

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1937.

NUMBER TWENTYSEVEN

Years Since Dark Fate Descended - Passing Time Gives Rise to Speculations - Sargo Yields Well - Ex-King's Proposed Visit Stirr Official Circles.

It was at 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon of October 12, 1935, that fate dealt a major blow to us in the loss of our eldest daughter, Olive. Since then, many others have gone the way of our loved one. Many we knew well and esteemed highly have passed on, leaving broken ties that do not knit together. Only such extremely personal losses lead one fully to know how the other fellow feels, to appreciate the unfathomable mystery ahead.

In two years the world has been running amuck. Internecine wars is raking Spain with fiery shells without mercy. Slaughter and ruin mark the course of invading Japs in China. Sanguinary Mars threatens to involve all Europe in useless carnage. At home, we have become suspicious and uneasy lest this country slip away from the moorings forged by the blood of Revolutionary fathers. Thus, the world has been grievously beset by the evils of selfish ambition the last two years.

The lust for blood and power, multiplied injustices and cruelties would outrage disembodied entities, if they were as sensitive to material brutalities in the spirit as they were in the flesh. But we can conceive that perishable bodies are, as temporary tenements, of little consequence in eternity's appraisal. We can see that pains and sorrows—perhaps often as corrective by spirit forces as passing and inevitable distress incident to a different existence, above and wholly apart from matter. So, we wonder and speculate, reaching the conclusion that our earnest desire to save persons we know were sensitive and highly sympathetic from sensing the world's tortures would be amply met by an all-wise divine order. What the finite mind thinks and hopes must reasonably be surpassed by transcendent reality.

What have we learned the last two years? We have learned that no material loss can compare with the loss of a precious daughter whose fine motives and unselfish love were a constant inspiration. We have been increasingly impressed by the futility of worldly gain as compared with the value of spiritual truths. We inquire and search for grounds to support the theory of immortality because we want to be strengthened in our belief. Without immortality we are convinced creation would have been an endless series of stark tragedies with no worthy purpose. But with released spirits caught up on seraphic wings and evaluated according to a perfect standard, we can understand compensations that lie beyond the curtain.

Creation must be sensible or it would not last. Its only reasonable justification is found in continuity—a steadily unfolding of life started in a world ever testing wits and courage and endurance. Even Huxley, scientist, who claimed to be an agnostic, said: "As for the strong conviction that the cosmic order is rational, and the faith that, throughout all duration, unbroken order has reigned in the universe, I not only accept it, but I am disposed to think it the most important of all truths."

All who have partaken of life's bitterest cup may be buoyed and sustained by what is reasonably expected ahead. On this anniversary of an event that cast a permanent shadow, we can sympathize more profoundly with those similarly bereft. While the world can never seem the same, all can bend to their allotted tasks with determination to handle them as departed admirers and well wishers would have them handled. Fortitude and hope are not only consistent with the experience of the ages, but vitally essential in steadying mortals before reaching the final earthly goal and crossing over.

Great Crop of Sargo. On low ground at his farm just east of town, E. F. Shields has just cut a wonderfully luxuriant crop of sargo. He had four acres. The stalks were so tall—eight feet or more—that he had to cut them with a specially arranged machine. He realized much more silage than he had expected. Sargo seems to stand about better than corn, and it is considered a good substitute for corn in feeding value. Certainly, Mr. Shields had a bumper crop.

Ex-King Annoys Statesmen. Because an ex-king ever visited the United States and because the Duke of Windsor and wife propose to come here, a good deal of uneasy stir has been caused in the state department at Washington. The ex-king's move to break precedent is causing apprehension both in Washington and London. We can't see why. So many precedents have been broken in this country in the last few years that

Itinerant Is Killed In Boarding Freight

Albert Casey Slips Beneath Box Car At Wakefield Early Wednesday.

Trying to board a moving freight train at the Wakefield depot Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock, Albert "Bill" Casey, about 65, itinerant, was instantly killed. His lifeless body was found at daybreak by Night Watchman Reuben Linder, Sheriff Sam Curry of Ponca, who was called to serve as coroner, pronounced the death accidental.

Casey was a familiar character in northeast Nebraska. He wandered from one town to another, carrying a sack in which he collected discarded bottles and trinkets.

The body was taken to the T. C. Hyppes parlor in Wakefield and effort is being made to locate a brother in Sioux City before planning the funeral.

Some years ago Casey and a brother had a cafe at Randolph. Later both had the urge to travel and started on the road. The brother died in Oklahoma a year ago last Christmas. Another brother is thought to be in the cafe business in Sioux City. Deceased his relatives at Randolph and Belden.

Couple Marry In Home At Norfolk

Marjorie Pumphrey Becomes Bride of R. G. Fuelberth Of This Place.

Miss Marjorie Pumphrey, daughter of Mrs. Clara Pumphrey of Norfolk, and R. G. Fuelberth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fuelberth of Hartington, were married Sunday morning of last week at 8:30 at the home of the bride's mother. Only immediate friends and relatives were present.

The bride wore a blue street length dress and carried yellow roses. Mrs. Braden Carhart, her attendant, wore a rust colored dress. Mr. Carhart, best man, and Mr. Fuelberth wore dark suits.

Following the service a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Fuelberth left for Detroit and a trip into Canada, returning to Wayne Saturday.

Mrs. Fuelberth is a graduate of Norfolk high school and has been employed in the Norfolk telephone office. Mr. Fuelberth is a graduate of Hartington high school and attended Wayne State Teachers college. He is employed at the T. & W. garage and is manager of the Farmers and Merchants filling station.

The couple will make their home in Wayne at 314 1/2 Sherman street.

Wayne people attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones, Bonnell Jones, Mrs. E. W. Pratt and Mr. and Mrs. Braden Carhart.

Pictures Shown For Kiwanis

Club Plans Closed Meeting Next Monday To Discuss Group Problems.

Kiwanians were shown motion pictures through the courtesy of W. C. Coryell Monday following the regular noonday luncheon at Hotel Stratton. Prof. W. R. Hickman furnished the machine. The name of the film was "Progress on Parade."

Prof. O. R. Bowen gave the birthdays for the past two weeks as those of Noah Webster, James Whitcomb Riley, Charles A. Arthur and Rutherford B. Hayes.

G. B. Sanberg and W. C. Coryell had O. A. Lindquist of Denver, B. A. Bowman and E. B. Bilson of Chicago, as their guests. Mr. Lindquist who is on the Denver police force, spoke briefly and stressed the fact that policemen encourage safety. The number of deaths by automobile accidents every day frightens a person in making trips. Men and women who are courteous in other walks of life, change when driving. Mr. Lindquist stated.

The club directors and chairmen of committees met Monday evening at the Peoples National Gas company office. The Kiwanis club will have a closed meeting next Monday noon to discuss club problems.

PAID LEADERSHIP URGENT NEED FOR WAYNE'S BUSINESS

ANY public enterprise depends largely on the leadership of one person. There may be department heads or different committees and a liberal measure of cooperation, but there cannot be satisfactory results unless one authorized individual constantly arouses coordinated effort. There is too much shifting of responsibility, too much waiting for the other fellow. Passing the buck delays plans and often defeats purposes. Therefore, what is urgently needed in Wayne is a chamber of commerce and a paid leader to execute a constructive program. Public functions and promotion ideas could be handled easier and cheaper by a responsible head paid to give service and responding to the majority wishes of the business group. Wayne is more favorably situated, with reference to crop production than most other points in the state, and an opportunity for development needs united action. This may be realized by an organization behind a paid leader.

PASSES AWAY AT HOME IN WAYNE

Rites Will Be Conducted For William Mitchell Next Saturday.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Wm. Mitchell, 38, who died Wednesday morning at his home in Wayne. Rev. W. F. Dierking will be in charge of services at the Hixcox parlors. Sghrt services and burial will be held at Laurel.

William Robert Mitchell was born in Missouri October 8, 1899. He had lived in Wayne and community for about the past ten years. Deceased married Miss Birdie Phillips. To this union were born three children, Francis, Donald and Darlene.

On July 31, 1933, Mr. Mitchell married Mrs. Dorothy Warren at Sioux Falls, S. D. They have lived in Wayne since.

Mr. Mitchell had undergone an operation here several weeks ago and later was in Omaha for treatments, returning home Tuesday evening. He had not been well for a year.

FUNERAL RITES ARE CONDUCTED

Fred D. Potras Dies Here After Sudden Attack Of Heart Trouble.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at 1 at the Beckenhauer parlors in Wayne and at 3 in the Presbyterian church in Lyons for Fred D. Potras, almost 81, who died here Thursday morning, October 7. Rev. Carl G. Bader, Methodist pastor, officiated here and Miss Bethel Andersen, accompanied by Miss Hazel Reeve, sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me." Rev. Cordery officiated at Lyons. Burial was in the Lyons cemetery.

Early in the current year Mr. Potras began failing with heart ailment but he continued active until October 3 when, while in Lyons on business, he suffered an acute heart attack. Neighbors brought him to Wayne Monday noon last week. Mr. Potras seemed to respond to treatment but died suddenly last Thursday morning.

Fred D. Potras, one of five children, was born at Lorab, Ill., November 15, 1856. In 1886 he came west with his parents and settled at Clearwater, Neb. He married Miss Helen Libbey at Lyons December 25, 1881, and to this union four children were born. Mr. Potras spent the greater part of his mature life on a farm east of Lyons. In later years he moved into Lyons where he lived until September, 1936, when he came to Wayne to make his home with his daughter, Miss Coila Potras.

Mr. Potras was reared in the Roman Catholic faith but, marrying a Protestant, he supported the church of his wife. His outstanding characteristics were profound honesty, generosity, kindness and neighborliness.

Surviving Mrs. Potras are his wife, Mrs. Helen Potras, two daughters, Miss Coila Potras of Wayne and Mrs. D. K. Sevy of Fremont, and one son, Howard of Wayne. One son, Edwin, died in 1900 at the age of 12. There are seven grandchildren. Mr. Potras also leaves his youngest brother, George Potras of Hulet, Wyo.

Out of town relatives here for the rites were Nora Potras, Louise Niehosen, Lella Luban and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chambers and Joanne of Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Olmsted of Petersburg, Mr. and Mrs. Oza Grenier and Mary and Esther of Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hansen and Belva of Tilden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hansen and Mrs. Adler Ponton of Ewing, and the John Bowers family of Fremont.

Plans Progress For Homecoming

Miss Schemel Speaks At Convocation On English Impressions.

Plans are progressing for the Wayne State Teachers college homecoming October 30. Miss Margaret Schemel is chairman of the buffet luncheon to be served Saturday evening after the football game with Chadron. Wm. E. Johnson of Schuyler, is chairman of the program for the lunch. It is planned to hold a business meeting of the alumni at that time. A float parade will be held in the morning and a dance that evening.

Prof. E. J. Huntmer is chairman of a dinner to be held in Norfolk at the Oxnard hotel during the teachers' convention for Wayne students at the convention. It is planned to have a Wayne dinner at each convention headquarters.

Speakers At Convocation.

Miss Margaret Schemel spoke at convocation Wednesday morning on her impressions during exchange year of teaching at Leeds, England. The speaker linked Huddersfield with Yorkshire and remarked that the former is one of the most beautiful and varied regions of Yorkshire. It represents the three classes, aristocratic, middle and poor. The school in which Miss Schemel taught is unique in that it caters to two classes of students, those of ability and those

Former Resident Dies In Kansas

Fred Larsen, 54, resident of Wayne some years ago, died Sunday in Kansas after being in ill health for some time. The body was shipped to Sidney for funeral rites and burial.

Mr. Larsen, who had not married, leaves several brothers and sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larsen and son and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Larsen of Gurley, who came Saturday to visit relatives, left Sunday for Sidney on receiving word of the death of the men's brother.

Couple Marries At Chadron Church

Miss Gwendolyn Mulvey Is Bride Of Melvin Betzine Last Monday.

Miss Gwendolyn Mulvey, daughter of James Mulvey of Gordon and granddaughter of Mrs. Emma Baker of Wayne, was married October 4 to Melvin Betzine of Chadron at the Catholic parsonage.

The bride wore a long black velvet dress with which she wore a silver cross. She was attended by the superintendent of the Chadron hospital where she has been a nurse.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Betzine left for a trip to Denver. On their return they will reside in Chadron where Mr. Betzine is employed in a bank.

Autumn Wedding Held At Church

Miss Gertrude Wolter Is Bride Of William Klein Sunday Afternoon.

At a very pretty fall wedding Sunday afternoon, October 10, at 2:30 in Immanuel Lutheran church northeast of Wayne, Miss Gertrude Wolter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wolter, became the bride of Mr. William Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Klein of Battle Creek. The young folks are spending a few days in the Wolter home and will take a trip into Iowa before going to the bridegroom's farm near Battle Creek.

Immanuel church, decorated in yellow and orchid cut flowers, was crowded to capacity Sunday with relatives and friends who gathered on the beautiful autumn day for the marriage service. Prof. Robert Degner played "Let Us Walk With Jesus" as the bridal party entered the church, led by the ushers, Clarence Wolter, brother of the bride, and Oscar Klein, brother of the bridegroom, who wore oxford gray. Following the ushers were two bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Kohlmeier, cousin of the bride, dressed in green brocaded satin of floor length and with corsage of pink roses and snapdragons, and Miss Clara Klein, sister of the bridegroom, dressed in floor length orchid tulle and wearing corsage of yellow roses and snapdragons.

WORDS OF PRAISE HEARD FOR LOCAL AUTUMN FESTIVAL

THE Herald has heard many expressions of appreciation over the way the late autumn festival was carried out. The day's series of events pleased everybody. Good order has been mentioned. Absence of gambling schemes was a source of favorable comment. The purpose was not to inveigle visitors into spending their money. It was a good-will day, and no strings were attached to it. Young men of the community were instrumental in planning and putting over the program in triumphant fashion. They are pleased to accept the resulting good feeling as ample reward. More such good-will days would bring families of the outlying territory into closer touch with the spirit of fellowship predominantly vibrant in the business district of Wayne.

GOLDEN WEDDING TO BE OBSERVED

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kostomlatsky And William Orr Are To Be Honored.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kostomlatsky will be honored at a reception given from 3 to 7 Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ashley and Miss Louise Ashley at their home, 3714 Jackson street, Sioux City, their golden wedding anniversary being next Tuesday. About 100 relatives and friends are invited. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Orr and sons, Wm. Orr, Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh and family, Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hufford and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hixcox are among those who plan to go from Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Kostomlatsky, the latter formerly Miss Kate Steadman, were married at Vinton, Ia., October 19, 1887. They lived in Sioux City a number of years before coming to Wayne. In recent years they have divided their time between Sioux City and Wayne. The Kostomlatsky have one daughter, Mrs. C. A. Orr of Wayne, and two sons, Fred of Milwaukee, and Matt of McGregor, Ia. There are two grandsons, Carroll and William Orr of Wayne. All plan to attend the anniversary celebration. Mrs. L. E. A. Smith of Sioux City, former Wayne resident, who attended the Kostomlatsky wedding 50 years ago, will be one of the reception guests.

Besides being the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Kostomlatsky, next Tuesday is also the 80th birthday of Wm. Orr. That evening Mrs. C. A. Orr and Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh will entertain at a family dinner in the Orr home for the three. Wedding and birthday cakes will center the tablas. Mr. and Mrs. Kostomlatsky will come here the first of the week for the winter months.

Rain And Warmth Bring Blossoms

Apple trees, snowball bushes and clematis vines have blossomed again since the recent fall rains and warm weather.

Dachshunds Are Sold

Five puppies born to Wm. Lerner's dachshund have been an interesting sight. The father of the dogs came from Hamburg, Germany. Three of the pups were sold this week and shipped to Lincoln.

Members of the county 4-H baby, beef club and their fathers will be special guests. Other organizations will be invited to participate.

Prof. W. A. Wollenhaupt, head of the commercial department at Wayne State Teachers' college, spoke on the subject, "Retail Selling."

European Trip Is Subject Of Talk

College High Junior Class Will Present Play In Early November.

Miss Lenore Ramsey spoke to students of the Wayne State Teachers college training school Wednesday morning about her trip to Europe.

Members of the junior class have been practicing on the play, "Adventures of Tom Sawyer," which is to be presented November 11 and 12. The first act has been completely worked out and students are on the second act. The production staff is finding properties and costumes.

Many of the high school students plan to go to Laurel, Mo. for the football game there Friday. Students are allowed to attend one out of town game each year.

Monday night the seventh grade enjoyed a wiener roast. They hiked to the end of Windom street to the edge of the Perry farm and played football, baseball and had a picnic. Wanda Olson was general chairman. Amanda Holm was the practice teacher in charge. Miss Alwine Luers was a guest.

Second grade pupils have been reading about a trip through the national forest, supplemented by a set of lantern pictures and by first hand impressions by children who have been through the forest.

Prof. G. W. Hildreth and Prof. E. L. Rouse, both instructors in the Chadron Teachers college, visited the training school Monday. Prof. Hildreth is superintendent of the Chadron training school and Prof. Rouse is in the department of education.

First Six Weeks Of School Ended

Dental Honor Roll Is Kept To Encourage Care Of Students' Teeth.

First six-week period at the Wayne high school ends October 16. Report cards will be issued the following Tuesday. Students met with their advisors Tuesday.

Students of advisory groups have organized a dental honor roll. Each student, as he has his teeth checked, reports to his advisor. Each student is striving to eat proper foods for good teeth and is brushing his teeth at least once a day.

A program will be held tomorrow, sponsored by the pep club. The football team plays at Wakefield Friday afternoon and many high school students are planning to attend.

The National Thespian society will meet Thursday evening at 7:30. Miss Beatrice Fuller is the sponsor.

Alvise Walker of Whiting, Ia., visited school the first of the week with Barbara and Marjorie Hook, Bernice Smothers of Sioux City, enrolled as a freshman in high school Monday.

Millard Hurbert and Willard Hale, jr., left Tuesday for C. C. camp. They will take examinations in Madison before being assigned to a camp.

Alfred Sievers returned to school Friday after being out because of illness.

Library News. For the use of vocational guidance and science classes, a number of new pamphlets have been received at the library. These are: Mental Hygiene by Thompson, Manners and Personality in School and Business by Irwin, Personal Hurdles by Irwin and Waugh, Alcohol Talks To Youth by Hamlin and Learning To Be Likable by Myers.

Junior High News. Eleven books, mostly fiction, were presented to the junior high library by Miss Pearl Sewell, county superintendent.

The beginning art class in the high school is doing sketching of people. The last of the week the students sketched trees.

James Baskie of Holdrege, and Robert Stull are new students enrolled in the eighth grade.

The seventh grade geography class has been making booklets about China. A special study is being made of the Chinese people including the present China-Japanese war.

A study of the Revolutionary war is being made by the eighth grade history class. Some of the students are modeling busts of Washington from soap.

Bonnell Grier, Marjorie Fitch, Carol Jean Nicholaisen, Josephine Penn, Betty Pile, Shirley Powers and Myla Thomas received 100's in spelling last week.

Sixth graders wrote letters to Paul Siple in appreciation for the book written by him on his expedition with Byrd. The best letter in the room will be sent.

In the spelling contest between the sixth and seventh grades last week the results were: Seventh, 98 and 2-7; sixth, 93 and 13-19.

Marjorie Berg and Patty Thompson are leading in library reading. Each has read eight books.

With In Football. The junior high boys of the high school defeated the junior high of the training school by a score of 18 to 0 in a football game played last week. Robert Stull made the three touchdowns for the high school.

G. A. A. had a business meeting Tuesday. The girls had a party Saturday evening, the former members entertaining the new ones at games and luncheon in the school. A hike is planned for next Saturday.

Grade Notes. Mary Ruth Smothers is a new pupil in the fifth grade. She transferred from Sioux City. Betty Jewell Britton of Holdrege, is also a new student.

The fifth grade had no tardies the first four weeks of school. Eleanor Benthack brought fish and a plant to school. Benny Ulrich brought a grapefruit plant and Marjie Davis and Howard Sala brought plants. Charles Horrell brought a lucky bean plant.

Fourth graders are learning the parts of the most important modes of travel. This is correlating with the transportation project.

Phyllis Ratelle of Holdrege, enrolled in the fourth grade the first of the week.

Norman Rockwell and Wilma Reiners are the first students to receive green stars for good writing.

Nature Study Club.

Members of the third and fourth grades with their teachers took a nature study hike Monday evening. They found 14 different kinds of leaves which they are pressing and mounting. Trees seen are a white birch at Mrs. A. McEachen's, poplar at Herman Lundberg's, weeping willow at Fred Berry's and some hackberry trees. Third graders are planning to write stories which tell the names of trees which are their friends and animals which have tree friends. Miss Hazel Reeve plans to maintain a nature study table throughout the winter.

The unit of work on pioneering correlates with the nature study in that the early pioneers lived out of doors. An Indian tabby has been started and Jimmy Lane Thomas has made a log cabin. A frieze depicting early travel is also being made.

Five toy flutes have been added to the rhythm band. Each child will be taught to play the scale.

Children of the second grade are writing original captions for pictures in their pet books and are also writing original stories about pets. The pupils observed Columbus day by writing stories about Columbus and drawing pictures of his ships.

Nicholas Ratelle of Holdrege, is a new student in the second grade. The first graders observed Columbus day and had a story on Columbus. The pupils are also working on their ABC workbooks.

The kindergarten room is being decorated with free hand cut autumn leaves. The children are also learning the common leaves. Norma Jean Clark is a new student in the first grade.

The political science class invited Congressman Karl Stefan to speak to the class but he was unable to do so. It is hoped that he can be here before the special session of Congress.

Spelling will be instituted in the high school the second six weeks in the English classes. Two thousand words will be taught to the students.

Autumn Wedding Held At Church

She wore floor length gown of yellow tulle and carried an arm bouquet of yellow and orchid chrysanthemums. Orchid flowers were in her hair.

Miss Wolter entered with her father. The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin in princess fashion with slight train and trimmed with lace. Her long cap-style veil was held in place with a band of pearls. Miss Wolter carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses, orchid daisies and white snapdragons.

Mr. Klein and his brother, Conrad Klein, who served as best man, met the bridal party at the altar. Rev. F. C. Doctor read the marriage vows using the single ring service. Rev. C. J. Gundersman of Battle Creek, gave the address afterward. The congregation sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and Prof. Degner played for the recessional "Jesus Still Leads On."

The bridal couple received the congratulations of relatives and friends at the church entrance after which they went to the bride's home where about 100 invited guests were entertained at three-course dinner. The bride's colors of orchid, green and yellow were carried out in home decorations, also in flowers, tapers and place-cards on the tables. A large wedding cake baked by the bride's mother centered the bridal table. The chosen colors were used in the dinner menu.

Miss Elda Guhl of Lyons, Miss Leona Werner of Meadow Grove, Miss Luella Wolter of Dixon, Miss Nadine Sukstorf of Cedar Bluffs, Miss Lila Fisher and Miss Lola Doctor served the guests. The young women wore dark dresses, colored aprons and head bands of hearts.

Mrs. Klein is a graduate of Wakefield high school and attended Wayne college two years. She taught nine years, the last four at St. Peter's Lutheran church at Battle Creek. Mr. Klein owns a farm near Battle Creek.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Klein and family, Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Gundersman and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Volk and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Werner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenstein and Miss Emma Hohenstein of Battle Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Werner and Frances and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Grant of Meadow Grove, Mr. and Mrs. J. ### Pasture Records Being Completed Pasture records of farmers entered in the 1937 Nebraska pasture contest are being completed. Gilbert Webster of Lincoln, was here Monday to assist Agent Walter Moller in this.

Seventeen of the 18 who entered the contest in Wayne county have completed their records. Reports indicate that most permanent pastures, blue grass, bromegrass and other grasses and mixtures, have not been able to stand up under dry weather and heavy grazing.

A. T. Claycomb, two miles northeast of Wayne, has 128 acres of blue grass pasture on which he has been able to keep a good stand with careful management.

Most of the pasture contestants have had no resort to a combination of temporary pastures mainly of fall seeded rye, sweet clover and sudan grass. John H. Owens of Carroll, has such a combination proving that considerable pasture can be produced by these crops even in dry weather.

The annual pasture clinic and banquet will be held in Omaha soon and a group of Wayne county farmers will attend to hear a discussion of pasture problems.

The meetings will be held in the Methodist church starting at 9:30 in the morning with luncheon at noon. A Swedish tea will be held at the close of the afternoon meeting in the Wausa library.

Members of the Wayne Business and Professional Women's department have been invited to attend.

Compliance Reports Are Being Finished

Completion of the 1937 agricultural conservation program is progressing in Wayne county. This consists of taking final compliance reports, inspection of stands of grasses and legumes and measurement of new fields or divisions of new fields which were measured in 1936. One set of measurements will be sufficient on most farms so that the checking will progress rapidly.

Cooperators who have made seedings of legumes and grasses in 1937 and who have not filed their purchase slips in the county office are asked to have them available and turn them to the farm reporter when he calls. One reporter is working in each precinct and will visit each farm entered in the 1937 program within two weeks.

Columbus day was observed with special numbers; "Hearty Sailor Lads Are We" and "A Perfect Day" are new songs being learned.

Bell School. Erma Gabelman, Teacher.

If friends were to visit patrons they would probably find a dark house with a few weird jack-o'-lanterns in the windows to greet them. This is in keeping with the season and also a way of keeping Indians away. Because the pupils forgot to place their lanterns in the school windows the Indians came in and made their home on the sand table. They have several camps along a running stream. Pupils dressed the Indian dolls; and cradles were made for the baby Indians. Stories are being read about Indians, and moccasins were made. Pupils dressed themselves as Indians and played real Indian games.

Raymond Roberts and Carroll Munson were unable to attend school Monday.

The Executive State of Mind
 MARK Sullivan, columnist, tries to analyze the president's mental twists. The writer says the president is determined to have his own way, and doesn't want even congress or the supreme court to appear above him. Sullivan thinks he is taking the country in the direction of dictatorship quite unconsciously. He says his lungs depart from the American system, sometimes in the direction of fascism and sometimes in the direction of communism really without intending to do so.

Sullivan points out that the president is angered by interference, though he tries to be smilingly calm. And Sullivan suggests that anyone suffering an emotion of anger cannot exercise sound judgment. That revelation is in conflict with the president's invitation for criticism early in his first term. But he has evidently changed his mind—a Roosevelt prerogative.

Knowing more of the president's disposition, congress should be keyed up more than ever to an attitude of resistance—to consider carefully proposed measures and act with more of an eye to the future of the country and less to gratify the whims of an insistent administration. The stronger the demands to chart new courses—too many courses apparently having already been charted—the more hesitant and deliberate the two law-making bodies should become in the interest of safety. Belief that members of the senate and house will do their own thinking and not defer the task to the executive branch gives substantial hope.

Breathing Hot and Cold
 It seems almost irrelevant for anyone to call attention to the inconsistencies in the government's planning. That is what B. C. Forbes in Forbes' magazine has had the temerity to do. He points out that the oil industry was most laudably obedient to its code under the dethroned NRA, but that its continued observance of NRA principles has aroused prosecution. The NRA was designed to prevent price-cutting, and this so pleased the oil industry that the plan was kept up. Then the evil of price-fixing and consumer-soaking appealed to another set of New Deal brain lobes. As the formerly loved NRA idea did not apply, it was lightly brushed aside.

Forbes says: "Under our New Deal system of administering national affairs, conduct which one day is officially extolled is next day officially excoriated." Bald inconsistency is shown in this paragraph of the Forbes article: "Washington is eager to punish industrialists for submitting identical bids for their products. Yet Washington quite recently enacted a law to regiment most rigidly the coal industry so as to banish price-cutting." Forbes suggests: "The further 'planning' is carried, the more impossible its feasibility, its soundness become."

Rules For Longevity
 AN Oklahoma doctor is so successful in managing a school for people past 70 in his home state that he thinks he will start one for boys and girls between 60 and 69. He prescribed this course for those who want to live to be 100: "Eat three light meals a day and only alkaline foods. Have a job you like. Have lots of friends and read the newspapers for current affairs. Stop grumbling and don't talk about old age or pains. Don't preach against the younger generation. Get out with young people. Dance a jig. Don't sleep more than six hours a day. Have so many interests that you need the extra time to pursue them."

In his radio broadcast—sugared under the name of a "fireside chat"—President Roosevelt likened limited crop production to controlled shoe manufacturing. The example would be all right if the weather were not an element more powerful than the New Deal. After Secretary Wallace has prepared blueprints on what the country should produce and ordered farmers to act accordingly, along comes a drought, blast of hail or wind or a cloud of grasshoppers and knocks bureaucratic figuring into a cocked hat. Agriculture will always have to consult the weather, and the most practical way to insure harmony and plenty and meet the vaunted "normal granary" idea would seem to be to store surplus and not try to command the sun and the rain. The shoe manufacturer is hoeing an entirely different row.

We have received and read a magazine describing a new religious belief—at least new to us. All the many branches of the Christian religion diverge from the great central figure in that religion, but vary in manners of interpretation. Each is certain its way is the correct one to afford relief and give assurance. As one may logically conclude, every form of religion contains a degree of truth and leads in the right direction. Teachings of the Nazarene may well be accepted to guide thinking and acting, and when the great mystery is reached, it will likely be found that practice of the precepts of any religion will aid adjustment to a strange condition. It will likely be found no religion is infallible and none wholly mistaken.

Compensations to employers and employees are quite equal, we would say. If the fellow on the payroll envies his employer, he should be willing to accept his responsibility and long hours. Whatever larger returns are realized by the employer are absorbed by increased costs imposed by needs of government and of the public service. If the employer happens to be riding in a better car or living in a better house, he is probably less content than the employee who enjoys comparative freedom after working hours. The individual who proves himself able to pilot along a business or industry successfully enough to insure employment should be farthest from thought as an object of envy.

A fellow who came here from Cozad to hulk corn, reminded us we have corn to hulk. He says the elements took the corn around Cozad as they did in other southwestern parts of the state; but most Nebraska farmers who have suffered from a series of bad years, are determined to hang on, confident that normal years of abundance will return—next year, everybody hopes.

In a speech, Matthew Woll, chairman of the resolutions committee of the American Federation of Labor, in convention at Denver, attacked the move for government regulation of labor's hours and wages by a federal bureau. "It is up to the A. F. of L. to defend essential democracy, in industry as well as in political life," said Chairman Woll.

Edgar Howard, Columbus editor, says at a convention in Omaha recently he witnessed more drunkenness than he ever saw in the old days of political conventions, and while he disclaims any intention of trying to banish booze from the state, he thinks alcoholic excesses are leading in that direction.

While northeast Nebraska has fared better than other parts of the state in corn production this year, its feelings of envy may be aroused by looking across the river into Iowa where reports say the largest crop in several years is being gathered.

How Communism Works.
 Omaha Journal-Stockman: An American preacher winds up his tour of Russia by saying that twenty communistic farmers in the land of the Soviet produce no more than one American farmer. That isn't so hard to account for. The American farmer works for himself and his family. The Russian farmer works for the government. Sounds a great deal like our WPA set-up.

Communism is atheistic. The Soviet antagonism to the church has reduced the Christian population of Russia to three millions in a total population of 180 millions, and the returned preacher calls attention to what such a situation has effected in lowering various standards. Morals are at low ebb, and cleanliness is frightfully outmoded. Since nearly everybody works for the government, what is every one's business is no one's business. To illustrate this letdown in the life of the individual, the preacher comments on the reason for the under-supply of cow's milk for Russian children. When a cow gets sick she dies without any attempt to save her. "Whereas," says the preacher, "we have known neighbors in America to stay up all night doctoring a sick cow."

And all of this is to say that human existence is far from its highest when the individual becomes servant of the state instead of master of the state.

The Farmer Revolt.
 Sioux City Journal: The ghost of the farm strike several years ago was stalking Tuesday when a group of 35 farm leaders from the Sioux City area met in the Labor temple, voted unanimous disapproval of production control of crops and united behind a 10-point program to hand the senate's agricultural subcommittee.

The farmers accepted the program, which was prepared Saturday by a committee, with only one change, and agreed to name a group of 15 to present the suggested legislation, to be incorporated in a new farm bill, when the hearing is held in the Warrior hotel October 18, 19 and 20. The 10-point program adopted asks parity prices on all basic crops and live stock; would provide for seasonal storage of farm "reserves" and their disposal, loans not to be called until cost of production is reached—the storing to be done on the farm—would "protect the American farmer in undisputed possession of the domestic market to the limit of his capacity to supply it," asks the development of new uses for agricultural products; provides for a sound land use policy, and would set up a system of commodity credits based upon commodities rather than money.

One clause adds that the new farm bill must be one "that can be operated without compulsory regimentation of either individuals or land; one that will not subject our farmers to domination by any political party, bureaucratic establishment or farm organization group."

Bloodhounds Out Of Date.
 Lincoln Journal: They trotted out the bloodhounds for a criminal chase in Kentucky the other day. There was no particular hope that the hounds would aid in the capture. Nowadays, people do not have much faith left in bloodhounds. But since the dogs needed exercise and there was a convenient criminal loose in the nearby hills, the bloodhounds were put on the trail.

COLLEGES.

An article in the current Scribner's magazine explains how anxiety for more students in many colleges leads to giving emphasis to every attraction excepting education. Too many colleges and too great struggle for enrollment numbers cause those in charge to minimize scholarship and stress activities that appeal to young minds. Agents are often employed to go out and bring in student recruits. The business of having a good time with little or no consideration for study and work, eventuates in flooding the country with diploma-bearing dumb-bells who wonder why they cannot find or hold jobs. Education that makes for high efficiency involves hard work with only a moderate degree of play. Scholarship cannot be put on as one would put on a necktie. It is acquired slowly and painstakingly, and final results are too evident to fool employing heads. Colleges should persuade themselves to stress education more and a good time less or fold up and quit.

 one more or less should make no difference and should excite no concern. Shattering precedents has become so much the habit that it sometimes seems it has been done when it wasn't necessary.

UNEMPLOYMENT.

A writer contributing to the October Nation's Business has been looking into the unemployment problem and finds many unemployed never worked because they have been constitutionally opposed to work. The hope is expressed that the coming survey to determine the number of unemployed which unfortunately is voluntary and therefore may be incomplete, will reveal persons who are by choice huddled under the wings of the government. It is admitted that indigent persons will have to be taken care of, but it is not believed forced idleness is as great as the government's planners would have the country suppose. It is not thought those wanting jobs and unable to find them would warrant further federal restrictions which would hinder rather than help employment. Institutions get workers back on private payrolls. Notwithstanding that the NRA was an obstructive bugbear, a successor in the Black-Cornery hour and wage-fixing measure is proposed and will be urge for passage. This further experimenting to get jobs for many who do not want them, would simply operate to the disadvantage of industry. Voluntary functioning in this country has been the envy of other and less free countries. Getting back to the day of fewer government barriers will help the very objective which government planners profess to want to help.

message for the evening service. This harp, so expressive of sacred things, will be heard again Sunday evening.

Of Interest To THRIFTY BUYERS

YOU NAME THE PRICE
And we will produce the coat. That is if you name it somewhere between $10 and $44. We can furnish you with just as desirable a coat at $10.00 as anyone can offer you. We have a very attractive selection at $16.75 and at $27.50 to $44.00. You can choose from dozens of the season's very best values. We have always been "The Coat Store" of northeast Nebraska. We have a well earned reputation for delivering style and satisfactory wear in coats at moderate prices. A small down payment will hold any coat you select.

THEY ARE DOING A GOOD JOB
In the face of rising labor and material costs the manufacturers of Ladies' $2.95 and $3.95 footwear have found ways to keep their prices from advancing. The styles and qualities are still as attractive and satisfactory as they have been for season's past and we offer you a pleasing selection in both Suede and Kid Dress and Sports styles at these moderate prices — $2.95 and $3.95.

PERHAPS YOU HAVE THE WRONG IMPRESSION
If you ever owned a $1 Balbriggan pajama you don't buy cost $6 a year. But you are all through with cheap Balbriggan sleeping garments. They do not shrink and fade and fit like a sack. And they cost $1.00 per year. But don't give up balbriggan entirely until you have tried Munsings. They fit beautifully—they won't shrink, nor fade, and they come in pretty styles and color combinations—both one piece and two piece—and they only cost $6 a year. Buy Munsing $1.95 pajamas and night gowns wear 3 winters. The girls' sizes are $1.50.

WE SHOULD BE IN WASHINGTON
There is a tremendous crop of cotton in the south. Southerners don't want any trouble between this country and Japan because Japanese buy great quantities of cotton and if we don't sell Japan cotton they won't buy it here and there will be no silk hosiery. Why worry? American women will wear cotton hosiery. They won't want them to show so they'll lengthen their dresses. The south will sell their cotton here at home for cotton hosiery and extra dress material. Japan will go broke without us to buy their silk and the war will be over. But this will take time of course and while it is going on you would no doubt like to have a few pairs of silk hose laid away for special occasions. And of course you'll want Munsings because they wear better and last longer than any other silk hosiery. And you should have the newest winter shades which are here in three qualities at 48c - 88c - $1.00. "Viva la Munsing."

GOOD HUSBANDS ARE HARD TO GET
So hang tight to the one you are so lucky to have. Wear pretty house dresses. They are the ones he sees you in oftenest. Keep him interested with styles and materials that are new and different. They are some pretty new dark colored prints that make a pleasing eye-ful and Boulevard styles have interesting new details. He will like them and so will you. Prices $1.00 and $1.95. Boulevard smocks in special colorful smock materials at $1.95.

WE PAY YOU TO REMEMBER
Every time you have $1.00 worth of groceries to buy we pay you 3c to remember that our store is good place to get them. With each 10c purchase we give you a trading stamp, with a $1.00 purchase you get 30 of these stamps. When you have bought $50 worth of groceries, no matter how long it takes you'll have saved enough stamps to purchase $1.50 worth of silk hose or any other dry goods. That is a 3% saving and it is well you should. We save 3% in rent and show window space by having our grocery department at the rear of our store. We offer this 3% saving to you as a thank-you for remembering that Ahern's is a good place to buy. Phone 360 and 341. We deliver. Charge accounts are payable in 30 days and receive the 3% discount stamps. You'll like our groceries and service and the 3% saving.

SPORT SECTION

On To Kearney!
We try not to be too optimistic, but unless unforeseen bad fortune strikes the Wildcat team this week, Coach W. E. Hickman and his football team will invade the corral of the Kearney Antelopes in the finest fettle they have enjoyed this season.

Much of this rise in Wildcat stock is due to the surprising way in which the Teachers disposed of Nebraska "B". While the fact that the Nubbins had not played together a great deal may have had something to do with their poor showing, this should not discount from the improved play of Wayne. Their blocking, tackling and especially their morale was up 100 percent over the Buena Vista exhibition.

The battle at Kearney Friday night should be one worth going the distance to see. Kearney's defeat by Hastings last week should not be taken too seriously because the Broncos scored both of their touchdowns after the removal of star quarterback, Ben Taylor, in the third quarter. It will be the first conference game, with both defenses keyed high. Wayne will be seeking revenge for a 31-0 lacing they received last year. If every man puts his heart into this game like he did last Friday—look out Antelopes!

Coffey At Denver U.
Roland Coffey, Wayne Teachers athlete from '34 to '36, is an outstanding backfield prospect at Denver U. this season. He weighs 180 pounds and played on several undefeated Orlean teams, Neb., before registering at Wayne. He was fast developing into a star back as a sophomore here.

Quick Thinking.
Split-second thinking and action counts in football. Rusty Bradford gave a rare demonstration of this important art in the Nebraska "B" game when he snatched a kick-off and made a quick return punt which sailed over the Nubbins and rolled back toward their goal. For the benefit of some grid fans, it might be explained that the rules of football allow the receiver to carry, kick or pass the ball backward. Rusty chose to kick and set the Nebraska boys back where a fumble might mean a score for Wayne. In this case a poor punt by the Nubbins gave the Wildcats the ball near the goal and they soon tallied.

College High Team Meets Laurel There
Laurel high's strong eleven is the next conference stumbling block in the path of the college high team. The game is scheduled for 3:00 p. m. on the Laurel field Friday afternoon.

Wildcats Crush Nebraska B, 20-2

Hickman Eleven Outsmarted And Outcharges Nubbins In Steady Rain.
Wayne Teachers college Wildcats came out fighting Friday night and didn't let up until they had completely outsmarted and outcharged Nebraska "B" for four rain-soaked quarters to pile up a decisive 20-2 margin and prove to Wayne fans that they have a football team with plenty of potential power.

It is true that the Wayne huskies capitalized on the breaks. They played the kind of football that Nebraska's Cornhuskers used to detest, the great Gopher team—alert, aggressive, heady football. But they never gave the Nubbins a chance because they were on hand whenever the Nebraska leads passed, or ran or kicked to meet them more than half way and make them fumble or stop them in their tracks.

A steady drizzling rain fell throughout the game, making ball-handling uncertain and causing many fumbles. Despite this, however, Wayne ball-carriers, especially, supplied some pretty catches of punts and passes. The newly-sodded field remained firm, so the rain did not slow up the contest a great deal.

Great Punting by Murray.
Fred Murray's skilled kicking toe had a tremendous part in the rout of the Nubbins. Every time Murray dropped back in punt formation he spiraled off a long kick which either went out of bounds or landed far from the receiver, giving the Wayne line time to get down for the tackle.

Score on Blocked Kick.
After a see-saw punting duel in the first quarter, Nebraska "B" took the ball on its own 12-yard line in the second period when Bradford kicked it out of bounds. Cather, quarterback, dropped back to punt, but the kick was blocked by Byron Wayne end, and Mitchell, substitute tackle pounced on it for the first Wildcat score. Bradford's place-kick split the uprights. Wayne 7, Nebraska "B" 0.

A short time later Murray was robbed of a beautiful 30-yard run because some of the Wayne backs were in motion.

Score Twice In Third.
Wayne drove 20 yards for another touchdown early in the third quarter after Murray's punt rolled out on the Nebraska 13 and Neuman's kick sailed straight up in the air. Bradford caught it and a 15-yard penalty on the Nubbins gave Wayne its chance. Gatewood wasted no time in cracking the right side for the marker. Rusty Bradford intended to place-kick, but on a bad pass from center, he snatched up the oval and galloped around the left side to make it 14-0.

Rusty Bradford's quick kick-back of the following kickoff set the stage for the next score. Gathering in the ball on a dead run, Rusty booted it from his own 20 over the heads of the charging Nebraska "B" team to the "B" 20-yard line where it was downed. Another poor Nebraska kick and a fine return by Gatewood to the 11-yard stripe was all it took this time. Bradford shook off a host of Cornhuskers as he sprinted around right end for the score. Wayne 20, Nebraska "B" 0. The try for point was wide.

Nebraska "B" escaped a shutout

Wayne Harriers Vie With Kearney Friday

An added feature of the Wayne-Kearney football clash Friday at Kearney will be the cross country race between runners of the two colleges. Wayne's team consists of Gene Mattley, Sherm Terry, Red Harris and Bob Link, the first three with considerable experience.

Crippled Preppers Bow Before Ponca

Mahon, High School Marvel, Runs Wild As Ponca Wins, 52-0.
Wayne prep's badly crippled eleven couldn't stop the touchdown gallops of Leo Mahon, Ponca's super-grizzer last Friday, and the long afternoon on the up-state field came to a sad close with Ponca on the big end of a top-heavy 52-0 score.

Two such disheartening obstacles were too much for the Preps to overcome. Bob Hickman, mainstay of the team, was doing his best with an injured leg and Don Strahan, fleet quarterback, had pulled a muscle in practice. With their offense and defense weakened, the boys of Coach Bloss succumbed to the fierce one-man attack.

Mahon Is Tough.
It was all Mahon, just as it has been in every football game in which the rugged Irish lad has participated this season. He did everything that one man possibly could do. He cracked the line wide open, skirted the ends, spiraled passes and punts and stopped every Prep ball-carrier that came near him.

A welterweight Golden Gloves boxing champion, Mahon was as tough as any player they have ever met, according to the Prep boys. Ponca scored touchdown after touchdown, while Wayne's only threat added more grief when Don Strahan fumbled the ball after carrying it over the last stripe in the third quarter. Without Don as a punter, the Prep team found themselves in a hole time and again.

A drizzling rain set in late in the contest adding more gloom to the affair. The rough gridiron gave a poor footing for the desperate Prep drives.

by counting a safety in the last period when Bradford juggled the wet slippery ball and was tackled behind his goal, making the score Wayne 20, Nebraska "B" 2. Coach Hickman used over two full teams in the game, and a team composed of second-stringers finished the contest.

Nebraska "B" tossed 13 passes without completing a single one during the game. Wayne was successful in three out of nine attempts through the air. Nebraska outdowned the Wildcats 6 to 4, but lacked the coordination and scoring power at the right time.

Wayne's line played superb football Friday, outdaring the opposite forwards. Brenn and Lindahl, ends, were consistently driving in to stop the Cornhuskers' offenses. The splendid all-around play of Bradford and the ball-lugging of Gatewood and Warren, were factors in the triumph.

Cather, Nebraska's mainstay in the backfield, looked best. Elliott and Neuman made some good gains through the line.

Bob Cunningham, center, and Ervin Retzlaff, halfback were out of the game because of injuries. Wayne (20) Pos. Nebr. ### Wayne Gridders Win Third Game

Gildersleeve Leads Mates To A 6-0 Victory In Close Battle.
Wayne high school pounded out a 6-0 victory over Hartington in its first conference game at Hartington last Friday afternoon. Led by Freddie Gildersleeve, backfield sparkplug and play-caller, the blue-clad lads pushed over a touchdown in the waning minutes of the second quarter, after a series of wide end runs and line plunges.

Two evenly-matched elevens fought for yardage throughout most of the contest with neither team threatening very much. Wayne's gridders were far from top form because of illness which put several boys out of condition for the fray. This perhaps accounted for the lack of aggressiveness and absence of the deadly tackling and blocking seen in previous games.

Strategy Helps Wayne.
Wayne used clever strategy to set Hartington back in dangerous territory time and again. Gildersleeve caught the safety man napping with quick kicks on the second down several times, once with a punt out of bounds on the Hartington 1-yard line.

The touchdown came on an unexpected reverse which sent Gildersleeve speeding around right end behind line interference which mowed down the tacklers. Graham failed to add the extra point when he was downed on an end run. The score: Wayne 6, Hartington 0.

Hartington Passes Fail.
A barrage of passes failed to net the Hartington team yardage with only one forward being completed. The Wayne team relied chiefly on power plays and an occasional dash around end, but completed one aerial attempt for a 30-yard gain, out of two tries.

Hartington's lone threat ended on the Wayne 10-yard line where the blue line stiffened to hold them. It was Garvin, halfback, whose excellent punting kept the home team out of danger throughout most of the game.

On one of the most spectacular runs of the contest, Graham, Wayne halfback, took the ball on a reverse in the third quarter and circled left end for a long gallop from his own 30-yard stripe down to the Hartington 40. The last man reached up to trip him as he tried to leap clear of his outstretched arms.

Orval Graham, Wayne ball-lugger, left the game in the last quarter after he was kicked in the stomach. Wilmer "Bus" Ellis took his place and filled the bill in great style, intercepting one pass and charging hard for good gains through the line.

Roggenbach saw considerable action at quarterback and tackle in the Wayne lineup.

Christensen and Garvin, halfbacks, contributed some spud ball-carrying to the Hartington cause.

WAYNE TEACHERS INVADE KEARNEY CAMP ON FRIDAY

SOPHOMORES
Kearney Report Of Injuries Balanced By Loss Of Wayne Regulars.

Big black bear stories coming forth from the camp of Coach Pop Klein's Kearney State Teachers Antelopes these days are not being taken too seriously by Coach Hickman and his Wayne football squad as they prepare for the first conference game to be played at Kearney Friday night at 8:00 o'clock. A squad of 22 men will accompany Hickman to Kearney Friday morning.

Despite reports that Kearney will start the game minus several of their best performers, the 1936 conference champions are pretty certain to place a veteran team on the field. It is not likely that more than a couple of the star gridders will be absent.

Four All-Conference Men.
Four all-conference men—Beck, Hale, Marrow and Lewis—are back this season at Kearney and Coach Klein has a large squad of husky timber at his call. The opening lineup will average about 188 pounds, topping Wayne by a considerable margin.

Backfield threats are Ron Lewis, John Parille, Gordon Carter and Ben Taylor. The last-named may be out of the game with injuries. From the point of experience, Kearney will have a decided advantage.

Coach Hickman, faced with a lack of experienced men and injuries to several of the regular team, could do plenty of boasting himself. With Ervin Retzlaff only all-conference player nursing an injured leg and with Cunningham, Lingenfelter, and Fox on the injured list, Wayne will have to bank on the performance of freshmen and sophomores to fill the gaps.

The team came through in encouraging style against Nebraska "B" without several vets, and Coach Hickman may see about the same eleven against the Antelopes. Speed and fight with perhaps a few aerial tricks may help to offset the Kearney weight advantage.

Kearney has an impressive record, having won from Bethany, Kan., 7-0, McPherson, Kan., 24-0, and Regis of Denver, 66-0. They have lost only to Hastings, 6-13, with Ben Taylor out of the lineup part of the game.

Wayne, however, has lost to South Dakota U. and Buena Vista, while winning from Nebraska "B", 20-2.

WAYNE WAKEFIELD TO BATTLE ON FRIDAY IN RENEWED RIVALRY

When Coach Elwood Morris sends his undefeated blue Wayne charges out against the Wakefield Trojans at Wakefield Friday afternoon, football fans will see a spirited renewal of a rivalry that dates back many, many years. The annual contest between the two high school elevens is an affair that has always been a highlight of the grid season.

This year the two teams should be well-matched, judging from their respective performances to date. Wayne has yet to taste defeat, having beaten Pierce, Laurel and Hartington on successive Fridays, by small margins. Wakefield, under Coach Maurice Ellison, has not fared so well but the opposition has been strong. The Trojans lost to Bloomfield, 0-6, tied Penard, 0-0, and walloped Wisner 45-0.

SED HARTMAN, OMAHA 'U' COACH, SCOUTS 10 MINUTES OF GAME

Coach Sed Hartman is probably still a bit disgruntled because he hit a muddy detour on highway 15 between Wisner and Wayne last Friday night on his way to scout the Wayne-Nebraska "B" football game. The delay in traversing the stretch of mud through the rain made him late for the night game on the Wayne Teachers field.

Just ten minutes before the final whistle, Sed pulled up to the gate in his mud-splattered automobile. He exhibited marvelous control of his emotions; however, and settled down to his job of scouting the game. It is, what was left of it. Coach Hickman had most of his second string in the game, by that time, so Sed had little chance to get a look at the regulars in action.

Coach Hartman is looking ahead toward the Omaha U-Wayne clash on the Omaha field November 12. His boys trounced Wayne 12-0 at Omaha last year and are out to repeat.

Plan To Unearth Early Civilization

Dr. Earl Bell of Lincoln has written Sheriff J. H. Pile in regard to mounds near Norfolk where the latter some years ago found remains of an ancient civilization. Dr. Bell plans to unearth the find. In 1910 it was planned to investigate the mounds but at that time the woman who owned the land did not wish this done because she thought it sacrilegious.

Margaret Ahern Is Dietitian For Iron Lung Patient. For several weeks Miss Margaret Ahern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ahern of Wayne, has been dietitian for Frederick Snite, jr., 27-year-old victim of infantile paralysis, who was brought to the United States from China in an iron lung this spring. Miss Ahern is dietitian in Billings Memorial hospital in Chicago, where the young man is a patient. She was at first in charge of his diet only on holidays and on Sunday but now has complete charge. Concerning her patient, Miss Ahern writes that he has won everybody's friendship with his cheerfulness and the marvelous manner in which he adjusts himself to his situation. Mr. Snite can speak only in short sentences but is very congenial. He is improving slightly and there is hope for his recovery, said Miss Ahern. Snite will be taken to Florida soon for the winter as a precaution against catching cold. It was two years ago while on a world tour with his father, mother and sister that he was stricken with infantile paralysis in China. He was immediately placed in an iron lung, the only one in China. The iron lung patient was brought back to the United States last spring by ship and special train, accompanied by six Chinese nurses. The nurses have remained with him ever since. Miss Ahern reports that she thoroughly enjoys her work as dietitian.

Only 1,800 Drivers Now Have Licenses. With only 1,800 licenses issued to drivers during the first six weeks of the three-month period, Willis Noakes, examiner, and others engaged in giving out the permits are awaiting the stampede of late applicants. There were 6,500 drivers last year, and Mr. Noakes estimates that there will be nearly 7,000 this year. That means that 5,200 must get their licenses before December 1. But with only six weeks left, the drivers are calmly taking their time.

Court Is Asked To Revise Order

Nebraska supreme court was asked last week Wednesday to reverse the order of the Dixon county district court which denied Gustav Kraemer judgment against the New York Life Insurance company. Kraemer had a policy that promised to pay him $25 a month for disability. He took it out in 1929 and it was in force until 1933. While Kraemer was doing butchery December 10, 1932, a ladder fell onto him. His attorney alleges that the injury so affected his mental and physical condition that he forgot all about the insurance policy for nearly three years. He did not pay the premium when it became due a month after his injury and he did not give the company notice of his injury within the six months provided. The right of recovery is based on the fact that the policy contained a waiver of premium while injured.

Family Reunion Well Attended

The Boyce family reunion, held at the Albert Stulle home near Silver City, Iowa, was attended by 75, those from Wayne being Mrs. and Mrs. J. D. Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Boyce and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swinney and family. For the afternoon program J. D. Boyce, James Bennett and Edmond Boyce played harmonica numbers; Marjorie Swinney sang, and she and Donald Boyce sang a duet; James Bennett sang with Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Seitz; and others in the group took part. The 1938 reunion will be held the first Sunday in September in the Reuben Stulle home at Silver City.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nuss and family spent Sunday in Columbus.

Inspection Made At Corn Test Plot

Inspection of the hybrid and open pollinated corn in the test plot at the R. F. Roggenbach farm a mile south of Altona Wednesday last week was attended by 90 farmers from Cuming, Thurston, Dixon, Cedar, Stanton and Wayne counties. Yields of the various varieties will be taken some time later in the fall and the actual yields will then be available. Copies of the report may then be secured at the farm bureau office. Elvin Frolik of Lincoln, conducted the discussion. Some of the hybrid lines included in the test were planted in test plots for the first time this year. It was pointed out by Mr. Frolik that the Nebraska Crop Growers association does not certify any hybrid until it has been grown in cooperative tests for at least three years. It was also shown that the manner a certain variety performs one year is no indication of what it may do in other years. That is particularly true in years of drought. Mr. Frolik also showed that some hybrids matured here this year, a season of late frost, when in an ordinary year many of them would have been too late for this area. A record of several years is most reliable in selecting hybrids.

"OLDEST WASHER" CONTEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

The local Gamble store today announced the names of the ten winners in their recent contest to determine the owners of the oldest electric, hand, or gasoline powered washers now in actual use throughout their territory. The winners, who will receive a new 1937 Coronado electric washer, are: Mrs. O. G. Luttg, Beloit, Wis.; Mrs. James Thornton, Calendonka, Minn.; Mrs. Martin H. Miller, Polo, Ill.; Hiram A. Berkeley, Warsaw, Ind.; Mrs. Allen Loomis, Garden City, S. D.; Mrs. Fred Howell, Viroqua, Wis.; Mrs. Reuben Woodward, Washington, Kan.; Mrs. Mary Calkins, Sterling, Ill.; Mrs. George Loveland, Poyneite, Wis.; Mrs. J. T. Sims, Wamego, Kan. Of the hundreds of washers entered, the above ten were judged the oldest. Many of the entries were purchased before the turn of the century with the oldest washer registered being one of the vintage of 1872.

Life In Europe Is Of Interest To R. C. Smiths

Streets throughout Europe are full of soldiers who are constantly being drilled, commented R. C. Smith of Naples and Paris, who with his wife and son visited in the W. W. Smith home last week. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Reginald spend most of the time in Naples where Mr. Smith is resident engineer for oil refining. Living expenses are very low in most things. The Smiths have a three bedroom and two bath apartment which is very reasonable and pay $5 a month for maid service. It is difficult, however, to get ice and it is quite expensive. There are no ice boxes. If a person desires one, it is hand made. People usually buy food from day to day as there is no way of preserving it. Mr. Smith showed pictures of the Christmas dinner which they had in Naples. It was a typical American dinner with turkey and cranberries. Cranberry sauce was 75c for a small jar and turkey was very hard to find and the maid had trouble preparing it. The Smiths found a small fir tree which they decorated for the center of the table. Although Mr. Smith has been in Naples five years, he has not adapted himself to Italian food, particularly spaghetti. Contrasting to inexpensive rent in Italy, cigarettes are 75c a pack and gas for cars is 50c a gallon. Tea is a popular pastime in Italy both among the American consulate and Italians. Mr. Smith brought several films of pictures to this country which had to be smuggled to Paris for development. He had pictures of Mount Vesuvius, resorts in Italy, Venice and gondolas, northern Africa, Corsica and Algiers. Mr. Smith's son, Reginald, attends an Italian school as there are no American schools in Italy. The children in these schools are very simple and childlike. They receive wonderful training in manners and in language. Mr. Smith commented on the sweet potatoes which were on the menu in an Italian restaurant. He expected to find sweet potatoes as they are known in this country but instead he received an order of Irish fried potatoes with sugar and milk over them. Wires are excellent in Italy but the ice cream is very poor. During the summer months the Smiths take a cottage along the seashore and Mr. Smith drives back and forth to Paris. Autos are much smaller there than in this country. When the Smiths are located in Paris during the winter months, Reginald attends a French school for Americans. French marriages are different from ours in that the couple has both civil and church weddings. The civil marriage is performed in the mayor's office which is usually located in a magnificent building. He preaches a sermon and performs the ceremony wearing a red and white striped across his vest for the occasion. The church wedding is quite elaborate followed by a large wedding breakfast. Wine of different flavors and temperatures is served with each course. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Reginald left Tuesday of last week for New York where they will remain for a month before leaving for Rome.

Plowing Effective In Destroying Peats Destruction of eggs in late fall and early spring is a worthwhile method of grasshopper control...

Since most of the eggs are found in the headlands and turnrows at the ends and edges of the fields, the plowing of a strip one or two rods wide around the field will often reduce the number of young grasshoppers that appear in the spring...

A thorough double disking late in the fall or early spring will destroy some of the eggs and break up the egg pods, exposing the eggs to the sun and wind...

Burning of weeds and trash around road sides and fence rows can be used as another partial control measure. The burning does not destroy the eggs but it exposes the eggs to weather changes which bring considerable mortality.

Should Eradicate Bindweed Menace

Now is the time to eradicate bindweed, according to the farm bureau. For small patches of the weed sodium chlorate is found most effective...
