WAYNE WOMAN DIES AT HOME

Mrs. J. W. Souders' Funeral Is Held On Sunday At Methodist Church.

After an illness of several years, Mrs. J. W. Souders passed away at her home in Wayne Thursday afternoon, November 15, at 4:30. The funeral, in charge of the Beckenhauer service, was held in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Dr. Roy N. Spooner of Lincoln, officiating at the rites. Miss Martha and Miss Alice Crockett sang "White Than the Snow," "To My Dear Mother" and "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me." Mrs. John T. Bressler, jr., played the organ. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

For about eight years Mrs. Souders had been suffering from high blood pressure. Three weeks ago she became worse and gradually grew weaker until the time of her death which came peacefully. Miss Charlotte Fisher was born in Huntington county, Pa., September 19, 1869, and was aged 65 years, 1 month and 27 days at the time of her passing. Her parents were William and Susanna Fisher. The family moved to Decatur, Iowa, when Charlotte was about 2 years old. She lived her girlhood and young womanhood in Iowa and in Wayne county, Neb.

On June 2, 1897, deceased was married to Joe William Souders of Saint Charles, Iowa. The bride and bridegroom took their wedding trip in a covered wagon, going to southwestern Missouri and from there coming to Wayne county where they settled on a farm six miles southwest of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Souders remained on the farm until 26 years ago when they moved to Wayne.

Mrs. Souders leaves to mourn her passing, her husband and her daughter, Miss Susie Souders, of Wayne, and one brother, I. K. Fisher of Decatur, Iowa. One daughter, Nida, passed away at the age of 14 months. Deceased also leaves other relatives and many friends who remember her with esteem.

At an early age Mrs. Souders united with the Christian church. After coming to Wayne she transferred her membership to the Methodist church and was a faithful and active member. She was constant in her faith and Christian living, though unable to attend church services for the past few years. One of her favorite scriptures was the nineteenth Psalm which she read often. Her noble character and high ideals were exemplified in her daily life. She was happiest when she could be of service to others, and her kindness won many friendships.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Roscoe Porterfield, G. G. Haller, Frank Krotcher, Rev. Wm. Fischer, L. W. Roe and M. V. Crawford.

Out of town relatives who were here for the funeral were Mrs. Alice Fisher and Miss Mae Souders of Saint Charles, Iowa, Mrs. Ellen M. Fisher and Mrs. Fred Lampe of Red Oak, Iowa, Mrs. Charles Zaruba of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Fisher of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, Eloise and Billy Jones of Wymore, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Fisher and Genevieve and David of Norfolk, Mrs. W. H. Fisher and Peri Fisher of Winside, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fisher of Winside. Out of town friends present were Mrs. Clifffe Beckwith, Dorothy Beckwith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Swanson of Valentine, Dr. Roy N. Spooner and daughter, Arloline of Lincoln.

Story Fits Many Others. Mr. Kroger's story of cutting loose from the parent land and trusting to the opportunities of a strange country, overcoming obstacles and amassing sufficient worldly goods to insure comfort in declining years, is the story of many venturesome spirits who left restricted home environments for the greater outlook, the greater security in this western democracy.

Weakens Railroad Service. The discharging of maintenance-of-way employes by the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad caused an indignation meeting of Emerson business men at that place recently. Resolutions were adopted condemning the action as unfair to the national administration's employment program, and as an invitation for more failures to join relief rolls.

Wayne Baptists Meet In Church. Northeast Nebraska is represented here on Thursday.

Dr. Joseph Cooper of New York, H. Q. Morton, Baptist state secretary, and Miss Ann Kludt, returned missionary in Japan, were principal speakers at the northeast Nebraska Baptist association meeting at Wayne church last Thursday, a number of ministers and delegates from churches of the district attending.

Dr. Cooper took as his subject "The Church at Such a Time as This." Discussion followed. Miss Kludt, who has taught in Japan 12 years, brought a message of economic and religious conditions in Japan. Explosion of Japs from this country has greatly disappointed those people. The Japs are industrious people, she added. Their conditions are alarming. With 70 million people on islands the size of Montana, the population is increasing at rate of a million a year and only one-fifth of the land tillable, the problem of providing for these people is serious.

The three speakers went to Columbus Thursday evening to conduct a meeting.

Hear Scientist At Noon Meeting

Discovery Of The X-Ray Is Told Kiwanians By Faculty Member.

"The fate of civilization is said to be in the hands of the investigator, the interpreter and the administrator," said Dr. James Brock in addressing Wayne Kiwanians Monday noon. "The world has never lacked administrators, there is an over-supply of investigators at present, but a shortage of interpreters. And the success of every great scientific discovery depends upon its interpretation to the masses. It is extremely difficult to translate these discoveries into terms of the layman. The true scientist learns because he finds experiments so interesting... but the layman must see a concrete use for the discovery to make it seem worth-while.

"The modern processes in physics and chemistry date within memory of most of you men," said the professor. "These began with discovery of the X-ray, through which we learned of the discharge of electricity through gasses. A young German professor, Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen, made this great discovery in 1895 and created great stir in the scientific world. He experimented further and found that photographic plates could be used, his first X-ray being a photo of his wife's hand.

"There was some opposition to the new discovery. One paper stated that to see other people's bones with the naked eye and to see through eight inches of solid wood—on the revolting indecency of this there is no need to dwell. In fact, a bill was introduced in one legislature to prohibit the use of X-ray lenses in opera glasses at the theatres, and a London firm advertised X-ray-proof underwear. Prof. Roentgen received the Nobel prize award in 1901."

SIXTIETH YEAR OBSERVED TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter Are Honored By Family And Wayne Friends.

Northeast Nebraska was rolling prairie with tall grass and no trees when the 13 families came to take homesteads. The little settlement was made six miles southeast of the present site of Wayne and it was in the bride's pioneer home that Miss Mary L. Scott and Walter Alonzo Hunter were married November 22, 1874 by Rev. W. Skinner who traveled from one settlement to another in the early days. The family lived on the Hunter homestead until 1918 when they came into Wayne. The Hunters are both well and active and keep up their own home. Mr. Hunter is 84 and Mrs. Hunter, 81.

Agricultural Plan Is Being Arranged

Midwestern Farmers Are Allowed More Corn And Hogs Next Year.

Midwestern farmers will be asked to keep corn acreage and hog numbers only 10 percent below 1932-33 average production, Secretary Wallace stated this week in announcing details of the 1935 agricultural program. The 1934 program called for 20 to 30 percent cut in corn and 25 cut in hog numbers.

Maximum corn acreage that new contract signers may plant is 90 percent of their average during 1932 and 1933, states Wallace. They may, however, make a 30 percent cut in acreage, growing a minimum of 70 percent of the base period and receive benefit payments for the additional 20 percent reduction.

The 90 percent maximum with return of normal weather conditions will produce 250 million bushels of corn in excess of estimated requirements for stock feeding. This excess, it is planned, will again be sealed under continuation of the corn loan program, according to Wallace.

The maximum of 90 percent on hogs will apply only to those produced for market from 1935 litters, with no limitation on purchase of feeder pigs from other contract signers. Pigs purchased from non-signers will be limited as before, Wallace states, to the average number bought during the base period.

Funds for payment to farmers will be raised by continuing the processing tax, Wallace states, $2.25 per 100 on hogs and 5c per bushel on corn.

G. H. Liggett reports that all but 11 Wayne county contract signers have received first payments in 1934 program.

With advance in price of corn Mr. Liggett is informed that farmers receiving relief feed will work three hours for each bushel of corn received.

Christmas Seals Are To Be Sold

Miss Pearl Sewell Will Conduct Health Work In Wayne County.

The annual sale of Christmas seals will be conducted in Wayne county schools after Thanksgiving with Miss Pearl Sewell in charge. Half of the proceeds go to national work in eradication of tuberculosis and the other half remains in Wayne county for health service. Funds from last year's sale were used the past year to buy glasses, fix teeth, secure X-ray examination and help with tonsil cases for Wayne county children who could otherwise not have had the care.

The seal this year bears the picture of a little cottage in the Adirondack mountains of northern New York, the first tuberculosis sanitarium in the United States and built by Dr. Ed. Livingston Trudeau 50 years ago. About the cottage are evergreens and the ground is covered with snow. At top of the seal is the double cross, the health symbol.

Each child who sells 25 seals will receive a double barred cross pin. A pencil will be given each for sale of 100 seals. A room or school selling $8-worth of seals receives a Sky-Hy play ball. And for $10 worth of seals pupils receive choice of the book, Healthyland, or a first aid kit.

Tuberculosis still remains principal cause of most deaths between ages of 15 and 40. The health work helped 1,800 Nebraskans last year. Over the United States are now 650 sanitariums giving aid to 86,000 people.

SOIL IS SOAKED BY BIG RAIN ON SATURDAY NIGHT

A GENERAL rain of great value to dry ground fell Saturday night, and Wayne county's share amounted to three-fourths of an inch. The down-pour proved heavier in some other parts of the state. The rainfall varied from one-half inch to one and one-half inches. Norfolk had one and twelve hundredths inches. Oakdale reported an inch and a half. While the fall of moisture this month exceeds that of a year ago, the ground is still dry. A few more rains allowed to penetrate to the roots' ends before freezing would put the soil in good condition for next year's crops. A heavy blanket of snow following rain-saturated ground, would give additional assurance. Snow is not pleasant to contemplate, but it is doubtless good for the ground. We can stand plowing through snow if the annoyance will strengthen promise for a big crop of farm products next year.

Tempting Dishes For Fall Holidays

Certain dishes seem to "fit in" with the holiday spirit—plum puddings, mince and pumpkin pies, fine cakes and crunchy cookies. They intensify the holiday mood and give a special enjoyment to the meals they enrich. Here are some variations of the old familiar foods and some new dishes that will be appropriate to the holiday season.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes.

6 cooked peeled sweet potatoes
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 cup water
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper

Cut potatoes in halves. Mix rest of ingredients and boil 4 minutes. Four over potatoes which have been placed in a shallow pan. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Turn frequently to allow even cooking.

Sweet Potatoes with Apples.

3 cooked medium sweet potatoes
3 cooking apples
1 3-4 cups crumbled ginger snaps
1-2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
1-3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup hot water

In a buttered casserole put alternate layers of sliced sweet potatoes, thinly sliced apples and crumbled ginger snaps. Add salt, butter, sugar and lemon juice to hot water and pour over all. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

Scalloped Chicken with Mushroom Sauce.

1 medium sized cooked chicken or about 1 quart cooked and diced chicken
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 cup cooked and drained rice
1-4 cup diced pimento
4 beaten eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup melted butter or chicken fat

3 cups milk or chicken stock
Pepper to taste

Mix these ingredients in the order named and pour into a greased ring mold or casserole. Bake in a slow oven for 1 1-4 hours. Let stand about 10 minutes, then turn out on a deep platter and if baked in a ring mold fill the center with mushroom sauce or if baked in a dish the sauce may be poured over.

Mushroom Sauce.

4 tablespoons fat
5 tablespoons flour
2 cups chicken stock
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1-2 pound cooked sauted mushrooms
2 beaten egg yolks
1-4 cup thick cream

Melt the fat, add the flour, and smooth to a paste. Add the chicken stock and seasonings and cook. Add the mushrooms and beaten egg yolks mixed with cream. Cook gently, stirring until the egg yolks are cooked.

Mince-meat Pinwheels.

1 9-ounce package condensed mince-meat
1-2 cup cold water
2 cups flour
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2-3 cup milk
Cinnamon, brown sugar and melted butter

Break the mince-meat into pieces, add the cold water, place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to a brisk boil and continue boiling for about 3 minutes or until the mixture is practically dry. Allow to cool. Mix and sift the flour, baking powder and salt. Work in the shortening with the finger-tips. Add the milk gradually, mixing to a soft dough. Toss on a floured board and pat and roll lightly 1-4 inch thick. Brush with the melted butter and sprinkle lightly with the brown sugar and cinnamon. Spread lightly with the cooled mince-meat. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut off pieces 3-4 inch thick. Place with cut edges down on a greased pan. Bake in a hot oven for about 25 minutes. Remove immediately from pan turning upside down to serve.

Cedar county tax levy is set at 4 mills.

The Late Election

IN a post-mortem review of the late election, Sam McKelvie's Nebraska Farmer recognizes the popular disinclination to block the president's recovery program without further trial, and makes this observation among others:

"There is much to indicate that far from being elated by the overwhelming democrat majorities in both houses of the next Congress President Roosevelt was sobered by it. He evidently realizes all too well that it is one thing to start a prairie fire and another thing to stop it. He knows better than anyone that the present program of spending and unemployment relief cannot continue. There must be some other answer to recovery than public works and the dole. Yet among the congressional army with which he must deal there will be fresh recruits to the forces that want to see increased public expenditures and further currency inflation. On the other hand there is some reassurance in the fact that among those elected as democrats there are many constructive thinkers—men of wide business experience who will counsel an early departure from principles and practices of the AAA and NRA that have proved so injurious to agriculture and industry."

Touching results of the election, the Nebraska Farmer quotes this from William Allen White, a progressive and independent thinker:

"No one knows exactly what the New Deal is, probably least of all Franklin Roosevelt. But it seems to be a new way of life under democracy, some readjustment of national gross income, taking away from the rich and giving to those who are not rich a fair share of the earnings of this nation. So far it has not worked. The rich are growing poorer, but so are the poor. Unemployment is mounting. The forgotten man is still forgotten, but evidently the president is scratching his head trying to remember the forgotten man and just where he left him."

Hungry For Friends

WE have the profoundest pity for the person who, always niggardly and self-seeking, has been unable to build up warm and lasting friendships. One may be rich in dollars, secure in material comforts, but so poor in sympathetic environment that the world is made to look black and uninviting. One who has been stingy all through life—carefully husbanding every gain, spending nothing not required for bare necessities, giving no heed to cries of want and following a miserly role in all relationships—assaults and outrages the golden mean of sensible frugality.

They, as old age creeps on and earning days are over, and as persons who might have been friendly are repulsed by recollection of tight-fisted penuriousness, accumulations of material wealth only trampled the heart of the one who pinned faith to gold as the all-sufficient fount of pride and joy. One whose life has been soaked from the beginning in avarice and hoarding, does not know how to make friends. He does not know how to bestow little kindnesses that help enrich the lives of others, and thus mellow and enrich his own life. He has been too long pinched up in the narrowness of money worship to reach the soul of a struggling neighbor with the spirit and substance of generous good will. He cannot understand that the smile of a befriended child or the acknowledgment of a relieved adult chases away the blues and substitutes sunshine for shadows.

"So, the miserly individual turns from his money bags aghast at the little they will bring in friendship and content. He has enough for physical comfort, but his soul yearns for the touch of a friendly hand—for words of friendly interest and sustaining companionship. He lacks what he neglected and what money cannot buy—hearty and faithful friendships. He is starving for friends.

Hope Ahead

BY modifying the corn-hog reduction program, as Secretary Wallace proposes, and by allowing the NRA to operate with fewer restrictions on business, the two alphabetically designated bureaus promise to do less pulling against each other and thus do less to hinder economic recovery. There is still more hope in the announcement from Washington that business and the administration have reached an understanding and that the former will now be able to enter more wholeheartedly into the task of lifting the country out of the depression.

By this time it should be apparent even to the administration's professors that business and industry cannot be hamstringed and oppressed and at the same time be able to get behind forward movements with unimpeded resources and old-time vigor and resolution. Confidence is the supreme essential in the loosening of capital and the stimulation of trade arteries, and it is encouraging to learn that this has been established between captains of finance and captains of the New Deal.

Now if the president can avoid unwise money inflation and keep the professors from springing any more doubtful experiments, the country may, as everybody profoundly hopes, get on the road to recovery and stay there.

Dr. A. L. Bixby, Lincoln Journal poet-philosopher, is not disposed to feel uneasy over the question, raised in some quarters, that Sabbath observance should take place Saturday instead of Sunday. Taking a charitable view, we have assumed that many observe both days by abstention from toil in order to make no mistake. But the question is one over which Dr. Bixby says none should become "agitated or het up." He draws this sensible conclusion: "As something of a theologian, with white whiskers, we long since adopted the motto, 'Safety First.' This implies that one who wants so to live that he will go to heaven when he dies will take particular pains to be good every day that he lives, just as philanthropic on Wednesday as on Saturday, and just as well behaved on Tuesday as Sunday."

W. F. Cramb, Jeffersonian editor of the Fairbury Journal, says nature pays no attention to and is not influenced by Washington bureaucrats, and that according to the amount of moisture soaked into the ground of late, Nebraska is getting into shape to raise a big crop next year which, despite all mistakes in public policy, will insure prosperity. Quietly any uneasiness over the administration's antics, Editor Cramb advises: "All that has been done so far is liable to head for the scrap heap any time and new plans be set in motion. This is the Roosevelt method. First, secrecy, then suddenness, then change. If you don't like what is being done now, don't get fretful—it will soon be changed for another experiment."

Report of the uncovering of a fascist plot confirms a suspicion long felt that "reds" were busy in this country trying insidiously to foment trouble, designing to upset the regular order and install a dictatorship. It is when a country is sick and using all its strength to recover that fascists and communists see an opportunity and speed up nefarious plans to attain it. But there are enough patriotic citizens, imbued with the spirit of the pioneers and determined to perpetuate the American democracy, to prevent the reds from gaining control.

Perhaps Mussolini's idea of preserving peace is to be ready for war. Anyway, the children of Italy are enrolled in the army before they can talk, and their military training starts almost from the cradle. As soon as they are old enough to eat spaghetti and bear arms, they understand all the tricks of lawful carnage, and naturally they will make a tough bunch of adversaries. Mussolini remembers conquering Caesar who brought power to Rome, and if necessities arise, as of course he hopes they won't, he will try to out-Caesar Caesar.

The wild mouthings of one, Milo Reno, Farmers Holiday association bellwether, can only hinder if they have any effect on recovery movements. Reno's diatribe before a national convention at Sioux Falls aims blows at everything past, present and future, but offers nothing safely constructive for agriculture whose cause he essays to champion. The fewer Renos in the country, the quicker will recovery and price parities come.

Huey Long, Louisiana's wind-jamming dictator, flushed by power arrogated to himself in his home state, has virtually announced himself as a candidate for the presidency. He thinks what he has done to Louisiana he can do to the whole country. And if he keeps on entertaining the delusion, he has a terrible awakening in prospect.

Sometimes a fellow feels a streak of genuine humor, but fumbles in manifesting it, and so, if it appears, it falls flat.

Who'll Take His Place.

Omaha Journal-Stockman: Another gentleman who has been badly overworked during the past five or six years has been the "rugged individualist." He has been boosted into the class of the average citizen, the forgotten man, the taxpayer, the bread winner, etc. Everybody has met him, he seems to be well known from coast to coast but, who is he?

And that brings up another question. "Who," asks a contemporary journal, "buys the bonds with which the government finances its recovery efforts? No one but the rugged individualist! The rugged individualist has been the straw man of the socialist attack for many months. He has been roundly abused and pointed to as the menace of the nation. Yet when the government needs money to feed and clothe the hungry, to carry on its experiments, to finance public works, and bonds are offered for sale, it is the rugged individualist, the man who has worked hard and saved his money, who buys the bonds."

Then there is another query that will call for an answer before very long. After the rugged individualist has expended all his savings in federal bonds, after he has been loaded up with government securities of one kind or another until he is fed up and wonders when the flood of bonds and treasury notes is going to end, who is the government going to get to buy its paper? There's no harm in wondering about these things and we can't help but worry just a bit over who is going to take the place of the rugged individualist after he has been eliminated.

STILL YOUNG.

If we didn't know the sincerity of the kindly lady who accosted us on Main street lately with the exclamation, "Oh! I thought you were a young man tripping along!" we would suspect we were being flattered. But she said it with an earnestness that carried conviction. Why shouldn't we move with the agility of youth if we feel that way and can? A young man of muscular development got down on his hands and touched the floor with his nose without touching his knees, and then suggested that we might perform the feat if our muscles were younger and tougher. We proceeded to show him that we could do it not only once but repeatedly without stopping for rest or refreshments. As a matter of fact, like youth is inclined to arrange a mental table showing how decrepitude inevitably tallies with multiplied years. Over-emphasizing infirmities helps an older take to an easy chair and avoid strenuous exercise. Pampering tendencies lead to softened muscles, enfeebled bones, enlarged equator and balled up and hardened arteries. We dread the time when our tenement becomes so impaired that we have to move like a turtle to justify access to muffle creaking joints and to humor a tottering backbone. Let age cling to youth, and let youth defer coddling age until age feels the need coming on.

Retiring

in patronage. Of course, a railroad cannot forever operate at a loss, and if it cannot curtail expenses consistent with earnings, it must finally quit. However, instead of shrinking service in accordance with disappearing business, it would seem more in harmony with sound judgment and the American spirit of enterprise to meet competition by improving service and advertising advantages. Railroads are too prone to issue warnings, and if they are not heedful, reduce facilities without an aggressive effort to hold or develop revenues. A campaign of education and persuasion by means of advertising should be tried before surrendering to a policy of crippling economy—a policy that gives no chance to recoup losses.

Wayne Registrar Heads State Group

Miss Clara Smothers, Wayne college registrar, was elected president of the Nebraska Association of College Registrars in convention at Creighton university in Omaha last Saturday. Dr. D. W. Burrage of Doane college is retiring president. Thirty-five attended the sessions. Miss Conn remained in Omaha.

Miss Verla Walk of Osmond, and Gilbert Millnitz of Plainview, were married September 17.

Knox county's new court house, built at cost of $61,398, was dedicated Wednesday last week at Center. D. C. Laird of Crofton, resident of the county over 60 years, was master of ceremonies. A. L. Burbridge of Bloomfield, and P. H. Peterson of Wausa, were speakers.

FUN IN HEAVEN.

We are wont to regard heaven with sublime solemnity, and yet we are assured that laughter abounds in heaven, and if so, sense of humor, inherent and cultivated here, must naturally be transported with the rest of the entity to celestial realms. When the cardiac region is thrilled by something ludicrous or excited by spirited play, the emotion is expressed by laughter. Here sense of humor is a source of great relief. It modifies the individual's perplexities and often rescues him from despair. It brightens the world about and makes burdens easier to carry. What a fellow has a streak of good luck, he is mightily uplifted if he can grab his sense of humor and set it to weaving silvery strands through his darkly etched thoughts. If his sense of humor is deemed important in this world, why would it be junked on departing for another world? Heaven must have a basis for laughter if its laughter is genuine—if it is not the theatrical, make-believe variety. Moses wouldn't have broken the table of stone or smacked the rock instead of politely speaking to it, "as directed, if his sense of humor had been working—if he could have taken an airy view of the simple minded whims of the human collection he was leading out of bondage. In heaven, Jonah must be amused on reflecting over the way he set up temporary house-keeping in the whale's abdominal cavity. Certainly there will be funny ideas and funny situations in heaven, and certainly no one will be robbed of the sense to enjoy them. Heaven would not be heaven without sense of humor.

Hear Art Talk.

Chapter AZ, P. E. O., met with Mrs. Nettie Call Tuesday evening, Mrs. A. W. Ahern assisting. Twenty members were present. Following the regular session, Miss Martha Pierce talked on "Pictures to Live With," stressing that one should not choose pictures because they are considered "good" but because they please one personally. "If one enjoys looking at a picture of a playful puppy, this should be chosen rather than 'The Night Watch.' It is possible to fully appreciate the beauty of things but not have personal interest in these. Critics say the fault of American art is that we try to lay our eggs in the nests of other civilizations. We build a row of Greek temples and put a bakery in one, grocery in another, and railroad station in the next. But the Greek temple does not express the speed mania of our modern world. In New York we developed the first real American art—the skyscraper—adapted to a place where sites were expensive and the Manhattan island so crowded that only expansion must be upward. But in Chicago with the great prairies for expansion, sky scrapers are absurd. More thoughtful architects are suggesting that we study our country and carry out the long, sweeping lines of the prairies in our buildings. One would wish to live with only a few of the modern paintings," said Miss Pierce, "but out of this may come a real American art." A Spanish program is planned for December 4, 3 p. m., when Mrs. U. S. Conn and Miss Ardath Conn entertain.

Little Lynette Shuck came up from first grade to tap-dance. Gerald Wallick had saxophone numbers, and football squad members spoke briefly.

Girl Reserves met Tuesday and heard Mrs. Elmer Mortensen tell of her summer's stay in England. The talk was illustrated with lantern slides. Presentation of a Christmas play or pageant was discussed.

High school art class is making stencil posters for the junior high opera to be given in December.

Debate class had practice debate Friday morning. Duward Sevy and Margaret Jones upholding the affirmative, and Gerald Wright and Lindley Keeney arguing the negative.

School orchestra prepared the following program for assembly this week, under direction of Kermit Stewart: "Ballad Music," Schubert; march from "Athena," Mendelssohn; and "Mignonne Overture" by Sereby.

Junior high opera in which sixth, seventh and eighth grades are taking part, will be given December 11 by chorists of 32 voices. Mr. Stewart directs "Up in the Air."

Junior high folks have started libraries, thus closing Book week, and are building up inviting assortments of fiction, biography, history, etc. Regular library periods will be arranged. Sixth graders will each bring a book and are required to read one every six weeks.

Seventh graders bring two books and are required to give two book reports. Extra credit will be given for additional reading. Wilma Heidenreich will serve as sixth librarian, assisted by Edna Martens, and Dorell Johnson, with Rev. Barnes as assistant, will officiate in seventh.

Geography class completed study of India last week and made maps. Jack Wright and John Berry had charge of the picture show of India slides on Friday.

Fifth graders also brought books from home or library for their classmates to enjoy. Five book week plays were given on Friday, and three original ones written by Betty Pile and Margie Fitch, by Paul Peterson, by Shirley Powers and Myla June Thomas. Book chart has been started and, as soon as a book is completed, a week book finds its way to the row after pupil's name. Original stories were written last week built around beloved book characters.

Fourth graders painted landscapes last week, using contrasting colors, also many shades of one color.

"Good Book Land," a playlet which was partly original with third graders, was presented on Friday with first and second graders as guests. "Old Woman in a Shoe," "Little Jack Horner," "Little Miss Muffet" and "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," were given as in Mother Goose land and then in a modern home setting. Illustrated nursery rhymes were made also.

Third graders are quite excited about their "book house" which is a cunning little house, sturdily built with composition roof, and will have roof built up of reading books. As a child finishes a book, his name, name of book will be written on a shingle and added to the rust, green and grey roofing.

Second graders also observed book week and have learned how properly to care for book-friends. ## Supt. H. R. Best In Radio Talk Stresses Red Cross Service In Address On Roll Call Here Friday.

Supt. H. R. Best, Wayne County Red Cross secretary and chairman of the membership roll call, spoke to Wayne Herald radio audience Friday morning. Excerpts from his address follow:

"Today the American Red Cross faces a greater task than ever before. Federal agencies are assisting in the great service to the unemployed and the needy, but the emergency relief work which has always been the primary purpose of the Red Cross calls for greater service than ever before.

"Harry L. Hopkins, director of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has said of our organization: 'Red Cross chapters throughout America were the first line of defense for the unemployed during these trying times, before the states and counties, and finally the Federal government put their funds at the disposal of the unemployed.'

"The American Red Cross organization believes that the problems ahead of us are much the same as those our workers faced after any disaster emergency, which tests the endurance and strength of the hardest and brings the need for special care for those who are weak or handicapped in any way.

"What are the pressing problems of today which challenge the Red Cross? 1. A reinforcement of our public health machinery both private and public; 2. better care for growing children and mothers; 3. increased protection against accident and better immediate care of those injured pending the securing of available medical care; 4. work in behalf of those who are no longer employed; 5. special problems of rural life; 6. elimination of possible preventable hazards of disaster; 7. special consideration of the aged; 8. the maintenance of a flexible organization so that new conditions may be met promptly when needed either through federal curtailment or modifications.

"Speaking of the Red Cross the vice-chairman of the American Red Cross states: 'In connection with these challenges of today the Red Cross stands out as a supplement to the federal government in its unemployment and agricultural relief work. At the same time it continues to be the nation's disaster relief agency. It is a pathfinder in the prevention of misery, whether it is occasioned by dependency, disease, disaster, death, or distress of any nature. It is always a medium for sustaining the morale of our people. It is a generator of volunteer leadership. Out of its long experience it has learned the importance of promptness, efficiency, and simplified technique. It is an agency of technique in war and peace, during depression or prosperity, in any era whether old or new. Its simple emblem stands for democracy and benevolence.'

"In addition to all these increased services the Red Cross has gone ahead with its normal program. In Wayne county alone in addition to Federal Relief the call for service and aid is greater than ever before. This calls for the expenditure of increased funds. This does not mean that there is duplication of relief since there is complete cooperation and coordination of all relief agencies which prevents any duplication of efforts.

"It is not only a duty but a privilege to belong to so great and worthy an organization."

Katz Club Winner At Annual Stunt Night Competition

First honor in annual stunt night program, sponsored by sophomore class in college auditorium Friday evening, went to the newly formed Katz club. Entitled "Katz Pearl," the skit opened with a group of men straining to pull a laden sled, upon which rested the old Nebraska Normal college bell which was presented to the student body as the "victory bell."

This bell hung in the original building of old Nebraska Normal, probably dating from 1892 or 1893. Then it graced the old East hall, men's stronghold, for many a year, one of the lads ringing it for classes. It must have been this very bell that the illustrious John G. Neuhardt tolled to help finance himself through college. Lately the big bronze bell has been stored under the grandstand. Once it was stolen and recovered in city park. Now the Katz club plans to mount it where the old building stood—just south of the southwest corner of Administration building. A series of dances is financing the project.

W. A. A. presentation, "Caprice," stressed motion and color with white-robed dancers silhouetted against rich blue background. This shared second place with band and orchestra stunt, "A Sharp-Shooter of Note," for which Prof. John R. Keith recited "Three Trees" with very clever musical interpretations by his students. Second episode in this skit introduced the bewickered hunter who played a merry tune on musical targets.

Third honor went to Kappa Mu Epsilon's "Rational Too," with a Pythagorean school in which togarbed Greeks discussed the theory of the school, that the number is the essence of all things, and brought in considerable humor in so doing.

Chorus followed a musical battle patterned of the siege of Troy, the attackers gaining possession of a walled city by the wooden horse ruse. A "bonehead," black-robed figure lopped with a skull, was subjected to the oil of learning in Lambda Delta Lambda stunt. Terrace Hall illustrated behavior of "T. H. Freshmen at the Library," and demonstrated that Terrace lads may be converted into most alluring poets.

"Life Begins at 8:35" according to Pile hall-ites. A black-robed figure pointed the hours of a clock's day on a huge clock face while others illustrated the highlights. Freshmen presented aerial boxing with two contestants, Freshman Class vs. Class Difficulties, both enwrapped in colored balloons which pop-popped with each telling blow. Freshman class triumphed, of course.

Prof. K. N. Parke, Dr. J. G. W. Lewis, Miss Louise Wendt, Miss Lenore Ramsey and Prof. H. D. Griffin were heroes and heroines of junior class' "Thirty Years Too Soon," the junior-ites suggesting how these faculty members acted in their school days.

Conehill hall skit brought back "Memories" to an aged couple as they turned leaves of their album. A Sigma Tau Delta lad dozed and dreamed of fiction characters—of Lady Macbeth, Huck and Tom Sawyer and Beck Sharp among others—while these characters made their appearance. In sharp contrast was the Newman skit which followed—effective shadowed setting, the Cross shining faintly in background with kneeling figures before. And from beyond came the beautiful, moving "Lead Kindly Light."

Neuhardt, most appropriately, took "The Vision of Black Elk" for illustration. The Great Father was gathered at door of the teepee, and when youthful Black Elk appeared, gave their gifts to him and his people. Three young men, one cogy frocked in crisp print and jaunty little hat, made up a love triangle in which they conversed a la laboratory... really very original.

The seniors also went to school, first carrying on dutiful discussions on the merits of "Jack and Jill," then, being enlightened by a spraying of "realism," lapsed into "campus lingo" with gusto. The program drew capacity crowd to the auditorium, many townspeople being included. Judges were Mrs. F. A. Milder, Mrs. H. R. Best and Miss Leone Westover.

THANKSGIVING

The turkey's been fed 'till he wobbles, There's a row of ples on the shelf, The sauce has been made for the pudding, I cracked all the nuts myself. Ma has been sweeping and dusting, She has cleaned every corner and floor; Pa has been helping like a fury And I have done many a chore. I filled up the wood box this morning With hickory, oak and spruce; I shoveled a path to the barnyard, Another down to the slurry. We've had the first snow of the season, The ice is as smooth as glass; So Grandpa will come in the cutter Over the frozen morass. Oh, yes, we have everything ready, For tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day—I've sharpened my skates for the ice pond, I'm ready for frolic and play.

An Expression of Appreciation

Having leased my elevator to Swanson & Lally, I wish to express my deep appreciation for liberal patronage and happy business relationships with many people of Wayne and vicinity during more than thirty years. I owe this exceptionally favored community and neighboring area much for the success I have been able to enjoy.

I want to say a good word for my successors, Messrs. Swanson & Lally, who have come here from Oakland, Nebr. I know them to be citizens of the best type — gentlemen in and out of business — good fellows of the highest integrity. They deserve utmost confidence — deserve continuation of the generous treatment which I have received.

In a spirit of gratitude and good will, and with best wishes to all, I subscribe myself your friend and neighbor —
