New Road Grade North of Wayne Near Completion

Considerable Damage Done To Roads and Bridges By Week's Storm.

Completion of grading on the four-mile sector of highway No. 15 adjoining Wayne on the north is expected the last of this week, providing weather is favorable.

Hard surfacing of the Laurel-Wayne new routing of this highway, contracted some time ago, has started at the north end and proceeding southward.

Regraveling contracts in Wayne county were let Thursday by the state board at Lincoln to J. N. Eining of Wayne.

The state board also let two other contracts for road projects in this section last week.

Damage done to Wayne county roads and bridges by last week's storms is estimated by the county board at $50,000.

The bridge near the railroad track on highway 35, between Wayne and Wakefield, is now planned so that it can be used.

Funeral Rites Held in Lyons

Ernest A. Wiltse, 74, Passes Away Saturday Night After Long Illness.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday at 2:30 in the Lyons Methodist church for E. A. Wiltse, father of Willard Wiltse of Wayne, who passed away Saturday evening.

Mr. Wiltse, who had been in ill health for some months, was taken home last week from a Sioux City hospital.

Ernest Alfred Wiltse was born November 20, 1866, at Decatur, Neb., and died June 8, aged 74 years, 6 months and 18 days.

Mr. Wiltse married Miss Ida May Rowan in 1893 and to this union were born eight children.

Why couldn't the crooked Logan be straightened out and made it less disposed to go on a rampage?

Beautiful Park Inundated. It is reported that the beautiful park and fair grounds at West Point were under five feet of water following the big downpour last week.

June's Reputation. June is known as a wet month. In June, 1923, 7.23 inches of moisture fell here, and that month in 1924 contributed 8.17 inches.

For Trained Air Pilots. The growing demand for many more trained air pilots will make interest in aeronautics schools like the one to be established in Wayne develop rapidly.

land went into India, not to rule and gain power but to trade with the Indians. Mohammedans made trouble so the English forced them out of power and set up trading posts which gradually became the seats of power. The Indians, who had been oppressed, turned gratefully to the English rule which offered them law, order and charity. Today they are awakening and want to rule themselves.

"If England realizes that her 'baby' is growing up and loosens the apron strings; if she realizes she is dealing with an awakened nation and not a rebellious, ungrateful nation, then there is still great hope of averting the final explosion. I do not believe India wants to resort to revolution, but she is fully prepared to do so if driven to it as a last resort."

India has three main political parties with which England has to deal. They are the nationalists or congress party representing 220 millions of people, Moslem minority representing 89 millions of Moslems, and the princes who rule the native states and represent 63 millions. The two minority parties are antagonistic toward the nationalists because they are a socialistic group.

The nationalists, the ruling party in India now, have organized the only government in which the Indians of all types have been encouraged to work together. This is gradually breaking down the rigid caste system which has been keeping Indian progress back for years. In 1935 the government of India was actually formulated. The British crowned parliament is at the top and the British viceroy of India who has the power to rule by decree is second in authority. Government is divided into two parts, the central and the provincial.

Miss Woods stated that Ghandi is a great Indian leader. He is a friend of the British and pleads with his people to have patience with the British. The Indians need to have a leader of this sort, Miss Wood believes, for they changed overnight from a hopeful, pleading people to a bitter, rebellious nation.

When the Indians ask for their freedom the British argue, "You need our protection." To this the Indians reply, "Not if we are permitted to build up our own nation. We may have some poor government but we will learn."

In closing Miss Wood said, "Britain is now in a dilemma. Perhaps we cannot blame her too much for her action just now—but certainly her past actions are difficult to understand."

manager of northwest division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in addressing the general meeting of Wayne members Tuesday evening at the auditorium.

"Business and industry are prepared to mobilize for national defense, the speaker continued. But to meet this and other economic challenges of the present, Mr. Marcellus added, business must be unhampered. Restrictions hinder accomplishing the desired purposes. Mr. Marcellus advised giving serious thought to the European situation and its relation to the American economy."

The national Chamber of Commerce functions according to the wishes of the membership in 1,200 Chamber of Commerce groups and 400 trade associations.

Minorities have a right to be heard and should be given consideration, but the individual interests should be converted to the good of the whole. Reports on Local Group. Secretary W. H. Sweet reported that "accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce through united efforts of various committees are outstanding and progress to date is highly encouraging for the future."

The board had a dinner meeting at Hotel Stratton before the general gathering. At this Mr. Marcellus spoke. The board voted unanimously to pledge support to the farm bureau and contributed $100 to enable the bureau to continue its work.

SAFEWAY WITH U.S. -CO. OPERATES STAMP PLAN FOOD - TO MARKET SURPLUS FARM PRODUCTS

ON JUNE 3, the Federal Government's new Food Stamp plan to market surplus farm commodities went into effect in Wayne County. The stamp plan was inaugurated to give the farmer a greater return for his products, and to assure better nutritional balance of food to the families that are being provided with surplus foods by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation.

EVERYONE, whether eligible to buy food stamps or not, should be interested in this new stamp plan for it is smart and thrifty to watch for and buy the foods that are listed as surplus (blue stamp items). There are more of these particular foods available from farmers than normal buying is consuming—so they represent better values than usual.

Surplus Commodities Until further notice the following are listed by the Secretary of Agriculture as Surplus foods. Therefore, Blue Food Order Stamps are good for only these items: Butter, Shell Eggs, Pork Lard, Corn Meal, Dried Prunes, Raisins, Rice, Hominy Grits, Fresh Peas, Fresh Spinach, Fresh Oranges, Wheat Flour, etc.

Those eligible to obtain food stamps may purchase from $4.00 to $6.00 worth of orange stamps each month for each member of his family. With each dollar's worth purchased, the participant is given 50c worth of blue stamps. The place to obtain stamps is given on the back of each participant's identification card, and this card must be presented when food stamps are purchased.

Blue stamps are good for the purchase of all surplus foods listed by the Secretary of Agriculture now. Orange stamps are good for the purchase of any food-stuffs consumed at home, (not for cleaning and laundry materials, tobacco and beverage bottles.) The Surplus Foods priced in this advertisement are starred (*).

At Safeway, the same high quality foods, the same low prices, and the same service is given for stamps as for cash.

Safeway Issues Credit Cards for Change in Food Stamp Transactions. Retailers are forbidden by U. S. Government to give change in CASH when purchases are made with stamps. For your convenience, Safeway is issuing blue credit cards and orange credit cards in denominations of 1c and 5c. These cards can be used for future purchases at the Safeway store from which you receive them.

Hoskins Nine Spoils Record Of Wayne Team Here in Close Game Sunday.

Opening its home schedule at the new athletic field diamond last Sunday, Wayne's Big Six team suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of Hoskins by a score of 3 to 2.

Walt Kennedy, on the mound for Hoskins, was working nicely and held the Wayne batsmen well in hand throughout the game. He allowed only 4 hits and struck out 15. Errors by his teammates put him in several tight spots and resulted in the two Wayne scores. Young Sommers pitched quite effectively for Wayne, whiffing and allowing 5 hits. But bunching of these hits proved his downfall. Fuhrman was the spearhead of the Hoskins attack with two hits, both of which netted scores.

Hoskins took an early lead in the 2nd when Kennedy got on by virtue of an error and scored on another error. Successive hits by Fuhrman and Weher in the 3rd resulted in another score, and the final score came in the 5th with successive singles by Dreessen and Fuhrman.

Wayne's first counter came in the 8th when Bornhoff was safe on an error and scored on another error. The last score was made in the 8th as Simmerman got on base by an error and scored on Cross' hit. Cross was stranded on third as the game ended.

Next Sunday Wayne meets the league-leading Randolph team in the Wayne diamond in what promises to be a real thriller.

Promising Tenor Coming to Wayne

William Horne, young American tenor, who will sing at the State Teachers college Thursday, June 20, at 8 p. m., was born in New York City and has received all of his musical education in the United States. His New York debut was under the auspices of the Walter W. Naumburg Musical Foundation this past winter, and was one of the sensations of the New York musical season.

As a child Horne sang for four years under the direction of Edward Petri and had the opportunity of hearing the singing of all the leading tenors of that time, such as Caruso, Gigli, Edward Johnson, Tokatyan and many others.

Mr. Horne began his vocal studies under the tutelage of Mme. Lillie Sang-Collins. He was awarded the Charles R. Woods memorial scholarship at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, Md. This scholarship also included a traveling fellowship, making it possible for him to devote a summer to visiting the opera houses, museums and art centers of Spain, Italy, France, Switzerland and England.

William Horne then became a scholarship student at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. When he was graduated from Curtis, he continued his studies with the celebrated teacher, Mme. Anna M. Schoen-Rene, and is still working under her guidance.

Italy THE SWAGGERING Mussolini was bristling with bombast when he announced Italy's entrance into the war. He said he was taking up arms "to solve the problems of our continental frontiers," and he assured, as a result, a "long period of peace and prosperity to Italy and the world." Every Italian was required to listen and doubtless to applaud his utterances. And compelling attention and expression of approval had a precedent in the tyranny of ancient Rome's Nero who was little, if any, worse.

Mussolini was apparently grieved over the necessity of going into the war. He thinks he had some wrongs to right. As a matter of fact, dictators try to justify themselves no matter how flimsy or specious their ground. The real reason is not given. It is to share in the loot — grab territory and gain power, and the idea of justice is wholly subordinated to the spirit of conquest. Italians have been trained from babyhood up to become soldiers — anxious to fight and sacrifice themselves for their country. Mussolini makes his people think he is doing something to help civilization, whereas he is helping to blast civilization in the direction of ruin.

With Italy joining totalitarian forces, the resourcefulness of the United States stands out more prominently than ever as the remaining big hope for free peoples.

Wilkie and Roosevelt THE RAPID ascension of Wendell Wilkie's candidacy for the republican presidential nomination leads the Sioux City Journal to contrast Wilkie with Roosevelt in these words:

"The contrast between these two men is sharp. They are as unlike, perhaps, as two men could be. The one is impractical, visionary, a starry-eyed reformer; the other is a hard-headed, common sense businessman whose feet are solidly on the ground. The one is an exponent of disruption, an apostle of division and class hatred; the other believes in unity of purpose, in doing things the American way, in organizing America for the security and benefit of all the people. The one is a spender of the luxes, as witness his continuing raids on the treasury; the other is a man who knows the value of a dollar and how to get it in the public interest with the least waste. And in this critical hour for the United States, if these two men opposed each other for the presidency, it would be difficult to imagine a majority going along with the candidate of the party in power."

For Church IN A WORLD torn by discord and profoundly disturbed by threats to religious and civil liberties, it is stimulating to note recommendations made this week to the local Kiwanis club by its committee "on support of churches in their spiritual aims." It suggests:

"That the program committee arrange for at least one program each quarter to discuss church problems and objectives; that the local theatre flash church slogans on the screen; that the union outdoor summer services in the Willow Bowl be encouraged and supported by the club; that the club invite the ministers of this city and surrounding cities to be guests of the club for a special program; that every Kiwanis plan to attend church beginning next Sunday; that a religious survey be made of Wayne and community."

An awakened interest in spiritual values is truly encouraging.

Eighty-six per cent of those interviewed in the Gallup poll said they would quickly volunteer for military service if any nation attacked this country or attempted to invade it. There is no doubt about the intense loyalty of the great bulk of Americans to the United States. They do not want to go abroad to fight, but they would not hesitate to sacrifice to the limit to defend their native or adopted country. More men are not needed in the shambles of Europe. The need is for war machines, and these will be supplied to the allies as a defense to democracy as fast as possible.

It is recalled that the administration's theoretical intellectuals made life as tough as possible for William Knudsen, president of the General Motors company, during past years, and we wonder how they now feel to step aside to give the big Dane leadership in the practical business of re-arming and enlarging mechanization of America's military forces. If such men as Knudsen and Ford and other industrial leaders had been asked to serve in recent years in solving domestic problems, we would long ago have been lifted out of the economic bog.

It is a source of relief to believe due legislation will prevent profiteering that was evident in the World war, in building the country's means of defense at this time. It is remembered that both manufacturing and organized labor prices were skyrocketed beyond reason. There should now be allowed no excessive profits either in planning defense or in prosecuting inevitable conflict.

Benito Mussolini waits until he thinks the democratic way of government has been crushed, and then he steps in with a great blare of trumpets in the hope of helping finish the job and bearing away a share of the plunder. "Scavenger, vulture and jackal" are words applied to him by a horrified social order.

President Roosevelt vetoed the bill to curb "pocket veto" powers on the ground that it might have "far-reaching complications," and that this kind of veto was provided by the "founding fathers." Anyway, we are pleased to note the president is taking more heed of the wisdom of the "founding fathers."

When the Chamber of Commerce committee works out its plan to increase parking spaces in the business district, it will add greatly to the convenience of people who come here to shop. More shoppers and more automobiles call for more parking room, and this is to be provided.

Gen. John J. Pershing urges unlimited shipments of war supplies to the allies in Europe in order to safeguard the American democracy. He also favors compulsory military training as means of preparedness in case of possible invasion.

The Wayne county landscape with fast-growing vegetation and rich green looks wonderful following late rains. A trip into the country is highly worth while.

Henry Ford says his factory can turn out at least 1,000 high-speed pursuit planes per day. But, he adds, "they are to be used for defense only."

"If we are strong and ready when trouble comes," says the World-Herald, looking to future war clouds, "trouble may turn away."

It should be remembered that there is an ordinance against shooting firecrackers or other explosives within the city of Wayne.

Argentine Corn Again.
(Omaha Journal-Stockman)

A message from Washington says government officials are again worried over the prospect of heavy imports of South American corn now that the harvest there is over for the year.

"Reports that upwards of 500,000 bushels of Argentine corn had been sold for delivery to Pacific coast points this month had caused officials to consider taking steps to invoke import quota provisions of crop control act of 1938.

"For the time being the department decided to make government-owned corn available in the Pacific coast markets at prices competitive with foreign grain.

"Foreign corn is subject to import duty of 25c a bushel. Officials explained that inasmuch as government loan programs had pegged American prices considerably above world levels, Argentine shippers apparently were able to pay the duty and sell grain in the American market."

Let's Keep to the Rules.
(Norfolk Daily News)

When the American Legion speaks, it speaks with the authority of twenty-two years of interest in the problems that are now far out in front.

It has been trying to arouse public interest in national defense. It has fathered a plan of universal service in event of war. It has warned of subversive influences in this country and has tried to awaken the authorities and the people to the need of taking action. It has pointed to the position of America in a world armed with high explosives.

President Raymond J. Kelly, national commander of the Legion, in an editorial in The National Legionnaire, calls attention to the record of his organization, and offers some words of counsel and reassurance that deserve careful thought.

"In my belief," he says, "the most menacing factor to the safety of the United States arises from within our borders rather than without. Our house must be set in order. But the neglect of years cannot be corrected in a few short minutes, hours, and days. What must be done we will do — if a determined and united America sets its will to the task.

"In the first place, we should face the fact that communazi conspirators seeking to undermine and to destroy our institutions are fanatics. The truth as we know it is not in them. Reasonable treatment has no effect upon them, and but serves to embolden and encourage their efforts.

"We have been told that far-reaching suppressive measures against flourishing domestic ideological conspiracies might injure innocent people. In my belief the good of the whole nation compels summary action to be taken by our properly constituted federal, state, and local authorities to stamp out in their entirety the activities of these subverters, irrespective of what may happen to their fellow-travelers or innocent bystanders. This is no time for quibbling. We must pull no punches."

But while insisting on the strongest action against subversive elements, Commander Kelly stresses the importance of American Legion organizations working through recognized law enforcement agencies. There should be no independent action, except where law enforcement agencies collapse completely. It is important to bear this in mind. Democracy does not mean mob and mass action; it means action under the law.

This cannot be too strongly emphasized. Anything like witch-hunting, or alien-baiting is a discredit to the very principles for which this country stands. This is no time for hysteria. There should be, as Commander Kelly says, no mid-summer madness. "It is a blue chip game and we must play them close and play them to win," he adds.

FIFTH COLUMN.

A radio speaker Sunday night said alien enemies in the United States have two main objectives — prevent preparedness and increase the number of people on relief. Both aims would weaken defense. Such motives, if reported correctly, should stimulate the work of the Dies committee and intensify efforts for safeguarding American shores against possible invasion. In saving this democracy from war-mad dictators, everything must be done to speed the building of bombing planes, tanks and other instruments of defense. Opposing elements are said to be working stealthily within some piously named organization, and in such disguise they are able to extend subversive influences more easily and more effectively. While sending fighting equipment abroad to help defend the cause of democracy on foreign shores and while building up latest means of home protection, the government will have to be on the alert to stop the intrigues of the so-called fifth column. The only remaining big democracy must be kept democratic and free.

For Free Celebration.

The proper committee of the Chamber of Commerce should have plans developing for a mid-summer free celebration of an attractive sort. It might come appropriately at the time when we are assured of an abundant crop and everybody feels like rejoicing.

Recital Presented Thursday Evening

A sizable and appreciative audience greeted Prof. Albert G. Carlson, pianist, in his second personal appearance, for the season, in a piano recital at the college auditorium last Thursday evening. Mrs. Clarence McGinn, soprano, assisted this program with a group of songs.

In this second concert, Mr. Carlson presented interpretations of a different set of piano works from those in the first. The program opened with the Beethoven C minor "Sonata," then followed "Bagatelle," Beethoven; "La Laine," MacDowell; "Impromptu" in A flat, Schubert; "Polonaise" in E flat minor, Chopin; "Monkeys" and "Dance of the Wild" written by Mr. Carlson; "Gardens in the Rain" by the French composer, Debussy. Responding to encores Mr. Carlson played "Menuet," by Schubert, and "Fable," by Schumann. Mr. Carlson interspersed the program with comments on the various works.

Mrs. Clarence McGinn used her lovely voice to beautiful effect in her group of songs which included, "Boy O' Mine" written by MF and Mrs. Carlson; "In the Lilac Rain," by Mr. Carlson; "The Lark Now Leaves His Watry Nest," Parker; "Love's in My Heart," Woodman; Mrs. McGinn sang "A Birthday," Woodman, for an encore. Mrs. Albert G. Carlson accompanied Mrs. McGinn at the piano in her usually sympathetic and charming style.

Minister Is Injured.

Rev. S. N. Horton, minister of the Belden and Carroll Congregational churches, suffered a severe cut on one arm when helping move the family furniture from Madison to Belden recently. Rev. Horton's hand went through a glass and the resulting cut required 10 stitches.

Dakota Judge Dies.

Sherman W. McKinley, 61, Dakota county judge, died Sunday at South Sioux City. Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday in South Sioux City. Mr. McKinley leaves his wife and one son.

APPRECIATIVE.

Rev. W. A. Mansur, former pastor of the Methodist church at Winside, now of Inavale, Neb., is a native of a foreign country, and how he appreciates the United States, the land of his adoption, is expressed in the following excerpts from a letter written to the editor: "Memorial day! What a day for the revival of true Americanism! Mrs. Mansur and I went to a Memorial day service at the Red Cloud cemetery. It did our hearts good. We thanked God for the land of liberty — America, our lovely home-land, the land where a man can look up toward the blue skies and know that he is a free man. What a wonderful thing to be a free man, and live in a land where people are free! * * * When I see Old Glory my heart thrills within me. I have seen Old Glory in other lands, on ships in sea ports, and on the high seas, but, my friend, you really appreciate it best when you see it at home, in good old U.S.A. As for the war in Europe, let us do our best to make America safe for democracy. That's my stand — let's keep America American, America which I believe is man's last stand for liberty."

Sheep Dipping Day Arrangements Made

Sheep producers from Wayne and some from Pierce and Cedar counties will bring their sheep to the C. H. Morris farm Tuesday, June 18, for the annual sheep dipping day. This farm is located three and one-half miles west and one mile north of Carroll.

Farm families who are going to have their sheep dipped are planning to bring the sheep, the entire family and a picnic lunch and spend the day. Sheep will be dipped in the morning and a program arranged for the afternoon. The attempt is being made to have M. A. Alexander from the agricultural college or some representative of extension service present to discuss new developments in sheep management.

The inconvenience and expense caused by dipping sheep are offset many times by the increased production of wool and weight of the animals. The cost of the dip is pro-rated over the entire number of animals dipped. This charge in previous years has been approximately 2c per head. There is no charge except for the actual expense.

Some years ago C. H. Morris instituted the annual sheep dipping day which has become so helpful to the sheep raisers in northeast Nebraska. In recent years the farm bureau has cooperated with Mr. Morris.

Expert in Canning Comes to Wayne

Demonstrations in the latest and best methods of canning fruits and vegetables will be given for homemakers of Wayne county Wednesday, June 19, at 1:30 in Wayne city hall. All interested are invited.

Mrs. Carol Clark Theim, canning expert, who will conduct the program, is a home economics graduate of South Dakota state college and a former South Dakota home demonstration agent.

For the past several years Mrs. Theim has specialized in home canning and is now a staff member of the Mason jar company.

Only a limited number of counties in Nebraska have been able to secure the services of Mrs. Theim, and women of the vicinity are urged to take advantage of the opportunity of hearing her.

To Give Driving Tests.

State patrolmen will be at the court house in Wayne July 2, August 6, September 3, October 1, November 5 and December 3 to give tests for drivers' licenses. Dates in Dixon county are July 11, August 8, September 12, October 10, November 14 and December 12.

From Headquarters.

Congressman Sweet has been doing an excellent job reporting to his people what he has found at Washington. Mr. Sweet is in an enviable position, in that he is not a candidate for re-election, and it is not necessary for him to gloss over any facts that he uncovers in seeking to apply intelligence to his job.

The congressman says that letters are pouring in upon every member from alarmed constituents who want to know what became of all the 66 billions that the Roosevelt administration has spent in the seven years it has been in power. Four and a half billions were earmarked for the war department, and two billions of this was expended on salaries and wages, while but 700 million was expended on equipment.

Last August, when the European war broke out, the president created a war industry board, membership on which included men of the same type as those now summoned for service. It did nothing because it was given no authority to do anything, and in a few months faded out of the picture leaving affairs in the hands of the new dealers whom the president insists be retained in connection with the war preparations program now in progress.

Mr. Sweet finds republican sentiment in congress unanimous in support of the defense program, but says they will insist on knowing where all the money is going, while at the same time trying to find out where the money went that was appropriated in the past. In this they will have democratic support. Members of the house military committee did not relish the statement of the president as to the amount of war material on hand and "on order." One member, plagued by the statement, remarked that "to have a dozen eggs in the pantry and five dozen more ordered from the hen for future delivery, an indefinite delivery at that, is a different proposition from having seven dozen on hand, and that's what we want."

Mr. Sweet finds another thing of interest to report in connection with taxpaying. According to the United States statistical abstract nine southern states, all new deal, are not particularly capable of paying taxes, but they have 18 senators and 78 congressmen.

Services Are Conducted for Mrs. Warren Cowan at Gardiner, Mont.
Mrs. Annie Bastian Cowan, 61, sister of Albert and Martin Bastian of Wayne, died May 26 in Billings, Mont., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul G. Simmons. Funeral services were held at Gardiner, Mont., May 30, with Mrs. Weel, Unity reader of Livingston officiating.
Mrs. Cowan was born in Wayne, September 9, 1878, and spent her early years here. She was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bastian who were pioneers in Wayne county. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith, but later joined the Methodist church. In 1904 she was married to Warren Cowan in Livingston, Mont.
Deceased leaves her husband, Warren Cowan, Gardiner; a daughter, Mrs. Paul G. Simmons, Billings; two sons, Clifford D. Cowan, Glasgow, and Wayne F. Cowan, Fort Stockton; four brothers, Albert and Martin Bastian of Wayne, Adam of Chance, S. D., Leonard of Faith, S. D.; one grandchild and a number of nieces and nephews. Preceding her in death were her parents, a brother, Anton, who died in France during the World war, and a sister, Otillie.
Albert Bastian who attended the rites, returned June 1.

Ruling Is Made On Grain Crops
Some small grain crops will, according to word received by H. J. Podoll, be classified as nondepleting when used as a nurse crop for legumes and perennial grasses, if these crops are cut green for hay. Such grains must be cut not later than the stage at which milk is first formed in order to be classified as nondepleting. In all cases the maturity of the crop should be the basis for determining whether the crop will be classified as nondepleting, except when the crop is cut and bound into bundles with a binder. It is believed that small grains cut with a binder at the stage at which milk is first formed and bound into bundles will not cure satisfactorily for use as hay. Therefore, small grains cut with a binder and bound into bundles will in no event be regarded as having been cut green for hay, states Mr. Podoll. But such grains, when cut green and not bound into bundles, may be considered nondepleting if cut not later than the stage at which milk is first formed.

Annual Club Week Held in Lincoln Enjoyed by Many
The 25th annual 4-H club week opened Monday morning, June 3, at 10:30 with about 300 boys, girls and leaders gathered at the campus of the agricultural college in Lincoln. Esther Schroeder and Alfred Sievers earned trips there for their outstanding work in Wayne county.
"Every day of the week was spent in organized activity," writes Esther. "Four groups of boys and girls were classified according to ages and leaders according to groups were numbered and in each everyone could be accounted for even if he was not known by his leader. Each one also wore a badge bearing his name and county as another means of identification."
"At 6 in the morning everyone was up and a doing." Breakfast was served at 6:45 and discussions started at 8. Various topics were considered with leaders assisting. The main topics were the 4-H program, health and conservation.
"A singing fest was held each morning with Mrs. Tullis and T. C. Diers, leaders, and Wayne F. Cowan, Harold and Polly Beckner, Marilyn Bressler, Earl Echtenkamp, Melvin Hale, Mari Belle James, Floyd Kingston, Arel Lewis, Juanita Miller, Jean Nuss, John Parke, Bob Shaltheis, Helen Steffen and Charles Surber.
Helen Steffen is the only pupil who has had perfect attendance for the year. Charles Surber, Arel Lewis and Earl Echtenkamp had perfect records the last quarter.
"Recreation was in charge of Ralph Copenhagen," continues Esther. "Each morning at 9:35 all types of games and relays were enjoyed. Slides of relays in Idaho and winter sports in California were also enjoyed. In California park, Jimmy, the chimpanzee, gave a demonstration of table manners in public and showed the best skill he knew in riding a bicycle.
"Educational programs were also included. Among these were talks by Chancellor Schwartz of Nebraska Wesleyan, Dr. C. H. Patterson and Mrs. Viola Erickson. The last named is manager of the Better Business bureau in Lincoln and told of her work with that firm.
"Ten traction buses were means of transportation through the city. During the tours many interesting places were visited, among them the state capital, fire department, Morrill hall, Miller & Paine's, Currie Belle Raymond hall and the First Plymouth Congregational church. The church has one of the finest sets of carillon bells in this territory. As the carillons were played, Miss Carlson sang "Ave Maria." Vespers were also held on the lawn of the inner court yard.
"Friday was the special day. Everyone jumped out at 5 o'clock and at 7:30 boarded a train for Omaha. The morning was spent in visiting Swift's packing plant, while the theatre was the place of entertainment in the afternoon. Dinner was served in the Union Stock Yards building and a banquet at 6 in the Woodmen of the World building. On the return journey all were tired but happy.

Christian Science Services
"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, June 16.
The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower" (Psalm 18:2).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (Psalm 91:1).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, to-day is big with blessings. . . Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God. Self-forgetfulness, purity, and affection are constant prayers. Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear, and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings" (Preface vii, P. 15).

recognized for a larger organization to carry out the mission of the church.

Out of the confusion of religious thought an earnest, simple and direct searching for the Scriptures became an outstanding characteristic of the Wisconsin synod. The Lutheran church desired to be guided by the voice of the Scriptures and for this the Wisconsin synod has ample reason to be thankful.

The unique history of the inward spiritual progress will be enlarged upon at the meeting in Norfolk.

Prof. Raymond Cherry of the industrial arts department at Wayne State Teachers college, is author of a book, "General Leathercraft," published by the McKnight & McKnight company of Bloomington, Ill.

The book is divided into four main parts. The first one deals with manufacture of leather, kinds of leather craft, dyes and tools. The second one gives the steps involved in making projects of leather. The third suggests various projects which might be made and the fourth contains illustrations of the designs which might be used to decorate the projects in section three. The book contains many

FIFTYNINTH YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1940

NUMBER SIX

Reports Housing Plan at Schools

Nebraska teachers colleges at Wayne, Chadron, Kearney and Peru have dormitory facilities for 1,500 students or about one-third the total enrollment, according to a report from the normal board. The report of the dormitories at the four schools is placed by Comptroller Fred Anderson at $1,602,019, and value of all other buildings and the grounds at $3,348,260. Eight dormitories and two student-faculty residence halls have been built the past 12 years at no tax cost to the state. Revenues pay the costs.

Undergoes Operation.
Miss Etta Vahlkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Vahlkamp, underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday in a local hospital. She is doing well.

Flood Experience Is More Terrible Than Description

Reports of floods cannot possibly be as bad as actual facts, for only one who has experienced such a disaster knows the horrors that chill the blood at such a time—cries of children, shrieks of men and women, roaring torrents of water and shrill blasts of sirens sounding warnings. Then, when the swirling, raging waters have subsided, sadness envelopes the community—familiar faces in the village are gone. Work and savings of a lifetime are wiped out.

Wayne has two women's dormitories and one men's. Terrace hall for men, built in 1938, is the newest and cost $157,057. Room rentals in the four colleges average $1.50 a week. Room and meals for the term average $206.

BUYS APARTMENT HERE THURSDAY

Mrs. Faye Strahan bought from the Home Owners Loan Co., the apartment house on east 5th street. Consideration was $9,000. The deal was completed last Thursday by M. L. Ringer and possession was given that day. Mrs. Strahan and son will have an apartment in the property.

Wayne Mortician Conducts Service In Stricken Area

Friendly helpfulness, always typical of the middle west, is especially notable in time of disaster. One of the neighboring services rendered in flood-swept Winnebago last week was Wm. Beckenhauer's offer to Undertaker Rogers of that place to bury victims of the storm. All equipment in the Rogers parlors was lost. Mr. Beckenhauer volunteered his help and went to Winnebago Friday to hold services for Mrs. Lola Lipp, 55, Paul Lipp, 16, and Eva Mae Lipp, 14. Rites were conducted in the school, and burial was in Dakota City.

Such anxiety and such depressed feelings, experienced by Mrs. H. E. Ley when she was visiting in Homer during last week's storm, will always revive recollections of the horrors of a flood.

Mrs. Ley and Barbara were with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Evans, who have an apartment adjoining the Evans bank in Homer. About 10 Monday evening, June 3, Mr. Evans realized the seriousness of the storm and aroused the others, who had returned. A neighbor backed Mrs. Ley's car out, the water then being in the running board. Once in getting to the car the rushing water drove Mrs. Ley to fall. The four drove over the bridge leading out of Homer just three minutes before it gave way. They reached the home of friends in South Sioux City.

GAS TAX SHARES FIGURED FOR MAY

Wayne county's share of the May gasoline tax is $2,422.59. Dixon county gets $2,194.53; Cedar, $3,163.43; Gering, $3,197.13; Dakota, $2,391.75; Thurston, $1,772.12; Stanton, $1,701.84; Pierce, $2,337.25; Madison, $5,233.18.

Graduates in Nursing.
Miss Hilda Victor was graduated Monday at Lincoln from the University of Nebraska school of nursing. Miss Emma and Miss Lena Victor, Mrs. A. B. Carhart and Mrs. C. H. Fisher were in Lincoln for the exercises.

The bodies of George Lipp, Ella Lipp, 18, and Carol Jean Tebo, Indian girl who lived with the Lipp's, had not then been found.

Rites for Mrs. Louis Getzmeier, 83, another victim of the Winnebago disaster, were held Saturday in Bancroft. The body of Harry Crawford, 32, Winnebago depot agent, was sent to Omaha last Thursday for service. Rites for Leo Wilke, 32, killed in the Homer explosion, were in Dakota City Saturday. The body of Mrs. Anna Shull, 85, who was drowned when her home washed away at Homer, was recovered Friday two miles down the valley. That of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Williams, 57, who remained with her mother, was not yet found. Paul Kautz, 69, Homer tavern keeper who was injured in the explosion which cost the life of Wilke, died Friday.

Mr. Evans and Mrs. Ley then returned to see what they could do, but the wall of water had filled the creek and swollen to a depth of six or eight feet. They saw the raging waters dashing buildings to bits; they saw the explosion and resulting flames which appeared to envelop the town; they saw huge gas tanks and cars tossed about like toys; they saw brave men rescuing helpless victims who were frightened to hysteria. They saw the futility of the battle against such elements.

What of Wayne's Proposed Flying Course?

"It looks like the United States is going to have to go into the airplane business and I don't see any other way except for the government to give financial aid, for very few people will take up flying unless the biggest expense is paid in this way," stated Carl Wright, president of Wayne Chamber of Commerce, when questioned about the advantages of Wayne's proposed flying course. "It seems to me that aviation is one of the country's biggest things. We wouldn't know how to get along without automobiles now and in 10 or 20 years we may not know how to get along without planes. It seems to be a pretty good opening for young men unless they are adverse to it. Wayne wants to be progressive and take the course as other towns are anxious for such opportunity."

"The flying course would be a swell thing and I would like to take it," was Beverly Canning's enthusiastic response. "It would probably increase the college enrollment and would certainly be very economical to learn to fly that way."

"Wayne has always needed a municipal airport and this is its first opportunity to secure one. I think it is a fine thing," stated Mayor M. L. Ringer. "A town like Wayne should have a place where airplanes can land. Connection with the college would help make it a success and the airport would certainly help the college."

"An aviation course installed here would be a good thing and is probably what will be needed if the nation's defense is going to be built up, for it will take lots of pilots. It is a good opportunity for the boys who want to take up flying," responded C. A. Orr to inquiry about the proposed course.

"It seems to me to be a safe and sane way to learn. It's so well supervised that I don't see how there could be much danger. The training won't hurt any of the boys."

are interested and would like to take the course if it were offered here. I think the idea is all right."

Make Nominations For Legion Offices

Officers of Wayne Legion post, nominated Wednesday last week, are the following: Commander, Raymond Ellis; adjutant, Floyd Conger; first vice commander, Frank Heine; second vice commander, Ernfrid Allvin; finance officer and sergeant at arms, Dr. J. C. Johnson; and historian and chaplain, Prof. K. N. Parke. Election will be the first Wednesday in July. Paul Mines was chairman of the nominating committee.

"The course would be just as good as one taken away from Wayne and would certainly be cheaper for local students."

Miss Minnie Will, who completed her term of teaching in Sioux City last week, was here over Sunday. She left the first of the week for Atlanta, Ga., to spend the summer with her sister.

Early Days in Wayne County

Early Days in the Wayne Herald for June 12, 1924: Hamer Wilson, for 35 years actively associated with the National bank of Wayne, passed away in his sleep June 8, 1924, aged 74 years. He was president of the bank at the time of his death. His wife and one son, Frank, survive.

Mrs. Clyde Oman was elected vice orator at the Royal Neighbor district convention in Stanton. Ellis Miner and Miss Edna Hanssen were married June 10, 1924, and will live on the H. J. Miner farm near Wayne.

Mrs. Alexander Scott died June 11, 1924, at the age of 87 years. Earl Schroer of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, and Mrs. Cecile Robinson, instructor here, were married May 31, 1924.

At the republican national convention in Cleveland Calvin Coolidge was nominated for the presidency. E. S. Edholm bought the interest of S. J. Larson in the Wayne Motor company.

Mrs. Lee Caauwe and Miss Phyllis Amber were bruised when the car in which they were riding collided with one from Pierce county.

Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, pastor of St. Paul church nine years, resigned to accept a call to Mt. Carroll, Ill.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Wittler, jr., June 7, 1924.

and Robert Pullen are newly elected officers of Wakefield high school alumni association.

Miss Agnes Richardson and Miss Ruth French are newly elected teachers in Wakefield.

Wakefield school tax for the coming year will be $13,000 which is $4,300 below the previous year.

Miss Vallie Wiggins and M. P. Bressler of Wakefield, were married June 3, 1924. The latter has the meat market in Wakefield.

Wakefield band will play at Mapleton, Ia., on the Fourth. Ferdinand Podoll died at Hosking June 11, 1924.

Carroll water tank is being painted. Joe Selson and Miss Eleanor Otte were married June 6, 1924, and will live near Randolph.

Harrison Kinkaid of Randolph, and Miss Eva Hughes, Wayne college graduate, were married June 7, 1924.

Albert Press, formerly of Winside, and Miss Louisa Lind were married June 4, 1924, in Denver.

Mrs. Art Auker, Mrs. R. H. Morrow, Miss Gertrude Bayes and Mrs. Geo. Gabler were elected members of Winside library board.

From Wayne Herald for July 7, 1904: Lyons is to have a new gas plant by the first of August.

A new residence is being built for Prof. J. M. Pile at the college. Fred Roerber is building a new barn on his farm near Wayne.

Dan and Paul Harrington went to St. Louis to attend the exposition. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goldie were in St. Louis for the exposition.

Wakefield Woodmen plan a big picnic two days in August. George Benedict of Hosking, went to Canada to visit a brother.

L. C. Walling of Leigh, and Miss Pearl Harmon were married July 6, 1904. Fred Pile arrived from Maine where he attended college.

Dr. E. S. Blair's new five-room office is near completion. Phil Kohl and son, Tracy, went to St. Louis. The 8-year-old son of Conrad Weiershauer suffered a broken collar bone.

Joe Jones resigned as mail carrier at Carroll to take a position with the Peavy elevator. The Methodist conference will be held here in September and Rev. T. J. Wright expects about 200 visitors.

Royal Wright and Miss Gertrude Porter were married July 6, 1904. M. P. Ahern sold his store to A. Rosenberg of Schuyler and Mr. Ahern plans to locate in Illinois.

Rev. J. H. Karpenstein went to Lincoln to meet with alumni of the University of Switzerland where he was graduated. Pender adopted a curfew ordinance which will keep children off the street after 8 in winter and 9 in summer.

But It's True

Roosevelt's hands were abnormally strong. He had made a point of developing them throughout his life. Martense made his bet after it had been announced by the city parks department that there wasn't a loose snake in New York.

James Martense of Brookhollow, who a $100 bet on finding three black snakes in the park near New York City in one year - 1918-19. The man who lost the bet always accompanied him on his hunts.

President Theodore Roosevelt once broke a snake in John Sullivans' hand when they shook hands.

Arthur Hann claims to be a human ostrich for he eats razor blades, thumb tacks, light bulbs, money, etc., for a living.

He says he paid $65 to learn the art and has since kept off relief by practicing it.

When it looked as though the census at Hutchinson, Kan., would fall short of 30,000, the Chamber of Commerce offered $25 for the name of each person missed by the enumerator. The final tally was 31,412.

Rumors report that a race of midge horses is living in the depths of Grand canyon in Colorado. An engineer reported that he trapped two. One was 7 years old and weighed 60 pounds. The other was a yearling, measured 17 inches high and weighed 19 pounds.

A Nevada youth was swimming across a pool under water when he got too close to the drain pipe and his head was sucked in. A companion rescued him after having one of his feet sucked into the drain and cut.

A Denver man was awakened and saw two men back of a nearby tavern. Asking what they were doing, the men replied, "Just cleaning up." The next morning the tavern owner missed a 400-pound safe with $575.

A brag by two boys that each one's dad could lick the other's dad, brought out the fathers who got into a disagreement. This attracted the families and then neighbors. Soon 250 men and women were engaging in a free-for-all.

The census taker ran into a traveltogue at the home of Mrs. Joseph F. Barron, jr., Pittsburgh. She said she was born in New York and her husband in Pittsburgh; her boy in New York and her girl in Pittsburgh, and then: "Where is your husband employed?" "Between Pittsburgh and New York."

Raymond Bryan, 20, bicycle enthusiast, has completed a trek from New York to San Francisco on his bike.

Picks, shovels and a jack comprised the tools of burglars at Ralph Trapper's filling station at Seranton, Pa. In an effort to gain entrance, they tunneled under a wall, then lifted the building with a jack. It didn't work. They finally got in by breaking a window but something frightened them and they fled—empty handed.

Exchanges

Clean-up week is in progress in Stanton. Albert Dinkel, 63, passed away at Pierce Memorial day.

Harold Haisch of Laurel, and Miss Maxine Cogdale of Cole-ridge, were married Sunday last week.

Children at the Crossroads

A Maladjusted Personality.

Fritz finally took the wrong car, and the law was compelled to deal harshly with him for his "joy-riding" habits. The gauge had read "full" when Fritz wheeled the car out of its parking place, but the gauge was wrong, for it still read "full" when Fritz found himself 20 miles from home with an empty tank and no money with which to buy more gasoline.

The tourist who gave Fritz a "lift" became suspicious, delivered him to his home, noted the address, and reported the incident to the police. Having driven out to the stalled car, the police identified it as stolen and promptly arrested the guilty lad.

Fritz was no freshman in this offense of stealing. Sixteen years old, his elementary school education obtained in a parochial school, he should have known better.

His first auto-theft had ended more fortunately. He managed to get that car back to its stall after a 75-mile round trip, and a "big brother" took him in charge in the hope of gaining his confidence and correcting his practices, an aim never accomplished.

Six weeks after that Fritz stole tools and clothing from the automobile of a relative, who pleaded that the boy be given another chance on probation. He was given the opportunity to make good, but he failed.

As a probation-violator not responding to treatment, Fritz must be committed to a penal institution.

The psychiatrist who had earlier in his career examined Fritz said it was impossible to break down the secret philosophy by which he reasoned he had a right to steal. The family history disclosed that his father and paternal grandfather were insane.

Released from the penal institution, Fritz commenced his car thievery again but was not apprehended until he had wrecked the third car he stole.

Fritz is simply an habitual law-violator. Not even his religious training could adjust his personality.

In Wayne county's 85 school districts, according to figures issued by the state division of vital statistics in Lincoln, children enrolled for 1939-40 numbered 1,315. Of these, 1,293 had their nose, eyes, throat, ears and teeth examined. It was found that 357 had no defects, 229 had

Tribute Paid to Early Business Men of Vicinity

A tribute to the fine type of business men found in Wayne county during the past half century is paid by C. E. Benschopf of Winside. And those who have had dealings with Mr. Benschopf would return the compliment for he is of the sturdy pioneer type that is of the heritage of integrity, to succeeding generations.
Mr. Benschopf's first business transaction was with Judge J. M. Cherry in Winside in 1887, about three months before the memorable blizzard of January, 1888. Judge Cherry was then buying grain for the Milligan company and also handling implements. Mr. Benschopf bought wagons from Cherry and the latter trusted him for the balance he could not pay. But to be sure the balance was always paid in time, for that was one of the rules to which pioneers adhered faithfully. Another of the men Mr. Benschopf dealt with often was R. R. Smith of Wayne, who in those early years bought from 5,000 to 10,000 bushels of grain a year from him.
Of the 100 men with whom Mr. Benschopf had such fine business relationships, 56 have gone to their reward. They are J. W. Tillson, A. H. Carter, W. H. McClusky, A. T. Chapin, L. S. Needham, Frank Weible, I. O. Brown, George Needham, John R. Mundy, E. W. Cullen, Chas. Miller, Ed. Lucas, Wm. Schrumpp, Carl Wolff, Alec Goltz, John Gabler, Ike Brugger, C. A. # IT'S FORD

ACROSS THE BOARD

GET AN "8" NOT JUST A "6"

OUT AHEAD in all 7 basic essentials of a great low-priced car! Ford takes commanding leadership. Here is where Ford excels:

- GOING POWER: The kind of power that only the V-8 engine can provide. 6,000,000 Ford V-Eights—more than all other Eights combined—say this is the power plant for you.
- STOPPING POWER: Ford's big hydraulic brakes are the biggest in the low-priced field—a safety factor you've got to have in the new car you buy.
- POWER TO HOLD THE ROAD: No car in any price field excels Ford in keeping "all four feet on the ground" under all driving conditions! Safety plus comfort!
- SMOOTHNESS: Everyone knows no car of fewer cylinders can match an Eight in the smoothness that means velvet quiet.
- STAMINA: No car that can take the rough with the smooth like Ford. This is why there are more Fords on the highway today than any other make of car.
- STYLE: Ford set the current modern trend in beauty of lines. And Ford's unequalled paint job makes its beauty permanent.
- COMPLETE ECONOMY: Low price, low cost of operation and more extras at no extra cost make Ford the great Economy buy for 1940; in this year's sensational Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run, the Ford averaged 24.92 miles per gallon.

Sunday JUNE 16th Fathers Day

For That Prince of Good Fellows—YOUR DAD

That Dad of yours is someone taken for granted... whom you see at meal times—or during an infrequent visit back home? Do you often feel a slight irritation because his clothes don't look like those shown in Esquire? Or wonder why the lines are deepening so rapidly about his mouth and eyes? How little do we in many of us know of the worries and cares that make up Dad's work day. The coal bill must be paid... the monthly grocery and rent... taxes and insurance, doctor and dentist and—perhaps YOU! How little it takes sometimes to lighten this burden! A cheery smile, a flashing smile, a slap on the back man fashion. What a glow it brings to know that somebody cares! And a personal gift be it ever so small often touches him with a feeling almost poignant for Dads are people. Remember then this Prince of Good Fellows—Your Dad—on Father's Day!
