

Anniversary Next Monday—Twentytwo Years Since End of First World War—Leaning on Another's Brains—State's School System.

Armistice day which comes next Monday, observes the anniversary of the end of the war which was expected to make the world safe for democracy.

When an armistice was declared twentytwo years ago, profound relief was felt. Bells rang and whistles shrieked.

Following the World War which started in 1914 and closed in 1918, people in the old world were impoverished and dismayed.

Instead of sitting down around a council table and ironing out lingering differences, saving precious lives and valuable treasures.

On this annual Armistice day we will recall the American sacrifice made in behalf of a worthy but defeated objective.

Recalling the time after the first World war, we find serious lapse in consideration of spiritual values.

Plagiarism means to use as one's own the ideas or writings of another. A "ghost" writer is a fellow who writes something for another to adopt as his own.

In the Next Legislature. It is understood that a measure looking to the adoption of the plan to overhaul and remodel the schools and colleges of the state.

Nebraska Republicans Put Butler, Griswold and Stefan in Office.

For the first time in the history of the United States, voters Tuesday reelected a president for a third term.

His own popular vote Wednesday afternoon was 17,873,991. Wendell L. Wilkie had in the largest ever polled by a losing candidate.

Incomplete returns gave Roosevelt 472 electoral votes with leads in 40 states, and Wilkie 59 electoral votes with leads in eight states.

Roosevelt's percentage of popular votes was 55 and Wilkie's 45. Four years ago Roosevelt polled 61 per cent of the total.

Nebraska returns Wednesday, with 1,800 of the 2,040 precincts reporting, gave the republican candidate a big lead.

In his congratulatory message to President Roosevelt, Wilkie appealed for unity of all Americans. He asked that antagonisms be laid aside and that people of this nation strive together to maintain free government.

Nebraska added one of the republican senators, electing Hugh A. Butler over Governor R. L. Cochran. In 1,847 of 2,040 precincts Butler polled 302,000 votes to 220,230 for Cochran.

Wildcats and Kearney Will Meet Here Friday In Final Home Game

Morrison Will Send Young Backfield Against Strong Antelope Eleven in Highly Important NIAA Game.

Coach J. H. Morrison's Wayne State Wildcats will play their last home game of the 1940 grid season here this Friday evening when they tangle with the Kearney State Antelopes in an important NIAA conference battle. To date, Kearney has a conference victory over Chadron and a defeat at the hands of Peru.

The Wildcat squad, which has been seriously hampered by numerous injuries, especially in the backfield, will be at even a greater disadvantage in the coming encounter. The Norfolk game put two more first string men on the injury list, out for the remainder of the season. Left end Ed. Nitz received a painful knee and ankle sprain that has him hobbling around, unable to play, and Full back Horace Purtzer again twisted a previously injured ankle and will very probably not return to the game. Bud Best, star triple-threat man, although in Friday's game a short time, was unable to continue play and probably will not see action here. Sonny Reiz-Jaff, speedy back, is still on the doubtful list, the speed of his recovery determining if he gets into the game.

As a result of all of these mishaps, Morrison has been doing a good bit of experimental work in an almost entirely new backfield. His latest important move has been the transfer of Claude Lukes from his regular guard position to the left half back spot.

The probable starting line-up for the black and gold in their final loop contest will include Smith and Lindahl at ends, Braasch and Westphal at tackles, Childs and Coryell at guards, Webb at center, Hungerford at quarter, Little and Lukes at half, and Kelly at full.

Friday of next week, Mentor Morrison will take his gridiron squad to LeMars, Ia., to close this year's campaign against the strong Western Union eleven.

Wayne Will Meet Randolph Friday

Impressed with the performance of several of his rookies in the game here last Friday, Coach Frank Sullivan has been centering his attention around these new men the past week in preparation for Wayne high's school's important conference game at Randolph this Friday.

This will be the Blues' last game away from home this year, and they will close the season here Thanksgiving day, November 21, when they meet Coach Sammy Sommerhalder's Bloomfield high gridders at the college field in a contest that very probably will decide the championship of the Northeast Nebraska conference.

Conference Results.
In the only conference game of the past week, Creighton nipped Pierce 13 to 7 to advance into a tie with Wayne and Bloomfield in the loop standings. In other games, Plainview lost to Neligh 13-0, and Bloomfield defeated O'Neill 21-0.

Wolves Cop 14-6 Game at Norfolk

Aerial Attack of Wolves Is Big Factor in Victory at Norfolk Friday Evening.

Capitalizing on fourth period breaks in their favor, the Norfolk State Teachers eleven of Aberdeen, S. D., last Friday evening defeated the badly crippled Wayne State Wildcats 14 to 6 before 1,700 fans at the Norfolk athletic park.

For three scoreless quarters the game was contested on about even terms. Early in the fourth quarter, McDermott, Wayne safety, fumbled a Northern punt on the Wildcat 18 and Daly recovered for the Wolves. On the second play Stan Schmidt dropped back to the 25 and completed a forward to Daly in the end zone, and Kraft converted to make it 7-0.

A few minutes later Schmidt intercepted Purtzer's forward on the Wayne 40 and dashed to the 25. On the fourth play, Schmidt on the 34, tossed a pass into the end zone that was nabbed by Halfback Ries, and Kraft again converted to make the score 14-0.

Wayne Scores After Drive.
Following the second Northern touchdown, Coach Morrison sent in a bunch of his freshmen and the Wildcats started a 67-yard march that ended in their only touchdown. With Purtzer doing most of the passing the Wayne eleven resorted to a consistent aerial attack that culminated in a forward to Lukes in the end zone. Lukes, regular lineman, played a backfield position for the first time for Wayne State and showed well enough to warrant Coach Morrison's probably starting him against Kearney.

Outstanding performers for Wayne were Lindahl, Coryell, Braasch, Purtzer, Westphal, and Nitz until he was injured and had to be helped off the field because of a leg injury. Northern's standouts were Schmidt, Kraft, Daly, Walker and Houge.

About 300 fans went from Wayne by special train, including the college band which entertained the crowd.

Blues Take 13-0 Tilt from Laurel For Seventh Win

Coach Sullivan's Blues Keep Play in Visitors' Territory Throughout Game as Joe Kessler Leads Offensive.

Coach Frank Sullivan's band of aggressive Wayne high gridders continued to keep their record perfect here last Friday afternoon when they defeated the Laurel high school Bears 13 to 0 for their seventh shut-out victory of the season.

With Halfback Joe Kessler leading the offensive, the Blues kept the visitors on the defensive with their determined advance keeping the play in Laurel territory throughout the game.

Score on Second Play.
On the first play after the opening kick-off, Kessler broke loose and galloped for 50 yards before being brought down just 5 yards from the goal line. His plunge through the line on the next play ended in scoring territory, and Stull kicked the extra point to make the count 7-0.

A third quarter forward pass from Kessler to Stull was good for 20 yards and the final tally of the game.

Due to the injury of Dale Powers two weeks ago, Coach Sullivan was forced to make some changes in his backfield. Moving Kessler into a halfback spot with Stull, and Granquist at quarter, he used two rookies, Greenwald and Harrison, at the fullback post. Stull, who was relieved at half by Lessman, was also given a chance to work at full.

Rookies Show up Well.
Don Greenwald and Bob Harrison in the backfield showed up well for what little experience they have had. Duane Tilton, playing his first full game at the center position, turned in a performance above expectations.

Lloyd Pfleger, dependable blue guard, displayed what is by now his usual brilliance. He was in on almost every play, leading the forward line in turning in a better than average game. The work of Kessler and Stull was especially effective in ground gaining, as evidenced by Wayne's 11 first downs as compared to Laurel's three.

Class Parties.
Seniors, juniors and sophomores had a party Saturday evening at the gymnasium. The committee in charge was Patricia Bressler, Ned Wade, Vincent Thielman, Ruth-Jean Phipps, Bill Orr, Arjean Anderson and Eddie Denker. After games and dancing, refreshments were served. The sponsors were Prof. M. C. Bloss, Miss Lettice Scott and Prof. A. F. Gulliver. Aldo Mohrman had a party Friday evening in the gymnasium. Everyone came in costume. After games and stories, luncheon was served. Prof. and Mrs. G. W. Costerisan were guests.

Grade News.
The parents are invited to visit the 6th grade this Friday afternoon.

The 6th grade have a sand table project showing the westward movement.

The 6th grade newspaper will be issued this Friday.

The 5th grade Friendship club had a Halloween program Thursday afternoon. Martha Smith, Joel Gillespie and Don Shulteis were in charge of plans. Appropriate poems and riddles were entertained. Election Over WHILE Nebraska and neighboring states gave Willkie substantial majorities, President Roosevelt was swept over the two-term tradition by the south, east and far west through the influence of an international crisis, defense plans and generous government spending. The south is also apparently still mad about the Civil War. Stout resistance to the new deal on the part of the middle west reflects human fiber that will be just as quick to respond to the plea for national unity. The sturdy middle west that appreciated the Willkie stature, manifestly engaging in independent thinking, will be found setting aside differences and cooperating one hundred per cent with Washington in reinforcing the American democracy.

Wendell L. Willkie proved himself a stalwart and sincere figure in national politics, and his influence will be increasingly felt. The better he became known, the stronger he grew in popular confidence. As a national leader, he will be found in the forefront of the Americanism which he exemplified during his vigorous campaign.

The election of Hugh Butler for the United States senate, and of Dwight Griswold for the governorship will be accepted as sound public policy and in harmony with the popular trend in this state. Faith placed in their leadership will not be disappointed.

Credit to Will Crossland's victory in the race for the legislature in this district is enlarged by the fact that he was running against a man of fine qualities and high standards. Crossland will make himself known in the legislature, and he will be found behind sound, constructive legislation for this district and for the state.

Carrying by a liberal majority the proposed farm bureau is gratifying to those who believe agriculture needs continuance of the service which a conscientious leader like Chet Walters has furnished.

The political campaign over the air ceases to be bombarded with partisan speeches. During the few nights preceding election a talk to suit any listener could be had by a slight turn of the dial, and the two sides were ever in sharp conflict. From a flood of confusing contradictions voters had to use their judgment and draw conclusions. Doubtless relief is felt with the contest over and the populace settled back into accustomed pre-campaign business.

The radio and modern means of travel have reduced days to minutes in making known election returns. Early counting of ballots also hurries knowledge of results. In the early times, days were often required to determine successful candidates. Now questions involved in an election are usually settled before midnight.

With the campaign over, we may expect everybody to accept results philosophically, and turn attention to the solution of every-day problems—for a busier, more prosperous and more contented state of society.

To feel best at this juncture, anti-new dealers will restrict vision to the middle west. New dealers may jack up their feelings by lifting their sights to comprehend the eastern and western states.

Eagerness to get everything worth while and not worth while into the newspapers disputes the notion sometimes expressed that newspapers have lost their standing as desirable influences.

The change to colder is an invitation to speed up corn husking, lay in fuel supplies, stock up with warm clothing and otherwise get ready for winter.

Next week is education week and it will be observed by due appreciation of educational advantages.

THANKSGIVING DAY.
While we are strongly inclined to cling to the long-established custom of holding the annual Thanksgiving holiday on the last Thursday in November, we are glad to see the governor adopt the national administration's re-fixing of the occasion a week earlier. Much inconvenience is caused by having the state observe one day and federal authorities another. With Thanksgiving days in conflict, some groups celebrated one, and some groups the other. Still others observed both. The object, advanced particularly in the east, for an early Thanksgiving is to start early Christmas shopping. In eastern trade circles it is believed the volume of buying is thereby appreciably increased. In this area we have heard of no such demand. Early Christmas shopping serves the advantage of both the buying public and the convenience of trade centers, but we have never understood that more trade resulted. Thanksgiving comes this year on November 21, leaving more than four weeks in which to get ready for Christmas.

Kraemer, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Plesch and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baker drove to Norfolk Sunday when they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kraemer in honor of Mrs. Kraemer's 80th birthday anniversary.

Returns from Hospital.

CHILDREN.
Children do not long stay young, and when they have grown up, their childish ways are sadly missed. The child's pranks, may sometimes be annoying. A fall down stairs may start a chill of fear, or running the gamut of infants' diseases may induce fevers of tense anxiety. Due care of youngsters means much uneasiness. So many precautions must be taken to guard against dangers to youthful health and unfolding character. Often parents wish their children would hasten growth to become more independent. But when they have done so, the parent years for the old days—for the thrill of childhood's unfeigned joys, of nursery rhymes and of school days! Let no parent—though sometimes thrown out of patience by youthful noise and mischief—think he or she will not deeply regret the passing of days when children raced through the house and clattered about the living room. People should enjoy their children while they are still children.

Unselfish Service.

(A tribute to the late Dr. G. J. Hejs)

"His life a busy one
"Striving to ease
"Those who knew fear and hurt
"Pain and disease.
"Through many days and years
"Life's race he run,
"Morning cool—heat of noon—
"Never quite done.
"Guiding the passing soul,
"Greeting the new,
"Not asking fame or power,
"Just keeping true.
"He asked no life of ease
"Nor wealth or fame,
"But just to serve mankind
"And play life's game.
"Now his life work is done,
"Past all alarms,
"The great Physician's called
"Him to His arms."

CONSTANTLY IN DANGER

BUT HE RARELY THINKS OF IT

Doctors are so constantly running risk of infection and contagion that they rarely give it a thought. They do the necessary operation, treatment, or make the necessary visit, regardless of risk. That is part of their job, and accepted as such.

Every precaution is taken and every aseptic, sterilizing and preventive measure is employed for the safety of each individual patient, but the Doctor must, in many cases, take a chance on personal safety.

Friends and loved ones may fear and avoid contagion, but the Doctor must carry on—and does as a matter of routine duty.

Student council held a meeting Tuesday.

Second year Latin class is investigating the possibility of subscribing to Acta Diurna, a single sheet newspaper printed in Latin.

The biology class is studying functions of leaves, roots and stems of plants.

Junior High News.

The 8th history class Monday discussed the qualifications of candidates, each student reporting on one. Pupils voted Tuesday. A committee visited the court house Monday after school to see preparations for election so they might follow the plan.

The 7th graders are making graphs in arithmetic.

The 7th reading class is studying headlines. Each pupil brought a newspaper clipping Monday with the headline cut off. Pupils wrote headlines and compared them with the newspaper heading. In some cases it was decided the pupils had better headlines than in the papers.

The 7th history class climaxed a study of Colombia, South America, with a picture show. Wilma Reiners, Dolores Tietz and Jean Jones arranged this.

Original Program Given.

As a climax to a project on writing and printing through the ages, 6th graders presented an original program of plays, songs, stories and art work Monday. Mothers were invited and 30 were present. Two plays, "The King's Libraries" and "The Life of Gutenberg," and a song, "Romance of Writing," were originated and presented by pupils. All closed the program with the song, "I Am an American."

The ushers, Cecil Mahnke and Walter McAuliffe, then led the mothers to the projecting room where children's art work was shown through the projector, each explaining his own picture as it was thrown onto the screen. The work has been directed so as to enable pupils to enjoy their study and to gain practical knowledge from things they encounter in everyday experiences. The aim is to make school a pleasurable learning process. After pupils were dismissed Miss Helen Tassemyer held a conference with the Men About Town organization decorated the float which carried the college homecoming queen, Betty Ellis, and her attendants October 26. Jerry Schula designed the float. The men used 550 square yards of artificial green grass as the background and they made 2,500 paper flowers of various colors for the decoration.

Will Face Charge Of Embezzlement

William Mattingly Taken To Illinois Friday on Cattle Deal.

William Mattingly was taken to Canton, Ill., last Friday to face charge of embezzlement filed recently in connection with a cattle deal in 1927. According to the charge, Mattingly and another man bought cattle in Iowa and took them to Illinois for sale. A bank lost $910 on the transaction and the men are charged with embezzling the funds.

Mattingly was here serving 10 days on intoxication charge. Floyd Morse, chief deputy sheriff, with a writ of extradition signed by Governor John Stelle of Illinois, and Governor R. L. Cochran of Nebraska, came for Mattingly.

At first Mattingly refused to waive extradition and proceedings were started. When the state warrant granting extradition was read to Mattingly Friday morning in county court, defendant indicated he wanted counsel and petitioned for writ of habeas corpus. The hearing was set for Saturday. Later, on advice of his counsel, H. D. Addison, Mr. Mattingly withdrew his petition and signed the waiver. He was turned over to the Illinois officer and was taken to that state to face the charge.

Sixth Armistice Day Is Observed

Elevator at Wakefield Is Destroyed; Hoskins Lady Is Fatally Burned.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for November 6, 1924:

"From out of the sunshine of our daily happiness, comfort and prosperity, let's pause a while in remembrance, in reverence and in homage to those whose dying glory was the great sacrifice to those who passed on that democracy might survive." This was the suggestion for November 11, 1924, the 6th anniversary of the World War Armistice.

Adam McMullen of Beatrice, was elected governor of Nebraska. Mrs. H. C. Lyons underwent an operation in Sioux City.

A vote will be taken November 17 on digging a drainage ditch northwest of Wakefield.

The highway at the east edge of Wakefield is being graded to make it less dangerous.

Homer staged a celebration over defeat of the proposal to have a free bridge across the Missouri.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Crowell elevator at Wakefield with a loss of about $15,000. The elevator contained 1,000 bushels of oats, 800 bushels of wheat and 3,500 bushels of corn.

The month of October brought .9 of an inch of moisture, a total of 27.27 for the year. The amount for the same period in 1923 was 42.6.

Mrs. Walter Gaebler of Winside, returned from Rochester where she had undergone an operation.

Winside young people plan to form a debating society to meet weekly during the winter.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Garwood of Carroll, October 29, 1924.

Miss Christina Lundquist was fatally burned October 30, 1924, when she was heating linseed oil at her home south of Hoskins. The bottom burned out of the can and the flames set fire to her clothing. Her invalid mother was unable to help her. A brother and sister put out the flames.

A third street paving contract has been let at Wisner.

Oscar Lundberg bought the A. F. Wintz farm near Randolph.

Pierce installed an automatic system to start and stop water pumping.

Charles Willey of Coleridge, fractured a neck vertebra when a cow pushed him.

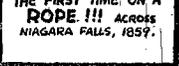

Events in Wayne in 1904.

From the Wayne Herald for December 22, 1904: Geo. Hofstedt is building a new corn crib. Geo. Bailey sold his house in Carroll to W. L. Robinson. Edward Davis is building a new barn in Sherman precinct. The Steen family located in Ellensburg, Wash. John Owens and Miss Sarah Davis of Carroll, were married December 20, 1904. Henry Breeding and Miss Pearl Becker of Carroll, were married December 19, 1904. Judge Norris and family went to San Francisco and will sail for the Philippines. Grandma Davies spent six weeks visiting in the Welsh settlement near Carroll.

Wayne Masonic lodge celebrates its 21st anniversary December 27. Wm. Lessman has a Short-horn calf that weighs 850 pounds at 10 months. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beckman went to Platte, S. From Ponca Journal.

From Ponca Journal for November 4, 1886: Halloween came and went with general sociability and pranks. As this is the time for the supposed visit of spirits, it would have pleased citizens to have these visitors give information as to why Mr. Massey bought land along the bluffs. People would like to know whether he bought it for a railroad company, for coal, oil or gold, prospecting or for goat raising. Instead of instructing people in these things the "spirits" took up a wagon and put it atop a barn, they built a pyramid of drygoods boxes, changed business signs, etc. No harm was done. A year hence the Halloween visitors will likely see that this town has doubled in size.

ARMISTICE DAY

This is the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier

In a tomb at Arlington Cemetery sleeps a boy in uniform. Nobody knows who he is. He was just a boy and he was killed doing what he was told.

That's part of the futility of war. Men fight because they are told to; they die because they fight. Let's not make the same mistakes again. Let's not delude ourselves through a lot of high-sounding words, into thinking that we can accomplish anything but misery by making War.

Let Us Preserve and Be Thankful for Peace!

Children at the Crossroads

A Youthful Campaigner.

Few juvenile offenders hold a grudge against the judge before whom they have appeared. In most instances the youngsters become staunch friends of the judge.

The depth of such friendship is well illustrated by an incident which occurred in connection with our only campaign for re-election. A youngster who had been brought before us for a minor infraction of the law, and who was still on probation, rushed in to the juvenile court session, his hair disheveled and perspiration dripping from his soiled, flecked cap. Emptying his pockets, he placed 77 cents on the desk.

"I want to buy 77 cents' worth of those pictures of yours that are nailed on the posts," he said. "What do you want them for?" we asked.

"There are a lot of places around my neighborhood where I can nail some up. Gee! I want to see you stay in office," was the earnest reply.

Of course we gave our young friend plenty of political cards to nail up, and we added 50 cents to pay for his labor.

Early the next day it was brought rather forcefully to our attention that the lad had done a thorough job. An official of the light and power company at Norfolk telephoned long distance, inquiring if we did not know better than to decorate all of their poles with our pictures. Apparently, our young friend had worked until late into the night, violating the law, in an effort to keep us in office.

We discovered on our next visit to Norfolk that the light company had just grounds for complaint. Probably both our little friend and ourself should be grateful that we weren't lodged in jail as a result.

Anyway, we remained in office, and our young friend has since been graduated from high school and is at present enrolled in a university. He hopes to become a surgeon.

IT'S SURPRISING!

BUT—You can heat very cheaply with NATURAL GAS HEAT

● It's no surprise to us, of course, because we know that natural gas is very economical for home heating. But it is a surprise to those who have always thought of gas heat as a luxury, something only "people with money" could have. Well—if you'll take the trouble to investigate you'll find that you can heat your home automatically, utilizing your present heating plant at a very low figure with natural gas. Ask for details right away!

TRY OUT A GAS BURNER

this winter under our trial-rental plan. You use the burner until spring for as little as $5c a month. After the winter is over you can decide whether to keep it or not. You can't lose. TRY GAS HEAT! Ask for details.

School Carnival Is Arranged Here

Halloween Hunts Feature Social Activities of Past Week

Fun-in-val is the name chosen for the Carroll high school carnival planned at the auditorium to provide the basketball team with new suits. The name, presented by Merle Eksman, was chosen from among a number entered in a contest. Merle will receive a prize for naming the funfest. A one-act play and band concert will be featured.

All high school classes enjoyed Halloween hunts Thursday evening, the girls hiding and the boys attempting to find them. Sophomores came closest to locating the girls. Luncheon closed the evening.

Seniors are improving their speed in typing. Patricia Tucker has a record of 26 words a minute and Elaine Wurdeman 25.

Physics class is studying force and pressure.

Seniors are studying Whitman's poems.

Sophomore biology class is starting a study of fish.

The 10th history class is studying current happenings in Greece along with a study of that country in ancient times.

Seniors won the inter-class basketball tournament last week. The first game of the season will be with Helden the last of this month.

Juniors have completed a study of the American revolution.

Youth Is Present As Name Picked

Policeman Is Never Safe, Even in Protection of His Own Office

At Longview, Wash., Reporter Carlton Moore was assigned the job of learning who of the city's 1,139 draft registrants would be recorded as No. 1. The cards were shuffled, the first turned over and it belonged to Moore.

A policeman's life isn't safe even in his office. A Salt Lake City officer was typing his daily report when one of his fingers slipped between keys and was wedged so tightly that it required hospital repairs.

Montana Indians predict a mild winter. Muskrats still swim in streams; field mice haven't taken to winter quarters; choke cherries still cling to bushes; and horses and cattle are without winter coats.

A Reno youth found that his name was misspelled on his original draft registration and returned to make a correction. He filled out a second card. As a result, he has two draft numbers.

Two disgusted yeggs picked up their tools and went home at Indianapolis, after battering an obdurate bakery shop safe for six hours. The door never budged. Richard Everett, 23, shop employe, timed the job. He lay bound and gagged in a corner while his captors struggled.

A jury of eight women and four men presented a Chicago judge with a verdict and a necktie, both representing two weeks' work. The tie was made while the jurors had spare time sitting on the case.

A Tennessee man drew water for a bath and stepped from the room a minute. He heard a splashing and returned to find a raccoon in the water. The animal was evidently a pet and had strayed into the home.

It's always a holiday when a baby arrives at the Josef (Mlekodaj) home in Minneapolis. The children's birthdays are January 1, July 4, December 25 and November 11.

Two Los Angeles detectives were detailed to a bank to prevent a possible holdup. They sat around wishing something would happen.

Pupils collected leaves and mounted and labeled them. Art classes made free-hand drawings of nature scenes.

The 5th graders completed booklets on South America and are now studying Porto Rico and the Hawaiian and Philippine islands.

Visitors this month were Supt. F. B. Decker, Alice Mae Biermann, Joyce Tarnow and Mrs. H. M. Dinklage.

Betty Tarnow treated others to oranges and a peanut hunt October 6 for her 13th birthday.

District 33. (Alma Luschen, teacher.) An owl looking at a Halloween jack-o-lantern is the sketch for the cover of the October issue of Sunnyside News, the eight-page news bulletin for district 33. Elaine Test was editor-in-chief, Glenville Frevert associate editor, Marilyn Teet special features, Lester Meier sports reporter and Verna Mae Meier interesting news. The cover design was by Ardale Test and Glenville Frevert. The newspaper is a project for character education. Poems, stories, news and crossword puzzles are included.

Pumpkin men, cats, witches and squirrels decorated the room for October.

The 5th and 6th graders made maps of Nebraska locating famous trails. The 7th and 8th graders made maps of the state locating the three major soil divisions.

Among new library books are Black Beauty, Five Little Peppers, Paddy Paws, Switzerland, Ezra the Elephant and The General. Mother Goose Parade is one of the books with which the school has a phonograph record.

The first four grades have had games in connection with their number class work.

The 3rd and 4th graders are studying Switzerland.

Supt. F. B. Decker was a visitor October 17.

E. H. Merchant gave the school a new calendar.

Pupils earning 100 in the month's tests are Eldor Henschke, Ardale Test, Marilyn Test, Glenville Frevert and Junior Test.

Real jack-o-lanterns were used at the Halloween party.

District 26. (Mrs. Ray Philbin, teacher.) Symbols of October have brightened the room through the month. Ten-inch letters were cut from autumn colored construction paper for the word October. These were placed upon burlap. Dancing jack-o-lanterns served as a border below. Halloween posters were mounted and placed to make a consecutive picture. Weird black cat faces decorated the curtains.

A festival was held October 30 for the mothers. Two Halloween playlets and a reading were the program. Games were played. Luncheon was served.

The school went to Norfolk October 24 to present a rhythm band program at the teachers' convention. The group also visited the Norfolk flour mill. Pupils watched pancake flour and white flour being made. Flour is placed in a large machine in which there is a triangular tray covered with thin white material. A revolving wheel keeps the tray free from all germs. The purpose of the tray was to sift the flour. The wooden pins used 54 years ago to hold parts of the building together instead of nails, were shown the children.

Columbus day booklets were made by the 5th and 6th grades. The most important facts about Columbus and his voyages were written in the booklets. This class also made safety posters. One was a city block constructed on a yard square cardboard. Toy cars, trucks and people were made to comply with traffic laws.

The school had perfect attendance last month.

Lois and Norman Lubberstedt had an arithmetic score of 100 per cent. Delores Peters had a perfect spelling score through the month. Norman Peters, Lois Lubberstedt and Delores Peters tied in the "slang" contest.

Kenneth Frevert has completed one reading book and has started the second of Alice and Jerry series.

Ball games are played at noons and recesses.

School news for the month was contributed by various language classes and written up as a week's unit.

Peace . . .

In every American heart there is a humility and an immense gratitude. And in every American city and town there is Peace . . . Let that peace stand in America forever!
