

Scores Highest Point in Celebrations and Excursions—Satisfaction in Employment—Soaking the Business Man—Hindering Progress.

August finds vacations, picnics and so called "free days" at their height. Such diversions start early in the summer and run late into the autumn, but August is the most active in that respect, and accordingly the least active in accustomed endeavors.

Corn is laid by and left to the mercy of the elements. Small grain is usually threshed, and the need for hurry is slackened. Three celebrations were held within the Wayne area last Thursday—old settlers' picnic at Winside, rodeo at Wisner and anniversary jubilee at Dixon—and a record crowd gathered at each place.

Another influence in support of increased attendance and enlivened enjoyment has been the favorable turn in crop conditions in northeast Nebraska. Small grain goes ahead of mid-July's threatening drought, and August's rains brought the corn out of the fiery weather in better shape than feared. So, with small grain safely in hand and with corn offering greater promise than for several years, people naturally have felt like celebrating. Green pastures in contrast with the burned and grasshopper-infested landscape during Augusts of recent recollection inspire confidence and a serene state of mind that harmonizes with the picnic spirit. Assurance of due returns on the year's work makes one feel doubly warranted in taking time off for recreation.

Keeping Busy. We heard an elderly individual who is running a filling station, say he couldn't stand retirement, and that he thoroughly enjoyed the work he was doing. He had retired, and doubtless thought he would be relieved by having no definite tasks to perform. But he soon learned that idleness was a harder job than any labor he got into business, and he reaps a lot of satisfaction in handling it.

People work through a long series of years in the hope of amassing enough to justify quitting and loafing away the balance of their lives. But the content anticipated is seldom if ever attained. Doing regularly something that has to be done is a tonic that doubtless adds to longevity. As years multiply, one should slow down, but he should not fold up and quit.

Advertising "Rackets." The editor of the Covington News, published at Andalusia, Ala., became so deeply incensed over what he termed an advertising "racket," imposed by a stranger on local business men, that he used considerable vitriol in expressing himself. As the Alabama editor explains, a stranger blows into town with a wonderful advertising scheme to be launched and engineered along in the name of and ostensibly to help some worthy local organization. The experience that fired the editor's wrath wound up by the disappearance of the scheming stranger without paying some bills. The editor insists that anything deserving of patronage may be done by local institutions whose names are used to bolster confidence. The outraged editor concludes with this paragraph:

"Just why a merchant is called upon to furnish song books to a church, pay for programs, for plays, buy uniforms, buy school curtains, pay for the promotion of various and sundry schemes to raise money any more than Mr. Average Citizen, we cannot understand, but he is made the goat in every case. The Covington News would like to urge all organizations to consider carefully in the future the sponsorship of anything that smacks of a racket. Regardless of what the project or proposal is, if it has merit it can stand on its own. If it does not have merit it shouldn't be foisted upon the defenseless business men to advertise and promote."

National Newspaper Week. We are informed that the period from October 1 to 8 has been set apart as National Newspaper Week, and the purpose is to arouse closer and more understandable relationship between newspapers and the public. Great headway has been made in printing since Johann Gutenberg and his workshop pals invented the art back in 1454, and the week indicated will be used to emphasize steps of progress through the years. Freedom of inquiry and expression is a safeguard to an independent people will be duly set forth.

Accepting the Inevitable. There are too many important things to accomplish in community progress without encouraging "teatime tempers." Local disagreements will arise in any live town, but after the question is settled, following honest differences of opinion, they should not be continued to the hindrance of other (Continued on Page 2)

Convention Held Here Is Largest In Middle States

National President Speaks To Luther League at Wayne Church.

With 250 registered delegates besides a number of visitors the 13th annual convention of the Luther League of the Synod of the Midwest, held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday this week in Our Redeemer's Lutheran church here, has been the largest in the history of the Midwest Luther League, according to Alvin H. Schaediger of Union Hill, N. J., president of the Luther League of America.

The program opened Monday evening with an inspirational message by Rev. Fred C. Wiegman of Fremont, and vesper service by Rev. W. F. Most, pastor of the host church.

Officers Elected. Officers elected Wednesday morning and installed that afternoon by Rev. Most are: President, Melvin VonSeggern, Scribner; vice president, Miss Esther Welchert, Emerson; treasurer, Levon Smith, Scribner; recording secretary, Miss Elenora Greife, Lanham; corresponding secretary, Miss Arlene Utemark, Wakefield. All are the same as last year excepting the vice president who replaces Lawrence Meyer, Hooper.

National President Speaks. Mr. Schaediger addressed the assemblage Tuesday, explaining that the primary purpose of the meetings is to present the new educational program of the Luther League of America. In the new age grouping those of 12, 13 and 14 years are intermediates, 14, 15 and 16 are seniors and 18 and over are young people. For each are arranged topics for study, quarterly helps for discussion and quarterly topics for worthwhile meetings.

The rest of the program Mr. Schaediger explained in connection with the Luther League emblem on which are the following symbols: Red heart, for the missionary program, spreading the Word of God; the flower, referring to the flower of education; blue field, meaning the life service program, carrying lessons into the world as a field of service; the gold ring, binding the group together as a fellowship of Christians; and the center black cross, reminder of the risen Christ.

In an inspirational message Wednesday Mr. Schaediger showed the young people that their task is to carry the principles of their Luther League into their vocations, avocations and spare time.

Mr. Schaediger was elected president of the Luther League in 1939 in Long Beach. On his present trip he has attended the Rocky Mountain, Nebraska, Iowa and Midwest synod conventions. He is head of the science department in Union Hill high school and teaches physics. Mr. Schaediger explained that plans are well started for the 1941 convention in Canada.

In a debate on the question, "Resolved, that there is a definite tendency toward insincerity in Christianity of Modern Youth," Schuyler League, with the negative, won over Scribner, having the affirmative.

Banquet Is Feature. The banquet Tuesday evening at the auditorium was followed by a program of music, playlets, pantomimes and skits, each League taking part. Bennington, Hooper town and country, Scribner, Ridgely, Schuyler, Emerson, Cedar Creek, Columbus, Bloomfield, Lanham, Winside, Wayne, Russell, Otaw and Hanover Leagues were represented.

New Leagues Accepted. Hanover and Russell, Kan., and Otoe, Neb., have organized new Leagues which were recognized and duly accepted into the association Tuesday.

SCHOOLS COMMENCE IN SOME OUTLYING DISTRICTS MONDAY

SOME rural schools will re-open for the year's work next Monday, and others, with town schools, will resume September 2. After a few weeks' vacation, the college will start a new year September 9. Any needed repairs to school property have been made during the vacation, and everything has been put into shape for the comfort and convenience of students. Education is an investment that cannot be taken away by depressions or any other unfavorable turn in the wheel of fortune. It facilitates achievement, and sharpens understanding. Free schools are among the gifts of democracy, and they are turned to advantage by increasing numbers of young persons.

Staff Completed In Wayne School

Wayne city school staff was completed this week with the election of Miss Clara Chilson of Webster, S. D., to teach English and speech.

Miss Chilson received her A. B. degree from Augustana college, Sioux Falls, S. D., where she had a major in English and minor in speech. She taught last year at Salem, S. D. She had four years of varsity debate and extemporaneous speaking, and took oratory in her senior year. She has received distinction in oratory and debate by election to the national honorary speech fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta. Miss Chilson was elected to Who's Who Students in American Universities and Colleges in 1937-38. She held offices in class and activity groups.

Miss Chilson was here Saturday and the board elected her at a special meeting this week.

John H. Brugger Is New Member

John H. Brugger, Wayne, is the new member of the Wayne tenant purchase committee, according to Ray L. Verzal, county supervisor for FSA. Mr. Brugger succeeds Walter Herman, Wakefield, whose term expired this year. Hold-over members of the committee are Alfred Sydow and George Bruns, Wayne.

The county committee classifies all applications, selects those meeting requirements of eligibility and certifies approved borrowers and the farms for which loans may be made. Persons interested in obtaining loans should contact Mr. Verzal at the court house in Wayne as he serves as executive secretary of the committee. Any having farms for sale may advise the supervisor of that fact, leaving descriptions of the farms for the information of borrowers.

First consideration will be given to those who file applications prior to October 1, 1940, at which time the county committee will meet to make first classification of applicants.

Advisory committee members recently attended school of instruction at Wayne on the tenant purchase program. A meeting at which the program is explained to tentatively approved borrowers will be held in this county a little later.

Plan Features At Annual Fair In Dixon County

Outstanding Programs Are Arranged for Festival Held in Concord.

Exhibits and entertainment at Dixon county's 27th annual fair, to be held at Concord next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, promise to be outstanding this year, according to Secretary Roy E. Johnson. The three days will bring an interesting and educational program.

Bonilla Troupe is one of the entertainment features each afternoon and evening. This group of two ladies and three men present outstanding acts in balancing, somersaults, tumbling and acrobatics. Eddy and Amy Doyle, other performers, present juggling, hoop rolling and baton juggling. Plenty of comedy will be interspersed.

The Texas Spiders are reported the fastest colored players on the road, and the Bayard players are the only ones who have held the Spiders scoreless this season.

Outstanding races are scheduled for Thursday and Friday also with substantial purses. Four good bands will furnish music for the fair. Concord Owl band plays Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon. Wakefield musicians will be featured Thursday evening. Ponca band plays Friday afternoon, and Allen Friday evening.

Pass Resolution On Conscription

Legion and Auxiliary Hold State Convention in City This Week. Nebraska Legionnaires, at their 22nd annual convention held in Norfolk August 18, 19 and 20, passed a modified resolution endorsing peacetime conscription in view of "world conditions." The conscription resolution read in part:

"The Legion is unalterably opposed to conscription as a permanent policy, yet in view of unsettled world conditions we ask the enactment of legislation for immediate registration of all male citizens between 18 and 65 for selective military service."

Another resolution proposes that the junior baseball program be expanded to include classification of teams according to population, as is done by the State High School Activities association, to increase interest in baseball among boys in smaller towns. This resolution suggests a mid-winter meeting of managers and coaches to make plans to expand the baseball program.

Walter Roberts of Wahoo, was elected commander of the Nebraska department of the American Legion. Eugene A. Nutzman of Nebraska, was past Legion commander.

Miss Margaret Schemel gave a short address on "Southern Indiana." She told of the beauty of the campus of Indiana university, the large trees, small clear stream and the rustic bridges provided for crossing. She stated that the parks of Indiana are second to none, and people come from far and near to view the beautiful scenery they provide.

Mrs. John Volk of Williston, N. D., was a guest of her father, Wm. Beckenhauer, and David T. Carder, new field man for the Union Central Insurance company, was a guest of Chet Walters.

Aliens Register At Wayne Office Under New Rule

Registration of aliens, being conducted throughout the United States by the post office department as part of the national defense program, is in Wayne county in charge of the Wayne post office. Postmaster J. M. Strahan does not anticipate that the number of aliens in Wayne county will be large.

All persons born outside the United States are aliens unless they have become naturalized. Registration starts August 27 and continues four months. Fingerprints will be taken at the time of registration.

The Alien Registration act, approved June 28, 1940, provides that the registration and finger printing be done through the post office department under direction of Postmaster General James A. Farley.

All aliens in Wayne county should register at Wayne post office August 27 or in the four months following.

Assigns Interest In Property Here

Because he did not wish to wait two years before receiving court confirmation of his purchase, Edw. Seymour has assigned his interest in the Jamieson hospital property to Russell W. Bartels. Mr. Seymour bid $2,260 last week for this. He wished to convert the building into apartments at once. When he learned that the defendants are allowed two years in which to redeem the property, he made an agreement whereby Mr. Bartels, another bidder, was granted all his rights of title for the same sum. By agreement of the parties and through sanction of County Attorney B. R. Davis, Sheriff J. H. Pile was authorized to substitute the name of Mr. Bartels for that of Mr. Seymour in the deed.

Booster Trip Is Planned Monday For County Fair

Farmers and Business Men Will Compete in Races To Be Arranged.

A booster trip carrying an invitation to Wayne county fair September 4 to 7 and to Blue Ribbon days September 5 and 6 is arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and fair board for next Monday. A number of northeast Nebraska towns will be visited.

In addition to advertising the fair, which promises outstanding entertainment and exhibits this season, the boosters will extend a welcome to Blue Ribbon days, a new fair week feature in Wayne. For that occasion business firms plan special window displays which will be judged and awarded cash prizes of $7.50, $5 and $2.50 as well as blue ribbons designating the winners. Subsequent issues of the Herald will also carry special buying advantages for Blue Ribbon days.

Arrangements for entertainment and exhibits for the fair are nearing completion. Reservations for space for livestock show much interest. The hog barns are filled and a tent will likely have to be added for this department.

The Black Spiders, colored baseball team that entertains as well as plays good ball, will meet Wayne in a game Friday of fair week. Another game is scheduled for Saturday, this between Wayne and another local team.

A new feature being arranged by A. F. Herfens is a draft horse running race between farmers and business men. A number will compete on each side. Several heats and the finals are planned. The date for this event is not yet definite.

Enrollment Will Be Large Here

Wayne State Teachers college fall term will open September 9. From all indications, the enrollment will be very large this term. The freshmen will register September 9 and upper classes September 10. Classes will start September 11.

New courses to be added this fall to the regular schedule are civil pilot training, advanced typing and advanced industrial arts. The buildings are all being cleaned and small repairs made for the opening of school.

Work on Campus. WPA men are working on the patio west of Connell hall and are now landscaping it. This will be used for informal gatherings in the summer. The third concrete tennis court has also been finished. The shelter house is nearing completion.

CIRCUS DAYS DRAW BIG CROWDS FROM SURROUNDING AREA

IT HAS been a long time since Ringling Brothers' circus appeared in this area. The circus keeps well posted on crop conditions, and it must draw from a wide territory to pay its way. The past week it has performed at three centers hereabouts—Sioux City, Yankton and Norfolk—and it knew in advance that assurance of crop rewards would inspire the circus frame of mind. Old and young enjoy the big circus, and few deny themselves the privilege during some time in their lives. Sunday's attendance at Yankton is reported to have fallen below expectations, but the big tent was thronged at Sioux City and Norfolk. The Ringlings have streamlined their circus. They have installed air-conditioning and have looked out for cleanliness, safety and courtesy throughout. The circus has a system that is worth seeing and imitating.

To Let Contract For Guard-Rail

New Hard Surfaced Highway North of Wayne Opened To Travel Thursday.

The state board at Lincoln this Thursday will let contracts for guard rail on the new sector of highway 15 between Wayne and Laurel. The contract asks for bids on 6,560 feet of guard rail.

This new piece of highway was all opened to traffic last Thursday. North and south portions had been traveled previously. It may be necessary to close a portion near the north end for further work.

The state board is to open bids today on grading 10 miles between Humphrey and Plattette Creek, part of the relocation of highway 81 between Columbus and Norfolk. Some Platte county residents obtained a court order temporarily restraining the state from awarding contracts on this section. The hearing on this injunction is set for not later than September 4 and the contract will be awarded after the injunction is dissolved.

Three Are Hurt In Car Accident

Mr. and Mrs. George Bombar, about 60, and their son, Max, 30, driver, of Allen vicinity, narrowly escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when their car plunged down a 40-foot embankment off highway 20 north of Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Bombar were cut and severely bruised, and Max had a deep gash on the head.

The car was coming from the east down a hill and Max was going to turn south onto a side road. Brakes failed to hold.

The car turned over a couple of times but landed upright in the muddy bed of Logan creek. Passerby helped the three from their car.

Rainfall Comes To Wayne Area. Wayne received 15 of an inch of rain last Saturday, according to the State National bank gauge. The rain was quite general, covering most of northeast Nebraska. Temperatures showed a decided drop after the rain and cooler weather has prevailed during this entire week.

Railroad Asking Change in Time For Wayne Road

State Commission Expected To Take Action Soon on Request Made.

Application to change the time schedule of the Norfolk-Sioux City train operating through Wayne has been filed by the C. St. P. M. & O. with the state railway commission. The railroad claims that the proposed change would improve connections at Norfolk and would increase mail and express business. Action of the state commission is expected by the first of September.

The company asks that train No. 4 leave Norfolk at 4:15 a. m. and arrive in Sioux City at 7 a. m. instead of leaving Norfolk at 7:45 a. m. and reaching Sioux City at 10:45 a. m. This would bring the eastbound train to Wayne about 5 a. m. instead of 9.

The other request on this line is that train No. 5 leave Sioux City at 11:45 p. m. and arrive in Norfolk at 12:25 a. m. instead of leaving as at present at 3:30 p. m. and reaching Norfolk at 6:10 p. m. This request would mean that the westbound train would be in Wayne shortly after midnight instead of about 5 p. m.

Two other requests were made by the railroad. One asks that train No. 17 leaving Sioux City at 6:35 p. m. and reaching Omaha at 12:10 be eliminated. Another request seeks to extend the service of train No. 19 to include Monday. This train would then operate each day of the week, leaving Sioux City at 12:45 a. m. and reaching Omaha at 6 a. m.

Governor Speaks.
Governor R. L. Cochran, who spoke Monday morning, stated that "at this time of crisis and world affairs, when there is real concern in this country about our own welfare, there is a greater unanimity of opinion in favor of providing a real national defense against an aggressor nation than ever before in our history. Opinions may differ as to methods, but certain it is that the nation as a whole stands solidly in favor of doing whatever is necessary to the end that this nation be not unprepared to meet the forces of any attacking nation."

Experience Difficulty In Leaving War Zone

Restrictions imposed in warring Europe are drastic, according to Ellis Richard Colson who arrived at the home of his parents in Tokamah in July after spending three months maneuvering about to reach the United States. Mr. Colson described his experience Sunday for the Johnson-Young family gathering in a reunion at Wayne auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Colson and three sons had resided in London five years, Mr. Colson being engaged in serving the Seventh Day Adventist church in official capacity. The story of how Mr. Colson was caught in the war zone and how the family finally became reunited in this state sound like fiction. But to the Colsons the anxiety was harrowing.

Mr. Colson was in Copenhagen April 9 when Hitler's troops took possession of Denmark. Mr. Colson was staying in a hotel in the city and was awakened at 4 a. m. by planes roaring overhead. By the time he was up and had had breakfast, Hitler's troops had control of the country and also controlled all communication—news-papers, telephone and telegraph systems. Millions of leaflets had been dropped from the planes, these telling that Danish people would be guaranteed protection. Nine Danes had been killed in their attempt to halt the invaders on the outskirts, but only three shots were fired and none were killed in Copenhagen. German soldiers occupied the barracks and Danish people went to view them as they would a curiosity. German officers had hotel quarters for themselves. British and French consuls were taken prisoners and placed under guard at the hotel, 10 days later being allowed to leave for home through Germany on a sealed train.

Casualties Heavy.
Mr. Colson learned from a Dane who operated a small fishing boat that German casualties were severe when the English and Germans engaged in the Skagerack, the waters between Norway, Denmark and Sweden. The fisherman said that he and his comrades none since 9 in the morning. He was asked for his papers and handed over his passport and two documents in French. The officer was suspicious and did not allow Mr. Colson to explain. Mr. Colson understood only a small amount of French and the officer only a little English. Soon a crowd of about 60 gathered. Mr. Colson understood four words—allemand, parachute, espionage and prison—and he figured that the Frenchman thought he was a German parachutist, that he had come to spy and that he was to be lodged in prison.

After satisfying the French officer as to his intentions, Mr. Colson was accosted by a Belgian soldier, serving in the foreign legion. This man arrested Mr. Colson, prodded him along with the butt of his gun, urged him to hurry and told Mr. Colson he was under arrest. He took Mr. Colson's bicycle and bags and put these and Mr. Colson in a truck, taking them back eight miles to Gendarmie where the American was cross-questioned by the Belgian soldier and two officers. The officers understood German and Mr. Colson was then able to explain satisfactorily who he was and where he was going. He was then released. But before letting him go free they relieved Mr. Colson of 100 Swiss francs. Then the Belgian promised to take Mr. Colson to Marseilles in his private car the next morning.

Join Refugee Group.
Mr. Colson and the Belgian slept in the same room and left the next day at 12 on the drive, that took them 120 miles south of Lyon. There a French officer stopped them. The Belgian and his chauffeur were allowed to pass and Mr. Colson was ordered to get out and remain. All civilians were stopped at that point and Mr. Colson found about 1,000 there, mostly refugees. During the five-day stay at that point the French-German and French-Italian armistice were signed. Potato soup was served at the canteen twice a day and the group slept on straw in a large theatre. Mr. Colson had seen many of the several million who fled northern France afoot, in hand carts, ox carts and cars. Many cars were abandoned because gasoline rose to $10 and $15 a gallon and Sees British Strength.

Mr. Colson finds the English people solidly back of the government so he looks for more united action there. He adds that the English tenacity will enable that nation to give a real account of itself in the present struggle. One of England's strongest weapons is her blockade which will be effective since central Europe raises only 40 per cent of the food used there.

The Colsons are in Tekamah with Mr. Colson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Colson, thankful to be reunited after weeks of anxiety. Mr. Colson is a cousin of Myron Colson of this place.

Willkie Speaks

WENDELL L. WILLKIE, republican presidential candidate, gave his acceptance speech before approving thousands assembled last Saturday afternoon at Elwood, Ind., and throughout the nation millions listened by radio to what he had to say. He was profoundly in earnest, and his innumerable listeners were never more intent in following the outline of a leader's proposed public policies. He spoke in a straightforward manner. He used none of the evasion of the smooth politician. He could not pledge an easy experience in restoring this country to a sound, prosperous basis. He knows, if elected, he has a gigantic task ahead, and that his countrymen will have to join him in work and sacrifice to regain losses and reinforce this nation as a successful democracy.

Mr. Willkie would not wildly destroy things that have been done, nor arbitrarily remove necessary sources of relief. But his policies would call for less centralization, more instead of less production, fewer attempts to restrict and direct individuals and institutions. He would concede more to the judgment of persons and industries in handling their affairs in which they have practical knowledge born of experience. He would cooperate with the farmer without telling him how to farm, what to plant or when to sell. He would do things the American way.

Mr. Willkie said a sound foreign policy for America begins at home. "We must regain prosperity, restore the independence of our people, and protect our defensive forces," he said. "If that is not done promptly we are in constant danger. If that is done no enemy on earth dare attack us." In handling international problems, he would engage in less bluster, cut out unnecessary threats, but be ready to act in case of need.

Mr. Willkie would spend the least—not the most—money to attain objectives. Failures of the administration to accomplish economic rehabilitation have adversely affected all classes. He declares something is wrong with a theory of economics that has spent billions and made conditions worse instead of better.

Mr. Willkie tried to hide nothing. He assured the reconstruction of the economic fabric and the preservation of liberties in accordance with American traditions and ideals. His philosophy of government is refreshingly sound. His triumph would inspire confidence needed to bring this nation back to old-time security and progress.

Editorial Comments

CONCLUDING an analysis of the Willkie acceptance speech, the Omaha World-Herald said:

"I stand," he said, "for a new companionship in an industrial society."

"This nation has had enough of class warfare. It has had enough of cracking down. It has had enough of the cap and gown dictatorship of the communist-coddling, business-baiting intelligentsia. The time has come to work together in a new companionship, American with American, to rebuild our strength and protect our democracy."

"Wendell Willkie, we believe, has caught the spirit of America."

In the course of treating the Willkie

speech, the Sioux City Journal said in conclusion:

"The regaining of prosperity, the restoration of the independence of the people as free, individualistic American citizens, the retention of worthy social reforms no matter by what party of administration achieved—those were the obligations he sensed as his own if elected to the presidency. For Mr. Willkie, an optimist as well as a liberal, sees 'wider horizons for America' and implores the people to join him in looking forward to a new national life 'of adventure and discovery.' No defeatism there. He believes in America."

Comments the Lincoln Journal:

"Willkie is a realist. He is not swept from his feet by emotions nor the prospects for a political victory. He has said things that may cost him support, but he has said them in the belief that he is stating truths the American people should realize and ponder. He has said them without rancor, without emotion. He believes so firmly that he is right that he is willing to debate the issues before any audience with his opponent for the presidency. He is not only willing, but he challenges his opponent to debate."

Recalling Ickes' massacre of the truth in trying to answer Willkie, we are impressed by the importance of sticking to facts even though one indulges in a hurricane of abuse. There will be plenty of ridicule in this campaign, but nothing is gained in the long run by telling things that are not true. Ickes evidently thinks that as chosen mouthpiece of what he believes is an invincible political aggregation, he can get by with anything that receives the ring of new deal approval. Senator Styles Bridges says Ickes is "a Hitler in short pants."

Wendell Willkie's challenge to the president to debate public questions has been refused by the latter on the ground that he is too busy with foreign affairs. Lincoln and Douglas engaged in debate while the latter was running for the United States senate, and it was the way to inform the public. A face-to-face discussion between the two presidential candidates would let the people—taxpayers and government supporters—in on all the facts involved in the evolution of the new deal.

Secretary Ickes of the Interior department at Washington, who breaks out occasionally to flay anyone who dares to come in conflict with administration policies, attempted to answer Wendell Willkie's acceptance speech, and the flaming secretary was so abusive with such careless disregard of facts, that he will do his cause more harm than good. Willkie's campaign directors ought to employ Ickes to keep on talking.

The suggestion to put up signs identifying the town and welcoming travelers has caused no excited attempts in that direction so far. Some local organization ought to immortalize itself by taking the matter in hand and pushing it to a successful conclusion. Signs would arouse strangers to look around and appraise the town's good qualities. Some might locate here—anyway, stop to do some shopping.

The president has weakened his administration by surrounding himself with too many dizzy theorists. It would be a relief to the country to know all key positions are filled by sound men with practical understanding of what they are expected to do. Fawning sycophants before the executive's fancies prove no capability in using wisdom or practical sense in performing public service.

The death of Walter P. Chrysler again reminds one that opportunities in caste-free America are unlimited. Chrysler started his career in a roundhouse at 5 cents an hour. He was one of many who have, through hard, conscientious endeavor, worked from the bottom to the top, unaided by anything but pluck, energy and sound judgment.

RELIGION.

In this bungling and war-mad world, more and more people are turning to religion as a sustaining influence. A recent story in Harper's Magazine reports that a "nationwide survey made by a firm famous for the accuracy of its polls late last year revealed that 90.6 per cent of the people who were asked what they regarded as most important to the maintenance of democracy, listed religious freedom." The magazine reports growing demand for religion in schools and colleges, and increasing interest in religious news and features carried by newspapers. With dictators gaining power in the world and with their regimentation of subjects and destruction of religious liberty, people in still free America are looking beyond this world for hope and strength, accordingly fortifying religious freedom among other rights. Religion is looked to as a force to help save democracy.

WAR.

What beastly hate must fire forces engaged in throwing bombs and glorying in human slaughter! What is the reward for the lives and property lost and the suffering caused? The more people blasted into eternity, the greater is the success of a day's task. The more prized buildings wrecked, the greater is the renown earned by the wreckers. And what is gained? Death, ruin, waste and misery. Lives cannot be restored. Demolished handiwork may be replaced after much labor and cost. Following many years, the torn landscape may be put back into place, and beneficent nature will try to soften memory by generous contributions of grass and flowers. Recollection of a terrifying struggle for supremacy—for nothing more—will be borne on by the bereft and maimed and the wrecked nerves. The present conflict is a savage assault on civilization. War has become worse than Sherman said it was.

CONGRESS
KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C. August 15, 1940

The hour passed H. R. 9931 the other day to increase the credit resources of the Commodity Credit corporation by increasing the borrowing power of that corporation from $900,000,000 to $1,400,000,000—an increase of $500,000,000. Carl B. Robins, president of the Commodity Credit corporation, told representatives of the house committee on banking and currency that approximately $500,000,000 of increased borrowing power is necessary in order to make loans on the 1940 crops in the minimum estimated amounts of about 3,300,000 bales of cotton, 260,000,000 bushels of corn, 140,000,000 bushels of wheat, plus loans of $40,000,000 on tobacco and $80,000,000 on other crops.

The corporation has a capital of $100,000,000 and a borrowing power of $900,000,000. The Commodity Credit corporation was formed pursuant to the provisions of the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act and was incorporated in October, 1933, under the laws of the state of Delaware and its capital stock is owned by the United States government. Exclusive voting rights of this capital stock is vested in the secretary of agriculture by an executive order of the president. Prior to that it was an independent agency of the federal government, although it was managed in close affiliation with the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The corporation has now become, under the president's reorganization order, a part of the department of agriculture and, except for certain legal technicalities, operates as a regularly established bureau of the department under the control and supervision of the secretary.

The corporation makes loans on cotton, corn, wheat, rye, tobacco, barley, peanuts, lupentine, resin, wool, mohair, figs, dates, prunes, raisins, hops, pecans and butter, and these loans are secured by the commodities pledged as collateral under a warehouse certificate or under a chattel mortgage, and in most instances the rate of interest paid by the producer and borrower is only three per cent per annum.

Members of congress were told that the obligations outstanding, in the form of notes issued, total $406,794,000. In addition, the corporation has obligations to private banks on private loans made by them of about $298,000,000. Obligations under commitments on loans to be made on 1939 crops are approximately $97,000,000, and carrying charges and administrative expenses and other costs to be made in 1940 total approximately $90,000,000.

Upon auditing the assets of the corporation on each March 31, the secretary of the treasury makes an appraisal on the basis of market prices then existing and it was found that in the past six years the deficits so determined made a total of $213,000,000. However, the actual losses incurred upon the disposal of commodities, have been less than $25,000,000. The result is that the corporation has a reserve against future losses to the extent of the difference between this $25,000,000 of actual losses and the $213,000,000 which would have been appropriated, less the administrative expenses that have been incurred.

The loss of less than $25,000,000 which has been incurred to date has been principally on cotton, because that crop came under loan in greater volume as a consequence of its greater loss of export outlets.

It might be interesting to know that the corporation has on hand at the present time 6,650,000 bales of cotton, 90,000,000 bushels of corn, 176,000,000 pounds of tobacco and also has about 37,000 pounds of rubber which it acquired under the rubber-cotton exchange agreement. The book value of the cotton on hand is approximately $380,000,000; corn, about $55,000,000; and tobacco, about $36,500,000. Members of congress were told that the normal carry over of cotton is 7,000,000 bales, based on a long term of experience, and that until some way of exporting cotton is discovered, this loss will be one which the corporation will have to face from year to year.

Members were told that the corporation was very successful on corn loans and that the loss is comparatively small. Mr. Robins told members that, assuming yields were normal this year, the supply of corn on hand is 200,000,000 bushels less than last year. He also states that the development of hybrid corn has increased yields. Members of congress interested in corn loans and that the loss is comparatively small. Marry Wednesday At Wayne Church

Miss Marcella Hunter is Bride of M. H. Ternus At Pretty Service.

Miss Marcella Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hunter of Wayne, became the bride of Maurice H. Ternus, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Ternus, of Humphrey, Neb., at a beautiful ceremony held in St. Mary's church Wednesday morning at 10.

The altar of the church, where Rev. Wm. Kearns officiated, was lighted with candles which gave a soft glow to the palms and to the baskets of white gladioli and asters on and about the altar proper. Bouquets of asters were fastened to the pews with white satin ribbons, and a white runner was laid from the entrance of the church to the altar.

Miss Mildred Lantz of Kearney, played the wedding marches and soft music before and during the ceremony. She also accompanied the soloist, Alford Lantz of Stromsburg, Neb.

After the guests were seated, ushers drew white satin streamers down the aisle defining the path for the bride. Mrs. Hunter was escorted to her place as a signal for the processional to start.

Preceded by the ushers and attendants, Miss Hunter entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of duchess white satin featured insets of Chantilly lace, an Elizabethan collar, softly draped bodice and long sleeves ending in fitted, pointed cuffs. The full skirt swept backward to form a train with matching lace insets. The long bridal two-tired tulle veil edged with deep lace fell from a coronet solidly encrested with tiny seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and swansonias.

Miss Marcella Lantz of Kearney, cousin of the bride, was maid-of-honor and was gowned in pink tulle, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, tightly fitting bodice and full skirt. She wore a matching short veil of pink net and carried an arm bouquet of roses and pompones the shade of her dress.

First bridesmaid to walk down the aisle was Miss Leona Walters of Humphrey, followed by Mrs. J. Ternus of Omaha, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and then Mrs. William Bromann, Jr., of Chicago, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns of rose taffeta were fashioned alike and like that of the maid of honor. Their hats were made of matching rose net and they carried arm bouquets of matching roses and pompones. All the bride's attendants wore white long lace trims.

Preceding the bride, two flower girls, Mary Margaret Mergen, cousin of the bride, and Jennie Bromann of Chicago, niece of the bridegroom, wore old-fashioned gowns of light pink taffeta with petite matching hats of net. Each wore a tiny gold cross around her neck and carried small old-fashioned bouquets.

Harold Ternus of Omaha, brother of the bridegroom, attended him as best man.

Ushers were Midshipman E. J. Hunter, Jr., of Annapolis, Md., brother of the bride, E. J. Ternus of Omaha, brother of the bridegroom, and John H. Brugger, Jr., of Wayne.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hunter chose a black panorama mesh jacketed dress with dusty rose bodice. She wore a corsage of roses. Mrs. P. Ternus wore a gown of sheer black crepe and lace and she also wore a corsage of roses.

After the ceremony a three-course breakfast was served at Hotel Stratton for the bridal party and out of town relatives and Miss Bethel Brown Becomes Bride of Jack Hoening In Lincoln Church.

Miss Bethel Brown became the bride of Jack M. Hoening in a beautiful ceremony performed in the First Presbyterian church in Lincoln Saturday at 4 o'clock. Rev. J. B. Vernon, pastor of Michigan avenue church of Leavenworth, Kan., performed the double ring ceremony. Rev. Vernon was the pastor who performed the wedding ceremony for the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brown.

The background was formed of greenery with four seven-branched candelabra. On either side were baskets of white gladioli and white asters, and before the altar was the white satin kneeling cushion. Miss Ardath Johnson of Wayne, and Miss Irene Siehl of Lincoln, in white satin robes, lighted the tapers. During the ceremony they remained in the front of the church holding lighted candles.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Dolores McNatt and Miss Betty Wright, both of Wayne, sang "Untill" and preceding the last prayer, "The Prayer Perfect." Miss Margaret Matson presided at the organ. As the processional entered she played the hour of four on the chimes.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white moire with a full skirt and fitted waistline. The sleeves were puffed and the bodice neckline a V. Her only ornament was a necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. Mrs. Hoening's veil was finger-tip length and was caught into a cap of orange blossoms. White asters and swansonias formed her colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Loy Thietje of West Point, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. She was gowned in pale green chiffon trimmed with eyel-lace. It had a fitted bodice and short puffed sleeves and the skirt was full. She carried a bouquet of pale pink asters and swansonias.

The bridesmaid was Miss Patricia Brown, sister of the bride. Her frock of peach chiffon was in the style of Mrs. Thietje's. Lavender asters and swansonias were used in her colonial bouquet.

Miss Betty Hoening, the bridegroom's sister, was the junior bridesmaid. She wore lavender chiffon with a bouquet of deep pink asters and swansonias.

Mr. Hoening wore a brown suit and a white aster boutonniere. Loy Thietje served as best-man.

After the ceremony a reception for the wedding guests, who numbered about 150, was held in the church. Screens of fernery and baskets of blossoms and candelabra holding tapers were used in the rooms. Pastel shades were used in the appointments. Miss Lois Thompson and Miss Wilma Baker, both of Wayne, and Miss Hazel Capsey assisted in the dining room.

"Mind" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Church of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, August 25.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: . . . he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding" (Daniel 2:20, 21).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counselor hath taught him?" (Isaiah 40:13).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is God. The extermiator of error is the great truth that God, good, is the only Mind, and that the superstitious opposite of infinite Mind—called devil or evil—is not Mind, is not Truth, but error, without intelligence or reality. There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite. We bury the sense of infinitude, when we admit that, although God is infinite, evil has a place in this infinity, for evil can have no place, where all space is filled with God" (p. 469).

Funeral Services Conducted Here

Mrs. Betty Lundahl Passes Away Sunday Evening At Her Home.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 from the Hygge funeral home and 2:30 from the Salem Lutheran church for Mrs. Betty Lundahl, 78, who passed away Sunday evening at 8:15 at her home northeast of Wakefield. Mrs. Lundahl had seemed unusually well until Saturday noon when she became critically ill. Rev. Clarence Hall was in charge of rites. Burial was in the Wakefield cemetery.

Betty Bondelson was born in Osby, Sweden, May 28, 1862. She came with her parents to this country when she was 7 years old. They located at Denison, Ia., where they lived for three years. The family then moved to Stanton, Ia., in 1872 and were among the early settlers of that territory. Deceased often related incidents of walking across the prairies to Stanton to exchange produce for groceries.

Deceased was confirmed in the Swedish Lutheran church of the Stanton community of which her father was one of the founders.

She was married to Nels P. Lundahl April 4, 1885. To this union eight children were born, one passing away in infancy. After Mr. Lundahl's death and when the children were still small, Mrs. Lundahl moved with her family to Wakefield, locating on the farm where she lived until her death.

Mrs. Lundahl was affiliated with the Salem Lutheran church. She was a faithful member and from her church service she derived much happiness. Her character was admirable and her faith was expressed in her daily life. Her home was a joy to her and to all whom she served there.

Deceased is survived by seven children, Oscar, Edwin, Miss Minnie, Miss Emelja, Miss Amanda and Emanuel Lundahl and Mrs. Herman Anderson. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Ida Lundahl, and three grandchildren besides many other relatives and friends.

Pallbearers were Eric S. Johnson, Leonard Olson, Dr. L. J. Kilian, E. J. Erickson, Joe Johnson and Hans Rosen.

Wayne Advances to 'Big Six' Loop Finals

Four-Run Rally in 10th Puts Wayne Team in Front By 11 to 7 Score.

After allowing Winside to score four runs in the 1st inning, the visiting Wayne team settled down and played better baseball, pushing up the game in the 9th, and tying over four scores in the 10th to win by an 11 to 7 count.

The game was the second and deciding contest of the Big Six semi-final play-off series between the two teams. Wayne won the first game here the previous Sunday, 7 to 6, in 10 innings, and thus advances to the championship finals. As Laurel and Randolph each has won a game in their play-off, they meet Sunday to decide which team will meet Wayne for the 1940 league championship.

Sunday's game was close and interesting throughout, neither team enjoying a great advantage after the third inning when Wayne tied things up at 4-all. "Butch" Weible, at first base for Winside, was the lushest man on the field, being credited with 21 put-outs. Whitney, F. Weible, Evans and Neely each gathered two hits for the home team, and Cross, Thatcher and Morgan were credited with two each for Wayne.

Frank Weible, regular third sacker, was on the mound for Winside and pitched a good game until he tired in the late innings. He held the visiting batsmen to but 8 hits in 9 1/3 innings. Summers of Wayne was nipped out 12 safe blows and struck out 22. Lutt, who replaced Weible in the 10th, proved ineffective and was in turn replaced by Misfeldt who finished the game.

Weible started the game off with one run on two hits in the first half of the 1st, and Winside came back with four runs on four hits and an error. Wayne then tied things up in the 3rd, scoring three runners on three free bases, a wild pitch and two errors. Winside went ahead in the 4th on Whitney's home run, and scored another in the 5th on a double and a sacrifice. Wayne also counted in the 5th on a base on balls and a hit. Winside's last tally came in the 6th on an error and a hit. Wayne pushed over one run in the 8th on a hit and an error, led the game in the 9th on a hit and two wild pitches, and then scored the winning four runs in the 10th on three hits, an error and a wild pitch.

You Expect Your Doctor To Know When, How, and Why You are Sick

The years of preparation by the Doctor are simply and solely to fit him to diagnose your case, make and keep you well.

The Doctor is not a super-human, with super-natural powers. Scientific methods, precedent, personal experience, and the experience of others, necessarily limit the Doctor's powers to human capacity.

However, your Doctor brings all these available sources of information to bear on diagnosis and treatment. Your Doctor wants to make and keep you well. Nine times out of ten, if instructions are followed, prescriptions carried out, if you cooperate with your Doctor—you will be better off physically and mentally. Give your Doctor a chance to check up on you regularly and keep you well.

Another Story Afloat.

There is another story afloat that the hills are not a depository for gold but the stamping ground for Captain Kidd who hid thereabouts some pots of money. Still another story, which refutes both the gold and Captain Kidd ones, is that the stranger bought the land for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company and that the objective is a railroad bridge. This looks more sensible as the talk about gold mines is the slushiest kind.

Books Accessioned At Wayne Library

Junior books added to the Wayne public library include: "Hilda the Unconquerable," written by Howard A. Farrens, with a simplicity and beauty that are refreshing; "Pioneers of Flight," by John R. McMahon, a complete story of the Wright brothers, taking them from the time they first had a childish interest in flying until the airplane became a tried and tested fact; "The Last of the Mohicans," written by James Fenimore Cooper and published in a clear, easily read style; "The Ransom of Red Chief," and other O. Henry stories as chosen by Franklin K. Mathews, telling stories of the wild and woolly west based on characters which make that country so picturesque; "The Blue Mittens," by Mary K. Reely, the tale of life on a farm a generation ago, as lived by a little girl in one of the valleys of the northwest; "Tom and Jip," "Tots and Toys," "Bob and Baby Pony," "Brief First Primer," and "Jack and Nell," all gay little stories written especially for the very small children.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

By Representative Karl Stefan. One vacancy for midshipman at the United States naval academy to be caused by graduation in June, 1941, will be accredited to the Third congressional district of Nebraska. By or before March 1, 1941, a principal and three alternates may be nominated to fill this vacancy. The successful nominee will enter the academy after the June commencement.

Eligible candidates for these nominations, in addition to being bona fide actual residents of the Third congressional district of Nebraska, must be not less than 16 years of age or more than 20 years of age on April 1 of the calendar year in which they enter the naval academy.

Eligible candidates must, also, have graduated from high school or be assured of graduation not later than the spring of 1941. High school graduates who have also completed one or more years of college or university work, will find the additional academic preparation of considerable value in meeting entrance tests and in pursuing the training following admission.

I shall make the nominations on a purely competitive basis and the preliminary competition will be initiated by a congressional designation examination conducted by the United States civil service commission on October 5, 1940. This is not an admission examination but solely an examination to determine the comparative qualifications disclosed by the examination. The nominees for admission will subsequently be called upon to present themselves for physical and mental tests precedent to actual admission.

At all times between now and September 10, 1940, but not later than September 10, 1940, I shall be glad to receive the written applications of young men who possess the above mentioned qualifications coupled with a desire to enter the naval academy. The initial application will be for admission to the competitive congressional designation examination.

No vacancy for cadet at the United States military academy will be accredited to the Third congressional district of Nebraska in 1941 for the reason that no Third district cadet will graduate in June, 1941, and, without further appointment, the district will have its full quota of three cadets in school until commencement in 1942.

All applications and requests for further information should be addressed to me at 1017 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

KARL STEFAN, M. C., Washington, D. C., August 17, 1940.

Wayne County Rural School News

Give Free Tickets To Grade Pupils

All Wayne county school pupils will be provided with free season tickets to Wayne county fair September 4 to 7. Wayne training school pupils will receive their tickets from Dean H. Hahn at his home. City school pupils will be given theirs by teachers when the term opens. Rural pupils and those in other towns will be given their tickets by their teachers before the fair opens.

Calendar of Events.

August 31—Pre-opening day. September 2—Schools open. September 4 to 7—Wayne county fair. October 4—Teachers' institute. November 16—Teachers' examinations.

Most Instructors Remain in County

With two Wayne county rural schools without teachers the last of the week, Supt. F. B. Decker reported that 38 teachers are returning this term to the same schools they had last year, 12 have moved to other districts in this county, 19 are teaching for the first time and 8 are teachers coming from other counties.

May Examine Books. Sample copies of books in the office of Supt. F. B. Decker may be examined by all teachers. This will enable instructors to become better acquainted with texts they use.

Elected to Teach. Miss Joann Krieger of South Sioux City, has been elected to teach district 66.

Teachers to Meet At Court House

All Wayne county rural teachers meet at the court house in Wayne Saturday, August 31, at 2 o'clock for the pre-opening day program. Supt. F. B. Decker will give instructions and supplies. Fair exhibits will be brought at that time. Miss Anna Hagenbuck of Fremont, Dodge county nurse, will demonstrate examining pupils, and W. A. Crossland speaks.

Instructor Is New In Sholes School

Sholes school opens September 2. Miss Eva Mae Plummer, Pierce county rural teacher last year, is the only in new instructor. She has the 7th and 8th grades, replacing Miss Nova Riggs who resigned. Dallas Evans is superintendent, Miss Irma Nelson principal, Miss Freddie Burnham intermediate teacher and Miss Minnie Larsen primary instructor.

Supplies Are Available. Wayne county teachers may get their box sets and supplies at any time from the office of Supt. F. B. Decker. Getting them early will enable teachers to become better acquainted with materials.

Children at the Crossroads. Ernest L. Reeker

Parental Indifference. Five youngsters, ranging in age from 15 to 18, were ordered to appear before the juvenile court because of an attempted assault upon a 16-year-old girl one Sunday afternoon. The boys were to appear the next Wednesday afternoon, an interval that gave them plenty of time to get together and prepare a story.

Earlier Wednesday the girl and her parents were interviewed. One of the boys was exonerated as having had no part in the misdeed; however, he had been present and witnessed all that happened. The part each of the others played in the occurrence was sketched by the victim.

Later, when the boys were brought in, the two ringleaders first were questioned closely and facts about their home life were revealed. Their father had deserted the family some years before. The older boy had suffered many childish ills, had quit school after the 7th grade, and for the two years since had done no gainful work. The younger, who also had been ill a great deal, was in the 8th grade, where he averaged below par as a pupil.

The other two boys were weaklings who followed the stronger will of the more mature ringleaders. Individual stories showed that parental indifference was largely responsible for their difficulty.

Since the girl was not injured, her parents were asked to cooperate in a plan to give the boys a chance to make good without the stigma of a penal institution. They agreed, and the parents of the boys were called in for a conference.

In forthright language they were told that their boys had barely escaped reformatory sentence and the future record alone would establish whether they would be committed later. Furthermore if our frequent check-ups indicated that the boys were not properly supervised, we would be compelled to file charges against the parents instead of against the boys.

Three years have elapsed. With parental indifference and neglect corrected, none of these boys ever appeared in juvenile court again.

New School Ready Later in Hoskins

The new school being built in Hoskins will not be completed in time for the opening of the term September 2 but will be ready to use later this fall. Hoskins faculty remains the same as last year. Sig Fenske is superintendent and Odlin Scholl principal. Miss Eleanor Langenberg has upper grades and Miss Reba Hill, primary grades.

Register Certificates. All beginning teachers, all who are new in the county and all who have earned new certificates are asked to register these with Supt. F. B. Decker before opening of the term.

Has Parochial School. Miss Irma Zimmerman of Plymouth, is new instructor in Hoskins parochial school.

Four Schools Open Early. Four Wayne county schools open August 26 and the rest September 2.

Historical Events. August 22—Painting "Mona Lisa" stolen, 1911. August 23—1st seamount on Lake Erie, 1818. August 24—Magellan left Pt. St. Julian, 1520. August 25—Byrd left for South Pole, 1928. August 26—Severe earthquake in Java, 1883. August 27—Charles G. Dawes, born, 1865.

Did You Know? In 1855 the territorial auditor determined the amount to be raised by each county for territorial tax. The revenue code of Iowa, adopted in 1857, provided for a census board which was to exercise the functions of a board of equalization. In 1858 the auditor and treasurer were designated members of the board. In 1864 the governor was added, and in 1903 the secretary of public lands and commissioner of public lands and buildings. Then the board was authorized to appoint a secretary. A tax commissioner appointed by the governor replaced the commissioner of public lands and buildings in 1920. The board fixes the valuation of railroads and the franchise value of corporations for taxation; it equalizes the assessment of property in counties and has the power to raise or lower this; it determines the amount of taxes required for state purposes and the rate of taxation. Carroll Lipp of Laurel, suffered a broken leg last week when a team of horses ran away.
