

From Ill Will Heightens Content — Nebraska County Announces Fair Program — Retires from Office — Impositions — Getting Boys and Girls on Right Track — Young at 80 — Snow, Then Rain — Emptiness of a Grin — Bestowing Federal Funds.

A professional man tells us how much richer he feels and how much better he can function when he banishes suspicion and hatred. He explains that when he lifts himself to a plane of good will, thinking noble human qualities rather than magnifying evil ones, he becomes supremely content. It is not always easy to exalt one's thinking in the presence of cross currents of misrepresentations, evident contradictions, broken pledges and petty strife and self-seeking, but these may be forced aside as the by-products of frailty, besieged by feverish social and economic disorder. When one is nettled by inconsistencies or runs upward shafts of what seem ugly motives, he may reasonably modify inclination to resentment or retaliation by sounding the source and circumstances.

Big Fair Despite Drouth. The Custer county fair, located in the live county seat of Broken Bow, has announced its program for 1940, and a circus afterwards and a revue evenings will be main attractions. The Chief, published in Broken Bow, says the cost of the program will exceed $5,000. Free admission to the grounds, introduced last year, will be followed again this year with charges to the grandstand of 40 cents for adults and 20 cents for children under 14. A previous charge of 50 cents for each automobile has been reduced to 25 cents.

Death does not seem to hinder Custer county's spirit of enterprise. It has dry weather when other sections are dry as well as when other parts are wet. It is used to drouth and seems able to adjust itself to it. Custer is one of the big counties of the state.

College Project Contracts Near Final Touches

Blinds and Mirrors Are Now In Place—Local Man Awarded Contract.

Work has been progressing steadily on furniture and equipment contracts on the Council hall project. Deliveries on two contracts have been completed, the venetian blinds have been put in place and the general contractor has substantially completed the principal construction contract, according to the resident engineer's report to the Public Works administration.

Last of the 150 venetian blinds were put in place Wednesday by Jack Dawson, foreman for the Theobald Lumber Co., which held the contract. This number includes shades for the remodeled cafeteria.

During the past week the installation of the large plate glass mirror in the student lounge was completed. The mirror is full-length, wider than a double door opening and consists of a main piece of flesh-colored mirror with a blue mirror border. The whole is trimmed in heavy bronze.

The mirror job completed the work of Contractor John L. Soderberg except for certain items of corrective work and adjustments. First deliveries were made on contract 10 this week. Now on the site are two student lounge settees of chrome metal frames with reversible spring filled seats and back cushions of "Tuflex," a leather-like material. Two student lounge club chairs to match also have been delivered.

In bids taken last Friday, Ray H. Surber of Wayne was low for furnishing two faculty lounge davenport and two chairs to match. S. N. Wolbach Sons of Grand Island was low for carpeting for the student lounge. On other items the bids were either too high or the sufficient number of bids were not received to qualify for a PWA letting. On these items a new bidding date is to be set.

TOWN MEETING IS REVIVED TO GAIN LARGER FACT BASE

BOAKE CARTER, columnist, says communities are reinstating the old-fashioned town meeting as a way to reach the truth in public affairs. Face-to-face with speakers, people may ask questions and determine from answers and attitudes the facts or lack of facts in statements made. Carter points to the country—the small communities—as the real and dependable source of resistance to threats of abridged liberties in America. The hurrying big cities may be indifferent to lurking dangers, but not the rural areas where inhabitants are better informed and more clearly awake. Carter says the real individualist is in the country. Any proposed dictatorship would meet an impassable barrier in the independent thinking and decisive action among farm communities. They appreciate the American system, and they will be alert to preserve it. They are for progress, but not for change that would blow up what has been accomplished in more than 150 years of experience.

Suicide Motive Of Official Is Still Mystery

Seemed in Good Frame of Mind When Seen by Wayne Man.

Motives which led State Sheriff Wm. F. Flake of Lincoln to take his own life at an Omaha hotel Monday afternoon have not yet been solved by officers. H. H. Hachmeier of Wayne, who was probably the last man with whom the officer visited, reported the sheriff in good frame of mind early Monday morning.

Mr. Flake and Mr. Hachmeier had been together some over the week-end when the latter was attending a convention in the city. Hachmeier and his son started home about 4 Monday morning and Mr. Flake accompanied them to the garage. Flake took the key to the room Hachmeiers had had and went there to sleep.

Norfolk Doctor To Speak Here

Dr. G. L. Sandritter Will Give Four Addresses Before Group.

Dr. G. L. Sandritter, psychiatrist at Norfolk state hospital, has been secured by Wayne city school Parent-Teacher association to give a series of four addresses in Wayne. The college high Parent-Teacher group and others interested are invited to hear these. Tentatively it is planned that these will deal with the infant, child, adolescent and adult.

The first address in Wayne will be Monday evening, February 26, at 7:30 at the city school. Dr. Sandritter lectures widely in Norfolk and other points. He is now giving a series of 12 addresses for the Norfolk Parent-Teacher group.

Candidate Files For Legislature

William A. Crossland, Wayne attorney, announces that he has filed as a candidate for member of the legislature from the 16th district, comprising Wayne, Stanton and Colfax counties.

Mr. Crossland was born in Wayne and was graduated from the Wayne high school. He is also a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan university, Lincoln, and at present a trustee of that institution. He received his A. M. from Washington university, St. Louis, and was graduated from the college of law, University of Nebraska.

For some years Mr. Crossland was cashier of the State Bank of Laurel, and later served on the legal staff of the department of banking before entering the general practice of law. He is the son of Mrs. George W. Crossland of Wayne, is an ex-serviceman and a member of the American Legion.

New Wayne City School Project Ready For Audit

Adjustments Are Out of the Way to Permit Final Settlement.

A ruling of the architect which was received here Wednesday was in favor of the Wayne city school district in the matter of a small difference between the figures on the floor covering contract. But what was more important to the district was the fact that the decision paved the way for the request for a final Public Works administration audit, which had been delayed since January 13 due to the dispute.

Pick Directors For Project at Election Polls

Power District Will Hold Annual Meeting Here Next Tuesday.

Directors for Wayne county power district will be chosen on the non-political ballot at the next election. When the district was set up two years ago six directors were named. The plan provides that two will be elected each two years for terms of six years. This year two will be selected for four years and two for six years, thus putting the arrangement into operation. Terms of Albert Watson, Lawrence Ring, Lyle Marvitz and J. G. Sweigard expire, and those of A. G. Sydow and Ed. Grubb continue for two more years. All voters in Wayne county excepting those in Wayne cast ballots in this election.

The last day on which candidates for the office of director in the power district may file is February 29. The filing fee of $10 is paid to the county treasurer and the filing is then presented to the county clerk who will issue papers showing that the candidate has filed for the office.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors was held Tuesday evening. At this plans were made to hold the annual meeting next Tuesday afternoon, February 13. A plan for financing of electric brooder purchases by customers of the district was adopted.

Farm homes now receiving electricity from the district's lines number 225. Staking has been completed on 70 miles of line to be built this spring under the second allotment contract.

Funds for Finns Are Being Raised

SCOUT LEADER IS SPEAKER AT NOON SESSION OF CLUB

THIS is boy scout week, and the occasion was remembered by the Kiwanis club at its noonday luncheon Monday by a talk from Prof. K. N. Parke, a veteran in the scout movement. He explained that the scout organization which originated in England, was started in America thirty years ago. The movement spread rapidly, and youths everywhere joined the ranks and benefited by the training. The speaker quoted a New York judge as saying no Eagle scout had ever appeared in his court. Mr. Parke has been active in scout leadership for twenty-seven years, and he is fully convinced of the organization's genuine value in fashioning future citizenship.

Plan Recreation Center in Wayne

Arrange City Hall Room as Headquarters for Games To Be Supervised.

Through the project sponsored by Wayne city council in cooperation with a state-wide WPA program, a recreation center will be established in Wayne. The city furnishes the room, heat, light and equipment, and WPA funds pay directors who will be chosen soon. The large room on the second floor of the old city hall is being renovated and redecorated and is to be made a large game room. Such games as ping pong, checkers, chess, Chinese checkers, cards and shuffle board will be provided. A portion of the room will be a cozy corner in which those who do not wish to play may rest. The time for opening the rooms will be announced soon.

The spring and summer programs will be supervised play in Wayne's parks. Baseball, soft ball, tennis, shuffle board and horseshoe will then be arranged. The city urges everyone to visit the recreation center and especially to invite rural folks to enjoy it. This is a community project sponsored by the state board of control.

Mrs. Henrietta Froistad of Norfolk, recreation supervisor, was in Wayne Friday in the interest of the new center. She met with the local recreation council, consisting of H. D. Addison, chairman, F. B. Decker, A. T. Cavanaugh, M. L. Ringer, Mrs. L. W. Needham and Mrs. L. W. McNat. Persons having furniture or games which they care to donate

Food Stamp Plan Being Proposed In Five Countries

May Arrange Federal Set-up In Northeast Nebraska For Relief Groups.

The proposed federal food stamp plan, which has as its objectives the reducing of surplus food commodities and providing additional relief for low income groups, was explained at a meeting in the auditorium here last evening. Lincoln and Lancaster county anti-Omaha and Douglas county are to give the plan a try. A limited number of other set-ups will test the arrangement, and it is proposed to combine Wayne, Stanton, Madison, Pierce and Knox counties in such a plan. No one county could establish the plan alone. The five would be supervised from one office.

As explained here last evening by Paul Messer, Chamber of Commerce secretary from Norfolk, the proposal is for families receiving any form of assistance payments—old age, child welfare, etc.—to buy orange colored food stamps which may be used to purchase any food commodity. For every $1 worth of these stamps bought, the person will receive free 50¢ worth of blue stamps with which they may buy food commodities that will reduce food surpluses. These stamps will be used only for groceries.

The advantage to the client, according to the explanation, is that he will obtain more for his money. The advantage to the merchant is that clients have more money for other things. Because a limited number of the stamp plan projects will be set up, it was urged last night that people writing to Congressman Carl Stefan asking that the five northeast Nebraska counties be included.

About 963 in Wayne county, approximately 10 per cent of the population, would be affected if such a program were instituted. These would include 192 getting old age assistance, 48 dependent children, 2 blind, 605 WPA, 15 children.

Improvements Are Made at Hospital

Extensive improvements are nearing completion at the Wayne hospital. Three additional ward rooms with three beds each have been provided. One is a semi-basement room which has been built beneath the south porch. Another is over the heating plant, this being an addition to the west at the north end of the hospital. The former dining room has been converted into the third ward room. Equipment in the large kitchen has been made more compact so that this room also serves as a dining room. The steam heating system has been extended for each of the new ward rooms. The entire interior of the hospital has been repainted, and Venetian blinds have been installed throughout.

Student Council Grants Charters

Records Are Made by Many First Semester; Class To Present Play.

Wayne high school student council adopted a form for chartering student organizations, at a meeting Tuesday. Any new organization will send representatives before the council to explain its purpose and the council's sanction must be secured before it can act. The council discussed possible projects and defeated a proposal to meet in the gymnasium.

Have High Honors.

Eight Wayne high school students who received straight A averages, the highest awarded, for first semester are Barbara Strahan, Leatrice Pilgruer, Donna Hander, Leatrice Pilgruer, Donna Preston, Elaine Benback, Phillip Briggs and Dorothy Casper.

Madrigal Group Song for President.

A madrigal group song for President was presented at the student council meeting Tuesday.

Junior Play Tonight.

Junior class presents its play, "The Little Rascals," this Thursday evening at 8 at the auditorium. Miss Edna Larson is student director and Edwin Haxfield and Joe Samson are business managers.

ling aside Friday as a day on which they will improve their own writing. They will bring any type of writing they have need for, such as papers for other classes, news for the Harbinger or original work for criticism and revision.

Junior English classes are studying "Hamlet." Dramatics class members are trying to discover speech defects to correct. Effort is directed toward clear diction.

Girls' Athletics.

Regular athletic classes are held for junior and senior girls. The fundamentals of basketball are being taught through various drills. Some time is spent each day in actual playing.

Seventh Grade News.

Good Citizenship club will celebrate Valentine day by having "heart week." Each club member picked a classmate's name and this classmate became his Valentine pal. Each will do something nice for his pal each day for a week and try to keep his identity concealed.

Interesting reports on Peru and Bolivia were given by Edmond Chinn, Eugene Fox, Roye Gilder, sleeve, Charles Horrell, Joyce Johnson, Donna Graunquist, Harold Kohrt, Lois Zepplin, Jacqueline Wightman, Patty Love, Irmgard Otte, Merrill McDonald, Benny Ulrich, Fred Ellis, Gerhard Svend and Walter Ulrich.

Fifth Grade News.

In studying weather pupils have found poems on this subject and have read or memorized them for the class. Monday the class walked to Dorothy Assy's to observe the frost laden trees and fences. They noted many interesting winter pictures. This Thursday the grade has a spelling review of all words concerning weather in spelling-booklets. Midget Town chose blue and white for colors. Pupils have picked a tune for their town song and will write words for it.

In the long division contest the Spirit of St. Louis won by a good margin.

Third Grade News.

Of the 32 in the drum corps, all are beginners excepting eight. Leaders on the good citizenship chart are Margie Reibold, Leonard Rubick, Mary Holmes, Phyllis Foster, Wilhelmina Benback, Mizzi Heine and Leaura Jacobsen.

Fifteen in the room are now on the dental honor-roll.

Second Grade News.

Pupils have been studying about firemen and their apparatus and in this connection enjoyed a visit to the city hall Wednesday to see the city fire engines.

Brownie Scout Troop.

Troop One of brownie scouts had a hobby show Tuesday in the kindergarten room. Some of the girls had two or three hobbies in the show. Each explained her hobby, how long she had had it and why she started her hobby.

First Grade News.

Jean Rogge, Darlene Mitchell and Jimmy Birdsell had perfect attendance the first semester. Work is centering around Valentine day and pupils are making a post office in this connection. Children made blueprints of free-hand cut Valentine designs. They also used the easel and poster paints to make Valentine posters.

In Kindergarten.

Children learned two Valentine songs. They made an original ending for a song, "The Telephone." Most of the hand work time is taken up in making Valentines and envelopes for them.

Each child answers roll call with his age and birthday.

Oumansky THE RUSSIAN ambassador, showing a rather youthful and comely face and a surprising lack of whiskers, but answering to the tremendous name, Constantine Oumansky, bolted into the office of Secretary of State Hull and waited feverishly for an interview. On being received by the secretary O'sky protested that his country had been violently insulted in a speech by Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, who said the Russian nation — doubtless meaning the Russian regime — was uncivilized. Secretary Hull did not tell the ambassador to jump into the Potomac, but he strongly indicated that the protest would be permanently pigeonholed, that the grave charge would receive the same attention accorded American protests to Russia — none at all. If the Russian dictatorship, with its ruthless torture and slaughter of helpless subjects, is civilized, then Nero was a model humanitarian and the Hottentots have been civilized for a thousand years.

Tires PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says he is tired of being harassed by third-term talk. So is nearly everybody. The tradition-smashing idea will flame in the convention and engage regular democrats and new dealers in a vigorous conflict for supremacy. If the president decides to loan himself to the country for another term, his program will appear for review and approval or disapproval. If a conservative democrat should be named, lines in the campaign would not be so sharply drawn. If administration satellites have their way, the privilege of decision, granted under a democracy, would be accentuated. If they don't have their way they will journey through the rest of their lives quoting: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these: it might have been." That would be cruel. Better to satisfy the third-term mania in the convention, and then settle, it definitely in November. That would dispose of a mooted point and gratify all concerned.

Two Wings THE PEE-PRIMARY contest between Governor Cochran and Senator Burke for the senatorial nomination is beginning to warm up—that is, the governor has made some acrimonious references to the incumbent whose place he wishes to capture. The governor has lately pulled himself over to the left, doubtless in order to make the cleavage between him and the senator more easily discernible. The governor recently cuddled up to the national administration. On the other hand, the senator has been a new deal critic, opposing the court remodeling scheme and other more or less perilous digressions from the traditional order. The record suggests that the White House has wandered far from the democratic fold and that the senator has consistently stuck to it. It is, of course, up to democrats to decide between the policies of Jefferson and those of Roosevelt.

Defeating THE REPORT that Norman Kruse, young Nebraska farmer, made $1,200 during a dry year has aroused much curious interest. People want to know how he did it. Drouth has called for new methods, and it is supposed many farmers have kept out of the red by shifting plans to conquer weather abnormalities. How a fellow can profit from fields devastated by drouth or grasshoppers needs to be explained. The Norfolk Daily News comments, in part, as follows:

"This part of Nebraska can raise crops under conditions which would be considered impossible in other sections. This has been demonstrated. But new conditions require new methods. The pioneers who came here from Iowa, Ohio, New England and European countries learned that sixty years ago. We may have to learn another lesson in adapting our methods to our climatic conditions."

Dr. Ruth Alexander of Chicago, denigrated capitalism and excoriated socialism in a talk before the Omaha Ad-Sell league Monday evening. She recommended socialism for persons without backbone, courage or hope. She said the best antidote against the subtle propaganda for socialism or a planned state is education of the citizenry to the defects and limitations of Marxism. The objectives of a planned society are as unnatural as perfect weather. "Government enterprise and private business cannot exist side by side," she declared, "because government enterprise cannot resist the desire to crush competition by other means than economic."

Hugh Butler, republican candidate for United States senator, has reached a point in life where he wishes to perform greater service for society, and he believes the office for which he has filed, would furnish the vehicle for such performance. Those who know his background of experience, agree that he could contribute liberally to a practical solution of farm and other problems. No miracle could snatch immediate harmony out of present disorder. Knitting together the broken economic fabric will require tried judgment and carefully handled readjustments. Men of the Butler type may be safely trusted to do it.

Abraham Lincoln's birthday anniversary, next Monday, will inspire partisans of many divergent views to extol the principles of the great emancipator as an exact model of what they think and believe. Lincoln embodied in his life the homely virtues which everybody likes and endorses. Common sense in his philosophy and simplicity in his manners have won the undying admiration of the world. As long as nations stand, he will remain an exemplar of the noblest traits in leadership.

Don Cunningham is another Wayne product to achieve outstanding success in his chosen field. His knowledge of live stock values and his pleasing personality led the Sioux City Stock Yards company to capture his services some years ago. Latest report from the stock yards is announcement of his selection to handle a new broadcasting program and contribute information of special interest to the surrounding farm area.

The Lincoln Journal makes editorial note of the caution with which congress is approaching pressed public policies, both on account of an election year and the popular demand to steer away from becoming involved in the European war. The Journal advises the public to follow congress in avoiding "hysterics, or any action based on emotionalism."

An attempt to discredit the Dies committee has been fastened on individuals suspected of having un-American records. For the good of the country it is profoundly hoped no influence will be allowed to check the work of the committee.

The Norfolk Daily News calls attention to another burst of generosity on the part of the president who proposes to ask the government to commemorate his birthday by appropriating $10,000,000 as a starter in building federal hospitals.

Third Term Talk. (Lincoln Journal)

President Roosevelt says he is weary of third term talk. So is the public. The president can put a stop to it. So can the public. The president does not seem inclined to do so. Neither does the public, for in spite of its weariness there is always some small element sufficiently interested to ask new questions and float new rumors with the result that third term talk floats near or on the surface of general conversation most of the time.

Too Many Peanuts. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

Now the South has a problem in its burdensome surplus of peanuts. When the agricultural planners down in Washington ordered southern farmers to cut their cotton acreage they drove them into corn and peanut growing. As a consequence the peanut crop was increased to 1,179,505,000 pounds and that's sure a lot of peanuts. Some day the farmers of this nation are going to protest against peanut politicians doing their planning operations for them.

Twisted Observation. (Sioux City Journal)

Postmaster General Farley may be put down as somewhat extravagant when he boasted of the far advance made under the new deal on the road to economic recovery. We have a $45,000,000,000 national debt, some 10,000,000 unemployed and a near dictatorship, but that is not what one might call a start toward recovery. If it wouldn't hurt Mr. Farley's feelings too much, the suggestion might be made that it's something else that's just around the corner.

Parallel Lives. (Nation's Business)

Two men who had made their marks on this age died recently within a few days of each other. They had much in common. Both began with poverty and succeeded. Their formal education was confined to the barest rudiments and yet, when they died, they were educated beyond the ken of most collegians, and one of them was loaded with honorary academic degrees. Both contributed lavishly of their wealth to the public welfare and both were targets of abuse from muck-rakers and demagogues. They spent their energies freely, achieved much, and died before reaching the biblical three-score and ten.

Henry L. Doherty came out of the West, stormed New York while barely in his thirties, and rose to the presidency of 54 companies. In his 69 years he compressed more work than is ordinarily done in a score of lives. Improved lighting, public utility organization, great real estate developments in New York City and Miami, Fla., oil conservation, war service research, engineering, were only a few of his amazing catalog of activities. In his leisure he invented appliances and gadgets enough to constitute a successful inventor's life work. With it all, he battled during his last 14 years against desperate physical ills.

Charles R. Walgreen was an Illinois farm boy, later a drug clerk, who remained all his life in his native state to build up a one-man chain of 504 drug stores stretching across the nation. Among his many benefactions was the donation of $550,000 to Chicago University for a foundation to study American institutions. In his old-fashioned simplicity he believed that college students should learn something about the greatness of this nation, as conceived by its founders.

Will this generation permit hidden genius from the grass roots and crossroads to blossom similarly?

WAY TO HELP.

In a speech in New York last week, former President Herbert Hoover reiterated the often expressed belief that the restoration of economic order in Europe after the war will largely depend on the help of the United States, and that this help cannot be given if by any chance this country were drawn into the conflict. He says Finland and Poland which depend on imports for food, must be supplied from the huge American surplus to prevent starvation and the ravages of consequent disease. The former president is hopeful for an early peace in Europe, but he expresses the belief that unless hostilities cease within a few months, a long war is in prospect. In that event, famine and pestilence will scourge all of Europe, combatant and neutral nations alike. It is evident to the former president, as it is to all close observers of the horrors abroad, that the highest service the United States can give humanity is to keep out of the war and be ready to aid the afflicted and to be able to patch up differences among nations.

unvarying optimism and good nature—his encouraging interest in people and affairs—do not antidote infirmities of multiplying years—do not preserve the alertness and elasticity of youth.

Snow as Forecaster.

One farmer tells us generous snowfall now means abundant rains later. That seems reasonable, and as that is what we want to believe, we believe it.

May Mean Nothing.

A reporter said Postmaster-General James Farley just grinned when asked about something. We wish politicians would not just grin. Probably the idea is to simulate wisdom. Too often it reveals vacuity.

Good for What?

The federal government is certainly resourceful in finding new and useless projects on which to bestow public funds, as witness this excerpt from the Geneva, Neb., Signal: "Indexing editorials, locals, and state news in Omaha newspapers is a $95,442 project recently approved by President Roosevelt. D. F. Felton, Nebraska WPA administrator, said he didn't know when the work would start. It would depend on whether there is enough money in the fund and whether there is a sufficient number of people competent to do that class of work. And if the work is finally done, what benefit will it be to anybody except to those persons who may be paid to do it?"

PROPERTY DEEDS FILED IN COUNTY

To Relative's Funeral.

Frank Schulte and his niece, Miss Maxine Schulte, went to Fullerton Tuesday for the funeral of Miss Maxine's brother's wife, Mrs. Gordon Schulte. Mrs. Schulte, 23, died Monday and the funeral was Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church.

UPHOLDS DIES.

Writing for Capper's Farmer, Senator Arthur Capper, commends the work of the Dies committee in uncovering subversive activities among alien groups in this country. He emphasizes the fact that the most effective weapon to use against secret enemies is publicity, for which Dies revelations are a free press open the way. Capper says about four million aliens—those who have not become citizens—are in the United States, and suggests that they should be required either to become naturalized or get out. "Some of the finest citizens we have in the United States, and there are millions of them," says Capper, "once were aliens. But they came here to enjoy the privileges of liberty under a democratic government. They were eager to become citizens. They fulfill the duties and obligations of citizenship. They are loyal and staunch in defense of the things this nation stands for. Those people have my respect, admiration and esteem." He concludes: "Certainly we have no need, no use, no place in the United States for those who hold allegiance to foreign governments or foreign groups. And we want none of their propaganda spread throughout this nation to poison the sources of popular government."

CONGRESS AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

There will be more new rural routes established during the next fiscal year and there will be more extensions and perhaps more consolidations, according to information given by the postmaster general's office. Only half the applications for extensions can be taken care of because of lack of funds. Because of the unemployment situation in our country, the postmaster-general has been asked why consolidations of rural routes are being made. He states that the reason is that many thousands of dollars are saved annually by these consolidations. The postal officials admit a large deficit in the handling of the second, third and fourth class mail.

About a thousand retail automobile dealers sat down to a banquet the other night and heard Paul McNutt talk about future business. These automobile dealers have been holding sessions here for several days and were told to look for an unusually fine year during 1940. The general consensus of opinion among these dealers is that most retail automobile dealers did pretty well during 1939. W. A. Grant who runs the Chevrolet agency at Fremont, was among the prominent members representing Nebraska at this convention.

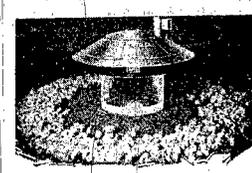

Although a bill is being prepared for appropriations for PWA, the author of the measure admits that there is no chance for PWA money this session. Whatever money in prospect of being appropriated PWA is that for use in liquidation of the setup. In the meantime, those interested in securing funds for irrigation are watching intently the various new proposals for such programs. One such program emanating from the department of the interior, with the objective of stabilizing the great plains and the dust bowl and halting the migration from the drouth areas and rehabilitating farm families on the land, is attracting attention.

The newspapers here are carrying much publicity about Norman Kruse of Loretto, Neb. A cartoon of Kruse is carried in a local paper with the caption: "Can't be licked, farm land ravaged and nearly destroyed by drouth and dust storms, Norman Kruse, of Loretto, Neb., still made profit of more than 12 hundred dollars last year."

Years ago, the architects wanted a half million dollars to repair the roofs of the nation's capitol because, they stated that if a heavy snow came it would crush them and possibly injure house and senate members. Nine inches of snow fell on the roofs of both, the house and the senate chambers the other night, but the structures are apparently holding up in good shape. Nevertheless, a half million appropriation for roof repair is being sought.

The total amount for the post office department and the postal service in the appropriations bill for the next fiscal year is $813,463,082. The appropriation for the field service, not including the air-mail transportation and building maintenance is over $478,000,000 or over 14 million dollars more than the amount for the fiscal year.

The funds provided by the bill is $659,399,256, and is $129,530,263 less than the amount recommended by the bureau of the budget. The committee did considerable steam rolling and efforts on the part of those interested in parity payments, irrigation, conservation, farm tenant purchases, the stamp commodity plan, and many other things that were omitted by the committee were drowned in the chorus of nays when the particular amendments were offered. Fair district members believe that the senate will restore many of the items that did not gain favor in the house and that there will be a determined fight over them in conference.

Nearly every member who is discussing the Finnish loan problem feels that Finland should have some financial help. Accordingly, these members are asked if we should continue to buy gold from Russia. Those who oppose the gold buying program say that it would be useless to loan money to Finland and at the same time continue buying Russian gold. Uncle Sam tells the world he will buy all the newly mined gold that they will bring over to us for $35 an ounce. Some of the money experts here say Russia mines about 175 million dollars of gold every year. One expert believes that it costs Russia only about $12 an ounce to mine it and if we continue to buy it from Russia many more times more help will be given to Russia than to Finland. We also buy gold, as well as silver, from Japan. We have, also, loaned China 25 million dollars. These money experts feel that our program of buying gold from foreigners at the same time that we are loaning money to help China, does not make sense.

Talking about Finland, considerable money has been raised by the Finnish Relief Fund organization here by buying the house for a showing of "Gone With the Wind." At the opening performance, a lot of the members of the audience who lived in the southern land did a lot of hissing when the northern troops appeared on the screen and also booed Sherman's march to the sea. Some of these people are clerks from the southern states who have jobs with southern congressmen who are in the midst of the fight against the anti-lynching bill. Tickets for the show brought around $10 and many paid more in order to help the Finnish fund. The theatre which put on this show, presented a very interesting prologue. Whitehooded, bayonet-flashing Finnish soldiers stood guard at an ice-jacking defile around three figures, symbolizing the mothers, children, and the spirit of Finland. The Finnish anthem was sung and Hjalmer Procopé, the Finnish minister, received a tremendous ovation from the crowd.

Art Hachten, who was born at Grand Island, Neb., retired as president of the National Press Club, and was succeeded by Richard Wilson of Des Moines, Ia. Practically every newspaper service in the country is represented here and every newspaper man was present to give both the Nebraskan and the Iowan a great ovation.

The next appropriation bill coming out of committee will be the one making appropriations for the state, justice and commerce departments. Following the economy wave in the house, the committee has cut this bill around two and one-half million dollars. The bill does not meet the demand for additional judges in the Eighth circuit but the house committee on judiciary has recommended an authorization for that purpose, and a separate bill will later come up in the house and a new judge will undoubtedly be appointed in our circuit in the near future. It has been claimed that there is a shortage of judges in this circuit, due to illness and retirement.

Mrs. George H. Heinke, wife of the late Congressman Heinke of Nebraska City, has recovered sufficiently to be moved from the hospital in Arkansas to the home of her sister at Okemah, Okla., this week. Mrs. Heinke's legs were broken in an accident which resulted in fatal injuries to her husband. The First congressional district office continues to be open and in charge of J. Hyde Sweet, Mr. Heinke's secretary.

In the debate on the agricultural appropriation bill, one member took the floor to complain that while we reduced the corn acreage here, Argentina has doubled its corn acreage for this year. "If we continue to reduce our corn acreage, it will be just like cutting off the dog's tail. If we continue cutting off a little piece each year, it won't be long until we don't have any dog left," was the way this member felt about our reduction program.

The annual fight by the people of the District of Columbia for the right of franchise is again under way. Members of the legislative and appropriations committees for the district are being besieged by the citizens of Washington, demanding that some law be passed whereby they can get a chance to vote for president and vice-president and have some articulate voice in the administration of their local affairs. Washington is grow-

Christian Science Services.

"Spirit" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, February 11.

The Golden text is: "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Romans 8:14).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit and its formations are the only realities of being... Spiritual living and blessedness are the only evidences, by which we can recognize true existence and feel the unrepeatable peace which comes from an all-absorbing spiritual love" (p. 264).

During the season of Lent we consider in a particular way Christ's holy Passion. Lent is to deepen our spirituality and make us better Christians. It is to lead us to a better knowledge of our sins which made Christ's suffering necessary. Let us therefore crowd our house of worship at these services. To all the unchurched we say especially: Welcome!

compele directly with American farm products can serve no useful purpose. It can only have the effect of increasing our surpluses, reducing our prices, forcing more American land out of production, and driving more American farmers from the land. Any tariff revision made through a reciprocal trade agreement that effects agriculture should be made with the greatest of care at any time, but never should it be made during a time when prices are already depressed. The very uncertainty of doubt concerning the effect of the tariff revision further depresses the prices, and the farmers' pocket book is bound to suffer.

Less than 70 per cent of the sugar consumed by citizens of the United States is produced on our own soil, notwithstanding the fact sugar land is limited, sugar factories are idle, and thousands of men who could have a job in the sugar mills are on relief or unemployed. Through acreage reductions the new deal is slowly starving the American sugar industry to death. Department of agriculture figures show that sugar production in the United States in 1939 was 6,650,000 tons, which is a little less than 50 per cent of our consumption. The balance of our sugar needs are imported, mostly from Cuba, the Philippines, Hawaii, and Porto Rico. Why cut down on American sugar production when we have to import more than 70 per cent of our needs?

Argentina is a direct competitor in beef, mutton, pork, poultry, wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye and flax production with our American farmers. In fact, Argentina is an agricultural country pure and simple. Yet our state department tried to get into into a trade agreement with Argentina, the result of which could only mean import of agricultural products to compete with the products of American farmers in exchange for American manufactured products. Our farmers should feel relieved that the negotiations with Argentina have been broken off temporarily.

New of the death of Al Beer of Elgin, last Sunday, has reached Washington. Nearly everybody in Antelope, Madison and adjoining counties knew Al. The story of his life should be an inspiration to those of us who think we have "hard luck." He was born in poverty and was crippled by infantile paralysis when but a year old. He was deprived of a chance for education, yet he never asked help from anybody. He never complained of his misfortunes and he made his own way by sheer perseverance and indomitable courage. He was proud of his chance to support his widowed mother, and so long as she lived, his first thought was for her comfort. He was always ready to help someone else, and no night was too cold and no weather too stormy to keep him from going to the side of those who were in need. Most of the communities of Northeast Nebraska are mourning the loss of this man who made little profession of religion, yet practiced Christianity every day of his life. Some day they're going to build a museum in North Nebraska where articles of interest will be displayed. In that museum should be a pair of crutches with which Al Beer helped himself travel over North Nebraska. The sound of his crutches and his smiling face have brought sunshine into many a home in Nebraska.

Macaroni and Pineapple. 2 cups macaroni, 4 rings cooked pineapple, 6 tablespoons grated cheese, 4 thin slices bacon, 1 teaspoon salt. Cook macaroni in salt water until tender, drain and place in buttered bake dish with alternate layers of cheese and half the bacon. On top layer place pineapple rings and bacon. Bake covered one hour, then uncover and brown.

Eggs and Mushrooms. Whites of 6 hard cooked eggs chopped and 6 large mushrooms or equal of small ones. Make a rich white sauce. Add the eggs and mushrooms. Cook 3 minutes. Place on rounds of toast. Put yolks through ricer on top of each.

Buttered Baked Beets. 6 beets cooked, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon vinegar. Cut beets in 1/4-inch slices. Place in a baking dish. Melt butter. Add sugar and vinegar. Allow mixture to come to the boiling point. Pour syrup over beets and bake for 10 minutes.

Stuffed Turnips. Wash, pare and boil medium size turnips leaving them whole. When tender, drain and cut a thin slice off the top of each turnip. Scoop out making a shell. Fill with bread

Boston Baked Beans. 2 cups navy beans, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/4 to 1/2 pound salt pork, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1 tablespoon sugar. Pick and wash over the beans. Soak over night. Drain, cover with cold water and bring to the boiling point, add soda and boil 1 minute. Drain, rinse and cover with fresh water. Cook slowly till skins will wrinkle when taken from water. Drain, fill the bean pot half full, lay in the pork the rind of which has been scalded and scored. Put the remaining beans into a pot and pour over the mustard, salt and molasses dissolved in hot water. Add enough more hot water to cover the beans. Put the lid on the bean pot and bake 8 more hours in a slow oven. Replace the water as needed. Draw the pork to the surface during the last hour of baking and remove the lid to brown the beans and the pork.

Scalloped Macaroni with Tomato Sauce. 2 cups boiled macaroni, 2 cups medium tomato sauce, Buttered crumbs. Add the macaroni to the tomato sauce. Put in an oiled, baking dish and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake until the sauce bubbles and the crumbs are brown.

Baked Lima Beans. Soak 2 cups dried lima beans overnight in cold water. Drain, cover with fresh water and cook until tender. 1/4 cup molasses, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon mustard, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 small onion browned in butter, 8 tablespoons tomato catsup, 1/4 cup boiling water. Combine with beans and pour into a buttered bean pot and bake slowly in a moderate oven for several hours. Just before removing from over place strips of bacon over top and brown.

Asparagus with Cheese and Almonds. 1 can asparagus cut in small pieces, 1 cup blanched almonds chopped fine, 1 cup yellow cheese grated. Make thick white sauce using asparagus juice or one cup sweet stuffing made as for chicken. Cover opening with slice cut from top and bake, basting with hot fat.

Cottage Cheese. Two tall cans evaporated milk, add six tablespoons vinegar, let stand five minutes. Add one quart boiling water and let stand 10 minutes. Then strain and season.

Leaves It to the Women. (Nation's Business.) We've long held that women have a better sense of political economic realities than men. Here's proof.

In Detroit the wife of a Chrysler striker organized other Chrysler wives in a back-to-work campaign. "No Work-No Kiss" was the slogan of this modern Lysistrata.

A California woman brought suit for divorce based principally on the allegation that her husband had developed "E.A. Mentality" causing him to believe that the government would support him for the rest of his life.

President's Critics. (Norfolk Daily News.) The president's wants his critics to prove that the United States is going broke. Well, we could quote a certain candidate for president of the United States who said in a campaign address eight years ago that a debt and a deficit half as large as our present ones, were driving our country to bankruptcy, carrying with them industry and business and keeping millions of men unemployed. You know his name, and so does the president.

Hawaii... Paradise of the Pacific

Hawaii—where weather never varies more than six degrees a year, where one can swim the year around, where there is the most impressive beauty in the world, where life is lived for what it is—this is truly a paradise for those who like the out-of-doors, writes J. Roy Petersen of Honolulu, nephew of Mrs. R. E. Gormley of Winside. Mr. Petersen, who is attending the University of Hawaii on a scholarship earned at Stanford university, had an article entitled "Lana'is for Outdoor Living," published in a recent issue of Arts and Decorations.

"Waikiki is the most colorful spot I have ever seen because of its unique racial groups, its motley population and its whole happy spirit. Everyone is out for enjoyment of life—a life of relaxation, sport and fun," according to Mr. Petersen. Some simply lie and soak in the warm sun; some rent an umbrella and just sit; others play games such as cribbage, bridge or Chinese checkers; still others thrill to the surf by swooping down mountainous waves on surfboards while shouts are heard from those in outrigger canoes which catch the same wave; and finally there are still others who like to swim in the cool, salty water of the Pacific which spreads over coral-bottomed Waikiki bay.

Surfing Is Hawaiian. "Surfing to me is synonymous with Hawaii," continues Mr. Petersen in his letter to the Dr. Gormley family, "for one is just not complete without the other. The surfboard is about 11 1/2 feet in length. The main constituent is balsa wood which is very light and rather porous. Over the top side of this is a beautiful veneer of mahogany, and the whole is varnished to a high gloss. The board is about five inches thick at the center and about 24 inches wide. Surfing is something very difficult to learn, but when you have mastered a small part of the art, you can never have peace when you are not surfing on the waves. To propel the board one lies flat on his stomach and chest on the board and paddles with his arms. Over a quarter mile from shore is the first spot for surfing. Judging the wave, catching the wave and good balance are essential. After catching the wave, one stands up, and that really takes balance to ride a bucking, jumping board on a big wave which is pushing in toward shore at a high speed. To catch a big wave 20 feet or more high and then go shooting down the front of it at the rate of 15 miles an hour, added to the speed of about 20 miles per hour that the wave is already moving, is something one never forgets.

"Waikiki is noted the world over for the blue-green color of the Pacific which covers the coral-bottomed bay, flanked on one side by the famous Diamond Head, an extinct volcanic crater. The temperature of the water never varies more than two or three degrees from that of the air temperature. Since the weather has never been hotter than 88 degrees nor colder than 56 degrees, you can imagine what a delightful climate this is. The average temperature of Honolulu is 79 degrees and for the past seven years the lowest recorded reading was 67.6. Beach Is Popular. "Waikiki is visited daily by many sun and water enthusiasts, and week-ends are particularly popular because the working population of Honolulu descends en masse on the beach. The tourist season of January and February are the most colorful times for Waikiki. During these tourist seasons sport activity is at its highest tide. For the edification and amusement of the thrilled tourists, the famous Hawaiian beachboys have surfboard races and water polo games. "After these water sports everyone gets ready for outrigger canoe sailing races. The ordinary canoe, used mainly to give tourists exciting rides on the waves, is rigged up with sails. Weekly races are held for about a month and a half with a grand finale for winners of the weekly series. The contests are always thrilling because the type of canoe used is easily capsized and the smallest gust of wind will take it over. The more canoes that are swamped, the more exciting the races," adds Mr. Petersen.

Hold New Festival. "Held for the first time this year was the Hoolauloa festival which attempted in a small way to simulate such national festivals and celebrations as the Pasadena rose tournament, the New Orleans Mardi Gras, Cheyenne Frontier days, etc. The Hoolauloa was a week's festival, with elaborate programs illustrating the early Hawaiian life, music and customs. Sport races, public dances and parades featured the entertainment which was topped by a large-scale rodeo. My personal opinion was that the rodeo was extremely out of place, perhaps not entirely thought of as the 'Parke-cattle' ranch on the island of Hawaii is second largest in the world and certainly has had cowboys to herd the cattle. Let Day Impressive. "May day is Lei day in Hawaii and I have never seen a more impressive sight. On that day one sees the hospitable and good-natured personality of Hawaii assert itself to the full. From morning to night one cannot go anywhere without seeing every other person owners have names for many of them as pets—and they are looked upon as beneficial because they eat small insects. Barberbers for the most part in Honolulu are Japanese women whose price for hair-cuts is 25c, and white barberbers charge 50c. During rains it is unusual to see many of the population paddling around in bare feet, carrying their shoes. Japanese leave their shoes outside homes. Model T Fords are still in abundance in Hawaii because of the high price of automobiles in the islands. Radio programs are a conglomeration of Japanese, English, Chinese, Filipino and Hawaiian. Christmas in Hawaii is an unusual experience with sailing in the ocean, fireworks banging all day, groups of musicians with ukuleles and guitars going from house to house to play Hawaiian melodies.

Women Have Minor Injuries
When Machines Collide
Thursday Night.

When cars driven by Herman Podoll, Winside, and Arnold Rogge, Wayne, collided on a hill five miles west and one and a half south of Wayne Thursday evening, Mrs. Jean Rogge suffered a cut on the jaw which required a few stitches, and Mrs. Ed. Weible and Miss Elsie Weible of Winside, sustained bruises on the head. The drivers were unharmed. The women were brought to Wayne for care and were able to go home the same evening.

Mrs. Rogge and her son were in the one car. Mrs. Weible and daughter were accompanying Mr. Podoll to Winside after being here for the Robinson.

Both cars were damaged.

Farm Sale Bills.
(Lincoln Journal.)
E. W. Huse of the Wayne Herald notes without any regret the disappearance of the farm sales bills that were once to be found during the sales season on almost every available post or pole along the highways. The chief cause is the automobile, he says. In the old days a farmer driving by in his buggy would take time to stop and read the bills he found on his way to town or to neighbors. Nobody in a fast car thinks of doing this. The newspapers, better mediums, have now pre-empted the field.

James R. Washburn Passes
Away at Mercer Home
This January.

J. R. Washburn, 86, early settler of Wayne county, died at his home in Mercer, N. D., Thursday, January 11, after being in failing health for a year or more. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon, January 14, with Rev. Sorenson of Our Saviour's Lutheran church officiating. Burial was in Hillside cemetery there beside his son, Edwin.

James Roscoe Washburn was born May 25, 1853, at Jackson, Minn., the son of George and Lucy Washburn. Mr. Washburn's mother died when he was 6 years old and he was cared for in the home of his maternal grandparents and an uncle. At the age of 13 deceased helped drive a large number of sheep from his Michigan home to the Missouri Ozarks where he stayed alone to care for them through the winter. When 20 years old Mr. Washburn, with a young man companion, left Michigan for the west. They stopped in Chicago where they worked a short time. While there they had the privilege of attending the Moody-Sankey evangelistic meetings. From Chicago the young man came to Iowa and 30 years later Mr. Washburn visited his boyhood home.

Mr. Washburn and Margaret Jane Jones were married at Red Oak, Ia., February 8, 1880. Three years after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Washburn traveled by covered wagon to the prairies of northeast Nebraska and located 10 miles west of Wayne. Then the ranches of A. T. Chapin and Wm. Fraser were the only ones between their place and Wayne. Winside was soon located four miles south and Carroll three north of their place. The Washburns lived in Wayne county until 1902 when Mr. Washburn and son, Ira, took adjoining homesteads east of what is now the site of Mercer, N. D. By 1906 all the family went to North Dakota. In 1913 Mr. Washburn and his son Ira, started a dray line in Mercer and the family moved there. Mr. Washburn gave much of his time to community enterprises. He was a member of Our Saviour's Lutheran church. He had served as treasurer and Sunday school worker in churches over 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Washburn were the parents of 10 children, seven of whom survive. Twin sons died at birth and a son, Edwin, died at Camp Dodge, Ia., in April, 1918. Ira and Mae live at home in Mercer; Ida, Mrs. Martin Ness, lives at Washburn; Harvey is at Onaway, Minn.; Loren is at Onaway, Ia.; Adeline, Mrs. C. B. Nielsen, at Tujunga, Cal.; Cora, Mrs. E. M. Shirts, at Hamilton, Mont. The last named attended the funeral. There are 14 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. One grandson, Roger Nielsen, died in 1925.

Funeral services were held at Mercer, N. D., by Rev. F. T. Kline, Anton Nielsen and Martin Rasmussen.

Round About This Funny World

Choosing the winner in a beauty contest in Virginia seemed easy. Judges picked Pauline Pippin.

At the same time that a daughter was born to Mrs. Joseph Robles, in the reception room of the same hospital Mrs. Robles' mother died of a heart attack.

Firemen answering an alarm found a creek of water on fire. A boy had thrown a lighted cigarette in the water, igniting a pool of gasoline floating on the stream.

A St. Louis motorist who couldn't start his car asked for a push from the state automobile inspector. The inspector spotted the car as stolen and arrested the driver.

A German shepherd dog has stepped guard more than three months at the cabin of his master, a bachelor, who died. Neighbors bring food to the faithful animal.

A young man who saved pennies and nickels for years to take a trip to Europe, was ready to sail when war broke out this fall and all Americans were advised to stay home.

A young couple asked for a duplicate marriage license. When asked what happened to the original one, they acknowledged that they quarreled over marriage plans and tore it up.

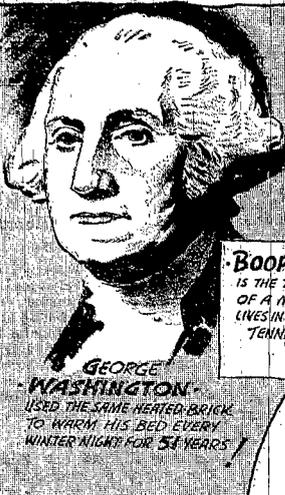

An Illinois traffic policeman assigned to enforce the two-hour parking ordinance, wrote out a ticket. The license number seemed familiar. He looked inside the car. It was his.

When boys playing ball in a Chicago street threw their ball atop a three-story building, John McDonald, 25, volunteered to get it. He lost balance, fell and was fatally injured.

Marie Black, 14, patiently answered a Pittsburgh reporter, telling how burning rubbish had set fire to a building. Then Marie apologized: "I have to go now. I live in the building that's burning."

A Texas editor was startled

But It's True

Rome Welsh was surprised when Henry Evans began picking the former's peach crop. Then Evans reminded Welsh that during a heavy freeze the latter had said he'd sell the crop for a quarter and Evans had produced the sum.

A blind man has made a success in the photograph business. He has schooled his wife and son in taking pictures and he manages the business affairs. He says he built the business by consistent newspaper advertising.

Sam Campagna and wife asked two well-dressed men how to reach an elevated train in Chicago. The men escorted them to the train. As the Campagnias waved at their helpers through the window, one of the escorts waved back with Campagna's billfold containing $22.

Two strangers ate dinner at separate tables in the same restaurant. Each left, got into a sedan and drove home. Enroute home one of the two discovered that he was in a car exactly like his but not his. The key fit. He went to police headquarters and the other man was located. The two had cars just alike, color, model and all. They traded and went home happy.

A young student in the south wanted some fun so he picked a post office box number at Sweet Briar college for girls in Virginia. He chose 408. "Dear Box 408," he wrote, "I was wondering what the holder of my box number at Sweet Briar looks like. As for me, I am tall, dark and I drive a Ford V-8. I am a freshman." The answer from Sweet Briar box 408 was as thin as I once was. My hair is white and I drive a Buick. I was a freshman in 1896." The box the youth had chosen at random belonged to Dr. Meta Glass, president of the college and sister of Senator Carter Glass.

Wayne County Rural School News

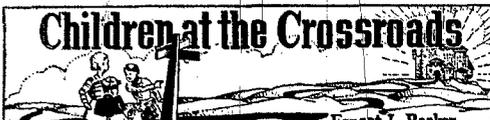

Educators Invited To March Meeting

Nebraska is one of five mid-western states invited to a mid-western rural education conference at Kankakee, Ill., March 14 and 15. Supt. F. B. Decker has been asked by State Supt. Charles Taylor to boost the attendance from Third district. Nebraska will be well represented at the meeting.

Will Fill Vacancies In School Districts

With the spring moving some changes will be made in school officers of the county. When one officer is leaving, the other two may fill the vacancy by appointment until the regular school election. It more than one leaves, a special election of all voters should be called. In district 45, Ernfrid Allvin has been chosen treasurer to serve in place of Austin Spahr who moved to Iowa. A special election will be held within a few days in district 88 to elect a moderator to succeed Harold Quinn and a director to succeed L. W. Powers who move from the district.

Children at the Crossroads

That Guy, Lincoln.
 Ralph had been caught stealing some ten dollars' worth of copper wire. He readily admitted his guilt but complained bitterly that his folks were poor and he did not have the same chance other boys had. He did not want to go to school because his clothes were too shabby, he said.
 Week after week we spent hours with him, pointing out the advantages of an education and the disadvantages of criminal acts, but he showed no interest. In despair of ever teaching him that honesty is the best policy, we placed him on probation and instructed him to read the biography of Abraham Lincoln.
 Each week, for a period of months, he was to report to the court and relate what he had read.
 The first few weeks there was no change in his demeanor. At the end of three months, however, with a little show of pride he exhibited his school report card, which indicated a distinct improvement in his studies.
 As usual he summarized his reading, and then he made this startling pronouncement: I guess if that guy, Lincoln, could read his book on the floor by an open fire and get to be president, I ought to be able to get some place if I do have to wear a few patched pants.
 Ralph learned his lesson so thoroughly in such a short time after he had been introduced to Lincoln that more than 50 other boys have since been required to make a study of the life of the great Emancipator.

SCHOOL OFFICERS MEET IN NORFOLK

Northeast Nebraska county superintendents meet at Norfolk February 19 and Supt. F. B. Decker plans to attend.

Weather Is Cool In Pacific Islands

Weather in Honolulu has been colder than usual, according to Isabelle Gueso who writes to Jaqueline, Wightman January 8. It has rained much and the thermometer varies between 60 and 70 degrees, which seems cold to Hawaiians. No snow falls on the islands. Isabelle knows she would enjoy a visit in this country but thinks she would not be able to stand the cold and snow for she is not used to it.
 Isabelle writes that she had a nice Christmas and New Year. Her Christmas presents consisted of a book, two boxes of chocolates, a purse, $1 from each boy of two friends and a ukulele. Chinese are celebrating New Year's in February.
 One day when Isabelle accompanied a neighbor and her sisters to a Luau, it rained hard when they were driving home and a large tree fell, just missing the car.
 Isabelle's father has a goat that has two baby goats. The mother goat furnishes the family with two and a half quarts of milk each day.
 School resumed early in January in the islands after holiday recess. But Isabelle is unable to go because of her health. She spends her time sewing.

STUDENTS IN RURAL SCHOOLS TAKE TESTS

Richard Koll is the only pupil with perfect attendance for the month. Cold weather affected attendance.
 The new globe, purchased with program money, is enjoyed in geography study.
 Mary Jean Koll started her third 2nd reader.
 Alvin Nielsen and Mary Jean Koll received 100 in spelling for the month.
 Mary Jean Koll received 100 in arithmetic, and Bonnie Nielsen and Patty Ann Libengood received 93 on their report cards.

Did You Know?

Arbor lodge, the former home of A. Sterling Morton, founder of Arbor day, is a state park and museum. In this lodge at Nebraska City are found all specimens of trees that grow in Nebraska soil and climate.
 Victoria Springs state park is located near Broken Bow in Custer county. It has mineral springs.
 Stolley state park, located near Grand Island, is at the site of old Fort Independence near the Oregon trail.
 Fort Kearney is part of the ground of old Fort Kearney, an important military post in the 60's.
 Chadron state park includes a full section of land in the Chadron hills.
 A game reserve known as the Wild Cat Hills game reserve is located in Scottsbluff and Banner counties and contains 1,000 acres.
 Another game reserve, known as Niobrara Island, is located in Knox county.
 Nebraska has four state fish hatcheries, located at Valentine, Benkelman, Rock Creek and Gretna.
 Nebraska has two branches of national forests. The forest near Halsey in Thomas and Blaine counties contains 90,100 acres. The Bessey nursery at that reserve yields 250,000,000 pine seedlings a year for Nebraska farmsteads. The Niobrara forest and game reserve in Cherry county contains 115,834 acres.

District 16

(Esther Koch, teacher.)
 Richard Koll is the only pupil with perfect attendance for the month. Cold weather affected attendance.
 The new globe, purchased with program money, is enjoyed in geography study.
 Mary Jean Koll started her third 2nd reader.
 Alvin Nielsen and Mary Jean Koll received 100 in spelling for the month.
 Mary Jean Koll received 100 in arithmetic, and Bonnie Nielsen and Patty Ann Libengood received 93 on their report cards.

District 31

(Adeline Pohlman, teacher.)
 Those who have a perfect health record this month are Leona Wagner, Alvin Wagner, Jean Thompson, Dorothy Jensen, Helen Jensen, Dorothy Davis, Leonard Janke, Lyle Kruger, Caroline Brummond, Leroy Barner, Everett Schuetz, Jimmy Thompson, Duane McClary, Hubert McClary, Doris Schuetz, Mary Lou Walde, Beverly Davis and Kathleen McClary.
 White snowmen make the border for the bulletin board. Due to illness and cold weather none of the pupils had perfect attendance records for the month.
 An Eskimo scene on the sand table fits with the weather.

District 6

(Mary Noelle, teacher.)
 The drawing of a child rolling a snowball decorates the cover of the Bell School News, eight-page bulletin issued in district 6 for January.
 Honor students for January are Carroll Munson, Conry Munson, Mildred Johnson, Fanciel Palmer and Derald Nimrod.
 Those with perfect attendance records for January are Lawrence Sundell, Derald Nimrod, Marvin Nimrod, Ardith Ann Victor and Helen Erlanson. Derald and Ardith Ann have perfect records for the year.
 The 1st and 2nd grades have learned the alphabet and read written and printed words.
 The 3rd and 4th grades made poem books for the fair and are working on picture study books. They are also making doll furniture. An Eskimo scene will be made in spare time.
 The 5th and 6th grades made a map of the world on a piece of muslin. On this were drawn the routes of early explorers. They also made a card entitled "Who's Who in American History."
 The 7th and 8th grades completed a study of Europe. The girls are working with beads in spare time, making necklaces, bracelets and purses for the fair. A history booklet is being made for the fair.
 Marvin Nimrod brought treats for his birthday.
 Boys are doing metal topping in spare time, making book ends, door stops, tie racks and plaques.
 A snow scene decorates the blackboard.
 A large poster of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs hangs in the room.
 "Heidi" is being read for opening exercises.
 A new electric stove is used to heat noon lunches.
 Carroll and Conry Munson and Mildred Johnson have earned advance certificates in penmanship.

District 10

(Frances Langenberg, teacher.)
 Erma Mae Wiese is the only pupil who has had perfect attendance. Stormy weather caused absences.
 The 1st graders finished their primer and are well started in their first book. They are able to write from the printed page.
 The 7th and 8th graders concluded their study of Europe by making an outline map of Europe, locating countries, cities, rivers, and mountains. They wrote stories on "Which Country Would I Rather Live In."
 Lower grade pupils made snowmen and snow scenes by cutting or tearing paper free hand. Upper grades made surface patterns to carry out motifs of design.
 An electric clock, several new records, workbooks and other needed supplies were bought with program money.

District 20

(Mrs. Elvira Sullivan, teacher.)
 A young skater in bright red and green snowsuit is the cover design for the January issue of The Beacon, four-page school bulletin issued by district 20.
 Ruth and Bernadine Koch moved to Alabama.
 Sleighing has been enjoyed out of doors and Chinese checkers is indoor pastime.
 "Navarre of the North" is being read for opening exercises.
 Fair exhibits are being made. Crayon etching, printing, greeting cards, placecards, illustrated stories, nature study poster and frieze are included. Betty Finn did some especially attractive work.
 Gene Finn, 2nd grader, is reading his ninth book.
 Dwayne Rethwisch is doing excellent work in percentage.
 Delmar Vahlkamp and Darlene Rethwisch, 1st graders, are studying comparisons.
 The excellent attendance record has suffered some in cold weather.
 The school has had 20 visitors this term.

District 78

(Rosemary Neely, teacher.)
 School and district talent furnished the Christmas program December 22.
 Willard Kleensang and Deryle Behmer had perfect scores in spelling. Pupils find spelling ball games interesting. In an all-school spelling contest Lyle Falk, 3rd grader, won.
 Janice Behmer and Dalas Schellenberg had perfect attendance the past month, and the latter's record has been perfect for the year.

District 70

(Dorothy Dobson, teacher.)
 Use and care of skin are being studied in 7th grade class. The pupils are starting a study of compound interest in arithmetic.
 Booklets on needs of life are being made by 3rd and 4th graders.
 Pupils who have had perfect attendance for the year are Betty Wagner, Donald and Helen Brudigam. Marvin Paulsen had perfect record until he was ill one day.

District 29

(Dorothea Lewis, teacher.)
 Fern Hessemah, Bob Lindsay and Bernita Reeg still have perfect attendance records for the year, though the records of several were spoiled by sub-zero weather.
 Croquet set, tinker toys, Lincoln logs, alphabet cards, and chair are some of the things purchased with money from the program.
 Bernita Reeg brought popcorn and Floyd Koch, cakes and candy for their birthdays this month.
 Second graders are enjoying their project in telling time.
 A health coloring contest is in progress and, the eight winners will be treated by the others.

District 28, North

(Norma Fress, teacher.)
 Pupils having perfect attendance so far this year are Verdelle Mac Niemann, Donovan Heithold, Betty Joyce Davis, Vivian Heithold and Harvey Brader.
 Betty Joyce Davis received the highest average in spelling for the month.
 A Good English club has been organized. Pupils made paper money and each time a pupil makes an error in speech he must pay a penny. Each must pay his debt before going home at night. This contest serves two purposes. It makes each child think more about the kind of English he uses and is good supplementary work in arithmetic.

District 63

(Mrs. Nell Wrobel, teacher.)
 Hot lunches, served since the first of December, have been enjoyed.
 All parents were present for the Christmas program December 22. Santa Claus distributed gifts and treats from a tree.
 The 8th grade has completed maps of European countries and these are to be made into booklets. Pupils are making a scrapbook of news clippings from daily papers.
 Best work of all grades is being put in a box for fair work, and all pupils are anxious to be represented.
 The school had only one absence on account of cold weather and one on account of illness this month.

District 2

(LaPorte School, teacher.)
 Glenn Bichel is the only pupil to have perfect attendance for the year. Joyce and Russell Bichel also had perfect records for the past month. Ardath Bichel had perfect record until she missed a half day, and Nadine Jorgensen and Ardylce Lutt until they missed a day.
 Two new library books are being enjoyed.
 Johnnie Luschen, Ardath Bichel and Nadine Jorgensen celebrated their birthdays in January and brought treats.
 Finger paint, steel door mat, waste basket and wall charts were bought with program money.

Try a Herald Want Ad.

THIS IS ONE WAY TO GET HOT WATER BUT...

A GAS WATER HEATER GIVES IT AUTOMATICALLY!

Up and down stairs, many times a day, to "light the tank heater" or build a fire for water heating. You hate it, of course. Everyone does. That's why we urge you to investigate our TRIAL-RENTAL PLAN for Automatic Gas Hot Water. If you use "harcore coils" for hot water during winter, you know how uneven and inadequate this type of hot water is. Do away with inefficient, inconvenient water heating. Get an AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER and enjoy plenty of hot water winter and summer.

Quit running up and Down stairs...

TRIAL-RENTAL PLAN

For as little as $1 a month you can try an automatic gas water heater. Try it out for a year, if you wish. If you want to buy it, the rental payments will be applied on the purchase price. NO DOWN PAYMENT or installation expense.

Long Beach Man Is Double of His Famous Cousin

What would be your reaction if, when you were walking along a street, persons invariably approached you and began to scrutinize your face? And by the time you met you would hear a gasp of astonishment and very often the passerby would turn and watch you out of sight? Such is the case with Charles Miles of Long Beach, Cal., a third cousin of Abraham Lincoln. Miss Laura E. Lyons knows Mr. Miles and also two other third cousins of Lincoln living in Long Beach.

Charles Roscoe Miles, whose maternal grandmother was Mary, sister of Nancy Hanks, was born in a log cabin near Caldwell, Ohio, November 21, 1871, a son of Wm. H. and Mary Amelia Miles. His father was a cooper. When Charles was about a year old the family moved to the dense forest of Jackson county, W. Va. There was no opportunity for the boy to attend school. His mother, just as Abe's did, taught him the alphabet and the crudest rudiments of learning. She too died when her son was young. While still a boy Charles left the farm to get a job to help support his sisters and brother, who was blind. After work he attended night school and just before his 20th birthday was proud to be able to write his name.

Charles had a mechanical mind and engines were his chief delight. He worked first on steam engines, then electric cranes, street cars and finally on automobiles. While living on the desert a few years ago he built a house on wheels, a trailer, with compactness and every modern convenience.

Mr. Miles' wife passed away a number of years ago, leaving three young sons and three little daughters whom, he reared very creditably. His son, Charles, is a composer of music. There are now three grandchildren. Mr. Miles remarried a few years ago.

Impersonates Cousin.

In 1928 Mr. Miles began to impersonate his famous cousin at the urgent request of the G. A. R. comrades of his deceased father. He let his black beard grow and in a log cabin near Caldwell, did. He is swarthy complexioned, has high cheek bones, heavy black hair streaked with gray and black, shaggy eyebrows. He has kindly, beaming eyes and a voice he has been told is like Abe's. He studies Lincoln's splendid speeches and very often gives excerpts from them before audiences.

Mr. Miles is 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches tall and wears with quiet dignity his high black silk hat actually worn by the late president. This hat was given to him by Henry Ford. His square-toed boots were made by Ford's personal cobbler, and his black broadcloth suit is of Abe's period also.

Mr. Miles impersonated Lincoln before school children at Ford's village chapel October 4, 1934, and Ford was so impressed with his strong resemblance to the emancipator that he invited him to be his guest for a fortnight, occupying a bed in which Lincoln had slept.

Mr. Miles takes great delight in describing historical buildings and contents, also the grounds and schools at the village Ford has reproduced at Dearborn, Mich. He told Miss Lyons that the chief object of interest to him is the Lincoln courthouse which Mr. Ford bought and had moved from Logan county, Ill. This is a two-story frame structure of black walnut. Its setting is as nearly original as possible. The old plaster was saved, pulverized and replaced. Because of their durability, brass screws were used this time in the building throughout, even to the flooring. In this building Abraham Lincoln practiced law continually from 1840 to 1848. It was there that the famous pioneer preacher, Peter Cartwright, held revival services. Mr. Miles said the saddest part of his visit at Ford's village was to sit in the blood-stained chair in which the martyred president sat after he received his mortal wound.

Memorial Fire Burns.

Mr. Miles informed Miss Lyons that October 21, 1929, the golden jubilee of the incandescent light was celebrated at Ford's village as Edison made his wonderful discovery nearby. At this celebration President Herbert Hoover was one of the honored guests. While visiting Lincoln courthouse Mr. Hoover set alight the logs which had been arranged on the hearth of its fireplace. This fire has, at Mr. Ford's direction, been kept replenished ever since, and this is the only burning memorial to Abraham Lincoln.

When Miss Lyons visited Mr. Miles, she sat in the latter's Ford

V-8 which stands beside the Miles trailer home in Long Beach. This car was traded to Mr. Miles by Mr. Ford for the latter's used Studebaker. The Studebaker Mr. Ford has placed in a garage at Ford of the Lincoln courthouse as a souvenir because it belonged to so near a kin of the famous president. Mr. Miles' new car is one which he saw constructed in the factory and he keeps it polished to the nth degree.

Mr. Miles assisted in the Illinois hot building at the Chicago fair. It was an apropos setting for the impersonator among many of Lincoln's belongings. There he met the noted surgeon, Dr. Max Thorkie, president of the International Photographers' association, who requested him to pose for photographs to be displayed in all cities of the world. Mr. Miles posed as model for George Lober, sculptor-instructor of New York, also for Woolsey, noted artist of various classes of painting and sketching in that city.

Immediately after the motion picture of Lincoln's life had been shown for New York school children in 1934, the young folks were thrilled by the appearance of Lincoln's double who repeated for them the Gettysburg address.

In the same year Mr. Miles drove to the birthplace of his grandmother, Mary, and her sister, Nancy Hanks. This is 12 miles south of Keyes, W. Va. A monument had been dedicated shortly before that, and the Nancy Hanks Memorial association honored Mr. Miles by making him an honorary life member. The original home is gone. The marker is made of rocks of the chimney of the old fireplace. It rests on a large millstone found nearby. The burr was used in the grinding of flour. It was 17 inches thick and good base stone. Several gates used to have to be opened to reach the site but now a modern highway is built.

Invited for Movie.

In 1938 Charles Miles competed with 49,000 contestants in a screen test during "Opportunity Week" at the Majestic ball room in Long Beach. He was first prize for aptitude for characterization within his type. Soon after a telegram intimated Mr. Miles had been chosen for the $10,000 lead in a picture in which Abraham Lincoln was to be the hero. Upon his arrival in Hollywood the producer explained that Miles was to depict an unpleasant scene with his picture sweetheart, Ann Rutledge. Also in a saloon he was to refuse to drink at the bar but to boast of his strength. "That is beneath my idea of a gentleman," and from my understanding of Abraham Lincoln I know that he would never do it either. I refuse," Mr. Miles told the producer and walked from the studio. Later Mr. Miles was asked again by the studio producer if he had changed his mind and his answer was "No." Another person played the part but it is interesting to know that the picture cannot be shown anywhere in the United States. Thus the attempt to damage the character of the nation's hero just to make a sensational film failed and Lincoln's memory continues to inspire.

NOURSE Oils and Greases

The winter treated 100% pure paraffine based oil. It flows 30 below zero. It has that extra film of oiliness that never drains from your motor. It does not evaporate under extreme heat or overloading. It gives your motor that perfect piston seal which means more power with a quicker motor turn over, which means quicker starting in cold weather. Try a change in your motor car or tractor. This oil is sold with a 100% money-back guarantee.

Enter the Nourse Motor Oil Contest! You may be lucky! Have you heard? Come in and we'll be glad to tell you.
