that he has to watch. He has only to control the general depth desired. The guide wheels and the 12-inch vertical "float" of each gang, allow each gang to adjust itself to the contour of the ground... independently. All shovels on each gang are level at all times—there is no hinge action in the gang.

You want to see this tractor—with two and four-row cultivating equipment. There is also additional equipment for all row crop and general farm operations.

In Grammar Room.

Lester Gottsch received a gold seal for nine months of perfect attendance. Eighth grade had perfect attendance all last week. Seventh and eighth graders made advertising posters last week. Theo Witte has received 100 percent in a unit test in history over the Civil war period. Both classes enjoyed the memory program last week Tuesday, and Betty Witte, seventh grader, proved to have the best memory for recalling poems after the program. She received a grade of 95 percent. Dorothea Nielsen's team won the spelling ball game by seven points.

Sixth grade folks have been working on posters to use down town in advertising the school carnival. Fifth graders have gathered pictures of foods, etc., to use for their health posters next week. Samples of writing for September 11 and December 11 have been posted on the bulletin board so the children can compare their progress during the three months. Several show much improvement.

Third and fourth graders are making posters. Betty Lautenbaugh and Shirley Belle Witte made a health poster pointing out that one should wait after meals to swim. Billy Cary made a safety first poster urging children to watch the stop signs. Irene Christensen designed one showing proper care of the feet. In a spelling test covering 40 words last Friday, everyone in the room received an A or B. Fourth graders are studying about Baffin Island near the North pole, and comparing it with Little America where Admiral Byrd now is.

Booklets about gingerbread men have been made by second graders, and included pictures and stories. Leroy Wittler, Betty Lou Weible, Ann Noreen Loeback and Louise Weible were the second graders handing in perfect papers covering the week's spelling words. First grade folks had a new Gates primer and workbook.

In Grammar Room.

Lester Gottsch received a gold seal for nine months of perfect attendance. Eighth grade had perfect attendance all last week. Seventh and eighth graders made advertising posters last week. Theo Witte has received 100 percent in a unit test in history over the Civil war period. Both classes enjoyed the memory program last week Tuesday, and Betty Witte, seventh grader, proved to have the best memory for recalling poems after the program. She received a grade of 95 percent. Dorothea Nielsen's team won the spelling ball game by seven points.

Sixth grade folks have been working on posters to use down town in advertising the school carnival. Fifth graders have gathered pictures of foods, etc., to use for their health posters next week. Samples of writing for September 11 and December 11 have been posted on the bulletin board so the children can compare their progress during the three months. Several show much improvement.

Third and fourth graders are making posters. Betty Lautenbaugh and Shirley Belle Witte made a health poster pointing out that one should wait after meals to swim. Billy Cary made a safety first poster urging children to watch the stop signs. Irene Christensen designed one showing proper care of the feet. In a spelling test covering 40 words last Friday, everyone in the room received an A or B. Fourth graders are studying about Baffin Island near the North pole, and comparing it with Little America where Admiral Byrd now is.

Booklets about gingerbread men have been made by second graders, and included pictures and stories. Leroy Wittler, Betty Lou Weible, Ann Noreen Loeback and Louise Weible were the second graders handing in perfect papers covering the week's spelling words. First grade folks had a new Gates primer and workbook.

(Rev. G. T. Kern, pastor)

February 11, 1934. Sunday school at 10. German Lenten services 10:45. English Lenten services at 7:15 p. m. Not long ago our churches are homes rang with songs of joy as praise as old and young celebrated the birthday of Jesus, the Savior in a brief while we shall have the opportunity to contemplate that we were redeemed not with silver and gold but with the precious blood of Christ. The Lenten season calls on us to follow Jesus from the time He turned His face steadfastly toward Jerusalem when He knew what awaited Him there. It is "finished" and he bore his head. Behold the man of sorrows! This opportunity comes to us once again with the season. Let us realize the opportunity. Let us in public and private make our Savior's anguish in behalf our special study in the weeks of Lent in order that we may rejoice in the glorious Easter message. To this end a cordial invitation goes out to you to attend the special Lenten services in our church every Sunday morning German at 10:45 and every Sunday evening in English at 7:30. Come in a spirit of reverence and expectancy. Be assured that great spiritual blessing await you.

H. F. Krohn and family plan to leave February 14 or 15 for Sidney, Neb., where Rev. Krohn has accepted call to serve the Lutheran church. Next Sunday will be his last services in Carroll. Rev. Krohn has served the local church six and a fourth years. Rev. C. E. Fredrickson of McCook, has been extended call to the Carroll church. Daughter Is Born. A daughter was born Sunday, February 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andrews of near Carroll. She weighed 10 1-2 pounds. Begin Moving Soon. The annual spring moving on farms will begin soon. About 15 or 20 in this neighborhood will exchange farms this season. Attend Funeral Monday. William Hennessy, 83, brother of T. A. Hennessy of Carroll, died Friday at his home in Norfolk after an illness of three weeks. T. A. Hennessy was in Norfolk with his brother last week and Mrs. Hennessy and the Joe Duffey family went for the funeral Monday morning at Sacred Heart church. Mr. Hennessy is survived by a foster son, Arthur Aspanall of Perry, Iowa, two brothers and three sisters. Projects In Progress. Carroll's quota of CWA men is at work this week on the same projects. The store building was plastered Monday and interior finishing started this week. Men are working on the spur from Carroll south and some are also on highway No. 133 near the Geo. McEachen and Wm. Mellor places. Carroll is also represented on the CWS work. Corn-Hog Meetings. Meetings were held at Sholes on Monday and Tuesday and they will be held at Carroll Wednesday and Thursday this week to assist farmers with signing the corn-hog contract. Carload Feed Expected. Carload of relief wheat is expected to arrive in Carroll this week and also a carload for Sholes vicinity. L. E. Jenkins has charge of the car coming to Carroll. Each farmer works one and a half hours on roads for each bushel of wheat he receives. Turk Stops Here. A Turk stopped here Saturday on his way home after visiting in Illinois. He had come from Turkey two and a half years ago, just to see this country, and is walking home, a distance of 17,000 miles, he said. He figured it would take him three months to arrive there. He left Carroll for Seattle, Wash., where he plans to take the boat. Baptist Church. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Mission study circle met Wednesday with Mrs. Charles Whitney. A social time closed the meeting. Congregational Church. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Temperance lesson. Topic, "Timely Warnings." A. Carmony of Laurel. The preachers and lay delegates are to be here. The main purpose of the meeting will be to present the loyalty plan. We are expecting to have great meetings both afternoon and evening. Dr. Hilman will be with us for both. There will be other matters taken up at these meetings beside the loyalty plan. Everybody is invited to come and get the benefit from these meetings. Hot Food Needed In School Lunches "Keep the school child growing." A hot lunch every day will help to do that, says Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and now after years of urging, by educators and civic welfare workers, the hot lunch idea for schools is spreading rapidly. Last winter, for instance, mothers, teachers, county nurses, and extension workers saw to it that hot lunches were served to the children in many of the rural schools in some 35 states. This winter the number of such schools is much greater. City schools, too, are doing it on a bigger scale than ever. Nor do the benefits stop when the child's immediate needs are satisfied. If the lunches are properly planned and supervised, the child learns the principles of good diet, and forms good food habits which will be useful all through his life. And often the school lunch, literally saves the lives of some of those undernourished children that are to be found nowadays in many of our public schools. The school lunch program in a rural community is often carried on by the Rural Extension women, or by the 4-H clubs of girls and boys. Sometimes a parent-teacher organization, or some other local group, is the sponsor and the supervisor. In some schools the older children operate the lunch room as a part of their school work in "food for health" courses. Sometimes the hot-lunch service is made to furnish employment by putting it in charge of some capable woman who gets her for 15 minutes. This dish serves nicely with form. It is best when free from any liquid. The juice drained from corn and tomatoes may be reserved for soup. Prune Velvet. (By Mrs. William Mellor) 1 1-2 cups whipped cream 1-2 cups prune pulp 1-2 cup powdered sugar 1-2 cup chopped nuts 1 teaspoon vanilla Chill thoroughly. Serve in sherbet cups with 1 tablespoon whipped cream, and sprinkle with macaroon crumbs. Baked Stuffed Chops, Australian. (By Miss Ruth Freeman) For each person - To be served, take two large loin lamb chops. Lay half the chops in an uncovered baking dish and cover each with grated onion, sage (or any preferred herb), a few bread crumbs, and salt and pepper to taste. Cover each chop with another chop, season well with salt and pepper, and lay a slice of tomato on top of each. Bake in slow oven (325°) for an hour to an hour and a quarter. Remove chops to a hot platter (without separating each two-chop combination), pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the fat, add 2 table-spoons flour and let brown, stirring constantly. Then add 2 cups hot water and cook for at least 15 minutes, stirring constantly until well blended. Season well and pour over the meat on platter. Delicious Dessert. (By Miss Ruth Freeman) 1 pound vanilla wafers 1 cup sugar 1/2 cup (1-1/4 powder) butter 4 eggs 1/4 cup cold coffee 1 cup walnut or pecan meats chopped fine Roll the vanilla wafers with rolling pin until reduced to fine crumbs. Cream the butter and sugar until no graininess remains. Add the eggs one at a time, beating for 5 minutes after adding each one. Add the coffee and the nut meats to this mixture. Oil a deep oblong pan lightly and line it with waxed paper. (Oiling is merely to hold the waxed paper in place.) Put in layer of crumbs, then layer of batter, then another layer of crumbs, repeating until all is used, with crumbs on top layer. Let stand in refrigerator for 48 hours. Cut in squares or slices and top with whipped cream. Masked Lamb Chops. (By Miss Ruth Freeman) Brown and cook lamb chops for 5 minutes, then envelop them in mashed potatoes to which have been added 1 teaspoon chopped parsley and small amount of pimentoes. Smooth potato with a knife dipped in beaten egg. Dip each chop in buttered crumbs, arrange in greased baking dish, pour over this the drippings left in broiling pan. Bake 15 minutes until brown. Serve with a tart jellied tomato salad. Butter Bread. (By Miss Ruth Freeman) Cut off all crusts from small loaf of day-old bread and slice it in slices together to form a loaf again and tie them not tightly. Place in a deep pan which has a tight-fitting cover and over the top of the sliced bread, spread softened butter (a little less than 1-4 pound for a loaf). Cover the pan lightly and put into hot oven (450°) for from 25 to 30 minutes. The butter melts and runs down through the slices, and edges of bread become crisply browned. Serve hot with salad or soup. An excellent way to use up stale bread. Prune Whip. (By Mrs. William Mellor) 1 package lemon or orange jello dissolved in 1 cup boiling water. Stir till dissolved and add 1 cup cold water. Allow to set to consistency of soft jelly. Whip lightly. Add beaten whites of 2 eggs, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 1-2 cups prune pulp, 1-2 cup chopped nuts. Chill thoroughly and serve with whipped cream and macaroon crumbs. This is not a rich dessert. Spanish Corn. (By Mrs. William Mellor) 1 medium-sized onion 1 sweet green pepper 6 medium-sized tomatoes (or 1 quart canned tomatoes, drained) 1 can whole kernel corn, drained Sauté the onion in 2 tablespoons of butter, but do not brown. Add the pepper chopped fine (having removed seeds and veins). Simmer for few minutes, then add corn and tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Simmer all to-bage, spaghetti and cheese; onions in tomato sauce; scalloped salmon; potatoes with tomatoes; sweet-potatoes and apples; liver and whole wheat; liver and potatoes; shepherd's pie; or a casserole of mixed vegetables with breadcrumbs on top. Raw shredded cabbage, and carrot sticks or turnip sticks, are cheap and appetizing additions when the hot dish is a soup or chowder or anything in cream sauce. Apples, bananas and oranges and other fresh fruits in season, of course. Canned sliced peaches or pineapple are among the best and cheapest of the canned fruits. Prunes, raisins, and apricots are useful for variety as well as for the iron they contain and for their vitamins. For school lunch menus, the bureau suggests the following—a two week's list, which can be repeated or shifted about as desired. Menus for Hot Lunches. Cream of mixed vegetable soup Cheese sandwiches Cookies Milk Spanish rice (top of stove) Hard rolls Cocoa made with milk Whole wheat chowder Peanut butter sandwiches Canned apple sauce Milk Creamed hard-cooked eggs Cabbage and pineapple salad Bread and butter Milk Tomato soup Minced ham sandwiches Milk Tomato rabbit on crackers Raw apple Milk Creamed carrots and peas Graham crackers Bananas Milk Vegetable soup (made with meat stock) Cottage cheese with raisins Bread and butter Milk Meat and vegetable stew Jelly sandwiches Milk Fish chowder Whole wheat bread and butter Canned sliced peaches Milk Recipes Prune Whip. (By Mrs. William Mellor) 1 package lemon or orange jello dissolved in 1 cup boiling water.
