Often the poisoning is facilitated by leav-ing a narrow strip of a dialfa in the first cutting, the pests being driven into this strip where they can be easily poisoned. Mr. Walters ex-plained that best results are ob-tained by using poison when the temperature is between 75 and 90 degrees, and no danger is done to hivestock when the bait is spread with an endgate seeder or other device that does an even job. Too Much THE OMAHA World-Her-Too Much THE OWARIA World-Her-ald quotes some rough ref-erences to America's smug-ness and apathy. It quotes an Omaha visitor as saying the grandchildren of hardy pioneers who conquered the wild plains are afraid to get their feet wet. It explains Bruce Barton's questioning atti-tude in this way. plains are allaid explains Bruce B tude in this way:

"There is room for debate, he said, on the question whether this country is anything more than a collection of organized appetites. A lot of people#he said, go on the theory that life is a picnic under federal auspices, with the government providing the lunch and chasing away the ants."

But the World-Herald offers encour ement in its closing comment:

gement in its closing comment: ""Of course things are not as black as they can be made to seem. The American people are still vigorous and resourceful, and they are, at heart, intensely loyal to the republic. When the showdown comes, we believe, they will lose their apathy and quickly get into fighting trim. "But that may not be soon enough. "If we ever become involved in another war we will not have a year to get ready as we did last time. We will not have even a month. "It is worth defending." Figuration EXERCISENCIES which excused launching the new deal seven years ago, re-elected the president three years ago and a season to keep him in office for a third term, should have de-creased instead of increased in order to justify continued confidence in Washing-ton planners. As a matter of fact, the rec-of blundering at such huge cost would in ordinary walks of business be considered maple ground for dismissal of those in charge and installation of new manage-ment without delay. Touching needs of reconstruction along sound lines, are the following appropriate the former series of the series of the robots informed and experienced management." Hoover's IN HIS SPEECH Monday Night, Herbert Hoover, former president, resented President Roosevelt's suggestion that little had been done for defense compared with what had been accomplished in the last seven years under the new deal, Mr. Hoover denied implications that his ad-ministration had been neglectful. As point-ed out, dangers had not developed until the new deal got into power. Mr. Hoover ex-pressed his judgment on conditions and needs in part as follows: "What America must have is such defenses that no European nation will even think about crossing this 3,000 miles of ocean at all. We want a sign of lkeep of the grass' with a fierce dog plainly in sight. "My dyn view is that we need first a strong navy. We need a skeletonized but more flex-bile army. We need a grass additions of skilled personned in aur reservies, air pilots, task driv-ers and gunners. And we need equally the or-ganization of our industrial capacity to produce-our weapons and supplies. . . We do not want 50,000 phanes but away in hangars. These planes would be obsolete in a year. I do not suppose that this is the president's proposal. . . What we need is organization in Washington capable of bringing about a co-ordination of American industry that can produce 50,000 air-planes in a year if they were called upon to do it. If we could demonstrate that we could supply, the army and navy with 4,000 planes during a single month, that would, be ample notice to the world to keep off our grass."

notice to the world to keep off our grass." Latest IN THE COURSE of another "Chat" "fireside chat" Sunday night, the president made the encour-aging statement that the army and navy are "the largest, the best equipped and the best trained peacetime military establishment in the history of this country." The presi-dent announced speed in preparedness and the coordination of industry in produc-tion. He said the navy had received $1,-487,000,000 more since 1938 than during the previous seven years, and that the army had received $1,292,000,000 more since 1933 than during the previous seven years. He did not explain amounts spent in the seven years preceding 1933. Further ex-planation would be interestingly enlighten-ing. Persons who appreciate the American capacity and skill in production, feel assur-ed this country will not long lack adequate means of defense. "Then possible enemies are not likely to jump on us. are not likely to jump on us.

Food ASSURANCE is that with na-tions abroad at war instead of Needs following peace - time pursuits, all the food products that can be raised will be needed to feed the world's hungry. Note of the prospect is taken by Washing-ton authorities as explained by the Omaha Journal-Stockman in the following: "Secretary of Arriculture Wallese new gives

"Secretary of Agriculture Wallace now gives it out that there will be no further restrictions-this year on the acreage planted to food crops. It will be welcome news to the whole world as the burdensome surpluses of food products in this country have constituted the one ray of hope that the days of acute famine and suffer-ing would end with the ending of the war. This is no time to curtail food production anywhere."

General Hugh S. Johnson; who strikes with caustic works, explodes the idea of wishful thinkers that people want the president's official tenure extended on ac-count of dangers abroad. Johnson blames the president for spending huge sums of public money without making due plans for defense. Johnson thinks the president has shown no qualities of statesmanship that would warrant the American people in surrendering their future to his care in the present or impending crisis.

Communism, fascism and nazilsm are equally bad. Whether one is suppressed, tossed into a concentration camp and final-ly killed according to the rules of one dictatorship or another, the result is the same. Of foreign isms, Representative Ran-kin of Mississippi says: "Communism and fascism are merely symptoms of the same disease. One is the chill and the other the feyer of the dying liberties of mankind."

Dictator countries have built up huge military machines, and the time comes when they are pressed to use them. Right now Mussolini has what he thinks is a formidable machine that should not be wasted in idleness—ought to be put to its intended service of killing and destroying. Thousands of young Italians, reared amidst clanking arms, are fretting to get into a fight. a fight.

Ascending new deal activities covering seven long years, may lead ardent Harold Ickes or some other flaming new dealer to launch a morment to change dating to be-gin in 1933 when dizzy experiments took form and federal cash began to fly. Then we would have time divided into B. C., A. D., and N. D.

Although centuries have been devoted to cultivating distaste for lying and deceit, we are sickened by observation of more of both as war measures abroad than at any time since the dark ages. It will take a long time to get survivors out of the war-time state of mind.

Former President Herbert Hoover sug-gests a non-partisan board to handle funds to be appropriated for military prepared-ness. The reckless abandon with which the new deal circle has spent money in the past gives force to the suggestion, of her brother, C. S. Hansen, of near Winslde, to get acquainted with the new nephew. IN WAR. Killing people in war is not called murder. It is beastly, but it is glorified. Destroying prop-ety in war is not called wicked yandalism. the result is use same in here works. It seems works to losely because there is no chance to invoke the law or to force resti-tution. In war it is heroic to burn, pillage and slaughter. In pehce-time life such acts would be scorned as the products of a crazed mind, and the strong arm of restraint would reach out and bring the guilty to instice. Badges of honor are beout and bring 'the guilty to justice. Badges of honor are be-stowed on the finest job of slaying — the most successful feat of blowing up priceless treasures and setting civiliza-tion back a thousand years. And why is a war of conquest more to be condoned than the exploits of old-time pirates who sailed forth to capture unwary victims and plunder their cargoes? Ag-gression just does not harmon-ize with due sense of justice and right. right.

Memorial for the second ure of successful American arms to fortify democracy in the World war does not in the least detract from the high purposes nor from the honor due those who participated. American sol-diers fought for a principle, won and withdrew. It was then up to Europe to frame a proper treaty and look out to preserve peace. The day is now enlarged to include memory of departed to include memory of departed veterans of all wars. It is an occasion when not only the graves of soldier dead are re-membered, but when the recurs of many departed loved ones are covered with the season's richest blossoms. The school is being well planned with several teachers. Every child of Concord and community should attend. The desire is that all par-ents will cooperate in sending the children. The great need today to make the world safe is for Chris-tian training and nothing can take its place. "Train up a child how he shall walk and when he is old he will not depart from it." Jesus said "Let the children come unto me and forbid them not for to such belongeth the Kingdom of God." We cheerfully urge and in-vite all.
