

Communities Revive and Steam Ahead After Dragging Anchor Limiting Educational Opportunities

An exceptional trading point in the early days was made so largely through having no competition within forty or fifty miles. For settlers living longest distances, the experience of going to market was a two-day trip.

In time railroads penetrated new areas and rival towns sprang into existence. The primitive market headquarters shared with competitors. Declining business developed bitter factionalism.

But along came new blood which was fused into the decaying community. Oldsters grew too feeble to fight, sidetracking largely imaginary differences. Under the impetus of newly-fledged citizens, the town revived and turned attention to improvements and to enlarged business.

Old towns not so awakened are headed for the destiny of a few gasoline stations, and a cluster of highly ornamental signs directing travelers on their way.

An Unjust Policy.

A few educators still preach the undemocratic doctrine of limiting educational opportunities to those who seem to catch on more readily than others. Some leaders would thus have university training restricted to boys and girls who can make a good showing at the time of matriculation.

Planning Board Favors Changes In State Schools

Proposal Would Reorganize Teachers' Colleges for Special Courses.

That the university and teachers colleges be placed under a single board of higher education and that teachers' colleges specialize in training rural and elementary teachers are the principal recommendations made this week by the state planning board.

The planning board recommends that one board, preferably appointive, with a single chancellor, control the university and the teachers' colleges at Wayne, Peru, Chadron and Kearney, and that the budget be consolidated for the five.

The tax base for support of schools should be broadened, according to the planning board, with state aid for poor districts and with districts enlarged. Strong regional four-year high schools to attract students from surrounding territory were recommended.

A state board of education to administer state aid, was recommended. The planning board favors reorganizing the four teachers colleges to specialize in training rural and elementary teachers and the university to train high school teachers.

Equipment Bids Asked by Board

CConnell Hall Project Nears Completion This Week At Wayne School.

Specifications for equipment contracts on the addition to Connell hall, Wayne State Teachers college, are to be approved next week by the committee of the board of education, Nebraska State Normal schools, and forwarded to the Public Works Administration for final approval.

Kitchen equipment of a permanent nature, additional painting in the apartments and other rooms, redecorating of the cafeteria kitchen, Venetian blinds for some of the openings, and other items are included in the letting. Apartment furniture and air conditioning equipment contracts, for which funds already are available, also will be awarded at this letting.

Some furniture already has been moved into the apartments but it now appears that none of the apartments will be occupied before October 21.

Ceramic tile work in the cafeteria was resumed this week and should be completed by Friday night. Booths are being set up in the grill or lunch room, ceilings are being applied in the basement, and work was progressing Wednesday on the main front entrance steps.

Painting, window caulking and weatherstripping continue. Plumbers are working on radiation and the electrical contractor is installing fixtures.

Based on $101,095.30 already contracted of the $111,616 budgeted, the docket as a whole was 95.77 per cent completed as this week started, according to figures submitted to PWA by Dan Farrell, jr., resident engineer.

Only 37 men were employed on the project during the past week, as compared with 58 at the peak of construction.

The scout cabin is being cleaned this week and will be ready for use. New shower and toilet have been installed in the building.

SEPTEMBER DROUTH SOURCE OF ANXIETY FOR FUTURE CROPS

SEPTEMBER was exceptionally dry—an added torment to previous months of drouth. Fate of the corn was settled before the month started, and was therefore generally free from further damage. Most of the injury had been done. Anxiety through September was centered on replenishing the soil with moisture to renew pastures and prepare the ground for next year's crops.

Funeral Rites Held Saturday

Mrs. E. M. Bloodhart Passes Away Thursday After Being Ill Long.

Mrs. E. M. Bloodhart, mother of Mrs. L. W. Ellis of Wayne, passed away Thursday morning, September 28, at 10 o'clock in a Norfolk hospital following an illness of four months, aged 75 years and 19 days. Rev. W. F. Dierking had charge of rites Saturday morning at 10 at the Beckenhauer chapel. Burial was in Wakefield cemetery.

Mrs. Bloodhart's maiden name was Carrie Clott Bowers. She was a daughter of Calvin and Elizabeth Bowers and was born at Warsaw, Ind., September 9, 1864. She came to Wakefield, Neb., when a girl to make her home with a brother, George Bowers. There she was married to E. M. Bloodhart May 4, 1884. After living at Wakefield for a time, the Bloodharts went to Indiana. They came to Bloomfield, Neb., in 1896 and had resided there since.

Surviving Mrs. Bloodhart are her husband, son, George of Minneapolis, and daughter, Mrs. L. W. Ellis of Wayne. There are three grandchildren, Rex Bloodhart, Betty and Wilmer Ellis.

George Bloodhart was here from Minneapolis for the funeral and E. M. Bloodhart returned with him for a visit. The latter will return here later.

Pallbearers were P. A. Theobald, J. M. Strahan, W. C. Shulteis, A. T. Cavanaugh, Paul Minces and Dr. R. W. Casper.

Lincoln Woman In Train Wreck

Mrs. H. L. Carpenter Is Hurt When Pioneer Zephyr Hits Locomotive.

Mrs. H. L. Carpenter of Lincoln, mother of Miss Norma Carpenter who used to be with the Wayne Herald, was injured Monday evening when the Burlington railroad's Pioneer Zephyr rammed a freight locomotive in a head-on collision 35 miles north of St. Joseph, Mo. The engineer was killed and eight hurt in the mishap which investigators say was caused by a misplaced switch. The Zephyr was northbound.

Mrs. Carpenter was badly bruised and shaken. She was thrown violently against the seat in front of her. Another passenger was thrown against her, thrusting her against the seat a second time.

Mrs. Carpenter suffered back and head injuries. Her left leg was badly bruised, and several teeth were loosened. She was unable to walk and was taken home by taxi in a wheel chair.

Damage Case Is Filed in Court

Clifford Munson Seeks $253.50 For Loss of Horse in Car Accident.

Clifford Munson has filed in Wayne county court this week a damage action against John A. Schram of Sioux City, asking $253.50 for loss of a horse.

Munson was riding the mare east near his home on the highway about two and a half miles west of Wakefield September 1 when Schram came in a car from the west. The car struck the horse, dragged it 33 feet and the animal died within a few minutes. Munson, seeing the danger, had jumped to safety at the right side of the road.

The action, filed for Munson by H. E. Siman, charges Schram with driving carelessly and at an excessive speed and also charges that he failed to give warning of his approach. For the mare, a valuable "breaking horse," Mr. Munson asks $250, also $3.50 veterinary services and costs of the action. Answer date is set for November 6.

To Let Contract On Road Project Out of Carroll

State Board Will Ask Bids On Resurfacing Roads In Wayne County.

Improvement of the highway north of Carroll will be contracted October 26 by the state board in Lincoln. The plan is to connect with highway No. 20 at Bellevue. The board will this month contract for grading, graveling, culvert and guard rail work on 5.6 miles on the Carroll-Belden project.

Also to be contracted October 26 is resurfacing for 14.1 miles on the Pierce-Wayne and Winside-Belden roads.

Silver Wedding Observed in City

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Oelrich of Omaha, the latter formerly Anna Gehrke of Wayne, observed their silver wedding anniversary of September 27 Sunday with a gathering of 35 relatives and a few friends at their home. Mrs. Oelrich's father, Rev. E. Gehrke of Bancroft, who married the couple at Immanuel church near Wayne 25 years ago, spoke after the dinner.

The Oelrichs have lived in Omaha most of the 25 years, Mr. Oelrich being with the railroad company. They have two sons, Martin, who is second lieutenant with the marines and now in training in Pennsylvania, Wilfred at the university in Lincoln, and two daughters, Madeline and Ailene at home. Vertebra in Neck Is Broken Sunday In Auto Mishap

Blaine Gettman Injured Most Severely When Two Autos Collide.

Blaine Gettman suffered a broken vertebra in the neck, Mrs. Gettman had ribs broken and others escaped injury Sunday morning about 11 when the Gettman and M. V. Crawford cars collided at the intersection three miles north and three west of Wayne. Mr. Gettman is in a Wayne hospital where his neck is in an extension before being placed in a cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Gettman and their infant son were driving east and Mr. and Mrs. Crawford were going north. The impact caused the Gettman car to turn over twice and land on its side north of the road. Passing motorists helped the Crawford's assist the Gettmans out of their car and brought them to the hospital. The baby was not even scratched.

The Gettman car was badly damaged.

PROGRAM SHAPING FOR FREE SHOW ON SATURDAY, OCT. 14

THE FREE program in Wayne Saturday, October 14, is slowly developing. Different dealers will serve free refreshments during the day, and these will be mentioned in detail in next week's Herald. The main picture for the free show, to start at 9 in the morning and to run all day at the Gay and Crystal theatres, is new, and will be released a few days ahead of its appearance here. Two short reels of comedy will be included. Tickets for the show may be had without cost or obligation by asking Herald advertisers who have already been supplied. Any not in that way fitted out may call at the Herald office. Congressman Karl Stefan who recently returned from an official trip to Europe, has promised to be in Wayne on October 14 if he is not called back to his duties in Washington before that date. It is expected to have music and other activities to make the business district lively and attractive. Everybody in the Wayne area is urged to come. We appreciate local cooperation assured, and we shall be able to publish definite particulars next week.

Dies Wednesday At Rising City

Rites for Mrs. Fred Terry Will Probably Be Held In Wakefield.

Mrs. Fred Terry of Rising City, Neb., 24, who was formerly Miss Edna Hansen of Wakefield, passed away early Wednesday morning at Rising City. Mrs. Terry was employed in Wayne about four years ago. Funeral services have not been arranged but will probably be at Wakefield.

Edna Hansen, daughter of Mrs. Arvid Lund of Wakefield, was born near Wausa, Neb., September 4, 1915. Deceased's father, Fred Hansen, died at Wausa about 21 years ago. The rest of the family moved to Wakefield 20 years ago and have lived there since.

Miss Hansen was married to Fred Terry of Rising City, Neb., December 24, 1938, at Madison, Neb. Mr. Terry was graduated from the Wayne State Teachers college in 1936.

Mrs. Terry is survived by her husband, her mother, two brothers, Arthur and Louis Hansen of Wakefield, four sisters, Mrs. Henry Tarnow, Mrs. Will Korth and Mrs. Vernon Carlson of Wakefield, and Mrs. John Barnes of Bloomfield, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Terry of Wakefield.

Mrs. Lund went to Rising City Wednesday.

Wayne Minister To Accept Call

Rev. W. C. Heidenreich Gets Unanimous Invitation To Former Charge.

Rev. W. C. Heidenreich has resigned as pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church in Wayne to accept the unanimous call from the congregation at Oshkosh, Neb., his first parish. He will also serve the Lowellen, Neb., church. Rev. Heidenreich presented his resignation to the local congregation Sunday. No action has yet been taken to fill the local pastorate.

Rev. Heidenreich would have served the Wayne church 11 years the last of November. He and his family have had an important part in the community and they have many friends who will wish them well.

The Heidenreichs will leave Wayne the first of November.

Contractor of Early Days Is Struck by Car

E. Ferrel Is Painfully Hurt Tuesday Evening When Crossing Street.

E. Ferrel, 88, contractor in Wayne some years ago, was painfully injured Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock when he was accidentally struck by a car driven by Bill Jones on Main street near the Methodist church. Mr. Ferrel, taken to a local hospital by Dr. L. F. Perry, who happened at the scene, has broken ribs, a cut on one arm and his head and face are cut and badly bruised. It will be a few days before the exact extent of his injuries can be determined.

Mr. Ferrel, who has been with his daughter, Mrs. Dal DeHaven of Hay Springs, had been in Sioux City looking after his property. Enroute back he stopped here Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Gossard, whose son, Kelly of Montana, married Inez Ferrel. Mr. Ferrel, who had just talked with the Gossards about having had such remarkable health for his years, started after supper to walk down town to take the bus for Norfolk where he was to board the train for Hay Springs. As Mr. Gossard is not well, Mrs. Gossard walked a short distance with Mr. Ferrel.

Mr. Ferrel used to own a house across east of the Methodist parsonage and he was crossing Main street to pass this place when the car coming from the north passed another machine and accidentally hit him.

Mr. and Mrs. DeHaven came from Hay Springs Tuesday night and are staying with Mr. Ferrel.

Mr. Ferrel lived in Wayne for many years when he and his sons Claude and Harry, now in Los Angeles, were contractors. Mr. Ferrel went to Sioux City from here about 15 years ago and his wife died in about 1935. Since then he has been with his children.

Borrow Stoker From College

Matter Will Be Studied by Board of Education Before Decision.

A stoker, which had been borrowed for a time at Wayne college, to installation of gas heating, is being installed in Wayne city school plant by F. L. Deines and it is expected it will be in operation Friday.

Six bids on the school stoker were opened by the board of education Friday. That of F. L. Deines of Lincoln, who is doing plumbing and heating on the school project, was accepted at $985.86. The bids of Carhart Lumber Co. and Wright Lumber Co., Wayne, were lower, but the architect declared they would not meet specifications in feeding the maximum of 800 pounds of coal per hour. The local firms guaranteed their stokers would do the job so the school board, meeting again Monday, rescinded the contract let and borrowed a stoker from the college. The stoker matter will be left open for further study.

Other contracts awarded Friday are contingent on FWA approval of an additional $3,000 grant. University Publishing Co., Lincoln was awarded contract for metal shelving for the library at $82.60, library tables at $82.60, double tier lockers at $148, basket lockers at $259.20, shades at $81.24, steel folding chairs at $136 each. Omaha School Supply Co. was low on science tables at $84, science fume hood at $116, draw curtains for activities room at $96, and stage equipment at $165. Kinergy construction company was awarded contract for the concrete floor in the shop at $470.

Stanton players showed over three touchdowns in the first half of the football game there with Wayne Friday to win by 21 to 0. Stanton scored a safety in the last half.

Dictators Have Their Earmarks

What makes dictators dictators? asked C. R. Chinn in addressing Kiwanis club Monday. Dictators are rulers of a country, in a small community or in the home, have some common qualities.

Two things which are outstanding in these people, as pointed out by Mr. Chinn, are an inferiority complex behind which the dictator is hiding and an opportunity to show authority. The basis for dictators' desiring this power is that they have had an experience contrary to their wishes.

Leaders such as these think they themselves are martyrs to the cause and that they have greater ability than they have of showing in their present positions. Followers or yes-men always surround dictators. The person with the power may not be designated as the head but hiding behind another or someone to whom he can "pass the buck."

Mr. Chinn thinks these people become so conceited in their own ideas that they have no confidence in the judgment of others. Then is the time they begin to fail. The dictators limit all the opposition, thus "breaking their own bubble."

Nebraska-Iowa district convention will be held in Omaha this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

PLANS PROGRESSING IN FARM PROGRAM

With Walter Herman the new appointee on the Wayne county farm tenant-purchase program, the 65 applications in this county will soon be checked over. The exact allotment is not yet received.

The plan is to enable farmers to reestablish themselves on land. Farm and home programs are worked out on a business basis. It is hoped too to improve the quality of livestock.

Cedar county, according to Dr. W. M. Hawkins, has 10 farms operating under the plan. Crop conditions there are promising this year. Most farms are developing diversified crop and livestock setups which will insure an income even during dry years or when there is severe pest infestation.

Mr. Herman Stolle and baby left a local hospital for their home at Concord Tuesday.

Government NATIONAL'S BUSINESS
Paternalism increased numbers benefited by the federal government's bureaucracy.

It says employment in executive departments increased between May and June by 22,000, amassing a total exceeding the war peak of 1918.

Board AFTER nine months of investigation and intensive study, the state planning board has issued its report recommending changes in the state's educational system.

The proposed plan appears modeled after the one in force in Oregon. It is suggested that one board be appointed to succeed the present two boards in looking after both the university and teachers' colleges with one chancellor at the head of all institutions.

A Los Angeles manufacturer employs his religion successfully in his every-day experience. He uses it in his relationship with employees and in solving all business problems.

In the neutrality discussion in which sharp differences of opinion have developed, one side claims maintenance of the present embargo will keep us out of war.

If Nebraska is to have a flourishing native son organization, we hope it will not discriminate in favor of its members in the matter of employment and political favor.

Former President Herbert Hoover expresses the opinion that there is no reason why the United States should enter the European war.

We have been asked if Wayne county is planning to choose a county corn picking champion to send to the state contest.

Fire prevention week is designed to remind people to have their heating plants and electrical systems in proper repair to reduce fire hazards.

October is the month of mild frosts and tinting leaves—neither very hot nor very cold, but cold enough to remind one of wintry days ahead.

Remedy for Sleep.

A Chicago doctor insists that counting sheep does not help one to sleep. A surer way, and a simple one, is to consume enough, but not too much, plain food and take enough exercise outdoors so that on retiring one is thoroughly tired.

retiring one is thoroughly tired. The sleeping part, if one is healthy, will take care of itself.

Winning the West.

A trip out through Nebraska at this time reveals the heavy toll that has been taken of farmers and stock growers by the drouth, heat and high winds of the summer and fall.

There are exceptions, however, oases in the desert that prove that all is not lost. Cornfields, alfalfa patches and even pastures are thrifty and promising wherever water has been available and it is heartening to note that more fields are being pumped or ditch irrigated every year.

Another restful sight to the eyes is the green and lush appearance of hundreds of fields of the sorghums. The contrast of these green fields with the rest of the landscape is indeed striking.

As far as the "winning of the west" is concerned, it looks as if the salvation of this part of the country was to come through irrigation and the planting of drouth resistant crops and along these lines a trip out through Nebraska at this time of year is enlightening as well as encouraging.

Inspirational.

The story of Kenneth Wallace, chronicled briefly in the news columns the other day comes properly under the head of inspirational.

At the age of 25 Wallace is having to begin life again from the bottom, and he is setting about it in a way that shows he means business. To be plunged into eternal darkness at the prime of life with a family dependent upon him is a calamity to daunt a heart of oak.

Unable to carry on his normal occupation of a farmer, Wallace concluded that chicken raising might be suited to a blind man's aptitude.

He has entered the school for the blind to learn the art of reading Braille and has set himself the task of doing in a few months what it customarily takes five years to accomplish.

A story like Kenneth Wallace's comes in handy when you are tempted to feel sorry for yourself.

He Is An American.

He is an American. He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by decree.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammelled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on. He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

His military training, an R. O. T. C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gym course, and it was not compulsory.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police. He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a state line, rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships GOD in the fashion of his choice, without let.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the state with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges. He is a fortunate man.

He is an American.

WAR PROFITS. No one with a spark of humanity would have war in order to profit from it. "No man worthy of the name," says the Christian Science Monitor, "would take bread out of the mouths of women and children. Nor would many find satisfaction in profits coined from the sacrifice of other men's blood."

"EVERYTHING'S ON ICE" HAS SIX-YEAR-OLD MARVEL

To Be Presented at Gay and Crystal Theatres All Day Saturday, October 14, sponsored by the Wayne Herald.

LITTLE IRENE DARE CENTRE OF ROMANCE WITH ELABORATE SCREEN ICE SPECTACLE

Edgar Kennedy and Roscoe Karns Head Supporting Cast Which Includes Expert Ice-Skating Ballet Of Forty Persons.

Rollicking romance and spectacular ice ballets are combined in "Everything's On Ice," the ambitious screen spectacle which introduces little Irene Dare, six-year-old beauty acclaimed as the most skillful and graceful juvenile ice skater ever developed, and which is to be presented under the sponsorship of the Wayne Herald at the Gay and Crystal Theatres in Wayne, all day Saturday, October 14, beginning at 9:00 a. m.

Irene is seen as the principal performer in the floor show at a lavish night club in Palm Beach. Here she leads a series of ice dances at the head of forty of Hollywood's most expert professionals.

The Story.

As the story opens Irene is living in Brooklyn with her father, Joe Barton, a hard-working barber; her mother, Elsie, who has always had a secret longing for good clothes; and her pretty 19-year-old sister, Jane. But the irritating member of the household is Elsie's middle-aged brother, Felix, a kibitzing bachelor full of wild ideas and always ready to borrow a dollar.

By displaying Irene's talent as a skater at a local rink, Felix secures an engagement for her as the stellar attraction at a Florida resort, and immediately appoints himself her financial manager. Joe, trying to save enough to purchase the shop in which he works, is induced to advance the necessary expense money to send the rest of the family to Palm Beach, while he remains behind at his the stranger's apparent wealth, embarks on a campaign to bring his money into the family, and in pursuance of this idea spends money like water.

He telegraphs Joe for an additional $500 for expenses, but the barber instead hastens to Palm Beach to find out what this is all about. On his arrival, the first person he meets is the dejected Leopold, who has been put out of the running by the strategy of the bungling uncle, who is still unaware of the young man's fortune. Though an attachment had already sprung up between Leopold and Janie, the latter had yielded to Felix's forceful arguments, and agreed to save the situation by marrying the masquerading Gregg.

Joe immediately goes into action, and a series of laughable, fast-moving incidents culminates in a surprising climax.

The supporting cast in "Everything's On Ice" includes Roscoe Karns as Felix, Edgar Kennedy as Joe, Lynne Roberts as Jane, Eric Linden as Leopold, Mary Hart as Elsie, George Meeker, Bobby Watson and other screen favorites. The picture was directed by Eric C. Kenton, and the many beautiful ice ballets were staged by Dave Gould, famous Hollywood dance producer. The story was adapted for the screen by Adrian Landis and Sherman Lowe. Song numbers were contributed by the two teams of Victor Young and Paul Webster, and Milton Drake and Fred Stryker. It was produced for RKO Radio by Sol Lesser.

HERE COME the ICE FROLICS! — with America's LITTLE SWING SWEETHEART!

Oh, how she skates! The whole Show World's agog! — And oh, what a mix-up her Cupid's Coaching Family starts! Glittering Fun-fable one way ticket to Joyland!

And look at the Star performers!

The future thing on ice! What a figure she can!

Watch her and Felix hit a home run for Mr. Millions!

Feeding of Sudan Tested for Chicks

Results of new experiments in feeding sudan meal to young chicks were announced during the recent poultry field day at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, before the largest crowd to attend this annual event in the last 10 years. The tests showed that sudan grass meal is even better than alfalfa meal in chick rations, and may make an excellent substitute wherever alfalfa is hard to obtain. However, proper curing of the sudan is vitally important; and the college plans to conduct further experiments to find the most practical and economical way of curing the grass while preserving its nutritive value. Prof. F. E. Muesel, chairman of the poultry department, points out.

Six lots of day-old chicks were used to begin the experiment—32 chicks in each lot. At the end of eight weeks, a lot fed the standard Nebraska number eight ration showed satisfactory gains and virtually no deaths. This ration included yellow corn and alfalfa meal, both containing large amounts of the essential vitamin A. When the alfalfa meal was removed and white corn substituted for yellow corn in a second lot, more than half the chicks died and the rest made poor gains. But addition of only 2 per cent sudan meal brought even better gains than the standard ration; and when 5 per cent sudan meal was added, the chicks gained 8 per cent more than the lot receiving the standard yellow corn and 10 per cent alfalfa meal.

Rations containing 10 and 15 per cent sudan produced slightly lower gains than the 5 per cent sudan although they were also larger gains than produced by the standard ration. However, the increased yellow color in their beaks and shanks indicated the chicks receiving 10 and 15 per cent sudan meal have stored up more vitamin A for use when they reach laying age. All this leads Prof. Muesel to believe that the 5 per cent sudan ration may be best for broilers where fast gains are desired; and 10 and 15 per cent may be best in producing laying pullets. The sudan meal also contains substantial amounts of protein and the growth-promoting vitamin G.

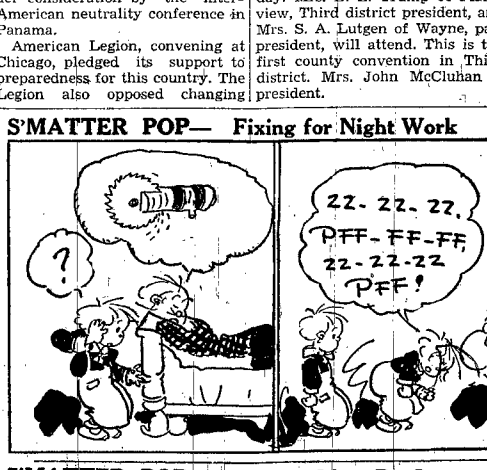

News of World Focuses on War

Warsaw, Poland's capital, surrendered Wednesday night to Nazi control. Reports indicate that Germany and Russia intend to divide Poland with promise that Hitler may extend his influence in southeastern Europe. Hitler was also reported concentrating troops on the western border in an effort to bring Britain and France to peace terms. But the last two have repeated their pledge to restore Poland's independence. Conference led to the belief that Russian and German officials are agreeing on European territory for each to attempt to conquer. Russia has formed an alliance with Estonia, little country on the Baltic sea, for mutual assistance. A year to a day after the "peace of Munich," when war was averted in Europe, Hitler was last Friday asking Great Britain and France to consider peace on his terms. Adolf Hitler delivers Friday to the reichstag an address on which may hinge the peace of the world. Indications that Russia plans to transport supplies to Great Britain and France yesterday presented a new puzzle to diplomats trying to figure out what part Russia will play if the allies and Germany settle down to real warfare. A western hemisphere sea patrol for informative purposes and to protect American shipping from interference by belligerents is under consideration by the inter-American neutrality conference in Panama. American Legion, convening at Chicago, pledged its support to preparedness for this country. The Legion also opposed changing

Survey Is Made On Grasshoppers

A comprehensive grasshopper survey is now under way through the agricultural office to enable farmers to know about what the prospects are for 1940. Results will be made available as soon as they are completed in October. At this time of year grasshopper eggs are found along field margins, roadsides, waste sod strips, in alfalfa fields and along ditch banks. The eggs are deposited about one to one and a half inches below the surface in long pods. Usually 25 to 50 eggs are found in each pod.

THE VOICE OF RELIGION

Current Questions and Answers About Religion, Morals and Personal Problems ... by Dr. Weldon F. Crossland

Why didn't God prevent this terrible war?

Because He refused to violate the freedom of choice which He has given to man.

Clearly let it be stated that man brought on the present war. God did not will it; man did. Out of conditions of the past, out of present hatreds, suspicions and ambitions, and out of the strange mental processes of a few dictators of this tidal wave of misery has come.

Demands of certain rulers being granted, blood would not have flowed.

Clearly let it be added that man did stop this frightful scourge of war. By substituting the sane method of conference for the insane method of war, the leaders of the nations could stop the war immediately.

Evils and sins of men, such as war, piracy, duels and slavery are destroyed only after long and bitter experience. When their burden becomes greater than can be borne or when the enlightenment of education and religion lift the levels of life, they pass.

War will sometime be outgrown and outmoded as man becomes more civilized. God has left the decision with man.

And let it also be vigorously affirmed that man has in myriads of cases magnificently used the freedom God has given him. Discoveries in medicine and health, inventions that have lifted heavy burdens from the shoulders of men and social devices, such as democracy, have been freely made available for men.

Were men to use all their resources and powers for human welfare, they could make earth a paradise in two generations.

Why are not our prayers answered as we wish?

We who have children can easily answer this question. We should be spoiling those we love if we granted their every wish and whim. We should be miserable parents in more ways than one if we answered "Yes" to every request.

What we ask God for is sometimes both impossible and undesirable. We should be harmed if God gave us our desires. By denying our petitions God often works our good.

At times we are not ready for the blessing we desire of God. Our limited vision prevents us seeing the greater good God has in store. Our immediate wishes obscure the richer joys the future holds.

God is not a World's Fair automaton, where one puts in a dime's worth of prayer and instantly receives whatever pleases his fancy. God is an all-wise Heavenly Father whose world is good and whose gifts are always best.

Will this world war destroy religion?

No. Religions are not destroyed by wars but by inner decay.

The Christian religion has survived the fall of the Roman empire, the invasion of the barbarians, the attack of the Mahomedans, the conquests of Napoleon and the ravages of the last world war.

The Christian faith will survive the present disastrous struggle.

Consider the effect of the possible outcomes of the European war:

If the combined forces of nazism and communism should win, religion would again be crowned with thorns and crucified. Organized religion in the church would be throttled or driven underground, as in the days of Nero, Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jew would suffer bitterly.

If the democracies should win, religion would be free as it now is. Its future would depend on the priests, ministers and rabbis who guide it.

If the war should be a draw, the changes in the exhausted life and resources of either side would make it impossible to prophesy the form and influence religion would take.

Whatever may be the outcome of the war, religion with its faith, hope and dynamic courage in facing human suffering will be more sorely needed than at any time in a hundred years.

Will religion have the vision and the daring to undertake the rebuilding of the world on the broad basis of humanity and brotherhood?

Everyone hopes so. (Copyright 1939 by Weldon F. Crossland, Rochester, N. Y.)

Wage-Hour Law and Farmers. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

Next month we will have some new features in the operation of the Wagner wage-hour law. Wages are to be upped and working hours reduced. Of course the law was intended to apply to industry only and every effort was made to exempt farmers from its provisions. Some recent decisions by the labor relations board, however, make it rather dubious just how far these exemptions will apply to modern farmers.

It will be just as well for farmers who employ help to look into the provisions of the law and the labor board's interpretation of the same. All work performed on a farm in production or marketing or delivery is supposed to be exempt, and farmers need not observe the minimum wage, which goes up to 30 cents an hour in October, nor the 40-hour week. The regulations draw a fine line in a number of instances, but the doubts all seem to be resolved in favor of the farmer.

As to the general effect of the law on business, on industry and on agriculture only the future will disclose. It is a piece of legislation that was intended solely to benefit labor but past experience has demonstrated that these special laws do not always effect their purpose and often cause a hardship to others. At all events, farmers will do well to look into the matter.

Essentials in Schools. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

In the matter of national preparedness there is something fully as important as arms, and ships, ammunition and forts, and that is a spirit of nationalism, a love for America and its institutions and a genuine appreciation of the opportunities for development in a free land. These qualities are set forth and emphasized in our public schools; they are taught to our children and constitute an essential part of their education. This is why our public schools are entitled to and must be accorded first place in our American plan of preparedness.

An Anchor to Windward. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

If members and officials of the American Legion, World War veterans' organization holding its annual national convention in Chicago this week, are saying what they think—and there is no reason to doubt their veracity or sincerity—they are unalterably opposed to the United States taking part in any more wars other than in defense of our own soil. There is something heartening for the great mass of citizens who, one-sided as their sympathies in the affair may be, want no part of another European war. Many other elements of our complex business and social structure feel the same way about the matter. Business men, through their various organizations, are expressing their opposition to our participation in the conflict. Yet they have commercial connections and aspirations which, in time, lead them to change their minds. So might the average citizen, who now hopes strongly for peace, be influenced toward war by effective propaganda or some dramatic turn of events. And there are the younger folk, born in the last 20 or 25 years, who have never seen war and whose idealism would lead them rashly into situations that older, wiser heads would avoid.

But with the World War veterans, the "boys" of '17 and '18 who went across the ocean only to fight for peace and democracy and now see all the international greed and passion which they sought to subdue back in the saddle, it's a more sober thing. Their judgment that it didn't pay to go last time and wouldn't pay to go again has been carefully reached and will not be easily changed. The fact that members of the American Legion speak for peace and non-participation in Europe's squabbles, even though it does mean foregoing some doubtful war profits, is a firm anchor to windward in these trying times.

Why Be a Ham in Carving One? Expert Shows Easy, Modern Way

If they snicker when you start to carve, you'll be comforted by these kind words from Max O. Cullen, carving authority. "It's easy to learn the right way, and the right way is the easy way," says Cullen, who is shown at the right explaining to Pete Smith, producer of motion picture shorts bearing his name, and Ann Morris, M-G-M player, the fundamentals of carving a ham, during the recent filming of "Culinary Carving," an educational short in which Cullen was featured.

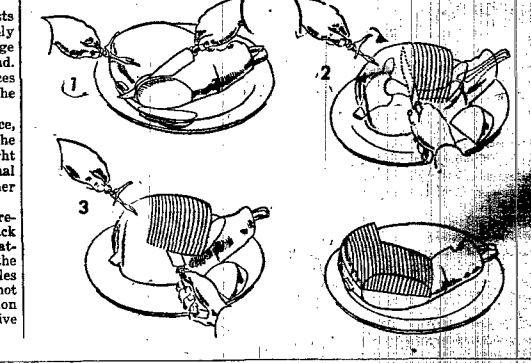

Proper tools and a sharp knife are of first importance, says the expert. Then you can proceed with confidence, if you will follow his simple directions as shown by the diagrams and instructions below.

1. Place ham with fat side up, shank end to carver's right. Cut two or three slices parallel to the length of the ham from the smaller meaty section.

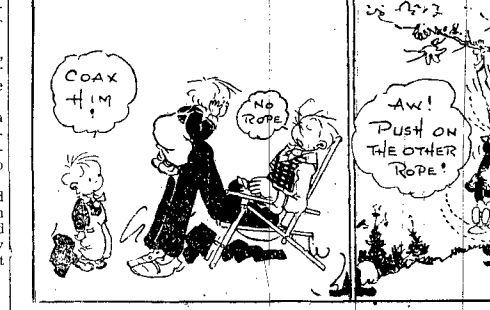

2. Turn the ham so that it rests on the cut surface. Holding firmly with the fork, cut a small wedge shaped piece from the shank end. Then proceed to cut thin slices down to the leg bone until the aitch bone is reached.

3. With the fork still in place, release the slices by running the knife along the bone and at right angles to the slices. For additional servings, turn and carve other side of ham.

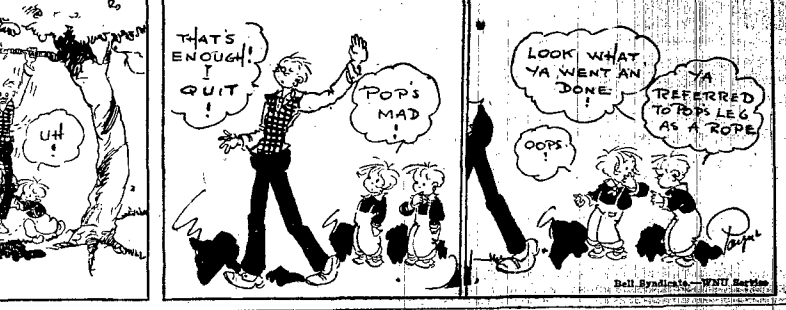

4. If more servings are required, the ham is turned back in its original position on the platter with the fat side up and the slices are carved at right angles to the bone. These slices are not so large as those from the cushion section, but they make attractive servings for second helpings.

Elect Officers In High School

Harbinger Staff Is Chosen And Other Groups Get Start for Year.

Classes in Wayne high school have organized this week. Freshmen chose Elaine Benhathack president, Irma Back vice president, Jimmie Allen secretary-treasurer and Miss Anna Geisler sponsor. Sophomores elected Joe Kessler president, Don Greenwald vice president, George Derry secretary-treasurer and Mervin Feddersen sponsor. Juniors picked Edna Martens for president, Carl Bader for vice president, Mildred Ann Mau secretary, Elaine Rhoades treasurer and Miss Mildred Clark sponsor. Seniors chose Billie Hawkins president, Lyle Seymour vice president, Miss Theodore Carson sponsor.

The Pep club is getting organized this week and will be out in full force for the Hartington game Friday. Officers for the year are: Marjorie Harrison, president; Jack Wright, vice president; Donna Loy Reese, secretary-treasurer; and Herman Baehr, sponsor. The girls have new blue skirts which together with white blouses and the regulation Pep club sweaters make them look very trim and neat. The Pep club is sponsoring the sale of activity tickets this week and is boosting them all it can. The price of $1 for the ticket is the lowest ever. The ticket gives admissions to all school-sponsored events, at least fifteen events, during the year, making the cost per entertainment not more than 7c. This low price is set to make possible the purchase of tickets by everyone in school. The aim is 100 per cent boosterism from the students and faculty. Football game prices are set at 20c for adults, 15c for high school students, and 10c for grade pupils. This applies also to Wayne college high.

Sigma Mu Gamma, science club, has Lyle Seymour for president, Wilmer Ellis vice president, Marjorie Harrison secretary and Lorraine Johnson corresponding secretary. Mervin Feddersen is sponsor. Barbara Strahan, Lyle Seymour and Marjorie Harrison are members of the national honor society with Miss Anna Geisler sponsor.

The Harbinger staff has been organized for the year and plans to publish its first issue Friday, October 13. The subscription price is 15c for each semester, or 25c for the year if paid in advance. Personnel of the staff is as follows: Editors-in-chief, Marjorie Harrison and Barbara Strahan; assistant editors, Betty Foster and Wilma Heidenreich; Who's Who, Lorraine Johnson; humor editor, John Berry; assistant, Carl Bader; exchange editor, Evelyn Auker; assistant, Margie Fitch; art editor, Dick Lueders; assistants, Wilbur Anivers, Paul Petersen, John Berry; business manager, Lyle Seymour; assistant business manager, Eugene Sals; production manager, Bill Hawkins; publication staff, Marjorie Harrison, Leona Roberts, Helen Schroeder, Esther Schroeder, Quentin Preston, Everett Hale, Donna Loy Reese, Catherine Calenbaugh, Ermajean Dunn, Marjorie Reuter, Bus Johnson, Bob Baker, reporters, music, Catherine Cavanaugh, curriculum, Donna Loy Reese, debate, Bob Haas, Pep club, Leah Jeanne Caauwe, Thespians, Erwin Hatfield, feature, Elaine Rhoades, Sigma Mu Gamma, Richard Claycomb, senior class, Edna Penn, junior class, Carl Bader, sophomore class, Myla June Thomas, freshman class, Dorothy Casper, G. A. A., Josephine Penn, Herman Baehr is sponsor.

Applications have been taken for NYA positions. The school has been allowed $18 a month, which will pay $3 to each of six students. Selection will be made soon.

Supt. N. F. Thorpe has asked that those wishing to do substitute teaching in Wayne city school should file applications with him. To do so a teacher must hold a valid certificate in this state.

Commercial Notes.
With 105 students in typewriting class, machines and the teacher are busy most of the day. The enlarged quarters are greatly appreciated, and the value of the extra room is already evidenced by improved work.

The shorthand class is doing excellent work in reading and writing shorthand. Students surprised themselves by taking dictation at the rate of about 40 words a minute when they thought they were writing between 20 and 30 words.

Conference Game Here.

The fireplace is completed and can be used in case the weather requires heat in school. The slide and stairs leading from the balcony which has French doors to the outside have been completed. Drinking fountains and toilets for the tiny folks have been installed.

Team Is Crippled For Friday Game
That six or seven players who didn't see any action during the Omaha game because of previous injuries may not be ready for the Nebraska Wesleyan encounter this Friday and that the reserves will have to supply the man power for part of the opening lineup against Wesleyan are conclusions reached by Coach Jim Morrison in looking over prospects for the Friday's football game at Lincoln.

Fred Murray suffered a bad knee during the Omaha game; Gail Fox sprained his ankle;

Bob Garvin and John Riley have bad legs, and Dan Hungerford still maintained his pulled leg muscles. To top this off Moon Mullins still is laid up with an infected finger; Virgil Lindahl is troubled with an injury to an eye suffered in the Morningside game; Ed Nitz, a "charley" horse, and Chuck Wehrer, still troubled with a wrenched knee.

Morrison may be able to call upon all but Fox and Mullins for this Friday's game but how long the boys will be able to play depends upon their condition Friday night.

Nebraska Wesleyan defeated Tarkio, Mo., last Friday, 7-6, while Omaha nipped Wayne, 6-3. If the "cripples" get in shape Wayne should have an even chance for victory.

Coach Jim Morrison's fighting Wayne Wildcats held the highly favored Omaha U Indians to a 6-3 score at Omaha Friday night.

The first quarter started out as a punting duel between Murray of Wayne and Pfisterer, Omaha U star, with Murray having the best of the kicking.

Wayne Scores Field Goal. A pass to Lindahl carried the ball to Omaha's 14-yard line with first and goal to go for Wayne.

Two line plays failed but Quillen Fox dropped back to the 20-yard stripe and with Bob Garvin holding the ball, place kicked between the uprights to put the Wildcats in the lead 3-0.

Omaha Marches to Score. With Don Pfisterer and Bob Matthews doing most of the ball lugging, Omaha scores touchdown with Matthews carrying ball through his own left side to score over a stubborn Wayne line after Farmer, Splichal and Lindahl had repeatedly halted Omaha running plays.

The last two quarters saw Wayne trying desperately to score via the passing attack but interceptions stopped the Wildcats' attack.

Fumble Costly to Wayne. During the latter part of the third quarter, with Wayne in possession of the ball in Omaha territory, a pass from Hungerford to Joe Lindahl on the Omaha five-yard line was almost good, Lindahl dropping the ball while in the clear.

Wayne plays Nebraska Wesleyan at Lincoln Friday night. The lineups: Wayne Peterson, Riley, Farmer, Webb, Splichal, Mitchell, Lindahl, Fox, Murray, Garvin, Hungerford.

Company Incorporated. Articles of incorporation have been filed in Lincoln for the Park Hill Telephone company of school house in district 79, Dixon county.

Library News

Congressman Karl Stefan sent the book, "Soll and Men," yearbook of agriculture 1938 to the Wayne library. The book answers many questions for the farmer.

Plan Husking Contest. Cedar, Stanton and Dakota counties are among those in this section planning husking contests. Cedar county date is October 17 but the field is not yet chosen.

Has Tonsil Operation. Richard Claycomb had tonsils removed Saturday morning at a local hospital.

Nebraska Skies and Sunsets Appreciated After Trip East. Great Britain's declaration of war September 8 was taken calmly in Canada, according to Mrs. H. A. Welch, who with Herbert and Sally, were in Canada at St. Thomas that day enroute to Williamstown, Mass., where Herbert enrolled in Williams college.

Breaks Collar Bone. Harold Kohrt fell while playing football Tuesday last week at the park and broke his left collar bone. He fractured the same bone a year ago.

Good Chance to Recover. S. Fred Spaulding, veteran railroad man who shot himself last week, is reported to have a good chance of recovery in a Sioux City hospital.

Two farms belonging to the Matt McGraw estate at Pender were sold at auction, one quarter to George Paulsen for $6,560 and an 80 to Martin Smith for $3,200.

Contracts Are Let To J. N. Einung

J. N. Einung, Wayne, was low bidder Thursday on regrading projects near here, contracted by the state board. He resurfaces 12.6 miles between Wakefield and Pender for $2,672, and 12.7 miles between Emerson and Pender, Wakefield and Emerson, Dixon and Thurston for $2,672.

Allen Roy Fatally Hurt. Robert G. Gham, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Graham of Allen, died Friday in Sioux City hospital from injuries suffered Tuesday last week when he was struck by a car near the Lutheran church at Allen. The lad suffered a thigh fracture and head injuries.

Effects of Depression. A visit to the east makes one realize the serious effects of the depression. Many owners of beautiful, large estates have turned their places into tourist homes.

Road Shops Numerous. The Welch's traveled east from Buffalo through New York to Williamstown, in the northwest corner of Massachusetts. In eastern New York they passed through cherry valley and could imagine the springtime beauty when the thousands of trees in the hillside orchards were in bloom.

Use Clothstine Display. Over a part of the Canadian territory the Wayne folks traveled through French and Indian settlements. Near Dunville they visited a quaint settlement. On clotheslines were hung for sale rugs and blankets woven there, also hand work sent from Nova Scotia where it was made in homes of fishermen.

Tradition Important. Williams town is an old city nestled in beautiful hills. There are in most eastern places, the historical background has great influence. Most homes and other buildings are old and large. The Wayne folks attended the First Congregational church, which was built in 1765 and which still has the old stiff, pews with doors to each. Sally attended Williams town school three weeks. She found that the Wayne school compares well. The only advantage the eastern children have is the historical background.

Dakota City Is Winner of Game

Wayne college high played its first six-man football here Friday with Dakota City, the visitors, winning the close contest 7 to 6. Wayne threatened the Dakota City goal two other times. Playing on the Wayne team were Lawrence Heikes, Francis Smith, Edwin Sprague, Kenneth Echtenkamp, Robert Hughes and Rex Johnson. Dale Bloss played part of the time but tore a muscle. Edwin Dawson and Don Echtenkamp were also out because of injuries.

Henry Tietzort suffered broken ribs, cuts and bruises Wednesday last week when he fell from a car as it turned a corner in Logan, Iowa. Mrs. Tietzort was riding a short distance on the running board and struck the pavement when he fell. He was brought to his home here.

Miss Betty Wright of Omaha, was here over Sunday.

Miss Betty Wright of Omaha, was here over Sunday.

Wayne folks visited Smith college campus. There they saw the home which the Coolidge family occupied while the former president lived. They also drove to the home where Mrs. Coolidge now resides and they think the gray-haired lady they saw sitting beneath the trees reading was Mrs. Coolidge herself.

Stop in Wayne Searching for Family History

A quest for more information about his family led John Younglove Cole of New York, to stop in Wayne this week. Mr. Cole's grandfather, whose given name he thinks was Ezra, and his wife, whose maiden name was Mary Pierce, left Rome, N. Y., between 1870 and 1875 and came west. Family records say they located on a homestead about eight miles from Wayne, Neb.

Mr. Cole's father, John Y. Cole, sr., one of the 12 children in the Ezra Cole family, was born in the east in 1884 so he was a small lad when the family journeyed west. The eldest daughter in the family was Mary.

The Coles had a two-story frame house and the senior Mr. Cole used to stay down stairs to greet bands of Indians while others of the family were upstairs making much noise to let the Indians know there were lots of people there. The New Yorker often heard his father tell of buffalo wandering the country and being so numerous as to stop the trains. John Y., sr., also told that he rode the pony express, carrying mail between Nebraska and Dakota territory.

John Y., sr., was a sturdy youth when he lived in this region for he used to tell his son that he hired out to run threshers and binders when here for 50c a day. He was mechanically inclined and helped acquaint farmers with new equipment arriving on the market.

As often happened in pioneer families, John Y., sr., and another brother left the pioneer home to go west. This was in about 1865. They first located in Washington state. John Y., sr., again heard the call of the frontier and went to British Columbia to open Canadian mining fields. So excluded from the world was the young miner that he packed provisions 30 to 50 miles. He stuck to his task and became the American founder of Canadian mining and one of the first mining producers.

John Y. Cole, sr., married in the west and John Y., jr., was born in San Francisco near the turn of the century. The former died in 1934 and his widow lives in New York. The son, who lives at 277 Park avenue in New York, had traveled 8,000 miles in Canada and the States when he, his wife and son, John, were in Wayne in search of information about his family. Mr. Cole would appreciate any information that anyone of this territory might be able to give him.

One of Mr. Cole's missions in San Francisco was to find his birth certificate. As all city records were destroyed in the earthquake of 1906, he asked for old records of hospitals. In one of these he was fortunate enough to locate the information he sought. While the Coles were in that city, John, III, took ill and was cared for in the hospital in which his father was born.

Mr. Cole has business in New York and Winnipeg, Canada, and he plans to continue his search until his gains information about his family.

Miss Faye Brittain was home from Omaha for the week-end.

Goal Is Sign-up On Forty Farms

Twenty Places Are Now Under Agreement for Conservation Work.

Twenty farms, with 4,128 acres, have been mapped and signed for the complete program of soil and water conservation, this to be done by men connected with Winside C. C. camp. It is expected that 40 farms will be signed completely laid out and a large share of the work established by planting time in the spring.

To date work has been done or is being done on the following farms: Carl Asplin, 160 acres; Merwin Olson, 80; Walter Chace, 479; Herman H. Frese, 363 and 159; Cora J. Textley, 114; E. El Carter, 160; Harry B. Nichols, 160; Francis L. Pohlman, 129; Henry Pohlman, 324; Daniel and Nellie Wolvert, 277; Gustav Kollath, 240; Walter A. Nelson, et al., 244; Irvin A. Nelson, et al., 230. Others signed are: Chas. E. Barth, 160 acres; Owen Owens, 161; Ed. S. Rennick, 159; Hugo Blatter, et al., 160; H. Pohlman & Wantoch, 200.

A complete program of soil and moisture conservation includes, every practice that may be used to accomplish the result, these being contour farming, strip cropping, proper crop rotations, terracing, pasture management, retiring land from cultivation, farm forestry, construction of farm lands, gully control and fire prevention.

Types of work being done on the places served by Winside camp have been the following: Fence removal and construction, this being to enclose areas to be planted to grass or trees; construction of diversion ditches, and temporary dams for gully control; preparation of areas for tree planting, this being to plow or ridge on the contour to prepare for planting about 100,000 trees in the spring collection of plum seed, the supply gained being 607 pounds dry weight; timber stand improvement, clearing farm wood lots of dead trees and preparing to enlarge and interplant these in the spring; laying land out for contouring; this includes marking lines for contour plowing or listing in the spring on all cultivated lands on the farms.

Mapping is another type of work being done, two crews of a foreman and 40 others being at work continuously to carry plans to completion in cooperation with the farmer; basin listing is done on land that has had corn stalks removed for silage or fodder so as to conserve moisture; pasture are constructed on the Frese and Henry farms. Bromo grass and alfalfa have been seeded for Henry Pohlman and Allan Yorke on erosion resistant contour strips and for seed plots; gullies have been bladed on a few farms with the camp's 50-h. h. caterpillar tractor and power grader, the gullies being bladed smooth to aid in establishing trees and grass.

In the Winside camp '61 men were enrolled October 3, the beginning of a new period, and 38 left camp because they had either reached 23 years of age or had served two years in camp.

Don't let those sudden cold spells catch you unprepared. Have your car conditioned NOW for low temperatures and icy streets. Putting it off may mean expense and inconvenience.

Early Days In Wayne County

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for October 4, 1923:

Arthur C. Mann and Miss Ida Schmitz were married October 4, 1923.

F. J. Tower of New York, nephew of Mrs. W. O. Gamble, addressed Kiwanians about the college in which he is secretary. Only young folks working their way through school may enroll.

W. M. and C. A. Orr are opening a new grocery store in Wayne.

September brought 5.42 inches of rain, an excessive amount for this month.

Walter Savidge amusement company closed the season in Wayne and as usual the engagement brought almost daily rains.

John F. Winter moved his grocery to the new building south of the Union hotel.

R. B. Judson is moving his furniture store to a new double building on north Main street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pedersen of Carroll, September 30, 1923.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Hammond of Johnston, Neb., October 2, 1923. Mrs. Hammond is the former Jane Randol of Wayne.

Was the territory north of O'Neill the scene of some great cataclysm millions of years ago? This question has been asked often since lights seem to appear in that region. Balls of light, numerous and brilliant, appear in the region, and cause of the ghostlike apparitions is not yet solved.

A cigaret started a fire in the Walter Savidge amusement tent and resulted in damage estimated at $700.

George Madsen has accepted a position as instructor in the University of Illinois at Champagne. He will teach engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Olson, early residents of Dixon county, were fatally injured when their car turned over near Maskell. Mr. Olson suffered a stroke while driving.

Frank Wurdinger of Sholes, died in September, 1923, in Denver.

Austin Nelson of Hartington, suffered a broken nose when he failed to dodge a football.

W. A. Crossland has been re-elected cashier of the Laurel bank.

Hobart Arnold of Concord, was treated in Sioux City by a specialist for injury to one of his eyes, splinters of steel having lodged in the member.

Mrs. V. L. Dayton of Carroll, was elected president of Wayne county W.C.T.U. convention held in Wayne.

Edwin Hypse resigned his position in the Long drug store in Wakefield and will go to California. Robert Pullen will succeed him.

Wakefield has adopted side parking to provide more room in the business district.

Evan Jenkins and Miss Gladys Babcock were married September 27, 1923, and will live at Carroll.

Frank Kesterson of Carroll, and Miss Julia Adams of Fort Calhoun, were married September 26, 1923.

Perry Brodd bought the L. W. Needham residence in Winside.

The Brodds plan to move there from their farm.

Ferdinand Kahl is building a new residence south of his own in Winside.

From the Wayne Herald for October 15, 1903: Two rural mail routes will be started out of Hoskins.

Randolph city council repealed an ordinance requiring residents to lay cement sidewalks.

A. M. Jacobs and his bride arrived from Boston . . . Mr. and Mrs. Gue moved from Winside to Denver . . . John Davis has completed a new house and barn on his farm in the west part of the county . . . Dr. J. J. Williams has let contract for a new residence south of the J. T. Bressler place . . . Wayne cemetery association bought 10 additional acres of land adjoining the cemetery . . . O. F. Jdinson died near Hoskins, October 5, 1903, aged 77 . . . Dr. Cadwell and children returned here from Dayton, Ohio, where they had gone with the prospect of locating . . . Frank Weisher of Stanton county, and Miss Anna Noernberg of Hoskins, were married in October, 1903 . . . A new barn, eight head of horses, several buggies, hay and grain were burned at the D. A. Jones farm three miles west of Wayne . . . Dr. F. Grunwald and bride, who returned to Hoskins from Kentucky, were given a reception . . . Prof. J. M. Pile goes to Fairfax, S. D., to deliver a lecture . . . John Wier returned to Orlando, Ill., after being here to look over his 1,200 acres of land . . . E. Cunningham reports that corn here will yield 35 bushels to the acre . . . Congressman J. J. McCarthy and family of Ponca, have gone to Washington, D. C., to live during the session of congress.

From the Ponca Journal for October 5, 1882: Dixon county several years ago gave bonds in the amount of $87,000 to help the railroad. Afterward the county refused to pay the bonds, suit was started and the county hired attorneys to defeat the issue. United States courts held that if such bonds are held by parties who bought them in good faith and without knowledge of the facts, they can recover from the county. They also rule that bonds not held by bona fide purchasers are not collectable. As the case stands the county will probably have to pay about half of the bonds. It is proposed to rebond the county. In such case the county will be liable for the full amount.

But It's True

THE BOTTLE OF WATER THAT WAS SEALED AND WILL NOT BE OPENED UNTIL 1978 - NOT A DROP HAS EVAPORATED!

In 1778 James Carleton of New York city sealed the bottle after making a temperance pledge. He vowed that it should not be opened for two centuries. It is now in the possession of an ancestor, Carleton Busch of Boston, Mass.

An order "to be sneezed at" left New York for the Netherlands. It was a cargo of black pepper.

A Massachusetts man had double bad luck. He was hit by one car and just afterward was run over by another.

Mrs. Lown, 62, a barge captain's wife, has not set foot on land for 30 years. Even when she was taken ill she refused to leave her boat.

The city of Salem, N. J., bought a new ladder truck for its volunteer fire department. Now it will have to have a new fire house. The truck is too big.

A bridge over the Allegheny river at Oil City, Pa., can be bought at a bargain. The Keystone Public Service company is asking a dollar. So far there are no takers.

The mystery of why the sheriff's cow ran short of milk has been solved in Princess Anne, Md. To augment their lunch, 26 grade children drained milk into paper cups.

It was hot and children in an Illinois school wanted to be dismissed so they were doubly thankful when a skunk crawled into the ventilator and school had to be dismissed.

A Los Angeles woman expressed such delight when a friend gave her a tiny ivory elephant that all her friends deluged her with elephants and she now has a collection of 307.

Farmer John Sunberg of Audubon, Ia., wishes somebody would steal his watermelons. His crop is ripening faster than he can give it away. Prices are so low, he says, he loses money if he trucks melons to town.

William A. Cousins of Alameda, Calif., received the mailed invitation of his sister to visit her but it came seven years late. To add insult to injury he had to pay the postage. The original stamp had fallen off.

A pianist was composing "In the Bluest of Moods." Neighbors in the apartment became blue. Two policemen in blue arrested the composer for disturbing the peace. The pianist was blue when he was fined $10.

Q. Z. Wist, who runs the general store and postoffice at Dutton, Ark., has a lot of oxen shoes he'd like to sell cheap. He stocked them long ago when oxen were used in the timberlands. Tractors ruined his business.

An Oklahoma woman was going to empty the drip pan under her ice box but after one look changed her mind and turned the job over to her husband. In the chilled water was a three-foot moccasin snake.

The 19,000-pound goddess of freedom, statue on the capitol in Washington, D. C., is having her face washed for the first time in four years. Soap and water are usually used but this season a special chemical is used as 75 years have been hard on her complexion. (The biggest job is cleaning the goddess' ears for they are full of birds' nests.)

The governors of Maine and Idaho competed in a 15-minute potato picking contest. The world champion, who picks 85 pecks in 15 minutes, looked on. The governors of the 46 other states refused to act as judges.

Seal Beach, Calif., boasts of its wonderful fishing. An anglers' contest was held recently with a prize offered for the largest fish caught between 7:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. F. W. Hickman won. His fish weighed nine ounces.

A man weighing 230 pounds hung from the ledge of a 9th story window in New York for 20 minutes before he could be rescued by police. People inside had tried to boost him to safety but found the weight too much.

Adam Marlediak, 64, climbed one hundred feet to the top of a water tower, then watched while a crowd gathered and police rushed to the scene. Two officers climbed half-way up and shouted to him not to jump. "I wasn't going to jump," Marlediak said. "I just climbed up here on a bet."

A Detroit man was called into court for failing to answer a reckless driving charge. The man explained that he was caring for his new-born baby. "How much does the baby weigh?" questioned the judge. "Same as any new-born baby, about 17 pounds," was the reply. The judge gave the man five days.

A jury in Kentucky decided a man being tried was guilty of manslaughter, but when the verdict was read the defendant was freed. The jury chairman had written her name opposite the "dismissal" column instead of the "guilty of manslaughter" column, and the judge ruled that the verdict must stand.

Mrs. X got $40 from her husband for a trip. On the train she found the money missing from her pocketbook. Mrs. X suspected another woman traveler, looked in her purse, saw more than $40, took what she thought was her $40 and figured she foiled a thief. When she returned home Mrs. X was informed by her husband that she had left the $40 on the dressing table.

Premium Checks Are Distributed

Amount Allotted Is Divided According to Points Schools Earned.

Checks for fair premiums were distributed to teachers Saturday by Supt. F. B. Decker. The money is to be used for first aid supplies, playground equipment or some other needed articles which the school is not required by law to furnish.

To compute the amount paid for awards, the total allotted to the educational department was divided by the number of points earned, and this allowed $1/2¢ per point. Exhibits rating superior or earned five points or 27 1/2%; excellent, three points, 16 1/2%; and good, one point, 8 1/2%.

The districts and their premium sums are as follows: District 2, 33c; 3, $1.98; 4, 93c; 5, $1.75; 6, $1.10; 7, $1.10; 8, $1.10; 9, $1.10; 10, $1.10; 11, $1.10; 12, $1.10; 13, $1.10; 14, $1.10; 15, $1.10; 16, $1.10; 17, $1.10; 18, $1.10; 19, $1.10; 20, $1.10; 21, $1.10; 22, $1.10; 23, $1.10; 24, $1.10; 25, $1.10; 26, $1.10; 27, $1.10; 28, $1.10; 29, $1.10; 30, $1.10; 31, $1.10; 32, $1.10; 33, $1.10; 34, $1.10; 35, $1.10; 36, $1.10; 37, $1.10; 38, $1.10; 39, $1.10; 40, $1.10; 41, $1.10; 42, $1.10; 43, $1.10; 44, $1.10; 45, $1.10; 46, $1.10; 47, $1.10; 48, $1.10; 49, $1.10; 50, $1.10; 51, $1.10; 52, $1.10; 53, $1.10; 54, $1.10; 55, $1.10; 56, $1.10; 57, $1.10; 58, $1.10; 59, $1.10; 60, $1.10; 61, $1.10; 62, $1.10; 63, $1.10; 64, $1.10; 65, $1.10; 66, $1.10; 67, $1.10; 68, $1.10; 69, $1.10; 70, $1.10; 71, $1.10; 72, $1.10; 73, $1.10; 74, $1.10; 75, $1.10; 76, $1.10; 77, $1.10; 78, $1.10; 79, $1.10; 80, $1.10; 81, $1.10; 82, $1.10; 83, $1.10; 84, $1.10; 85, $1.10; 86, $1.10; 87, $1.10; 88, $1.10; 89, $1.10; 90, $1.10; 91, $1.10; 92, $1.10; 93, $1.10; 94, $1.10; 95, $1.10; 96, $1.10; 97, $1.10; 98, $1.10; 99, $1.10; 100, $1.10.

Paper Issued in Pleasant Valley

"Who's Who in Pleasant Valley" is the name of the four-page bulletin issued by district 69 under direction of Miss Loizein Baird. The front bears lines from the poem, "September," by Helen Hunt Jackson. On it also is a drawing by Melvin Otte, this showing that it is dangerous for an airplane to do stunt flying over a city.

The paper tells that the school had been cleaned, fresh curtains hung and the lawn mowed before the term opened.

The school entered a float in the fair parade and took third place. The exhibit earned 30 points.

The X bar, The X Boys at the Strange Rodeo, The Picnic, Honey Bunch and The First Big Parade are new books bought to be read for opening exercises.

Lois Simonin treated teacher and pupils to candy September 6 for her 8th birthday.

In honor of Melvin Otte's 12th birthday, Mrs. Enli Ott entertained pupils and teacher, also Helen Mann, Alice Grone, Iona Heikes, Harold Gathje, Stanley and Lois Gamble, Lowell and Dewayne Rethwisch, Mrs. Henry Rethwisch and Darlene, Mrs. W. J. Simonin and Carol, Mrs. Henry Brinkman and Mrs. Adolph Clausen. Mrs. Otte served luncheon.

Dolores Baird was a visitor September 1; Leona Barner, Alice Grone and Phyllis Bolton, September 15; Iona Heikes, Bernita Otte, Alice Grone and Phyllis Bolton, September 18.

Perfect attendance records for the month were earned by Rayoma Heikes, Don Simonin, Arthur Grone, Melvin Otte, Lowell Mann, Marilyn Gamble, Marilyn Clausen, Avelyn Clausen, Gene Clausen and Bob Simonin.

Bob Simonin, the only beginner, can count to 100 and he has read several stories in the book, Dick and Jane.

A poem on safety and fire prevention, written by Rayoma Heikes, is published in the bulletin. Also in the paper is a song written by Arthur Grone.

District 86. (Ethel Fredrickson, teacher.) Four of five pupils have had perfect attendance for the first month of school.

One of the beginners broke an arm before the term opened. A new cob house was built this summer to replace the one destroyed by storm last spring. Inside of the school was painted, floors oiled and curtains washed and ironed.

District 87. (Luella A. Meyer, teacher.) The school room was freshly painted and papered, fresh curtains hung at the windows and the grounds cleaned when 24 pupils enrolled, and all are grateful to those who did the work.

Many new books and a new sand table have been added. Safety posters were made by 8th graders to illustrate the codes studied.

Miss Helen Anderson of California, was a visitor.

District 7. (Jeanette Stuve, teacher.) Pupils and teacher enjoyed a wicker roast September 25. They also celebrated the birthday of Glenn Longe who furnished candy bars as treats.

Bob McQuistan, 8th grader, joined the 4-H club, entering his calf at the Thurston county fair and taking second place. He took his calf to Sioux City and received a good price for it.

Pupils receiving 90 or above in spelling are Charles McGuire and Robert Thomsen; in language, Mary Ann Puls, Mamie Thomsen, Darlene Utecht, Donald Longe, Joy Fanning, Larry McQuistan, Marilyn Carlson and Peggy McQuistan; English, Robert Thomsen and Joan McQuistan.

District 21. (Virgine Missett, teacher.) Apex Booster club met September 14 with Mrs. Roy Neary, president, in charge. New officers elected are: President, Mrs. Erwin Ulrich; vice president, Mrs. Neary; secretary, Miss Missett; treasurer, Fred Schroeder. Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, Mrs. Fred Schroeder and Mrs. W. J. Missett have charge of the refreshments and Edwin Ulrich, Miss Lucille Schroeder and Ted Montgomery have the program for November 10. Refreshments at the first meeting were served by Mrs. Edwin Ulrich and Mrs. Erwin McMillan.

The school house and yard were in excellent condition for the new term.

Several geography, history, arithmetic and reading texts, also a new soft ball and bat were purchased.

Joyce Irene and Marlene Montgomery brought flowers to brighten the room.

Darlene Meierhenry plays marches for dismissals. Mrs. Aug. Meierhenry visited September 21.

Arthur, Ulrich presented the school with a flower stand which he made and exhibited at the fair.

Perfect attendance records for the first month were earned by Marian and Marvin Schroeder, Darlene and Melvin Meierhenry, Lila May and Duane Neary, Hazel Ulrich and Dwight Ulrich.

HEALTH INSPECTION IS NOW COMPLETE

Health inspection of all pupils in rural districts has been completed and defects of eyes, teeth or hearing reported to parents who are urged to have troubles corrected by visiting a doctor.

Gives Impressions Of School Visits

County Supt. F. B. Decker has been visiting schools the past week. Among the things that impressed him in those visited were the following: District 20, bright colored Indians decorating the walls and a good posture program being carried out; 88, Mrs. Ella Holmes, fine informal class recitations; 19, Miss Lois Curtis, model farm built on sand table; 43, Miss Virginia Sandahl, nice pictures on walls and the five-gallon milk can which has been converted into a waste basket by use of paint; 10, Miss Malinda Stuthman, individual lockers for lunch pails; 69, Miss Loizein Baird, cheerful atmosphere created by insulating board ceiling with harmonizing wall paper; 71, Miss Lueen Barnes, fine large cut-out portrayal of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," also fair exhibits with awards displayed; 18, Miss Edith Sals, bright bits of art work, excellent map study work and reading contest; 45, Miss Esther Schulz, general neat appearance due to nice art work, contest charts and new insulation board throughout the interior; 87, Miss Leona Granquist, very good penmanship and art display; 26, Miss Bernadine Meyer, scrap books based on individual hobbies of children and wood cut-outs of animals and birds.

Attractive Paper Is Made at Bell

"Bell School News," an attractive 18-page booklet telling about the opening of school in district 6, taught by Miss Mary Noelle, and some of the activities was issued last week. The cover bears a colored drawing of the bell school with children starting off the term. Each page is decorated with a silver bell tied in blue. Photographs on inside pages introduce the reader to members of the school, also show how the county fair float, "Sweet Land of Liberty," looked for the parade.

A directory of the 18 pupils appears on an early page. Listed among the honor students, those with averages of 90 or above, are Fannell Palmer, Mildred Johnson, Carroll and Conroy Munson. Perfect attendance records for the month were earned by Derald Nimrod, Fannell Palmer, Ardith Ann Victor, Eugene Lund, John Suber, Mildred Johnson, Carroll Munson, Conroy Munson and Marvin Nimrod.

The booklet lists the class of 1940, which includes Mildred Johnson, Carroll and Conroy Munson, Marvin Nimrod, Darleen Roberts and Lawrence Sundell. Blue and silver are the class colors, and "Every Cloud Has a Silvery Lining" is the motto.

Among the news items in the issue is stated that the school house and yard were nicely cleaned for the new term, and new supplies received.

Pupils of group four made the booklet as an English project with art work done by Carroll and Conroy Munson. They also decorated the blackboard.

All pupils are enrolled in the harmonica and rhytm band. They are also working for Palmer penmanship pins and finding pictures and items for the bulletin board.

"The Leaves' Lullaby" is a new song for opening exercises, and all are enjoying hearing "Tom Sawyer" read at this period.

Pupils have practiced the drill and have learned how to use the extinguisher.

Two ball teams have been organized for diversion at recess.

Poems urging fire prevention and words set to music in safety first program were written by pupils of this district. Especially good poems on fire prevention were by Conroy Munson and Carroll Munson of the 6th grade, and those on safety were by Darleen Roberts and Mildred Johnson of the 8th grade, and Helen Erlanson of the 7th grade.

District 28, South. (Helen Iversen, teacher.) Dorothea Andersen, Elaine Lettmann, Virginia Lettmann, Leslie Niemann, Marian Niemann and Warren Holtgrew had perfect attendance the first month. Absences were due to illness.

Health examinations showed that Francis Herikens and Mary Alice Wylie were without physical defects.

Every pupil received a superior or excellent rating on the county fair exhibit.

District 66. (Elvira Schroeder, teacher.) All grades from 2nd to 8th are represented by seven pupils.

School was cleaned, curtains washed and ironed, floor oiled and yard mowed and raked.

Little Elephant's Christmas, Thimble Summer, The Seventh Scout, Peter and Nancy in Mexico, and Donald Duck and His Friends are new library books. Other new books are History of Our Nation for 5th and 6th grades; Lower, Middle and Higher Essentials of English and Stull & Hatch Geographies for 7th and 8th.

A farm scene has been made for the sand table.

Posters of the defenders of the constitution were made to observe Constitution Day.

District 48. (Dorothy Lutt, teacher.) School grounds were cleaned for the new term.

Autumn posters and window decorations have been made in art.

The 3rd, 4th and 5th grades had comprehension tests in reading.

Those with perfect attendance records the first month are James and Cyril Hansen, Jack and Dolores Otte, Donna and Ronald Day, Lester Hansen, Donaldabell and Delores Rosacker.

A stove, reading and language books, set of World Book Encyclopedias and curtains are among the new equipment.

Health and spelling contests will be conducted during October with prizes for those with perfect scores.

Marion Kruse, Leona Hansen and Mildred Young were visitors.

Bulletin Issued Is Named The Beacon

"The Beacon" is the name of the four-page bulletin issued by the 15 pupils of district 20, taught by Mrs. Elvira Sullivan. The cover of the September edition bears the picture of the school and two little girls jumping rope. Inside is a drawing of a little boy tumbling off to school because he is determined not to be tardy.

First graders have mastered 40 words and are reading. Lowell Rethwisch received 100 in two geography tests. He earned three A's for the month.

All grades studied safety and some made posters. Some of the rules learned are: Obey signals; watch for red light; stop, look, listen; walk on the left side of the road; do not play in the road; keep matches in a tin container and out of reach of children.

Jack Beale, John Finn, Lois Temme and Supt. F. B. Decker were visitors.

Freehand alphabets were made in art.

Distribute Tests To Check Progress

Quarterly examinations prepared to fit the rural course of study were distributed Saturday to teachers attending institute. These may be used by each teacher as she sees fit. They enable her to check her own progress as well as that of students. Since all teachers grade work differently, the results of these will not be sent to the county superintendent's office.

Advantage Gained In Book Exchange

County Supt. F. B. Decker has received a number of school library books for exchange. Rural teachers may bring their books in and exchange them with teachers which their school does not have.

Miss Mabel Dayton, Mrs. Decker a number of magazines which will be useful to schools. Others who have magazines which they no longer care for may leave them at Mr. Decker's office for distribution to rural districts.

District 45. (Esther Schulz, teacher.) Interior of the school looks bright and clean as walls and ceiling were redecorated. A new piano is enjoyed every day in learning songs. Five of the 20 pupils are beginners.

The 3rd and 4th graders made an Eskimo border. Darrel Campbell and Spahr have climbed the top of the spelling wall by receiving 100 for the week.

District 11. (Ethel Tibbles, teacher.) A number of new books were received for the 26 pupils. The 8th graders have new Building Our Nation histories and Stull & Hatch geographies. A new floor mat was also bought. Betty Ann Voss treated teacher and pupils to candy for her 6th birthday.

Upper grades have a new bulletin board for current event clippings. All grades made safety posters.

Esther Ritze and Gustav Hank were visitors. Patrons' day will be held soon.

District 24, North. (Norma Ersee, teacher.) New library books are being enjoyed. Upper grades finished safety posters for health in connection with a study of safety.

Lower grades drew ships like the one Columbus used in a study of the explorer. In a health contest pupils are in two groups. The captain for each side is a make-believe squirrel who is storing nuts for the winter. If pupils on each side get a perfect health inspection, each side staves a nut for the winter.

In art pupils are decorating the school in autumn colors to harmonize with the season.

District 42. (Ray Foster, teacher.) School building had been thoroughly cleaned and curtains freshly laundered before school opened. The yard was mowed. New supplies have been received.

Billy Harrison, Yana Harrison, Merlyn Kay and Harold Wagemann had perfect attendance for the first month of school.

Mrs. John Kay treated pupils and teacher to watermelon September 18.

Mrs. Russell Harrison served luncheon to all September 22 for the birthdays of Billy and Yana Harrison. Besides pupils and teacher, those present were Mrs. Harry Wagemann, Mrs. Carl Swanson, Mrs. John Kay, Miss Vernetta Kay and Mrs. Russell Harrison.

Hold Institute For Teachers

Helpful Suggestions Are Given by Instructors Here Saturday.

Wayne county rural teachers received much inspiration from a one-day institute held at the court house here Saturday. County Supt. F. B. Decker was in charge. All but one of the 80 teachers attended, this being Miss Lois Curtis of Royal, who was taken ill with mastoid trouble and had to undergo an operation.

Mrs. Maybell Thompson Mason of Norfolk, who instructed in art, stated that this work need not be expensive. She urged teachers to use inexpensive materials at hand, such as newspapers, pieces of wood, corks, etc., for art work. She also suggested connecting art with seasons, using greens in spring, browns and yellows in fall, etc.

Miss Dorothy Tewell of Norfolk, who gave reading helps, quoted figures to show that the greatest number of failures are due to inability to read well. There is a tendency to start children reading too young and to expect too much of them. She suggested classifying students into groups according to reading ability rather than according to their grades. She urged encouragement of reading for pleasure with library books and newspapers.

Helpful hints in penmanship were given by Miss Fay Gordon of Norfolk. Rural teachers have an advantage in this line for they can keep pupils using good penmanship methods in all classes. Miss Gordon said writing is one of the most used skills and yet is most neglected. She suggested taking samples of writing periodically to compare in determining progress.

Next to reading, arithmetic is the most useful of subjects, stated Prof. A. V. Teed who spoke of helpful hints in teaching this. Repetition of changed ideas, arithmetic is necessary through life and a good foundation in it is important.

Prof. H. H. Hanscom helped rural teachers sing the rural choir songs for the year and gave suggestions how to teach them. He also explained how inexpensive rhythm band instruments could be made.

Prof. A. F. Gulliver, representative of the N.E.A., took signatures for memberships. Teachers who send these to Lincoln at once will receive the October issue of the Nebraska Educational Journal which has convention plans for October 26 and 27.

Fair work was distributed. Such work that is not taken within three weeks will be destroyed.

Seals for the Christmas sale, starting at Thanksgiving, were distributed to save mailing them.

District 10. (Malinda Stuthman, teacher.) The school was cleaned, curtains laundered and floor oiled for the new term. Several books were added.

Two of the 12 pupils are beginners. Merrill Bher, one of the beginners, was absent four days because of a foot injury. Robert Foote was absent two days when he had tonsils removed. Dean Meyer was out two days to be in Sioux City for the inter-state stock show.

Safety posters have been made in art.

Robert and Marion Foote and Deaf Meyer observed their birthdays the past month.

District 60. (Frances Langenberg, teacher.) The school house had been nicely cleaner, floors oiled, sash curtains laundered, new shades added at the windows and the chimney plastered when school opened.

At the close of the first month 13 of 15 pupils have had perfect attendance records. All had vacation September 8 for the fair.

A new set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedias is interesting students. A new flag flies from the staff this year, and other new supplies have been added.

Leonard Wiese treated pupils and teacher to fudge roll September 22 for his 14th birthday. Shipley Wittler furnished a watermelon treat September 26 for her 7th birthday. Both now belong to the Birthday club and have colored their cakes.

Monthly Journal In School Paper

September issue of the "Monthly Journal," issued by pupils of district 1 and Miss Ila Gildersleeve has on the cover of the four pages a drawing of an American eagle by Melvin Korn.

Neil Grimm is editor of the school paper; Melvin Korn, artist; Dorothy Helgren, Esther Korn, Harold Korn and Gordon Helgren, reporters; Norman Korn, jokes and riddles editor.

Included in the paper is a list of the 11 pupils, their ages, birthdays, height and weight. All had perfect attendance the first month.

Among visitors the past month were Donna Jean Granquist, September 1; Eugene and Warren Helgren, who finished last year, and Mrs. Aaron Helgren, September 15; Mary Alice Gildersleeve, September 7; Royce and Betty Jo Gildersleeve, September 19.

The school house and cave were thoroughly cleaned, floors oiled and new green curtains hung at the windows this fall. A swarm of bees that chose the school house for a home, had to be smoked out.

Melvin Korn celebrated his 13th birthday September 6 when he treated others with a cake decorated in yellow and green. The birthday song was sung for him.

School was dismissed afternoons of September 7 and 8 for the fair. The school float took 4th in the contest. "Let Freedom Ring" was the theme of the red, white and blue entry. The school earned 20 points on exhibits.

New library books bought this year are The Stone Age People, Wings of the Navy, Honey Bunch's First Trip in a Trailer, Chubby and Stubby, A Merry Scout, Five Little Peppers and How They Grew, Lardy and White Saddle.

The Dairy Maids, The Mulberry Bush, The Frog and The Mouse are new songs learned.

First aid has been studied in connection with health by 8th graders, who learned about bandages, treatment of wounds and care of patients. Pupils worked with each other. They learned that if blood spurts from a wound an artery has been cut and the doctor should be called and tourniquet applied until he arrives. In case of fainting the head should be placed lower than the rest of the body, plenty of fresh air provided and cold water dashed onto the patient.

Ring toss is a new game all enjoy. Nails were pounded into a board and numbered. Jar rubbers are thrown to the nails and scores kept. This gives practice in adding.

Primary pupils drew stick figures in art; 5th and 6th graders made safety posters in connection with health, also color charts using butterflies of colored paper; 8th graders made scenery pictures in crayola and are now working on notebook covers. Two new boxes of water-colors were bought for the school.

Charles Peters, 1st grader, counts to 100 and can write to 10.

Riddles and jokes are included in the school paper.

District 88. (Ella Cary Holmes, teacher.) The 15 pupils had perfect attendance record for the first month.

Mrs. Chas. McConnell donated 35 volumes to the school library. School was dismissed afternoons of the fair.

Richard Boyce gave a candy treat September 10 for his 11th birthday.

Jacqueline Haas was the first visitor.

Karol Lou Kay brought to school a potted plant for which the 2nd graders will care.

Darlene Ellis; Mary Holmes and Jenibel Briggs visited September 22. Jenibel gave a report of her trip this summer through the Black Hills.

All went to the fair grounds September 22 for a roller skating party.

Bette Jeanne Miller sang and told a story when she visited September 15.

Supt. F. B. Decker visited September 22.

Norma Powers was elected president of the Good English club. Other officers are: Charles Kay, vice president; Donald Boyce, secretary; and Richard Powers, treasurer.

Donald Boyce won the kite contest held Friday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Kay was the first patron to visit. There were 20 guests the first month.

Ten-Page School Bulletin Issued

"School Day Echo," the 10-page school paper issued by Sholes pupils, has for the cover of its September issue a drawing of a bunch of grapes. On the staff are: Editor, Zona Miller; associate editor, Elvera Obst; proof readers, Charles Peters and Ida Mae Williams; art editor, Hazel Peters and Betty Rhode; business managers, Emrys Samuelson and Leroy Bartling; poetry, Dorothy Whalen; miscellaneous, Donna Landberg and Lola Griener; sports, Wendell Eddie and Wayne Tietgen; junior-senior, Alfred Griener and O. J. Jones; freshman-sophomore, Donald Kuhl and Martine Kenny; junior high, Miss Nova Riggs; primary, Miss Minnie Larsen; and sponsor, Miss Irma Nelson.

The edition contains editorials, class notes, poetry, jokes, cartoons, advertisements.

Winside Department of The Wayne Herald

Miss Miriam Huse of the Herald Staff is editor of this department. She will visit Winside every Monday. Any news contributions to these columns from town or country will be gladly received by her. She is also authorized to receive new or renewal subscriptions.

CONGRESS

AN ORE BY KABL STEFAN

Members of the house of representatives are told that there will be no vote in the house on the neutrality bill until some time in October. Because of the house having acted upon the so-called Bloom bill last June, the consideration of neutrality legislation proposals in the extraordinary session was initiated by the senate.

The Senate committee has, in effect, struck out all of the language of the original bill, following the enacting clause, and tentatively written a new bill. The revised measure provides for the repeal of the controversial embargo on arms, munitions and implements of war, and carries six other particular propositions. Debate in the senate will likely extend over many days. However, senate opponents of the measure say that there will be no filibuster. The nature of the bill that the house will ultimately be called upon to consider in the light of changed conditions, now, as compared to early last summer, will be determined largely, if not wholly, by the kind of bill sent back to the house by the senate.

Every member has thousands of letters from his constituents. An overwhelming majority urge retention of the arms embargo and demand strict neutrality. Those writing for repeal as well as those advising against repeal, demand that members assure them that the United States will not again go to war. Very few senators or representatives want any more war. The president has repeatedly stated he is against war. No one really knows what will happen should the arms embargo be repealed. Many of those favoring repeal point to the fact that unemployment would be eliminated and business would be good if we repealed the embargo and start all factories making munitions of war. Very few say anything about the second depression that will follow peace if and when peace comes to the world again.

The desks of members are piled high with all kinds of propaganda mail and each day every office is crowded with visitors talking for and against the arms embargo and neutrality. Some of the bolder lobbyists come out openly for our active participation in the war against Germany. They believe we should take sides. Others who sympathize with the democracies fear that showing preference, is the surest way to war involvement.

Many house members are going home again. They are told by their leaders that there will be no legislation in the house while the senate is wrestling with the neutrality bill. They are told the house will recess every three days and that should something unforeseen occur they will be notified in advance. So many are going home to talk to their constituents. Many are remaining to attend conferences and reply to the thousands of letters which flood their desks. Steve Bolles, a member from Wisconsin, has the most letters. He replied to 11,000 last Saturday and still has ten thousand to answer. The number in the Third Nebraska district office has reached 3,000 and all will be replied to. It will be physically impossible to reply individually and a form letter reply will have to be resorted to.

While the house members are marking time, the folks at home should know that if a vote on war was taken today, less than 90 members in the house would vote for war. The guess, also, is that if a vote was taken in both houses, today, the president would win his desired repeal of the arms embargo. What the public sentiment will be in October when the vote is taken is another matter. Public sentiment in America usually rules.

The accomplishments, thus far, of efforts prevail upon the farm credit administration to mitigate demands upon farm mortgages in the drought areas, may be summarized as follows: It is conceded that the aggravated conditions in these areas must be thoroughly restudied and a policy to fit the conditions must be worked out and applied. While this study is in progress and until it is completed, all foreclosures are stopped except the cases involving bad faith, abandonment of the security or other circumstances contributing to waste. There will be a "standstill" on principal and interest payment on second mortgage commission loans until return of revenue makes resumption of payments possible. All cases of reported hardship of first mortgage federal land bank borrowers will be accorded sympathetic study by the land bank and if the circumstances merit, money in a revolving fund previously provided by congress will be applied to delinquent and accruing principal and interest installments to keep borrowers' loan records current and the borrowers will be afforded an extension of time at the end of their contract obligation to make up these payments. All distressed borrowers desiring to avail

Sixty Years Ago

A gang of marauders, headed by Doc Middleton, hid out in north-east Nebraska 60 years ago, the Devil's Nest being reported as their favorite spot, according to the Northern Nebraska Journal published at Ponca. Their maneuverings led officials to send a body of detectives in search of them. The issue of 1879 reports that the detectives and the Middleton gang had a desperate fight on one of the branches of the Long Pine, near the Niobrara river. A well-laid scheme for the capture of the outlaw and his band had been perfected. The detectives, after a long chase, came upon one of the party, drew a "fine bead" on Middleton and probably would have terminated the desperado's career forever had not the weapon failed to go off. This gave the outlaws the advantage and they returned the fire with interest. After a number of shots, the smoke cleared and it was found that the effects were disastrous alike to detectives and outlaws. One detective had three shots but none dangerous. He escaped to a belt of timber and eluded pursuit until he reached Columbus. A second went for a detachment of soldiers 40 miles away. The others reached safety. Middleton was most seriously wounded, a bullet entering his right groin and lodging in the thigh bone. As he was unable to escape or be removed, his followers encamped with him. Middleton was in hopeless condition but was guarded by 60 friends who came from all quarters. It was said he could rally 200 more. Detective Llewellyn was given authority to take any detachment of soldiers to attack the gang and he planned to do so. The reward placed on Middleton was $2,000.

Gillan and Armstrong members of a desperate gang, escaped jail in Dawson county and were reported having gone north to join Doc Middleton's gang of horse thieves. They left a note saying they escaped jail because it was not a fit place for a white man. The jail was partly underground and water rose through the brick floor. Blankets were saturated with dampness from the cells. One cannot stay there and maintain health, the desperadoes said, and they preferred to struggle for life and liberty rather than die the death of a dog in a filthy den or from some disease almost sure to be contracted there.

A fight was reported in progress in Montana between General Miles' troops and 300 hostiles under Sitting Bull.

Omaha militia were provided with uniforms 60 years ago so that they might make a more definite impression on Indians in this territory.

Report from Lincoln stated that tramps had overrun that city and threatened to destroy property if they were not treated kindly.

So it was 60 years ago. Desperate groups furnished threats that are little known of today.
