Noted Lecturer Speaks At School

Many Programs Planned For Wayne High During Education Week.

Miss Mary Sue Wigley, who appeared at the women's club program in Wayne Tuesday evening, spoke to the high school students at a special assembly Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday morning all of the students from the third grade through high school went to the Gay theater for a lecture and pictures on forestry. Mr. Ferris of Lincoln and Mr. Hoaglund, a forest ranger who is stationed at Pierce, explained the work being done by the shelterbelt.

Wayne high school was represented at the Third district teachers' convention by the following people who appeared on programs: Miss Mildred Clark prepared a paper which she gave at the mathematics sectional meeting; Russell Widoe presented his capella mixed chorus in a demonstration at a music meeting; and Miss Maude Curley appeared on one of the sectional art programs.

The variety show will be presented by the dramatics and music departments November 19.

The debate classes are planning two-minute speeches to be presented Monday on National Education week.

Naomi Okbloom of Clark Center enrolled in high school Monday.

Approximately fifty percent of the dental slips have been turned in to the grade teachers. Supt. E. W. Smith feels that the campaign is progressing satisfactorily and parents are cooperating with the school in having the children's teeth repaired.

Junior High News.

Seventh graders defeated the sixth graders in spelling last week. Scores were 93 8-21 and 96 8-33. Those receiving 100's in spelling for the two weeks in the second six weeks are Delmar Davis, Maxine Johnson, John Phipps and Marilyn Stratton. Seventh graders with grades of 100 are: Bonnie Faye Kugler, Agnes Mattingly, Betty Meister, Nancy Nicholaisen and Bob Wright.

Alfred Awizus, sixth grader, has moved to the country.

Sixth and seventh graders will celebrate Armistice day Thursday with a program which is in charge of J. M. Lockard.

Sixth graders had a Halloween party Wednesday afternoon of last week. Marjorie Berg designed placecards for each student. The refreshment table was attractive with black candles tied with orange tulle, and the Halloween colors were carried out in decorations. Paul Reiners won a prize as a witch, told fortunes.

Sixth grade geography class was shown slides on Australia and New Zealand.

The seventh grade geography class is studying about rainfall and wind. The students are also using the globe to show shortest routes past the north and south poles. Students are preparing to make charts showing the amounts of rainfall in Asia.

Eleanore Bentback and Carla Wright, fifth graders, had perfect work in unit eight in spelling.

Fourteen of the fifth graders have green stars in penmanship. The following five students have also received blue stars: Eleanore Bentback, Pearl Mattingly, Patty Love, Richard Sala and Donna Granquist.

In the fifth grade project on pioneer life, pupils are beginning a study of Daniel Boone. Pioneer products and articles which the students have brought are: Pair of cards by Lois Zepelin; homemade rolling pin and potato masher, Carla Wright; and homemade soap, Eleanore Bentback.

Jack Fitch, Norman Rockwell, Leslie Lindsay and Virgil Stoltze, fourth graders, are going to construct a railroad station for the table in connection with the transportation unit.

Students completed the frieze on steps of progress in transportation. A large map showing famous flights and air routes of the world has been received. Albums of famous air pilots and modern aviators have also been sent the students with compliments of Heinz company.

Mrs. S. T. Rockwell was a visitor in the fourth grade Monday.

Wilma Reiners has received a blue star in penmanship.

Third graders have 12 on the honor roll. Three rows of shingles representing books read by the students have been pasted on the model house. The students are interested in library reading.

A safety lesson was studied in third grade Tuesday before the lecture by the forest ranger. Much study was devoted to putting out fires and care of trees. The children drew pictures and wrote notices underneath.

In the study of the pioneers the students are reading about the Lewis and Clarke expedition. In connection with this study they are learning of the first steamships and drawing pictures of them. They are also tracing trails across Nebraska and Oregon. They are drawing maps of Nebraska, putting in first towns and the rivers.

Jimmy Bradford and Norma Clark have finished reading their pre-primer Dick and Jane books and have begun on the next reading book.

Kindergarten's have each made original design as a symbol for their work. They are learning November songs and are also studying designs. Twelve kindergarten's are on the dental honor roll. The children began figure drawing this week.

Autumn's Splendor Has Explanation In Nature's Protective Processes

"Bright leaves sink noiseless in the brush of woods for winter waiting."

Helen Hunt Jackson sang the beauties of autumn's colorful treetop in her poem "October's Bright Blue Weather." Everyone had an opportunity to enjoy October at the height of her grandeur last week. In fact, she seemed to outdo herself in trying to live up to a reputation for delightful golden days.

Nebraska's autumn is truly beautiful. Anyone who fails to admit and wonder about the changes of nature in the fall of the year is missing a joyous experience. A trip into the country in the autumn reveals the colorful splashed fields and trees at the peak of their splendor. The matchless beauty of Nebraska sunsets may be seen through autumn's blue haze.

But the red and yellow leaves as they rustle across the brown country roads have another more marvelous meaning than simple beauty. They are part of nature's wonderful plan. The plants are preparing for winter.

Warning autumn brings with it relatives and friends. She also visited in Norfolk Friday and Omaha Saturday.

G. B. Sanberg went to Sioux City Friday to meet Mrs. Sanberg and Elmer who had spent a week in Rochester, Minn., with Mrs. Sanberg's mother.

Cold days are coming. A good coat is Black Hawk at $9.50.	He: "Sweetheart, you grow more beautiful every day."	"That will be enough of you," said the doctor as he stitched the patient together.
And then there's Pinnacle nut for the cook stove at $11.00.	She: "Oh, Henry, you do exaggerate!"	We have a few portable corn cribs left. Priced as low as $3.40. Slat cribs are $5.00.
Lawyer: "You say you have known this man all your life. Now, do you think he would be guilty of stealing this money?"	He: "Well, then, every other day."	An Indian girl who recently won a beauty contest was named Pretty Bear. Well, a lot of our women are that way, these days.
It doesn't matter how much storm sash cost, they'll pay for themselves in fuel saving and comfort. Prices are reasonable, too.	Then there's glass cloth that is often used for storm door.	Johnson's floor wax, Old English floor wax or Certain-tied floor wax all sell at 58c per pound can.

Use 4-SQUARE lumber. It costs less.

Armistice Anniversary
A WRECK hence will be mark the passing of nineteen years since the end of the World War. Surviving participants in that conflict know what war means, and they shudder at thought of a possible tangle in present or future world troubles. They know war is savage and void of every ennobling influence.

Members of the American Legion are horrified by the ruthless slaughter abroad—horrified by the waste of lives to serve a purpose that is not worth serving. In fairness to every group and interest, Legionnaires are behind a movement to make conscription apply to all property and all persons. This would discourage war, and in the event it were inevitable, no one would escape.

Armistice day recalls a day of joy and relief—relief from war tension and war horrors. It was not conceived in 1918 that nineteen years later ill effects of the war would still be felt. It was not thought then that war clouds would gather so soon again and that peaceful nations would experience difficulty in preserving peace. It is increasingly apparent that in trying to make the world safe for democracy, we made it safe for nearly everything else.

False Notions
THE fact that motives are misinterpreted and that false accusations are often hurled at business and industry—essential to employment and prosperity—leads Nation's Business to conclude an article discussing the subject with this paragraph:

"The ignorant bear false witness against America's economic system. Indifference to this will permit the destruction of that free enterprise which has made us at once the envy and despair of the older peoples of the world. It is high time that each member of the business fraternity constitute himself a committee of one to describe, interpret and defend a system which since its establishment in 1776 has provided its people with a standard of living that transcends even the imagination of a Jules Verne."

We are glad to note that Congressman Coffee of Nebraska expresses opposition to compulsory control of agriculture. In order to help farming it should not be necessary to follow plans engineered by bureaucrats in Washington. One signally beneficial act was loaning money on corn and in that way maintaining the price. Loans are repaid to the government when the crop is marketed, and thus, unlike some projects, the government loses nothing. Tying up corn-loan legislation with compulsory participation in the entire government program arouses the opposition of those farmers who want to be free to run their own business.

No matter how well educated one may be—as witness bureaucrats in Washington—he cannot exercise sound judgment without a basis of age and experience—as again witness the same bureaucrats.

The Saturday Evening Post quotes Miss Dorothy Thompson, writer for the New York Herald, as saying in effect that failure to settle differences between labor and capital and the impossible task of fulfilling promises led to dictatorships in Russia, Italy and Germany. The president's claim that we can do without dictatorship all that dictators do with it, is, as pointed out, unsupported by experience anywhere in the world. And who in America wants done what dictators are doing? If Americans are forced to forfeit hitherto enjoyed individual rights, they would virtually be under the heel of a dictator.

Arizona has a law levying a one per cent tax on the gross income of newspapers, and a court action before three federal judges has been on trial at Phoenix this week. One per cent on gross might be more than the net in these days of increased labor demands and multiplied tax burdens, and could result in putting a newspaper out of business. An attorney for the newspapers suggested that unlimited power to tax might confiscate the entire gross income of the press. Then a newspaper would have to take up a collection to pay running expenses.

Defeat of Jeremiah T. Mahoney, Tammany candidate, for the mayoralty in New York is made more important and encouraging because he had the active support of Postmaster-General Jim Farley. Election of Thomas E. Dewey for district attorney of New York inspires new hope in good government because he has been fearless in pursuit of the criminal element. He expects to make a record in exterminating the nefarious racketeering business.

October was a month of comparatively mild weather. Rains were more plentiful than in several years—the ground soaked to an unusual depth. The rule of moderate temperatures speeded corn husking, and enabled farmers to make early preparations for winter. October elements were unusually friendly and helpful.

A writer closely acquainted with orientals says they have no consideration for human life. They care little or nothing about their own lives. The Jap seems glad to sacrifice himself for any cause to which he is devoted. Thus, he does not hesitate to slaughter without mercy, taking no precautions to save his own skin.

Mark Sullivan, columnist, suggests that it is up to the democratic leaders in congress to resist the unofficial White House advisers and uphold traditional American policies independent of administration demands. Congress has the power and should have the courage to exercise it.

We understand the La Porte Community club is planning to preserve the old house on the George Scott homestead. It is the house in which the county was organized. The task undertaken by the club is a worthy one, and deserves hearty and substantial cooperation.

The Sioux City Journal appeals to parents to take their youngsters in hand and stop Halloween depredations. It explains that the police cannot cope with a widely scattered army of youths. It is up to fathers and mothers to curb the spirit of youthful vandalism.

Though sometimes farm boys find advantage in going to the city, it is correctly observed that "you may take the boy out of the country, but you cannot take the country out of the boy."

FROM WEBSTER.
The following excerpt from a speech delivered by Daniel Webster in the United States senate on March 12, 1838, is expressive of the experience of every generation: "There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, speculation and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations, and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all streams. In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality, they would move heaven and earth against privileges and monopoly. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer he is but an oppressed slave. Sir, what can such men want? What do they mean? They can want nothing, sir, but to enjoy the fruits of other men's labor. They can mean nothing but disturbance and disorder, the diffusion of corrupt principles and the destruction of the moral sentiments and moral habits of society."

Pioneer Spirit Is Commended

trees, built homes and broke the prairie land. Their efforts brought happiness and prosperity. Mr. Brittain expressed disappointment at the vanishing of fruit trees which in early years were so plentiful. He urged the present generation to continue the pioneer tradition by planting all kinds of trees.
When Wayne county organized, LaPorte was established as the seat of government. A court house was built in 1874, lumber being brought from Sioux City and brick being burned in a nearby kiln. Lumber of a narrow gauge railroad started and the grade was completed to LaPorte. Litigation tied up the construction and another time was built from Emerson to Norfolk, leaving LaPorte without a railroad. The seat of government was then moved to Wayne.
While the settlement was going forward in the east part of Wayne county, pioneers were also locating at Spring Branch, near the present site of Hoskins.
These pioneers had physical strength, courage and culture. They came west determined to win and they did. New frontiers are presented for each generation, said Mr. Brittain, and it is for each to carry on with the pioneer spirit to accomplishment.
Mr. Brittain urged an appreciation for "pioneers who broke the sod that men might live."
Mrs. W. A. Hunter, who has lived in Wayne county 67 years, expressed appreciation of the efforts of those who placed the marker. Mrs. Mary Brittain and Mrs. Julia Bressler told of pioneer experiences, the difficulty of getting supplies and the good time realized at the first community Christmas.
Appreciation was expressed to all who had helped in the project to mark the site of LaPorte.
Rev. Paddock offered prayer and Claire Mae Simmerman, great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter, pioneers who came in 1870, unveiled the granite marker engraved with this inscription which will inform coming generations: "This marker erected on the site of LaPorte, first town in Wayne county, and dedicated to the pioneers who tamed the wilderness."

MISINTERPRETED.
Speaking of liberal contributions to unemployment insurance under the Nebraska statute in conjunction with the federal social security law, we find this congratulatory paragraph in the course of a communication from Lincoln headquarters: "The cooperation and interest shown by the Nebraska liable employers is indeed remarkable in the face of crop conditions throughout the state of Nebraska, and also in consideration of the fact of the drop in the stock market just at the time when contribution payments were required to be made. Nebraska employers should be exceptionally proud of the fine record which they have made." If our feelings in the matter are similar to those of other contributors, we would explain to the department that the quick response was not an outburst of altruism or affection for a tax-gathering plan that is clearly discriminatory and unfair. What is interpreted as cheerful giving was prompted by demand under threat of certain penalties. Directors of the law should not fool themselves into thinking employers of eight or more were tickled into action by the joy of philanthropy when they know employers of fewer than eight are permitted to escape.

month school. As a result of these early experiences, Miss Wigley determined to make the most of her life and she wrote out four goals which she meant to reach. After each statement she wrote the question "Did I?" and she wrote the last "Yes" in 1931. The vows she made to herself were to study hard and become a teacher, pay all the family debts, own a home and graduate from college.
Although Miss Wigley has done very hard work, such as picking cotton and working in the fields, it is her belief that it is better to have a crooked body than a warped character.
Miss Wigley is not a firm believer in a standard budget as too often it is one-sided. In considering the budget one must ask the question "what am I hoping for?" One must yearn for something hard enough to have backbone to stick to a budget.
In preparing a family budget the family should be analyzed as to health, salary and economic status.
Miss Wigley divided families into two extremes: Those who deny when not necessary and those who keep the family poor by trying to advertise prosperity.
According to the speaker there are three steps in keeping a budget: Making a trial budget, keeping accounts and readjusting the trial budget into a workable plan. Young people should keep accounts and budget on paper to analyze spending.
The purpose of the budget is not "to track every penny to its last resting place" but to direct the way one wants to spend his money.
Each person's budget is an individual problem, but one's taste should be on an upward curve. Balancing the budget is controlling taste. If a person's taste and purse do not fit, let the purse be the guide.
"Failure in life is not due to lack of opportunity and intellect," commented the speaker, "but is lack of character."
Miss Wigley mentioned four ways in which a woman may contribute to the income of a home: Going outside the home and working, increasing productivity and use of leisure time, wise planning and wise market selection. Of these she considered increased productivity as one of the most important. Each person has a creative instinct and it is Miss Wigley's contention that this tract should be changed to profit saving channels in the home. The latter two are also important but Miss Wigley is desirous that the government soon get through some act which would demand that manufacturers label their goods with the true facts.
Family budgeting calls for cooperation from each member of the family. A normal home is a partnership. A child who does not see any except gift money does not realize the full value of it.
Miss Wigley summarized her talk by explaining that a home is not a business; forward planning and budgeting are important and the manner in which a woman may aid in contributing to the income is essential to a happy home.
Miss Wigley's talk was preceded by a band concert under the direction of Prof. F. C. Reed.
Mrs. Hobert, Auker presided. She presented Mrs. E. J. Hunter, president of the Woman's club who explained club activities. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, Third district, president.

Choose Officers For Conference

Supt. E. W. Smith of Wayne, was elected president and Coach Rasley of Bloomfield, was elected secretary at the meeting last week of the seven school executives of the conference in which Wayne high school is represented. At this meeting it was decided to have another meeting November 20 in Randolph at which all football conference selections will be made. The towns represented, in the conference are: Hartington, Plainview, Wakefield, Randolph, Bloomfield, Pierce and Wayne.

flowers were arranged to form the letters "Y.W.C.A."
Other floats were: Senior class, sophomore class, freshman class, junior class, International Relations club, W.A.A., K.M.K., Orpheo, Newman club, Home Economics, K.M.E., Savoir Vivre, Katz club, Lambda Delta Lambda and Physical Science and Terrace hall.
Homecoming Queen.
Miss Betty Towns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Towns of Sioux City, was presented in the homecoming parade as queen. Miss Towns is a senior at the college, president of the Katz club, treasurer of Pile hall, president of the Kappa Mu Epsilon and art editor of the Spizz. She was formally presented at the homecoming ball Saturday evening. Her attendants were: Seniors, Margaret Jones, Wayne, Helen Vath, Wayne, Marjil Hanson, Wakefield, Mary Alford, Macy, junior, Mavis Bishop, Omaha, sophomore, and Geraldine Gamble, Wayne.
Serve Buffet Dinner.
About 50 attended the homecoming buffet dinner Saturday evening in the calisthenium. Halloween motif decorated the room and tables. Following the dinner served by Miss Louise Kimmel and home economics girls, Cyrus Jones of Wynot, president of the college association, presided. Ira George of Osmond, led in singing of "Alma Mater, Stately Mother."

Prof. E. J. Hunter reported on the Wayne dinner held Thursday at the teachers' convention in Norfolk. G. A. Gansko, formerly of Wayne, served the meal to 137 former Wayne students at the Oxnard hotel. Prof. Hunter reported great enthusiasm at the gathering. Wylie Candor who had attended the Wayne meeting at the Omaha convention explained that about 40 were in the group which organized to hold such gatherings each year. Henry Schroeder of Scribner, had been in charge of the Omaha reunion.
Earl Schroer of Omaha, was elected president. Miss Esther Dewitz had attended the Wayne dinner in Lincoln and reported about 30 in attendance and an interesting impromptu program. The Lincoln group was called together by David Koch of Lincoln. Gerald Dennis of Mitchell, who came 523 miles for homecoming, was in charge of a Wayne gathering at Scottsbluff. He found some Wayne students in western Nebraska and thinks it will be possible to organize for a Wayne dinner at the annual conventions. Orlie Scranton of Aurora, was in charge at Grand Island, and M. C. Farrow of Red Cloud, at Hartree.
As Mr. Jones called the classes, representatives were introduced. Miss Margaret Scherbel, member of the class of 1914, represented the earliest class attending.
Wm. Johnson of Scribner, introduced Mr. Huntington who entertained the guests with magic.

Officers Are Elected.

Wayne College association elected Harold B. Nellis of Ponca, president for the coming year. He

For THRIFTY Shoppers

OUR "NEW DEAL" LEGISLATION

Which a customer says, "I have worn this coat I got of you for eight years," we think it is an awfully long time. Maybe we should ask for some "New Deal" legislation in this special session of Congress making it unlawful for a woman to wear her winter coat more than two or three years. But on second thought, maybe we better leave things as they are, because the woman who has had especially good service out of one of our coats remembers where she bought it and is pretty apt to come back to us when she needs another.

Our coat business has been built up by selling good coats. Whether it is a $10.00 coat or a $39 coat we give our customer real value in wearing qualities as well as correct fashion in style. It will pay you to come here for your coat. Ahern's has been for a great many years, the coat store of northeast Nebraska. Cloth Coats, $10.00 to $39.50. Fur Coats, $35.00 to $85.00. Payment Plan if you wish.

WE ALWAYS REMEMBER

That women who wear sizes above 40 want their dresses to have as attractive style details and as fashionable lines as are shown in smaller size dresses. We have good looking styles for you to choose from if you wear size 40 or larger. And at no extra cost—$7.95.

FOUNDATIONS ARE IMPORTANT

The lines of your new dress will not appear as fashion intended unless your foundation garment moulds your figure correctly.

We carry a "Flatter Back" Girdles with brassiere tops have a special feature which will help you have the correct figure. The elastic back is 3 piece. Two of these pieces are two way stretch and extend across the hips—the center piece of elastic is one way stretch which keeps the girdle from creeping up and which gives the fashionable long backed effect. The top of the garment is made of firm brocaded coutil. The brassiere top is moulded on stylish lines. The whole garment is longer than the usual girdle. There are models for short, regular and long figures. Those who have tried them are very well pleased with this new Warner Brassiere Top Girdle. The price is $3.50.

COOLER WEATHER—WARMER SLIPS

Slips of good weight satin or knitted slips of firm rayon yarn are more comfortable for winter wear. And of course these stronger materials wear better under heavier dresses.

At $1.69 we offer a perfect fitting slip of heavy "Velva Sheen" rayon made with good deep seams which are guaranteed not to rip.

At $1.25 we offer a special knitted slip with brassiere top made by Munsing. It will not sag because it is woven cross-wise instead of length-wise. Like all Munsing products it excels in wearing qualities.

New stocks of these two favored cooler weather slips are ready. $1.69 and $1.25.

SILK WORMS ARE LIKE HUMANS

If they are healthy and well fed they turn out good work. That is why some silk is stronger than others. The life of your hosiery depends on the quality of its silken strands. That is why it pays to buy Munsing Silk Hosiery.

Munsings have been successful for so many years because they never let down on the wearing quality of their hosiery. Women remember when their silk hose give good service and buy Munsing's again and again. Whether it is a 48 centless or a lovely $1.00 chiffon, you'll get the most wear for your money from Munsing Pure Thread Silk Hosiery.

WE HAVE BEEN ON A "TEAR"

And all on account of a woman. She came in and asked us to tear 3-inch strips off of every piece of print in our stock that was same tear. So now we consider the quilting-season has been opened in a big way. You'll like our prints for your nicest quilts. They have that silky broadcloth finish that will add much to the appearance of your quilts. And there are a lot of pretty colorful patterns to choose from. We tear 3-inch strips 36 inches wide at 3c each. Good strips at 5c each, and 12-inch strips at 6c each. If you are making an extra large quilt you'll like our extra large, 81x108 Dixie Maid Quilting Bat at 50c.

3% DISCOUNT FOR CASH ON GROCERIES

With every 10c worth of groceries you buy of us we give you a cash discount stamp. Save these stamps. When you have 50¢ bring them in and we'll give you $1.50 worth of merchandise for them. You'll be surprised at what a saving this will bring you. Hundreds of thrifty families save our cash discount. You can bring your bill promptly at the end of the month we'll give you your stamps. Please use for your groceries. We deliver free. Call 344.

EVERY SEVEN YEARS

We used to say, "Styles repeat themselves every seven years." Well, anyway, dresses are again being trimmed with fringes and braids. A gaily colored length of silk fringe does lives up to a dress a lot. And they need decoration this season because the materials are in plain colors. Pretty velvet flower also. We have a nice selection for you. And we have some very nice dress crepes, too, at $1.90 yd.

KEEPING THE HEAT "IN"

The body makes heat enough of its own to keep us warm if we could keep this heat from escaping.

When we go outdoors in cold weather we can pile on enough extra clothing to keep most of it in.

But sitting in "drafty" school rooms, offices, or poorly heated rooms calls for extra clothing. Extra things next to our body if we are to avoid colds.

Underwear with a fair amount of wool woven with the cotton is best for the purpose.

Munsings make vests, panties and combinations of 25% wool fabric for children and women. They are light weight so they can be worn under your nicest dresses without showing. Like all Munsingwear they give lasting service. Everyone who is exposed to cold should wear them, children in particular. Cotton panties and bloomers are a covering but they are no protection against colds. Munsing Woolies don't scratch. They feel soft and warm and comfortable.

Ladies' Vests and Panties, 58c; Combination, $1.00. Children's Vests and Panties, 50c; Combinations,

PAY US $1 PER WINDOW

And we will furnish pretty new curtains for any room in your home. We have Ruffled Priscilla style curtains in ecru or colors or brightly patterned kitchen sets. And you can choose from a complete new assortment. We also have attractive new curtains in better quality. 25c and 35c yard. And drapery materials at 50c yd.

BIGGEST CROP IN YEARS

The South raised an enormous crop of cotton this year. So blankets are cheaper. We were lucky to have put off our blanket buying. Now the price is low, and you'll be lucky too. If you buy your blankets of us because you'll make a good worth while saving. Call and price our blankets. You'll see the difference.

MOST OF US MAKE THIS MISTAKE

We keep our new shoes for dress-up occasions and wear the old pair around home. If we have to be on our feet a lot that mistake costs us a good deal more than we realize. A lot of our headaches, backaches, and loss of sleep are caused by not having proper support under our arches. Because our arches don't ache we don't realize what troubles we endure no account of old, run down shoes! A pair of good arch-fitting shoes made of good wearing, comfortable black kid, can be had for $3.95 and they will pay any woman many times their cost in comfort and health. Try a pair of our Fashion Built Arch Support Shoes for home wear. They have roomy forepart, snug fitting heels, and good shapely arches that will keep your feet in nice shape all day. You can wear them in dress shoes comfortably. Good strong soles and sensible heels fit them for outdoor as well as indoor wear.

LADIES' GALOSHES, 85c

They are well worth the money. All rubber, 3 straps, warm lined, choice of 3 heights in heels.

Ball Band Galoshes, $1.35. And they are well worth the money. If you are quite particular about fit and style and good looks, you'll be glad to pay the difference. "Ball Band" galoshes are the best value that money will buy.

Eagles Shatter Wayne Hopes

Wildcats Muff Opportunities Chadron Rally in Final Period Wins.

Wayne Teachers' football machine showed flashes of brilliance now and then but sputtered and weakened in the last period of the homecoming game Saturday...

Two vital factors combined to help defeat the Wildcats. In the first place they muffed several opportunities to score after spectacular defensive and offensive play had set the stage for touchdowns...

Wayne's excellent 40-piece band on parade before the encounter lent a note of color and enthusiasm to the homecoming festivities as the teams made ready for the battle...

With the wind at their backs, Wayne's eleven didn't wait long to get going. Rusty Bradford made good on three out of four beautiful passes to Warren, Murray and Brennan to threaten on the 15-yard line...

A series of passes and laterals by Chadron in the second quarter brought the ball to the 10-yard line from where Finkey scampered around right end and up untouched for the first touchdown...

Again Wayne had a touchdown practically made when Lingenfelter, who played a great defensive game, crashed through of a blocked punt and recovered it on the Chadron 5-yard line...

Henkel Reunion Held In Omaha

The Peter Henkel family had a family reunion at the Robert Henkel home in Omaha, Sunday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Henkel, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thomas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henkel and family, all of Wayne, Franklyn Henkel who teaches at Weeping Water, and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Henkel of Seattle, Wash. This is the first reunion of the family in 10 years.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of an Order of Sale, to me directed, issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, upon a decree and supplemental decree rendered therein at the September, 1936 term thereof, in an action pending in said court wherein Home Owners' Loan Corporation, a corporation was plaintiff and Donald H. Larson, et al., were defendants, I will, on the 8th day of December, 1937, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the door of the office of the Clerk of said Court, in the court house in Wayne, in said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate...

But the break came that won the game. Fox fumbled on the Wayne 28. Chadron recovered and McGinnis brought it down to the 5-yard line. Repeated once the Eagles soon were back trying to score. McGinnis, stocky quarterback, plunged 3 yards over the right side for the winning marker. Finkey's try for the point was no good. Chadron 18, Wayne 13. Only a few minutes remained as Wayne pined desperately.

Freshman Star

This sensational Wayne Teachers' freshman end has shone in every game he has played. His aggressive, charging defensive work is the answer to a coach's fondest dream. He weighs 180, is smart and fast.

Kearney, Chadron Play Crucial Game

Only Two Games Remain In Abbreviated Loop Schedule.

Nebraska Intercollegiate. W. L. T. Pct. Pts. Op. Chadron 1 0 0 1.000 18 13 Kearney 1 0 1 1.000 21 7 Wayne 0 1 1 .000 20 25 Peru 0 1 0 .000 0 14

With only two games remaining on the abbreviated Nebraska Intercollegiate schedule, the conference race will draw to a close next week when Kearney and Chadron battle on Armistice day.

The game between Chadron and Kearney gives promise of being a struggle if Chadron keeps playing tip-top ball. Kearney rolled over Nebraska B 37-0 last Friday and Chadron's defeat of Wayne indicated its potential strength.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Miller and family plan to move to Lincoln the last of this week. Mr. Miller is in the legal department of the unemployment compensation division. The family has an apartment in the city.

Chadron completed 2 out of 6 passes. Fox, reserve quarterback, played a fine game for Wayne, with Bradford and Gatewood doing much of the heavy work in the backfield. Warren was removed early in the game with an injured leg.

McGinnis and Finkey were threats in the Eagle offense. The whole Chadron line played a fine defensive game.

College High Team Jolts Laurel, 13-6

Preps Show Real Power: Hickman Leads Mates To Victory.

College high's football team, with all hands on deck again, put on the steam Tuesday afternoon to bowl over Laurel by a decisive 13-6 score on the Laurel gridiron.

Coach Bloss' team made a fine comeback after faltering in the last two games, when injuries took a serious toll. The first score came in the second period after a strong running attack brought the oval to the Laurel 3-yard line.

Laurel barely escaped a shut-out by counting on a long forward pass to Her in the last quarter, which gave them six points.

Wayne High Team Is Idle This Week. Unless a game is scheduled at the last minute Wayne high will not play the week following cancellation of the Wayne-Pilger contest because of illness at Pilger.

A BOBCAT CHALLENGE!

From Junius McCowan, sport editor of the "Peru Pedagogian," comes the following spirited challenge: "Last year we defeated your Wayne team after losing consistently all season. Our chances of repeating the victory are good."

"Peru has always considered Wayne as a very worthy foe. Yours have been clever, hard-fighting teams, and may our rivalry on the gridiron last. The Wayne-Peru contest promises to be a good one, so come down all you staunch Wayne fans and watch the Bobcats battle."

Lyons High Shades Walthill Team, 8-7

Forming Wayne Athletes Are Coaches of Two Strong Prep Elevens.

As 1,000 spectators looked on, Lyons high school's undefeated football team shaded Walthill, 8-7, at Lyons Monday afternoon, to hand the visitors their first loss of the season.

Lyons scored a touchdown and a safety in the opening quarter for the points which won the game. The victory of Pete Crosby, Lyons quarterback, outshone that of Walthill's star back, Vic Brewer, who has run wild on prep grids this season.

Wayne Teachers college supplied officials for the game. Coach Hickman was referee, Rusty Bradford, umpire, and Johnson, head linesman.

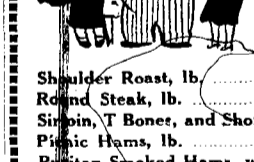

To District Conference. H. E. Simon, J. T. Bressler, L. S. Hogg and D. S. Wightman were in Norfolk Wednesday to attend a Third District republican workers' conference.

Wildcats Seek Win Over Peru

Wildcats Are Still After Their First Victory In Conference.

Following their disappointing loss at the hands of the surprising Chadron Eagles last Saturday, Wayne will be fighting hard to bring home a part of the conference spoils when the men journey to Peru Friday. They have yet to win a conference game, but a victory Friday may mean a tie with Kearney, the only other team playing three conference games.

By this time the Wildcats have learned to count for naught the scores of past games. Peru's Bobcats are always a game, fighting team which likes to spring upsets after a poor season. A 0-14 loss to Kearney this season would have ended in a tie, except for two blocked punts. Last year the Bobcats beat Wayne 6-0 after dropping most of the games on their schedule.

Peru Line Heavy. The Peru line is reported bigger than ever with three men weighing better than 200. The hefty boys are "Spiz" Nelson, Dale Bridgewater and George Mott.

In the backfield Tom Majors is the ace ball carrier as well as having a brilliant punting record. Against Kearney Majors averaged 45 yards a try although three of his kicks were blocked.

Peru has played some close games this season, tying Maryville 6-6 and defeating Wesleyan 7-6. Other games were defeats at the hands of Doane, 0-12, and by Midland, 0-13.

At least three Wildcat linemen may not be in the lineup because of injuries, weakening the Wayne defense considerably. Edsall and Mitchell, tackles, and Brenpi end, are the injured men.

Social Science and Physical Science clubs met Monday. Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and Newman club met Wednesday evening.

Latin club met October 25 in the college Latin room. Consul Healy or Owen presided. "Mrs. Rus Goes To College" was the subject of a talk by Dr. Isabel Rust.

Disarmament Topic Of State Meeting

The possibility of developing an international army or police force to take care of situations such as one nation's aggressing on another, was one of the topics discussed at the Geneva, Switzerland, League of Nations Institution of World Affairs, a school for college students which meets six weeks during the summer months.

Mrs. Day Simms of Hastings, state chairman of International Relations of the American Association of University Women, spoke to the state board meeting in Lincoln about the school which she attended last year. Several from Wayne attended the meeting and Miss Stella Traster, International Relations chairman from Wayne branch, was particularly interested in the Geneva meeting.

Other international problems discussed at the conference were disarmament and the possibilities of getting rid of the "mad" feeling on armament, necessity for recognizing the sanctity of treaties, world disarmament, strengthening the League of Nations and the above mentioned proposal of an international police force to which all nations would contribute.

Bubble Millionaire
Is Again In News
 Memory of Pilger's "bubble millionaire" has been renewed as deportation proceedings are being considered.

About 10 years ago Jack Parsons told how he was about to be heir to a $12,000,000 English fortune and obtained money on his story. He used the money to make improvements on the Hawkins farm two miles southeast of Pilger. Elaborate building operations were well under way when the bubble broke and Parsons and his father were arrested on charge of obtaining money on false ground. The farm improvements stopped. Jack Parsons has been serving time in California on charge of forgery. His term is nearly complete. Federal officers say he faces deportation when released because his father never took out citizenship papers and Parsons, as a result, is an alien having entered this country when 6 years old.

Omaha friends of Parsons are making an effort to escape deportation.

The State National bank and First National bank will observe Friday, November 5, as a holiday in order that members of the staffs may attend the state bankers' convention in Lincoln. Several from each bank plan to go.

To State Conference.

Agent Walter Moller is in Lincoln this week attending the annual conference at which plans are made for agricultural work the coming year. The meetings opened Monday and continue through Saturday.

The Appeal of Club Work.

Omaha Journal Stockman.—Like the 4-H club shows themselves, affairs like the Lester Lutt testimonial dinner at Wayne have a universal appeal. Just as the older generations flock—and perhaps still do flock—to see "their children" perform in school entertainments, so do all of us get a thrill out of witnessing the splendid practical accomplishments of the club boys and girls.

Some have complained that 4-H work was being "over-emphasized." Perhaps that is so in a few instances of extreme commercialization. The placing of too high a premium on their work might give the youngsters a false sense of values and importance. But for the rank and file of 4-H members, who never win any high awards and must take most of the benefits of their work in the form of experience and education, there can be no doubting the worthwhileness of the program.

New Switchboard
Near Completion

General comment of the new switchboard being installed at the light plant is that it is the finest one of its kind, according to S. A. Hemple, city engineer.

The switchboard is cubicle and with steel partitions, three generator panels, one totalizing panel and four feeder panels. All circuit breakers and instrument transformers are located in rear compartments for safety. All are electrically operated. Each switch can be locked when open to prevent med working on them. No switch can be closed when work is being done on the board.

The new switchboard was installed to accommodate the present load of kilowatts. The switchboard will carry a load of 4,000 kilowatts and the average load is 300 now.

The switches are controlled and operated by a set of batteries. The instruments for recording are mounted flush on the board, one of the first of its kind so constructed. Most of the instruments

From SOUP TO NUTS The night was chilly and Herbert Thompson, 17, enroute from New Jersey to Hollywood to try for a movie job, was tired so the youth lay down on a park bench in San Antonio, Texas. Later Herbert awakened with a start when something cold slithered across him. He screamed and fainted. Park attendants who found him later untwined several snakes which, attracted by the youth's warm body, had wrapped themselves around him.

Establish a no-parking zone outside the arena. It proved a boomerang. Wright was arrested twice for parking in the zone. Martin J. Reimer, 21, of San Francisco finally relieved suspense at the marriage license bureau. He first appeared with Marjorie Young, 18, and filed notice of intention to wed. Two days later he came back with Elbert Mae Jones, 21, and signed a similar notice. After the required time he and Miss Jones appeared for their license. William Schlarb, 68, of Baltimore, burned to death just inches away from firemen cutting away a door they couldn't open because his body blocked it. The man, trapped by flames in a basement, collapsed against its only door.

Firemen heard him cry for help and were able to see his legs as they chopped hinges from the door. Peter Aisbrenner of Berkeley, Calif., met three bandits on a dark street the other night. Aisbrenner, a former Olympic wrestler, dispatched one bandit to the gutter, choked another and sent the third away with an expert kick. Fashionable residents of exclusive Bar Harbor, Me., raised their eyebrows at an upstairs intruder who paraded Mainstreet for five minutes. The stranger, a large buck deer, ambled leisurely through the town, gave a last perfunctory glance at astonished passersby and disappeared.

After 57 years of marriage, Mrs. W. H. Jones, 83, of Tennessee, is seeking divorce from her husband, 84, on ground of cruel treatment. A woman who said she "cheated" a penny weighing machine mailed a nickel to A. E. Goldreich, department store manager at Hartford City, Ind., to relieve her conscience. She wrote that she and four others all had "weighed for a penny" on the scales. She said she had recently been converted and realized her "wrong."

Richard Herbert, 4, of Cleveland suffered nothing more than bruises when a skidding automobile jumped a curb, crashed into his tricycle and hurled him into the air. He landed in the arms of his father walking close behind. "Like a football," grinned the elder Herbert.

Farmer John Nepermann of Dundee, Ill., has planted his 1938 corn. The Illinois farmer does in October what most farmers do in May. The seed he plants is chemically treated. The corn resists pests because it has sufficient growth by early summer so as not to be bothered by them. The corn is harvested in August, before the usual dry part of late summer.

London Letter

By ALFRED LARSON,
LONDON, ENGLAND.

If someone has concluded from preceding letters that life in London is gloomy without relief, I wish that he could have accompanied a friend and me on a very enjoyable fishing expedition yesterday. The morning fog in the city was so heavy that we considered the feasibility of going to a punt right out of an upper-story window; but disregarding the fog we took an electric train to Walton fifteen miles up the Thames, where my fellow fisherman assured me the day, reach, and silver bream are abundant.

At Walton the fog was gone and soon the sun was shining brightly. The Thames at that point is only fifty yards wide and smooth as glass, except when boats or barges pass or when the swans kick up a fuss over some real or imaginary insult. The fishing from the bank and from a punt was not sufficiently exciting to induce complete forgetfulness of our surroundings. It was the 18th of October, but the grass which lined the borders of the historic river were green as ever. In the yards before a few of the neat little cottages were many small red roses while Michaelmas daisies were everywhere. The leaves on the great oaks, elms, poplars, and beeches were turning, but the weeping willows seemed not to recognize the arrival of autumn, and the evergreen trees and holly hedges appeared to thrive on thoughts of approaching winter. Most of England's summer birds already have crossed the channel, which may account for the ceaseless happy small talk of the sparrows who carried on at a great rate in the treetops, almost as if in celebration of their undisputed dominion. The scene from the river in short was one that gave point to Shakespeare's description of England as "this other Eden, demi-paradise."

At 5 o'clock the sun dropped beneath the horizon, the fog was rudely beginning to return, and the fish showed no signs of abating their characteristically English aloofness. We derived small consolation from reciting poetry the gist of which is that it is a fisherman's luck to become wet and hungry. There was nothing for it but to find a teashop where we dined on buttered crumpets and dawks with our tea while we agreed upon a proper fish story for the benefit of several people who might question us separately. Afternoon tea is an English institution that has much to commend it besides the opportunity it offers for reconciling falsehoods. For one thing it discourages the less admirable English habit of loafing over beer in the public houses. If the Englishman did not have his afternoon tea, he would probably set up a great clamor for a change in the pub closing hours. At present London pubs are closed till noon and again in the afternoon from 3 till 6. Afternoon tea has the further advantage that it pushes the Englishman's dinner well into the evening, so that in a pinch he can go to bed without his supper, the snack which he often enjoys before retiring.

The tea we drank in Walton was good honest tea, as may be judged from the fact that we agreed to admit to anyone who asked that we had not caught a single fish. The electric train in 35 minutes whisked us the 15 miles to Waterloo station in mid-London where we were swallowed up by the 6 o'clock exodus of commuters. News placards scarcely discernible in the fog announced that six people had been killed and forty injured in the fog-bound morning traffic, and that workers all over England had been unable to get to work on time.

In today's sunshine our true fish story was disbelieved by persons who had not seen us buying tackle at the Holborn branch of W. H. Wood's. When someone suggested that perhaps we had not gone fishing at all, we decided that next time we will not dare to tell a fish story without a fish.

Early Days 'In Wayne County

From the Ponca Journal for November 13, 1879: "We hope our poet laureate, Mr. Rockwell, will tackle the muse again and give us a good, wholesome poem as soon as at least as Thanksgiving."

Thanksgiving day is set for the 27th and people of "this favored spot of the moral vineyard have much to rejoice over. Good health, good homes, good neighbors and a good country. Election has fortunately gone by and now, with nothing to disturb the harmony of the scene, our citizens, in peace, plenty and prosperity will pass the winter away."

A whole avalanche of shooting stars will be precipitated down upon the earth this evening, November 13, at 2 a. m. If people can keep their eyes open they may see a good performance. Yesterday morning the weather was warm and rainy fell, and today a northwesterly swept down upon us and changed the scene to snow.

A team belonging to Mr. Harrison ran away and "navigated" around the streets in a remarkably exuberant manner. They slung the wagon and harness in various directions, and then whooped up their agility in climbing a hill and running into a fence.

CARROLL CHURCH HAS ANNIVERSARY

Methodist Service Are Attended Sunday By Large Number.

Services Sunday morning and afternoon observing the 50th anniversary of Carroll Methodist church were attended by large audiences. A beautiful autumn day brought many friends together from near and far for the occasion.

Dr. W. A. Albright of Norfolk, district superintendent, delivered the morning sermon on "I Will Build My Church." Philip Carlson sang a solo, and the choir presented an anthem, Rev. Allen Magill, pastor, was in charge of services.

Bounteous basket dinner was served at noon to about 200.

For the afternoon services Mrs. C. E. Jones read a history of the church. The congregation organized in the fall of 1887 at the school with Rev. J. A. High in charge. David Garwood of Atkinson, only charter member present and one of the first trustees, was introduced. Mrs. G. W. Yaryan was the earliest settler in attendance, she having come in 1885.

Mrs. Levi Roberts read letters from former ministers, Rev. E. E. Carter, Rev. W. W. Hull of Sutherland, Rev. David Simpson of Shelton, and Rev. F. E. Sala of Lincoln. All former ministers were invited but none were able to come. The Welsh quartet furnished special music for the afternoon service. In the quartet were John Davis, Erwin Jones, Ivor Morris and Lloyd Morris.

First quarter conference was conducted after the services.

Among those here from a distance for the anniversary were the following: David Garwood, Miss Lela Garwood and Ralph Garwood of Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson of Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. David Seastedt, Ronald Seastedt and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ecklund of Omaha, Supt. and Mrs. Ira George of Osmond, Mrs. Nora George, Mrs. Clark George and Peggy and Mr. and Mrs. Foy George of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Larsen and daughter of Laurel, Glenn Haines and family of Belton, and Mrs. Henry Wacker of Belton, Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Morris and Evelyn of Win-
