

In spite of the Recession—Members Loot at Opportune Time—Does Not Miss Train Loss—Transfer of an Eye—Practical Fellowship—To Enlarge Congressional Service—Reasonable Suggestion.

A review of the past year's local happenings in today's Herald shows a gratifying number of state and district public meetings. Wayne always enjoyed entertaining visitors—always had an enviable reputation along that line.

Christmas Trade Good. Despite what has been publicly referred to as a business recession, Christmas shopping over the nation is reported by Dun & Bradstreet greater than that of a year ago.

Christmas Robbery. The Golden Rule Store robbery, guessed to have taken place around 6 o'clock Christmas evening—an hour when police service is said to relay—suggests the advisability of keeping one or more members of the force constantly on duty.

Without Train Service. Police does not appear inconvenienced by loss of its railroad a few years ago. The highway is surfaced with asphalt to the paving which extends into Sioux City, and the distance of 23 miles is covered in a half hour.

A Real Sacrifice. The marvels of surgery and an example of extreme human sacrifice are revealed in the giving of an eye by a sick man to a boy who was losing his sight.

Conceivably, it will be a great change for the 68-year-old eye. It has switched from maturity to immaturity. Impressions conveyed will no longer be received by seasoned age, nearing the final curtain, but by aspiring, speculative youth, just getting started, and participating many useful, productive years, and wondering what the future holds. The sacrifice is proof that the world is not all selfishness. The operation shows the amazing height attained by skilled surgery. Amos says he was amply repaid by the happiness which he gained by the boy's friendship.

Philanthropy Remembered. Another story of sympathy made to serve practical ends comes from Hollywood. Ted Healy, comedian, who received a large salary, but who used all his surplus to help unfortunates, died suddenly and left nothing for his wife and child.

PASSES FRIDAY AT WAYNE HOME

Rites Are Held Monday For George H. Lessmann at Local Church.

George H. Lessmann died at his home in Wayne Friday morning, December 24, at 10 o'clock after an illness of several months, aged 53 years, 5 months and 18 days. Funeral rites were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 at Grace Lutheran church with Rev. Walter Brackenkick and the Beckenhauer service in charge.

Mr. Lessmann had apparently been in good health until last spring. He was able to be up and about except the five weeks before his death. He sought relief in Omaha but, after remaining there a week, returned to his home.

George Henry Lessmann was born in Dixon county, Neb., July 6, 1884, being the second eldest of nine children. He was baptized in the Lutheran church northeast of Wayne by Rev. Welking and was confirmed there by Rev. Gutknecht.

Mr. Lessmann married Miss Amelia Schmill of Wayne, February 19, 1908. Five children were born to the Lessmanns and all survive. For 15 years after their marriage Mr. Lessmann engaged in farming in Dixon and Wayne counties. In 1923 the family moved to Wayne.

Mr. Lessmann is survived by his wife and five children, Elmer, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Dorothy, Margaret and Willys. He also leaves his father, Henry Lessmann of near Wayne, three brothers, Charles of Sidney, Herbert of Des Moines, and Paul of near Wayne, and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Flege of near Wayne, and Mrs. James Hank of Concord. There are two grandchildren, Lowell Johnson and Leon Stone.

Mr. Lessmann was one of the men who were instrumental in organizing Grace Lutheran church in Wayne. He saw the congregation grow to a membership of 300 and he served the church as treasurer for a number of years.

Nephews who served as pallbearers are James Lessmann, Everett Hank, Franklin Flege, Dale Schmill, Rollie Harding and Mr. Schmill.

Herbert Lessmann of Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lessmann and Evelyn of Sidney, and Omaha relatives were here for the funeral.

Passes At Wisner Home On Thursday. Rites Are Held Sunday At Lutheran Church For Mrs. Beune.

Mrs. Wm. Beune, 86, sister of August Wittler and Mrs. Minnie Brune of Wayne, died Thursday, December 23, at her home 11 miles south of Wisner after two months' illness. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Lutheran church nine miles south of Wisner and many from Wayne attended. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Deceased came from Germany many years ago and first settled at Osage, Ia., later coming to Wisner where she resided for a long time. Mr. Beune died 26 years ago. Deceased leaves five sons, William, Ludwig, August, Henry and Herman, all of near Wisner, and three daughters, Mrs. Wm. Mindegerman of Prairie, Minn., who was the only one unable to attend the funeral; Mrs. Marie Meyer of Wisner, and Mrs. Augusta Stigge of Howells. Mrs. Beune was the eldest of five in the Wittler family and the first to die. The others are Henry of Cook, Neb., William of Illinois, August and Mrs. Minnie Brune of Wayne.

Observe Wedding Anniversary Here. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sederstrom observed their 40th wedding anniversary Christmas day by entertaining for the families of A. N. Swanson, L. E. Swanson and S. E. Swanson of Bloomfield, Mrs. Roy Slover of Magnot, Mrs. Ed. Tucker of Spokane, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Larson and son. The honored couple received many gifts. Several women called on Mrs. Sederstrom Monday afternoon for the occasion.

WORKER IN SMALL INDUSTRY USUALLY HIGHLY SATISFIED

LABOR union demands and disturbances which have probably done most to obstruct economic recovery the past year, receive little sympathy from workers who are not under the heel of the organization. The average employee in non-union industries knows, he is better off, especially in times of uncertainty, than his employer who is depended on to drag in enough business to carry an ascending overhead.

When the day's work is over the employee can forget his job and enjoy leisure without worrying about the next day's task. On the other hand, the employer puts in longer hours hatching up on the details of his business and planning a stimulus to volume that will enable him to make ends meet.

Weather Role Important. The weather played an important role in 1937. The year was ushered in New Year's day in a blizzard. Succeeding suns, drifted by high winds, blocked highways and intermittently stopped all travel for some weeks.

It was also the last of January that the Ohio river floods left 550,000 homeless and resulted in great property loss. At that time Wayne county residents sent $600 to help those people.

Couple Marry At Home Ceremony. Miss Mae Beckenhauer Is Bride Of Gil, C. Day In Wedding Monday.

At a simple home wedding Monday, December 27, Miss Mae Beckenhauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eph Beckenhauer, became the bride of Mr. Gilmore C. Day, son of Wm. Day of Clyde, Kan.

Mr. Chichester had always been in the best of health until about four months ago when he became ill with sinus infection. Since then he has been in an Omaha hospital where he underwent three major operations. At Thanksgiving time he was in Wayne with his family for two days. It was thought that he had nearly recovered but since that time complications developed and all surgical and medical aid was of no avail.

Frederic Elbert Chichester, son of Eliphail and Anna Chichester, was born January 4, 1887, at Harlan, Iowa. As a small boy he moved with his parent to Wayne, later moving to Walnut, Kan., where the family lived until Mr. Chichester grew to young manhood.

Mr. Chichester married Miss Bertha Wieland of Wayne, at Ordway, Colo., September 7, 1916, and the couple moved to Chappell, Neb., where their two daughters, Wilma Kathryn and Esther Winifred, were born. When Mr. Chichester was taken ill the family came to Wayne to be closer to him.

Mr. Chichester was baptized and brought up in the Baptist church and remained a faithful member until his marriage when he and his wife joined the Methodist church at Chappell. He was a faithful Christian and devoted husband and father.

Surviving Mr. Chichester are his wife and two daughters, Wilma Kathryn and Esther Winifred, one sister, Mrs. Nellie Peterson of Portland, Maine, and one brother, Frank Chichester, of Fredonia, Kan. His parents, a sister, Bessie, and three brothers, Eliphail, Will and Vancil, preceded him in death.

Pallbearers were Henry Brinkman, Lawrence Thomson, Wilbert Wieland, Anson Maul, Melvin Chichester and August Dorman, nephews of deceased.

Assistance Funds Come For County. Treasurer J. J. Steele reports assistance funds received for December to be as follows: Old age, $1,822.31 from state and $1,802.40 from federal; blind, $42.37 from state and $41.90 from federal; child welfare, $550.79 from state and $275.40 from federal.

YEAR IS SEEN IN RETROSPECT

Various Incidents Mark Period Just Past In Memory Record.

Glancing back over 12 months one finds many incidents which will make 1937 hold special place in the memory of Wayne county-ians. In future years, when the period just past is mentioned, varying impulses will be aroused. To some the year will recall feelings of joy for happy events, and to others it will bring pangs of sorrow.

To some 1937 has meant success, and to others the year marks a thwarting of hopes. But through time, notheast Nebraskans will prove that they are true to their sturdy pioneer stock and will "carry on" bravely in each year to come.

ABUNDANCE AGAIN EARNEST HOPE AS NEW YEAR BEGINS

THE New Year is just ahead. It will be acclaimed with usual noise. Beneath the excitement will be some earnest thinking and quiet planning. Good resolutions, most likely to be kept, will be those fashioned secretly and observed without flourish. A year ago we deplored a year of drought and looked forward to a year of abundance. The abundance started, but didn't finish. Until around July 1 the prospect loomed like a comet at perihelion. Then a hail storm razed a considerable area northwest of here. About the same time drought started to curtail crops and succeeded beyond anything contemplated in the control program of Secretary Henry Wallace. By the end of the season, realization contrasted painfully with the roscate dreams of early springtime. Although we had a partial crop and more than most other parts of the state, expectations thinned down to disappointing meagreness.

Mr. Luth was born in Mecklenburg, Germany, September 22, 1866. At the age of 2 he came with his parents to this county and settled in Madison, Wis., where the family lived four years. From there they came to a farm in Dixon county, near Concord, in 1872.

Mr. Luth succeeded his parents on the home place and now his daughter, Mrs. Echtenkamp lives on the same farm. The Luths were among the pioneers in their neighborhood, coming by covered wagon. Their nearest neighbor was eight miles distant and their closest town was Ponca.

Mr. Luth was confirmed April 19, 1885, and was a faithful member of Immanuel Lutheran church from its beginning. He was held in highest esteem by all who knew him.

Mr. Luth married Miss Anna Lessmann February 27, 1896, and to this union were born four children: Mrs. Ernest Echtenkamp and Mrs. Max Holdorf, Wakefield, Harvey Luth of Denver, Colo., and a son who died in infancy.

After his marriage Mr. Luth engaged in farming for a number of years and retired in 1911. He had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Echtenkamp since 1921.

Mrs. Luth died December 15, 1907, and deceased was also preceded in death by two sisters, Mrs. Lena Hinnerichs of Wayne, and one sister in infancy. Besides his children Mr. Luth leaves one nephew, Carl of Concord, eight grandchildren and one nephew, James Hank of Concord.

Pallbearers will be Franklin Flege, Edward Luth, Marvin Bartling, Elray Hank, Merlin and Dale Lessmann.

Club President Picks Chairmen. Kiwanis Committee Heads Are Appointed Monday By H. B. Craven.

H. B. Craven, new president of Wayne Kiwanis club, appointed committee chairmen for the ensuing year Monday at the group meeting as follows: Agriculture, J. J. Ahern; attendance and membership, W. C. Coryell; boy and girl scouts, P. A. Theobald; budget and finance, R. W. Ley; vocational guidance, Prof. E. J. Hunter; reception, Prof. W. R. Hickman; publicity, E. W. Huse; underprivileged child, Dr. J. T. Gillespie; good roads, H. E. Sman; house, Dr. J. E. Brock; inter-club relations, F. L. Blair; Kiwanis education, F. S. Berry; music, Russell Widoe; program, Dr. J. T. Anderson; public affairs, Carl Nuss. Other members of the committees will be chosen later.

No members of the local club had birthdays during the week. R. J. Kingston was introduced as a new member of the club. W. A. Behl of Evanston, Ill., and Willard Wittise of Wausa, were guests of Wm. Beckenhauer.

To Register Soon For College Term. Will Display Art Exhibit From New York Here At College Rooms.

Registration for resident students at the Wayne State Teachers college will be held January 10 to 15. New students will register Saturday morning, January 22, and the new semester will begin the following Monday, January 24.

An art exhibit including pictures by children in the schools of many cities will be shown in the art building, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 10, 11 and 12. The pictures are finger-paintings and fresco paintings sent from New York, where they were part of the Young America Paints exhibition recently held in Rockefeller Center. Miss Martha Pierce, chairman of the art department, arranged for the showing.

Members of faculties at the college and high schools are invited to attend the exhibition. A general invitation is also issued to the public. The exhibition will be open from 9 a. m. until noon and from 2 until 5:30 each day. Miss Jessie Stephen will assist in directing the exhibition.

Dick Jones underwent a major operation Saturday at a local hospital.

An Urgent Appeal. L. E. Brown, manager of the local Brown-McDonald company store, urgently requests those persons who paid for merchandise by check or who cashed checks at the store on Friday, December 24, please call at the store as soon as convenient.

The above request is made because of the robbery of cash and checks which occurred Saturday, December 25. If customers are able to remember amounts of checks given the store, payment of those checks may be stopped at the bank and new checks may be written and issued to the store. Thus, a partial recovery of the money may be made without endangering the writers of the checks.

EARLY SETTLER DIES MONDAY

Funeral Rites Are Today at Lutheran Church for Fred Luth.

Funeral rites will be held this Thursday at 1:30 from the Ernest Echtenkamp home and at 2 from Immanuel Lutheran church northeast of Wayne for Fred Luth who died Monday night, December 27, at 11:30, aged 71 years, 3 months and 5 days.

Mr. Luth was born in Mecklenburg, Germany, September 22, 1866. At the age of 2 he came with his parents to this county and settled in Madison, Wis., where the family lived four years. From there they came to a farm in Dixon county, near Concord, in 1872.

Mr. Luth succeeded his parents on the home place and now his daughter, Mrs. Echtenkamp lives on the same farm. The Luths were among the pioneers in their neighborhood, coming by covered wagon. Their nearest neighbor was eight miles distant and their closest town was Ponca.

Mr. Luth was confirmed April 19, 1885, and was a faithful member of Immanuel Lutheran church from its beginning. He was held in highest esteem by all who knew him.

Mr. Luth married Miss Anna Lessmann February 27, 1896, and to this union were born four children: Mrs. Ernest Echtenkamp and Mrs. Max Holdorf, Wakefield, Harvey Luth of Denver, Colo., and a son who died in infancy.

After his marriage Mr. Luth engaged in farming for a number of years and retired in 1911. He had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Echtenkamp since 1921.

Mrs. Luth died December 15, 1907, and deceased was also preceded in death by two sisters, Mrs. Lena Hinnerichs of Wayne, and one sister in infancy. Besides his children Mr. Luth leaves one nephew, Carl of Concord, eight grandchildren and one nephew, James Hank of Concord.

Pallbearers will be Franklin Flege, Edward Luth, Marvin Bartling, Elray Hank, Merlin and Dale Lessmann.

Christmas Display Winners Chosen. Paul Mines home was judged to be the most typical Christmas scene by the committee judging the homes in Wayne which were decorated during Christmas season.

The yard was decorated with a lighted Christmas tree which threw a soft reflection on the house showing another lighted tree in the sun room. Others receiving honorable mention were the homes of Wm. Hixcox, E. W. Huse, R. W. Ley, Carl Nicolaisen and the Benhaeck hospital.

In the down town displays the north window in the L. W. McNatt hardware store was chosen. The window displayed Christmas articles in a background of blue, silver and white. Those receiving honorable mention in this group were: Golden Rule, Beckenhauer funeral home, and the school exhibit displayed in the Martin L. Ringer insurance office.

The judges expressed difficulty in choosing the winning exhibits as many Wayne people had operated this year in decorating homes and stores, and all displays were excellent. The winners received the award because of their appropriateness in depicting typical Christmas scenes. Because the judging was done in the evening, lighting effects were important factors.

The Young Business Men sponsored the event.

Marry Wednesday At Home In Wayne

Miss Helen Felber Bride Of Dale Eckermann Of New York City.

Sixty relatives and friends were guests in the H. J. Felber home Wednesday afternoon, December 29, when Miss Helen Felber became the bride of Mr. Dale Harold Eckermann of New York City.

Rev. W. F. Dierking performed the single ring service at 3 o'clock and a reception followed before the couple left for their home in the east.

Christmas blue satin and bouquets of white roses and blue baby-breath formed the improvised altar in the west end of the Felber living room. Large baskets of white pom-pom chrysanthemums stood at either side near the colonnades, and lighted white tapers in a seven-branch candelabra cast a soft glow for the service.

Mrs. J. T. Bressler, jr., played Mendelssohn's march as the bridal party took places at the altar. She also accompanied Mrs. Jason Gost of Bridgeport, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me."

Mrs. Sherman S. Welpton, jr., of Omaha, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and led. She wore a gown of periwinkle blue. The fitted bodice and belt were covered with brilliants, and brilliants also formed a band at the bottom of the long, full skirt. Mrs. Welpton carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Felber, who entered with her father, was gowned in white satin made with tight bodice and full skirt flowing into a train. (Continued on page two.)

Takes Second In National Contest. Miss Norma Carpenter Wins House on Essay Written For Corporation.

Miss Norma Carpenter of Lincoln, formerly of the Wayne Herald staff, this week took second prize in a national contest conducted by an electrical corporation and will receive an $8,000 house as her reward. To win she wrote a 100-word essay on "The Electrical Way of Living."

Miss Carpenter is employed in the advertising department of a Lincoln store and spends part of her leisure time working puzzles. She has won several awards.

Miss Carpenter is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Carpenter of Lincoln. The Carpenters visited in Wayne often when their daughter was here. Mr. Carpenter recently underwent a major operation in a Lincoln hospital.

Marry Wednesday At Brown Home. Mr. Erwin Longe, son of Mrs. Lizzie Longe of southeast of Wayne, and Miss Fern Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown of Wakefield, were married Wednesday evening at the Brown home, relatives and friends being present for the ceremony performed by Rev. A. L. Peterson of Wakefield. A reception followed. The Longes are moving to the Chas. Ash farm south of Wayne.

Hold Open House Here New Year's. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gossard of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, will observe their 54th wedding anniversary New Year's day. They will spend the day in Wayne and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sorenson, will hold open house Saturday afternoon at their home from 3 to 5 in honor of the Gossards.

Plan Recreation Program Tuesday. A recreation meeting is planned at the old city hall Tuesday, January 4, beginning at 10 a. m., and each organization is invited to send one or more delegates to learn new games and entertainment. Ralph Copenhagen of Lincoln, will be in charge.

GAIN ENTRANCE CHRISTMAS DAY

Brown-McDonald Company Loss of $1,300 Covered By Insurance.

The Brown-McDonald Co. Golden Rule store in Wayne was entered and robbed of cash and merchandise amounting to $1,300 Christmas day about 6 p. m. Officers are searching for the intruders, and the Brown-McDonald Co. is offering $500 reward information leading to the arrest and conviction of those participating in the robbery. The loss insured.

L. E. Brown, manager of the store, was in Holdrege spending the holiday. He returned as soon as he learned of the theft. Harold Finch was working in the store most of the day. He and John Lynch left there at 5:30 to go to the Paul Pawlowski home for dinner. Mr. Finch returned at 7:20 and found that the place had been entered.

All windows on the back of the store are barred but two bars were unsecured on the window in the ladies' rest room. It is thought some women with intruders had been in the store the day before and loosened the bars to make admittance convenient for the party. After gaining entrance through the window the intruders are thought to have opened the back door and loaded two cars with their haul.

It is thought that the yellowed in the store about 6 p. m. a marshal was off duty at that time Billy Jones, who helps at the store, rapped on the door at 6:45 to see if Mr. Finch had returned. He may have hurried the intruders for they left some money sacks and scattered checks about the floor as though they were disturbed.

A perfect job of opening the safe with nitroglycerin was done. The yellow evidently knew just how much to place around the door before lighting it to make the safe expand and allow the door to loosen. The safe contained $994 in money and checks. The intruders took five of 10 sacks and discarded checks in two of the sacks. These checks were found on the floor. They escaped with $655 in currency and checks, but will realize only about $300 in cash in the sum, the rest being checks. The safe is not damaged.

Merchandise makes up the rest of the loss and this was evidently packed in several suitcases and night bags which are missing. Nineteen women's silk and velveteen dresses were taken on the hangers and it is likely the dresses were wrapped around the hangers and placed in the suitcase. Four women's coats, a wool bathrobe, quantity of silk dance sets, quantity of satin and silk crepe slacks, two silk nightgowns and a dozen smocks and house coats were taken and these were removed from the boxes which were sealed. (Continued on page two.)

Case Is Appealed To District Court. In the case of Fred Brueckner vs. Walter Wantoch, justice court found for the plaintiff in the amount of $150 and costs, and the defendant appealed to district court. Plaintiff owned a steam thrashing engine weighing nine tons, and received permission to leave this on the defendant's farm. Brueckner charges that Wantoch dismantled the machine, sold it and refused to pay the sum to plaintiff. The engine is valued at $190 which the plaintiff claimed was due him.

Gaze In Crystal Ball Reveals Amazing Developments for Wayne

"Ah, there set eez, my friend, I wondaire what will happen in your fair cittyee in 1938? Zeen in the crystal ball and you'll see for yourself."

With those words the mystic seer of the crystal sphere motioned me into a chair, and I began staring into the depths of the future to see what would be the fate of Wayne during the coming year. On the very threshold of 1938, I gazed—and wondered—stricken at what I saw—happenings that dwarfed wildest imagination.

Could it be possible? Yes, I gaze more intently, to be sure. In 1938 Wayne farmers will harvest a bumper crop of corn and the fields of agriculture will be usually solved without aid from legislators.

Major developments which will make Wayne prosper danced before my eyes. Wayne's municipal plant will become the distributing center for electric power throughout northeast Nebraska. It may require many years more than 1938, but the next year I see a start toward bringing electricity to farms all over this northeast Nebraska.

Canning Factory in 1938.

Wayne will take the lead in canning industry to this part of Nebraska in a statewide campaign. The first important industry will be a canning factory which will like farm products and give work to many people. Others will be added later.

Wayne merchants will unite their efforts in a carefully planned trade promotion program which will advertise trading opportunities here to all northeast Nebraska. Plans will be drawn up by a central committee acting for business men as a group. Wayne will be recognized as a wide city, growing every day sleeves were long and fitted, and the neckline was round and close fitting. From a Juliet cap of pearls worn far back on her head the tulle fell to the gown's train. Her slippers were white satin. Miss Felber carried a colonial lace full bouquet.

Mr. Eckerman and the bride's brother, Walden Felber, who served as his attendant, met the bride party at the altar.

For the reception following, the serving table was attractive with a blue bowl of white pompons and blue carnations on a deep blue mirror around which stood four silver candle sticks with lighted white tapers.

Mrs. H. B. Jones received guests at the door and Mrs. Lowell Henney had charge of the guest book. Mrs. L. F. Perry invited them to the dining room where Mrs. J. C. Carhart and Mrs. Walden Felber presided and Miss Barbara Felber assisted.

Miss Felber has been teaching in Macomb, Ill., Teachers College, and Mr. Eckerman does sales promotion work in the paper industry. Their New York home is at 315 East 68th street.

Out of town guests at the wedding included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Henney of Belle Plume, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Wagon, Jr., of Geneva, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Felber and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Harper of Laurel, Mrs. G. S. Eckerman of Loveland, Colo., mother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carhart of Randolph, Mo. and Mrs. Hugh Drake of Cheyenne, Wyo. Sgt. and Mrs. T. I. Friest of Wisnet, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Field and family of Hawarden, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Gorst of Bridgeport, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Surber of Pender, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hoff of LaCrosse, Wis., Miss Evelyn Janssen and Miss Harriet Shackelton of Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Puckett of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gear and Dorothy Dale of Topeka, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Rhodes of Humboldt, Kansas.

A rehearsal dinner was given Tuesday evening at Hotel Stratton by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Felber and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jones. Guests were the bride couple, Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Dierking, Mrs. G. S. Eckerman, Miss Barbara Felber, Mr. and Mrs. Walden Felber, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carhart, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bressler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jason Gorst and Miss Emma Victor. Blue and white color scheme was carried out in flowers decorating the table.

Telegraph Rates May Be Raised

Telegraph companies are about to apply to the federal communications commission for a 15 percent increase in rates, according to word received by the local office this week from New York. In making this application one of the oldest public service institutions is obliged to break a precedent of 30 years. In recent years the telegraph companies have offered a number of new and additional services at low rates for the purpose of developing new and enlarged efforts of their services in an effort to increase volume of traffic and thus keep revenues abreast of expenses which are mounting because of social security and other taxes. In spite of favorable public reception of these innovations, returns have not been sufficient to offset the general downward trend.

Remembered On Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoguewood were remembered Christmas by Mrs. Minnie Strickland who sent a large decorated basket of fruit.

Dr. E. S. Blair also wrote a card to Mr. Hoguewood as an expression of appreciation for his work as Santa Claus for so many years.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express sincere appreciation to neighbors and others for their kindnesses. We also thank all who sent flowers and cards during the illness and at the time of the death of our husband and father, and the choir for music. Mrs. F. E. Chichester and daughters.

To Conduct Broadcast.

Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, Third district president of federated women's clubs, will have charge of the regular radio broadcast from WJAG, Norfolk, next Tuesday morning.

To Return Soon.

Prof. C. R. Chinn is improving rapidly following the operation he underwent at Rochester. He plans to be home the last of next week. Mrs. Chinn, who has been with him, plans to come home this Thursday.

Birth On December 26.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Siefering of Coon, Ia., December 26, second Christmas day. Mrs. Siefering was formerly Alma Hille, daughter of August Hille of south of Wakefield.

Farm Bureau News

(By Walter L. Moller.)

Disadvantages of contour farming are outweighed by its advantages, according to Herman Frerichs of Cedar county, who has been farming on the contour for three years. Frerichs advises turning all full length rows possible between terraces, then taking up the irregular spaces with drilled or sown crops. Land is rotated on the Frerichs farm with clover grown on all cultivated space every few years. By blank listing it is possible to hold practically all winter moisture besides protecting the land from wind erosion. Full contour listing saves labor.

In a test in feeding sorghum grain and corn to hogs, the former is being found a valuable feed. Hogs fed Milo instead of corn gained 71 pound daily while those fed corn gained 70 daily. The Milo feed was cheaper than corn.

Soil is conserved better by growing more grass. Land recently in grass absorbs water very rapidly, has a high water-holding capacity and is in best condition for tillage.

Dr. F. D. Keim of Nebraska, was one of the few in the United States recently honored by the American Society of Agronomy. Dr. Keim is best known for his work of bindweed eradication. His statement that he would rather have a "$40 per acre mortgage on a farm than to have it heavily infested with bindweed" has been quoted often.

First Transmittal Of Forms Is Made

The first transmittal of summary of performance forms for cooperators in the 1937 agricultural program has gone to the state office in Lincoln and the remaining transmittals will be completed within 10 days, according to Walter Moller. Applications for payments are expected back in the county office the last of January. When signed by the producer or landlord the applications will then be returned to the state office for transmittal to the regional disbursing office at Kansas City. It is hoped the checks will be received some time in March.

To Hold Meetings In Dixon County

Educational meetings in the 1938 soil conservation program in Dixon county are being held and officers elected in Dixon county. Chairman, vice chairman, secretary and two alternates are being named. The meeting at Wakefield auditorium is set for January 3 at 1:30 p. m.; Concord, Hughes hall January 5 at 1:30 p. m.; and Logan precinct, Wischhof school January 5 at 7:30 p. m.

Library News

Consumers' Research group of A. A. U. W. has given the Consumers' Digest to the Wayne city library.

Several new pamphlets have been received. These are: "You Can Write," by Francis Bond; "Famously Animals," Lucile Quarry Mann; "Tropical Fish," Lucile Quarry Mann; "Discover the Stars," Gaylord Johnson; "A Garden in the Home," Helen Van Pelt Wels; "Photography For Fun," Wm. M. Strong; "Hiker's Guide," Ben Solomon; "Care and Feeding of Hobby Horses," Ernest Elmo Calkins; "What to do About Your Invention," Edwin Thomas.

The circulation of the library during November included 1,086 children's books loaned; 890 adult fiction books, 357 non-fiction and 389 pamphlets and magazines.

purpose and the results sure to come.

Wayne State Teachers college will have its fine new men's dormitory and will look forward to appropriations for a new gymnasium and library in future years. A larger enrollment than ever before will report for classes next fall.

Wayne pastors will rejoice as everyone is gripped by a city-wide spiritual awakening. The churches will broaden their influence and reach out into all vital activities of the community, joining hands in worthwhile endeavors.

Numerous important conventions and meetings will be held in Wayne, bringing men and women of renown in their special fields. Wayne will sponsor a great safe and sane Fourth of July celebration.

Girl Band Tours Nation.

What have we here? It is Wayne's girl band, composed of 55 pieces and directed by Prof. F. C. Reed. They will gain nationwide recognition on a coast-to-coast tour and will plan a concert tour of Europe for 1939. Achievement in music will be outstanding in Wayne. Vocal and instrumental groups will add to the laurels already theirs. Wayne will truly be known as the music center of this part of Nebraska.

Sports will flourish in 1938.

Wayne college will annex championships in three sports, basketball, track and football. Plenty of part-time jobs will be available for deserving athletes and an assistant physical education director will be added to the college staff. High school athletic teams will also have winning seasons. A baseball team representing the city will be organized and a new league formed. Tennis will reach a new high in popularity with several tournaments stimulating interest in the sport. The basketball rules will again be altered to slow down the game.

Humor Present.

The crystal ball is growing fainter. But wait, look! Certainly 1938 will not see dearth of individual achievement nor will a sense of humor be lacking. The city will give a Christmas gift of light in the form of five feet light for a whole month to the residents and business houses.

Dr. R. R. Stuart at the Teachers college will make a remarkable discovery affecting prevention of a dread disease as a result of his experiments with mice and rats. Bob Brome, college student, will write a play which will become a Hollywood success.

Many young folks will plunge into the matrimonial sea in 1938 with some surprise weddings in the offing. It will be a big year for Dan Cupid.

The light was fading and now I could see no more. The crystal ball had vanished. "Zees all," whispered the mystic. I slipped a bill in his hand, and wandered away, pondering what I had seen as I faced the real 1938.

tered over the floor. Eight dozen pairs of men's silk hose, 50 pairs of Corticelli brand women's hose and 300 pairs of BeKo silk hose were included. The BeKo hose are sold only by Brown-McDonald stores, so they may furnish a good clue in the case. Three large dolls are missing.

With so much done in such a short time officials believe that there must have been four to six in the party.

Sheriff J. H. Pile notified the state sheriff and others of the robbery. He tried to get finger prints but none materialized so it is believed the intruders all wore gloves.

As the Wayne store was robbed of $1,200 in November, 1934, when a panel was broken from the back door and as the company's store at Madison was entered once, the firm is determined to stop the practice by offering the substantial reward of $500.

Postal Receipts Exceed Records Of Past Season

Postal receipts at the Wayne postoffice during the Christmas rush this season show a 12 percent increase over last year, according to Postmaster J. M. Strahan. The amount of packages was about the same. The number of cards and letters which went through the office was about one-third larger than that of a year ago.

The greatest number of letters dispatched in a single day from the postoffice was 12,000 and on several days there were 8,000 letters. The week before Christmas packages averaged about 100 sacks a day.

Packages were handled much more easily this year than last and it was noticeable that many people mailed packages earlier this year. All packages were delivered and the postoffice was cleared by 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, whereas in the past this has not been accomplished until 9 o'clock Christmas eve. Steam line trains which have provided faster service have made this possible. Four extra men were employed to work two weeks before Christmas, and according to Mr. Strahan, packages were handled more easily than in the past.

Business during the year has increased eight percent.

Deed Is Recorded.

Property deed recorded December 22 by Home Savings & Loan association confers to Ethel Sturma, for $800, lot 9, block 7, First addition to Carroll.

Brother Of Former Carroll Lady Dies

Bryan J. Sivey, 44, of Tecumseh, brother of Mrs. C. D. Harrah who lived at Carroll several years, died December 10 after a few days' illness with pneumonia. Funeral rites were conducted at Tecumseh December 12.

Deceased was a native of Tecumseh and had served in the World War. Since being honorably discharged he had engaged in painting and papering at Tecumseh.

Mr. Sivey leaves his wife, mother, two brothers and two sisters.

Has Tonsil Operation.

Jerome Rejters had tonsils removed Wednesday at a local hospital.

Youth Is Killed In Car Accident

George McCrory of Lincoln, died as result of injuries received when the car in which he was riding skidded on the icy road near Wahoo Friday evening and plunged into a ditch. Raymond Argue and Rudolph Thomas, who were with him, are seriously injured and are in a Wahoo hospital, where their condition is much improved.

Mr. Argue and Mr. Thomas are employed in a Fremont Gamble store and the three young men were planning to spend Christmas vacation with Mr. McCrory's parents in Lincoln. Russell Brady of the Wayne Gamble store, was a personal friend of all the young men and last year spent vacation at Lincoln with them. He had been invited to go to Lincoln with them again this year and would have been with them had he accepted.

Rawley Karel of the Wayne Gamble store, was called to Fremont Monday to assist there.

To Ohio Convention.

Prof. G. W. Costerison and representatives from the college Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. are attending a national convention in Oxford, Ohio. They plan to return the last of the week.

THE KNOT-HOLE

Vol. 5 Wayne, Neb., Thurs., Dec. 30, 1937. No. 38

Our stoker coal business is growing larger every day and the reason is that Harco's stoker coal is clean, hot and low in ash. We have just unloaded another car this week so call 147 and let us prove it's superiority to you.

Nothing is so helpless as a fat girl in a rumble seat unless it's the guy who is with her.

For you people who are using base burners, we still have the genuine Pennsylvania hard coal at only $17.00 per ton.

We haven't had much snow as yet but before we do,

Why not give those floors a protecting coat of Certain-Teed wax and be sure that tracked-in snow can't hurt them.

A radio bird imitator has added a dove of peace to his repertoire. He gasps once into the mike.

A ton of Blackhawk furnace coal will convince you that there is none better.

A man with a little black bag knocked at the front door. "Come in, sir, come in."

"Little boy, why aren't you in school?"

"Hell, lady, I ain't but three years old."

Happy New Year!

NOTING that for twenty or thirty years capitalism has been blamed for all the ills of the world, the Saturday Evening Post takes issue in this editorial observation:

"War in particular, has been charged directly to the mysterious machinations of the 'moneyed interests' and the mere existence of the modern industrial system. The showing of history, that man in every other economic phase, from primitive savagery to the most complex civilization, is unfortunately made war, and usually greeted it before he was through, was pushed aside. The fact that public sentiment for peace grew steadily during the nineteenth century with the growth of industry and the system of capitalism, until it became an accepted axiom that the victor in war suffers almost as much as the vanquished, was serenely overlooked. When the actual record of the outbreak of the Great War which began in one of the remaining semi-feudal corners of Europe, spread through the action of monarchic governments, was considered unimportant. Capitalism must be to blame anyhow.

"Now, twenty years after that world Easter, capitalism has been abolished in Russia, and subjected to 'the state' in the Fascist countries. And precisely those countries are engaged in war, and justifying pure aggression. The nations which all admit the right of private property, which is capitalism, are striving anxiously to escape. Italy has levied ten per cent on capital to pay for military adventures in Abyssinia and the Mediterranean. Unhappy Spain is the arena, not merely of civil war but of an international conflict between Communism and Fascism, carried by foreign troops and ammunition, the output of those nations which have 'curbed' and expropriated capitalism.

"Capitalism and industry are the product of peace; they must be, and are, intrinsically opposed to war, by their nature, state power and regimentation, under any label, are the agencies of war."

Publisher Hearst has found a lot of merit in the Roosevelt household since the residential campaign last year. After hammering the administration during the campaign, Hearst woke up the morning following election with a complete change of heart. Penitence over the mean things he had said was immediately expressed in giving the president's son-in-law, John Gattiger, a job as publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Later he took over Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, and connected him with his southwest radio chain. Now, Hearst has appointed Elliott general manager of Hearst Radio, Inc., with headquarters in New York. Hearst's sudden liking for the family may result in finding places for other capable and deserving members unless the president's influence should evaporate.

We regret that the General Motors company feels impelled by the exigencies of business to dismiss 30,000 employees January 1. The president of the company expresses hope that conditions will warrant return to normal activities by spring. Remaining employees number 205 thousand men with a total payroll in excess of twenty-four million dollars per month—sizeable sum, but not enough to include 30,000 who will have to join the ranks of the unemployed. This misfortune is not due, as explained, to a seasonal layoff, but to a business slump which the company could not meet without retrenchment. Instead of charging obstructive tactics to the motor company, Washington circles should busy themselves rearranging tax and other structures now inimical to confidence and stability.

Washington reports state that lines between conservatives and radicals in congress are being sharply drawn, and the regular session which starts next week, is expected to see no rubber-stamping of administration bills. Resistance to the president's demands will aid his wish for business cooperation to relieve unemployment and speed prosperity. Administration has a habit of belaboring business at one time and inviting cooperation at another time. It will be modified by inflexible congressional independence. We hope congress will fully measure up to the popular desire that it will do its own thinking, chart its own course and stand on its own feet. In that regard lies hope for early business revival.

Wayne Friends of Miss Norma Carpenter, formerly in the employ of the Herald, will join in congratulating her over capture of an $8,000 home as a prize in a writing contest. The honor is distinguished, and the award is sufficient to give anyone in important steadying ballast in these uncertain times. Miss Carpenter showed an abundance of talent and persevering energy in her work with the Herald, and we are not surprised at her good fortune. She is one of many young women who helped evolve the Herald and develop the editor during the past twenty-seven years, and when one of them makes especially good we feel stimulated by getting under the reflected light.

In convention this week, the Nebraska Bar association expressed interest in the movement to cut out ambulance chasing, client scouting, fee-splitting and other unethical practices among the state's lawyers. It will be a glad day for citizens having business with the courts when the so-called shyster lawyer, disposed more to shear than to serve, is no longer permitted to light on unsuspecting victims. It is up to lawyers to remove professional abuses and reform lawyer ranks, and they are making an encouraging start in that direction in this state.

Mark Sullivan devotes a recent article to showing how dictators have crushed religion, and expresses amazement that any Christian minister or Christian believer, knowing the facts, could lean either to communism or fascism. As Sullivan points out, the dictator wants no worship excepting that of the state which means himself. Louis XIV is quoted as saying, "I am the state." The dictator would go farther than the ancient king by commanding, "I am the state, and I am also God."

Dr. Stanley High, former adviser to President Roosevelt, said in an interview this week, that due to disaffection among southern democrats, the president might turn to a third party. Splitting democracy would undoubtedly do to the party what Theodore Roosevelt did to the republican party when he abandoned Taft and organized a third party under the "bull moose" label.

We wonder if the supreme court on second thought could not bring itself to change its decision on the unemployment insurance branch of the social security law from four to five for it, to five to four against it. The point of discrimination nags at a helpless victim and leads him to wonder if it were not inadvertently overlooked.

Representative Fish of New York, points an accusing finger at the administration in connection with the recent business recession. Fish says real causes of the setback are the administration's economic fallacies, attacks on business and the supreme court, and destruction of confidence.

Some persons become so habituated to stalling on overdue bills when they are hard up that they do it when they don't need to do it. When a bill is presented they think too far back to remember they have gained a comfortable surplus.

Jap leaders say they want peace so badly they are fighting for it. They also want more territory, and they are fighting for that, too.

Industry and Agriculture.
 Omaha Journal-Stockman: What the people of this country cannot understand is, why the same economic planners down in Washington are urging industry and business to increase production, continue to advocate reduced production by farmers and stock growers. It just does not seem to make sense. For instance, Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the board of governors of the federal reserve banking system, in addressing the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau federation in Chicago this week said:

"I am hopeful that individual business men in strategic positions, and the various local, trade and national associations of business men, will act upon a recognition of fact that their long run interests are bound up with the largest possible volume of production at the lowest possible prices. For their own ultimate benefit, as well as in the interest of a stable economy with a steadily rising standard of living, they must resist the temptation to secure larger returns through the adoption of policies that restrict output."

Little fault can be found with Mr. Eccles' advice to increase the production of industry and thus cheapen costs to both producers and consumers. What farmers and stock growers, as well as bread and meat consumers, cannot comprehend is why the same advice does not apply to agriculture. Why urge industrialists to produce and then apply penalties and punishments to farmers for doing the same thing?

The Three Ages.
 Kearney, Neb., Hub: Every civilization had its Golden Age, Dark Age and Renaissance. The Golden Age of the nineteenth century closed with the commencement of the world war. We are now in the dark age of this present civilization. In a new world as it were, a world of Babel confusion. Let us look back to the last decade of the last century, when our Golden Age was at its zenith. That period was one of mind activity. Then we had great statesmen, preachers, orators, lecturers, poets, writers, actors. Every nation had its great leaders. It was the closing of a cycle of great intellectual activity. It was mind not matter. Today everything is material. Intellectual and spiritual values are lost in the darkness. From the standpoint of materialism we are ahead. But we have lost our souls. The pulpit, the stage, the rostrum, are pleasant memories only. Religion, personal, national and international morality have received setbacks that will be hard to recover from. In this wilderness of doubt the cry goes up: "What shall we do to be saved?"

IN RUSSIA.
 How anyone can read stories of Russian outrages—stories that have escaped Russian censorship—and still favor communism is beyond understanding. The current Readers Digest contains a condensation from the book by Eugene Lyons who confirms all the deprivations and horrors previously pictured by Will Durant and others. Lyons went to Russia ten years ago to serve as correspondent of the United Press, and at that time he was an enthusiastic communist sympathizer. He landed at Moscow with the expectation of seeing society reformed into an ideal state. But he soon underwent disillusionment. He found cruel disregard of every humane appeal. He found citizens robbed of their property, of their earnings, of their liberty and often of their lives. Driven to direct want and compelled to live in terrorizing fear, they have no hope. Other dictatorships may be as bad as the one in Russia, but none could be worse. Anyone who leans to communism should read Mr. Lyons' story of his observations. If that does not cure one's yearning for Russia's utopia, he should go there and share personally in the blighting experience.

Increased
 One day brought over $4,000 of the amount.

Circumscribed Service.
 A magazine article complains that congressmen usually think locally, not nationally, that they concentrate too much on what they can get from the federal government and too little on national problems that have to do directly with all the people. A member of congress wants to keep home people satisfied, and he tries to do it by capturing improvements of other favors for them at government expense. The author who is alarmed over the present tendency urges pressure on congressmen to switch them from the local to the national point of view, and stay with it at least until the country finds easier and safer sailing.

To Safeguard Laws.
 A Washington newspaper man contributing to a trade magazine and pointing out what he considers desirable accomplishments and contrarily dangerous tendencies of the New Deal administration, says he would have the supreme court determine the constitutionality or unconstitutionality of all measures passed by congress in advance of putting them into operation and thus save time and later uncertainty and cost. He would make sure of the validity of a law before asking the public to obey it, which really makes sense.

HENRY FORD.
 A Washington report explains a new tax plan said designed especially to soak corporations, 51 percent to more of whose stock is not in public hands. This would catch Henry Ford and give his competitors an advantage. It is suggested that this discrimination is probably unconstitutional. It is plainly unfair, and undoubtedly congressmen will be governed by enough sense of justice to keep it from becoming law. Attempts to dominate Ford and ruin his industry through labor union interference is making the country wish there were more Fords of the same resistive fiber. The more he is attacked, the stronger he becomes in popular favor. Independent workers look to Henry Ford for sympathy and support. They look to him to defy the coercive tyranny of John Lewis' CIO. The country looks to him to defeat union impositions and continue to furnish needed jobs to those who want to work. More Henry Ford metal is needed in America today.

Calves On Feed In Wayne County

Members of Clubs Have Rations for Animals Planned Now.
 Wayne county's 26 4-H members have baby beeves on feed preparing them for show next fall. Most of the animals are going into the feedlots weighing from 500 to 400 pounds.

Most members are wintering their calves with limited grain ration. A ration of cane or corn plus alfalfa will eat and about one half pound daily of high protein concentrate or by one and a half pounds of high protein concentrate and one-tenth pound of steamed bone meal is considered ideal.

After the first month or six weeks corn is gradually added until the calves are eating about five pounds daily. The silage is reduced and the corn increased to 7 to 10 pounds daily in the spring months. Three or four pounds of alfalfa or one and a half pounds of high protein are still needed to balance the ration.

Usually a full grain feed is recommended around the middle of May. Many 4-H club members have found that if from 10 to 25 percent of the grain ration is made up of bran, ground oats or ground barley that the animals seem to stay on feed during the heat of the summer and when flies are bothering, better than if corn is the sole grain in the ration.

Many times club members have been disappointed when calves on a full ration during winter months failed to feed as well during summer months. Most feeders feel that if the animals are fed too liberally and reach too high a state of finish during the winter that they will little more than hold their own during the summer.

Recent experiments at North Platte show very satisfactory results from feeding cattle on a commercial basis by wintering lightweight steers and feeding a limited grain ration on grass during spring months and dry-lot fattening for a fall market. High grade cattle though are necessary.

Dancing was diversion and refreshments of sandwiches, cakes and punch were served by mothers of the hosts and hostesses. Those entertaining were Miss Marjorie Hook, Miss Betty Helen, Ellis, Miss Betty Blair, Miss Evelyn Nookes, Miss Faye Sandahl, Wayne McMaster, Bob Hickman, Kenneth Pierson, Buster Ellis and Warren Bressler.

Quality Comes First.
Omaha Journal - Stockman: A point which farmers and ranchers in all lines of the live stock producing industry will do well to heed was pounded home time and again at a meeting of dairymen interests in Omaha this week. It was that quality is the most important thing to watch in herd development, rather than mere numbers.
Some localities in this section of the country are still suffering from the result of past expansion programs that did not take this truth into account. And every breeder who goes in merely for a large herd without making certain that every animal he adds is of type, which will make the most efficient use of his feed is headed for disaster.
This doesn't mean, of course, that every farmer must go into the market for the highest priced foundation stock he can buy. But it does argue that every breeding animal which is purchased should be of a kind that will improve the quality of the herd into which it is to go, whatever that may be.
Like everything else, competition in the production of live stock grows keener, year by year. Only by putting feed into animals that will utilize it efficiently, can a man hope to have a favorable balance at the end of ordinary years. Quality is the paramount item, and when it is sacrificed on the altar of mere volume, there's trouble ahead.

Icy Highways Cause Increased Accidents

Several days of slippery weather during the week ending December 18, 1937, had a profound effect on the accident total. According to the statistics compiled by the state department of public instruction and the Nebraska Press association, accidents for this period rose to 374 as compared to 224 for the week ending December 11, 1937. Injuries and deaths totaled 222 which is 132 more than the previous mark. Deaths, however, showed a slight decrease from 12 last week to ten for this period. The children's report shows two children killed, one disabled, and 39 injured.

Automobile accidents more than doubled this week as drivers seemed unable to control their cars on the slippery roads. The total for this period came to 163 as compared to 80 of the previous record. Injuries and deaths totaled this week with 152 reported as compared to 55 last week. One car skidded on an icy pavement and the resulting crash killed a man. Another died as the result of a driver losing control of his car. Two pedestrians were killed this week, one of whom was struck by a hit and run driver. One person was disabled because a driver lost control of his car.

Fifty-two people were hurt in collisions this week, many of which occurred when drivers were injured directly through skidding and 25 because drivers lost control of their automobiles. Seven pedestrians were struck by cars and injured while nine were hurt when cars hit obstructions. Three railroad crossing accidents were responsible for eight injuries and four were hurt because of tire blowouts. One reckless driver was the cause of four injuries while three others were hurt because of mechanical defects in cars. Three people were injured when drivers fell asleep. A lady was hurt when she fell out of a moving vehicle, a man was burned in a car fire, two men were overcome by monoxide gas in their garages, and another motorist was hurt when a bottle, thrown by a passing car, crashed into his windshield splintering it. Two more children were added to the casualty list when their sleds were hit by cars, three people slipped on icy running boards while getting out of cars and were injured. Three people were hurt when a horse charged into the side of a car, a child got his finger caught in a door, two people were injured while spanking cars, and a man was run over by his own car when he was cleaning it.

Injured by Cleaner.
Stanton, Neb., Mrs. R. J. Drewelow, wife of a well-known druggist at Stanton, is recovering from serious injuries to her eyes suffered Friday afternoon at her home when a can of cleaning powder she was opening exploded in her face.
The attending physician announced Mrs. Drewelow's eyesight would be impaired, although it was feared for a time after the accident that it would be.

Blinded by Cleaning Powder.
Mrs. Drewelow after the mishap groped her way to the telephone and called central asking that a doctor and Mrs. R. B. Jones, a neighbor, be sent to her assistance.

Southeast Wayne
(By Staff Correspondent)
Mrs. W. F. Meyer and Lois were Tuesday afternoon guests in the Emil Bargholz home.
Erwine and Miss Melba Sovereign and Chris Bargholz came Friday to spend Christmas vacation with home folks.
Sundry visitors in the W. F. Meyer home were Alvin Nelson, Chris Bargholz, Wallace Meyer, Harry and Miss Lillian Gust and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Greenwald and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bargholz, Chris and Miss Emma, and Miss Melba Sovereign were Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reeg, helping them celebrate their third wedding anniversary.

World Events
A vicious storm struck Washington and Oregon Tuesday.
A large chain store company has ceased buying Japanese goods for this country.
The budget balance will depend on the retail expense, according to President Roosevelt.
Foreign policy, monopoly and business are the topics which congress proposes to consider next week.
A sit-down strike among tram companies in France ended when wage and hour agreements were reached.
General Motors corporation announced that because of the "recession in business" 30,000 workers will be laid off the first of January.
Americans were made subject to the death penalty for crimes against Japan's armed forces under a Japanese decree establishing rigid law for China's conquered areas.
President Roosevelt has announced an increase in naval building program because "facts of the troubled world situation are facts and the United States must recognize them."

Dies At Laurel.
Laurel, Neb., Mrs. Harriet Ann Catherine Grant 91-year-old, oldest resident of Laurel, died last Sunday of pneumonia after a few days' illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Sutherland in Laurel, where she had made her home for the last seven years.
Funeral services will be held at 12:30 p. m. at the home in Laurel Tuesday and at 2:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian church in Meadow Grove, with interment at Emerick, Neb.

Mrs. Grant, who would have celebrated her 92nd birthday on March 6, was one of the few surviving Civil war widows left in the county. She is survived by her only daughter, Mrs. Sutherland, and three sons, James, Jr., Emerick; Paul, Oakland, Calif., and Howard B. Grant, Calgary, Canada.

Takes Own Life.
Walthill, Neb., Dr. Francis Tichen, about 30 years old, ended his life by hanging himself in his dental office with an electric cord some time late Sunday, it was reported Monday by A. P. Coleman, acting Thurston county attorney and coroner.
The body was found about 10:30 p. m. Mr. Coleman estimated the dentist had been dead several hours. No notes were left by Dr. Tichen and no motive for his act has been found, Mr. Coleman said.
Dr. Tichen was single and had no relatives here. He came here about two years ago. Known survivors include a brother at Grand Island, Neb., and a brother and his mother at Rockford, Ill.

Ponca Resident Dies.
Ponca, Neb.—Funeral services for Charles Porter, 83, one of the pioneers of Dixon county who passed away at his home here Christmas, were held Monday at the Ponca Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. R. E. Daughette, officiating. Burial was in the Ponca cemetery.
Mr. Porter was born in a log house in Cattaraugus county, N. Y., in April, 1854, and came to Dixon county in June, 1880. In the early days he worked in saw-mills and farmed. He had been married for some years. He is survived by his widow and four daughters.

Rare Disease Kills Child.
Laurel, Neb.—Betty Lu Kastrop, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Svend Kastrop, living 10 miles northeast of Laurel, died Monday of leukemia, or enlargement of the liver, it was learned through an autopsy. Physicians said that there are only five known cases of this disease among children under 5 years old. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at the Danish Lutheran church here.

Dixon Commissioner Resigns.
Ponca, Neb.—F. A. Lundin, Allen, representing district No. 5 in Dixon county, at the December meeting of the board tendered his resignation to become effective January 1. His successor will be chosen at the last year's meeting of the board January 5.

Breaks Both Legs.
Tilden, Neb., Dec. 28—Howard Neely, Meadow Grove, suffered two broken legs Monday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock when the car he was driving upset on the highway between Neligh and Oakdale after something had gone wrong with the machine.
Neely, who is employed at the mill in Battle Creek, is in the Tilden hospital.

Dead Under Wagon.
A. W. Glenn, 65, Meadow Grove farmer, was found dead under an overturned wagon near his home Monday. He was returning from a neighbor's. It is not known how the accident happened.

Has Tonsil Operation.
Arnold Reeg had tonsils removed Monday.

Sell Car Licenses.
To date 314 car license plates for 1938 have been sold at Treasurer J. J. Steele's office.

For Carlos Martins.
The families of W. S. Bressler, Prof. H. H. Hanscom, S. B. Sprague and G. A. Wade went to the Carlos Martin home Tuesday evening for a social time before the Martins move to Wayne. Oyster supper was served.

County Farm Bureau
Growers of certified small grain, hybrid corn, sorghums and alfalfa this week were listed in the preliminary seed list put out by the Nebraska Crop Growers' association. The publication reached the Wayne county farm bureau office and copies are available to all wishing them.

A Thayer county farmer finds that contour rows of corn hold moisture best. This practice prevented a failure there last year.
Farmers will find that no animal responds better to feeding than sheep. One of the most common roughages for sheep is silage made from corn and sorghums. If the silage is cut a little finer than ordinarily processed for cattle it will be cleaned up better by sheep.
Several thousand pounds of cracked corn are to be available for game bird feeding in Nebraska this winter. Sample corn being tested for moisture content will be turned over for the purpose.

Milk production will be greater the coming year, according to a prediction of the department of agriculture. Feed supplies are larger and prices of dairy products are up in relation to feeds.
Thirteen farmers in Wayne county kept farm records last year and a larger number will probably do so the coming year. Keeping of accounts is the basis for sound business farming.
Breeding to improve soybeans is beginning in agriculture. Soybeans are grown for a variety of purposes, for forage, for oil and meal and for vegetables, so the cultivation is important.

Call To See Infant.
Among those who called the past week in the Mrs. Henry Baker home to see Mrs. Ray Hammer and infant son, born December 20, were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johansen, Mrs. Geo. Gieser, Mrs. Chas. Reese, Ray Hammer and LeRoy, Walter Link, Mrs. Dan Heitbold and son, Mrs. Mike Draghu, Mrs. J. B. West, Mrs. Jack West, Mrs. August Kay, Miss Elsie Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doring and family, Mrs. Rudolph Hammer, Mrs. Peter Nelson, Mrs. Monte Bomer, Mrs. Frank Bargholz and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mathiesen and Betty, Mrs. F. C. Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Jake Weibaum, Mrs. Van Bradford, Mrs. Aug. Franzen and son, Mrs. Herman Baker, Mrs. John Brudigan and daughters, Mrs. Rebecca Sydow, Miss Sophie Wieland, Miss Viola Test and Mrs. Otto Saul.

The Sport Log

LOOKING AHEAD. Dawn of the new year 1938 will bring with it bright hopes for a bumper year in the field of sport in this city.

IN REVIEW. 1937 had both its bright spots and its dark spots. Major achievements were contributed by Wayne colleges and Wayne prep in basketball and track.

YEAR OF YEARS. But 1938 looms as the year of years. Already basketball teams have a start toward great seasons.

TEAM OF THE YEAR. Nebraska's Cornhuskers deserve credit for the outstanding team performance of the year in the middles.

Belden Town Team Is Still Unbeaten. Belden's powerful Townies, independent cage team, has shown plenty of class in winning four straight games.

Lives and property were lost in a heavy earthquake near Mexico City last Thursday.

Cagers Practice During Vacation

College and High School Teams Keep In Shape With Drill Sessions.

Although Christmas vacation put a temporary halt to the basketball campaign, many players on Wayne teams have been availing themselves of idle hours to sharp their basket-shooting eyes and keep in condition with friendly scrimmage sessions.

At Wayne Teachers college Coach Hickman has had a small group of his men working out daily, while the rest of the squad was expected to return the middle of this week for more intensive drill.

Coach Elwood Morris of Wayne high returned the middle of the week and called his squad together for a few days of drill during the holidays.

January 7 will mark the opening of the 1938 phase of the cage schedule with two games here that evening. Wayne's unbeaten Wildcats entertain Nebraska Wesleyan and Wayne high's undefeated team plays Laurel.

TEAM OF THE YEAR. Nebraska's Cornhuskers deserve credit for the outstanding team performance of the year in the middles. The year 1937 will long be remembered by Husker followers and by the members of the cheer which must have surprised even Major Biff Jones at times with their inspired play.

"Little Five" Teams Add Five Victories

Little Five conference athletic mentors breathed more easily this week after coping five wins out of six starts in a tough pre-holiday campaign in non-conference competition.

Coach Maurice L. Christensen's Belden Braves hung up the best record in outside play as they trimmed Coleridge, 30-17, and Lindsay, 22-13.

Mighty interesting in the standings in the league, but after the pre-holiday schedule, the top-notch Concord club was dropped back into a tie with Belden.

Team W. L. P. T. S. O. Concord 2 1 6 6 49 48 Belden 2 1 6 6 46 35 Carroll 2 2 5 6 48 53 Dixon 2 2 5 6 34 42 McLean 1 3 2 5 49 40

Past Cage Games. Little Five conference basketball standings were again shaken week-end before last.

The Concord team had advantage of every break it spilled the previously undefeated Belden and despite the loss of regulars Art Jewell and Jack Ervin via the foul point, they managed to stay in front through the second half.

The Dixon-McLean skirmish found McLean ahead at intermission but the Wildcats were badly hampered without the services of the injured sharp-shooting forward, Kenny Clayton.

Skelly Ramblers Lead In League

Wayne's crack bowling team, the Skelly Ramblers, forged ahead in the Northeast Nebraska league by defeating the Wisner city team two out of three games last week.

Intellectual and spiritual liberty is the basis of civilization, stated Herbert Hoover in a radio address Thursday.

Congress is considering a petition demanding vote of the people before any declaration of war is possible unless the country is invaded.

The senate voted Friday to send the wage-hour bill back to committee, meaning postponement of one of the New Deal's major issues.

Exchanges. Walter Reuther presented an electric ribbon to Grace Lutheran church of West Point, a memorial to his wife.

Three of Wayne's Unbeaten Wildcats. Cunningham, 6 foot, 4 inch forward, and Clarence Marshall, 6 foot, 4 inch forward, are two reasons why Wayne is averaging better than 40 points a game.

Coach Hickman Has Tall Cagers

At Least Seventeen Tower Six Feet Or Over — And Alas, No Center Jump.

Here is another tall story. Not a fish story, either, readers, but nevertheless, a story which contains both the incredible and the pathetic.

That is the incredible part of the tale. And here is the part, which certainly must stimulate sadness as well as wonder among Wayne's loyal supporters.

Fortunately, however, the note-sorrow is lightened when the sport follower realizes that only one center can be used at a time and that height after all is an asset at any position, center jump or no center jump.

It would be a simple matter to select from the squad a team which would average six feet, four inches or a little over.

Boys who touch 6 feet, 1 inch are Clarence Marshall, Lawton, Iowa, a junior; Flaven Johnson, Bloomfield, a sophomore; Howard McDonald, Pierce, a senior; and Virgil Lindahl, Tilden, freshman.

Other tall players slightly under 6 feet are Jim Ahern, Wayne, freshman; Jean Hunter, Wayne, freshman; Rusty Bradford, Mitchell, sophomore; Carroll Petersen, Wayne, sophomore.

Midget of the squad is Harold Calvert, Clearwater, sophomore, measuring 5 feet, 7 inches, who despite his lack of height, has gained a place among Coach Hickman's top-notch reserve forwards because of his speed and deceptive floor work.

Freshmen dominate the ample supply of reserves. They are bulky, rangy freshmen who make Wayne's prospects for the future look very bright.

The first team is as husky as it is rangy with almost every man a football player. The team which has usually gotten the starting call averages about 175 pounds and consists of Cunningham, forward; a center in football; Retzlaff and Bradford; guards; football backs; Red Langenetter, center, tackle in football; and Marshall, husky forward, who specializes in the cage sport alone.

KARL STEFAN

Hope for Better Farm Bill
A tentative permanent farm bill was passed in the senate Friday after much debate. This, however, does not mean that this is the permanent farm bill the farmers will get and the house has yet to pass upon the bill which will be finally written in conference. That means that members of the house will get their final opportunity to vote on a permanent farm bill when the conferees report the bill which is expected sometime this week.

Many of those who voted against the house bill did so as a protest against the compulsory features in the bill while some of them voted against it because they felt it was not compulsory enough. Strange as it may seem, the house bill was pushed through with aid of the big city members who are now lobbying for the passage of the wages and hours bill. By pushing the house farm bill through they have obligated the southern cotton and tobacco bloc to vote with them on the wages bill. The house farm bill gives most preference to cotton, tobacco and rice. It also covers wheat and corn but many of the corn members feel that the bill as written will not benefit the corn sections. Therefore, they are hopeful that the final bill when it comes from conference will eliminate some of the objections they have to the house bill.

The present voluntary soil conservation program through which farmers secure benefit payments unchanged by the proposed permanent farm bill but will be consolidated with the permanent farm bill which eventually will be approved by both houses. A lot of members in the house who talk against the house farm bill and cross-word puzzle to fit the needs of the American farmer.

Nearly every farmer member in the house received letters from the chiefs of the big farm organizations before the farm bill was voted upon. The National Farmers' Union is opposed to many sections of the bill, the National Grange is opposed to it and the dairy farmers said they opposed it. High officials of the Farm Bureau Federation which was originally for the quota sections in the bill, finally wired their Illinois corn representatives that they were not satisfied with the bill. It is felt that the suggestions from these great farm organizations may be in some way embodied in the final permanent farm bill which will be written in conference and presented to the house for final passage.

Unemployed May Number 10 to 13 Millions.

Although some of the canvassers for report cards on the unemployment census reveal that many people fear to return their cards because they may lose part time jobs, intimations around Washington are that when the final count is made, the unemployment total will run as high as ten to thirteen million people. The last report from the American Federation of Labor is that this organization estimates we have over nine million unemployed people in our country.

Must Recall The Master's Teachings.

This is the glorious season of the year when we celebrate the Saviour's birth, and recall the message of hope and cheer that he brought to mankind. May a sorely tried world strive to attune itself to the teachings of the Master in order that peace and good fellowship may reign among men.

For my friends and neighbors in the Third district may I express my sincere hope that you may enjoy a pleasant holiday season and that through the kindness of divine providence you may all share in 1938 in a larger measure in the fruits of nature.

Home For Some—Work For Others.

Almost immediately after the vote on the wages-hours bill many members left town to go home for the Christmas holidays. The house immediately started work on the housing bill which it generally understood that those who wanted to, could go home. It was expected that the housing and farm bills will be rewritten in conference and that the conferees would not get final votes on these measures until sometime in January. So the special session of congress which was expected to pass alleged necessary legislation passes out of the picture with a record of really doing very little.

While some members are home for the holidays many other members on important committees remain on the job working on important regular legislation which will come up during the next session. The appropriations committee, which is split up into many sub-committees, is already at work. The army and navy groups of that money-providing committee are already working. The ways and means committee is planning to remain on the job. The prairie states group will have a sub-committee remaining to get early action on emergency aid to drought section.

Want Equal Rights.

The national woman's party just held a great convention here. This organization is backing a constitutional amendment to give women equal rights with men. They say they are pleased to get the vote for women, but they call attention to the fact that in many states women are not allowed to serve on juries and that in many states women are not given the same status with men. So they are asking congress to pass a resolution to submit a corrective amendment to the federal constitution to the states for ratification.

Some Tax Revision Expected.

Robert Doughton, the congressman who is chairman of the powerful ways and means committee in the house, is one of the busiest men in congress. His sub-committees are working on tax questions. He tells friends that some change in the tax structure to aid business and industry can be expected early in the next session.

Prosperity In Official Agriculture.

Congressman James Wadsworth of New York is a farmer. His father's name was James Wadsworth, sr. He was chairman of the house committee on agriculture for many years. Talking about the farm bill and farm assistance he recalls that when his father was head of the committee on agriculture back in 1906 he complained to the son that the appropriations for the agriculture department would wreck the treasury. He told the son that there was danger, then, if congress insisted on increasing the appropriation from ten to twelve million dollars. He told the son he "didn't know what the country was coming to when it wanted to appropriate twelve million dollars for agriculture."

Today the regular appropriation for the department of agriculture outside of the emergency and extra appropriations runs over two hundred and forty million dollars. The department has just completed a new addition to its building here which has forty-eight hundred offices, all occupied. It has seven or eight miles of corridors. It has a movie theatre, tennis courts and all kinds of things never dreamed about in the days of the Wadsworths. Jim Wadsworth, jr., now shakes his head and wonders what his old father had would say if he knew how fast the agriculture department has expanded.

North vs. South.

New England members, Tammany and southern cotton members were out in front in the wages-hours fight. The south admits that New England textile factories have moved to their states to get rid of strikes and to take advantage of lower labor costs. New England members tell friends that their factories are closing up by the hundreds and moving south. They think if they pass a wages-hours bill it will help New England. The southerners who fight the bill think that if the bill passes it may result in the factories moving back north. So it was a great fight between the south and the north with members from the agricultural west saying very little about the legislation. Strange as it may seem some of the southern members who used to be against a protective tariff and strong for free trade are starting to ask for the tariff protection for the goods turned out by their new factories.

Sell Bonds "Down the River."

The maritime commission, which sold the old bonds for less than the price of a modern song-hit, now announces that it is starting another program for the "rehabilitation of the American merchant marine." By letting contracts for new vessels to the amount of $30,000,000, these new ships will take the place of some of those sold for scrap metal, after lying idle for a dozen years or more.

And so goes the "merchant marine" circle, which has cost the government more than two billions of dollars since the World war. According to a statement by the same maritime commission, only 15 percent of the remaining vessels which the government paid for so handsomely, are serviceable. An expenditure of $160,000,000 will be made for a new vessel program.

THE WAYNE HERALD

Nearly 100% Coverage Of the County Field

Improvement started in that month was the remodeling of the state patrol sheds in Wayne.

Rev. J. A. Whelan came to Wayne as new Baptist pastor at opening of the year. Death touched many family circles in 1937. It was in first month of the year that Wayne county's oldest resident, Mrs. Jane Rogers, died.

The first day of February saw a notable birthday in Wayne county: Then A. J. Hyatt, now Wayne county's only Civil War veteran, was 91 years old.

Plan New Highway. Plans were announced in February that a new highway would be built south of Wayne to join No. 8 east of Pilger.

The high school basketball tournament brought many sport fans to Wayne in early March. The visit of the Tribe of Yessir the middle of that month was a gala event in northeast Nebraska for about 500 gathered at Wayne auditorium to greet the city visitors and enjoy their good-will program.

Assured of Rainfall. A reassuring message was brought in March by Dr. G. E. Condra of Lincoln, director of soil conservation in the state, who, speaking in Wayne, said "We won't be a desert; rains will come and we will be happy again." And the season substantiated his convictions.

Resodding of the college athletic field and building a sunken garden at the campus were improvements begun in March.

Wayne again showed its hospitality early in April when 1,700 high school students were here to enter the district music contest. Wayne high took championship in class B and Wayne college high in class C. The two schools made the same record at the state contest in Hastings.

April also found Wayne staging its second annual auto show with the proper car to drive displayed at the auditorium. The state meeting of university women brought new friends the last of April, and Mrs. S. A. Lutgen was elected district president of federated women's clubs that month.

A petition for paving west the city school was presented in April and the improvement soon became a project.

Shortly after a drive to aid crippled children, a general child health program was launched in the community with stress at first placed on care of the teeth.

Proposals Presented. It was in June that several proposals were to interest the community. The Perry 35-acre tract was offered to the city at $2,500 for a park. It was also proposed to discontinue one train a day each way between Omaha and Norfolk. Rural electrification was offered for consideration.

City Entertains Often. Wayne seems to have made a record for playing host to outside groups in 1937. May brought the district city officials' gathering here.

The college, high schools and rural schools graduated ambitious young folks in May. A state rural education conference brought visitors in June.

Good Rains Arrive. Rains varying from 3 to 5 inches made farmers and townspeople alike feel good over crop prospects in May, though it was then that steps were taken to control grasshoppers which had appeared in such numbers during the dry period of 1936.

A new switchboard was ordered for Wayne power plant, this being a $14,283 improvement. It was also in May that contracts were let for the road south, the grading, culverts and bridges amounting to about $60,000.

The state supreme court in June returned the Hoskins bank receivership case to the district court, ruling that the district court has a right to remove a judicial receiver but that the state banking department was not eligible to succeed E. H. Luukait in that capacity.

One of Three In State. Daughters of the War of 1812 reported in July that investigation had showed that one of three veterans of that war buried in the state was Nathaniel Allen who died at LaPorte at the age of 90 in 1869.

A race meet was staged of the fair ground in July.

Storms Are Destructive. July brought tragedy-bearing storms to Wayne county. It was during a heavy rain that month that Mrs. R. E. Tidrick of Winside, died while seeking shelter in a cave. Another storm July 29 assumed proportions of a tornado and resulted in much loss, especially near Carroll. Buildings were torn down by wind, and hail leveled corn in an area extending from Belden southeast for many miles.

Reunions In August. Nebraska Normal college, a pioneer institution which was the forerunner of the State Teachers college, held its 12th annual reunion August 1. The month also brought the 37th annual Wayne county old settlers' reunion at Winside.

Wayne citizens defeated the Perry park purchase, and the railroad was partially granted its request to cut service. The Farmers Union held its annual picnic the last of the month.

The county fair was a feature of September with a good program arranged but attendance light. In the same month Lester Lott, whose baby had long grand championship at the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben in 1936, repeated the win and he was duly honored in the city and in Wayne.

Rev. F. C. Mills of Wayne Methodist church, went to Lexington, and Rev. Carl Eader became the new local pastor.

A business improvement started in September was the remodeling of the R. L. Larson store.

Nebraska's new ruling that all car drivers must have new permits resulted in establishing an examining bureau in each county. Willis Nokes having charges.

Fall Festival Success. Early in October Wayne staged a free fall festival with entertainment that drew many visitors. The county corn-husking contest at the Hanson farm south of Wakefield was the next public event of the month. Lee Stauffer winning in this. The month also brought public recognition of the value of 4-H club work in a big banquet for the young folks, their parents and friends.

Mark LaPorte Site. Recognition of the service of pioneers was given in the unveiling of the native boulder October 31 marking the site of LaPorte. The boulder bears the inscription, "This marker erected on the site of LaPorte, first town in Wayne county, and dedicated to the memory of the pioneers who tamed the wilderness."

Show Helpful Spirit. Inspiration of doing for less fortunate came in November with the Red Cross drive and the sale of Christmas seals. The League decided to repair joys by bringing Christmas cheer. Kiwanians made a survey of underprivileged children in Wayne, and community groups took action to provide for them. The good neighborliness was manifested in several parts of Wayne county where men turned out to husk corn for those delayed by illness, and women joined to feed the workers. Such a spirit of helpfulness proves the high type of citizenship in the middle west.

The permit to cut train service came in November but star mail routes were established to provide the usual mail service.

Plans to erect a new dormitory for men at Wayne Teachers college was a notable improvement announced in November. It was also in November that Ed. Seymour started his new creamery.

Continuing the city's record of entertaining visitors, Wayne was host in November to the state band and choral clinics.

One of Wayne's early merchants, W. M. Orr, retired from active business duty in November. It was in the month just passing that Dr. F. M. Gregg, early instructor in Wayne, was welcomed back to conduct a religious education institute at the Methodist church.

Holiday Spirit Prevails. Mention of December turns thoughts almost always to Christmas and the spirit of the season was manifested throughout the month in Wayne and nearby towns. Business districts and homes were put in gala attire and the spirit of good-will again climaxed the year.

Officials At Sale To Help Charity

The Sioux City Journal Good Fellow organization realized $200 last Thursday from the auction of a dog. The money went into the charity fund to provide Christmas cheer. D. H. Cunningham, formerly of Wayne, officiated at the auction.

Moves Office In Wayne. Dr. S. A. Lutgen has moved his office from down town to the Wayne hospital. Phone 61. d3011

Ask Road Bids. Grading highway No. 20 for 20 miles between Ewing and O'Neill, guard rail between Pilger and Schuyler on No. 15, guard rail between Oakland and West Point and graveling and culverts between Ponca and the state park are among the road projects on which the state board will receive bids at Lincoln January 3.

J. H. Bruggers Find Much of Interest In Southwest On Recent Visit There

A seven weeks' visit in California provided Mr. and Mrs. John Brugger with a very interesting vacation and opportunity to see many relatives and friends. They arrived home Sunday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Brugger made the trip by car and enroute stopped to see many points of interest. One of the stops made was at Salt Lake City where the Bruggers visited the Mormon tabernacle. Their guide was a Mormon and explained the history to the group. The Mormon grounds at Salt Lake City compare with the Vatican in Rome, according to Mrs. Brugger. The temple is a place of business and not one, not even a Mormon, is allowed there except the ministers who wish to study and those engaged in business. Worship is done at the tabernacle. Mormon people are highly organized. No one is on relief and the Mormons endeavor to take care of their own people and needs. Polygamy is no longer practiced since Utah came into the union. However, when it was practiced no man ever took a second wife without first having the consent of his first wife and never did he marry more than once unless he was financially able to raise a second family. Boulder dam was also very interesting and the immensity of it, according to Mrs. Brugger, was very hard to realize. The day that the Nebraskans visited was very clear and the lake appeared very blue and beautiful.

In Los Angeles, Forest Lawn memorial was one of the most beautiful and impressive sights seen. Two churches, "Werk Kir O'Heather" and "Little Church of Flowers," are located there. One large building is about five stories high and curves around the mountains. One of the main rooms of the building, which holds the crypts, has a reproduction of the "Last Supper" which is made life size in stained glass. Each made up of some type of colored stone. Beautiful statues, friezes and murals, all by famous artists, are seen around the building. The entire memorial is in a natural setting and is well landscaped. Entrance to the large central building is gained only by ticket, as each day it has a capacity crowd of visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Brugger also received tickets to attend the Maxwell House broadcast. Thanksgiving evening when Fannie Brice was star of the program. Visit Former Wayne Residents. The Bruggers were fortunate in being able to visit the J. P. Gaertners, former Wayne residents. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gaertner, although 90 and 86 years of age respectively, are very active. Mrs. Gaertner just completed a crocheted tablecloth which she did without the aid of glasses. The Gaertners live in a more or less restricted district in older Los Angeles, located within a block of the home of Harry Dohney, of magnate. Mrs. Jennie Davis, daughter of the Gaertners, too the Bruggers on a tour of these exclusive homes. The president of the University of Los Angeles lives next door to the Dohney home. Mrs. Brugger reports that the Dohney residence is immense. Mr. Dohney donated one half million dollars for the erection of a new Catholic church. The church is beautifully decorated with stained glass windows and statues. It is known as the Dohney church. Chrysanthemums, roses and poinsettias were in season during the time that Mr. and Mrs. Brugger were visiting in California. They saw hundreds of types of mums in quantities of every variety. Poinsettias grow very high and form an edging around porches at many homes. Oranges grow the year round and the trees are kept well pruned until all are about the same size and very symmetrical. Cotton is becoming a leading product along with grapes and citrus fruits. All land must be irrigated however. Mrs. Brugger was impressed by the California climate which differs so much from that of Nebraska, particularly in the lack of winds. Nearly every morning while the Bruggers were in California there was a very heavy fog which was followed by a warm sun.

Among other interesting things visited by the Bruggers was the ship on which Mrs. Brugger's nephew is an officer. The ship was docked until March when it will sail to Alaska where the officer will do coast survey work. Bruggers toured the Wilson and Graf fifth observatories and attended the horse show sponsored by the Kellogg's foods. Each Sunday, Mr. Kellogg sponsors a horse show which is free to the public. He has large stables in which are draft horses, the horse formerly ridden by Will Rogers and White Arabian horses. The Wayne folks also visited the horses at Cera Vista. Many of these are shown in Omaha at Ak-Sar-Ben. Mrs. Brugger was amazed at the number of foreigners in California. There were few negroes but many Japanese, Filipinos and Chinese. She found the Japanese very courteous and industrious trying to adopt American habits. The other groups live more to themselves. Japanese are more uniform in appearance and are easily recognized. The Spanish and Mexican mixture are more sullen appearing and not so easily distinguished.

While in California, the Bruggers visited the Leo Pryors, Rolfe Fishes, and saw the following Wayne people: Willis Penhollow, Verne Hansen, Wayne Bornhoff and Max Hendrickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Worth, Kenneth and Dale of Dalton, and Louis Johnson were Friday dinner guests at H. E. Anderson's.

London Letter

By ALFRED LARSON, LONDON, ENGLAND.

December 14, 1937.

English people appear to prefer the name Father Christmas for the venerable gentleman who usually is known in the States as Santa Claus. Be that as it may, the fellow is obviously the same in dress and spirit. I have seen him many times on the streets and in the shops of London.

The most popular game in Father Christmas' bag this year will be darts, and Mickey Mouse will be the favorite toy. Mickey Mouse, whose popularity comes of course from his antics on the screen, has been introduced into all sorts of games. Also featured are race games and jig-saw puzzles. In a new shooting game birds fly down a thread while the hunter shoots at them with a gun loaded with rubber bands. English fathers probably will fire of this game before the New Year.

The game of darts has become popular in English homes only within recent years. Formerly it was thought to be too dangerous for the home. It has long been a favorite English game in pubs and clubs. Last summer, and I suppose not for the first time, there was a national darts tournament in London.

The dart board is round and usually about fifteen inches in diameter. Wires radiating from the center divide the board like a pie into 21 sections of various sizes. These are numbered, but not in order from 1 to 21. The simplest game of darts calls for sticking a dart in the number 1 section, then in the number 2 section, and so on through all 21. The game is won when one player has progressed through all 21 sections and has finished by sticking a dart in the one-inch the stamp and on the other the address. The dollars reached the children.

A 19-year-old New Orleans boy can see with an eye which a 68-year-old man gave him. The youth's eye had been burned by lime dust.

A 100-year-old New York woman believes that she and others who are a little older should use every beauty aid to keep themselves young and attractive.

A dog staged a sit-down strike in a Philadelphia cafe by refusing to move from the path of traffic. A waiter solved the problem by leading the dog to the street, with a "hot dog."

The social security board has found the shortest name among 36,000,000. It is "E." The most common name is Smith, and Johnson, Brown, Williams and Jones follow in order.

An Indian has gone into the mountains of New York to prove that man can live indefinitely without implements or food. He took only a hunting knife and no food or blankets.

Because there was too much noise near a North Carolina church, the corner was protected during worship. The first speaker stopped was a preacher, the second a judge and the third a deacon.

Her teddy bear had holes in it and sawdust leaked out of a 9-year-old Chicago girl decided to take 5c from her savings and buy a ribbon to tie over the holes. On her way to a store she was struck by a truck and killed.

Robot bank tellers have made their appearance in New York. These "photographic" tellers receive 100 checks a minute and record them photographically. The depositor drops his deposit slip in a slot machine and insects each check separately.

Death Valley Scotty invited many friends to his two-million-dollar castle for Christmas. "Don't worry about the weather," he advised, "for I can keep the 17 furnaces in my home burning 75 years with the railroad ties I bought after the gold rush."

Lewis, a daughter, December 22, 1921; Mr. and Mrs. Will Baker, a son, December 26, 1921.

Adam Saul paid $30,000 for the Wm. McCabe 160 acres five miles south of Wayne.

Six monkeys which Walter Savidge had with his carnival were burned to death.

C. W. McGuire is installing water works on his farm in Leslie.

Mrs. Geo. Buskirk, sr., went to Omaha to consult an eye specialist.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brumme of Hoskins, December 25, 1921.

A son was born December 23, 1921, to Mr. and Miss A. D. Pfeiffer of Concord.

From Wayne Herald for January 2, 1902: Geo. Dymberger tells while skating on his fore-head. Receipts at the Wayne post office were greater in December than any month in its history. . . . A side track at the new station of Sholes is completed. . . . The C. J. Rundell residence was entered and Billy Rickabaugh was relieved of $13. . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. A. K. Neely were surprised December 31 on their 20th wedding anniversary. . . . The Windsor roller mills belonging to Lound & Prince were destroyed by fire, also 500 sacks of flour and much corn and wheat. . . . A fire at the power plant caused a loss of $1,000 and made the plant shut down two days. . . . Twin sisters, Miss Louisa Cuning and Miss Luella Cuning, were married at a double ceremony, the former to L. G. Winsor and the latter to Samuel Livinghouse. . . . Carroll is booming. J. R. Manning has a new house, and George and Ted Phillole have a new implement house.

From Ponca Journal for December 18, 1879: About 100 deer were seen in the Logan valley. . . . The coal miner is planning to do more drilling soon. Water in a well in Hooker precinct boils and the cause of the strange phenomenon is not known.
