

Motorists In Interest of Safety - Oxygen Masks - Primitive Costs - Middle West's Sweet Corn - To Soothe Sensitive Nerves - Labor Day - Sightseeing - The Weather.

In the interest of motoring safety and in the hope of reducing wrecks and often fatalities on the road everybody expecting to drive must qualify for new permits. Those already holding permits must have them renewed, and those who never submitted to this regulation will be required to pass an examination.

In this connection it is disturbing to note that psychologists think they have discovered that anyone above 35 is too old and therefore too unsteady and uncertain to drive safely. His reflexes are too slow. Any one over 60 trying to wrestle with the steering wheel is declared a positive menace. He should be parked in the back seat and required to keep still. A charging delivery truck driver is rated as dangerous as a rich man's speed-crazy son.

But notwithstanding age limits fixed by scientists, we believe the record will show that most highway tragedies have been caused by drivers under 35. Youngsters have clearer and quicker vision, but they are more careless and will usually take longer chances. Furthermore, we have a suspicion if driving were restricted to persons under 35 there would in time be a comparatively small number left either to drive or to ride.

To Prevent Brain Lazing. An oxygen mask has been invented to prevent brain fatigue among mental workers. The oxygen is said to keep the brain from lazing while on a job. Persuading the mind to avoid frequent rest periods insures expected production within a specific time. A rested body with one of these masks hooked up to the brain enables one to get maximum results, and this department needs one.

Costs in the Old Days. High cost of government in these years contrasts sharply with the way money was measured out in 1871 when first settlers were organizing and starting affairs in this county. In that year it seems an appropriation of only $600 was necessary for general expenses. The first bridge in the county was built at a cost of $250. Assessed land valuations were placed at $2 per quarter section. The total valuation of the county was $328,861. We have been going some since then. But who would exchange present advantages for primitive hardships?

To Influence Buyers. Traveling on the Pacific coast one finds signs advertising Nebraska and Iowa sweet corn. The reputation of the middle west for best corn qualities is used to influence buyers. As there is persuading power in mentioning fruits grown in western coast states, so appetites out there are sharpened by thought of grains and meats produced in this area. One thing California newspapers are careful not to overlook, as a sedative to any local unrest, is drought or tornado news from other parts of the country.

Too Much Noise. Omaha complains of excessive and unnecessary automobile honking at night. Modifying motor noises would soothe sensitive nerves both day and night everywhere. Trucks will be made a source of greater joy when manufacturers fix their insides to start with less grinding. The town whistle which calls workers from refreshment to labor, will continue to be an unavoidable nuisance until individual independence rises to a plane where everybody remembers to keep track of time.

Extending Observance. The influence of labor day—first Monday in September—is spreading from the cities into rural communities. A larger number than heretofore suspended routine in the country this year for the holiday. The post office recognized the occasion by taking a vacation. Other officials have followed the example. It is an important day in large centers where labor organizations are numerous and powerful. Rural workers—not yet unionized—are not inspired by the day's real meaning if it has any.

Seeing America. The vacation period now drawing to a close took families of this area on many different and wonderful sight-seeing trips. America affords limitless variety for travelers. The lakes and oceans, mountains and forests, the national parks, the numerous scenic and historic points east and west, north and south present new fields to visit and inspect. "See America First" is an idea which Americans have generally followed this year, and there is abundance to see here if one is so inclined.

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR

EDWARD PERRY DIES IN OMAHA

Rites For Early Resident Are Held On Sunday At Home In Wayne.

Edward Perry, resident of Wayne more than half a century, died Thursday morning, September 2, about 9 o'clock in an Omaha hospital, aged 74 years, 7 months and 2 days. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 from the home with Rev. W. F. Dickering, Presbyterian minister, and the Hiscox service in charge. Mrs. T. T. Jones sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Abide With Me." Burial followed in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Perry had been failing in health for several months. He successfully underwent an operation August 16 and was to have another one as soon as his health permitted. A few days before his death he contracted pneumonia which he could not overcome.

Edward Perry, son of Jeremiah and Mary Ann Perry, was born at Bedfordshire, England, February 4, 1863. He was the eighth in a family of 11 children. His parents came to America in 1867 and homesteaded near Wahoo, Neb., where they and the children endured many hardships. Mr. Perry came to Wayne county in the early eighties and it was he who took the county records from LaPorte to Wayne when the county seat was moved.

In the early days Mr. Perry associated with his brother, Jack Perry, in the horse and cattle business. Later deceased and L. C. Gildersleeve were partners in the buying and selling of stock. Mr. Perry was well known throughout northeast Nebraska. In recent years his interests were confined (Continued on Page Seven.)

Wayne Is To Join In National Plan

Community Is To Observe 150th Anniversary Of Constitution.

The Wayne committee appointed to promote local observance in connection with a nation-wide celebration of the 150th anniversary of the formation of the constitution, met Tuesday evening with Chairman J. E. Brittain. As September 17, the date of signing the constitution, falls on one of the days of the fair, it was decided to ask the schools to make special note of the occasion and to invite the band to play patriotic music at the fair. The committee will arrange community and club programs through the coming months to commemorate the anniversary.

As Mr. Brittain explained Tuesday, the signing of the constitution marks the birth of the American form of representative government. Dictatorships in Europe raise the question as to whether or not to be replaced by forms in which persons are regimened by dictators. The men who established representative government in this country 150 years ago had suffered the tyranny of rulers until they were debilitated to the cause of liberty with a sincerity that equaled a religious fervor. "The success of representative government depends on the intelligence of the people, and it is time to reeducate ourselves to the promotion of American ideals," stated Mr. Brittain. The 150th anniversary of the constitution furnishes a proper occasion for emphasizing the importance of maintaining American ideals of liberty and equality.

In the group meeting Tuesday were Mr. Brittain, Paul Mines, Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, Mrs. R. W. Ley, C. L. Pickett, Dr. Walter Bentback, W. S. Bressler, T. S. Hook, J. M. Strahan and Mrs. F. W. Nyberg.

Band In Concert Friday Evening

The Wayne municipal band will present a concert program at Bressler park Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The program is as follows: March, "Royal Bridesmaids," Casto; overture, "Greetings," Mahl; march, "Brooke's Triumphal," Seitz; selection, "The Fortune Teller," Herbert; march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," Sousa; waltz, "Danube Waves," Ivanovice; march Espagnole, "Sorella," Galanti; fox trot, "Now You're in My Arms," Downey; "Dance of the Seven Veils," "Salome Dance," Tohani; marche orientale, "Salute to the Sultan," Lawrence.

Libraries Are Issued. County Treasurer J. J. Steele has issued 335 renewed and 30 new drivers' licenses. About 100 more have taken tests at the city hall.

RUGGED CHARACTER FIRM BELIEVER IN THE WAY OF WORK

Edward (Ted) Perry, Wayne county old settler who passed away last week, was a rugged individualist of the most pronounced type. He was outspoken and uncompromising. We recall one dispute with him. Though naturally conservative, he was so strong for Theodore Roosevelt that we disagreed over his break with Taft who was accordingly defeated. Ted had strong prejudices and profound sympathies. He adopted and reared two orphaned children, and his affections could not have been more securely entrenched if they had been his own. A young man remembers as a boy that Perry paid him more for herding cattle than the prevailing price. He believed in the gospel of work, and in the value of everyone heing his own row. He took pride in his fields and herds, and nothing seemed to satisfy him more than to shape the processes of agriculture. He journeyed to his farms every morning before the town was awake—a deep and abiding interest in the work to which his life had been devoted.

MAKE CHANGES IN CURRICULUM

Registration At College Is Set For Two Days First Of Week.

Many new courses and changes in curriculum are being offered this semester at the Wayne State Teachers college which opens for classes Wednesday, September 10. Registration for freshmen will be Monday from 8 to 5 o'clock and for upper classmen Tuesday. A survey of fine arts is an appreciation course covering art, music and drama, which is being offered by members of the fine arts department. It will meet three times a week for two hours' credit. Prof. H. H. Hanscom, Miss Florence Drake and Miss Jessie Stephen will teach the first part of the semester and Prof. A. G. Carlson, Miss Lenore Ramsey and Miss Martha Pierce will teach the latter part. Prof. J. R. Keith and Prof. Russel Anderson will follow the work of Prof. Carlson.

More advanced courses in art are being offered. This is made possible by requiring more studio work done outside of classes. Miss Pierce is also offering courses in art history and general design. This (Continued on Page Seven.)

Play First Game To Pick Champion

In a close game at Laurel Sunday, Winside defeated the Laurel baseball team by a score of 3 to 1 in the first of the games being played for the championship of the Big Eight league. About 750 attended the game. The winner must take two out of three games. The second game will be played at Winside and if it is necessary to play the third game several towns have asked for it, among them Randolph and Pender.

An all-star team from the league played the Norfolk league team Wednesday evening. F. J. Dummel of Winside was manager for the all-stars. Mr. Dummel and H. D. Addison chose from one to three players from each of the teams. Those from Wayne were Don Lutz, Chas. Breslin and Ervin Retzlaff.

Couple Are Wed. Mr. Ernest Woehler, son of Mrs. Wm. Woehler of near Altona, and Mrs. Cora Thompson were married August 28. They plan to go to California.

Remains Very Ill. Mrs. Floyd Conger who suffered a stroke a couple weeks ago at Lewell, Wyo., remains very ill. Her condition was worse the first of the week.

Club Feature Is Planned At Fair

Entertainment Program Is Planned At Wayne On Wednesday Night.

One of the most complete 4-H entertainments ever developed will be featured at Wayne county fair Wednesday, September 15, according to Agent Walter L. Moller. The show, to be held in connection with the night program, consists of two hours of talking pictures, the feature of which is a dramatized version of the famous novel, "Under the 4-H Flag." In addition a 4-H news reel, an educational short called "Hidden Values" and a cartoon comedy are included.

The purpose of the show is to stimulate interest in the aims and aspirations of the 4-H movement and to give its members, their families and friends a real treat in the way of high grade entertainment.

Wayne county's organization will have an opportunity to participate in an attendance contest with awards amounting to $2,000. The prizes will be given on a basis of the proportion of the county's rural population attending the show. All counties in the country are competing and the winner will receive $1,000 for 4-H activities.

Will Go To Rochester. Mrs. Paul Mines and her father, Dr. T. B. Heckert, plan to go to Rochester, Minn., next Sunday. Mrs. Mines will be the clinician.

Planning Features For Fall Festival

Barbecue, Boxing Card And Free Dance Arranged By Committee.

A barbecue, boxing card and free dance are a few of the features being planned for the fall festival which is being sponsored by Wayne merchants in October. Various prize contests and other free entertainment are being planned by Al Lueders, chairman of the entertainment.

A meeting was held Tuesday evening when the budget was set up.

GIVES ADDRESS FOR KIWANIS

Dictatorship Is Possible In Democracy Is Belief Of W. A. Behl.

"What can we do to prevent dictatorship in this country?" was the question W. A. Behl asked Kiwanians to keep in mind while he presented observations given in the east. Mr. Behl spoke to the club Monday at its opening fall meeting following the noonday luncheon at Hotel Stratton.

The speaker spent the past four years at Pontiac, Mich., which is an industrial center predominated by labor. He spoke from an observer's standpoint. Mr. Behl showed how the industrial and educational executives are trying to prevent dictatorship.

Married Sunday In City Church

Miss Isabelle Adams Bride Of James P. McCarthy At Denver.

Miss Isabelle Adams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Adams of Wayne, was married Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Mr. James P. McCarthy, son of Mr. Cornelius McCarthy of Denver, Colo. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of a Denver Catholic church by Father Charles Hagus. The couple will make their home at Denver after a short trip to Colorado Springs. Later Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy will go to New Orleans on a trip. They plan a visit in Wayne at the holidays.

The bride wore a Kelly green two-piece dress trimmed in black Persian lamb. She had black accessories. The bridegroom wore a dark gray suit. The couple was attended by Miss Lola Couch and Fredrick Duncan, both of Denver. Mrs. McCarthy is a graduate of the Wayne high school and attended the Wayne State Teachers college for a year and a half. She has been employed for Woodworth's in Denver for the past five years.

Mr. McCarthy has always lived in Denver. He is machinist for the Quickway company.

WAYNE COUNTY TO HOLD ANNUAL FAIR STARTING SEPT. 15

Wayne county's annual fair is scheduled for next week, and the exhibits of agricultural products should be better than in a number of years and, considering general crop conditions, better than other parts of the state have been able to show. The grounds are ideal with ample buildings to meet all demands. Attractions arranged for the days are offered in the belief they will win popular approval. The 4-H clubs will be given deserved prominence. Schools of the county will show the year's work. The fair will centralize for inspection the county's achievements. People like to attend fairs, and they will, as they should, attend the Wayne county fair.

College Football Outlook Promising

Thirteen Lettermen Are Counted On To Make Good Season.

Thirteen football lettermen are counted on to bolster Wayne State Teachers college hopes on the gridiron this fall. Regardless of the significance of the unlucky number "thirteen," Coach Ray Hickman hopes with all his football heart that everyone of the veterans will return this week for early practices. Possibly more lettermen may return, but so far they have not been heard from.

First drill of the 1937 fall campaign was called for Tuesday afternoon, September 7, with light exercises and calisthenics scheduled to limber up the returning gridgers. With the first game of the season only three weeks away with South Dakota university, one of the strongest teams in the North Central conference, Coach Hickman plans a daily schedule brick-

Entertainments And Exhibits Will Be Outstanding At Festival Here.

EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE

Entertainment and exhibits at the annual Wayne county fair Wednesday to Saturday next week, September 15 to 18, promise to be exceptional. The management expects a record attendance each day.

"Broadway on Parade" is one of the features planned each afternoon and evening. This company of seven women and two men presents special songs, dances and comedy with new stage settings. Novak & Fay is a team of two exceptional comedians. The Four Cycling Kirks present difficult riding stunts and comedy acts. Another special feature is the thrilling magic show of LaTemple and company. LaTemple is a master magician and performs with specially-built outdoor equipment so that all may see easily.

The 4-H clubs have an important part in the fair program. Besides their exhibits, a style show and free county picture are arranged for Wednesday night. Demonstrating teams compete Thursday morning, and a showmanship contest is planned Saturday morning.

Wayne Municipal band, directed by Prof. F. C. Reed, furnishes music for each program. The "Broadway on Parade" orchestra plays for dances each evening at the fair grounds.

Baseball games are scheduled each day of the festival. Winside and Wayne meet Thursday. Hoskins and Laurel Friday and the winners on Saturday.

Merry-go-round, ferris wheel, displays of machinery, household devices and cars, also many concessions will be on the grounds. Entries in all departments promise to be large. The management will award prizes totaling $3,185. Horse racing at the fair is in charge of Ivar Anderson of Hoskins.

Changes In Czechoslovakia Noted As Consequences of World War

Many changes have occurred in Czechoslovakia in the last few years according to Miss Anna Geisler, who with her niece, Miss Betty Klander, arrived in the United States August 27 after spending the summer in that country with relatives. Neither had been there since 1931.

Czechoslovakia has a population made up of Bohemians, Germans, Slovaks, Hungarians and Poles. The Germans are gradually losing influence and the Bohemians are regaining their language on the German papers in Bohemia. All business is conducted in that language rather than in German. The Bohemians give preference to their own people and it is very difficult for Germans, as they are given no opportunity to get ahead.

Miss Geisler commented that following the World War until after 1930 the Bohemians had left conditions as they were before the war. Since they have inaugurated this change the Germans resent it and are more or less stubborn in trying to adapt themselves to the change. Miss Geisler remarked that an outsider, such as she, could sympathize with both sides.

Every little hamlet, even the German, has undergone this change and has the Bohemian school and officials.

To Miss Geisler the pure Bohemian is a very fine person, but she finds the Poles and Slovaks trying to make themselves important by making life miserable for the Germans, and praising the Bohemians.

It was amusing to the high school principal to note the reactions of the people to the labor strikes in the United States. They are not at all concerned about the ways going on between countries in Europe, but they are positive that the United States is a very unsafe place to be because of the strikes and picketing.

Preparations for war are very much in evidence. In Czechoslovakia which is bordered by Poland and Germany and not far from Hungary, dugouts are located about every half mile and they are packed with munitions, guns and other provisions. All of the dugouts are connected by underground passages. Preparations similar to these are going on in every European country.

While in Europe Miss Geisler also visited in Rome, Italy and Vienna. People in both countries were very hospitable and very cordial, and will go out of their way to help the bewildered tourist. Italy, in particular, is crowded with tourists. This is because of the reductions Italy is offering tourists as an incentive to come to that country. Miss Geisler had a room and three meals a day for $1.50.

Miss Geisler was impressed by the number of large churches and also the ruins of Rome. The Vatican city is particularly outstanding with its library, art gallery, St. Peter's cathedral and other historical spots.

Home has many fountains, particularly in the suburbs where the rich Romans live. Some of the summer homes have as many as 100 fountains around the yards. Miss Geisler noticed this, particularly in the suburb of Tivoli.

Miss Geisler rode the International train when taking her trip in Europe. She got on the train at Warsaw, Poland and rode to Rome without changing trains. Custom officials at each border were very courteous and were never unreasonable. "If they are treated right, they will treat you right," is the opinion of Miss Geisler.

Vienna was one of the best towns for sight seeing. It is a great city for music and has been called the "city of musicians." Many famous musicians have been born there and a great deal of music has been written about the city. Large forests and the Danube river add much to the beauty of Vienna.

Austria was particularly interesting to Miss Geisler, who enjoyed hearing the people talk. Austrians speak German with a peculiar dialect, similar to the brogue that the casteners have in the United States as compared to the middle west.

Before returning to the United States, Miss Geisler and her niece visited in Hamburg. One of the interesting spots was the Hagenbeck zoo, the largest in the world. Upon entering the zoo a person is given a map or plan to direct him in his tour. It is divided into 43 sections and one is easily lost. There is every kind of animal in the world there and that is the place where many circus animals are purchased.

Miss Geisler returned to Wayne Thursday of last week to begin teaching at the Wayne high school. Her niece, Miss Betty Klander, will teach at Ohiowa, Neb.

Much LABOR day furnished the occasion for union leaders and others interested in labor dominance to open vents to accumulated oratorical steam. Hippopotamus-jawed John L. Lewis berated the president because he did not go to greater lengths in fighting industry and supporting labor demands.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who is out with Lewis, and far less radical, charged Lewis' CIO with communistic influences and economic designs.

Speaking at Omaha on Labor day, Governor Phillip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin, predicted the organization of a new political party to champion left-wing policies.

Labor day speeches gave emphasis to a serious situation. Labor agitators are active in industrial centers trying to stir up trouble. Employees are usually satisfied—satisfied with pay and working conditions.

September 17 will mark the anniversary of the federal constitution, and interest in observing the event is stimulated by the crucial test to which the fundamental instrument has been submitted of late.

A contributor to the Omaha World-Herald complains that Senator Burke wants to be a dictator which would be equivalent to saying we want to walk on a tight rope from the standpipe to Logan Creek—we couldn't if we would and we wouldn't if we could.

Senator Burke's proposed amendment to the federal constitution to limit a president to one six-year term is finding much favor. Many agree it should be pushed along at top speed.

Speaking of Labor day celebrations and the need of a fair deal for both labor and capital, the Omaha Journal-Stockman says in conclusion: "It is significant, however, that the condition of laborers is best where the rights of capital are respected and enforced."

Worldly wealth is so fleeting and uncertain that no one can safely boast of what he possesses even if it were good taste to do so. Materially, many up yesterday are down today, and many out of luck today, will have comfortable fortunes tomorrow.

Postmaster General Farley has announced that no group of employees, organized or unorganized, would be permitted to interfere with the mails.

Anti-New Deal democrats and the rank and file of Republicans fully agree on public policies, and they should get together and present a united front in support of conviction and the public welfare.

The number predicted for slaughter in Labor day accidents was reduced one-half. The record of deaths was roughly estimated in advance at 1,000. Less than 500 were killed.

Increased attendance at the state fair at Lincoln this week clearly reflects a more hopeful condition. Improved interest is said to accompany enlarged gate receipts.

COURAGEOUS. From parts of the state again stricken by devastating drouth come reports of wonderful courage. Undaunted by a series of lean years, farmers are looking to the future with unshaken faith—faith in the return of normal seasons and usual abundance.

Eventful Trip Experienced By Hickman Family

"Never a dull moment," very aptly describes the 4,600-mile auto trip to the west coast and back completed by Coach W. R. Hickman, Mrs. Hickman and Bob when they arrived home last Saturday night after three weeks of eventful travel.

The Hickmans visited friends in Montana, and at Roundup, Mont., Bob joined the party after spending several weeks on a ranch there. They stopped at Bridger, Mont., on the way out for a visit with friends, and from there they continued to Yellowstone park via the Red Lodge-Cooke City scenic highway. Five days were spent in the northeast corner of the park fishing. Excellent trout fishing rewarded them.

From Yellowstone out through the north entrance, Gardner entrance, the party proceeded up highway 10 to Butte and Missoula, and then to Spokane and Seattle.

Visiting the great navy ship-building yards at Bremerton, Wash., provided one of the most interesting days of the trip. There are located the marine corps and the receiving barracks for sailors.

Two big dry docks are 700 and 900 feet long, respectively. The machine shop at the Bremerton yards is the largest and also the most modern shop in the world.

The Hickmans spent four days with friends in Seattle and two days visiting in Tacoma. Coach Hickman played some golf and with son, Bob, enjoyed salmon fishing in Puget Sound.

Homeward bound the party left Tacoma Wednesday, September 1, and traveled by easy stages through Mt. Ranier National park to Pendleton, Ore., and Boise, Idaho, down through Rawlins, Laramie and Cheyenne, Wyo. Taking highway 30 they motored back into Nebraska via North Platte, Kearney and Grand Island to Wayne.

The entire journey was made without accidents or trouble of any kind.

Bowling Alleys To Open Friday

Bowling as a sport will return to Wayne with the opening Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock of the Wayne Bowling alleys in the August Loberg building south of the Crystal theatre. The alleys are owned and operated by the Packard Duck Pin Bowling association of Marshalltown, Iowa, and have been completely remodeled, redecorated and fitted with new equipment.

Opening night Friday evening will be ladies' night with all ladies permitted to bowl free.

The principal aim of the Packard company, said L. D. Bowness, manager, is to give the public a good clean sport that can be enjoyed by the whole family in an atmosphere of refinement. There will be no other activity in the building.

Mr. Bowness will be assisted by a local young man in addition to eight or ten young men who will be employed as pin setters.

It has been the practice of the association to allow the school children to bowl on Saturday morning at a reduced rate with the consent of their parents. This sport has been endorsed by the directors of boys' and girls' athletics throughout the nation. In some cities coaches have organized teams of students who have found this sport entertaining as well as less strenuous.

Old Model T Fords In Unusual Crash

When two automobiles figure in an accident now-a-days it's usually just everyday news, but when two model T Fords of 1924 and 1927 vintage lock fenders—that's news. And that is what happened late Tuesday afternoon on west First street in the second crash in consecutive days involving model T Fords.

Almost as extraordinary were the circumstances under which the crash occurred. The automobiles, belonging to Nels Nelson and Elmer Fuller, met head-on when one of the drivers swerved out to avoid a collision with another car emerging from an alley. The impact was hard enough to send both cars careening to the curb.

No one was hurt and the damage done was small, a pair of smashed fenders and a broken wheel.

College Programs Are Being Planned
Prof. Russel A. Anderson, voice instructor, and Prof. Albert G. Carlson, piano instructor, of the college music department, have plans for another series of music programs this year. Patrons who attended the programs last year remember the delightful series offered during the season. The a-cappella choir and piano ensembles will assist the soloists on each program and some interesting material is being considered. Some of last year's young artists will be here again and some new talents have promised to come. An interesting year is anticipated. Professors Anderson and Carlson are offering special consideration to junior students of the grade and high schools of Wayne this year. Such pupils may enroll for private or class lessons in voice or piano.

Football Season Opens In Wayne
With 29 boys, including five lettermen, present for the initial practice Monday afternoon, Coach Elwood Morris reports Wayne high prospects for the 1927 football season just fair, much depending on the showing of freshmen comers and the possibility that more promising material may turn up this week.

Coach Morris

Much work must be done in preparation for the opening game with the tough Pierce high eleven September 25. Just three weeks off. Assisting Morris this year is Mcervin F. Edler, high school science instructor who lettered in football two years at Northern-Normal, Aberdeen, S. D. Lettermen who returned this season are Walter Meyer, 197-pound tackle; Orville Graham, 180-pound center; Roggenbach, guard; Fred Gildersleeve, quarterback; and Roy Corvick, fullback. From the remainder of the squad, largely inexperienced, must be chosen the gridders to fill in the gaps left open by graduation, and the scramble for positions is wide open.

Coach Morris has several lads with some experience, including Harold Fitch, one of the foremost of the new prospects; Dean Granquist; Dick Gildersleeve, half-back; and Lyle Seymour, sophomore end.

The football schedule for Wayne high school, as announced by Coach Morris, is as follows: September 25, Pierce, here; October 1, Laurel, there; October 8, Hartington, here; October 15, Wakefield, there; October 22, Allen, here; October 27, Oakland, there; November 5, Pigeon, here; November 13, Randolph, here.

Library News
Several books have been received in the juvenile department of the Wayne city library. Jacqueline Wightman was the donor of about 15 child's mystery books.

The Dana Girls' mystery series by Carolyn Keene, includes the following books: "By The Light of the Study Lamp," "Secret of Long Tree Cottage," "In The Shadow Of The Tower," "A Three-Cornered Mystery," "Secret At The Hermitage," and "Circle of Footprints." Another series by the same author is the Nancy Drew series which includes: "Secret of Red Gate Farm," "Clue of the Broken Locket," and "Sign of the Twisted Candle." Two more books are to be added to this series.

The series by Frances Turner includes the following: "Mystery of the Toy Band," "Messenger Dog's Secret," "Mystery of the Crooked Tree," "Story of the Parrot Told," and "Secret of the Missing Crown." The story of rayon, a book put out by a manufacturing company, has been sent to the Wayne library. The book is well illustrated and gives the complete history of the product.

Make Changes In Curriculum

Second semester advanced courses in painting and design, composition and form will be taught. Miss Stephen will also have classes in lettering and free-hand perspective.

Prof. W. A. Wollenhaupt is offering a course in retail selling. Other new courses are visual education for juniors and seniors being taught by Dr. H. D. Griffin, girl scout leadership by Miss Esther Dewitz for the second nine weeks. Home craft the first semester and art metal the second semester are being offered by Prof. Raymond Cherry in the industrial arts department in addition to the regular work.

Medical Examinations Given. All students are to be given medical examinations this year. Previous to this only freshman students and those taking athletics were required to have the examination. Women will be examined Monday afternoon and Tuesday and men Thursday afternoon and Saturday or by special appointment. These are being given under the direction of Prof. W. H. Hickman, Miss Esther Dewitz, Dr. C. T. Ingham, Prof. Raymond Cherry and Dean Allen Cook.

Freshmen will take English placement tests at 10 o'clock Tuesday and psychology tests at 1:30. Special tests in fundamentals of arithmetic, music and placement tests and shorthand and typing will be given by appointment.

Provide Office Space. An office is being built on the east side of the north door of the administration building for the school physician. This is the space formerly used for coat racks. All of the buildings on the campus are being cleaned and repaired before school opening.

Dr. J. T. Anderson reports that 45 rooms have been rented in the dormitories since last Thursday. Many students are seeking admission to the college and are trying to find part time work.

Plan Freshmen Entertainment. Freshmen students will be entertained Monday evening when a program will be held at 7:30 in the college auditorium. Dr. Anderson, Dean Cook and Dean Martha Smith will speak. Prof. Russell Anderson will lead singing and Coach Hickman will show pictures. A tea will be held Tuesday for freshmen at the home of Dr. Anderson. Hours are from 3:30 to 5:30. Friday evening a mixer will be held in the gymnasium.

The social committee planning these parties is composed of Miss Arlie Sutherland, chairman, Miss Florence Drake, Dean Martha Smith, Dr. J. R. Johnson, Prof. F. G. Dale, Prof. L. F. Good and Dean Allen Cook.

The faculty is entertaining new students at a reception Tuesday evening.

Announce Placements. The following students were placed in schools the past week: Allan Sandahl, AB '37, Bazille Mills, principal of high school; Cora Brouillette, AB '37, Flowerfield, lower grades; Eleanor Jones, AB '33, Obert, mathematics and English; Waldo Johnson, AB '37, Crofton, history and speech; Dan Rossburg, AB '37, Thurston, Latin and English.

The Robert Rinehart family moved from Carroll to the Harry Luckey home in Wayne Wednesday. Mr. Luckey is in Omaha at present and Mrs. Luckey is here for a while.

With the loss of Gragson, Carey and Walden at the tackle posts, one of Coach Hickman's first tasks will be to groom-likely candidates for these positions. However, with chances good for the return of Ashley Edgell, Glen Paul, and "Red" Lingenfelter, all of whom tip the scales at 200 or better, this problem may be solved satisfactorily. These huskies have had considerable experience in the line. Lingenfelter may be used at a fullback position where his weight should make him valuable as a line plunger and defensive man.

The guard positions will be well manned if Jerry Johns and Chuck Goodell are back, and they likely will be. Smokey Weik, the other letter-winner at guard, will fight it out with these two for starting jobs.

At the center berth Coach Hickman may call on Bob Cunningham who developed into a fine pivot man last season and Johnson, sophomore who has already proved his worth at guard and center.

In Warren Lamson and "Red" Brenn, Wayne will have two of the outstanding ends in the state, both handling their positions in veteran style last year. They can be counted on to fill the wing assignments in great shape. For reserve material Coach Hickman will have to call on his new men.

A more difficult problem confronts Coach Hickman in the backfield, however, with a scarcity of prospects. Truly, only bright spots in the outlook are very encouraging, though, with Retzlaff, one of Wayne's greatest all-around athletes, and "Rusty" Bradford, all-state halfback in his high school days at Mitchell, planning to don their uniforms for Wayne. Retzlaff will be playing his last year for the black and gold, and may be the third man in Wayne's history to letter four years in three major sports. With his alling leg in good condition again he should furnish the speed and spark necessary in the backfield. "Rusty" Bradford, 180 pounds, with plenty of drive and speed, is just what Wayne has been looking for to provide the scoring punch lacking last season.

Murray, who quarter-backed the Wayne eleven part of last season, is expected to develop into a valuable ground gainer, and Fox, despite his lack of size will battle for a berth in the backfield.

New men who have signified their intention of reporting are Mullins, Cedar Rapids; Knott of Albion; and Huwaldt of Randolph, all of them tackle. From Lyons will come two backfield prospects, Warren and Gatewood.

No word has been received from Merlin Franz and Raymond Mitchell who performed in the Wayne backfield last year. Junior Wheeler, quarterback, is now physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at McCook.

A large number of other candidates are certain to report for drill. Plans this group Coach Hickman plans to draw for reserved material. More than that, it looks like an open season for several regular positions on the first string. "It should be the best chance in years for freshmen who have the ability and the will to make the first team," commented Coach Hickman.

Coach Hickman will be assisted by Raymond Cherry, assistant coach.

The schedule complete to date is: University of South Dakota at Vermilion, September 25; Buena Vista at Wayne, Oct. 1; Nebraska B at Wayne, Oct. 8; Kearney at Kearney, Oct. 15; Southern Normal at Wayne, Oct. 22; Chadron at Wayne, Oct. 30 at 2 p. m.; Peru at Peru, Nov. 5; Omaha University at Omaha, Nov. 12; Morningside at Sioux City, Nov. 20.

Behl, one is the dictator type in which the leader sees how much he can get for what he gives and the other is the democratic type in which he sees how much he can give for what he gets. In the large motor companies the democratic leadership is very evident. The leaders are guides rather than drivers in work. Employees are represented in the executive meetings.

In the school system where Mr. Behl taught at Pontiac, the superintendent would not tolerate dictatorship from a teacher in the classroom. The teachers are to be guides or counselors of activities of the children.

A committee representative of the teachers in each department in the school at Pontiac met with the superintendent to determine the salaries for the coming year. The committee was also represented at the board meeting that set the salaries.

Mr. Behl concluded with the answer to the question he suggested. He said that "we must become democratic in the administration of our own affairs. A dictatorship in business does not go well with a democratic government."

Mr. Behl teaches speech at Northwestern in Evanston this year. He also works on his doctor's degree.

Delegates to the state convention at Lincoln on September 30, October 1 and 2, were elected at Monday's meeting. The president, C. E. Wright, and secretary, Rev. F. C. Mills, are delegates by virtue of their offices. Alternates are C. M. Craven, F. L. Blair and H. B. Craven.

Gayle Childs was a guest of Supt. E. W. Smith. Club singing was led by Wm. Beckenbauer. Rev. F. C. Mills played the accompaniment.

The board had a regular meeting Monday evening at C. E. Wright's office.

Northern Europe Impresses The Lundbergs By Its Progress

Busy and satisfied is the impression one forms of Denmark, Germany, Sweden and persons in Germany, Sweden and Denmark, according to Herman Lundberg, who with Mrs. Lundberg, Miss Ruth Lundberg and Alred Lundberg arrived home Friday after spending two months abroad. In each of the countries everyone seems to be working, and stores and cafes are busy.
 Private industry seems responsible for absorbing the unemployed. Sweden did for a time provide government work but when conditions improved people were advised to find work or do without. Everyone seems to have obtained employment and now one does not see idle persons and nowhere are there beggars. Mr. Lundberg noted that every little town in Sweden has three or four factories which provide employment for many persons. Much building is going on in each of the countries. Germany is constructing numerous brick and stone apartment houses, and Denmark is also putting up many brick buildings. Sweden uses more frame structures but much construction is also going on there.

The three countries have had a favorable crop season and temperature never higher than 75 degrees. Rye, barley, oats and potatoes are the chief crops and plentiful rains came in the spring to assure good growth. Dry spells had followed but rain was falling again before the Lundbergs came home. As no corn is raised, many stock feeds are grown for cattle and hog feed.
 The cooperative system of marketing is practiced to large extent in Sweden. Creameries, stores and factories are owned by those who trade with them and profits are divided among the stockholders at the close of a year. Usually a board of 10 unsalaried men manages each concern.
Bid For Tourist Trade.
 Germany is making a bid for tourist trade this summer and Americans are going there and to the Scandinavian countries in larger numbers than ever. Mr. Lundberg found. Travelers can buy German marks for 25c each while the regular exchange is 45c. One must spend these in Germany or cash the ones not used at the purchase price of 25c. This does induce many to go to Germany. Accommodations there are excellent and not costly, the Lundbergs found. A room with bath in a German hotel which overlooked a lake was 10 marks, $2.50 in American money. Every service was complete, even to fresh flowers each day.

Finds Excellent Yield Of Corn In Iowa And Illinois

Corn along the route of highway No. 20 through Iowa and Illinois is just pretty good, according to Ernest Peterson, who with his wife and son, Ward, and Mr. and Mrs. Christ J. Peterson, arrived home Thursday from a week's trip. Northern and central Iowa have an excellent crop, but in the southern part of the state the corn is spotted and much is burned. Mr. Peterson saw fields of corn in Illinois that will yield 100 bushels to the acre. Many Illinois farmers specialize in breeding corn and they have developed high yielding varieties.
 The Petersons also visited Wisconsin and Mr. Peterson reports that that state, which produced corn during the drought years here, has scarcely any crop this season. The last good rains fell there in June. Corn in Wisconsin is being cut for silage and farmers are planning to buy much feed. They are not discouraged, according to Mr. Peterson, but are keeping all their livestock and plan to carry on their operations just as usual.
 Mr. and Mrs. Christ J. Peterson and Ernest Peterson lived at Slough, Wis., 41 years ago and they especially enjoyed visiting their old home. The two families also went to Sibley, Ill., where they joined Mrs. Peterson's brother and sister, Bill Peterson and Mrs. Axel Fredrickson, and together they visited their birthplace and many schoolmates and friends after an absence of 37 years. The town of Sibley is named for the multimillionaire, Hiram Sibley, who owns nearly all the land around the city. Sibley is one of the largest cornbelters in the world, this having a capacity of 125,000 bushels. The rent shares are placed in this crop.
 The Petersons stopped at many places of interest enroute.

Annapolis Naval Student Given Interesting Trip To Foreign Water

After spending one year at West Point naval academy and having graduated from the state of "pleb" to "youngster," Merlin Paddock, son of Rev. and Mrs. John Paddock of Wayne, who arrived Wednesday last week for a month's visit with his parents, thinks there is nothing which can compare with the life and experiences obtained at West Point.
 Students attending West Point total 2,300. Upon graduation a student becomes a one-stripe officer in the navy. Among the main subjects taken by the students are mathematics, English, history, seamanship, navigation and gunnery.
 A specialized course is also offered in preparation for fleet service.
 This summer the first and third year class of students left the school in June for a three months' cruise in Europe. Merlin was one of those on the trip. Their first stop was at Kiel, Germany, where they anchored for eight days. Four days were spent in Berlin.
 In Germany, Merlin observed that military training is stressed. Labor camps for both boys and girls are found in Germany and the youth is being educated to be militaristic. Everywhere one sees the younger people of the country dressed in uniform.
 The midshipmen continued their cruise from Kiel to Madeira, which is an island off the coast of Africa. The ships were anchored at Funchal. Linens and basket work are the chief products of the island. The place has a beautiful bay, according to Merlin, and there are also many mountains.
 From Madeira the party went to England where Merlin was greatly interested in comparing the people to the Germans. The West Point students anchored at Torquay, a popular resort for English people on the southern coast. The English people appeared to be hospitable, not "cold" as is the impression of the American people. London is a much more quiet and interesting city than Berlin, according to Merlin. Everything in the city closes at 12 o'clock. The Wayne youth visited St. Paul's church, Westminster Abbey, Tower of London, Buckingham palace and witnessed the changing of the guards.
 Merlin observed that the English people feel that the Americans are superior to them and have a great deal of admiration and respect for the American nation. In comparing the German and English Merlin's impression is that the English are more quiet and observing and very diplomatic while militarism is emphasized in Germany. The German people are, as

When the Lundbergs left Wayne the first of July, they spent a few days in Washington and New York. They sailed July 8 on the Hansa of the Hamburg-American line, 1,400 American tourists going on the boat to Germany, England and the Scandinavian countries. Accommodations, meals and service were the best one could wish, and orchestras, picture shows, dances and games provided diversion. Radios and a daily newspaper printed on the ship kept the passengers in touch with the world.
 After stopping in France and England to allow passengers to disembark, the ship arrived at Cuxhaven, a half day's ride from Hamburg, Germany. The Lundbergs took the train to Hamburg and viewed a rich, level country side with abundant small grain crops in shock. They traveled from Hamburg to Berlin, to Stettin and then to the seaport of Sassnitz, covering much of northern Germany. Throughout that section they were favorably impressed with the country. Everywhere cleanliness was evident. Tiniest shacks had roses growing around them in neat gardens. No cans or rubbish piles were to be seen, and no paper was scattered on the streets. In fact Hamburg levies a fine of five marks on anyone who throws a piece of paper on the street. Every piece of ground not used for some special purpose is planted to roses. Flowers and grass line the edges of the canal, and flower boxes decorate the bridges. Most hotels and cafes face the canal or lake with the dining room out over the water so that patrons may enjoy the natural beauty.
 The Lundbergs took a trip down the Elbe river from Hamburg, this giving an excellent view of the wonderful old castles and mansions along the shores. Near Hamburg they visited the Hagenbach zoo where animals from all parts of the world are raised on the 500-acre tract. The natural habitat is provided for each and deep water-troughs prevent their escape. The zoo furnishes animals for circuses everywhere.

 Berlin is a clean, modern city of 3,000,000. The famous Lincolnsquare there impressed the Lundbergs. This street, 1 1/2 miles long, is a wide avenue through the heart of the city. Eight rows of ancient trees are planted its entire length, two rows on either side and four in the center. Seats are placed along the graveled walk in the center. Women dust the chairs almost constantly and one pays to rest on one of the chairs, though he may stay as long as he wishes.
Attention to Youth.
 Germany seems to pay special attention to young folks, Mr. Lundberg noted. The Wayne folks saw a group of about 500 children from Berlin, accompanied by a nurse, taken by bus to the seashore for a day's outing. Many times they saw groups of boys and girls, uniformed and with packs on their backs, starting for outings. On the countryside too one sees numerous summer camps for groups of young folks. One group of a dozen American boys took the boat to Germany to join the campers.
 A 26-mile trip from Berlin took the Lundbergs to Potsdam, the home of former rulers. The castle of Frederick the Great remains as it was during his life. Heavily carved furniture is untouched. Gardens, fountains and trees are kept up the same. The castle of William II is a magnificent place now open to tourists. Felt slippers are provided the sightseers to protect the floors which are inlaid with many beautiful woods. Each of the 43 rooms in the home of the former Kaiser is distinctive. Walls, ceiling and pillars in the shell room bear designs made from shells sent by rulers in all parts of the world. Theodore Roosevelt provided American seashells for a beautiful dragon. One room contains statues of heads of various nations, and Theodore Roosevelt's is included. Swedish sterling silver in floral design covers the walls of one room, many original paintings of great value are in others. There are music rooms and children's playrooms.
 The Wayne folks saw Jasper Eilers in Hamburg and found the former Wayne man well satisfied with Germany.
Visit In Sweden.
 Leaving Germany, the Lundbergs took a boat to Malmo, Sweden. They visited two sisters of Herman and Alfred Lundberg. They spent a couple of days in beautiful Stockholm and then crossed Sweden on the Jota canal, a boat trip which takes one through most picturesque scenery. About 200 were on the boat which moves slowly through the narrow waterway. From the Baltic sea entrance on the east the ship goes through 70 locks to be raised about 293 feet, and the lowering locks carrying the boat to the North sea on the west number about the same. In one party were 45 Egyptians, and many private yachts travel the canal.
 The Lundbergs visited Victor Carlsson in Sweden. Mr. and Mrs. Carlsson and their 17-year-old son have an attractive estate in a pleasant hilltop setting.
In City of Bicycles.
 The Wayne folks spent several days in Copenhagen, capital of Denmark. That modern city is beautiful and busy. Copenhagen has more bicycles than any other city. In the morning and evening when workers are on the streets the thoroughfares are crowded with cyclists. Tivole park of 400 acres is an attractive place at Copenhagen. Music halls in which orchestras and bands play, outside stage for plays, a large lake with a Danish schooner, peacock fountain with colored lights, buildings with the outside lighted in colored globes are among the attractions.
 The countries visited by the Lundbergs use mostly cars of American makes, though they are manufactured in those countries. One general type which seems peculiar to those countries is a car with glass around the sides and a top that rolls back and which is usually kept open. Mr. Lundberg inquired the price of Fords and learned that they range from 2,000 to 6,000 marks. The Fords, Chevrolets, Buicks and other American models are all used in large numbers.
 On their return the Wayne party went to Germany and then embarked on the St. Louis at Bremen on the Hamburg-American line. The return trip was also the most one could wish and the ship stopped in Halifax enroute to its destination in New York.

Crops Spotted In Middlewest Visitor Finds

Crops in Iowa and Nebraska are spotted and Wayne vicinity has some of the best, according to Fred Boschen of Edmond, Okla., who was here from Thursday until Monday visiting his sister, Mrs. Henry Eickhoff. Mr. Boschen went to Iowa and Nebraska and near Council Bluffs. It was spotted near Des Moines with some very good yields and some poor ones.
 Mr. Boschen raises Shropshire sheep and was looking for breeding stock when on his trip. The Boschen farm is 12 miles north of Oklahoma City, about 600 miles south of Wayne. The season is more advanced there and corn, which is raised on low lands, was "made some weeks ago. Small grains are raised chiefly near Edmond. Wheat made 35 bushels this year and sold for $1.12 at opening of the season. Barley and oats were also good, Mr. Boschen reports. Rich oil fields on which royalties sell as high as $3,000 an acre are numerous near Edmond.
 Mr. Boschen left Wayne in 1901 and this was Mr. Boschen's first trip back in seven years. He noticed many improvements here. Accompanying Mr. Boschen were his son, Henry, and the latter's wife and son.
Mrs. O. W. Hahn Rawlins Speaker
 Mrs. O. W. Hahn of Lincoln, formerly of Wayne, national president of the Legion Auxiliary, gave the principal address at the Wyoming department convention in Rawlins August 20.

Music - Dancing - Comedy

COMEDY MALE QUARTET
 PRETTY GIRLS
 MUSICAL SPECIALISTS

SPECIAL SCENERY
 8-PIECE BAND
 NEWEST STAGE DANCES

"BROADWAY ON PARADE"—A musical revue that moves with surprising smoothness through its varied routines, and wins the approval of the most critical judges of expert dancing and good singing, is scheduled to appear nightly at the Wayne County Fair, starting at 7:30. Shows of this type have improved vastly in the past few years, and are now equipped with the quality of talent and the kind of scenery and lighting effects that are essential in providing an evening of well worth while entertainment.

Musically "Broadway on Parade" offers a real innovation in outdoor musicals, carrying as it does, a first class group of experienced musicians; some of whom are specialists in their line. Proper music is a necessity in the modern musical show, the action being faster and the cues happening oftener than in the old type of revue.

Scenically—Time was when shows playing on the open-air stage gave an entire performance before a single diamond dye drop. But that day has passed also. "Broadway on Parade" has ornamented its show with a colorful array of up-to-date settings.

Vocally—An excellent male quartet, always appealing in shows of this nature, supplies some effective comedy as a side line to their vocal renditions.

With special lighting effects to enhance its beauty, a stage full of pretty girls, the newest creations in costumes, and a youthful cast, ambitious to please, "Broadway on Parade" has much to recommend it to all contemplating a visit to the Wayne County Fair.

Hilarious Comedy Acrobats

Novak & Fay

These two fellows seem to know just when and how to provoke unrestrained laughter. They never overdo their act, preferring to give the audience a little time now and then to think over the funny things they do and get the full benefit from them. So entangled do the bodies of these two funsters become when they perform their melange of acrobatics, many wonder how they can possibly emerge from the complications without broken bones.

... Thrilling Magic Show ...

To La Temple and company must go credit for producing one of the most novel attractions to be seen at any fair this year. In securing this attraction as a feature of its grandstand program, the management of the Wayne County Fair is giving a convincing example of its desire to bring to its patrons the final word in outdoor entertainment.

The La Temple Company will bring to this year's fair patrons a magic act of unusually high merit, and an act that was conceived and produced especially for the open-air stage. All the paraphernalia used by this master-magician was constructed large enough that all might easily see what was going on, even though they might be sitting in a distant part of the grandstand. For example: La Temple performs the famous "Hospital Milk Can Escape" trick, but he uses a specially constructed milk can so that all can see and understand the idea of the illusion. When he performs the thrilling "walking through a solid piece of plate glass" illusion, no one need miss a single feature of the performance, as La Temple built the propertarian used large enough to be easily seen two or three hundred feet away.

English Miss Thrills With America And Starts To Realize Ambition

"New York is wonderful! In fact all America is wonderful! But it's a little difficult to become accustomed to some American foods such as iced tea, salad with mayonnaise, corn on the cob and highly spiced pickles." These are the opinions of comely Eileen Collier, little English miss who came to Wayne Saturday with Miss Margaret Schemel who was exchange professor of modern languages at Royds hall, Huddersfield, England, the past year.

Eileen, who was 14 years old August 18, wins one's heart at first sight. She stands 5 feet, 5 inches tall and weighs a little over seven stones in English measure, which means about 100 pounds in American figuring, for a stone is 14 pounds. Eileen has sparkling brown eyes and a wealth of wavy brown hair. She speaks with a rich Yorkshire accent which fits well with her shy politeness.

Huddersfield, Leeds and Bradford are English cities close together in the midst of the woolen textile industry. In Huddersfield, with a population of 125,000, rows after row of black stone houses 50 to 100 years old, built one against another, seem to creep and crawl over a beautiful landscape. No yards or trees—only the old houses blackened by smoke from the numerous factories. Wealthy factory owners live in beautiful estates out from the cities.

Each of these cities has old mansions which are now converted into schools. Royds hall occupies one of these mansions, the former property of Sir Joseph Crossland. The school for about 500 junior high and high school students, is public and coeducational, which is unusual in England. Honor students, in which group Eileen classified, may attend without cost. Others pay $75 per semester.

English pupils are required to attend school until they are 14. Then if they must earn a livelihood they usually enter either the civil service or the factories. The civil service, which is more of a career in England than in America, is open to young folks who are especially capable. Those who have difficulty in passing civil service tests, usually enter industrial work in factories. Eileen would likely have gone into civil service if she had remained in England.

Each school in England is distinguished by its color and hat band. Royds hall students wear brown uniforms.

Eileen would have been in her last year at Royds hall which corresponds to the senior in high school here. She has had three years of French, two of German, three of history, three of English, three of domestic science, chemistry and several other subjects during her training in Royds hall. She was in Miss Schemel's German class. Eileen proved exceptionally capable as a student and her chief interest lies in modern languages. She likes sports, especially hockey, cricket, tennis, netball, swimming and bicycling.

When Miss Schemel went to Huddersfield a year ago she made it known that at the end of the year she would provide an American education for some worthy boy or girl whose parents were willing. Six pupils, three boys and three girls, became interested and gradually the choice dwindled down to two boys and one girl. And Eileen was chosen from the three.

Eileen's mother is a widow. The Collier family also includes a girl 3 years old and a boy 16. Eileen was ambitious to come to America to acquire training so that she might teach modern languages in this country. After the girl's desires were known, the head master of Royds hall and a lawyer consulted with the child and her mother. Both men urged Mrs. Collier to allow Eileen the privilege and the mother gave her consent. Adoption is not possible in England unless both parents are dead so that guardianship papers were drawn up.

Miss Schemel and Eileen left Huddersfield early in August and spent three days in London before sailing on the Aquatania, which made a record run to New York. The two spent 10 days in New York and Eileen was delighted with everything she saw, though she did not betray the thrills she felt. Eileen also liked the trip to Nebraska. The two spent several days in Lincoln with Miss Schemel's mother, Mrs. Emma Schemel, before coming to Wayne.

In only a month Miss Schemel finds that Eileen is fast becoming adjusted to American ways. Some expressions used in England and here are occasionally puzzling. Eileen did not at first understand the meaning of the question, "Are you through?" She would have asked, "Have you finished?" Eileen thought a handkerchief was a gift for Mrs. Schemel and explained that she should "carry it straight away." This puzzled Mrs. Schemel until Eileen's meaning was explained, as "I hope you will find pleasure in using it."

Lincoln on her birthday and she hopes to have her attain full citizenship by the time she completes her college course in Wayne. Eileen will then be able to realize her ambition of teaching in schools of America.

Early Days In Wayne County

Early Days from the Wayne Herald, for September 8, 1921: Rollic Miller of Wayne, and Miss Susie Adamson of Fullerton, were married September 6, 1921. A son was born September 1, 1921, to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hachmeier.

Lloyd Texley bought Ed. Kalkoff's interest in the west garage at Carroll. Rev. F. M. Drulliner returned to Carroll after a tour with a chaletauqua company. Owen Rees, Annapolis naval academy student, was visiting in Carroll. He just returned from a trip to Norway and the North sea. Iver Prince of Winside, fell from a hay mow and broke one of his arms.

Anton Jensen of Winside, was badly burned about the face and eyes when a battery exploded when he was working at a garage in Winside. Barbara Dewey, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Dewey of Winside, died September 1, 1921. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Kai of Leslie, September 1, 1921.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kai of Leslie, September 4, 1921. Mrs. Ferdinand Schermer, 63, died at Hoskins September 4, 1921. Mrs. Carl Schellenberg died at Hoskins September 4, 1921, at the age of 84.

Fire resulted in considerable damage to the kitchen and dining room in the Logan hotel at Wakefield. V. C. Linden bought the former First National building in Wakefield and will use it for a tailoring shop.

From the Wayne Herald for September 12, 1901: Potatoes will be very scarce this winter. Dr. F. E. Gamble, osteopath, has started to practice at Ponca. Lightning struck two wheat stacks at Eph Beckenbauer's. Johnny Shuster had two fingers partially taken off when cutting shingles at a hardware store.

Heavy rains have put the ground in excellent condition for fall plowing. Wm. Wheeler, former editor of the Wakefield paper, has bought a paper at Oak Lake, Manitoba. O. D. Franks has begun a new building at First and Main streets.

The college opened with half more students enrolled than any previous year. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mellor were in Omaha to attend the funeral of Mrs. Fred Castle. August Piepenstock went to San Antonio, Texas, to attend grand lodge of the Sons of Herman. Nels Grimm had eight and John Grimm two stacks of wheat by fire.

The Edwards & Bradford store at Hoskins, was entered and robbed of a revolver and tools. The R. G. Rohrer store at Hoskins, was also entered at the same time and a new safe was demolished. From Ponca Journal for August 23, 1877: "Land which now sells for $5 to $10 an acre will double in price." Prof. M. S. Davies who teaches music with great success here, will give another concert. A total eclipse of the moon will take place tonight.

60 H.P. FORD V.8

Everyone comes up with a different answer on gas mileage, because everyone drives differently. But nothing can obscure the fact that the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 is setting an entirely new standard of fuel economy. We're getting reports from owners ranging well above 25 miles per gallon—some considerably more than that under favorable circumstances.

And this new V-8 engine has made possible not only big savings in operating costs, but the lowest Ford price in years! If you haven't driven the 1937 Ford V-8 with both the 85 and the 60-horsepower engines, you have no idea of the modern values in the low-price field. Come in and bring yourself up-to-date with a ride.
