The speaker first told how the Pilgrims came to America and it was a stormy night. They were fearful of what might be on the main land so they walted until morning to venture into it. They were atraid of what might be behind the trees and so the trees were a serious menace to them.
Even though the timber furnished shelter and fuel, they had to get rid of it before they could plant anything or make any progress inland.
They used the most simple way of destroying it which was by fire.

As the Pilgrims pushed west-ward, they had the same idea of destorying the timber, even in land less thickly timbered. Logs were

Leading To PRESIDENT Roosevelt The Left seems smilingly compla cent in the face of his own In his Omaha address he announced an exception to his rule of not announced an exception to his rule of not meddling with state politics by urging the relection of Senator George W. Norris without regard to party lines. Trailing closely this paraded exception is the experience in Minnesota where the democratic primary nominees for United States senator and governor were persuaded to withdraw to give united support to the withdraw to give united support to the farmer-labor ticket.

The sacrificing nominee for governor explained the action as obedient to wishes of the president, and the president made grateful acknowledgment. He thankwithdrawing candidates for their sonal sacrifice on "my behalf and for good of the party." How blasting out way the regular nominees of a party could help the party is not apparent. Un-less the president thinks people have al-ready suspended thinking preparatory to delivering the whole job over to Washingon he could not expect the contradiction get by unnoticed.

Analyzing this queer administration maneuver, the World-Herald explains that the farmer-labor party in Minnesota "demands immediate steps to abolish capitalism," and declares for the "ownership and operation" of "all natural resources, maoperation" of "all natural resources, me chinery of production, transportation and communication by the government in a co-operative commonwealth." To this Minnesota idea of government which clearly smacks of the foreign brand, he president gives hearty support, and hen comes to Nebraska to make an "exdeption" in favor of Senator Norris, Scut-tling the democratic party organizations in Minnesota and Nebraska for "the good of party" is too bald a contradiction to fool

The president must be in harmony with The president must be in harmony with the Minnesota farmer-labor party's socialistic platform, or he would not favor its nominees in preference to those of the democratic party which he professes to head. And to justify kicking aside the regular nominee in Nebraska, of course Senator Norris harmonizes with the nationalization of the advocated by the Minnesota farmer.

Norris harmonizes with the nationalization plan advocated by the Minnesota farmerlabor party and endorsed by the president. In a lengthy comment the World-Herald offers these concluding paragraphs: "Thoughtful voters, before reaching a decision with respect to these candidates and presidential candidates, will ask themselves: Are we to be ruled by ourselves or are we to be ruled from Washington—and with respect not only to our state's politics, but our industries, our businesses, our agriculture, our jobs, our personal affairs? "And in answering it they may well consider the coalition Minnesota platform, which declares the capitalist system a failure and demands its replacement by a cooperative commonwealth which shall own and operate 'the machinery of production.' "This is, in all seriousness, a critical election! In Mr. Roosevelt's own words, it 'transcends party lines.' Bound up in it is the American system of government, the American way of life.

"With the same earnestness Mr. Roosevelt shows in urging Nebraskans to disregard party in voting for senator we urge them to disregard party equally in voting for president. Vote your convictions regardless of party. It is sound and wholesome advice—and never more opportunely given."

Senator H. L. Black's disparaging reference to Kansas' educational record highly amusing from a man who lives in a state where the masses probably wouldn't know whether schooling is something to eat or wear. Kansas' rank in education compares favorably with the best, and an im-partial investigation of Governor Landon's advisory position supports the state's good record. Consolidations in Kansas have meant improved training with decreased

Al. Smith, leading New York democrat, former governor and former presidential candidate, in speaking against the New Deal, urged voters to separate bunk from facts before going to the polls to express themselves. He suggested that violation of pledges on grounds of an emergency would lead to future disregard of pledges on the same ground. He has no confidence in promises from a source that has treated promises lightly past.

Refusal of WPA officials to make public their records has caused a good deal of unpleasant stir. It is a sharp departure from American custom to withhold facts concerning public business supported by taxpayers' money. Young men and young women who have records to make, should be more uniformly and resolutely for Landon than their elders who will sooner be off the stage of action. Youth must wish to preserve their independence and exercise their individual powers without direction from Washington, and if so, the record of the present administration presents a powerful argument to them to swing their support to Landon.

But as we understand, a capitalist state refers to a con-dition in which people are free to invest in a farm or business dition in which people are free to invest in a farm or business and run the chance of galning or losing. If we were to abolish capitalism we would abolish democracy and liberty, accepting in its place one of the different foreign varieties all of which are equally objectionable. Writing for The Atlantic Monthly, George E. Sokolsky says that it is a "self-evident truth that democracy continues to flourish in countries where capitalism is most developed." He explains. "It declines had disappears in those where the capitalist system is undeveloped. Thus, the capitalist system is most perfectly deland. Switzerland and Czecho slovakia. Olive has been gone a year, and untold thousands have gone since, each passing into impenetrable infinity. If Olive could give us one word or one caress, we would not ask for more proof. Then the philosophy of Dr. Harry Emerson. Fosdick and others whose reasoning in support of immortality we have absorbed with awakened interest, would be fortified with certainty and we would be more relation to the former. Olive has been gone a year, and tainty, and we would be more content.

Other things—notably, space and time—are just as mysterious, just as far beyond human comprehension as immortality. If the disembodied entity can see and mingle with mortals, the spiritual sense must be attuned to regard a constantly moving procession of earthly horrors as but temporary that terial deformities of too little consequence to the cosmos of eterniterial deformities of too little cor sequence to the cosmos of eter-ity to cause distress. SEEING DARKLY.

SEEING DARKLY.

A fellow who is naturally and habitually slippery—a smoothly designing trickster—believes everybody is inclined the same way. When he sees outstanding squarc-shooters, he thinks they are odd Af not crazy. The individual who thus reasons darkly may pray on his knees on the Sabbath, and prey on his fellowmen the rest of the week, putting on and taking off his religion much as he would a Sunday coat—accepting it as something to be evaded, not followed. He believes with the ancient Egyptian that an abuse is wrong only if found out. In his mind, a successfully concealed wrong is smart, mistaking low cunning for high intelligence. Like the Pharisee of old, he envelops himself with a ware timesters of the work. old, he envelops himself with old, he envelops himself with a sanctimonious air, the white underneath he tries to figure out ways and means to fleece the unsuspecting and gain unearned advantage. If he has money he would be driven out of the temple as a money changer; if attempts at shearing neighbors are but meagerly remunerative, he would be kicked out for other reasons. But softstoken hypocrisy is not the rule in America, and it must not become the rule if we would go tions. Contrary to the narrow visioned pervert, Americans are usually frank and honest, and usually trank and nonest, and thus are honest with themselves. Americans must grow in such sturdy character if they would continue to develop civilization on the sound foundation hither-to hid.

Mr. Berry Comments.

Asked for his opinion concerning the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States by Senator Norris directed against the courts Fred S. Berry stated:
"Before answering your question directly let's look at things for a moment. Supposing a law should be enacted which provided that the Jewish religion, or the Methdist, Presbyterian, Catholic or some other creed was the established religion of this country and prohibited all other forms of worship; or a ligion of this country and prohibit-de all other forms of worship; or a law was enacted which denied the right of free speech, or the right of a newspaper to publish news concerning governmental affairs concerning governmental affairs truless first censored and approved by some government official or bureau, or a law which prohibited one-half of our people from voting, or one that said corn and wheat could be grown only on irrigated

Of Senator Norris Opposed.

The following resolution was introduced by Senator George W.
Norris of Nebraska in 1935 and was read twice and referred to the Committee on, the Judiciary. Part of it réads: "The Supreme Court shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction to' render judgment declaring that any law enacted by Congress in whole or in part is invalid because it conflicts with some provision of the Constitution; but no such judgment shall be rendered unless concurred in by more than two-thirds of the members of the Court, and unless the action praying for such judgment shall have been commenced within six month after the enactment of the law."

Local attorneys commented on the resolution and attempted to show the dangers lurking in the proposal.

Burr Davis, county attorney, says of the Norris resolution that the legislative loody should, as is intended in the constitution, not legally pass any law affecting overnment and the government cannot legally pass any law affecting the constitution, as is intended in the constitution, as is intended in the constitution. show the danger proposal.

Burr Davis, county attorney, says of the Norris resolution that the legislative body should, as is intended in the constitution, not interfere with filings of the superme court. If this resolution were reme court. If this resolution were reme court. If this resolution were the government to do so.

"The amendment to the stitution which Senator Norri stitution which Senator Norris has introduced in congress," continued one one fir. Berry, "provides that no law enacted by the congress shall be declared invalid in whole or in part except by more than two-third of the members of the supreme court downer brought against the law in less consistence. It is except by the supreme court and not at all unless an action is brought against the law in less consistency of the suprementation of th o get this amendment adopted it government ple subjects.

"I think there is a very obvious and easy explanation for the sen-ator's lack of sympathy for the constitution of the people and his attitude against the courts. He has been in congress for many, many years; during that time, under both democratic and republican administrations, commence has been the material that the latter-which the material that the latter-which engaged in bitter war of lesser outrages—would bear netation to the former.

One philosopher mentions personality as marking the difference between man and animal, and that personality will be preserved. Another says there are more proofs of survival than of extinction. Immortality is the only conclusion that agrees with common sense, as Dr. Fosdick suggests in these words: "The reasonableness of the universe is pledged to the immortality of man: the beneficency of God is unthinkable without it; the verdict of the spiritual seers confirms it; and when it is put to the verifying test of life it builds the loftiest character."

Thus, we ispeculate. I have faith without absolute proof. I cannot imagine an intelligent source developing souls and then blotting them out after a brief time. What use would be the inconceivable vastness beyond? I believe that Olive and innumerable others live and progress, but when I try to figure on where and how, I am lost in a maze of indefiniteness.

So, while Olive's grave on thee lost in a maze of indefiniteness.

So, while Dlive's grave on the hillside is hallowed by precious memories, and while the marble memories, and while the marble inpress, I am led to look up and that marks it seems to reflect the noble spirit that left an indelible impress, I am led to look up and the people themselves have made beyond materiality for the real girl, convinced that she has been translated into a higher sphere—just where, no one knows—but a sphere where life is enriched by freedom from earth's fetters.

ferred to the constitution only once and that was it a belittling man-ner designed to bring laughter from the audience. It is the same constitution which he has sworn to protect and detend ever, since the people under the constitution have honored him by electing him to office. I regret, said Mr. Berry, "Senator Norris' frame of mind which has prompted him to a course which if carried out, would in my opinion be highly dangerous and a disaster to the people and to say democratic form of governever know or can appreciate

The speaker complimented Wayne on its auditorium. He referred to Wayne as a farming and educational center second to none in the state.

The year 1935 brought more new problems of major character than for some time, continued the governor. Among these were social security, prohibition repeal, parimutuel betting, one-house legislature and relief. It was up to the legislature and governor to work out these measures and the task has been great.

4.246.389.88

6.139.307.93

TOTALS $18,251,283.34 $21,675,663.67 INCREASE in NEHRASKA tax burden in first year under COCHRAN . . . $3,324,380.33 NOTE: The above figures do not include one penhy of federal money. This is money which came out of the pockets of the people of Mahraska of Nebraska.

WHO SAYS COCHRAN HAS NOT CREATED NEW TAXES?

1—How about the one-cent additional gas tax?
2—How about the $2,000,000 in liquor tax?
3—How about the $2 head tax on every person under fifty years of age?

If the cost of our government has been held down, the income from liquor taxes would have brought about a real reduction in the property tax levy.

is a great privilege. There may be frost on the pumpkins but there are very few shocks of corn stalks. Most of these are cut up for ensuring and are in the silos. The country is full of chickens. Many are found dead on the roads, killed, by passing motorists. The pheasants seem plentiful and are conning closer to the farm yard to feed. The feed situation is still very scrious. The farmer is not well off generally speaking.

Wednesdays and Saturdays bring towns are Saturday night towns. Store clothes are not so frequently seen among the groups of farmers. One crowd of nearly two hundred farmers at Randolph showed that store clothés are expensive and most of these two hundred farm-

The Génoa Indian school, which was abandoned by the federal government and given to the State of Nebraska, is vacant. State workers are cleaning up the grounds now. Genoa people are anxious that this valuable property be used to some real advantage by the state. There are many mental cases in this district which need kuman attention.

A passage from the Bible in the lesson-section is from John 17:20, 21: "Neither pray I for these alone but for them also which shall believe on me through their word. That they all may be one as though their year in me and I in thee that they also may be one in us: A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Criptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit,—the law of divine Love." 22 families at a total estimated cost of $85,675. Reports are that this project is now almost completed. On July 1, twenty families were living on this project.

Delayed corn-hog checks are slowly coming in as a result of cooperation between the farm agents and the congressional office. Much of this delay is in the Washington office and we are hurrying the delivery of these therefox by caffing to the attention of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration the great need of farmer cash at this particular time.

Traces of a race of people that toamed the prairies of western Nebraska 15 to 30 thousand years ago have been discovered by Dr. Erwin H. Barbour of the university in Lincoln. The discoveries point to a possibility that "this region may be the eradle of ancient civilization in North America." The discoveries seem to be of much greater age than the ones at Lynch, Neb. These pre-Indian men tived when eastern Nebraska and eastern Dakota iwere covered with glaciers, scientists believe. The climate they endured must have approached the arctic. The discoveries were made in the vicinity of Broadwater, Harrison and Crawford.

Archaeologists said the evidence tended to indicate the people were of a nomadic type, intelligent enough to select their hunting grounds wisely, yet uncivilized in the sense that they had not yet learned the practice of agriculture. They attained a high degree of artisty in clipping and flaking their instruments.
