

FIFTYSEVENTH YEAR

Contract Is Let For REA Lines

Peter Kiewit & Son to Begin Construction as Soon as REA Gives Approval.

Contract for construction of 158 miles of rural public power lines in Wayne county was let last Thursday to Peter Kiewit & Son of Omaha, for $110,144.30, an average of $697.12 per mile. This is the lowest bid ever to be received in the Nebraska rural electrification program. The contract includes construction of transmission line from the Norfolk substation of the Loup river public power district, the construction of the sub-station for this district, all necessary transformers and service extensions to customers. It also specifies General Electric transformers. Aluminum wire is provided throughout, and all posts will be fully creosoted southern yellow pine.

Peter Kiewit & Son is one of the largest contracting companies in the state and was one of those engaged in construction of the state capitol building.

The second lowest bidder was the Crawford Electric Construction company of North Platte, with $111,156.75. Third was Inland Construction company of Omaha, with $111,441.

Section corners on the proposed line are being located at present and the contractor will commence work as soon as REA approves the construction contract.

Farmers should get their homes wired immediately as the contractor must have the construction completed in 80 days after he starts, and REA will not permit the lines to be energized until the signed customers have wired, according to Henry Moeding who is local manager.

Debate Tourney To Be Held Here

Chicago Guest Conductor to Meet Wayne High Band Tonight in School.

Ten high schools, Omaha Benson, St. Louis Central and East, Lyons, West Point, Norfolk, Emerson, Hartington, Wayne city and Wayne prep, will enter 26 teams in the invitation tournament to be held Saturday at the city school. Rounds are planned at 9 and 10:30 a. m., 1:30 and 3 p. m. Coaches and local judges will make decisions. The public is invited.

Coach Mervin Feddersen plans that the 1:30 round of debate will be cross-examination heckling. In this procedure the first affirmative speaker presents his case in 12 minutes and then submits to cross-examination by the first negative speaker for 3 minutes. The first negative speaker then gives the negative case in 12 minutes and submits to cross-examination by the first affirmative speaker for 3 minutes. The second affirmative speaker then talks 8 minutes, the first and last 2 minutes of which time he may not be heckled and the rest of which he may be questioned by opponents. The same is for the second negative speaker. The debate will then be completed with 5-minute rebuttal. (Continued on Page Three.)

Mass Band Will Give Concert Here Friday

Chicago Artists to Conduct Musicians from Seven High Schools.

A mass band of 150 high school musicians, selected from Pender, Wisner, Emerson, Ponca, Stanton, West Point and Wayne schools, will present a concert Friday evening at 8 in Wayne Municipal auditorium. H. E. Nutt of Chicago, who conducts band rehearsals today and Friday in each of the schools mentioned, will be guest conductor. Virginia Page Nutt of Chicago, will train students in each school in baton twirling and this will also be exhibited Friday evening.

The Friday night program follows: "Amperito Roca," Texitior; "The Midnight Sun," Yoder; "Elsa's Procession" from "Lohengrin," Wagner; "Overture Militaire," Skornicka; "Immortal Legends," Keenan; "Waltzing Exhibition," "Sleepers Wake," Bach; "Dublin Holiday," Buchtel; "Cribbiridin," Pestalozza-Alford.

Prof. John R. Keith is chairman of the band clinic. Directors of the bands are Stanley Davis of Pender, Herman Eickhoff of Wisner, Lloyd Exleben of Emerson, Robert Gulliver of Ponca, Stanley Johnson of Stanton, Harvey Wall of West Point, and Russell Widoe of Wayne.

Temper is desirable if it can be controlled as a force to drive common sense. But when temper is nothing but heat released without other objective than to express an idea, suggesting a compromise, it is (Continued on Page Four.)

Newton S. Gaines Is Club Speaker

Welsh Quartet Sings Before Business Men's Group Here Wednesday.

Newton S. Gaines of the university extension service, Lincoln, addressed Wayne Business Men's club members and guests last evening following dinner at Hotel Stratton.

Each member invited a farmer friend to the club. The Welsh quartet from Carroll, furnished music. In the quartet are Ivor Morris, Lloyd Morris, John Davis and Erwin Jones. Miss Evelyn Morris is accompanist.

Ex-Service Men Are Invited Here

Wayne Post Will Entertain For 20th Anniversary Next Wednesday.

The 20th anniversary of the American Legion will be observed Wednesday evening next week, March 15, when Wayne post is planning a special meeting at the Legion hall for all 115 members and also for all ex-service men of Wayne and vicinity. The occasion is being observed all over the country and one feature of the program will be an address by National Commander Stephen Chadwick of Seattle, Wash., his message to be broadcast over the NBC blue network at 10:15 central standard time that evening. The Wayne group will listen to the address and will also have other features of entertainment and a feed.

Wayne post membership is the largest in the district this year. Commander C. E. Nicholaisen and others of the local post urge all ex-service men to join in the good time. The post is entitled to pictures of the five great allied commanders in the World war for more than reaching the membership quota. The post rating is 140 per cent. The pictures will be hung in the Legion hall.

C. R. Chinn has been named chairman of the Legion committee helping the Women's club with Arbor day plantings. The aim is to plant trees on rural school grounds and other places, and the Legion men have offered their services in making the project a success. Trees will be bought. The plan of starting a seedling plot from which transplants will be made in years to come is considered.

The Legion post is again sponsoring the sending of boys to Cornhusker boys' state at Lincoln this spring. Kiwanians have asked to send a boy and the proposition was presented to Business Men's club last evening. Each unincorporated district will be allowed six boys this year so Wayne will probably send only two. The state organization may call on some of last year's boys to help in the functioning of the state this season. Last year the Women's and Business Women's clubs sent one youth, Kiwanis and Business Men's clubs each one. The cost is $12.50 for each boy for the week. Ray Larson, Herbert Welch and LeRoy Coryell attended last year.

Dr. Lowell Dunn Speaks in Wayne
Dr. Lowell Dunn of Omaha, gave a lecture last evening at the city auditorium on tuberculosis. This is one of a series of lectures being given in 100 towns in Nebraska and sponsored by the Nebraska Medical association. Dr. Walter Bentback was in charge of local arrangements.

Meeting Is Called Here About Bureau
Wayne county farm bureau board, at a meeting Wednesday with H. G. Gould of Lincoln, and several local people, decided to call a meeting of all interested next Wednesday at 1:30 at Wayne city hall. Mr. Gould will be here again at that time. If membership funds are sufficient and interest great enough, steps will be taken to organize.

To Face Charges Of Harness Theft
Wm. Mattingly, charged with being an accessory in the theft of harness, will be tried at Pringman, Iowa, in April. His bond has been fixed at $5,000, which he had not yet furnished.

Give Radio Broadcast
"What's the School Board For?" This question will be considered in an NBC radio broadcast on the blue network March 15 at 8:30 p. m. in the "Wings of the Martins" series. Problems and achievements of some 500,000 "captains" of America's largest industry will be dramatized.

Mrs. J. C. Carhart, who has been in a local hospital, for medical care, is improving nicely.

Wayne Youths Are Candidates For Annapolis

Eugene J. Huntermer, Douglas Canning, George Brock Are Recommended.

Three Wayne youths are among six recommended by Congressman Karl Stefan as principal and alternate candidates for Annapolis naval academy. Eugene J. Huntermer is one of two principals and George Brock is second alternate to him. Douglas Canning is first alternate to Norbert Hesse of Howells, who is a principal.

Two openings in the Annapolis academy are subject to appointment from Third congressional district this spring. Last October 41 young men took examinations for the places. These tests were graded by the civil service in Washington and the results sent to Mr. Stefan who made the (Continued on Page Two.)

Unusual Accident Suffered by Youth

Robert Storm Loses Memory For Time After Striking Head on Bed.

When Robert Storm accidentally struck his head on the bed as he was retiring Sunday evening at Terrace Hall, he suffered a slight concussion of the brain, resulting in temporary loss of memory. The youth received care in a local hospital until Tuesday when he was taken to his home at Ainsworth by ambulance. He was improving when he left and it is thought he will be able to return to school in a few days.

Storm suffered head injuries twice when playing football as a high school student. He is a freshman at the college this year.

Robert's father came from Ainsworth to be with his son and accompany him home.

Seek Settlement For Drowning

Cordial Feeling of Friendship in Small Community

WE HAD a ride to Carroll late Saturday afternoon on the hurricane deck of an automobile wrecker—not just for fun, though we got some fun out of it, besides a fairly equal and impartial massaging of all our numerous muscles. The Herald's car journeying around on business, was happily out of the mud before we arrived. This is not important excepting as a basis for what follows: At Carroll Dave Theophilus gave assistance which reemphasized his popularity with people in the town and neighboring countryside. We noticed he called everybody by the first name and he did it in a way that was certain to keep sweet, prevailing cordiality. He exhibited a spirit of friendliness that is reassuring in a world often torn by envy and strife. And Dave needs only his first name for every-day utility in Carroll. When citizens call one another by their first names and are quick to grant favors, you may safely bet they are strong in human sympathy and helpful fellowship. They are dependable neighbors—friends for friendship's sake, not to be beguiled and shear the unsophisticated and overly credulous. Dave is typical of a wonderfully cordial community.

Churches Hold Grip on Nation

That churches are not losing their grip is the encouraging message brought by Victor L. Toft of Lincoln, Tuesday evening to 75 officers of Presbyterian churches of Niobrara Presbytery who met for dinner and program at Wayne church. Mr. Toft is a trustee of Westminster Presbyterian church in Lincoln.

It has been said so often in recent years that the church is slowly losing its grip, that many accept this statement as a fact, began Mr. Toft. "If this were true nothing would disclose this as quickly as the financial difficulties of the past 10 years. When poverty threatens, a man automatically tightens his belt and deprives himself of those things he values least. It is reassuring to know that the church was not one of these. The plain mathematics of the case reveals that our churches have come through the depression years more nearly solvent than almost any other human enterprise. Our numerous social organizations for instance have suffered enormous losses in membership since 1929. A national poll discloses that country clubs, fraternal groups and private clubs of all kinds have experienced a shrinkage of not less than 40 per cent since 1929. Yet in this same period our protestant churches have added close to 2,000,000 members net to their rolls.

"The Christian Century discussed this subject from another angle in February of 1934. It cited the (Continued on Page Two.)

District Court Is Asked to Approve Agreement Made in Compensation.

Joint application of Laura J. Lohmann and Grand Lodge of Sons of Herman for lump sum settlement in the amount of $1,650 for the death of John H. Lohmann, who was drowned in flood waters near Winside April 14, 1938, was approved by Nebraska Workmen's Compensation court February 28 and was filed in Wayne this week for approval of the district court. The petition was filed with the Workmen's court last June 9, and the matter was heard before Compensation Judge Charles E. Jackson at Grand Island November 20.

John H. Lohmann, husband of the petitioner, Laura J. Lohmann, met death April 14 near Winside during a cloudburst. He then was a resident of Hastings, was a member of the board of trustees of the defendant corporation, Grand Lodge of Sons of Herman in Nebraska, was selected as chairman of said board at a salary of $25 per month. Mr. Lohmann was grand secretary of the defendant corporation at a net salary of $40 per month, and he was insurance solicitor appointed by the insurance board of the defendant corporation upon a basis of $6 per day plus expenses.

Mr. Lohmann and Arthur C. Meyer, attorney-at-law, had obtained a deed in settlement of a real estate mortgage held by the defendant corporation from a mortgagee, had taken an application for an insurance policy with the defendant corporation from a prospective member and were proceeding along the main highway between Winside and Norfolk to spend the night at Norfolk April 14, contemplating the following day on going further business. Engineer Named On Project Here

Dan Farrell Is Chosen in Charge of Addition to Connell Hall.

Dan Farrell, jr., of Omaha, has been appointed resident engineer for the PWA on the new addition to Connell hall at Wayne college. Regional District A. A. Radford of Omaha, announced construction of the addition, made possible by a $4,377 grant, is scheduled to start within a few days and will be completed by the first of September.

Mr. Farrell has been with the PWA since 1934. After being resident engineer inspector on school and courthouse projects at Eddyville, St. Edwards, Brainard, Inman, Clearwater, Creighton and O'Neill, he was employed in regional headquarters as engineer until his assignment here. Farrell studied architectural engineering at Iowa State college, Ames, and was later junior partner in the firm of Farrell, Ruther and Farrell, Omaha, which firm in 1930 erected the $750,000 Douglas county home at Clearview, just west of Omaha.

Mr. Farrell's duties will be to see that the new Connell hall addition is built in accordance with the high standards embodied in the plans and specifications. He will see that the quantity and quality of materials used meet requirements that the workmen are paid in accordance with established wage schedules and that they are adequately protected against accidents as prescribed by PWA. He will live in Wayne during the construction.

Pageant Program Planned Friday

Dramatics Class of Wayne Prep Appears in Plays Tuesday Night

"America in Picture and Song" is the annual program in the nature of a pageant to be given Friday evening by the Wayne State Teachers College Training school under the direction and supervision of Prof. H. H. Hanscom. The program will be given in the college auditorium. It consists of six episodes in American history, each introduced by a representation of a well-known picture by an American artist. The connecting story is told by two narrators. The musical part of the program consists of songs and dances which are typical of the period. The public is invited.

One-Act Plays

Dramatics class of Wayne prep presented two one-act plays Tuesday evening in the college auditorium. The students taking part in the first, "Makeup and Live," were Marian Johnson, Marie Kirwan, Nelda M. Bressler, Kathleen Cook, Josephine Ahern, Ivy Hesterman and Wanda Olson. Those in the second play, "Shelby and Sue," were Edwin Dawson, Adelaide Buhl, Argean Alderson, Warren Nookes and Jimmie Golder. The performance was well attended.

Assembly Program

Wednesday some of the declamatory contestants spoke for the assembly program. The girl scouts will give a play next Wednesday.

Grade News

Mrs. Clara Heylman was unable to teach Wednesday because of illness.

R. H. Banister visited the second grade last Wednesday afternoon to answer questions by the children concerning the work of a postman. Sally Kingston, Fielda Finn, Harriet Phipps and Donna Jean Schroeder have been absent because of illness. In art work the children have been cutting rabbits, chickens and tulips out of gay paper.

The first grade has been looking at pictures and pamphlets of interesting things in the west. Miss Mann wrote a story about a visit to Yellowstone park. The children took up a new piece, "The Electric Light Gallop," in the marimba rhythm band. In English class words are being studied, learning how to print them. Furniture is being made for the playhouse, using old boxes. Curtains are also being woven on a small loom.

Have Tonsil Operations

Kenneth Dunklau of near Wayne, underwent a tonsil operation last Saturday. Henry Franz, also of Wayne, had tonsils removed the same day.

Has Minor Operation

Mrs. Charles Riese of Wayne, underwent a minor operation in a local hospital last Wednesday and was dismissed Saturday.

Medical Director Addresses Club

Dr. E. A. Rogers, medical director of the four counties in this unit with headquarters at Madison, addressed the Business and Professional Women's department of the Wayne Women's club Tuesday evening at the club rooms. This unit covers the counties of Madison, Pierce, Stanton and Wayne. Five nurses are in the organization besides the medical director or doctor. A sanitarium is also supplied.

The personnel is trained in public health with the objective being to promote health and prevent disease. They are not working in opposition to the local doctors as there is still plenty required of them, continued Dr. Rogers. The functions of the individuals in the organization were described as including the Stieck tests and giving physical examinations.

Dr. Rogers commended the dental club in dental hygiene and feels that a similar program could be broadened to include physical health. The doctor invited the club to select a representative to serve on what he termed as a health council. The function of this council is to interpret the health needs of the community and to present to the community accepted public health principles.

Mrs. R. R. Stuart, who was in charge of the program, presided. At a business meeting the club voted $2 to be given the Women's club for trees in their project. Miss Elsie Buchholz was a guest. Luncheon carrying out the St. Patrick motif was served by Mrs. Florence Smith, Mrs. Marilyn Thackery and Miss Ida Fisher. The club will entertain the Wayne Women's club members at a program and social meeting March 21 at the club rooms. The serving committee includes Mrs. A. D. Lewis, Miss Mavis Baker, Miss Florence Evans, Miss Jean Jones, Mrs. Celia Pearson and Mrs. French Penn. The program committee for the evening includes Miss Hazel Reeve, Mrs. Pearson and Miss Miriam Huse.

Wide Awake Pig Club

Wide Awake Pig club reorganized Friday evening, March 3, in the Charles Pierson home. The following officers were elected: Charles Pierson, leader; Joe C. Johnson, assistant leader; Vernie Sievers, president; Dean Pierson, vice president; Jim Suber, secretary; Richard Claycomb, news reporter; Gene Sandahl, cheer leader. The other members are Leonard and Eldin Roberts, Maynard and Eldon Erickson, Alfred Sievers, John Suber, Alden Johnson, Glep and Don Sandahl, Alvin and Lawrence Sundell and LeRoy Lundahl. The next meeting will be in the Albert Sundell home April 14. Any boy wishing to join is welcome to come to the next meeting.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends who sent us many beautiful anniversary cards, also those who sent gifts. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Panabaker.

Wayne College Symphony Band to Present Concert

The program will include the following: "A Santa Cecilia," Radaelli; "Builders of Youth," Kansas Traveler; Guion; "The Universal Judgment," Hero; from "The Chocolate Soldier," Strauss-Alford.

In line with Mr. Lohmann's position as chairman of the board of trustees. About 7:30 the evening of April 14 the men encountered west of Winside, a cloudburst of such proportions that the water rose to a depth of three feet on the highway, a 20-foot railroad trestle was washed a distance of 30 feet, railroad bed and tracks were washed and deep flood waters extended from Winside to Wayne. After the car stalled in the high waters the two men started to walk to higher ground. Mr. Lohmann disappeared in the swirling waters and darkness. His body was found more than a week later southwest of Wayne, 10 miles from the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Lohmann states in the petition that she is 59 and was solely dependent on deceased Mr. Lohmann for support. She was employed as an employee for the corporation, though he met death as an act of God which is not compensable. The petition further states that Lohmann was earning more than $65 per month. Mrs. Lohmann's petition states that she has a life expectancy of 14 years; she lives with her parents at Wausa and will receive her board and room and will be entitled to their home in compensation for caring for them; she has no children or dependents.

On a basis of the payment of $15 a week for 100 weeks and $150 for funeral expenses Mrs. Lohmann and the Sons of Herman have agreed on a complete settlement of $1,650 which is agreeable with the compensation court. The settlement will be made as soon as district court approves.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Hawkins returned Thursday from Lincoln.

Married Sunday In Altona Church

Miss Ellen Greenwald and Walter Meeske wed at Pretty Service.

At a candlelight wedding ceremony at the Trinity Lutheran church of Altona, Sunday evening, March 5, Miss Ellen Greenwald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Greenwald, became the bride of Mr. Walter Meeske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Meeske, of Wisner. Rev. E. J. Moeck officiated at the double ring ceremony. Prof. C. E. Germeroth played the wedding march. Preceding the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Greenwald sang "Oh Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a striking model of sheer silk lace over satin, fashioned on princess lines with a Queen Anne collar. The sleeves, which puffed at the shoulders, were close fitting from the elbow to the wrist. The floor-length skirt swept into graceful folds clouded by a double fingertip veil which fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Miss Lillian Greenwald, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a shell pink lace gown trimmed with pink plaited getting and dainty blue bows. Her flowers were pink roses and carnations. Miss Alvera and Miss Alvena Meeske, twin sisters of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmaids and wore twin gowns of blue pique. The frocks were made in multi-lait style and were trimmed with pink bows. They carried pink and white sweetpeas.

Joanne Dammie, niece of the bride, who was flower girl, wore a pink tulle dress trimmed with blue smocking and blue bows. Jerald Meeske, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ringbearer. He was dressed in a suit of white linen and carried the rings on a white pillow with pink ties.

Raymond Kort of Blue Hill, Neb., was best man. Harold Greenwald, brother of the bride, and Elmer VonSeggern of Wisner, were ushers.

Following the services a reception for 45 immediate relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents. A two-tier wedding cake baked by Mrs. Dave Bender, centered the table. Pink and white sweetpeas and white tapers were used on either side.

Mr. and Mrs. Meeske left immediately for a trip to Chicago and other eastern places. On their return they will live on a farm three miles northeast of Wisner.

Presents Message On Farm Program

"The AAA farm program represents a loan of federal powers to farmers to adjust agriculture for the protection of soil and the people who live upon it, and for the welfare of the nation," according to an address by R. M. Evans, AAA administrator in Great Falls, Mont., received here by H. J. Podoll.

"Taken all in all," states Mr. Evans, "the AAA program we now have is the best piece of farm legislation in history. Conservation is the background. We are working to protect our soil and our income."

"We have the problem of surplus and as tools to fight it we have acreage allotments, marketing quotas, export sales program, surplus purchases for relief, a program for finding new uses, and the ever-normal granary."

"We have the problem of protecting the food supply for both the farmer and consumer. Here our tools are crop insurance, loans and marketing quotas."

"We have the problem of farm income, and to solve this we have acreage adjustments, parity payments, conservation payments and loans."

"We have the problem of soil wastage and for this we have the soil-building practices and acreage allotments, which help us to end wastes both of soil and labor in useless overproduction."

College Societies

Commercial club will have a party this Friday evening.

One of the greatest events of the social calendar for the school year is the annual Hobo Dance, sponsored by the Katz Club, to be held this Saturday night at 8 p. m. in the college gymnasium at which time the winners of the all-college poll will be presented. Evan Morgan's orchestra will furnish the tunes for the "bos and booties."

James Cornish and Anita Olsen are co-chairmen of committees on dance arrangements. Special committee chairmen include: Orchestra, Victor Thoenel; tickets, Glen Larson; decoration, Bonnie McCarver; chaperones, Jean Ann Hogan; publicity, Louis Pfaff.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to all the neighbors and friends, for those who came to see me and for the many cards, letters and flowers I received during my stay in the hospital. Mrs. Dave Edwards, Carroll.

Frances Randal of Pender, had a major operation last Thursday in a local hospital.

THE KNOT-HOLE

Vol. 6 Wayne, Neb., Thur., Mar. 9, 1939. No. 43

We all take pride in the things we own. And to own a home is one of the greatest achievements of all. But one that can be accomplished with less money than you realize. Start planning yours now. There is no better time.

Dr. Slicem: "Now, don't worry about your wife. You'll have a different woman when she gets out of the hospital."

Chubbywit: "But what if she finds it out, Doc?"

Mr. Higgins had just paid the last installment on a perambulator.

Shop Assistant: "Thank you, madam. How is the baby getting along now?"

Mrs. Higgins: "Oh, he's all right. He's getting married next week."

fact that the national income of the people of the United States shrank from 85 billions in 1929 to 40 billions in 1932, a deflation of 51 per cent. Expenditures for personal luxuries and comforts shrank from $9,972,000,000 in 1929 to $3,841,000,000 in 1932, a deflation of over 60 per cent. Expenditures for recreation shrank from $4,987,000,000 in 1929 to $1,637,000,000 in 1932, a deflation of 72 per cent. Yet in this same period the total contributions to churches from living contributors shrank from $850,000,000 in 1929 to $510,000,000 in 1932, a deflation of only 45 per cent.

Mr. Toft cited these facts to show that the church is not losing ground in any respect, because there is nothing so completely sensitive as a man's pocketbook, and to disclose the fallacy of the easy assumption by so many who are made responsible for the raising of money for church needs, that the reasons for their failure are economic rather than their own incompetence. The speaker showed that by systematic and persistent effort the church finances can be put into good condition.

Rev. James E. Harris presided at the opening. Dr. Walter Benthack gave the welcome, and L. C. Nuernberger of Wakefield, served as toastmaster. Rev. Samuel M. Horton of Madison, gave a short talk. Raising church expenses was the main topic.

Wayne college students furnished music. Franklin Simonin, ac-compared by Ethlyn Flake, played a baritone solo. Arthur Gulliver played a clarinet solo, accompanied by Betty Bard, Jay Jacob, with Marion Seymour accompanist, sang. The mixed octet sang three selections. Randolph, Laurel, South Sioux City; Pender, Wakefield, Wayne, Elgin, Madison, Norfolk, Carroll and Emerson churches were represented.

After Six Long Years
ON MARCH 4, six years ago, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated president amidst a great show of promise.

Sullivan expresses the opinion that the attempt to regulate everybody and everything has irretrievably crashed.

One Big Need
WAYNE does not need bigger and better stores, more and better lawyers, doctors and preachers, larger newspapers of greater coverage.

The Wayne business district has subscribed liberally to the movement to employ a county farm agent, and it is hoped the plan will be realized.

Secretary Morgenthau is reported to have expressed the opinion that in view of world conditions, economic recovery in this country transcends all other considerations.

In his Columbus Telegram, Editor Edgar Howard, former congressman, who is sojourning at Long Beach, Calif., explains that twelve miles out in the ocean from that city is anchored a boat which is a miniature Monte Carlo and on which every imaginable game is available to customers.

Southwest Wayne
(home Tuesday evening last week for Franklin Flege's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helkes, Ions and Raymond spent Sunday evening at Fred Heier's.

he will go out to the boat to satisfy curiosity and to gather information to retail to his friends when he returns home.

One doesn't need to consult the calendar to know this is March. Freezing and thawing, snows that quickly disappear, and plenty of wind make one feel the season's presence without looking at the record.

Sound judgment depends a good deal on unselfish consideration of facts. It also develops through the ordeal of experience.

After having been on the job six years, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has discovered that trade barriers between states are retarding economic recovery.

Some one wonders why it is not always possible to disagree over political, religious and other questions and still remain friendly.

For Lovers of Peace.
(Omaha Journal-Stockman)
For a peace-loving nation the appropriation of half a billion dollars for the army seems rather extravagant.

If a Farm Could Speak.
(Nebraska Farmer)
Imagine, if you can, that you are a Nebraska farm created untold centuries ago during the ice age or some other geological period.

Live Stock the Solution.
(Omaha Journal-Stockman)
Students of agricultural economics cannot help but note the fact that the more the experts tamper with the prices of grain the more complicated the problem becomes.

While congress is trying to find, through legislation, some solution for low prices of this and that field product of American farms, all purpose farmers are congratulating themselves that they are boosting the income from feed crops through live stock.

Of course, the live stock man has had his troubles in the past, particularly during the drouth when it was hard to get feed, though even then he found that he was better off than his neighbor who depended solely on crops that refused to grow without rainfall.

Those, however, are things that aren't worrying the live stock man one bit. His chief problems always have been, first, to get feed enough for his stock at a reasonable price, and second, to find a profitable outlet for it after it is matured and fattened.

Bernard Macfadden, editor of Liberty, attributes most of our troubles to ingratitude and lack of intelligence. He says we little appreciate the many good things we enjoy, and the more we get, the more we want and the more dissatisfied we become.

It seems that a little negro pitcher in a critical spot in the ball game caught a low ball from the bat of another Babe Ruth or Joe DiMaggio rather than let it continue on its uninterrupted way to the far out-field for a home run.

It works the same way in our lives. Many of the problems we are to meet can be simplified by thinking them through beforehand, by conditioning ourselves to them, so to speak. Furthermore,

PREPAREDNESS.

If the report of Germany's military development in powerful airplanes, as told in a recent magazine article, is true, Chamberlain's peace efforts at Munich were justified, and the speeding up since then on the part of other European nations to build armaments to use in case of war has been unavoidable.

A Cub's Eye View

By Muriel Arends

If your back aches, your throat is sore, your stomach seems to disagree with your choice of foods—go to bed! You may not know it but you've got flu. I know; cause I had it I quit work a week ago last night in the dead heat of a photo finish to see whether or not I'd get him to bed before I passed completely out of the picture.

Woke up Saturday morning feeling slightly better, but couldn't bear the thought of staying alone in the dorm all day, so I accepted an invitation to Sioux City. Thought I'd let the girl friend's folks worry about me a while.

All of which comment may seem very unnecessary to the reader in general but, personally, I learned a lesson—one of moderation, and even duration. I present this as the moral of the above rambling: Take it easy. Keep well fed, and well rested.

Had a very short but enjoyable chat with a Wayne lady Tuesday afternoon bearing somewhat on this subject. Out of it came this conclusion: Hard work and lots of it make for happiness. Except, I feel forced to add, that health is the first and foremost consideration of all. Take care of that one item, and the rest will come.

Heard a sermon preached Tuesday in chapel in the form of a baseball story. Just goes to show what interesting mediums can be found for handling those golden truths to make them more effective.

By reading some portion of it daily for personal guidance and inspiration. Begin with the gospel of Luke or Matthew where both the life story and teaching of Christ are recorded. Then may follow the other gospels, the stirring Book of Acts, Paul's letters, the Psalms, and other parts of the Old and New Testaments.

THE VOICE OF RELIGION

Current Questions and Answers about Religion, Morals and Personal Problems by DR. WELDON F. CROSSLAND, Rochester, New York

What part does the small wage earner play in the average Protestant church?

A very important part in its decisions and advice. Tens of thousands of the 210,924 churches of America are composed entirely of small wage earners.

The average Protestant church is definitely democratic in organization and control. Each adult member has equal right to voice his judgment and to cast his vote.

The membership chooses and calls its minister, and determines the length of his tenure as pastor, except in the few communions that have bishops. Even in these the wishes of the congregation have great weight in any appointment.

The officer, who number about 1 in 20 of the membership of the average church, are chosen by the vote of the congregation or by their elected representatives. The large majority of the 1,800,000 teachers and officers of America's church schools are drawn from the middle or smaller income groups.

How can a person most helpfully read the Bible?

By reading some portion of it daily for personal guidance and inspiration. Begin with the gospel of Luke or Matthew where both the life story and teaching of Christ are recorded.

Read, not a chapter or two chapters a day, but just enough to discover a vital message from God to your soul.

Is a lodge a church? No. While having some things in common, they should never be confused.

A lodge is a secret society, whose limited purposes relate chiefly to its own members and their families.

A church is a fellowship of Christian men, women and children, whose purpose is the redemption of the world through religion, morality and world-wide service.

Fraternities and lodges such as the Knights of Columbus with their 2,466 subordinate councils and their 432,480 members on the Masons with their 15,707 lodges with 2,570,024 members are in most cases children of religion and the church.

You borrow freely from the church, using the church's book, the Bible, and centering their ritual in religious history and ideals.

While the splendid service a lodge renders is limited largely to its own members and their families, the church through missions, Sunday services and week day activities ministers to millions outside her membership.

The church and the lodge should never be competitors but partners in the high service of God and man.

Can one change his gloomy outlook for an optimistic one?

Yes. Anyone can exchange his smoked glasses for clear ones. Your outlook on life is determined far more by what is inside you than what is outside you. You color all your experiences.

Consider first what causes you to be depressed. Work? Companions? Worry? Loss of sleep? Lack of exercise? A merciless study of yourself and moods will reveal the causes of your jaundiced view of life.

Choose and cultivate new interests. Read at least a book a week, starting perhaps with "Wake Up and Live." Renew old friendships and make new ones—of the right kind.

Adopt an adventurous, sporting attitude toward your work and problems. You may win—probably you will!

Exercise in God's out-of-doors. Possibly the reason life doesn't seem worth living may be found in the liver.

Through their faith and religion millions with burdens heavier than yours find strength, optimism and victory more than sufficient for the needs of any day.

What did the world missionary conference at Madras achieve?

The confused state of international affairs made extremely difficult the task of the 472 Christians of 76 nations or races who recently gathered at Madras to study the needs and problems of the churches of Asia and Africa.

Substantial progress in missionary thinking and method was made along these lines: 1. An era of closest cooperation among all foreign mission boards is taking the place of denominational rivalry.

A Uniter Christian church in each country is desired by native Christians. 2. These native Christians are now in active control of the churches of China, India and Africa.

The missionary no longer does most of the work. 3. A new type of missionary is needed, whose chief task will be the training and guiding of native leaders as missionaries have always done to some extent.

Delegates unanimously agreed that the need for missions and missionaries is greater than ever before, especially among nations like China, whose problems are most difficult.

The conference closed on a high, confident and adventurous note. To what extent should the church interest itself in economic matters?

Only to the extent that they affect the religious and moral welfare of the people. Both Protestant and Roman Catholic churches have officially recognized that such questions as a living wage, reasonable hours, sanitary working conditions, unemployment and war do vitally affect the religious and moral welfare of everybody, especially of children.

The church would be untrue to her humanitarian ideals if she did not vigorously speak out against glaring abuses. Her primary tasks however ought always to be the religious and moral ones. Preaching the gospel, building the Kingdom of God, creating Christian character and the cure of souls are among her chief duties.

Never should any religious group become an ecclesiastical labor union for the sake of raising wages but a cooperative society for the purpose of reducing prices. Other social groups can better perform these tasks.

A supreme duty of the church is to proclaim Christian principles and then to train and encourage church members to put into practice in social and business life their Christian ideals.

Without these, the fairest economic utopias will miserably fail. Copyright 1938 by Weldon F. Crossland, Rochester, N. Y.

Wakefield basketball team closed the season in the B class tournament at Wayne last week. Wakefield was defeated by Decatur 32 to 25 in the second round of play. Decatur surprisingly defeated Winnebago in the semifinals 34 to 27 and in the finals took an easy game from Emerson.

The school officials wish to thank the business men and basketball followers for assisting with the transportation of the teams to the out-of-town games.

W. G. Loebel's operetta students are working on the various phases of the operetta which will be presented in the school auditorium Friday evening, March 17.

Three typewriters which have been in steady use for eight years are to be replaced. The department will then have three different makes of machines and the students will have the opportunity to practice upon them all. Some of the machines are noiseless and some are of the hammer blow type.

Plans are well underway for the Dixon county Commercial contest at Wakefield Saturday, March 18. The schools which will have entries are not known yet.

All grades above the fourth attended a tuberculosis lecture in the theatre Wednesday afternoon. Periods were shortened so practically all classes were in session.

Wednesday evening the faculty was represented at the Dixon County Men's meeting at New-castle. The meeting was postponed from last week because of the tournament at Wayne.

Tuesday evening the F. F. A. and the part time class presented one-act plays in the high school auditorium.

Wakefield thus far has been more fortunate than surrounding schools with the flu epidemic.

"Although only a limited number of the adolescents put their daily hopes and fears in writing, probably nearly all of them indulge in reveries about themselves and their cravings," according to Supt. C. H. Madden. "These day dreams originate in self-seeking. Study of them shows that the dreamer himself is practically always the central occupant of his castle in the air. This is true of day dreams at all ages."

Getting Back into Livestock. (Omaha Journal-Stockman) Everyone in any way connected with the livestock industry is aware of the fact that farmers and stock growers are making strenuous efforts to expand their operation in livestock. The incentive, of course, is the relatively high prices for cattle, hogs and sheep that have prevailed for several months. Evidences of this movement to increase livestock production are plain enough out in the country but they are particularly plain on the central markets. Receipts of cows and heifers have been conspicuously short all winter and buyers have been scouring the country for its stock. Supplies of pregnant sows have never been so small on the market and animals of this kind are eagerly bought up at country sales. Farmers are holding back their cows and sows for breeding purposes.

Readers of the Journal-Stockman will recall that this paper has always pointed out the danger of attempting to follow an in-and-out policy in the matter of livestock production. Experience has demonstrated the wisdom of consistent year in and year out service. The time to get in is when everybody else is trying to get out. If new sows to follow the crowd. The really encouraging feature of the situation, however, is that the country is actually short of livestock at this time. Tomorrow the picture may be different.

Gardens Planted

Need Protection. Since many are making plans for their spring gardens, E. H. Hoppert of the extension department, makes suggestions to help guard against losses. A site protected from hot south and southwest winds is desirable. The windbreak may consist of the garden building, trees of a north and northeast slope. Perhaps a flat area can be found in a draw, where running water from higher ground can be led through the garden. If large quantities of water are available, the garden might be irrigated. If not, perhaps it can be soaked in fall or spring whenever an excess from the windmill is available. Snow fences may be erected where the late vegetables are to be planted. If the only suitable location is not protected from the south and west, plant two or three rows of early sweet corn on the south side of the garden. Castor beans may also be used. Corn or sorghum fodder may be set up on the south side of the garden fence. Cardboard boxes may be unfolded and used, or burlap cut up and fastened to the fence. Straw may be used as a mulch to conserve moisture and hold rain where it falls. This is particularly suited to potatoes, tomatoes, eggplant and peppers. In the case of potatoes, the straw also keeps the ground cool and prevents the potatoes from becoming parboiled in hot weather. The straw should be applied after the plants are five to six inches tall.

Washday. (Omaha World-Herald.) All of a sudden it's Washday in the United States. And that means a Blue Monday for crooked politicians, faithless officials and the gray rats of the underworld.

Take a look at the record since Thomas Dewey, before a fearless judge and a blue ribbon jury, secured the conviction of Jimmy Hines, mighty Tammany boss. In Kansas City, 93 indictments of local officials, politicians, gamblers and vice lords. In Philadelphia, the mayor and numerous police officers indicted, charged with protecting organized and commercialized vice and collusion with gamblers.

In Miami, the mayor and commissioners who were a controlling bloc in municipal affairs, recalled by a 4 to 1 vote, after they had been indicted and cleared on a charge of soliciting a quarter-million-dollar bribe.

In Boston, the former chairman of the democratic state committee indicted by a federal grand jury for income tax fraud. In New York, Martin Manton, former senior judge of the United States circuit court of appeals indicted on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

All these items in the news of a single day! The meaning is unmistakable. The American people are waking up to a realization of the tremendous cost of crooked politics, and of the social demoralization it causes. Big crooks and little crooks; official crooks and private crooks—they take a toll of billions of dollars from the people every year. They organize crime and vice into a business, with many partners, some of them in high position, some bearing honored names. They corrupt the public service. They make a mockery of justice and equality before the law. They shake the confidence of the citizen in their country's institutions and the integrity of its society. They wreck the morale of police departments, city councils, county boards, legislative bodies, and of the courts. Not everywhere, thank God, or always. But to an extent that is scandalous to the republic and destructive of the public faith in righteousness and law.

And how do they do it? District Attorney Dewey, in his address to the Hines jury, said it was through "the contaminating influence of a politician operating with gangster money as his background." Without this, he said: "There could be no organized crime for five minutes in this country without the paralyzing hand of a crooked politician available to break an honest cop, to tell a magistrate what to do, or to use gangster funds to elect a public prosecutor who is under his control." It's as simple as that—the paralyzing hand of a crooked politician with gangster power and gangster money at his command.

Equally simple—but by no means easy—the cure: An honest and fearless prosecutor, an honest and fearless judge, an intelligent and honest jury. And back of them a community sentiment aroused to indignation against faithlessness, crime and graft. When the people themselves are indulgently tolerant of what they know to be official betrayal and underworld conspiracy, are cynically indifferent, they pay a frightful price. But once they assert themselves they will find a plenty of good and competent men to serve and protect them.

These are fine, noble, right words. And that is why it is Washday in the United States. Let the laundrying continue, and the day will be nearing when the United States will no longer be known disgracefully as the most lawless nation on earth.

LOCAL

Dan Baier visited Rev. Wm. Fischer Tuesday morning. San Steele was dismissed Saturday from a local hospital. Mrs. Carl Thomsen returned to her home near Wayne Saturday evening from a local hospital.

Mrs. Charles Sokal of Sidney, was in a local hospital last Thursday and Friday for medical care. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ingham of Norfolk, spent from Friday evening until Sunday evening in the A. W. Ross and Dr. C. T. Ingham homes.

Mrs. Andrew Passamani of Milwaukee, Wis., came Monday to visit her sister, Mrs. J. N. Eklund, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eklund met her in Sioux City. Miss Marion Seymour, Miss Dorothy Hook and Miss Alice Mae Young visited from Friday to Sunday with Miss Roberta Luers in Lincoln. Wm. Nelson accompanied them.

Robert Frahm, Carl Victor, sr., and W. E. VonSeggern returned Tuesday evening last week from Mobile, Ala., and other places in the south. They had been gone about ten days.

Relative of Wayne

Man Passes Away. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer left this morning for Clay Center, Kan., in response to word that the former's brother-in-law, Rev. R. T. Daeschner, died Wednesday night. The Wayne folks will attend the funeral Saturday with burial at Falls City, Neb. Rev. Daeschner leaves his wife and one son.

The contract was carried through. A report of the study which analyzed the contents of typical metropolitan and small town newspapers of a half century ago and of today, mentions these features: "Enormous development of background and explanatory material to aid readers' understanding of current news events; tremendous wealth of pictures; great number of able by-line commentators on domestic and foreign affairs; practical elimination of editorial opinion from news stories; expansion in material on science, on health and beauty, and other subjects of interest to women. The analysis also finds noteworthy the frequency with which present-day newspapers run the writings of commentators and columnists in disagreement with the paper's own editorial slant."

More than in the increase in size and the more complete coverage, editorial pride lies in the fairer attitude of the newspaper of today. Fifty years ago one would hardly expect to see in a republican paper a fair and unbiased report of a speech by a democratic candidate. Most newspapers showed their bias even in the news columns. Mr. Ickes might read this interesting report if he wishes to open his mind to a little new light on the virtues of today's newspapers.

CONGRESS

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

National Defense Only

Is U. S. Aim.

The congressional mail unusually heavy in spite of below zero and snowy weather at home. Scores of letters come from constituents asking whether or not there are war indications in Washington. In reply to that it can be stated that from behind closed doors in great committee rooms comes the assurance from the best informed that at present there is no danger of America getting mixed up in any war. The house is pretty well satisfied that Americans are opposed to mixing in foreign entanglements and opposed to any warfare except purely national defense. Even the most outspoken friends of the professional army and navy officialdom say that all armament expenditures are aimed at national defensive preparedness only.

Debate Florida Ship Canal.

Congressmen have returned from Florida following inspection of the Florida ship canal site. There is a lot of divided opinion on this venture. There are lobbyists here from north of canal telling members what a great thing the canal would be. They urge the expenditure of money for it. There are lobbyists here from the south of the canal site who say the entire venture is "cockeyed" and discourage the expenditure of any more money on it.

Debut Racketeers.

The social racketeers continue to dupe the innocent mothers and daughters in the nation's capitol. These "debut" racketeers get a lot of money to put on "coming out" parties for young ladies whose Jobs for Students.

Members digging into appropriation bills find it hard to discover just who is on the payroll down here. Even a mannikin can be recorded as a "laborer" or a "barber" can be on the payroll as a "custodian." All of the policemen on Capitol Hill—and there are 150 of them—get around $1,600 a year. They are patrons of the majority party. They get two months' vacation with pay. Believe it or not, there is only one regular metropolitan policeman on the hill. The others are mostly young men who are appointed. Many of them go to school after working hours. All of the elevator operators—about fifty or more of them—get $100 a month and are also majority patronage and most of them are students in the various schools there. Many of them are studying law.

Immigration Increase.

One member told the house the other day that his investigation shows that the immigration from foreign countries has increased 25%. Many foreigners are coming here on "visiting" permits and many of these are taking jobs rightfully belonging to American citizens.

Longest Remembered American.

For many days now members have been making Lincoln speeches. They will be followed by Washington speeches. Digging into old records, members find that Lincoln was a member of congress in 1847 and that he was but 33 years old when he sat in the house chamber. Most people, however, go down to the river and visit the Lincoln Memorial—the most impressive in this city of many monuments. There is something about the Lincoln statue in that great stone memorial which awes visitors. Most of them on their first visit leave with tears in their eyes. Nearly everybody these days knows that the high toned people of Lincoln's day did not like the great emancipator. Everything here indicates that Abraham Lincoln here indicates that he will be the longest remembered American.

World War Costs of Today.

Members who oppose war because of the tragedy they see in the past war cases of veterans find that not alone was it costly to fight the war, but that we are now expending, annually, 420 million dollars in pensions for those who fought in the battles of the nation. There are now 393,135 World War veterans receiving compensation from their government, and, in addition, there are 110,940 dependents of deceased veterans receiving compensation—so that the total for the World War of only 21 years ago is 504,075. That is what the war of so short a time is costing. This legion of despair can hope for no armistice according to many of the veterans' representatives who are playing for peace.

Attend Masonic Meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raacke of Central City, Neb., have been in Washington several days. Mr. Raacke was here officially with prominent Masonic lodge officials to take part in the many celebrations on George Washington's birthday anniversary. He was among the grand masters and grand secretaries of 49 jurisdictions attending the annual sessions of the Masonic Memorial association. These prominent delegates held some of their meetings in the Washington Memorial Tower at Alexandria. This memorial is one of the great points of interest for thousands of visitors to Washington. They also visited the lodge rooms where Washington was master and where he attended meetings.

World War Mental Cases

To Reach Peak in 1949.

Evidence produced before congressional committees concerning the rapid growth of N P cases reveals one of the most pathetic aftermaths of the World War. These are the neuropsychiatric men in whom the slender cord that binds the present with the past and the present with the future has been broken. We have 27,000 of these cases. This office finds in the records of veterans administration that it will be 1949 before we reach the peak load of those cases wherein the men's minds will atrophy as a result of the war that was fought 21 years ago. By 1949 we will have a mental case load of 44,000. Those facts are put squarely to those who would like to involve this country in another war.

Believe It Or Not.

The last time George Washington's face was seen, was 100 years ago. That was on the occasion when Henry Clay and a congressional committee drove by stage coach to Mount Vernon to transfer the body to the present more appropriate resting place. The records here show that when this party arrived they found that ghouls had broken into the leaden casket to get a view of the face of Washington. This record indicates that Washington's body was preserved in alcohol and that the party found the face in almost perfect condition. The first resting place for Washington was built in the center part of the basement of the capitol in Washington. The same box and vault are still there but in his will Washington specified Mount Vernon for his burial place. His wishes were followed. The Washington vault in the capitol is still in use to temporarily hold the bodies of famous men whose bodies sometimes lie in state in the capitol rotunda.

"Let Him Who Is Without Sin Cast the First Stone."

A TRUE STORY—When Reed Smoot was elected to the senate from Utah, a delegation of senators called on Senator Boies Penrose, of the committee on elections, to protest. It was before the Mormons banned polygamy. "It's disgraceful," said one senator, "to expect us to sit in the senate with a man who tolerates polygamy!" This senator was a man whose indiscretions were notorious in Washington. Penrose leaned back and looked at him directly. "After all, gentlemen," he said, "Senator Smoot has only one wife. And frankly, it is less disturbing to me to sit in the senate with a polygamist who doesn't 'polyg' than with a monogamist who doesn't 'monog'."

Hard to Cut Bureaus.

With a government debt of around 40 billion dollars members who have charge of the federal purse strings realize that with conditions as they exist now it would be a hard job to balance the budget in Washington by trying to cut government expenses, unless disinterested experts actually got on the job and cut deep. Once established a federal department or bureau is mighty hard to get rid of and chiefs of these new bureaus are only interested in perpetuation and expansion of those bureaus.

Notable Prayer.

Following a closed meeting of a military affairs committee, when reporters went into the room, they found on the conference table a card reading as follows: "A prayer for today—Oh Lord, help me keep my nose out of other people's business—Amen." At the bottom of the card someone wrote with a pencil "And stay on this side of the Rhine."

New Federal-Debt Ceiling.

Secretary Morgenthau told a house appropriations committee last week that the national debt will reach $50,000,000,000, and that it can do so without endangering the country's financial structure. Where the economic limit for the federal debt should be placed may be debatable. Congress some years ago set the statutory limit of federal debt at 45 billions. One question is asked: "Would a federal debt of 50 billion dollars be a good thing from a national defense angle? Would such a debt be a handicap or a help if war were forced upon us? Is not the financial condition of a nation as important from a national preparedness standpoint as battleships, modern guns, airplanes or submarines?"

Another Case of Midas?

Freshman Congressman Karl Mundt of South Dakota took the floor the other day and asked the suppression of the government film which depicts South Dakota as a general dust bowl. He thinks it's bad advertising. Among other things, he told members that the richest one hundred miles square is located in his state, the Homestake Gold Mine, Nebraska, take

Books Received In City Library

A group of new books has been added to the International Mind Allocated book shelf for children at Wayne city library. The title of one is "Buffo and Petro." Petro is a little Greek boy who owns Buffo and keeps his skin black and stuning by washing Buffo every day and rubbing him with olive oil. "The Pig That Danced a Jig" is about an Irish girl, Moira, and her pet pig, Patrick. Meaksi and Arumukan are the sister and brother in "The Feast of Lamps." They are children of India and become lost in a big temple. "The Story Book of Wheat" has interesting illustrations. "Painted Saints" is for a little older readers and is the story of Marcel, a young orphan boy of Marseilles. He is brought up by a priest and grows into manhood with him in lovely Provence in France.

Four books dealing with foreign affairs and foreign relations are new in the adult's department. "Union Now," by Clarence K. Streit, is of special interest since there is so much pessimism and defeatism in the air that it is refreshing to find an author who has something positive and constructive to propose and who presents it so convincingly. Mr. Streit has for many years been foreign correspondent for the New York Times and has the basic background, as well as the instinct for the true reporter, for sifting and evaluating events. "Peace with the Dictators?" by Sir Norman Angell, is another of the books which is of extreme importance. Sir Angell has been writing for many years on international conditions telling over and over again that war does not pay and that decent, honorable relations between the nations of the world must be built up if permanent peace is to be established. In this book he discusses the problem of which every individual in this nation is aware, if only through the names of Hitler and Mussolini, and gives all sides of the question.

The other two books in this group are of a less serious nature and deal directly with the peoples of specific countries rather than their governments. They are "Venezuela," by Erna Ferguson, and "Portraits from a Chinese Scroll," by Elizabeth F. Lewis.

Artists Appear In Concert Here

Philip Williams and Mary Becker, who will appear in the Municipal auditorium, Wayne, with the college symphony orchestra Thursday evening, March 28, had the unique distinction of being asked by the composer to perform his "Suite Antique" at chautauqua last summer. This composition was written for two violins and orchestra by Albert Stoessel, the famous conductor, violinist, and composer, who conducted the orchestra in its entirety over the NBC network while an audience of 5,000 people in the huge amphitheatre listened to the concert with utmost interest and appreciation. This will be one of the numbers on the program in Wayne, with John R. Keith conducting.

Mary Becker is a violinist of amazing genius whose life is a concerto of great size and importance in musical history. She has given programs on both the piano and violin.

Of recent years, she has given her best time and talent to the violin. She has the unflinching accuracy for minute detail, the flawless technique and the clear, pure tonal quality that go to build great musicianship. She plays with an ease and abandonment that leaves her audience perfectly free to enjoy her program.

Philip Williams, who is concert master of the Dallas symphony orchestra, has been acclaimed for his profound, scholarly musicianship as well as his great virtuosity. A famous music critic declares that Philip Williams is one of the few interpretative violinists who approaches a musical composition with intelligence, sincerity and truth. His technique is not superficial and he makes no attempt to dazzle when to do so would interfere with the spirit of the music.

So brilliant are the performances that they are recalled to the same place year after year. This is the second year in succession that the college has procured their services, and this year the college has engaged the Municipal auditorium to enable the people of Wayne and vicinity to hear these gifted young American artists.

Pender Resident Dies in Wayne

Oscar Carlson, 34, resident of Pender since 1903, died February 22 in Wayne where he had received medical care for some time. Funeral rites were conducted February 25 at Pender Swedish Mission church. Deceased leaves two sisters, Mrs. C. W. Johnson of Council Bluffs, and Mrs. D. W. Bloom of Albert City, Iowa.

Wayne Loses to Albion in Meet Held at Norfolk

Local High School Players Defeat Fullerton Team in First Round.

Wayne high school won from Fullerton in first round of the class A basketball tournament at Norfolk Thursday by 28 to 18, but lost in second round Friday to Albion 22 to 16.

In the semi-finals Saturday afternoon Albion was defeated by Ainsworth 26 to 25. The Ainsworth team is coached by Donald Anderson, formerly of Wayne. In the other game of the semi-finals Saturday Norfolk won from Pierce 28 to 26. The Pierce team is coached by Franklin Henkel of Wayne.

The championship game, between Norfolk and Ainsworth Saturday night, was won by Norfolk with a score of 27 to 25.

Albion Scores Upset.

Albion's battling Cardinals provided the tournament with its first upset when they turned back Wayne, a seeded team, 22 and 16. The Cardinals played a cool, determined game that led them to the surprise victory.

Buehler, Morgan and Oakes rifled in fielders in the first period to give the Cards an 8-3 lead. Neither club scored a field goal in the second canto, but each one made a pair of points via the gift toss route. The halftime score was 10 to 5.

Wayne outscored Albion in the third period, Grandquist's two fielders being largely responsible for whittling the Card's lead to a single point, the quarter ending 13 to 12.

Maxwell's gratis toss, Siebler's lay-in shot and Kelly's one-handed flip pushed Albion ahead in the final period. Coach L. E. France's charges then fought back a Wayne rally to win.

Morgan's fine defensive work against Berry, one of Wayne's crack shots, who was held to no field goals, was a feature. He and Siebler each scored 4 points to lead the winners. Fitch, one of the best guard's in the tournament, led Wayne with 7 tallies.

Wayne 28, Fullerton 18.

In the game Thursday afternoon Fullerton took a 4-0 lead early in the first quarter, but Coach Elwood Morris' basket piercing son found their scoring orb and shot their way to a 28 to 18 victory.

Grandquist and Berry paced the Wayne five in the first quarter, which ended 9 to 6 with the Morris-coached crew ahead. While holding Fullerton to a lone free throw in the second canto, Wayne increased its lead on field goals by Peterson and Berry, and gift tosses by Fitch and Berry. At intermission the scoreboard read: Wayne 15, Fullerton 7.

Fullerton again in the third period was unable to score a fielder, while Johnson and Seymour led Wayne to make the count 25 to 8 at the close of the stanza. Fullerton outscored Wayne, 8 to 3, in the final period, the Kontos brothers and Connor found most of the scoring for Coach Rainforth's lads.

"Red" Berry was the spearhead of the Wayne assault, making 7 points, while Connor starred for Fullerton with 6 tallies.

Hoskins Youth Rides Winner In Big Race

Wayne Town Team Wins in Tourney

Wayne town team won championship of the Battle Creek invitation basketball tournament by defeating Stanton Wednesday last week by 49 to 13. High scorers for Wayne were Cunningham and Lindahl. Wayne had won from Belden 34 to 17 when the local high point men were Calvert, Tapper and Murray. Wayne had also won from Ewing 39 to 29 with Cunningham, Morris and Calvert high scorers.

San Francisco's Treasure Island Marvelous Sight

Treasure Island and the layout on it are a marvelous sight and a great tribute to modern accomplishment, according to J. S. Horney who, with Mrs. Horney, arrived home a few days ago after spending the winter in the north-west. After visiting most of the time in Seattle with their daughter, Mrs. A. L. Monken, and family, the Horneyes stopped in San Francisco with Mr. Horney's brother. While there they spent some time at the World's Fair which opened on Treasure Island in February. It would take one several months of daily study to see everything at the great exposition, Mr. Horney believes.

Treasure Island itself is one of the greatest feats of accomplishment in connection with the fair. The 400-acre grounds were built up on the San Francisco bay Rock, sand and soil were sucked out of the bottom of the bay with powerful machinery to create the island. On the surface was placed a rich soil brought from the nearby valleys, this being used as a covering so that trees and plants would grow on the new site.

Just a year ago the island was a barren piece of ground. Today it is magnificent with trees, plants and a host of buildings. Hundreds of full-grown palm trees have been planted on the island, and Mr. Horney was informed that the cost of each tree and its planting was more than $800. Unusual but effective is the vegetable landscaping. Cabbage, lettuce, beans and other varieties of vegetables are growing in decorative beds about buildings and the effect is surprisingly beautiful. Huge buildings on the grounds are modernistic. All look to be of stone, concrete or stucco and appear very durable. Mr. Horney was informed that several of them are built so well that they will be permanent.

Irving Anderson Rides Bull Lea to Victory in $50,000 Handicap at Hialeah.

Another laurel was added to the brilliant record of Jockey Irving Anderson, 21, of Hoskins, Saturday when he rode Bull Lea to victory in the famous $50,000 Widener challenge cup race at Hialeah Park, Fla. Bull Lea's victory, worth $46,450, boosted his total earnings to $87,525.

Bull Lea, a handsome brown colt, son of Bull Dog and Rose Leaves, was given a skillful ride by Jockey Anderson and held the lead once he got to the front. Mighty Stagehand, placing third, came up courageously in the last half mile but lacked the finishing drive. Bull Lea thundered to the front at the home stretch and won by two and a half lengths. Sir Damien was second, a half length ahead of Stagehand.

Bull Lea returned his supporters $150 for a $2 ticket, $4 and $2.20. Sir Damien paid $3.20 and $2.20. Stagehand's third was worth $2.20.

Two weeks ago Stagehand was further behind and got up to beat Bull Lea. Instead of tiring at the final stretch, Bull Lea became stronger. Bull Lea's time for the mile and a quarter was 2:02 2-5, three-fifths off the track record.

Congratulations came in fast to the Iver Anderson home at Hoskins Saturday after the race, according to Iva Anderson who was kept busy answering the calls.

Irving has had a liking for horses since childhood. He won his first race with a Shetland pony about 10 years ago, and later he rode winners in Wayne county fair races. Four years ago he joined the Catmet stables as an exercise boy but quickly he became a full-fledged rider. His record now includes a number of important wins at big races.

Decatur Team Wins Class 'B' Tourney Here

Takes Title from Emerson in District Meet Here Saturday Night.

Decatur high school basketball team, won championship of the class B tournament which was concluded Saturday evening in Wayne auditorium, defeating Emerson 40 to 27. Both teams held promise from the first but were not picked by most fans as the likely winners. Wayne prep and Winnebago had been the favorites. Wayne prep lost to Winside in the first round, and Winnebago played to the semi-finals, being eliminated by Decatur.

Gayle B. Childs, tournament manager, presented the trophies Saturday night. Decatur received the bronze basketball figure presented to the champion by the state athletic association, and Decatur competes in the state class B meet at Lincoln this week.

Wayne was given a bronze basketball figure trophy for second place, this being a gift of Wayne high school.

See Elephant Trains.

Means of transportation on the grounds were of interest to the Horneyes. The elephant trains take great numbers of people on sight-seeing trips. The tractor in the shape of an elephant pulls three cars which are similar to street cars with rubber tires. Wheel chairs and jimrikshas pulled by Chinese are popular.

A huge ski-jump is one of the many things of interest on the grounds. This long slope is covered with cracked ice every day.

Attendance at the fair one day was 143,000 and the huge grounds were not at all crowded.

Mr. Horney reports the Golden Gate and Bay bridges at San Francisco equally as interesting to him as the fair. They are wonderful pieces of engineering.

Conditions Improving.

Mr. Horney found conditions improving in the northwest. Though many are still unemployed and strikes and union troubles cause considerable uneasiness, he noted that many democrats are admitting that the new deal has made mistakes and they are leaning again to the former sound policies of the democratic party.

Lots of people seem to be traveling to and from that region.

Crops of fruits and vegetables were abundant last season in the northwest.

Because of the mild winter in Canada many ducks remained there and were almost frozen when weather did turn cold. To save the ducks trucks brought loads of them from Canada to Lake Washington near Seattle where they were provided shelter and food.

The Horneyes like the northwest, but they are still very fond of Nebraska and especially of Wayne.

LOCAL

Mrs. M. V. Crawford returned Sunday from Springfield, S. D., where she spent two weeks with her sister, Mrs. O. J. House.

Mrs. Wilton Hayne of Page, spent a couple of days last week here with her daughters, Mrs. Carl Nuss and Mrs. Geo. Bressler.

Dr. E. H. Dotson has returned home from Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he has been receiving treatment for the past few weeks.

The John Jenks family moved the first of the week to the J. W. Jones property at 617 Pearl street, vacated by the Frank Exlebens.

Mrs. S. A. Lutgen and Mrs. L. A. Fenske were in Coleridge, Hartington, Bloomfield and Center last Thursday on business connected with the Women's club.

C. C. Herndon and the F. B. Decker family went to Sioux City Sunday to bring home Mrs. Herridon who had spent several days there.

Robert Theobald, who is stationed at an airplane field at Long Island, N. Y., was here Thursday night. He flew with an officer in an army transport plane as far as Omaha. The P. A. Theobalds met him in Wisner, to which place he came by bus, and they took him to Omaha early Friday morning on his return.

Robert plans to come again the last of this month to spend a couple of weeks with his wife, who is here visiting, and with his parents.

Round About This Funny World

A West Virginia man, 81, is getting his third set of teeth. An Indiana teacher crawled out from beneath a car which turned over. She was unhurt. Her name: Mrs. Jean Luckey. A Colorado youth was near the football goal for a touchdown, a tree struck him and he landed in the hospital instead. A farmer plowing in England found a wallet which an airplane pilot had lost five years ago. The wallet dropped from the plane.

A Seattle woman was awarded a divorce when she said her husband collected 72 traffic tags in a year and she had to pay all of them.

Baltimore policemen broke into a home when someone next door smelled smoke. They disgustedly turned off the gas under an overdue roast.

Though the pastor was ill in bed, his Pennsylvania congregation heard his sermon. A microphone in his room and a public address system in the church carried it.

The family of Dudley Barnett at Baltimore is beginning to think the bad luck jinx is after them. The 13th fire in the 13th month at their place destroyed a garage and car.

Charles Hicks, 81, who retired as "handy man" at the Ohio university, was presented with a diploma at the school graduation exercises. He was cited for "duty well performed."

A guilty conscience finally acted on a Chicago police. A package addressed to the police department was opened and a fur neckpiece stolen from a store in 1937 fell out.

Doctors are puzzled by the case of Mrs. Dorothy Barber, 20, of Kansas City. The more she eats the less she weighs. She is in danger of eating herself to death, physicians think.

A Lithuanian journalist, hiking from New York to Los Angeles for his health, refused $49 offers for free transportation. The trip took 228 days, cost $350 for lodging and wore out four pairs of shoes.

Burglars broke into a California school to steal cafeteria funds, smashed a door, sawed a hole through the wall and jimmied the strong box. For all that they got a dime and a quarter, both counterfeit.

Mayor Levis of Warroad, Minn., admitted it was a bit snappy out when the thermometer went to 37 below zero. The mayor did get some car mufflers one year when it got to 60 below.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanston saw a box in the gutter when they were out walking. Mrs. Vanston wanted to examine it but her husband tried to dissuade her. The woman had her way and found seven fur coats in the box.

Mrs. Mary Cogdill of Auburn, Neb., got off the operating table, walked to her room and suffered no ill effects. She had undergone an appendix operation with a local anesthetic and walked away while the doctor had his back turned.

Doctors ordered a Chicago man to "unwind." He is the morning driver in a skyscraper garage, parking scores of cars by means of a circular ramp. He was advised that the whirling in his head would disappear if he could drive the cars down part of the time.

A "dead man" was recommended for the postmastership at Lytton, Iowa. After Chas. Brobel died last month the representative asked the county democratic chairman to recommend someone for the post. The chairman, not knowing of the death, recommended Brobel.

An Illinois hotel keeper received through the mail a wash cloth with a letter which explained that it had been taken from the hotel 25 years before. The letter explained that the original "abductor" is dead and that the present owner wants a clear conscience.

A two story concrete structure in California is the world's first flea laboratory. Fleas are admitted by invitation and meals are elaborate. Fleas will be gathered from squirrels, chipmunks, moles, etc., in an effort to study what part fleas play in the transmission of disease among animals.

Law enforcement in Bethany, Mo., is easy. A truck driver crashed into a deputy sheriff's car and was arrested on the spot. A fugitive parked across from the sheriff's office was recognized and arrested. Two runaway girls were picked up when they tried to thumb a ride with the state road patrolman.

Friends who called at the Bernard Davis home in New York were surprised to be greeted by Mr. Davis for he was reported dead. Mr. and Mrs. Davis had gone away for 10 days and left a roomer in their home. The roomer turned on the gas and was found dead by policemen who identified him as Mr. Davis instead of as the roomer.

Three years ago after George Copping had both legs amputated below the knees, Copping asked the surgeon: what would be "the most impossible" career for him. "Flying an airplane," the surgeon replied. Recently Copping made his solo flight in a plane. He spent 18 months learning to use artificial legs well enough to enroll as an aviation student.

Mr. Pierce reported to Illinois police that his car was stolen. A few minutes later Mr. Williams called police and told them he had someone's car. Williams had pulled away from the curb without noticing that his rear bumper had coupled with the front bumper of the car behind. Eight blocks away he discovered he had an extra car and called the police about the "trailer."

Thieves at Buffalo worked hard for what they got. Cutting through a rear door they were blocked by iron bars. They smashed a window and found iron bars. They broke a skylight and were halted by heavy wire netting. They broke into a shop next door, got some heavy shears to cut the netting, then slid down a rope to the coffee shop where their efforts netted them $1,500 in pennies.

News from Wayne County Rural Schools

Paper Has News Of Sholes School

Honor Students Are Named For Six-Week Period Of Second Term.

"School Day Echo" is the title of the eight-page paper issued monthly by the Sholes consolidated school. The paper carries a number of pictures, news of various departments, jokes, poetry, editorials and general information. The cover of the February number bears sketches of Lincoln and Washington.

High school honor roll for the period includes the names of Emrys Samuelson, Virginia Graf, Gail Miller, Florence Root and Lorene Wittler. On the junior high roll are Elvera Obst, Marianne VanSlyke, Ida Mae Williams, Edna Bartling, Flo Elaine Samuelson.

On the honor roll in the upper grades are Eugene Samuelson, Donna Whalen, Johnny Kuhl, Warren Ellis, Dennis Kenny.

Perfect attendance records in high school were earned for the six weeks by Charles Peters, Wendell Eddie, Virginia Graf, Wayne Tietgen, Gail Miller and Florence Root. In the upper grades this record is held by Royce Isom, Doris Kenny, Leonard Voss, Dennis Kenny, Johnny Kuhl, Donald Tietgen and Kenneth Voss. Junior high pupils with perfect records are Elvera Obst, Betty Rhode, Wayne Rhode and Lee Tietgen.

Sholes pupils taking part in declamatory work this year are the following: Oratorical, Marion Jo Burnham; dramatic, Virginia Graf, Florence Root, Lorene Wittler and Zola Miller; humorous, Geraldine Whalen, Marianne VanSlyke, Ida Mae Williams and Betty Rhode.

Junior high had a Valentine party. Lee Tietgen and Dorothy Whalen made the box. Luncheon followed Chinese checkers and other games.

Upper grades enjoyed a Valentine party at the home of Mrs. Anna Carlson. Valentines were exchanged with luncheon afterward. Primary room also had a Valentine party. The Valentine box was in the shape of a small white house with red roof and chimney. Doors and windows were heart-shaped.

Recent visitors in school were Mrs. Frank Gies of Wayne, Mrs. Louis Rhode, Rosalyn Ellis, Gilbert Gubbels, Mrs. Scott Van Slyke, Norma Kenny.

Flo Elaine Samuelson, Edna Bartling, Ida Mae Williams and Marianne VanSlyke are preparing for the county spelling contest to be held in Wayne in April.

Staff for the school paper includes the following: Editors, Lorene Wittler; associate editor, Zola Miller; art editor, Virginia Graf; business manager, Gail Miller; associate business manager, Emrys Samuelson; proof readers, Florence Root and Charles Peters; miscellaneous, Wendell Eddie; junior-senior news, Emlyn Jones; freshman-sophomore, Wayne Tietgen; humor, Geraldine Whalen; sports, Glenn Hall; junior high, Miss Lola Wendel; intermediate, Miss Freddy Burnham; primary, Miss Irma Nelson.

Honor students in the primary room are Margie Kuhl, Lila

Time Is Extended For School Essays

Time for entering essays in the contest on "Why Wayne County Is the Best County in Nebraska" has been extended to March 15. Wayne county students urged to have 100-word essays reach County Supt. F. B. Decker by that date. After March 15 the essays will be judged and 10 books with historical sketches of Nebraska counties will be presented to the winners.

Staff of School Puts Out Paper

Honors Attained in Month Recorded in Harmony Hill Herald.

February issue of Harmony Hill Herald, issued by district 24 with Virginia Troutman teacher, bears silhouettes of George Washington, father of his country, and Abraham Lincoln, the great emancipator, drawn by Ivan Frese. On the back of the folder is a Valentine drawing by Donna Jean Koch.

The newspaper staff included: Ivan Frese editor-in-chief; Della Frese, upper grade news; Donna Jean Koch, 3rd and 4th grade news; Norman Maben, primary news; Earl Nelson, social editor; and Marvin Jensen, jokes.

The honor roll, pupils with averages of 90 or above for February, includes Della Frese, Donna Jean Koch and Ivan Frese.

Good writers for the month are Patsy Waller, Della Frese, Dicky Evans, Donna Jean Koch, Mary Ann Evans, Carol Jensen and Mary Jensen.

Grades of 90 or above were earned by 3rd and 4th graders in a test on Scandinavian countries by Dicky Evans, Marvin Jensen and Donna Jean Koch. Earl Nelson will direct the class in working out a Dutch sand table project in connection with the new study on Holland.

Della Frese had 19 perfect lessons in spelling in four weeks. Marilyn Swanson brought Shirley Temple books to school. Shirley Maben brought "Dotzie, the Dancery Duck."

Dicky Evans, who was 9 February 16, and Marvin Jensen, who was 9 February 19, treated others to candy bars.

School was closed from January 24 to February 1 when 13 of the 15 pupils had measles.

Earl Nelson was the only pupil in school February 10, cold keeping others away.

The bulletin closes with quotations: "I hope I shall possess firmness and virtue enough to gain what I consider the most enviable of all titles, the character of an honest man," by George Washington; and "All my life I have plucked a thistle and planted a flower wherever I thought a flower would grow," Abraham Lincoln.

Doug Corrigan's "crate"—in which he flew to Ireland—will be shown free at the California world's fair, alongside a 74-place Pan-American Clipper.

Isom, Frances Gubbels, Jacqueline Kuhl, Luetta Voss.

The primary pupils miss Flo Ann Burnham who has been unable to attend for some time.

Important to Nebraskans.

March 9—This day in 1928 a Spanish battle-ax was found by M. Murphy on the Mack Downey farm three miles east of Theodora.

March 10—This day in 1840 in New York was born Frank J. North, Nebraska pioneer, army major and scout.

March 11—Indians of Nebraska were in general much more religious than the white men. The rituals dated back beyond the recollection of the oldest members of the tribe, and were handed down by word of mouth from one generation to the next.

March 12—This day in 1854 Anselm Arnold became a resident of Nebraska territory. He was a cousin of Benedict Arnold and Stephen Arnold Douglas and was a member of the first Territorial assembly. On this date in 1856 the Ponca Indians gave up their land.

March 13—This day in 1925 Mrs. Rose Garvey of Albion, eldest resident of the state, celebrated her 113th birthday.

Did You Know?

Nebraska had 12 weather stations in 1875.

Standing Bear, Ponca chief who lived during the 19th century on his people's reservation in Nebraska, was one of the most eloquent Indians who ever lived. He once gave an impromptu speech to workmen in Omaha and few could have surpassed the beauty and idealism of his thoughts. He is noted for the celebrated Standing Bear vs. General Crook case which determined that the Indians are citizens and cannot be shifted around at will.

It costs Nebraska $225.92 a year to keep each inmate in the Nebraska penitentiary.

Even though the Missouri compromise of 1820 made a slave-owning in Nebraska illegal, there were a number of fights over slavery in Nebraska territory. The number of slaves grew, nevertheless, particularly in southeastern Nebraska, and there were cases of run-aways, litigation and even slave stations on the "underground railroad" in Nebraska. The census of 1860 showed 81 negroes in Nebraska, 10 of them recorded as slaves.

February is the last month in winter when the mean temperature is below freezing. In February the mean for Nebraska is 26.1.

Fourhundredth Year Is to Be Celebrated

Almost 70 years before the first permanent English settlement was established in Virginia; nearly 100 years before the Pilgrims landed upon the New England coast, the adventurous Spanish were pushing up from Mexico into the regions known today as New Mexico and Arizona.

In 1540, when Coronado came, are the reckoning milestones of history today in that colorful land of vast and silent spaces, of fantastically eroded mountains, of prehistoric ruins, picturesque Indian pueblos, Navajo herds and ancient Spanish missions; where high altitudes and sun-drenched deserts bide to produce one of the most invigorating climates in the world. There three widely separated branches of the human race, each with distinctive cultures, has left an indelible impress, and the prehistoric races have cast their spell.

In 1940 New Mexico will celebrate the Coronado 400th anniversary from May to October.

that he was Mr. Wind who had been under the spell of a very wicked hag. This old woman had kept him in a cloudlike form until Mother Nature broke the spell by allowing him to do work in her world.

Under the arch of the great rainbow which Mr. Wind had made as a representation of his love for Mother Nature, they were married. And these two happy people, Mother Nature and Mr. Wind, along with their helpers, work unceasingly for the beautification of our world.

"I want you for my work. My helpers and I will make your world the most beautiful in the universe if you will become my wife. If you accept my offer be here tomorrow morning, ready for the ceremony."

Shaking from shock and fright, Mother Nature who thought not of herself, but of the beauty of her world, the next day came to her earth where she found spring in full sway—flowers bloomed in abundance, birds sang, and trees extended their leafy arms in welcome. While Mother Nature stood admiring the beauty about her, a young poplar tree, slipped beside her. Unnoticed, this brown-eyed man with the square jaw and firm mouth stood beside Mother Nature.

Finally, the young man spoke to Mother Nature. He explained

Rules for Lent Stated by Bishop

In case some were absent for the reading of the Lenten regulations, Rev. Wm. Kearns herewith reproduces them.

In harmony with the General Law of the Church and with Special Indults granted to the Bishop of Omaha, the following regulations are hereby promulgated to be observed by the clergy, religious and faithful of this Diocese:

1. All week-days of Lent from Ash Wednesday, February 22, to Easter Saturday noon, April 8, are days of fasting.

2. All Wednesday and Fridays of the Lenten Season, and the Saturday of Ember Week, are days of abstinence as well as of fasting.

3. The law of fasting prescribes that only one full meal be taken throughout the day, but permits the taking of a small piece of bread with a cup of coffee, tea or cocoa in the morning and a light collation in the evening. If preferred, dinner may be taken in the evening and the light luncheon at noon.

4. When meat is permitted, flesh meat and fish may be eaten at the same meal.

5. The use of eggs, milk, butter and cheese is allowed at the principal meal and at luncheon or supper. Drippings and lard may be used in the preparation of all food.

6. The law of fasting binds under pain of mortal sin all Catholics, who have completed the twenty-first

Three Men Escape When Truck Upsets

The death of a cow in a truck accident Wednesday evening last week probably saved John Shannon and two truck men from serious injury or possible death. The cow held the truck frame so that the cab did not cave in, thus protecting the men.

Cow Holds Frame Up With Result That Occupants Of Cab Saved.

Mr. Shannon, Mr. Ehlers of Foster, owner of the truck, and another man from Foster, were bringing the Shannon property here to the Fred Bartels acreage at the north edge of town. When the machine struck an icy spot on a hill near the Leonard Link place about three and a half miles west of town, the truck turned completely over onto the top. The frame was held off the ground a ways by the cow which was killed. Eight chickens were also killed in the upset.

The three men crawled to freedom through the cab window. They were only badly bruised and were brought to town by Mr. Link. The stock was kept at the Link place until the next day when it was brought to the Bartels farm. Mr. Shannon had five cows, a number of chickens, some harness and cobs in the truck. The truck was damaged somewhat. The Bartels place, to which Mr. and Mrs. Shannon and son are moving, has been vacant for some time.

Wed at Goldberg Home on Saturday

Miss Teckla Goldberg Bride Of Hans Johnson Who Lives West of Dixon.

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized Saturday, March 4, at 12 o'clock when Miss Teckla Goldberg, daughter of Mrs. Albertina Goldberg of Concord, became the bride of Mr. Hans Johnson of Laurel, at the home of the bride's mother.

Preceding the ceremony Philip Carlson of Wayne, sang "Lord, Who at Cana's Wedding Feast." As Miss Teckla Carlson played Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal couple and attendants descended the open stairs and proceeded to an improvised altar of green, pink and white with a background of ferns, and there were met by Dr. C. O. Gulleen of Fremont who performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Blandine Johnson, niece of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid, and Reuben Goldberg, the bride's brother, was best man. Two little nieces of the bride, Ardyce Swanson and Carol Ann Goldberg of Essex, Iowa, were flower girls. They wore long-length dresses of pink organza with green sashes and ribbons, and carried baskets of mixed flowers.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with a lace collar and lace sleeves. Her finger-ring veil was fashioned from a cap of lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and cholla lilies.

The bridesmaid wore a pale green floor-length taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and orchid sweetpeas.

The bridegroom wore conventional blue suit, and the best man wore gray suit.

A two-course dinner was served to 40 guests. The bride's table was attractive with pink and green streamers, tapers and centerpiece of cut flowers. Waitresses were Miss Lozetta Gulleen of Fremont, Miss Theodora Carlson of Wayne, Miss Famy Fredrickson and Miss Lucille Magnuson of Concord.

During the dinner Miss Lozetta Gulleen played several piano selections, and Spencer Gulleen sang "I Love You Truly." Dr. Gulleen gave a toast to the bridal couple.

Mrs. Nels Bjorklund had charge of the gifts and guest book.

Guests from a distance on the ceremony were Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Gulleen, Lozetta and Spencer of Fremont, Mrs. Luther Goldberg, Carol Ann and Verdell of Essex, Iowa, Mrs. C. T. Carlson, Phillip, Miss Judith and Miss Theodora of Wayne.

Early Days In Wayne County

Early days from the Wayne Herald for March 8, 1923. Between the setting of the sun March 3 and the rising thereof March 3 mild zephyrs that had soothed mankind during the winter were violently kicked aside and an icy norther, laden with snow, took possession. A veritable blizzard raged all day. Transportation by rail was at a standstill. A freight was stalled between Wakefield and Emerson. The Bloomfield passenger stayed at Emerson overnight, and the Sioux City train turned back after coming as far west as Neocora. Telephone lines were damaged, and no one ventured out in cars.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans of Emerson, March 7, 1923. Mrs. Evans is the former Ellen Soules of Wayne. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hoogner of northwest of Wayne, March 5, 1923. LeRoy Owen who traveled 25,000 miles and visited 13 countries, will speak under the auspices of the Woman's club. After a visit here Mr. Owen will go to Chicago to practice law.

F. L. Neely has been appointed Wayne postmaster to succeed C. A. Berry. Aulda Surber, Joy Ley and George Randol were winners in the local declamatory contest. Miss Eunice Linn and Darwin Jones of Carroll were married March 3, 1923, at Carroll. James Eddie of Carroll, cut one of his hands while butchering. Mrs. Bonner Morris of Carroll, sprained an ankle when she slipped on ice.

Art Reichle resigned his position as section foreman at Hoskins, and went to Oakland. Henry Loutenbaugh of Winside, is serving at Hoskins temporarily.

Louis Schulte returned from Sioux City where he had an operation on one of his eyes.

H. Tangeman of Winside, had to make a quick descent from a tree where he was cutting off limbs when a spark from his pipe set fire to the back of his jacket. The clothing burned through to his flesh by the time he had the fire out.

Mrs. Carolina Glaser, resident of Winside many years, died March 3, 1923, at the age of 97. Miss Vera Green of Wakefield, and Floyd Conger of Ticonic, Iowa, were married March 7, 1923.

A caucus was called in Wakefield to nominate candidates for the school board. Mrs. R. H. Mathewson and L. C. Nuernberger are members whose terms expire.

Early days from the Wayne Herald for March 12, 1903: Logan creek south of town overflowed due to the large amount of water running into it during the spring thaw. A pipeorgan recital will dedicate the new organ in the Methodist church, this being a gift of Mrs. Pingrey. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Porter were surprised on their 20th wedding March 9, 1903. Miss Leona Hunter has received word that her salary as teacher in the Philippine islands has been raised to $1,200 a year. J. G. Neihardt has gone to Sioux City to accept a position on the editorial staff of the Tribune. He has been doing creditable work for magazines the past two years. Nineteen cars of cattle were shipped from Wayne to Omaha in one day. J. M. Pile of Wayne, E. R. Gurney of Winside, Miss Abigail Manning of Carroll, and C. E. Wilson of Hoskins, took part on the program for teachers of Dixon, Dakota, Thurston and Wayne counties at Emerson.

From the Ponca Journal for March 24, 1881: Old Muddy (the Missouri river) rose five feet in two days at this place. The immense fall of snow will leave the soil in excellent condition to raise a big crop. It will be necessary, though, that the snow go off before planting and as yet it shows no anxiety to leave.

SIXTY YEARS AGO In DIXON COUNTY

Earthquakes, brass bands, railroad grading, mining for coal, prairie fires—such were of paramount importance when residents of Ponca congregated to discuss current topics 60 years ago. The History of Dixon County, by Wm. Huse, brings the following observations: "At noon, November 15, 1877, the county was shaken by an earthquake, the worst this country had experienced for many years, and for about a minute everything seemed to be on the move. Houses shook and swung, windows and doors clattered, trees and chimneys tottered and wood piles rumbled their logs, and for the time being all nature trembled with rage. The performance was soon over, however, and but little harm occurred except to a few broken windows. At John H. Armstrong's farm in South Creek valley and Rev. Hutchinson's place in Daily the shock was quite severe.

"In the same month of the earthquake, though perhaps not occasioned by it, Ponca started its first brass band, the members being Prof. Davis, Guy Wilbur, Lovel Jones, Fred Burroughs, John Stough, Jr., Fred Powers, J. A. Mikesell and J. B. Barnes.

"The fuel question was always an important one in Dixon county, and particularly in the south-east part where timber was scarce. Hence the announcement in the fall of 1877 that an 80-acre bed of excellent peat had been discovered near Park Hill (Logan township) excited general attention for a short time. But excitement in this country, whether over coal or peat, is not lasting, people having come to the wise conclusion that there is more warmth in the imagination of the finder of coal or peat than there is in the article found.

"On January 1, 1878, the railroad grading was reported to have been completed and bridge piles driven from Ponca to 17 miles beyond Newcastle. Aside from criticizing the railroad and its officers, a more useful subject of thought began to occupy the Dixon county had been favorably thought of for several years by the farmers, and especially that winter. This agitation in favor of an agricultural society resulted the next spring in a mass meeting held (April 19, 1878) in Ponca, when the preliminary steps toward such a society were taken. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, and report proceedings at an adjourned meeting May 4. This was done and the constitution and by-laws were accepted. S. I. Hart was elected president; L. T. Hill, vice president; W. W. Atkinson, treasurer; and J. U. LaFollette, secretary. Several other meetings were held in the summer but that was substantially all that was done that year in behalf of Dixon county's agricultural society.

"At the annual school meeting in Ponca April 1, 1878, it was voted to build a new school house at a cost of $3,000. The house was built by Leech and Todd and was completed in September. A large amount of building was done in 1878 throughout the county. Crops had been good the year before and present prospects were in every way promising.

"The year closed with full granaries and corn cribs and good prices for produce of all kinds. Wheat had yielded from 20 to 30 bushels to the acre.

"In the latter part of March, 1879, terrible prairie fires occurred and great losses ensued in consequence. On March 18 a fire commencing near Daily Branch was the prelude to a devastating conflagration which swept over the central part of the county the next day. Under the influence of a hurricane, the fire was irresistible in its course of destruction, jumping roads and creeks with ease and could not be checked by any ordinary fire guards.

"About noon David Holmes, while fighting fire about half a mile from Martinsburg, was surrounded and fatally burned. He was taken to the hotel at Martinsburg, Drs. Hansen and Rowe were called, yet so shockingly was he burned that he died the next day. Mr. Holmes' farm near Martinsburg was swept of everything combustible except his house. His stable, hay, horses, etc., were burned, the value of which was about $700.

"The houses of Jud Holmes, Wm. Holmes, D. M. Nelan and George Mattison were also burned and all their contents. Manly Wyman, Gep. Castle and W. C. Smith lost everything from their farms but the houses.

"In the surrounding ocean of flame, it seemed almost a miracle that Martinsburg village was not burned up, and it would have been but for the herculean exertions of the citizens.

"Before reaching the vicinity of Martinsburg the fire ran over the farm of Sheriff Jones on Silver Creek, burning cribs and stables, and hundreds of bushels of wheat, corn and oats. His grove, one of the best in the country and covering six acres, was utterly destroyed; only his house was saved.

"On March 29 and 30 there were more fires. In Hooker precinct prairie fires so destructive and uncontrollable never before or since occurred in the county and with ordinary care never may again."
