A Washington report states that Conssman Karl Stefan has already mad gressman Karl Stefan has already made his presence felt in demands for feed for pigs of unmarketable sizes in his district, his presence felt in demands for feed for pigs of unmarketable sizes in his district, so that farmers may bring them up to desirable and profitable weights. Congressman Stefan is urging help for the farmers to save their young pigs, and is also asking removal of the processing tax from the undersized animals. The congressman understands the farmers' needs and he is fully in sympathy with them, and we are glad to know he is making himself heard among the national solons without any delay.

There are plenty of jobs for persons who have ideas, according to an article in a current magazine. Out of seventy applicants for a job as salesman, only one offered anything in the shape of an idea, and he landed the place. People are willing to pay for timely and constructive ideas, and anyone who can furnish them in even small degree will not long need to be unemployed. The article concludes: "Do you want to get a job? First go out and get an idea."

For people who barely make the grade by working fortyeight hours or more, the proposed law to be introduced in congress to reduce a work week to thirty hours, does to reduce a work week to thirty nours, uces not exactly strike a winning chord. It would appear more reasonable as a recov-ery leverage to let industry reduce hours according to possibilities, and not try to force a rule that might hinder the very force a rule that n employment desired.

For all practical purposes there is no difference between communist, fascist and nazis rule. One can suffer the same hunger under any one of the three, and if he is killed, he is just as dead at the hands of one as another. Each amounts to a cruel and relentless dictatorship under which human rights have no more chance than a snowball in the hottest inferno.

An unusual shortage of Christmas tree ornaments was reported this year. The shortage is explained by the unofficial fight on German goods made by some merchants and importers in the United States. Omaha Journal-Stockman: While no one questions the necessity for immediate relief for our needy citizens, relief of a most generous character, there are many thought-ful people who are wondering what the ultimate effect of this relief will be on the country. Nearly 20 per cent of our people are now living on charity and apparently the list is increasing instead of decreasing.

unemployment situation is charac-terized by great energy and good sense. Mr. Baker says that the most amazing thing he encounters is the widespread decay of the spirit of self reliance that made this nation great. He says federal govern-ment relief is the most dangerous and debilitating, and on every hand he finds groups that are using ev-ery ingenuity and much time to devising ways of bringing pressure ingently and much time to ing ways of bringing pressure ear to get, "without effort, the is they obviously ought to, and are correspondingly drawing their efforts to devise of getting them by working theim."

Unfortunately farmers and stock men are showing some of this same spirit or lack of spirit. The deeper matter of federal control is a matter of indifferent craig home.

It is time for men like Former Secretary Baker to speak up and it is also time for the rest of us to heed the warning before it is too late.

'The danger of wide dissemina-tion of seed-borne diseases and noxious weeds has never been so great as at the present time when the major part of at least six states has very little home-grown seed of some grains and thousands of bush-els of seed must be brought into the drouth States from other sections of the dountry, according to seed men in the United States depart-ment of Argiculture. Since the danger of bringing in diseases and weeds must be faced, solution of the problem lies in ascertaining as far as possible that all seed grain has been cleaned of weed seed and treated for disease. It was a great pleasure to have a very young preacher in the pulpit Sunday morning. It was of added interest to know he was the son of our good friend, Dr. Pressly: He preached a splendid sermon and it is a joy to know that such a capable young man is giving full time to the church.

Christian Science Services.

"God" is the subject of the leson-sermon in all Christian Scice churches for Sunday, Januson-sormon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, January 6.

The Golden Text is from I Timothy 1:17: "Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever."

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from John 1:1-3: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God... and the Word was God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made, that was made."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite.
