THE FLU is a powerful critter. Its general prevalence at this time is a pain in the neck and in most other parts of the anatomy.

There are so many flu germs in circulation during a favorable season that it is quite impossible to herd them together and drive them out of the country.

LOYAL Americanism does not mean to try to break down the system built up under the stars and stripes.

Webster defines Americanism as 'attachment or loyalty to the United States, its traditions, interests and ideals.'

'This for the information of certain backsliding Americans who seem to think there are several kinds of Americanism.'

'Mr. Webster aptly defines the word. There can be only one kind of Americanism. Deep-rooted love of the United States and its traditions, interests or ideals.'

'And if anyone wants further definition as to just what these traditions, etc., are, they are written in the document on which America was founded — the constitution.'

According to Time magazine, Bacteriologist Louis Pasteur who passed away before his fame was widely established, said this at the opening of his institute in Paris fifty years ago: 'Two opposing laws seem to me now in contest. The one a law of blood and death, the other a law of peace, work and health.'

In outlawing the CIO's sit-down strike, the federal supreme court helps materially in settling labor troubles. The court makes plain the right of an employee to strike, but also makes plain the right of an employer to undisputed possession of his property.

The Omaha Journal-Stockman reports union troubles in handling big fruit and vegetable crops in the south and west. Unions can plainly perform most effectively in fields where products are perishable.

If a man's word — especially a leader's promise — cannot be depended on, into what is the world drifting? In his speech last fall, Hitler pledged his government to avoid any future conquest of territory beyond taking over the Sudeten land.

An author trots forth the hen as an example of uncompaining industry and patience. He says the hen just keeps on digging and laying eggs regardless of business predictions.

Several years ago Wayne had a yard beautifying contest with awards for the best flower and grass plots, and the result was a more uniformly attractive town.

The national defense bill now in the United States senate involves some points demanded by labor organizations. If the country needs the armaments as proposed and doubtless as wisdom would suggest, we think union interference should be amicably set aside.

A Washington report states that government appropriation for grasshopper extermination will be greatly reduced this year, and it is hoped weather favorable for killing migratory pests will make a large appropriation unnecessary.

STALIN. Why treat Stalin, Russian tyrant, with more consideration than Hitler or Mussolini? So far Stalin has kept out of the European mess and said nothing. But according to Liberty magazine, he has been as ruthless as ever in the incarceration and slaughter of subjects.

FALSE (Continued from Page One.) so it is proposed to plant the county seat on unoccupied ground and build a town around it.

Trees on Fifth Avenue. An argument against the slaughter of healthy trees is emphasized in New York City where Fifth avenue, long a stranger to natural foliage, is having some big trees imported from Connecticut and planted along the avenue at a cost of $1,275 per tree.

Thirtieth Wedding Day Is Observed Sunday, March 12, the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Carlson of Wayne, was observed with a three-course dinner at their home for relatives and friends.

A New Musical Masterpiece The Dia-Cron Console piano by Gulbransen. Truly a superb musical achievement! Designed expressly for those who prefer a small modern piano with the brilliant, rich, resonant voice of a Grand.

Ben Lund of Valentine, entered a local hospital for medical care Monday.

REACTIONARY. In an article published in The American Mercury, Channing Pollock says he is a reactionary, and explains why. Reactionary means to go back, and comparing the world with what it was in 1914 and before.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kinney and Lois Ann accompanied by Miss Phyllis Kinney and Robert Johnson drove to Sioux City Sunday evening and were dinner guests in the Mrs. Anna Shearer home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nimrod, Alice Mae and Darwin, Mrs. Anna Anderson were Sunday afternoon visitors in the Carl Anderson home. Sunday evening visitors in the Anderson home were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Anderson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Felt and family.

Oyster Supper. Members of the Royal Arch Masons journeyed to the G. E. A. A. country home for a social time after their business meeting at the hall Monday evening. Cards and visiting were followed by an oyster supper served by Mrs. Ailstone and Mrs. Lamb.

SPRING FASHIONS

Scramble your 'sports apparel,' is the new idea this spring. Mix colorful plaid or tweed jackets (we have them at $2.95 to $7.95) with monotone skirts ($4.95) ... add a contrasting sweater in the new 'Jelly Bean' colors or blouse ($1.00 or $1.95) and you have a smooth combination for spring spectating.

The 'news' in spring print dresses is gay, colorful and imaginative. Flaring skirts, abbreviated sleeves, necks both high and low, are new for spring. And a spring both economical and smart is yours if you choose from the attractive collection we are showing at $2.95 to $7.95.

If you require a 'half size' coat you will be delighted with the choice of styles we are offering in tweeds and spring weight woolens at $12.75 to $24.75. The style, fit and wear you admire are always to be found in Ahern coats.

We had a call this week for a blouse made of material displaying 'Ferinand, the Bull.' If they appear on the market we will have them. Just now we are featuring 'Hobo' and 'Candy Kid' blouses of bright plaids and gay stripes. And how the girls do 'go for them.' Only $1.00.

The new footwear without toes or heels demands extra strong heels and toes in your silk hosiery. You know Munsing's 'Good wear' and 'Munsing's' are synonymous. Even the 48c silks have strong heels and toes, do the finest Munsing chiffons at 79c and $1.00. Spring shades are now ready.

AHERN'S

Will Lead Topic At State Meeting Miss Mildred Clark will lead a discussion on 'General Mathematics as an Exploratory for Higher Mathematics' at the meeting of the Nebraska section of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics which convenes in Lincoln May 5 and 6.

Signing Farm Plans Should Also Be Completed Soon In Local Office.

All applications for loans on 1938 corn should be received by H. J. Podoll at the conservation office not later than March 18 as the original closing date of March 31, 1939, for completion of these loans will not be extended.

The closing date for signing of farm plans for this season will be between April 15 and May 1, Mr. Podoll has been informed.

Anyone who has signed a farm plan and made changes should visit the office and have corrections made. Original fields may have been split or a farm may not have been measured. Farmers with such situations should notify Mr. Podoll so that the farms may be measured by aerial photography before planting time.

One who operates more than one farm should have a farm plan signed on all farms he operates. Where the operator signs a farm plan, it is not necessary that the landlord sign. If a landlord has two or more farms and any one of the operators does not sign a farm plan, it will be necessary that the landlord sign a farm plan for that particular farm. This is necessary as the office will not be required to check compliance on any farm for which there is not a signed farm plan.

Program Sign-up Shows Progress

Sign-up in the 1939 AAA program in Dixon county is about one-third complete, according to Chairman Clifford Gibbs. It is estimated that the sign-up will increase over last year. Since the announcement of the actual parity payment rates, it is now possible to determine almost exactly what every farmer in Dixon county will earn.

Peru Takes Title Among Colleges

In the course of my barging around town last Saturday, I had a couple of narrow escapes. Remember how slick that goosy mud was which covered all the streets and sidewalks? I had on crepe soled shoes and that made it even worse. One step forward and two back—nearly lost my very beautifully secure upright position a couple of times. I wonder how I'd have looked horizontally in all that mud. Guess everyone else was wishing for rain, too. The other little incident wasn't exactly a narrow escape in the most strict sense of the word. But I must admit that after discussing thermostats, pressure, intakes and out-goes (?), turning trays, fans, hot water pipes, moisture trays, room temperature, Barred Rocks, White rocks, etc., etc., I thought I'd had rather a narrow escape in the sense that the responsibility for all of that wasn't resting upon my shoulders. It's a fascinating process—this incubation—one that it's nice to know something about. Truthfully, I enjoy every minute spent in a hatchery. Tomorrow's the day—March 17—time for all of us good fishermen to get those green shadbrocks out of their places of safe-keeping, to put on that green dress or suit—to let ourselves enjoy again the spirit of friendliness and good cheer which clings so closely to the magic name of St. Patrick. The Harry Armstrongs of Sioux City, visited here Sunday with Mrs. A. A. Welch.

News from Wayne County Rural Schools

Sugar and Pineapple Festival is Instituted in Hawaiian Islands

"Hoolaulea" is Honolulu's new festival which promises to rival the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, Frontier Days of Cheyenne, and Tournament of Roses of Pasadena.

Hoolaulea means getting together in friendly spirit, and the gay celebration kept true to its purpose. People of all nationalities joined in the festivities, and Hawaii's two major industries, sugar and pineapple, were given special prominence.

One of the largest combined civic and military parades ever held in the territory featured the festival on Washington's birthday, paying tribute to the "Father of Our Country."

Parade is Colorful. Flying flags, colorful uniforms, gay costumes of pa-u riders, cowboys and cowgirls, bright sunlight upon a riot of color.

Two Industries Big. The sugar industry—so closely entwined with the history of Hawaii—began in 1778 when Captain Cook, who discovered the island, found edible sugar cane growing there.

How a steam engine can operate on liquid air will be shown in the Hall of Science at the California world's fair.

DID YOU KNOW? Nebraska ranks second to Colorado in sugar-beet production.

The most interesting geological formations in Nebraska are the sandhills, a fan-shaped region in the north-central and central western parts of the state.

Boys and men "not less than 16 nor more than 30 years of age at the time of conviction of a felony for the first time," adjudged capable of reformation, are sentenced to the Nebraska reformatory at Lincoln instead of to the penitentiary.

Nebraska is wholly an agricultural state, but it does have some intrinsic land resources. Besides the soil and groundwater, good for farming, the state has stone, sand, gravel and clay in quantities enough to be valuable.

Schools Are Called To Help in Problem

New social conditions following the war and depression have shifted to schools a share of the burden of teaching character education. Crime, disease and other perplexing problems among youth have resulted in calling schools to the aid of homes in this matter.

Marjorie's brother, Donald Caauwe, 6th grader in district 26, expresses logical views of the county as follows: "Wayne is in the northeast part of Nebraska. The highways that lead into Wayne are 98, 15 and 35, making traveling and transportation to market very easy."

Value of County Shown by Pupils

Young folks have an appreciation of Wayne county that might well inspire older residents. County Supt. F. B. Decker is receiving interesting essays on "Why Wayne County is the Best County in Nebraska," for the contest which was to close March 15.

"Wayne county just sort of belongs to my family." This from one of the essays expresses the way every one living here should feel. It has special meaning, however, for the writer, Hollis Simmerman, whose grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter, are the only ones of the original group settling in the county who are still living here.

"Wayne county is made up of enterprising people, ambitious in trying to help not only themselves but the whole community." This fine observation is made by Dolores Peters, 6th grader in district 26. "Free public education is essential. Pioneers of Wayne county realized this, even though the task of gaining a livelihood was paramount. There was not business in the early days. Homesteaders had no interest in the money they did not have."

Wayne county is one of the most progressive counties in Nebraska," writes Marjorie Caauwe, 7th grader in district 26, who shows keen appreciation of the county's merit. "It has a loamy soil and a wide variety of agricultural resources. It is located at a favorable position for farmers to sell livestock at either Sioux City or Omaha."

"Wayne county is the best county in Nebraska because it has good fertile soil." This important conclusion begins the essay written by Marian Schroeder, 5th grader in district 21. And Marian continues, "It is noted for good agriculture. It ranks first in oats and barley. Wayne county has many good pastures and haylands. Pure-bred livestock are raised in our

St. Patrick Day Designated to Honor Leader

St. Patrick, the apostle of Ireland, whose birthday is observed March 17, was probably born in England where he was captured when 16 years old by a band of predatory Irish.

Wayne county has good roads. It also has pure drinking water. The people of Wayne county are industrious. We have many different kinds of trees, also beautiful birds. Our county has the best library. We have very good college and high schools. For these reasons I think Wayne is the best county in Nebraska."

FIRST RURAL DISTRICT HAS ONE ENROLLED

District No. 1 had two pupils this term until this month when one moved from the district, leaving only one enrolled.

Wayne county is one of the most progressive counties in Nebraska," writes Marjorie Caauwe, 7th grader in district 26, who shows keen appreciation of the county's merit. "It has a loamy soil and a wide variety of agricultural resources. It is located at a favorable position for farmers to sell livestock at either Sioux City or Omaha."

District 34. (Mrs. Harry Kay, teacher) Quarterly examinations were given the last of the week.

District 35. (Helga F. Nelson, teacher) Pupils who entered school March are: Herbert Niemann, 8th grade; Verna Mae Straight, 7th; Lloyd Straight, 4th; and Virginia Straight, 2nd.

Education Suffers In Recovery Move

While citizens are battling for economic recovery, education is suffering great sacrifice. The Nebraska Education Bulletin shows that the expenditure for public assistance is almost twice the amount spent for public education in Nebraska.

Wayne county is one of the most progressive counties in Nebraska," writes Marjorie Caauwe, 7th grader in district 26, who shows keen appreciation of the county's merit. San Francisco police thought they were being kidded when John Dodge, living on De Soto street, reported he had lost his Lincoln automobile. He thought they were kidding when they reported its recovery on Austin street.

The Rockefeller's have decided that busy Fifth avenue in New York should have some trees so they are having seven elms planted in the busy shopping center. Each full-grown elm cost $275 and the transplanting cost $1,000.

A Chicago widow was persuaded by two men that she could double her money by buying their supply of drugs and selling it to a physician. So she drew her $2,000 from the bank and traded it for a box which proved to be soap flakes.

Frank Leo's reticence under police questioning at Chicago was puzzling until he began drinking a glass of water. He had survived a lot of grilling, but when he finally opened his mouth, the silence was explained. Five $20 bills fell out.

The home of R. D. Morris at Dallas, Tex., got plenty of attention from the week-end gale. The top of a neighboring residence sailed over, caved in the roof. The 66-mile southwester pushed in the side. Lightning then set fire to the building. To cap it all, rain put out the fire.

A Texas newspaper carried a full page advertisement, signed by local business firms, which read as follows: "Wanted: A good soaking rain that will cover Kent county." Soon after the paper hit the street rain started falling and continued until an inch and a half was recorded.

West Virginia owes itself four years' delinquent taxes on 6,000 acres of undeveloped coal land and apparently there is no money
